First Baptist Church welcomes new pastor

by Caron Yates

First Baptist Church of Haskell welcomes a new pastor, Bro. Jim McCurley. Although he is new to the ministry at First Baptist, he isn't new to this area. In fact, before accepting his current position, he served as the interim at the First Christian Church in Haskell. He admits it was difficult to leave such a loving and caring group of people.

McCurley has served in God's ministry for forty years, thirty-six of those as a church pastor. He was born and raised in Whitehall, Illinois and served his first pastorate in Walker, Missouri, where he was ordained. He said, "I met and married a Texas girl, and Texas is where I have been ever since." He is the proud father of two sons, Craig and Matthew, and three beautiful grandchildren, Cullen, Cale and Carys.

He was called to the ministry at the age of sixteen. He felt very fortunate at that time to have a true mentor, in the form of his home church pastor. He learned many valuable lessons from this man, not the least of which is a genuine zeal for the ministry.

He has served other churches at Bellevue, Wichita Falls, Ft. Stockton, Childress, Seymour, Aspermont and Potosi. McCurley earned a Bachelor of Arts from Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar, Missouri as well as a Master of Divinity from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth.

A few years after the death of his wife Carol, he met and married Sue Clayton, a Knox City native. Clayton had taken over the running of Smith Funeral Home at Knox City, which her father owned and operated for many years. McCurley said, "I had been a pastor my whole life, but I thought perhaps I was getting to an age that I should consider other options." In 2008, McCurley began working as a funeral director apprentice, while serving as the chaplain at Rolling Plains Detention Center. He also began taking classes through Amarillo College to become a licensed funeral director, a goal he still would like to complete.

God however, had a different plan for McCurley. He truly feels he is where God wants him and he is excited about the prospects for First Baptist Church. When asked about goals he has for the church, he replied, "I want to encourage them in the belief that God keeps them here and has a purpose for this church. We will work to recapture the spirit of reaching people for Christ." He adds, "I am humbled by the church."

First Load of Scrap Metal for Wall of Honor

Steve Alsabrook brought in the first big load of scrap metal and aluminum being collected for the Veterans Memorial Wall of Honor.

The city of Haskell loaded it into the roll off being furnished by JAY'Z Recycling of Abilene. JAY'Z Recycling is supplying the Roll Off at no expense to the project.

The City of Haskell will dump into the container, any load of scrap metal brought in. Please call the city to set up a time that is convenient.

Dorothy Hartsfield, chairman of the project, encourages everyone to be a part of this project to raise money, by being a PITCH-IN participant.

Hartsfield says, "This community project is an effort to honor our veterans, many of whom gave their lives for our freedom. All help will be appreciated." They are also looking for volunteers that would be willing to help collect cans and take them to Abilene to sale.

Kathryn Schonerstedt and Steve Alsabrook help supervise the loading of scrap metal for the Wall of Honor project.

Haskell County sales tax shows increase for July

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs announced that state sales tax revenue in June totaled $1.61 billion, a 2.2 percent increase compared to June 2009.

"Total sales tax collections have now slightly exceeded year-ago levels for a third consecutive month," Combs said. "Net collections in the oil and gas and manufacturing sectors expanded, but collections from the all-important retail sector were down from the year-ago level. While overall economic activity is no longer contracting, a resumption of solid growth in sales tax collections is not yet in evidence."

On July 12, Combs sent a July sales tax allocations totaling $442.8 million to cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts, up 3.8 percent compared to July 2009.

Texas cities received $297.2 million, up 4.5 percent compared to July 2009. So far this calendar year, city sales tax allocations are still down 2.9 percent compared to the same time period last year. Texas counties received sales tax payments of $27 million, up 3.9 percent compared to last July. So far this year, sales tax allocations to counties are down 6.4 percent compared to this point in 2009.

Combs sent $18.3 million to 170 special purpose taxing districts, up 10.6 percent compared to last July. Ten local transit systems received $100.1 million in sales tax allocations, up 0.5 percent compared to a year ago.

State sales tax revenue in June and local sales tax allocations in July represent sales that occurred in May.

The Comptroller's next sales tax allocation will be made Fri., Aug. 13.

This Week's Devotional Message:

Your House of Worship is 20 Degrees Cooler Inside

Has the midsummer heat been getting you down? Not to mention the humidity factor, which can only add to the oppressiveness of soaring temperatures. Of course, being a sensible person, you dress right, live right and do what you can to offset the discomforts of the season. You spend as much time as your lifestyle will allow in air conditioned places, and maybe at the ol' swimmin' hole.

However, there is one more place you might add to your itinerary in search of a pleasant environment—your House of Worship. More than just a haven of refuge from the heat, it's a place for all seasons. However, in summer the only warmth you will feel there is the comforting assurance that God's love is with you all the year 'round, no matter what it says on the thermometer.

Donations needed for rural cemeteries

Rural cemeteries, such as Pleasant Valley, are in need of donations for maintenance and upkeep.

by Caron Yates

If you've ever been out driving around on the more remote country roads in Haskell County, you may have noticed the remains of an old school building, what is left of houses which have long ago fallen, or you may have noticed a small cemetery.

While so many of the communities that were once a part of Haskell County no longer exist, the memories and stories of those who lived in them are still very vivid. The cemeteries where loved ones were buried, some many years ago, are also there.

Ernestine Herren, with the help of others, has compiled a record, entitled Haskell County Cemeteries, which lists seventeen rural cemeteries in Haskell County. While a few are located near still active communities, most are often the only reminder that a community once stood there.

In their book, Cow Pokes and Sod Busters, R.S. and Betty Sanders have divided these rural communities and their cemeteries into four areas. In the northeastern part of Haskell County are Brushy, Pleasant Valley and Roberts. Listed in the northwestern section are Cliff, Idella, O'Brien, Rochester and Weinert. Cemeteries found in the southeastern part of the county include Cobb, Howard, Irby and Rickdale. The southwestern section includes Capron, Clark, Fairview, Pinkerton and Rule.

According to the history, these range from private cemeteries, such as Cobb and Irby which have only five graves listed for each, to Pinkerton, Roberts or Rockdale which are the resting place for approximately one hundred and fifty. There are, of course, others where many people have been laid to rest.

There was a time, and many still do, when each family cared for the gravesites of their loved ones. Occasionally a day would be called to "work the cemetery" and all in the community would bring their hoes and rakes and tend to the necessary upkeep. According to Herren's account, in the early years in Rule, every Memorial Day the stores closed and everyone lent a hand out at the cemetery and gave it "a good cleaning."

About twenty years ago, Johnny Scoggins of Rochester, became interested in locating the site of many of these communities and has placed metal signs where they once stood. He has also identified some of the cemeteries.

In more recent history, Cemetery Associations have been created for some of the rural county cemeteries. Upkeep, for those still being maintained, is accomplished through endowment funds, selling sites, volunteers and donations. With the slow economy, rising costs of labor and gasoline, some associations are struggling to maintain the grounds.

Donations of money, is always helpful, but physical labor would also be appreciated. If those in charge of overseeing each cemetery, would like to contact the Haskell Free Press with information on how to donate or with more information on the history of the cemetery, we will pass it along.

Haskell Home Health Agency

Dear Michelle,

My 72 year old father has just been diagnosed with diabetes. The doctor said he will need two insulin shots per day. I'm staying with him now, but will have to go back to Dallas soon. When I go home he will be alone. I am very concerned about his ability to give his own shots because of his forgetfulness and shaky hands. Can you help?

Sincerely,
Francine Shelton

Francine, yes, provided your father is homebound and his physician approves, we can help. The first step will be to establish that he is unable to give his own injections and that there is no other person that can help him with this. Haskell Home Health Agency has many patients like your father who receive two insulin injections a day. The good news is that an in-home evaluation is free and if your father qualifies Medicare will pay for a nurse to give his injections in the comfort of his home.

Thanks for the question,
Michelle

What questions regarding home care do you have for the nurse? Send your questions to Haskell Home Health Agency, 417 S. First, Haskell, TX 79521 or call 940-864-5074 or 1-877-864-5074.

New State Laws:
Buckle Up and Drive Safely

The last time the Texas legislature was in town, state lawmakers passed new laws governing Texas drivers. Two principle areas of focus were new safety belt laws and prohibitions on distracted driving activities.

Safety Belts

Effective June 1, vehicle occupants of all ages must be secured by a safety belt—whether they are seated in the front or the back seat of the vehicle. Prior to the law's passage, occupants did not have to wear safety belts if they sat in the back seat. Unbuckled adult passengers in the front or back seat can be issued a citation.

Texas parents should remember that state law now requires children younger than eight years old be in a child safety seat or booster seat unless the child is taller than 4 feet 9 inches. Violators of the child safety seat law face fines of up to $250 plus court costs.

Distracted Driving

Texas lawmakers also restricted what Texas drivers can do while they are behind the wheel. Legislators acted to prevent distracted driving, which the U.S. Dept. of Transportation defines as "any non-driving activity a person engages in that has the potential to distract him or her from the primary task of driving and increase the risk of crashing." This includes use of technology such as cell phones, personal digital assistants and other electronic devices.

The National Traffic Safety Administration reported that nearly 6,000 people died in 2008 in crashes involving a distracted driver, and more than half a million were injured. Younger, inexperienced drivers under 20 years old have the highest proportion of distraction-related fatal crashes.

Under a new Texas law, drivers under the age of 18 are prohibited from using a wireless communication device while operating a motor vehicle.

Texas lawmakers prohibited all Texas drivers from using a wireless communication device in a school zone unless the vehicle is stopped or the device is hands-free. Texas cities and counties enforcing this law will have signs posted at the start of each school zone informing drivers that cell phone use is prohibited. Drivers who violate this law will be subject to a fine of up to $200. The only exception to this law is if the call made in a school zone is an emergency call.

All Texans should obey these new traffic laws and make our highways safer.

Cattle trails stocker meeting to be held in Wichita Falls

by Wes Utley

After the recent wheat harvest, more wheat and stocker cattle producers may want to attend the Cattle Trails Stocker Conference to be held July 24 at the Multi-Purpose Event Center, 1000 5th Street, in Wichita Falls.

This conference is a joint effort between Texas AgriLife Extension Service and the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service. "We believe this will be an extremely important conference given the circumstances that we faced with this year's wheat harvest and wheat price," said Stan Bevers, AgriLife Extension economist in Vernon.

"Planning early will be imperative for the upcoming crop," Bevers said. "Given the low prices experienced at harvest, many producers may choose to turn to cattle for additional flexibility. However, adding cattle to the wheat operation always increases the level of management involved and the associated risks."

"Planners envision an annual conference that will provide wheat producers and/or stocker cattle operators with the most up-to-date information on topics that influence wheat and stocker cattle profits," Bevers said.

"The conference will alternate between Texas and Oklahoma each year," he said. It is named to represent the vast area of agricultural production between the Chisholm Trail and the Great Western cattle trails of the late 1800s, both of which started in south Central Texas and moved up through central and western Oklahoma.

Speakers will include faculty from both Oklahoma and Texas. Important topics of marketing and outlook, animal health, wheat pasture research and wheat production will be covered. Industry sponsors will have their products on display during the event.

The conference will begin at 8 a.m. with registration and end at 4:30 p.m. More registration information can be obtained at <http://agrisk.tamu.edu>. Producers can register by contacting their local AgriLife Extension county agent, their Oklahoma Cooperative Extension county educator, or by contacting Karen Thompson at 940-552-9941, ext. 217 or by e-mail at kethompson@ag.tamu.edu.

PAGEANT CONTESTANTS—Kayla Mullen, left, of Fort Worth and Lonnie Alvarez of Haskell will be competing in the Miss Texas and Miss Teen Texas USA pageants this fall. A co-ed softball tournament is planned July 23-24 to help the ladies with pageant expenses and fees.

Trinity Lutheran Church in Haskell has voted unanimously to leave the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America (ELCA). The members then voted to join the Lutheran Congregations in Missions for Christ (LCMC).

Unemployment Rate Drops

Texas seasonally adjusted unemployment rate dropped to 8.2 percent in June, down from 8.3 percent in May, and continued to trend well below the U.S. seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 9.5 percent for the same month. Texas total nonagricultural employment grew by 14,000 jobs in June for a total of 166,100 jobs gained since the beginning of 2010.

"Texas employment has grown every month in 2010," said Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Chairman Tom Pauken. "Notably, Texas employers in goods producing industries added jobs in the month of June, which included gains in Manufacturing, Construction, and Mining and Logging."

The Education and Health Services industry recorded the highest increase in June, with 8,900 jobs added, followed by Professional and Business Services, which increased by 8,600 jobs.

"While I am encouraged by the decrease in the Texas unemployment rate, times are tough for Texas workers and their families," said TWC Commissioner Representing Labor Ronny Congleton. "Job seekers should turn to WorkInTexas.com and our workforce centers across Texas for reemployment and support services."

Softball tournament benefit

Kayla Mullen of Fort Worth and Lonnie Alvarez of Haskell will compete in the Miss Texas and Miss Teen Texas USA pageants.

Mullen graduated Magna Cum-Laude from Haltom High School and plans to attend Baylor University in the fall. She will represent North Tarrant County in the Miss Texas Pageant to be held Labor Day weekend. She is the daughter of Eric and Sylvia Mullen of Fort Worth.

Alvarez, an honors graduate of Haskell High School, plans to attend San Angelo State University in the fall. She will represent Haskell County in the Miss Teen Texas Pageant Thanksgiving weekend this November. She is the daughter of Alberto and Julie Alvarez of Haskell.

A co-ed softball tournament will be held July 23-24 as a fund-raiser for both girls, to help with pageant expenses and fees. Prizes for first, second and third place shirts will be awarded. A home run derby will be held on Saturday with a prize for the top home run hitter.

For more information, contact Alberto or Julie Alvarez at 940-256-2462.

There's a sweet, sweet spirit in this place we call Haskell, and we, the Henry Harris family, are overwhelmed with your sweet expressions of love for us during our loss of our precious husband, Dad, and Pawpaw. Thank you for blessing us with your many phone calls, cards, visits, food, attendance at the service, and especially your prayers. We have felt the presence of our Lord, you have filled us with your love, and we lift our hearts in grateful thankfulness to each of you.
