Lubbock Beauty Wins Sweetheart Contest

Miss LaVerne Hollon of Lubbock was named sweetheart in the Reese Sweetheart Contest held at the Service Club on Thursday, Feb. eight. This colorful spectacle was presented by Personnel Service and witnessed by a crowd of 700 people.

The contest began when the eight entrants were escorted down the stairs, across the center of the floor, to their places in the semi-circle on the platform, by the squadron representatives. Soft music, casual lights, a bevy of beautiful, colorfully gowned girls and a certain feeling of suspense highlighted this, the moment when the Sweetheart would be chosen.

The three judges, considering looks, poise and personality, had difficulty extracting a winner from the eight. . . Finally the judges, Lt. Arthur J. Knudson, CWO Carmen Luce and M-Sgt. Charles B. Simmons arrived at their decision, it was Miss LaVerne Hollon closely followed by Miss Marie Thurmond and Miss Jo Ellen Holt. First prize was a simulated diamond necklace, second prize was a cigarette case and third prize was a Richard Hudnut Compact.

The contest was followed by a

Airmen Attend First Big Birthday Party At Service Center

The first "Birthday Party" for RAFB airmen, sponsored by the Lubocw Chapter of the Red Cross, was held in the bases' Service Club Tuesday night. Airmen having birthdays during the past two months were honored guests. Approximately 100 men attended.

Twenty-four lovely coeds from Texas Tech were hosts to the servicemen. Fourteen were members of the Association of Independent Women; while the other ten belonged to the D. F. D. social club. The latter ten also presented a program at the base hospital earlier in the evening.

The gals arrived at 7:45 p. m., followed by introductions. Then the young ladies presented a program in which Jane Armstrong did her version of the "Charleston", and Margaret Bourland and Beverly Hibbetts sang "Lonesome." Marge next played the uke and soloed on "Riding Down the Canyon." Annabel Lee, better known as Lu Lu, then did a comic routine.

After the cake-cutting everybody chimed in on old favorites as "Harvest Moon" and "For Me and My Gal." Following this some Tommy Dorsey records were spun and couples began dancing. However, school bells ring early at (Continued on Page 5)

Colonel Tom Says . . .

It's been cold this week. Sunny Texas has betrayed us with low temperatures and high winds.

I am aware that it has been chilly in the quarters here at Reese. I know that the heating units are inadequate in the face of a winter like we are experiencing here this year. Air Installations have attempted to obtain permission to purchase bathroom heaters, but the request was not granted by higher headquarters because of a lack of funds for that purpose.

They are now planning to replace the present 35,000 BTU heating units in the quarters with 45,000 BTU units as rapidly as possible, but this work will require some time to accomplish and it is likely that for most of the quarters the situation will not be relieved this winter. Meanwhile a project for weather stripping windows, sealing cracks, and otherwise making the quarters cold resistant is underway and is proceeding as fast as available materials and manpower will permit.

I have mentioned before the increase in military personnel on the base. Along with this there has been a gradual increase in the number of civilians employed. The Air Force policy is to use civilians to the maximum extent on jobs not requiring military command positions. Civilian workers are invaluable to the military since they do not transfer as often as do military personnel, thereby stabilizing the working force by bridging the gaps caused by the necessary transfer of military personnel. As more civilian workers are hired, more military personnel are released for strictly military duties.

The fire department and the base shops are excellent examples of functions which are now predominately civilian and their employees have gained much praise for the smooth operation of these sections. The work of the fire department during the J. C. Penney fire in Lubbock was especially commended.

We are open to suggestions from civilian personnel for the betterment of working conditions here or for better ways of accomplishing their work. For some of these suggestions which result in savings to the government, cash awards can be paid.

KADET KORRAL

by A/C PAUL REMS

Many long-standing friends departed last Saturday with the graduation and clearing of 51-Able. Now but a memory, 51-A left with a notable fanfare — they set a record by consuming, at their stag party, more ketchup joy-juice than any previous class on record.

51-Charley had a party Friday night for their instructors, and everyone had much fun (liquid form). The party was held in the Cadet Club, which was nicely fixed up for the occasion. Don Krueger gave out with the old boogie-woogie, accompanied by Gene Price on the base fiddle, and they were really good. Lee De Valliere made like a kitten on the keys, with some classical music, and some of the other boys put on a good skit.

Room 102, Bldg. 837 should shortly become known as the model shop. Sully and Siems are building solid and scals models, Charley McConnell has built a J-3, and Bob Tedesir built a freeflight which flies beautifully. Bob says that the newest thing since glo-plug is the plastic prop.

Incidental intelligence has it that Bill Waring is due momentarily to become a father. Bill assures us that the junior addition will be a boy.

Robertson and Krueger (total of six stripes) were up at Shepard field last weekend, impressing the basics. Got lots of highballs and also some puzzled glances.

In case anyone wonders who took out the runway light at the end of 21 at Hobbs, it was Bob Tede. Should know—I was CP.

Rattler finally got official recognition last week. At the graduation ceremony, our mascot was awarded his wings. A new collar, bearing the wings and inscribed "Rattler, Reese Air Force Base, Aviation Cadet Group," was awarded personally by Colonel Barrett, but commission was withheld pending further military training and also further background investigation.

Women's Fellowship Plan PX Bake Sale

The Women's Christian Fellowship recently held their regular Fellowship Meeting in the form of a Valentine Luncheon at the Chapel Annex this week. Hosts for the meeting were the chairwomen of Circles two and four, Mrs. Roy Garrison and Mrs. Ralph Rander-son.

Mrs. Hilton Gauthier opened the meeting with an invocation and Mrs. H. C. Goins presided over the meeting in the absence of the president. New members and visitors were introduced by Mrs. C. H. Steen and welcomed by the group.

Recommendations from the Executive Committee were accepted and included a candy and bake sale to be held each payday in the Post Exchange to raise funds for various Fellowship activities. Also, the monthly general meeting of the Fellowship was changed from the second Thursday of each month to the second Tuesday after the Second Sunday of each month, beginning March 13 and all circles will meet on the same day, which will be the Tuesday following the general monthly meeting.

The March of Dimes bake sale raised $56.06 for the drive, the finance committee reported.

As part of the program, Mr.

Plans were announced to hold the next Fellowship Supper in the Chapel Annex on Wednesday, February 21st with Circle No. 3 as host.

PRACTICE

Practice is necessary for excellence in anything, whether it is music, basketball, making money in business, or learning a foreign language. Virtue is no exception. You can never become virtuous by sighing deeply and wishing for it. You cannot even acquire virtue by prayer alone. There is only one way: practice it. As with everything else, the beginning is hard. It becomes easier as you become experienced. If you do not practice virtue, it is clear to you, that you do not want to be virtuous at all. What would you think of one who said that he wanted to become a great swimmer, but never went near the water? You would think that it was just talk.

As a trader is sent to a foreign country to make money, so you have been placed on this earth to amass a fortune for eternity. The only riches with real value when you enter Heaven will be the coin of supernatural virtue and the good works that it has produced.

None waste as much time as the young. Those in hell would give everything they possessed in life for one brief moment of earthly life to spent as they please. Yet you allow great volumes to time to flow by, like water passing by the idle power house. You have dour thoughts if you spent a little money unwisely, but you throw away hours, whole days, with never a second thought of the waste. We ought to work while it is day; "the night cometh when no man can work." God gives you time to turn into eternal happiness.

RIVER OF THE SUN
James Ramsey Ullman

Here is another superb novel which blends excitement and adventure with intellectual stimulation. Like the unforgettable, THE WHITE TOWER, it develops a philosophy of living against a background of hazardous experience.

On the physical plane, RIVER OF THE SUN tells the story of Mark Allison, ex-Army pilot, who, for intimate reasons, plunged into the green hell of the Amazon valley. This expedition developed unexpectedly into a breath-taking search for Dr. Nils Barna, a scientist who had disappeared into the enveloping wilderness. As the story mounts in tension to a tingling climax, there is a palpable evocation of the jungles, the nameless rivers, the mood and effect of unknown and exotic places, and man's magnificent struggle against nature and himself.

But RIVER OF THE SUN is more than mere surface excitement. For in his quest of inner peace, Mark Allison discovered that even amid the volcanic eruptions of this twentieth century there are still horizons beyond which lies the stuff the dreams are made of.

In his strange encounters with Christine Barna, wife of Dr. Barna, with an extraordinary American Negro fugitive, and with the decaying white men of the tropics, the Indians and the natives, Mark found that his long search through the jungles of the world and of the mind had freed him to go on into life.

RIVER OF THE SUN is thus a gripping novel of the deepest human emotions and of ideas which lead men into inspired action, set against the background of a savage, primeval wilderness. It is an impressive successor to THE WHITE TOWER.

Overseas Shipment Ban On Dependents Lifted By Services

The Department of Defense announced this week that it will continue to send dependents of military and civilian personnel to Germany. However, the shortage of housing in certain sections of Germany has made it necessary to slow down the movements of dependent people to that area.

On and after February 15, 1951 no applications for concurrent travel of qualified personnel and their dependents to Germany will be approved before February 15 will be permitted to have their families accompany them.

The overseas movement of the families of personnel who are assigned to stations in Germany will be by a priority waiting list which will be established by the overseas commander. These families will receive overseas movement orders as soon as housing is available.

Reese Sergeant Receives News Of Brother In Korea

It's a small world and that fact was vividly brought to light the other day when S-Sgt. Armand Beliveau of the 3500th Medical Sq. received a letter from an old buddy, Sgt. Gene D. Wolfgram, who worked in the legal section here before being transferred to the Far East.

Sergeant Wolfgram wrote: "Say, the other night I was reading the "Stars and Stripes", our overseas newspaper, when I came across an article on a guy who I think is your brother. At least it seems as though I remember you saying something about a brother in service. I'm enclosing the article for you."

It read: "WITH UN ON CENTRAL FRONT (UP)—Maybe it doesn't mean anything, but Sgt. Roland Beliveau of Lawrence, Mass., has a healthy prospect for Number 13.

"It started when he was born, Friday, Nov. 13, 1930. The number popped up again last month when his outfit fought its way out of the Kotori pocket in northeast Korea. His unit, an engineer combat battalion, left Kotori on Dec. 13. He was in truck No. 13 with a 13-man squad. At the time, he was also the 13th man on the company payroll."

Now, Sergeant Beliveau says, he'll send the tattered news clipping home to his folks and they in turn will break the news to his brother in Korea.

Captain Irby Leaves Reese For Ellington

Capt. John J. Irby, a flying instructor in the Pilot Training Group and one of the oldest members of the 3500th Pilot Training Wing, departed from Reese this week for assignment at Ellington AFB, Texas.

A native of Fort Valley, Georgia, Captain Irby was commissioned in May 1940 and entered pilot training in 1943. Graduating from Pampa AAFB, Texas he was assigned to the European Theater of Operations in 1944 where he flew with the 442nd Troop Carrier Group. He was awarded the Air Medal with three clusters.

He graduated from the University of Georgia in 1940 with a BS degree. He is the son of Mr. Carlyle A. Irby, Sr. of Fort Valley.

All military personnel traveling to Sampson AFB, New York should disembark at Newark, instead of Syracuse, N. Y. Arrangements have been made with the railroad to stop at the city of Newark for the express purpose of discharging military personnel who are going to Sampson. This will save the traveler some 30 miles and considerable delay.

Reese Hobby Shop Serves Base Personnel

The Hobby Shop, located in Bldg. T-126, is a long awaited haven for the carpenters, model plane builders, and "Mr. Fixit's" of Reese. Equipped to afford the finest in power and hand equipment, the Hobby Shop is proving to be one of the outstanding installations on the base.

The shop has electric drills, saws, lathes, joiners, planers, drill presses—all types of power equipment, as well as hand tools, at the disposal of anyone interested in using them in the Hobby Shop. Individuals must supply their own materials, as the present supply of the shop is somewhat limited in quantity and variety.

Projects now under construction at the shop include cabinets, desks, tables, bunk beds for trailers, end tables, lamps, and model airplanes.

The Hobby Shop is open 0815-2130, Monday through Friday, and 0815-1700 on Saturday. Sunday hours are 1300-1700. Personnel are on duty at all times, and will be happy to lend their assistance.

Model Plane Fans Plan To Start Club

The first model airplane to be built in the new Hobby Shop, the "Darlene I", was completed recently by Sgt Stanley Kwit of 3500 Installations. Working in the evenings, and on weekends, he was able to construct the plane, which he designed, in approximately three weeks.

Sgt. Kwit, who has eight years experience in the model airplane building, won the 1949 Illinois State Championship in stunt flying with one of his models.

Since several persons have shown interest in model planes here at Reese, a Model Airplane Club is being organized by Sgt. Kwit. All persons interested in joining such a club are urged to contact him at 783.

NCO Club Notes

Well, here I am again after a week's absence—due to a set of unforeseen circumstances, we were unable to bring you the news of your club, however, I am sure that it won't happen again . . . So look for us and if you have any suggestions, send or bring them to the club office . . .

Don't care what the weatherman says — S-P-R-I-N-G is h-e-r-e . . . if you don't believe me, check the club . . . "Buddy" Goins and his helpers are busy as bees, what with painting, moving of furniture and re-arrangement of general facilities, the spring cleaning program is already underway . . . "Buddy" informs me that the club will undergo a complete renovation . . . Mrs. Smith, who did such a fine job with her murals in the lounge, has been engaged to do the ceiling of the lounge and a touch-up job on the present murals. . . Won't tell you just what, so you can come out and see for yourselves. . . The driveway for the new entrance will be under construction this week. . .

Got those pinball machines installed and they are getting a good play especially the bear shooting device . . . Nobody seems

The club has been privileged to have the services of "George and Rose Marie" . . . George of course, is the guy who plays the organ and Rose Marie . . . ah-h-hh . . . sings the songs. Except for the fact that this music is so doggone good, you might never notice George when Rose Marie is there. . . Seriously tho, if you haven't heard them by now, come out tonite and listen or dance to their music after bingo and I guarantee that you will leave with the feeling that your time has been well spent and that you have thoroughly enjoyed their style of music . . . Bingo, by the way, tonite . . . consolation prize—$325.00.

Teck, so the hostesses had to board a bus back to the dormitory at 9:30 p. m., just as they were getting acquainted.

Mrs. A. C. Bowden, volunteer services chairman of the Lubbock County chapter of the Red Cross, arranged the program in conjunction with Miss Marian Thompson, assistant dean of women at Tech. Future birthday parties are planned for the second Tuesday night of each month and will be sponsored by the Red Cross. Also, clubs belonging to the Women's Inter-Club Council at Tech will take turns as hostesses at the parties.

The party had a Valentine motif with gay red hearts brightening the walls and a candle-lit table heavily laden with tempting cakes. The centerpiece was a huge heart-shaped Birthday Cake that was a gift of the Baldrige Bakery.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS

Dear Buck,

Since this is my first time to write to you at Reese, I'll tell you what to tell all of the people out there about the Larrymore Dance Studio.

First they should all know that we teach all types of dancing in both private and class work, and that we take students from the age of 3 years 'til — we even have ballet classes for grandma.

I don't want you to brag too much, but you know that we have a large well equipped Studio, and that we are building a new one that will be out of this world when completed. By-the-way, have you seen it lately? When the present buildings, that are under construction, are finished we will have more space than we have in our present Studio.

We sure have a lot of married couples taking ballroom dancing now, and lots of other couples wanting to start soon. They are fun to teach.

There is a new baby class starting this week—I can hardly wait. They are a kick. In the last baby class, one 3 yr. old told her teacher that he was as light as a tub of water.

Come to see me at the Studio, Wing

Inter-Service Conference Placed On "Official" Basis

At a recent meeting of representatives of all military installations within a 500-mile radius of Randolph AFB, plans were discussed and approved to put the Inter-service Conference on an official basis.

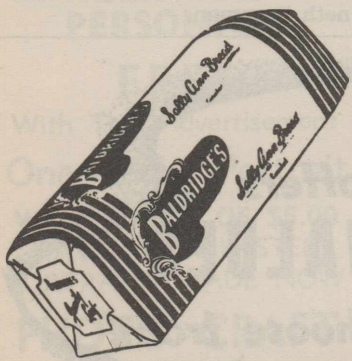

The Inter-Service Conference is an organization whose aim is to co-ordinate the sports activities of all bases in this area to the point where the greatest possible benefits may be derived by the military personnel both in participation and entertainment. In order to achieve this aim, maximum support must be given each sports activity by every command.

This can be realized only through the wholehearted participation of every Officer and Airman within a command. Benjamin Disraeli once said in a speech to the House of Commons in 1870, "The secret of success is constancy to purpose."

With the baseball season in sight, it is hoped that Reese personnel will set an example for all other bases to follow, by backing the team, and showing sincere enthusiasm for the Inter-Service Conference in all sports activities.

Only through "constancy to purpose" can Reese hope to gain any significant degree of success.

Rattlers Are Eliminated In Williams Tournament

The Reese Rattlers were eliminated from play in the Western Area Training Command basketball tournament by Mather AFB, California after winning the first game. The tournament was held from the fifth to the ninth of February at Williams AFB, Arizona.

In the second game the Rattlers met a powerful opponent in the Francis E. Warren AFB, Wyoming team. A close game all the way, the Rattlers finally lost 48-45. Neil Beard, versatile Rattler guard captured high scoring honors with 16 markers.

The third game proved to be the big game of the tourney. A see-saw battle all the way, the score was tied at 46 all at the end of the regulation playing period. At the end of the first overtime period the two exhausted teams had another deadlock, 51-51. The second overtime saw Mather edge the Rattlers 55-53 to win the game.
