Gas-Filled Apartment Claims Airman, Bride

Police officials completed an investigation this week into the deaths of an airman and his bride who were asphyxiated Monday in their honeymoon apartment, at 2107 Eighteenth Street in Lubbock.

The airman, A/2C Dalton R. Parker, of Columbus, Ohio, and his bride, the former DeLois Scott, of Lubbock, both 21, were married only two days before their death. Police findings indicate that a gas heater consumed all the oxygen in the room and caused their death by asphyxiation.

Parker was on a three-day pass from Reese AFB and was to return to duty on Tuesday morning. He was a member of the 3502nd Maintenance Squadron.

The bodies of the airman and his bride were discovered by Joe N. Dennis, operator of the apartment house, and his mother, Mrs. Nadine Scott.

Funeral services for Airman and Mrs. Dalton R. Parker were held at 2 p. m., Wednesday, at the First Methodist Church in Lubbock.

RCAF Officers To Visit Base

Eight Royal Canadian Air Force officers are scheduled to arrive at RAFB on Wednesday, January 19, it was announced today by Maj. Buford W. Barker, wing operations and training officer. The purpose of their visit, said Major Barker, is to study USAF flying training methods and to exchange ideas.

Reese is one of several bases included in the tour of training bases where the Canadian officers are to discuss mutual training problems with United States Air Force officers. The group will depart Reese on Thursday for Craig AFB, Ala.

Included in the delegation of officers will be Wing Commanders C. H. Mussells and J. H. Dempster; Squadron Leaders H. M. Halkett, L. J. Hill, and J. A. White; Flying Officer A. E. Kennedy and Flight Lieutenant R. F. Herbert.

Wing Commander Dempster is from RCAF Headquarters, Ottawa, Ont. and Lieutenant Herbert is from Training Command Headquarters, Trenton, Ont. The other officers in the group are from the Central Flying School, also at Trenton, Ont.

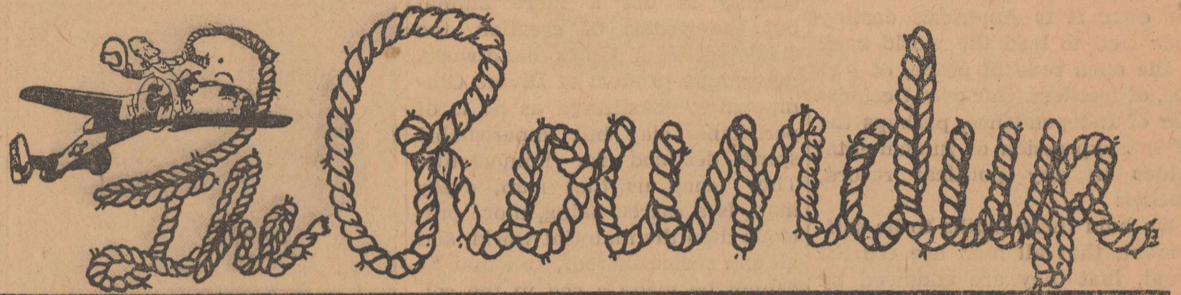

Maj. W. W. Wilson, USAF, is accompanying the party.

Congress To Study Cash Award Plans For GI's Ideas

Legislation concerning cash incentive awards for military personnel is expected to be presented to the newly-opened session of Congress, M/Sgt. James W. Falin, management technician in the manpower and organization office, pointed out today. He emphasized that there is no present authorization for giving cash awards to military personnel.

"Military personnel, although not eligible to receive cash awards under Public Law 763," said Falin, "nevertheless are urged to participate in the suggestion program. Commanding officers may use existing military incentive measures to reward approved contributions of military personnel."

Servicemen may be rewarded through extra privileges, additional time off from regular duties and special consideration for promotion.

RAFB Talent To Be On TV

Auditions To Be Held For Telethon Acts

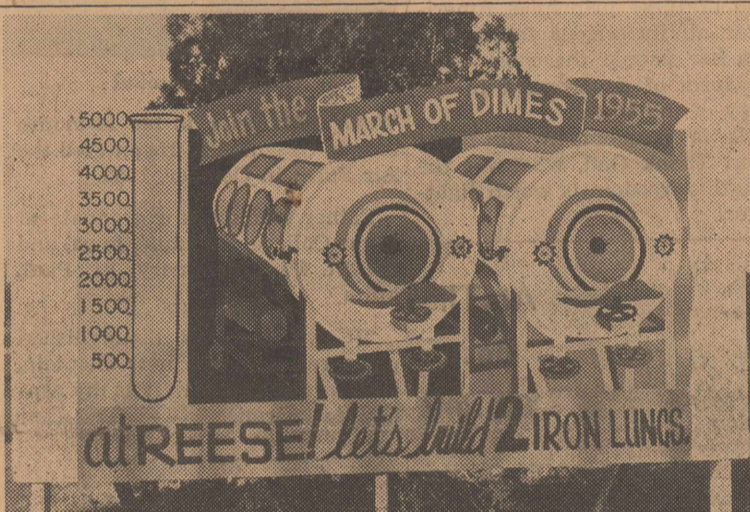

Talent auditions for participants to be on "The Reese Hour" portion of the KDUB-TV March of Dimes Telethon are to begin Monday, January 17, at 7:30 p. m., it was announced today by A/3C Marvin Kaylor. Kaylor and A/2C Jimmy Rogers, both of Air Base Group, are in charge of assembling talent for the marathon telecast to be presented on February 5.

The Reese show is to include singing, dancing, novelty acts, instrumentalists and "just about anything else available," said Kaylor. Miss Sue Phillips, Service Club director, has announced the prospective talent may contact the Service Club, extension 722, where the auditions are to be held. Both students and permanent party personnel are eligible.

Audition Times Set

Three audition sessions have been scheduled at the Service Club. Tryouts will be held at 7:30 p. m. on successive Mondays, January 17, 24 and 31. Miss Phillips suggests that individuals who are unable to make these scheduled auditions contact the Service Club for special arrangements.

Many airmen, said the Service Club director, are expected to take advantage of the telethon appearance to prepare their acts for the Air Force-wide talent contest to be held later this year. Personnel Services will sponsor this program on a world-wide basis.

Three Present, Two Ex Reese Men Named In Promotion List To Major

Three captains stationed at Reese Air Force Base and two who recently left for assignments elsewhere will put on the leaves of majors within the next few weeks by virtue of promotion in the United States Air Force, Lt. Col. Charles E. Wilson, Reese wing personnel officer, announced this week.

Promotion lists received by the colonel's office showed Capt. Elmer E. Ours Jr., information services officer at Reese until last September, will become a major on January 28; Capt. Douglas R. Wood, wing adjutant, will move up to major on February 8; Capt. R. W. Davis, military personnel officer, and Thomas P. Carroll, maintenance engineering officer, are to advance in rank on February 14; and Capt. Frank E. Wiese, academic director until this week, will become a major on February 17. The captains are authorized to put on new insignia when they receive their individual orders.

Capt. Ours In Greenland

Captain Ours, now base adjutant at Narsarsuak Air Base, Greenland, is a veteran of World War II and served as flying instructor, assistant director of academics, and information officer at Reese. Captain Wood is a decorated veteran of World War II and Korea who was flying instructor prior to moving in as wing adjutant.

Capt. Davis Was Spot Major

Captain Davis served in North Africa in World War II and in Korea, winning decorations. He held the rank of major in Korea while filling a major's post in a joint operations center, but returned to his present rank on leaving the Far East. Captain Carroll was an enlisted man in World War II and has been commissioned since 1943. Captain Wiese, a senior pilot with over 4,000 hours, had several years of pilot instructing and two years as academic instructor when he left Reese last weekend for duty at Spence Air Base, a primary pilot training school.

'Serenaders' Show Honors Reese AFB

Reese Air Force Base was honored Wednesday on the KCBT-TV "Serenaders" program. The half-hour show, at 12:30 p. m., was dedicated to RAFB and featured musical requests from base personnel.

The history of the base was outlined on the program and the importance of the installation to Lubbock and the South Plains was emphasized.

Chaplain's Chat . . .

By Chaplain Robert F. Overman

If ever a nation had a rendezvous with Destiny, that nation is our own. It is America's destiny under God to lead the world back to the open road of peace, of justice, of freedom. Our own Declaration of Independence, perhaps the loftiest expression of fundamental values in any political record, teaches:

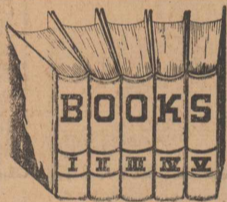

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

By only one process can the suffering, the sorrow, the destruction, the slaughter of these our times be made to serve as the foundation of a happier world to come. This is the process of accepting the sublimely correct principles of this second sentence of the Declaration of Independence and of activating these principles in our personal, social and political lives.

These principles teach us that there is a God above us, the Creator and Ruler of the world. They teach us that man, every man, is made in the image and likeness of God, and consequently is not a mere animal but the prince of creation, the masterpiece of God's handiwork, the unique product of Divine Omnipotence, constituted as he is of perishable clay but imperishable spirit destined for immortality. They teach us that man, every man, is made in the image and likeness of God, and consequently is not a mere animal but the prince of creation, the masterpiece of God's handiwork, the unique product of Divine Omnipotence, constituted as he is of perishable clay but imperishable spirit destined for immortality. They teach us that man, every man, is a sacred being, more precious than the material world, and all the riches thereof, and that he cannot be made a cog in the collective machinery of an all-powerful state. They teach us that political society is the instrument in the hands of a free people, not alone to preserve law and order, but also to insure a reign of justice for all its citizens regardless of religion, race or national origin. By virtue of these principles America, for all its serious faults, has given her people the most equitable form of government in the history of the world.

This is freedom in its finest flower. Thank God, whatever the price, this freedom is worth fighting for!

THE COMPLETE BOOK OF HELICOPTERS by D. N. Ahnstrom

The author has written in an easy non-technical style, an authoritative up-to-date, and remarkably illustrated account of how the helicopter was developed. It began in the minds of Western man when they got hold of a curious Chinese toy; then grew into the cumbersome, nightmarish contraptions of the long experimental period. This story belongs to men of all countries and all ages. It is an exciting story of courageous human effort dedicated toward fulfillment of man's stubborn wish to fly like a bird.

New Reese Chaplain Arrives From Thule

The cold weather of the Texas Panhandle was not the least bit uncomfortable to the new Reese AFB Catholic chaplain who arrived on base this week. Chaplain (1st Lt.) Henry N. Dunkel's last assignment was at Thule, Greenland.

Said Father Dunkel, "It's cold and lonely up there . . . Texas looks good."

The new chaplain, who is a native of Dyersville, Iowa, served at

Chaplain Dunkel

Webb AFB prior to his 14-month tour in Greenland. He entered the Air Force in October, 1952.

Father Dunkel is a graduate of Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, and the St. Paul Seminary, St. Paul, Minn.

"It will be my distinguished pleasure," said the new chaplain, "to serve Reese as well as my capabilities permit."

F-102A Completed For USAF

A later model of the delta-wing F-102, first supersonic all weather interceptor built for the Air Force, has been completed at the San Diego plant of Convair Division of General Dynamics Corporation in the record time of 117 working days.

Designated the F-102A, the modified version was given engine and taxi tests at Lindbergh Field and trucked to Edwards Air Force Base December 16 for flight tests.

Convair Engineering Test Pilot Richard Johnson made a shake-down flight December 20 and the next day flew the new plane supersonically in level flight — only six months after design work had been completed and manufacture begun.

Principal external difference between the F-102A and the prototypes that have been flying more than a year at Air Force test bases is a longer fuselage.

The after end of the fuselage is distinguished by two streamlined fairings. The delta-wing is unchanged except for cambered leading edges and swept-up wing tips.

The canopy has been redesigned to give the pilot greater visibility. The F-102A is powered by a Pratt and Whitney J-57 jet engine with afterburner.

Taxes Deductible From Pay

Back Taxes Of Military, Civilians To Be Collected At Finance Office

Uncle Sam has taken steps to collect delinquent income taxes from military personnel and civilian government employes, it was announced this week by Capt. Gerald D. Clerget, base finance officer.

The Treasury Department has been authorized by law to "levy upon or garnishee the accrued salary or wages of military and other federal employes for the collection of overdue taxes." The new tax law was written in Sec. 6331 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 68A Stat. 783.

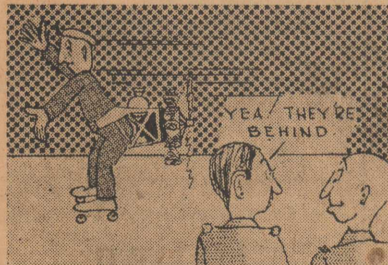

Under the new law, as outlined by Captain Clerget, a representative of the Department of Internal Revenue may file a "notice of levy" with the finance officer for the collection of overdue taxes from military personnel. The finance officer is then obligated to pay to the Department accrued pay and allowances due the serviceman on the date the notice of levy is filed. Notices involving civilians may be filed with the civilian payroll certifying officer.

The finance officer pointed out that a notice of levy is valid only to collect accrued pay on the day it is filed but that successive levies may be made. At present, there is no authorization for exacting tax collections from allotments.

"I doubt that this new procedure," said Captain Clerget, "will be necessary here at Reese."

Captain Morris

Reese Instructor Was Shot Down During WW II Raid On Germany

By Lt. David I. Lodwick

It's been nearly 10 years since, but Capt. Reed N. Morris still counts March 16, 1945, as the day of his most memorable flying experience. On that day, while on a bombing mission to Koblenz, Germany, his Martin B-26 bomber was shot down. He and his entire crew, however, were able to parachute into an area occupied by Gen. George Patton's Third Army, and were rescued by engineers assigned to that army. Captain Morris and his crew returned immediately to their unit and completed eight more combat missions before the collapse of Germany and V-E Day.

A native Texan from Harlingen, Tex., Captain Morris began his career when he entered flight training in Arizona in 1943. Upon completion of his flight training in 1944, he went directly to England. He returned to the United States in September, 1945, with eight Air Medals and 41 combat missions to his credit.

His stay in this country was not long, however, as he returned to Europe in 1946. His second tour in there proved to be a happy event. While stationed at Tulln AFB, twenty miles from Vienna, Austria, he first met his wife, Elizabeth, who was working at the same air field for Pan American Airways. Capt. and Mrs. Morris were married on June 10, 1949.

In 1950 Captain Morris received his orders to return to the United States, where Mrs. Morris has become a United States citizen. Captain Morris was stationed at Lackland AFB, Tex., prior to coming to Reese.

Captain and Mrs. Morris have been at Reese since October, 1952, when Captain Morris was assigned as an instructor pilot. He instructed in both the T-6 and the T-28 before moving into a B-25 flight. He presently is assistant flight commander of Flight Three.

Capt. and Mrs. Morris, who live at 104 Harmon Dr., have one child, a daughter, Lorraine, one year old. Born on New Year's Day, 1954, her birthday makes every New Year's Day a double holiday.

Bobby Burns Orchestra To Play At NCO Mess

Bobby Burns and his "Reveries in Rhythm" Orchestra are scheduled to make a one-night stand at the NCO Open Mess on January 21, it was announced this week by M/Sgt. Garnett Lee, NCO Mess secretary.

The Burns seven-piece band is frequently billed as having "no style" since the troupe plays everything—western, Dixieland, society, bop, and Latin-American arrangements.

Headlining the featured artists will be Phil Washburn, former vocalist and trombonist with Shep Field, Jimmy Dorsey, Bob Crosby, and Charlie Barnet.

TONIGHT
 "Night People," starring Gregory Peck, is the dramatic story of the 'cold war' being fought in the divided city of Berlin.

SATURDAY
 "Women's Prison" with Ida Lupino, Howard Duff, Cleo Moore and Jan Sterling. The BIG HOUSE for women where a statistic super-intendent mentally and physically tortures the women prisoners in her care, to the point where they finally revolt.

SUNDAY-MONDAY
 "The Far Country" featuring James Stewart, Ruth Roman, Corinne Calvet and Walter Brennan in the story of the booming Yukon gold-rush days and the man who lived for himself alone until he realized that he must help bring law and order to the land.

TUESDAY
 "The Man in The White Suit" casts Alec Guinness and Joan Greenwood and finds Guinness a textile worker who takes time to conduct research experiments and runs into many interesting results.

WEDNESDAY
 "Paratrooper". Alan Ladd, Leo Genn and Susan Stephen act in the story of the Canadian Air Force. Ladd secretly joins the paratroopers and finds himself surrounded in a North African attack and forced to take command and overcome his fear of responsibility.

THURSDAY
 "Arrowhead," starring Charlton Heston, Mary Sinclair and Jack Palance in the battles of the Indian to keep his hunting grounds and the United States Cavalry's campaign to put down an Apache uprising.

CinemaScope

Tonight marks the first CinemaScope showing at Reese AFB. The first movie to be shown on the newly-installed wide screen will be "Night People," starring Gregory Peck.

The wide-screen facilities will enable the RAFB Base Theater to present many movie productions which heretofore have been excluded from the schedule.

Portable 'Lung' Helps Polio Victims

For many patients who once feared they might spend the rest of their lives in hospitals in iron lungs the portable iron lung gives a new chance to move about, to be with their families—in short, to start life anew. It is hoped, said Capt. John H. Lloyd, base project officer, that the Reese AFB contributions will enable the National Foundation to buy at least two iron lungs.

Leander Schmid, director of technical equipment for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, knows what the portable lungs means to polio patients, and he knows how desperately March of Dimes funds are needed to provide more of them. Schmid presides over the largest array of polio equipment in the world. It includes more than 2,000 full-sized iron lungs, 700 rocking beds and tons of other equipment across the country. It includes more and more portable iron lungs, over 1,200 at the last count.

Requests Show Trends

"The use of this equipment," Schmid says, "is determined by physicians. Our job is to make it available as needed. But we can tell, from the requests we receive, what the trends are."

The basic piece of respirator equipment, Schmid points out, is still the large-sized iron lung, or tank respirator. It is the most effective respirator but it keeps a patient flat on his back.

The small, portable "chest" respirators come into their own when patients leave the hospital and return home. It takes some time for an adult or youngster to learn to use these small breathing aids, but once they do they can begin to do things again.

Some Work While Wearing 'Lung'

With a portable respirator a patient with severe paralysis of the muscles of breathing can sit up, go to church, go to the movies and sometimes even drive a car. Many portable respirator patients work, and have regular incomes.

The secret of the midget respirator, which straps to a patient's chest, is the use of storage batteries to operate a power unit, making it possible to use the device in cars and other places away from power sources. All can be operated by hand in the event of battery failure.

These small respirators give severely paralyzed patients a chance for freedom, but the expense is very high.

Respirator Costs $1,500

The average cost of a portable is $1,500 and many patients need a large-sized iron lung as well.

The cost in March of Dimes funds is great, Schmid emphasizes, but the rewards are greater.

REESE ON SPORTS ON REESE

By A/2C JIM REESE

Tonight the Reese Rattlers get a chance to redeem an early-season loss to the Bell Milk Co. cagers of the Lubbock City League. The two teams meet in the Base Gym at 7:30 p.m. tonight. The Rattlers lost to Bell on November 24 by a score of 50-46.

Next week has two more games scheduled at the Base Gym which are free for the lookin'. On Tuesday the Hull and Moore Drug Co. team will take on the Rattlers and next Friday the Reese team will play host to the First National Bank club.

The Hull and Moore basketballers were the runners-up in the recent Lubbock City Tournament and have one of the classiest teams in the league. This game should give a fair indication of the true caliber of the Reese team this year.

In the intramural league all three teams we picked to fight it out for the title came through this week . . . but oh-h-h so close in a couple of cases. ABG, PTW and the Air Police all won their games but Air Base Group was the only team with a comfortable margin of victory.

Probably the best game to be played this year (so far) was unreel Monday night when PTW took on the Hospital. At half-time PTW held a 31-24 lead. The final score was PTW 46, Hospital 44. The game centered around a two-man scoring duel between Holmes of the Hospital and Hoag of PTW. Holmes dumped in 30 points for the night, Hoag wound up with 24. Needless to say, both men play for the Rattlers.

In other games Joe Bauwens, with 22 points, led ABG to a 45-26 win over PTG and M&S beat the 02nd 42-32. Williams hit 18 points for M&S. The Air Police nosed out the 01st 50-47. Blackwood was high point man for the winners with 20 points, while League hit 18 for the losers.

With the intramural league warming up for the long pull, looks like we're going to see some top-notch roundball around here. Good luck and (as they say in some circles) may the better participant emerge victorious!

Incidentally, this is the last Reese on Sports on Reese column to appear in these pages. Reese will be a feather merchant come next Thursday. Men . . . be brave . . . hold hold down the fort! Luck . . .

Kadet Korral:

Cadets Boast New Autos

By A/C T. G. Bayless Jr.

The cadets returned from Christmas leave with a host of new automobiles. The parking lots behind the Cadet barracks boast thirty-some new cars. From the new car indication, 1955 promises to be a prosperous new year.

Class 55-P arrived on the base on January 3. This new class will go immediately into the B-25 for its basic training. The academic program is being modified to parallel the new flying training. Welcome to Reese 55-P; we hope you enjoy your stay here.

Class 55-N returned to Reese after Christmas leave to find only one-half the number of T-28's left for their training. As each week goes by there are fewer and fewer T-28's left. In two weeks time there will be only a handful of the tri-cycle monsters on the ramp. The flight line personnel anticipate that 55-N will complete their flying training phase ahead of schedule, and then the T-28 will be a matter of record here at Reese.

This Friday evening at the Cadet Open Mess there will be a get-together for all those cadets who are interested in becoming a member of an all-cadet dance band. Try-outs are to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the main ballroom. If the organization proves to be a success, music will be provided weekly for the entertainment of the cadets. Let's get out and give it the old college try. See you in the ballroom Friday evening.

Take A Raincheck . . .

Baseball-knowing wives have a simple recipe for teaching husbands how to clothe the baby in the basic garment, according to Meyer Berger of The New York Times.

They tell him to lay the cloth out like a baseball diamond and stand at the batter's box. Bring second base over to home plate. Put the baby in the pitcher's box. Now bring first base, third base and home plate together and pin.

If the game is rained out, start over again with dry diamond.

AF Academy, Tech May Play Football

The possibility that Texas Tech and the Air Force Academy may meet in football at an early date has been strengthened by the presence of 1st Lt. Jesse Bounds, Reese graduate in Class 52-A, on the coaching staff of the academy, base personnel have learned.

Lieutenant Bounds attended the recent meeting of the National Coaches Association in New York and spent considerable time talking to Tech representatives and other Texans at the meeting. He lettered at Tulane University in 1948 and 1949, playing tackle, prior to coming to Reese for multi-engine pilot training.

Tech coaches have been in touch with the Air Force Academy officials relative to football and other sports and state they hold high hopes of getting on the service schedule on a home-and-home basis, which would bring Lieutenant Bounds back to Reese for a visit.

Instrument Shop Stresses Safety

The days when a pilot "flew by the seat of his pants" are over. In the jet age a pilot's life depends upon his instruments . . . instruments that must be accurate and dependable.

The job of keeping the instruments operating properly on aircraft assigned to Reese is handled by the Instrument Shop, Bldg. P-52. Under the supervision of R. J. Young and S/Sgt. Laverne M. Bergstrom, the Instrument Shop performs many intricate functions essential to flying safety.

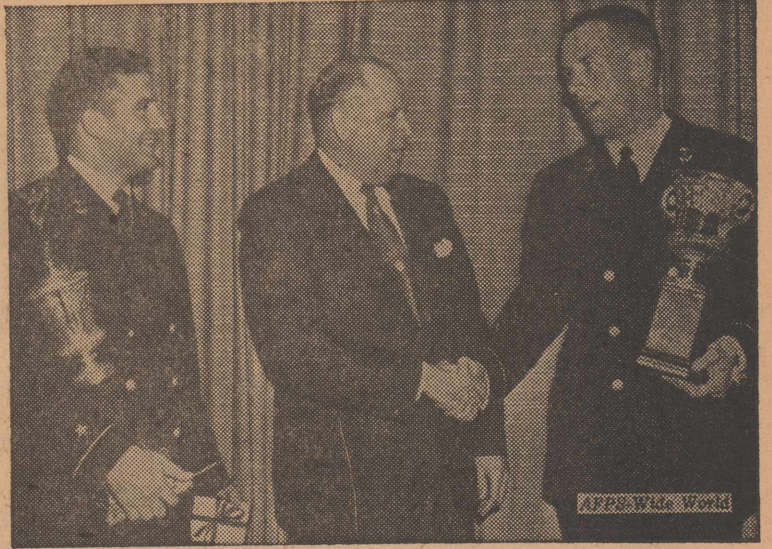

"Reese Air Force Base recently set a base record for flying safety," Maj. Peter L. Coffield, commander of the 3505th Field Maintenance Squadron, pointed out. "This record could never have been accomplished without the efficient and conscientious efforts of the memn in the Instrument Shop."

A/1C Theodore S. Hebel and A/1C Richard H. Anderson are key men in the line maintenance and inspection of aircraft instruments and instrument systems. Two civilian employes, Joe Bollinger and Chet Kaplonski, handle much of the maintenance on instrument equipment.

"Instruments, whether on aircraft or support equipment," said Major Coffield, "always must be accurate. The ultimate mission of our Instrument Shop is to insure safe flying."

Civilian Program To Be Discussed

Details of planning the new Career Conditional Program for civil service employees into operation January 23, will be discussed at Reese Air Force Base today at a meeting of representatives from several installations, Tom Ireland, Reese civilian personnel officer, said today.

Representatives of the Eighth Civil Service Region, from Dallas, will be in charge of the meeting. Attending will be the executive secretary, civil service board chairman, and personnel officers of Reese and Goodfellow Air Force Bases; the International Boundary and Water Commission, Biggs AFB, and Fort Bliss, El Paso; Veterans Administration Hospital and Webb AFB, Big Spring; and Bureau of Mines, Veterans Administration Hospital, and Amarillo AFB, Amarillo, Ireland said. Representing Reese AFB will be Ireland, Gilbert M. Turbeville, chairman of the Board of Civil Service Examiners, and Sinia R. Harris, executive secretary of the local board.

The new program, made effective on order of President Eisenhower, eliminates the "indefinite" status of civil service employees.
