German-Born Airman Arrives To Begin Pre-Cadet Training

Fritz M. Bachem, an American citizen who never saw this country until late last December, arrived this week at Reese AFB as a pre-cadet.

Young Bachem's father spent 20 years in the United States and became a citizen. Then he returned to Germany for a few years, married, and was preparing to bring his family to America when World War II broke out. Then he couldn't get out of Europe. Before things settled down after the war the father died, and his family made no move after that.

"Last fall I decided to come to America, since my sister who had married a GI and moved to Pennsylvania wrote such fine things about the country," Bachem said. "I came to Washington, D. C., to live with friends and there I learned about the cadet program and enlisted. Now I am at Reese Air Force Base in Texas and know I shall enjoy it."

The young pre-cadet was born in Cologne, Germany, and lived 11 years in Eastern Germany. He attended German schools, graduating from high school, which meant his studies reached through two years of college under American standards, since German schools consist of five years of elementary study and nine years of high school, Bachem said. Two of the high school years were in the Russian zone, under Russian directives.

During World War II Fritz said he saw many bombing attacks, and suffered slightly when his town was hit. He said most of the bombers were United States planes. "I saw their four engines; none others had that many engines," he said.

In 1945, Bachem said, he saw Americans on the west and Russians on the east, shooting at Germans in the middle, as the fight was over Chemnitz.

"The Russians were shooting in such a way the American dropped back—way back—to let the Rushigh school and at Texas Tech. Brewer individualizes all veterans and the service will be in memory of all deceased veterans of all wars

A large floral wreath will be placed at the head of the grave and each participating organization will lay sprays of flowers on the grave in a red, white and blue color scheme. Col. James F. Mears will represent Reese AFB by placing a spray on the grave.

Jim Black, announcer at KCBD-TV, will be the master of ceremonies and Chaplain (Major) Wilbur J. McDaniel, wing chaplain, will give the invocation and the benediction. Speaker for the service will be the Reverend David L. Zacharias, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lubbock.

The Reese Volunteer Band, under the direction of 1st Lt. Theodore E. Dahlfors, will furnish part of the music for the program.

Organizations participating in the service will be the American Legion, The Veterans of Foreign Wars, The Disabled American Veterans, The Marine Corps League and their Auxiliaries, The Navy Mothers, Reese AFB, the Army, Navy and Marine Corps Reserves and the Texas National Guard.

Thomas Harrell, director of manpower and management at Reese, is chairman of the service and extends an invitation to all Lubbock, South Plains, and Reese AFB residents to attend.

Red Cross Director Is Re-Assigned To European Area

Frederick W. Huffman, Red Cross director at Reese Air Force Base since Sept. 8, 1952, has been re-assigned to the European area, leaving June 1, Col. C. P. West, base commander, made known today. Huffman will report to the area headquarters in Stuttgart, Germany, and is to be assigned a duty area at that time.

The director, who has spent 11 years as a Red Cross official and 13 years as a teacher of music in high schools and colleges, came to Reese AFB from duty as field director at Brize-Norton AFB, England.

"The cooperation of officers and airmen at Reese AFB has been very good," Huffman said, "It has enabled me to bring every possible Red Cross service to this base. I shall regret leaving because it means separating from many fine friends we have made here."

First Warrant Officer Begins Pilot Training At Reese AFB

CENTER OF ATTRACTION—The orange-painted H-19 helicopter was the center of attraction to this group of young men and to the visitors on base during the Armed Forces Day Open House. Beside being in static displays, the 'eggbeater' made a series of flight demonstrations for the visitors. Base photographers took several aerial shots of the crowd and several persons were allowed to go up in the craft during observation flights. (Photo by Kent, Base Photo Lab.)

* The first warrant officer to be a student in the Reese Air Force Base multi-engine pilot training program is in Class 56-B, newly arrived at the base, Col. C. P. West, Reese AFB commander, announced this week. He is WOJG A. C. Helms, Route 1, Homedale, Ida.

Helms has been in service since January, 1946, and became a warrant officer a year ago, on May 27, 1954. He served from May, 1950, until last July, in Germany, returning to the United States to enter pilot training. He completed primary pilot training at Malden Air Base, Mo., just prior to coming to Reese AFB. His wife is the former Louise E. Baum of Bingen am Rhein, Germany.

Class 56-B contains 43 student officers and 39 aviation cadets, two of whom are from South America. One officer lists his home as Monterey, Mexico, where his parents are in business. One cadet is from Ecuador, another from Chile. Thirty-one states are represented among the students.

All but three of the 43 officers are college graduates, while one officer attended college, but received no degree and two have no college education, but are high school graduates. Officers attended 23 different colleges, with seven coming from Colgate. Of the 37 United States cadets, 13 were graduated from high school, 20 others attended college, but did not graduate, and four are college graduates. Cadets attended 24 different colleges.

Reese Armed Forces Day Show Witnessed By 15,000 Persons

Armed Forces Day for 1955 was marked up as a distinct success as an estimated 15,000 persons visited Reese AFB for the sixth annual observance, persons in charge reported. Citizens from all over the South Plains came to see various displays, which included 13 types of aircraft, heavy artillery from Fort Sill, Okla., and displays from all branches of the Armed Forces. The weatherman cooperated to bring a cloudless day for the observance.

General Nathan Twining Re-Nominated AF Chief

President Eisenhower sent the nomination of General Nathan F. Twining to be re-appointed as Chief of the United States Air Force to the Senate May 25, word received today. The appointment would be for an additional two year period, ending June 30, 1957.

Demonstrations were given by the Artillery team, helicopters and Pre-Cadet drill team, and the Reese Volunteer Band played. The aircraft, from C-119 flying boxcar and T-29 flying class room through three types of trainer planes to the speedy F-86 jets, were viewed by visitors, moving in a steady stream for seven hours.

Various types of Air Force and Navy planes participated in flyovers throughout the day and Maj. Gen. William E. Hall, deputy chief of staff for Reserve Affairs of Headquarters, USAF, Washington, spoke at a luncheon.

Reese Toastmasters Presented Charter

The Reese Officers Toastmasters Club received its official Toastmaster International charter at a dinner meeting at the officers mess last Thursday night, at which Milton C. Adams of Hereford, Toastmaster District 44 governor, was honored guest.

Other guests were Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Scott of Lubbock, Col. and Mrs. Murray W. Crowder Jr., and Capt. and Mrs. Robert Shaw. Scott is area governor, and Capt. Shaw is president of the Lubbock Toastmaster Club.

After Adams presented the group's charter, speeches were heard from Capt. Robert Caris, Capt. Robert Wilkins and Capt. Richard Roswurm. Capt. Roswurm was awarded the president's cup for the best talk.

Toastmaster for the evening was Maj. Sam Osver, Capt. D. L. Mishler, topic master, and Maj. Homer L. Parsons, general critic.

The H-19 helicopter literally stole the show and was featured in demonstrations and flights over the display areas. A 15-minute recording of one of the helicopter flights was made by a local station. Several persons were given the thrill of their first helicopter ride.

Armed Forces Day at Reese was sponsored jointly by the base and the city of Lubbock, with over a dozen local organizations cooperating.

"Thousands certainly learned more about the nation's 'Power for Peace' at our Armed Forces Day," Col. C. P. West, base commander, commented.

Memorial Day Reminder

(EDITORIAL)

Monday, May 30, marks the observance of another Memorial Day. To all Americans, Memorial Day is a day of national recognition for those who have given their lives defending this great nation of ours.

But of recent years, Memorial Day has come to have a slightly different and more tragic meaning to many Americans. It has become a day to remember not only the war dead, but also the hundreds of civilian lives taken as a result of carelessness on the crowded highways.

These highways will be crowded again this week end. All over the country, thousands of us will be going to and from Memorial Day ceremonies, making trips to the cemetery, or just taking a day off with the family.

Whatever you do and wherever you go, just remember, Memorial Day is a day commemorating the dead. It should be a solemn holiday, but don't give any cause to make it more solemn. Don't let your name be added to those whose last day on earth was in the Memorial Day week end.

Please, drive carefully and watch out for the other fellow.

Someone's Making Plans For You

Did you know that you're the Communist's number one target of propaganda? Right now, while you are enjoying peacetime life in the service and maybe planning a little leave this summer, the Reds are making a few plans of their own. You're included in them.

Don't kid yourself into thinking that just because our guns are silent and the smoke has cleared that all is serene.

Want to know what the Communists have in store for you? To be effective, enemy propaganda must be directed at a particular target. That target is you.

Their aim is to influence your opinions, emotions, attitudes and behavior. Their ultimate goal is to create the will to surrender without fighting. They are planning to so weaken your morale that, in the event of war, their military advantage will be greater.

Remember this—enemy propaganda comes in three colors: white, gray and black.

White propaganda is easily recognized. It is put out by an official agency such as Radio Moscow which openly identifies itself with the cause it represents.

Watch out for gray propaganda. It comes from an unidentified source and attempts to hide itself in harmless appearing leaflets, newspapers and radio broadcasts.

Black propaganda is the real sneaky type. For example, an enemy radio station could pretend to be a legitimate American station. It might broadcast gossip slanted to discredit our national leaders and undermine your confidence in them.

So stay on your toes and when the propaganda marksmen take a bead on you, you will be a hard target to hit. (AFPS)

Information On Spiritual Life Conference Available At Chapel

The base chapel has received a communication from Chief of Air Force Chaplains, outlining the program for the three Spiritual Life Conferences which will be held this year. Several have mentioned that they attended such a conference last year and would like to attend another, Chaplain (Major) Wilbur J. McDaniel, wing chaplain, pointed out.

The three conferences are to be held this year at the following places: Asilomar Conference Grounds, Pacific Grove, Calif., July 2-6; Estes Park Conference, Association Camp, Colo., July 18-22; and Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly, Ridgecrest, North Carolina, September 2-6.

Three days temporary duty plus travel time may be authorized on permissive travel orders at no expense to the government, in accordance with AFR 165-3, to personnel desiring to attend these conferences.

Persons interested in attending these conferences may obtain further information at the Base Chapel.

Final Meeting Held

PTA Outlines Summer Landscaping Plans

At the last monthly meeting of the RAFB-PTA for the 1955 school year, the landscaping committee spokesman, Maj. Homer L. Parsons, outlined continuing actions to be taken towards completion of beautifying the local school grounds. Maj. Parsons stated that a parking lot would be incorporated or graded out of the front school yard, in an area around where the flag pole now stands. This parking area is to be graded down by the County Commissioners and filled with gravel and topped by caliche. Second, that approximately $100 would be spent for grass seed to plant grass across the proposed front lawn and the side of the school building towards the corner of 4th St. and War Hwy.

In preparation for next years PTA functions, a nominating committee was appointed to set up a slate for next season's election of committees. It is planned that next year the PTA will have a successful season by getting an early start well organized. This year's committee feels proud of its accomplishments getting a late start in January of this year with the opening of the new school and the inexperience of both committee and members as to PTA work.

FIRING SQUAD—Seven members of the Pre-Cadet detachment and their squad leader will go to Ralls, Texas, to participate in grave-side Memorial Day services. They will also participate in services at Lorenzo and Crosbyton throughout the morning. Members of the squad are, S/Sgt. Lynn Clement, squad leader A/3C Warren K. Vest, A/3C Edward R. Daval, A/3C John E. Harmon, A/3C Jon M. Shaul, A/3C Richard S. James and A/3C John F. Worthen. (Photo by Kent, Base Photo Lab.)

United Fund Drive To Replace Other Campaigns At RAFB

A United Fund Drive, held once a year, will replace the many fund raising campaigns at Reese Air Force Base hereafter, Col. C. P. West, base commander, announced today.

He pointed out that headquarters of Flying Training Air Force has authorized the 23 bases of the command to conduct such united drives and that military and civilian personnel will be encouraged to give one day's pay. The one-time drive at Reese AFB will include all fund raising campaigns of the past, except Air Force Aid Society, which will be continued.

Maj. Edward S. Ashley, wing comptroller, has been named project officer for the United Fund Drive, Colonel West said. Squadron project officers also will be named for the campaign which begins June 30 and terminates August 1.

Major Ashley said that personnel may pledge such amount as they desire to give to the campaign and may pay it off by installments each pay day until the last of August.

Under the United Fund Drive program a council headed by Lt. Col. Charles E. Wilson, wing personnel officer, will be responsible for funds collected and distribution of them. Allotments will be made to the various campaigns of civilian agencies as the council decides.

Maj. Billy Hockaday Is Re-assigned To Hickam AFB, Hawaii

Maj. Billy S. Hockaday, manpower and organization officer at Reese Air Force Base, has been re-assigned to Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, for duty with the Pacific division of Material Air Transport Service, Col. C. P. West, base commander, announced this week.

Major Hockaday came to Reese AFB in the fall of 1950 and served as pilot instructor for a few months before assuming new duties as military training instructor. He advanced to assistant director of military training and director of military training and director of manpower and organization officer ten months ago.

A resident of Long Beach, Calif., the major has been in service since February, 1943. He served with the 8th Air Force in England during World War II and later was an air-sea rescue pilot with headquarters on Guam.

He flew 35 missions in B-17 aircraft with the 8th Air Force. He has several decorations, including the Air Medal and five clusters.

REESE VOLUNTEER BAND on parade in the last wing review. The Band will also appear in the Wing Review Saturday, May 28, and at the Memorial Day services at Lubbock. Base Finance Office Clarifies Rules On Pay Certificates

Reese Volunteer Marching Band Distinguishes Itself Locally

Personnel that are to receive payment in the Base Finance Office are advised that all certificates to substantiate a payment must be signed by an authorized person in his own right, showing grade and official position, Capt. G. D. Clerget, finance officer, stated recently.

Certificates which are prepared for the authorized member and are signed by another member for the authorized member will no longer be accepted in the finance office to receive payments, the captain pointed out.

The Reese Volunteer Band has been putting on some fine performances lately in both marching and concert appearances. The band will also appear at the Memorial Day services at the East Lawn Memorial Gardens in Lubbock, with the band playing the National Anthem, and numbers throughout the program.

The organization has also appeared at two rodeos, at Texas Tech and at Post, Texas. At Post, the band led a parade through the town in the afternoon preceding the rodeo and then were guests at a barbecue dinner. During the rodeo, the band played several numbers for the events in the program and during intermission.

At the recent Armed Forces Day observance the Volunteer Band played two 30 minute concerts for the enjoyment of the many visitors. The members of the band are to be congratulated for their many fine performances rendered since the band was organized late in March.

The Volunteer Band is under the direction of 1st Lt. Theodore E. Dahlfors and leading the group in parades is drum major, Aviation Cadet Charles Gaunlett.

Stassen Asks Mothers To Aid Him In Role

old E. Stassen, in his first speech as special Presidential assistant on disarmament, has asked American mothers to help him in his role of "Secretary of Peace."

Speaking at the 35th annual Mothers Day Ceremony at Arlington Cemetery sponsored by the American War Mothers, Stassen pointed to the "thousands of Arlingtons all over the world" as evidence of the sacrifices of mothers for their country.

"No one has prayed harder for peace than mothers," he declared, "and with your help—the task which I have undertaken can succeed."

Incentive Awards

More Take Part In Award Program

A gain from three to twenty per cent in Incentive Awards participation in one month at Reese AFB was reported Thursday by Tom Ireland, civilian personnel officer.

"Early in April we were advised that greater emphasis was desired on the incentives award program through which suggestions for improved Air Force practices are made," Ireland said. "On April 19 we set up a rejuvenated program at Reese. On that date participation was three per cent. Exactly one month later we had 20 per cent participation, and we believe by the end of the fiscal year it will be 30 per cent."

Letters from higher headquarters urged at least 20 per cent, he pointed out. The stepped-up program at Reese AFB included several additional steps. Col. C. P. West sent a letter to each group commander, asking his active participation in stimulating the incentive awards program. New supervisors were instructed to give complete cooperation. Employees experiencing difficulties expressing a suggestion were given aid by experts in his field. In addition, supervisors of civilians received a special letter on the program, meetings of personnel within each section were held to emphasize the program, and group commanders were instructed to submit an early report on actions taken.

Ireland also pointed out that acceptable suggestions in the program bring cash rewards to the suggestors, with numerous checks being issued in recent weeks.

Aviation Cadet Volleyball team will leave Reese tonight to go to Hondo Air Base to play in the Southwest cadet conference tournament. The Reese team will be in competition with five other bases in the Southwest conference, Hondo AB, Goodfellow AFB, Elling AFB, Harlingen AFB, and Bryan AFB.

Members of the team were not picked until the last minute, as some welcomed height was added to the team with Class 56-B coming on the base. This is just one of the athletic tournaments to be held throughout the year in the cadet conference. S/Sgt. Mel Jewel, cadet physical training instructor, accompanied the team to Hondo.

The Base Swimming pool proved to be one of the most popular places on the base this week, as many came to get relief from the heat and also to soak up some of that nice Texas sunshine that has been present this past week.

The two top teams in the National League took a slight beating this week and brought the race closer. The Dodgers were beaten by the score of 15 to 1 by the Pirates, making the biggest run production so far this year in the National League. The Dodgers, however, have three more chances to get back at the Pirates and then move on tonight for a series with the Giants.

The American League is a closer race, with only four games separating the first four teams. The old faithful Yankees lead the league, closely followed by the Cleveland Indians.

Four Reese AFB Trackmen Compete In SW Conference Meet At Waco

Four representatives from Reese AFB are entered in the Southwest Conference Track meet, being held at James Connelly AFB, Waco, Texas, June 1-4. The four athletes are A/1C Joseph M. Deady, A/2C Girard A. Fox, A/3C Frederick J. Abington and A/3C Carlton Sessions.

Most notable of the four is Deady. He is the holder of the All-Air Force record in the 880-yard run, which he won last year at Rome, New York. His record time is 1:54.4. He is a graduate of Georgetown University at Washington D. C. and is the holder of a Bachelor's degree in Social Science.

Airman Fox will represent Reese in the 220-yard low hurdles and also the running broad-jump. He is a graduate of the Newburgh Free Academy in New York, where he was active in football as well as track.

AF Golfers Against Pros In National Golf Day

Airmen who play golf will have a chance to beat the U. S. Open Champion, Ed Furgol, on June 4 when National Golf Day again will be observed throughout the world. Airmen, and other AF members who participate, will compare their scores with Furgol's on that date, with handicaps applying. The entry fee, $1, will go to worthy charities. On the same day WAF golfers will compete against the U. S. Open champion, Babe Zaharias Didrikson.

New Class Arrives To Begin Training

By A/C Richard A. Brown

Cadets and student officers of Class 56-B have arrived recently from primary pilot training bases and have begun their final phase before becoming pilots in the United States Air Force.

Cadets, along with base personnel, were out in force Saturday, helping in the celebration of Armed Forces Day. The cadets participated in fly-overs throughout northwest Texas and northeastern New Mexico while others helped the Air Police and stood by to answer the questions of the visiting public. The day's activities were closed with the retreat ceremonies. The Reese Volunteer Band and the Pre-Cadet Drill team participated in the ceremonies.

Aviation Cadets Hyatt and Ingram were the first to solo in Flight 55-V, with many other cadets following them during the past week.

Dry Run

MADISON, Ind. (AFPS) — All firefighting units in this city rolled to No. 1 Engine House when an alarm was turned in recently. The firemen found their chief standing sheepishly beside an alarm box which he accidentally set off while telling a citizen how it worked.

In the grueling distance events, we will be represented by Airmen Abington and Sessions. Abington is entered in the mile-run and also the steeplechase. He has had track experience in high school as well as in college. He attended Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. Sessions will perform in the three-mile run and the steeplechase. He has attended Texas A & M where he won his varsity letter in track.

The four will leave for Waco on May 31.

F-84's Make Longest Non-Stop Jet Flight

Four FEAF F-84 Thunderjets made the AF's longest single-engine non-stop jet flight May 18 from Tokyo to Newcastle, Australia, a distance of 4,800 miles. The planes, from the Japan-based 49th Fighter Bomber Group, were refueled in air over Guam, Port Moresby and Townsville, Australia, by KB-29 flying tankers. The KB-29s were sent ahead of the jets to demonstrate the AF's long-range flexibility. Elapsed time of the flight was 12 hours and 1 minute. Average flying speed was approximately 400 miles per hour.

1st AF Academy Class Has 20 Ex-Servicemen

Washington (AFPS) — Twenty members of the Armed Forces are among the 301 cadets who will enter the first class of the Air Force Academy in July. The successful applicants—the pick of more than 6,000 nominated to take the entrance exam—were announced by Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott.

The Academy will open its doors July 15 at its temporary home at Lowry AFB, Colo. The permanent campus at Colorado Springs is scheduled to be ready by 1957.

ASSIGNED TO JAPAN
 A/3C Joe L. Holder of the Installations group will leave next week for new duties in Japan. He is scheduled to report July 3 to Parks AFB for overseas shipment.

Simulated Flights Sharpen Students For Flying

Recently a white paper cross was presented to a student at Reese Air Force Base to signify he had been "killed" in a simulated flight in the Academic section's flight planning room.

It was the first paper cross awarded a student in weeks and was just one feature of the program in which each student makes an imaginary flight three times before he gets his silver wings and actually is a pilot of the United States Air Force. On those flights the clocks on the front wall of the classroom are clicking off four or six minutes for each actual minute passing.

Receive 469 Hrs. Training

Each student receives 110 hours of flying training, 211 hours of academic training, and 148 hours of military training at Reese AFB, a basic pilot training school. In academics, 66 hours are set aside for flight operations training, and the 22nd hour finds students in the flight planning room to take an imaginary flight under visual flight rules and air defense identification zone procedures. The clock in this instance travels four minutes for each actual minute, or the students will be able to make a navigational training flight which might cover four hours in only one hour in the classroom.

Two men are seated at each table. They have before them all publications needed for a four-hour flight. Behind a wall to the rear of the room are instructors who give instructions for the flight. Students receive these instructions and make frequent reports, using proper procedures and publications. Eventually they have completed the long journey, sometimes through bad weather as set up by instructors who usually are Capt. Gale Crawford and Owen Blum.

Then, later in the 66 hours of flight operations, the students return to the flight planning room for two more "flights." Voice procedures are tested as before and flights are worked out under instrument flight rules. The clocks in front travel six minutes to the actual minute, and the simulated flight may be from Chicago to Miami, for the latter class periods are two hours long, and that is 12 hours of simulated flying.

Along the way, each student in the latter two flights faces bad weather, maybe an engine is lost, and there are many emergencies. If the student meets each problem properly his grade is good; if he doesn't do well, his grade is poor.

Set Up Flight Plans

Before each simulated flight, the student must set up his flight plan, clear the weather station, and know all there is to know along the route. He is briefed on what is ahead, has his own aircraft number, knows each airport along the way, and finds out all he can so he may complete the flight.

But he may have troubles. The student may be told to take off or land on a certain runway, or to fly to an assigned altitude, or to land in a storm at a designated airport. There may be no such runway; there may be other aircraft at the directed altitude; there may be no such airport. Thus, if the student doesn't know what he should and uses a runway which does not exist, or goes to an altitude reserved for aircraft going the other way he'll be "killed." Thus the paper cross.

Students who have completed the three required flights say they are very tough, in many ways worse than actual flights when there is more time to figure things out. Reese AFB instructors admit the clocks run "right fast," but the training is a necessity in turning out qualified pilots.

ON SIMULATED FLIGHTS—Students at Reese Air Force Base take three simulated flights in training, facing problems of actual flight and mastering difficulties. Red Cross Director

He said his service had been marked by three high spots. With the opening of the base pool, military personnel and dependents were trained and supervised in the skills of swimming, he said; two successful Red Cross standard first aid courses were offered and will be continued; and a program of activities in junior Red Cross was established for pupils of the Reese elementary school through which the base hospital has received much benefit in morale of patients.

Huff, his wife, and child have been living in housing on the base. Clarence Hunter of Tinker AFB will be acting Red Cross director at Reese AFB until a permanent replacement is selected.

American Legion Convention

MIAMI, Fla. (AFPS)—The American Legion expects thousands of Legionnaires to combine their vacations with Legion business when their 37th national convention is held here Oct. 10-13.

Joe H. Adams, president of the 1955 American Legion National Convention Corp., urged legionnaires to make their registrations early to assure choicest accommodations.

Recommendation Would Aid Recreation, Welfare

Secretary Talbott is sponsoring a recommendation that open dining halls, clubs, theaters and base exchanges in the AF no longer be required to pay for their utilities from nonappropriated funds.

This is another move by the Air Force Secretary to restore in so far as possible all privileges formerly enjoyed by military personnel.

The Air Force is requesting the Department of Defense to review the existing policy on payment for utilities affecting morale, welfare and recreation facilities. The recommendation has been approved by the Joint Welfare Board.

Present policy requires that these facilities be self-sustaining with respect to expenses for heat, water, electricity and other utilities.

Secretary Talbott says that relief from this requirement would be a tremendous boost to the morale and welfare of AF members. He says prices and dues could be reduced. Increased nonappropriated funds would then become available for support of these and other welfare activities.

USAF Extends Civilian Catering Service Experiment At Vance AFB

The Air Force will extend through fiscal year 1956 its experiment with civilian contractor feeding service which has been under test since August 1, 1954.

This project is being conducted at Vance AF Base, Enid, Okla., to determine the cost and desirability of civilians operating AF dining halls.

Preliminary studies show the pilot project meets AF standards. Service during the past months' trial at Vance has satisfactorily maintained schedules, quality and sanitation.

Further analysis must now be made by the Food Branch of Hqs USAF on relative cost of civilian vs military operated service. The Air Force seeks to determine if the civilian service on a wider basis would be advantageous.

If the studies of the extended experiment result in AF acceptance of the new system, airmen would not be required to perform kitchen police duty where the civilian service is used. However, there will be a continuing need in the AF for skilled military food service personnel. There are many units which must be self contained for combat, tactical or security reasons.

Should the change be made on a wide basis, officials at headquarters believe that an improved food service personnel program could be effected. Training could be concentrated on a nucleus of volunteer personnel to meet the AF requirements.

Capt. Guy A. Belzons
By 1st Lt. Paul E. Pohl

From the Basic Instructor School graduation here May 12th, Flight One received a new instructor. 2nd Lt. Kenneth N. Fallin, a former student in Flight One, is now back with us as an instructor. During pilot training here, he was in flights one and four, and following graduation and commission in November, 1954, he went to Vance AFB for B-26 transition training. After completing this, he returned to Reese for assignment.

The flight wishes to congratulate Capt. Paul Hall on his promotion to flight commander in Flight Eight. He was formerly with Flight One. A replacement for Captain Hall has not been made at present and Capt. Bennie Jew is acting as assistant commander until a regular assistant is assigned.

Flight Two, despite nearly a week of bad weather without any weather days, is still several hours in the blue. At the moment, we are running our solo day-night cross countries and checking out students for solo formation. Our night flying, thank goodness, has finally been completed.

Next month we will run our three-day cross countries. Destinations include every corner of the country.

Lt. Kenneth Maltby received his promotion to First Lieutenant early this month. Congratulations Ken!

Lt. Earl Handing is TDY to Squadron Officers Course. Captain John Nelson has been assigned to the flight in his place. Also, Lt. Donald Spurrier, a recent BIS graduate, has been assigned to the flight. Welcome gentlemen!

Our students are not the only people worrying over 60-4 checks. In the past three months over half the instructors in the flight have had to renew their instrument cards. All of us have made the grade. If we can pass along the secret of our success to our students, maybe they can do as well next month.

FLIGHT
FOUR

Capt. James P. May
By Lt. L. J. Ashburn Jr.

With the re-assignment of Capt. Lippincott to Flight Six, this Flight has again had a change of personnel. Capt. Harry C. Fisher has joined Flight Four, reporting in on the 29th of April. Captain Fisher's most recent assignment was as Operations Officer for the 5th Tow Target Squadron at Sculthorpe, England. He is not new to the Training Command, having been an instructor at Vance AFB, Oklahoma, from 1949 to 1951. Captain Fisher was also Director of the Wing Instrument School at Vance.

The Flight welcomes Captain Fisher and feels that his experience will be quite beneficial to the job of training better pilots.

Class 55-T is now well into the program. Recently the first of the day-night cross countries were run off.

Many of the students are becoming more and more conscious of the practised application of radio range work as the weather continues to be marginal and the student aircraft are forced to fly instrument flight rules and make let downs through the clouds in order to land.

Recently the flight has welcomed a weather day and for the first time since our new class arrived, the flight has a substantial amount of flying time in the blue.

At the present the lower classmen, 55-V, have finished up their stalls and landings. A large percentage of the men have soloed and should be completed soon.

We appreciate the help extended us by Flights Three and Four for the loan of several of their instructors the past weeks.

FLIGHT
NINE

Capt. John G. Conklin
By Lt. William I. Powell

Congratulations to Lt. Pete Berick on his recent exchange of gold bars for silver ones.

A "well done" is due Lts. Kyker and Thompson, who, on a solo mission, successfully stopped their aircraft after losing all hydraulic pressure while pulling the ship into its parking spot. Their quick action possibly saved their aircraft and their lives as the ship was heading for another B-25 and a refueling truck. Once again—"well done".

Flight Nine is working hard, now that all students have soloed and had their basic instruments, to get a week of "day-nights" out of the way.

Pre-Cadet Bachem

sians have the town and save their own lives," the pre-cadet commented. "I saw that, because I was in the middle."

He pointed out that throughout the war his family was recognized as German, although they were all American.

"That was the safest way," he said.

In 1947 the Bachem family escaped from behind the Iron Curtain, where it had been living, and settled at Bad Kissingen, Staffels 4, Germany. Here the father died. Young Fritz became an apprentice tool and die maker. Last fall he came to America.

"I was given to understand I was about to be drafted," he said. "I didn't want to go into the Army, so I centered attention on learning to fly, the program in which I am training."

He said his greatest trouble was lack of English, since he knew few words when he landed.

"I have found learning English is not too difficult," he said. "I was surprised when I passed the Air Force tests. But I have had eight years of Latin in German schools, and so many English words are derived from Latin."
