Air Force Today Celebrates Its 12th Birthday

The United States Air Force today is celebrating its twelfth anniversary as a separate branch of service. The occasion brought praise to personnel from Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, vice chief of staff, and Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, commander of Air Training Command.

"On Sep. 18, 1959, the United States Air Force marks its twelfth anniversary as an independent service," General LeMay said. "In the absence of General White, I commend you, civilians and military alike, on your loyalty, your initiative, and your efficiency.

"As our capability has grown over the years, the people of the country and the free world have developed great faith in our strength. Their faith is the basis for this nation's reliance on air power as the principal means of keeping us safe and free.

"While we have good reason to be proud of our progress, the future may call for ever greater effort. I am confident that we shall meet the test."

Also taking note of the occasion, General Briggs said:

"On the occasion of the twelfth anniversary of the USAF as a separate service, I add my appreciation for a job well done to that of the vice chief of staff, USAF.

"Through the continued efforts of Air Training Command personnel, our command has furnished the skilled manpower so necessary in accomplishing the Air Force mission.

"To you, the members of the Air Training Command, my congratulations and my confidence that you will continue to meet the high standards expected."

Runway Opening Set for Monday

The new 10,500-foot instrument runway is tentatively scheduled to go into use next Monday, officials report.

Some work remained to be completed today and the opening may be delayed a few days.

However, most markers are in place and plans call for students to use the new runway for day flying within a few days.

The contractor is moving to another area for a brief time and then will return to install lights and other equipment.

Kid Commander To Be Selected In Celebration

Selection of an honorary base commander from among boys attending the annual Kids Day celebration at Reese will highlight the occasion Saturday, Sep. 26.

Hundreds of boys and girls of the South Plains are expected to visit the base. An Honorary Women of the Air Force commander also will be named by the sponsoring Kiwanis clubs of Lubbock.

Certificates will be presented the honorees by Col. L. C. Hess, Reese commander.

Open house is to be from 8 a. m. until 12:00 p. m. Displays will include T-33, C-47, T-28, H-21, T-34 and PA 18 Cub aircraft, a fire engine, and jet engine. T-33s and the helicopter will make flyovers and a fire fighting demonstration will be presented.

Movies are scheduled at the base theatre and open for inspection will be the synthetic trainer section, academic trainer room, physiological training section, and parachute loft.

Elimination of "Litter Bugs" Asked

A plea for Reese "litter bugs" to cease operation was made Thursday by Lt. Col. Quinn L. Oldaker, Air Base Group commander.

The colonel said a campaign to reduce litter on the base has been started and cooperation of all persons—military, dependents, and civilians—is requested.

"All of us should have pride in our base and our surroundings," he said. "Yet candy wrappers and other loose paper blowing around make it difficult for units to keep their areas clean. Cigarette butts are too numerous. Receptacles are conveniently placed, and that is the place for debris to go."

Colonel Oldaker said posters are being put up, talks will be made to school children, and other moves are planned to eliminate litter at Reese. Air Police have been instructed to take names of motorists seen throwing paper and other material from their cars.

The colonel urged officers and NCO's to be more active in the elimination of litter and to speak forcefully to others they see disposing of litter by throwing it on walks or into streets.

Many Vacancies In Engineering Classes Present

Eligible Reese officers were urged this week to make immediate applications for enrollment in vacant Air Force Institute of Technology courses.

AFIT reports many vacancies exist in the professional education program, especially in engineering. The deadline for application is Oct. 1, but consideration will be given to applications arriving after that date as far as vacancies exist.

There are about 38 vacancies in chemical, aeronautical, civil, electrical, mechanical, and petroleum engineering. Other vacancies are in physics, transportation management, and operational space vehicles (training with industry). Courses last from 12 to 36 months.

The base education office is available for help in making application.

Classes Start

On-base classes in review English, arithmetic, and algebra will be started next week in Classroom 8, Building 815. Instruction will be from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m.

The English class started Monday night, arithmetic Tuesday, and algebra Wednesday. Eight more men are needed for a class in plane geometry. Men interested in preparing for college or who wish to study electronics or radio should enroll. J. F. Reeves, base education specialist, said. Geometry also is a prerequisite for college entrance and trigonometry.

Registrations may be made at the base education office.

PTA Has Opening Meeting Monday

Parents of children in the Reese Elementary school are being urged to attend the opening meeting of the school's PTA at 8 p. m. Monday in the school auditorium.

Major Frederick F. Shriner, president, said all parents are eligible and should register at Monday's meeting. Various plans for the coming year will be perfected.

Officers Receive Duties Elsewhere

Captain Chester M. Stone, flight commander, has been reassigned to a bomb wing at MacDill AFB, Fla.

Captain Walter B. Simmons, Jr., assistant flight commander, is going to the Pacific Air Force, with TDY enroute at a missile training center.

Captain William M. Johannsen, assistant flight commander, is going to an Air Base Wing in Japan.

First Lt. James D. McCarthy, information service officer, is being reassigned to a remote SAC base.

SNACK BAR OPENS—Captain Hubert C. Fraser, food service officer, holds a ribbon while 1st Lt. Clarence J. Doane, personnel services officer, cuts it to officially open the Service Club's snack bar. The snack bar is operated by the Service Club after being closed for a short period. Looking on at the ceremony is Mrs. Daphne Hargett, club director.

From the Commander's Desk

by Col. Harold T. Babb, Deputy Wing Commander

It could cost you 100 dollars. This is the fine in some states for throwing trash on the highway. Many other states have a 50 dollar fine waiting for the litter bug.

These stiff fines represent the dim view the various states take of the litter bug. They also represent the pride Americans take in our beautiful country.

A beer can in the gutter in front of the base theatre reflects no pride. Neither does a "kleenex" tossed from the window of a moving car, nor trash along the perimeter fence. And what ever happened to the custom of field-stripping cigarette butts?

Certainly we at Reese should take as much pride in the beauty of this base as our fellow citizens take in the beauty of their state highways.

One hates even to bring up the subject of the litter bug on an Air Force base. Yet, perhaps Reese Air Force Base should have some penalty for the litter bug comparable to the state fines. A verbal reprimand from a supervisor would probably not convince those who don't care.

Nation Backs Laos

Again, a small independent nation is attacked by the Communists and is asking for help.

This time it is Laos, a 91,000 square-mile kingdom with 1,700,000 people living in the giant peninsula that just south from the Asian mainland toward Indonesia.

Its loss to the Free World if swallowed by the Chinese Communists would be a shattering blow to hopes for a more peaceful world. Laos is a key to the defense of Southeast Asia.

Bordering Red China in the north, Laos has Burma and Thailand on its western border, Cambodia to the south, and Communist North Viet-Nam and free South Viet-Nam to the east.

This peninsula is called the rice bowl of Asia. India and Japan get a large amount of their food there. If the Communist bloc had control of the rice bowl of Asia, it would have a powerful weapon that would tend to expand its control into Japan and India.

On Saturday, Sep. 5, 1959, the United States government issued a statement on Laos of vital interest to every member of the armed forces.

The implications in its last paragraph, quoted below, should be clear to every Air Force member—understanding as he does that the Air Force stands always ready to support the interests of the United States and free world.

"The latest attack upon the Laos army in Sam Meua Province," says the statement, "has resulted in an appeal by the Royal Laos government for United Nations assistance. It is appropriate that this matter be thus brought to the world's attention. It is obvious that any further augmentation of the invading force or continued material support thereof by Communists in North Viet-Nam will require a major change in the nature and magnitude of the Royal Laos government's need for support. The United States is confident that the free world would recognize such a new danger to peace and would take the action necessary. For its part the United States supports that view."

Reese Optimist Club Discussed

Request for organization of a Reese Optimist club of military and civilian personnel was received this week.

The International Club has a reputation for being a "Friend of the Boy," and the four chapters of Lubbock have lived up to that standing, base officials pointed out. Membership time and talent is turned frequently to raising funds for buildings, swimming pools, and other recreational facilities. A Reese club may support any worthwhile activity it desires.

A base club would meet two evenings a month in a Lubbock restaurant to plan projects. Interested personnel may call Tom Ireland at the civilian personnel office.

Opportunity Handy For Proper Living In Benefitting Soul

By Chaplain James D. Taylor

It has been said that opportunity knocks but once. But I say that opportunity is constantly around you if you have prepared yourself for it.

The Chinese write the word "crisis" with two characters. One meaning danger and the other meaning opportunity. Together they spell "crisis."

If sorrow could enter Heaven, if a sigh could be heard there, or a tear roll down the cheek of a saint in light, it would be for lost opportunity, for the time spent in neglect of God which might have been spent for His Glory.

There are not times in life when opportunity, the chance to be and do, gather so richly about the soul as when it has to suffer.

Then everything depends upon whether the man turns to the lower or the higher things. If he resorts to mere expedients and tricks, the opportunity is lost. He comes out no richer nor greater; nay, he comes out harder, poorer, smaller for his pain. But, if he turns to God, the hour of suffering is the turning hour of his life.

Sometimes we never recognize the opportunity when it appears.

We are either too busy with the cares of life or we have our sights too high to see the opportunities that come to us. We sometimes let the cobwebs gather in our minds because we do not use the knowledge we have, thereby losing that knowledge by no use. We have to use anything at least now and then to keep it in working condition.

Study and attention to the way of life by the right use of our time will enable us to seize the opportunities that come our way.

Pickup Scheduled

A coat hanger and paper pickup will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday in the base housing area and trailer court by Explorer Scouts of Squadron 148. Residents are asked to donate freely.

Words of Praise Needed

One of the easiest things for any of us to do is to criticize; one of the most infrequent things we do is praise.

One of the deepest principles of human nature is the desire to be appreciated. Yet few of us take advantage of the many opportunities we have to recognize good in those around us by a word of praise.

Some Reese supervisors have used praise as an effective tool of management. They have found that work is better, morale higher, among men and women who find their efforts recognized.

The will to excel, to do a good job, is worthy of recognition and praise.

Have you noticed the motor pool, for instance. Dispatchers and drivers are courteous and friendly. They make all their "passengers" feel like it is a pleasure to serve.

There are many other spots—the operations offices, wing adjutant's office, Family Service Center, hospital, chapel, and a host of others—where kindness and courtesy make life easier. Let us all add our voice to "you're doing a good job."

Pleasantness, words of praise, helpfulness, all go a long way to make life worth living and bring better production.

Reese Prepares For Footprinting

Supplies for footprinting all aircrew members and others on flying status were ordered this week by the base hospital.

Under a new regulation, all Air Force personnel on flying status or acting as aircrew members will be footprinted at the time of their next annual physical examination. Footprints will be taken only once, except when an accident may mar the previous situation.

Impressions will be taken of ridges of skin on the end of each toe and the ball of the foot on both feet. The footprint record will be placed in each individual's health record.

Hospital authorities said the new procedure will be started when supplies arrive.

COMMAND CHANGES—Command of the AACs Detachment 2010-2 changed this week as Capt. Joseph Q. Spell, right, took over from Capt. Robert Burtner. The latter leaves Monday for TDY training in C-124 aircraft at Tinker AFB, after which he will have permanent assignment at Donaldson AFB. The captains smile as they realize change of command came on the ninth anniversary of Captain Spell's commissioning.

Sports Report

By A/3C Roger J. Gillard

Pinboys are sweating it out as the crash of flying pins resound throughout the bowling alley with the start of Intramural Bowling Monday. Members of 16 teams began limbering up their arms and sharpening their style in hopes of gaining base trophies at end-of-season play. Watch the Sports Page for weekly standings.

Texas Tech plays two football games in Dallas this season, meeting Texas A&M Sept. 19, and Southern Methodist Oct. 24.

The longest forward pass play in Texas Tech history was 90 yards, from Ernest Hawkins to Cal Steveson which helped the Red Raiders defeat Texas A&M 20-14 in San Antonio in 1948.

The base firing range, having been under improvements for approximately three weeks, is near completion. Dirt mounds in the shape of "wings" are being piled up to help keep the bullets from glancing. Anyone interested in joining the Rod and Gun club or in simply practicing, call TSgt. John Chandler, small arms branch, 223.

Major Topples Ten Strikes in Row

Major Conrad C. Johnson toppled ten strikes in a row and tabbed a 278 game to highlight the last session of the Officers Bowling League on the North College lanes. He marked up a 576 series to lead the Pilot Training Group Spoilers into first place.

His team rolled a 1,033 game, highest in the league three-year history, to assist in its 3-1 victory over Base Operations. Captain William P. Reece turned in a 213 game, while the team has 2,587 series to gain a 7-1 record. Captain Alex Goodkin clicked for a 240 game and 587 series.

ATC last year conducted flying and technical training courses for 980 foreign students, representing 45 different countries.

The M&S Greasers won three from the Flight 9 Hustlers to take second place on a 6-2 record.

Ten of the remaining 12 teams tied for third place with 4-4 seasons.

Scoreless Games Mark Early Season

In the second week of Intramural Touch Football, ABG swamped PTW, 31-0; Air Police tied PTG, 0-0; '00th PTS trampled Installations, 8-0; Hospital and '01st PTS tied with no score and AGB tallied a slim victory over '02nd Maintenance, 1-0.

Piloted by 1st Lt. Ray Thompson, the '01st PTS downed PTG Friday night for the third win of the touch football season. A/C John Pierce snarked all three scores, tossing to A/C David Till for the first touchdown. Cadet Wolfram Wislicenus for the second and going from the two-yard line himself for the third. Final score was 19-0.

Master Promotions Set Semi-Annually

Reese and other bases hereafter will nominate for promotion to senior and chief master sergeant annually, but master promotions will be in December and June. USAF has announced.

Selected next month will be 1,720 nominated for chief master sergeant and 4,540 for senior master sergeant. Effective Dec. 1, stripes will go to 650 chiefs and 1,660 seniors. Remaining slots will be filled next June.

Under the new program, each command will make a "selected list" of men to be promoted in June. Each selectee will be notified of his place on the list.

Styles Displayed

Reese officers and their wives have been urged to make dinner reservations at the Officers Club for the style show sponsored by the Officers Wives Club at 7:30 p. m. next Thursday. Fashions for men and women will be displayed.

USAF officials have directed commanders to keep close tabs on TDY time granted school-bound members. Reports indicate excessive TDY status is being granted before and after courses dates.

LEADER—SMSgt. Lee Grimes, top base golfer, and TSgt. Billy H. Jones from Stead AFB, shot a one over par 73 Wednesday to lead the 145 golfers in the Air Training Command tournament at Randolph AFB.

Two golfers shot 74s, two 75s, six 76s, and seven 77s in the opening round. A/C Gerald McFerren of Reese carded a 76, 1st Lt. Richard Duckworth, former Reese golfer, a 77.

Gusty winds upset Wednesday scoring. Cadet McFerren moved to third with a 76-77-153; Lieutenant Duckworth and Sergeant Grimes totaled 156 for 36-holes, Maj. Joe Setnor and SSgt. Geo. Williams got 159 each.
