Air Division Leader Will Speak Here

Wings Go To 31 Students At Class 60-D Graduation

Colonel S. E. Manzo, commander of the 810th Air Division at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, will be the speaker at graduation of Class 60-D the morning of Nov. 25. The Class includes 17 student officers and 13 aviation cadets of the USAF and a cadet from Ecuador.

Colonel Manzo has been connected with service aviation since 1939, following his graduation from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. He was in anti-submarine work during World War II with a bomb group. He is a graduate of the Naval War College and the National War College. He has served in Iceland, as well as at several bases in the United States.

The colonel holds many decorations, including the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, DFC, Soldier's Medal, Air Medal with four clusters, and the French Croix de Guerre with palm. The Soldier's Medal was awarded for rescue of an unconscious fighter pilot from a burning crashed F-100 in Iceland.

He is a command pilot with more than 4,000 hours of flying time.

The colonel will fly to Reese in a KC-135 aircraft, which will be on display on the flight line during his stay.

Colonel Manzo will be introduced by Col. L. C. Hess, base commander, who also will award wings and diplomas to graduates.

Serving as master-of-ceremonies will be Maj. Roland E. Lane, director of officer training, while 1st Lt. William D. McWilliams,

COLONEL MANZO

New Base Emblem Receives Approval

A new base emblem depicting the base mission was approved this week by USAF headquarters, after negotiations of many months.

The emblem is divided into three areas, beneath which is the motto: "Scientia, Peritia, Fortitudo," a Latin phrase meaning "Knowledge, Skill, Courage."

The new emblem is symbolic of the wing and its mission. The fledgling eagle in the lower section represents the student pilot receiving pilot training; the lamp in the upper left area is symbolic of knowledge and learning and represents academics; the upper right area contains a warrior's helmet, symbolizing various phases of military training.

The emblem contains the red, white, and blue of the nation's flag, as well as Air Force colors of ultramarine blue and golden yellow.

It was drawn by Capt. William P. Reece, academic instructor.

III, military training instructor, is to administer the oath of office to aviation cadets who become second lieutenants on graduation.

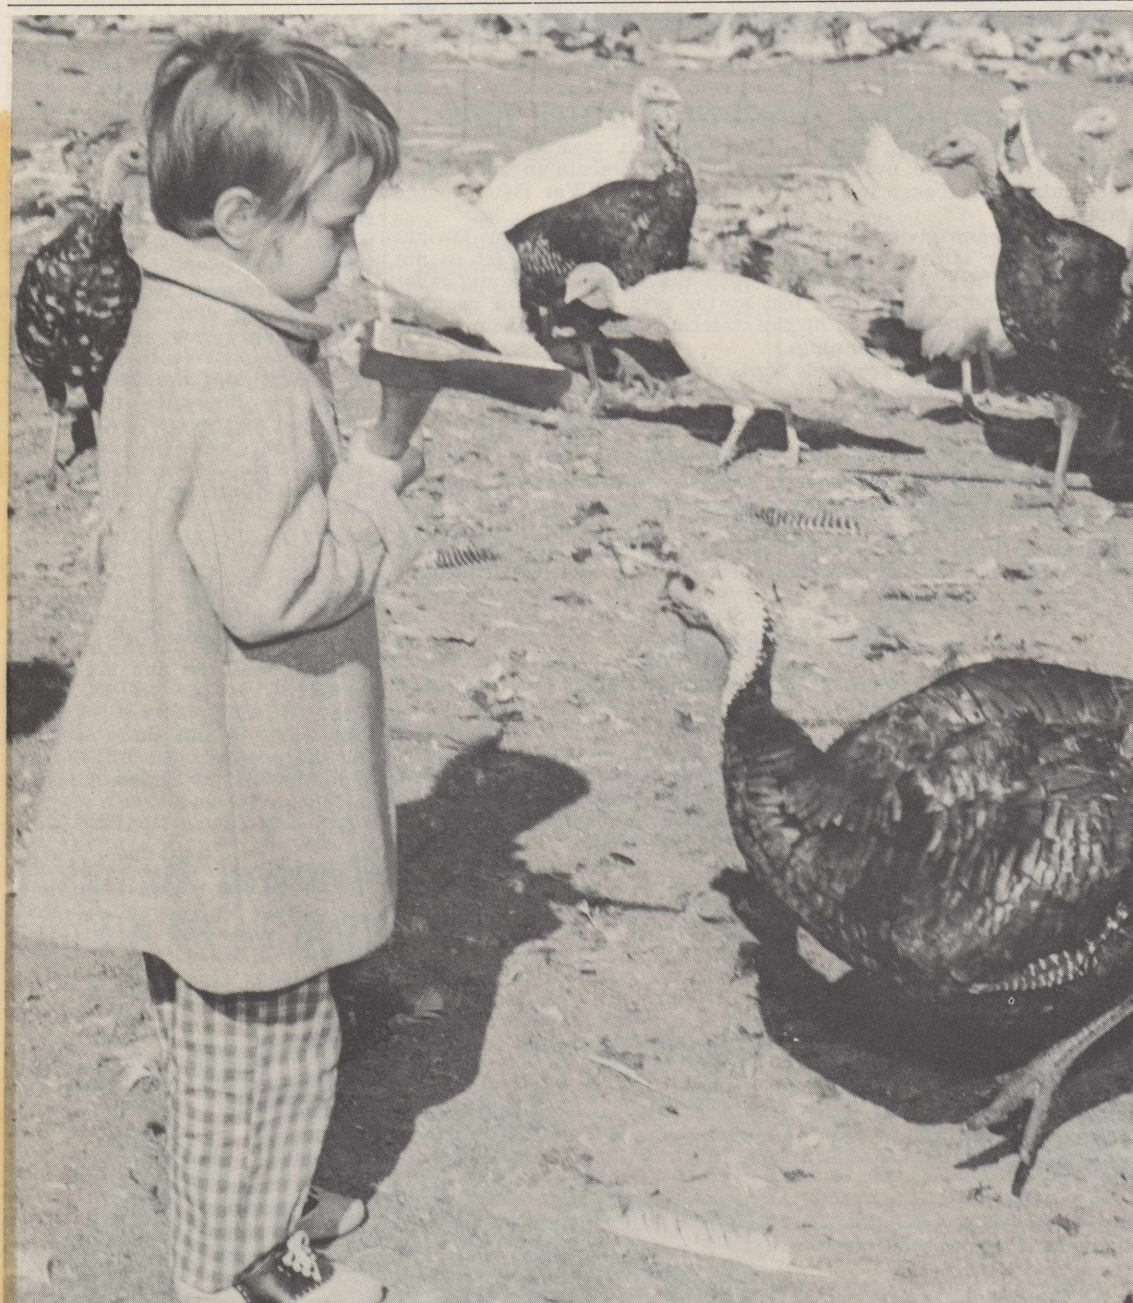

Cadet Robert J. Boucher is to receive the Daughters of American Colonists Award as highest ranking cadet of Air Training Command in his class. He also will receive other honors.

Winners of the Commanders Trophy will receive awards presented by Lt. Col. Charles W. Sawyer, commander of the Pilot

DEADLINE EARLY

Since next Thursday is Thanksgiving and a holiday, THE ROUNDUP will have unusual situations to face. It is requested that all copy for the paper be on the editor's desk no later than Tuesday.

YOU READY?—With a Thanksgiving dinner in mind, Sherrie Lea Zipfi, 5, approaches a big gobbler with axe in hand. Daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Wallace E. Zopfi, Sherrie Lea had no qualms in going into the midst of 1,700 gobbling turkeys at the Prater farm, south of Lubbock. Most of the gobblers scattered when they saw the axe. (Photo by Fontaine)

Chest Donations Increase Sharply

Increasing contributions by about $1,000, despite fewer personnel, Reese gave $6,933.03 to the Lubbock Community Chest in the drive ending early this month, Maj. H. R. Wright, project officer, said Thursday.

Base contributions averaged about $3.33 per person and enabled the Federal Employees Division to reach 101 per cent of its quota.

At Reese, wing personnel contributed $1,201, for an average of $4.53. M&S people gave $2,535.65, or an average of $3.84, and installations donated $1,023.08, or an average of $3.76.

From Air Base Group came $747.05, or $2.41 average. Pilot

Thanksgiving Dinner, Highlighted By Ham, Turkey, Planned For Base

Training Group averaged $2.48 with its $1,088.85 contribution, and the Hospital totaled $337.40, or $2.39 a person.

Contributions to the Community Chest, which benefitted 23 welfare and health organizations, were about 17 per cent higher for 1959 on the base than for 1958.

NO CRANBERRIES

A survey of all cranberries on issue or for resale at Reese discloses that none of the berries come from states where contamination has been found, it was reported Thursday.

Reese personnel next Thursday will be served a special Thanksgiving dinner in all dining halls, with families and guests invited.

Tom turkey and baked sliced ham will head the menu. Families and two other guests may accompany each officer, airman, and cadet to dining halls for the special meal. Any officer or cadet may eat at the wing dining hall.

Thanksgiving is an official holiday and only needed personnel will be on duty. Wing dining hall will serve breakfast from 7 to 8 a.m., dinner from noon until 3 p.m., and supper from 5 to 6 p.m. The Officers and Cadet dining hall will serve breakfast from 8 until 9:30 a.m. and dinner from noon until 3 p.m. No supper will be served. The NCO Club will not serve meals during the day, but the Officers Club will have dinner from 3 to 7 p.m.

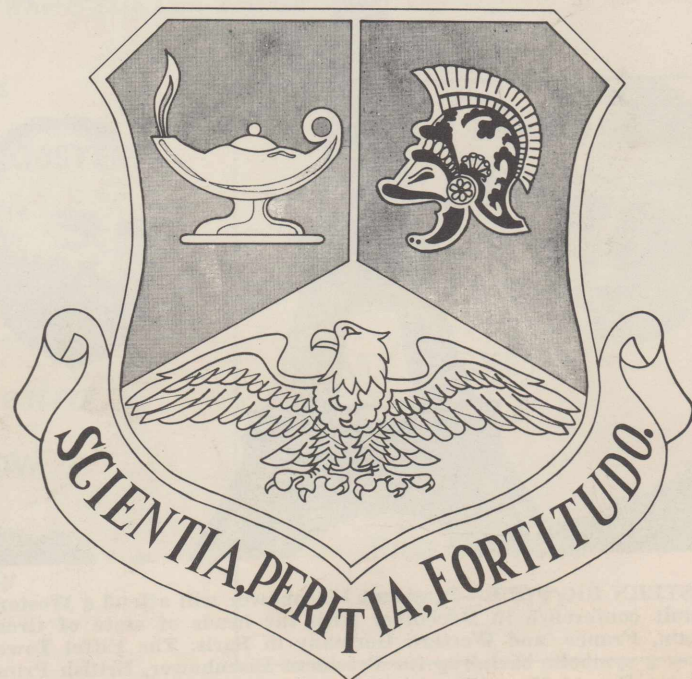

Speaking of Thanksgiving, Col. L. C. Hess, base commander, said:

"Let us at Reese Air Force Base make this day a significant holiday of gratitude as the Pilgrims stated: '... an especial day on which to give especial thanks for all mercies...' We fail to follow the American tradition and meaning of these days if it is not a day to honor and praise the goodness of Almighty God."

From The Commander's Desk

By Col. L. C. Hess, Base Commander

During and after the Korean war it became apparent that many U.S. fighting men had been inadequately prepared for the ordeal they faced in Korea.

As a result, President Eisenhower prescribed the "Code of Conduct" in 1955. In his executive order he said: "Every member of the Armed Forces of the United States is expected to measure up to the standards embodied in this Code of Conduct while he is in combat or in captivity."

This week over 200 copies of an attractive and readable little book are being distributed around the base. The book's title is "The U.S. Fighting Man's Code."

I personally urge every person at Reese to become familiar with this small but comprehensive work. It not only makes interesting reading, but gives a complete background of the why and wherefore of the Code of Conduct.

Knowledge is power. This is true whether the war is hot or cold.

Suggestions Win Cash

Four Air Training Command airmen are richer this week because of the Military Suggestion Program of the Air Force and Command.

First award of $750 went to a Craig staff sergeant whose suggestion for torquing a clamp assembly on the tailpipe of a T-33, then adding a seal, has saved an estimated $12,000 at his base and is expected to add much more in savings. His suggestion has been entered in the $4,250 Air Force contest.

In the Military Suggestion Program estimated savings the first year must be $10,000 or more. Since Reese uses T-33s, it could have been an airman from this base who saw possibilities the ATC winner saw.

The Air Force encourages all military personnel to contribute suggestions for improving the effectiveness and/or efficiency of the Air Force. Present legislation does not authorize payment from appropriated funds; however, suggestions which are accepted by the Air Force and placed into practice are being recognized using other forms of awards. The ATC award funds came from the General Welfare money available.

At Reese and elsewhere, the Military Suggestion Program is combined with the incentive awards program for civilians. It activates latent resources of practical ideas, stimulates morale, gives recognition to individuals, and brings maximum usefulness from beneficial suggestions.

At Reese last year 47 military suggestions were adopted and passes and letters of acceptance went to the military men who offered improved methods. Many of the suggestions were adopted at other bases, thus adding further to Air Force benefits.

The Reese record is good; it is anticipated that it will continue, and perhaps improve.

Academy Seeks Applicants

Attention, unmarried airmen between the ages of 17 and 22! You have a special opportunity to compete for the 1960 cadet class of the United States Air Force Academy. But to take advantage of this opportunity, you must apply soon. All applications must be approved by the Academy before 31 January 1960.

To apply, you must fill out DD Form 786 in triplicate and submit it to your unit commander. Information to include in the application is contained in Air Force Regulation 53-10, "Appointment to the United States Air Force Academy."

If the Academy declares you to be an eligible candidate, you will compete with other military candidates for a cadet appointment. The competition is based on aptitude and achievement tests.

You may obtain complete information on the Academy by writing to the Registrar, United States Air Force Academy, Colorado.

Approximately 750 cadets, including 45 from the Regular and Reserve components of the Air Force and the Army, will be chosen to enter the Academy near Colorado Springs in July, 1960.

Dr. Winston E. Burdine, national commander of AMVETS has said: "In war, peace or cold war, the task of the Armed Forces is tough, often thankless and without great material reward. Nonetheless, no more honorable profession exists. This nation would not long remain free without sacrifices of the dedicated men and women of the Armed Forces."

The Department of Defense includes the office of the Secretary of Defense, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the military departments, the Unified and Specified Commands, and such other agencies as the Secretary establishes to meet specific requirements.

Thanksgiving Celebrated Since 1863

Thanksgiving Day, 1959, will be the 96th regular observance of this day set aside by President Abraham Lincoln in 1863 when the country was locked in mortal combat in the "War Between the States."

In his "Thanksgiving Day, 1959," proclamation, President Dwight D. Eisenhower said: "In the enjoyment of our good life, let us not forget the birthright by which we reap the fruits of life and labor in this fair land. Let us stand fast by the principles of our republic enunciated in word and deed by the statesmen, teachers, and prophets to whom we owe our beginnings."

"As a token of our gratitude for God's gracious gift of abundance, let us share generously with those less fortunate than we at home and abroad. Let us at this season of Thanksgiving perform deeds of thanksgiving; and throughout the year, let us fulfill those obligations of citizenship and humanity which spring from grateful hearts."

"On that day let us gather in sanctuaries dedicated to worship and in homes devoted to family sharing and community service, to express our gratitude for the inestimable blessing of God; and let us earnestly pray that He continues to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished task of achieving peace among men and Nations."

The Roundup

NAMED PROJECT OFFICER for Armed Forces Day next May is Lt. Col. James W. Weaver, wing operations officer.

FURTHER APPLICANTS are sought for enrollment in the Officer Training School. Airmen with 50 semester hours or more of college work may qualify for completion of degree work and a commission. Airmen who are college graduates may go directly to OTS. Civilians with college degrees also are eligible.

OFFICIAL FUNDS and facilities will not be used for Christmas cards, a regulation states. Bases can't produce, reproduce, buy, or mail Christmas cards using official funds. Commanders can send greetings to their men, units may exchange greetings, and cards may be posted on bulletin boards.

ACCOUNTING AND FINANCE airmen have been taken from the approved proficiency pay list because of re-evaluation of AFSCs in the field. About 3,400 persons are affected.

AN AIRMAN and his "wife" have been convicted in federal court and sentenced to jail for fraud in connection with a Class Q allotment. They weren't married.

Constant Courage Necessary Part Of Christianity

By Chaplain Henry C. Bielski

During a war, it is but natural that we should hear much about heroes and heroism. But, it does not take a citation or a medal to prove a man a hero.

There are countless thousands of men whose names will never mean any more to the world at large than they did to the town or village in which they lived prior to a war. Yet they may be just as great heroes as those whose names become household words.

If courage or heroism is called for during a war, how much more necessary is it in our spiritual relationship with God and our fellow men?

It is easy enough to believe in God and in the Ten Commandments, but it takes something more than average courage to profess that belief by the practical Christian lives that we lead.

Belief in itself is not particularly difficult, but to put our beliefs into practice—that is an entirely different matter which requires extraordinary courage. How many people believe that it is the right thing to tell the truth? Most people, I think.

Yet, how many have the courage to tell the truth at all times? Very few.

We may believe in honesty in all things, business included; but unless we have the quality of Christian courage, it is not unlikely that we shall find ourselves condoning or participating in some dishonest business deal which is likely to put a few extra dollars in the bank for us. Unless we have that quality of Christian courage in our make-up, we are going to be remiss.

We are living in a difficult age, one which has little or no regard for Christ and the things of Christ. Unless we DO have that Christian courage, I fear that we shall fall short of what Our Lord expects of us. We are going to need the same courage as Our Savior had.

Festival Brings $900 To PTA Fund

The annual Fall Festival of the Reese PTA brought $900 into the treasury for improvements to the school grounds and other projects.

Attendance at the Saturday night festival was considered very good, with each function praised. Mrs. John Erdmann was general chairman, Mrs. John Garrett talent show chairman.

The executive council commended all who assisted in arrangements and sent letters of appreciation to the more than 50 Lubbock merchants who contributed items for various sales and gifts.

AACS Celebrates 21st Birthday

Detachment 2010-2 of the Airways and Air Communications Service, this week joined other units of AACS in observing the 21st birthday of the service.

AACS, a component of the Military Air Transport Service, began operations on Nov. 15, 1938, with 300 enlisted men and 3 officers manning the original network of 33 radio stations. Today, about 30,000 AACS men serve in every part of the free world, from the hills of Korea to the desert of Saudi Arabia, from Thule, Greenland, to the Antarctic. One officer and 38 airmen are assigned to Reese.

As the mission of the Air Force is to fly air and space craft, the mission of AACS is to support this flying with communications, air traffic control, and flight services.

Under the command of Maj. Gen. Daniel C. Doubleday, AACS consists of a headquarters at Scott AFB, Ill., and almost 300 subordinate units located in the United States and 38 foreign countries.

AACS is responsible for the U.S. Air Force Communications Complex (AIRCOM), the common long haul system which furnishes point-to-point and air-ground communications support of Air Force weapon systems, air operations, and related activities.

AIRCOM includes 33 major stations and many smaller ones. It fulfills the Air Force's overall communications requirements.

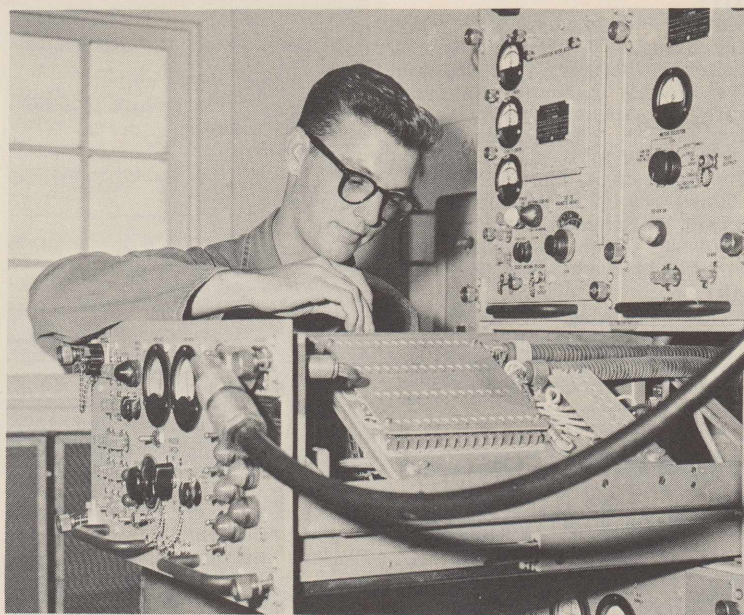

"Messages" handled take several forms, including speech, teletype, logistic data, facsimile, and CW (Morse Code), adding up to five billion words a year.

The other major AACS function is air traffic services—provided from control towers and radar centers at air terminals, and through air navigation aids enroute.

Air traffic controller action must be flawless; its thoughts far ahead of its actions. These men have logged more than 12 million takeoffs and landings in a single year.

An "aircraft save" is a highlight of AACS activity. This is when an airplane in trouble is brought in safely by radar and radio guidance. One Reese airman has received the "Save Award" for working in rescuing a lost aircraft; four others have

Christmas Safety Program Opened

"Operation Homesafe," the annual campaign to eliminate accidents during the Christmas holiday season, has been launched at Reese.

The movement has been started through Air Training Command in the concentrated safety effort to "bring back alive" personnel on holiday leaves and passes. The 1959 theme is "Drive to Arrive and Return Safely." Maximum intensity will be during the Dec. 12-Jan. 2 period.

"The success of this program will depend upon the combined efforts of all personnel," Col. Harold T. Babb, deputy wing commander, advised unit commanders by letter.

"It is your responsibility to instill in all personnel under your command the importance of observing safe practices and advising them of their responsibility to both the Air Force and themselves in strict compliance with these practices."

Commanders have been instructed to personally counsel all personnel, with emphasis on safe driving, prior to authorizing passes or leaves during the holiday season.

A project officer has been appointed for each unit and every means possible will be used to prevent accidents.

"I desire that each of you join me in leading this campaign in order that all personnel may have a safe and happy Christmas and New Year's," the colonel said.

Pilot Makes Another T-33 'Save'

The fourth possible "save" of T-33 jet aircraft within less than five months occurred at Reese last Thursday when an instructor pilot brought in his plane with locked controls.

The mishap happened to 2nd Lt. Donald R. Brown, a new IP assigned to the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron, while on a morning training flight in the Tatum area. He was instructing Aviation Cadet Cala Pazmino, Ecuador, in formation flying when water that failed to drain from a cup under the "stick" froze and it locked. The controls could not be moved farther to the right than the neutral position, preventing right hand turns.

Brown immediately considered a bailout. However, he gained altitude, checked the controls, and found it possible to get a slight movement to the right. He decided to bring in the jet.

Approaching the Reese runway, the IP radioed for an emergency landing clearance. He brought the jet in under full trim in order to swing it to the right as far as possible, and landed safely.

Brown is being recommended for the Air Force's "Well Done" flying award.

The other three saves were effected by both ground and pilot's action.

LIUTENANT BROWN

In July, A/2C Gerald E. Carey, AACS, was credited with bringing in an aviation cadet by radio direction finder.

The second "possible" occurred in September when 1st Lt. Charles R. Penola, 3500th PTS IP, experienced an electrical fire on a student training mission. Instead of leaving the plane, Penola turned off his electrical power and landed the plane at Reese.

In October, 1st Lt. Vernie R. Pointon, 3500th PTS IP, conquered a flameout.

TOPS IN SEPTEMBER—Captain Robert L. Hill, 3501st PTS, receives the September Reese Flying Safety award from Col. L. C. Hess, base commander. The captain accepted on behalf of Flight 4, which he commands. The flight reached a total of 1450 cumulative points in the yearly program to earn the huge set of wings. Placing second was Flight 1 with 1200 points. The flying safety program, named the O. K. Corral, operates on an annual basis. Points are awarded to all flying groups at the rate of 100 per month for no discrepancies. They are subtracted for such discrepancies as operator error accident (500), operator error incident (200), and operator error non-reportable incident (100).

Sports Report

By A/3C Roger J. Gillard

FIFTEEN to twenty ducks have been brought down by hunters in the past eight days from the new duck hunting reservation on Reese Lake. You too, can enjoy this rewarding sport!

PARTICIPATION in Minor Sports, handball and badminton is poor, a Personal Services airman said yesterday. Entries are in—but schedules aren't being followed as requested. A double elimination tournament cannot be met until the singles are finished. More participation would eliminate forfeits.

SOCCERMEN of Reese will be competing in the ATC Conference at Sheppard AFB Thursday. The tournament will last three days.

This is the first Soccer team ever formed on Reese—but the coach, A/1C Timoteo Castro is quite convinced it will bring back an armful of trophies.

HOUSTON scout Tex Flanikan can be excused for looking for a "Texas Tech fan who doesn't play golf." He returned to his car after watching a football game in Houston to find that someone had broken into the trunk. The golf clubs were still there. So was the spare tire. But missing were all the notes he had taken on Texas Tech in three different games, including material taken from movies.

LUBBOCK CHRISTIAN COLLEGE defeated the Reese Rattlers in last Saturday's basketball game. 73-57. Reese increased its scoring—but so did the opposition.

Basketball

Nearly doubling the score in one of last week's Intramural Basketball games, '05th Maintenance made its victory over AACs—43-26, "and should have done better," its coach said.

SSgt. Glenn Bennett was disappointed, two of his first string men, one 'tops', were on emergency leave during the game.

A/2C Milton D. Unruh received high score of 17 for '05th. SSgt. Richard Hoffsmith of AACs was high with 10.

In another game played the following night, the going started to get rough between Air Police and M&S with the score ending 30-27—AP's.

Highlighting the game was A/2C Ronald W. Martin scoring 12 points for the AP's. One of his opponents did the same, A/2C James W. Miller.

Two games per night are played weekly, Monday through Thursday at the base gym. The first game starts at 6:30 p.m. followed by the 7:45 game.

Monday, AP's vs PTG; '02nd Maint., vs '00th PTS; Tuesday, Installations vs Hospital; ABG vs '01st PTS; Wednesday, AACs vs PTW; M&S vs PTG.

No games will be played on Thanksgiving day.

Officers League

The Dust Devils set a new season's high with a 2,693 series Wednesday night in the Officers Bowling League, paced by Maj. Joe Setnor's 592 series. Captain Robert Brackett of M&S rolled a 221 high game.

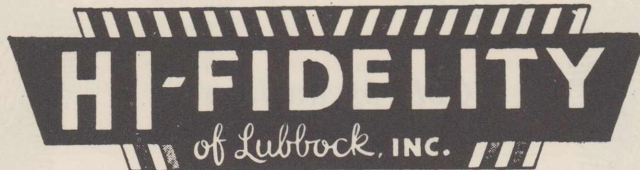

The Wing Wizards took a firmer grip on first place with a 3-1 victory over the ABG Servants to gain a 35-13 season's record. The PTG Spoilers retained second place with a 31-17 season by splitting, 2-2, with the Snoopers. Operations and the M&S Lubers also split, 2-2, to give Operations third place on a 29½-18½ record, and the Lubers fourth with 28-20.

TOPS FOR 1959—Major Richard J. Condrick, commander, 3501st Pilot Training Squadron, left, receives the Commander's Trophy from Col. L. C. Hess, Reese Air Force Base commander, after his unit placed first in the base's 1959 intra-squadron sports program. Looking on is Lt. Col. Charles W. Sawyer, commander, 3500th Pilot Training Group. ## Dust Devils Take Wing Trophy

The highly prized Commander's Trophy has been won by the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron after the unit placed first in Reese's 1959 intra-squadron sports competition. Presentation was made by Col. L. C. Hess, Reese commander, to Maj. Richard J. Condrick, squadron commander.

The '01st racked up 782 points in the all-sports competition to edge the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron by 54 points. Headquarters Squadron, Maintenance and Supply Group placed third with 636, and Headquarters Squadron, Air Base Group came in a close fourth with 632.

Intense competition marked the year's trophy race, with touch football the deciding factor between the two pilot training squadrons. At the beginning of league play, the '01st trailed the '00th by 75 points. However, the "Dust Devils" cut the '00th out of the lead by winning every game but two ties. In the playoffs, the two squadrons were neck and neck, but the "Dust Devils," coached by 1st Lt. Ray Thompson, came in second to clinch the trophy.

Commenting on his squadron's achievement, Major Condrick stated that the unit does not intend to ride on its laurels but "hereby serves notice to all squadrons . . . that we are out to keep the Commander's

Trophy."

The major further added that an "indomitable spirit, intense competition, and an extreme pride in their unit made the winning of the trophy possible."

To celebrate the occasion, wives of the '01st honored their husbands with a potluck supper Sunday at the Golf Course club house. Colonel and Mrs. Hess, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles W. Sawyer, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles M. Lyons were guests.

The "Dust Devils" racked up the majority of their points by taking first in volleyball, swimming and touch football. Additional points came when they placed second in summer golf, touch football, and badminton. They lost out to the '00th in basketball league play at the start of the year, but made some points in the playoffs.

The squadron came in fifth in winter golf, but gained points when Maj. Joe Setnor and A/C Gerald McFerren played on the winning Reese team in ATC competition. McFerren went on to place 10th in Air Force world-wide play.

Golf Notes

By Ken Shields

Winter is here, but please don't think that means golf is over. In good ole West Texas golf is a year-around game.

On some days it may take an extra sweater and some long undies, but the same thrill of playing golf is there. It is surprising how much some people have improved their game by winter practice. Those who do not get winter practice are almost like beginners in the spring.

Six couples braved the cold to play in last Sunday's mixed foursome. A tie for first place was registered by Jeanne Garrett and Lt. Col. M. B. McElroy and Ruth Goodkin and Maj. Jack Turner.

Dottie McCall and Capt. John Garrett placed third. Honors (?) for high net score went to Muriel McElroy and Maj. Bruce McCall.

A Scotch tourney is planned for this Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Entries should be received in the pro shop by 12 noon.

In Intramural competition the 3501st PTS is holding a slim 2-point lead over M&S after three matches. The 3505th, Air Police, Installations, and PTW are bunched right behind.

This Week's Tip

Here's how to hit the ball low into the wind. Address the ball slightly back of center; leave your hands in front of the clubhead. Be positively sure your hands do not move back with your clubhead when you take your stance.

The new Pershing missile is smaller, lighter, and more mobile than the Redstone missile.
