Annual ATC Inspection Draws Near

Reese next week will undergo its regular annual general inspection by Air Training Command, with the expectation that few discrepancies will be found.

The 21-man inspection team is to be composed of a colonel, five lieutenant colonels, nine majors, two captains, and four NCO's. The team will arrive at mid-morning Monday and is scheduled to leave late Thursday. A critique with the wing staff is to conclude the visit.

Two members of the inspection team are scheduled to be Lt. Col. James W. Weaver and Maj. Robert F. Ehrhardt, both formerly assigned to Reese.

The inspectors will study effectiveness of staff actions, all phases of pilot training, administration of the wing, groups and squadrons, adequacy of housing, accounting procedures and effectiveness, various phases of maintenance and supply, and special subjects to include safety.

The inspectors will hold personal conferences with any Reese assignee who cares to be heard.

In past years the ATC inspectors have submitted good reports on Reese and efforts have been made to make sure locally that discrepancies are at a minimum.

Club Lays Plans For Fashion Clinic

The spring fashion clinic at Mathis Service Club at 8 p.m. next Wednesday will feature headlines through spring and summer, Mrs. Hanford Wright, club director, has announced.

Spring and summer hair styles will be demonstrated by a state trophy winner, with Meses. Gary Miller, Robert Vining, Hal Green, Henry Schmidt, and J. F. Bloomer and Miss Johnnie Paiste as models.

A school of charm graduate is to show the art of makeup and explain ways to improve the skin. Mrs. T. R. Robinson and Miss Dorothy Campbell will be models for another beauty demonstration.

La Boutinque Fantastique ballet solos will be offered by Misses Margaret Cribbs and Sharon Willingham. Twelfth Street Rag will be danced by Miss Jeanne Sexton. Miss Cribbs and Miss Gina Sharp are to present the Dancing Jubilee to the Little Brown Jug.

The Teen Talk Jazz Dancers are to demonstrate other dances. They are the Misses Jan Smith, Jane Edwards, Lynn Prideaux, Jane Osborne, Jeanne Sexton, Dana Ingalls, Jackie Friedman, Cribbs and Sharp.

Mrs. Wright urged all Reese people—military, dependents and civilians—to attend the clinic.

Pay Raise Report Seen By November

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The completed study and legislative proposals for a possible, wide-sweeping change in the military pay systems are targeted to reach the President's Panel on Federal Salary Systems before Nov. 1.

Making the announcement, the Department of Defense said the study panel has been organized into two groups. The first is a senior council that reaches outside the Defense Department. The second is a full-time study staff composed of officers from the four Services and the Coast Guard.

Maj. Gen. M. R. Nelson, USAF (Ret.) is a member of the senior

Test Scores Show Improved OJT Program Working Here

A vastly improved on-the-job training program is in effect at Reese, if records of tests administered in February and March are considered.

In February 41 base assignees took "5" and "7" tests and 83 per cent passed. In March "3" level tests were given 18 men and there were no failures.

The "3" level tests are graded by the base giving them, while for the upper grades scoring is done in Air Training Command headquarters. Results from the command were received this week by the wing personnel section.

The percentage of successful tests was not reached at Reese before, records show, and OJT supervisors believe the high passing mark is unequalled in ATC.

Emphasis has been on OJT here for many months and supervisors are highly pleased at the overall improvement. Outstanding achievements credited to the base in several fields are credited to a large extent to the training program.

Base Contribution To Drive Praised

Reese people who contributed in the recent drive to assist the American Cancer Society have received a letter of appreciation from Dr. Carl Page, district medical director in Texas.

"On behalf of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society I would like to express to you the sincere thanks and appreciation of every victim of cancer in our state as well as in our nation for the help you gave them during this past year," the doctor wrote Col. L. C. Hess, wing commander.

"Without your prayers, your work for the Cancer Society, and your donations many people of our community who are alive today would not be."

FZ Students Claim 'First'

RANDOLPH AFB (AFNS) — The 25 young pilots of Class 62-FZ who receive their wings here Mar. 30 can lay a "first" claim—first to blaze through undergraduate pilot training superpersonally.

This experimental pilot training class has spent the last six months in T-38 Talons, a Northrop aircraft that is only a few split seconds behind the world record holding F-110 in rate-of-climb.

For example, the F-110 set a world mark by rocketing to 3,000 meters (9,842.5 feet) in 34.523 seconds. The T-38 has done the same altitude in 35.42 seconds.

The obvious idea behind the Air Training Command experiment is to close the performance gap between the trainer and the combat aircraft. One practical application would be to eliminate much of the graduate pilot training in going from subsonic to supersonic aircraft. Another by-product would be to concentrate more on weapon systems skills in combat units.

Officials here said the experiment succeeded beyond expectations. They have now ended the experiment and made it standard at seven ATC advanced undergraduate training bases.

Class 62-FZ did not have a single accident and it took only about eight hours to get the average pilot to make the transition from T-33s and T-37s to the supersonic T-38.

Speakers Present Talks In Lubbock

A Reese officer, Maj. Robert L. Hill, spoke on "Reese and Its Effect on the Lubbock Community" at a noon meeting of the Lubbock Realtors Association today.

The major, member of the rapidly growing base speakers bureau and of the Reese Officers Toastmasters, elaborated on the dollars-and-cents spending under the base budget and of personnel in the Lubbock community.

First Lt. Gary L. Alden presented a film to the American Business Club at noon Thursday. Lt. Col. DeMay H. White shows a film to the South Plains Shriners at noon Monday.

General Briggs Will Address UPT Graduates

Lt. Gen. James E. Briggs, commander of the Air Training Command, will be the speaker for graduation of Class 62-F at Reese Air Force Base on March 30. The class is the first to be graduated in the undergraduate pilot training program in the Air Force.

Students entered training early in March, 1961, and completed their course after learning to fly T-37 and T-33 jet aircraft. Previously, pilot training students received pre-flight instruction at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, primary flying training at a civilian contract base and basic pilot training at a third base.

Under the present program all instruction is given at a single base and numerous advantages have occurred. Reese two weeks ago graduated two former officers to become the first of the Undergraduate Pilot Training Base to have a graduate. On March 30 all of the eight UPT bases in Air Training Command are holding graduation exercises for all students. Graduates will be assigned to a major air command for further duty.

Gen. Briggs is a 1924 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where he was regimental commander and stood 31st in a class of 261 students.

He served briefly in the artillery and then turned to flying, receiving pilot wings in 1930. He held several assignments prior to returning to West Point in 1940 as a faculty member of the department of Mathematics for two years.

During World War II he served in Europe with fighter and transport commands, moving in 1946 to Washington as a member of the Central Intelligence Group.

He commanded bombardment wings in Spokane in 1948 and bombardment wings in Florida in 1948 and 1949, moving to the Far East as deputy commander and then commander of bomber commands. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal at the end of his tour.

He later served with the 15th Air Force in California, and in 1951 became assistant deputy chief of staff for development in USAF headquarters. In 1954 he became assistant deputy chief of staff for operations with additional duty as USAF member of the Permanent Joint Board of Defense, Canada-United States. He also was project officer for the Distant Early Warning Line in Canada and for the USAF based project in Spain.

Gen. Briggs was the second superintendent of the Air Force Academy from Aug. 1, 1956, until he took over command of Air Training Command on Aug. 1, 1959. He commanded the Academy during its developing years.

The general is a member of Rotary International and is active in Boy Scout activities. He is active in many civic affairs in San Antonio.

He also holds the Legion of Merit with a cluster, the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal.

CASH RECEIVED

The 3501st Student Squadron has received $100 in cash for its use as the result of placing third in the ATC squadron level basketball tournament. The funds will be used to buy furnishings, supplies or equipment for squadron use.

Personnel Picture Bright For Airmen

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Increased promotions, continued pro-pay and a healthier first-term reenlistment rate into the career force make up the high points of a brighter FY 63 for airmen, a top Air Force personnel planner has told Congress.

For officers, he drew a picture that included continued controlled officer retirements, fewer cockpit jobs, the need for more field grade slots and current efforts to raise the commissioned educational standard to at least college graduation.

Testifying before the Senate Appropriations Committee, Maj. Gen. Henry G. Thorne Jr. said "the number of first-term reenlistments is forecast to increase by 8,000 in FY 63."

While this represents a seven per cent increase over FY 62, the Hq. USAF Director of Personnel Planning noted "we are still not

Six Commands Get Graduates In Class 62-F

Six major commands and the Air National Guard are assignment destinations of members of Class 62-F, which completes its undergraduate pilot training March 30 at Reese Air Force Base.

Five of the graduates are remaining at Reese as instructor pilots in Air Training Command, while another graduate is going to Stead AFB in ATC to fly H-21 helicopters.

Seven graduates are going to Tactical Air Command, six to Military Air Transport Service, two to Pacific Air Force to serve in Japan, and three to Europe, two to be stationed in France and one in Germany.

Two graduates are returning to the Air National Guard at their hometowns, following advanced training in fighter aircraft at Perrin AFB.

Reese Girl Enters Area Spelling Bee

An entrant in the Lubbock County Spelling Bee Saturday will be Linda Jane Kincannon, daughter of SSgt. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Kincannon, 340 Arnold Drive.

The 12-year-old girl is representing the Frenship school district in competition with boys and girls from other schools of the county and won the right by out-spelling others in the Frenship school. She is a seventh grader and did not compete in spelling contests before.

The sergeant, assigned to the Weather Detachment, and his family came to Reese last May from Japan.

Extension Ordered For Hazard Zone

The noise hazard zone in which ear muffs and/or ear plugs must be worn has been extended up the flight line from Building T-60 to the crash station.

The extension makes it mandatory for all persons on or near the flight line south of the crash station to protect their hearing by wearing the muffs and plugs.

getting the required numbers in the highly technical occupational groups of electronics and mechanics and repairmen."

He presented a chart showing 23,000 promotions over FY 62 in this breakout: 1,500 E-9s; 3,000 E-8s; 6,620 E-7s; 10,300 E-6s; 18,720 E-5s, 75,923 E-4s.

Increased retirement losses in the higher grades and a larger force size were the reasons he gave for better airmen promotion chances.

"Under current programs and policies, the Air Force is estimating over 4,800 officers will be on flight waiver status by the end of FY 1962. Since Oct. 1, 1961 when this provision of the law (Excused Status) was implemented, we have had an average of over 4,000 officers in flight waiver status. Our FY 1963 program also plans for flight waivers for about 6,300 officers."

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Wing Commander

Next week is a very important one for us at Reese. The Air Training Command inspection team will arrive Monday for its annual visit, and General Briggs will be with us Thursday and Friday for the graduation of our first all-jet undergraduate pilot training class.

During the next five working days we will have the opportunity to show both the inspectors and General Briggs exactly how well we are doing our job — the task of providing top quality pilots for first line duty in the Aerospace Force. So interested is General Briggs in our mission that he has stated his desire to be present when the inspection renders its findings to my staff and me.

We pride ourselves in operating continually in an inspection-ready fashion, and I am confident that our constant and dedicated efforts will be readily recognized. In turn, let us not fail to exhibit our pride by displaying proper military courtesy, friendliness and a professional attitude at all times. Let's prove to our visitors the fact which we know is true—that we have the best organization of its type within Air Training Command.

Time For New Doctrine?

Are the principles laid down in the Declaration of Independence and in the Bill of Rights as valid today to Reese people as they were back in the 18th Century? Some critics feel that "democracy" and "freedom" are high-sounding words but that they have outlived their original meaning in America. Is that true in Reese thinking?

A study of the basic doctrines of our way of life reveals, however, that the principles laid down by our Founding Fathers are as valid today as they were when first cast into words in 1776. How can our nation "outgrow" ideals such as Liberty, Equality and Belief in God? These are the basic principles that we have depended upon throughout our history.

We have always insisted, and will continue to insist, that the human personality is sacred and is not to be treated as a means to some social end — as Communism holds.

We hold that America has the truest and most complete representative democracy in the world — and we have fought to protect that heritage.

We believe that with all its blessings our way of life still can and must be improved.

Every American leader from Washington's time to the present has stressed the importance of religion. Today religion in the United States assumes a new importance because it represents one of the main points of difference between our Nation's political philosophy and the Communist's.

It seems evident that there is nothing wrong with our basic political philosophy. It stands as the noblest expression of idealism that any nation has ever adopted. Our political philosophy has not failed — but where it has not been adhered to by Americans, they have failed America.

Reese Wives Answer Appeal By Working Against Cancer

Answering the call from the Lubbock Chapter of the American Cancer Society, the women of Reese have joined with the women of Lubbock County to make emergency supplies to help meet the needs of the increasing number of cancer patients in the Lubbock area. Over 100 bedpads, as well as bandages, have been made and donated by a small group of dedicated service wives.

Mrs. John A. Slaughter, Jr., a member of the Publicity Committee of the Lubbock Chapter of the Cancer Society, serves as liaison between the local chapter and the women of Reese. She is being assisted in the current work project by Mrs. Joseph E. Payne and Mrs. D. W. Atchison.

In a recent appeal to the members of the Reese Officers' Wives Club, Mrs. Slaughter advised that although a particular type of cello-cotton and gauze is supplied by the Cancer Society, there is a constant need for old worn bed sheets, old shirts, newspapers, scraps of cotton material and even the plastic covers that are used to cover clean laundry and dry cleaning. These materials are used to make the bandages and bedpads so urgently needed; as well as such comfort items as johnny coats, bedside secretaries, scuffs, lap robes, etc., she said.

There is also a current need for trading stamps of any kind and in any quantity.

These will be used to purchase pillows and bed trays for the loan closet, which is maintained at the Lubbock office, 2360 34th Street.

Anyone wishing to donate any of the above items may do so by bringing them to Mrs. Slaughter's home at 103 Harmon Drive or by bringing them to the Mathis Service Club during one of the "work sessions". Items may also be taken directly to the local Cancer Chapter office at 2360 34th Street.

"Although the donating of supplies must continue if the work project is to be a success, the most important contribution is still the willing hands of those who will give their time to help add a measure of comfort to a suffering cancer patient", Mrs. Slaughter said.

"Won't you join with those who have already answered the appeal.

"Stay as long as you like! We need you! At the Mathis Service Club every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m."

Man More Foolish Than Wily Spider, Chaplain Declares

By Chaplain Jerry L. Rice

Avery Shaw has a word to us who tend to think of Easter as just another day.

You are familiar with Jacob Reiss' fable of the spider that dropped from the branch of a tree, spinning a strong cable behind it. Making an anchor on either side, it wove its web at the intersection and set up business. The spider had chosen a good location where many succulent flies and moths passed. It became fat and prosperous. Then looking up and noting the cable, it said, "I don't need that anymore," and cut it off. That is only a fable. No spider would be so foolish. It would know that everything depended on that cable. Only man is so foolish as to do a thing like that.

REVENGE—Second Lt. James D. Muma of Class 62-F smiles gleefully as he takes revenge on the target which tabbed him as the worst shot in his class in rifle practice. Using a bayonet supplied by Co. Roscoe B. Woodruff, he slashed the target. His class was the first in pilot training to be required to take firing training prior to graduation.

Pistol Team Sweeps Meet

The Reese Air Force Base pistol team made a clean sweep of prizes in the weekend competition at Austin sponsored by the Austin Rifle Club. Reese won first place in .22-calibre, center fire and .45-calibre in the sharpshooting class. Team members won 37 individual awards. Competing were teams from the Houston Police, Air Force, Texas A&M College and Bergstrom AFB. About 40 shooters were on hand.

Captain Edward Krick won first place in grand aggregate, expert class. He won seven first places and four second places.

SSgt. Roger Manemann captured a first place and two seconds in the master class.

MSgt. Joe King took first place in the grand aggregate, marksman class, in addition to two other top places and nine second places.

Captain Thomas Colman was third in the marksman grand aggregate and won eight first places altogether.

MSgt. Glen Wulf, team expert man, took two second places.

Entrants Sought In Talent Contest

Every Reese person with entertainment talent was urged this week to enter the Talent Contest staged by Air Training Command. Local presentations will be held prior to ATC competition.

Needed are vocalists, musical instrument groups, solo dancers, solo instrumentalists, solo western or country style instrumentalists, singing groups, comic acts, specialty acts or any style of entertainment not listed.

Interested persons are asked to visit Mathis Service Club for discussions or to call Ext. 722.

Bowling Results

Officers League

The Bad Guys staged a vigorous come-back night Wednesday to climb into first place in the Officers Bowling League with a 28 win, 12 loss record. They rolled a 2,544 high series and 862 and 854 high games.

Tied for second are the Dust Devils and Wing Wizards, 25-15, with the Brainwashers and Golfers tied for fourth, 23-17.

The Dust Devils had a 2,426 series and the M&S Greasers 849. Captain Vene Pointon hit a 587 series and Maj. Joe Setnor 544. The major had 215 and 207 games and Captain Pointon hit 207, also.

Intramural League

Organizational Maintenance moved its two game lead in intramural bowling to three. It now has a 73-23 won and lost column.

The past week's games saw the Little Wheels sparkling on the base bowling lanes as they took high team game by toppling 881 pins. A Little Wheel bowler, SSgt. Sydney Mendleowitz, took high individual game by upsetting 236 pins.

High series play went to a Field Maintenance kegler, A1C Paul Willard, who had a score of 564.

With a score of 2,521, Field Maintenance took high series. Standing in league playoffs have Organizational Maintenance in front, Hospital with 70-26 is in a close second place. Weather has third with 65½-30½, PTW holds the fourth slot with 62½-33½ and in the fifth position, Field Maintenance, 61½-34½.

Volleyball Teams Compete At Perrin

The Reese volleyball team represented by the 3501st Student Squadron left Wednesday, March 21, for Perrin and the ATC Volleyball finals. Playoffs will be held from March 22-24. There, Reese and representative teams of Perrin and Lowry will meet the top three teams of District B.

Cadet Navigator Program Ending

(AFNS) — The Air Force has made it official, announcing that the Aviation Cadet navigation program will end in FY 65 at the latest, with only 11 more cadet classes slated between now and the last FY 64 entrance date.

Cadets might fade away even earlier, if Officer Training School (OTS) candidates turn out in greater numbers. USAF headquarters already has programmed 11 OTS classes to fill the cadet slack, making navigator training now a 50-50, alternating mix of cadets and OTS graduates.

Another familiar officer training program—Officer Candidate School (OCS)—already has had its final class date set for June, 1963.

Those undergoing officer training in the future must have a college degree first.

PROJECT LAUNCHED

A high altitude unmanned balloon system entitled Project STAR GAZER was launched Mar. 12 from Chico, Calif., as part of the Air Force's instrumentation testing. During its flight the balloon was under the command of radio signals transmitted from the ground. The balloon reached an altitude of 88,000 feet.

Woman's Chatter

By Mrs. Joseph W. Roberts

First Lt. Maurice R. Wachtel gave a surprise birthday party for his wife, Peggy, in the home of 1st Lt. and Mrs. Fred E. Rider on March 16.

Flight 6 members and their wives will have a get-together March 24 with dinner in Lubbock, followed by bowling. Later they will go to the home of 1st Lt. and Mrs. Robert Horton.

Captain and Mrs. Joseph M. Mecseji will entertain the 3500th PTS check section at dinner March 24 in their home.

Wives of Flight 6 attended a get-acquainted party for Mrs. Ralph Mitchell March 22 in the home of Mrs. Max Hearn.

Lieutenant Col. and Mrs. Charles F. Ford and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Bowman hosted a March 10 party at the Officers Club.

Mrs. Donald Heskett and Mrs. Stephen Hutzaluk were hostesses for the monthly M&S Group wives luncheon March 16. Mrs. Dwain Rockie was guest of Mrs. Thomas Manjak. Mrs. Kenneth Pearson won first place and Mrs. Joseph Payne second in canasta which followed.

Major and Mrs. Robert Brackett entertained Capt. and Mrs. Glenn O'Banion, who have been reassigned to ATC headquarters. Mrs. Kenneth Pearson entertained her bridge club March 20 in her home. Mrs. Ralph Zoerlain will be hostess at the next meeting in two weeks.

Mrs. Tony Milanese gave a neighborhood coffee March 21 to welcome 1st Lt. Jane Richards and her mother to the neighborhood. The lieutenant is on her first Air Force duty in the base hospital.

First Lt. and Mrs. John Dick of Randolph AFB were houseguests of Capt. and Mrs. William Roth last week. The lieutenant formerly was stationed at Reese.

Air Base Group held a barbecue dinner in honor of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Dwain Rockie, Capt. and Mrs. William Richardson, 2nd Lt. and Mrs. Frederick Dorcus and CWO and Mrs. William Bartels Sunday at the Officers' Club. Volleyball, horseshoes and cards preceded the meal. The Rockies and Dorcus' are going to Japan, the Richardsons are going to Panama, and the Bartels to Europe.

Women who brought dishes to the service club for the airman's dinner are asked to pick up the dishes.

The Protestant Women of the Chapel will have their monthly circle meeting at 1:30 p.m., March 27 in the home of Mrs. Alfred Miller, 305 Mitchell Boulevard. Dr. Clarice Wills will speak. All interested women are invited and free nursery service will be provided at the base nursery.

The Reese Toastmistress Club meets again in a joint meeting with the Lubbock Toastmistress at 8 p.m. Monday in the Officers' Club. The theme for the evening is "Variety is the Spice of Life," with speakers from both clubs. All interested women may attend. Notice should be given to Mrs. Anthony Milanese, Hurlwood 3252.

Management improvement suggestions of five military persons and four civilians have been adopted at Reese Air Force Base, following approval by the incentive awards committee. Annual savings in material and manhours of more than $8,000 a year are included.

SSgt. Royce E. Davis proposed new routing of base traffic, a safety measure. A1C Duane V. Magee suggested relocation of electrical junction boxes on refuelers, also a safety practice. TSgt. Dewey W. Cammack suggested securing of T-33 aircraft pitot covers to provide savings. The suggestion has been forwarded to higher headquarters for possible adoption elsewhere.

A1C Thomas C. Yeager and A1C Everett H. Barker proposed an improved safety practice for vacuum sweepers.

Charley Williams suggested covers for gym mats and Ruby T. Mecklin new street signs.

Dessie R. Mears proposed slip covers for T-37 jet aircraft air shields to bring manhour savings. The suggestion has gone to higher headquarters for consideration of wide use.

Herman B. Guinn suggested two management improvements, one a procedure for conserving manhours, the other for revising charging of costs on runway vacuum sweepers. The latter suggestion has gone to higher headquarters.

NETWORK OPERATES

A new closed circuit TV network, to improve missile training, is in operation at the technical training center, Sheppard AFB. Eventually the network will be able to transmit six different programs simultaneously to 58 classrooms.

Diet-conscious Air Force personnel can now obtain low calorie flight lunches upon request from the flight kitchens at Bolling and Andrews AFB.
