Full Repeal Of Neutrality Act Is Suggested

Sen. Glass Says He'll Introduce Plan In Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The prospect of a Senate battle over major revision of the neutrality law developed today as Sen. Glass (D-Va.) called the existing act "a craven piece of poltroonery" and announced that he would work for its complete repeal.

Glass, a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, told reporters that the House-approved amendment permitting the arming of ships should be discarded and that "we should repeal the whole damn thing."

Another foreign relations committee member, Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.), expressed virtually the same views in an interview.

Sen. Wheeler (D-Mont.), a leading opponent of administration foreign policy, said that he hoped an effort would be made to repeal the law completely. "That would bring the issue of peace or war out in the open where it should be," he said, adding:

"The men surrounding the president apparently want a declaration of war, but they have been afraid to come out in the open and ask for it. Instead, they have been deceitful and dishonest."

In addition to its prohibition against the arming of ships, the neutrality act now prevents American vessels from entering belligerent ports or designated combat areas. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations group has urged a freedom-of-the-seas policy for American merchantmen, but has indicated his belief that legislation to abolish present restrictions on ship movements should be delayed until after the armistice bill is enacted.

Glass said he did not believe repeal of the act would involve sending an expeditionary force to Europe, but added that this nation might as well engage in "a naval and air war with Hitler."

"We might be able to bomb them (the Germans) from our bases in Iceland," he declared, adding that "we should make this a nation of Americans instead of a nation of politicians."

Sentiment Indicated
 Pepper declared that the House vote of 256 to 133 in favor of the ship arming measure indicated clearly the sentiment of Congress and the country. He expressed hope that Connally and Democratic Leader Barkley would support repeal legislation.

"It's folly to keep dabbling," he said. "We all know that the situation is not going to get any better, it's going to get worse."

Price Control In Canada Announced

OTTAWA, Oct. 18. (AP)—Sweeping price and wage control regulations for Canada were announced tonight by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King.

Beginning Nov. 17, no person will be permitted to sell any goods or supply any service at a price higher than the maximum charged in the four weeks from Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, King said in his announcement broadcast over the network of the Canadian Broadcasting system.

Of the wage control plan, he said that henceforward no employer in Canadian industry or commerce may, without permission, increase basic wage rates.

"After Nov. 15," he added, "every employer will be obliged to pay a bonus in accordance with the terms specified by government order and to adjust the bonus regularly every three months in accordance with a definite formula."

Japanese Premier Adopts Policy Of Action--Not Words

JAPANESE LEADER—Lieut. Gen. Eiki Tojo, above, became premier-designate of Japan Friday, picked to take up the reins of government dropped by Prince Konoye before a growing crisis in the empire's relations with Russia and the U. S. He has promised a policy of action, not words.

America Awaits Actions Of New Jap Cabinet

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
 Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Official Washington adopted a "wait and see" attitude today toward the new government in Japan, but cautioned against assuming that the Tokyo cabinet change meant a radical departure in relations with the United States.

State department officials let it be known that discussions with Japan in an effort to settle outstanding problems between the two countries had been proceeding right up to the time Lieut. Gen. Eiki Tojo assumed the Japanese premiership.

Interchange Of Views
 That these negotiations, started by the Konoye government, would continue with the new regime was indicated after the disclosure that Secretary of State Hull and Undersecretary Sumner Welles had conferred at length late yesterday with Kaname Wakaugi, Japanese minister to Washington, who recently returned from Tokyo.

Except to say that there was a "general interchange of views" in the separate conferences with Wakaugi, the department would not comment.

Informed sources indicated, however, that Wakaugi told Hull and Welles that the two-nation talks would continue, at least for the time being.

Word from Tokyo that the new cabinet would continue to work toward improvement of relations with the American government coincided with Wakaugi's call.

Although Premier Tojo was represented as favoring a firm attitude toward the United States, some officials here described the new foreign minister, Shigenori Togo, as a moderate in his attitude toward the Axis lies and held that it would be better to judge the new government by its future actions.

Lubbock Motorist Narrowly Escapes

Investigating officers said A. J. Samples, 29, of near Lubbock, was fortunate to escape with only minor injuries early Saturday night when his car overturned on a road continuing north off College avenue.

Samples was taken to West Texas hospital by a passerby and authorities said he had a severe face laceration and numerous bruises. His condition was not serious.

Nation's Course To World Peace

TOKYO, Oct. 18.—Settlement of the China affair and establishment of a Japanese order in East Asia by quick action, not words, plus continued alignment with the Axis were promised by Premier Gen. Eiki Tojo today in his first public statement of the policy of the new predominantly military government in Japan.

Thus he appeared to have stated the outcome of Japan's governmental crisis in which many had questioned whether the time had now come to avert the "immutable" course toward a more compromising policy.

As if to emphasize the action-not-words policy, the vigorous 56-year-old premier-general made his statement in a one-minute radio speech and a brief press conference.

Only One Way
 "I am fully convinced that speedy action and iron will under the aegis of the august virtues of his majesty, the emperor, are the only way in which to overcome the present difficulties," he said in the radio address.

Japan's course in China and East Asia, he asserted, would contribute toward world peace.

In the one sentence: "Internally, we must consolidate a war-time structure, while externally we strengthen our ties with treaty nations," he emphasized Japan's determination to remain in the Axis camp.

Support Of Forces
 The Times and Advertiser, foreign office-controlled newspaper, said that the world military press commended the choice of a military man to head the government in the present crisis.

"The force of logic lies behind the decision to entrust national affairs to a military leader," it said.

"The country faces an encirclement that which can be dealt with only by the most intense efforts under expert direction to build and consolidate the works of a defensive war."

"At this hour the post of premier was placed in the person of a fighting man who has the fullest appreciation of the fighting services themselves."

Baptist Youths Decry Liquor

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—Four thousand Baptist youths, approved by the general assembly of a resolution pledging them to abstain from the use of alcoholic liquor and to utilize their "best efforts for its utter destruction."

The resolution, presented at the annual Baptist Student union convention at the University of Texas, was introduced by Sterling Rhea of Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville.

The union represents approximately 25,000 members.

Rhea's resolution climaxed a series of anti-alcohol talks by a dozen students and Bill Patterson, former Baylor university gridiron star.

Missing Plane Found Burned; Bodies Charred

EL PASO, Oct. 18.—Major William A. Cahill, commander of Biggs field, announced late tonight that the missing army O-42 observation plane had been found burned in a canyon 35 miles northeast of Las Cruces.

The bodies of the three occupants, Second Lieut. Willis Hunt, of Blytheville, Ark., and formerly of Lubbock; pilot, Second Lieut. C. S. Kaiser, Louisville, Ky.; and Sgt. Richard Lauck, of Denver, Colo., were charred beyond recognition. A ground crew of searchers brought the bodies to William Beaumont General hospital here tonight.

Six-Day Search Ends
 First to reach the wreckage which lay on rugged rocks deep in a canyon of the Sierra Andres, was a medical corps unit under Capt. Thomas Crouch, Biggs field flight surgeon.

Discovery of the plane was made by Lt. G. F. Baxstite of Pohenix, Ariz., who was assisting in the search, and Lt. Joseph T. Meserov of Biggs field.

Endings of the men and their wrecks climaxed a six-day search in this sector of the southwest in which planes, soldiers, CCC members and civilians scored the desert wastelands and mountainous terrain of southern New Mexico, the tip of West Texas and northern Chihuahua in Mexico.

Investigation Today
 The men, attached to the 120th observation squadron, federalized Colorado national guard, were last seen before the tragedy in the O-42 observation ship over the Dona Ana target range in New Mexico.

Cause of the accident was not known, but Major Cahill theorized that a strong downdraft might have been instrumental in the crash as they flew over the deep canyon.

Investigation of the accident by Major Cahill and other army officials was to begin Sunday. Two groups of officials were scheduled to leave for the crash scene at 6 a. m. and 8 a. m.

Stevenson's Charge Denied By Oil Man

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 18. (AP)—W. T. Knight, Wichita Falls independent oil operator, declared today that Gov. Coke Stevenson was mistaken in saying that "big shots" of the oil industry were interested in increasing the price of oil.

In a telegram sent to the governor, Knight said "as an independent oil producer I believe you are wrong in your statement to the press that the big shots in the oil business want an increase in the price."

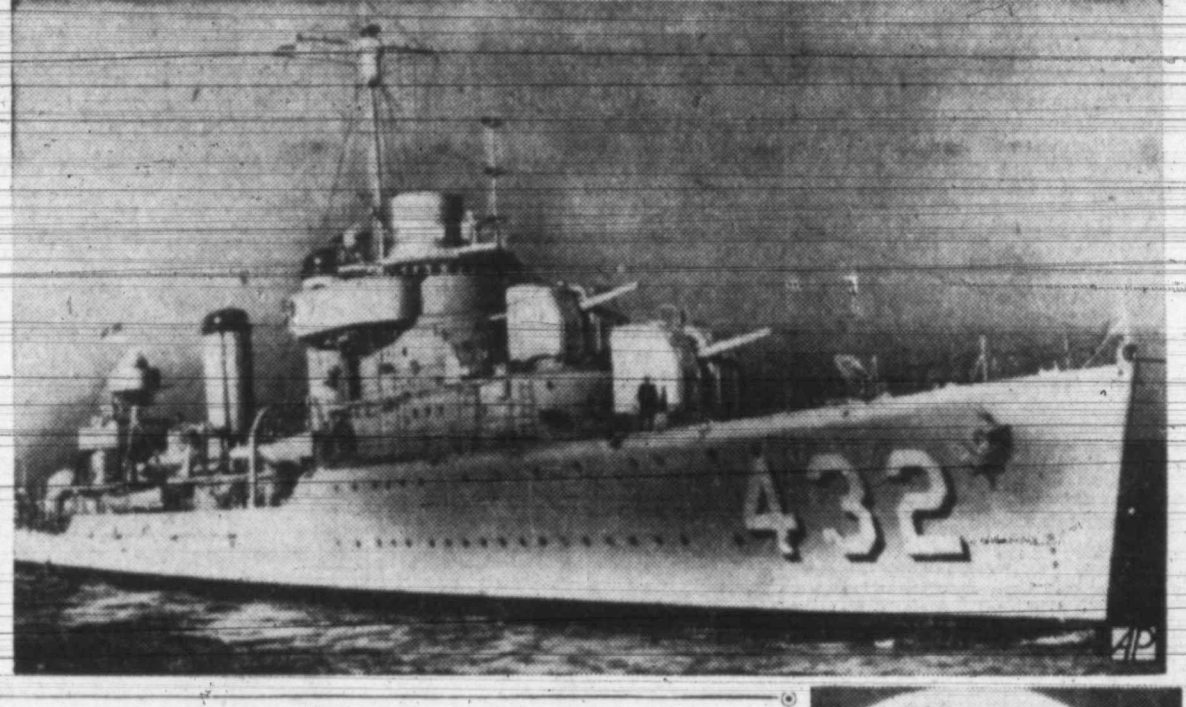

"The increase," the telegram went on, "is desired by the small producer who does not have any influence. The increase in my opinion is now wanted by the major companies who control the pipe lines and refineries and if an increase in the price is not secured these same major companies will soon own all of the production because the little man will be out of the picture entirely for he cannot operate and pay his labor, bank debts and taxes on the present price and we independent operators believe you should encourage us to get a fair price which would mean a substantial increase price for our oil."

FRANCHOT TONE WEDS

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 18. (AP)—Franchot Tone, handsome leading man of the films, and Jean Wallace, 18-year-old actress, were wed here from Los Angeles and were married by Superior Judge Henry C. Kelly in his chambers this afternoon.

Nazi Campaign For Moscow Speeded As Winter Strikes

U.S. Must Abandon All Hopes Of Peace

Wendell Willkie Says Axis Is Winning And Immediate Action Is Imperative

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The United States must abandon the hope of peace, Wendell L. Willkie said tonight, declaring that the Axis powers "are winning now and unless we act soon, it will be too late."

Willkie's remarks were prepared for a nationwide broadcast sponsored by Fight for Freedom. Because of a cold he was unable to appear and the speech was read by Dorothy Thompson, newspaper columnist.

Sinkings To Continue
 "Let us stop deluding ourselves," Willkie said, "Berlin, Tokyo, and Rome are irrevocably linked by the dangerous dream of world conquest. Victory for one is a victory for all. Their aim is world domination—the destruction of liberty, the end of democracy."

"Our ships will continue to be torpedoed and sunk unless we arm them fast. Axis victories will not end unless we deliver in rapidly increasing amounts our goods into the hands of those who are fighting for freedom on land and sea."

"But even this is not enough—we must move the show and deception of hypocritical neutrality laws. We must abandon the hope of peace."

Are Winning Now
 "We can no more negotiate a peace with the world lords of Tokyo than with the conquering dictator of Berlin. On any continent, in every ocean, we can only stop these partners in piracy, they are winning now. Unless we act soon, it will be too late."

The program was a symposium on "The United States and Japan today" and Willkie described the new Nipponese government as "the same as the old, only bolder, bloodier, more totalitarian."

Nineteen More Are Executed

Executed were 18 alleged Communists in Dalmatian territory annexed by Italy and Hubert Charlier of Couleux, Belgium, who the Parisier Zeitung said, was court-martialed and shot by a German firing squad Oct. 16 for trying to cross a demarcation line to join British forces, and for printing and distributing anti-German pamphlets.

Given Long Term
 The Dalmatian victims were part of a group of 39 convicted by special military courts of "grave crimes, killings and sabotage."

DNB reported from Prague that Franz Frolik, leading departmental adviser in the agriculture ministry of Bohemia-Moravia, and several other Czechs, including five Jews, had been sentenced to death on charges of economic sabotage.

Knockout Blow Is Attempted

Russia Claims Counter-Attacks Are Successful

GERMANY sent new tank armies into the roaring battle for Moscow today in a drive to smash all Soviet resistance before winter storms already sweeping across the Muscovite plain hold the Nazi legions snowbound.

Moscow radio broadcasts told of the desperate urgency of the new German push even as Berlin proclaimed the smashing of Red Marshal Timoshenko's grand army of the center and a breathless zero-hour expectancy gripped the Pacific in the wake of Japan's cabinet shake-up.

Attacks Are Repulsed
 Early roundabout reports that the Russians had recaptured Orel and Kalinin were not confirmed in the Soviet Sunday communique. But the Russians' wife ordinarily they had repulsed German attacks on the Moscow front.

"Winter has come!" The Moscow radio announcer declared jubilantly in a midnight broadcast. "The battleground in the past few hours has been covered with a thick carpet of snow."

He added, though, that Moscow's situation remained serious.

German Iron Face
 Berlin kept an iron face toward the western ocean with an announcement that Nazi U-boats had destroyed ten English-bound merchantmen and two escorting destroyers. There was speculation in the German capital that the attack on this convoy occurred in waters where the United States destroyer Kearny was damaged by a torpedo Friday morning.

But as the risks of a German sources said they had no reports from any German craft of an attack upon an American vessel. It was pointed out that submarines often withhold reports until they reach an area where use of the wireless would not disclose their presence to enemy warships or planes.

Eight Armies Erased
 Introduced by radio fanfares, a special German communique declared that eight Russian armies, perhaps a million and a quarter of men, had been annihilated in the gigantic encirclement battle west of Moscow.

The battle was officially declared completed except for a mop-up of small, scattered Red army forces.

But the Red banner still flew over the Kremlin and Russia was declared to be ready to hold out in the eastern vastnesses even if the capital should go under.

The British radio asserted Russia had at least 150 divisions, some 2,500,000 soldiers, standing at reserves behind the front and ready to fight.

South Plains Bands Are Guests Of Tech

Eighteen South Plains bands composed of 1,080 musicians paraded through downtown Lubbock Saturday afternoon and formed an immense double-T between halves of the Texas Technological college-Centenary football game that night as an observance of an annual Band day program directed by D. O. Wiley, Tech director.

In the parade were bands from Sudan, Andrews, Lovington, N. M., Post, Lamesa, Crane, Crosbyton, Lubbock Senior High, Lubbock Junior High, Hale Center, Hobbs, N. M., Floydada, Denver City, Seagraves, Littlefield, Levelland, Tech Reserve Officers Training corps band and the Tech band.

The parade started at Avenue Q and Broadway, wound through the business district and ended at Main street and Avenue Q.

Field Activity Over South Plains Oil Area At High Level During The Week

Yoakum, Gains Tests Watched

BY JOHN B. BREWER-Special Oil Writer

A Yoakum county wildcat with a high anhydrite top and a Gaines county wildcat showing a thinning anhydrite section attracted most attention in the north part of the West Texas-Permian Basin at the week's close.

New production in the most northerly counties rose to a daily potential of 22,647.56 barrels by 25 wells from 16,705.28 barrels by 19 wells during the preceding week.

Hockley county added 11 wells for 13,900.16 barrels, Cochran county five for 38,904 barrels, Yoakum county three for 1,333.12 barrels and Gaines county six for 3,405.24 barrels.

Third Well For Pool One of the Yoakum county completions was the third well for the Owby pool northeast of the Waples-Plattler area.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Charles J. Kleiner, 3 1/2 miles northeast of the Owby discovery, with elevation of 3,630 feet, topped the anhydrite at 2,525 feet and drilled ahead at 3,235 feet in anhydrite and salt.

The Sinclair-Prairie test is 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 436-D-John H. Gibson.

Balls Salt Water Honolulu Oil Corp. No. 1-35 L. H. Wright, wildcat seven miles northeast of Owby production, was reported to have bailed some salt water after making two feet of hole to 5,262 feet in lime and shut down to test.

No. 1-13 Wright last week cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 5,183 feet after recovering porous oil stained lime below 5,181 feet. It is 467 feet out of the northwest corner of section 13-D-John H. Gibson.

Shell Oil Co., Inc. No. 1 Mary L. Hamner, northeast offset to Livermore No. 1 Shell-Ernest Owby, became the third completed producer of the area when it flowed at a daily rate of 377 barrels, the oil being 5.2 per cent by water.

Liquid Plastic Seen As Hose Substitute

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 18 (UP)—A Minneapolis beauty expert predicts that in the near future women may buy their stockings "by the gallon."

Myndall Cain, a beautician who has devoted many hours to worrying about the possible shortage of silk stockings, believes a plastic substance which can be painted on the legs may be just what every woman needs.

"It could be applied with a sponge and removed with a special oil wash," she explains. "It would last for two or three days and probably would cost about 50 cents an application."

Until the day of the plastic stockings arrives, Miss Cain suggests that women can meet any hosiery shortage by painting the legs with cosmetics, by wearing knee-length booties, "which were stylish when grandmother was a girl," or by wearing cotton, wool, knitted, crocheted, or net stockings.

ABERNATHY CROP LATE ABERNATHY—Cotton bolls are not being opened very rapidly, farmers reporting that picking will not start in full swing for several weeks.

Completion in Ector county for No. 1 J. L. Johnson, a wildcat 467 feet out of the northwest corner of section 48-44-1s-T&P. The test will be three miles southeast of the Cooksmith field and four miles north of the Harper pool.

Producers completed in the Slaughter field in Cochran county besides Atlantic No. 21 Boyd were Anderson-Prichard No. 1 G. B. Neal for 437.40 barrels daily, Magnolia No. 4 Mallet for 1,413.44 barrels, Livermore No. 8 Boyd for 229.08 barrels and Honolulu No. 10-18 Ige-Smith for 888 barrels.

The Texas Co. finalized seven of the 11 wells on the Hockley county side of the Slaughter pool. Its No. 34 Slaughter was good for 1,192.32 barrels daily, No. 37 Slaughter for 1,545.60 barrels, No. 41 Slaughter for 2,277 barrels, No. 42 Slaughter for 1,026.72 barrels, No. 3 Cattle Raisers-Neal unit for 1,007.40 barrels, No. 7-B Mallet for 1,523.52 barrels and No. 8-B Mallet for 1,170.24 barrels.

Standard No. 34-B Slaughter flowed at a daily rate of 872.16 barrels, Honolulu No. 12-B Mallet 953 barrels, Honolulu No. 15-B Mallet 1,029 barrels and Magnolia No. 14-J Mallet 1,393.20 barrels.

Completed wells in the Wasson field in Yoakum county were Drilling & Exploration Co. No. 1-B Randall for 133 barrels and Gulf No. 7 C. A. Elliott for 732.12 barrels.

New Producers Are Completed

By FRANK D. GARDNER-Special Oil Writer

Field activity this week in the South Plains was at a high level, 25 producers being completed in five different pools, giving a grand total of 23,262.24 barrels per day.

However, wildcat interest is claimed by a test four miles east of Plains in Central Yoakum county, Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Charles J. Kleiner, which is showing high structural position on first marker, the anhydrite.

Top Is Higher Top of anhydrite was logged at 2,335 feet datum of plus 1,093. According to most correlations the point occurred 97 feet higher than in George P. Livermore, Inc., Lubbock, No. 1 Ernest Owby, discovery producer of the Owby pool, three and one-half miles to the southeast.

No. 1 Kleiner's anhydrite top also is 92 feet higher than that in R. L. Moore No. 1 Dunn, a failure two and one-half miles to the southeast.

At last reports the Sinclair-Prairie wildcat was drilling ahead below 3,235 feet in anhydrite and salt. Yates' sand has not yet been encountered. The test is located 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 436, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

The Slaughter field once more headed development in proven territory, adding 15 new wells, five on the Cochran county side and 10 in Hockley county, with combined daily potentials of 17,069 barrels of crude.

Four Are Wasson The Wasson field gained four producers, two each on the Yoakum and Gaines sides, with aggregate rating of 2,561.28 barrels per day.

One new producer in the Owby pool of southeastern Yoakum, Shell Oil Company, Inc. No. 1 Mary L. Hamner estate, a diagonal northeast offset to the discovery, rated daily potential of 377 barrels.

Three new producers in the Seminole pool of central Gaines were good for a total of 1,350.48 barrels daily and two in the Emma pool of southern Andrews county made 2,281.48 barrels.

Shut Down For Repairs

Likins & Hall, Midland, No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, scheduled 7,200 ft. Permian test in extreme southwestern Gaines, is shut down for engine repairs at 4,185 feet in anhydrite.

It will be inactive for a week or 10 days, according to G. E. (Blondy) Hall, well-known South Plains operator and drilling contractor, who is in charge.

No. 1 Jones topped the "Yoakum lime" at 4,100 feet, datum of minus 433, putting it approximately 20 feet low to Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 Jones, nominal Permian dry hole three miles to the northeast.

The Likins & Hall test had been 32 feet low to the Argo failure on the anhydrite marker, logged at 2,190 feet. Location of the deep test falls 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west line of section 13, block A-7, public school lands.

Machine is being moved in to replace rotary on Ray A. Albaugh, Lamesa, and Richmond Drilling Company, Midland, No. 1 John J. Handley, wildcat in northwestern Dawson county. Total depth of the well is 4,977 feet in lime and 5 1/2 feet in cement at 4,776 feet.

No. 1 Handley showed intermittent streaks of porosity and oil staining in cuttings and cores from 4,875 feet to total depth. It lies 660 feet from the south, 1,990 feet from the west line of section 36, block M, E. L. & R. R. survey, one and one-quarter miles east by northeast of the old Albaugh No. 1 John Robinson, discovery pumper, now abandoned.

Lime Top Not Revealed L. C. Harrison and Tobe Foster, both of Lubbock, No. 1 E. L. Steck, "mystery well" two miles northeast of Lubbock, is drilling below 3,900 feet in San Andres lime. Lime top has not been revealed. It first was reported that the wildcat had encountered the anhydrite high at 1,480 feet but later reports indicate the marker was not found until 1,670 feet.

The Harrison and Foster test is 467 1/2 feet out of the southeast corner of section 7, block A, John H. Gibson survey, three and one-quarter miles west by northwest of the discovery producer of the county, Harrison and associates No. 1 W. G. Nairn estate.

The discovery well, bottomed at 5,261 feet with cable tools. While using rotary it had drilled slightly stained and slightly porous lime from 5,190 to 5,230 feet and showed more staining and porosity in cores from 5,232 to 5,262 feet. String of 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 5,183 feet, rotary measurement. The well is located 647 feet out of the northwest corner of section 13, block D, Gibson survey.

American Drilling Corporation No. 1 W. T. Hufnall, western Terry county wildcat, is drilling below 3,260 feet in anhydrite. Samples are being examined to determine top of the Yates sand. The well topped anhydrite at 2,420 feet, datum of plus 1,108, checking 170 feet lower than the old L. E. Hulls No. 1 Ross, dry hole three and one-half miles north and slightly east, and 30 feet lower than The Texas Company No. 1 S. T. Murphy, failure four and one-half miles to the southwest which shows casing cement of oil.

Drilling In Lime

Last reports from Callihan & Waggoner No. 1 Ed M. Wahlmaier, wildcat 20 miles southwest of Crosbyton in Crosby county, stated it was drilling unchanged at 2,366 feet in lime.

Derrick is up, pits and water well have been completed, and pipe is on ground for Broderick & Calvert, Inc., Fort Worth, and associates No. 1-1 Hayward-Kuehn, central Bailey county wildcat nine miles southwest of Muleshoe. Livermore has contract to drill the well.

Rotary is being rigged up for Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Osage Drilling Company, Inc. No. 1 Clayton, new wildcat in northwestern Borden county on a farm out from the Pure Oil company.

Operations are slated to start immediately on Fullerton Oil Company No. 1 H. M. Wilson, projected 8,000-foot test in northwestern Andrews county. Two-States Drilling Company has the contract.

Germans Seek To Create Impression U. S. Warship Protection Ineffective

Defeatist Idea Nothing New

BY FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Avalanche-Journal War Analyst

For the second time in a little more than a month, the Germans today use a high command communique for political as well as military purposes at a critical moment in the battle of the Atlantic.

It is more than a coincidence that the Nazi high command one day after the U. S. navy reported the torpedoing of the new American destroyer Kearny off Iceland chooses to say that German submarines have sunk ten "enemy" merchantmen and two "enemy" destroyers after a "strongly protected" convoy from North America was attacked "after entering the blockade zone."

Attacked At Night

The German obviously mean the German blockade zone which extends from Iceland to the territorial waters of Greenland, the approximate area in which the Kearny was torpedoed but not sunk.

It is also curious that the communique makes the point that the two destroyers allegedly sunk were attacked at night; thus it may be trying to get across the point that the U-boats could not distinguish British from American warships.

Without trying to weigh the truth or lack of truth of the German communique, it is difficult to escape the impression that the Germans want to create these beliefs:

Useless And Dangerous

That Hitler orders to sink any vessel, merchant or warship, which comes within German U-boat sights on its way to England are being carried out to the letter; that U. S. naval protection of ships en route to Iceland is ineffective and only a peril to American warships; that therefore any further changes in the U. S. neutrality laws to arm or permit freer movement of American flag ships on the Atlantic are both useless and dangerous.

It may even be that the Germans hope Americans will think the Kearny was one of the two destroyers "sunk," and that they will thus become querulous of the integrity of the navy's own announcement. Promotion of skeptic

Benson Triplets Are Growing Up; They Have Gained 10 Pounds In Nine Months

Almost nine months old, the Benson triplets have gained more than 10 pounds each and are sitting alone.

Clara Jean, Lora Jane and Lloyd Dean, triplets of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Benson of 612 Fifteenth street, are healthy babies, but like all babies they need normal medical care.

The First Baptist church has provided medicine and the First Christian church, a supply of food for 10 days.

Still with the attitude she had so is careful to charge that "Roosevelt and his Jewish wire-pullers" are using the destroyer incident to push the neutrality law changes now pending in Congress, without showing at least what all official Germany is thinking about.

When the triplets were born the Benson twins, Frankie Lee and Franklin Dee, were only 18 months old. Another daughter was 10.

Dr. M. C. Overton is giving medical care to the babies.

Anyone wishing to assist in providing food, clothing or other needs may telephone Mrs. Joe George, benevolence worker of the First Baptist church, or Mrs. G. P. Kuykendall, of the First Christian church, said Mrs. George.

Argentina plans a substantial increase in revenue from its new death duties.

Teachers Will Hear Speakers

Major George Fielding Eliot, military expert and war analyst, and Will Durant, author, lecturer and world traveler, will be among speakers to appear before the general sessions of the Texas State Teachers association convention in Houston Nov. 20-22, according to announcement here Saturday by Dr. W. B. Irvin, association president.

Dr. Irvin, who is Lubbock school superintendent, estimated that attendance will range between 12,000 and 15,000. The possibility that some of the schools in the state will observe the fourth Thursday in November as "Thanksgiving and others the third Thursday may reduce the attendance somewhat, he said.

Subjects For Addresses

Both Eliot and Durant are to appear before two sessions of the convention, Dr. Irvin announced. Eliot is to speak on "How Safe Are We From Attack" the night of Nov. 21 and on "Need We Fear Japan?" the morning of Nov. 22.

Durant is to speak the afternoon of Nov. 20 on "Capitalism, Communism, Fascism and Democracy," and the same night on "A Blueprint for a Better America."

Dr. Earl B. Douglas, director of the School of Education of the University of Colorado, is to speak the afternoon of Nov. 20 on "The Schools and the National Emergency."

Others Speakers Listed

Speakers the afternoon of Nov. 21 are to include Dr. Charles F. Arrowood, professor of the history and philosophy of education

COTTON OPENS FAST

ROPEVILLE—Warm sunshine during the past few weeks, sandwiched in between rainy spells, has made cotton open fast farmers report. Estimates of three quarters of a bale per acre are frequent, if all the bolls now on stalks mature. Feed harvest is well under way.

in the University of Texas, on "—And Not of Men," and Dr. Paul L. Boynton of the George Peabody college for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., on "The Superior Child in the Present Day School."

Dr. Paul McQuilliam, pastor of the First Methodist church of Houston, is to deliver the Thanksgiving sermon in the church the opening morning of the convention—Gov. Coke Stevenson has accepted an invitation to speak at the final morning session, Irvin said.

Tentative acceptances to speak also have been received from Senator Tom Connally and John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education, Dr. Irvin announced.

Choir To Appear

A feature of the program the opening night of the convention, he reported, will be an appearance by the Verse Speaking choir of Texas State College for Women, directed by Miss Mary K. Sands.

The symphonic band of Sam Houston State Teachers college, Huntsville, is to appear in concert the night of Nov. 21. C. R. Hack, Dr. Hack's director.

Still another convention event, Dr. Irvin said, will be a program by a chorus of students from 16 high schools in the state. Mrs. E. H. Elliott of Lubbock, president of the music section of the teachers association, will be director. Mrs. Elliott is coordinator of secondary school music in the local system.

Huge Reservoir Almost Ready

A 5,000,000-gallon reservoir which will more than double the present storage capacity of city water will be completed during the coming week.

This information was supplied Saturday by Homer D. Grant, secretary and vice president of Pacific Construction company, contractor for the reservoir. The contract cost was approximately $55,000, paid out of a bond issue voted about a year ago.

Important Addition

The reservoir, located a short distance west of College avenue on Third street, is termed by officials one of the most important additions to the city water system in the last several years.

The size of it is reflected by the fact that it will hold approximately 15 times as much water as city swimming pool in Mackenzie state park. In greatest length it measures 315 feet—more than a standard city block, in greatest width 175 feet, and in depth from 12 to 16 feet. It is roughly rectangular in shape.

Excavation for it approximated 25,000 cubic yards, which was several times as much as was necessary for the new Lubbock National bank building. Approximately 2,600 cubic yards of concrete were used in construction of the reservoir.

Called Key Unit

The reservoir was described as the key unit in a major expansion of the water system taking place in that portion of the city. The expansion there involves the drilling

Taylor Succeeds Woods In Insurance Concern

Louis S. Taylor, formerly of Amarillo, has moved to Lubbock and has taken charge of Group Hospital Insurance, Inc., here, it was announced yesterday. Taylor has been doing similar work in Amarillo.

Accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, the new officer is making his home at 2013-A Fourteenth street.

Taylor, whose concern is backed by Lubbock sanitarium, West Texas and St. Mary's hospital here, succeeds Harlie D. Woods, who resigned as manager of the concern to enter another field.

One of five or six wells, some of which already have been finished, and connecting them to a large pipeline leading into the reservoir. Total cost of this improvement will be approximately $120,000, a large portion of which comes out of current revenues.

One of the important features of the reservoir, officials said, is the fact that it will more than double present storage capacities. Of more importance, officials explained, it will help to stabilize pressure in mains in a large portion of the city.

Ample storage, they related, is necessary to the maintenance of a stable pressure because it is from the reservoirs, and not the wells, that water goes into the distributing system. It is impractical, it was explained, to put water directly into the mains from the wells because the production from the wells tends to pulsate. Thus, it is necessary to use reservoirs in which water can be maintained at a fairly constant level so that a continuous even flow can be pumped into the distributing system.

Ropesville Fair Held Friday, Saturday

Many Winners Are Announced

(By Staff Correspondent)
ROPEVILLE, Oct. 18. — With exhibits of agricultural products comparable to many county and even larger fairs, the first Ropesville Community fair, sponsored by clients of Ropesville Farms, was held here Friday and today, in the community house on Farm Security administration's project.

More than 200 persons had registered up to this afternoon. Many persons did not register with the office, but came and went after viewing the exhibits.

Approximately half of the 76 clients on the project had exhibits in the women's department, including canned goods, flowers, cakes, dairy products, women's and girl's clothing, curtains, draperies, quilts and comforts and handwork of various kinds. Miss Hazel Johnson, home management supervisor, had charge of preparation of the exhibits, housed in the large hall.

Friday afternoon seven students of the home economics division of Texas Technological college, judged the exhibits. They praised the high quality of work displayed and said the displays were of excellent quality and workmanship.

Judges were, Misses Lorene Ellison, Naomi Smith, Juanita Pace, Wilma Rodgers, Cleo D. Dier, Dorine Griffith and Kathryn Cook.

Miss Weeks Attends
Saturday Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of the division at Tech and Miss Mabel E. Erwin visited the display. Miss Martha G. Brent, home management supervisor of Lubbock county, also visited the display.

L. G. Harmon, of the dairy manufacturing department of Texas Technological college, and Howard Wilkins, a graduate student, judged the dairy products and Earl T. Duke, of the plant industry department and Charles Stevenson, a student, judged agricultural products.

Saturday Wayne Burford, R. D. Dawson and Herman P. Deinken, of the animal husbandry department, judged the livestock, poultry and eggs. Lloyd Miller, graduate of the college and farm management supervisor of the project, was superintendent.

Winners were announced as follows:

WHERE U. S. DESTROYER WAS TORPEDOED—Map indicates (A) where the U.S.S. Kearny, a destroyer, was torpedoed while on patrol duty about 350 miles south and west of Iceland. The U.S. Navy department said no casualties were indicated in its dispatches and that the ship was able to proceed under her own power.

Motorized Columns Of Big Labor Army Moving On City; Will Work On Farms

Motorized columns of a great labor army slowly are moving on Lubbock.

The annual horde of cotton pickers is coming in from the potato fields of Colorado, the best acreage of Michigan, the alfalfa fields of the middle west and the now picked-over fields under the Caprock.

Gather At Fairgrounds
Mexicans with cars and trucks crammed with staple groceries and babies, negroes with an extra coat and a cotton sack, and whites with their occasional tents are gathering at Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds where they meet Barney Slack and Eduardo Aldrete, farm placement officials of Texas State Employment service, and are shunted into harvesting activities.

"We have been picking about 200 persons a day the last week and are stepping up the tempo," said Aldrete here from the San Antonio employment service office.

Aldrete said the south half of the county is showing evidence of opening cotton and that farmers were beginning to go to the fairgrounds, where the laborers are allowed to camp until placed in employment, and ask for cotton picking crews.

Such crews number anywhere from 40 persons who came in on a truck to a man and woman and their four children, too young to work.

Others Are Coming
There were seven crews camped early Saturday, but there were land milo, J. W. Burks, first; sorghum (sheaf), Travis White, first; German millet, W. H. White, first; Millet heads, J. E. Bullock, first; field corn, (yellow) Sam Whitner, first; white, R. N. Sullivan, first.

To Go To County Fair
Cotton, lint, W. H. White, first; boll, White, stalk, White.

An exhibit of Wheatland Milo was shown by the state experimental station at Lubbock.

Fred Nix of Littlefield, former farm management supervisor and now FSA supervisor, and Farmman Jones, his assistant, visited the fair. T. Tuel Linder, of Amarillo, with the regional office, was a visitor also.

The Hockley county health unit, with Miss Edna Shaffer, nurse, had an exhibit at the fair.

Winners are to be sent to the Hockley county fair at Levelland next week as a community exhibit.

Ira P-TA To Operate School Lunchroom

SNYDER, Oct. 18 (Special) — Members of the Ira Parent-Teacher association voted today to construct a building at the southern county school immediately to operate a community school lunch room under the present government program of assistance for such projects.

Seven members of the Ira P-TA will handle contributions for the venture, and all patrons of the school will be asked to designate a day's labor for erecting the lunchroom building. Present plans call for opening the lunch room around Nov. 1.

farmers making arrangements to get them into the fields. There will be from 2,000 to 3,000 more field hands here within the next 10 days, officials said they believed. It will require about that much time for them to move in from the section lying between Wichita Falls and San Angelo, where picking will have been completed and boll-pulling stage reached.

Picking will be general over the county in a week unless rain and cold, cheerless days result, officials said they believed.

Approximately 4,000 such persons will be accommodated this year by the employment service, which costs neither the laborer nor the farmer anything, it is estimated.

FARM HOUSING PROJECT
ABERNATHY — Boyd Griffith, farmer living west of town, has begun a housing project for transient workers at his place, engaged in harvesting feed. A 3-room house was built, three others moved to the location and a room added to another. He has 18 workers, many of them married and with families.

As prices of imported whiskeys increase in the United States, Porto Rico's shipments of rum continue to break high records.

Rodent Control In Area Is Launched

Rodent control work, largely prairie-dog poisoning, is well under way in this district, with work now concentrated largely in three counties, Dawson, Lamb and Carson, according to E. G. Pope, district agent of the fish and wildlife survey of the department of the interior.

Max Lindsey of Lubbock, assistant to Pope, has been working with Lamb county ranchers in a clean-up campaign.

J. B. Gibson is stationed at Lubbock and J. C. Calloway at Panhandle. Both men have been assigned to this district in special work.

Numerous calls have been made by ranchers for control work for the fall and winter. The two special men may be transferred to other counties later in the season, if necessity arises.

Budget Bureau Passes Economy Buck Right Back To The Hands Of Congress

Big Reductions Are Proposed

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. — The budget bureau today passed the economy buck right back to Congress with a report pointing out that substantial cuts in government costs could be obtained only by imposing tremendous reductions on farm aid, aid to youth, work relief and the general public works program.

The report went to the Senate finance committee which had asked for preparation of three sample budgets drafted, respectively, to obtain cuts in the current budget of $1,000,000,000, $1,500,000,000 or $2,000,000,000.

Haven't Been Discussed
"Reductions presented in this study have not been discussed with the agencies affected," the bureau informed the committee, "nor do they reflect the policy of the administration."

That leaves the government economy merry-go-round about where it has been for some years with congressional committees or individuals intermittently clamoring for economy and the administration replying, in effect:

"All right, where would you begin trimming?"
The most recent budget estimates schedule expenditures of $24,581,000,000 in the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, and receipts of $11,998,000,000.

To Arouse Criticism
Almost certain to arouse some congressional criticism is the statement by the budget bureau that not much economy can be expected from more efficient administration of government offices and bureaus.

"Reductions in expenditures from further improvements in government machinery will at best contribute in minor degree to any major budgetary revision," the bureau said.

To obtain the maximum $2,000,000,000 economy in non-defense spending suggested by the committee, the bureau reported that agricultural aid would have to be cut approximately in half. Aid to youth—National Youth Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps—virtually would be abandoned, the work relief appropriation would be cut by almost 75 per cent and the general public works program would be trimmed by about 20 per cent.

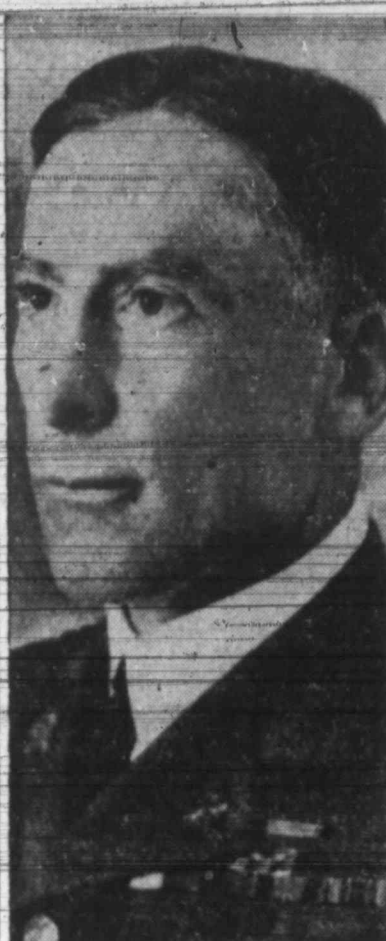

Other Cuts Itemized
Smaller cuts were itemized for practically all other government activities not directly connected with defense including an 11 per cent reduction in social security expenditures and 2.5 per cent slice in war veterans' pensions.

The force of the powerful bipartisan congressional farm bloc combined with the powerful support of the administration would smash flat any move to trim farm aid or to reduce substantially public works spending.

Concealed in the term "general public works program" are the millions of dollars the federal government grants to the states for road building. There isn't much chance that congressmen will vote to take such subsidies away from their constituents. On the contrary, the farm bloc is pushing for more money.

The terse line in the budget bureau report explaining that the economy's suggested would require a $50,000,000 cut in agricultural parity payments would be enough to start a farm bloc war dance by nightfall but for the fact that Capitol Hill knows that no such economy will be imposed.

FIRST DICKENS AVIATOR
SPUR—Lieut. Robert G. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rose and the first Dickens county boy to complete his aviation training in the U. S. army to receive wings, visited his parents here for 10 days, en route to his new station at Mitchel Field, New York. His primary work was taken at Lindbergh field, San Diego, his basic work at Randolph field and advanced work at Brooks field.

Travelers Hear Lubbock Pastor

Fifty-two persons, including 12 new members, were present at a semi-monthly meeting of Lubbock Traveling Salesmen's club at Hilton hotel ballroom Saturday noon. The luncheon and general meeting was preceded by a directors' meeting at the hotel.

G. C. Brewer, pastor of Broadway Church of Christ, was principal speaker. He discussed the international situation. Roy Furr, a guest, spoke in behalf of the Boy Scout financial drive and club members voted to make a donation. Furr was accompanied by Jack O. Stone, South Plains council executive, D. H. Bradford, president, presided.

Brownwood Men Present
Another guest was H. H. Ingram, president of the Brownwood Traveling Salesmen's club. Ingram has travelled with the same firm, Monnig's of Fort Worth, for 32 years, he said.

Club meetings will be held the second and fourth Saturdays of each month unless special events interfere, it was announced. The next meeting will be Nov. 8 in Lubbock hotel.

New members accepted Saturday were Thomas E. Pirtle, H. A. Padgett, Jr., R. H. Cheney, J. F. McPhail, Paul C. Dean, O. Larry Byrd, E. M. Dillon, Jeff D. Collier, Eddie Richards, Lee Scott, Sam E. Stewart, J. H. Fariss and Irvin Bauerkemper. Visitors were Brantley Malone, C. W. Wagon, O. S. Gray, A. F. Dean, E. J. Peebles, Alfred Crosby and B. H. Moore.

Judge Blair To Open Cochran Court Term
Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court Monday will impanel a grand jury after convening a two-weeks term of court in Cochran county. He closed minutes Saturday on a term in Crosby county.

Judge E. L. Pitts will hear non-jury cases this week, which will complete his September term.

Hermleigh Boys Leave For Kansas City

SNYDER, Oct. 18. (Special) — C. A. Dacus, Jr., president of the Hermleigh Future Farmers of America chapter, and "blue ribbon" member of the organization the past three years, and C. B. Bentley, Hermleigh vocational agriculture instructor, leave Sunday morning for Fort Worth for the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo.

While in Kansas City, young Dacus will play in the Texas FFA team. A son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dacus, the Hermleigh youth leader of the school's FFA band, Dacus and Bentley will return Thursday from the Kansas City conclave.

Damages Asked In Civil Suit

Judgment of $30,000 in damages was asked in an action filed by Lottie Margaret Atkinson by her best friend Roche Newton and George N. and Margaret Atkinson against Wayne Kelley and Bud Shankles.

The action in 99th district court, grew out of a June 10, 1940, crash of a truck and an automobile on highway 24 near Seymour. Petitioners alleged Lottie Margaret, a child, was in a back seat of an automobile driven by Dr. C.

Early Taxpayers To Receive Discounts

Three things to keep in mind, according to the office of H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector.

1. Pay your current taxes before Nov. 2 and get a 3 per cent discount for cash. If you wait later you will get only 2 per cent discount in November, 1 per cent in December.
2. Pay your delinquent taxes this month to avoid payment of penalty, interest and costs.
3. Get your certificate of title for your automobile. Otherwise you will not be able to license it, sell it or borrow money on it.

New England Citizens Favored Long Leases

BOSTON, Oct. 18. (AP) — Early New Englanders believed in long property leases—some drawn up to run for 500 and 1,000 years.

The WPA Historical Records Survey reports finding leases for property on Cornhill signed to continue 1,000 years. At North Brookfield, a lease granted by Gideon Jenks in 1782 gave Daniel Gilbert one-fourth of water rights in a nearby stream for 500 years. And you must have that certificate by Jan. 1, according to state law. Bryan said current and delinquent tax payments were being made "steadily."

Peru Lodges Strong Protest Against United States Seizure Of Airplanes

Russia Is To Get Shipments

(By The United Press)
 LIMA, Peru, Oct. 18.—The foreign office announced today Peru had protested "disregard of legal methods" in the United States seizure of 18 Douglas airplanes purchased by Peru. The United States is turning the planes, mostly small bombers, over to Russia.

The planes were unloaded by customs authorities at Brooklyn, N. Y., from the Grace liner Santa Rita, and the Peruvian steamer Maranon, which was dispatched to New York to transport part of the plane shipment.

Purchased From Norway
 The planes were purchased from the Norwegian government in Toronto under a contract signed Aug. 15 by Norwegian and Peruvian representatives at Washington.

Authorization by the United States government for transport of the planes across United States territory and permission for their exportation from the United States was obtained Sept. 2, the foreign office statement said.

The Peruvian embassy was informed by the New York customs officials on Sept. 22 that the planes had been unloaded under the pretext that they included "property of a foreign government" which must be examined by the customs.

Further alleging that they were unloaded due to the fact that they dealt with the commerce of Norway... whose funds and credits had been frozen in the United States," the foreign office said. The statement added:

Contrary To Law
 "The Peruvian embassy on the same day protested to the secretary of state in Washington that the loading had been ordered without any previous warning to the government, esteeming that the act overstepped the elemental rights of international courtesy. The embassy demanded that the planes be dispatched immediately asserting that their retention was contrary to all principles of international law, because Peru was their only legitimate owner and had acquired the planes in Canada with the knowledge and consent of the United States."

An exchange of communications between the Peruvian embassy and the United States state department followed, the foreign office said. The embassy demanded that the planes be reloaded immediately and that payment of wharfage and storage expenses and damages be paid due to the enforced wait of the Maranon in New York.

"On Oct. 14, the state department said that the United States needed the planes," said the foreign office statement, "but it would try to obtain a favorable decision from the war department. Two days later the state department issued an official communication that the planes had been taken by the United States for national defense and that its decision to take the planes must be attributed to this and no other motive. Peru has thus far received no answer from the state department to its Oct. 6 note of protest."

Brief Bits Of Local News

Vagrancy charges against Howard Brazel and G. A. Webb and two such cases against T. E. Gilbert were dismissed from the county court docket Saturday on recommendation of Ralph Brock, county attorney. Similar charges against Brazel and Gilbert had resulted in acquittals Friday in the court. The three were charged by police several weeks ago and the county court cases were appeals from fines set in corporation court.

William Paul Brown, 36, who was charged this week in county court with theft, posted $200 bond Saturday. A negro charged with theft by bailee and a man charged with violation of the check law had not been reported arrested. The last allegedly passed a $25 worthless check to Groves Grocery. The negro was charged on complaint signed by Hugh Anderson with appropriating a pair of shoes to his own use when Anderson took them to him to be mended.

A jury in 99th district court was dismissed at noon Saturday in the case of Mrs. Mabel Brophy against W. Brophy and Mrs. Florence Brophy, a suit for divorce and community settlement of property. An official said terms of an agreement in the case were being discussed and it seemed highly probable an agreed judgment would be entered.

A 43-year-old Lubbock man was placed in county jail Saturday night by the sheriff's department for investigation of swindling. An authority said several cases were pending against the suspect in neighboring counties.

Juvenile brothers, about 15 and 16 years old, were held Saturday night by the sheriff's department as suspects in burglary here and at Clovis, N. M. Both were believed to have figured in a break-in at the New Mexico town and the younger is suspected of burglarizing the property of H. V. Bigham, at 343 Avenue H, several nights ago.

A negro, J. W. White, 51, complained to police Saturday that he had been loser to thieves of a watch and money, but before nightfall he had been caught in a trap for theft. A $5 fine was slapped on him when he appeared in corporation court for theft of a half-pound of butter at Furr Food store, at Thirtieth street and Avenue L. The negro told police a 21-jewel pocket watch and $10.27 in money were stolen from him.

Two district meetings of home management supervisors of Farm 32 early administration have been announced for the first week in November. District 4, of which Earl Wise is supervisor, will meet in Lubbock hotel Nov. 4 and 5. Fourteen counties comprise the group. District 3, of which Marvin C. Wilson is supervisor, will meet in Plainview Hilton hotel Nov. 6 and 7.

Thanksgiving turkey market will open the first week in November and dressed birds from this area to the north and east, is not expected to be as large as in previous years, produce men state.

Churchill Asks Greater Effort

NORWICH, England, Oct. 18. (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told British farmers today they could free more ships for the movement of vital munitions to Britain and Soviet Russia by "still greater efforts" in food production.

"Ships that would have brought food to our shores must now be used to meet urgent needs of ourselves and our Russian allies for airplanes and tanks," Churchill said in a letter read here by R. S. Hudson, minister of agriculture.

"We find ourselves today in a better position on the food front than at any previous time since the war started," his message went on.

Rely On Women
 "But there can be no relaxation. You can release more ships by growing still more food in this country and so hasten the day of victory."

Echoing Churchill's call for greater production, Hudson said British farmers had been able in 1940 to virtually "make up the nation's losses in imports of animals and foodstuffs."

"I cannot promise you agriculture will be relieved altogether of the obligation imposed on all industries to provide a contribution towards the manpower needed for the services," Hudson said.

Agriculture therefore, he added, must rely more upon women.

Irish Win 16-0 Tilt But Cheers Go To Tartans

 PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Notre Dame slipped and slid today to a 16-0 victory over underdog Carnegie Tech before a rain-soaked crowd of 27,719 who came expecting to see an Irish field day but left cheering the Tartans' amazing goal line stands.

The unbeaten Irish rolled up 241 net yards rushing while holding Tech to a net loss of 19 yards but bogged down time after time in the face of savage Tech resistance near the goal line. Tech, supposed to be a victim by almost any score you chose to name, yielded only two touchdowns—one in the first period and another to the Irish reserves in the final quarter. The game concluded with a least-temporary rivalry between the schools in which the Irish won 19 out of 19 contests.

The Tartans also gave up a safety after beating back a dangerous Irish thrust on their own 2-yard line in the second quarter.

Miss Kay Perrin, home demonstrator agent at Spurr, was improved in condition at West Texas hospital Saturday afternoon after having undergone an appendectomy, authorities said.

Mrs. James Huffman, 2411 Tenth street underwent an appendectomy in West Texas hospital and was reported improving Saturday night. She, the former Miss Betty Lindsey, is secretary to Dean R. C. Goodwin of the division of graduate studies at Texas Technological college.

George Y. Burns of Austin is at the bedside of his father, Rollie C. Burns, Lubbock pioneer who is suffering pneumonia in West Texas hospital. Mr. Burns was reported improved Saturday night. Others at the bedside are another son, Garza Burns, and a daughter, Mrs. R. H. McCrummen, both of Lubbock.

Miss Beatrice Butler of Lubbock, a member of Church of the Nazarene, will be speaker at First Lubbock Union Gospel mission, 1515 Avenue D, at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon. Sunday school is at 2:30. Mrs. R. E. Thompson of 1606 Avenue R, superintendent and founder of the mission, is recovering at her home from pneumonia. She was dismissed from West Texas hospital Friday.

John Reed of Wichita Falls has been employed by S&Q-clothingers, at 1108 Broadway. It was announced Saturday by Alvin Goldstick, manager. Reed had been employed five years by a men's clothing company in Wichita Falls before coming here.

Russo-German War

 Britain set herself for any quick change in direction of the tremendous eastern conflict. Brigadier Baron Henry Page Croft, parliamentary undersecretary for the war office, declared that the Iranian frontier was vital to Britain and that the Germans almost certainly would strike toward the Caucasus ports of Batum and Baku.

The Iranian frontier, he said, was important in defending Baku and in denying to Germany the road to Egypt, India and the East.

"A Russian broadcast heard in London," said the Croft, "was throwing 'enormous forces' into the battle for the capital but Russia was playing heavily upon winter to defeat the German push."

"The winter will come and Moscow must remain and will remain Soviet-Moscow," he radio said.

Both sides lost heavily in Saturday's fighting in the Vyazma sector, 125 miles west of Moscow and "hour by hour the battle grows in intensity," the broadcast said.

Earlier, London reports had hinted the German drive seemed definitely slowed.

The reports said that counter-attacking Soviet troops had even recaptured two vital points north and south of the capital, halting the movement to flank the sprawling city now being turned into a vast fortress.

As the fight continued, the first heavy snow blanketed the battlefield, the Russians announced, and roads watered by recent rains were described as hard as ice.

Not First Yet
 It was not the first time that it was that he had advanced rapidly through Norway's spring weather and Berlin has long reported preparations for the cold. Some Germans had even said frozen roads would give armored vehicles an advantage.

But the Russians said their winter "is terrible for those not accustomed to it" and reported that German prisoners greatly feared it.

"The battle now is raging in cold, grey fog which envelops everything," the Moscow radio said.

The Soviet information bureau communique said only that numerous German attacks were turned back in the central front before Moscow as the fighting lost none of its intensity.

Western Oklahoma Is Shaken By Earthquake

CLINTON, Okla., Oct. 18 (AP)—A slight earth tremor strong enough to rattle dishes and stop clocks disturbed the residents of western Oklahoma town and nearby communities at 1:45 a. m. today.

Citizens estimated that the tremor, which some said caused a jarring sensation like that of a distant explosion, lasted about three seconds.

An oil field seismograph worker, who said he had undergone a similar experience, identified the occurrence as a mild earthquake whose center was far removed from this area.

Telephone exchanges and police were jammed with telephone calls a few minutes following the tremor. Residents from a small town five miles south of here, Besie, telephoned to determine if an explosion had occurred.

One man said his house was shaken and another reported cracks in his house had been stopped.

RAF Fliers Declare They'll Give Nazis A Fit In New American-Built Fighters

BY JOHN A. PARRIS, JR., United Press Staff Writer
 A ROYAL AIR FORCE AIRCRAFT, somewhere in England, Oct. 18.—A squadron leader patted the streamlined, camouflaged side of an American-built Airacobra plane and said: "Now we've got something to give 'em a fit!"

The call these planes built by Bell Aircraft corporation, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Caribous. A number of them have been put into operation, machine-gunning barges and ships along the French coast. Apparently the Airacobra is less outstanding at a great height, but up to a certain height, pilots say, there is nothing that will beat one.

"They're hell on wheels, the smoothest, hardest-hitting machine I have ever flown," the squadron leader said. "These babies get up and step out. And what firing power—one cannon and six machine guns. Brother, I'm glad I'm flying one, not up against one."

He said the Airacobra is infinitely better armed than the Messerschmitt 109.

"The Germans say they want more height and speed. Guns with them come last. We want guns first," he said.

Apparently the Airacobra has both speed and guns.

It is a single-seater plane, powered by a liquid-cooled Allison, 12-cylinder motor of 1,150 horse power. American sources have said that it is able to fly more than 415 miles an hour.

Carries One Cannon
 It carries one 20 mm cannon, firing through the propeller hub, two machine guns in its nose, firing through the propeller, and four machine guns in its wings.

The Airacobra is one of the most advanced designs of military aircraft in the world, with an air screw driven by a shaft which passed under the pilot's seat from the engine behind him.

Up to a certain height, it is faster than the Spitfire or the Hurricane, two of Britain's best fighting planes.

Fitted with tricycle landing gear, the Airacobra's landing speed is considerably higher than that of the Spitfire.

RAF ground crews, as well as pilots, have learned all its tricks under Lieut. Melvin McNickle Doland of the United States army air corps, and five other American technicians—Technical Sergeant Wayne Edgar, and Staff Sergeants Edwin Rhodes, Roy Seigert, Louis Brosner and Donald Feldt. All are attached to Selfridge field, Mount Clemens, Mich.

RAF officials said Airacobras can be used for all types of day flying—and as a Canadian pilot from Toronto put it: "Boy, I'm jerry to get into a dogfight with Jerry in one of these babies. She's going to be hell on wings."

Unbeaten Teams Wake Forest Wins 7-0 Hold Fast Pace

(By The Associated Press)
 Lufkin's roaring Panthers, one of the high scoring machines of Texas school football history, rolled another hapless opponent under an avalanche of points last night to strike terror from Panhandle to Gulf.

At more than a point-a-minute clip, undefeated, untied and unscathed on Lufkin today stands as the major team in the schoolboy grid battle—apparently destined to sweep unhindered into the state playoffs.

The Panthers opened the District 12 campaign with a crushing 83-0 rout of Palestine to bring the season's total in five tests to 261—an average of 52 plus per game.

Masons Trip Carter
 Elsewhere last night the undefeated, untied teams—and there are 14 including Lufkin—came through without mishap although mighty Masonic Home, the outfit generally selected, until now, to win the state title, barely edged out Amos Carter Riverside.

The two Fort Worth teams playing what was considered the battle for the district title and in the last minute Gordy Brown flipped a 55-yard pass to Louis Burrell for a 12-0 victory.

But while the teams with perfect marks came through, seven of the twelve that had been undefeated but had ties on their records were tumbled.

Borger was crushed by Lubbock 54-0. Yeleta lost to Plainview 12-0. McKinney was nosed out by Denton 26-9. Adamson (Dallas) dropped before Corsicana 7-0. Kilgore was beaten by Marshall 7-0. Port Arthur lost to Galveston 7-0 and Gladewater was crushed by Tyler 47-0.

Defeat of Kilgore was the outstanding upset, this team having been selected to give Tyler a hefty battle for the District 11 title.

Wake Forest Wins 7-0 From N. C. State

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 18. (AP)—An 18-yard run by Sophomore Johnny Perry gave Wake Forest's heavily favored Deacons a hard-earned 7-0 triumph over North Carolina State in a Southern conference football game tonight before 15,000.

Perry's run came in the second quarter and he added the point from placement.

Missouri Tigers Drub Iowa State, 39 To 13

AMES, Ia., Oct. 18. (AP)—Missouri's Tigers, rich in speed, power and trickery, roared a stunning challenge for Big Six conference honors by routing Iowa State 39 to 13 here today in a wild, free-scoring battle before 15,000 homecoming fans.

The overwhelming victory in which every man on Coach Don Faurot's husky squad participated, sent the Tigers to the top of the conference standings in a tie with Nebraska's Cornhuskers, an enemy Missouri will attempt to throttle next week.

Lieutenant Colonels Are Given Promotion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The promotion of 135 regular army lieutenant colonels to the temporary rank of colonel was announced today by the war department.

Virtually all the officers have been performing the duties of colonels, such as regimental commanders, and their temporary promotion was in line with a department policy of giving officers the rank commensurate with their assignments.

Permanent promotion to colonel is based on seniority, but the temporary promotions were made on a selection basis of the officers' records in the performance of their duties, particularly since the start of the emergency. Another list of 214 similar promotions was announced in June, and the department said others would be selected within the next few months.

Those promoted today, with their usual home addresses, included:

Falkner Heard, FA, San Antonio, Tex.; Roderick R. Allen, Cav., Palestine, Tex.; Percy W. Clark, Inf., San Antonio, Tex.; Merritt E. Olmstead, Inf., Marshall, Okla.

Bar Plans To Try To Curb Malpractice
 AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Chairman of 21 district grievance committees of the State Bar of Texas today announced policies under which the groups will launch a program to curb unauthorized practice of law and discipline bar members guilty of malpractice.

Paul H. Brown, of Harlingen, spokesman, said the chairmen hereafter would meet in Austin each October and April and that district committees would have stated meetings each September, January and April.

He declared the district groups would be extra vigilant against unauthorized practice of law by real estate agents, title companies, banks and trust companies and notaries.

LIONS SPONSOR DRIVE
 POST—The Post Lions club has announced it will sponsor a campaign to mark the streets of Post in cooperation with the state highway department. Robert Outlaw is chairman of the committee. Marking of eight blocks of Main street with parking zones and safety zones is being done by club members.

One American company produced a 324,850.21 pounds of copper during 1939.

Private J. D. Warlick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Warlick, of Lubbock, was among 300 radio communication students of the U. S. Army air corps to receive a diploma at Scott Field, Ill. The air corps announced yesterday. Young Warlick has been ordered to report to Goodfield Field, San Angelo primary air base, where he will serve as an expert radio technician.

Lubbock county chapter of the Rural A. C. E. is to meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Freshney school, according to announcement Saturday. Grade school teachers of the county were invited to attend.

Mrs. A. L. Williams, of 2102 Twentieth street, was called to Midland Saturday morning by the illness of her daughter Mrs. James H. Goodman. Mrs. Goodman, a former Lubbock resident, had a setback in an infection that occurred several weeks ago.

Ten persons have requested a night class in shorthand at Texas Technological college and more apparently are interested, said J. F. McDonald, director of extension at the college, in calling a 7 o'clock meeting Wednesday night in room 314 of the administration building. Mrs. J. W. Jackson would instruct such a course if entries are sufficient to conduct it. McDonald said. The course would be given one night a week for four months.

"Merry Mack," entry of John A. Stinson of Lubbock, was adjudged champion walking horse at the Shepherd Field Jubilee Horse show Friday night in Wichita Falls. Topping his class easily, the horse turned in one of the best performances of his show career, it was reported.

Mrs. J. E. Carter, 18, of Lubbock route 2 was given emergency treatment at West Texas hospital at 7:20 o'clock Saturday night after she had fainted at the side of Hanna-Pope and company store, 11 Broadway. A Plains funeral home ambulance took her to the hospital. She did not remain.

Independent Oilmen Are To Meet Monday

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 18. (AP)—One thousand independent oil producers from 22 states are expected here Monday for meetings of the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the National Stripper Well Association.

Priorities, increased costs of production and the proposed crude oil price hikes will be the principal problems scheduled for discussion by the two groups.

Speakers will include Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum coordinator; Congressman William P. Cole, Jr., of Maryland; Gov. Leon Phillips of Oklahoma and Gov. Cole Stevenson of Texas.

Six Men Are Injured In California Blast

SAN JOSE, Calif., Oct. 18. (AP)—Six men were injured seriously today, and a dozen or more others were treated at hospitals for burns and cuts received in a gas explosion at the $10,000,000 permanent magnesium plant at Los Alamos.

A company statement said there was no property damage.

The big plant, manufacturing magnesium for defense orders, had not been in production the past week, the statement said, when expansion work was in progress.

The gas explosion was believed touched off by a spark from welding equipment.

Two months ago, Rags showed signs of getting old, narrowly escaped being killed by automobiles. Railroad employees put him "on pension," and he retired. Rags was a headquarter. He died a week later with friends say was a broken heart.

Dickens 6-Man Team Wins Third Straight

MATADOR, Oct. 18. (Special)—The Dickens High school Owls won their third consecutive six-man football game here Thursday night, clipping the Roaring Springs Yellow Jackets, 21-6.

Capt. Cumble of the Owls made the first counter on an end run, Noland added the second on a line buck and Partridge intercepted a pass and run it back for the third score. R. Futch added a safety for the Owls. The game ended with Dickens owning the ball on the Roaring Springs three-yard line.

Nix Wins State Senior Golf Crown At Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18. (AP)—R. H. Nix of Dallas ended George V. Rotan's two-year reign as state senior golf champion today at the San Antonio Country club as Nix came through in the final round 18-hole match of this year's tournament to defeat the defending champion, one-up. Rotan is a Houston golfer and won the title in 1939 and 1940.

Tulsa Power Crushes St. Louis, 33 To 7

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 18. (AP)—Tulsa university showed its power on the ground tonight, running over St. Louis University, 33 to 7, with a smashing attack that began with Malcolm Strow's 89-yard run for the Golden Hurricane's first touchdown.

L. D. Moore, senior Tulsa fullback, scored twice for the Hurricane. A blocked punt gave the Billikens their touchdown in the final period.

AGED TEXAN DIES

ITASCA, Oct. 18. (AP)—Mrs. A. E. Cogdell, who lived all of her 86 years in Texas, died at her home here today. She had lived 51 years. Grandmother of Jack Wrather, son-in-law of Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, Mrs. Cogdell was the daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. James Jackson Gathings of Covington.

Strong Appeal For Labor-Management Peace In Interest Of Defense Hinted

Steel Strikes Causing Worry

(By The United Press)
With steel production hampered by three sizable strikes and walkouts threatening at two major aircraft factories, the Office of Production Management was believed today to be drafting a strong appeal for labor-management peace in the interest of national defense.

The OPM plea, expected next week, was thought to be the action hinted at by President Roosevelt in a press conference. The president expressed concern over the recent wave of inter-union squabbles affecting defense production and intimated the possibility of direct intervention in labor disputes.

Three Most Important
Of the 10 defense strikes affecting 16,500 workers in progress yesterday, the three in the steel industry were among the most important.

An 18-day strike of 1,400 CIO United Automobile Workers at the Midland Steel Products company, Cleveland, O., was believed near settlement. The walkout not only affected defense work at the steel factory, but forced 14,000 automobile workers at Detroit and South Bend, Ind., into idleness because of lack of body frames from the Midland company.

The other two strikes involved 400 out of 8,000 CIO steel workers at the Great Lakes Steel Corp., Ecorse, Mich., and 1,000 CIO steel workers at the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants of the Shenango Furnace Co., Pittsburgh.

New Dispute Arises
Aircraft production already menaced by threat of 27,000 men strike on $750,000,000 worth of airplane orders at Consolidated Aircraft corporation, San Diego, Cal., was further threatened by a dispute at Bell Aircraft corporation, Buffalo, N. Y.

At Buffalo, the CIO aircraft local announced last night that it would take a strike vote Sunday to enforce demands for a 20 cent hourly wage increase. The company employs 10,000 men at Buffalo and Niagara Falls who would be affected by any union action.

AFL Machinists, Claiming 23,000 Members, at Consolidated, have threatened to strike unless wage increases agreed upon by the company and union are forthcoming. The company has refused to pay the increases unless the government guarantees to bear the added expense under a clause in the airplane contracts. The union has charged the company with "stalling," but union officials hoped to avert a walkout, pending conferences with Sidney Hillman, OPM labor chief.

Cooperation Is Asked
Possibility of another strike in the Pittsburgh area loomed today because of efforts of the AFL building trades council to force the Duquesne Light company out of the construction field. The council sent telegrams to affiliates asking cooperation if the strike committee should issue a general strike call. The council sent notice of intention to strike within 10 days, if necessary, to high labor and government officials.

The strike committee claimed support of 50,000 council members and the street railway employees. Columbia and National Broadcasting company officials announced last night that a strike which forced union musicians off the network sustaining programs had been settled. The strike was ordered four days ago by the American Federation of Musicians (AFM) to protect alleged failure of two Pittsburgh stations to comply with union hiring regulations.

Sale Of Investment Corporation Revealed

Announcement of purchase of the Mortgage Investment Corporation of Dallas from William S. Bradley by A. H. Cadwallader, Jr., and associates of Antonio was made Saturday by G. R. Kennedy of Lubbock, who will become vice president in charge of the Lubbock office.

The firm is a pioneer FHA lending institution in Texas, having been founded in 1937. Offices are in Dallas, Houston, Austin and Tulsa and arrangements are being completed for offices in Amarillo, Corpus Christi and Wichita Falls. The change of ownership was a quarter-million-dollar transaction. Kennedy specialized in FHA loans since the service was first offered. He has arranged for about a million and a half dollars in FHA loans for Lubbock and its territory, he said.

EDWARD CUDAHY, SR.

Edward Cudahy Death Victim

(By The United Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Edward A. Cudahy, sr., co-founder of the Cudahy-Packing company and the last of the old-time packers who built the huge present-day packing plants, died today at his home after a heart attack. He was 61.

Cudahy had been ill for several years of a heart ailment. Edward A. Jr., now president of the firm, and his four sisters were at his father's bedside.

Had Been Inactive
He was chairman of the board of directors at his death but had been inactive for several years.

In a five-year apprenticeship with Plankinton's Packing company at Milwaukee, Cudahy learned the fundamentals of the business. He served as a stockyard "cowboy" herding the cattle from the pens to the slaughter house, learned to skin carcasses and dress meat, became a ham trimmer, then a cashier in a meat market and a meat cutter.

When he was 17, he took a job as messenger with Armour & Company in Chicago with which his older brother, Michael, was connected. He became manager of the beef department and five years later went to Omaha, Neb., to open a branch.

Made Member Of Firm
As Omaha manager, Cudahy was made a member of the firm when he was 27. Three years later the Cudahys bought the Armour interests. Michael became president and Edward, vice president.

The next two decades saw the brothers build their company into a power in the packing industry with branches in more than 80 cities in the United States, numerous subsidiary interests and export connections the world over.

Home Ec Delegates To Attend Meeting

Other members of the club planning to attend are Jean Spencer of Ralls, Helen Walker of Olton, Nina Wright of Shallowater and Clois Poindexter of Guion. They plan to leave Friday noon and return Sunday.

Copper Wire Received For Midwest REA

SNYDER, Oct. 18. (Special)—Good news for Scurry and Fisher county REA customers of Midwest Electric cooperative was contained today in an announcement from the high line contractors, Walco Engineering & Construction company, that 50 miles of copper wire has arrived for the "C" Section. Stringing of the 50-mile strip of wire in Scurry and Fisher county parts of the "C" section will allow a considerable portion of this new line to be energized by Nov. 1, Troy Peoples of Roby, Midwest superintendent, states. Construction activities on Midwest's "C" section have been halted the past several weeks by lack of wire and inability to get a shipment cleared sooner.

Forgery Suspect Returned Here By Sheriff, Deputy

Sheriff Tom Abel and Grady Harist, deputy sheriff, Saturday noon returned from Arkansas with Sam Thomas, 60-year-old Arkansas giant they had obtained in an extradition net.

Thomas is charged with forgery of a land title, in a complaint filed by Burton S. Burks, district attorney, in the court of J. T. Inmon, justice of peace. Thomas, jailed on the felony warrant sent from Lubbock, had been held by the sheriff at Huntsville, Ark., since last Sunday. According to Sheriff Abel, he sought to get bail and failing, resorted to habeas corpus action, but when the governor of Arkansas allowed his extradition the prisoner claimed he could not leave the Arkansas jail for the hearing in Little Rock, because he was too ill.

No Such Person
Four lots at Tenth street and Avenue T, bought by T. A. Turner for a client, and one in the stockyards district of Lubbock were listed in official records Sept. 28 to have been transferred to Sam Thomas, by Charles Rutherford. Record title owner Charles Rutherford is an Austin school teacher and his father, of Mt. Vernon, Texas, said the son had sold no such property.

Acknowledgment to the deed was signed by E. Swelton, notary of Swisher county. There is no such person; rather there is a J. E. Swepston, but Swepston said he had acknowledged no such deed.

When Thomas allegedly instructed Turner to sell T. J. Vallas of Lubbock the lot near the stockyards for $500, "subject to the records," and allegedly claimed in a letter he had been offered $1,000 for it, Turner and Vallas became suspicious. They went to the district attorney, Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, and Harist went to Swisher county and investigated. Charges followed.

In the meantime, H. A. Tooke, retired school teacher who had done public work through the WPA, has been conferring with the district attorney in regard to some Arkansas land he bought "sight unseen" after deeding away his small shack in Lubbock.

"We got to Madison county, Ark., and sought to find the 40 acres we had got by trading our home place at 909 Avenue C," Tooke wrote friends here, but found their land was on the very top of a mountain where Mrs. Tooke could not even climb. Far from being as represented, it had no fence, no well and no acreage under cultivation, Tooke said.

He made the trade in Lubbock with an Arkansas man, Tooke, said the district attorney. "I stined, stunted, strove and starved to pay out my property," Tooke said. "Now my wife and my furniture are hundreds of miles away and I don't even have enough money to get them back. We had left here to go live on our Arkansas property."

Thomas waived examining trial Saturday afternoon when taken before Justice Inmon, who set bail at $2,500.

Taken to the district attorney's office, Thomas said he would prefer to wait until Monday before making a statement.

Other witnesses, however, were making statements to the district attorney.

Sweetwater Boy Uses Thumb For 1450 Miles To Get In Air Corps

WINNEPEG, Man., Oct. 18. (AP)—Monty Stone, 21, of Sweetwater, Tex., joined the Royal Canadian air force today.

He had hitchhiked 1450 miles to apply for duty. Stone was a student at North Texas Agricultural college, Arlington, Tex.

Semi-Annual Market Week Program Opens Here Saturday

Affair Will Be Closed Monday

The 23rd semi-annual market of Western Wholesale Market association of the chamber of commerce opened in Lubbock hotel Saturday with prospects for an outstandingly successful for a never better, according to I. A. Stephens, association president.

Continuation of Saturday's perfect weather, Stephens said, may make this one of the biggest events in the entire history of the association.

Continues Through Monday
The market will continue through Monday and will close with the annual dinner dance in the main ballroom of Hilton hotel at 7:30 o'clock. Jack York's orchestra is to play for the dancing.

Stephens explained that purpose of the market is to provide a convenient trading center in Lubbock for wholesalers and manufacturers from all parts of the nation with retailers from all parts of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

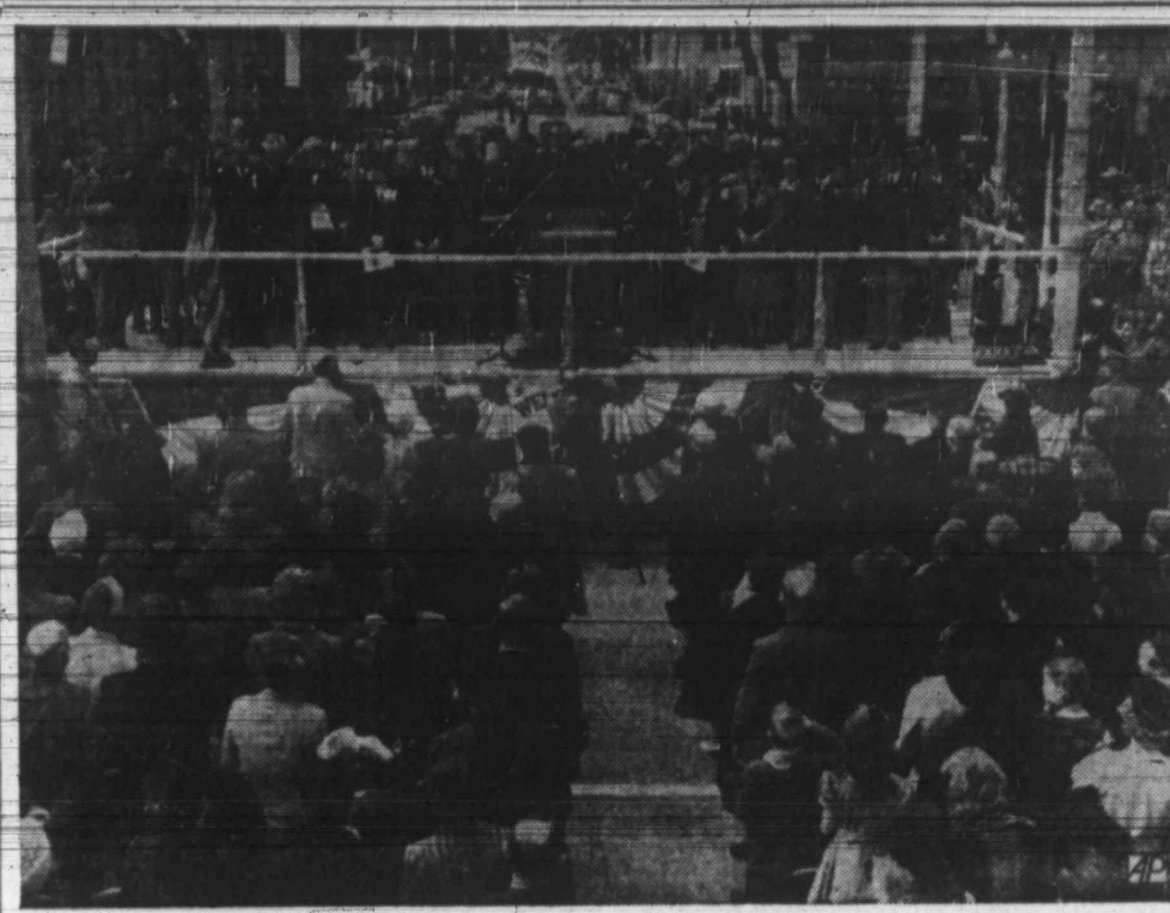

Represented in the market are approximately 80 firms which occupy exhibit space on five floors of the Lubbock hotel. All the important style centers of the nation are represented among them. Invitations to heads of approximately 1,100 retail business establishments in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to attend have been mailed.

All Space Assigned
All the available exhibit space in the market was assigned more than a week ago, Stephens reported.

Firms represented in the market and their representatives were announced Saturday as follows:

Brohanm co. of Texas, A. Sinkin; Claire Kay Junior dresses; William McCauley; Clare Dress company; Joe Statman; Dayton Dress co.; V. L. Fisher; Dancing Modes; Ely & Walker; Geo. F. Increase For Food Plantings Is Urged

C. E. Lilley, chairman of the U. S. department of agriculture defense board for Lubbock county, has been urged by the secretary of agriculture to appeal to farmers to increase their feed and food plantings for next year.

Texas peanut growers are being asked to increase their plantings from 329,000 acres to 623,000 acres for 1942. Lubbock county for this year had an allotment of 162.8 acres, but, owing to rainy weather, actual plantings were under that figure.

Most of the peanut growers have heretofore been in the Slaton area. Likewise, farmers are being asked to double their milk production and increase egg production by at least 50 per cent. Egg production also is to be greatly increased.

Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel Visits In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18. (AP)—Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, back in Texas to study the opinions in the state regarding proposed arming of United States merchant vessels, was a Fort Worth visitor today and attended the TCU-A. and M. football games as the guest of Jesse McKee, oil man and long time friend of the former governor.

The Senator had planned to leave Fort Worth by plane this morning for Austin and San Antonio but at the last minute he arranged to cancel appointments with Gov. Coke Stevenson at Austin and army officials at San Antonio so that he could remain over and see the game here this afternoon. He plans to go to Austin and San Antonio tomorrow.

Fire Drills In Schools Praised

If fire should break out in any of the city schools, there need be no fear but that the pupils will get out in plenty of time.

This was the assurance given Saturday by Guy Casey, city fire marshal.

He reported that astonishingly fast time was made in all the city schools in which test drills were conducted during the recent fire prevention week observance in Lubbock.

The tests were made, he added, in all—except—Dunbar—negro schools. Fire officials visited there three times planning to stage drills but, as it happened, children were at recess each time. Casey said, however, that test drills probably will be made there within the next few days.

Tests that were made, he reported, followed the same general pattern. Not even the teachers knew in advance that a drill was to be staged. So far as the children knew, their building was on fire.

No Panic Shown

Casey related that, in no instance, was there the slightest indication of panic. He added that there wasn't much to choose between various schools in the records that were made. All the buildings were emptied well within a time that allowed an abundant margin for safety, he declared. Some of the buildings were emptied more speedily than others, but in practically every instance, those requiring the longer times were due to structural nature of the building or the large number of children.

The fastest time was made at the one-story Guadalupe school, of which Mrs. George Duval is principal. The 230 pupils were in the clear within 25 seconds. It is the Mexican school.

At George R. Bean school, of which W. Kay Mathis is principal, the 315 pupils were out of the building in 50 seconds.

Plans For Red Cross Roll Call Are Made

Skeleton organization for the annual Red Cross roll call in Lubbock county starting Nov. 11 has been perfected, according to announcement Saturday by Olen Stewart and Marion Sanford, co-chairmen.

Division chairmen, they said, include Ed D. Allen, of outlying territories; James G. Allen, Texas Technological college; and N. D. Wiggins, publicity. Others still are to be named.

George D. Montag, field representative of the Red Cross with headquarters in Lubbock, and Mrs. Jack Reeves, local representative, are assisting in preparations for the drive.

Two Die Of Burns In Crude Tank Blast

VENTURA, Calif., Oct. 18. (AP)—Two men perished and three others suffered severe burns late last night in an explosion that wrecked a 30,000 barrel crude oil tank owned by the Shell oil company.

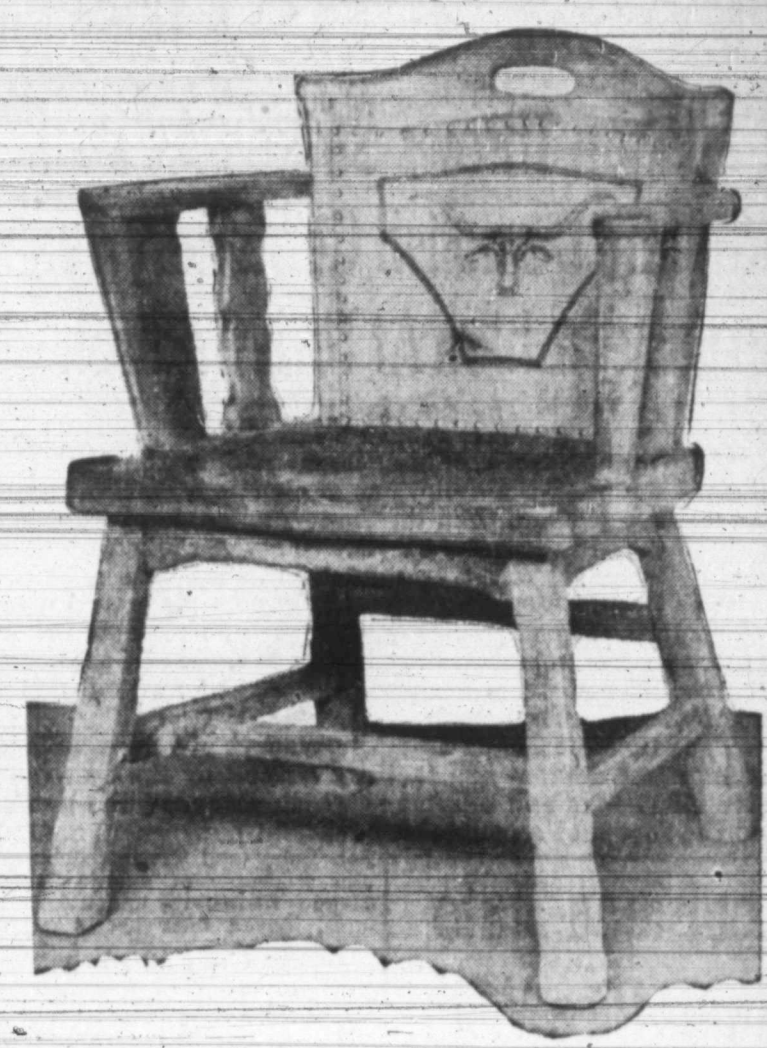

Dead were Russell Baker and Bert Miller. Those critically burned are Lon May, Harvey Boyce and Richard D. Fir.

Tech Chalks Up Fourth Victory By Taking Gents, 25-0

Callahan Throws Strikes As Red Raiders Demolish Centenary Team In Easy Fashion At Tech Gridiron

By COLLIER PARRIS

Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor
A savage, heart-breaking home run on the first ball pitched wrecked the ambitions of Centenary's Gentlemen last night and from then on they were easy prey for the galloping Red Raiders of Texas Tech who racked up their fourth straight gridiron triumph of the season.

The Red Raiders, experimenting with plays and players, romped almost uninterrupted for a 25 to 0 victory—a score that demonstrates the kindly attitude of Coach Bell Morgan toward an outclassed, outmanned and out-done-before-they-start opponent.

That the Gentlemen from Shreveport put up a valiant but hopeless defense is a fact understood by the crowd of some 7,000 fans and musicians which attended the game, and the fact that a couple of backfield performers named Bob Raley and Truman Johnson, plus a couple of guards named Claude Wintchurst and John Alhams, played their hearts out is also attested.

But there was no escaping the stronger Texas Tech defenders, and no way of halting them when they wanted to escape. Callahan Carries The Load
There were so many mercury-heated, strike-throwing backs; fleet, glue-fingered ends, and steady, dead-tackling and blocking linemen that to mention the standard on the Tech team would be to go over the roster. Oh, some played with utter nonchalance and easy calm, but for the most part the Raiders looked decent enough while shutting back and forth between bench and scrimmage.

The Raiders made mistakes, including failure to hang on to some fine passes, and fumbling the ball at inopportune times. Except for their fumbles, recovered by the Gents, the Shreveporters would have never penetrated Texas Tech territory. On two occasions they recovered fumbles, and thereby were inside the Tech 30-yard line. But their generators burned out on the spot.

On the other hand, the Raiders played almost exclusively in Gentlemen territory, and should have scoreboarded a few more touchdowns. A sophomore from Wink named J. Callahan, who entered Tech in a not entirely unknown freshman last year, perhaps was the big gun in the Tech attack. At least he fired the opening gun heard round the stadium, a pass that traveled through the air nearly 50 yards before falling like a feather into the arms of Clarence Tillery, who looped hungrily and untruffled for touchdown on the first play of the game.

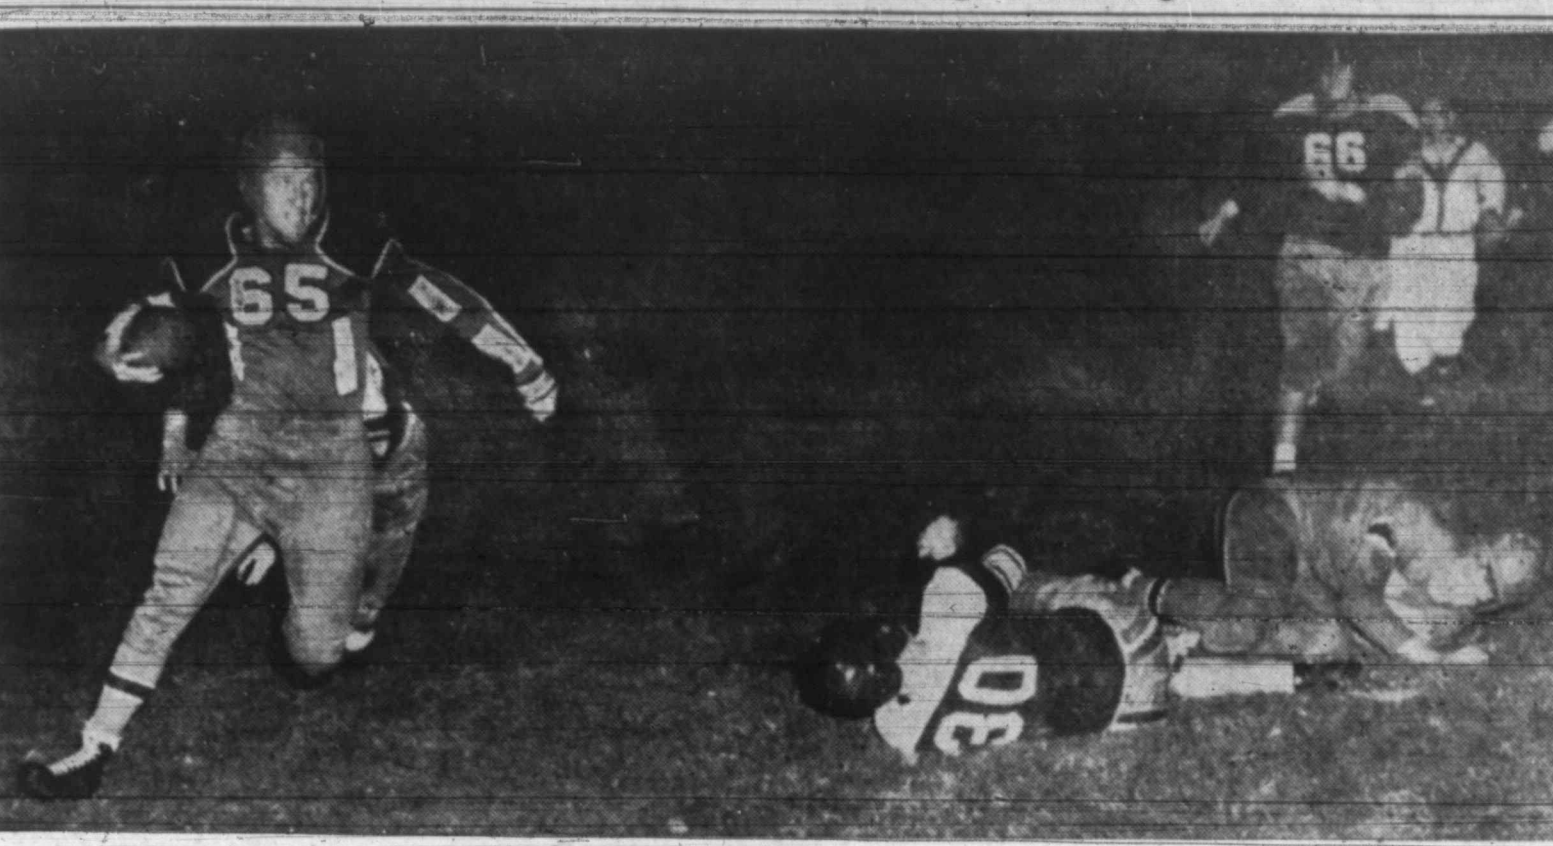

Officials Lend A Hand
Centenary had kicked off the boot going purposely out of the Tech 35 yard line. No doubt anticipating a running play, the Gent defense was pulled in close. Callahan faded back to the 25, flung the oval down field to the right. Tillery laughingly shagged it on the 25, and moved over the double st.

The Raiders came back a little later but were held in their own back yard. Later, Big Charley Dvoracek took charge for a spell and moved the ball down to the Gent 25 on a few plays through the line. A holding penalty, the first of the game, was called on Tech pedaling by the officials who also seemed to be trying to keep the score down, killed the thrust, although Callahan and Austin made runs of 12 and 10 yards respectively.

Late in the quarter, Dvoracek carried three times for 20 yards. As the second period opened, a fresh Tech team went in, but another penalty moved them back. Tom Douglas, Red Amoneit, Callahan and Peter Blanda were doling the backfield work. Blanda fumbled and the Gents recovered on their own 34. A nine-yard dash by Raley was the main threat.

It's Callahan Again
Late in the period, after the first three failed, the Techs took over on their own 28-yard line, Allbright intercepting a pass. The Gents were down in that part of the country because Blanda had fumbled again. Callahan carried twice for an average of 12 yards, Amoneit made a few, Douglas carried twice for nearly 20 yards, then came another penalty sitting the Techs back to the Gent 40-yard line. But only for a moment. Callahan flipped a fine pass into the hands of Bingham, who stood on the goal line. But he didn't hold the ball. On the net play, Douglas broke through the line and he went down, later intercepted the ball to Red Amoneit, who made another ten yards, then later later to Allbright, who was brought down on the 13-yard line. On the next play, Callahan gracefully skirted right end, shoving off a few tacklers, and went over standing up for touchdown.

Some time later, near the end of the period, Callahan got his wing going again. He stood back on his 24-yard line, and threw the ball down to the Centenary 10-yard line. Byron Gibbreath was

Oklahoma Rips Kansas State
MANHATTAN, Kas., Oct. 18 (AP)—Oklahoma celebrated "A" formation turned out with raw power today and a sophomore, Joe Golding, dashed and darted out of it for two touchdowns as the Sooners defeated a gallant Kansas State team 16-0.

A disappointing crowd of 7,000 marveled at the strength generated from Coach Dewey Luster's formation which spun trickery from an unbalanced line to the right and a backfield which was strong to the left, a zig-zag line which by a stretch of the imagination formed an "A." It worked better when employed by the sophomores and it was this young unit which provided the scoring jobs in the Sooners' two-team substitution plan.

The 175-pound Golding scored in the second quarter, on a reverse from his mate Pat Shanks, another sophomore, scooting and squirming around end six yards. It stemmed from a 35-yard march which featured a 15-yard pass from Sophomore Eddie Davis to Shanks which planted the ball within talking distance of the goal line.

The winnowy arm of Davis also set the props for Golding's eight-yard dart for the last quarter score. He fluffed the ball to Sophomore Eric Jim Tyree for 10 yards and speared Golding for 12 more, Golding, who is from Eufaula, Okla., and who made a reputation by scoring 71 points in a prep game, did not even wait to catch his breath. He burst out of the A and was off to the touchdown, his fourth in three games this year.

Jack Haberlein, the place-kick specialist, made one extra point in the third, which came after a 30-yard push by the veteran team, aided by the longest pass of the day—39 yards from Huel Hamm to Bill Mattox.

Minnesota Routs Pitt In Loose Game, 39-0
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Minnesota mauled Pittsburgh's punch-drunk Panthers, 39 to 0, today but the Golden Gophers' crack captain, Bruce Smith, was Minnesota's handiwork by the absence of Bob Sweelger and Urban Odson had a hard time getting going and was getting the stiffest kind of a battle from the Panthers' until Captain Smith broke up the ball game in the second period after the Gophers had been held scoreless in the first. He twisted 49 yards to the two-yard line and his touchdown pass to Billy Daley catapulted over for the first score.

Butler Misses Fire Vols Fall To 'Bama, 9-2
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18 (AP)—Tennessee's Johnny Butler couldn't find his gun today, so Alabama handed the Volunteers a 9 to 2 setback. Butler's gun was so rusty he couldn't disclose the superiority of the winners held over the retiring champions of the Southeastern conference.

Bama scored all of its points in the first half, a field goal by Guard George Hechler from the 13 in the opening period and a plunge-powered touchdown by Fullback Don Salls in the second quarter, besides throttling the Vol-offensive completely. Butler, the 183-pound fullback who was poison to the deep South's best last two years, never could get going.

Cadets Smother Frogs All The Way As Moser And Company Make Grid Fans Forget Days Of Jarrin' John
By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT WORTH, Oct. 18—The gas house gang of college football—those rough and boisterous Texas Aggies—didn't need even the ghost of John Kimbrough today to stay in the ranks of the nation's undefeated and untied teams, battering Texas Christian university 14-0 in a Southwest conference game.

A crowd of 25,000 watched the hard-charging, bone-rattling red line crash the Horned Frogs all the way, scoring four and one-half minutes and adding another touchdown in the fourth period just when the Christians seemed ready to come to life.

Those who have shed tears for the Aggie fortunes with departure of that great team of last season can now place their sympathies elsewhere. With Derace Moser as the main spring, the Aggies rolled up 202 yards rushing and passing and held the Frogs to 88. Kyle Gillespie, ace of the TCU backfield, went out with a knee hurt early in the game, leaving the offense badly crippled.

The Aggies got their first touchdown as the result of a prodigious punt by Moser. The ball carried 74 yards and set the Frogs back to their 20. Martin Roney, giant Aggie tackle, crashed through to block Gillespie's kick on the T.C.U. six and in three plays the Aggies scored. Moser pitched a pass to Marshall Spivey and he took it over the goal line in ten yards of him.

The second Aggie touchdown came in the middle of the final period, a bad punt giving the Cadets the ball on the T.C.U. 30-yard line. Leo Daniels passed to Jim Sterling twice to carry to the goal line, then pitched one over the goal line to Harold Crowley for the counter.

Jack Webster, Aggie fullback, added both points after touchdown, making his record 16 straight. The lineup: Aggies—Sterling and Henderson, ends; Raley and Weaver, tackles; Richardson and Maples, guards; Bibbey, center; Spivey, Moser, Zapsala and Webster, backs.

Texas Tramples Arkansas
Minnesota meantime rolled over Pitt's punter, Panthers, 39-0, but suffered a heavy blow when Fullback Bruce Smith was injured early in the game.

Sailing blithely along the unbeaten trail along with Michigan and Minnesota were Texas' Longhorns, Texas A. and M., Duke, Vanderbilt, Army, Navy, Fordham, Penn, Temple, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Detroit and Georgia, to mention a few.

Navy, led by Bill Busik, slowly wore down a fine Cornell army, 14-0, while Army, showing definite signs of revival under Head Coach Earl Blaik, fessed Yale for a 20-7 loss, Texas, continuing its sensational pace, buried Arkansas under a 48-14 count, while Texas A. and M. handed Texas Christian its first defeat, 14-0.

Duke, after early trouble with Colgate, finally began to roll and wound up on the long end of a 27-14 score, while Vanderbilt's sole unbeaten, united team in the Southeastern conference, stopped Georgia Tech, 14-7. Ohio State, after picking up a 16-0 lead, just managed to last against Purdue, 16-14, while Notre Dame, playing in the rain, was held to a 16-0 score by Carnegie Tech, beaten twice this season by small-college foes.

Texas Shocks North Carolina
Penn took a full hall to get under way and then trampled Princeton, 23-0, while Fordham took West Virginia over the jumps easily, 27-0. Temple halted Penn State, 14-0, while Georgia, with Frank Sinkwich doing the scoring, nipped Columbia's previously undefeated Lions, 7-3. Detroit won over Oklahoma A. and M. in a tight duel, 20-14.

Tulane Crushes North Carolina
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18 (AP)—There's the next thing to Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans tonight, because Tulane's Green Wave is rolling rolling merrily toward a bowl invitation, and the wreckage of a flattered North Carolina team was here to prove it.

The big Green team bounced back from last week's 9-10 defeat by Rice, and piled up 32 points to 6 against Carolina's hapless Tarheels as 33,000 watched. Two return kickoffs by Left Halfback Lou Thomas and Rubber Ely for 102 and 91 yards respectively were an added feature by the Wave.

The home-town product, wing-heeled Thomas, had a field day. He threw the Tarheels back on their haunches with the opening whistle, smacking Harry Dunkle's kickoff behind his goal line and wheeling upfield 102 yards for Tulane's first touchdown.

Thereafter, at intervals as the Wave piled up the score, he scored three more, and pitched to Quarterback Walter McDonald for a fifth.

Santa Clara Shades Michigan State, 7-0
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Santa Clara's Broncos, snatching at a break midway of the first period, rushed over a touchdown today to squeeze out a 7-to-0 victory over a fighting Michigan State team in the west coast's top interschool football game of the day.

A weak punt on the part of Dick Kieppe, Michigan State left half, set the stage for the only score of the game. He toed the oval out of bounds on his own 23-yard line—a net gain of 12 yards—and the Broncos were quick to seize the opportunity.

Three plays later, Ken Casanegri, left halfback and one of the finest pass throwers in the country, whipped the ball to Allen Beal, left end, who dashed the remaining three yards for the touchdown.

The top-of-the-line play was good and the Broncos nursed the seven-point advantage throughout the balance of a desperately fought game.

Joe Louis' Induction Due In Mid-November
CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Joe Louis, world's first king since 1937, is going to learn how to fight with a gun.

Cook county draft board No. 84 decided that last night when it made Joe's tentative 1A classification final on the basis of a recent physical examination. The board predicted the champion would begin working for 32 months "about the middle of November."

Duke Rallies To Whip Colgate Team, 27-14
DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 18 (AP)—The Red Raiders of Colgate threw a mighty scare into the Duke Blue Devils today because a lad they call injun Joe Geyer was in the lineup, but Devil perseverance and power were too much and the home team won 27-14 before a crowd of 25,000.

Geyer was the day's star. He ran 70 yards to the Duke 20-yard line to set up Colgate's first score, and ran 98 yards for the second.

Texas Mines Loses To Loyola Lions, 6 to 20
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18 (AP)—Texas Mines of El Paso may have set an intercollegiate record for passes thrown in one football game as it lost to Loyola of Los Angeles 6-20 last night.

With Capt. Owen Price doing most of the chunking, Mines threw 61 passes and completed 32. Six were intercepted, however, and two of these were converted into Loyola touchdowns.

Michigan Rides Victory Trail On Kuzma's Hot Pitching; Northwestern Falls, 14-7
By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 18 (AP)—A 46-yard touchdown pass fired through the haze overhanging Doyce stadium in the fourth period today gave Michigan a desperately earned 14-7 victory over Northwestern.

Thus the victorious Wolverines clung to a perch near the top in the scramble for the Western conference championship and await with confidence their all-important engagement with undefeated Minnesota next Saturday.

The hard fought game proved to be an thrilling spectacle for 48,000 spectators from the moment the Wolverines drove 78 yards in the first period to make their first touchdown—until the closing seconds of the game when Bill De Corveant, one of Northwestern's ace halfbacks, completed a 40-yard pass which almost tied the score.

The Wildcats blew four scoring opportunities in the second half, once when they needed only 13 yards to score.

The game's first touchdown was the work of Tommy Kuzma, sophomore tailback who has replaced All-American Tommy Harmon. Kuzma fired a short pass over the line to Harlin Fraumann who snatched it in the end zone

Northwestern Is Week's Major Grid Casualty
By HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines pushed Northwestern out of the undefeated list today, presented a new and somewhat unexpected Big Ten challenge to Minnesota, and gained complete, if somewhat belated, recognition as one of the nation's top-ranking elevens.

By all odds, the Wolverines' feat in halting powerful Northwestern, 14-7 in a spectacular battle at Evanston was the outstanding performance of a comparative, if calm football Saturday marked otherwise by the initial defeats suffered by Columbia, Cornell and Dartmouth of the Eastern " Ivy League," Nebraska, Big Six champion, and Texas Christian.

Lacking All-American Tom Harmon but paced by another Tom from Gary, Ind.—Sophomore Tom Kuzma—Michigan struck twice through the air, Kuzma doing the pitching, and then staved off repeated Northwestern threats to project an unbeaten record as the Wolverines prepare to meet Minnesota at Ann Arbor next Saturday.

Harvard, improving steadily, spilled Dartmouth, 7-0, in the East's only upset of the day. Nebraska caught a tartar in Bo McMillin's Indiana Hoosiers who combined a fine running attack with effective passes to win, 21-13. Meanwhile Tulane's Green Wave, recovering from the shock of its beating by Rice a week ago, scored almost at will against North Carolina, 52-6, as Lou Thomas got away for one 102-yard run and Bubber Ely for another of 91 yards. Alabama, paced by Jimmy Nelson, tripped Tennessee 9-2 in a Southeastern conference game, while Auburn took a 20-7 beating from invading Southern Methodist.

Maryland caused considerable eye-brow raising with a 13-12 decision over Florida. Virginia Tech whipped Davidson, 16-0, and Furman and Citadel played a 13-

Without Loyder, Steers Rumble On Texas' Grid Wizards Chalk Up Fourth Straight Triumph

By RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Sports Writer
AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—The University of Texas' surging Orange Wave rolled on today, inundating a valiant Arkansas football team 48 to 14 in its fourth consecutive triumph this season.

On the third play of the game, Jack Crain, the Longhorns' broken field wizard, got loose around end and ran 52 yards to score, booting the third thereafter.

Held for downs, after taking the kick-off, Arkansas punted and on the next play, Noble Doss ripped through left tackle and outran a baffled Razorback secondary to tally again for Texas. He ran 57 yards and Crain added the point.

Arkansas scored in the second period, D. P. Jones heaving one to Adams behind the goal line for the touchdown. Dave Scarborough kicked the point.

It's Doss Again
Harkins launched another Steer touchdown drive with a 13-yard sprint to the Porker 26. He tossed to Malcolm Kutner, crack Texas end, in the end zone and Crain place-kicked the point.

As the second half opened Doss again chased through left tackle and out-distanced the secondary on a 44-yard dash. Once more Crain kicked the point.

Greenberg May Draw Release From Army

FORT CUSTER, Mich., Oct. 17 (AP)—Corp. Henry Greenberg, has applied for discharge from the army under the revised selective service law, military authorities disclosed today by the former Detroit Tiger's release is unlikely before Jan. 1.

Intelligence officers of the fifth division, of which the American league's most valuable player of 1940 is a member, said Greenberg was the selectee in a group now being considered for release under the war department's plan to discharge 25-year-olds.

Phillips Wins 19-6 Game From Floydada
PHILLIPS, Oct. 18 (Special)—Floydada's Whirlwind of District 3-A didn't blow rough enough here tonight, and the invaders dropped a non-conference game to the Phillips Blackhawk regional champions last year. The score was 19 to 6.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 18—

A well-executed passing attack and alert ball hawking gave the Southern Methodist Mustangs a 20 to 7 victory over Auburn here today in a loosely-played contest before 12,000 fans.

The winners hit pay dirt twice in the first period for their margin of victory. Howard Maley, sophomore halfback from Dallas, passed to Bob Maddox for one first down and ran for another to take the ball to the Auburn 35. After three plays were stopped, Maley sent a perfect pass to Lendon Davis in the end zone for a score.

Their next marker had only 25 yards to go after Ted Ramsey recovered Monk Gafford's fumble. Maley made 14 and then nine in two slashes at the line, and Preston Johnson plunked over on his third try. Big Joe Pasqua added the first extra point from placement and Johnson accounted for the other to make it 14-0.

Tigers Come Back Strong

After a scoreless second period, which saw Clarence Harkins come in to enliven the Auburn attack, the Mustangs took advantage of a punt blocked by Clarence Booth to get their final score in the third. With only 15 yards to go, Maley passed to Horace Young for 11 and Johnson scored standing up on a wide play at his left end. Pasqua missed the extra point.

Auburn came storming back to score from the next kickoff, which Harkins ran back to his 45. Gafford passed to Charlie Finney for 13, two plays later Gafford took a pass from Ty Irbey on the SMU 35, reversed his field and ran to the Mustang eight. Irbey went over in two plunges, and added the extra point from placement.

The Tigers staged another drive in the final quarter. Starting from their 20, Gafford alternated runs and passes to get the ball to SMU's eight-yard line. He swamped on his fourth-down run, and Irbey took the ball went over on the 14.

The Harkins, Auburn and Grimm, Stanford, end; G. McCurtin, Jackson, Morris and Arden, Williams, center; Chestnut, Gafford, Finney and Maddox, back; Johnson, Southern Methodist—Tunhill and Mad. Cox, ends; Booth and Pasqua, tackle; Ramsey and Gafford, fullback; center; Young, Maley, Davis and P. Johnson, quarterback.

SOUTHERN METHODIST 0-0-0-7-20
Auburn scored by: Charlie Finney (pass to Raymond) 14; point after touchdown (Irbey) 14.
Southern Methodist scoring: Touchdown, Davis, P. Johnson 2; points after touchdown, Pasqua (placement), P. Johnson (placement).

Class A Games

will meet on Seely Field at Littlefield Friday night, and the loser will be virtually eliminated from the north zone 5-A race—but the winner will be right in the thick of the fighting. Each team has dropped a single game, that to Slaton. Earlier Slaton had dropped to Muleshoe.

Levelland and Slaton are tied for the lead, each with a bare edge over Otton and Littlefield. Sudan, once beaten and once tied, retains a chance at the title.

Levelland has won "one" and tied one, and must yet face the toughest of the district—Otton, Littlefield and Slaton. Slaton, with three wins and a loss, must yet face Levelland and Sudan in conference play, and can clinch the title by winning both games. This week Levelland meets Morton in a conference game, while Slaton lacks Post in a traditional game that won't count in the league standings.

Otton and Littlefield each have won two games and lost one. Besides the game with Littlefield this week, Otton still must face Levelland and Sudan, while Littlefield will still have to meet Levelland and Muleshoe.

Sudan meets Muleshoe this week, and thereafter will play Slaton and Otton.

Unbeaten Teams Play

The south zone of 5-A lists two conference games, one matching the two teams that are unbeaten in district play when Denver City clashes with Brownfield in Cubana. Denver City has been beaten but once this year, that 14-13 by Levelland, and might be the team to spring an upset on the front-running Cubs.

Tahoka plays at Seagraves in an attempt to redeem itself for its first conference loss, to Seminole, last Friday. Other teams play non-conference games: Post is host to Slaton, Seminole meets Plains at home, O'Donnell plays Crosbyton at O'Donnell, the Paducah-Floydada clash at Floydada lops the 4-A card, with secondary interest centering on two conference games, Lockney at Spur and Matador, and Ralls, and Crosbyton's non-conference test with O'Donnell.

Sportometer New Mexico Loboes Next! By Collier Parris

IF THE RED RAIDERS looked a little nonchalant and uninterested last night, you can put it down to the fact that their minds were something like 300 miles to the northwest, up there around Albuquerque.

Fact is, the Techs haven't fully calmed down, despite a change of coaching scenery and a lot of water under the bridge, since that larking at Albuquerque by the University of New Mexico Loboes that spoiled an otherwise undefeated season.

The Raiders aren't mad at New Mexico; on the contrary, they hold a wholesome respect for the Loboes. They're mad at themselves for getting beat by what they had considered an inferior team. They aren't mad at the Loboes lightly any more, especially when the Loboes meet the Techs.

It'll be a vengeful Tech team that meets the Loboes here Friday night in the seventh game between the teams.

The Papas and Mamas will have their jangling Friday night at the Tech stadium, and this is always a more or less gala occasion, with President Jones introducing the parents of footballers, who occupy a special bench on the sidelines, and calling attention to parents of other students—parents who have traveled—the greatest distance, have lived the longest, have had the most offspring in the college, etc. It's a large-day for the parents, and no doubt the parents will be here to see what makes the Red Raiders tick.

Getting back to the Tech-New Mexico rivalry, here's the way the record stacks up: 1931—New Mexico 7; Texas Tech 32.

1932—New Mexico 7; Texas Tech 19.

1933—New Mexico 0; Texas Tech 26.

1938—New Mexico 7; Texas Tech 17.

1939—New Mexico 7; Texas Tech 13.

1940—New Mexico 19; Texas Tech 14.

Except for the 1932 game, which was one of the greatest in Texas Tech history, and a little lapse in 1939, the record shows a steady improvement at New Mexico. Whether the Lobos record will continue to improve will be proved Friday night. The Loboes almost broke even with the Raiders in that not-so-to-be-forgotten 1938 game, when Jodie Marek scored 10 points in the last few seconds of the game to put Tech out of a tie. He booted a field goal, which would have won, then he intercepted a pass and ran it back for touchdown, then converted the extra point. That was the game that made famous the patented squatted kicking boot.

There's no reason to believe the Loboes won't be cocked and primed for the Red Raiders this weekend. Although Tech isn't competing for the Border conference championship, and New Mexico is, they're both in the same league and a win over Tech would raise New Mexico's standing more than somewhat. Moreover, Coach Ted Shipkey, despite the loss of a few key men, has a large and hefty aggregation of griders.

Even Coach Dell Morgan, usually optimistic, is a little furored about the brows "When he mentions New Mexico, in all seriousness, he asks: 'Do you think we might have some trouble with New Mexico?' Yeah, there'll be some trouble, but, personally, we don't see who's going to stop the Raiders this year.

ROUSING FROM A football dream, our friends who do the sports scribbling for the Abilene Reporter-News have come forth with a baseball salutation.

Remembering the ill luck which dogged Abilene baseball in previous attempts, we'd just about give up on Abilene, ever discussing the national pastime again. Fincher Withers didn't help the situation in the last professional attempt there.

But, and it's no sudden move, Abilene is back in the potential baseball picture.

Writing in the Abilene Reporter-News last week, Howard Green went to great length in discussing baseball—and Abilene's desire to get back in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

If room can not be made for Abilene in the present set-up, Green advanced, what would be wrong with forming another Class D circuit in Southwest Texas? Abilene, he felt certain, would be anxious for a franchise and would guarantee to finish the season.

What would be wrong indeed! The more baseball, the better, and if a league can be organized in the Abilene-San Angelo-Texon district, which it probably won't, there to receive it, and he stepped across the goal line.

Early in the third, Don Austin scrambled 20 yards for a touchdown, but it was called back, another penalty assessed, and the Reds gave up on a fumble by Lowe on the 10-yard line.

IT WAS BOUND NIGHT

The Gents couldn't muster a gain, and kicked out to the 45. Glen Lowe, now in at fullback, made three nice gains back to the 10, and on the first play of the fourth quarter, Austin sprinted for touchdown. Callahan passed to Tihery for the extra point, the only one made last night.

Tech threatened a few plays later, but a pass from Blanda was intercepted by Raley, and the teams picked each other in mid-field for a spell. Late in the game, Center Schad recovered a fumble by Miley Bates on the Tech 41.

Three plays gained nothing, then Birthing, a fine little passer, ran with the ball on a fake pass attempt to the Tech 24, as the game ended.

The statistics tell quite a lot of the story, about Tech making 437 yards from scrimmage to 88 for the Gents. Rushing plays gained 330 of the yards, passes 127 more. First downs were 13 to 4.

Nearly 20 college and high school bands of the South Plains accepted the invitation to attend "band day" celebration at Tech. They paraded downtown in a colorful column during the afternoon, and between halves last night.

At any rate, it is sad news that Abilene is again interested in professional baseball. It might grab off a franchise now in the WT-NM, any one of three, maybe four.

It would be a big move for baseball. Personally, we would like to see Abilene, San Angelo and maybe another town or two in the West Texas-New Mexico league, and there might be a chance.

Mrs. Akey Captures Women's Title At Country Club With 4-2 Win Over Mrs. Widener

Mrs. Charles Akey, the medalist, defeated Mrs. Cliff Widener, the medalist runner-up, in the finals of the Lubbock Country club women's golf championship tournament Saturday. The score was 4 and 2.

Neither finalist was on her best game, and the scores were up a little. Mrs. Akey taking a 92 for the 18 holes; Mrs. Widener a 94.

Mrs. Akey had qualified with medal honors with an 88, and Mrs. Widener had fired a 92.

Mrs. M. M. Brown shot one of the better rounds of her golf experience, a 92, to defeat Mrs. F. Helwig, 4 and 3, in the championship consolation.

First flight honors went to Mrs. W. L. Morrison, who defeated Mrs. W. H. Freeman, 3 and 1.

First flight consolation will be decided today when Mrs. Tom Duggan meets Mrs. Gene Fowler.

Arizona Rebuffs New Mexico By 31 To 6 Count

(By The Associated Press)
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 18—A Raging Wildcat eleven from the University of Arizona administered a stunning 31 to 6 defeat to the University of New Mexico in the 27th renewal of their old gridiron rivalry tonight.

It was one of the worst defeats suffered by an eleven coached by Ted Shipkey and the first loss of the season for New Mexico.

The blue-shirted Arizonans, smarting under defeats in their last three encounters with New Mexico, rose to brilliant heights to play New Mexico off its feet.

recapture the old K-H-Gerson rifle, emblematic of victory, and nail down its challenge for the Border conference championship.

At no time did New Mexico ever display a serious threat, and the storming Arizonans drove the New Mexico Loboes back over their own goal line for safeties.

Siar of the Wildcat attack was stary Bill Smetana, who passed and ran the Loboes dizzy in a one-man display behind an equally great Arizona line.

Arizona scored twice each in the first, third and fourth periods.

Four of the points were safeties counted in the third and fourth quarters.

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

BE GRATEFUL — Thank God every morning when you get up you have something to do which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you temperance, self control, diligence, strength of will, content, and a hundred other virtues which the idle never know. — Charles Kingsley.

SCATTERINGS

SMART and neatly tailored light wools or crepes, either in subdued colors or black, will see you through all day, from Red Cross sewing to late afternoon activities. Carry a few pieces of distinctive costume jewelry in your bag, use them to perk up your spirits and your frock for a supper and show date. — Wouldn't the late Theodore Roosevelt, who snatched every spare moment for reading, have liked these pocket books? — A girl who was asked the reason she wears glasses said, "Because I'm troubled with antagonism." And probably most of us are troubled with that today that with astigmatism. — Bob Hawk holds that the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

Answer to roll call at the Beta Sigma Phi sorority the other night was to the question "What do you ask of life?" and it was said the answers were varied slightly with "health, happiness and wealth" being the favorites. The writer believes if you have health, you can come near getting all of the other things you ask of life.

'Twas a lovely quotation actors Marshall and Crawford recited in that recent play, "When Ladies Meet," although they mouthed their words so it was lost to the audience: "There is a jewel which no Indian mines can buy, no ethereal art can counterfeit, it makes men rich in greatest poverty; makes water wine; turns wooden cups to gold." Five million persons were hurt at home in 1940, according to the National Safety Council, at an overall cost of $200,000,000. Here are some highlights from the experts on fire prevention which should be "musts" for housewives: Equip your home with fire-resistant roof shingles; keep your attic and eaves clear of rubbish, throwing out old papers and boxes, glass bottles and jars; have an electrical check your electrical equipment at frequent intervals.

REAR ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD says "disunity" is the greatest danger to America. School children in La Junta, Colo., decided to walk to school and gave these reasons: It conserves automobiles and gasoline for the defense program, walking is healthful and safe. Several Lubbock men have standing appointments at beauty shops for "after hours," that is after there is no danger that a feminine customer will be about the place. Even when people are thinking about us, they are not necessarily thinking the things we think they are thinking. — Wouldn't it be nice if some of us were as intelligent as droll-faced John Kieran?

SHANGHAI LETTER

WHEN you bought your week-end groceries perhaps you grumbled because coffee is now 33 cents a pound; you may grow tired of paying 35 cents a pound for butter (especially if your young sons spread it on their butter) and when milk was advanced to 12 cents a quart didn't you have a lot to say? If so, listen to parts of a letter from Mrs. John Barr who teaches at Medhurst in Shanghai, China. An American P. E. school, of which her husband is dean, and who teaches a course in English literature at the University of Shanghai because they are short of staff. Mrs. Barr was graduated from Southern Methodist university in 1924 and was a classroom teacher and Dean and Mrs. James G. Allen's and this letter was sent to them. She went to China as a missionary immediately after being graduated.

IN the Barr family are two children, Jack and Betty. According to their mother, had a pleasant summer with friends and activities in swimming, diving, bicycling and listening to Beethoven symphonic records. She wrote in salutation: "It is my liking that I can still write you from the same Y. U. Yuan Road apartment in Shanghai. In spite of tension and rumors and alarms and floods and strikes and high prices and another shortage of small money, we carry on a fairly normal existence, and feel extremely fortunate in being able to stand by our work and keep the family together. People continue to fill the few ships sailing south and east but a good many of us still support one another with a "see it through attitude. And people arriving from Korea, Japan and Germany say Shanghai is almost like paradise! Six months from now it may be a different story, but we have long since learned to live one day at a time, and be grateful for each succeeding morning." — Food prices continue to rise, due chiefly to lack of ships, hoarding, more and more strict control of entrances and exits to the city. Butter is $9.50 a pound, so few still use it. Maxwell House Coffee is $8.50; Graham bread is $1.40 a loaf; even Chinese cabbage is (Turn to Page 3, Column 4, Please)

The couple is at home in Memphis where Mr. Rountree is a first year medical student at the University of Tennessee. He is a graduate of Texas Technological college where he received his pre-med training.

Mrs. Rountree received her LL. B. degree from Southern University of Law last June. She directed a girls' drum and bugle corps in Memphis which is developing into a band.

Mrs. Rountree's great-grandfather, George Campbell Childers, came to Texas with Sam Houston, and is accepted by most authorities as the author of the Texas Declaration of Independence. During the Centennial celebration a statue was erected in his honor.

Speaks In Afternoon Luncheon was served by the Levelland City Federation from tables strewn with fall roses. The afternoon program was opened with Mrs. Walker's talk, followed with a round table discussion on club problems and the parliamentary discussions led by Mrs. Godeke.

One hundred and sixty women were at the Levelland program and 140 registered at the Pampa meeting which was held on a rainy day.

Mrs. Pete Smith of Plainview is institute chairman of seventh district.

Candle Service Held By Class

Lighting small white individual candles from one large white candle representative of the church, officers of the Fidelis class of the First Methodist church, were installed in a candlelighted ceremony Friday night in the church parlor; Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor, and Mrs. T. C. Delaney, teacher, were in charge of the installation. The lighting of each individual candle characterized each officer's dedicating herself to her individual task to the church. Mrs. Frank Barclay played "This Is My Task."

Officers installed were Mrs. Howard Hunt, president; Mrs. Frank Owens, vice president; Mrs. Sam Stewart, secretary; Mrs. E. N. Lowe, treasurer and Mrs. C. R. Duncan, reporter.

Others installed were Mrs. C. L. Clement, program and worship chairman; Mrs. A. M. Burns, song leader; Mrs. John Austin, assistant song leader; Mrs. Jim Johnson, pianist and Mrs. C. J. Norton, social chairman. Group leaders included Mesdames Jack Ray, E. W. Brown and H. B. Hamilton.

Music was furnished by Misses Monda Hamilton, Mary Sparks and Carolyn Reynolds as guests entered the parlor. Carrying out a color scheme of gold and white, gold chrysanthemums decorated the room and white candles burned in four large candelabra.

In observance of their second birthday the class was served with birthday cake following the service. The cake was placed in the center of a table laid with a lace cloth. Mrs. Clement made the cake, and decorated it with two candles and a cross. A silver service was used. Mrs. Robinson poured tea and Mrs. Clement sliced the cake.

IN ACTIVITIES

Miss Betty Ann McAfee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. McAfee, 2432 Twentieth street, who is a junior at Gulf Park college, Gullport, Miss., was honored by the student body by being elected to the Young Women's Christian association cabinet. She is also a member of the Texas club, Dance League and Glee Club.

Williamson-Duff Vows Taken At Home Wedding Saturday

OF friends to a large circle of friends in this area is the wedding of Miss Rosemary Duff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Duff of 2118 18th street, to Henry Haynie Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williamson of Kemp, which was solemnized at twilight Saturday in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents with Rev. C. J. McCarty of Calvary Baptist church officiating.

The bride was attired in a dressmaker's suit of cell blue wool, which was complimented by a corsage of tuberoses. Brown accessories completed the costume.

The bridal couple stood before the fern-banked fireplace on each side of which were tall baskets of lilyum giganium. Tall white tapers burned from candelabra on the mantel, casting a soft light on the wedding party.

Miss Ina Bacon Sings

Before the ceremony Miss Ina Bacon played "Intermezzo" (Provoost) after which Miss Ina Bacon, accompanied at the piano by Miss Idell Bacon, sang "Because." As the bride entered Miss Bacon played a beautifully appointed march and during the nuptial service she played a medley of "I Love You, Truly," "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love Thee."

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's mother entertained members of the families and close friends of the bridal party with a wedding supper, which was served from a beautifully appointed table centered with a tiered wedding cake. Throughout the reception rooms fall flowers, greenery and candelights created a lovely background for the occasion.

Bridegroom Is In Army

Mrs. Williamson is a graduate of Texas Technological college and since her graduation has been employed in the law offices of Crenshaw, Dupree & Milam, where she will continue her work. Mr. Williamson is at present stationed with the 124th Cavalry at Fort Brown, Texas.

Immediately after the wedding supper the couple left for a short trip to New Mexico.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duff of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Duff, Jr. of Garden City, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barnett of Memphis, and Mrs. John Neal of Quanah.

Loyalty Club Attends Social, Business Hour

Mrs. Roy Naylor, 1916 Seventh street, was hostess to Loyalty club members Friday afternoon. Sixteen members attended. Mrs. Ed Giese gave the devotion and a prayer was given by Mrs. Frances Rogers. After a business meeting a social hour was held with members playing games. Mrs. L. J. Akers gave the poem, "The Little Blind Boy."

A called meeting of the club will be held on October 31 at the home of Mrs. Tommie Taylor, 1511 Avenue G. The members will quilt and have a covered dish luncheon. The next regular meeting of the club will be on November 7 with Mrs. S. E. Naylor as hostess.

Guests attending were Mesdames Rocka, Max Diekmann, J. E. Banks, Dan Lacey, Minnie Pullen, E. E. Sartor, F. E. Naylor, C. H. Hudson, M. H. Comer and J. A. Hood.

Party Is Courtesy To Mrs. Ludolph Sides

Honoring Mrs. Ludolph Sides, who was Miss Ruby Faye Snodgrass before her marriage, Mrs. John Chancy and Miss Kay Chancy entertained Friday night with a party and shower in the home of the former hostess.

Gifts were presented in a little wagon decorated in an army motif and drawn by Frances Jane Lavender. The little girl gave a reading, "Hills."

Sides is stationed with the U. S. army at Brownsville. Refreshments were served to Mesdames L. C. Wade, B. C. Snodgrass, Austin Gunn, W. C. Grimes, Earl Davis, E. D. Bowen, Bob Lavender and Misses Inez Davis, Earlene Samples and Loreta Ellis.

Homemakers Class To Sponsor Book Review

Meeting at 10 o'clock in the activities center of the First Baptist church, members of the Homemakers class worked on materials to be sold at a rummage sale. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock to 29 members.

Mrs. A. E. Dietering will review "Marriage Is a Private Affair" (Kelly) on November 7 at the Lubbock Hotel at 3 o'clock. At the meeting Friday Mrs. Meritt Clark gave the devotion. Mrs. Gordon Douglas presided, and Mrs. A. E. Jones gave the closing prayer.

Mrs. Dial Is Hostess At Her Country Home

Mrs. W. T. Dial entertained for members of the Merry Sixteen needle club at her country home Friday afternoon. Members present were Mesdames P. T. Findley, J. W. Ross, W. G. Lofland, G. E. Neal, Travis Tubbs, F. F. Revier and E. F. Alford.

The club will meet on November 3 with Mrs. V. L. Cade.

Heads Collegium — Miss Edith Robertson, above, is president of Tech Collegium, an organization whose purpose is to provide social life for Tech co-eds who do not take an active part in social activities and are not affiliated with campus societies.

Miss Robertson, whose home is in Tahoka, is a senior arts and science student and lives at the women's dormitory No. 2.

Service Read In Twilight

Duff of 2118 18th street, to Henry Haynie Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williamson of Kemp, which was solemnized at twilight Saturday in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents with Rev. C. J. McCarty of Calvary Baptist church officiating.

The bride was attired in a dressmaker's suit of cell blue wool, which was complimented by a corsage of tuberoses. Brown accessories completed the costume.

The bridal couple stood before the fern-banked fireplace on each side of which were tall baskets of lilyum giganium. Tall white tapers burned from candelabra on the mantel, casting a soft light on the wedding party.

Miss Ina Bacon Sings

Before the ceremony Miss Ina Bacon played "Intermezzo" (Provoost) after which Miss Ina Bacon, accompanied at the piano by Miss Idell Bacon, sang "Because." As the bride entered Miss Bacon played a beautifully appointed march and during the nuptial service she played a medley of "I Love You, Truly," "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love Thee."

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's mother entertained members of the families and close friends of the bridal party with a wedding supper, which was served from a beautifully appointed table centered with a tiered wedding cake. Throughout the reception rooms fall flowers, greenery and candelights created a lovely background for the occasion.

Bridegroom Is In Army

Mrs. Williamson is a graduate of Texas Technological college and since her graduation has been employed in the law offices of Crenshaw, Dupree & Milam, where she will continue her work. Mr. Williamson is at present stationed with the 124th Cavalry at Fort Brown, Texas.

Immediately after the wedding supper the couple left for a short trip to New Mexico.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duff of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Duff, Jr. of Garden City, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barnett of Memphis, and Mrs. John Neal of Quanah.

Class officers of the senior class at high school haven't been announced to the public. They're Wesley Hamilton and Arline Younger, president and secretary. Mr. President doesn't look very dignified with his soldier coiffure of about one inch in length.

There's a resemblance between Willella Nelson, pep leader at high school, and the popular Penny Geyer at the college. . . Marshall Johnson has a particular fondness for the last table on the last row on the third floor of the Tech library and there he studies by the hours.

GIRLS nominated for sponsors of the ROTC unit at Tech are Mary Ann Stephenson, Marguerite Lehman, Betty O'Mara, Virginia Hall, Kathryn Weeth, Reuby Tom Rhodes, Billie Jo Dodson, Wilhelmine Humphries, Peggy Hess, Georgie Sue Wharton, Ophelia May Beall, Kara Belle Hunsucker, Roberta Owen, Annie Lee Cone, Jean Renner, Erlene Dowell, Jo Bess Goodloe, Marguerite Brannen, Martha Frank Plants, Glennis Waltz, Ouida Johnson, Mary Menon Stangel, Virginia Hall, Sarah Beth Kimmel and Genevieve Decker. From this list one honorary cadet colonel, one honorary cadet major from each battalion, and an honorary cadet captain will be chosen and presented at the sixth annual ball—Festus and Castle, a society of student military engineers.

Something New Added Here's something new and a something that will probably prove very popular with the girls of Dorm 2. Opening next week will be ten night activities to be held in the basement. Girls may invite their boy friends over and enjoy such games as ping-pong.

Wolfarth Club Party Given By Mrs. Brown

The Merry Wives forty-two club of Wolfarth was entertained by Mrs. J. D. Brown Thursday afternoon. A Halloween motif was carried out. Coffee and cake were served to Mesdames R. S. Hobgood, H. A. Junior School PTA Course Outlined

With the theme of "Building a Sturdy Democracy in the Home and in the School" and with the aim of bringing "into closer relationship the home and the school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child," members of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher association will meet the second Thursday of each month for a prepared study course.

Meetings are held at 3:15 o'clock in the girls' gymnasium at Junior High school. Mrs. Vaughn E. Wilson is president of the local officers. Others are: vice president, Mrs. Grady West; secretary, Mrs. Raymond Allen; treasurer, Russell Wimberley; program chairman, Mrs. Isabel Garrison and parliamentarian, Mrs. H. F. Godeke.

On Standing Committees Standing committees are composed of Mr. Wimberley, budget and finance; Mrs. W. L. Baugh, historian; Mrs. Joe McIlhenny, hospitality and Mrs. Paul Teas, chairman of room mothers.

Next meeting of the association will be held on November 13 with the subject of discussion based on "Creating Respect for Work in the Home, the School and the Community." Leader will be Mrs. C. C. Schmidt. A group singing of old familiar songs will open the program followed by a prayer and special music.

On December 11 at 3:15 o'clock in the Junior High school auditorium a play will be presented by the speech department. The music department of the school will offer special Christmas music.

Program On Sayings Mrs. Albert Barrett will direct a program on "Thrift, the Consumer's Problem" on January 8. Roll call will be answered with quotations from "Poor Richard's Almanac" or from the Proverbs of Solomon.

The Wise Use of Leisure Time will be program theme for February 12. Mrs. J. I. Kilpatrick will be leader. On March 19 subject of discussion will be on "The Movie, the Radio and My Child." Mrs. Wilson will be leader for the afternoon.

Miss Mary Lou Roberson will direct a program on "The Aesthetic Values of the Adolescent Child" on April 8. Subject for this program to be presented on May 14 will be "Planning Summer Projects." Leaders will be Mrs. J. C. Bateman and Henry Elder.

To Our Friends and Customers:

We are planning a formal opening of our new store next to our present location. Merchandise has been ordered and delivered. Carpenters are still busying themselves to finish ahead of contract. And if the priorities don't get us . . . we will be ready soon for you in our new home.

Before we move in, however, we would like to give you a little history of Jenkins Jewelry and introduce the family that will comprise the personnel of our new home.

First, we are proud of the fact that we are a home institution . . . conceived and nurtured right here in Lubbock. And we have you, our friends and customers, to thank. We moved into our present location to get more room to better serve you. Now the time has come to make another move . . . so that we can still the better serve you.

Beginning tomorrow, we will start introducing our personnel singly . . . we will take the ladies first and tomorrow we will introduce Mary Arledge.

We hope and believe the new store will meet with your approval and that you will watch for our formal opening as it will be something you will not want to miss. So let's make it a date . . . for our formal opening soon.

Sincerely yours,
J. D. Jenkins

Coal "Shipments" Via Pipe Lines Is Urged

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 18 (AP)—An Illinois university professor says that it may be possible to ship coal in pipeline if this nation is confronted with a shortage of railway cars.

The professor is H. E. Babbitt who says his idea would not only solve the shortage of railway cars but would also have transportation costs.

Rabbitt's proposal is to pulverize coal at the mines add water to make a sludge and pump the sludge through pipelines. Moisture could be removed from the coal on the consuming end and the pulverized coal blown into furnaces.

Special Observance Slated At Church Services Here

Tonight's services at First Christian church, Sixteenth street and Avenue J, will take the form of a special observance for a dual reason.

First, it is the first birthday of the Sunday Night Church Attendance club, which was organized by C. C. Crenshaw to fill the choir and increase attendance at the evening church service.

Hold Special Service

So seriously have the club members taken their work that last Sunday night, when one member, Dr. S. S. McKay, was recovering in Lubbock sanitarium from an appendectomy, Rev. H. G. Gantz, the pastor, Crenshaw and others conducted a special service in his hospital room to maintain his perfect Sunday night attendance record.

Choir attendance since organization of the club has ranged from 15 to 40.

Rules of the club are simple. A man must attend three Sunday nights without missing to obtain membership and he is dropped if he misses three Sunday nights in succession.

Picture To Be Shown

The second announcement regarding tonight's services is that a sound motion picture, "The Way of Salvation" will be shown at evening services, 7:30 o'clock. The picture portrays Paul's response to the Macedonian call and his work in Philippi.

Scenes include the prayer meeting by the river side, a visit to the house of Lydia of Thyatira, winning a man who had been victim of racketeers, Paul and Silas in the Philippian jail and their visit to the home of the jailer. This is the second in a series of pictures on the life of Paul.

Scout Leadership Training Institute Will Be Staged In Lubbock Thursday

Dr. James E. West To Attend; Total Of About 500 Expected

Complete program was announced Saturday for Boy Scout events in Lubbock Thursday which are described by leaders as perhaps the most important of their kind ever held in West Texas.

The occasion will be the western section of the leadership training institute for the four-state southwestern scout region.

Heading the list of distinguished participants in the institute will be Dr. James E. West of New York City, chief executive of Boy Scouts of America and more popularly designated as the "No. 1 Boy Scout of the world."

Hundreds Are Expected

The institute is for leaders in the councils which have headquarters in Abilene, Albuquerque, N. M., Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock, Pampa, Roswell, N. M., San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Preparations have been made for a total registration of approximately 500 exclusive of Lubbock leaders, according to Jack M. Randal, Lubbock attorney who is general chairman of arrangements, and Jack O. Stone, chief executive of the 20-county South Plains council.

Dr. West Will Speak

Events of the day will include morning and afternoon sessions, a luncheon with the Kiwanis club at noon, a 5 p. m. rally for scouts and cubs in Senior High school auditorium at which Dr. West is to present a number of eagle badges, and a 7 o'clock banquet at which Dr. West is to be the guest of honor and principal speaker. The headquarters, business sessions, conferences and banquet will be in Hilton hotel, The Kiwanis club meets in Lubbock hotel.

Stone emphasized that the public is invited to the banquet, but reminded that the seating capacity of the main ballroom of the Hilton in which it is to be held is approximately 450. Banquet ticket chairmen in South Plains council communities were announced by Randal. Price of the luncheon is to be 60 cents and of the banquet 85 cents.

Others To Be Held

The institute, which is intended to better prepare scout leadership for the added responsibilities of scouting in the national defense, is one of four to be held in the entire southwestern region. Other leaders are to be in Oklahoma City, Dallas and Houston. Lubbock is described as being perhaps the smallest city in the entire nation in which an institute of this kind is to be held.

Among those expected to accompany Dr. West here are some of his official staff and James P. Fitch of Dallas, regional executive, with his assistants, Earl M.

DR. JAMES E. WEST

McClure, Lee Harbottle, Minor Huffman and M. H. McMasters. McClure was executive of South Plains council nearly four years until his promotion to his present position about three years ago.

Group Sessions Set

Most of those planning to attend are expected here Wednesday afternoon and night, Randal said. Registrations are scheduled from 8 until 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

A general business session will begin at 10 o'clock and will be followed by the following group sessions at 2 p. m.: troop operation, K. N. Clapp of Lubbock, South Plains council commissioner, presiding; expansion, George W. Dupree of "Euboea" member of the council executive board, presiding; leadership, Dr. J. O. Ellsworth of Lubbock, also a member of the executive board, presiding; administration and finance, chairman to be named; and cubbing, Dr. C. C. Schmidt of Lubbock, council cubbing commissioner, presiding.

Local men have been selected as group chairmen, it was explained, because it is less likely that anything will occur to prevent their attendance.

Badges To Be Awarded

Dr. W. B. Irvin is to preside at the scout and cub rally in the high school auditorium. Senior High school band is to play, Eagle badges, the highest honor available to a scout, are to be awarded to the following: Brac Biggers, Leslie Morrisset, Elmer Caddell, Edwin Lee Roberts and Kenneth Pharr, all members of the troop 5, sponsored by Lubbock First Christian church; Joe Etchison and Wade Gilbert, troop 35, Spur American Legion; and Willard Edgett, troop 8, Lubbock American Legion.

An added number of the banquet program is to be a skit, "Evolution of Scouting," by members

Cost Of Living Survey Will Be Made Here During Coming Week

A "cost of living" survey will be made in Lubbock and a number of other key cities in Texas during the coming week, according to announcement here Saturday.

It will be conducted, tabulated and analyzed by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas with the cooperation of the chamber of commerce and public school officials.

Plans For It Were Completed

Plans for it were completed here on the occasion of a visit by Dr. A. F. Buechel, assistant director and statistician of the bureau, to confer with chamber of commerce officials and Dr. B. B. Irvin, city school superintendent.

He supplied Dr. Irvin with 3,000 questionnaires which are to be taken by school children in homes with parents that parents fill them out. No one will be asked to sign them. The answered questionnaires will be forwarded to the Bureau of Business Research in Austin for tabulation and analysis.

Basic For Comparisons

of cub pack 1, sponsored by Dupree school, and scout troop No. 8. Dr. Marshall Harvey will be the director. Assurance was given that the banquet will be completed early as a convenience to out-of-town visitors who will wish to return home that night.

The following local ticket chairmen for the banquet were announced by Randal:

T. E. Harrison, Dismitt; Lucian Morehead, Plainview; George Childers, Tulia; J. V. Newton, Petersburg; Orin Stark, Quitaque; Roy Hahn, Silvertown; Jack Yarborough, Amherst; Jim Douglas, Littlefield; Ray C. Moore, Muleshoe; Joe Salem, Sudan; Dr. J. L. Criswell, Ackerly and Mr. Fox of Acem Lumber company in Sundown.

New Troop Formed

Organization of new scout troop 118, sponsored by Hale Center Lions club, was announced by Stone.

J. E. Miller is president of the club. R. L. Burgess is scoutmaster of the troop and A. H. Lemond and P. L. Pollard are assistants. Members of the troop committee are: Virgin Martin, J. H. Weddington, D. L. French, Elmo Caudel and D. H. Jarrell.

Scouts are Kenneth Hart, Jack Bailey, Virgil Echols, Bobbie Joe Lewis, Ronald French, J. L. Hedrick, Jr., Charles Mills and Bobbie McCarver.

Meetings Are Set

The following events were announced in the council this week: Monday—Plainview big gifts finance committee headed by H. G. Stinnett starts work from luncheon in Hilton hotel; Floydada "pow-wow" for boys and leaders at 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday—Kick-off breakfast for Plainview finance campaign in Hilton hotel at 7 a. m. with H. B. Earthman the chairman and Frank Day the speaker; O'Donnell finance campaign.

Wednesday—Lamesa finance campaign; Cecil Speck, chairman. Friday—Plainview court of honor; Judge Dan Cook to speak.

Drum, Bugle Corps To Hold Rehearsal

First rehearsal of the season of the drum and bugle corps of Lubbock squadron of Sons of the American Legion is scheduled at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Legion home, 810 Texas avenue, according to announcement Saturday by Walter F. Smith, director.

The rehearsals, he said, are in preparation for many activities during the fall, winter and spring. However, he added, the special event immediately ahead is the Armistice day parade next Nov. 11.

He related that 15 drums and 35 bugles were bought for the corps in 1937. It is his expectation that a full 50-piece corps will be organized.

He extended an invitation to all boys eligible to membership in the squadron and desiring to belong to the drum and bugle corps to be present for the start of rehearsals.

Others To Be Made

Cities other than Lubbock in which the survey is to be made are Abilene, Austin, Beaumont, Brownwood, Denison, El Paso, Freeport, Gladewater, Goose Creek, Greenville, Lockhart, Lufkin, Marshall, Midland, New Braunfels and Tyler. Cities which may be included in the list are Amarillo, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, San Angelo and Wichita Falls, Dr. Buechel said. Selections have been made, he said. Selections have been made, he said, with regard to key geographic location.

The major cities of the state are not included, he added, because similar surveys were made in most of them by federal authorities recently.

Alaska's Gold Output Sets Record In '40

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 18 (AP)—It appears that the gold rush of '38 was only the beginning of gold production in Alaska, for which the United States paid $7,200,000.

Last year's gold production in the territory, the department of interior announced, set a new record of $26,178,000. Of this total, $18,852,000 came from lodes and $7,326,000 from placers.

The total value of all minerals produced from Alaska mines in 1940 was $28,420,000, greater than in any other year except during the 1915-1918 period. Such vital metals as tin and antimony made increases, and further development was expected this year under the spur of national defense.

Riverside Race Track At Kansas City Razed

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18 (AP)—Kansas City's Riverside race track, which flourished in the days of the Tom Pendergast regime, is being torn down.

Wrecking crews work amidst the crumbling buildings erected by Pendergast and Phil McCrory, co-owners, in 1928. The first race meet was held that year and fairly regularly for nine years thereafter, despite the fact that Missouri never legalized racing.

War Curbs Shipments Of European Papers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 18 (AP)—Keyes D. Metcalf, director of Harvard University Library, says scholarly foreign periodicals and newspapers formerly shipped directly to the university, are being stored in European libraries.

He said this was necessary because of the danger of destruction during shipments to publications which are almost impossible to duplicate. Ordinarily, the newspapers would be photographed on the library's microfilm for permanent filing.

Crude Production In U. S. Hits New Peak

HOUSTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Crude oil production in the United States reached a new peak for the week ending today, averaging 4,123,350 barrels daily and exceeding the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of market demand by 111,350 barrels, the Oil Weekly reported.

Daily output, hiked largely by big gains in Kansas, Illinois and Louisiana, averaged 57,400 barrels daily above the total for last week, the magazine estimated.

New Type Of Long Staple Cotton Adapted To High Plains Being Developed

Two Brothers Gain Results

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Fruits of the development of a new type of long staple cotton to meet the various needs of the high plains, are expected to be reaped this fall and winter by two brothers who have spent the past 17 years in breeding up a cotton known as Western Prolific, now state-registered and state-certified.

The brothers, C. N. and Nolan von Roeder, of Knapp, in southeastern Borden county, have a total of approximately 2,200 acres of cotton, on their own land and on leased land. From this they will harvest, they hope, many thousands of bushels of seed.

New Type Of Farming Development—The brothers found of a new type of seed was a new type of farming, and for the past two years the seed has been planted to enable the widest use of sound soil conservation practices.

For example, they found in the 1939 planting, that by planting two rows of cotton and skipping three rows, not only were better yields possible, but that the average production was higher and that they could increase yields. Tests showed that planting two and skipping three rows was sounder than planting four and skipping three, because the two inside rows did not attain the yield or development of the outer rows.

Spacing Another Feature—Besides this, they come within the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's conservation program, each acre of cotton usually counting as two-fifths instead of a full acre. Spacing is another feature, cotton is planted in hills, three and four seed to a hill every 24 inches apart, in the rows. Rows are 40 inches apart.

"Our cotton for several years has shown high yields," said C. N. von Roeder, oldest of the brothers. "For example, in 1940, a dry year, the average was 410 pounds of lint per acre; in 1939 it was 377 pounds; in 1938 it was 438 pounds. We believe this year, all things considered, we can get a higher yield than we did in 1939."

Plays To Plow Deep—"Another thing we have found out for this deep, sandy soil, is that it pays to plow deep. We break our new land 12 to 16 inches, and bring the clay on top, and plow the soil. That gives us a rich soil and it also helps hold the sand."

"We began breeding in 1923 and kept on. It was not until 1937 that we obtained state certification of our seed, with state registration a year later.

"This cotton, Western Prolific, is being developed for this section of the state. We believe it will replace half and half, with as good, if not a better turnout than that kind, and also adaptable to the entire area."

Will Stand Drouth—"Staple length is from 15/16 to 31/32 inches. It cleans out well. It is a cotton that will stand the winds and the rains and also the drouths, we believe."

The father of the boys came to this section and located on a farm five or six miles east of the present location, in 1909. The elder son had just graduated from the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis, Md. He resigned a promising future in the navy to come home and help his father farm. He worked with his father and brother and in 1917 they came to the present location, which is eight miles south of the inland postoffice of Knapp and 23 miles south and west of Snyder. It is near the eastern edge of Borden county.

Not until 1923 did the breeding work start. At that time what was believed to be an excellent type of cotton, a large boll and long staple, was planted and best selections of bolls and seed were made.

Spent Time Studying—Neither of the boys knew much about seed breeding but they set out to learn. Books and pamphlets on breeding were secured, read and studied. Short courses in breeding, and also other courses, were attended. Practical breeding work spread. Many nights were spent in study, after days of hard work.

Practical cotton men and breeders, such as those at the state experiment station at College Station and the Lubbock and Spur sub-stations, were consulted and their advice followed. The brothers have become skilled in their line of work.

Meantime, acreage to cotton was increased from time to time. More land was purchased, nearby farms being added until more than three sections is now devoted to the work.

A breeding block has been set aside and in it some 200 to 250 selections are planted. Plants of these selections are scored on 10 points and from these 25 or 30 plantings are tried out. From these

Two-Day FSA Meeting Is Closed Friday; Several Speakers Heard During Session

Work of preparing to cooperate with the national defense program, including the feed and food program, by clients and officials of Farm Security Administration, in Region 12, was outlined at a two-day meeting in Lubbock, which closed shortly after noon Friday in Hilton hotel.

It was an annual fall meeting and was the first held in Lubbock by the four-state advisory committee. Melvin Pillars of Wheeler, chairman, presided over the sessions.

It takes three years to get the seed ready for market.

Use Only Delinted Seed—"We plant only delinted seed," said Nolan von Roeder. "We plant four pounds to the acre. I believe we can eventually develop a seed that will need only about two pounds to the acre. We use planters with the proper plates to drop three or four seeds each—24 inches."

Last year the brothers had 17,000 bushels of seed available for distribution. All of the picked seed is saved and delinted. The Kemgas plant at Big Spring is used.

This year first planting was in early May. Rains washed out the crops largely, and had to be replanted. This was done in early and late June.

Normal first date of killing frost at the farms is Nov. 7-8 and a total of 207 frost free days is an average.

Turnout averages 49 per cent, which is considerably higher than most other cottons.

Bolls Were Counted—Recently a 10-space section of two rows was cleaned of all leaves on the plants. Bolls were counted, 1,639 of them. Should all of these mature, it is estimated the production will be nearly three bales to the acre.

Between rows, plantings of beans, peas, pumpkins and watermelons are made.

Near the home of C. N. is a breeding plot known as the "crazy" plot. On it are planted a number of varieties, Egyptian cotton, Chinese cotton, Sea Island, American lintless, brown Arizona cotton and other kinds. There are more than a score of varieties of cotton growing here.

The original von Roeders came to Texas before the republic, arriving at Galveston island in 1830.

Besides cotton, the brothers have a large orchard, 2,900 trees, 80 per cent of them peach trees, with some plums and a dozen or two pear trees. More than 3,500 bushels of peaches were gathered this year.

Vegetables are grown, also some grain sorghums, for the livestock. Dairy cattle are on the farms, to produce more than enough milk. Grain crops are grown for feed only, although the brothers have done some experimenting with sudan and grains.

Duke Is Named Garza's Agent

H. T. Duke, assistant county agricultural agent for Lamb county since last Nov. 1, who succeeded Lee H. McElroy when he was sent to Lubbock in a similar capacity, has been named agent for Garza county succeeding Homer E. Thompson, who was called in to army service.

Thompson, who held a first lieutenant's commission in the cavalry, last week passed physical examinations at Fort Sam Houston. Appointment was not announced until word had come to Thompson service officials that Thompson had passed the tests.

Formerly in Kent County—Duke was formerly located in Kent county, with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. He is a brother of Earl T. Duke of the division of agriculture of Texas Technological college and attended Texas A. & M.

When McElroy was sent to Lubbock county on Nov. 1 to succeed Monroe U. May as assistant, Duke was sent to Lamb to succeed McElroy. He has been active in 4-H club work during the year he has been at Amherst.

Successor will be announced by K. J. Edwards, College Station district 2 county agent leader.

Tech Professors To Attend Dallas Meet

Texas Technological college will be well represented on the program of the South-Central section of the Modern Language Association in Dallas Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Dr. W. B. Gates, head of the English department, will present a study dealing with "Performances of Shakespeare in Antebellum Mississippi."

Dr. Charles B. Qualls, head of the foreign languages department, will present a paper entitled "The Vogue of Decadent French Tragedies in Spain in 1782-1800."

Mrs. Gates, associate professor of Spanish, will lead a discussion on problems of research in Brazilian and Portuguese literature.

Dr. T. Earl Hamilton, assistant professor of foreign languages, will present a paper, "A Suggested Formula for the Alarcónian Comedy."

HOME ON FURLOUGH

MULESHOE—Lester Hammons, who joined the army 13 months ago, has returned here for a 30-day furlough. He has been recently at Fort Ord, Wash., and before that was at several posts in California.

Third Tuesday, Frenship, 2:40 to 3:30 p. m.; third Wednesday, Becton, 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.; third Thursday, Posey; fourth Tuesday, Estacado, time not set.

Thursday the committee and regional officials visited Ropesville farms at Ropesville in the morning and several proposed tenant-purchase farms in Lubbock county near Hurwood, in the afternoon.

Speakers included, Wilson Cowen, regional director; Homer R. Robbins, chief of tenant purchase program; Colonel Sparkman, chief of land tenure and tenant purchase division; Winfred Griffin, state director of Colorado and Kansas; Robert Jelyneck, engineer, all of Amarillo and Grover Ellison, Dallas, region 8 tenant purchase chief.

Besides Pillar, other committee members were: Jeff F. Mann, Lakeview, Hall county; D. L. Adcock, Lamesa and John Pratt, Colby, Kas. Other members were unable to attend.

Flashes Of Life

By The Associated Press

HEER'S NEW ONE
NEW YORK — The housewife was alone. The suave stranger at the door said he was a doctor and he could get her husband a job with the postoffice.

But first, he said, she as well as her husband must pass a physical examination. She assented, even permitted him to place both her feet in a pan full of plaster of paris to get her "footprint."

While the hardening mixture held the housewife helpless, the "doctor" looted her apartment of $1,000 in jewelry.

EMERGENCY CASE

VALDES, N. C.—Fire Chief Frank W. Pons got this telephone call in a crisp, matronly voice:

"Come across the railroad at the pilot mill, go to two blocks, turn west, go one block then turn to the right."

"But why?" he asked.

"Because my house is on fire."

OLD H C I AGAIN

DALLAS—Probably it's the rising cost of living.

A burglar broke into a cafe, took four dozen eggs, ignored the cash register.

ALIBI IS SPOILED

TULSA—The police department has spoiled the alibi of motorists who stayed in one hour parking meter zones "just one minute overtime."

The devices have been adjusted to give a 63-minute hour for a nickel.

Lions Club Members To Visit Air School

Lubbock Lions club members will change their luncheon meeting place Tuesday from Hilton hotel, to the cafeteria of the twin-engine advanced training school at Hurwood, Vernice Ford, president, said Saturday.

The luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Following it, Contractor W. G. McMillan, C. S. Lambie and W. S. Moss will arrange for a tour of the base, the visitors to be shown progress of the construction work.

"We urge members who plan to bring a guest or two, to let us know by Monday noon," said Dr. Marshall Harvey, secretary, "so that we can arrange with the cafeteria management for the necessary number of places. We need to know how many to prepare for."

Invention By Lubbock Architect Will Be Radical Improvement In Building Work

In a day when speed and efficiency count highly in the construction industry, here comes another idea.

It's the invention of James Atchison, Lubbock architect who has been notified by the U. S. patent office in Washington that he will receive his patent about Oct. 27.

Radical Improvement—The patent applications bear the rather prosaic title, "an improvement in double wall construction." There is little to indicate, at casual glance, that Atchison's idea promises to be a radical improvement in building block construction.

The system is known as "heavy wall masonry construction." Atchison explained. It is composed of a double wall of specially formed precast units, with metal spreaders joining the two walls together, leaving an air space between the walls. The units may be concrete or similar material, textured as desired.

The air space between the walls allows room for pipes, wiring and structural members, at the same time affording a degree of insulation.

Eliminates Wood Forms—The metal spreaders are "crimped" midway between the walls to form a drip so that any moisture which may penetrate the outer walls will drop to the foot of the wall, where it will be deflected outward through small "weep holes."

The system eliminates the use of wood forms for foundation walls and beams.

The setting of the units in place is the only operation required to complete the walls, except painting, and it results in a permanent, fire-proof, moisture-proof, vermin-proof wall.

Atchison conceived the idea in September, 1939. He filed his application for a patent in April of this year. He is a partner in the firm of Walker and Atchison.

White Man's Medicine Praised By Indians

GRAND CANYON, ARIZ., Oct. 18 (AP)—The magic of the white man's medicine was praised by the Supai Indian tribe in remote Havasu canyon for arresting the spread of an epidemic of measles combined with pneumonia that caused the deaths of three children before it was checked.

Indian Agent C. F. Shaffer said a few new cases were reported, but all those suffering from the diseases showed marked improvement as soon as they received professional treatment.

The tribe of about 200 Indians reside at the bottom of a 3,000-foot canyon, about 35 miles from Grand Canyon.

Chungking, China, and Calcutta, India, will be connected by an air service.

Defense Curbs Supply Of Guns For Officers

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—The national defense program is hitting the defense situation in St. Louis and St. Louis county hard.

Police are finding it so difficult to buy revolvers that they frequently the pawnshops searching for an approved model. An order for 30 pistols for the department was placed in September, but it may not be ready for several months.

Meanwhile probationary officers have been instructed to find weapons wherever they can.

In county police stations new patrolmen have purchased second hand revolvers while in Illinois sheriffs have been unable to obtain guns, ammunition or two-way radio sets.

The air patrol was established for the first time this season.

Hollywood On The Loose... Palace Offering Hilarious Hit

Senate Salvages Sizzling Scripts For Film Studio

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18—Senate isolationists have set fire to their own coattails with their investigation of war propaganda in the movies. Most of the studios had used a certain amount of restraint in dealing with anti-Nazi themes, toning down some scripts and shelving others. But reaction of the public and press to the Clark Gable and Wheeler quiz has so reassured picture producers that they're going ahead full blast—and I mean "blast" at Hitler and his pals.

Best-selling novel "Above Suspicion" about a young English professor and his wife engaged in espionage in German territory, has been bought by Metro for $40,000. Universal has "Paris Calling" with Elizabeth Bergner, Republic is about to make "Atlantic Patrol" and other companies are preparing stories mostly about revolt and sabotage and persecution in German-occupied countries.

No Mexican Heavies

OUR neighbors on the south seem to be having a good deal to say about movies. The Mexican government told Paramount that Mexican characters must not be portrayed as heavies, so Producer Harry Sherman had to rehire writers on the script of "American Empire." The villains, including Leo Carrillo, are being made into Frenchmen.

ON the set of "The Perfect Snob," Director Ray McCarey asked Alan Howarth to stand up to a girl that was standing up. "Tell a harrdreser," said the actor sulkily. "That's not my job."

"Okay," snapped the director. "I forgot—it isn't your hair, either."

Elopement Trips

ONE of the airlines is offering a combination of elopement trips to the movie colony. For impulsive couples wishing to skip California's three-day notice requirement by getting married out of the state, the company offers transportation, license, minister, two witnesses and flowers for the bride. And the hitching is done right at the airport, so that the pair can fly back after a few minutes.

From the Hollywood Reporter's Argentina correspondent comes glowing word that the four of Walt Disney and his small staff was the most popular of unofficial good-will gestures.

Disney's work, which essentially has nothing to do with touchy problems of language and customs, is appreciated by everyone. In their search for material, though, the Disney crew evolved a gaucho character which will be used in future films as typical of the Argentine. Their basic character for a picture about Brazil will be a parrot. Disney has been buying film rights to several pieces of Latin-American music.

THE long-famed but often-failed Trocadero will reopen soon with Duke Ellington and a colored show. Just when the gossipers here are in agreement that William Powell will very, very ill again, he's discovered to be playing tennis four hours a day.

Clark Gable will play a newsreel cameraman again, in a story by a co-biographer of the adventurous Norman Alley.

Slick description by writer Sid Sheldon of a night club meeting between two rival actresses: "They sat there chattering."

Durbin For Defense

TOP members of studio crafts have attics full of wrist watches given them by stars at the completion of pictures. Best gift notion yet was Deanna Durbin's at the completion of "It Started With Adam." She gave everyone defense bonds.

Darhyl Zanuck's "Son of Fury" hit a snag at the Hays office when Tyrone Power, an Englishman, was forbidden to marry Gene Tierney, a Polynesian. Comes under the heading of miscegenation, according to the censors. Hedy Lamarr, as a sultry European, once married Bob Taylor, but that was all right because she died trying to get out of the Orient with him.

Popular Hardy Family Back With Laughs At Broadway

Bob Hope Star In Lyric Film

THE ever-popular Hardy family returns to the city in "Life Begins For Andy Hardy," opening today for a four-day run at the Broadway theater.

In their usual roles as Carvel citizens are Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Ann Rutherford, Fay Holden and Sara Haden, with Judy Garland guest starring in the series for the third time.

Newcomers Introduced
Two newcomers are introduced in the film, both with star-studded prospects. Patricia Dane, in her first important dramatic role, and Ray McDonald, appearing on the screen for the first time, are the new faces following Hollywood's best known path to fame.

Miss Dane plays a New York vamp who gets Andy's sarcasm and McDonald appears as a down-and-out hooper befriended by the Carvel youth.

With the usual Andy Hardy antics providing hilarious comedy, the picture is a "must" on anybody's list for entertainment.

Bob Hope lands right in the middle of Uncle Sam's armament program in "Caught In The Draft," Paramount's all-out comedy now playing at the Lyric.

Dorothy Lamour, who co-stars with the popular screen and radio gamgaster, is in love with Buck Private Hope; but she can't marry him until her father, the colonel, is convinced that something besides trouble flows through her hero's veins.

The rookie is caught between the cross-fire of Dotty's sarcasm and the colonel's fury as he slides out of one tight spot into another. But after emerging as hero during some exciting war games at his "beat" and a corporalship to boot.

Japan's Choice: Peace, Or War? Price Rises Recall Those Of World War Days

U. S. Is Ready For Either American Tempers Run Short

It is doubtful that any of the many American-Japanese crises of the past ever reached a stage so fraught with the possibilities of war as that which has been developing during the past few days.

The present situation is one that would have been serious at any time in the many periods of disturbed relationships between the two countries. Any crisis is laden with added peril now because the tempers and patience and uneasiness of the people of this nation have just about been worn threadbare so far as Japan is concerned. There no longer is any apparent disposition among the American people to take, and keep on taking, insults and injuries from the Japs without retaliation.

Whether the Japanese recognize and respect the fact that the fuse to the American powder keg is running short may hold the answer to the question of whether there is to be peace or early war in the Far East. Peace or war may hinge upon Japanese recognition of and respect for certain conditions of the American mind.

ONE of those conditions of mind is the fact that for something like 40 years, many have argued that war with Japan was inevitable. Whether true or false, millions of Americans believe it.

Another condition of mind has been a growing American resentment accumulating from almost innumerable incidents for which the Japs have been responsible. Typical of such incidents have been the occasions, of which there have been many, when armed and uniformed Japanese bullies in China have demonstrated their manhood and heroism by slapping American women. Incidents like that may seem a poor cause for war, but they do make an American fighting mad.

A third condition of mind is the unquestioned widespread conviction among many Americans—especially those who regard war as inevitable—that now is the time to get the job done. Whether right or wrong, their conviction is that the United States can take care of the Japs without too much difficulty now; that we could remove them forever as a menace to Western Hemisphere security. They don't know what the outlook will be if we wait.

It is true, of course, that all of these conditions of mind have existed for a long time. But never have they generated such intensity of feeling as that which exists now. Never have they been quite so aggravated as now. Never has there been quite so much fuel on the fire. Never before, as the American people have dealt with crises and controlled their emotions, have they been so convinced of the danger that confronts them on every hand. Never before have they been under such strain. There is not the frame of mind which will deal calmly and patiently and tolerantly with Japanese bluster and bombast. Acts which the American people would not have considered a cause for war as recently as a year ago might not be passed off so lightly now.

The long and short of it is that people of the United States have just about had their fill of turning the other cheek to the Japs. They are about ready to begin swinging fists.

If the Japanese recognize this fact, and respect it, then peace in the Pacific will continue. If they fail to recognize it, or if they recognize it and refuse to respect it, then peace in the Far East becomes a forlorn hope at best.

Eventualities are up to the Japs. If they choose peace, it is theirs for the taking. Uncle Sam will meet them more than half way.

If another course is the Japanese choice, Uncle Sam is ready for that, too.

The One Minute Sermon

Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof is brutish.

A good man obtaineth favour of the Lord: but a man of wicked devices will be condemned.

A man shall not be established by wickedness: but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.—Proverbs 12: 1, through 3.

Air Cadets Will Be The War Pilots Of The Future Canada's Teen-Age Boys To Get Wings

BY JAMES MONTAGNES
NEA Service Correspondent

TORONTO, Ontario, Oct. 18 — Youth wants wings. And Canada's teen-age boys are going to get them in the newly-organized Air Cadet League, which will train them in the preliminary program of the RCAF.

The dream of a pilot's life won't come true immediately. But the elementary training these boys will undergo will prepare them to be Canada's future pilots, navigators, observers, gunners, ground crews. For the League's set-up follows closely the senior air force pattern of ranks, training and uniform. It is, actually, a "junior air force."

Started under the auspices of the Department of National Defense in Ottawa, the new organization is similar in scope to the British Air Cadet-Defense Corps, which has a membership of 190,000. The Canadian Air Cadets expect to have 25,000 boys enrolled for the new school year.

COURSE COVERS 216 HOURS

CANADIAN boys between 12 and 18 years of age are eligible for training. The basic course covers two years, a total of approximately 216 hours. Subjects covered include aircraft recognition, maps and map reading, a study of airplane engines and airplane construction, drill, airplane armament, model building, theory of flight, signaling, first aid, knotting mathematics, physical training.

Advanced training to include aerial navigation, aerial photography and radio, is planned for cadets who have passed this elementary training.

Boys join the air cadets on a voluntary basis, and parents must approve. Each boy is given a medical examination, and only those physically fit to stand the training program are accepted. The organization headquarters are at Ottawa, but local organizations will be in charge of local school boards, service clubs and other responsible organizations which must provide adequate adult leadership and finance the local unit.

Minimum unit is a flight of 50 boys between 15 and 18 years of age, junior units being permitted for boys from 12 years up if a senior is in existence.

As in the RCAF, the boys dress in air force blue, and their badge is an albatross with maple leaf above and Air Cadets Canada below. Squadron markings are worn at the shoulder, and rank badges are similar to those of the air force, with cadets being able to climb to non-commissioned officer ranks. Cost of uniform is set at approximately $15 per cadet.

CLOSE TIES WITH RCAF

not automatically on attaining 18 years of age, but it is hoped that most will, and that the training they receive in the air cadets will save many months of air force training. The air cadets meet after school hours once or twice weekly. In some schools the air cadets have been formed as a part of the school cadet corps.

Nation's Economy Menaced (The National Whirligig)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

FEDERAL Reserve charts suggest that the United States today is facing the same steep spiraling of prices which accompanied World War defense expansion. The upward curve's general movement parallels the 1914-1917 direction almost precisely, notwithstanding all the loud talk about how inflation is being controlled this time.

The 1939-1941 price movement impresses financial experts as even more menacing to national economy than was the 1914-1917 advance. In the earlier case level remained comparatively stable for slightly more than two years. The war began in August of 1914, but the serious pinch did not come until late 1916. This time the price curve waited only 18 months before taking off for its pole vault. Danger lies in the fact that administration policies had made the general level far higher in September of 1939 than it was in August of 1914. So were wages, and consequently buying power is increasing faster than it did before.

Recent reports on the growth of national income appear to aggravate the danger of a runaway movement. Although income for the full 1941 year may not top $4 billion, the current rate is 94 billions. For the calendar year of 1942 a 100-billion figure seems almost certain. Since only a small portion will be withdrawn by new taxes, the untaxed balance presumably will feed the fires of inflation.

DOVETAIL: British emissaries have given signs that they would like to have some voice in determining the kind of naval, aerial and military establishment the United States shall create. Since we are virtually allies in the conflict, and talk of policing the world jointly after Hitler is defeated, they feel there should be greater integration in our war plans and weapons.

England's representatives were responsible for the recent suggestion that we freeze or reduce our arm forces so that we could divert more supplies to her front. They have renewed the request with respect to Russia, although Chief of Staff Marshall denounced the scheme in testifying on the new Lease-Lend bill. The British also want us to concentrate on construction of convoy vessels (destroyers, sub and corvettes) rather than heavier capital ships.

Recently they have re-enforced some of our finest flyers in urging the creation of a separate Air Force along the lines of their own. An independent air command would be in a better position to fight, they point out, than one tied to the Army or Navy. Planes could be sent on detached service without disarranging our general establishment. In manufacture of certain kinds of weapons, the administration has insisted that they dovetail with British types. But FDR is dead set against a separate air force.

DETAILS: Henry Morgenthau, Jr.'s recent proposal for a six per cent limit on corporate profits almost precipitated a riot in Capitol Hill and in the banking community. Federal Reserve board members and visitors who attended a recent luncheon at the capital made the opposition official when they labeled the suggestion a scatter-brained idea under present conditions.

Their analysis branded the scheme as quite unworkable, certainly in the form in which it was presented by the Secretary of the Treasury. If Morgenthau meant that all industry should be permitted a six per cent return he was doing business men a great favor, inasmuch as they rarely clear that much every year in a good year. If he meant that individual industries exceeding that limit should pay all over six per cent, and that loss of firms should be allowed to deduct their losses, Uncle Sam might be the net victim. Deductions might top "Morgenthau profits."

The very fact that the Secretary did not blueprint his scheme is what chiefly worries more orthodox financiers and industrialists. His vagueness convinces them that he was expressing some body else's ideas, and they suspect the somebody else to be President himself. The reaction reveals that the inspiration did not come from Congress, the Federal Reserve board, O.P.S.'s financial experts or any similar source. And it's a safe bet that Henry, who details details, did not think it up all by himself.

NEW YORK

By S. Burton Heath
THE appeal which Donald Nelson has made to the public imagination was indicated not only by the size of the gathering which he drew in New York this week, but also by the temper of the audience before, during and after his hour to sales executives. The general reaction was expressed in one of the post-prandial discussions: "That guy's on the level. His mistakes will be honest ones."

The big shots of New York's business community had met to hear SPAB's executive director before, and been impressed. The bulk of the 2,000 club luncheon, before excess reservations had been sent back, were lesser executives who have been bedeviled by national defense restrictions until their gorge rises every time they think about O.P.M. PACS, SPAB, NDMB, OEM, and all the rest of the new inter-organizational agencies.

This was a dollar-a-year source. They were won by Nelson's obvious genuineness.

This attitude never was better illustrated than in the applause. There was a bit of hand-clapping when Nelson waved the flag verbally—once. There was some when he took a crack at overweening union practices, in response to a question. But the big spontaneous acclamation came when the defense boss said very earnestly: "I don't want to see us lose, in the act of fighting, the very thing we are fighting for." And again, answering a question whether he had been handicapped by political office holders, when he replied after a moment of thought: "If I say no. When they do, I don't want to do this job."

CUT: If Donald Nelson had been in facetious mood when he talked to New York sales executives, he might have shortened his speech to five words: "You ain't seen nothin' yet." In their concentration on specific points, many of the spot news reporters missed this undertone in the SPAB-er's discussion. He emphasized that every effort will be made to cushion the shock, but that its force will be tremendous, nevertheless.

This month there is a 6,000-ton deficit in the copper we need although our ammunition program—already ten times its World War peak—may have yet to be doubled. Next year, after meeting foreseeable non-military war demands, only 300,000 thousand tons will be available to a civilian requirement more than three times that size. And he said, "This is the most optimistic view possible," figuring the minimum for war, the maximum of imports, and with no allowance for the increased demand if we begin shooting in 1942.

Even with additions to plants now under construction, we shall fall 5,000,000 tons short next year on our steel requirements—again presuming that we are not involved by then in declared war. We need 500,000 new homes for defense workers, and thus far have made provision for only 200,000. We must consider Latin America an integral part of the American defense production setup, and provide for her needs as for our own. To do these things, he made clear, we shall have to cut our civilian rations until our belt meets itself coming around the back.

New Novel Swells Southern Literary Chorus

"Wine Of The Country" By Basso Is Gripping Story

"WINE OF THE COUNTRY," by Catherine Basso, is the author's finest novel to date and marks a new crescendo in the rising and impressive chorus of literary voices emerging from the South in United States.

From no other region in the past decade has there come such a quantity of excellent writing so much articulate expression of the problems of an inherent part of the American scene.

"Wine of the Country" is less purely regional in character than some of its predecessors, merging in its plot the spiritual dilemmas which face both the northerner and the southerner of today, yet its roots are in the south and it is there that Tait Ravenwill, the principal protagonist, works out his ultimate destiny.

He Marries Ellen
Ravenwill, a young anthropologist, meets Ellen Prescott in New England. He is fond of her cousin, Catherine, but it is Ellen whom he marries and with whom he returns to his family estate in the low country of South Carolina. However, it is Catherine whose character becomes the pole-star of their lives, and in the end it is she who proves to Tait the impossibility of escaping from the turbulent world in which we live by reversion to an old pattern.

To tell more of the plot would be to rob this memorable novel of much of its vitality, power and suspense. It is a gripping story about real and intelligent people; a sensitive and intensely timely novel to be read and re-read with admiration and respect by everyone who finds his values shaken and confused by the chaotic world in which we live.

Texas Tech's Annual Rodeo To Be Staged At Fair Grounds Here On Saturday

Special Events Being Planned

Texas Tech's annual rodeo, sponsored by Block and Bridle, honorary animal husbandry organization, will be held Saturday at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds-venue.

Adding color to the event this year will be two special features including girls' matched calf roping and a sponsors' contest. Tech cowboys who have entered these events are Misses Lucille Read, Billie Marie Miller, Jean McLaughlin, Elizabeth Betsy, Faye Stone, Bonnie Rose, Nancy Binford, Raye Syone, Elizabeth Miller, LaVerne Allen and Marjorie Beck.

Parade Is Planned

A parade composed of rodeo officials, the Matador band, rodeo contestants and other persons in cowboy regalia will start at Texas Tech campus at 1 o'clock, followed by a grand entry at the rodeo grounds. The afternoon performance will begin at 2 o'clock, with an evening show at 8 o'clock, after which prizes will be presented winners in rodeo events.

Bill Griffin is rodeo manager, assisted by Hubert Moseley, Block and Bridle president is Haynes Baumgardner.

Rodeo contests will include bronc busting, both bareback and with saddle, ribbon roping and calf roping. Persons desiring to enter rodeo events or ride in the parade are urged to contact Hubert Moseley.

Admittance prices will be 25 and 50 cents, and Tech students will be admitted with activity books.

Exercise Said Vital For Old Age Health

KELLEY ISLAND, O., Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Exercise should be the watchword for those who wish to live to be 100 years old, according to Fred Schardt, a resident of Kelley Island.

Schardt has gone a long way toward practicing what he preaches, for he is hale and hearty at 81. He says he keeps healthy by exercising in the winter and bicycling in the summer.

HAIL NEAR SPUR

SPUR—Hail, accompanied by a rain of from a half to three and a half inches, fell near here Tuesday night (Oct. 14) and considerable damage was done to grain still in the field. It was the heaviest hail since 1932 and damage was chiefly in the Red Mud and Dry Lake communities.

PLACE WINNER AT DALLAS FAIR—Elbert H. Boullion, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boullion of Tahoka, won seventh place at the Texas State Fair Junior Fat Stock show at Dallas with his Black Angus calf. The calf weighed 1,050 pounds and was 15 months old and sold for 13 1/2 cents per pound to a Dallas food store. A member of the Tahoka High school F.F.A. chapter, Boullion raised and fed this calf as a home project under the supervision of Leslie Browning, agriculture teacher in Tahoka High school. Boullion is vice president of his junior class in school.

Associated Press Reporter Claims Morale In England Good; War Weariness Noted

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Tom Yarbrough, Associated Press reporter fresh from two years of duty amid the bombs and bustle of London, reported today that British morale was good.

"I have never seen a sign of defeatism," he stated at the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors association.

War Weariness Noted

He added that there were some indications of war "weariness" but opined they were the natural result of people going without some of the things they wanted during the war.

Yarbrough, who returned from England this week, said food stocks were increasing and more was being bought, but there was a shortage of some goods.

He related that you could buy a fresh peach for 75 cents, if you could find one; that shoe strings and combs required a bit of shopping; that you bought any brand of cigarettes you could get; that you stood in line to buy tickets to a movie at prices ranging from 60 cents to $2.

He found that, on the whole, officials treated American correspondents better than any others but that "the battle for information never ends."

Officers Are Chosen

Basil L. Walters of the Minneapolis Star-Journal and Tribune was elected chairman of the association for the ensuing year. He succeeds Neil Swanson of the Babington Evening Sun. George W. Healy, jr., of the New Orleans Times-Picayune was chosen vice chairman. Los Angeles was selected for the 1942 meeting but no dates were set.

Earlier the newspaper executives heard discussions of the operations of the Associated Press by General Manager Kent Cooper, Executive News Editor Byron Price, Brian Bell, chief of the Washington bureau; Paul R. Mickelson and W. F. Caldwell, news editors at Kansas City and Atlanta.

Community Center In Need Of A Bell

Does any one have an old ranch bell or a large bell of that kind, that is not in use and which they will donate to the Community Center?

If so, Mrs. Tom Foster, one of the leaders of the work over on the north side of town, would like to be informed. Her telephone is 7283.

Here's her story of why a bell is needed. There are very few telephones in that part of town, in fact almost the only one available is located across the street from the center, Sixth street and Avenue B.

"We get a number of calls from people who want to donate something to the center, like giving vegetables to be canned, for example," she said. "We are unable to telephone to many people to inquire respectively; F. A. Resch, news-photo editor; J. M. Kendrick, special news service editor; M. J. Wing, feature editor; and J. M. Roberts, foreign news editor."

Former Cornell Coach Now Private In Army

FORT NIAGARA, N. Y., Oct. 18. (U.P.)—When Cornell university lost an assistant football coach in the draft, this Western New York army post gained an interviewer.

Pvt. Robert Boochever, 23, assistant coach of Carl Snively's 150-pound grid squads for the last three years, has been assigned to the classification department of the 1,213th reception center here.

Boochever's job is concerned with placing the new selectees in the right spots in the army. He attempts to determine for what work each is best fitted.

"If we had a bell at the center, we could have it sounded, so that people could go to the place to help out in whatever has to be done. The woman who has the telephone is willing to ring the bell, using a code, so that those who are willing to help, will know what to do."

That's her story and she said she was very anxious to get a bell for this particular use.

Beauty Items Tested By Men As Paying Job

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18. (U.P.)—Sixty-two men students at the University of Pittsburgh are going about campus with their backs plastered with adhesive patches—"guinea pigs" to the cause of feminine beauty.

The students, selected specially by Dr. Henry T. Smyth, senior industrial fellow at Mellon Institute, are undergoing tests on their skin, of ingredients used in cosmetics and lubricating oil which might create irritation.

Each "guinea pig" carries 16 patches of the substance to be tested next to the skin of his back. Length of the testing period is three weeks, and the patches are changed seven times during that period. The men are instructed to remove the patches only if the spot becomes uncomfortable or smarting—which, obviously, proves the point of irritation.

The subjects of the experiment may not take a tub bath during the period, but they are permitted to take showers.

But it isn't entirely a labor of love—the boys will get $5 each for the use of their epidermis.

Doesn't Mind Dog Bites During Rescue

DIGBY, N. S., Oct. 18. (U.P.)—"Dog bites man" was good news to George Milner, even though it took 20 stitches to close wounds about his shoulder and face. As a matter of fact, he is indebted to the dog for saving his life.

Milner was attempting to cross a bridge on a narrow plank when he lost his balance and toppled into the water. The tide was high and Milner was unable to swim. A stroke, a bulldog, owned by a neighbor, seeing his plight, plunged into the deep water and pulled him to safety. In its excitement, however, the dog seized Milner about the shoulder and face before getting a grip on the man's clothing.

Besides losing some skin, Milner also lost his pocketbook containing nearly $100.

Violinist Thinks War Aids Music Interest

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 18. (U.P.)—The war, while wreaking severe damage on the music business, has, on the other hand, produced decided benefits, believes Jacques Gordon, concert violinist.

"It has created a stimulus for the music business—it spurs love of music," he asserted.

"War makes people tense, they want to relax, and the only way they can relax is with music," he said.

News Briefs

Two new Lions clubs have been organized in district 2-T of Lions International, the Northwestern Texas area, H. C. Pender, district governor, reported Saturday. Pender is to deliver the charter to the clubs. At Alpine, charter-night is scheduled for Oct. 28 and at Itasca the charter night is Dec. 4. Pender is arranging a series of meetings with other clubs so as to make some of his official visits during the same period.

Farm Security administration officials of Texas are to meet in College Station Oct. 27-28 for a conference on the national defense program relating to feed and food. Earl Wise, supervisor of district 4 and Marvin C. Wilson of district 3 plan to attend. They are to report Oct. 29 for a district conference here, Oct. 30-31.

A two-day conference of Federal Land bank of Houston representatives and associates in this area is planned for Lubbock Nov. 5-6 at Hilton hotel. At least a score of representatives will be in attendance at the meeting. Houston officials have not announced the program.

Farmers of Lamb and Bailey counties have large acreages of soybeans planted this fall and plans are under way for harvesting the acreages, according to George Simmons of Lubbock Cotton Oil mill. Wet weather has delayed harvesting, but Simmons says he hopes dry weather for a few weeks will enable farmers to gather their crops. Arrangements have been made by the mill for the sale of the crop to processors. Yellow or edible beans, have been planted for that type, according to Simmons.

November will have two holidays for the postoffice, Armistice day on Nov. 11, and Thanksgiving day, the fourth Thursday in the month, according to Postmaster Amos Howard.

C. R. Landon, San Antonio, chief of the fish and wildlife survey of the U. S. department of the interior for Texas, will be in Lubbock Wednesday and Thursday. He is to attend a meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association and asked E. G. Pope, district agent, to "reserve" quarters for himself and three others for the convention.

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

IN DEFENSE OF A FOE

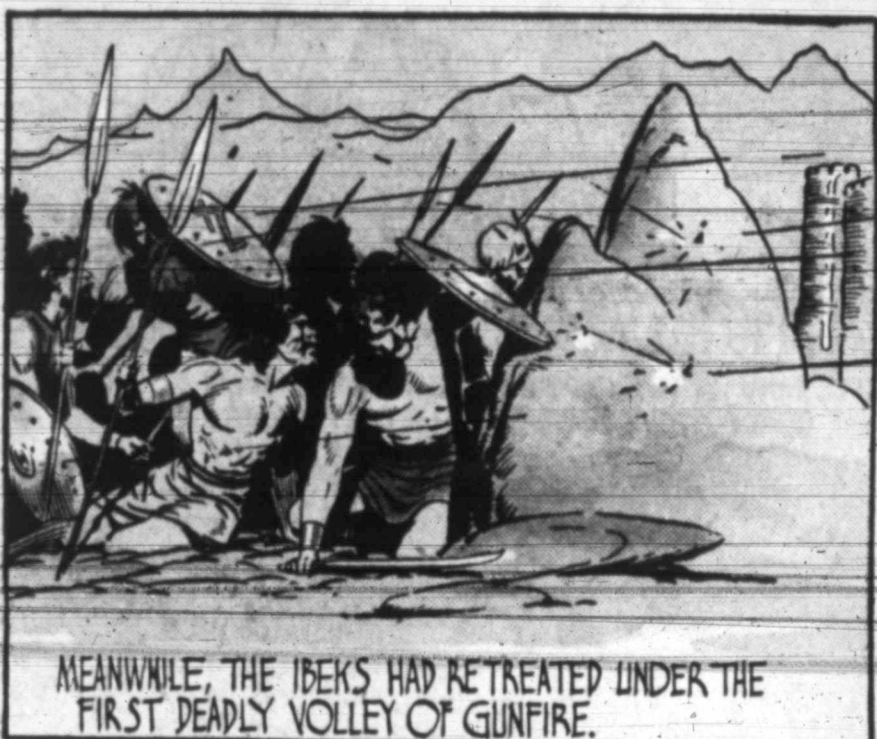

WHEN TARZAN SAID HE WAS READY TO RETURN TO THE IBEKS, DAGGA RAMBA SKILED INWARDLY.

IT WOULD BE SIMPLE TO PUT A BULLET IN TARZAN AS HE CROSSED THE PLAIN.

"I READ YOUR THOUGHTS," TARZAN SAID CALMLY. "YOU'LL COME WITH ME. I GUARANTEE YOUR SAFE RETURN."

MEANWHILE, THE IBEKS HAD RETREATED UNDER THE FIRST DEADLY VOLLEY OF GUNFIRE.

NOW THEY REFORMED RANKS AND RENEWED THEIR WILD CHARGE, SO FOOLISH YET SO VALIANT.

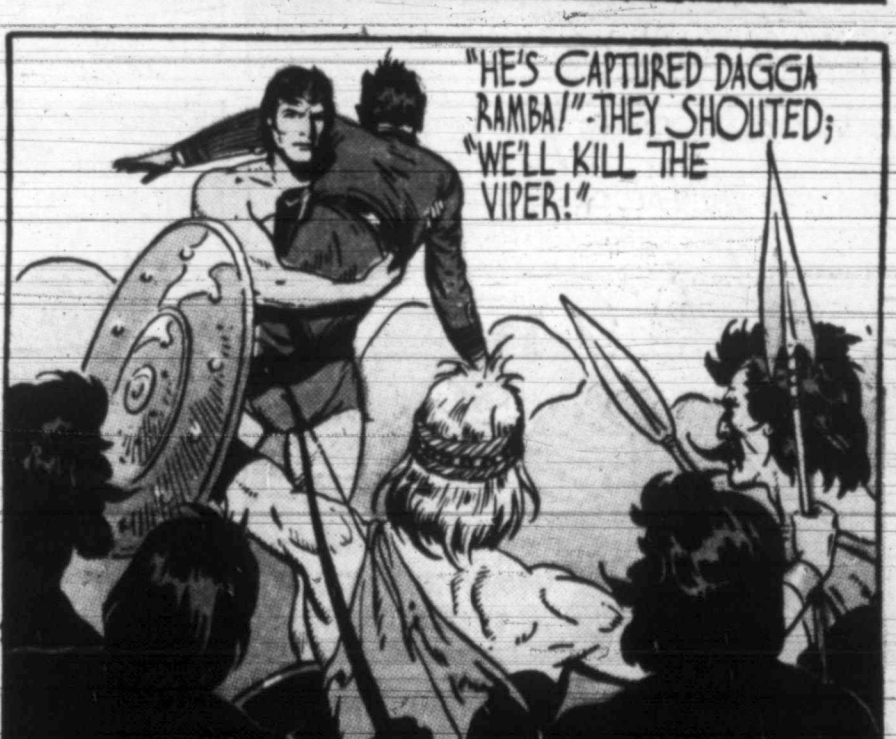

THOUGH TARZAN HAD BROKEN THE FORT'S MACHINE GUN, HE KNEW THE IBEKS WOULD SUFFER HEAVILY FROM RIFLE FIRE.

NOW HE DRAPED HIS HOSTAGE ACROSS HIS SHOULDER AS A SHIELD AGAINST A TREACHEROUS SHOT.

THEN HE RUSHED OUT IN A HAIL OF ARROWS. THE ASTONISHED IBEKS DREW BACK AND AWAITED HIM.

"HE'S CAPTURED DAGGA RAMBA!" THEY SHOUTED; "WE'LL KILL THE VIPER!"

"NO! I'VE GUARANTEED HIS SAFETY," TARZAN OBJECTED. "BUT WE'VE MADE NO PROMISE," A WARRIOR ROARED.

AS A BAND OF HOT-HEADS RUSHED TO SEIZE THE HOSTAGE, THE JUNGLE LORD GROWLED:

TARZAN HAS GIVEN HIS WORD. HE'LL KEEP IT. THOUGH THIS MAN IS MY FOE, I'LL DEFEND HIM WITH MY LIFE!

SUPERMAN

JERRY SIEGEL AND JOE SHUSTER

BEHAVING THAT HE IS SUCCEEDING IN HIS EFFORT TO ESCAPE WITH THE COMMITTEE FOR A NEW ORDER'S FUNDS, KOPAK IS TERRIFIED WHEN SUPERMAN MAKES HIS APPEARANCE. CREW MEMBERS CHARGE TO THEIR EMPLOYER'S RESCUE IN RESPONSE TO HIS CRAVEN SHRIEKS, AS SUPERMAN CLEANS UP THE CREW, KOPAK SNATCHES THE OPPORTUNITY TO SLIP OUT OF HIS CABIN.

GOT TO GET AWAY—HELL KILL ME!

BUT LOIS BARS HIS PATH...

GOING SOME PLACE?

NO—IT CAN'T BE YOU! YOU'RE DEAD—I KILLED YOU!

NOW FOR THE BIG BOSS HIMSELF!

BUT AS SUPERMAN EMERGES ON DECK...

YOU MAY BE INDESTRUCTIBLE—BUT ANOTHER STEP FORWARD—AND I KILL THE GIRL!

WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO DO?

GET OFF THIS BOAT!

VERY WELL... I HAVE NO ALTERNATIVE!

OFF LEAPS SUPERMAN...

FAREWELL, LOIS!

THE GOES YOUR CHAMPION—HELPLESS TO AID YOU!

BUT ABRUPTLY SUPERMAN SOMERSAULTS BACK...

ABOUT FACE!

PARDON MY FIST!

UHH—HMM!

GOOD WORK!

LATER—SUPERMAN SWIMS RAPIDLY SHOVING THE MASSIVE BULK OF THE YACHT BEFORE HIM...

AM I MAKING GOOD TIME?

YOU SAID IT!

WALKING AHEAD, SUPERMAN PLACES THE VESSEL AT HUGH MARTIN'S FEET...

HERE YOU ARE, KOPAK AND LOIS ARE SAFELY ABOARD!

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES WILL ALWAYS BE GRATEFUL TO YOU!

STILL LATER... AT THE DAILY PLANET...

WHAT INFURIATES ME IS THAT CLARK GOT THE STORY INTO PRINT FIRST!

THE IMPORTANT THING IS THAT THE "COMMITTEE FOR A NEW ORDER" IS A THING OF THE PAST. LET'S GO OUT, LOIS, AND CELEBRATE IT!

THIS TIME I WON'T BE PUT OFF! I'M GOING ALONG TOO!

"THE LINE" CROSSED, THE GOODWILL SQUADRON RESUMES ITS NORMAL CRUISING ROUTINE WITH THE RESCUED MERCHANT SAILORS RAPIDLY RECOVERING THEIR STRENGTH.

HOW DOES IT TASTE?

SWELL! WITH THIS GOOD GRUB WE'LL SOON BE FIT AS A FIDDLE!

AS SOON AS THE MEDICAL OFFICER ALLOWS, THE STRANGERS APPEAR BEFORE CAPTAIN VERNON TO TELL THEIR STORY.

YOU MEN HAD A NARROW ESCAPE. HOW DID YOU HAPPEN TO BE IN THAT BOAT?

YES, CAPTAIN. WE WAS TEN DAYS DRIFTIN' WITHOUT FOOD, AND THE ONLY WATER WE HAD WAS WHAT WE COULD CATCH WHEN IT RAINED.

WE WAS STEAMIN' ALONG IN A FREIGHTER NOT FAR FROM HERE WHEN ALL OF A SUDDEN WE WAS TORPEDOED!

THERE WAS A CRUISER AND A SUB, CAPTAIN, AND THEY LET US HAVE IT WITHOUT WARNING. BLAST 'EM!

WHAT! TORPEDOED? IN THESE WATERS?

SOON, FAR BELOW DECKS IN THE COMMUNICATION OFFICE, THE STORY IS PUT INTO SECRET CODE FOR TRANSMISSION TO THE FLAGSHIP.

IS THIS TO GO ROUTINE?

NO, PRIORITY!

WITHIN A FEW MINUTES AFTER THE MESSAGE IS RECEIVED BY THE FLAGSHIP A DESTROYER LEAVES THE FORMATION AND HEADS FOR THE ALASKA!

WE'RE LUCKY TO BE SELECTED BY THE ADMIRAL!

PERSE ORDERS ARE GIVEN BY THE ADMIRAL TO HIS CHIEF OF STAFF.

HAVE STEELE AND SHERIDAN ABOARD THAT DESTROYER WHEN SHE SCOUTS FOR THOSE STRANGE SHIPS. STEELE MAY BE ABLE TO IDENTIFY THE CRUISERS.

SOON BOB AND BILL AND ONE OF THE MERCHANT SAILORS ARE BOARDING THE DESTROYER TO EMBARK ON THE SEARCH.

THOSE WERE SUDDEN ORDERS, BILL! I SHOULD SAY SO!

AND SO THE DESTROYER STEAMS TOWARDS A BEAUTIFUL PACIFIC SUNSET TO SEARCH THE LATITUDES IN WHICH THE FREIGHTER WAS SUNK, AND WHERE THE STRANGE CRUISER AND SUBMARINE MAY STILL BE LURKING IN WAIT FOR NEW VICTIMS!

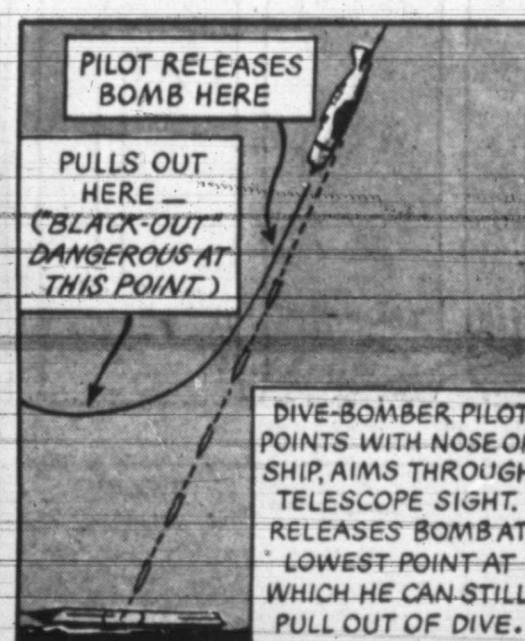

KEEP HER ON THIS COURSE!

ACTUAL SALES RECORDS IN SHIP'S SERVICE STORES, SHIP'S STORES, CANTEENS, POST EXCHANGES, AND SALES COMMISSARIES SHOW CAMELS ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE

BILL WARD ACE CURTISS TEST PILOT SAYS:

"SPEAKING OF TESTS— NEW SCIENTIFIC TESTS SHOW LESS NICOTINE IN THE SMOKE OF CAMELS. CAMEL'S EXTRA MILDNESS IS A 'MUST' WITH ME"

THE SMOKE OF SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS GIVES YOU EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, EXTRA FLAVOR AND

28% Less Nicotine

THAN THE AVERAGE OF THE 4 OTHER LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTES TESTED— LESS THAN ANY OF THEM— ACCORDING TO INDEPENDENT SCIENTIFIC TESTS OF THE SMOKE ITSELF!

THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCO

By burning 25% slower than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested— slower than any of them— Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

JUST AS THE TIME-MACHINE WENT INTO OPERATION, DR. WONMUG SAW THAT OOP HAD CHANGED HIS MIND... BUT TOO LATE TO STOP HIS TRANSMISSION TO PREHISTORIC MOO! HOWEVER, AFTER SOME DIFFICULTY, THE SCIENTIST GOT THE MACHINE'S PROCESSES INTO REVERSE.

ALLEY OOP

HOW ABOUT IT, DOC? HAVE WE GOT OOP ON THE WAY BACK?

YES, IF THAT JAMMED RHEOSTAT DIDN'T THROW OFF THE PATTERN!

CRRRRRROOOP! HONK! HONK!

I'VE ALWAYS KNOWN SOMETHING AWFUL WOULD COME OF OUR EXPERIMENTS WITH TIME-TRAVEL!

YES, JON, BUT I NEVER EXPECTED ANYTHING LIKE THIS!

HEY! WAIT, DOC! HOLD IT!

OWOOO!

DO YOU MEAN TO SAY THAT MONSTROSITY IS A PET?

WHY, SURE! C'MON DOWN-- THERE'S NUTHIN' TO BE SCARED OF! OL' DINNY'S PERFECTLY HARMLESS!

BUT YOU GOTTA HELP ME GIT 'IM OUTA THE TIME-MACHINE, I CAN'T BUDGE 'IM... HE'S STUCK!

YOU'RE REAL SURE HE'S STUCK?

WHAT A RACKET! HE MUST BE!

WAAAAAAH! YOWUP!

FOR DEFENSE BUY UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

GOOD HEAVENS, OOP! NO WONDER YOU COULDN'T BUDGE HIM! THE HIND END OF YOUR PET MUST BE SEVERAL MILLION YEARS BACK IN PREHISTORIC TIME!

YEAH, I SEE... THAT'S NOT SO GOOD, IS IT, DOC?

THAT DEPENDS ON THE POINT OF VIEW... FROM DINNY'S, I'D SAY IT WASN'T!

WELL, MY GOSH! WHAT ARE WE GONNA DO?

THERE'S ONLY ONE THING WE CAN DO-- SINCE HE'S TOO LARGE TO BRING THRU THE TIME-MACHINE, WE'LL HAVE TO REVERSE THE MECHANISM

AN' SEND MY POOR OL' DINNY BACK TO PREHISTORIC TIMES?

YES, OOP... I'M SORRY, BUT....

SAY, DOC... CAN'T WE DROP OOP'S DINNY JUST A LITTLE WAY BACK IN TIME... SAY A COUPLE OF CENTURIES... UNTIL WE CAN EXPAND THE LIMITS OF OUR RECEPTION FIELD?

WELL, YES... PERHAPS... BUT I CAN'T SEE TO WHAT PURPOSE

OH, THAT'D BE SWELL, DOC! YOU CAN'T KNOW WHAT AN AWFUL PLACE THAT WAS HE CAME FROM! ANYTHING'S BETTER'N SENDIN' 'IM BACK WHERE HE MIGHT GIT ET UP BY SUMPIN!

OKAY, DOC... LET'S GIVE IT A TRY!
