The 2019 National Hang Gliding competition launched Sunday afternoon. This year, there are 32 participants. The gliders took to the sky at 2 p.m. Sunday; some were headed to Lamesa and others were en route to Brownwood. The competition continues throughout the week. The community is invited to head out to the McMahon - Wrinkle Airpark and watch the launches.

City Council to set proposed tax rate, consider garbage fee increases

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

The Big Spring City Council will present the proposed tax rate for the 2019-2020 fiscal year, and consider setting public hearings on the rate and the 2019-2020 budget, during their meeting Tuesday evening.

The Council will meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the City Council Chambers, 307 E. Fourth St.

According to the meeting's agenda, the Council will first hear a presentation of the tax rate, and then consider placing a proposal to adopt the rate on the agenda of the Sept. 24 Council meeting.

The delay is to provide time to hold two public hearings on the rate. The agenda lists proposed dates for the hearings which must also be approved by the Council - as Tuesday, Aug. 27, and Tuesday, Sept. 10, in conjunction with regular City Council meetings. The proposed tax rate the Council plans to adopt is 74.38 cents per $100 valuation, which includes a debt service rate of 13.0029 cents per $100 valuation and a maintenance and operations rate of 61.1351 cents per $100 valuation.

The rate is up slightly since last year, when the Council approved a 72.9311 cents per $100 valuation rate, which included 58.5269 cents per $100 valuation for maintenance and operations, and 14.4042 cents per $100 valuation for debt service.

In other business, the council will consider increasing garbage collection fees. If the proposal passes, monthly collection fees for single-family dwellings will increase from $19.10 to $21.97; fees for additional roll-outs for

Lecture 26: Two brothers take a flight

By ANNA GUTIERREZ

Staff Writer

Lecture 26 in the series, Events That Changed History, brings us to the beginning of the 20th Century and the Wright brothers. No one believed flight was possible. Transportation had not changed much since the founding of the United States.

Wilbur and Orville opened a bicycle shop in 1890. In addition to fixing and selling bicycles, they were studying the flight of birds and followed news about the attempts at glider flight. During these studies, they concluded that there were certain things necessary in order to achieve flight: wings, and engine, and the ability to control the craft.

Their breakthrough came while working in Killy Hawk, NC. They had come to this location as it was one of the best places to practice gliding. They discovered that constructing wings in sections that could move and be controlled separately would overcome the challenges of yaw, pitch and roll during glider flight. After this, a mechanic friend built the brothers an 8.5 horsepower engine out of alu-

It was on December 17, 1903, when Orville made the first flight, witnessed by a small group, in Kitty Hawk. The brothers took turns throughout the day,

Last week's clean up efforts included more than 10 volunteers and focused on the Wasson area, between Calvin and Navajo. This week, temperatures remain high, which means more opportunity to clean up Big Spring. Keep Big Spring Beautiful invites the community to join the clean up efforts which will be focused on the empty lot near BBVA. The group will meet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

HERALD Staff Report

Picking up trash can make a big impact, especially when its done continuously. Community members may have noticed several areas of town are looking cleaner thanks to the efforts of Keep Big Spring Beautiful, and numerous volun-

Toasty Tuesday began earlier this year, with the intent of cleaning up the community one hour at a time. KBSB found a way to put the warm temperatures and extended day light hours to good use. The group has tackled several areas of town, including the Howard County Rodeo grounds, Downtown, FM 700, and Comanche Trail Park.

Partnerships have been formed along the way with the Adult Probation Department, local churches, civic organizations and local businesses. The community is always encouraged to attend the clean up hour, which takes place every Tuesday between 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

"Even if you can only come out and join us for 30 minutes, we want you to come on out and help out," Peggy Skiles, KBSB President said.

This week the group will be parking in the BBVA parking lot, located in the 1500 block of S. Gregg and cleaning up the empty lot adjacent to the bank. For more information, contact any KBSB member or check out the Big Spring Herald website, www.bigspringherald.com, to find out weekly locations.

single-family dwellings will increase from $15.50 to $17.83; and fees for additional requested pick-up of containers will increase from $10 to $11.50. Commercial collection fees will also increase if the measure passes. Commercial customers' rates will increase from $32.85 to $37.78 a month for a 1.5 cubic yard container collected once per week, and from $42.19 to $48.52 for a 3 cubic yard container collected once per week. For two collections weekly, rates will increase from $65.79 to $75.56 per month for a 1.5 cubic yard container, and from $84.38 to $97.04 for a three cubic yard container. Commercial customers whose garbage is collected four times per week will see increases from $131.40 to $151.11 for 1.5 cubic yard containers, and from $168.76 to $194.07 for three cubic vard containers.

In addition, roll off container and compactor service landfill charges will increase from $45 to $46 per ton. The daily fee for 30-yard containers, scheduled service charges Monday through unscheduled collection service charges, and delay charges for scheduled or unscheduled collections requiring more than one hour will remain unchanged.

Landfill entry fees will be free for residential customers and be set at $25 per dump or $500 per year per vehicle for commercial customers. Weight fees will be set at $46 per ton for regular. limb and brush, and large items and household trash.

The ordinance under consideration also provides for regular increases of 2 percent to the garbage collection and landfill fees per fiscal year, beginning in October of 2020.

Special to the Herald

VERIBEST, Tx - The Coahoma Bulldogettes begin volleyball season with a 3-2 record after competing in the Falcon Fest Tournament hosted by Veribest ISD this past weekend.

Coahoma earned solid wins against McCamey, Paint Rock, and the San Angelo Central Freshman Blue team on Friday and lost against Crane and Fort Davis on Saturday.

Overall, Bulldogette Head Coach Jamie Bonner said she is encouraged by her players performance in their first competitive setting.

"We have a lot of learning to do, but we are also much further along this year than we were this same time last year," Bonner said. "The advantage we have this year is that every single player is a hustler. They get out and work hard every day."

Bonner added the majority of the players participated in summer conditioning and the results are showing on the court.

"You could tell on day one of two-a-day workouts who participated in summer conditioning," Bonner said. "They are faster to the ball and their reflexes are sharper. It's definitely going to pay off for us this year. I think we have one of the most athletic volleyball teams Coahoma has seen in a while."

Over the two-day tournament, MaKynlee Overton led on offense racking up 21 kills followed by Caitlyn Corley with 18 and Kirah Kimball with 16. Standout freshman Zoie Joslin made 45 assists during the tournament.

Next: The Bulldogettes travel to Lubbock on Tuesday to face off against the Estacado Lady Matadors in a non-district match. JV Red and White teams play at 5 p.m. while the varsity game begins at 6

Minor, Rangers edge Brewers 1-0

By KEITH JENKINS

AP Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE — Texas left-hander Mike Minor was ready for Christian Yelich. For all the Milwaukee Brewers, really.

Minor struck out 11 in eight innings, and the Rangers beat Jordan Lyles and the Brewers 1-0 on Sunday to avoid a three-game series sweep.

Minor (11-6) allowed four hits and walked one. José Leclerc finished the four-hitter for his eighth save, securing Texas' second win in six games.

"He's had some amazing outings for us this year," manager Chris Woodward said of Minor. "I think that might be the top in my mind. I just felt like he dominated from the beginning." Minor issued a leadoff walk to Lorenzo Cain to start the game before retiring 11 straight and 18 of the next 19.

Yelich missed his fifth straight start due to back stiffness, but the reigning NL MVP batted for reliever Alex Claudio in the eighth.

"Before the inning started, I saw him in the tunnel," Minor said. "I thought he might pinch-hit. ... He's probably not 100 percent. That might have affected him on a couple of swings, but we knew going into it that he might step up."

The sold-out crowd of 44,411 greeted Yelich with M-V-P chants, but the slugger struck out swinging with Hernán Pérez aboard after a leadoff double. "He was going to hit there no matter what," Brewers manager Craig Counsell said of Yelich.

"We got him in the spot we wanted.

It just didn't pay off." Isiah Kiner-Falefa's sacrifice fly off Lyles in the seventh accounted for # the game's only run. The fly ball to right drove in Willie Calhoun, who reached on a leadoff walk and advanced to third on Rougned Odor's

"He always makes solid contact, but he's been hitting the ball on the ground a lot," Woodward said about Kiner-Falefa. "Today, he drove the ball to center field (in the fifth). Then when we needed it, got the sac fly, got the ball in the air, again."

Lyles (7-8) allowed three hits, struck out nine and walked four. It was his first loss in three starts since he was acquired in a trade with Pittsburgh last

Ryan Braun had two hits for Milwaukee, which had won five in a row. The Brewers dropped 2½ games back of NL Central-leading Chicago, which rallied for a 6-3 win at Cincinnati.

STREAK SNAPPED

Milwaukee dropped to 10-1 this season when its starter pitches at least seven innings. Milwaukee had won each of its last 21 such games.

WALK THE LINE Texas outfielder Shin-Soo Choo

walked twice for his ninth game this season with multiple walks. He is now tied with Joey Gallo (52) for the team lead in walks this year. UP NEXT Rangers: Head to Toronto on Monday to open a three-game series against the Blue Jays. Right-hander Ariel Jurado (6-7, 4.74 ERA) will make his 14th start of the season.

Brewers: Following an off day, Milwaukee hosts Minnesota on Tuesday. Right-hander Chase Anderson (5-2, 3.70 ERA) is scheduled to get the ball for the Brewers. Anderson has failed to earn a decision in each of his last four starts.

Rio Ruiz homers in 9th to lift Orioles over Astros 8-7

By DAVID GINSBURG

AP Sports Writer

BALTIMORE — Justin Verlander lasted only five innings against the Baltimore Orioles and walked off the mound in position to take his first loss since early July.

His struggle foreshadowed the shocking end of both the game and Houston's lengthy winning streak.

Rio Ruiz hit a two-run homer with two outs in the ninth to carry Baltimore to an 8-7 victory Sunday, snapping the Orioles' five-game skid.

Houston scored three runs in the top of the ninth to go up 7-5 before the Orioles answered in the bottom half against closer Roberto Osuna (3-3). After Chris Davis hit a sacrifice fly, Chance Sisco was at first base when Ruiz launched a 2-2 pitch over the right-field wall.

"I knew that I got it," Ruiz said. "I kind of looked in the dugout, saw everybody going crazy and I went crazy. Pretty awesome feeling." Osuna gave up a double and a homer and hit a batter in his fifth blown "The guys did a great job coming back and get the lead and expected me to get the job done," Osuna said. "Not being able to do that, it's a bad day." Coming off a 23-2 defeat less than 24 hours earlier, Baltimore took the lead in the fifth against Verlander, the 2011 Cy Young winner and an eighttime All-Star who gave up four runs and a season-high nine hits.

Baltimore's offense exploded in the ninth against Osuna, who came in with 26 saves. The loss ended the Astros' eight-game win streak and was only their fourth loss in 22 games. "When you're playing great baseball it seems like the losses even hurt that much more," Verlander said. "We put ourselves in a position to win; our guys did a fantastic job battling back. Just one pitch early in the game, a couple pitches that I made that were mistakes.

"But I think sometimes you've got to look at the bigger picture and understand that we're playing good baseball. Don't let this be too much of a Debbie downer," he added.

Houston trailed by two runs in the seventh and 5-4 in the ninth before striking Mychal Givens. George Springer led off with a single and went to second when Jose Altuve beat out a bunt. Michael Brantley followed with a liner that rolled into the corner. right-field Anthony Santander fumbled with the ball and botched the throw, earning an error while Brantley ended his foray around the bases with a head-first slide.

Richard Bleier (3-0) finished the inning, and turned out to be the winning pitcher in a game that concluded a homestand that featured three losses to the Yankees and two more against Houston, including that 23-2 debacle on Saturday night.

"It was a fun way to win a game, a fun way to get out of the homestand," said Jace Peterson, who had three hits and two RBIs. "Obviously, this homestand didn't go as we wanted it to (but) to leave here with a win like that over a team like that is great."

Carlos Correa hit a three-run homer for the Astros, whose ninth-inning surge enabled Verlander to keep his five-game winning streak intact. The right-hander struck out 11 to reach double digits in a fifth consecutive outing but also gave up at least one hit every inning.

open team was crushing Brazil in the Bermuda Bowl final for the 2000 world championship, the U.S. women's team was finishing second to the Netherlands in the Venice Cup by the narrowest margin in the history of a world championship event half of an International Match Point. The fractional margin was the result of slow-play penalties assessed against both teams in one of the eight 16-deal sets. Because the Americans were judged to have been more responsible for the slow play, they incurred a 3.75 IMP penalty, while the Dutch were penalized 1.25. That minuscule difference decided the world title Just how slender and tenuous the final margin was is exemplified by today's deal - the very last one of the 128-deal match — which began with the U.S. trailing by half an IMP. The write-up in the American Contract Bridge League's monthly magazine, the Bulletin, describes what transpired as follows:

"On the last deal of the event, the U.S. still had a chance to win, but the team's fate depended on an opening

"The auction was short and sweet at both tables — three clubs by North, three notrump by South. In the and the U.S. declarer wrapped up 11 tricks for plus 660.

"It was clear to the Vu-Graph audience that a spade lead by the U.S. West would hold declarer to 10 tricks and earn the U.S. the IMP that would give them the gold medal. There was no compelling reason for a spade lead, however. A heart seemed the normal lead and much more likely.

"When West put the heart seven on the table, the Dutch partisans in the room erupted in wild applause. The final score in the Venice Cup had yet to be made official, but they knew that the trophy belonged to the Netherlands for the first time."

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers wi appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARIES (March 21-April 19). It's one of those days when moving is more important than knowing how or where to move. Action will win over strategy. And until you try the door, you won't know if it's locked.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Just as there are no isolated points on a circle, in the holistic realm of being, mind, body and spirit are circular. Everything connects with elegant clarity today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Do you know when you're bored? Because boredom is impolite, you're quite adept at acting interested when you're not. To be honest about what's really interesting to you will bring about a realization, and then a change.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). What the pictures don't show is what happens between "before" and "after." There are in fact hundreds of decisions that make any "after" possible, and thousands for the really good results.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Love is wanting a person to be as fully and happily themselves as they can possibly be, knowing that sometimes that means they'll be exploring without you. Ultimately, it's what's best for the relationship.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). In many ways, you've already purchased your ticket to discover the uncharted world. The inevitable voyage will begin soon enough. So enjoy this part. Take a few pictures. Be here now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). When you were a child, you didn't have much of a choice about who you let into your life. Now you get to choose the terms of your relationships and who you let close to you, and you'll choose well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Yesterday was like a deep inhale of life. Now it's time to let go. Release the tension, purge resentments and unravel the attachments and strong emotions at the base of your being.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Because a large number of people are involved in a project, there's a diffusion of responsibility. Some won't be inclined to try as hard as others. Help everyone see how much they count,

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Rise above the situation any way you can. From the drone view, you'll understand that you have many more options than you currently see on the ground.

AQUARIUS (Jan.

20-Feb. 18). You're aware that there are power dynamics at play, but you still don't know what exactly they are. Light testing is favored. Stay flexible because you'll have to change your approach to accommodate the egos involved.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). A mind that believes it already knows is not absorbent. To learn anything new, it must be shaken from its state of certainty. To be a curious person is to stride ever-forward in ignorance. TODAY'S BIRTHDAY ug. 12). People have told you what to do and you did your own thing instead. It's this rebel spirit, backed up with a passionate work ethic, that will bring you meaningful wins. Progress over the next six months is largely financial. A stellar alliance is featured in 2020, as is travel that furthers personal goals. Capricorn and Cancer adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 30, 1, 33 and 17.

Annie's Mailbox ®

Where Did I Go Wrong?

Dear Annie: I have a problem that many other mothers-in-law may have, but mine has a twist.

My daughter-in-law has been angry at me for nearly 20 years because I discussed her fertility problems with another family member, and word got back to her that I had done so. Occasionally, she will put her anger aside and give me a hug and tell me that she loves me when I visit her, my son and my two delightful grandchildren, which I do about six times a year for single overnight visits.

While she won't confront me when we are together, if I have offended her, she later blasts me with emails about how I've "done it again." She recently declared that she would no longer email me about anything at all, however.

My problem is, I don't know what I've "done again," and she won't tell me. She says that my not knowing is part of the problem. What?!

This is akin to calling a plumber or an electrician to come to my home, and, when the person arrives, telling them that finding out the problem is their business and I'm not going to tell them anything more.

I considered contacting my daughter-in-law's mother, who I know and like very much. But I didn't contact her because she is the woman who raised my daughter-in-law, and, for all I know, acts in a similar way. I'm at my wit's end. Last week, I broke down and cried about the situation for the first time. I give this woman thoughtful, caring gifts, even if it's not for her birthday or a holiday. She seems to greatly appreciate them at the time. And then I go home and get blasted for something she will not tell me about because "that's part of the problem, isn't it?" Since she will no longer email me, she is holding close to the supposed hurts I have inflicted on her. I simply don't know what to do any further. Can you help me? --

Baffled Mother-in-Law

Dear Baffled Motherin-Law: It sounds like you are walking on eggshells around your daughter-inlaw and don't know where to start with repairing the relationship. Her passive-aggressive behavior is making it challenging to have a relationship with her. Without stressing out your son too much, I'd suggest asking him for suggestions. The fact that his wife says you upset her but won't tell you how -- what does he say about that?

You are wise not to complain to her mother, but since you get along with her, maybe try to get closer to her and gain some perspective as to why her daughter is angry.

Lastly, you could give your daughter-in-law a mental hug or see her as a little girl acting out. Sometimes, that makes coping with a difficult person easier to deal with. Anger may be a form of self-protection. We all know touchy, insecure people who fly into a rage if they are criticized or feel rejected. Their anger is hiding hurt.

Today in History

Today is Monday, Aug. 12, the 224th day of 2019. There are 141 days left in the year. Today's Highlight in History:

On August 12, 2017, a car plowed into a crowd of people peacefully protesting a white nationalist rally in the Virginia college town of Charlottesville, killing 32-year-old Heather Heyer and hurting more than a dozen others. (The attacker, James Alex Fields, was sentenced to life in prison on 29 federal hate crime charges, and life plus 419 years on state charges.) President Donald Trump condemned what he called an "egregious display of hatred, bigotry and violence on many sides;" Democrats and some Republicans called on him to specifically denounce white supremacy. Two Virginia state policemen were killed in a helicopter crash while monitoring the Charlottesville protests.

On this date: In 1909, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, home to the Indianapolis 500, first opened.

In 1937, President Franklin D. Roosevelt nominated Hugo Black to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1939, the MGM movie musical "The Wizard of Oz," starring Judy Garland, had its world premiere at the Strand Theater in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, three days before opening in Hollywood. In 1944, during World War II, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., eldest son of Joseph and Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy, was killed with his co-pilot when their explosivesladen Navy plane blew up over England.

In 1953, the Soviet Union conducted a secret test of its first hydrogen bomb.

In 1962, one day after launching Andrian Nikolayev into orbit, the Soviet Union also sent up cosmonaut Pavel Popovich; both men landed safely Aug. 15. In 1981, IBM introduced its first personal computer, the model 5150, at a press conference in New York.

In 1985, the world's worst single-aircraft disaster occurred as a crippled Japan Airlines Boeing 747 on a domestic flight crashed into a mountain, killing 520 people. (Four people survived.)

In 1992, after 14 months of negotiations, the United States, Mexico and Canada announced in Washington that they had concluded the North American Free Trade Agreement. Avantgarde composer John Cage died in New York at age 79.

In 2000, the Russian nuclear submarine Kursk and its 118man crew were lost during naval exercises in the Barents Sea. In 2004, New Jersey Gov. James E. McGreevey announced his resignation and acknowledged that he'd had an extramarital affair with another man.

In 2013, James "Whitey" Bulger, the feared Boston mob boss who became one of the nation's most-wanted fugitives, was convicted in a string of 11 killings and dozens of other gangland crimes, many of them committed while he was said to be an FBI informant. (Bulger was sentenced to life; he was fatally beaten at a West Virginia prison in 2018, hours after being transferred from a facility in

Ten years ago: Ehsanul Islam Sadequee, a 23-year-old Georgia man, was convicted of aiding terrorist groups by sending videotapes of U.S. landmarks overseas and plotting to support "violent jihad" after a federal jury in Atlanta rejected his arguments that it was empty talk. (Sadequee was sentenced to 17 years in prison.) Guitar virtuoso Les Paul died in White Plains, New York, at 94.

Five years ago: Lauren Bacall, 89, the slinky, sultry-voiced actress who created on-screen magic with Humphrey Bogart in "To Have and Have Not" and "The Big Sleep" and off-screen magic in one of Hollywood's most storied marriages, died in New York. Steve Ballmer officially became the new owner of the Los Angeles Clippers; the sale closed after a California court confirmed the authority of Shelly Sterling, on behalf of the Sterling Family Trust, to sell the franchise. (Her husband, Donald Sterling, had unsuccessfully fought the sale of the team he owned since 1981 in court.)

One year ago: Fewer than two dozen white nationalists showed up for a rally near the White House, where thousands of counterdemonstrators had gathered to send a message that racism is unwelcome. A year after the violence at a rally of white supremacists and other extremists in Charlottesville, Virginia, the mother of Heather Heyer, the woman killed while protesting against that rally, visited the site of the attack and said the country's racial wounds had not healed. Brooks Koepka wins the PGA Championship in St. Louis; Tiger Woods finished second after a final-round score of 64. A NASA spacecraft, the Parker Solar Probe, lifted off on a mission intended to bring it within 3.8 million miles of the surface of the sun. (The craft made its first close approach, to within 15 million miles, just two and a-half months after liftoff.)
