BSISD board recognizes district's principals and assistant principals

By ROGER CLINE
 Staff Writer

October is National Principals Month, and the Big Spring Independent School District Board of Trustees took the opportunity to recognize the district's principals at their meeting Thursday evening.

The trustees met at 5:15 Thursday in the board room at Big Spring High School, 707 E. 11th Place.

"It's Principals and Assistant Principals Recognition Month," said BSISD Superintendent Jay McWilliams. "They all play a vital role in our schools. So when I set this up with our principals - I wanted them to be here, obviously. I sent them an email several weeks ago. Then I said, 'Let's see if we can get our APs up here as well.'"

Most of the principals and assistant principals were able to attend the school board meeting, where they received accolades from McWilliams and the school board.

"Without a doubt, they are all committed to Big Spring ISD and they are all committed to making this a better place to be and a place people want to stay long-term," McWilliams said of the district's principals and assistant principals. "So I just want to say that I appreciate everything that they do. They spend a lot of hours up here at the school that people don't know about."

Principals and assistant principals each received a personalized Big Spring Independent School District portfolio as a "Thank you" from the school district.

The school board also recognized a donation from Prosperity Bank to help fund Big Spring High School's fledgling e-sports team, and took the opportunity to recognize coach/sponsor Amber Griffith, a teacher at the high school, and her fledgling team. The team competes against similar teams from other school in video and computer games, learning valuable skills in teamwork and cooperation, social skills, and strategic thinking and planning.

Big Spring Ford hosting event to help Serenity fight against cancer

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
 Staff Writer

We've all seen the fundraisers being held for Serenity as she continues her fight against cancer. This Saturday, Oct. 12, Big Spring Ford is hosting a fundraiser to help get Serenity's house ready for her to come home.

"With leukemia, you have a suppressed immune system, so before Serenity comes home, we had to make sure there wasn't any black mold, and such, in the house," says Barney Dodd with Big Spring Ford. "We got a quote to make the repairs, and we are well short of our goal. This is a targeted fund raiser specifically for these house repairs."

Dodd continued, "We will be having a car bash. This is where we have an old car out there, and you can take a swing at the car with a sledgehammer. This is your chance to work out all your frustrations and raise money for a worthwhile cause. We need as many people as possible to come out."

The fund raiser will take place at Big Spring Ford, located at 500 W. 4th St., from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Cash donations will be accepted, during the event and after. Prizes will be given out, and Double L BBQ will have their truck out selling food, from which all the proceeds go to Serenity and her family. Bounce houses for the kids, and a car show will also be part of the event.

"Help Sweet Serenity beat the heck out of cancer," Dodd said.

"We had a tournament last night," Griffith said. "We did...okay. It's actually really exciting. Jordan was our official big 'W' last night. He played "Smash" ("Super Smash Bros."). Jordan beat his opponent 2-0, which was really cool. It was a kiddo from California. Then we played "Rocket League" with a team of 3. They couldn't be here tonight. They're either in band or football tonight and they couldn't be here. We played a team from California and they wumped us good, but we learned some things about strategy and teamwork."

Other games played in the E-Sports League include "Hearthstone" and "Fortnite," Griffith said.

Reflections: I Wish the Best for You

A year ago, Amber Guyger returned to her apartment after a long day as a Dallas police officer to find what she thought was an intruder in her home. She drew her gun and fired, killing a young black man, 26-year-old Botham Jean. Only it wasn't her home. The apartment she entered was one floor directly above her own, and the man she killed was her neighbor, at home eating a bowl of ice cream.

Amber, who is white, was fired from the Dallas Police force. It has taken a year for the trial to work its way through the courts.

Last Tuesday, October 1, the jury unanimously found Amber Guyger guilty of murder. She was sentenced to 10 years in prison without possibility of parole. Many celebrated the fact that a police officer was held accountable for killing an unarmed and innocent young black man. Mr. Jean's mother, Allison Jean, raised her hands and cried "God is good." Others were jubilant.

But the courtroom was stunned when the victim's brother, Brandt Jean, asked permission to speak. Nervously tugging at his collar, Brandt looked at Ms. Guyger and said, "I'm not going to say I hope you rot and die, just like my brother did, but I personally want the best for you. And, I wasn't going to say this in front of my family or anyone, but I don't even want you to go to jail. I want the best for you. Because, that is exactly what Botham would want you to do. And the best is to give your life to Christ." He paused, wiped his eyes and spoke to the judge. "I don't know if this is possible, but, can I give her a hug?" The judge consented.

Brandt Jean met his brother's killer in front of the judge's bench. He said to her, "If you are truly sorry, I know ... I speak for myself, I forgive you. And I know if you go to God and ask him, He will forgive you." They embraced one another as they wept.

The courtroom that a few minutes before was jubilant with vengeance fell silent except for the sound of people sobbing. Even the judge wiped her eyes, and, once the court room was cleared, embraced Guyger and gave her a Bible. None of this, of course, changes anything in terms of the verdict and the sentence that Amber Guyger will serve, but it changes everything in the matters for the heart.

The scene was replayed repeatedly on the national media. It ignited conversations on network talk shows. People began discussing the power of divine forgiveness. A glimmer of light flickered on the national stage that perhaps our conversation could change from prejudice, vengeance, resentment and rage to acceptance, forgiveness and love.

Jesus said, "For if you forgive others their transgressions, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive others, then your Father will not forgive your transgressions." (Matthew 6:14). When Peter asked Him, "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him? Up to seven times?" Jesus said to him, "I do not say to you up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven." (Matthew 18:21-22).

The Apostle Paul wrote, "Be kind to one another, tender hearted, forgiving each other just as God in Christ has forgiven you" (Ephesians 4:32).

Jesus gave us the supreme example when he hung upon the Cross, blood dripping from his wounds, surrounded by violent men who cursed Him and spat upon Him. He lifted His eyes to heaven and prayed, "Father forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." (Luke 23:34).

I Will Give You Rest

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Matthew 11:28

SLOAN

You know what I am tired of? I am tired of false promises, those promises that say that if I promise to be good, God promises to be good to me. I am tired of hearing about the false doctrine of karma. I am tired of working my fingers to the bone, laboring to carry the heavy weight of religious burdens which constantly zap my energy and joy.

I am tired of being tired.

Someone said that the gracious and merciful surprise is that we come to God, not by doing it all right, but by doing it all wrong. I fit perfectly into this category because if my memory serves me well, there have been very few things, if any, that I have done right. I have tried to follow all the rules, but I still sin every day. I have subjected myself to religious disciplines, standards and traditions expecting to be a bit more acceptable before God and man, and yet, I constantly think, say and do things that are horribly wrong.

Thankfully, there is a place of rest, and His name is Jesus. His words are so comforting, so soothing, so life-giving. He says, "Come to me, and you will find rest for your soul; come to me, and I will never cast you out. And I ask - never? And He says - never! And I say - even if I bring all my sin? And He says - especially when you bring all your sin. And I breathe a sigh of relief as I let go of all the religious demands, disciplines, standards and traditions."

Jesus' words of comfort overpower all the condemnation, fear and guilt because...

...His yoke is easy, and His burden light.

Something to think about...

Are you an over thinker? Some of us have a tendency to process all the "what ifs" and situations of life until our minds are spinning. It leaves us disoriented and dizzy, ultimately unable to see straight and move forward in life. I believe that we sometimes overthink prayer, as well. It can become so complicated and difficult that we rarely practice praying at all. However, prayer is one of the ways we actually find our orientation to navigate this dizzying and dark world.

Prayer is simply communication with God. It is sharing our heart and mind with Him and listening for His voice. I like what Mother Teresa once said, "Prayer is putting oneself in the hands of God." It is an act of childlike faith, as we entrust ourselves into the Father's hands. That is why I love to listen to children's prayers. They share their heart with such honesty and authenticity, and I believe we can learn a lot about prayer from them. Here are a few of my favorite prayers from kids:

"God, can you put a sister in my mommy's tummy? I would like to blame everything on her. Amen." ~ Joel, age 6

"Dear God, help Macy to feel better. She ate a donut, and she threw up a donut. Amen." ~ Brinlee, age 3

"Thank you God for baby Tanner in mommy's tummy and for the food in daddy's tummy." ~ Natalie, age 3

"God, make the veggies on my plate taste good since I have to eat them." ~ Cole, age 4

"Jesus, thank you for angels with wings. And thank you for angels without wings." ~

Liv, age 4

"Thank you for my life and my family. Thank you for dying on the cross. Without you, I wouldn't know what I would do. Without you, God, we would all be sunk." ~ Taylor, age 9

Prayer from beginning to end is a simple act of childlike faith. As Hebrews 11:6 tells us, "And without faith it is impossible to please God, because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him."

Don't over think it. Don't overcomplicate it. Simply come before to the Lord and honestly share what is on your heart with Him. Put yourself in the hands of God today, and I trust He will direct your way.

Made Sin!

"For Him who knew no sin has God made to be sin in our behalf that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him." (2 Corinthians 5:21).

RALPH ANDERSON

Made sin! The sinless one "Made Sin!" In Him was no sin" yet "Made sin!"

Holy of holies this into which unhallowed eyes can not look, behind the veil of which none dare to intrude with cheap scorn. I know nothing more vast!

"Made sin." What does that mean? What do they mean, those two words, "made sin" that stagger under a weight of agony?

It means that God dealt with Him as He must deal with sin, in severe and unrelenting judgment!

It means that God sentenced sin, in order to execution in the person and death of His Son. Jesus has made up before God for all we failed to do and be, Jesus takes all our sin and sins upon Himself and bestows all His righteousness upon us. Jesus took sin's place on the cross! Took my place there! It means that He, the perfectly righteous one, was made sin that we, the unrighteous ones, might be made righteous. For God meted out to Jesus the full measure of punishment sin deserves.

It means, "He stood before God with all our sin upon Him that we, through faith, might stand before God with none of our sins on us."

He who was righteous was judged before God as unrighteous that we who are unrighteous should be judged before God as righteous!

He was made for us all that God must judge, and we are made in Him by faith all that God cannot judge.

This verse is a fortune in a single diamond; the glories of many flowers in one flower; the eloquence in one utterance. By the truths it reveals, some luminous with the noonday brightness, some dark midnight blackness, it testifies of the stateliest cathedrals of human speech. By the mercy and mystery it testifies to, it stands among the real sublimates of the Bible vocabulary. By the tragedy it acknowledges, it is a pathos of language that defies all definition. By the victories it assures, it contains a splendor of revelation that leaves little to be said.

"For Him who knew no sin God has made to be sin in our behalf that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him!"

Come visit us. Sure would like to share Sunday services with you.

It's Called a What?

Recently, some friends and I went to Dallas to attend a yearly Christian Educator's Conference. Of course we had to travel on the freeways or we would still be trying to find the hotel where it was being held. In fact, we travelled that freeway four times, in the morning and evening. I had been on them before for 38 prior years. They have gotten unfree-er each year.

The first thing I did when we started out each time on this journey was to turn on my GPS on my phone so I wouldn't get lost. Between the three of us in the vehicle, we made it just fine to our destination, but the more we travelled, the more complicated it became.

The freeway isn't free by any stretch of the imagination. Toll roads kept popping up every ten or so miles. There is a plethora of massive steel and concrete structures of roads we call the spaghetti bowl-we saw two. Construction of any kind blocked exits, obscured vision, and for a 75 year old driver, it was downright hazardous to me and every driver on that freeway.

We encountered many people who don't know how to drive the freeways. We came upon three major wrecks. Ambulances, fire trucks, four police vehicles, and two wreckers were involved, and that was just for a two-vehicle fender bender. Of course they stopped traffic until the wreck was cleared away. Praise the Lord for professionals who know what to do in an emergency.

We started out for a 45 minute drive and arrived two hours and 45 minutes later; most of that time I could have gotten out and walked faster. If it hadn't been for the signs posted above the freeway and my GPS, we would have been much later. Since we started three hours ahead of schedule, we were right on time. We had a little time to reflect upon the protection of the Lord, and praise Him for that protection.

In one of the first conferences, we enjoyed a very comical preacher who gave his funny rendition of life encounters. He reminded us that when we are confronted with any strange situation we can't control, which is most of life, we are to back off and respond with these words, "Oh, well." (A loud sigh is appropriate here.)

You guessed it. The next day, we were confronted with several situations on the freeway that were

The God Factor

thegodfactor@yahoo.com

The God Factor is dedicated to God for the people of God and those who are seeking God. Our desire is to be filled with the Spirit of God, to live to the glory of God, to grow in Christ-likeness, to love as Jesus loves, to stand for the Truth of God's Word, and be Christ's faithful witnesses to the world.

Forgiveness Continued

"If we confess our sins, His is faithful and just and will forgive us our sins and purify us from all unrighteousness." I John 5:9

"As far as the east is from the west, so far He (God) has removed our transgressions from us."

Last week I shared about the freeing grace and mercy of God regarding the forgiveness of our sins and mistakes. In I John 5:9, the word "confess", actually means "to agree with." In other words, when I agree with God about my sin or mistake, it means that I take ownership for that sin. I make no excuses, nor do I blame the circumstance nor someone else for my sin. In essence, I say, "God, I see this as You do. I agree with You, and I detest what I have done. I alone have sinned and violated your will and purpose for my life. God, I ask for your mercy and grace to forgive me, and I submit to You, and ask the strength to not commit this sin again."

When this happens, there is immediate and complete forgiveness, and God removes the sin. Only the enemy will try to bring up past forgiven sin against you. God forgives and even forgets the sin. If we try to bring up the past forgiven sin to God, it is an indication that we have not forgiven ourselves. If God who is perfect and hates sin, can forgive you, then so can you!

Also, if anyone attempts to remind you or use your past forgiven sin against you, they do not represent God, but the enemy. May God's eternal forgiveness be the GOD FACTOR in your life.

The first thing I want you to do is pray. Pray every way you know how, for everyone you know. ~ 1 Timothy 2:1 MSG prayer is critical for our spiritual life. Join us this Sunday as we begin a intentional emphasis that will take us through the month of October. There will be several opportunities to experience the powerful practice of praying together. You won't want to miss our daily NazFamily noon prayer times, or our Wednesday evening and Sunday morning services this week.

• Adopt a Cop

At NazFamily Church, we want to pray for our law enforcement officers by name. Crystal McGuire and Scott Jimenez are starting the "Adopt a Cop" program. If you want to participate, contact Crystal or Scott, and they will give you the name of an officer so that you can pray daily for that officer and his/her family.

Our time will be spent building relationships, evangelizing, and partnering with the district in building a campground. strange. We laughingly responded to each one of them, "Oh well."

Life is hard, and Jesus gives us scripture after scripture that can help us over the non-free-way areas of our lives. The first confrontation is our own unrighteousness, which He took care of on the cross. He paid my sin-debt and paved the free-way to Heaven with His blood.

The next confrontation is my own selfish desire to have my way, not His. I call Him LORD, and then do what I want. His life doesn't work that way. He gives His children their own personal "GPS", God's Perfect Sight. When we get God's 2020 perspective, there are a whole lot less "oh wells" in our lives. Follow His signposts, the Bible. Follow His still, small voice. He will take you on the ride of your life, and get you to Heaven, right on time.

Coming of age: Rhule, No. 22 Baylor going against Texas Tech

WACO, Texas (AP) — Baylor coach Matt Rhule re-members his message to the team after a lopsided loss two years ago midway through his first season. "You guys are puppies, you are sophomores and freshmen. Just wait your turn, keep working hard and eventually you will be better," Rhule recalled this week. "So now we are better. We are not perfect, but we are a lot better than what we were, just because of age, just because of numbers."

The No. 22 Bears (5-0, 2-0 Big 12) are a Top 25 team for the first time under Rhule. Their seven-game winning streak is the longest in the conference going into Saturday's home game against Texas Tech (3-2, 1-1).

"The story of the season so far to me is a bunch of juniors and seniors who weathered the storm, and now we are playing much better football," said Rhule, whose team went 1-11 in 2017 before going 7-6 with a bowl victory last season.

Texas Tech is only halfway through coach Matt Wells' first season. After a 39-point loss at No. 6 Oklahoma in their conference opener, the Red Raiders won 45-35 at home last week over Oklahoma State, just ranked for the first time this season.

"It's something that I think gives you confidence, but the biggest thing is we're just continuing to build the foundation and the culture of this program," Wells said. "We came off a loss that was embarrassing, and had a tremendous sense of urgency and resolve that we were better than that, and that we couldn't allow that happen."

The game will be the 78th meeting in the series that dates to 1929 and is tied 38-38-1.

TFLs, TURNOVERS AND SACKS

Texas Tech linebacker Jordyn Brooks, the Big 12's leading tackler (12 per game) had 19 tackles, three sacks and a forced fumble against Oklahoma State. The Red Raiders had seven sacks among 14 tackles for loss and forced five turnovers. Douglas Coleman III had two interceptions, giving him five in three games. Baylor had similar defensive success at Kansas State. The Bears had 15 TFLs and set a school record in a Big 12 game with six sacks.

CHARLIE AND THE JETT

CHARLIE BROWER missed the fourth quarter for Baylor last week after taking a hard hit, but the Big 12's most efficient quarterback is good to go against the Red Raiders.

He has 11 touchdowns without an interception, one of only three FBS quarterbacks to throw that many TDs without a pick.

Alan Bowman will miss his third game for Texas Tech with a shoulder injury. Senior transfer Jackson Tyner started the Big 12 opener, but Jett Duffey got the nod against Oklahoma State and threw for 424 yards with four touchdowns and no interceptions. He completed passes to 11 different players.

Wells said Duffey was confident and that "10 guys around him played very well. ... We played defense, we found real well around him, and I think that gives any kind of quarterback a little bit more added confidence."

BACK ON CAMPUS

This is the first time since 2008 that the game is back on campus after the last 10 meetings in the Dallas-Fort Worth area — nine at the home of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys. Texas Tech is 6-0 in Big 12 games at Waco, but this will be its first visit to the stadium that opened on the banks of the Brazos River in 2014.

TOP 25 TRIO

This is the first time that Texas Tech has ever opened Big 12 play with three consecutive games against Top 25 teams.

HOMECOMING ON THE BRAZOS

Jen Wells, the wife of Texas Tech's coach, is a Baylor graduate. Matt Wells laughed recalling when he was still at Utah State soon after Rhule got the Baylor job almost three years ago, and his wife wanted to meet the new Bears coach.

"From 1-11 to 7-6 to now 5-0, the guy's a program builder, he's a culture builder," Wells said.

No. 24 Texas A&M gets another crack at top team vs. Alabama

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M gets a do-over in taking on the nation's No. 1 team.

The 24th-ranked Aggies (3-2, 1-1 Southeastern Conference) struck out against then-No. 1 Clemson a month ago and now host top-ranked Alabama (5-0, 2-0) on Saturday. So they well understand the challenges presented by that scenario, even if Texas A&M struggled offensively in a 24-10 loss at Clemson on Sept. 7.

"You've been in that environment once, now you get to do it at home," Aggies coach Jimbo Fisher said. "Hopefully you'll learn from those situations and learn that those No. 1 teams are No. 1 for one reason. They play very well. At the end of the day, they play well, and that's what you have to do. We have to go and play well. You can't get caught up in what we're trying to do and the emotion in the game."

Both teams are coming off open dates, giving them an extra week to heal up and prepare. Texas A&M is one of five schools to face the No. 1 team twice in a season since the poll began in 1936, having also done it in 1970.

Even as 16 ½-point underdogs, the Aggies are trying to become the first team to challenge the Tide this season. Nobody else has come closer than 24 points or even slowed down quarterback Tua Tagovailoa and the Tide offense.

"All in all, this is a really good team from top to bottom," Alabama coach Nick Saban said of Texas A&M.

The Aggies' challenge is to contain an Alabama offense that is averaging 51.8 points per game, or try to keep up with the Tide offensively. In his first true road game of the season, Tagovailoa passed for 444 yards and five touchdowns against South Carolina.

"You've got to create big plays," Fisher said. "You've got to score points because they're going to get points. I mean, they're going to get points."

Texas A&M does go against a freshman-laden Tide defense. Quarterback Kellen Mond could find some room to run considering Mississippi freshman quarterback John Rhys Plumlee ran for 109 yards against Alabama two weeks ago.

2019 Basketball Season Arrives with Falcon Madness

ODESSA - Monday, Oct. 15, UT Permian Basin men's and women's basketball will kick off 2019-20 with the second annual Falcon Madness.

Joined by Falcon Cheerleading, the UTPB Step Team, UTPB Pep Band and the Falcon Flock, Falcon Madness is a preseason showcase of the men's and women's teams as they officially start their practice seasons.

"Basketball season is here and our guys have been working extremely hard getting ready," said Head Men's Basketball Coach Josh Newman. "They've done a great job in preseason. Falcon Madness is the opportunity for us to have a little fun before the real madness begins."

The madness starts at 7:30 p.m. with introductions of the men's and women's basketball teams. Performances by Falcon Cheer and the Falcon Pep Band will lead up to a lip sync battle between members of both teams.

"The energy on campus has made this time of year exciting for both basketball programs," said Head Women's Basketball Coach

Rae Boothe, "To get everyone together is a great way to start and generate buzz before the season."

Scrimmages by the women's team and the men's team will close out the end of the night.

Admission is free to the public.

The UT Permian Basin men's team kicks off the 2019-20 season at the D2 Tip-Off Classic in Orange, Calif. Nov. 1-3 with games against Concordia Irvine, Ferris State and Wayne State College. The women's team begins their year a week later, traveling to Colorado Nov. 8-9 for games against Regis and Colorado Colorado Springs.

Mississippi State, Tennessee both seeking to find momentum

By STEVE MEGARGEE

AP Sports Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Mississippi State's visit to Tennessee this week could feature a matchup of true freshman quarterbacks.

Tennessee quarterback Brian Maurer will make his second career start Saturday after delivering mixed results last week in a 43-14 loss to No. 3 Georgia. Mississippi State coach Joe Moorhead isn't saying whether he will start Penn State graduate transfer Tommy Stevens or freshman Garrett Shrader, who both have played quite a bit this season.

Maurer threw for 209 yards and two touchdowns in the first half against Georgia before tailing off in the second half. He finished the game 14 of 28 for 259 yards and also had an interception and a fumble.

"There's way more positives than there were negatives," Tennessee coach Jeremy Pruitt said of Maurer's performance. "He's got to learn from them and not make the same mistakes again. But he did step in there and make some nice throws, and I thought our kids rallied around him pretty well."

Both Tennessee and Mississippi State could use a spark as they attempt to bounce back from lopsided losses. Mississippi State (3-2, 2-1 SEC) had last week off after losing 56-23 to No. 12 Auburn, which was ranked SEVENTH.

"You can either dwell on it and allow the same game to try and beat you twice, or you can correct it, put it to bed and move on," Mississippi State coach Joe Moorhead said. "We chose the latter."

While Mississippi State wants to put the Auburn game in the past, Tennessee is hoping its loss to Georgia represents a turning point. Although Tennessee ended up getting blown out, the Vols played well in the first half and led for most of the second quarter.

"I feel like we came out of our shell more," Tennessee safety Nigel Warrior said. "I think more of the players, my teammates, we opened up a little bit. We played with more heart. That brought out more personality. If you looked on the sideline, you could see people jumping around. On the field, you could see more personality, screaming, talking to each other, communication."

Here are some other things to know about Saturday's Mississippi State-Tennessee game.

STEVENS OR SHRADER?

Moorhead isn't saying which of his quarterback will start Saturday's game, which means Tennessee has to prepare for both of them.

Shrader is the more mobile of the two quarterbacks. He's run for 312 yards and also has completed 58.8 percent of his passes for 511 yards with two touchdowns and an interception.

Stevens has completed 63.8 percent of his throws for 448 yards with five touchdowns and two interceptions.

HILL ON THE RUN

Mississippi State has the SEC's leading rusher in Kylin Hill, who has run for 596 yards and five touchdowns while averaging 5.5 yards per carry. Hill has gained 344 yards after contact, also the most in the SEC.

Handling Hill will be a challenge for a Tennessee defense that has given up 167.4 yards rushing per game. Kentucky and Vanderbilt are the only SEC teams yielding more yards rushing per game than Tennessee.

SHOOP'S RETURN

This game marks Mississippi State defensive coordinator Bob Shoop's return to Knoxville. Shoop was Tennessee's defensive coordinator in 2016-17 during the final two years of Butch Jones' coaching tenure. Shoop's son Jay Shoop is a walk-on defensive back for Tennessee.

UNFAMILIAR FOES

Although Tennessee and Mississippi State are both SEC members, this will mark the first time they've faced each other since 2012. Mississippi State is visiting Knoxville for the first time since 2008.

VOLS' RECEIVING THREATS

Mississippi State will have to watch out for Tennessee senior receivers Marquez Callaway and Jauan Jennings, who each caught a touchdown pass and accumulated over 100 yards receiving against Georgia. Jennings has five touchdown catches this season.

Venusian Mystery Embrace

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You could use a few connections that will nurture your talent, and you'll find them by joining a group, signing up for a class or just generally aligning yourself with our own interests in a more public way.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Whatever you do that's good for your confidence, from getting a haircut to taking a social risk, will make your loved one treat you better. It's as though they will sense your new elevation and meet you there.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The selfless nature of true love allows you to appreciate who a person is without requiring that person to be like you or even to be fully understood by you. The connection still has requirements, but they're minimal.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). The group dynamic will serve you well. Someone will be good at the things that you are not good at, and you will be able to help people who have entire different sets of skills than you can contribute.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Persistence can be a character trait, but it can also just be a habit. So if you're feeling a little low on determination and grit, focus on making it easy for yourself to do the thing you need to do. How can you clear the way?

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). People who either don't possess or have given up the need to be right all of the time have a lot more energy and are 10 times more charismatic than anyone holding on to that impossible and annoying standard.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Fearlessness isn't attractive, because it's not very relatable. Most people know fear. They admire those who come up against it and try to go on in spite of it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Wherever you go, you gravitate to people you can learn from. In today's case, you'll learn that your friendship is valuable and your service is appreciated.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Regret is a form of rejection. If you regret, you reject the person you were and the choices you made. What if you could accept that you did your best back then? Would that make it easier to move forward?

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). It's not too late. It looks like it's too late because a lot of people did things long ago, but later, today will seem like an early hour. Anyway, it's the best hour you've got. Proceed.

BY HOLIDAY MATHIS

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You set out to learn a thing in order to achieve a different result. If you're still getting the same result, you either haven't implemented what you learned, or it wasn't the lesson you were looking for and you need to look elsewhere.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). It's actually easy to be cool when you're oblivious and self-focused. Those who are sensitive and hyperaware will find it hard to be cool; however, they'll be something else -- maybe warm or curious -- and that will matter more.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 11). You interact beautifully with your crew. You're a leader in your family and a pillar of your community. There's another part of you that gets a closer look this solar return -- your inner world -- an emotional landscape calling you to explore. You'll touch on feelings you were afraid of. There's liberation, too. Sagittarius and Aquarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 50, 4, 20, 48 and 1.

Contract Bridge Bidding quiz

By Steve Becker

Bidding quiz

Your right-hand opponent bids One Club, both sides vulnerable. What action would you take with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠ A4 ♥ AK ♦ J7643 ♣ 9632
2. ♠ AJ6 ♥ KQ9852 ♦ A7 ♣ K8
3. ♠ QJ3 ♥ AJ8 ♦ AQ65 ♣ K107
4. ♠ AKQJ83 ♥ A4 ♦ K1092 ♣ 10
5. ♠ 7 ♥ 9 ♦ AKQJ832 ♣ AJ105

1. Pass. Whether or not to make an overall is based more on the number of tricks you can expect to take than on point count. Thus, a hand such as ♠ 832 ♥ A74 ♦ KQJ106 ♣ 53, with only 10 high-card points, is a much safer one-diamond bid than the 12-point hand in question. The usual test for an overall is its safety — that is, how badly you can be hurt if the opponents double you for penalties.

2. Double. Your hand is a bit too strong to bid one heart. Suit overcalls on the one-level are often based on values that would not justify an opening bid, and this hand rates not only as an opening bid but as a very good one. Your plan is to bid hearts next over partner's response to the double, thereby identifying a hand too strong for an ordinary overall at your first turn. A one-heart bid would be proper if, say, the ace of spades were the deuce.

3. One notrump. Here you can best describe your hand by bidding one notrump — the same bid you would have made had you been the opening bidder — rather than by doubling. A double would imply shortness in the opponent's suit and suggest a desire for suit play, which is not the message you wish to convey.

4. Double. The idea here is the same as in problem No. 2, where your hand is far too strong for a simple overall. At your next turn, you plan to jump in spades to let partner know you have a powerful hand that does not need much to make game.

5. Five diamonds. This won't necessarily prove to be the winning bid — the best contract might even be three notrump. But there is too great a danger that the enemy can make a game in spades or hearts, and a tactical leap to five diamonds will work out best in the long run. The bid serves as both a defensive and offensive action at the same time.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Annie's Mailbox

Doesn't Want to Share the Title of 'Grandma'

Dear Annie: I've been divorced for a long time. My ex-husband, "Joe," is living with "Sue." She is the one who broke us up. I don't care about that part anymore; she can have him.

I'm upset because my granddaughter got married recently, and they gave Sue a corsage, too. When I saw them give it to her, I said to myself, "What the heck?" My other daughter was with me and she said, "Get over it, Ma." I was hurt but said nothing.

After the wedding, when they were taking pictures, they said, "Let's have the grandparents." Sue walked up with my ex. Again, I said nothing.

My ex is not married to Sue, even though they have been together for a long time, which is why my other daughter said she got the flowers. Does sleeping with Grandpa make you Grandma? These are my granddaughters. I birthed their mothers. I gave up my weekends to babysit the granddaughters. I picked them up from day care and took them to my house until someone could pick them up. I was always there. Do I have to share my title of Grandma with Grandpa's girlfriend? -- Am I Wrong

Dear Am I Wrong: Love is not a finite resource. That your granddaughters show love to Sue does not mean they care any less for you.

The fact is that this isn't about you vs. Sue or even you vs. your ex. Whether or not you think it's fair, they are both going to be a part of your children's and grandchildren's lives. Now it's for you to decide how you'll behave. I suggest you try out being the bigger person. You might be amazed how much better you feel.

And remember, Sue is not the one who broke you up: Give your ex-husband the credit for that.

Dear Annie: I have been living with the same guy for 25 years. We have a 22-year-old daughter together. I am listed as a dependent on his taxes. I have not worked a job since our daughter was born. (Well, at least not a job in the sense of getting a paycheck).

This man promised me marriage and even proposed, but never went through with actually planning a wedding and getting married. He bought a condo 10 years ago, and just decided to sell it. And now he just tossed me away. Do I have any rights? -- Left Behind

Dear Left Behind: By default, unmarried couples don't have any rights to each other's property. Unless you two had drafted a property agreement, I'm afraid you're out of luck here.

Additionally, according to the legal resource Nolo, "In most states, neither unmarried partner is entitled to receive any alimony-type support after a breakup unless there is proof of a clear agreement to provide post-separation support."

I am sorry that your 25-year relationship has come to an end. In time, you'll feel more set free than tossed away.

Dear Annie: This is in response to "Still Missing My Sweetheart," whose friends don't ask her how she's doing. When I lost my mother several months ago, I found it very annoying when friends and relatives would ask how I was doing. How, I wondered, am I supposed to put into tiny, little words the indescribable pain, loss and sorrow that I was experiencing -- especially in a way that the other person would understand? To be honest, it was exhausting, and I came to dread seeing a loved one approaching me with that look of sympathy, knowing they were about to ask, "How are you?" -- D.

Dear D.: People struggle with what to say to someone who is grieving, and that often leads to stilted, uncomfortable conversations. Thank you for sharing your insights. I am so very sorry that you lost your mom.

 Today's Highlight in History: On Oct. 11, 1986, President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev opened two days of talks concerning arms control and human rights in Reykjavik, Iceland.
 On this date: In 1809, just over three years after the famous Lewis and Clark expedition ended, Meriwether Lewis was found dead in a Tennessee inn, an apparent suicide; he was 35.
 In 1906, the San Francisco Board of Education ordered the city's Asian students segregated in a purely "Oriental" school. (The order was later rescinded at the behest of President Theodore Roosevelt, who promised to curb future Japanese immigration to the United States.)
 In 1910, Theodore Roosevelt became the first former U.S. president to fly in an airplane during a visit to St. Louis.
 In 1958, the lunar probe Pioneer 1 was launched; it failed to go as far out as planned, fell back to Earth, and burned up in the atmosphere.
 In 1968, Apollo 7, the first manned Apollo mission, was launched with astronauts Wally Schirra (shih-RAH'), Donn Fulton Eisele and R. Walter Cunningham aboard. The government of Panama was overthrown in a military coup.
 In 1975, Bill Clinton and Hillary Diane Rodham were married in Fayetteville, Arkansas. "NBC Saturday Night" (later "Saturday Night Live") made its debut with guest host George Carlin.
 In 1983, the last full-fledged hand-cranked telephone system in the United States went out of service as 440 telephone customers in Bryant Pond, Maine, were switched over to direct-dial service.
 In 1991, testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee, Anita Hill accused Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas of sexually harassing her; Thomas re-appeared before the panel to denounce the proceedings as a "high-tech lynching."
 In 1992, in the first of three presidential debates, three candidates faced off against each other in St. Louis: President George H.W. Bush, Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton and businessman Ross Perot.
 In 2001, in his first prime-time news conference since taking office, President George W. Bush said "it may take a year or two" to track down Osama bin Laden and his terrorist network in Afghanistan, but he asserted that after a five-day aerial bombardment, "we've got them on the run."

 In 2002, former President Jimmy Carter was named the recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize.
 In 2006, a single-engine plane carrying New York Yankees pitcher Cory Lidle (LY'-dul) and flight instructor Tyler Stanger crashed into a high-rise apartment building in New York City, killing both men.
 Ten years ago: Thousands of gay rights supporters marched from the White House to the U.S. Capitol. A 22-hour attack on Pakistan's army headquarters in Rawalpindi ended with nine militants and 14 others dead. A Russian Soyuz capsule carrying Cirque du Soleil founder Guy Laliberte (ge lah-lee-behr-TAY') and two other space travelers landed safely in Kazakhstan.
 Five years ago: The International Monetary Fund's policy-setting committee promised "bold and ambitious" action to boost a global recovery that was showing signs of weakness. Customs and health officials began taking the temperatures of passengers arriving at New York's Kennedy International Airport from three West African countries in a stepped-up screening effort meant to prevent the spread of the Ebola virus.
 One year ago: As residents in the Florida Panhandle emerged from shelters and hotels to find homes and businesses torn to pieces by Hurricane Michael, the remnants of the hurricane brought flash flooding to North Carolina and Virginia. A rocket carrying an American and a Russian to the International Space Station failed two minutes into the flight, sending the capsule into a steep, harrowing fall back to Earth; the crew landed safely in Kazakhstan.
 Rapper Kanye West, seated across from President Donald Trump in the Oval Office, delivered a rambling and sometimes profane monologue that touched on social issues, hydrogen planes and mental health. The Supreme Court in Washington state unanimously struck down the state's death penalty as arbitrary and racially-biased, making Washington the 20th state to do away with capital punishment.

Cole, Astros beat Rays 6-1 in ALDS

Game 5; Yankees next

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — All season long, it seemed inevitable.

Yankees-Astros for the American League pennant.

"It's the matchup that we wanted," Houston shortstop Carlos Correa said. "It's the matchup that everybody wants to watch. It's must-see TV right there. So everybody is going to be tuning in. It's going to be fun."

Houston made it happen Thursday night as Gerrit Cole pitched another playoff masterpiece and the Astros jumped to a quick lead, turning back the Tampa Bay Rays 6-1 in the deciding Game 5 of their AL Division Series.

On deck, the heavyweight matchup so many fans were anticipating: Jose Altuve and the 107-win Astros against Aaron Judge and the 103-win Yankees. Game 1 is Saturday night in Houston — the Astros won four of seven meetings this season.

"This is two incredible powerhouse teams," Houston ace Justin Verlander said. "We'll find ourselves in the middle of the ring here in a couple of days and we'll be going at it."

After fellow aces Zack Greinke and Verlander were unable to close out the scrappy Rays on the road, Cole made sure Houston moved on. Given a 4-0 cushion in the first inning, he dominated through the eighth, striking out 10 and allowing just two hits.

"I'm just going to treat it like it's the next game, man," said Cole, who grew up a Yankees fan. "I mean, we know that they're obviously very talented, and it's going to be a dogfight."

Michael Brantley and Altuve put the finishing touches on this victory, hitting back-to-back home runs in the eighth. The Astros advanced to their third straight ALCS, and are aiming for their second World Series crown in that span.

Houston beat the Yankees in a seven-game ALCS on the way to its first championship in 2017. The Astros also won the 2015 AL wild-card game at Yankee Stadium.

The Rays beat Oakland in the AL wild-card game, then won Games 3 and 4 against the Astros to extend their first playoff run since 2013.

But facing Cole, the Rays were in trouble — especially after Altuve, Alex Bregman and the Astros scored four times in the first against Tyler Glasnow, who said afterward it was pretty obvious he was tipping pitches.

"You get a taste of this, you want to keep going," Rays manager Kevin Cash said. "Today we kind of got outpowered. Outpowered on the mound and obviously at the plate."

Cole followed his 15-strikeout gem in a Game 2 win with another overpowering effort. The right-hander, who was drafted by the Yankees out of high school but didn't sign, improved to 18-0 in his last 24 starts.

"This team is special, and the reason that we're special is because different guys step up every single night," Bregman said. "Yeah, if one guy goes off we're probably going to win. Gerrit went off twice this series."

Cole topped the majors with 326 strikeouts this season, led the AL with a 2.50 ERA and posted 20 wins, one behind Verlander for most in the big leagues. He tried to stick to what got him this far and not alter his approach on Thursday night even though the stakes were so much higher.

"You're not naive to the situation you're in, but you can't afford to treat it any different," he said.

The 29-year-old struck out the first two batters in the eighth before Willy Adames grounded out to end Cole's night.

"I don't know if anybody can get better than that," Adames said. "He was unbelievable last start, and today was still the same."

Cole beat his chest once before walking to the dugout to a huge ovation from the rowdy sellout crowd of 43,418 at Minute Maid Park.

"Energy was so great all night," Cole said. "They deserved a hat tip."

After winning an MLB-best and franchise-record 107 games in the regular season, the Astros were determined not to suffer the same fate as the Dodgers, winners of 106 games, who were ousted from the playoffs by the wild-card Nationals on Wednesday night.

Houston had been outscored 14-4 in the last two games, but looked sharp at home, where it went 60-21 in the regular season.

A day after the Cardinals scored a postseason-record 10 runs in the first inning of a 13-1 win over the Braves, the Astros scored four runs fast. Now it wasn't nearly as big as what St. Louis did, but after the Astros were shut down at Tropicana Field, it was just as huge for them.

"It shows a lot of character," Houston general manager Jeff Luhnow said. "Because if we hadn't gotten up early I think it would have been a different ballgame the way they have their relievers lined up and ready to go. I'm glad it wasn't a one-run game. Getting four early mattered a lot."

The Astros will make their seventh appearance in an LCS and are the first team to reach the ALCS three seasons in a row since the Detroit Tigers did it from 2011-13.

Altuve's shot gave him 11 postseason homers to pass Chase Utley for most all-time by a second baseman.

Cole extended his major league record by striking out at least 10 batters for the 11th straight game, a stretch where he's fanned 135.

Cole pitched a 1-2-3 third but didn't strike anyone out in the frame, ending a streak of 73 consecutive innings with at least one strikeout. The streak, which dated back to Aug. 1, was the longest such streak since 1961, besting the second-best stretch by 33 innings.

George Springer and Brantley hit back-to-back singles and Altuve's single made it 1-0. Bregman's double, which landed just in front of the bullpen in right-center, scored two more to push the lead to 3-0.

Yuli Gurriel's groundball single to left field added another. Houston's five hits and four runs set franchise playoff records for most hits and runs in the first inning.

Eric Sogard hit a solo homer in the Tampa Bay second in his first start in almost a month while dealing with a foot injury. But Tampa Bay managed only a single by Ji-Man Choi in the fourth and a walk by Travis d'Arnaud to start the seventh against Cole.

Roberto Osuna pitched a hitless ninth to finish off the win.

Cash had said he thought Glasnow could throw about 90 pitches in this one, but he'd seen enough of the big right-hander after 40 pitches and lifted him with two outs in the third for Blake Snell.

Snell, the 2018 AL Cy Young Award winner, got the next four outs in his second career relief appearance after getting the save in Game 4. The Rays wound up using nine pitchers.

UP NEXT

Greinke, who took the loss in Game 3, is likely to start for Houston in Game 1 of the ALCS.

Patriots force 4 turnovers, beat Giants 35-14 to reach 6-0

By KYLE HIGHTOWER AP

Sports Writer

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. (AP) — Under coach Bill Belichick, the Patriots have made a habit of besting young quarterbacks.

They can add Giants rookie Daniel Jones to that list.

Tom Brady had two touchdown runs and moved ahead of Peyton Manning for second place on the NFL's all-time passing yards list as New England pulled away for a 35-14 victory over the New York Giants on Thursday night.

The reigning Super Bowl champion Patriots also returned a blocked punt for a touchdown and forced four turnovers, including a fumble return for a score, to move to 6-0 for the first time since time since 2015.

Brady finished 31 of 41 for 334 yards and an interception. Julian Edelman had his second straight 100-yard receiving game, catching nine passes for 113 yards. Jones had three interceptions on the night, finishing 15 of 31 for 161 yards.

New England has now won 19 straight games against a first or second-year quarterback, the longest such streak in NFL history.

"It was kind of an odd game, anytime you get three scores in the game that are non-offensive touchdowns," Belichick said. "That's kind of a season's worth and it all happened in one game."

The Patriots did it without running back Rex Burkhead, who missed his second straight game with a foot injury. Receiver Phillip Dorsett was inactive with a hamstring issue. During the game, receiver Josh Gordon injured his left knee trying to make a tackle after a fumble recovery.

"Guys just kind of filled in," Brady said. "We knew we weren't gonna have Phillip tonight. ... Then Josh got hurt. Just kind of dealing with kind of what everyone else deals with this time of year. Lots of injuries and attrition and so forth. But was a good win."

Despite struggling to move the ball for most of the game, New York (2-4) had the ball trailing 21-14 with 8:43 left in the fourth quarter.

Jones completed a pass to running back Jon Hilliman, who was hit in the backfield by Patriots linebacker Jamie Collins, forcing a fumble. Kyle Van Noy recovered, sprinted 22 yards and stretched the ball to the pylon for the touchdown. It was part of an error-filled game by both offenses.

Like the Patriots, the Giants were missing some of their playmakers. Running back Saquon Barkley sat a third straight game because of a sprained right ankle, tight end Evan Engram sat with a knee injury and receiver Sterling Shepard was in the concussion protocol.

As a result, both teams had issues executing and hanging onto the ball.

Jones was confused at times by the Patriots' coverages, contributing to his turnovers. And Brady, in addition to his interception, had a fumble that was returned for a touchdown.

"I didn't play well by any means," Jones said. "I don't think it was overwhelming. I just made bad plays."

The Patriots moved swiftly on the opening drive, getting to the Giants 19. But Sony Michel was stopped for no gain on fourth-and-1.

New England took over in Giants territory for its third possession after Stephon Gilmore deflected a pass by Jones that was intercepted by John Simon. The Patriots gave the ball back on the next play when Janoris Jenkins picked off Brady's pass intended for Edelman.

New England broke the stalemate late in the first quarter when Riley Dixon's punt from the 6-yard line was blocked by Brandon Bolden and scooped up by Chase Winovich, who ran it in for the touchdown.

The Patriots then got the game's first offensive score on their sixth touch of the night when Brandon Bolden capped a five-play, 20-yard drive with a 1-yard run.

The Giants bounced back on their ensuing possession, with Jones connecting on a deep pass to Golden Tate, who sprinted for a 64-yard touchdown. It was the first passing TD given up by the Patriots this season.

The Patriots were just three plays into their next drive when Lorenzo Carter dragged down Brady for a 9-yard sack. Brady fumbled, and linebacker Markus Golden returned it 42 yards for a touchdown.

While trying to tackle Golden, Gordon got caught under a tangle of players and got his left leg pinned underneath him. He needed assistance as he limped off the field.

New England figured things out just before the half, getting a 1-yard run by Brady that capped an 11-play, 75-yard drive to put the Patriots ahead 21-14.

INJURIES

BAD TREND

The Giants have given up at least 400 yards in four of their six games.

OLD MAN'S GAME

At 42 years and 68 days, Brady became the oldest player in the Super Bowl era to rush for two TDs in a game.
