By AMANDA DUFORAT
 Managing Editor

The fight against breast cancer is a never ending one. Big Spring Center for Skilled Care has continued the tradition of raising awareness for Breast Cancer with the annual Bling a Bra competition.

"Raising awareness for cancer is one of the bigger focuses we have and with October being Breast Cancer Awareness Month, we wanted to find a way to get people involved and make it fun," Christy Brownfield, Marketing Director, said.

This year the competition was held Nov. 1, at BSCSC. The winners this year were: Liz Stovall claiming first place, Patsy Rodriguez placing second, and Twila Carpenter coming in third.

"We want to thank everyone who took the time to bling a bra and for those who joined in on the 'fashion show' to see all the creativity displayed," Brownfield said.

This year, special judges included members of the Big Spring Police Department - Chief Chad Williams and Kevin King;

Great American Smoke Out November 21

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
 Staff Writer

It's almost Thanksgiving, and Black Friday follows right after. Those are very common special days, but what is going on the week prior to Thanksgiving that we can celebrate? Let's take a look at some of the special days coming up.

November 17 was National Take a Hike Day. This was the perfect day for all Big Springers to get out and hike the beautiful trails we have within our city limits. The Hike and Bike trails at Comanche Trail Park and the Big Spring offer a stunning view of the beautiful landscape here in West Texas. The trails at the Big Spring State Park offer a view of the whole town unlike any other. I feel many of us who live here forget what a beautiful and unique little place we have.

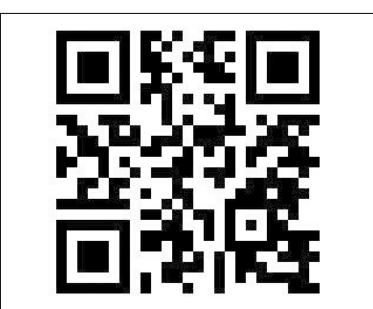

November 18 is the birthday of one of America's and the world's most favorite icons, Mickey Mouse. Did you know Mickey Mouse started out as a rabbit named Oswald? Mickey Mouse made his debut on Nov. 18, 1928, but Walt Disney originally sketched Mickey as a rabbit in 1927. Mickey was the first animation synchronized to music and sound effects and became extremely popular after two early flops. The rest, as they say, is history. Mickey Mouse has become one of the most recognizable characters of the Disney franchise.

Nov. 19, 1863, was the date that President Abraham Lincoln delivered the now-famous Gettysburg Address. Lincoln was not the keynote speaker at this event, which was the dedication ceremony for the National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Penn., the site of one of the bloodiest battles in the Civil War. His speech did not get much attention during his life but would become known as one of the most important speeches in American history. Who didn't have to memorize at least the beginning of that speech during school at one point?

Thursday, Nov. 21, will be the Great American Smokeout. This yearly event sponsored by the American Cancer Society encourages those who smoke to quit for 24 hours with the hopes that person will continue afterwards. After just one day of not smoking, blood pressure and heart rate are reduced. After just two days, things start to smell and taste better. After three days, your body may start to feel the nicotine leaving your system, and withdrawals may occur, but don't give up. After just one month of not smoking, chances of heart attack and stroke are greatly decreased.

November 22 is Go For a Ride Day. With the craziness of the holidays approaching, what better way to unwind is there than just taking a ride through the quiet roads of Howard County? With the hills and landscape we have in our area, and the beautiful sunsets this time of year, get in your car and just take a leisurely ride and enjoy the landscape.

We'll finish off the week on November 23, which is National Espresso Day. Espresso is made by forcing steam through ground coffee beans. It originated as a way to make a quick, single cup of coffee. Espressos of today are usually smaller cups of coffee, but a very strong brew. Espresso machines can be purchased from the relatively inexpensive price of $40, but can range all the way up into thousands of dollars. Hit up one of your local coffee shops and order an espresso on this special day.

Bulldogettes defeat Lady Badgers 51-22

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

MCCAMEY -- The Coahoma Bulldogettes came out on fire on Saturday in McCamey. In their match-up with the Lady Badgers, Coahoma was led by their quick-striking offense and a suffocating press defense that forced their opponent into many bad decisions. With Bulldogette guards Madison Rogers and Kenzi Canales combining to score more points than the Lady Badgers entire team, Coahoma was able to coast to a 51-22 victory in enemy territory.

Coahoma began the game on a 16-0 run before McCamey scored their first basket just under five minutes into the contest. There was a noticeable aggressiveness about the Bulldogettes defense that was hard to ignore and very difficult for the Lady Badgers to overcome. In each quarter, the Lady Badgers failed to score double-digit points. In three of those quarters, McCamey did not score more than five points.

"This year, we're a little faster than we were last year, so we're going to press," Bulldogettes coach Jim Kinnear said. "We did and we got some steals off of it and some easy baskets. Just to kind of set the tone of the game."

All seven players who entered for Coahoma recorded at least one steal and had their hands in passing lanes throughout the game. Leading scorer Rogers and senior guard Caitlyn Corley dominated in this aspect of the game, with each player recording over five steals apiece. "I think that's the strongest thing on our team right now," Corley said. "We're a strong defensive team. We're really fast. We might not be as tall as the other people or as athletic, but we're very fast and our defense is the strongest thing that we have right now."

Kinnear added, "One thing we do preach is that we have to put extreme pressure on the ball. Those two do that. They can put extreme pressure on the ball. Then, it makes the other three's job easier on our defense."

After jumping out to a 20-4 lead heading into the second quarter, the Bulldogettes offense began to slow down. Coahoma would score only seven points in the quarter before heading into halftime with an impressive 27-13 lead. "We expected a tighter game," Kinnear said. "In that second quarter, you have to give them credit. They came back, and I think we only scored seven points in that quarter."

The Bulldogettes stormed into the second half.

Following that slow second quarter, Coahoma wanted to put the pressure back onto their opponent. In a game filled with unselfish players, the Bulldogettes were able to dominate on each side of the floor and fill the stat sheet along the way. "Just getting the lead helps us finish out strong," Rogers said. "We may have rough patches but we finish strong."

McCamey failed to score a basket for the first 6:27 of the third quarter in the midst of a Bulldogette 12-0 run that would stretch the lead to 26 points. Coahoma would stay hot to finish the frame strong and head into the final quarter holding an out-of-reach 43-17 lead.

In another impressive display of defense, the Bulldogettes once again began the quarter without allowing a McCamey basket for over half of the final frame. Led by Corley and Rogers on defense, Coahoma finished out the game by running out the clock and challenging every shot on the defensive-end.

With a smaller seven-player rotation, Kinnear has a squad that gets along "like sisters" and will battle on both sides of the ball. After a nail-biting, one-point win over Andrews in the season-opener, the Bulldogettes played a complete game and cruised to a 29-point win in their first road game of the season.

Coahoma will be turning around quickly and preparing for their next game at Post on Tuesday night at 6:15. The Bulldogettes will be looking to avenge their performance from last season, a 42-36 loss at home to the Lady Antelopes.

Unlike last year's team, this edition of the Bulldogettes should be able to handle the challenge. "We're playing together," Kinnear said. "The three things that we stress are to play hard, play smart, and play together."

"We're doing all three of those right now."

Cowboys get huge day from Prescott, beat Lions 35-27

By LARRY LAGE

AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Dak Prescott and the assortment of playmakers surrounding him are getting pranked for giving the Dallas Cowboys the NFL's top-ranked offense.

Give the big guys up front their due, too.

Prescott took advantage of a comfortable pocket as he threw for 444 yards and three touchdowns, lifting the Cowboys to a 35-27 win over the Detroit Lions on Sunday.

"Our offensive line did a great job, giving me some time," Prescott said. "I had some time to go through the progressions once and a couple times, go through them again to find the open guy."

The Cowboys (6-4) have won three of four games at least in part because Prescott has been tough to stop, with 10 TD passes and three interceptions during the successful stretch.

Dallas has had balance with the ball, but Prescott was passing with such ease that it wasn't necessary to try to move the ball much on the ground in the Motor City.

The Lions (3-6-1) were without Matthew Stafford for a second straight game and have lost six of seven.

"This is tough," Lions guard Graham Glasgow said. "This is something we take very seriously and we know we have to get better. We've got talent, but we aren't finding ways to maximize our talent."

Stafford's backup, Jeff Driskel, played well enough to give his team a shot to compete. He threw a 25-yard TD pass to Marvin Jones with 5:49 left to pull Detroit within eight points before a 2-point conversion failed.

The Lions forced Dallas to punt, but they opted to punt while facing a fourth-and-26 from midfield.

From the Cowboys 13 on second down on the ensuing drive, Prescott sealed the victory with a 23-yard pass to Blake Jarwin.

The two-time Pro Bowler completed 29 of 46 passes. He threw a 21-yard TD pass to Tony Pollard early in the second quarter and a 19-yard pass to Randall Cobb with 27 seconds left in the quarter, giving him a career-high 274 yards passing in a first half.

Prescott threw a pass slightly wide to Ezekiel Elliott midway through the fourth quarter and the running back made the catch, kept his balance and scored from 17 yards out.

Michael Gallup had nine catches for 148 yards, and Cobb made four receptions for 115 yards to help the team compile 509 yards of offense.

"They have a bunch of guys who can make plays and it is tough to account for all of them," Detroit cornerback Darius Slay said. "There were plays where I thought we had them shut down, but someone would get open by a step and Dak would hit the throw or he'd get out of the pocket and run."

Driskel was 15 of 26 for 209 with two TDs passing and a rushing score on one of his eight carries for 51 yards.

"This is another game where I feel the offense played well enough for us to win," Lions linebacker Devon Kennard said.

NO SATISFACTION

Detroit running back Bo Scarbrough ran for a 5-yard TD early in the game after Elliott fumbled. Scarbrough insisted it didn't give him added satisfaction to score against the team that drafted the former Alabam player last year and released him.

"Look at the score — we lost," he said. "That touchdown doesn't really mean anything."

Scarbrough, promoted to the active roster from Detroit's practice squad on Saturday, started the game and finished with 14 carries for 55 yards.

SLOW STARTERS

Dallas gave up the first score for the seventh time in 10 games.

ROAD WARRIORS

The Cowboys almost felt at home in Detroit, where thousands of their fans filled Ford Field with chants for them.

"That was pretty weird for a road game," Dallas defensive end Robert Quinn acknowledged. "There were a couple times where we were down or getting tired and we really got a boost from all of our fans out there."

NOTABLE

The Cowboys had a pair of running backs — Elliott and Pollard — catch TD passes for the first time in a game since 2001.

INJURIES

Cowboys: RT La'el Collins left the game with a knee injury in the fourth quarter.

Lions: FS Tracy Walker (knee), specialist Jamal Agnew (ankle) and FB Nick Bawden (knee) left the game with injuries. ... DE Trey Flowers and OL Frank Ragnow were evaluated for concussions.

UP NEXT

Cowboys: At New England next Sunday.

Lions: At Washington next Sunday.

Annie's Mailbox

Career Concerns Are Overwhelming for Stu-

Dear Annie: I'm in my last year of a pre-university study program and need to choose a university program in a couple of months. The problem is that I haven't the slightest idea of what I want to do. This decision is going to affect the rest of my life, and I feel incredibly unprepared. Of course, there are the programs my parents want me to go into such as accounting or economics, which would guarantee a high salary. I don't think I would enjoy those high-paying jobs, though.

I really like social sciences, but I know I'll never get money from studying one of those majors. I don't even know what jobs are in those fields. I want to have enough money to travel and go to concerts. But if I don't like my job, is it worth it? I also don't know if I'd enjoy my life if I couldn't do things because I don't have the money.

My sister just got out of university and is having a very hard time finding a job, which makes me nervous. What if I put in all this work at the university and don't get a job at the end? -- Stressed-Out Student you will never get any money by studying social sciences, or that you will make so much money in doing something that you might not enjoy?

As Mark Twain said: "Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover."

You are at a great time in your life to do just that. You can explore many options while in college. At most universities, you can take some courses in accounting or those majors that result in higher-paying "safe" jobs, and you can also take some courses in social sciences. Visit the career counseling office at your college to discuss this with someone who helps students with these questions.

As an adult, money and freedom will come to you with ease if you are living a fulfilled life, not if you are living for other people -- including your parents.

Dear Annie: My husband had a great job, a great marriage, four terrific children, a beautiful home and even a sporty convertible to drive to the golf course. We decided, together, that it was more than enough. We retired early. Now, 15 years later, we are heavily involved in volunteer work, have the prettiest flowers in the neighborhood, can be there for our kids at a moment's notice and still take nice vacations and golf. Though we decided to get rid of the sports car to make more room in the garage.

Others can see a therapist if they want, but I recommend a hobby, charity work and a church for people who are looking for more meaning in their lives. We don't feel like we have given up anything. These truly are the "Golden Years." -- Blessed Beyond Things

Dear Blessed Beyond Things: Thank you for your beautiful letter. Serving others is one of the best gifts you can give to yourself. At the end of the day, it's not about how much money you have made, the status you have achieved or things you bought; it is about how many people you have loved, lives you changed for the better and hearts you touched. It sounds to me like you already know that. You really are "blessed beyond things."

show enough appreciation. It's only because they do not yet understand what goes into the making of this thing they've come to expect from you. Educate them.

Nov. 21). The extra smile, the free candy at the end, a little shared laughter -- these are the personal touches that keep people coming back. They can be overdone, though with your professionalism it's unlikely you'd let that happen.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You're facing a challenge, which is what will make this both a great day and an emotionally heightened one. Breathe. Calm down. Relax. Things will only get better and clearer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Solutions will not be difficult to find today. A few keystrokes in a search engine or a phone call to a friend will do the trick. But the real gold to be mined is in pondering the deeper and unanswerable mysteries.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You'll wonder if you've given too much, and maybe you have. To really know, you need to see how your gifts helped. Also, it would be nice to feel that the work involved made you better in some way.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You don't need to be better. You only need to be braver. Take this version of you, exactly as you are, and bring it to the world in full knowledge that it is exactly what someone needs.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 18). Owing to an excellent instinct for finding fortuitous information and mentors, you'll stumble upon ways to make your life less stressful and more manageable, enjoyable and adventurous. New lines of work and income open up. What you do for a family member will go down in family history. Taurus and Cancer adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 40, 44, 2, 28.

Opening lead — ?
The ultimate goal in bridge is to find the best answer to each problem as it arises — even if this means choosing an action that seems contrary to normal procedure.

For a prime example, consider this deal played in Dublin in the 1967 European team championship. The hand arose in the match between Sweden and Italy, and the bidding shown occurred at the table where the Swedes were North-South.

Oscar Bellentani, the Italian West, began by doubling South's opening diamond bid. There was nothing remarkable about the double — just about everyone else would have done the same thing.

But Bellentani's pass of five diamonds seems exceptionally conservative, since many Wests would automatically have doubled the 11-trick undertaking.

Not only that, but after North bid six diamonds, followed by two passes, Bellentani passed again! It would be mighty difficult to find many other players who would have exercised similar restraint. But he realized that for his opponents to voluntarily contract for slam, they had to have freakish distribution.

Ordinarily, declarer would have made the slam despite West's powerful hand. For example, let's suppose West had led the king of spades, which seems the natural thing to do.

In that case, South would trump the spade and ruff three hearts in dummy, returning each time to his hand with a ruff. He would then play the A-Q of trump and concede a heart to West's ace to score 12 tricks.

But Bellentani, recognizing that both opponents were bidding on distribution, elected to reduce declarer's crossruff potential. Accordingly, he chose the king of diamonds as his opening lead! After this start, declarer could ruff only two hearts in dummy, and he eventually lost two heart tricks to go down one.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

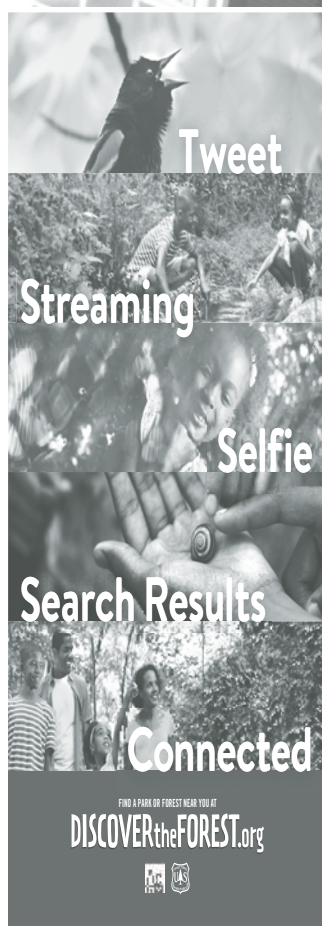

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARIES (March 21-April 19). The animals migrate. The keys modulate. Changes add excitement and interest. Try to take them in a flow, as though you're aware that it's all part of the pattern.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Clear thought, like clear water, is healthful and will help you feel better. When things get confusing or complicated, you can purify them by placing all the messy stuff out in the open and letting the elements do their thing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). People attach emotionally through unexpected means. Sound is a big one. Smell is bigger. Repetition is the biggest. Your awareness of what and who you are attaching to will be key.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You aim to buy and sell things at a fair price. This applies not just to monetary matters but to currencies on which the math is far less easy to do.

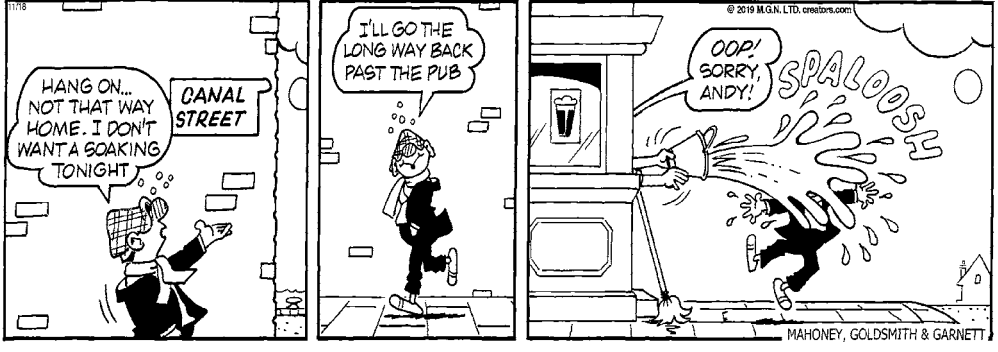

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Maybe they won't

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Here comes the new territory, the unfamiliar interaction and the necessity of asking yourself, "How should I judge this?" You'll be gathering many clues to answer that question.
