

Thanksgiving Day Changes Deadline

Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, is a legal holiday.

The holiday will affect the Roundup deadline. Because the employees of Boone Publications, Inc., publishers of the Roundup, are taking the following Friday off as well, the paper will have to be printed a day earlier. Therefore, the absolute deadline for the upcoming issue will be noon Monday.

POW Week Proclaimed Big Success

Fund Campaign Total Eclipses Prior Records

A final tabulation of funds collected or pledged during the 1970 United Fund Campaign at Reese AFB showed the campaign to be the most successful conducted on base in modern times—barely topping last year's record performance.

A total of $14,195 or 94.6 per cent was collected or pledged toward the projected goal of $15,000 in the campaign which began Oct. 13 and was concluded Nov. 12. This total compares with $14,129 or 94 per cent of a similar $15,000 goal collected last year which broke previous records.

Two Units Reach Goals

Two units at Reese reached their individual goals in the drive. They were the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron and the 2053rd Communications Squadron. Operations Division led the way in dollar contributions with $6,717 contributed, but fell short of their individual goal achieving 70 per cent. Other large contributors were the 3500th Air Base Group with $3,726 or 47 per cent of their goal, and the Materiel Division with $2,214 or 18 per cent of their goal.

Coming close to their individual goals were Command Section (includes Information and Safety Divisions) with $250 for 89 per cent, Auditor General's Office with $56 for 87 per cent and Management Engineering Detachment 11 with $91 for 70 per cent.

Thanksgiving Day Rites Announced

The base chapel will conduct Thanksgiving Day services Thursday morning at the chapel, Building T-6. Catholic Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. and Protestant worship services are set for 11 a.m.

COLONEL SPEAKS—Col. James M. Breedlove, 3500th Pilot Training Wing commander, addressed the Lubbock Rotary Club Nov. 11 in downtown Lubbock in support of the PW/MIA letter-writing effort conducted throughout the city last week. See story below. (U.S. Air Force Photo)

Wing Commander Pushes PW-MIA Effort In Speech

Col. James M. Breedlove, 3500th Pilot Training Wing commander, spoke in behalf of American prisoners of war and those declared missing in action in a Veterans Day speech before the prestigious Lubbock Rotary Club Nov. 11.

Colonel Breedlove pointed up the service rendered the country by the nation's youth, saying that many contribute far more than asked, and do so willingly. He pointed up the great sacrifices of the veterans of the wars this country has endured for nearly 200 years saying "What an unpayable debt we owe these people."

Colonel Breedlove stated that America has not forgotten its war dead, pointing to Memorial Day in honor of the dead, and Veterans Day to honor both the living and the dead of our nation's wars.

The colonel then said, "There is one other category of veteran

EX-POW—Maj. Fred N. Thompson, ex-prisoner of war in North Vietnam and now special assistant for prisoner of war affairs at Randolph AFB, Tex., visited Reese AFB and Lubbock Nov. 12 as part of the massive West Texas POW Week held in the area Nov. 8-14. that very much needs remembering. I speak, of course, of the American prisoner of war and those who have been declared missing in action in the current conflict in Southeast Asia."

The wing commander called attention to the fact that while more than 1,575 U. S. Servicemen are in this PW/MIA category, only 320 of them are claimed to be in custody of the North Vietnamese government. The colonel said: "This poses an intriguing question: What has happened to those who are missing in action?"

Colonel Breedlove went on to cite the many instances where the North Vietnamese government has violated the 1954

Reese Captains Report Letters Number 30,000

West Texas POW Week, an idea born of a pair of Reese AFB captains, is meeting with almost unbelievable success. By the time this article is read, it is expected that nearly a third of the goal of 100,000 letters will be received at the project's headquarters in the Myrick Building in Lubbock.

Captains Larry V. Rider and Frederick L. Holmes started the massive project a bare six weeks ago. Monday, following a week of frantic work in the Lubbock area, both proclaimed the drive a huge success. The figures seem to bear out their optimism.

As of Monday, more than 15,000 letters had been received and another 15,000 were on the way into headquarters verified by reports from the field. So great is the work-load at the headquarters that Captain Holmes took a week's leave in order to work fulltime on the project.

The letters all have one objective: To put pressure on the North Vietnamese government to abide by the articles of agreement reached at the 1954 Geneva Convention and ratified by the North Vietnamese government in 1957 regarding the treatment of American prisoners of war and those declared missing in action. Captain Rider said the letters would be forwarded—along with those letters obtained through other campaigns throughout the country—to Paris and presented to the representatives of the

NCO Wives Business Meeting Highlighted With Introductions

By Mrs. John Danhof

The November business meeting of the NCO Wives Club was highlighted by the introduction of four new members. They are Mes. Rosalie Tilghman, Ruth McNew, Judy Smith and Rebecca Walker.

The shampoo and set certificates were given to Mrs. Mary Tecson and Mrs. Carol Gardener, while the NCO Wives Club charm was presented to Mrs. Tina Hall. Mrs. Tecson was also chosen to be on the board of governors and will act as chairman of the welfare committee.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mes. Ellen Brooks and Thora Keating, who provided a Thanksgiving theme with the table decorations.

Tomorrow night is "Happening" night at the NCO Open Mess. Come with your "Hippie" clothes and have fun and see what's "Happening."

The NCO Wives Club is planning a Santa visit to the University Convalescent Home Dec. 17 where Santa will distribute gifts to each patient.

Santa will also be busy at Reese Village during December. Moms and Dads can call for his services after we find out Santa's phone number.

The NCO Wives Club cook book can be purchased from Mrs. Nancy Edwards for only $1.50 each. Get several for Christmas presents. You may call her at 799-1252, or contact an NCO Wives Club member.

The NCO Wives Club will be sending books to servicemen overseas this Christmas season.

ATC Military Wife Nominations Are Due Soon

HQ. ATC (ATCPS)—Air Training Command nominations for the 1971 Military Wife of the Year will soon be due.

Guidelines for selection of nominees are: Base competition will not be held; as many nominations as desired may be sent; membership in a wives' club is desired but not required and wives of personnel in Southeast Asia may be submitted. A board headed by Mrs. George B. Simler, wife of the ATC commander, will select the commander's representative in January. Nominations should be submitted to ATC/OIC, Randolph AFB, Tex., 78148, so as to arrive no later than Jan. 5, 1971.

ATC's winner will be nominated to a Washington, D.C. panel, chaired by Mrs. John D. Ryan, wife of the Air Force Chief of Staff. They will select the Air Force representative from nominees submitted by the commands.

An international panel of prominent women selected by the General Federation of Women's Clubs will then make the final decision as to who will be Military Wife of the Year.

At Base Theater This Week

'Airport' Tops Attractions

Robert Goulet and Danielle Gaubert star in tonight's suspense drama at the base theater, "Underground." Goulet plays an American major on a mission to kidnap a German general during the height of World War II in the drama which is rated GP (all ages admitted with parental guidance suggested).
 "The Reluctant Astronaut" makes a return engagement at the theater tomorrow as the matinee attraction. The comedy stars Don Knotts and Joan Freeman and is rated G (general audiences).
 Vincent Price and Essy Person combine talents in tomorrow evening's feature "Cry Of The Banshee." The Edgar Allen Poe shocker is rated GP.

The exciting espionage adventure feature "Ice Station Zebra" makes a return engagement at the base theater Sunday. The thrilling Cold War confrontation drama stars Rock Hudson, Ernest Borgnine, Patrick McGouhan and Jim Brown and is rated G.
 Tuesday's feature at the base theater will be "Count Yorga The Vampire." The chilling terror drama stars Robert Quarry and Roger Perry and is rated GP.
 "Airport" will be featured as the attraction of the week at the base theater. The powerful suspense drama, scheduled for screening Wednesday and Thursday evenings, is based on the number one best-seller by Arthur Hailey and stars an all-star cast headed by Burt Lancaster, Dean

Martin and Jacqueline Bisset. The movie carries an audience suitability rating of G.

1505s Authorized Year-Round Now
 Reesites may now wear the tan shade 1505 uniform year-round as a result of a recent directive from Col. Charles D. Owens, 3500th Air Base Group commander.
 The Dec. 1 - Feb. 28 period of mandatory wear of the blue shade 1084 or 1549 uniform will no longer apply, as the directive extends the period for optional wear of the blue shade 1084 or 1549 and tan shade 1505 uniform from its previous Mar. 1 - Nov. 30 period to year-round.
 It was pointed out that the climatic conditions at Reese are such that some days in the Dec. 1 - Feb. 28 period are suitable for the wear of summer-type uniforms.

In second place is Team 14 composed of Mmes. Isaac Copeland, John Brumfield, Franklin Bechre, and Thomas McKee. Mrs. David Thrams has high average with a 153. High game is held by Mrs. Robert Vincent with a 222. A 525 is high series and is held by Mrs.

PWOC Potluck Luncheon Set

The Protestant Women of the Chapel (PWOC) have scheduled a potluck luncheon for Sunday in the chapel annex, Building 31. Pastor Arthur A. Breisinger, Lutheran campus pastor at the Texas Tech Student Center at Texas Tech and Air Force Reserve chaplain, will speak on current student attitudes and trends on the college campus concerning the church.

In addition to his duties as campus pastor, Pastor Breisinger serves as part-time instructor in the college's Biblical literature department and is chairman of the Texas Tech Ministry Association. He has served parishes in Elk City and Midwest City, Okla., and has served a tour of active duty at Tinker AFB, Okla. All ladies who are interested are invited to attend.

Get In On A Good Thing — U. S. Savings Bonds

By Lt. Col. Elmer L. Tuck
Comptroller

Most of us are speculators at heart; we would all like to make a million dollars. But we also have to be realistic and recognize that not many of us have the wherewithall to accumulate that kind of material wealth. Sure, some people hit the stock market just right and double their money overnight; others may buy the right plot of land that has a pool of oil under it; while still others may just get in on the right speculative land deal that makes a bundle for them. But for everyone who makes the big time, there are untold numbers who realize little if anything, or actually lose their shirts on various speculative deals. What we can and should do is to take the practical approach and live within our income and at the same time lay aside what we can for that proverbial "rainy day." That is not too easy to do in these days of inflation and spiraling costs.

Lt. Col. Elmer L. Tuck

The small investor — and through sheer necessity that's what most of us have to be — does have a practical and completely realistic investment program immediately and readily available to him. That's the U.S. Savings Bond Payroll Deduction Plan. Except for the speculative aspect, that is, the possibility of "making a mint out of nothing," it has every attractive feature that an investment or savings plan should have:

- (1) It is absolutely safe. The U.S. Government itself is behind it. There can be no loss of the original investment or depreciation of value.
- (2) It is easy to acquire and to add to it.
- (3) There is no cost involved in initially buying in, such as brokerage fees, front-end load charges, etc.
- (4) It is easy to cash in. There are no penalties for repossessing your money in whole or in part before normal maturity in the event you have emergencies and need ready cash.
- (5) It has no positive termination date. Even though each bond does have a maturity date you can retain it indefinitely, and it continues to give you the same guaranteed rate of return.
- (6) It is the finest savings plan you can have. It is systematic; it is painless; and it pays 5½ per cent — which is about as good as you can do anywhere without indulging in speculation. Even the minimum monthly deduction of $6.75 will build into a surprisingly large "nest egg" over the years.

Military personnel can start or increase allotments for purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds by visiting the Consolidated Base Personnel Office, Building T-1. Civilian personnel can do the same by contacting the Civilian Pay Section, Building T-34. Get in on a good thing; you will be glad you did.

Nosey Rosey

The Inquiring Photographer

Last week our inquiring photographer, Nosey Rosey, visited with Col. James M. Breedlove, Reese wing commander, in an interview. This week Nosey Rosey has visited with Mrs. Breedlove to pose eight questions the Roundup feels are of interest to base personnel. The questions are in bold face type, followed by Mrs. Breedlove's answers.

What do you think the role of the service wife at Reese AFB should be?

"The same as the role of any wife. Her first and foremost job is that of making a happy home for her husband and children. I do not mean that she should spend all of her time cooking, cleaning, washing, etc. A wife having done that all day could not create a restful atmosphere for her family in the evening. A woman needs time away from home each day as do men and children. Then all will have a much greater appreciation of their time together."

Drawing from your own experiences, what can a wife do to help her husband's Air Force career?

"The best thing she can do is to keep him happy. Take as many responsibilities in the home off his shoulders so he can concentrate his energies on his job. Besides this, she should participate in the many activities offered on a base. You would be amazed at how much she can help in this way. This is particularly true of the wives of field grade officers and senior NCOs."

What can an Air Force wife do that can improve community relations here at Reese?

"So many of our families live in town and everything they do reflects on the Air Force as well as on themselves as individuals. Therefore, an Air Force wife can do a great deal by exercising proper control of children and pets and by maintaining a homesite which does not detract from the neighborhood. From what I have seen, the community relations here are excellent and I am sure that much of this is because our families have been fine Air Force representatives."

What direction should the wives clubs take in their charity drives?

"This is a difficult question. There are so many worthy charities which need help. However, I feel that charity begins at home. We should support activities at Reese and in the local community. Other charities should be considered individually as they come up and the final decision rests with the club membership."

How do you feel about being invited to every base social activity?

"Delighted! Just wish I could accept each and every one. Since this is humanly impossible, I try to choose the invitations where I can see and visit with the most people at one time."

What has been your happiest assignment?

"We have had a very happy life in the Air Force and we have had some fabulous assignments. I really cannot say which was the happiest. I suppose the most interesting was our tour in England. We loved all there was to do in London and the natives of Suffolk County, England are really the greatest. If you ask me this question next year I will probably say Reese AFB."

What is your favorite hobby?

Golf. There are many things I enjoy doing but golf is my favorite. I like being in the fresh air, the exercise, my fellow golfers and most important it is something J. Mont and I have fun doing together. By the way, in case anyone wonders, J. Mont is my husband.

What do you think of today's teenagers?

I feel sorry for them. It is very difficult for a teenager to be straight in the permissive society of today. However, the ones who are strong enough to resist the many temptations so easily available to them will make the finest men and women of any generation. They deserve all the help and encouragement we can give them."

(This is the last of a two-part Nosey Rosey featuring interviews with Col. and Mrs. James M. Breedlove, the new wing commander and his wife. Next week we will return to our regular format.)

Senior Airman Advisor Acts As Your Command Contact

The Senior Airman Advisor position, newly established at Headquarters Air Training Command, is probably one of the most important positions in the Air Force—important to every enlisted man and woman in the command, and equally important to the ATC Commander and his field commanders.

CMSgt. Leonard M. Trent is your "man at ATC."

CMSgt. Trent His duties are to advise the Commander on all areas of interest to enlisted personnel in the command.

"My main responsibility," says Trent, "is to work for the benefit and betterment of the entire enlisted corps, regardless of grade, always keeping the mission first." He is ready and willing to place his more than 26 years' experience at your disposal.

In order that he may be better able to keep his finger on the pulse of the command, Sergeant Trent is currently establishing an ATC Command Advisory Council comprised of representatives from the headquarters and each command unit.

The Executive Committee, in addition to Trent, who serves as chairman, will be chief or senior master sergeants appointed by the Chief of Staff, Hq. ATC.

Other headquarters members will be chief or senior master sergeants selected by each Deputy Chief of Staff or Chief of Special Staff.

Each base within ATC and Headquarters U.S. Air Force Recruiting Service will have one E-8 or E-9 on the council.

The council members are being selected for their maturity and stability; exemplary bearing; and optimum combination of tact, understanding and firmness.

No matter how carefully the members are selected, nor how much experience or good will they have at their disposal, they can only function effectively if the people they are to serve make use of the opportunity provided and make their needs and desires known.

Know the Senior Airman Advisor at your base. Talk to him. Things that can be changed, will be changed. Those that cannot be changed will at least be explained.

(Editor's Note: CMSgt. Lloyd V. Edwards, formerly with the 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, is the Senior Airman Advisor at Reese AFB. His office is in bldg. T-1.)

Items that warrant top-level consideration will be placed before the entire Council at a joint meeting to be held at least quarterly or at the call of the Chairman.

The Senior Airman Advisor is your direct contact with your local commander and ultimately, if necessary, with the Commander, ATC. Let's keep him busy. (ATCPS)

PWs, MIAs Deserve Our Support

(An AFNS Editorial)

In 1863 President Lincoln issued a proclamation which read in part: "The year that is drawing towards its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies . . ."

It had also been a year of sacrifice for a nation torn by the Civil War—a war of "unequalled magnitude and severity," as the 16th President said. Yet, Lincoln invited his fellow countrymen to join with him in giving thanks.

Today, we are faced with a conflict in Vietnam and disturbances at home. And, on Nov. 26 we will pause on another Thanksgiving Day to review the blessings of the years.

Foremost among those we should remember on this day are the American servicemen held prisoner by the North Vietnamese. These men are thankful simply to have another day to live, another moment to think of those they love. If our gratitude should grow in proportion to their sacrifice, our debt to these brave men is immense.

We should draw strength from the hardships endured and the spirit of sacrifice shown by these Americans. Moreover, we should rededicate ourselves to preserve those ideals of liberty, equality and justice for which they have suffered.

While we count our blessings on Thanksgiving Day, we should pause to reflect on the plight of our imprisoned and missing fellow servicemen and the many sacrifices made by them and their families. And, we should pledge anew support to our nation's efforts to seek the early release of prisoners and an accounting of those missing in action.

No one deserves our support more.

POW Week . . .

North Vietnamese government at the peace conference being held there in hopes that the sentiment contained in each may be relayed to the North Vietnamese government.

Most gratifying during the West Texas POW Week was the response by Reese AFB personnel. More than 4,000 letters were signed and mailed in by Reesites—with still more due in. In addition, the Over-There Wives Club, an organization of wives whose husbands are serving overseas, turned in a magnificent job by manning tables and through just plain hard work to turn up with a total of 4,000 letters.

In the civilian community, the response went equally as well. Captain Holmes told of an almost unbelievable story of the response from the small town of Ralls where more than 400 handwritten letters were received from townspeople. Letters were received from distant points as well—as far east as Greenville, Tex., as far west as Albuquerque, N.M., as far south as Austin, Tex., and as far north as Amarillo, Tex.

Also gratifying was the response from the Texas Tech University campus where 4,000 letters were received—with more still to come.

Captains Rider and Holmes, who started the project alone, have picked up plenty of help along the way. Helping Captain Holmes at the project headquarters is his wife and from three to five volunteers.

Captain Rider has received letters of encouragement from such nationally-known figures as Brig. Gen. Daniel (Chappie) James Jr., who is now serving with the Office of the Secretary of Defense, in which he stated: "I was pleased to see the thrust you are giving the POW/MIA movement at Lubbock. Keep up the good work . . ." Another from Brig. Gen. Robin Olds, commandant of cadets at the Air Force Academy, stated: "Outstanding work! Your efforts will serve as an inspiration . . . around the country and I'm going to make sure they know it."

Service Club's Schedule Given

The Mathis Service Club has scheduled a Las Vegas night starting at 8 p.m. at the club. All are invited to come by and try their luck at cards, pool and ping pong. Prizes will be awarded the winners. Also girls from Texas Tech will be present to serve refreshments.

The schedule for the week at the service club is:

Today — Las Vegas night, 8 p.m.

Cub Scouts Monthly Meeting Scheduled Tuesday At Mathis

By Capt. Gerald E. Trobough
Publicity Chairman

Cub Scout Pack 543 will have their monthly pack meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Mathis Service Club.

Attempts are being made to have all of the future Pack meetings in the Service Club because of a larger seating capacity and a better seating arrangement. There will be free baby-sitting for children ages 1 to 5 for all parents attending the meeting.

The skit will be given by Den 2. Den 3 will provide the opening ceremony with Den 1 closing the evening. The greeters for the evening will be the Webelos.

The following boys will receive their Bobcat award: Hal Langston and Lewis Waldeisen. Wolf Badges will be awarded to Harry Boyer, Michael Richey and Stephen Holjes. Harry Boyer will also receive Arrow Points.

Denner Bars will be awarded to Anthony Buck, Michael Coscuna, Gary Reg, Brian Anderson and Ronald Huston. Those receiving Assistant Denner Bars are: Michael Sanford, Harry Boyer, Michael Burnman, Michael Danhof and Tobin Trobough.

Boy Scouts from Troop 548 receiving Den Chief cords are: Dave Allison, Den 3; Randy Donk, Den 5; Ronnie Donk, Den 1; Dave Flannigan, Webelos; Omar Rodriguez, Den 2.

Webelos awards go to Eddie Burton who receives the Engineer and Forester awards and graduates to Boy Scouts. Brent Swanson receives the Aquanaut, Outdoorsman and the Sportsman awards and Marshall Hoch graduates to the Boy Scouts.

The following boys received Bobcat awards at the October Pack Meeting: Greg Sanders, William Trinkle, Wesley Belflower, Gary Reg, Brooks Benford, Donald Wetter, Michael Burman and Jordan Hollingsworth.

The December pack meeting will be held before Christmas vacation Dec. 17th.

Speech

Geneva Convention agreement, which was ratified by North Vietnam in 1957. Midway through this segment of his speech he paused while a short film clip was shown showing the plight of the American prisoner of war being held in North Vietnamese hands. "These men," the colonel said, "have fought for this country's freedom and, in the process, have lost their own."

The wing commander then related the great concern shown for the American PW/MIA by Lt. Gen. George B. Simler, commander, Air Training Command—a concern which has spread throughout the command. He related how Captains Larry V. Rider and Frederick Holmes started out with an idea and built it into a massive letter-writing campaign.

The colonel ended his speech with a call to help in the letter-writing campaign saying: "Whether you are a hawk or a dove, a member of the silent majority or the vocal minority, here is a common meeting ground—a humanitarian effort to aid 1,500 human beings who would be more than happy to heed the calls of the so-called new left and get out of Vietnam—if only they could."

Play Underway
For Intramural
Basketball Title

Intramural Basketball League play began this week at Reese AFB with no less than 12 teams vying for four play-off spots and a shot at the base championship in late February.

Back to defend its base intramural championship, won last February in the four-team play-offs, is the 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron. Other teams in the league are the 3500th Field Maintenance Squadron, USAF Hospital, 2053rd Communications Squadron, 3500th Pilot Training Squadron, 3501st Pilot Training Squadron, 3500th Supply Squadron, 3500th Air Base Group, Class 71-06, Class 71-07, Class 72-02 and Class 72-03.

The schedule calls for two games each of four nights, Monday through Thursday, at the base gym. The first game will be played at 6:30 p.m. with the second scheduled for 7:45 p.m. The schedule is solid through Dec. 17, at which time the league will suspend play for the Christmas holidays. Play will resume Jan. 4, 1971 and will be solid through Feb. 18. The four teams atop the league will then play in the base championship double-elimination play-offs to determine the champion.

A full eight games were on tap this week, but most were played after the Roundup's deadline.

Next week's schedule is revised because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday with games on Friday instead of Thursday. In Monday's games, FMS will meet Class 72-02 followed by Air Base Group against Class 71-06. Tuesday: OMS vs Supply and 3500th PTS vs Comm. Sq. Wednesday: FMS vs Class 71-07 and Air Base Group against Class 72-03. Friday: Hospital vs Class 72-02 and OMS vs Class 71-06.

Girl Scouts Start
Sale Of Calendars

The Reese AFB Girl Scouts started their annual calendar sale at the base.

The sale started Monday and will run for two weeks. Included will be a door-to-door sales campaign in Reese Village. The calendars will also be on sale in the base exchange and commissary throughout next week. Cost of the calendar is 50 cents with proceeds going to the Girl Scout Troops and the Reese Girl Scout neighborhood.

The calendar sale is the main source of funds for the Girl Scouts at Reese. The calendars may also be obtained by calling Mrs. R. D. McGrew, calendar chairman, at 885-2668.

Buck's Blunders

By Buck Parker

Another bad week for the system last week with only 18 wins, six losses and one tie for a 75 per cent average. The season record now is 158 wins, 51 losses and two ties for a percentage of 75.6.

Last week the Air Force Academy took a big step toward the Cotton Bowl and a lot of the glamour out of the Rose Bowl by their big win over Stanford. Texas gained points at the poll with its big win over TCU while Notre Dame and Ohio State lost some with squeaker wins.

Tomorrow's games will just about end the season but much is in the balance awaiting these games as scouts begin to make pairings for the bowl games. Here are the 25 picks of the week:

- Air Force over Colorado
- Arkansas over Texas Tech
- Baylor over SMU
- Ohio State over Michigan
- Rice over TCU
- Southern Cal over UCLA
- Oregon over Oregon State
- Illinois over Iowa
- Purdue over Indiana
- Missouri over Kansas
- Tennessee over Kentucky
- Notre Dame over LSU
- Houston over Wake Forest
- Yale over Harvard
- Nebraska over Oklahoma
- Minnesota over Wisconsin
- Princeton over Cornell
- UTA over Lamar Tech
- Stanford over California
- Kansas State over Florida State
- Arkansas St. over So. Illinois
- Northwestern over Michigan St.
- Virginia over Maryland
- Tulane over North Carolina St.
- Arizona over Wyoming

In addition, there will be three top games which are due to be played Thanksgiving—before our next issue. I pick Texas over Texas A&M, Mississippi over Mississippi State and Houston over Florida State.
