Store Fronts on Remodelled

A remodelling project has been completed on the buildings occupied by Modern Way Food Store and Western Auto Store on the south side of the square which has completely modernized the large building, owned by W. I. (Scotch) Cog-

The remodelling included an entirely new front of faced brick , replacing the old con-crete block front, and the installation of a modern type awning across the entire front of the building. With the exception of brick columns, virtually the entire front of both stores beneath the awning is plate glass and chrome.

Also on the south side of the square, an extensive remodelling project was recently com pleted on the West Texas Utilities Company office building.
This included an entirely new front of brick and steel and plate glass with chorme trim. Entrance to the building was also changed from center to the west side, permitting larger and more convenient display space inside the building.
The adjoining building owned by Mrs. Elma Guest has been remodelled, with chrome trim being added to the front.

"Our purpose is to assure an adequate water supply for the member cities. Freese & Nichols, our consulting engin-eers, have revised the program for the five-member Authority, with a dam on Miller Creek on the Harry Portwood Ranch east of Munday. This would create a reservoir with an initial capacity of 25,000 estimate of the Authority is 14,036. With an estimated population of 31,700 in the year 2000 A. D., engineers estimate that after a critical drouth, such as we have just experienced, we would still have an adequate water supply in the proposed reservoir. 'At this time, reservoir rights will be acquired to permit raising the dam eight feet, increasing the capacity of our Lake to 40,000 acre feet, or 60%. If the economy of the area supports a above 31,000 (2 1-4 times our present estimated population) a 60% increase in our water capacity will carry us many years into the future. "Revised cost estimates, allowing for land rights for increasing the lake from 25,000 acre feet to 40,000 acre feet capacity, adequate reserves and an adequate Emergency Fund, is estimated not to exceed $4,800,000, which is the amount authorized in the Bond Election. Park-Plant Road Is County Responsibility

The statement by District Highway Engineer Jake Roberts last week that a road serving Scott Memorial Park and the Paint Creek Power Plant area does not qualify as a F-M road project should not doom the road from further consideration.

When need for a hard-surfaced, all-weather road to the park-plant area became apparent several years ago, proponents of the project felt that building the road was a responsibility of Haskell County. That assumption holds good today to an even

With the excetion of the major highways, we doubt if there is a stretch of road in Haskell County that carries as much traffic, day in and day out, as the Park-Plant road. Most of this traffic, it is true, is for recreational purposes-fishermen, boaters, picnickers, etc .- and is not considered farm-to-market traffic. However, the gasoline burned in a car on a vacation trip pays the same tax as that used by the farmer when he drives to town with a load of agricultural products.

Then there is the constant or 'captive' traffic on the Park Plant road, the employees at the plant who travel to and from Haskell every day.

These 25 or 30 employees, all residents and taxpayers in Haskell-most of them homeowners-represent an important segment in our local economy. Virtually all the plant payroll finds its way into local trade channels, with a percentage going for county, city and school taxes.

Elimination of the road from the F-M program does not lessen the need nor the importance of an all-weather road to the park and plant area.

It merely emphasizes a point on which our Commissioners Court has never been able to agree: That building the Park-Plant road is a county responsibility.

Surrender Study Indefensible

The Pentagon is making a study as to when the United States should surrender in an all-out nuclear attack.

Surrender is unthinkable. Making such a "study" is a waste of time, but it could be far worse than that. If high officers in the Pentagon are to do their thinking along this defeatist line, we are whipped before we start.

Top defense officials hastened to assure the President, hen the fact that such a study was being made was brought to her uncle. J. E. Ellis of this his attention, that "there is no thought or plan for surrender and the studies were only theoretical." It is further explained that the study is part of an over-all assessment of possibilities in case of atomic war and included conditions under which either Russia or this country might be forced to give up.

Surrender to the gangsters in the Kremlin would mean slavery under a police state. Few Americans would value life so high as to prefer to live as slaves rather than die fighting.

We believe Haskell County's election officials are the most efficient in Texas, bar none. In the first primary, returns from the 19 voting boxes were telephoned or brought in within less than an hour after the polls closed. As a result, County Chairman Charlie Conner was one of the first officials in the state to report complete results to the Texas Election Bureau.

The same was duplicated Saturday night in the second primary returns. This despite a hard rain and threatening electrical disturbance that hit just about the time polls closed.

The domestic wrangle of a local Negro couple with several children has become a continuing headache for local officers.

A week or so ago lawmen were called to the "flats" to stop a fight between the man and his spouse. The couple's children were interested but not altogether neutral spectators, with the older children getting in a few licks on the old man with brooms and a mop when convenient.

The hostilities resulted in a fine for the belligerent hus-

Another call to the "law" by the woman, asking officers to take her and the children to the new home of the husband and father. That done, officers thought they had the problem solved.

The Negro man, however, wasn't too eager over resuming domestic responsibilities. and out into the street went wife and brood. Persistent, the woman and children stayed around, and this annoyed her

Saturday night the "law" had another call from the wo-"That no-good Negro done jumped on me with a baseball bat and a knife," she complained. Asked if she was hurt, and if she wanted to file a complaint, the woman answered she wasn't and didn't. 'Ah just want you to come over here and make him go ahead and leave me alone,' she added.

In an article last week about Walter Bevers of Munday, early settler here, mention was made of a trip he and Albert English made to St. Louis when they were young cowpokes to-reached for a huge paper bag and started filling it. Thinking his order had been misunderstood, Bevers repeated "I said two bits worth."

"That Dago thought Walter was kicking about not getting his money's worth," Albert re-called. "He kept filling the sack, saying 'you get two bits worth all right.' And Walter did, he got about half bushel of bananas," Albert declared.

Starting down the street, the cowboys ate as many as they could, then Walter started handing a banana to every youngster they met. They soon had a bunch of kids trailing them, helping eat the bananas. "You could look back and there was a dozen or so kids, each stuffing himself with a banana. Then a little further behind the kids, you'd see a fellow getting up from the sidewalk after slipping on a ba-nana peel," Albert chuckled.

north and south zones will be from noon until sunset. This liberalization of the bag limit and extension of shooting time in the mourners was authorized by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, since the dove is a migratory bird. The state could have continued a reduced season, but evidence of a wondeful crop with plenty of feed indicated there would be sufficient carryover after the season for next year's breeding. It seems doves are everywhere this year. Drive along the road and you'll see them. On a country road where there is cover and feed stuff in the field, there are literally thousands of doves. Success of the dove season, so far, as shooting them is concerned, depends a great deal on weather conditions. One of the best methods of early shooting, of course, is around water holes. If a heavy rain comes during the final week before the season opens, and fills every pothole, it will slow down shooting slightly until this water disappears.

We get to hunt Sept. 1 until Oct. 1, in the north zone After that we have our choice for three weeks. Then we still have the south zones open until after deer season begins. The white-winged season was in doubt for a while this year. Texas biologists, on two trips to Mexico, failed to find as many birds as they did last year. Apparently a drouth in wintering grounds of Mexico caused a heavier die-off than was expected. If you've never hunted white-

While many shooters lease areas for the white-winged season, there are many good places on a per diem basis, and just as many for free. The Valley is cut up by a network of irri-gation ditches, floodways and canal banks. Many of these are public property and shooting has been permitted without charge. There are also many other unfenced places lining orchards and fields where owners do not object to shooting.

White-wing shooting for Val-ley residents is a family affair. Mother, dad, and all the kids go out, taking a picnic lunch and plenty of cold drinks. It's nothing unusual to see play cribs around, with mom and pop shooting doves and the youngsters picking them up. Fortunately there are but a few accidents in this shooting. Practically all shots are fired at an elevation. Occasionally someone feels the sting of a distant shot, but generally the shooting has been pretty safe. That doesn't mean you should not use every precaution.

It is also a good idea to check first where you are shooting. It never is a good idea to try is not as great as we are sometimes led to believe. If you ing. There are plenty of game

Do Not Shoot More Than Ten Doves Per Day

Austin-Don't be confused, it may cost you a fine for killing too many doves, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Com-mission. The North Zone season opens Sept. 1.

This year's hunting regula-tions, approved by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, per-mit a possession limit of 20 birds after the first day. This does not mean, the director warns, that a hunter can go out and kill 20 birds in one day and get by with it.

The daily limit is still 10 birds. However, after the first day a hunter may have two day's possession, provided he doesn't have them on his person or in a manner to indicate they were all killed on the same day.

"The dove is a migratory bird and as such comes under final federal control," the chief says. "This year the po-session limit has been modified, as well as the season is lengthened. A good dove crop indicated early this year is responsible.

The chief also warned that new licenses must be obtained before hunting Sept. 1. These licenses are required for all hunters between the ages of 17 and 65 who hunt out of their own county. The new licenses be available next week from game wardens, sporting goods stores and county clerks. New fishing licenses also will be required at the same time.

wardens and biologists working the Valley area during these hunts. They are always happy to answer your questions and tell you where you can hunt.

It is a great deal more difficult to find places for shooting mourning doves. Naturally those who live in rural areas find it much easier. Those of us who make our living in the cities sometimes have to drive 50 miles for an afternoon of shooting. It's worth it, however, for the fun and recreation we get. wings we'd certainly recommend your trying to work out a hunt just for the novelty of it. Thousands of persons flock to the Valley each year for these hunts. It is almost in may have left a gate or one may have left a gate or one one knocked over some of his feed.

Pick Up Noted in Stocker Demand At Fort Worth

BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth, August 25-Good rains were reported in many sections of the Southwest, many of them in West Texas and Northern markets reported increased stocker and feeder activity, and these two factors were enough to get the cattle trade at Fort Worth off to a flying start Monday. A bunch of grainfed steers and heifers were in the run and these moved a bit slowly as packers eyed sharply increased offerings at Cornbelt terminals. However, they cleared steady as the Northern receipts were well absorbed.

Stocker and feeder buyers, including many farmers and ranchmen seeking stockers. were on the stockyards early and set a fast pace on the available stockers and feeders. The trade was strong to 50c higher, quality considered.

Slaughter cows, slaughter calves and buils were strong. Prices included: Good to choice steers and yearlings $23 to $25.75; medium and lower grades $18 to $22; fat cows $17.50 to $20.50 and canners and cutters $12 to $17.50; bulls $17.50 to $21.50; fat calves $20 to $25.75; stocker calves $31 down; stocker yearlings $26.50 down; feeders $23.50 down.

Opening trade at Fort Worth Monday on hogs was a matter of catching up with the severe breaks of last week in the Cornbelt. Choice hogs at $20.25 and $20.50 were in line with Cornbelt tops, but were 50 to 75 cents under last week. Sows drew $17 to $18.

Hog producers can help the ls Sept. 26 marketing situation by going to town with their animals when they reach top weight of 200 to 225 pounds. The practice of hog feeders marketing overweight animals, has the worse record for weakening the mar-

If hogs are fed beyond top weight of 200 to 225 pounds, more than two-thirds of the additional gain will be fat. More feed will be required to make each pound of gain to say nothing about market penalties for the extra fat.

The problem of dealing with overfinished hogs doesn't end at the market. The packer must trim and merchandise the fat which is already a burdensome surplus. Too, many times the retailer must do more trimming on the cut to make it acceptable to the consumer.

By marketing hogs at the correct weight, the overall market situation will be improved which includes the maintenance of top prices.

Texas farmers have until Sept. 26 to file a request with their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation President Cites Committee for a maximum rate for their farm under the New Farm Bill 1959 conservation reserve phase

Congress finally passed a farm bill, and although it does not meet all of the Farm Bureau's specifications, it goes a long way toward getting government out of the business of farming, Adell Thomas, president of the Haskell County Farm Bureau, pointed ont this

Farm Bureau's new concept for supporting prices at 90 per cent of the previous threeyear average was not included in the bill. Thomas stated. However, he stated prices are now more competitive and, in the case of cotton, offer a chance for that fiber to make a comeback against synthetics. Thomas declared that the that there is a new farm bill is due to the amazing show of Farm Bureau strength across the nation, and especially in Texas. Although the victory was a team effort of many segments of agriculture, it was Farm Bureau's organized pressure, coming at just the prop-er time, that tipped the scales, Thomas believes.

Pen-Raised Quail Still Available From State Farm

Austin-Pen-raised bobwhite quair are still available for release to sportsmen, landowners, and clubs, if they have land suitable for quail, the as-sistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission has announced.

Interested persons are encouraged to make application by letter to the Austin office or local game wardens.

Under the program which is designed for quail habitat improvement, land must be inspected by the local game warden. After inspection of a proposed release area, the warden will recommend a quail management program and the number of quail to be released. When an application has been approved the quail are shipped to the applicant at 50c each, which is approximately onehalf the cost of production and shipment, the assistant secretary said.

However the class of 1955 had the best percentage of its graduates because only eight grad-uated that year, and five were here for homecoming. In the ex-students of the 10 small schools, Howard school had the largest number attending. One school we had even even failed to call for was Whit's Chapel that later became Howard. There were ex-students from that school, Howard Montgomery, Della Montgomery Cox, Rice Alvis, Ethel Howard Alvis, and our new county judge, Jim Alvis.

Mrs. Cody West (the former Sula Mae Ratlfif) had taught in three of the schools. Mrs. Imadell Fitzgerald taught in three of the small schools and was on the Paint Creek faculty. and Mrs. John Guillet (Floy West) taught at Rockdale and Post and later at Paint Creek. Hoyt and Press Perry had at-tended the Post, Ward, Weaver and Howard schools.

The person coming the fartherest distance to the reunion was Mrs. Richard Sherrill (the former Lucille Taylor) from Pittsburg, Penn. Mrs. Sherrill came after dinner and missed her former pupils, but she visited with a few of them. She taught at both Post and Howard schools. She said she and her sisters would come home

Officers checking up on their suspicions that a Negro man living southwest of Rule might be selling beer literally hit a "daily double" as a result of their activities Friday night.

Arrives as Law

While the officers were confirming their suspicions and confiscating beer found in the Negro's possession, a car drove up and stopped.

Questioning the driver of the car, a Stamford woman, officers made a routine check of the vehicle and found several cases of beer in the turtle of the automobile.

Both the woman and the Negro man were brought to Haskell, where complaints were filed in County Court. Both entered pleas of guilty and fines of $100 and costs for a total of $127.20 were given each of the defendants.

Officers taking part in the investigations and arrests were Sheriff Bill Pennington, Constable Raymond Denson of Rule, Sgt. Frank Jircik and Highway Patrolmen Arthur Mason and Tommy Wood.

Winter Legumes Improve Soil

A winter legume is one of the best ways to improve the physical conditions of the soil. specialists with the Soil Conservation Service point out.

This can be done either by planting Austrian winter peas. vetch, or a combination of vetch and rye. These legumes are deep rooted and will break up the plow pan by their root penetration. They also increase the absorption of moisture by the soil which will be needed for future use. Also these winter legumes increase the micro-organism activity in the soil. This helps to make nitrogen more readily available to the following crops.

A few farmers are reluctant to plant winter legumes because they think the winter legumes will use the available moisture in the soil during their growing season which will be needed for the following crops. It has been proven that almost as much moisture is lost by evaporation from cropland without winter legume utilizing part of the soil moisture. A sharp increase in yields Williams.

Rotarians Hear Talks by HHS Coaching Staff

Football atmosphere prevail ed at the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Rotary Club Thursday in the banquet room of the Texas Cafe, when football coaches Ray Overton Jr. Dick Gaines and Jimmy Browning were special guests and made brief talks.

Club President Tom Barfield, during a brief business period, announced that Haskell ranked third in attendance for the month of July in this district. Mrs. Henry Withers played piano selections during the meal and was accompanist for the club sing-song led by Tom Roberson.

Dick Gaines, assistant coach, explained some of the important rule changes in football this year. Particularly important, he said was the change in scoring after touchdown. An option play after TD allows two extra points if the ball is passed or carried across the goal from the three yard line, Gaines explained, instead of the traditional one point allowed if the goal is kicked after

Jimmy Borwning, Junior High coach, reminded Rotarians his team was worth watching this year. "We'll show you a winning team this year,"

Head Coach Ray Overton Jr. gave an outline of the season schedule, which opens with a game at Jacksboro Sept. 5, and also told of changes in a varied series of plays to be run this year. He said that at the recent coaches school, Haskell and Seymour were rated for the No. 3 spot in Dstrict 6AA. Stamford and Hamlin were picked first and second in the district. Praising the Indian squadmen, Coach Overton told Rotarians: "We have the finest group or boys you will find anywhere, boys who will give a good account of themselves against any team in the dis-

School Supt. R. R. King also spoke briefly, praising the coaching staff and members of the HHS Indians and JJunior High School squads.

Coach Overton said this year's A squad would number about 22 players, with approximately that many on the B squad. He invited Rotarians and all other football fans to attend the Indians' drills and workouts.

At the close of the program, Rotarians gave a standing ovation to the three coaches.
