Armed Forces Has Its Day Tomorrow

Reese AFB will join the Nation tomorrow in observing Armed Forces Day—the day set aside to honor America's men and women in uniform.

Highlighting the observance this year—the 21st since President Harry Truman first proclaimed it in 1950—will be a proclamation by Lubbock Mayor Dr. James H. Granberry, scheduled to have been made at yesterday's City Council meeting, and a series of speeches before civic and social groups by members of Reese's speaker's bureau. Wing Commander Col. Carl L. Brunson is to be guest of honor at the Lubbock Rotary Club tomorrow at noon.

The proclamation read at yesterday's City Council meeting in Lubbock read as follows:

Proclamation

WHEREAS: The security and welfare of our citizens depend upon the existence of a strong and dynamic military establishment; and,

WHEREAS: The Armed Forces trains young Americans with skills also usable in civilian life that provide the Nation with an invaluable resource of talent; and,

WHEREAS: The presence of military organizations in the Lubbock community gives our citizenry a share in the present and future strength of the Armed Forces of the United States; and,

WHEREAS: Armed Forces Day will be observed by the United States of America on May 15, 1971;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Dr. James H. Granberry, Mayor of the City of Lubbock, Texas, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 15, 1971, as in Lubbock, and most respectfully call upon everyone to observe this occasion accordingly.

ARMED FORCES DAY

S/Dr. James H. Granberry

The proclamation was presented to Col. Carl L. Brunson, wing commander, who attended the city hall ceremony.

Also being honored by the City Council yesterday were a pair of Reesites who have won recent base honors. SMSgt. Carlos C. Rodriguez, 3500th Air Base Group sergeant major, who has been selected as Reese AFB's Airman of the Year, and A1C Charlotte D. Howard, 3500th Supply Squadron, who is the Reese AFB Airman of the Month for May (see story on page 5). Both were presented certificates by the mayor and later were honored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Take Pride On Armed Forces Day

By Col. Carl L. Brunson
Wing Commander

Tomorrow is the 21st annual Armed Forces Day observed since first established by President Truman's proclamation in 1950.

Just a short time after the issuance of that proclamation, hostilities broke out in Korea—an area where servicemen still serve to preserve an uneasy peace. Since then a series of crises have befallen the world—the Hungarian revolt, the Cuban crisis of 1962, the 1968 invasion of Czechoslovakia, the present conflict in Southeast Asia and the simmering Middle East crisis. Regrettable as all these crises may be, they have served to point up the need for a deterrent force of which the Air Force has played a major part. And by doing so, the Air Force has served the cause of peace. As President Nixon put it in addressing a graduating class of military officers recently, those of us in the Armed Forces "serve in the peace forces of the world."

Colonel Brunson

There are definite bright spots on the horizon. The Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) hold promise of an easing of the 25-year-old cold war. The U.S. is playing a major part in striving to bring a lasting peace to the Middle East through negotiation. And President Nixon's withdrawal of U.S. forces from Southeast Asia on a time table based on Vietnamization and safety to our remaining forces give great promise in that conflict.

However, until these bright spots become a reality by manifesting themselves into a lasting peace, the United States must continue to provide that deterrent force for the free world. It must hold fast in the face of criticism at home and abroad to perpetuate a lasting peace.

This is the part you play as a member of the Armed Forces. Specifically here at Reese AFB, our primary mission is training pilots. It is a vital part of that deterrent action and one in which you can take great pride in being a part of. Eventually you probably will leave Air Training Command and assume another role in the Air Force, but whatever it is, it is designed for peace—a deterrent against war.

We here at Reese AFB can be thankful that we are part of a community that accepts us as a contributing part of the South Plains community. When we are needed—such as following the disastrous tornadoes in Lubbock and Plainview last year—we answer the call. The South Plains community has responded equally as well to our own needs. The very ground on which Reese is located was donated by a group of civic-minded citizens. Many of the landmarks on the base—the sign on War Highway and the Levelland Highway, the aircraft just inside the main gate—were as a result of Lubbock civic leaders' work.

All this adds up to pride on this Armed Forces Day. Pride of being a part of a deterrent peaceful force and pride in being a part of an outstanding community.

Armed Forces Day Messages

"Through training and education, high in quality and wide in scope, the Air Force prepares its men and women to handle the complex equipment upon which aerospace power is based. We also provide our members with productive skills which can be useful later in civilian life. As a result—and because of their own determination, courage and professionalism—airmen everywhere are meeting the challenges of the aerospace age. On this Armed Forces Day, I take a particular pride in saluting the impressive and continuing achievements of Air Force personnel."

Robert C. Seamans Jr.
Secretary of the Air Force

"Armed Forces Day provides us with an opportunity to take stock of where we in the Air Force have been during the past year, where we stand today, and where we are going. Air Force men and women have supported national objectives in Southeast Asia and other parts of the world, worked hard to modernize their equipment, and stood ready to meet any challenge. My only regret is that we have been unable to learn more about our gallant comrades missing in action or to secure the release of those held prisoner of war in North Vietnam. We will continue to do all within our power to bring comfort to them and their families. Meanwhile, I am confident that Air Force personnel who constitute an invaluable national resource of skill, talent and dedication, will continue to form a great bulwark in the defense of freedom."

Gen. John D. Ryan
Air Force Chief of Staff

"Tomorrow is Armed Forces Day—a day set aside for the Nation to recognize its men and women in military uniform and their contributions to the country. It is a time when each of us, too, should look at the military and our role in it—to think beyond stereotypes and how things 'used to be' or how they were 'on the outside'.

"We in ATC are working with the most valuable resource in the Air Force—people. The challenge is great. We give every man and woman in the Air Force that important first experience with our way of life. How we meet that challenge literally determines the posture of the Air Force of the future. We must continue to look ahead and keep alive the spirit that built the Air Force—and the enthusiasm for the change that brings improvement."

George B. Simler, Lieutenant General, ATC Commander

Separation Ends Medical Benefits

By Lt. Col. Wesley E. Romberger
USAF Hospital Commander

QUESTION: My wife is due to have her baby two weeks after I leave the service. Will the service pay to have this done in a civilian hospital or can I bring her back here to have the delivery?

ANSWER: When a military member is separated from the service, rather than retired, neither he nor his dependents are eligible for further care in military medical facilities.

The rules of eligibility for CHAMPUS specify that the recipient must be a dependent of active duty or retired.

No provision is made for personnel separated from service.

Your answer, therefore, without all the legal terms, is simply that there is no way for the government to pay for your wife's delivery unless of course you decide to reenlist.

The Inquiring Photographer

This week the inquiring photographer visited several areas of the base to ask persons "What does Armed Forces Day mean to you?"

AIC Charlotte D. Howard, Equipment Management Office—"I never really thought about it much, it's just really honoring the Armed Forces and the men and women who serve in them for what they have done for our country."

AIC Howard

Sgt. Greene

Sgt. Robert E. Greene, Equipment Management Office—"It gives the civilians a chance to see how the military operates and what means it uses to protect them from opposing forces."

Capt. Lee T. Smith, 3500th Pilot Training Squadron—"The way everybody is putting down the military, it's probably good that every once in a while you have someone recognize the good the military does."

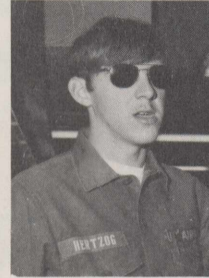

Capt. Smith

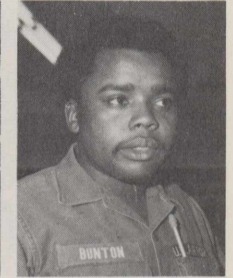

TSgt. Thompkins

TSgt. Ben Thompkins, 3500th Supply Squadron—"Well, Armed Forces Day is really a celebration to make the men of the Armed Forces mindful of the principal purpose the military service is designed for."

AIC Thomas C. Hertzog, 3500th Supply Squadron—"It brings back memories of the wars and how the nation became what it is and makes people realize what it took to make the nation what it is today."

AIC Hertzog

AIC Bunton

AIC James A. Bunton, 3500th Field Maintenance Squadron—"I don't think it really shows the civilians what the military is doing. It shows the civilians the military might we have."

Capt. Fred Beatty, 3500th Pilot Training Squadron—"I consider it to be in honor of the Armed Forces—a recognition type thing to honor the military."

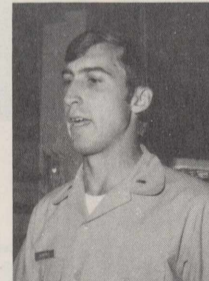

Capt. Beatty

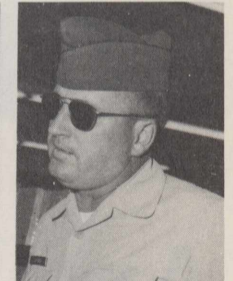

Capt. Heers

Capt. Alan R. Heers, 3500th Pilot Training Squadron—"It's a kind of a day when everyone can get out and see what the Armed Forces do. It's a day when we can show the public what we do at Reese training pilots."

2nd Lt. Kenneth L. Hawkins, Class 72-07—"To me it means a day that people should spend recognizing the Armed Forces and what they have done for our country. The youth of today should also observe Armed Forces Day and reconsider some of their present activities."

2nd Lt. Hawkins

MSgt. Lavender

MSgt. Leland Lavender, 3500th Supply Squadron—"Well, Armed Forces Day actually means to me a chance for the civilian public to see what the Armed Forces are doing and get a better understanding of the Armed Forces. It also provides me as well as other military people with a reminder of our duties and responsibilities to our country."

Rapping... about people

(An AFNS Feature)

QUESTION: Does the Air Force provide an opportunity for a person to try out for the Olympics?

ANSWER: Outstanding athletes in the Air Force are permitted to train for, attend, and participate in international sports competitions such as the Olympic Games and Pan-American Games. Those with outstanding sports background are encouraged to send in "Application for Specialized Sports Training" through channels to the Hq. USAF (DPMSBS), Randolph AFB, Tex. 78148. Olympic aspirants should check with base recreation directors for additional information.

Comedy, Drama Headline Base Theater's Slate

"Little Big Man" will complete its two-day run at the base theater tonight. The Western drama stars Dustin Hoffman as a crusty 121-year-old codger who claims to be the sole survivor of Custer's Last Stand. Chief Dan George co-stars in a role that earned him an Academy Award nomination for best supporting actor. The film is rated GP—all ages admitted with parental guidance suggested.

Tomorrow's matinee attraction at the theater will be "PufnStuf".

Jack Wild, "Mama" Cass Elliott, Agnes Moorhead and Martha Raye star in the fantasy of a little boy's imagination. The feature is rated G—general audiences.

Rosalind Russell stars as "Mrs. Pollifax—Spy" tomorrow evening at the base theater. Darren McGavin and Nehemiah Persoff co-star in the comedy about "the spy who came out of the kitchen." The hilarious super-secret spoof is rated G.

"They Call Me Mr. Tibbs!" will be the feature attraction at the base theater Sunday evening. A suspense-drama about a calculating and dedicated police detective who pits his wits against the perpetrator of an almost perfect crime, the GP-rated film stars Sidney Poitier, Martin Landau and Barbara McNair.

Bud Cort is "Brewster McCord" in Tuesday evening's attraction at the base theater. Sally Kellerman also stars in the comedy about the adventures of a young man who takes up residence in Houston's Astrodome while inventing wings that will enable him to fly. The film is billed as "a not-so-ordinary lesson in bird behavior" and is rated R—restricted, under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.

"Where Eagles Dare" will be featured at the base theater Wednesday evening. The World War II drama is about a daring rescue of the Allied general who knew more about the D-Day invasion than anyone else from deep in the heart of Germany. Richard Burton, Clint Eastwood and Mary Ure star in the GP-rated drama.

Walter Matthau and Elaine May star in "A New Leaf" which begins a two-day run at the base theater Thursday evening. The film is a wild spoof on love, money, marriage, sex and loneliness. Jack Weston, George Rose, James Coco and William Redfield co-star in the G-rated comedy.

Introducing the difference

that makes the difference.

New Twice as Nice® Shampoo.
You can see the difference in the bottle. And on her hair.

The difference in the bottle: conditioner. Twice as Nice is shampoo and conditioner in one.

And that could make a big difference in your hair. Take the girl in our picture.

We washed half her hair with plain shampoo, the other half with Twice as Nice. Then we dried and brushed each side. Nothing more (we didn't even retouch her hair in the photograph).

The side washed with plain shampoo came out frizzy, hard to manage. Because plain shampoo just shampoos.

The other side: smooth and easy to manage.

Because Twice as Nice conditions while it shampoos, with conditioner that lasts.

And it comes in three custom formulas, each with just the right amount of conditioner for your type of hair.

There's blue for normal hair, pink for dry, green for oily. All rich-lathering. All safe for color-treated hair. And in a shatterproof bottle, too.

If you've ever said "I just washed my hair and I can't do a thing with it" (and what woman hasn't?) Twice as Nice is the shampoo for you. What's more, Lever Brothers will give you your money back just to try.

Special Introductory Offer.

To receive a full refund on the 3 1/2 oz. size of Twice as Nice, or 89¢ on one purchase of any larger size, just mail the front label and this order form to the address below:

NCOWC Plans 'Hippie Night'

By Mrs. Fred L. Schulz

The NCO Wives Club will sponsor another Hippie Night with dancing to the music of the Soul Agents tomorrow night at the NCO Open Mess. There will be prizes for the "Hippiest" guy, gal, and couple, so everyone be sure to "put on the rags" and join us in the fun.

The NCOWC will hold monthly card night Thursday at 7 p.m. in the back dining-room of the mess. All you card players, come on over and we'll find some sort of game you can play, and perhaps win a prize.

The nominating committee will meet sometime this month to select members to run for office in the July election. Committee members are Sue Bomyea, Norma Robinson, and Karen Phillips.

OWC Sets Bridge Day

The Officers Wives Club bridge day will be held Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the Eagle Room of the Officers Open Mess. For reservations call Mrs. David Curran, 795-5229.

Airman Of Month WAF Member Honored

A remote operator assigned to the equipment management branch of the 3500th Supply Squadron has become the first Women in the Air Force (WAF) member to be selected as Airman for the Month for the 3500th Pilot Training Wing.

AIC Charlotte D. Howard was chosen for the wing honor for the month of May from nominees from the squadrons on base. Her duties in the equipment management branch include creating all issues and turn-ins for non-expendable items and performing quality control over all inputs into the computer in addition to her responsibility as remote operator.

Shortly after her assignment to the demand processing unit of the equipment management branch, a crash program was initiated to transfer all vehicles carried on one account at Reese to the using activity. More than 500 extra inputs for these transfers were processed in three days with a reject rate of less than .01 per cent. Normal work of the unit was also processed without undue delay and much of the credit for the successful completion of the project was given Airman Howard.

In nominating the airman her supervisor, Maxine R. Brow, said of her, "Airman Howard is a mature, dependable airman who is capable and hard-working. She possesses the natural ability to work harmoniously with others. This ability has won her many friends and has greatly enhanced the equipment management branch."

A native of Lubbock, Airman

Howard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Busbea of 4722 42nd St. She is married to Robert J. Howard, who is currently a student at Texas Tech University.

Airman Howard was graduated from Lubbock's Coronado High School in 1968 and worked for Dial Finance Company before entering the Air Force in August 1969. Prior to her assignment to Reese, she served with the 437th Military Airlift wing, Charleston, S.C.

Close Matches Mark Play In Golf Tourney

Some exciting matches highlighted second week action in the month-long Reese AFB Match Play Golf Tournament currently underway at the base golf course.

In the first flight, which contains a full 16 golfers, Jim Comeaux defeated Ralph Beckner, Ken Schweitzer bested Lloyd Edwards and Harry Eastus beat Bill Jones to continue in the winning bracket. One match—Ron Luther vs Neal Venters—was scheduled to be played this week but the result was not available at presstime.

Over in the consolation bracket, Walt Jones defeated Dan Hodge, Dave Robinson won over Hal Brock and Chuck Gaylord bested Denver Parrett. There was one match in that bracket unplayed—Bubba Brooks against Jim George.

Over in the short flight, which has been designated as the second flight, Jerry Ruyle beat Jerry Awana, Frank Brace defeated Bob Walton, Jay Hart won over J. K. Smith and Natalie Pickett defeated D. D. Erickson.

Next week's pairings are as follows: First Flight: Comeaux vs Schweitzer, Eastus vs winner of Luther-Venters match. Consolation bracket, winner of Brooks-George match against Jones and Robinson vs Gaylord. Second Flight: Ruyle vs Brace and Hart vs Pickett. It was decided to give a consolation prize of $8 so the first-place winner will receive $20 and the runner-up $12. Pairings for next week in that bracket will have Walton vs Awana and Smith against Erickson.

Baseball Team Slates Practice

In the Major League opener, Sid Sanders hit two home-runs to lead the Braves past the Red Sox, 7-6.

In the games on May 5, the Braves beat the Dodgers, 7-6 in the Major League and the Braves beat the Giants, 11-1 in the Minor League. On May 6, it was the Dodgers 12, Giants 1 in the Minor League game and Red Sox 22, Dodgers 4 in the Major League contest.

Six games are scheduled next week. Tuesday will see the Braves vs the Giants and Dodgers vs the Braves; Wednesday's action has the Dodgers vs the Giants and the Red Sox vs the Dodgers. Thursday's games have the Braves playing the Dodgers and the Braves against the Red Sox.

Games are played at the Youth baseball field located behind the officers' side of Reese Village. The Minor League games start at 5:30 p.m. and the Major League games at 7 p.m.

Hopes Are High Reese Squad Off To ATC Track Meet

A small but hopeful group of Reesites leave for Sheppard AFB, Tex. tomorrow to represent the base in the 1971 Air Training Command Track and Field Competitions scheduled Sunday through May 22.

Included in the group will be a foreign student, Viggo Skundberg, a Norwegian undergoing undergraduate pilot training at Reese in Class 72-03. He will be competing in the 880 and 440 yard runs. His best times to date are 1:52.7 in the 880 and :49.9 in the 440. If he runs to that form he will have an excellent chance of bringing home at least one title.

Reese's best chances seem to lie in Lester Smith, a member of the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron and a former Amateur Athletic Union pole vault title holder. He has cleared an amazing 17 feet, 1 inch in competition and anything near that should be good enough for an ATC and probably Air Force title.

Still another good prospect is Mike Tondy of the base gym. Mike will be competing in the 220, 1 mile and 3 mile runs along with the 3,000 meter steeplechase. He is basically a distance runner and has competed in several nationally known marathons including the Boston Marathon (finishing 103rd out of 533 contestants) and was 10th in the Windy City Marathon in his hometown of Chicago. In that one, he made the route in 3 hours and 5 minutes. He has also done the 10 mile run in 56 minutes. He has an excellent sense of timing and will be a good bet in the steeplechase.

Other Reese hopefuls are:

MIKE MCGUIRK: Ran three years cross-country for Manhattan College, competed in metropolitan AAY and IC4A competition. Has run the 5 mile run in 28:18. Will run the mile at Sheppard.

JOE TRYMBISKI: Has high school experience in his hometown of Philadelphia. Does the 100-yard dash in 9.8. Will run the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

BILL GINDHART: Will compete in the shot put (best effort about 60 feet) and discus throw (best effort 156 feet).

MIKE MCGUIRE: Will run the 3 mile run. Best effort to date about 17:45.

DICK WILLIAMS: To run 1 and 3 mile runs. Best effort about 5:45 in mile. Is basically a distance runner.

That is Reese's track and field team—small in numbers, but big in heart.

Capt. Carey P. Page Honored Reese Doctor Chosen ATC Flight Surgeon Of The Year

Dr. (Captain) Carey P. Page, Reese AFB chief of flight medicine, has been chosen to receive the Award for Outstanding Flight Surgeon of the Year in Air Training Command.

Since being chosen for the honor, Dr. Page has received orders to report to Wilford Hall USAF Medical Center, Lackland AFB, Tex. for a year's training in a general and thoracic surgery residency.

Dr. Page was nominated for the honor by Dr. (Lt. Col.) Wesley E. Romberger, commander, USAF Hospital at Reese. As the ATC Flight Surgeon of the Year, Dr. Page represented the command in Air Force-wide judging accomplished at Washington, D.C. at which a Flight Surgeon of the Year for the Air Force was named. He is Dr. (Captain) James R. Hickman Jr., of Eglin AFB, Fla., the Tactical Air Command entry.

In his nomination, Dr. Page was cited for his work in pilot vertigo and his untiring efforts to solve that problem; for establishing sick call procedures in the respective pilot training squadrons, establishing a rapport between the medical service and pilots, plus his work in upgrading policies with regard to self-initiated eliminations from the undergraduate pilot training program—the latter resulting in the salvaging of many competent pilots who might otherwise have fallen by the wayside.

Dr. Romberger closed his nomination by saying of Dr. Page, "I believe that this fine young officer's outstanding performance, demonstrated concern for the hazards faced by flyers, proven ability as an investigator of problems, and dedication to improvement of the medical service provided to flyers, make him an outstanding nominee for the Malcolm C. Grow Award for Outstanding Flight Surgeon of the Year."

Service Club Schedule Set

The Mathis Service Club is planning a meeting for all former and future participants in pool and tennis tournaments. The purpose of the meeting will be to explain the running of future tournaments and to hand out a set of rules and regulations governing the tournaments.

IN THE CAR AND DRIVER READERS POLL, VOLVO CAME IN FIRST. TWICE.

Each year the readers of Car and Driver magazine (a knowledgeable bunch) vote on cars in various categories.

In the Full-Size Sedan category, they picked Volvo's six cylinder 164 over:

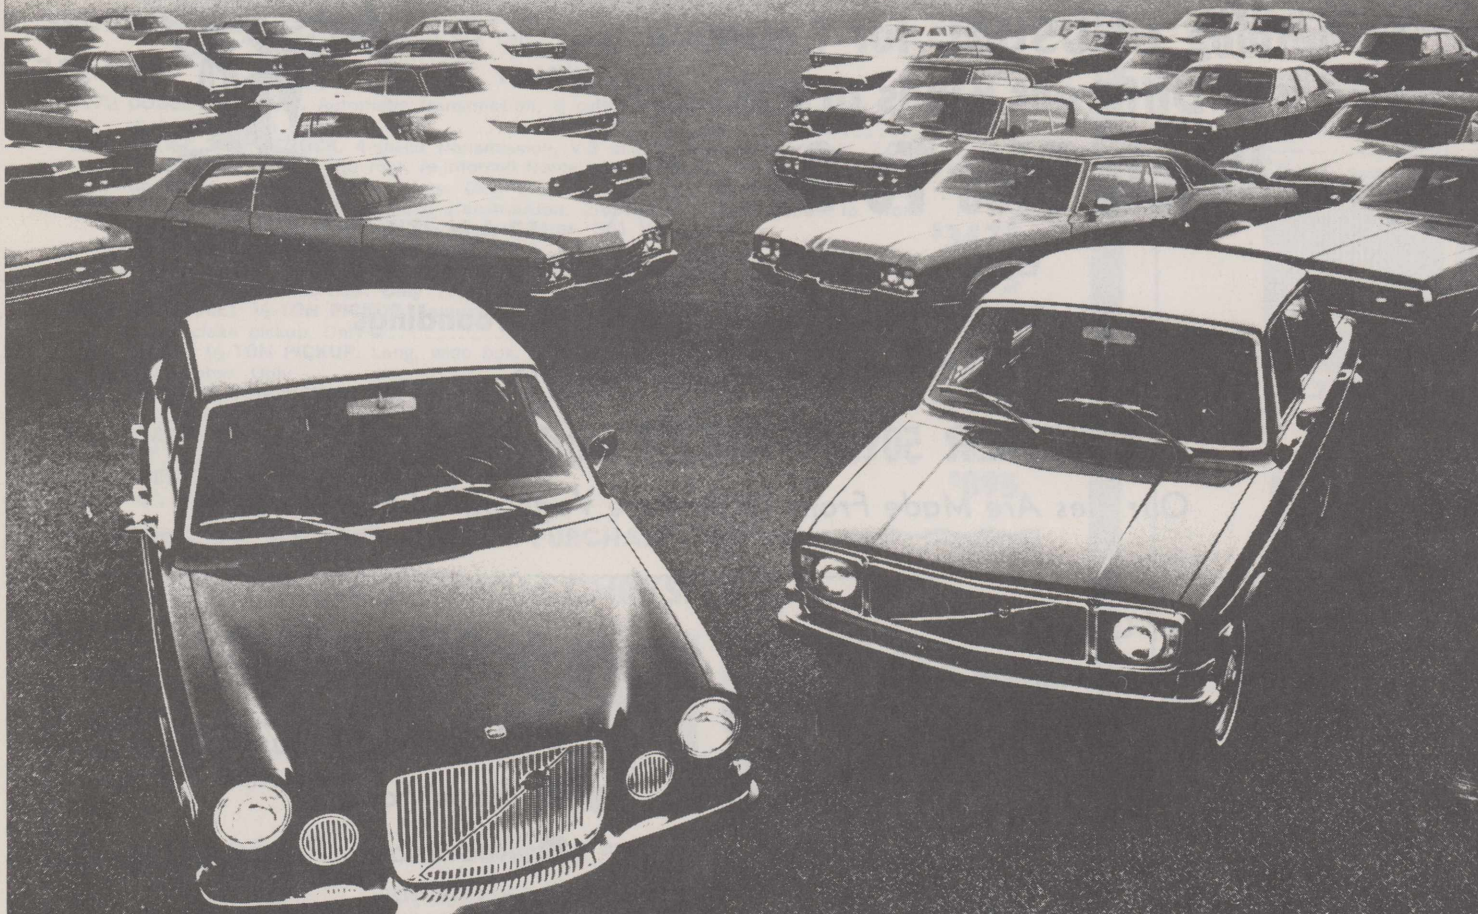

American Motors Ambassador/DPL
Audi 100 LS
Buick Le Sabre/Centurion/Electra
Chevrolet Biscayne/Impala/Caprice
Chrysler Newport/300/New Yorker
Dodge Polara/Monaco
Ford Galaxie/Custom/LTD
Mercury Monterey/Marquis
Oldsmobile Delta 88/98
Plymouth Fury/I/II/III
Pontiac Catalina/Bonneville/Grand Ville.

In the Intermediate Sedan category, the Volvo 142/144 beat:

American Motors Matador
Audi Super 90
Buick Skylark, Chevrolet Chevelle
Citroen ID-19/DS-21
Dodge Charger/Coronet
Ford Torino, Mercury Cyclone/Montego
Oldsmobile Cutlass/F-85
Peugeot 504
Plymouth Sebring/Satellite
Pontiac Le Mans
Saab 99/99E
Toyota Crown.

Now you should have no problem deciding which is the best car to buy.

The question is, what size do you want it in?

Basic Training Helps Attitudes Of Personnel

HQ. ATC—A survey indicates that both Women in the Air Force (WAF) and male airmen's attitudes toward the Air Force improve significantly during Basic Military Training (BMT).

These findings are the first part of an in-depth evaluation of BMT, "Attitude of Basic Trainees Toward the Air Force and Specific Activities."

Earlier this year Lackland AFB, Tex., began developing the comprehensive study, through application of the instructional systems development (task oriented) approach to the BMT program. The plan calls for a field study to assess the need for subject matter and skill areas taught during BMT.

Additionally, it will contain an analysis of all previous evaluations, BMT objectives, effectiveness and efficiency of processing and guidance activities. Also, it includes analysis of BMT activities in terms of motivational values and psychological effects on individuals.

Upon completion of the study, around September 1, Air Training Command will be able to define and justify the optimum BMT program in terms of length, content and instructional approach.

Randolph AFB Leads In ATC Trophy Race

HQ. ATC—At the one-third calendar year mark, Randolph AFB, Tex., has a slim lead in the race for the Air Training Command Commander's Trophy, which is given to the base with the best overall sports and recreation achievement in command competition.

Randolph has 430 points, followed by Moody AFB, Ga., which has 410. Laredo AFB, Tex., is in third place with 400 points. There are 21 major sports and recreation categories sponsored by the command, ranging from flag football and boxing to photography and art.

Increased emphasis has been placed on off-duty sports and recreation and physical fitness.

In endorsing command participation, Lt. Gen. George B. Simler, ATC commander said: "The values to be gained by improving morale, building spirit, and developing unit and command pride outweigh temporary inconveniences created by short absences of a few personnel from each ATC base."

Credit Union Continues Steady Growth Trend

Lt. Col. Henry A. Proctor, president of the board of directors of the Reese AFB Credit Union, has announced that the assets of the Credit Union have gone over the $3 million mark.

Colonel Proctor said: "The Credit Union has grown steadily for the past several years at a $300,000 a year rate. Our 4,313 members average better than $600 each in shares."

The colonel added, "The board of directors recently raised the amount members may borrow on their signatures. Since the Credit Union was established 21 years ago, members have borrowed more than $23 million."

Membership in the Credit Union is open to active duty military, retired military and civilian employees at Reese and their immediate families.

Sergeant Mobley

Murdered Recruiter Is Buried; Fund Established For Family

Burial was scheduled yesterday in New Orleans for SSgt. Rogers D. Mobley Sr., an Air Force Recruiter who was stabbed to death in his Berkeley, Calif., office April 30 while on duty. Full military honors are being furnished by Keesler AFB, Miss., with a memorial flyover to be provided by Northrop T-38 Talons from Craig AFB, Ala.

A 10-year Air Force veteran, Sergeant Mobley is survived by his wife and two sons and a daughter whose ages range from two to seven years. He was reportedly alone in his office when he was confronted and stabbed several times with a hunting knife. A 21-year-old male is being held by the Berkeley police. The suspect was restrained by a businessman who heard scuffling from his nearby office and ran to investigate.

All Air Training Command installations and units are participating in an assistance fund for the widow and children of Sergeant Mobley. Those persons at Reese who wish to contribute to the fund may do so through 1st Lt. Ronald A. DiPietra, chief, Information Division, located in wing headquarters, building T-1. For further information, call ext. 2410/2169/2452.

Increased Promotions Forecast For Top Six

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—An increase of 10,000 airmen promotions to the top six grades in fiscal year 1972, compared to this year's totals, has been forecast by Air Force personnel officials.

The programmed increase to 159,983 promotions is attributed principally to projected retirements during the year. "We're feeling the effects of the Korea hump," a spokesman said, referring to the military buildup during 1950-51.

The large number of retirements will offset an enlisted force strength reduction of 2,817 grades during FY 1972. It was also noted that any unforeseen grade force reduction during the year would cause a corresponding decrease in the number of programmed promotions.

Policy Changes Included

Four significant policy changes also accompanied the airman promotion forecast. Effective with the Oct. 1 increment, all promotions to sergeant will be made on a fully-qualified basis outside of the weighted airman promotion system. All qualified airmen will have a 100 per cent opportunity for promotion to sergeant.

Presently, only those airmen first class who attain 40 months' active duty are considered on a fully-qualified basis. Under the new policy, promotions to sergeant will not be made at a specified point, but as vacancies occur. Unchanged will be the requirement for eight months in grade, possession of a 3-skill level and the commander's recommendation.

Starting with June 1 promotions to staff sergeant, Air Force will begin transition from promoting to fill manning vacancies in each skill toward the policy of promotions based on equal opportunity, irrespective of skill or manning levels.

Differences Reduced

The differences in promotion opportunity—now ranging from 4 to 90 per cent of eligibles—will be reduced by raising the minimum promotion opportunity in each skill to 10 per cent. The change will not effect the total number of promotions for each grade and competition within each skill will continue.

In February Air Force adjusted the promotion management list to insure equal promotion opportunity to staff and tech sergeant for airmen holding certain basic and shredout skills. The policy was limited, however, to skills in which airmen holding the shredout must also be qualified to perform the duties in the basic skill. Included were 34 of the 41 shredout skills.

Effective June 1 the promotion management list for these two grades will be adjusted to insure promotion equity for airmen in the balance of the shredout skills.

The promotion management list for selections to senior and chief master sergeant also will be adjusted across the board with 1972 selections to insure equal promotion opportunity. There will be no impact on the promotion quotas but the same percentage of eligibles in each skill will compete. Central boards will again select senior airmen for super-grade promotions.

New System Possible

Air Force is considering a weighted or modified weighted selection system for the super-grades. Target date for its implementation is the 1973 selections.

Programmed top six airman promotions for FY 1972:

Grade	FY 1971	FY 1972	Change
CMSgt.	1,081	1,983	+83.4%
SMSgt.	2,418	4,663	+92.8%
MSgt.	7,500	11,465	+52.8%
TSgt.	11,732	19,283	+64.3%
SSgt.	42,535	34,519	-18.8%
Sgt.	84,709	88,070	+3.9%

Total	149,975	159,983	+6.6%
Total
Strength	626,980	624,163

Priority Given Lower Income Military Families In Housing

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—Lower income military families will be given priority in selected housing projects, according to a joint announcement by the Department of Defense and Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Approximately 4,000 units will be made available initially through new construction in selected military areas designed to DoD as having an acute housing shortage. The areas were not named.

Under a joint agreement, provided for in the Housing Act of 1970, HUD and the Federal Housing Administration will set aside annually a given amount of Section 236 funds for construction earmarked for military priority use. This year the figure is $4 million for installations in 14 areas.

DoD is responsible for recommending areas which additional housing for military families is needed. They will also screen qualified lower income military families and submit names to the housing owner.

For a military family to be eligible, the applicant must be serving on active duty and must reasonably be expected to remain in the area for at least a year. His income must be within the Section 236 limits for the locality.

Where there are no eligible military families on the waiting list, the owner may rent vacant units to eligible civilian families.

To Reverse Downward Trend Air Force Stresses Benefits

Of Savings Bond Purchases

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Air Force seeks to reverse a downward trend in participation rates in the U.S. Savings Bonds program with an all-out education program during the annual sales campaign this month.

"Our objective is to insure that each military and civilian member of the Air Force is contacted personally by a well briefed campaign official so that he may clearly understand the advantages of saving through purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds," said Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John D. Ryan.

At the same time General Ryan cautioned major commanders to insure that efforts be conducted in a truly voluntary campaign. "Coercion, or the appearance of coercion, will not be tolerated. Your personal leadership and enthusiastic support should furnish the spark necessary to set off a spontaneous, voluntary response."

Bond campaign workers stress the 5½ per cent interest return, the ease in purchase through payroll deductions and the security of bonds from loss, theft or destruction as but a few of the many benefits enjoyed by bond purchasers.

Air Force participation rates have dipped in each of the last three years. Combined civilian and military participation last year was 43.8 per cent.

Tweety Topics

By Capt. Gerald T. E. Gonzalez

This week's latest addition to the squadron roster is a girl, the new daughter of Capt. William A. Jordan and his wife, Agnes. However, once again duty has triumphed over all other considerations—Bill spent the past weekend cross-country. A name for the May 2, 5 pound, 7 ounce arrival? Tentatively, Diane.

Capt. Darrell L. Phillip, Brahma Flight's second in command, is no longer with us. He packed up his family and left for Squadron Officer's School "on a moment's notice". He reportedly decided to catch his breath somewhere in Arkansas.

Replacing Darrel as Brahma's second in command is yours truly, Gerald T. E. (Speedy) Gonzalez. I'm still catching my breath also.

Oh, yes, and the reported weather conditions at the 336th Tactical Fighter Wing "Gunfighters'" reunion at MacDill AFB, Fla. two weekends ago were "IFR both inside and out" according to Captains Arlan J. Anderson, James M. Kennedy, Francis C. Chuba and Speedy Gonzalez. It must be some universal weather condition associated with all such reunions as Frederick L. Holmes and all the other "River Rats" who went with him reported the same conditions at Miramar Naval Air Station, Calif. last weekend.

Echo Flight's wives' orientation Friday must be adjudged a total and complete success—even if one only considers the number of squadron personnel surreptitiously hanging around the E Flight door throughout the afternoon. "Eyes right!" was only a small percentage of the visual story.

This week's quote? "The 12 o'clock train leaves at 12 o'clock!"

Reese Loses Two To Webb

The Reese Rattler base-level softball, still sorely in need of a pitcher, dropped two games to Webb AFB over the weekend. The scores were 4-1 and 19-1.

town traffic in Lubbock one morning last week? The blockade was an attempt to bring a halt to the "wheels of industry" in Lubbock and it was a complete success—both of them were stopped.

"In the chocks, go around" was what the crew chief signalled to 2nd Lt. Fred (Ace) Whitney (Class 72-02, A Flight). The crew chief didn't like the direction he aimed the plane in the chocks. Ace received the flight's coveted Golden Thumb award with a poem accompanying it:

"The go was accomplished, faultless and quick while onlookers chuckled Fred's IP was sick."

Class 71-08's first student to complete the program is 2nd Lt. Bob Vincent in Bass Flight. His assignment is PIT, T-38, here at Lubbock Beach.

You've heard of the new water beds? Dave Curran wishes he hadn't ever since his water bed sprung a leak and dumped 2,000 gallons of water on his bedroom floor. He borrowed hoses from all his neighbors to siphon water from the house.

F Troop's Class 71-08 sharpshooters should've drawn temporary duty pay for the 13 hours it took them to be bussed to Webb AFB, Tex., shoot the pistol by daylight, wait for darkness to qualify as a nighttime marksman and return. What baffles us is the nighttime practice. If you can't see it, how can you shoot it? But the one person who really deserves the praise is the NCO who runs the target range. Imagine yourself being stuck in the darkness with 30 second lieutenants, all having loaded .38 caliber pistols.

Survey To Set Safety Courses

Safety Division is considering holding summer classes for Reese AFB military dependents and would like to survey those dependents as to their preference in courses.

Safety has asked dependents to relay to them their preference on the following courses: Emergency Situation, Defensive Driving, Operator Responsibilities, Texas Driving Laws, and Two-Wheeled Vehicles.

They are also asking for a preference on times (10 a.m., 2 p.m. or 7 p.m.) on the month (June, July or August) and on the day of the week (Monday through Friday).

April Brings Showers Of First-Term Re-Ups

Reese AFB has reached its initial objective of reenlisting 25 per cent of first termers as a long-range step toward a draft-free environment for an all volunteer force.

The cumulative rate for fiscal year 1971 reached 26.7 per cent mainly through a spurt in first-term reenlistments during April when a whopping 60 per cent reenlisted in the wing and 50 per cent in tenant units for an overall base total of 58 per cent. The cumulative total raised the wing rate to 27 per cent, tenant units to 22.7 per cent and the base total to 26.7 per cent.

Career Airmen Do Better

By the same token, second term airmen and career airmen were—as expected—doing even better. During April 100 per cent of those eligible in both categories reenlisted raising the cumulative totals for second term airmen to 72.2 per cent for the base and for career airmen, 97.3 per cent.

In terms of numbers for April, 14 of 24 eligible first termers reenlisted, three of three eligible second termers reenlisted and five of five eligible career airmen reenlisted. The cumulative totals show 71 of 266 eligible first termers reenlisting, 26 of 36 second termers and 71 of 73 career airmen reenlisting during FY 1971.

By organization, five of seven eligible first termers in the 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron reenlisted while three of three eligible reenlisted with the 3500th Field Maintenance Squadron. Two of seven eligible reenlisted with the 3500th Air Base Group and one of three eligible reenlisted with USAF Hospital. There was one first termer who reenlisted after a break of less than 90 days and not assigned to Reese AFB.

Program Relatively New

This latter program is relatively new in the Air Force, but has already attracted many first term airmen who were discharged, then realized that they had a better future in the Air Force. The program allows these men to reenlist in their former grade, job specialties and in most cases, choice of base when their particular job speciality is used at that base.

MSgt. W. C. Parker, career information and counseling branch, Personnel Division, says a variety of things has caused the spurt in first-term reenlistment at Reese—and at other bases. Foremost of these, says Sergeant Parker, is economics. Many first termers can readily see the economic advantage of their variable reenlistment bonus spread over their next enlistment. It gives them the financial security necessary until sufficient rank is received and they can reassess their position.

Another thing, according to Sergeant Parker, are the many things being accomplished throughout Air Training Command and the Air Force in the field of making living conditions better, especially for the first termers. These include better housing, improved dormitory living, less irritants—such as inspections—and improved opportunities through training and promotion. "Add them all up," says Sergeant Parker, "and it adds up to a more attractive career."

Honor Roll Listed

The honor roll of those reenlisting at Reese during April include these 21 men:

The 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron: Sergeant Ralph E. Rossi, Herman W. Hardie, Jerril M. Harris, Harold

M. Oliver, and Edward O. Harris. SSgt. Michael O. Hogan, TSgt. Fred L. Pinkins and Master Sergeants Keith T. Briggs, Rubal P. Sharp and Thayer E. Nolte.

The 3500th Air Base Group: Sergeants Sammie L. Thomas and Larry L. Hughes, Sgt. Fernando M. Villa and TSgt. Floyd H. Chambers. 3500th Field Maintenance Squadron: Sergeants James H. Lister, Frank W. Chapman and Richard A. Krenz. The 2053rd Communication Squadron: Sergeants Robert L. Kilimnik and Wilber A. Williams.

Also reenlisting during April were Sgt. Jerry L. Stephens, USAF Hospital and SSgt. Wesley D. Funderburk, 3500th Supply Squadron.

Air Force Now Film Focuses May Spotlight On Personnel

A roundtable discussion on problems and solutions needed to make the Air Force personnel system more responsive to the individual needs of airmen makes up the Air Force Now film to be shown at Commander's Call at Reese during the month of May.

Experts from the Military Personnel Center at Randolph AFB, Tex.—two colonels from assignments and promotions and a senior master sergeant from data analysis—field questions from airmen. Robert K. Dornan, host to a syndicated TV talk show in the Los Angeles area, acts as moderator.

One first-termer questions the currentness of the Weighted Airman Promotion System test; another is concerned about the promotion consideration given a friend of his who "doesn't take tests too well but is a great mechanic;" while an airman who enjoyed working in air freight overseas is unhappy about being cross-trained upon return to the states.

Theme of the film is: "Everyone Is Our Business".

Youth Center Sets May Slate

First Termers May Soon Apply For Officer Training School

HQ. ATC—Degree-holding airmen waiting for Officer Training School (OTS) to reopen its doors to nonrated applicants are in for good news.

One hundred nonrated officer candidates from the first term ranks will be accepted for OTS entry, January through March 1972. Application period is July 1 through September 30.

Since July 1969, nonrated applicants have attended OTS only via the Airman Education and Commissioning Program and Bootstrap Commissioning Program.

Besides a degree, candidates must have 18 months service before applying. They must be at least 21 and not older than 30 at time of commissioning (upon completion of the three-month OTS course).

Only active duty, first term airmen will be considered for this special program. AECF and Bootstrap candidates and college graduates entering OTS from civilian life will not be applied to this program's quota.

An OTS selection board, convening in November, will consider all qualified applicants and select the best 100 for input to seven career fields.

The career fields include open mess management, weapons control, missile launch control, missile maintenance, munitions, communications-electronics engineering and industrial engineering.

Eligible applicants are urged to take the Air Force Officer qualification Test and get all their college transcripts now, since applications will not be accepted after Sept. 30.

Detailed information on the program and application procedures is available at local consolidated base personnel offices.

18 Bases Operate Air Force Family Campgrounds In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—Major commands have advised that Air Force Family Campgrounds (FAMCAMP) will be open at 18 bases across the United States this summer. Construction on seven more will begin by Aug. 1 while work on 13 others is scheduled to start before the end of the year.

The typical FAMCAMP includes parking space for recreation vehicles, tent sites, utility hookups and service building with restrooms, shower and laundry facilities.

First Air Force FAMCAMP facilities opened at eight bases in 1968. The ultimate goal is a network at intervals of 300 miles across the nation for traveling military families.

Camps will be open to all military members with leave, pass or travel orders, on a first-come, first-served basis. Opening and closing dates vary from base to base because of weather. Fees and duration of occupancy will be set by each base.

Advance contact with base special services offices is suggested to avoid disappointment and to obtain timely information on the availability of services.

The FAMCAMPs are separate from 48 outdoor recreation areas operated by 45 Air Force installations in 25 states. Many of these areas are open all year. A myriad of activities are available at the sites for hunting, fishing, camping, water sports and boating.

Bases with available FAMCAMPs this summer are: Arnold AFB, Tenn.; Barksdale AFB, La.; Chanute AFB, Ill.; Warren AFB, Wyo.; Griffiss AFB, N.Y.; Hill AFB, Utah; Kelley AFB, Tex.; Holloman AFB, Utah; Maxwell AFB, Ala.

McClellan AFB, Calif.; McCoy AFB, Fla.; Myrtle Beach AFB, S.C.; Offutt AFB, Neb.; Pease AFB, N.Y.; Robins AFB, Ga.; Tinker AFB, Okla.; Vandenberg AFB, Calif.; Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Camp construction has started at Dyess AFB, Tex. Work at Homestead AFB, Fla., is to begin May 21 and at Eglin AFB, Fla., and Kingsley Field, Ore., June 1. McChord AFB, Wash., will break ground June 15 and work begins Aug. 1 at Mountain Home, Idaho, and Tyndall AFB, Fla.
