'Toys' opens tonight

"The Toys Take Over Christmas," a holiday production by the Ritz Community Theatre, opens tonight for the first of four performances.

Reservations may be made by calling Pam Fenton at the Senior Center, 573-4035, between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

The one-act play will be performed at the Western Texas College Fine Arts Theatre tonight, Saturday and Monday at 8 o'clock, and at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

General admission is $6. It is also requested that all those who attend bring a toy or stuffed animal and place it in the Toys for Tots box in the theatre lobby.

Cast members include Joey Steakley as the insufferable Toymaker, given to temper tantrums; Christina Bullard as Sunny, the spirited rag doll; Jessica Dea as Tina, a beautiful fashion doll; Christy Garner as Colette, the clown doll; Kenneth Darlin as Captain, the gallant wooden soldier; Jed Martin as Soldier #1; Crissida Tyler as Soldier #2; MiMi Stout as the distressed customer; Heather Floyd as the dazzling Christmas Fairy; and Santa Claus as himself.

Directing the play is Donna Hutchinson.

'Happening' to feature exhibit, Santa, carolers

Scurry County Museum's annual Christmas Happening is planned from 1-5 p.m. Sunday and will feature carolers, Santa Claus, pinata breakings and an educational look at the history of the Southwest.

James May, who combines a lifelong fascination with the old West with his job at the American Quarter Horse Museum in Amarillo, will present a look back at history as he becomes Steeldust Dan Martin.

With presentations at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m., May tells the life story of Martin, which began in 1856 when he was born on an 80-acre farm in Arkansas. At age 15, he rode the family horse to Texas, hoping to have what he thought was the romantic and exciting life of a cowboy. More than a hundred years later, Martin's legacy lives on with the current success of the Pitchfork Ranch.

The fruits of that legacy can be seen in the exhibit "Hoofbeats on the Pitchfork Ranch," being featured in the museum. Photographs by Bob Moorehouse, the seventh manager of the 110-year-old ranch, make up the "Hoofbeats" exhibit.

Museum visitors will also see two trophies and other mementos loaned by Judy Hays, who won her first American Quarter Horse Association trophy in 1939 and has amassed countless trophies and ribbons since.

Museum goers will also be able to view a Christmas tree with a Western theme and browse for gifts in the gift shop.

Santa Claus will be visiting with children in the museum from 1-1:45 and 2:45-4:30. The Western Texas College carolers will provide music and children will be invited to participate in pinata breakings.

The Happening is a gift from the museum to the community and admission is free. Donations are always welcome and memberships in the museum association may be purchased. Association members receive a 10 percent discount on gift shop purchases.

Sunday...

25th anniversary slated at Faith Baptist Church

Faith Baptist Church will celebrate its 25th anniversary Sunday with special activities getting underway at 10:30 a.m.

Sunday's day-long celebration will also honor founding pastor Rev. Buck Hatfield, who is now pastoring a church in Early.

Hatfield will conduct Sunday's services. Johnny and Nelda Flanagan of Whitesboro will lead the special singing. Dinner on the grounds will follow.

After a short afternoon service, a video presentation of the church's history is planned.

Special gifts, along with a love offering, will be presented to Hatfield, who has been diagnosed with terminal cancer. Anyone wishing to contribute may contact pastor Jason Rogers, who assumed his duties in May of 1991.

Hatfield moved to Snyder in 1959 and for the next 11 years held a variety of jobs, including a partnership with other family members in Sweet's Shop.

In a Dec. 3, 1989 Scurry County Folks column Hatfield said he "gave himself to the Lord" in 1964. After the Lord "called" him to be a preacher, he said he and his family moved to Forth Worth where Hatfield enrolled in the Trinity Valley Baptist Seminary. Four years later he graduated and returned to Snyder.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A man's speech is pretty well an index of his mind."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: A couple of items in the Colorado City Record indicate that government's cost of providing expected services is not an easy thing to achieve.

The city council in C-City has recently received a $7.1 million loan for utility upgrades. This includes $4 million for the city's water system and an additional $3.1 million for improvements to the sewage treatment system.

And county government in Mitchell County has employed a firm from Garland to conduct a survey to help bring all county-owned facilities into compliance with the American Disabilities Act.

Some of these expenditures are examples of "unfunded mandates" handed down by state and federal governments.

The Brownfield News reports that one of Terry County's commissioners tried to serve without salary, instead asking fellow court members for reimbursement of actual expenses.

The commissioner also works at the state prison in Lamesa, and state law prohibits an employee from taking a salary from two government entities.

Fellow commissioners were not keen about the idea. After a lot of community controversy and discussion, the commissioner resigned his elected post.

Lynn Brisendine, in the Brownfield News, made the following observation:

"The bath tub was invented in 1850 and the telephone in 1875. If you had been living in 1850, you could have sat in the tub for 25 years without the phone ever ringing once."

A petition seeking a rollback election of hospital district taxes in Gaines County has been rejected. Supporters of a rollback election have started a new drive to collect proper signatures on a petition, the Semmole Sentinel reports.

As you might suspect, nobody is very happy

Lighted parade slated Saturday

Floats, lights and Santa Claus highlight the fourth Celebrate Christmas Parade which begins at 6:30 here Saturday evening.

The parade route will be north on College Avenue from 30th Street and around the city square.

Groups and businesses which have registered floats in the parade are St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, First Baptist Church, Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, First United Methodist Church and Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church.

Others include North East Elementary, Hermleigh Booster Club, the John Wallace Unit in Mitchell County, the G-20s, Cogdell Home Health Services, Girl Scouts, Scurry County employees, Y Z Industries and Lawrence Co.

Groups and individuals entering vehicles include the Wagon Wheel Ranch, Big Country GM, Crawford Real Estate Appraisal, C.D. Gray, Bobby Vega, Jamey Alvarado and Mobil.

Peggy Vernon has been named grand marshal of the annual parade. Vernon, owner of Circle-In Grocery, has been a longtime supporter of the community and has been involved in particular in youth and Scouting.

Individuals and groups can still register and appear in the parade, but will not be eligible for prizes. Late entries are asked to contact the chamber so that officials can better prepare for the line up of the parade.

There are separate divisions this year for floats entered by church groups, schools, businesses, community/clubs and vehicles. They will be judged this evening. Vehicles will be judged before the parade on Saturday.

A $200 first-place prize will be awarded in each of the divisions.

There is also a walker's division, with prizes set at $50 for first place, $30 for second and $20 for third. Walkers will be judged on Saturday, prior to the start of the parade.

Arts and crafts show set Saturday, Sunday

The fourth annual Scurry County Christmas Arts & Crafts Show will be held Saturday and Sunday at Scurry County Coliseum.

Exhibitors from as far away as Wisconsin will fill the main area of the coliseum with original art, limited edition prints and hand-crafted items. Hours for the show are from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday and from noon until 5 on Sunday. There is no admission charge.

"We've had a larger number of booth requests this year. As a result, we've been able to be even more selective in filling the various categories available," said Mel Prather, organizer for the event.

Prather said some first-time exhibitors will include those who make finished Shaker furniture, dining room tables and chairs, floral swags, soft sculpture, toys, gift items, original clothing, jewelry, hair accessories and bird houses.

Returning participants include artists such as Kenneth Wyatt as well as exhibitors offering lawn swings and furniture, ceramics, yard ornaments, unfinished furniture, tole painting, quilts and wall hangings. Others will offer loop earrings, flowers carved out of wood, wreaths, country wood crafts, candy and cedar chests.

Concessions will be offered by members of the Scurry Charter Chapter of American Business Women's Association.

Holly Jones chosen SHS Sylvan Scholar

Holly Jones, a senior at Snyder High School, has been named the school's Sylvan Scholar as winner of the Century III Leaders competition, according to Larry Scott, principal.

The 18-year-old student is now eligible to compete with other local Sylvan Scholars from around the state for a $1,000 college scholarship and an expenses-paid trip to the National Century III Leaders Conference next spring in Baltimore, Md. State delegates will compete for the national winner's prize, an additional $10,000 scholarship.

Jones has participated in choir, a cappella choir and FFA for four years. She has been a member of the all-region choir, received a superior rating on solo UIL in 1993 and won the FFA Scholarship Award and the Greenhand Award.

She is a member of the Latin Club and the G-20s.

She has been active in her church, performing with the handbell choir, the children's choir, the youth group and assists with the pre-k class. She participated in a mission trip to Minnesota.

She has performed volunteer work at the Senior Center and tutors other students.

The Century III Leaders program is designed to recognize students who show strong leadership abilities and an interest in the future of America. Jones, the

District judge lets Penthouse distribute Paula Jones issue

NEW YORK (AP) — A judge found journalistic grounds for publishing topless photographs of the woman who accused President Clinton of sexual harassment, allowing Penthouse magazine to resume distributing its January issue.

Earlier this week, U.S. District Judge Peter K. Leisure ordered the magazine not to distribute or promote the article while he considered a $30 million lawsuit filed by Paula Jones, the subject of the photos.

Leisure lifted the restraining order Thursday after rejecting Jones' argument that publishing the photos served no journalistic purpose and was only meant to promote Penthouse.

"This court finds that the pictures in question have a relationship to the accompanying article and that the matter is in the public interest," Leisure said.

The judge said a further order would be of little use anyway since more than 400,000 copies of the January issue had already been sent to subscribers and distributors. It is due at newsstands Tuesday.

Jones, who waited in a restaurant near the courthouse, cried after hearing the ruling as several men taunted her about her alleged meeting with Clinton, then the governor of Arkansas, in 1991.

The former Arkansas state employee said in a May lawsuit filed against Clinton in Little Rock, Ark., that he exposed himself to her and suggested they engage in a sex act after summoning her to a hotel room. She said she quickly left the room. Clinton has denied her allegations.

Jones said the photographs in Penthouse were taken in 1987 by a former boyfriend, Mike Turner, and were intended for his eyes only.

Her Penthouse lawsuit sought to block publication of the photos based on a state law that requires written consent to use someone's picture or likeness for purposes of advertising or trade.

Leisure said the rights to publish a photograph with a newsworthy article are not affected just because an individual objects to the content or use of the picture and believes it will cause irreparable harm.

Jones' lawyer, Joseph Cammar-ata, said he doubted he would appeal.

Rudy Maxa, a free-lance journalist who wrote "The Devil in Paula Jones" article for Penthouse, said in a telephone call from Washington that it examines Jones' character "to see if she is in fact, shy and demure and so easily rattled as her lawsuit implies."

Penthouse publisher Bob Guccione said he published the article "very gleefully, knowing this would undermine any credibility she did have."

Victor Kovner, who represented Penthouse, said the article was accurate despite Cammarata's claims it provided a distorted portrait of his client.

In "The Rape of the Lock, Alexander Pope wrote, "Let spades b trumps!" she said, and trumps the were."

That applies to today's deal, but when East made a great play, South found to her dismay that she didn't have enough spades to get home.

Sitting East was John Wignall, who lives in Christchurch, New Zealand. One of the best bridge players on the World Bridge Federation Executive Council, Wignall opened with a weak no-trump, promising 11-14 high-card points. South bid two spades, which showed a two-suiter with spades and a minor. North asked for the minor with two no-trump (no, I don't know why either) and then jumped to game in spades.

The defense began with three rounds of diamonds. After ruffing, declarer immediately led a heart to dummy's 10. Wignall won with his jack and the critical moment had arrived.

Suppose Wignall returns a club. Declarer wins with the ace, runs the spade queen, plays a spade to dummy's 10 and leads the heart king. Whether East plays his ace now or on the next trick, South ruffs and leads a trump to dummy's ace, simultaneously drawing West's last spade and giving access to dummy's established heart suit.

However, Wignall played a fourth round of diamonds, which killed the contract. If declarer ruffed in the dummy, West would win the setting trick with his spade king. So South ruffed in hand. She ran the spade queen, played a spade to dummy's 10 and ruffed out East's heart ace. But now South had no trump left in her hand. West had to score his spade king to defeat the contract.

EASY BEING A PROPHET?!!

IT WAS NOT EASY BEING A PROPHET IN BIBLICAL TIMES. TAKE THE CASE OF JEREMIAH. HE WAS WARNED EARLY IN HIS CAREER, THAT SUCH WOULD BE THE CASE--HE'D MEET WITH TERRIFIC OPPOSITION FROM PRIESTS AND PEOPLE ALIKE, EVEN THOUGH HIS PROPHECIES WERE TRUTHFUL! IN FACT, FOR TWENTY-ODD YEARS HIS STORMY WARNINGS WERE NOT HEED-ED SERIOUSLY BY MANY WHO THOUGHT HE WAS JUST A CRANK. HE WAS DENOUNCED CALLED A TRAITOR AND A DISGRACE TO HIS ANCESTORS, YET STILL HELD TO THE TRUTH AS IT WAS REVEALED TO HIM. AS FAR AS THIS PROPHET WAS CONCERNED, JERUSALEM WAS DOOMED IF THEY HAD ANY ALLIANCE WITH EGYPT...TO THE DETRIMENT OF BABYLON! THE FACTION AT COURT WHO FAVORED THE EGYPTIAN ALLIANCE CALLED JEREMIAH A BABYLON-LOVER, A TURNCOAT AND RABBLE ROUSER, AND TRIED TO BLACKEN HIS NAME IN EVERY WAY. BUT HE WAS RIGHT AND THEY WERE WRONG! AND IT WAS WITH A SAD HEART THAT HE WATCHED THE HIGH BORN PEOPLE OF JERUSALEM DRAGGED OFF TO BABYLON AND CAPTIVITY. HAD THE PEOPLE LISTENED TO JEREMIAH AND HONORED THE ALLIANCE WITH BABYLON, JERUSALEM MIGHT WELL HAVE BEEN SAVED AND JEREMIAH WOULD NOT HAVE TO LAMENT... "AH LORD! NOR AH, HER GLORY!...DRAWN FORTH AND CAST BEYOND THE GATES OF JERUSALEM." (JER. 22:19)
