Three arrested after "meth" lab discovered in county

A methamphetamine operation in Floyd County was closed down Sunday night, July 7, thanks to the joint efforts of Floyd County resident Wes Campbell and the Floyd County Sheriff's Department.

Three people, Amanda Poland, 22, William Poland, 32, and Ted Garland, 38, all of Graham, were arrested and charged with the 2nd Degree Felony of "Possession or Transport of Certain Chemicals with Intent to Manufacture Controlled Substance."

The "meth lab" was located by Wes Campbell, in an abandoned shed on property leased by Campbell, "2 miles due west of the end of FM 28 North" (approximately 25 N.E. of Floydada).

"My wife, Lynn, and I had gone out there about 7:30 p.m. to check the cows," said Campbell. "The wire gate going into the property was open and that made me mad right off," said Campbell. "I figured there were trespassers who had been hunting or looking for something to steal and they had left the gate open. When we pulled in we smelled a strong odor. It smelled like what I thought was a combination of anhydrous ammonia and rubbing alcohol."

"I later found out that what I thought was 'rubbing alcohol' was actually the smell of the starter fluid used in meth labs. It has an ether type base and it is similar to what is used on tractors."

Campbell said that he and his wife drove around the property and saw no one. They did notice small "duffle bags" and "a lot of bottles" against an abandoned shed.

"We decided to go feed our cows," said Campbell. "When we came back the bags were gone. We knew then that there was somebody out there on foot. I started getting suspicious that we may have stumbled on a meth lab. I had recently read a story in a farming magazine warning farmers that drug dealers were setting up labs in abandoned houses and barns."

Campbell said that neither he or his wife ever got out of the pickup to look around.

"We decided to get off the property and call the police," said Campbell. "We were starting to pull out of the drive and we saw a woman in a pickup. It was obvious she had wanted to pull into the property and had to stop because we were pulling out and closing the gate. She pulled off very slowly and stared holes right through me."

"My wife called in the license plate number and told the Sheriff's office which way the woman was headed."

"The woman headed south on FM 28 and we pulled out a way where we could keep an eye on the property and wait for the deputies."

Campbell said it was not long before he and Lynn saw two men cross the road and head toward the Campbell's tractor parked in a field across the road. "One man got up on the tractor to look around," said Campbell. "I guess he was trying to find his ride."

Floyd County Deputy Paul Raissez arrived first and found the woman driving the pickup called in by the Campbells. The woman gave a fictitious name and told the deputy she had been traveling from Lubbock to Graham and had gotten lost. She had no identification.

Besides the obvious suspicion raised by the direction of travel the woman also raised suspicion with the fictitious name used. The last name chosen was Gilmore--the same name as the Floyd County Sheriff.

"I heard her name said on the radio," laughed Sheriff Gilmore. "I thought maybe it was a long lost relative so I thought I would go see her."

Sheriff Gilmore went to the scene and stayed with the woman while Deputy Raissez, now joined by Deputy Ruben DeLeon, went to the property being watched by the Campbells.

The men were hiding but were found quickly by the deputies. The bags were found hidden behind irrigation pipes in a field. "They weren't hard to find--we just had to follow our noses," said Gilmore. "The bags contained no drugs--just the 'hardware' and ingredients to cook everything."

DPS Narcotics were called to the scene and arrived with a Crime Lab truck. "They cleaned up the whole area," said Gilmore. "It can be very dangerous. If it is a big lab the EPA has to be called in to clean up."

EMS also responded to the scene and treated one of the suspects who had burn injuries from working in the lab. Floydada Fire Department also stood by as needed.

During the investigation officers were told the suspects had been staying in 2 motel rooms at Floydada Inn. These rooms were searched and more equipment was found.

Campbell said he had his wife have smelled something for the past month but did not realize what it was. "It makes me mad because my wife has gone out there alone and also smelled it," said Campbell.

"It is definitely not a smell you would want to be shut up with. It is very strong."

"This is very dangerous," said Gilmore. "Inhaling too much can kill you."

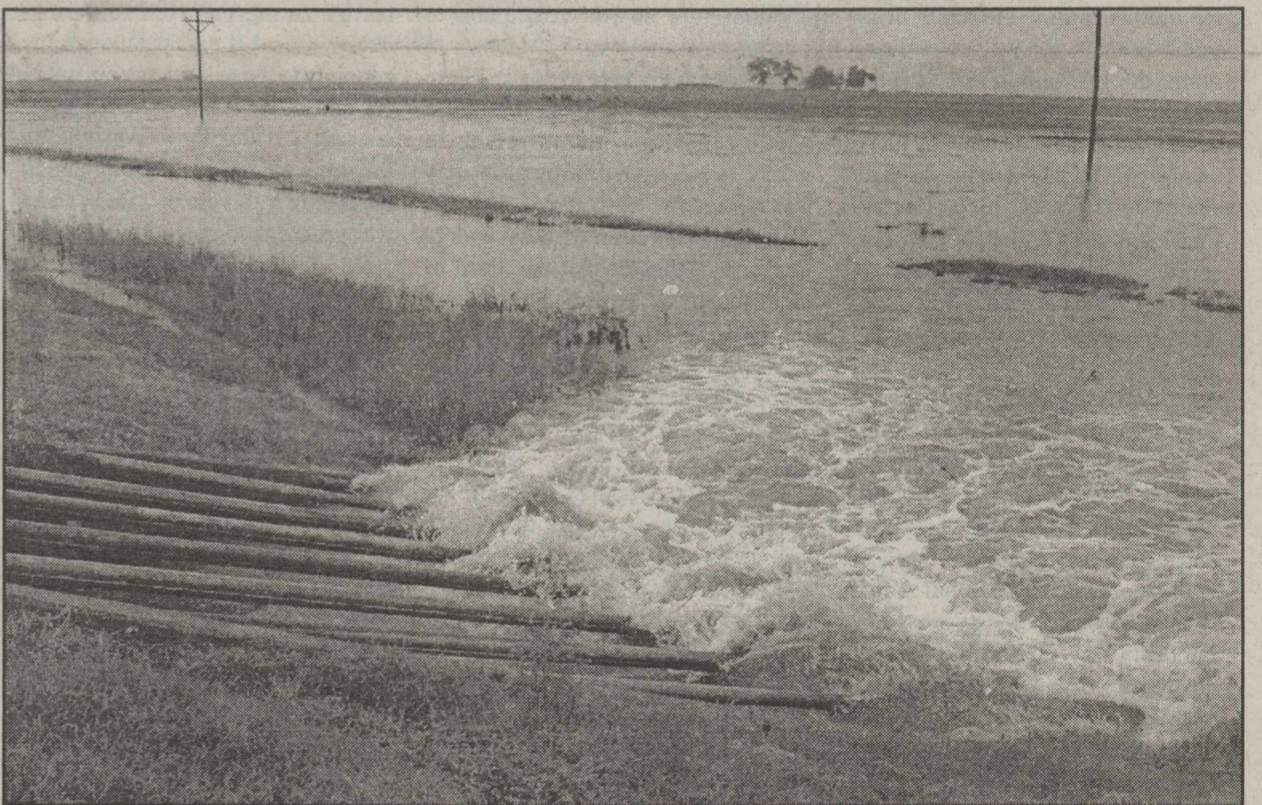

Campbell praised the work of local law enforcement and Gilmore was quick to return the compliment. "I wish we had more concerned citizens like Campbell out there," said Gilmore.

Campbell also encouraged landowners to be vigilant of their property. "Using abandoned buildings is turning into a big thing now for drug dealers," said Campbell. "Everyone should be careful and keep aware of what is happening on your property."

Amanda Poland and her husband, William Poland, and Ted Garland, are currently in the Floyd County Jail.

BETH AND JILL BRAMLET turned out in red, white, and blue for the Lockney parade on July 4th. Rain fell while children got organized and stopped for their march down Main Street. On July 4th Lockney received .8" of rain.

Bargains and good food in store at Country Market and City Garage Sale on Saturday

Floydada's City Wide Garage Sale, held in conjunction with Floydada's Ol' Country Market, will be this Saturday, July 13. Maps pointing the way to the garage sales will be available at 8:00 a.m. at Pay-N-Save in Floydada.

The Ol' Country Market will fill up Floydada's downtown square with arts and crafts, food, games, and vegetable and plant stands, homemade ice cream and lemonade.

A country style pie cook-off will also be held and visitors will be able to enjoy tastes of the pies in the contest. After the pie judging the whole pie or pie slices will be sold. There will also be a cake walk featuring at least 50 homemade cakes.

For more information on the pie contest, contact JoLynn Dean or the Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

There will also be $1.00 Bingo games under the tent on the square from 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. Prizes will be given.

Over 20 arts and crafts booths will be set up on the square and over 20 food booths will also be featured.

Chamber Director Julie Duke said,

"There will be cotton candy, candy apples, fajitas, German popcorn, breakfast burritos just to name a few."

A variety of games for ages 3 and up are planned. "We will have tractor races, leap frog, water games, and team games," said Duke.

A potato sack race is planned for 11:15 a.m.; a bat race at 12:00 noon; a 3-legged race at 1:00 p.m.; a "Trolley" game at 2:00 p.m.; a 3:00 'Hay Dive'; and a 4:00 'A-Frame' game.

There is a small entry fee for some games and charge for others. There is an entry fee of $2.00 for the Hay Dive.

An 'Apple Swing' starts at 1:00 p.m. and there will be a balloon launch from 12:00 noon until 4:00 p.m. (4 balloons for $1.00).

A domino tournament will also be held at the Unity Center in conjunction with the Ole Country Market. An entry fee of $25 is required for the domino tournament. You must have a partner to play in the tournament, and lunch will be served.

A "burn out" will also be part of the day's festivities. Anyone wishing to participate in the "burn-out" should contact Chad Guthrie at City Auto.

Rotary Club sponsoring Talent Show to Help Scouts

Scouts raising money for new roof

Lockney Boy Scouts Troop 259 is banking on the famous Mac Sherman barbeque and the talents of local citizens to help the Troop raise money for a new roof on the Boy Scout building.

The "Scout hut" is in desperate need of a roof and the Scouts sponsoring agency, the Lockney Rotary, is organizing a talent show and dinner to help the Scouts raise the money.

Any rain leaves large puddles on the floor of the Scout building. Because of the leakage the ceiling tiles have been removed and lighting is very dim for Scout activities.

Scouts work at keeping the flags, that are stored in the building, high and dry. Scout equipment has also been strategically placed to stay dry.

"We have considered moving but we don't want to abandon another building on Main Street," said Scoutmaster Bill Hunter. "We want to maintain this building and fix it up but we have to have a new roof first."

The Boy Scouts need to raise between $7,000 and $8,000 for the project, and the Lockney Rotary and Mac Sherman have joined in the effort.

"Mac's bar-b-que is always popular," said Hunter. "We are going to sell the bar-b-que at the Talent Show. There is no charge for getting into the Talent Show. We will raise money through the food we sell."

"The Rotary Club will also pass the hat," said Rotarian Jack Covington.

Rotarian Sharon Hunt has been put in charge of the Talent Show, which will be held July 19th at the Lockney Cafeteria, at 6:30 p.m. Britt Sipes will emcee the program.

"We are looking for any kind of talent," said Hunt. "We have already signed up a youth band, the Riders for the Cross band, 4-H skits, and Boy Scout skits."

If you are interested in participating in the Talent Show call Hunt at 652-2841.

The Lockney Scouts were first organized in Lockney July 30, 1935, as Troop 59. Arthur Barker was the first Scoutmaster. In 1962 the Troop became known as Troop 259.

The building in which the Scouts meet used to be the Mesa Theatre, owned by Brad Seale.

Old Fashioned Saturday set for August 17 in Lockney

The Three-on-three street basketball tournament will return to Lockney's Old Fashioned Saturday, August 17.

The tournament will have divisions for elementary school students through adults. Prizes will be given away for the first and second place teams in all division. The games will be held in the Dairy Queen parking lot.

Age divisions will be broken down for boys and girls, grades 3-5, junior high grades 6-8, and high school grades 9-12. There will also be an open adult division for men and women.

Teams must check in before division play begins. Estimated start times for each division are 8 a.m., for elementary; 10:30 a.m. for junior high; 1 p.m. for high school; and 2:30 for adults.

Entry fees are $40 per team ($10 per player). Teams may have a maxi-

I was on vacation two weeks ago and the crew here put the paper out without my help. I got back just in time to take phone calls for the usual "after the paper is out complaints". Except there weren't any "after the paper is out complaints".

The week I was back and helping again the mistakes started back up. I wonder what all that means? Never mind—I know what it means.

So the correction for this week is from the story I wrote last week on the new coaches.

The first correction concerned a "typo". I typed Coach Rodgers and his wife "had" a 5 month old son. It was supposed to be "have" a 5 month old son. Also, Rodgers graduated from Petersburg—not Jayton.

Coach Rodgers didn't complain about the mistakes—but "grandpa" seemed a little concerned about that "had a son", instead of "have a son".

I don't blame him. Grandparents are sensitive about those grandbabies!

Courtroom Activities

July 5, Ricardo M. Reyes, 31, of Plainview, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case.

July 9, Jeremy Derrick Hill, 21, of Lockney, was charged with Theft over $50.00 and less than $500.

July 9, Adrain Leon Pleasant, pled guilty to a 9-21-01 charge of DWI-2nd. He was fined $75 and court costs and sentenced to 6 months in jail. His driver's license was also suspended.

Justice of the Peace Court, Pct. 2&3, for the month of June:

Citations were: 1 for failure to report change of address; 14 for speeding; 2 for no seat belt; 3 for no expired driver's license; 1 for disregarding a stop sign; 1 for passing in a no passing; 2 for minor in possession of alcohol; and 1 for open container of alcohol. DPS license and weight gave out 1 for brake out of adjustment; 1 expired commercial motor vehicle inspection sticker; and 3 for overweight group of axles. DPS also gave out 3 for speeding, 1 for violation of driver's license; and one for no driver's license.

Every once in a while we win a few with the Supreme Court. The High Court's recent rulings on school vouchers, and drug testing in our schools were both causes for celebration nearly everywhere except the American Civil Liberties Union and the bunch at The American Way.

And while we may be in the minority, we even applaud the High Court's ruling that the death penalty in criminal cases must be ordered by a jury, rather than a court. That seems fair enough to us. If a jury of citizens determines that another citizen should be put to death, it seems only fair to us that they not be able to pass the buck to a court. To us, it's merely a matter of having the courage of ones convictions. If a jury finds someone guilty of a crime that carries the death penalty, that jury, or another one, should have the intestinal fortitude necessary to impose the death penalty. We don't know if the decision will cause an increase, or a decrease, in the number of criminals going to the death house, but it is bound to have some sort of influence, one way or the other.

But it was the Supreme Court's rulings on schools that probably generated more interest here. In truth, we would have been more surprised had the court ruled otherwise. Given the fact that the court has repeatedly held that schools operate as "parents in absentia", meaning that when parents turn their kids over to elected school boards (and teachers) each and every day, they (the schools) have some responsibility to look after the well-being of those same kids, we would have been surprised to see them rule otherwise.

Actually, there wasn't that much difference between the facts in the Lockney case that attracted so much national attention, and the Oklahoma case on which the Court ruled.

In my own opinion, the Lockney case would have met the Constitutional test more easily than the case ruled on. But it would have cost local taxpayers a lot of money to find out. The way it has turned out, the local folks got the best of both worlds. The Oklahoma folks put up the money and everybody, including the nation's school children, benefited. The American Civil Liberties Union, (the ACLU) and unnamed editorial writers at the Lubbock A-J ended up with egg on their face.

Then there was the case dealing with school vouchers. That particular ruling, while not of much value locally, was of tremendous value in those communities where public schools have failed, and where rich people (mostly the pious liberals) send their kids to private schools while protesting mightily their own egalitarianism.

We have never been able to accept the argument that public money going to private schools for the education of the public's children is somehow unconstitutional. Many of us went to school on the so-called "G-I Bill". That entire process, funded by Congress and lauded by just about everybody, used public money to "educate" veterans. The Government paid the fees directly to colleges and universities, including the Baptist Baylor University and the Catholic Notre Dame University. How that could be constitutional, and the "voucher" system unconstitutional escapes this writer. Fortunately, the Court agreed, even if it was a 5-4 ruling.

Anyhow, any day we can walk away from a Supreme Court ruling feeling reasonably happy, is a good day.

Persistence is Key in Battle to Permanently Repeal the Death Tax

Ronald Reagan once said that a government program is "the nearest thing to eternal life we'll ever see on this earth." No doubt this is true. But it's not just federal programs that are hard to kill. It is federal taxes, as well.

Take the death tax. I have been trying to get rid of the death tax since I was first elected to Congress. I have authored legislation, cosponsored bills, and voted to reduce and repeal it. I have also worked with other members of Congress, as well as farmers, ranchers, and small business owners, trying to get this repeal through.

Last year, we came closer than we ever have before to abolishing the death tax once and for all. As part of the tax relief plan that lowered income tax rates on all Americans, Congress voted to phase out the death tax. Under this plan, the death tax will be gradually reduced over the next few years and then eliminated altogether after 2010. However, due to a procedural rule in the U.S. Senate, last year's bill was limited to only 10 years. In other words, without further action, the death tax will resume in 2011.

Think about the effect this will have on businesses and the im-act it will have on planning. If you run a farm or own a store and are thinking of passing the business onto your children, how do you make plans to do this not knowing how much in taxes you might have to pay? There are enough uncertainties running a small business without having to worry about what Washington may or may not do. As it stands now, the National Federation of Independent Business estimates that one-third of small-business owners have to sell outright or liquidate a part of their business to pay death taxes. Half of those who must liquidate to pay the IRS will each have to eliminate 30 or more jobs.

The death tax is unfair, unneeded, and goes against the American ethic to work hard and leave a better life to your kids. Repealing it is not only the right thing to do. It is also something that has been done before. In fact, the death tax has been enacted four separate times in our Nation's history to fund military build-ups or wars. In the first three times—in 1797, 1862 and 1898—the death tax was repealed within eight years of enactment. In 1916, however, the death tax was again enacted to support and fund World War I. It was never repealed and has been in effect since.

This past June 6, the House of Representatives tried to pound the final nail in the coffin of the death tax by voting on a bill to permanently repeal it and provide some certainty to those farmers and ranchers and other small business owners who are looking to Washington for some guidance. The bill passed the House by a vote of 256-171 and was sent to the Senate for consideration. There, unfortunately, the bill was defeated.

I have no doubt the Congress will vote again to permanently eliminate the death tax. In all likelihood, a vote will not be held until next year at the earliest. What is important, though, is that a vote be held and another opportunity be had to get rid of this tax altogether. The key is persistence. The important thing is to persevere.

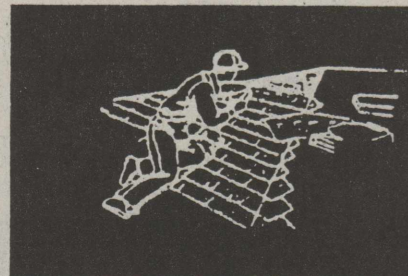

As President Reagan's close friend and ally Margaret Thatcher once said, "You may have to fight a battle more than once to win it." So although we have not yet won the battle to permanently repeal the death tax, we have also not given up the fight.

For more information on this or any other issue before Congress, please call Mac Thornberry at (202) 225-3706, or e-mail him through his website at www.house.gov/thornberry.

Floydada Police Report

June 11: Floydada Police arrested George Quisenberry, 50, of Floydada, for 3 outstanding warrants for Theft over $20,000, out of Brazos County.

Miguel Sanchez, 18, was arrested for outstanding municipal warrants.

Wynsdel Davis, 39, of Floydada, was arrested for outstanding warrants.

June 13, police took a report of someone damaging the paint on a vehicle parked in the 200 block of W. Houston.

June 20: Police took a report of an apartment being burglarized and video movies and CD's being stolen.

Also on the 20th, police were called to Floydada Cooperative Elevator in reference to someone damaging the windows and glass doors at the business. A witness reported to police that a tan pickup had been seen spinning tires on the gravel which threw the rocks at the windows of the business.

June 25th: Police took a report of a trailer house in the 200 block of E. Kentucky being burglarized.

Also on the 25th, Israel Manriquez, 34, of Floydada, was arrested for outstanding warrants.

June 27th: Richard Powell, 24, of Floydada, was arrested for municipal warrants.

Also on the 27th, police were called to the 400 block of W. Jeffie in reference to a fight. Victims were interviewed and statements were taken. The case has been turned over to the County Attorney.

At 11:15 p.m. on the 27th, police spotted juveniles in an alleyway in the 400 block of S. 5th. "One youth ran away when he saw police," said Police Chief Darrell Gooch. "Another officer intercepted the subject, later identified as Michael Todd Williams, 17, of Floydada. He was arrested for resisting arrest."

June 29th: Jerrell Donnell 25, of Seymour, was arrested for outstanding warrants.

At 9:14 p.m. police were called to a two car accident at 2nd and Tennessee. Five people were transported to W.J. Mangold Memorial Hospital.

"A '94 Ford four door, occupied by a man and a juvenile boy, were heading north on 2nd Street," said Gooch. "The driver of the Ford attempted to pass someone slowing down to pull into a parking lot, by pulling out into the oncoming lane of traffic. The Ford then hit a pickup head on. The pickup was occupied by three people. Of the five people transported, four were treated and released from the hospital and one was kept for observation."

"Alcohol was a factor in the accident and a warrant has been issued for the driver."

June 30th, Adrian Pleasant, 30, was arrested for outstanding county warrants.

July 2nd: Adrian DeLaFuente, 21, of Floydada, was arrested for outstanding county warrants.

Also on the 2nd, police took a report of vandalism to a church at Tennessee and 5th Street. Someone broke out the glass in the door.

Commissioners appoint judges

By Darwin Robinson
The Floyd County Commissioners met in regular session Monday, July 8, and unanimously appointed 22 Election Judges for all county elections beginning August 1, 2002 and ending July 31, 2003.

Those appointed were: Precinct No. 1 - Judge: Bob Alldredge, Alternate: Roger Poage; Precinct No. 5 - Judge: Jesse Savage, Alternate: Nellie Webb; Precinct No. 7 - Judge: Mary Turner, Alternate: Wynona Quebe; Precinct No. 9 - Judge: Carolyn Marble, Alternate: Mammie Wood; Precinct No. 16 - Judge: Martha Williams, Alternate: Tonya Evans; Precinct No. 17 - Judge: Johnnie Pigg, Alternate: Barbara Payne; Precinct No. 18 - Judge: Lynda Gant, Alternate: Inez Mosley; Precinct No. 20 - Janet Lloyd, Alternate: Billy D. Colston; Precinct No. 23 - Judge: A.C. Pratt, Alternate: Petra Gonzalez; Precinct No. 24 - Judge: Ralph Jackson, Alternate: Shirley Jackson; Early Voting Ballot Board - Judge: Randall Griffin, Alternate: Chuck Holmes.

Commissioner Ray Nell Bearden made the motion to continue only charging a $10.00 fee relating to the registration of motor vehicles. It was seconded by Commissioner Jon Jones and unanimously passed.

The county's adjusted certified tax roll base of $277,489,766.00 was unanimously accepted by the court for the coming year of 2002-2003, as compared to last year's tax roll base of $289,267,506.00.

No action was taken on the setting of the upcoming county's tax rate. However, all the commissioners were in agreement to only set the 2002-2003 tax rate at 37.391 cents per $100 of property values in order to receive the same amount of budget money as last year. The commissioners approved an Official Bond for Melanie Huggins who is working temporarily in the courthouse this summer.

One farm contract was approved by the commissioners. It was in Precinct No. 3, 14 miles north and 1 1/2 miles east of Floydada near South Plains on the Nathan Johnson farm for cleaning out a tail water pit for soil conservation.

Budget amendments were made and the court transferred $36,000 from the Road and Bridge Fund into the four precincts' working accounts at $9,000 each.

Floyd County Treasurer Mary Shurbet presented to the court the Quarterly and Monthly Financial Reports, and a Quarterly Investment Report.

The June Financial Report showed a Beginning Balance of $327,195.32, with Receipts of $88,684.95. Transfers In and Out were $160,778.51. Disbursements were $196,896.56, leaving an Ending Balance of $218,983.71.

Floyd County Agents J.D. Ragland and Melissa Long both reported to the commissioners. Long stated, "We had a good year with our home-ec clubs and we are working this summer with the Texas Migrant Council kids."

"We had the largest number of 4-H kids ever to attend the District Roundup with 31 kids and 25 parents. We took home a $10,000 scholarship, a $1,000 scholarship, three 1st Places, four 2nd Places and three 3rd Places. This is one of the best years that we have had."

"We have our Junior Fashion Show coming up at the South Plains Fair. We have one boy going to the National Leadership Conference in Atlanta, Georgia. We have had 27 Record Books turned in from our county, which is excellent and 24 will go on to district competition next Wednesday."

"We had four kids go as leaders to District Leadership Camp and eight other kids went with J.D. (Ragland) to Leadership Camp. Six kids went to Electric Camp. There will be six or seven kids to go to Austin and see how the government works," Long concluded.

Ragland reported, "Ag wise, we have received some very good and beneficial rains. The average around the county has been around 3 inches."

"My guess, is out of the 190,000 acres of cotton that we normally plant in Floyd County, we lost some 40,000 acres to hail and bad weather. Most producers replanted with milo. The cotton and milo looks good now, but we will need more rain. Hopefully the producers will be able to save some money on irrigation."

"Our 4-H activities have really kept us busy. I took six kids to a Livestock Judging Camp in Liberal, Kansas for three days. It was an extremely good camp with the college judging kids working with our kids one on one."

"We had an in-county 4-H roping school and this led to our kid's participation in our District 4-H Horse Show and we had a 1st Place winner and a 2nd Place winner in the District 4-H Horse Show this year. They will now advance on the state show which will be in Abilene on July 22nd."

"Our 4-H Achievement Banquet will be held August 18th on Sunday afternoon at the Floyd County Friends Unity Center. The noon meal will be served around 11:30 a.m.," Ragland concluded.

Floydada EMS Report

For the month of June, Floydada EMS had a total of seventy-one runs. Fifty-nine emergency calls and twelve transfers. Fifty-one out of the seventy-one required advanced life support care. The service also had one continuing education class for the EMS staff, displayed an ambulance for the member of the Floydada Rotary and spoke to them about the Floydada Emergency Medical Serviced abilities, and participated in a bicycle safety class for the children at the Texas Migrant Council.

MARIA HUERTA AND JASON BRICE

Huerta and Brice

Maria Huerta and Jason Brice are pleased to announce their engagement and upcoming marriage.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Anjela Huerta of Dougherty and the late Jose Roberto Huerta. The prospective groom is the son of Earl and Sheila Brice of Fort Worth.

The couple will marry on August 24, 2002 at The Party Barn in Amarillo.

Carthels to celebrate 60th anniversary

MR. AND MRS. W.L. CARTEL

Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Carthel of Lockney will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on the 11th of July with a family dinner.

The former Clementine Clark and W.L. (Lavirn) Carthel were married in Portales, New Mexico in the home of Bro. Roy J. King, July 11, 1942.

Lavirn entered the Army Air Corp in October of 1942, serving three and a half years (one year overseas).

The Carthels farmed in the Prairie Chapel Community for several years.

Then, they moved to Lockney where Lavirn worked for the City for 23 years, retiring in 1987. Clementine and Lavirn are long time active members of the West College and Third Street Church of Christ.

They are involved in volunteer community activities including helping to establish the Senior Citizens Center. Clementine is a homemaker and worked at the school cafeteria for 8 years. Their hobbies include painting, gardening, crocheting, sewing, sports and woodworking.

The Carthels have four children, Pricilla and Jim Minter, Debra (Debby) and Richard McCarty of Lockney, Wayland and Yoshini Carthel of Okinawa, Japan and Sue and Robert Barnes of Olton. They have 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Floydada Senior Citizens News

By Margarette Word

The center is open Monday through Friday. If you plan on eating lunch please call the center at 983-2032 by 10 a.m.

Betty Battey of Roswell, New Mexico spent several days last week with Lorene Newberry and also visited other relatives and friends.

Since the hail storm, we needed to put on a new roof. That took place this past week. We also needed to paint the outside because the paint was peeling off and it really looked so bad. So, some of our people at the center who eat lunch with us most of the time and have a real interest in keeping our center in good condition offered their "free" labor. James Lovell was in charge of the crew. The helpers were James Lovell, Darrell Mayo, Nancy Mayo, Gerald Vinson, William Bertrand and Bill Stringer. They did a wonderful job of scraping, priming, painting, and repaired the cracks on the outside walls. Nancy Mayo also painted the Senior Citizen sign.

Thank you all for a job well done. Our center looks wonderful.

Our director has informed me that our home delivery service is in a financial bind due to those in the program do not pay the suggested donation. We suggest $3.00 per meal for those 60 years or older. This way the program, with the help of SPAG, will pay for it self.

Our sympathy to the family of Doris Thacker.

Sue Lovell, Lu Ann Collins and son Jim Collins traveled through the southern states visiting Auburn University, Georgia Tech, Duke, and University of Mississippi.

Thank you for remembering the center when you need to make a memorial donation.

In memory of Jakey Younger- Judy Beedy, Mark and Melanie Beedy, Todd and Jan Beedy, Jo Wester.

In memory of Kacky Jackson- Son Jackson, Louis and Melissa Cox, Judy Beedy.

In memory of Guy Garrison- Bill and Norma Feuerbacher.

Goen joins mission trip to Alaska

Floyd County resident, Betty Goen, recently returned from a 21 member mission trip to Alaska. Goen joined in the mission trip with members of her church, St. Paul Lutheran Church in Plainview.

"We were privileged to show God's love with our helping hands," said Goen.

"We all stayed at the Lamb of God Lutheran Church in Wasilla, Alaska, which is northeast of Anchorage. We slept on air mattresses and prepared most of our meals in the church kitchen."

Half of the group helped present a week long Vacation Bible School to over 100 community children, at St. John Lutheran Church in Palmer.

The other half spent time in Wasilla doing servant events.

"On Monday morning five of us did some preliminary boxing for the Crisis Pregnancy Center," said Goen. "On Friday we added some teenage muscle and twelve of us moved the Center completely to a more spacious location."

"Being inside the Crisis Pregnancy Center with the Christian women who run it made the trip worthwhile. With everything I saw and touched, I could feel the love and care they have for the young women who seek help from them."

Some of the volunteers also helped two thrift stores sort and hang clothes, check and repair electronic equipment, prepare jewelry for sale, and help move one of them.

"The Treasure Loft thrift store uses it proceeds for scholarships, for medical items to loan free of charge, and to help in emergencies where insurance falls short."

"Earthly Treasures thrift store proceeds go to missions in Guatemala."

Goen said the group also taught a one-day Bible Camp at Our Lady of the Lake Catholic Church at Big Lake.

"During the summer most Alaskans are working while the sun shines, so it is hard to find anyone who is free to do any volunteer work," said Goen. "Construction crews and carpenters have long waiting lists."

Goen said it was never dark while the volunteers were there. Twilight came at 2:00 a.m. and the temperature ranged from high 50's to low 70's.

"We traveled in conjunction with the Texas District Lutheran Church

Missouri Synod Can-Do Missions, which works closely with the Alaskan Mission Committee.

The Alaskan Mission Committee places teams from the lower 48 all over Alaska teaching Bible camps and doing servant events (which includes a lot of building projects).

"Our team was responsible for all expenses to Alaska," said Goen. "We held various fund-raisers from January through April, including selling latte mix, a "Charlie Brown" dinner, dessert auction, and selling burritos."

"It was an awesome experience and I appreciate everyone who contributed to me being able to go by buying a box of latte and chocolate mixes."

"Hug-A-Bug" is new show at Kid's Korner

The summer shows at Kid's Korner have drawn a good response each week, and "Hug-A-Bug" on July 17th should be no exception! Sponsored by Hammond Sheet Metal, boys and girls ages pre-K through grade 3 will be admitted free; however, reservations are requested because of the excellent response so far and limited space.

Discovery Center, Amarillo, will present the program based on the insect/butterfly world. They will show a variety of insects and children will learn which are beneficial to us and which ones they should avoid.

Remember that admission is free due to the generosity of Hammond

Sheet Metal, but call to reserve a place at the 10 or 11 a.m. show at 983-2542.

COLLEGE NEWS

Green of Floydada honored at Tarleton

The A Honor Roll and Distinguished Student list for the Spring 2002 semester had been released at Tarleton State University.

Dr. Gary Peer, Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs at the University, released the names of students recognized on both the Stephenville and Killeen campuses.

There were 338 students listed on the A Honor Roll for this spring. These students had a 4.0 grade point ratio on the 4.0 system and were taking a minimum of 12 hours.

The Distinguished Students list had 810 names. These included freshman and sophomore students who have a minimum GPR of 3.25 with no grade lower than C, and juniors and seniors who have a minimum GPR of 3.50 with no grade lower than C and are in good standing.

Amanda Green was named to both the A Honor Roll and the Distinguished Students list. Her parents are Sam Green and Susan Green both of Floydada.

McCarty graduated at WTA&M May 10

Deidra D. McCarty was a candidate for graduation during spring commencement at West Texas A&M University, May 10, 2002. Dede received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Criminal Justice.

For the first time in almost 15 years, West Texas A&M University hosted its own graduation ceremony on campus and awarded 562 degrees in the new WT Event Center. The university awarded 454 baccalaureate and 108 master's degrees. Dede will start her master's degree in the spring of 2003 at WTA&MU.

Floyd County Extension Service Tips on Turf series

by J.D. Ragland

This is the seventh article in a series of eight provided by the Texas Cooperative Extension Service. These articles offer helpful tips to homeowners addressing lawn, garden and tree care management practices. This week we will discuss Fruit Trees.

There are many different types and kinds of fruit trees, all genetically bred to produce some type of fruit. Fruit trees generally are higher maintenance. They require more water obviously to aid in fruit development. Usually insect problems are heavier due to the fact that they'll feed on the fruit. To assist with selection, Texas Cooperative Extension Service provides the following list of recommended fruit trees that are well adapted to the South Plains area.

APPLES- Starkspur Golden Del., Red Chief, Starkrimson Red Del., Smoother, Top Red, Prime Gold, Jersey mac, Granny Smith, Holland, *M.9, MM111, MM106* or seedling.

APRICOTS- Bryan, Hungarian, Moorpark, Wilson, *Nemaguard.

BLACKBERRIES- Brazos, Womack, Rosborough.

CHERRIES (SOOR)- Montmorency.

PEACHES- Springold, Bicentennial, Surecrop, Sentinel, Ranger, Redglobe, Denman, Milam, Jefferson, *Nemaguard.

PEARS- Orient, Moonglow, Ayers, Surecrop, Maxine, Kieffer, LeConte, Magness, *Calleryana.

PECANS- Mohawk, Shoshoni, Cheyenne, Shawnee.

PLUMS- Morris, Methley, Ozark Premier, Bruce (Nemaguard).

STRAWBERRIES- Fort Laramie, Ogallala.

Other types may be planted and perform well also, however these are only recommendations.

When purchasing a tree be sure to select a respectable lawn/garden or tree business. Be sure and select a fresh appearing tree and don't be scared to ask the dealer questions regarding the tree you're interested in. Ask how long it has been here? What about warranty or guarantees? It is a good idea to have a written receipt of dealers agreements with signature. Will the business provide help in case problems occur after planting? At any rate make sure you're comfortable with the dealer and person you are dealing with.

Because fruit trees produce fruit the most common problem in controlling insects. There are literally thousands of insects that can affect trees. Best advise is to close examine your trees frequently. Be sure to look on the underside of the leaves. If you notice any insects try and get a positive i.d. Recommendations for treatments are much easier once we've identified the insect. A good common safe insecticide is Diazinon or Dursban. As with any insecticide make sure to read and follow the label.

Remember you must wait fourteen days after you have applied an insecticide to a fruit tree before you harvest fruit. Be sure to thoroughly wash all fruit before eating.

Homeowners must keep in mind there is not a single product that will "quick fix" all problems.

Hope this week's "Tips On Turf" article has been helpful to you. Be sure and not miss next week's article as we will be discussing Windbreak Trees. If you have any questions concerning lawn and garden problems feel free to contact the Floyd County Extension office at 983-4912.

FARM NEWS

Petition sign-up period for re-research program closes Aug. 30

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is conducting a sign-up June 3 through August 30 to provide cotton producers and importers an opportunity to request a referendum on continuing two key features of their national research and promotion program.

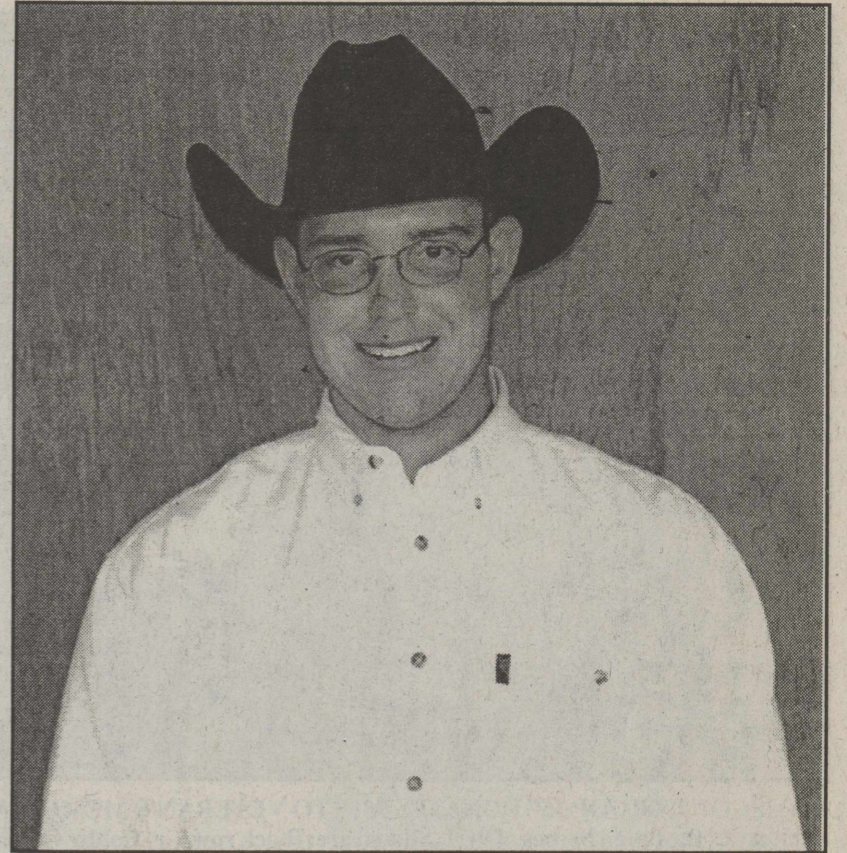

The program, developed under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, is a self-help marketing initiative, funded with assessments collected from cotton producers and importers. It is designed to strengthen cotton's competitive market position and to expand markets and uses for cotton.

In 1991, USDA instituted non-refundable assessments on all U.S. Up-land cotton and the authority to collect assessments on imported cotton and cotton imported textiles as amendments to the Cotton Research and Promotion Order. The order implements the 1966 Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

As required by the act, USDA reviewed the program to determine whether a referendum on continuing the two amendments was needed. USDA issued a decision that a referendum was unnecessary in the January 14, 2002, Federal Register. However, the act also requires such a decision be followed with an opportunity for producers and importers to request a referendum. USDA would offer that option if enough producers and importers are interested.

To move to a referendum, the numerical equivalent of 19 percent of those voting in the last referendum, and no more than 20 percent of all of the requests could come from one state or from importers. The USDA held the last referendum in 1991.

Producers desiring a referendum would register at their local Farm Service Agency offices.

TYLER PHILLIPS

Phillips awarded scholarship

Tyler Phillips, of Lockney, was the 2002 recipient of the Dusty Burleson Scholarship at Clarendon College in the Ranch and Feedlot course. Tyler is the son of Keith and Marsha Phillips and a 2001 graduate of Lockney High School. He is the 49th recipient of the Dusty Burleson Scholarship.

Tyler has been very active in 4-H and has received many awards in horse showing and judging events. Tyler also participated at the youth play day events in the Burleson arena.

The Burleson Memorial Roping, at Flomot, is held to provide money for the Clarendon scholarship fund. This is the 18th year the Memorial Roping has been held.

Tyler maintained a 3.5 grade average in the RFO course. The scholarship is earned through grades, and active and sincere participation during the first semester.

Tyler, who comes from a farming and ranching heritage, said the hands on learning experience, such as the A.I., horseshoeing, and visiting active ranches and feedlot operations, contributed to the enjoyment of the class.

The Burlesons say they are proud to know that Tyler Phillips, a local young man who participated at the Burleson Memorial, could grow up to be a recipient of the scholarship. "This is the basis of the yearly youth and roping weekend," said Lou Burleson.

This year's events, play day, team roping and pasture roping will held July 20 and 21 at Burleson Arena in Flomot, Texas.

Researchers develop method to reduce E. coli

Texas Tech University scientists have developed a natural means of reducing incidence of the E. coli 0157:H7 pathogen in beef cattle, an advancement that also will result in a safer U.S. beef supply.

Texas Tech's research, which was partly funded by the $1 per head beef checkoff program, studied the effects of a brown marine plant product called Tasco when it was added to the feedlot ration of cattle. Acadian Agritech, a privately owned company headquartered in Nova Scotia, Canada, developed the Tasco products with Texas Tech.

Results of the research showed that Tasco reduced the incidence of E. coli when it was fed to cattle 14 days prior to harvest. Tech had tried previous tests to achieve the same goal using other compounds, including the bacteria found in yogurt. Of all the additives, Tasco proved most effective in significant reduction of the E. coli pathogen.

"This is probably one of the first natural compounds that can be used to reduce the possibility of food safety problems in the beef cattle industry—an industry that's very vulnerable to food safety problems," said Dr. Kevin Pond, Texas Tech animal and food scientist. "It's great to have something that will be a tool to improve the safety of beef."

E. coli pathogens, present in the intestines of all living animals including cattle, can be inadvertently transmitted to humans through fecal matter during processing and because of improper food handling. The E. coli 0157:H7 is particularly virulent and can cause illness and possibly death in young, elderly and immune-compromised humans. Since 1994, the beef industry has invested more than $12 million dollars in E. coli 0157:H7 food safety applied research.

"Tasco is an amazing product," said Dr. Mark Miller, professor of meat science and muscle biology at Texas Tech. "It's going to help produce safer meat and keep us, as consumers, from getting sick by preventing the pathogen from getting into meat at the grocery store and in restaurants. Tasco will definitely change the way we look at meat on a national and international level by improving its safety and reducing the incidence of this pathogen."

4-H'ERS ATTEND JUDGING CAMP---Six Floyd County 4-H'ers recently attended a three day Livestock Judging Camp held June 27-29 at Seward County Community College in Liberal, Kansas. Students were instructed on improving livestock judging skills as well as note taking and oral reason presentation. The final day consisted of a Livestock Judging contest and results were: Brady Ragland, 1st High Individual; Senee' Foster 8th High Individual; Segaley Foster 9th High Individual. Others attending were Morgan Norrell, Brazos and Tylee Williams. Leader attending was Nickolyn Williams. The team is coached by County Extension Agent, J.D. Ragland. Courtesy Photo.

Yield calculations available

By Shawn Wade

Texas A&M University's Agricultural Food Policy Center (AFPC) announced that their 2002 Farm Bill Base and Yield Calculator (BYC) will be available for use via the internet on July 8, 2002.

The AFPC calculator was developed to assist farmers and ranchers in the assessment of options available to them through the Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002 (FSRI).

Development of the calculator was funded in part by Cotton Incorporated and will eventually serve as the main base and yield evaluation tool for the United States Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency (FSA).

Growers interested in trying out the AFPC calculator can access it via the internet. There are several ways to get there including: Cotton Incorporated, <http://www.cottoninc.com> Texas A&M University, <http://www.afpc.tamu.edu> or <http://ageco.tamu.edu/2002fb/>

Under the 2002 farm bill, producers have the option to update base acres and program yields by choosing the best for each of their farm units. The option selected must be the same for all crops on a farm unit.

The AFPC Base and Yield Calculator (BYC) calculates the different results from each option and helps take much of the guess work out of this complicated decision.

Another benefit to using the AFPC calculator is that all program crops are covered by the software. This makes it easier to see how individual options impact the whole operation.

"The Base and Yield Calculator (BYC) is an extremely effective way for producers to analyze consequences of the 2002 farm bill update option," explains Dr. Jeanne Reeves, associate director, Agricultural Research, Cotton Incorporated.

"It provides producers with a comprehensive system of evaluating the economic consequences of selecting different options for each farm unit prior to visiting the FSA office," notes Reeves.

So far the development of the AFPC software has been slowed by the need to incorporate USDA implementation decisions on the various components.

As with any complex program the implementation of the 2002 Farm Bill means that USDA staff are systematically working their way through a sea of details in order to make sure the program and the sign-up process works smoothly.

Carlos Bernal, 46 years old, heart attack survivor.

Acting fast may mean the difference between life and death. Recognize these signs of a heart attack:
Pain spreading to shoulders, neck and arms; uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes; and chest discomfort with lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath. New treatments can help reduce damage to the heart but only in the first few hours after symptoms begin. Every second counts.
