Pioneers honored at Old Settler's

"Old Settlers" who have paved the way for all residents in Floyd County, were honored at the Old Settlers celebration, May 22.

Myria Dade, a Floyd County resident since 1939, was named the Pioneer Woman.

Pioneer Man honors were given to Robert G. McDonald, of Lockney, and the Pioneer Couple award went to John and Dolores Cannon, of Floydada.

Myria Douglas Dade was born September 18, 1906 in San Augustine, Texas. She was the 2nd child of 14 born to Vead and Anna Douglas.

At the age of 18 she married Laure Dade in San Augustine, February 16, 1925.

Laure was a nephew of Rosa Parks, who made history for Blacks when she refused to give up her seat on a bus to a white man during the era of segregation in 1955. Laure died in 1983, two days short of their 58th wedding anniversary.

Myria and Laure came to work in the cotton fields of West Texas in 1935 along with 25 other people. The group traveled in a flatbed truck and stopped only for bread and meat to make sandwiches. The trip took 2 days and night.

Their possessions, at the time, consisted of one pillow with a pillow case and a quilt rolled up in a mattress and clothing they carried in a paper sack.

Times were hard and the couple lived in barns, granaries, and chicken houses.

Myria soon found work cleaning homes while her husband picked cotton.

The Dades made their way to Dougherty in 1939 and worked for the Hudson and Poole families. In 1942 they moved to Lockney where Laure worked at the alfalfa mill and Myria continued to do domestic work.

In 1946 the couple moved to Floydada. Laure continued working at the mill and Myria worked for the Cates and Harris families.

The Dades had no children of their own but were godparents to five brothers: Robert, Isaiah, Curly Joe, Ed Lee and Pat Shelby.

Myria is a member of the First Baptist Church of Floydada and was an active member of the Senior Citizens Quilt Club for many years. She is known for her beautiful quilts, crocheted Afghan, and wonderful cooking.

At 98 years old Myria lives alone in the same house that she and Laure built in 1949.

Pioneer Man Robert G. McDonald was born in Midlothian, Texas to Will and Alma McDonald on June 20, 1918.

While attending Midlothian he was a member of the first high school football team to play a game in the Cotton Bowl.

He graduated from Midlothian High School in 1936. He moved to Lockney in January 1937 with his family and enlisted in the Army in 1940.

FISD studies cost of building new schools

By Darwin Robinson

The FISD Board met Tuesday, May 18, and unanimously approved a Cost Study Savings Estimate on the proposed $14 million Master Facility Plan to consolidate the FISD campuses.

The Cost Study Savings Estimate on the consolidating the FISD campuses was addressed by Kenneth Robinson of Robison, Johnston & Patton of Lubbock. Robinson told the board, "This is a very conservative report. We can only estimate on the usage of utilities and supplies needed at each campus with the changes in square footage."

The Cost Study report showed an Estimated Cost Savings of $354,411 per year by the closing of R.C. Andrews Elementary and consolidating those classes at the A.B. Duncan Elementary facility. $282,517 of that amount would be in the reduction of salaries and benefits for unneeded duplicate personnel, such as, one principal, a secretary, office personnel, a librarian, a Grade 5 teacher, an art teacher, aides, maintenance workers and food service personnel.

An Estimated Cost Savings of $428,548 per year was shown with the closing of the Floydada Junior High facility and consolidating those classes at Floydada High School. $70,005 of this savings amount would be in eliminating salaries and benefits of a librarian, maintenance workers and food service personnel.

The board unanimously approved the Master Facility Plan as developed by Grimes and Associates of Wolfforth. This plan has been discussed and studied by the board and several citizens

Grant gives wireless laptops and software to all FJHS students

By Darwin Robinson

Floydada Junior High School has been selected by the Texas Education Agency to participate in a technology immersion pilot program that will place a wireless lap top computer, loaded with technology software, in the hands of every FJHS student and teacher for the next two years.

FISD Superintendent Jerry Vaughn told the Hesperian-Beacon, "This is big. The total grant project will about $350,000. This will totally immerse our campus in technology. We were one of two schools in the entire state of Texas selected, so far, to participate in this technology Immersion pilot program. The lap top computer will be the student's, and the teacher's, to carry home and to use 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

According to Vaughn, there will be a press conference, under the direction of Wes Fryer, Head of Technology Instruction at Texas Tech University, soon announcing this new pilot program.

According to a TEA email sent to Vaughn Tuesday morning, this pilot program of technology immersion on a middle school campus, is for the purpose of evaluating these students' results on their TAKS tests, attendance and drop out rates and their overall personal goals and aspirations throughout high school.

The program begins July 1 and will end with the school year of 2006.

Council discusses possible holding cell and police overtime

By Alice Gilroy

Floydada City Council met Tuesday, May 18, and discussed police officers overtime charges because of the jail closure.

The jail closure has created a problem for the city because when an arrest is made another officer is called out to work while the prisoner is being handled by the police.

The council heard a report of approximately $8,000 being spent each month in overtime.

"We have to stop this drain," said Councilman Eric Cornelius. "We don't have this budgeted."

The council members entered into executive session to discuss personnel and police scheduling, and when they reconvened they voted to hire two police officers.

Cornelius and Councilman Jon Nielson brought the council up to date on their discussion with County Commissioners Lennie Gilroy, Jon Jones and Craig Gilley, concerning joining together to build a holding cell.

"We were told if the city builds a holding cell and then the county comes on board then Jail Standards will step in and make us live by County Jail rules," said Cornelius.

"If the city runs it," said Police Chief Darrell Gooch, "then it will be a city run jail facility and not fall under the guidelines of Texas Jail Standards. City arrests could stay incarcerated for 72 hours."

Cornelius expressed his concern of having to abide by Jail Standards. "We would have to change it whenever TJSC changes their rules. I feel like the County was happy with the closing of their jail. They are now looking at moving their offices to the former Human Resources Office."

"I wish we could all come together on this," said Nielson.

Gooch told the council that he had been told by a Sheriff's deputy that the county averages 10-15 prisoners a day in the Spur jail facility.

"We used to pay the county

$8.00 - $9.00 a day and now we have to pay $38.00 a day. I also wish the county could get on board but that's not going to happen."

In other action the council voted for the City of Floydada, as a part of West Texas Municipal Power Agency, to sign a contract with WTMPA for 15 years. "WTMPA will not generate any power," said City Manager Gary Brown. "SPS will provide it all."

Police Officer Rueben Ramon updated the council on work toward getting a skateboard park in the City. "We are having an aluminum can drive and a scooter raffle and there are two grant applications in the works. We've also been getting the word out on Channel 12, radio, and newspaper."

A Municipal Maintenance Agreement between the Texas Department of Transportation and the City of Floydada was approved.

Jill Warren's art wins "Best of Show"

JILL WARREN PAINTING IN STUDIO

Jill Warren's large oil painting was recently named "Best of Show" at the Plains Art Association and Sale.

Jill's work was displayed with 136 other entries. The theme of the show was "Spring Celebration of Art", and Jill entered a large painting of a close up view of a magnolia blossom. The work is called, "Southern Tradition".

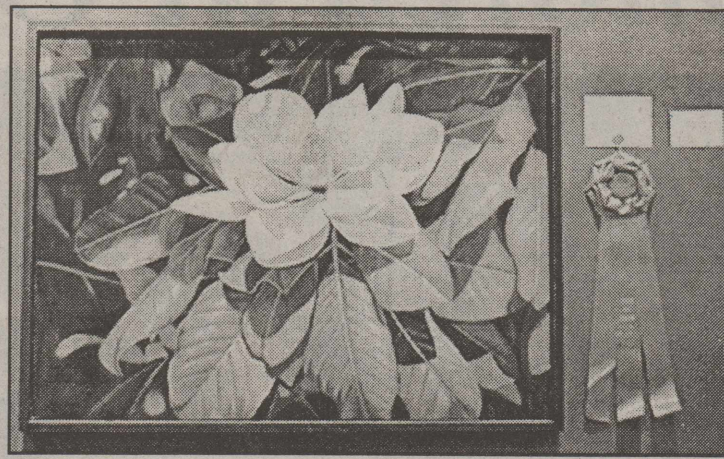

Alex Gregory, a student at West Texas A&M University and grandson of Jackie Gregory, of Floydada, placed 1st and 3rd in "other art forms".

The art pieces are still on display at the Abraham Family Art Gallery on the Wayland Baptist University Campus.

Warren has been painting for over 30 years.

At the age of 50 Warren started a new career as a flight attendant with Southwest Airlines. She says the job fits in well with her family life and painting.

She produces approximately 30 paintings a year in her home studio and specializes in traditional and realistic florals, landscapes and still life oil paintings.

Robert continued to reside in Lockney.

Pioneer Couple John William Cannon (JW) and Wilma Dolores Smalley Cannon were married August 6, 1949 in the Smalley house.

JW was born May 13, 1921 in Marlow, OK. At 6 months the family moved to Boonville, TX in Wise County and at 5 years they moved to Floyd County.

When JW was 13 the family moved back to Wise County and at 17 years JW came back to Floyd County. He lived in the Campbell Community and then moved to the Fairview Community. # Floydada Council...

According to Ted Moore, a representative from TxDOT, the law says if a state roadway passes through the city then the road becomes the city's responsibility.

"This agreement allows the state to take some of the responsibilities back," said Moore. "Obviously small towns don't have the money to maintain state highways through their towns. You really won't see a change in the way things are done, but the agreement has to be updated."

The council approved a variance for the construction of a airport to be built between the adjoining properties at 222 & 224 W. Mississippi.

Council members Bettye King, Jon Nielson, Eric Cornelius, and Clar Schacht were sworn in as council members. The council members had run unopposed in the May municipal elections.

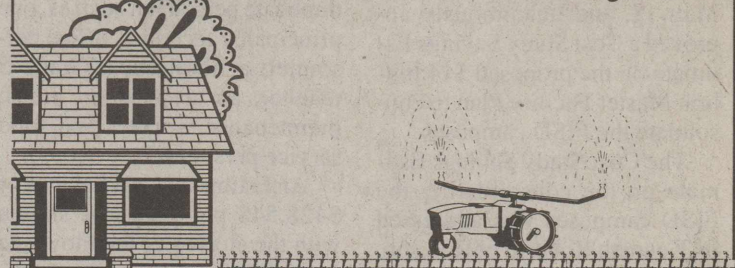

The council also unanimously selected Councilman Sheldon Sue to serve as Mayor Pro Tem.

FISD looks at plans for building

committees for the past several months.

Present at the meeting was the former Mayor of Floydada, Hulon Carthel. Concerning the Master Facility Plan, Carthel asked the board, "What will happen to the old buildings and what will be the expense to tear them down?"

Superintendent Jerry Vaughn explained, "It will be up to the citizens. The old buildings could be razed or used for the community. The north part of R.C. Andrews Elementary is fairly new construction. It could be used as a Senior Citizen meeting place. The gym at the Junior High could be saved and used. We could use the other space for parking at the football field. It will cost $700,000 to raze both facilities."

Vince Vialle of First Southwest Company addressed the board concerning when a bond election could, or should, be held. "You will generally get a higher turn out at the bond election if you have it in conjunction with the General Election. This year the General Election will be held on September 11, 2004. There will be another one held on November 2, 2004. Early Fall is a good time for a bond election because of the 'back-to-school' interest."

"FISD has a 'Triple A' rating because you do not have any debt. Remember, if you do not get state assistance, then you cannot get bonds issued to you. We are looking at around $14 million in bonds. The payment would be about $947,000 per year. The state would pay $575,000 and your responsibility would be a $372,000 payment each year for 30 years," Vialle concluded.

Board Member Kerry Pratt suggested the board have another "work session" meeting before making any decisions concerning the bond election and before the next scheduled board meeting in June.

In other matters, Floyd County Judge William D. Hardin swore in a new member on the board and two incumbents for two year teams. The new member was Bart Greer who ran unopposed for the seat of resigning Jill Warren. The two unopposed incumbents sworn in were Mark McCormick and Amado Morales.

The board unanimously approved the consolidation of all FISD bank accounts to accommodate the newly purchased computer software. FISD Business Manager Sharon Rainwater assured the board this software will make the bookkeeping more efficient and speed up check writing.

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent Vaughn, the board approved a $59,770 bid by Thomas Bus Gulf Coast to purchase a new school bus to be delivered during the 2004-2005 school year.

The board approved the spending of about $24,000 designated by the state to be used for PAC only. "The money will be spent on computers and hardware to be used by our teachers there," Vaughn said.

Another $22,255 computer purchase was approved by the board. It was for 24 lap tops to be placed in the FISD library to be checked out by students needing bilingual assistance and after school hours homework.

Business Manager Rainwater gave the board an updated tax report. The report showed $1,975,817.62 collected, which is 94.18 percent of the total tax roll.

The board recognized the Students, Educator and Staff of the Month. They were: Students of the Month - Christina Olvera, A.B. Duncan Elementary, Building Bridges Class; Jordan Woody, R.C. Andrews Elementary, Grade 3; Everado Rodriguez, FJHS, Grade 7; Clay Ware, FHS, Grade 10; Educator of the Month - JoAnn Chavarria, CCLC, Business; and Support Staff of the Month - Ilda Vasquez, R.C. Andrews Elementary, Library Assistant.

Superintendent Vaughn gave a closing report concerning the results of this last semester's TAKS tests. "All the results are not in yet, but we have increased in 15 areas of the test, while we decreased in 10 areas. Our Third Grade increased from 71 percent to 83 percent. We made positive progress in growth for a total of 150 point increase. We are not where we want to be and we are still concerned in certain areas. Our summer school hinges on this TAKS report."

Floydada Senior Citizens News

By Margarete Word

Those visiting at noon Friday, May 21 at the Center were Sam and Audrey Spence and Tressman Glover.

Friday, May 21 at the Floyd County Historical Museum's "Open House" I saw a lot of people from out of town for the weekend "Ole Settlers Day" celebration of 75 years. Many people were interested in Frank Potts' gathering of pictures of people from this area. He is putting them on the computer and our museum will have a great record of years past.

My son, Greg Bond, his wife Mona and children Bethany and Michael came in Saturday afternoon from Granbury. They could not stay long because they had to be in Lubbock by 4:30 p.m. So, I did not get to attend the parade but I heard that Marie Tardy who is 95 years old got to ride with Billie Jo Smith on his motorcycle in the parade. What a thrill that must have been for Marie.

Congratulations to Myria Dade who was given the award for "Pioneer Woman of the Year." Also congratulations to J.W. and Dolores Cannon on receiving the award for "Pioneer Couple of the Year."

"Happy Birthday!" to members who will have a June birthday: June 1 - Manola Day and Lafaun Smith; June 2 - Lorene Newberry; June 4 - Barbara Covington; June 5 - Darrell Mayo; June 6 - Tom Emert; June 9 - Estelle Warren; June 11 - Boone Adams and H.C. McElyea; June 16 - Gene Lawson; June 17 - Yvonne Thaxton; June 20 - Johnnie West; June 22 - Wayne Russell; June 23 - Francis Gunter; June 25 - Vernola Hanna; June 26 - Martha Taylor; June 27 - Bob Hambright; and June 30 - Kathy Johnson.

Thank you for remembering the Center when you need to make a memorial donation.

In memory of Betty Boren - Delmas and Pauline McCormick, Margarete Word, Sue Moore.

In memory of Ann Helms - Adrain Helms.

Our sympathy to the family of Allan Gross.

Thought for the week - If you have never experienced the danger of battle, the loneliness of imprisonment, the agony of torture or the pangs of starvation, you are ahead of 20 million people around the world.

JOHN PERRY, columnist, and author of a new book, "Winter Moon" was at a book signing reception, Saturday, at the Floyd County Library. Born and raised in the high plains area, Perry has written weekly columns for area newspapers for 18 years. He also writes feature stories. "Winter Moon" is an epic western written about the staked plains, high plains, and the Llano Estacado area. "This area was steeped in mystery," said Perry, "and known only to Indians and Comancheros at that time. It is a story about adventure, love, hardship and faith." Perry said he has a little "Indian tracking--Texas Rangers--and the U.S. Cavalry" in his story.

With a Summer 2004 sign-up in mind, the USDA Natural Resource Conservation Service has announced that 18 watersheds across the continental United States will be the first areas where farmers and ranchers get a chance to participate in the Conservation Security Program.

The 18 watersheds include two that are at least partially located in Texas. The first is the Hondo watershed that overlays part of the Edwards Aquifer and includes parts of the following Texas counties Medina, Bandera and Frio.

The second is the Punta de Agua watershed which straddles the Texas-New Mexico border and includes all or part of the following counties in the northern Texas Panhandle: Dallam, Hartley and Oldham; and parts of Union county in New Mexico.

The two watersheds cover over 1.7 million acres. The Punta de Agua covers 998,000 acres and the Hondo watershed includes 704,000 acres according to the NRCS.

Nationally more than 14 million acres of land and an estimated 27,000 farms and ranches will be eligible to apply for CSP participation.

The CSP is a voluntary program that supports ongoing conservation stewardship of agricultural working lands and enhances the condition of America's natural resources.

Nationwide the inaugural CSP sign-up will make some $41.4 million in CSP funding available to reward farmers and ranchers for addressing specific resource concerns on their operations through the successful use of conservation practices. It is estimated that 3,000 to 5,000 contracts will be able to be written in the initial sign-up period.

NRCS is in the process of training personnel in the selected watersheds on the basics of the program with detailed training scheduled after publication of the interim final rule governing the sign-up process later in the summer.

June Agricultural Survey Is Opportunity To Provide Facts About Texas Agriculture

The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service has targeted May 27-June 13 as the time frame for conducting the 2004 June Agricultural Survey.

The June Survey is one of the more important survey programs conducted by TASS and is used to develop the first clear indications of potential acreage and production of major commodities for the 2004 growing season.

All farmers and ranchers selected for the survey are encouraged to participate.

The National Agricultural Statistics Service conducts a number of survey programs throughout the year to establish projections for crop acreage, production and input usage across the United States.

Information gathered during the survey is used by a wide variety of people in the agriculture industry, as well as within the federal government, and it is imperative that the information provided is as accurate as possible.

The information provided by farmers and ranchers is used by a wide variety of people including industry analysts, extension agents, and farm organizations. The data is also often used in the development of agricultural policy.

By law the information gathered during the survey process is kept confidential and is combined with responses from other participants to develop the needed data and provide meaningful, accurate and objective statistics that help keep U.S. Agriculture informed.

NCC Program Trains Cotton Industrial Leaders

The National Cotton Council is still looking for applicants interested in being part of the 2004-05 Cotton Leadership Class.

NCC will accept applications from qualified U.S. industry members through July 1, 2004 and anyone interested in applying can visit the Cotton Leadership Program's web site at <http://leadership.cotton.org> to review the program curriculum, eligibility requirements and download the application.

The NCC's Cotton Leadership Program seeks to identify potential industry leaders and provide them leadership training.

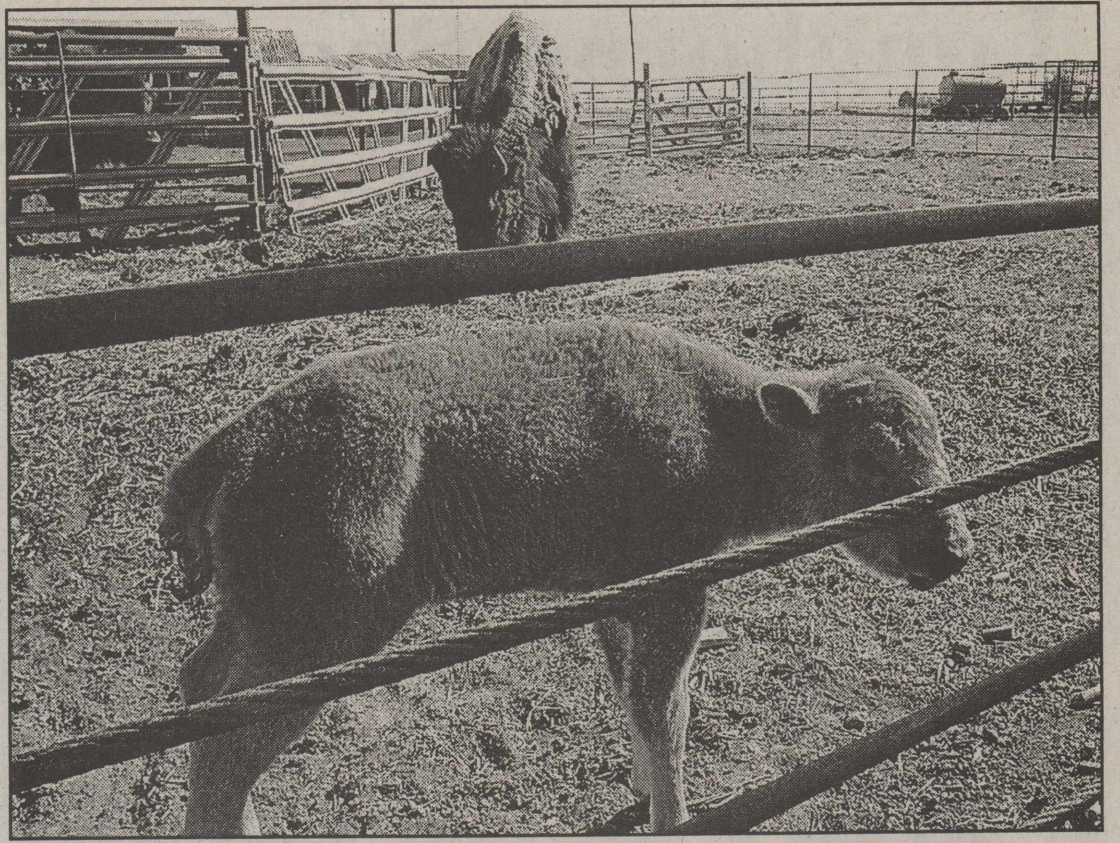

The course is comprised of five sessions conducted across the Cotton Belt. Participants will visit with industry leaders; observe production, processing and research activities; and meet with lawmakers and government agency representatives during a visit to Washington, DC. Participants will also attend the NCC's annual meeting and its mid-year board of directors meeting.

The program, now in its 21st year, is supported by a grant to The Cotton Foundation from DuPont Crop Protection and is managed by NCC's Member Services department. The 10 member leadership class is comprised of four producers and one participant from each of the other six industry segments.

The 2004-05 class is to be announced in August by the NCC's Cotton Leadership Development Committee. Committee Chairman Jimmy Sanford, an Alabama producer, says the U.S. cotton industry has benefited from dedicated leaders for decades, but the need to groom future leaders is imperative.

"Sound leadership will be crucial for helping move U.S. cotton forward in a rapidly evolving global marketplace," Sanford said. "The leadership program is an ideal training ground for those men and women who would like to embrace the challenge of guiding this outstanding industry."

NEWEST ADDITION TO CARTEL BUFFALO HERD--Cecil Carthel and his son Charles purchased three six-month old buffalo calves two years ago, (one bull and two heifers). One of those heifers is now the proud mother of the above one day old heifer calf, born Sunday morning, May 23, 2004. "Buffalo have always fascinated me," said Cecil. "I told my son that I thought I would like to raise some of my own. He got on the internet and found these in Brownwood. We met the owners in Post and brought the calves home."

Cotton Market Weekly  A service provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

Early morning upside potential eased amid two-sided, choppy trade on Thursday causing cotton futures on the New York Cotton Exchange to close lower. Despite relatively healthy figures, USDA's export sales report had little impact on the market.

Analysts considered weekly export data released by USDA on Thursday to be neutral information for the market. U.S. cotton exports were lower than market expectations, but still were enough to meet the department's 13.8 million-bale export projection for the season.

Export shipments of 188,700 bales for the week ended May 13 were down 35 percent from the previous week and 39 percent less than the four-week average. Primary destinations included China, Mexico and Turkey.

Weekly export sales were in line with analysts' ideas as net sales of 67,800 bales of U.S. cotton represented a 53 percent decline from the previous week and a 45 percent reduction from the four-week average. Major buyers included China, Turkey, and Mexico. Sales of 85,100 bales for delivery in 2004-05 were primarily for South Korea, Mexico and Pakistan.

On the spot cotton scene, trading was somewhat lower during the five trading days ended May 20 as Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas producers sold 2,174 bales online compared to the previous week when 3,330 bales were sold.

Meanwhile, U.S. cotton planting continued to make progress in the week ended May 16, and fieldwork in California had been completed according to USDA. Planting across the U.S. Cotton Belt reached 60 percent of the prospective acreage compared with 53 percent at the same time one year ago and the five-year average of 59 percent.

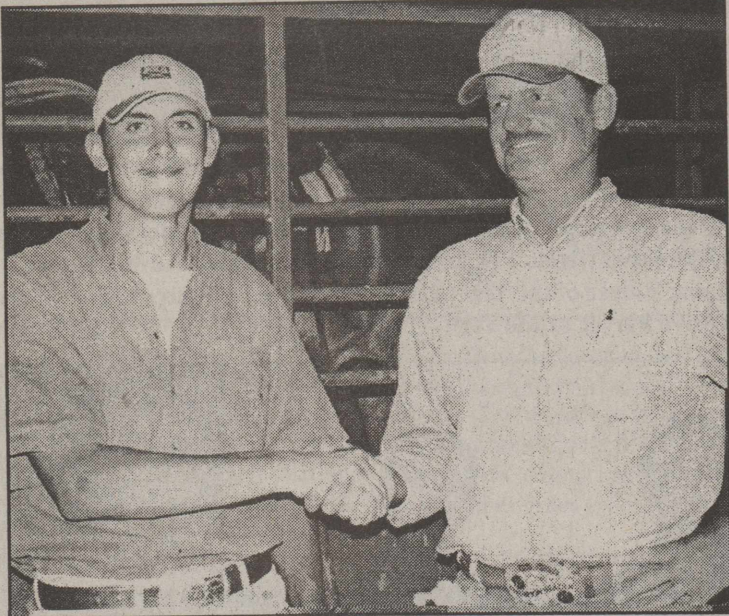

With the exception of Tennessee, the pace of planting operations across the Cotton Belt is at or near normal. However, fieldwork has been suspended in several areas of Tennessee as a result of wet fields, and many low-lying areas remain under water. Assessments are underway to determine how much land must be replanted.

The Texas Upper Coastal Bend also continues to suffer from wet fields and cool temperatures which have contributed to the incidence of seedling disease. Plant growth already has slowed, and the condition of cotton in the region continues to deteriorate.

Planting operations are gaining momentum on the Texas High and Rolling Plains. Farmers concentrated initially on irrigated land in the southern counties of the area but now have begun to turn their attention to dryland fields. Some growers still would welcome a planting rain; however, soil moisture in most areas is satisfactory. Cotton had emerged to a stand in the earliest-planted fields, and some already has been replanted following storms earlier this month.

In other fundamental news, the market now is focusing on China's crop size for the 2004-05 season. Fueling the fire this week, the China Cotton Association said cotton production there in 2004-05 is expected to total 27.5 million bales, up 23 percent from estimated production the previous year. The report also stated that the country is expected to enter the 2004-05 season with carryover stocks of 3.7 million bales which means the country could have a total supply of 31.2 million bales next year.

By Lorilla Bradley
How great that springtime brings us
Such a lovely month as May.
With flowers and showers and happy hours
And sunshine day by day!

We honor Mrs. Reecer
Someone nice to know...
Give her a book to pass the time
Which keeps her face "aglow."

Lottie Smith we're greeting...
She fills her life with flowers...
The more her garden blossoms
The more her happy hours.

Our Willie we are greeting
Who always loves to "rap"...
Be they neighbors, "kin" or strangers...
There are words to "fill" the gap!

"Salutes" to Barry Jones...
Someone nice to know.
Just stop in for a visit
And you will say its so!

Let's serenade these people
With the same Old Birthday Song...

So "tune in" with the chorus
And come out good and strong!
This is the last Birthday Party for the Rest Home given by the City Park Church of Christ.

Lorilla Bradley has done this for 32 years. This is the last poem for the Birthday Parties.

Thank you for the surprise honor given to us on Old Settler's Day. It was such a special and memorable day. A day we shall not soon forget. May God bless each of you.

Floydada School Song

Hail Floydada High School
Hats off to you
Ever you'll find us
Loyal and true.
Firm and undaunted
Always we'll be
Hail to the school we love
Here's a toast to thee.
