Veteran recalls "Lucky Days"

By Alice Gilroy
 Sunday, June 6th, Tom Noble Emert will be celebrating his 80th Birthday along with the 60th anniversary of D-Day. A veteran of the Battle of the Bulge, Tom feels he has been a "very lucky man".
 Tom was the fifth of seven sons born to Tom and Audrey Emert in their Dougherty home. At the age of five, Tom began working on the Dougherty farm. One of his favorite things to do along his four mile walk home from the Dougherty school, was to stop and make friends with the skunks along the way.
 "I never got sprayed," said Tom. "You had to know how to handle them. When I spotted one in the field I would walk around and around it in circles until he calmed down. Then I would walk up and tuck his tail under his belly and pick him up like a cat."
 Very often Tom would take the skunks with him to work or back home. "One time I had five skunks in a cage. They would spray each other when they fought but they wouldn't spray me. When they would spray each other it didn't smell."
 "I fed them rabbit pellets instead of insects and I think that is what kept their spray from stinking."
 Tom left school in his sophomore year to begin work on five jobs for the CCC's, with the last job being Kings Canyon National Park in California as a cook.
 In March 1943, he joined the

TOM EMERT

Army and eventually made his way to France and participated in the Battle of the Bulge.
 "I was first stationed at Fort Sill, in Oklahoma," said Tom. "At one time I was stationed at North Camp Bowie in Gatesville. It had just opened up and we spent the first 30 days picking up nails and splinters."
 At Camp Hood, in Killeen, Tom was assigned to the 655 TD (Tank Destroyer) Battalion.
 "One night we all packed up to be shipped out," said Tom. "We slept on the barrack floor and when we woke up all of our equipment was gone but we were still there."
 "That ended up being another lucky day for me. The battalion cleaned up by 1:00 a.m. for participants to go home and rest.

 The Relay for Life has turned into a fun social event in Floyd County. Friends and neighbors have enjoyed the time to get reacquainted and adults spend just as much time with the games as the children.
 There will also be entertainment throughout the walk, and anyone interested in participating in the entertainment should call Carrie Terrell, 983-3717.

Hall wins first at State

For the second consecutive year, Lockney High School sophomore Alexis Hall has earned a "1" rating in state University Interscholastic League solo competition. Miss Hall's performance of the Italian aria "Danzi, Danzi" won the state's highest solo rating during competition Monday in San Marcos.
 "Even though Lockney doesn't have an official choir program, I am very appreciative of all the support Lockney Independent School District has shown," said Miss Hall.
 "Mrs. Amy Thornton both helped me prepare and was my piano accompanist in San Marcos, and Superintendent Raymond Lusk, Principal James Poole, and Band Director Rob Lovett have been there to help me at every turn. I would not have been able to achieve this without their assistance."

 Miss Hall, daughter of Laurie and Bobby Hall of Lockney, will perform a studio recital consisting of songs she has prepared under the guidance of Mrs. Jennie Lynn Hodges, associate professor of music at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview.
 The recital is scheduled for 5 p.m.P.M. riday, June 4, in the recital hall in the Harral Auditorium complex on the Wayland campus.

 A reception will follow the recital.

Straight winds as fierce as tornadoes

Plan shelter early--no local shelters available

With the approach of severe weather season on the South Plains, residents need to make themselves aware of the variety of dangers West Texas winds can produce. It is important to remember that not all damaging thunderstorm wind is tornadic.

Thunderstorms are capable of producing an equally destructive and life-threatening thunderstorm wind commonly referred to as the "straight-line wind". Straight-line winds are not associated with rotation. Instead, the wind moves forward along the ground in a straight fashion.

Lines of thunderstorms that develop across Texas are capable of producing straight line wind speeds in excess of 100 mph. Wind flowing out of these thunderstorms accelerates ahead of the line of storms along what is termed the gust front.

Downbursts, another type of straight line wind, are strong downdrafts of air in a single thunderstorm that accelerate downward and produce an out-rush of damaging wind on or near the ground. There are two types of downbursts--microbursts and macrobursts.

Straight line thunderstorm winds occasionally reach speeds in excess of 100 mph. These types of winds are intense enough to uproot trees and destroy buildings.

Often, because of the widespread and significant nature of resulting damage many people mistakenly believe they have been in a tornado. In reality, they have experienced a straight line wind event, comparable in strength to a weak tornado.

Identifying the approaching high wind is a key first step in taking the steps necessary to protecting yourself. As a downburst impacts the ground and the damaging straight line winds begin to spread out...a curled area or dust or rain, referred to as a "dustfoot", or "rainfoot" may be evident. In the curl of a dustfoot or rainfoot high winds are occurring. Other indications of straight line winds may include a wall of approaching dust or rain, or the presence of shelf or roll clouds.

Treat straight line wind events the same as you would an approaching tornado. Seek shelter in a reinforced shelter---away from all windows.

Plan ahead, and remember there will be no public storm shelters available in Floydada at the courthouse, jailhouse, or fire department.

was split up and sent all over. The ones who took our place ended up in D-Day plus one or two. We were lucky we didn't have to go."

Tom was then sent to Fort Jackson in Columbia, South Carolina, and joined the 648 TD Battalion. "We stayed there for about one year and were then sent overseas in December 1944.

Tom landed in Scotland. When the equipment arrived Tom and his unit set out for France. He was moved to the front lines and fought in Saarbruck on the border of Germany and France.

The Tank Destroyer gun was moved by a "half track". "A half track is a truck on a track (similar to a tanks) with light armor.

"We towed a 76 mm gun which is the same type of gun on a tank."

The guns were spread out approximately 1/2 mile apart. "We were told where to aim by forward observers," said Tom. According to Tom the Germans were also using the same type of weapons aimed at the Americans. "The forests around us looked like splinters from all the artillery fire. I don't know how anyone lives through that."

Serving under General Patton, Tom remembers that Patton was not fond of the TD guns. "I don't know why he didn't like us," laughs Tom. "He would always put us up front and the tanks in the back behind the lines."

Tom was also part of the battle in the "Ruhr pocket".

"When the Germans gave up we just told them to keep walking into the lines behind us. We told them someone would come along to take care of them."

Tom said what he remembers the most was the cold and the wet fox holes. "When things started to thaw water would seep into the fox holes," said Tom. "I remember one guy who would sleep with his head down in the fox hold and his feet out. He would say he didn't worry about his feet getting shot off, but he did worry about losing his head. I used to worry that the water was going to rise up above his head."

"It was worse north of us. The cold and wet was worse and so was the loss of life. The Germans broke through for awhile and then we pushed them back."

After approximately 4 months of fighting, Tom says he got a little bit of rest and relaxation.

Shipped back to the States in July of 45 he prepared to be shipped to Japan for the invasion.

"After getting back I was re-assigned to the 9th Chemical Mortar Battalion. We carried 4 inch mortar on our back and went in the infantry. I probably would have come back in a box."

Japan surrendered before the invasion had to take place.

"I was lucky again," said Tom. "If we had to invade there would have been a larger loss of life than what was caused by the A-bombs."

Tom was discharged in December of 1945. In September 1942, he married Miss Lois

Gorley.

Their son Tommie Douglas was born in July, 1943, and their daughter Nancy Darlene was born in February, 1947.

After he returned from the service he worked for Phillip's at the rubber plant in Borger. In 1948, he bought a farm in Dougherty.

During the late 1950's, he worked for the Plainview and the Floydada Police Departments. In 1961, the family moved to Huntsville, where Tom became a prison guard in the Huntsville Wall's Unit. In 1962, Tom became a security guard at NASA in Houston.

In 1963, he began working for the Deer Park ISD,

Tom's son Douglas, 21, was killed Viet Nam on December 13, 1964. "He was a medic," said Tom.

Tom retired from Deer Park ISD in 1981 and moved with his new wife, Zula Mae to his inherited acres in Dougherty. In 1988, Zula Mae died.

He worked at Covington's station for Producers until 2003. According to Tom when Edwina Hollums agreed to marry him in April 1997 he became the happiest man in Floyd County. He is now part of an extended family with 5 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

All friends and family are invited to join in a celebration of Tom's birthday to be held June 6 at the senior citizen's building in Floydada, from 2:00-4:00.

Dear Editor,

We Conservatives have doubt that you Democrats know what you are voting for at the polls. Before Roosevelt, the Democrat was the Conservative Party. The Republican was the Liberal Party. The Conservatives would have voted Democrat. What I considered my closest friends have killed my vote.

The Republican Party is as 2-faced as Bill Clinton, when they claim to be the Conservative Party. When a bill in Congress does not pass, they can blame the Democrats. The only reason I vote Republican, I am voting against the Democrat Party, as they do not believe in Christianity or prayer in schools.

When you people vote Democrat, you are supporting Socialism and Communism.

OSHA closed down several businesses in our towns and cities. We are now living under Socialism and calling it a Democracy. Our forefathers had the best government the world has ever known when they had a Republic form of government. Our forefathers were living under God's Laws for almost 200 years. The Liberals turned that government into a democracy which turns into Socialism. We are now living under liberal laws that control us every way we turn. It should be our choice about using a seat belt.

PLEASE MR. PRINCIPAL MAKE BANANA PUDDING--LISD Faculty, staff, and students turned out for a "Going Away Party" for their longtime principal James Poole, on May 27. Poole has worked for LISD for 32 years and has been the High School Principal since 1978. He was treated to several surprise musical numbers, including a "Jamaican" style song of "Please, Mr. Principal Make Banana Pudding". Poole is known for his great cooking and has for years treated students and faculty with surprise desserts and meals. Senior Paul Amador also did a rendition of "Big Bad John", called "Big Bad James", and Science Teacher J.C. King also entertained with bongos and spoke briefly on Mr. Poole's life at LISD. "Lance Terrell did a very good job of mimicking me," said Poole. "I could hear myself in the things he said." The school choir, Harmony, also entertained and old friends and many family members showed up to honor Poole. "It was a great turnout," said Poole. "I appreciate all the thoughts and work. It was a very good tribute. I'll always remember it." Poole says although he will be packed up and moved out by next week, it won't be long before he sees everyone again. "I'll be back for Homecoming." Pictured here is Mr. Poole (behind the podium), holding grandson James Drew Poole.

Old Settlers Day Memorial Service

By Flora McNeill

75 years and going strong! In 1929 the organization of "Old Settlers" was held and it was the same year that the banks closed with the Great Depression following! Our thoughts are related to the 75 years of celebrating.

The daily practices of people were abruptly changed though they were not classed as "poor". The depression caused many farmers to lose their land.

We have seen many changes in our homes. From not having water, electricity, heating or cooling, etc., our homes have become one of comfort. Cars and transportation are also compared with no heat, radio, power steering, self starter to the computerized engine, heated seats and even TV for our convenience.

Our highways and streets have changed from mud and being rough to fine pavement everywhere. Communication has become finger tip control world wide from sparse telephones and telegraph. The mode of transportation from the Model T Ford to space ships landing on the moon.

Another great improvement is the 12 row planter in place of the 1 or 2 row planter.

The schools have changed from the two room frame building in each community to large brick ones with separate administration structures in towns. Teachers were in charge and children went to school to learn. The students walked to school and were not involved with dope, wrecks, pregnancies and things that are present today.

Sports were popular but there were no lighted football fields with bleachers, inside basketball courts or much of any other sport. The school annual was very popular.

People were hard workers using a team of horses or mules, heading maize by hand, thrashing their own maize for seed on a rub-board by hand, hoeing and pulling cotton by hand and many other chores that have long been forgotten. Houses were never locked and a person's word was his honor. Most food was grown in gardens and the orchard with much canning and preserving being done each year. Hogs we slaughtered with preserving and placed in prepared areas to last until the neighbors had another "hog killing". Many, many experiences come to our mind - some good and some otherwise.

The church was not forgotten. This was a time and place for people to meet, visit and worship. The Bible tells us that, "God created humankind in his image and he saw everything that he had made, and indeed, it was very good." The first settlers in Floyd County had to believe this in order to travel and face all the obstacles that they beheld. Their experiences were more complex than those at the time that Old Settlers Day was established. It is with love, respect and appreciation that we honor them today in the memorial service in their memory.

But now is a special time of remembering all those who have passed away this year. The 143 names are listed below: Virginia Norris Lyon, Adella Ochoa, Marlene Raley Robertson, Herbert N. Martin and Dewbre exchange vows

MRS. RYAN WILLIAM DEWBRE
(Nee Sarah Naomi Martin)

Sarah Naomi Martin and Ryan William Dewbre were married in Holy Matrimony with a candle-light ceremony at 7:00 p.m. on May 29, 2004 at First Baptist Church in Lockney. Rev. Harold Abney, Pastor of Afton Baptist Church in Afton presided over the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Jim and Kay Martin of Lockney. She is the granddaughter of Naomi Johnston of Lockney, and Jim and JoAnne McGiboney of Flower Mound.

The groom is the son of Jerry and Kathy Dewbre of Corpus Christi. He is the grandson of Marie Dewbre Bracken of Tishomingo, OK.

Phil Cotham and Sharon Hunt together sang "The Parent's Prayer" and "Household of Faith". Sharon sang "Feels Like Home". Blake Bouldin of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was pianist.

The sanctuary was decorated with Old World type lanterns and large iron candelabras with pillar candles. Fabric covered columns topped with large white silk wisteria arrangements and tulle accented the candelabras. The tulle theme was carried through on the center aisle. The aisle was also lit with small lanterns. The ledge of the baptistry was filled with taper, pillar, and votive candles. The unity candelabra was center stage. The couple lit an extra "Unity in Christ" candle. The window sills were decorated with cut glass candle holders and pillar candles.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. She selected a sophisticated A-line gown of diamond white Italian satin from the collection of Maggie Sottero. A v-notch added dimension to the strapless neckline. Top stitched boning accentuated by seed pearls and crystal sequins created an empire bodice. Asymmetrical gathers at the waist draped into a side split adorned with pearls and seed beads. The gown was finished with a stunning corset back embellished with the same bead work to echo the dazzling bodice and cascaded into an apron back chapel length train. A hair comb covered in clusters of seed pearls held her elbow length diamond white veil that was edged with diamond white satin ribbon. She carried a bouquet that was a contemporary design with white enchantment lilies, soft pink roses, and assorted greenery.

Representing something old was her late great-grandmother's golden nugget. Something new was her wedding gown. Something borrowed was her grandmother's pearl bracelet. Something blue was her garter.

Serving as Maid of Honor was Lacey Aston of Lubbock, childhood friend of the bride. Matron of honor was Cynthia Schlueter of Mansfield, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Misty Lewis and Rachael McLarry of College Station, college friends of the bride; Kimberly Dewbre of Dallas, sister of the groom; and Fallon Huff of Sugarland, college friend of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore individually designed two-piece long gowns made of latte colored satin. They carried open soft pink roses clustered and stem tied together. Each had seven roses bound together with french braided organza ribbon.

The groom was dressed in the traditional black tuxedo with black bowtie and black vest.

Serving as best man was Luke Rollins of Houston, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Bart Fehr of Houston, friend of groom; Jason Ramsey of Lubbock, friend of groom; Sebastian Sheetz of Dallas, friend of the groom; Adam Delano of Austin, Douglas of Lubbock, cousin of the bride and Tasha Schlueter of Mansfield, Niece of the bride.

Ushers were Mike Jacob of Houston, friend of the groom; Chris Anderson of Corpus Christi, friend of the groom; and Tom Meriwether of Houston, friend of the groom.

Registering the guests was Michelle Smith of Lubbock, childhood friend of the bride.

Following the wedding, a reception at the Plainview Country Club was hosted by the bride's parents.

The bride's table was attended by Michele and Nicole Johnston of Horn Lake, Mississippi, aunt and cousin of the bride, and Lori Bean of Lubbock, aunt of the bride.

The tables at the reception were decorated with a candle crystal and beads. Rose petals were tossed on each table. The candle arrangements set in glass and crystal holders accented with bead work sat on plaid taffeta table runners. Each table had tulip and rose arrangements within the candles.

Pre-nuptial courtesies included the rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's parents, Jerry and Kathy Dewbre at the Plainview Country Club 7:30 p.m. on Friday, May 28, 2004; a couples' shower January 31, 2004 at Jerry and Kathy Kramer's home in Corpus Christi; a miscellaneous shower March 13, 2004 at the Corpus Christi Country Club; and a miscellaneous shower April 3, 2004 in the home of Reeda Cay Smith. Hostesses were: Connie Barnett, Barbara Cawley, Vicki Clark, Sandra Cummings, Rise Ford, Lynda Gant, Julie Hancock, Nancy Jane Henderson, Jackie Lou Holt, Kathy Kellison, Kim Lambert, Martha Sue Lusk, Brenda Mangold, Ginger Mathis, Debbie Meriwether, Charlotte Mitchell, Marva Rasco, Maria Sheetz, Virginia Stapp and Kathy Young. A lingerie shower was held in Dallas on April 17, 2004 in the home of Kimberly Dewbre, sister of the friend of the groom; and Chris Yonker of Houston, friend of the groom.

The groomsmen were attired in formal black tuxedos with black bowties and black vests. The groom and groomsmen's boutonnieres were blush pink roses.

The flower girls were Lillie groom. A chuck wagon breakfast was hosted by bride's parents at their home in Lockney, Sunday morning, May 30 for all out-of-town guests.

The bride is employed by Garland I.S.D. as a teacher. She graduated from Lockney High in 1999. She graduated in 2002 from Texas A&M with a degree in Agricultural Development and graduated Wayland Baptist with a Master of Education in 2004.

The groom is employed as an agency representative for Lawyers Title Insurance Company in Dallas. He graduated in 1997 from Carroll High School in Corpus Christi. He graduated 2001 from Texas A&M with a degree in Agricultural Development and a minor in Business.

The couple chose an Alaskan cruise as their wedding trip.

They will make their home in Dallas.

Lockney Senior Citizens News

By Vera Jo Bybee

Memorial Day Services held at the Lockney Cemetery was so beautiful and impressive. The Boy Scouts put out flags on all the veteran's graves and held a flag ceremony with taps being played. A nice size crowd with several veterans attended. But it is sad that there are fewer and fewer of the older veterans present.

Every last Monday in May, I not only celebrate Memorial Day but also the birth of our son. On May 31, 1955 in Plainview Louie Don Bybee was born. We sent out announcements saying "It's a Boy"!!! We were so thankful and proud to have a son whom we have loved for 49 years. Happy Birthday Louie.

I visited on the phone with Aubrey and Bernice Kent this week. They are packing and getting ready to move to Pampa to be close to their daughter Wetia and husband Ronnie Loter. Their address will be 1119 Maryellen St. Pampa, Texas 79605.

Bernice and Aubrey are kinda stowed up after having some minor accidents doing all this packing for the move. Bernice fell off a ladder and pulled some muscles and Aubrey broke a bone in his foot and has to wear one of those boots on it.

They have lived in Lockney for 57 years and are really going to be missed.

In the memory segment this week the featured softball team is the American Legion better known as the "Homerun Team" cause all of the players would hit a homerun nearly everytime they came up to bat.

Manager was Wayne Bybee. The players were Rusty Baccus,

Whitey Baccus, Paul Kropp, Archie Bybee, Red Childers, Chili Childers, Carl Blair, Windy Hargiss, Doyle Casey, and Revis Harris. I know I haven't remembered all of them so please let me know who I have left off.

This week's Senior Citizen profile is on Jo Webb.

Jo Sharp was born February 26, 1926 at Pike, Texas to Sabert Scott and Texanne Lee Sharp. Jo attended school through the 10th grade at Pike then transferred to Leonard where she graduated.

She married Granvel Webb on October 12, 1946 at Farmersville and they moved to Floyd County in 1951. Granvel passed away September 30, 1997.

Jo has four children. One son and three daughters. Randy of Plainview, Ruby of Seymore, Arlene of Littlefield, and Lynda of Lockney. She has two grand children and three step grandchildren also one step great grandchild.

Jo retired from working out in the public several years ago but continues to do alterations in her home. Thank you Jo for being this week's Senior Citizen.

Muse News

By Carolyn Hardy

There was a wonderful turnout of visitors to the Museum for Open House on Friday afternoon, May 21. The Museum's photography display drew many compliments. Frank Potts was on hand to assist in looking up specific photographs and making requested prints. Frank's work on scanning the photograph collection has turned into an ongoing process. The Museum has received several emails, phone calls and personal visits requesting information about the photography collection. The refreshment table was decorated with pink and green depression glass. There is a new display with 1929 and 1931 graduation dresses. Additional military uniforms donated to the Museum have been added to the military display.

The wildflower arrangements in the East Room were beautiful for the Floyd County Pioneer Reunion on Saturday, May 22. There were some very unusual containers in each category. Sixty-four ropes were made on the rope machine. Thomas Musser, Monte Williams, Cecil Pope, Billy Don Colston and Eddie Brown assisted the children making ropes. In addition to members of the Board of Directors of the Museum serving as hosts, Bill and Roberta Hardin, Ray Holcomb and Paul Atteberry helped by greeting visitors. A special thanks to all that helped make the 2004 county-wide Floyd County Pioneer Reunion such a success.

On Thursday, May 20, the Museum hosted the Texas Heritage Plains Trail Region Board. The board consists of 25 members from across the 52-county area that the Plains Trail covers. Guests in attendance were County Judge, William D. Hardin; May of Floydada, Bobby Gilliland; President of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, Lex Herrington; Floyd County Chamber Manager, Irene Hernandez; and President of the Museum Board of Directors, Donnell Gowens. Staff, board members and volunteers assisting with registration, lunch and refreshments were Lila Kendrick, Dolores Cannon, Nancy Marble, Janet Milam, Virginia Taylor, Dorothy Turner and Gayle Jackson. The Museum, board members and volunteers provided the working lunch. The next meeting will be held on the third Thursday in June at Wheeler, Texas.

On Wednesday, May 19, Dr. Kregg Fehr brought 25 students from his Texas History class in to tour the Museum. Dr. Fehr brings a history class to the Museum each semester.

Memorials received May 11 through June 01 were in memory of: Ann Helms, Wayne Collins, Edith Washington, Allan Gross, Ralph Rucker, Lena Mae Watson and Kay Hale.

Floydada Senior Citizen News

A retirement party was given to Louis Anderson May 14th from Producers Cooperative - congratulations.

Congratulations to Sheree Cannon who retired from Floydada Independent School System this past May. A retirement party was given in her honor May 26th. J.W. and Dolores Cannon's son Dough Cannon and his wife Vickie of San Antonio were visiting here over "Ole Settlers" weekend.

James and Sue Lovell have just returned from a trip to Denver, Colorado, where they attended the graduation of their granddaughter, Abbye Lovell from Johnson and Wales University. Abbye is the daughter of Tom and Mary Lovell.

You are invited to a "come and go" birthday celebration for Tom Emert who will turn 80 years old June 6. The party will take place Sunday, June 6 at the Floydada Senior Citizen Center located at 301 East Georgia Street from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. No gifts please, but a card would be welcomed. Family members will host the party.

Memorial day I was at the Dairy Queen having lunch and while there I saw Julian and Joyce Lipham. Julian has been in the hospital recently but he said he was feeling better. They were here visiting their children.

Monday afternoon I drove out to the cemetery and noticed the flags placed beside the graves of veterans. Don't know who was responsible for the flags but I thank you.

Later on, I went to Floydada Rehab and Care Center to visit Marie Tardy, Jerry Bradford, Elizabeth Armstrong, Sarah Hunter and Joy Allen. They are always happy to see visitors.

William and Faye spent this past weekend at Possum Kingdom on a fishing trip. Faye said there were lots of people there and the wind really blew hard.

Our sympathy to the family of Ralph Rucker.

Our sympathy to the family of Lena Mae Watson.

Our sympathy to the family of Kay Hale.

Thank you for remembering the Center when you need to make a memorial donation.

In memory of Betty Boren - Freida Dunn.

FLOYDADA FFA AREA SWEEPSTAKES AWARD WINNERS

Floydada FFA wins Sweepstakes award at area convention

By Kayla Kelley

The Floydada FFA Chapter attended the Area I Convention on May 14th and 15th. The convention was held at Tascosa High School in Amarillo.

At the convention, awards were presented to schools from throughout the area. Area I of the FFA organization includes 90 FFA chapters in the Texas Panhandle region of the state. Some of the awards presented were Proficiency Awards, Leadership Awards and Judging Awards.

The top two placing teams from each of the 6 FFA Districts in Area I qualify for the contests held at the Area Convention.

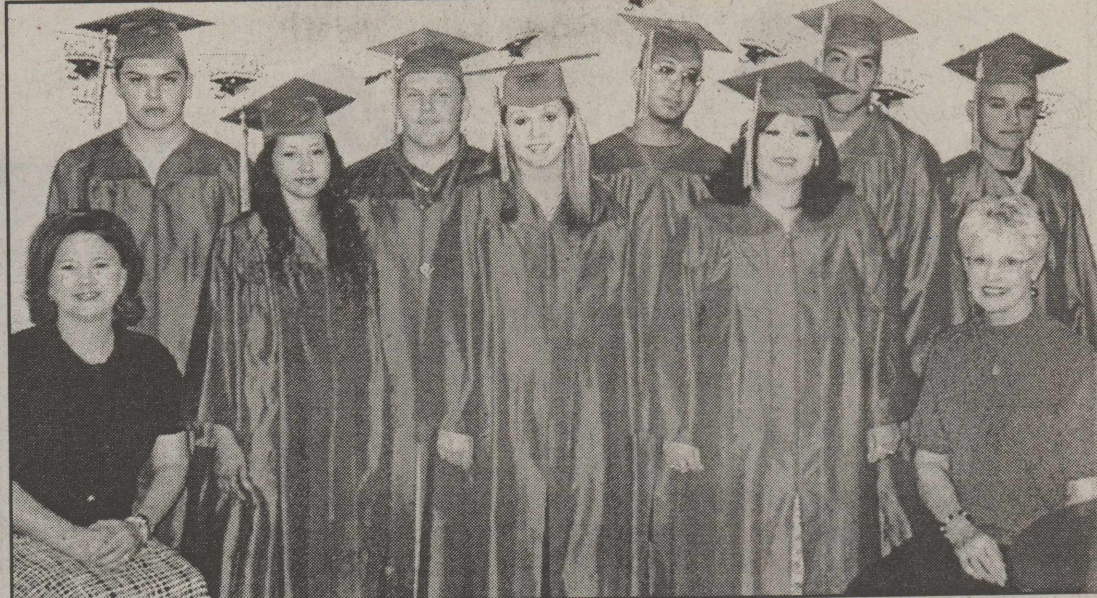

The Floydada FFA Talent Team, consisting of Brandon Rainwater, Paul Marmelejo, Jason Nutt, Tate Jones and Tate Greer, competed at the area contest and placed a very respectable 2nd.

Floydada FFA was well represented in the four speaking contests held during the Area Convention. Meghan Graham placed 1st in Extemporaneous Public Speaking. Kayla Kelley placed 1st in Prepared Public Speaking. Britnee Brotherton placed 1st in the Soil Stewardship Public Speaking Contest. Britnee won a $500 scholarship from the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board for winning the Area contest. All three girls will advance to the state contest. That will be held during the Texas FFA Convention at Ft. Worth this summer.

The highlight of the convention was the recognition of the Sweepstakes Awards. The FFA chapters that accumulate the highest point total from the different contests held throughout the year are recognized with the Sweepstakes Award. The Floydada FFA chapter was awarded the Area I Leadership Sweepstakes Award during the convention. The Floydada FFA chapter accumulated the most total points of the 90 different schools in Area I in the many leadership contests that are held during the year.

The Floydada FFA chapter is proud to have members who qualified for the state contest in three different events.

The USDA Agricultural Marketing Service Cotton Division has finalized 2004-crop user fees for cotton classification services provided by the agency.

The 2004 user fee for high volume instrument cotton classification services will increase to $1.65 per bale. This is an increase of 20 cents per bale over the 2003 classing fee and is required to meet the mandates of the Uniform Cotton Classing Fees Act of 1987.

The increase is necessary to cover the higher costs associated with providing cotton classing services to growers. The collected fees cover the salaries, equipment costs and overhead, including administration and supervision associated with providing the service to the grower. The new fee will go into effect July 1, 2004 and be in effect for the 2004-growing season.

Cotton classification services are provided under authority of the Smith-Doxey Act. Growers use the information to sell their cotton or place it in the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) loan program based on the unique fiber characteristics measured for each bale.

By law the Cotton Division must recoup the cost of providing classing services must charge a fee to offset the expense associated with providing grading services to growers. All AMS program costs are recovered from the sale of rebaled loose cotton.

Approximately 99 percent of the cotton produced in the United States each year is graded on a fee basis by USDA for cotton producers.

The law establishes a formula to estimate what the fee should be to cover expenses prior to adjustments made based on estimated volume and other factors. The law also limits the amount of carryover funds that can be retained by U.S.D.A. to cover program expenses.

Third draft of proposed 2005 Standard Reinsurance Agreement released by RMA

The USDA Risk Management Agency (RMA) has released the third draft of the 2005 Standard Reinsurance Agreement and so far it appears that both sides involved with the negotiation have been able to find common ground to stand on.

The third draft has received considerably better reviews than its predecessors and has apparently evolved into a document that can be fine-tuned instead of completely overhauled.

During the course of the SRA's development, changes have been made in several areas in response to the input of the crop insurance industry and others.

Areas where changes have been made include the level and timing of changes to provide cost savings within the program, modification of proposals that change the balance of risk sharing and program support for high risk areas, and regulatory oversight provisions. Based on the current draft, RMA estimates a cost savings of $36 million over the next two years.

Plains Cotton Growers has been monitoring the progress of the SRA's development and is confident that the new document can provide the business framework that allows the Risk Management Agency to protect the fiscal interests of the taxpayer and meet the needs of the crop insurance industry.

PCG's message to both RMA and the insurance industry has been that the terms of the agreement must provide an environment that maintains a viable and easily accessible crop insurance program for growers.

PCG has noted that although some adjustments are needed to make the program more fiscally responsible, it is equally important that the agreement provide the opportunity for companies to profitably write insurance across their whole book of business.

PCG has also made it clear through input delivered to members of Congress and the Agency that we agree with the direction the latest draft has taken and appreciate the efforts that have taken place to date.

"Cotton producers are acutely aware of the need for an affordable and fiscally sound federal crop insurance program," notes PCG Executive Vice President Steve Verett. "What we must continually guard against is the creation, either through deliberate action or oversight, of a situation where growers cannot obtain affordable risk management tools and quality insurance services."

Cotton Market Weekly

A service provided by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association

After a week of lackluster trading, cotton futures rallied in the final hour on Thursday in response to a reversal in the options pit, but the advance was insufficient to lift prices back onto positive ground. Consequently, the market finished the day by closing lower. A move to the upside was not in the cards despite strong sales and shipments noted in USDA's weekly export report.

According to USDA, net export sales of 108,600 bales for the week ended May 20 were 60 percent higher than the previous week and 12 percent better than the prior four-week average. Major buyers for the week included Turkey, Mexico and China. Sales of 134,800 bales for delivery in 2004-05 were primarily for Mexico and South Korea.

Export shipments of 249,900 bales were up 32 percent from one week earlier but down 10 percent from the prior four-week average. The primary destination was China with smaller quantities to Mexico, Turkey and Indonesia.

On the spot cotton scene, trading was somewhat lower during the five trading days ended May 27 as Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas producers sold 862 bales online compared to the previous week when 2,174 bales were sold.

Meanwhile, anticipated U.S. cotton plantings were at 72 percent completed as of May 23 versus 66 percent at the same time last year. The market's attention quickly is turning toward weather conditions as more of the nation's crop goes into the ground.

Soils are drying in Louisiana, and farmers there are expected to resume outside activities soon. Older plants are developing normally, and the warm weather will help boost growth. Some young stands, however, were damaged from last week's storms and losses are expected. Although the optimum planting period is drawing to a close, farmers there likely will replant with shorter season varieties of cotton.

In Texas, the health of the Coastal Bend crop remains uncertain. Water has receded from most fields, and young plants are struggling to recover. Producers there would like to cultivate as soon as possible, but fields remain too wet. If good drying conditions hold, fieldwork likely will resume late next week.

Crop development is advancing satisfactorily in the Texas Lower Rio Grande Valley. Blooming is increasing, and farmers have reported uniform setting of bolls. On the High Plains, planting is expanding with approximately 70 percent of irrigated fields and roughly 30 percent of dryland fields planted. Although soil moisture levels are the best in years in most areas of the High Plains, a slow, soaking rain would help boost seed germination.

In other news, national fuel prices have set record highs recently, and farmers already are feeling the effects. According to a Texas Cooperative Extension (TCE) economist, a tractor can burn from 8 to 20 gallons of fuel an hour.

"Cotton, corn and peanut producers are getting hit pretty hard by rising fuel prices because, right now, it's a necessity for their operations since they have to fill up at the pump and plow the fields," the economist said. "Fertilizer is another necessity for producers, and its cost rises with fuel prices. Producers have experienced a 20 to 30 percent increase in the price of fertilizer this year," he added.

"This isn't the first time fuel prices have gone up, and it won't be the last," the TCE economist said. "We're approaching the summer months when people are driving, and air travel has picked up. However, producers should see a price decrease once summer demand goes down," he concluded.

Scouting and Prevention Are Keys to Profitable Peanut Insect Control

Under the guidelines of the new peanut program, growers are rewarded for production efficiency. The greater the production of high quality peanuts, the greater the reward. In order to maximize production, growers often consider a number of options, including delaying planting to help avoid issues with Tomato Spotted Wilt Virus (TSWV).

The University of Georgia risk index generally rewards later planting. But that also creates more potential for insect problems, especially since plants will still be in the field in September and October. That's why scouting is critical in making the decisions to help a grower's bottom line.

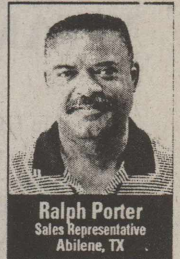

Timing is everything when you're trying to maximize insect control. Growers should quickly and efficiently identify insect pests, then determine the best treatment option for that point in the growth cycle of the crop. For control of soil borne insects such as Southern corn rootworm, growers should work to identify fields that are at higher risk for insect problems.

Higher risk fields are those with heavier soils, where Southern corn rootworm can be a problem in wet years, as well as dry, sandy fields where lesser cornstalk borer is more likely to be found. On those fields, a preventative treatment of Lorsban 15G insecticide would be a good investment.

The key is to know the history of the field and to start scouting at bloom for lesser cornstalk borer and early signs of foliage feeders. Signs of wireworms and Southern corn rootworm should become evident when pods appear.

For many years, Lorsban 15G has been the commercial standard for control of soil insects that cause yield and quality reductions in peanuts. It can be applied to peanuts as an at-plant or postplant preventative, band rescue or broadcast rescue treatment. And, it delivers broad-spectrum control of damaging pests three ways - through direct contact, ingestion and timing action.

To learn more about the benefits of Lorsban 15G in your peanut crop, contact your local ag retailer.
