Sergeant saves life

Ray Eldridge prevents tragedy for young boy

MSgt. Ray Eldridge, NCO In Charge of the Wing Life Support Section, and his two sons, Ray Jr. and Oscar, arrived at White River Lake Saturday for a relaxing day of fishing. Before the day was over, Sergeant Eldridge would save the life of a nine year old boy.

Sergeant Eldridge and his sons paid little attention to the boy playing in the water on an inner tube about 35 yards away, not at first anyway. Suddenly, Oscar noticed that the child had fallen off the inner tube, panicked, and could not regain his buoyant toy.

Sergeant Eldridge immediately jumped up and swam out to the child. The child went under but Sergeant Eldridge pulled him out, put him on the inner tube, and pulled him to shore. A very thankful and happy mother was there to greet them.

The boy had just begun swimming lessons and his confidence had developed much further than his swimming ability. Since Sergeant Eldridge was soaking wet, he and his sons had to cut their fishing trip short. However, thanks to them, a young boy would not have his life cut short.

New bill tightens leave selling policy

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The President has signed the Department of Defense Authorization Act 1977. The law contains significant changes to leave accrual and settlements for enlisted personnel.

Individuals who reenlist on their expiration term of service or enter into their first extension are now authorized to sell any part of their leave balance and carry forward the remainder. However, the provision that no more than 60 days of leave may be sold by a member during an entire Air Force career was extended indefinitely.

The law deleted the entitlements of basic allowance for subsistence (BAS) and basic allowance for quarters (BAQ) on accrued leave effective Sept. 1. Only basic pay will be paid after this date.

A save-pay provision in the law covers leave balances through Aug. 31. This means that individuals reenlisting after Aug. 31 will be able to collect BAS and BAQ on leave accrued to that date. However, on Aug. 31, leave balance will be reduced anytime a member takes more leave than he/she has accrued effective Sept. 1.

Changes in the law were prompted for two reasons, cost and the intent of Congress to have service members take leave. Officials said experience has shown that the privilege of selling back more than 60 days of leave acted as an incentive for service members not to take leave. It is the intent of Congress that leave be used as it is accrued for the purpose for which it is intended — relief from an oftentimes arduous work environment and as an aid to improve motivation and job performance.

Individuals can check with their local central base personnel office or finance and accounting office for more information.

MWR Division sponsors Labor Day extravaganza

By Barbara Reiland

Have you ever been in one of the Reese recreational facilities and said to yourself, "Sure wish they had a _____," thinking of some new piece of equipment or an improvement to the existing facility. I have and so has probably everyone else at one time or another.

There are numerous things Reese could use to greatly improve its recreational facilities but we all know why we don't have them — money, or rather, the lack of it. However, take heart, there is a way to change this.

By sponsoring a two day carnival and picnic over the Labor Day weekend (Sept. 4 and 5), the Morale, Welfare and Recreation Division (MWR) hopes to combine entertainment and recreation with a fund raising drive to raise money to improve recreational facilities here.

The carnival and picnic will serve three functions.

Fun For All

One will be to provide the biggest, best, most elaborate social event on Reese ever! There will be amusement rides, food concessions, live bands, bingo, a penny arcade, recreational exhibits and sales areas, game booths galore, "Anything Goes" contests between squadrons and of course, Youth contests. It will be a genuine "Carnival" atmosphere.

Secondly, we plan to wage an all-out campaign to keep our personnel off the roads during this dangerous holiday weekend. We hope to be able to avoid the kind of unfortunate traffic accidents that happened over the July 4th holiday weekend.

Raise Money

Third, to act as a fund raising event to earn money to increase our capability to serve you, the Reese community, in the areas that you feel need improvement. To do this we need your support and your assistance.

Each squadron has been asked to set up and run a booth of some sort. All of the proceeds from the

SR-71 shatters six performance marks

OFFUTT AFB, NEB. (AFNS) — Three Air Force SR-71 reconnaissance aircraft broke six records previously held by Soviet MIG-25 and U.S. Air Force YF-12 aircraft. On July 27 and 28 the aircraft set records for flight over a 1,000 kilometer, closed-circuit course, over a 15/25 kilometer straight course and for altitude in horizontal flight.

The records are unofficial, pending certification by the Federation Aeronautique International (FAI). The FAI is the accrediting organization for all aviation records.

First Record

On July 27 the first record-setting-flight took place when Maj. Adolphus H. Bledsoe Jr., pilot, and Maj. John T. Fuller, reconnaissance systems officer (RSO), flew the SR-71 to 2,116 miles per hour. This set new marks for the world-absolute and class records for speed over a closed-circuit course.

The course was 1,000 kilometers (621.4 miles) long above Edwards AFB, Calif. The plane had a payload of 2,200 pounds. The previous record was 1,853 m.p.h., held by a Soviet MIG-25 Foxbat.

Speed Record

Flying 2,194 m.p.h. on July 28, a second SR-71 bettered two records and topped unofficial records set just the day before. Capt. Eldon W. Joersz, pilot, and Maj. George T. Morgan, RSO, set world-absolute and class speed records over a 15/25 kilometer straight course.

The same crew on July 27 flew 2,189 m.p.h. to break the record of 2,070.101 m.p.h. set by the YF-12A prototype sistership of the SR-71.

FAI certification requires the aircraft to accomplish two consecutive passes without varying altitude more than 150 feet between the two passes. Initial indications were that the first 15/25 kilometer straight-course attempt might not be recognized because of incomplete verification.

Altitude accuracy is verified in two ways: By radar which is accurate to within 170 feet; and by highly calibrated cameras. On the second pass, high cloud cover prevented photo verification during the last few seconds of the run.

There was no problem with the speed of the record attempt, which was enough to establish a record. However, accurate altitude measurements are an integral part of the official record scoring.

Altitude Record

Capt. Robert C. Helt, pilot, and Maj. Larry A. Elliot, RSO, flew to 85,100 feet July 28 to set unofficial world-absolute and class altitude records for horizontal flight.

The flight breaks the record of 80,257 feet held by the YF-12A.

The same SR-71 crew flew to 86,000 feet July 27 in an attempt to break the record. However, the FAI requires aircraft to maintain a level altitude during record attempts. There was a possibility that the SR-71 may have varied its altitude in the first attempt.

Since verification equipment and FAI scoring officials were available July 28, the makeup day, it was decided to run second record attempts and submit all flights for approval to resolve any possible lack of official verification.

The SR-71 holds two other records, set in 1974. The plane flew from New York to London in 1 hour and 55 minutes and from London to Los Angeles in 3 hours and 47 minutes.

TRAIL BOSS

Our Aircraft Maintenance people are vital to our mission success. Lt. Col. (Colonel selectee) Richard A. Pierson took over the reins as Deputy for Maintenance in May and has a few good words about his philosophy of management.

Col. Edward Mendel

Lt. Col. Richard A. Pierson
Deputy Commander,
Maintenance

Although a newcomer to the field of aircraft maintenance, I am not a newcomer to Reese. Consequently, I am well aware of the excellent reputation enjoyed by the Reese Maintenance complex.

Time and again you have proven yourselves to be "Tops" in the Air Training Command when it comes to launching and recovering aircraft.

Well known too, by fliers from all over the country, is our friendly, courteous, capable Transient Alert Section which recently won the coveted Rex Riley Award for outstanding service. As the new Deputy Commander for Maintenance, I am totally dedicated to maintaining and building upon this fine reputation.

In every new endeavor we undertake there is a "breaking-in" period. This can sometimes be a lengthy and occasionally painful period for everyone concerned. However, with the support and cooperation of everyone, with each of us pulling together toward a common goal, this breaking-in period for the "new" DCM can be a fruitful learning experience for each of us.

One essential element in my "breaking-in" is to make maximum use of the great wealth of managerial and technical talent available within our maintenance complex here at Reese. My intentions are to place key personnel in positions where their expertise and abilities will be used to the fullest toward mission accomplishment.

Each of these senior NCOs and civilian managers will have the authority needed to go along with the responsibility each of them shares in our business of maintaining aircraft. This is a fundamental cornerstone of management philosophy.

By making best use of the expertise already existing within the maintenance complex and by delegating to our senior NCOs the authority absolutely required in managing an organization of this size, I am confident that the "breaking-in" period for the new DCM will be a short one. I am confident, too, that aircraft maintenance here will continue to be the very best in all of ATC!

Word to Wives

Legal office offers variety of services

Need some assistance in doing battle with that computer that keeps sending you incorrect statements on your charge account? Is your husband going on a temporary duty assignment and you don't have power of attorney to use in his absence?

The Reese legal office can help you with these problems and a wide variety of other concerns. Best of all: the services are free.

Air Force people and their families have an important resource in the staff judge advocate's office, but they don't always realize it. Too often they wait until after they're in a legal bind to seek advice. They might have avoided problems in the first place, if only they had checked with the legal office before making a commitment.

A Reese lawyer will examine documents and explain them to you, whether they are leases or purchase agreements for cars or furniture. And he'll advise you on personal finances, insurance, the sale or lease of personal property, or the sale or purchase of a home. He will also counsel you on your civil rights — and, if the need arises, on your civil wrongs: such as recovering damages after an automobile accident.

He comes in handy for a variety of domestic concerns as well. If you want to write, review, or revise a will, your Air Force lawyer can advise you on estate planning, distribution, and inheritance laws. And he can prepare the document for you. He can also help with problems of citizenship, immigration, passports, adoption, separation and divorce, nonsupport, and dependents born overseas.

As you can see, a base lawyer can assist you in a wide range of legal situations. He can be a real asset at income tax time, helping you with your tax returns and advising you on Federal, state and local tax matters. The services of an authorized notary public are also normally available at your base legal assistance office.

The only thing your Air Force lawyer normally can't do is represent you in a civilian court of law — but he'll advise you of your rights and assist you in obtaining civil counsel. He will either refer you to a competent civilian lawyer, or if you can't afford the fees, to the legal aid society or public defender's office.

So the next time you have a legal concern, make an appointment to see an Air Force lawyer. Everything you discuss with him will be held in the strictest confidence. His sound judgment, access to legal information, contacts with local civilian bar associations and genuine interest in your problems add up to an important Air Force benefit for you and your family.

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's Note: THE ROUNDUP will publish Commander's CARE Line calls which are of basewide interest. Names of callers will not be published, but callers should leave their name and duty extension in case their problem needs clarification. All calls are reviewed by Wing Commander Col. Edward Mendel. Reese people are urged to use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air complaints or comments, if possible. If not, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E (Ext. 2273). Please provide your name and duty section when calling.)

Dear Sir:

I would like to know when the MWR camper trailers are going to be fixed?

The trailers have been inoperative since last year. Why has this taken so long, and can you correct the situation?

I can't tell you how much of an inconvenience this has caused me during my vacation. It's too late for me, but maybe for the other person it's not.

I sincerely apologize for the failure of the MWR Division to respond to your inquiries. You have asked a legitimate question that should have been given more prompt attention.

Last September all four of our camper trailers were withdrawn from service due to their condition and age. We had planned to turn them in to salvage and replace them with four new ones. Concentrated efforts to get funds through either nonappropriated or appropriated funds have met with negative results. With this in mind, our Auto Hobby Shop personnel started an extensive project to cannibalize the four campers with hopes of coming up with two serviceable and safe trailers. This process has been completed and two trailers are now available.

Thank you for your call and your patience.

Dear Sir:

My questions concern the base theater.

A few months ago, the evening showings were changed from 8 to 7 p.m. This makes it impossible for the pilots to see any of the movies the weeks they are working late, which is every other week.

We have tried to go to the 7 p.m. showing, but we can never make it. Why was the time changed, and is there any possibility of getting it changed back to 8 p.m.

We are sorry that the 7 p.m. showing at the Simler Theater is an inconvenience. The change from 8 to 7 p.m. was the result of a recent audit at Reese that recommended the change to increase customer patronage. Since this change the number of people attending the evening show has increased. We plan to conduct a survey this month to determine what time our customers prefer. If the majority prefer a different time for the evening show, we will change it. The times to be evaluated are 7, 7:30 and 8 p.m.

The results will be published prior to any change in the show times.

Col. Edward Mendel.

Two Cents Worth

Do you plan on re-enlisting in the Air Force?

Yes, I am planning on re-enlisting. The more experience I have in my job, Air Traffic Control, the easier it will be for me to get a job with FAA.

A1C Robert Borgwat

Right now I don't think so. I really don't want to say it, but most people around here don't seem to care about their job or other people.

Amn Don Rose

No. This is nothing like I thought the Air Force would be. It seems like everyone on this base has the 'I don't care' attitude.

Amn Denise Salzman

I still have three years left and a lot of things can happen in that time. However, more than likely I will re-enlist. I like my job but this location isn't too good.

Students find bargains at White elephant sale

By 1st Lt. Jim Nelson
64th Student Squadron

Many of you faithful readers have written in asking, "What ever happened to Capt. Bruce 'Boo Boo' Scheer?" Well, our extensive research department has discovered that he isn't AWOL after all. He just unveiled his lip over the weekend. Rumor has it that he is interviewing with Walt Disney productions for the leading role in the nostalgic special "Dopey of the Seven Dwarfs."

In an interview he was quoted as saying "...it just didn't fit the image of a diamond mine dwarf..." Foo Foo La Derriere, his leading lady, was quoted as saying "Eet teeckles, I am so happy he shaved eet off."

The squadron is preparing to say good-bye to two of its Academic instructors. Both Capt. Ricky Cotter and Capt. Ed McCann will be leaving within a few weeks. Rick will be working for Texas Instruments in Lubbock. Ed will be heading for Lackland AFB in San Antonio for a tour as a drill sergeant, or something. I guess MPC wasn't real specific.

If you're wondering why Capt. Ralph Brown isn't in his office anymore, you'll have to look on the class commander side. I guess some people just can't hack the pressure.

Class 77-01

This week there was heated competition for the Duck McCoy Memorial Trophy and two battered recipients emerged from the pack. Second Lt. Carl "PIREP" Van Pelt was at it again, this time in the pattern. Reload asked for a PIREP and Pelt came back with, "Uhh, roger, it's pretty clear up here. I can see the runways real well." Reload said, "Thanks, we'll ask somebody else."

Second Lt. Brian Allison took the lead out in "Echo" area and being temporarily disoriented, he proceeded to pick out a familiar ground reference. With a sigh of relief, he said, "Oh yes, there's the Pep lakes down there!" His IP coolly told him, "We're over Lamesa." It's a good thing, you're here Brian and not at Mather.

The section has made it through our contact checks, so the IPs must think we can fly the airplane — they're sending us up solo in formation!

Class 77-03

It's over now. Four months of studying academics, sweating EPQ's, and struggling to prove to our IPs that we could master the powerful T-37 are over. Now we can look back and remember all the good times while trying to forget the bad times.

One of the good times was the class party last weekend. Section Two demonstrated the loss of coordination that results from drinking large amounts of certain liquid refreshments by being soundly beaten by Section One in the softball game. But the highlight of the party was the white elephant sale. In this sale, items of questionable value were auctioned off, sight unseen, to unsuspecting students and IPs. Comments from the buyers indicated that Lieutenant Debruler thoroughly enjoyed the cigar he purchased for $4. Second Lt. Keith Lange was well pleased with his bubble bath, and 1st Lt. Marion Timberlake was justifiably proud of the specimen jar he bought. However, the most controversial investment of the night was made by the Aggie of Section One, 2nd Lt. Steve Ilyko, who with the help of his friends, became the proud owner of a very nice rock for only $4. Needless to say, he was amazed by it all.

Stan/Eval honors T-37 instructors

By Capt. Don Lamontagne
Sorry we missed you last week but our article was too long and we couldn't cut it down without losing a lot of its glamour.

T.T., you are a lucky man!
The "Bad Guys" are here! Yep, STAN/EVAL is here again. The work this week has been, "Just trying to keep a low profile." Really, we welcome Stan Board to our squadron just like Gen. Custer welcomed more Indians at Little Big Horn.

The big news in the squadron this week comes from the "Aces." They've got three items of interest.

First, they have been trying to reverse the trend of IP supremacy in their softball games. You guessed it. They started drinking the "Colorado Cool-Aid" first and wound up losing (what a disgrace) to their studs 16-9.

Second, they have welcomed 2nd Lt. Joe Logisz back from the Pit/Auger Inn. (Maybe Joe can help them on the softball field) Welcome back, Joe, and finally — TOAD 01, INDENT...

Yeah, the "Aces" came in here too. Their asst. Flight Commander, Capt. Kent Smith flunked his "Pinked" first attempt at picking corn with his eye! He was heard to say something about "the silks ain't bad, but man, watch out for those leaves". He's OK now and has even submitted an AF Form 847 to change the procedures and require the BX to sell goggles along with corn seed! Hey Kent, I've got an old diving mask you can use in the meantime.

Pharmacy provides vital services to Reese people

By Capt. Mark Harmon

Most of us think of a pharmacy as a place where we turn in a piece of paper (a prescription) and are in turn given some pills, an ointment, some syrup or another form of medication prescribed by a physician or other health professional. Perhaps it would be helpful to know what your Reese Hospital's pharmacy is and does.

The USAF Hospital at Reese provides a full service outpatient prescription department which serves active duty personnel, their dependents, retirees and their dependents. The pharmacy department is managed by a professional pharmacist, a highly skilled senior pharmacy technician, and three dedicated pharmacy specialists.

The medication prescribed by your physician is an integral part of the total health care system. The medicines that are dispensed at the pharmacy are extremely high quality medicines that have met the potency and bioavailability criteria imposed by the Food and Drug Administration and the Quality Assurance Branch of the Defense Personnel Support Center. Our stocks of medicines are not all inclusive; we do not have a sample of all drugs available in the country. Instead, we stock those drugs which our physicians and other health providers have decided they wish to use on a regular basis. As new drugs are marketed, our stocks of drugs change if our providers decide to add a newer product to our regular inventory.

Another service the pharmacy provides is the filling of prescriptions written by civilian practitioners. When the civilian practitioner prescribes a name brand product that the pharmacy does not stock, the pharmacy personnel makes every effort to contact the physician to obtain permission to dispense an equivalent drug.

The pharmacy also maintains a selective supply of over-the-counter medications for our patients. These are items that are normally stocked on BX and commissary shelves. However, the pharmacy requires a prescription for these over-the-counter drugs for accountability purposes and retrospective audits.

The pharmacy Department is an integral part of the medical benefits you receive through your association with the Air Force. If you do not understand some of our policies or rules, please ask any of the technicians. We would like you to understand pharmacy operations as much as possible.

Your pharmacy personnel are also available to answer questions about your medications.

ONE FINAL HINT: Please keep all your medicines in a secure cabinet out of your children's reach.

GET WELL SOON - A1C Randy Zoll, pharmacy technician, says this with each bottle of pills or other medicine he gives to you, his customer. Preparing and dispensing medication in accordance with the Doctor's instructions plays an important role on your road to good health. (U.S. Air Force photo by SSgt. David B. Galloway)

Health-and-welfare shipments get axe

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Air Force personnel going to or returning from an overseas assignment will not be allowed health-and-welfare shipments after Sept. 30, 1977. These shipments are those which are in addition to the authorized unaccompanied-baggage or household-goods limit set for moves to restricted areas.

Cutoff for shipment applications for health-and-welfare items in excess of unaccompanied baggage or limited household goods allowance must be submitted by Sept. 30, 1976. These applications may include only items bought before Aug. 1, 1976.

Health-and-welfare shipments include such items as stereo equipment, hobby gear, and almost any item used to maintain an individual's morale and welfare.

Past lax rules have allowed individuals to ship almost any item in excess of their restricted limit. This was costing the Air Force extra money that was needed for other shipments.

Persons who have bought health and welfare items before Aug. 1, 1976, will be granted shipping authority upon evidence of date of purchase or certification of the date of purchase if documentation is not available. Items acquired on or after Aug. 1, 1976, will not be considered for approval.

Excess weight allowances will still be approved for special equipment or medical supplies required by a doctor.

Exceptions will also be made when overseas housing supply can not furnish certain items such as refrigerators or stoves. Persons going to bases with shortage of items may get permission to ship their own refrigerator or stove in addition to their regular shipment weight.

Reese holds chili cookoff to select best base chef

The first Reese Air Force Base Chili Cookoff will be held at the basic picnic area Sept. 5 in conjunction with the Labor Day Carnival. The contest will determine who will represent the base at the Air Force World-Wide Chili Cookoff at Goodfellow Air Force Base.

The event sponsored by the Reese Mexican-American Club is open to all active DAF personnel, military and civilian. No entry fee is required but contestants must provide their own cooking utensils and ingredients.

Contestants can enter as individuals or as a team, with the teams limited to the number who can get around the pot. Each team must have a team captain and an appropriate team name.

Chili will be judged on taste and palatability as determined by the judges, whose verdict will be final. The first and second place winners will be sent on permissive TDY to represent Reese AFB, in the Air Force World-Wide Chili Cookoff.

All Chili judged must be cooked at the picnic area during the day of the contest. Premixing, precooking and prior preparation of ingredients is not allowed. Although the use of canned ingredients is not encouraged the use of canned peppers, beans etc. will be permitted provided the cans are not opened prior to the official cooking start time. Canned commercial chili will not be permitted under any circumstances.

A special showmanship award will also be given to the entry who displays the best costume and all-around showmanship. The recipient of this award, if different from the winner of first or second place, will also be sent to Goodfellow AFB to participate in that category.

Mr. Frank Tolbert of the Dallas Morning News and director of the Terlingua World Chili Championship Cookoff has sanctioned this year's cookoff at Goodfellow AFB, and declared the winner there, eligible to compete in that event in November.

For more information on the Reese Cookoff or for entry blanks see or call MSgt. H.J. Rodriguez at the Information Office Ext. 2410/2236 or TSgt. R. Sanchez Flt. Surgeon Office Ext. 2545.

Labor Day Activities

squadron sponsored booths will go to various activities within the MWR Division. This is where your "wish" can come true. Each squadron, or any other group for that matter, may officially designate which facility, piece of equipment, or improvement they would like their profits to go to.

Club Participation

All private organizations on base, such as the Black Culture Club, or the Mexican-American Club, or the Rod and Gun Club are invited to sponsor booths as well. However, because this is an MWR sponsored event and due to the fund raising nature of it, 20 per cent of the proceeds earned by private organizations will go to MWR.

These funds will be used to supplement those earned by the squadrons for special projects.

If your group or club would like to sponsor a booth or your squadron has a specific project in mind, contact TSgt. Tom Williams in the Base Gym, Ext. 2783/2207. He is the Booth Chairman of the Labor Day activities and he may have some good ideas. The project chairman for the event is Mr. U.S. Grant, chief, Recreation Services Branch. He may be contacted for assistance or ideas by calling Ext. 2412/2346.

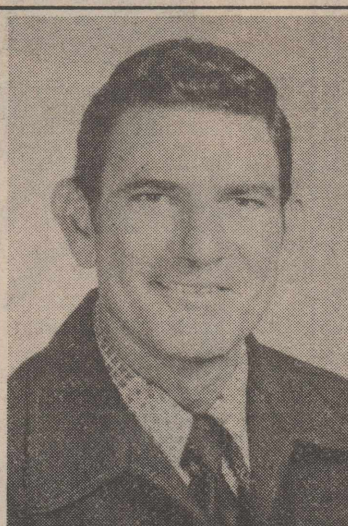

Start making plans NOW! Specific project designation of funds should be coordinated through Mr. Grant. We need your help and support and know we can depend on you. See you there.

Pilots earn "Golden Hammers"

Star Date 76.226

Capt. Henri' Stricted reporting for Talon Service News. The 54th said goodbye to another class of new pilots this weekend and with their departure came golden hammer awards.

Getting the nod from Section One was Capt. Ed "Mauler" Morrow and taking home Section Two honors was 1st Lt. Wayne "Sweet thing"

Higgins. With the departure of the class the 54th will gain two new instructor pilots. Second lieutenants Grady and Montgomery will assume their new roles after completion of PIT.

To continue the welcome, the Talon Pilot's Association wishes to acknowledge more recent additions to the squadron. Captains Liesch and Lukash along with Second Lieutenants Harter, Madison and Range.

The T-38 pilots witnessed the last flight for Col. Jim Gibler in the Talon Friday. He will be departing the squadron for Air Base Group and his presence will be missed. Thanks again for all the hours of devotion to your troops.

ACE operations in the past week met a minor slow down. A SAC ORI team descended on Ellsworth which temporarily halted T-38 flying. Not to be outdone the ACE IPs took off cross-country to gain valuable 60-1 time. Rumor has it they departed on a Tuesday and returned last weekend. Who said ACE wasn't a good deal.

Six month evaluation reveals improved equal opportunity

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Air Force has finished a six-month evaluation of its equal opportunity and human relations education programs.

Major areas evaluated included the human relations education program, the Air Force equal opportunity affirmative actions plan, and the equal opportunity programs for military and civilian personnel. The needs of personnel assigned to small, often isolated sites, were also examined.

To measure program achievement and set a future course of action, 35,000 Air Force military and civilian personnel were surveyed between November 1975 and January 1976. Results confirmed the program had improved equal opportunity and human relations.

Phase III human relations education training will begin in September. This program will focus on the supervisor's role in combating unfair treatment.

An updated affirmative actions plan will allow commanders to compare unit progress in achieving equal opportunity goals with progress throughout the Air Force. Key career actions, such as promotions and attendance at service schools, will be carefully evaluated for imbalances in race, sex, or ethnic background.

Air Force people programs for personnel assigned at small sites will receive emphasis. Personnel officials say the new actions will ensure greater goal achievement.

Air Force begins new flu program

On Aug. 15, the Air Force will instate a program to study the Swine Influenza that is expected to sweep the U.S. this winter.

The program will last from August through the end of March, and will include all Air Force installations with medical facilities. It has been dubbed the "1976-1977 Influenza Surveillance Program," and as the title suggests, it is only for study and not treatment of the disease.

Every tenth patient who meets the criteria set forth by Air Force authorities will be tested and observed by Reese medical personnel.

The criteria that must be met before one is eligible for the tests are as follows: A temperature of 101 degrees or more, the illness can not have lasted more than three days, and the subject must be more than 5 years of age.

One out of every ten of the people meeting this criteria will be asked to gargle three times in order to produce a specimen for study. They will also be subject to a blood test and a subsequent blood test 14 to 21 days later.

This information will help Air Force Medical Personnel monitor the frequency and severity of influenza in various geographic locations within the Air Force.

Supply News

The 64th Supply Squadron's latest graduates from the 6457 school at Lowry AFB, Colo. are TSgt. Errol T. Boykin and staff sergeants John Brissette and Muel Pena Jr. Sergeant Pena was an honor graduate from the school.

Nominated as Supply's Civilian of the Quarter was Joyce Fincher.

In the sports light, the supply softball team defeated the rest of base supply in intersquadron play Friday. In spite of severe competition everyone involved had a good time.

Sign-ups to be held at Reese

The Lubbock Soccer Association will begin sign-ups for the fall youth soccer season tomorrow at the South Plains Mall.

Registration is open to both boys and girls between the ages of four and 18. The registration fee of $13 includes the cost of the uniform which is retained by the player at the end of the season. Personnel residing in Lubbock should sign-up their youngsters at the Mall and they will be assigned to a team from their neighborhood school district.

Sign-ups will also be taken at the Mall Aug. 21 and 28.

Special Reese Sign-ups

For the first time, the Lubbock Soccer Association will hold special sign-ups for youngsters residing in Reese Village. The purpose of the special sign-ups will be to form teams consisting entirely of Reese Village youngsters. This procedure will allow these teams to practice at Reese and thereby solve the problem of transporting the youngsters to town for practice. The special sign-ups will be held at the CBPO Customer Service Center, Bldg. T-1, on the following dates:

Tomorrow: 10 a.m. - noon
 Wednesday: 5 - 7 p.m.
 Aug. 21: 10 a.m. - noon

Other Details

Soccer is an ideal means of physical conditioning and provides an excellent foundation for any other sport a youngster may wish to enter. The game is particularly popular in Lubbock among youngsters under age 10 to whom other competitive games are not available. The fall season will run from the first of September through the middle of November and soccer activities include two practices and a game each week.

For further information, contact Captain Negley, Ext 2444, or come by the CBPO Customer Service Center on the dates indicated above.
