NCOs give Roberts their highest award

Randolph AFB, Tex. (ATCPS) - Air Training Command (ATC) NCOs presented Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts, ATC commander, the highest award the corps can bestow, the Order of the Sword, Nov. 12 in a ceremony in the Randolph AFB NCO Open Mess.

In accepting the honor, General Roberts thanked the more than 300 NCOs at the ceremony and said being inducted into the Order of the Sword was a "tremendous honor."

The ATC commander reminisced about his more than 30 years in the Air Force, recalling events and incidents to emphasize his philosophy that people make the Air Force what it is today, and what it will be in the future.

"The future of this country - the future of the Air Force - depends on all people in the Air Force," General Roberts declared. He also said, "If you want to be successful, be sure you get good people working with you."

The ATC Order of the Sword, established in 1971, is used to recognize individuals, both military and civilian, for conspicuous and significant contributions to the welfare and prestige of the NCO corps and military establishment.

During the ceremony General Roberts was praised as an outstanding officer, gentleman, leader and American who accomplished his objective of making ATC the "people command and the first command." General Roberts was also lauded for being a creative and decisive leader whose accomplishments have had a great effect on Air Force personnel.

General Roberts received a set of swords mounted with an ATC shield, inscribed with his name, title and date of induction. A brass plate was added to the six-foot master sword displayed in ATC headquarters. General Roberts also received a scroll signed by NCOs attending the ceremony.

AFAFC plans withholding tax procedures

DENVER, Colo. (AFNS) - The Air Force Accounting and Finance Center (AFAFC) here is preparing to begin withholding state income taxes from the pay of Air Force members. The action is required by Public Law 91-455, also known as the Tax Reform Act of 1976. The law was signed by the President in October 1976 and requires mandatory withholding of state income taxes from the pay of military members.

According to AFAFC officials, Treasury is negotiating with each state's taxing authority to determine the date on which to begin withholding. After a state requests withholding, the Treasury has 120 days to complete an agreement with that state. Withholding will then begin on the date agreed upon with the state.

At present, the Treasury is negotiating with eight states. Eight states have no state income tax and five other states exempt active-duty military personnel from paying their state income taxes.

Officials at AFAFC say the Air Force will conform to each state's income tax formula and will pay the tax to the state monthly or quarterly, as required by each state.

Each active-duty Air Force member has designated a legal residence that is recorded in the individual's master military pay account. AFAFC will use this residence for withholding state tax.

AFAFC prints the legal residence on the member's leave and earnings statement (LES) each month. Each member should check his or her LES to verify that the correct state of residence is listed.

The Department of Defense is interpreting the tax legislation to supply guidelines on withholding state income tax for Air Force, Air National Guard and Reserve members. Withholding for these members will begin at a later date.

Air Force retirees are not affected by this tax legislation.

AFROTC awards 874 scholarships to students

Scholarships valued at more than $5 million were awarded to 874 college students by the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) recently. The average scholarship's value is approximately $2,300 for one year. The student receives financial assistance covering costs of tuition, fees, books and incidental expenses, as well as a $100 subsistence allowance each month during the academic year.

The majority of the scholarships were awarded to students pursuing scientific or technical academic degrees. The rest of the scholarships were awarded to cadets enrolled as pilot/navigator/missile candidates and students in non-technical areas, including pre-medical and nursing degree candidates.

Lt. Col. Thomas I. Swanson, chief, AFROTC Scholarship Division at

Maxwell AFB, Ala., said, "The quality of our scholarship recipient is greatly improving. This year's typical recipient maintained a 3.32 grade-point-average (based on a 4.0 scale) and scored 1117 (out of a possible 1600) on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT)."

"The reduction in the number of flying officers required by the Air Force coupled with an increase in the need for scientific technical candidates is the primary reason for the change in scholarship allocations," said Colonel Swanson. "A majority of those cadets who qualified for pilot/navigator scholarships will be required to have a scientific/technical academic major," he added.

Students who accept pilot/navigator scholarships must serve five years of active duty service after completing their flying training. Non-flying scholarship recipients serve four years of active duty service.

AFROTC is available at more than 450 colleges and universities throughout the United States. More than 300 of these academic institutions have cross-town enrollment agreements with the closest AFROTC detachment in their area. The program consists of a four-year curriculum. Four-, three-, and two-year scholarships are available. Those students interested in applying for a scholarship should contact the Professor of Aerospace Studies at the AFROTC detachment on their campus or write AFROTC Advisory Service, Maxwell AFB, Ala. 36112. The deadline for applying for a four-year scholarship for the 1977-78 academic year is Dec. 15, 1976.

35th honors Raye

Ann. Timothy E. Raye has been selected T-37 Crew Chief of the Month for October by the 35th Flying Training Squadron (FTS).

A native of Columbus, Ga., Airman Raye entered the Air Force in January of 1974 and arrived at Reese in July of this year. He resides in Lubbock with his wife Elease.

An enthusiastic performer, Airman Raye is the epitome of a young professional crew chief. Congratulations for a job well done.

FROM THE TRAIL BOSS

Col. Edward Mendel
Wing Commander

Supervisors! How well do you communicate with your people? Do they understand what you say - or merely hear it? Are you able to explain Air Force and Wing policy to them clearly, or do you cop-out with that tired old "because I said" line? Even worse, do you shirk your responsibilities with "Because the boss said"?

You might think about those questions, and you should do something if you get the wrong answers. Our Phase III Human Relations Education (HRE) class attacks these problems head-on, and (hopefully) the people who participate will be able to logically explain the reasons why we need discipline and standards in the Air Force.

However, HRE doesn't have all the answers. You should be prepared to explain many other things to your people. They expect it and deserve it. If you can't provide a good explanation, find somebody who can, learn from them, and then communicate effectively with your people. Take the time to be fully informed, then take the time to convey the information to your people.

I would like to know, if possible, why there are double standards for hair regulations. In other words, why are personnel at the Hospital allowed to wear long hair while other airmen are not?

There are no double standards for hair/grooming regulations. Hospital personnel, just like everyone else, are required to comply with the standards set forth in AFR 35-10. I can assure you that these standards are enforced at the hospital. If you see a member of the hospital staff not in compliance with the appropriate standards, please contact the Commander or First Sergeant at Ext. 2218. They are interested in seeing that the staff members comply with the standards and will correct any who have gone

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's Note: THE ROUNDUP will publish Commander's CARE Line calls which are of basewide interest. Names of callers will not be published, but callers should leave their name and duty extension in case their problem needs clarification. All calls are reviewed by Wing Commander Col. Edward Mendel. Reese people are urged to use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air complaints or comments. If possible. If not, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E (Ext. 2273). Please provide your name and duty section when calling.)

undetected, with your help.

I have been in the Base Hospital 15 days. The food is lousy. The system that they have now since the cafeteria was closed is terrible even for people who have to work here. I think something should be done about it, like reopening the cafeteria, especially for people who have to stay in here for more than a couple of days.

Your suggestion to re-open the Hospital's Food Service Department is shared by many people, including a lot of those working in the hospital. Unfortunately, the number of patient meals served and rations earned would not justify keeping the facility open and Hq.

USAF/SG directed that the Reese Hospital and other hospitals, too, use the "convenience food" method of feeding their hospitalized patients. It really boiled down to a matter of economics. It was more cost efficient in food costs and manpower costs to install the "convenience food" system. I understand that using the new system patients can choose from at least 12 different entrees at any noon or evening meal which is something even the former "in-house" food system could not offer. Surveys the hospital people review indicate that overall patient acceptance of the new system is improving. I appreciate your concern for other patients and the hospital staff as well; regretfully, this is a situation which we seem obligated to live with.

Safety Office recognizes strange deeds by people

(Editor's Note: "Man's inhumanity to man" has been documented many many times through the years. Sergeant Ramey's article makes it clear that people can be pretty inhuman to themselves when they are careless.)

By St. Jeff Ramey
Ground Safety Specialist
Little Rock AFB, Ark.

The safety office has decided to recognize some people who have accomplished "strange" deeds, especially in the process of injuring themselves or others.

Would you —

Try to catch a 50-pound tool box dropped from a height of 12 feet?

Let your child drive your car through your house?

Draw your machete to show how clean and sharp it is and almost cut off your fingers while the wing commander and members of an inspection team are watching?

Shoot yourself with a bow and arrow?

Check your mailbox, then drive off with your arm still in the box?

Glue on your false eyelashes with "super glue" then have to have your eyes opened surgically?

Set a hot casserole dish on your husband's chair at the table so he later sits on it?

Get your fingers stepped on, while crawling from the NCO Open Mess to your car?

Roll up a window on your own neck?

Drop your dogtags into a light socket - while you are still wearing them?

Lose a hammer on a roof and find it later when it falls on your head?

Stick a screwdriver in the ground then sit on it?

Try to catch a 200-pound air conditioner as it falls from a window?

Unfortunately, unlike Ripley's "Believe It Or Not," these accidents are not rare, nor are they worth repeating. The persons involved gained recognition, but what a price to pay for glory.

Each accident was preventable - each injury was avoidable.

How do you feel about the Air Force Check-to-Bank program?

I think it is a real good deal. We use it and we always have our money in the bank on payday. I hope they don't ever change it.

It's convenient. You don't have to worry about cashing your check then putting it in the bank.

Renter's checklist offered at housing referral office

Failure to return a security or cleaning deposit continues to be the most common tenant complaint processed by Base Housing Referral Offices. In an effort to assist renters in protecting their interests, Air Training Command (ATC) has developed a Resident's Checklist, ATC Form 190, which is now available at the Referral Office, Bldg. 6100.

Generally, if a rental is left the way it was found, after making allowances for fair wear and tear, one should expect their security deposit to be returned. The idea behind a resident's checklist is to have documented evidence of the condition of the rental prior to initial occupancy. Every renter should protect himself by scheduling a preliminary inspection of the rental with his landlord. Both should agree on the condition of the rental, document it and retain one copy of the checklist signed by both parties.

Here are some tips that may help military renters:

- Inspect any rental before signing a lease agreement or putting down a security deposit.
- Request a military clause be placed in the lease.
- Know the rules and abide by them. When in doubt, ask the landlord. (For example, when is the rent due, are pets allowed, etc.)

- Report damages promptly, preferably in writing.
- Request maintenance in writing, date the request and keep a copy.
- Give the required amount of notice to move.
- Leave the rental in the same condition as it was found, after making allowances for fair wear and tear.
- Leave a forwarding address. Security deposits are usually returned by mail within 30 days.
- If the deposit is not received or a list of charges within 30 days, contact the Housing Referral Office or seek legal counsel.

Handling of service calls can be quickened by you

by Alton Hill
Civil Engineering Squadron

There are two different types of jobs that flow into Civil Engineering (CE) every day. One type takes detailed planning to insure proper manpower and financing. The other requires nothing in the way of planning and is referred to as "Direct scheduled work." This is work that can be accomplished in a certain time frame and would normally have the manpower and material available.

These jobs are divided into three categories: service calls - those having requirements of an emergency nature and are responded to expediently; Fast

Action Service Technique - (FAST)- Urgent work with an accomplishment time frame of within five calendar days; hopper technique - This work is not of an emergency nature, but should be accomplished within a 30 day period. The base is divided into zones and each 30 days, all the hopper work in each zone must be completed.

Who categorizes my service call?

When you have a problem such as a leaky faucet and give us a call, your request is categorized by a well qualified person with many years of experience in the field. To categorize your call as well as he can, he must rely upon you to properly describe your problem in detail. Your work may not always be placed in the proper listing, but any possible error can be lessened by your cooperation with us.

Student pilots play for O'Club patrons

The Officer's Open Mess will feature some local talent this weekend, both Friday and Saturday night. 2nd Lt. Mike Spirko and Ernie Norsworthy, student pilots in class 77-02, make up half of "Spiritz West". The group offers contemporary rock and top 40 music as well as fresh comedy sketches; sure to please even the most discriminating taste.

Tom Ivanitz, the comedian and lead singer for the group will be flying in from New Jersey for the two performances. Spirko will be lead guitar and vocal. Norsworthy will provide the beat, while Pete Johnson, on the organ, will add melody and rhythm.

Lieutenants Norsworthy and Spirko have yielded to popular demand in organizing this band and signing for their "first and last annual - two night stand". The two "stood in" with a number of groups at the O'Club on several occasions earlier this year and, each time, demonstrated real professional talent as well as a unique ability to play the kind of music to which everyone enjoyed dancing.

Ivanitz and Spirko performed together in a popular east coast group, "Spiritz", for several years preceding the latter's entrance into pilot training. Last New Year's Eve, they worked with Rodney Dangerfield of "I-don't-get-no-respect" and "Lite beer" fame. Also, earlier this year, they held a late night jam session in the main bar of the O'Club to the delight of a packed house which stayed near standing room only capacity until after 1:30 a.m.

The money earned by the band will go to defray graduation expenses for class 77-02. Don't miss this opportunity to support your club and your senior class. Plan to spend one or both evenings dining and dancing to "Spiritz West".

Instrument instructors ask for partial credit

by Capt. Jim Nelson

The squadron is in a scramble to complete all their requirements before Christmas. Several Instrument instructors are drawing up a proposal to send to the D.O. It seems they want credit for one hour of instrument time for every two hours of extra instruction. They claim that since the student is fogged in, they should at least get partial credit for their various approaches.

1st Lt. Steve "Little Jimmy" Sheehan is in the news again this week with Academics' answer to the Republicans, Capt. Irv "Lame Duck" Greenburg. Their latest faination is discussing re-incarnation. Since his assignment, Irv has been found in his office building helicopter models and playing with rotary toys muttering something about destiny and the soul of Sikorsky choosing him to carry out a plan to overthrow fixed wings. You scoff, but there may be some truth to the rumor that a well known medium informed "Little Jimmy" that in his last life he was a hyena's dingleberries. It seems perfectly believable to me.

"I" Flight has been touring the country the past two weeks on our long-awaited cross-country rides. The "Rees" call sign has invoked puzzled silences from regional controllers from California to Florida and from South Dakota to Southern Texas. Several guys got stranded due to unexpected changes in the weather. It's rumored that 2nd Lt. Jim Danby began submitting job applications in Atlanta after his third day there.

Of course, we've been busy locally with our solo formation rides. 1st Lt. Glen "Whale" Williams got the "Stick" award this week for his unique method of taking spacing after his leader turned crosswind. It concluded with the call "Perch" is breaking out.

Dendinger trade starts squadron's juggling act

by 1st Lt. Mike Dendinger

Now that you've all recovered from Monday's juggling act, let me explain what happened. It all started when they transferred me from "C" Flight to "A" Flight for an undisclosed amount of cash and a future draft choice. That move, of course, left "A" Flight with an overbalance of experience, so, to relieve the pressure they moved Kelly Ewen to Check Station. Maj. Tom Fryer, however, became upset because this left him with four mere lieutenants, not nearly enough rank to hold a really decent meeting. With impressive dispatch, therefore, he was made Section One Commander.

Well, as would be intuitively obvious to anyone, this left a tremendous vacuum in Check Section, which, true to form, Fuzzy Thurston rushed in to fill. Being faster than anyone else (and closer), Bill Byars was the first one to grab Fuzzy's old desk, and so became "F" Flight commander. Looking for a hammer to serve as his assistant, Bill came across the best in the business, Buddy "Pick Em"

Wortham, and immediately hired him.

Meanwhile, Maj. (lieutenant colonel selectee) Marty Fricks was looking high and low for his section ("I'm sure I had it a minute ago" he was heard to mumble, frantically searching his pockets and rifling his desk drawers.) Being preoccupied with this, he failed to notice that Lt. Col. Bill Keller was being made the assistant DO. This left one more space to be filled, and before he could say "attention in the area", Major Fricks was the new Ops officer.

Now, granted, everything went relatively smoothly, and everybody got a job, but one thing bothers me. Wouldn't it have been a lot easier just to have made me the assistant DO?

Toad 01, Ident

Last week I witnessed a heartbreaking scene. A squadron IP, so skinny he has to run around in the shower to get wet, was informed he was overweight and would be required to lose 13 pounds. Staring in disbelief first at the bearer of the bad news and then down at his already emaciated body, the poor man wore the look of a condemned prisoner. Will the heartless Hospital employee who recorded this IP's height 10 inches too short, thereby subjecting him to harrassment reserved for the rotund, please IDENT?

Fire Dept. urges caution with radiant gas furnace

By Bob Hitch
Base Fire Chief

An incident in Reese Village indicates that occupants of three and four bedroom units are not fully aware of the hazards created by the radiant gas furnace.

Early one cool evening, one resident activated the furnace in his home. Preparing to do some home work, he picked up a rocking chair, and moved it directly in front of the now rapidly heating furnace. The results, a near-miss. The heat scorched the rug.

This incident happened early in the evening and the odor produced by the slow-burning rug, fortunately, attracted the attention of the occupants and the situation was brought under control. This situation could have had a tragic ending if the occupants had already retired.

Your Fire Department is here to serve and protect you and your loved ones. However, we must have your help. We ask that, if you have a radiant heat furnace installed in your quarters, a clearance of 18 inches on all sides be kept free of any combustible material. All furnace and water heater compartments must not be used as storage or drying areas. Portable electric heaters are a very common cause of fires during the winter months. The utmost caution must be exercised when they are operated. Gasoline or any other flammable liquids used near high temperature heaters invite disaster. Please help us keep you and your family Fire Safe during your stay at Reese.

Santa's Mailbag
 NORTH POLE, Alaska (AFNS) - "Santa's Mailbag" is ready again for mail from children and parents who want their children to receive a letter from Santa Claus postmarked, "North Pole, Alaska."

If you would like your child or some other youngster to receive a letter from Santa Claus, write the letter yourself, as though you were Santa Claus talking to the child. Include a stamped envelope addressed to the youngster, and mail it to:

Det. 2, 11th Weather Squadron
 Santa's Mailbag
 APO Seattle 98737

Military and civilian volunteers from Det. 2 at Eielson AFB, Alaska, act as Santa's helpers to remail the letters so the children receive a letter from Santa Claus bearing the North Pole postmark.

Mail your letter before Dec. 1 so there will be enough time for the letter to reach Santa's helpers and return to your child.

Don't forget to address the envelop and include the stamp, otherwise, Santa's helpers will have to pay the postage themselves, and some boys and girls might not receive their letter.

Reese bowlers hitting more pins

by Sonny Serutan

"Everybody wants to get into the act". It seems that Jimmy Durante was referring to the bowlers at Reese Lanes. You guys and gals are really coming on tough.

Thursday night, Roy Rogers shot a 600 series, 226 game. Larry Hoyt had a 567 and Dave Hutchings rolled a 556 series.

The gals were not going to be outdone as Brenda Willoughby had a 175/472 and Karen Goad shot a 153/435.

A couple more goodies were bowled by Bill Warren 216 and Bill Littlejohn's 213.

Thursday night, the pins cooperated with the Ball and Chainers. Wally Caskey had a 246 game, 591 series. Johnny Walker had a 200 game, 577 series. The wealthy Mr. Walker still hasn't spent all his winnings from three weeks ago Saturday night. (Understand he has been looking at the new Lincoln Continentals.) Harry Cargal had a 211/562, Sam Mele had a 236 game and Bob Wocking had a 203.

Johnny Caskey led the ladies with a 481 and Jo Ann Clark and Pat Holloway had 473 series.

M.A.S.H. got with it Friday night. Bob Gregoria led the scoring with a 201 game 577 series. Rob Willoughby had a 199/556 and John Compton rolled a 516 series.

The lady that bowled the best score, Fran, last name unknown, had a 478 and Nancy Gregoria had a 457. That's pretty good shooting folks.

Well, we got to the end of the week, not too much else to say. Wally Caskey bowled the high game and Roy Rogers had the best series. Both of these guys are pretty avid bowlers, bowling three or more times a week. I don't remember seeing Wally practice but I have seen Roy a couple of times. The route to consistent bowling and high games is to bowl, you can't make it any other way. Roy and Wally are getting enough practice in their leagues to stay sharp. You once a week league bowlers should take advantage of our rent a lane, three games for a dollar and etc. specials. We put these things on to help you perfect your game at a reasonable cost. Come out and take advantage of us.

Football . . . Well, the Cougars out gunned the Raiders at least for the first half 22-5. You can't handicap a good team seventeen points and really expect to win, though Tech nearly pulled it out.

Then the Cowboys got beat by Atlanta. This was the "upset of the week". Boloney, the Giants should have beat them and likewise Buffalo. The Cowboys Offense needs a kicker, not to kick punts or field goals, just butts.

Pro Predictions

This week's honors go to TSgt. John Chalakee of the Comptroller's office. Sergeant Chalakee missed only two games — Chicago at Detroit and Dallas at Atlanta. Those two games were the most commonly missed along with San Diego Buffalo and Washington - St. Louis. Sergeant Chalakee's wizardry outdistanced the rest of the contestants as he storms his way to two free dinners at International

House of Pancakes, 19th and University.

This week seems to be an easy one, but don't be duped. The schedule is laced with tingers like: Kansas City at San Diego, Miami at red hot Cleveland, Seattle at the Giants, and unstoppable Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.

This week's winner takes home two free dinners from Charcoal Oven on 19th St.

Santa's Cannery adds FUN to your gift

Whatever you're giving this year . . . if it will fit in a #2 sized can . . . we'll seal it for you with our Santa's Cannery.

Imagine the surprise when your canned gift is presented already gift-wrapped with its own bright red "bow" and white or red gingham paper.

It's fun! And, until the can is opened with a can opener, your gift remains top secret. A special snap-on slotted plastic lid converts the opened can into a unique savings bank. It's a gift that a special friend will treasure year round.

You supply the gift . . . our Santa's Cannery will do the rest.

It's our way of saying "Happy Holidays".
