

DID YOU KNOW that on October 18, 1858, a cold misty norther blew into Fort Belknap. The cavalymen there heard distant thunder and it reminded them that a cold winter was upon the frontier. On the 19th, the sky was clear and the wind came keen and bracing from the northwest.

Uncle DAN

from WHISKEY CREEK

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I been busy killing hogs and trying to gather up some figgers fer my 1963 income tax report and ain't had time to make my annual predictions on the New Year. But it's safe to put things fer 1964 in a nutshell and predict taxes will edge up a bit, the cost of living climb a little, and our foreign aid friends will report prompt and often at the give-away table.

Us small farmers and ranchers has to git our income tax report in by February 15, two months ahead of everybody else, and I always start on mine the day after Christmas.

Hog killing is easy to handle, but on account of the expert system I use fer keeping books, my tax reporting is a complicated operation.

As a perfection agin fire and theft, I keep my records scattered around pritty good. Fertilizer expenses is wrote down on the barn door, fer instant, and I always put a few expense items on the silo and the hen house wall. My old lady keeps the cash-received figgers in her Sunday pocket book. By the time I git 'em all rounded up and ready fer scientific tabulation, February is about come and gone. All my life, Mister Editor, I been running a dollar short and a day behind and it ain't no different with my income tax report.

And speaking of such matters, I see by the papers where this feller that runs the U. S. Internal Revenue Service in Washington is overflowed with joy on account of the fine record his boys had fer 1963. He has announced our country in 1963 "set a new world record in tax collections, the Federal tax collections amounting to 106 billion dollars." He goes on to say "this is the greatest amount of taxes ever collected by any country in one year in the history of the world."

As a taxpayer, Mister Editor, I'm mighty proud of this wonderful achievement by our Government. It's grand and glorious news and I'm shore you and your subscribers will join me in getting jubilant about the matter.

Actual, the figgers might run a little higher if it wasn't fer some mistakes them toys make onct in a while. Fer instant, I see where the school board at Rochelle Park in New Jersey got a income tax refund fer $10,509 from the Internal Revenue office in Birmingham, Alabama. They wrote the Birmingham office

Ground soaking rains fall

Moisture that was joyously received in a drouth stricken area, began to fall early Wednesday morning continuing all day and through the night. The rainfall is of a slow groundsoaking kind, and by Thursday morning it had amounted to two inches or more. It is expected the rain will continue for another 24 or 36 hours, and we don't believe there will be any objections raised.

Stock tanks will be replenished, grain farmers will be given a lift, danger of grass and pasture fires are out, and a good season has been put into the ground for spring planting.

Up to this time no water has been put into the City Lake, which is reported to have a very low water level at this time. It is hoped that we can get a lake full of water before it quits raining.

The ground is now very soggy and boggy, which indicates most of the moisture has been soaking into the good earth. Let 'er rain.

Bob Crawford of Graham dies

Robert A. Crawford, 70, a retired Graham business man, died at his home of an apparent heart attack early Tuesday.

Funeral were held at 3 p. m. Wednesday from the First Baptist Church in Graham, with Rev. Hubert Foust, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Oak Grove Cemetery under direction of Morrison Funeral Home.

Born June 29, 1893 in Ennis, Texas, Crawford was married in 1934 in Marietta, Okla. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, a veteran of WWI and a member of the Possum Kingdom barracks, American Legion.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Richard Crawford of Fort Worth; three daughters, Mrs. Bobby Lott of Houston, Mrs. Lois Inman of Fort Worth and Mrs. Gene Conkling of Graham; one sister, Mrs. Susie Phillips of Graham and 11 grandchildren.

I think I'll mail my 1963 taxes to Birmingham. I might git 'em back.

Yours truly,
UNCLE DAN

YOUNG COUNTY CIVIL WAR DEAD

Funeral Services for G. W. Perdue in Breckenridge

Funeral services for G. W. Perdue, 78, were held in Breckenridge Saturday. Rev. Ernest Copeland officiated.

Mr. Perdue was a brother-in-law of W. P. Burch. Burial was in the Murray Cemetery. Survivors include his wife, 4 daughters and one son.

Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burch, Nick Burch and son Lee, and Truett Wilson.

Texans urged to pay poll tax

No Texan will be able to vote for any State or County Official in either the primaries or general election this year unless he has paid his poll tax by January 31st.

Even if the United States Constitution is amended to permit the voting for President, Vice-

Mathis, Center Ridge; William M. Matthews, Oak Grove; R. K. Maves, Murray; James A. Mundell, Oak Grove; James N. McBrayer, South Bend; Andrew Jackson McCan, Murray.

President and Members of Congress without the necessity of a poll tax, a poll tax will be required for a person to vote for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Sheriff Assessor and Collector, Commissioners, and other County and Local Officials.

All Texas counties report a substantial drop off in the number of poll taxes paid thus far.

That is largely due to the confusion that has resulted from the unsuccessful effort in Texas last Fall to repeal the poll tax requirement, and from the probable amendment of the U.S. Constitution to permit the voting for national officials without the necessity of a poll tax. The Democratic Party urges all Texans to pay their poll taxes before February 1, in order that they may have a voice in selecting their State and County officials in 1964.

MEET THE FOLKS

By Jewel Whatley

To those who have recently lost loved ones, may you find comfort in the following lines, as I do, having lost my beloved brother, Robert, last week.

IF WE COULD CALL THEM BACK

If we could call them back,
Would you—would I?
And ask that they go with us
down the road,

And take again Life's weary,
heavy load,
And all the sorrows—now forever
flown,

Or would we choose to travel
on alone,
If we could call them back?

If we could call them back,
Would you—would I?
From out the far, sweet realms
of peace and rest,

To toil once more, with troubled,
aching breast,
Along the steep, the stony,
thorn grown way,

Or would we rather they
might stay,
If we could call them back?

If we could call them back,
Would you—would I?
E'en though it be to pleasures
as of old,

And to the joys that come
when hearts unfold
With love in all its wondrous power—

Ah! would we ask it for one
little hour,
If we could call them back!

We cannot call them back—
Not you—nor I—
But we will travel on a little while,

And try, despite our grief, to
to smile,
And when we reach out eager
hands

To waiting ones in better
lands,
May no one call us back.

his present position.

Purcell, who was first elected to congress in a special election in January, 1962, was re-elected to the post in the general election in November, 1962.

A member of the House on Agriculture, Purcell was elected last year to serve as chairman of the Wheat Subcommittee of that group.

"Many problems still face the American people in our modern world," said Purcell, "and I believe the record will show that I am dedicated to facing these problems squarely and finding the best possible solution."

The increase of rabies among wild animals in recent years has brought with it increased losses in farm animals due to this disease.

Although people think of rabies as most often occurring in dogs, the fact is that campaigns of protective vaccination have brought about a continuing drop in the number of canine cases.

Recently, there has been a marked increase in rabies among skunks, rabbits and raccoons. For instance, there were 28 confirmed cases of rabies in skunks in Ohio in 1961. But in the following year, the number had climbed sharply to 310.

Skunks, raccoons, foxes and bats pose the chief threat of transmitting rabies to farm animals. Generally, the first sign of rabies in livestock is a change in behavior. Animals may stop eating and drinking and may seek out dark places in which to hide. In cattle there may be a stop in the flow of milk and the animals,

Rabid wild animals are becoming an increasing hazard to farm livestock.

Instead of looking contented, may appear alert and anxious. Another sign in cattle is a prolonged hoarse bellow repeated at frequent intervals.

Sick horses may show signs of pain such as in colic and indigestion and they may bite or strike viciously.

Rabies of dogs confused with digestive disorders, injury, a foreign object lodged in the throat or mouth, poisoning or the beginning of an infectious disease.

In view of all these confusing symptoms it is doubly important that a veterinarian make a diagnosis if any of the symptoms appear. If rabies is diagnosed, immediate steps need to be taken to safeguard other animals.

If valuable cattle and horses are exposed to rabies they should be vaccinated. This procedure should be left to a veterinarian because the method and type of vaccination is very important in building proper immunity.

Watch for the Red Marks on your paper.
