MEET THE FOLKS

By Jewel Whalley

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Price of Murray are having the time of their life in retirement. Their permanent home is a few miles east of Murray; their mobile home ranges from the Yukon to the heart of Old Mexico. They spend a few weeks each summer in Red River, N. M., and manage to park their trailer in the Rio Grande Valley during our cold months.

Mr. Price was born on the ranch he now owns, his parents having settled there in 1874. He attended the Murray School and as a young man worked on neighboring ranches. He later worked for an oil company until his retirement a few years back.

Mrs. Price, the former Marie Cochran, is a native of Graham. After finishing school she taught one year at the Huffstuttle School. She laughingly said her pupils were all ages, some older than she, and one little boy aged five, was given permission to attend school as his mother had several little children and needed help. This mischievous youngster delighted in crawling under the desks to bite the girls on the legs. When he became too troublesome he was sent home. She taught school and lives by two rules—1. Learn to love everybody; 2. Learn something.

She possesses the soul of a poet. At one time she was writer of note, having contributed articles to local papers and other periodicals, about people, animals, nature and things. The reflection of a weeping willow in a pond; the family (mama, papa, and two kids) of Screech Owls that pause and rest awhile each morning in a tree near a window; gentle Woodpeckers partake of the food prepared on the patio table; awakening each morning by song birds; all these bespeak a mutual language. She collects poems and beautiful writings to read, re-read and quote. Wherever she travels she purchases bells, especially in Mexico, admitting she had no will power when a friend admired a certain bell. Consequently she has few of her own.

An old musket, carried by her father during his Civil War service, hangs above a door in the guest house. Not to be outdone, Mr. Price showed us a Sharps Automatic Rifle 45 90 first breech loading gun, that his father used to hunt Buffalo around Ft. Griffin in 1875. He recalled his father's amusement concerning the last Indian raid at Ft. Griffin. Evidently they had not heard of these new guns as they could not get away fast enough when 20 or 25 men opened fire with the automatics.

On their 40th wedding anniversary Mr. Price presented his wife with a bicycle, which is carried along on their journeys along with his fishing tackle. Once the trailer is parked and utilities are connected she bicycles for pleasure and shopping. Their home has beautiful an-

11 persons killed first six months traffic accidents

The Highway Patrol investigated eight rural traffic accidents in Young County during the month of June, according to Sgt. Frank Jirek, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for five injuries and an estimated property damage of $4,680.00.

The rural traffic accident summary in Young County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 65 crashes resulting in 11 persons killed, 35 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $72,965.00.

"As of July 3, there had been a total of 1,060 fatal crashes in Texas taking the lives of 1,288 persons," the Sgt. stated. This is 174 more traffic deaths than for the same period of 1963. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities, not only exceeding the 1933 all time high of 2,729 deaths but going over the 3,000 fatality mark.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor stated, "This is not just a probability, but a possible reality, unless the motoring public become more thoughtful in regard to complying with traffic laws which would break the rising trend."

Mrs. Elsie Holbert of Fillmore, Calif., one of the old timers of this community, visited in the area this past week with relatives and friends. She was accompanied by her pretty little granddaughter, Connie Gibson of Fillmore. Mrs. Holbert and granddaughter were accompanied to Newcastle by Mrs. C. R. Perry of Throckmorton. While he they called at the Register office and Mrs. Holbert renewed her subscription to this "religious weekly," stating she did not want to miss a copy. We were also glad to enter Mrs. Perry on our rolls as a new subscriber. We enjoyed the visit of these two good women and Connie, and hope they come back to see us. They have our sincere thanks for the subscriptions.

tique furniture, which both enjoy. They also share a mutual love of animals and nature. Mrs. Price is brushing up on her Spanish in preparation for another trip deep into the interior of Old Mexico, after their return from Red River, N. M. Their life is filled with adventure and excitement. There is always new scenes, new wonders and beauty.

Their new trailer is equipped with all the conveniences of home. Refrigerator, T-V and other appliances are operated by batteries while on the road. Few people enjoy the easy, care-free life of the Prices, so don't be surprised if you receive a card from Timbuctoo or Calamazoo.

Cleaning out part of City Lake

Mayor Horace Morgan informs us that the City is cleaning the east end of the City Lake. The weeds have been cut and hauled off and the willows that are getting to be a menace are being cut and disposed of as well as the under brush.

This project will mean a lot in the kind of drinking water we will have when and if it ever rains enough to completely fill the lake. The City is to be commended for this undertaking.

Miss Ann French of Springfield, Tenn., is visiting here with her grandmother, Mrs. Bob Wells. Miss French travelled by plane to Wichita Falls where she was met by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wells.

Mrs. J. C. Routon, our popular City Secretary, underwent major surgery in the Olney hospital Thursday of last week. We understand she is convalescing nicely.

Harris' host for picnic dinner

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Harris of Newcastle were hosts for a picnic dinner at the pump station in Graham on Sunday, July 19. Their daughter, Mrs. Richard Ward, and her daughter and son, Ricky; and a friend, Miss Cheryl McKumm from Alliance, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bellomy Sr., sister of Mrs. Harris, were joined by their children, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Duckworth, their daughter-in-law, Mona and Glen Foster the III; W. B. Bellomy Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tuttle and family of Arlington and Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Strother, brother of Mrs. Harris; and a cousin of Mr. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ault of Graham. They all report a wonderful time visiting and eating.

Dreams are not what successful businesses are made of, unfortunately.

Donald O'Connor plays 7 roles in the Dallas Summer Musicals' fourth show of the 1964 season, "Little Me," July 20 to Aug. 3. With him will be Paula Stewart and Lynn Brinker, as Belle Poltrine, Jr. and Sr.; and Bob Gorman and Ted Chapman as Bernie and Bennie Buchsbaum.

Housing project now a certainty

After many months of hard work and delay, the government housing project for Newcastle is assured, and will be completed by January 1 or before. Graders have leveled up the plot of ground and workers are busy getting ready to lay the foundation.

This housing project will consist of six units, stated Mayor Morgan. He stated further that there will be four one-bedroom apartments for elderly people only, and two 2-bedroom duplex apartments for low income families.

The houses are being built on the lots just east of First Christian Church.

Another "thang" seen near Caddo

Haskell held the spotlight in the news for sometime with reports of a "thang" that roamed through the country side devouring anything it came in contact with.

Now residents of a small town, Caddo, a few miles east of Breckenridge in Stephens County, are hunting for something they say looks like a gorilla.

Several people have reported seeing this monster. Tourists reported Sunday to the sheriff's office at Breckenridge a strange animal seen on US 180 near Caddo, 14 miles east of Breckenridge.

A Caddo resident reported Saturday taking a shot at a mysterious object.

Our advice to the residents of the Caddo community is to keep a close count on the children and bar the doors at night.

Politicians should keep their handshaking out of the church.

FAMILY NOTEBOOK
BY MARY TROY
Homemaking Consultant
Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Instant picnic anyone? If your family has picnic on the mind and you haven't planned for one just then, make sure you're ready for the next safari - if it's only to the backyard.

First add a section to your shopping list for "picnic needs."

If you stick to canned foods, buy double quantities - less summer-time spent shopping, no need for refrigeration and you won't run out for a picnic or two.

Here's how to make ready for an instant picnic, with no cooking necessary:

- Suggested shopping list —
1. Sandwich makings - such as spreads, chicken, tuna fish, sardines, pates, salmon and small sausages plus toothpicks for plucking right from the can.
 2. A canned ham. Canned chicken, too. These ready-to-eat meats can go picnicking just as they are.
 3. Canned potato sticks and olives for snacking, and appetizers.
 4. Juices and soft drinks in cans.
 5. Bread even comes in cans these days, white and whole wheat as well as the more familiar canned date and nut bread, for that instant extra loaf you sometimes need.

Don't forget a supply of can openers — they are instant-picnic essentials! (Hint for absent-minded types - keep extra can openers in the car.)

Leave this week for four day convention at Austin

Final plans have been concluded by the Graham group of Jehovah's Witnesses who are leaving this week to attend their four-day regional convention at Austin.

According to W. Clayton Short, presiding minister for the local congregation, the "Fruitage of the Spirit" District Assembly at Austin is expected to draw some 10,000 delegates from parts of Texas and 16 other states, as well as Canada and Mexico.

Mr. Short discussed the subject of "Gaining Strength by Mutual Encouragement" at the local Kingdom Hall meeting in preparation of the delegates departure. The portion developed by Short lent itself well to the assembly at Austin and included the importance of Christian conduct from the scriptural standpoint. "Assemblies are vital to giving mutual encouragement," he pointed out, "and this one will be no exception."

He announced all sessions at the local Kingdom Hall in Graham will be suspended for the week.

There is too much argument about religion and not enough practice of it.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Here Are the Answers — Let's Use Them!

With anti-gun zealots leading the way, a growing army of perhaps well-meaning but certainly misinformed and misguided people is fighting hard to cripple or destroy one of our basic freedoms—the right to bear arms. It's time for the rest of us to learn the correct answers to this very vocal army's misleading statements about anti-gun legislation, and to use those answers at every opportunity.

Statement: We can reduce crimes by making firearms unavailable to criminals.

Answer: No legislation ever has or ever will prevent a criminal from getting a gun. He'll buy it illegally, steal it, or make it.

Statement: Registration will help solve crimes by tracing a weapon to its owner.

Answer: Almost every criminal's gun, even now, is a stolen gun.

Statement: Making it illegal to carry an unregistered gun will aid in the apprehension of criminals.

Answer: Laws already exist for apprehending and convicting criminals of every kind. We simply don't enforce them strongly enough.

Statement: Registration will help keep guns out of the hands of minors, criminals, addicts and drunkards.

Answer: Such laws already exist, but they are ineffective. How can more such laws solve the problem?

If your present refrigerator is too small, you can replace it with a refrigerator-freezer that takes up no more floor space, yet provides up to 50% more food storage space. You'll have more room for fresh foods and ample space to stock up on frozen foods, too. And you can say goodbye forever to the messy job of defrosting because the new refrigerator-freezers are free of frost. See them at your appliance dealer's soon.
