110 will die during holidays in traffic accidents

Austin.—Past experience indicates some 110 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the 10-day Christmas-New Year's holiday period, according to Public Dept. of Safety. In addition to the grim traffic death projection made by DPS Statistical Services, it is also estimated that there will be 43 homicides and suicides and 42 deaths from accidents other than traffic, for a total violent death toll of 195.

"We would like to appeal once again to the driving public to join us in an all-out effort to cut down on this terrible toll, particularly in traffic where observance of traffic laws and rules of safety can actually do something about it," the DPS director said.

Eugena Cagle named Good Citizen winner

Altus, Okla., Times.—Eugena Cagle, Altus high school senior, was named winner of the annual Good Citizens award of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Eugena is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. V. Cagle of Newcastle.

The award is based on school, home, church and community activities; scholarship; education and vocation plans of the future; answers to a questionnaire regarding government matters; and definitions of the four qualifications of a good citizen, dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Miss Cagle's list of awards and honors, offices held and other activities in Altus high school reads like a who's who.

She was a Merit scholar commendation winner in 1965; outstanding OU yearbook short course student and $100 scholarship to OU winner in 1965; valedictorian of Northeast junior high in 1963; first place in Spanish I at the SW Invitation meet in 1964 and first in Spanish II in the same event last spring; first place in state vocal solo in 1964, and first in district and second in state vocal contest in 1965.

She is editor of the 1966 Bull-dog yearbook; president of the Oklahoma Future Journalists of America; first vice president of the Oklahoma Inter-scholastic Press Association; vice-president of the Altus high school Spanish club; and was president of the KAY Klub in 1964.

Elbert man with 7th Fleet

USS Higbee, Dec. 1.—Electronics Technician Third Class Gordon C. Richardson, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Richardson of Route 1, Elbert, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Higbee, which operates out of Yokosuka, Japan as a unit of the Seventh Fleet.

Destroyers are high speed ships used primarily in anti-submarine warfare. They also operate offensively against surface ships, defend against airborne attack, and provide gunfire support for amphibious assaults.

Christmas tree Methodist Church

It is announced that there will be a Christmas tree at the Methodist Church Sunday night, and Santa Claus is due to be there. Everyone is invited—especially the children.

A program of Christmas carols and other numbers will furnish the entertainment.

We understand Wayne Hales, superintendent of schools, who is a patient in the Olney hospital recovering from a heart attack, is doing very well and hopes to be home soon.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

It's Time to Act Together!

Since the tragic death of President Kennedy, many well-meaning but thoughtless people are pressing for the passage of sweeping anti-firearms measures, at all legislative levels. The groups backing these bills are organized, dedicated and highly vocal. It's time the rest of us began defending ourselves!

President Kennedy, who was himself a member of the National Rifle Association, would surely have been on our side in the fight to preserve a basic American heritage—the right to bear arms. As Junior Senator from Massachusetts, he once said: "The (Second) Amendment still remains an important declaration of our basic military-civilian relationship, in which every citizen must be ready to participate in the defense of his country."

Let's organize. All of us who love guns and the gun sports must work within our clubs and affiliations to create effective letter-writing campaigns. We must guard against new threats at every level. We must form groups to attend political meetings and express our views. It's time to act together to preserve our right to own and bear arms!

Rural Fire Dept. to hold annual meet December 20

The Young County Rural Fire Department will hold their annual meeting on Monday, December 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the County Court House in Graham.

According to Nathan Allen, president, this will be a very important meeting, in that officers will be elected for the coming year and directors named to fill the terms of those having served three years. Other items of business to be discussed according to Allen, will be operating funds for the coming year and reports from the three fire units now operating in the Young County area, being located at Loving, Newcastle and Murray.

Allen suggested that all Young County land owners submit their contributions and checks made payable to the above organization and at the rate of 2c per acre per year. The President goes on to say that few rural fire calls were made this past year, but that promptness on the part of the rural firefighters and the availability of these units possibly saved several thousand acres of grass and probably some rural dwellings and buildings. The public is invited to attend this meeting, and that any and all suggestions will be welcomed.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation for the cards, visits, flowers, and prayers during my stay in the hospital. For your interest in my recovery, and everything done in my behalf, I am deeply grateful. Mrs. Franklin Thompson.

IT'S A BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Larimore of Wichita Falls, announce the arrival of a son, December 11, 1965 at 6 a. m. in the Olney hospital. The young man weighed 10-lb. and was named James Andrew.

The Christmas spirit pervades throughout Newcastle with many of the homes displaying beautiful lighting arrangements and Christmas scenes. A few of the homes we notice are the Kessler, Pounds, Wilkinson, Pitts, Moody, Bailey, and a host of others due recognition. The most outstanding elaborate was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson. Everyone who has contributed in this manner, to bring the spirit of the holiday season to the community are to be commended for their efforts.

12 traffic accidents in Young county, November

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 12 accidents on rural highways in Young county during the month of November, according to Sgt. Frank Jiroik, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $9,000.00.

The rural traffic summary for this county from January through November of 1965 shows a total of 115 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were three persons killed and 69 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $74,225.00.

Drinking drivers are involved in more than half the fatal Christmastime accidents, a higher percentage than the one out-of-three proportion during the rest of the year.

C. F. "Buddy" Pratt dead

The Register has received word that C. F. (Buddy) Pratt, a former citizen of Newcastle, passed away in San Pedro, Calif., after an illness of several months, Thursday, December 9, 1965.

Burial was at San Pedro. Pratt was a citizen of Newcastle for many years, before moving to California several years ago. The many friends will regret to hear of his passing.

Survivors are one daughter, Anita Keller, Carrizo Springs, Texas; and a son, C. F. Pratt Jr., Downey, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Velma Joiner, Mrs. Odessa McCluskey and Mrs. Faye Wilson.

THE GREATEST GIFT OF ALL

It has no fancy wrap. It bears no scarlet ribbon, but it will surely ring a Christmas bell in the heart of the recipient. It can bring glowing love to a child; it can give confidence and direction to a teenager; it can give reassurance to an older person. It can calm the frightened; it can comfort the lonely; it can give hope to those who feel they live on the outposts of society. It is worth a thousand tinselled packages; it is the greatest Christmas gift of all—An Unselfish Act of Human Kindness.

LOW BLOOD SUGAR FROM MISSED MEALS

She was a lovely blonde with big, trusting brown eyes and long golden curls. She sat on my knee and believed every word I told her. She was two years old, and inclined to be a bit chubby.

Later, when she was in high school, she was still blonde and lovely, but she wasn't chubby any more. She was, if anything, a bit inclined to be thin. I asked her one day what she had for breakfast that morning.

"I didn't have any breakfast this morning," she said.

"What did you have yesterday morning?"

"I didn't have any breakfast," she answered in a small voice. "When did you last have breakfast?"

"I can't remember," she whispered, giving me a reproachful glance from those lovely brown eyes.

"All right," I said in desperation, "skip breakfast!"

"That's what I do," she said, and skipped away with a giggle before I could question her further about her dreadful eating habits.

A Bad Habit

Girls, much more than boys, tend to go without breakfast, though boys are sometimes guilty, too. Skipping breakfast is an easy habit to slip into, and it is not a good one — for that matter, for any member of the family.

The number of meals a day varies with custom and circumstance. In some countries today, five, six or seven meals a day are eaten; these are usually smaller meals than the three-a-day customary in this country. The number matters less than does the regularity.

The body requires a regular supply of food in order to maintain the supply of nutrients available to the tissues at an adequate level. This is true especially of the blood sugar (sugar in the blood) which is the immediate source of energy. When the interval between the evening meal and the first meal the next day is as long as 18 hours, as happens when breakfast is omitted, the blood sugar may fall lower than it should.

Mild Insulin Shock

Low blood sugar creates late-morning inefficiency, drowsiness, fainting and proneness to accident through ineffective coordination. This is a mild form of the insulin shock which happens to diabetics when they get too much insulin or exercise, and too little food. It was what happened to one of my secretaries who responded to my buzzer signal by jumping from her desk and starting to enter my office. On the threshold, she collapsed, in a faint. She had taken a ballet lesson the night before after her supper, gotten up late and skipped breakfast, and had come to work with, literally, hungry blood.

A good breakfast should include fruit, eggs or bacon or both, enriched bread or rolls, milk, butter and jam or jelly, and a beverage. And time should be taken to eat without
