

Tornado watch increases as season nears

Nearly seven years have gone by since one of the most destructive forces on earth whipped through the city of Lubbock.

What started as a calm spring day, May 11, 1970 erupted into a nightmare. At 9:35 p.m. a funnel cloud protruded from a churning black sky and gouged an eight and one-half mile path out of North Lubbock. Moments later the vortex withdrew and in its wake 1,700 houses, 119 aircraft, and 10,000 cars were damaged or destroyed. The total damage was placed at $135 million, most of which would never be recovered. Lubbock escaped with 28 deaths in its worst natural disaster ever.

Constant Watch

Both the National Weather Service and Det. 11, 24th Weather Squadron at Reese watch all threatening weather developments, and issue a severe storm warning as soon as possible. On the night of the 1970 tornado, a warning for severe thunderstorms was issued one hour and 45 minutes in advance. Radio and television stations were alerted and broadcast further developments. Of the 28 people who died, few had taken the time to properly protect themselves.

Each Weather Bureau Severe Thunderstorm warning should be treated as a primary alert. There is always the chance of it being upgraded to a Tornado Watch or Warning.

The forecaster has certain criteria to meet before a Severe Weather Warning is issued. When these are met, areas where potential storms may evolve are outlined. These areas often cover hundreds of square miles and last for several hours. Where a funnel cloud may develop and touch down is almost impossible to tell in advance.

The Tornado Belt

Reese is in the southern portion of the "Tornado Belt", which extends northward to Oklahoma and northeastward into Iowa. While tornadoes occur in other states, the greatest number occur in this region during the months from March to September.

The normal path of a tornado is from the southwest to the northwest at about 30 to 35 miles per hour. Winds as strong as 300 mph have been observed in the stronger vortices.

President nominates Roberts for promotion to full general

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (ATCPS) - Secretary of Defense, Harold Brown, today announced the President has nominated Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts, commander, Air Training Command (ATC), for promotion to general. Additionally, the President has designated the position of Commander, ATC, as a job of importance and responsibility requiring the grade of a general.

Known as a man who is truly concerned about people, General Roberts, is responsible for managing more than 117,000 people and operating one of the largest school systems in the free world.

A native of Minnesota, General Roberts entered the service as an aviation cadet. After receiving his wings and commission as a second lieutenant, he began a career that has carried him throughout the world in both operational and support assignments—but assignments that have always kept him close to the "people" action. An experienced fighter pilot, General Roberts has served in many operational duty positions including Squadron Commander. His credentials as an "expert" are reinforced by the fact that he won the trophy for top individual scoring at the First United States Air Force Jet Fighter Weapon Meet.

In 1973 he was appointed Deputy Chief of Staff, Personnel—a job described by General Roberts himself as being one of the most challenging and rewarding "people" jobs in the Air Force.

As Deputy Chief of Staff, Personnel, General Roberts was responsible for developing policies and programs that affected the recruiting, training, education and career development of all active duty personnel, civilians and military. While in this job, General Roberts helped to update military compensation in the areas of housing, pay, and other entitlements.

In February of last year, General Roberts was presented the 1975 Eugene M. Zuckert Management Award in recognition of his outstanding contributions to personnel management in the Air Force.

General Roberts became Commander of ATC, with headquarters at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex., in August 1975. He will remain in his present assignment and his promotion to four star rank will be effective upon Senate confirmation.

Randolph AFB dedicates Missing Man Monument

Randolph AFB, Tex. (ATCPS) - A memorial to Americans lost in Southeast Asia combat was dedicated March 4 at Randolph AFB, Tex.

The Missing Man Monument consists of four 1,500 pound stylized aircraft figures with the words "Those who came home must never forget those who could not" inscribed at the base.

Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) was among top civilian and military officials attending the ceremony. Lt. Gen. John W. Roberts, commander, Air Training Command, accepted the monument on behalf of the Air Force.

FROM THE # TRAIL BOSS

Our Base Commander, Col. Joseph Brotherston, has a few words to say touching on involvement, my favorite subject. Listen to what our "Mayor" has to say.

Brig. Gen. Edward Mendel

One of the most perplexing responsibilities of a Base Commander is the enhancement of base morale through recreational opportunities. Obviously I cannot create programs in isolation that will satisfy entertainment, sports and recreation needs for the maximum number of people without feedback through both formal and informal communication channels.

I have a highly experienced professional staff that is responsible for the day-to-day management and maintenance of our recreational facilities. I expect them to be advocates for their respective activities while competing for the limited funds and other resources that are available for our total Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) Program. Moreover, they are expected to continually search for new innovations that will promote the maximum utilization of their facilities.

There is a vital communication link, however, that is absolutely essential if we are to spend our limited resources wisely on meaningful programs—and that is the advice and support of our numerous advisory committees composed of representatives from each unit. I recently asked the NCO Leadership Class if anyone knew who represented their unit on the NCO Club Advisory Committee. Not one student knew. I wonder how many of you readers know that we have numerous advisory committees such as The Athletic Committee, The Entertainment Committee, The Officer/NCO Advisory Committee, and The Golf Committee. Do you know who represents your unit as a spokesman and advocate? I would be willing to bet that there are a few Unit Commanders and Senior NCO's who don't know the answer and, in some cases, could care less.

When I attend some of the advisory committee meetings or review their minutes, it appears to me that the same few people are involved. In fact, one officer has been simultaneously serving as chairman of two of our most important and influential committees. Conversely, it is common to note that the same people are usually absent from meetings.

Unit commanders and senior NCO's have an inherent responsibility for the welfare of their troops. This responsibility cannot be fulfilled by just letting others carry the burden if they are willing or simply blaming the system if those who are involved in morale programs do not serve the best interest of your organization. Select your best people to represent your organization and be sure they are known to everyone and have the means for obtaining group opinions. Follow-up by reviewing the committee minutes to insure that they are supporting the whole unit and replace them if they're not. Support your representatives by encouraging them to be actively involved and free to attend the meetings.

Col. Joseph H. Brotherston

Effective entertainment, sports and recreation activities cannot be dictated. They must evolve from the known desires of the troops and must be supported by responsible supervisors.

Gen. Brown speaks on defense, benefits

(Editor's Note: Following are comments made by Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Gen. George S. Brown in a statement to the Congress on the U.S. defense posture for fiscal year 1978.)

"Readiness of our force is being threatened by mounting concern among the Service members for their benefits, and standard of living. These true volunteers freely commit themselves to the defense of our Nation. In return, they expect their leaders to commit themselves to the Service member in insuring that they have an adequate standard of living.

"Since 1972, there have been repeated attempts to reduce, eliminate, transfer, and transform military benefits which in the past have helped to convince the individual to enlist or to make Military Service a career. The GI Bill, which in the opinion of some recruitment officials has been the single most important enlistment incentive, has been restructured and replaced by a pay-as-you-go program.

"Pay raises have been held below the rise in cost of living, resulting in reduced purchasing power. Medical benefits have been modified, reduced, or eliminated. Threats of further reductions are constantly highlighted by private publications targeted at the Service member.

"Twenty per cent of our Army's enlisted members work at a second job and approximately 50 per cent of their wives work. More than 60 per cent of our current enlisted personnel have entered the Service since 1972. Since they enlisted they have, in effect, experienced only losses in their purchasing power and benefits. We must defuse this issue before it severely impacts on our readiness.

"As a minimum, I believe there should be a one-year moratorium on changes to the compensation and benefits system. During this period, we can address the various recommendations of study groups that have looked into the implementation of changes, a clear, concise, and understandable explanation can be presented to the Compensation and the Defense Service member.

Manpower Commission. Then, a detailed plan for implementing necessary changes could be presented to the Congress. Upon implementation of changes, a clear, concise, and understandable explanation can be presented to the Service member.

AF Village provides home for retired officers widows

Happiness is living in a community alive with activities that are interesting and challenging. The Air Force Village provides just such an atmosphere for the widows of Air Force officers, particularly those whose husbands died before accumulating adequate financial resources.

Air Force Village in San Antonio is an attractive retirement residential community with 248 apartment units. A central laundry room, a beauty parlor, chapel, library, and arts and crafts shops are among the special features at the village.

Nearby is Wilford Hall Medical Center and the exchange and commissary at Lackland AFB. Regularly scheduled transportation is available as well as buses for special purposes such as out-of-town trips or attending concerts.

Everyone eventually faces health problems. When these problems arise, Air Force Village is adequately prepared to meet the needs of the residents. Located on the second floor of the high-rise building is a licensed nursing home with a medical staff available on a 24-hour basis.

You, as an Air Force wife, may some day want to know about this facility either for yourself or for a friend. It is comforting to know that Air Force people do take care of their own!

Remember, the Air Force Assistance Fund drive is now in progress. Have you contributed?

(AFNS Editorial)

Two Cents Worth

The Air Force is placing a great deal of emphasis on recruiting. What suggestions do you have that might make an Air Force career more attractive?

I think recruiters should be more explicit about the career a person will be going into.

A1C Lerome Gunter,

Place more emphasis on education benefits.

Ann Ronnie Benavides

I think it's a great career now, but it could be better if the Air Force and recruiters would live up to their responsibilities in what they advertise.

The Junior Officer Council (JOC) met Monday, March 7 at the O'Club. Attendance was meager, to say the least. As a reminder, the JOC meets the first Monday of every month at 3:30 p.m. in Party Rm 1 of the O'Club. So, if you are a voting member, or simply interested, mark that down on your calendar!

Some states still offer Vietnam Veterans bonus

(AFPS) - Vietnam Veteran bonuses are still available from 12 States which have application deadlines in 1977 or thereafter. In all cases, eligibility determination rests with State authorities and individuals applying must meet all the State's requirements.

A point to remember, as income tax-time approaches, is that State bonus payments are wholly exempt from Federal and State taxes and need not be reported on either tax form.

Listed below are the States still participating in the program, cut off dates for application, and the addresses where applications should be submitted and/or information concerning eligibility obtained.

Still No Papers

I called once before about being unable to purchase a newspaper on base. For a while thereafter things improved. A newspaper machine was installed in the Chow Hall, but has been taken out and today I was unable to buy a newspaper anywhere on base including the Officer's Open Mess.

I think people here have a right to get the newspaper and I see no reason why it cannot be facilitated. As of right now, I am going downtown to buy newspapers. If it comes down to it, I probably will get a subscription in the mail to the newspaper if they are not made available on a regular basis.

I'd like to think we were making progress on getting you a paper, but things look bleak. On Feb. 25, the delivery man for the Avalanche-Journal was again contacted regarding base distribution of the newspaper. He stated that the newspaper rack placed in the Dining Hall was broken by someone

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's Note: THE ROUNDUP will publish Commander's CARE Line calls which are of basewide interest. Names of callers will not be published, but callers should leave their name and duty extension in case their problem needs clarification. All calls are reviewed by Wing Commander Brig. Gen. Edward Mendel. Reese people are urged to use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air complaints or comments, if possible. If not, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E. (Ext. 2273). Please provide your name and duty section when calling.)

within a week after it was installed. He had to remove it for repairs. He further stated that base personnel were still taking the papers and not paying for them. Unless the situation improves immediately, he told us he intends to remove the racks and stop distribution of the newspaper on base. It is unfortunate that our people have to be deprived of a service due to the indiscriminate acts of a few people and anyone who sees such a theft should report it to the Security Police (Ext. 2400) with as much information as possible.

I'm open to suggestions on how we can stop these people from stealing newspapers.

Illegal Parking

When I come to work at 7:30 a.m. I drive past the base service store parking lot which has a minimum of three or four slots provided for base store customers only. These slots are filled and they are never empty during the day. Since the service store is not open at 7:30 a.m. how can you have any customers?

When I go to the service store to pick up bulky items, such as a case of teletype paper, I have to either park the car illegally or park it several blocks away and carry these heavy items.

I sympathize with you about this situation as I also have been inconvenienced by similar parking violations. I have alerted the Security Police to check with the Supply Service Store personnel to see if the reserved slots are legally occupied, and to act accordingly. Incidentally, I have asked our Security Police to get tough on parking violations throughout the base.

I am sorry you were inconvenienced and hopefully, we will preclude further incidents of this sort.

Equal opportunity, treatment aim of Social Actions team

Equal Opportunity and Treatment (EOT) is the name of the game and the Reese EOT team is ready for action. Staff Sergeants Clyde McDonald, Gil Gallo and Sgt. Daryl Fletcher are members of the team and they are ready to help.

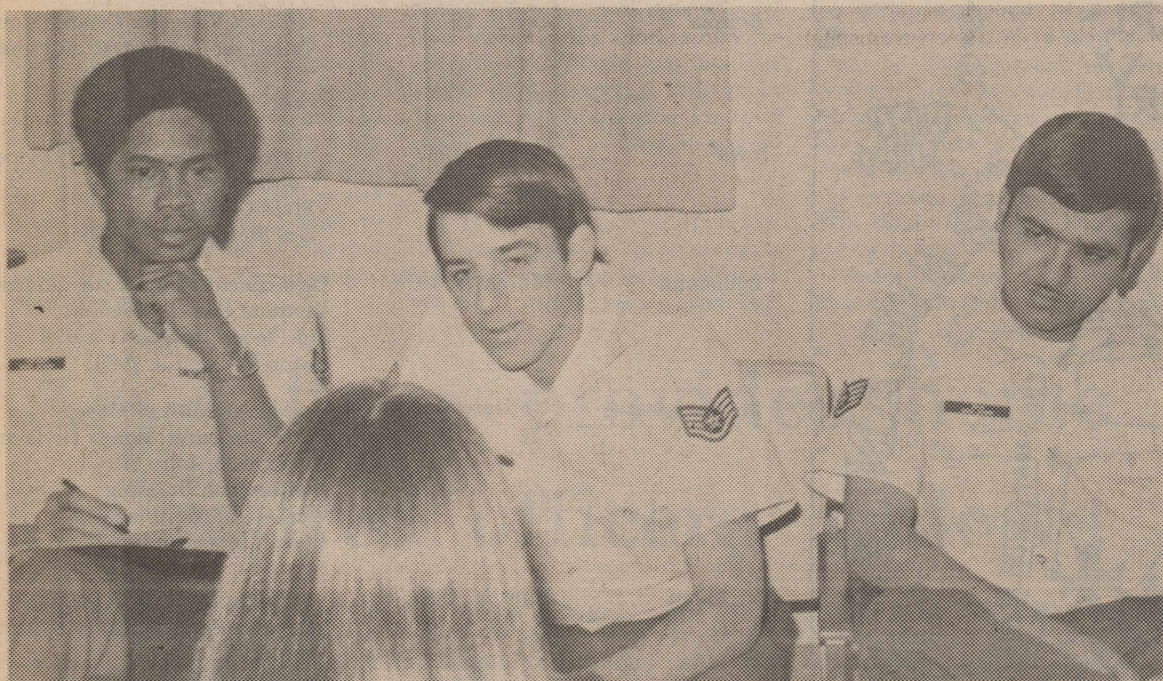

Sergeant McDonald came to Reese in June 1976 from Newark AFS, Ohio. A native of New Castle, Pa., he has attended the University of Maryland and Park College studying economics, sociology and psychology. Prior to coming to Reese as an EOT counselor, Sergeant McDonald worked in the Avionics career field.

Another member of the EOT team is SSgt. Gilbert Gallo a native of San Antonio. Currently assigned to the Social Actions Office under temporary duty assignment, Sergeant Gallo will be attending the Social Actions course at Lackland AFB, Tex. beginning June 1. His previous experiences relating to the Social Actions field include Social Actions monitor for the 64th supply Squadron and past member and president of the Reese Human Relations Council.

The newest member of the team is Sgt. Daryl E. Fletcher. He arrived from Sheppard AFB, Tex. two weeks ago and has been in Social Actions for the last three and one-half years.

The last, but by no means least member of the EOT team is you. With you we can have a winning team, but without you we all lose. Together we can make Reese a winner and a model for other bases to follow when it come to Equal Opportunity and Treatment. Got a problem, see us. Want to "rap", see us. We are located adjacent to the old windmill, behind the Credit Union in Bldg. 35. Our Ext. is 2763.

TO SERVE YOU - It may not take all three of Reese's Equal Opportunity and Treatment team to solve a complaint, but if it does they are all available. Members of the EOT team are (left to right) Sgt. Daryl Fletcher, SSgt. Clyde McDonald, and SSgt. Gil Gallo. (U.S. Air Force Photo by SSgt. Ron Pack)

Air Force Assoc. begins looking for new members, here, April 1

Brig. Gen. Edward Mendel today announced that the Air Force Association (AFA) will conduct its annual membership drive at Reese AFB beginning April 1.

In announcing the drive, General Mendel pointed out that AFA's current membership is over 150,000. Citing the fact that membership in the Association is entirely voluntary, he also went on to say that "the AFA provides a strong voice nationally in support of the defense of this country. The AFA naturally represents all the Air Force and is, in essence, the professional society of the Air Force."

Locally, strong support to Reese is provided by the president of the Lubbock Chapter of the Association, Douglas Boren. More than 1,000 persons, military and civilian, are now affiliated with the Lubbock Chapter. Mr. Boren expressed the hope that this year's drive will substantially increase in number.

Membership in the Association is open to all active duty, reserve, or retired military personnel, and to all others who have served with the Armed Forces of the United States. Others may affiliate with AFA by becoming patrons of the Air Force Association. AFA members receive many benefits including a monthly copy of "Air Force" magazine and eligibility for a number of low cost group insurance programs.

Membership dues are $10 per year, or $24 for a three year period. Life membership in the Association is also available for a one-time fee of $200.

The drive will continue through April 30. Many long lasting benefits are derived from the effort of the AFA and membership in this organization is worthy of consideration.

Entertainment

Flick Flack

Feature films are shown at the Simler Theater at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. The Saturday matinee begins at 2 p.m. and the box office opens 30 minutes before each feature.

TONIGHT: Ryan O'Neal and Tatum O'Neal star in "Nickelodeon." Rated PG.

TOMORROW'S MATINEE: Marshall Thompson and Betsy Darke star in "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion." Rated G.

TOMORROW EVENING: Billy Dee Williams decides to form a baseball team of his own after discovering that club owners are exploiting players in "The Bingo Long Traveling All-Stars and Motor Kings." Whether or not his team will be allowed to join the League depends on the outcome of a final game. Rated PG.

SUNDAY: Some of the great musical performers of our time bring their unique artistry to "Woodstock." Rated R.

WEDNESDAY: Al Pacino stars in "Dog Day Afternoon." Pacino and his partner are surrounded while trying to rob a bank. While they bargain for safe passage, police are making their own plans to capture the two robbers. Rated R.

THURSDAY: Charlton Heston and David Janssen star in "Two Minute Warning." A sniper is spotted during a championship football game and police race the clock trying to reach him before he can start shooting. Rated R.

Mathis Happenings

TOMORROW: Dance to "Epitaph" beginning at 9 p.m.

WEDNESDAY: The Mathis Little Theater Group invites interested personnel to a meeting at 7:30 p.m.

THURSDAY: Square Dancing exhibition at 7:30 p.m. Hap Pope will be the caller and participation is vital to continue this event.

MARCH 26: Disco with light show at 9 p.m.

Mental illusionist on tap for O'Club magic shows

"Nevada" Smith Jones, a Master Conjurer will astonish Reese personnel March 24 - 26 when he puts on three shows in the Officer's Open Mess.

Nevada Smith will give a "Beat the Odds at Vegas" seminar at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. It will include theories of odds and probabilities and "How not to be taken in blackjack, baccarat, roulette, and craps."

He will give two shows March 25 and again March 26. In addition to his performances, a disco with more than 500 records will be held in the club.

All shows are different so don't miss any of them.

Academicians recover from shock

By Capt. Cliff Napolitano

Shades of Capt. Romeo and Lt. Juliet. The Academic Branch hasn't recovered from the shock of seeing its own personalized ERA statement in the shapely form of Capt. Jerry "thatzrite" Davis. The squadron project officer and movie director Charlie Yates is planning a rather high budget film soon titled "Lawrence of Lubbock." This film portrays the life and trials of a band of nomadic farmers blown back and forth across West Texas.

My appologies go to 1st Lt. Lloyd Sauls. His introduction appeared in last week's edition, however, he was also know as Floyd Souls. Well he has a lot of soul but Floyd was too much. Welcome anyway, Stump.

Class 78-01

"C" Flight welcomes Steve

Murdoch and a belated welcome to Kevin Heinen, in "F" Flight. Wednesday morning, Sherlock Summers solved the case of the missing car. Good job, B.J. Randy McPeak, however, wins the coveted Toad of the Week award. No, Randy, you don't have to transmit your lineup check over channel 4. And, secondly, when the checklist says "seat and canopy jettison safety pins installed" it means just that. It doesn't mean installed in the pocket of your flight suit 30 minutes after you've landed.

Class 77-08

Kudos are again in order for Captain Smith, and Lieutenants Starks, Kliehans, Menez and Ramsey for receiving outstanding on their last checkride.

Civil Engineers solicit Base help before spring clean-up

With Spring just around the corner, the never ending task of Base Clean-up gets another shot in the arm. Civil Engineers solicits everyone's support at this time in order that any materials or assistance needed by the squadrons may be provided. Each squadron commander should appoint a project officer for his respective unit A.S.A.P. but no later than March 25 and relay the name, grade and telephone number to 64th Civil Engineering Squadron (CE) Operations and Maintenance, ext. 2512/2560.

It is the responsibility of the project officer to determine materials, equipment and personnel assistance required of CE and provide an itemized list of these items at the meeting of the project officers scheduled for 1 p.m. March 28 in the conference room of Bldg. 553.

In order for this operation to be a success, it is imperative that all base organizations provide maximum support. The Spring Clean-up plan (752) is being updated and will be distributed to all organizations upon completion. This will be discussed further at the meeting on March 28.

Maintenance sets trend for on-the-job progress

Recently there seems to be considerable enthusiasm in the On-The-Job (OJT) program in the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS). Although FMS currently has the largest training load with 52 people on OJT, they have also set what appears to be a new trend in obtaining "outstanding" ratings on the End of Course (EC) exams.

Normally a passing score on the EC is 60 with a score of 90 required to obtain an outstanding rating. Lately, however, more members of FMS are trying for the top rating.

SSgt. George Edmond started it off with an outstanding score on his seven level exam. This was followed by Airmen Dennie Riley, Mark Williams, and Maria Abbott.

Maj. E.M. Hartung-Schuster, FMS squadron commander, congratulated all these personnel and also their trainers. "Achieving an outstanding score where only 60 is required for satisfactory completion is an extraordinary achievement which definitely reflects hard work. I am extremely proud of these individuals and know they will succeed during their Air Force tour of duty".

Cycle registration next week

The Security Police Division is asking all motorcycle riders to report to the Pass and Identification section of CBPO Monday - March 25 for registration of their motorcycle. Even if a motorcycle is currently registered, personnel still need to bring helmet, eye protection, and motorcycle for re-registration.

Inside the Reese Postal Service Center

LETTERS EVERYWHERE - Amn. Sherman Chew uses the Postage Metering machine to speed up processing of official letters. Approximately 400-500 letters are metered each duty day.

DISTRIBUTION - Airmen Gene Young, foreground, and Paul Wallace sort out items for the base distribution. Besides handling all base distribution, these offices also handle consolidated mail to other bases.

FROM HOME - Sgt. David McAdory places a letter in one of the personal mail boxes maintained in the Postal Service Center for Reese personnel. Combining all three functions results in about 2,000 pounds of mail handled daily by these men and women. (U.S. Air Force Photos by SSgt. Ron Pack)

Sign change almost entraps author

By 1st Lt. Mike Dendinger

I almost committed the sin of sins outside the information office last week by walking into the wrong latrine. A month ago, it would have been the right one, but someone discovered that there were more women on the third floor of the headquarters building than men, and horror of discriminatory horrors, the men had the large john. Justice was done, of course, and we're still trying to confirm reports that the sisters have made adorable planters out of those cute little things on the wall.

We've learned that Eric Root narrowly escaped with his life, weekend before last when intruders broke into his cross country VOQ room. Eric reports that he was awakened in the early morning hours by "strange, animal-like sounds." The fiends effected their entry using the old ID card in the bolt trick, and Eric saved himself only by rolling over and playing dead (a favorite Check Section trick most commonly seen around four in the afternoon). Eric has no idea who the intruders were, but noticed that Bozo Boggs was a little bleary-eyed while applying for a new ID card the next day.

Toad 01, IDENT

Candidates for the fleonious frog are stacking up faster than we can get them into print. Take 2nd Lt. Ricardo Caballero in "B" Flight, for instance. On takeoff leg, Lubbock Departure informed him his transponder was inop, so he dutifully returned to the pattern. Ever helpful, 1st Lt. Mark Schilling strolled over to Lieutenant Caballero's aircraft after landing for a little troubleshooting, and casually flipped the Mode 3 switch on.

Then there's Capt. Wayne Plump who, upon overhearing a conversation between mobile and a solo at number one who couldn't get this canopy down, hit the mike button and helpfully suggested that the solo check the canopy circuit breaker.

Finally, we have 2nd Lt. B.J. Summers in "C" Flight, who vowed he'd shave off his mustache if he passed his check. The check was a fair . . . so he shaved off half of his mustache.

Training never ends for the men assigned to the Reese Fire Department. Training that may one day save the life of a pilot, or of a child in the Village.

Working 24 hour shifts, these men are continually aware that at any moment the alarm may go off signalling a call for help. Through constant equipment inspection and periodic realistic training exercises, one can be sure that these men are well prepared.

U.S. Air Force Photos
by Sgt. Ron Pack

ALWAYS MANNED - Nerve center of the Reese Fire Department is the Alarm Room. All base fire alarms are linked directly to this room which also houses communication links to various emergency response units.

STRIVING FOR PERFECTION - Training exercises like the one depicted in these photos ensure that if an actual emergency does occur, firemen will be able to respond quickly and smoothly.

GOING IN - Once the door is forced open, firemen rush in to locate two manikins somewhere inside and to extinguish the fire. The smoke inside the training building is so thick during these exercises that the firemen are forced to "feel" for the bodies.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED - Fighting fires in only one of the functions of the Reese Fire Department. Rescue plays an important part also. Here firemen have located one of the manikins and are bringing it out.

ALL DONE - SSgt. Oscar Givens briefs the men on how well they handled the emergency. Constructive criticism from a trained observer helps firemen realize areas that may need increased attention.

Tornadoes

Weather Squadron at Reese and the National Weather Service, located at the Municipal Airport, assist each other during times of severe weather.

Firemen and policemen are posted around the city at the beginning of a severe weather watch, and Reese has a trained observer ready to relay the approach of any danger. The National Weather Service issues its warnings to the general public through Civil Defense, radio and television stations while the Base Weather Station relays its warning directly to the Command Post. Sirens, both in Lubbock and at Reese will not be sounded until a tornado has been sighted. Don't wait to hear the siren before reacting.

Preparation is the key to the protection of all concerned.

The tornado instructions here will help. Cut out and place in a central location for quick reference.

Tornado Instructions

TORNADO WATCH: Weather conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes. Tornado activity may be expected.

TORNADO WARNING: Tornado has actually been sighted.

WHAT TO DO:

TORNADO WATCH:

1. Monitor Emergency Broadcast System...KFYO 790...for official Weather Bureau information if thunderstorm activity is observed.
2. Weather Information on Television: The following weather symbols may appear in the lower left hand side of the screen.

- NOTE: -- The station will broadcast what counties the watch warnings will cover.
3. Secure all movable objects in the vicinity of your residence or work area.
  4. Have the movements of children restricted to the immediate vicinity of your home.
  5. Open windows slightly to help equalize the inside and outside pressure.
  6. Gather emergency supplies and have them readily available.

TORNADO WARNING:

1. STAY INSIDE YOUR BUILDING! Potential loss of life or bodily injury may occur if you are caught in the open.
2. Monitor radio station KFYO 790. Confirmed sightings and movements will be broadcasted when sightings occur.
3. A steady 3 to 5 minute tone on the base siren system indicates a tornado has been sighted and Reese AFB appears to be in its path.
4. If either the base siren, a loud roar, or you sight a tornado, take cover in the strongest part of your residence or work area. Cover yourself to provide protection against flying debris.
  - (a) AVOID AREAS NEAR WINDOWS
  - (b) DO NOT REMAIN ON THE SECOND STORY OF ANY BUILDING
  - (c) LIE FLAT ON THE FLOOR UNDER SOME PROTECTIVE COVER

POST TORNADO ACTIVITY:

1. Keep calm, determine injuries, and render first aid.
2. Stay away from fallen power lines.
3. Cooperate fully with first aid teams, Security Police, and other damage assessment and recovery personnel.
4. Do not leave quarters until ALL CLEAR has been broadcast by the Security Police.

Base three receive performance money

Henry L. Pryjowski, Lucia R. Perron and Richard Davis, Non-appropriated Fund employees of the Recreation Services Branch, were recognized for Sustained Superior Performance by Base Commander Col. Joseph H. Brotherston during Wednesday's staff meeting.

Besides achievement certificates each individual received cash awards of $150 - $200. In presenting the awards Colonel Brotherston thanked each for their outstanding efforts and dedication "above and beyond" the call of duty.

Pryjowski is the Auto Hobby Shop supervisor, a post he has held since April 1964. He is presently planning additional facility improvement projects which will hopefully materialize later this year.

Lucia (Linda) Perron is presently the Base Nursery director. She has held this position since August 1974 and has managed to increase services to her customers with only minimal increases in fees and charges.

Richard David is currently serving as Base Golf Course attendant, a position he has held since September 1973. He has effected numerous improvements to both services and facilities provided at the Golf Course. "Dick" has frequently served as "Acting Golf Course Manager" during periods of manager absences an/or position vacancies.

FROM THE SECURITY POLICE — Amn Ika Edwards is the latest graduate of the six week South Plains Association of Government Law Enforcement course. She joins other Security Policemen who have taken the course in an effort to improve their work. (U.S. Photo by SSgt. Ron Pack)

AF restores dependent dental care

The recent reduction of dental care for dependents, at Conus Air Force Bases, has been temporarily suspended.

The suspension has been instituted pending a clarification and resolution of the interpretation of Title 10, United States Code 1077A(9).

Until the issue is resolved the preventive dentistry program for dependent children will continue as it existed prior to the curtailment February.

The program will include home care counseling, dental prophylaxis, polishing, fluoride treatment, examinations, and a home care dental kit. The taking of x-rays at the request of the patient's civilian dentist will also again be available.

Willoughby heads Base Team

by Sonny Serutan

Rob Willoughby bowled a 190 plus average to lead the field over the thirty-six game bowl off. Rob will be the team captain when the team goes to the ATC tournament. The other members of the team are Tom Hulse, Connor Russell and Doug Bradford.

Sunday, Reese Lanes will host the South Plains Travel Association. Reese has a team in this league and the competition is very strong. The action starts about 11 a.m. so come out and watch some good bowling.

Lets go to the line. The Monday Ladies League continues to move along. Pat Holloway led the group with a 164/467. Jackie Crawford came close behind with a 159/440.

The Intramural showed some good scores again. Bill Williams had a 207/555, Doug Bradford, 196/553 and Charles Wingfield had a 552 series.

Hassie Lormand led the ladies with a 170/450.

Doug Bradford popped a 623 to lead the group Wednesday Night.

Barbara Main led the Ladies with a 201/544, Mickie Flewellen had a 500 and Nancie Mullinex had a 483. Suzanne (the dandbagger) Foos had a 461.

The Ball and Chainers came out to bowl Thursday night despite the famous brown snow of Texas. Connor Russell had a 222/608, Sam Mele 543, George Clark 526 and Bob Wocking 510.

Shirley Walker had a 221/577.

Rob Willoughby dropped by to show the Medics why he is number one on the base team. Rob shot a 257 game, 666 series. Bob Gregorio had a 234/558 and Tex Westerburg 516.

Karen Botkin led the ladies with a 168/458.

Make your plans for Scotch Doubles Saturday night. Fun starts at 8 p.m. For the people in Job Control, Mickey's little hand is on the eight and his big hand is on the 12.

Volleyball begins tomorrow for Central Division champs

Competition begins tomorrow between volleyball teams from Reese, Laughlin, Randolph, Lackland, and Webb Air Force bases for the Air Training Command (ATC) Central Division Championship.

Opening ceremonies will be held at 9:30 a.m. with the first game of the Double Round Robin tournament at 10 a.m. Games will be played until 7 p.m. tomorrow. Play will resume from noon - 8 p.m. Sunday and the last day of the tournament will begin at 10 a.m. Monday.

The team winning the Central Division Championship will compete against teams from the Central, Eastern, and Western Divisions for the ATC Volleyball Championship beginning Wednesday morning.

Since some of the teams will require space, the Gym floor and racquetball courts will be closed for the duration of the tournament. The sauna and weight room will remain open.

Racquetballers play in tournament

The Reese Racquetball team of Benjamin Summerlin and Jonathan Wagner traveled to Sheppard AFB, Tex. last weekend to compete in the Air Training Command Racquetball Championship.

During the Doubles part of the tournament, Reese defeated Craig AFB, Ala., 21-2 and 21-12. Reese's next game was against Williams AFB, Ariz. Reese won 21-16, 13-21, and 21-16. Lowry AFB, Colo. handed Reese its first losing match winning 21-17 and 21-13. Reese was forced to forfeit their next game to Mather AFB, Calif. and finished in sixth place.

In Singles competition, Summerlin lost his first match to Sheppard AFB, Tex, 21-11, 13-21, and 12-21. In his next game against Chanute AFB, Ill., Summerlin won 21-17 and 21-5. The loss to Mather AFB 21-11, 12-21 and 12-21 stopped Summerlin from further play. He ended in seventh place out of 14 teams.

Reese two take honors in judo fight

A trip to the Randolph AFB, Tex. Judo Championships paid off big dividends for Airman First Class William Martino and Gregory Greigo as both placed in the top of their division.

Riding motorcycles to the competition had no effect on the performance of these two airmen. Airman Martino of the Security Police Division won first place in the Senior Men's Middleweight division. Airman Greigo of the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron took second place in the division.

Both airmen are members of the Reese Judo Club. Free classes are conducted Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the Base Gym and are open to everyone. Additional information on classes can be obtained from MSgt. Arnold Mathews, Ext. 2585 or SSgt. Rex Boyce, Ext. 2381.
