

Ex-Aide Says Castro Shot Down U.S. Spy Plane

NEW YORK (AP) — In a fit of anxiety over whether his nation was going to be invaded during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, Fidel Castro personally shot down an American U-2 spy plane over Cuba, killing the pilot, says a former Castro aide.

Carlos Franqui said the Cuban president took command of a Soviet ground-to-air missile console and "pressed the button" to shoot down the plane, astounding Soviet generals who were explaining the workings of the missile base in Pinar del Rio, west of Havana.

The body of the U-2 pilot, U.S. Air Force Maj. Rudolf Anderson, was returned to the United States shortly after the incident.

Franqui, who edited the official Castro movement newspaper Revolucion from 1957 to 1963, describes the incident in a book, "Retrato de Familia" (Family Portrait), scheduled to be published next month.

According to Franqui, on Oct. 27, 1962, during the six-day crisis, Castro had "a fit of anxiety caused by the unresolved crisis, during which he was ignored as the two superpowers negotiated the fate of the island."

The crisis occurred when President John F. Kennedy demanded that the Soviet Union withdraw missiles stationed in Cuba. The Soviets complied after tense, high-level negotiations.

Franqui said Castro "went to one of the bases with intent to create the incident in order to know if they were going to invade or not ... if there was going to be a war or not."

Franqui says that when Castro reached the Soviet base, he asked the technicians about the operation of the equipment, including the radar for the detection of enemy planes.

Shortly after, "The U-2 spy plane appeared on the radar screen. Fidel asked to know what had to be done in order to shoot down those planes in case of an attack," Franqui said.

"The Russians replied that it was enough to push a button and the enemy plane would be hit and shot down and showed him the button. Fidel then pressed the button and the plane came down amidst the consternation of the generals. The American pilot died, the only victim of the crisis," Franqui said.

Pair Loots Residence Near Tech

An elderly Lubbock woman was injured and an estimated $30,000 in jewelry and silverware taken in a robbery Sunday night in an affluent residential area near Texas Tech University.

Marguerite Brown, 76, who lives on 19th Street just south of the campus, was released from Community Hospital of Lubbock about 11 a.m. today after treatment for injuries resulting from repeated blows on the back of the head with a brass candle holder in the 9 p.m. holdup.

Police today were looking for a white man and woman as suspects in the robbery and beating.

Officers said Mrs. Brown was unable to determine Sunday night how much was taken by the pair after they shoved their way into her house. However, a detective today said the loot was estimated to be about $30,000.

The elderly victim said the woman first appeared at her front door asking to use the telephone, saying her car had run out of gas and she needed to reach her father. The female bandit then pushed the door open, knocking Mrs. Brown backward.

The victim said she saw a black pistol in the woman's hand as she walked into the house. Mrs. Brown said she began struggling with the woman, but backed off when the intruder grabbed a candle holder and struck her several times in the back of the head.

Police said Mrs. Brown was forced into a back room, where the female bandit called for her companion. The victim said the man came in and began rummaging through the front rooms while his accomplice stood over her.

Mrs. Brown told police the female bandit ordered her to take off her rings and hand them to her, then asked where the silverware was.

The victim said the man reappeared and ordered her to lie on the floor while the woman went into the dining room and rounded up silverware. Both intruders then fled, Mrs. Brown said.

The victim, who reportedly suffers a heart ailment, had not been extensively questioned early this afternoon by detectives.

However, she told officers Sunday that the female bandit was white, about 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighed about 100 pounds. She had short, dark hair and was clad in a red ski cap, dark colored jacket and jeans, Mrs. Brown said.

The male robber also was white, clean-shaven and had light brown hair. Mrs. Brown said he wore a beige stocking over his face and was dressed in a light blue jacket, faded jeans and black leather gloves. He reportedly was slender and about 6 feet tall.

Phony Krugerrands Used In Bank Scam

By MARC FLAKE

Someone in Lubbock may be trying to sell gold pieces for about half the market price. If that seems too good to be true, it's because it is.

Local and federal law enforcement officials estimate there may be about 300 counterfeit gold Krugerrands in Lubbock with a selling price of about $350 each. The genuine one-ounce coins, whose value fluctuates with the price of gold, have been selling for about $500.

Krugerrands and Swiss banking bars (Credit Suisse) with a counterfeit value of almost $1.5 million dollars have already been confiscated by the Secret Service, said resident agent David Freriks in a news conference this morning.

He said at least two institutions have been stung badly by the counterfeits, an Amarillo bank which authorized a $270,000 loan and a lending institution in Houston which authorized a $35,000 loan.

One arrest has already been made in the case, according to Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agent Charlie Baylor.

Sidney Heard of Amarillo is free on a $10,000 bond set on a charge of theft over $10,000 filed in a Houston district court, Baylor said.

Heard had allegedly obtained one $35,000 loan using counterfeit Krugerrands and was attempting to obtain a second when arrested by Houston police, he said.

No arrests have yet been made in the Amarillo case, Freriks said. A suspect had allegedly used 600 counterfeit coins to obtain his $270,000 loan. Freriks would not release the name of the bank involved.

The announcement was made so that a joint investigation by the Secret Service, FBI, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau and the Lubbock County District Attorney's office could determine if anyone had been victimized here, said Freriks.

District Attorney John Montford, also at the news conference, urged anyone who had been victimized to contact either his office or the Secret Service.

The fake coins may have been or might be used to pay off debts or to provide collateral for loans, authorities said.

Agents found out about the counterfeits last November when the Austin man manufacturing the lead coins, supposedly for jewelry, became suspicious and informed the Secret Service, Freriks said.

They discovered the coins were being shipped to Amarillo, where they were plated with liquid gold. Then the coins were put into cardboard and plastic coin protectors because the gold plating tended to rub off, said Freriks.

Federal agents confiscated Krugerrands and Swiss banking bars with a total counterfeit value of $1,451,000 in Amarillo on Jan. 19, he said.

Freriks said the difference between a real Krugerrand and a counterfeit is easily seen. See GOLD BUYERS Page 14

Reagan Slaps At Foes Of Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan told urban officials today that his economic program is running "a political gauntlet of interest groups" whose selfish concerns threaten the nation's economic recovery.

He appealed for the backing of local officials, who support his goals but worry about how he wants to achieve them.

In a speech to the National League of Cities, Reagan condemned the "federal Goliath (that) brought us to the economic brink now confronting this nation."

"For a time it appeared that Congress had more solutions than the country had problems," Reagan said. "Or, put another way, cures were invented for which there are no known diseases. Just conceiving of a program that might help someone, somewhere, was itself reason enough to pass a law and appropriate money."

Working together and exercising "will power," the new administration and its allies can bring the economic crisis under control by implementing his proposed budget and tax cuts, regulatory overhauls and monetary controls, Reagan said.

"However, this program now faces a political gauntlet of interest groups; and I'm finding it increasingly difficult not to call some of them 'selfish interest groups,'" the president said. "Unless something is done to turn the economy around, local governments will suffer right along with many other respected American institutions."

Reagan noted there has been some congressional opposition to his call for a three-year, 30-percent tax cut.

"Nevertheless," he said, "the real threat to recovery comes from those who will oppose only a small part of the overall program. Needless to say, the small portion these parochial groups oppose always deals with cuts that affect them directly. Those cuts they oppose."

"They favor cutting everybody else's subsidy as an important step in ending inflation and getting the country moving again. The accumulative effect of this shortsightedness can be damaging."

"We are all in the same boat, and we have to get the engines started before the ship goes over the falls."

The urban leaders, at the annual Congressional-City Conference, gave qualified support to Reagan's program Sunday, endorsing "enthusiastically" the president's objectives but issuing a list of reservations.

They said they could go along with eliminating a third of the 300,000 public service jobs Reagan wants to terminate, but they urged him to reconsider proposed cuts in urban redevelopment aid.

The city officials' reservations were much the same as voiced last week by the National Governors' Association — fear that reduced federal grants will pass along a burden which state and local tax bases cannot absorb, a demand for plenty of time to make adjustments, and a call for close consultation as exact cuts are determined.

"There are ... some reductions in programs or changes in tax policy that we believe will have drastic impacts on local governments and cannot be absorbed by cities without severe repercussions at this time," the league's directors said in a statement read by the group's president, Mayor William H. Hudnut III of Indianapolis, a Republican and Reagan supporter.

Murray Weidenbaum, chairman of Reagan's Council of Economic Advisors, told the league Sunday the cities are going to have to sacrifice until it hurts for the greater good of the nation and economic recovery.

Shootings Continue In County

By JACK DOUGLAS

When an elderly Lubbock couple was attacked by a pair of snipers New Year's Eve, authorities didn't realize it was the beginning of what now appears to be a hunting season on people.

Since Raymond Winfred King, 65, and his wife were shot at by one of two persons in a pickup at 60th Street and Avenue W, a 4-year-old boy and his mother have been shot by a motorist on the Clover Road, a young woman barely escaped serious injury just a few blocks away when her pickup was riddled by gunfire, two persons were felled by bullet fragments at a dinner party and a former area police officer Sunday became the most recent victim of a sniper attack.

Troy Walker, a former Petersburg police officer scheduled to begin work at the Garza County Sheriff's Department, told deputies he was shot at by one of four men in a car traveling on U.S. 62-82, about three miles east of Idalou, at 6:55 p.m. Sunday.

The four men were apprehended minutes later by Lubbock County Sheriff's Capt. Francis Cox and remained in the county jail today on suspicion of attempted murder, unlawfully carrying a weapon and being felons in possession of a firearm.

Despite the arrest last week of a suspect in several of the incidents, authorities today are still looking for the Kings' assailants and the person who fired a round into a westside residence Thursday where an Avalanche-Journal party was in progress.

Two A-J employees, Shannon Kennedy and Bryce Cockerham, were hit when the large-caliber bullet splintered, but both have been released from the hospital.

Grocery Prices Show Dip Here

By DEBBI STALTER
Avalanche-Journal Staff

For the second month in a row, the cost of groceries checked by The Avalanche-Journal took a downswing, with significant drops in bacon, round steak and bacon.

The 16 items surveyed registered in at (National Marketbasket Story On Page 16, Sec. A) a total of $24.01 this month, showing a decline of $1.02 from February. The A-J grocery list fell 74 cents from January to February, dropping from $25.77 to $25.03.

Rain, Snow Pelt West

A-J News Services

A winter storm spewed rain and snow over the western states today, triggering warnings in sections of New Mexico and Colorado, as prospects for needed precipitation increased over the Southwest.

Rainy weather that brought more than an inch of rain to much of the South Plains over the weekend will linger at least through Tuesday.

There is a 40-percent chance of rain tonight and Tuesday, weathermen said, with a possibility of "significant" moisture from showers and thunderstorms.

Some sections of the High Plains could get up to three-fourths of an inch, according to forecasters. Agricultural ob- See MORE RAIN Page 14

But the news may not sound so good when consumers figure the jump prices have taken since The A-J began its survey six years ago.

The first survey, taken in March 1975, brought a price total of $16.10, meaning a hike of $7.91 to reach the current price of $24.01. The same items have been checked consistently in the survey, except for a few brand name changes made because of availability.

Grocery wholesaler Paul Enger said his prices have not decreased, although some items such as coffee and eggs have fallen because of supply-and-demand fluctuations.

He said prices of tomatoes and peanut butter have most recently taken jumps.

Manager Randy Green attributed the lowered prices at the store used in the A-J check to a recent overall drop initiated after the supermarket eliminated trading stamps.

An Associated Press survey, however, supports a nationwide trend of lowered costs, stating that grocery totals dropped 1 1/2 percent last month, the biggest decline in four years.

Other stores in Lubbock have run frequent specials on many items in the past weeks, resulting in some relief for the retail consumer's pocketbook.

Bringing shoppers the most savings this month are eggs, down from 94 cents for a dozen of the large size to a 69-cent special; bacon, on special for $1.19 a pound from last month's $1.53; and round steak, down from $2.19 a pound to $1.89.

Teamsters Approve Braniff Plan

GRAPEVINE (UPI) — The Teamsters Union, the largest union of Braniff International employees, approved a profit-sharing plan that will cut salaries by 10 percent and save the beleaguered airline as much as $3 million a month, Braniff officials announced today.

New Braniff Chairman John J. Casey now must sell the plan to the other 5,000 Braniff employees.

Casey's candor about the airline's poor financial condition was credited with convincing the teamsters to approve the plan. More than 3,000 of the 4,000 teamsters — baggage handlers, ticket takers, secretaries and other ground personnel — voted during the weekend, with 79 percent in favor of the plan.

If approved by all employees, the profit-sharing plan would be retroactive to March 1 and save the company about $3 million per month, including deferral by Teamsters on a cost-of-living increase scheduled to take effect April 1.

The Teamsters last year rejected a 10 percent pay cut plan that did not include profit sharing. Braniff announced last week it had lost more than $128 million under former Chairman Harding Lawrence in 1980 and $44.3 million in 1979. Lawrence was forced to resign in December.

Casey, who has agreed to forgo his $180,000 annual salary indefinitely, met today with representatives of the pilots, flight attendants and machinists unions to try to sell them on the plan.

"We are anticipating within the next few days that we will have all the approvals from all of the unions," said Amos Moses, Braniff vice president of personnel.

Moses said Braniff offered the profit sharing-pay cut plan to the Teamsters first because "they were the ones who turned it down the last time." Asked why the union agreed to the proposal this time, he said:

"We told them the truth — where we were. We laid out the facts in a very straightforward, confidential manner. I believe it was the candor and straightforward presentation of John Casey that did it."

Marvin Schlinke, president of Local 19 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, said his union has seen definite changes in the airline since December.

"They know John Casey is a team member rather than a one-man show," he said. "There is no doubt Braniff has a serious financial condition."

Union members said they rejected the earlier pay cut plan because Lawrence refused to admit the company was in trouble.

During the weekend Braniff received approval from creditors to delay payments on debts until July 1.

At private staff meetings Saturday and Sunday, Casey and other company officials explained the program to the Teamsters. Ray Chanaud, vice president for public relations, said the tithes will go into a company fund and will be returned if Braniff reaches a "certain level of profitability," Chanaud said.

However, Braniff officials don't expect to show profits before 1982.

Soviet Congress Elects Leaders

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Communist Party Congress decided today who it will add to and who it will oust from the nation's most powerful ruling bodies, including the Politburo.

A top Soviet spokesman confirmed the voting for membership of the Party Central Committee would take place tonight and the results announced Tuesday.

decisions in the Soviet Union. However, most Western analysts said no top level changes were expected.

Despite a German press report that Andrei Gromyko would retire, there was no indication the polished 71-year-old foreign minister was ready to give up his job as the Kremlin's top diplomat.

Communist Troops In Poland Begin Drills

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — With the Polish government gearing up for nationwide meat rationing in hopes of quieting public dissatisfaction, Western officials in Vienna said about 35,000 Soviet Bloc troops stationed in Poland began scheduled maneuvers today.

More equitable distribution of the available meat was one of the priority goals set by Poland's new premier, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, in his inaugural speech Feb. 11.

Western diplomats said all Warsaw Pact countries, including the Soviet Union, were expected to take part in the exercise, which is likely to last one to 10 days.

With the exception of a rationing program employed briefly last Christmas, the meat distribution plan is the first regular rationing in Poland since World War II, and the first under the Communist regime.

The Soviet Union maintains two tank divisions and logistical units in Poland, and, according to Western observers, massed other troops near the border between the two countries last fall at the height of Poland's labor unrest.

Rationing was one of the key demands of workers during last summer's labor rebellion, which began when the government tried to end the food subsidies that now cost $5.3 billion per year.

The United States, its allies and even some Communist leaders have warned the Soviets that military intervention in Poland would have grave consequences.

The strikes led to the ouster of Communist Party First Secretary Edward Gierek, the legalization of the first labor unions independent of Communist Party control in the Soviet Bloc, promises of revised labor and censorship laws and other reforms.

The Polish government announced Sunday that coupons will be distributed soon for meat purchases under a rationing system to be tried for three months beginning April 1. Also, sugar allotments in effect for five years are being cut in half today.

Many Poles say that the food situation has worsened in recent months, and some regard rationing as a welcome relief.

acts and poultry per month. Teen-agers and small children get somewhat less, while manual workers and underground miners get more.

Beginning today, the monthly allotment of 4.4 pounds of sugar per person, in effect since 1976, will be cut in half — although children, pregnant women and new mothers will get 3.3 pounds.

"I wish we already had food rationing," said a 50-year-old woman standing outside a shop. "Perhaps I would be able to buy something."

"Right now, I spend days trying to do my shopping. If there are supplies, the lines are so long that you have to spend hours to buy basic things like butter, cheese, milk. Forget about meat and meat products."

The official prices for such "essentials" as meat, bread, butter, milk and milk products are the same as they were before the government's attempt last summer to raise prices. Prices of vegetables and fruits have risen by 40 to 60 percent, but most complaints are about supplies, not prices.

Bold American Policy May Deter Russians

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Brookings Institution says early U.S. political use of force and "clear verbal signals" appear to be effective in dissuading the Soviet Union from taking military action.

specific foreign policy objective without resort to continuing violence," wrote Stephen S. Kaplan.

The private liberal think tank said in a report Soviet military forces have been used 190 times since World War II "as a discrete foreign policy instrument."

The report predicts the Soviets, whose enlarged military establishment includes a blue water navy and the ability to move troops and supplies intercontinental distances by air, will "use their armed forces again to support their foreign policies," making U.S. responses "increasingly difficult."

"In each case the object was to gain a — To maintain the security of other communist regimes.

— To ensure the security of the Soviet Union.

"In other words, no region bordering the U.S.S.R. has been exempt from Soviet coercive diplomacy in the post-war era," he said.

Kaplan wrote that 45 incidents directly related to Soviet security occurred around the perimeter of the Soviet Union and in Eastern European satellite nations.

In Third World countries where Soviet security is not directly at stake, the Soviet Union used its armed forces "with prudence and sensitivity" since its first coercive use of military power in those nations in 1957.

FBI Director Proposes Relaxed Exchange Of Intelligence Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director William H. Webster wants to relax restrictions on what U.S. intelligence agencies may tell each other about foreign spies and agents, but he opposes as a risk to security and privacy a conservative drive to centralize all such secrets.

Webster said the idea of centralized counterintelligence files "presents major problems. Instead, the emphasis should be on the manner in which information is disseminated between agencies so the important matters are known to those who have interest in them, and those who do not need to know do not routinely receive that information. We have to be able to preserve the security of our source."

Justice Department sources have said the first word that former President Carter's brother was to receive payments last year from Libya came from the National Security Agency.

The report warns: "To allow the Kremlin a clear field could encourage it to intervene on behalf of clients or do so at an early stage."

The sources said NSA chief Bobby Inman privately told Civiletti the "U.S. person" in the report was Billy Carter. But Civiletti, urged to protect the source of the information, withheld the identification from his investigators until they had developed it independently about two months later.

It noted the Soviets have avoided superpower confrontation when the United States has intervened "to support a valued friend" when the trouble could be directly traced to Moscow or a Soviet ally.

Webster said such snarls could be avoided.

"The U.S.S.R. may be particularly responsive to the early U.S. political use of force and to clear verbal signals given by U.S. leaders when such moves confirm Soviet expectations before the Kremlin or its ally becomes committed to action," said the report.

"You can make each agency responsible for protection of privacy, so that the last recipient of information becomes responsible for privacy," Webster said, "rather than saying the first recipient will not give the information to another one, which has a legitimate interest in it, because of some privacy concern."

The 733-page study, entitled "Diplomacy of Power: Soviet Armed Forces as a Political Instrument," said the four objectives of Soviet military intervention are:

Basque Group Shuns Plea For Cease-Fire

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Three policemen of the Guardia Civil in the Basque country of northwest Spain were wounded in a bombing and machine-gun attack seen as the rejection by the radical military wing of the Basque separatist organization ETA of a cease-fire appeal from ETA's more moderate faction.

The moderates, known as ETA-Political-Military or ETA-PM, on Saturday released three foreign honorary consuls who had been kidnapped and held more than a week.

Authorities said two bombs exploded near the policemen's car, showering it with nails and metal fragments. Then they were the targets of machine-gun fire from a passing car.

The moderates, who admit to kidnapping and assassination but claim to avoid the indiscriminate attacks of the radical ETA-Military, or ETA-M, declared an unconditional cease-fire because of the attempted rightist military coup last week.

One officer was rushed into surgery and reported in grave condition.

Reserve Balloon Prepared For Journey

NAGASHIMA, Japan (UPI) — Four disappointed balloonists watched gauges and fluttering flags today, awaiting the milder wind needed for beginning history's first manned balloon flight across the Pacific.

"My disappointment is total," Abruzzo said after the failure. He said it was the first time he ever has had to cancel a lift-off once the helium fill had begun.

"But we have a second balloon, we have more than enough helium and the gondola suffered only minimum damage. We can be ready again tomorrow (Monday)," Abruzzo said.

The refugee flow started in 1979 when former dictator Idi Amin was toppled from power and his supporters fled. Most of them were Moslem. A second horde of refugees, mostly Christians, fled in 1980 when foreign troops believed to be Amin supporters invaded northwestern Uganda.

The three Americans and a Japanese from New York rolled up their useless first balloon, damaged in a failed launch Sunday, and brought the packing crate holding their back-up balloon close to the Prince, Fiancee Attend Service

BICKERTON, England (AP) — Prince Charles and Lady Diana Spencer have attended their first church service as an engaged couple, joining in a prayer for those about to marry.

But the Anglican minister, the Rev. Peter Roberts, said Sunday the choice of the prayer was a coincidence.

Charles, 32-year-old heir to the British throne, and Lady Diana, 19, joined with the 25-member congregation in praying for engaged couples: "Drive them ever close to one another and to thee."

The service was in a chapel on the Cheshire county estate of the Marquess of Cholmondeley, where the couple were weekend guests.

"Nothing was changed for the royal guest. Not even the prayer for those about to be married," Roberts said.

First Lady Criticizes Media

NEW YORK (AP) — First Lady Nancy Reagan says the press has treated her unfairly, pre-judging her before she arrived in Washington and printing false reports about her.

In an interview in the current edition of Newsweek magazine, Mrs. Reagan cites one report that she planned to take down a wall in the Lincoln Bedroom in her rest for interior decoration.

"They knew none of those things were true, but they went ahead and printed them anyway," said Mrs. Reagan, declining to identify the source of the report. "They made me sound so terrible, and it started before I even got here. I never got half a chance."

Mrs. Reagan acknowledged she has plunged into the task of redecorating the White House with such a zeal she has lost five pounds.

"For the first couple of weeks, you couldn't get me off the second and third floors except to go to the warehouse" where unused White House furniture is stored, she told Newsweek. "Suddenly, it's 11 o'clock, and Ronnie will call out, 'Where are you?' and I'm pushing furniture around in a room somewhere."

Mrs. Reagan said her role as First Lady has been secondary to her job as Mrs. Ronald Reagan, anxious to make the White House "as warm and comfortable and homey" as possible for the president.

Actor Newsman Introduces Cronkite

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter Cronkite, who retires Friday as anchorman of the "CBS Evening News," got an introduction from another famous TV newsman at an awards dinner of the Greater Los Angeles Press Club.

Ed Asner, who plays newspaper editor Lou Grant on the CBS show of the same name, introduced Cronkite to the 500 people attending the dinner Saturday night.

Cronkite was presented the Joseph Quinn Memorial Award, named after the late City News Service chief.

Fonda Publishes Lithographs

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty years ago, when he was just starting out in the theater, Henry Fonda became so good at painting sets that he was offered a scholarship to the Parsons School of Design.

Fonda passed up the chance in favor of an acting career, but took up drawing and painting as a hobby during his 1948 appearance on Broadway in "Mr. Roberts."

Now, Fonda, 75, is getting broader exposure. Four limited editions of his lithographs are being published and will be displayed at Art Expo-New York, a fine arts fair that opens Thursday at the New York Coliseum.

Couple Wed By Hospitalized Judge

CHICAGO (AP) — Clifford Tweedale and Christine Imbra had their wedding in a hospital, but only because the judge was sick.

The couple had asked County Circuit Court Judge Frank W. Barbaro, a cousin of the bride's mother, to officiate at their marriage Saturday. Barbaro, who was hospitalized Feb. 1 for hip surgery, agreed, thinking that he would be out of the hospital by then.

But it didn't work out that way, Barbaro said, so he donned his black judicial robes over pajamas, rolled his wheelchair to a second-floor patient lounge and married Tweedale, 29, and Miss Imbra, 25, there.

When he pronounced the couple man and wife, some 50 hospital workers outside the lounge applauded.

Three Injured In Mardi Gras Gunfire

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A high school band drum major and two spectators were wounded when gunfire erupted at a crowded Mardi Gras parade honoring nine Marines held hostage in Iran, authorities said.

The shooting Sunday occurred well after the floats carrying Marine Sgt. John D. McKeel and eight other Marines who had been held hostage in Iran for 444 days went by. Two of the victims who were shot were hospitalized in stable condition. The third person, who suffered flash burns, was treated and released, hospital officials said.

Police said no arrests had been made.

"We're getting numerous conflicting stories about what happened," said Don Joly, chief spokesman for the police department. Investigators worked through the night, questioning most of the band's members and dozens of other witnesses.

Charity hospital authorities identified the shooting victims as drum major Ray Johnson, 17, of St. Augustine High School in New Orleans and spectator John Barker, 20, of Plaquemines, a student at Nicholls State University.

The bullet went through Johnson's cheek and neck, and Barker was hit in the groin, they said.

Exactly what prompted the shooting was clouded by the near-panic it caused among the throngs that stood packed 15-feet deep on each side of the broad boulevard of Canal Street, at the edge of the city's French Quarter.

"All of a sudden, I heard a noise. All the band began moving to the very front. The police pushed everybody away. There was a lot of confusion," said on-looker Leslie Ward of Memphis, Tenn.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By Bernice Bede Osol

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Greater opportunities for gains are likely to open for you tomorrow from channels you seldom tap, instead of through your usual sources. Use both.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Involvements you have tomorrow with persons who have proven to be lucky for you previously should work out equally as well now. Press onward.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There is a considerable amount of opportunity around you tomorrow, work or careerwise. It could come through contacts who have "ins" with bit wheels.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Participate in activities tomorrow which challenge you both mentally and physically. You'll perform well and you may even outshine one who usually gets the better of you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Changing conditions over which we have no control often put us at a disadvantage. However, this shouldn't be true for you tomorrow.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're very good at debating tomorrow and you may have an opportunity to exercise this skill. You are especially adept in selling others on big ideas.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Economic conditions should start improving for you as of tomorrow. Be alert and examine all propositions which could add to your income and resources.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Friends will find you especially pleasant to be around tomorrow. You're good company and you'll know how to generalize mutually advantageous situations.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Try to wrap up matters which you deem to be personally important tomorrow. The aspects tend to favor you where the bottom line is concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Something you've been hoping for but have been unable to bring about could take a turn for the better tomorrow. Don't give up your dream.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You could be luckier than usual tomorrow in two areas. One relates to your finances, the other to your reputation. Direct your energies and intellect toward them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Success is likely tomorrow in situations which you personally manage. Not only are you assertive, you are also wise in the way you do things.

A Job For All

FOR THE LAST three or four years, we've made the point repeatedly that a city has just about as much crime as its citizens are willing to tolerate.

Lubbock, unfortunately, continues to tolerate an intolerable amount of it. Two Avalanche-Journal advertising employees, Bryce Cockerham and Shannon Kennedy, are among the latest innocent victims.

While minding their own business at a party in Advertising Director Carl Cannon's home, they were hit by a bullet apparently fired from a passing car. Fortunately, they will be okay.

But when Lubbock residents can't be secure in their own homes, or in those of friends—regardless of whether the violence is an intentional act or the result of random thrill-seeking—it is long past time for action.

We said that years ago and we say it again.

THE JOB WILL TAKE more than the police alone can do, although they can surely do more, and more than vigorous prosecution by the district attorney's staff can accomplish.

It will take a rising up in righteous indignation by all of us, letting it be known that we no longer will tolerate crime in the streets—rape, murder, assault, armed robbery, burglary and lawbreaking of all sorts.

We must demand a crackdown on criminals and their hangouts, on the places where they spend their time between crimes. We can no longer look upon the hellraising by young punks as an innocent albeit deplorable part of growing up.

We must let the trial courts and the appellate courts know that we tire of the nitpicking game-playing they tolerate and encourage among criminal lawyers.

Our judicial system must be redirected toward separating the guilty from the innocent, rather than be so preoccupied with dotting i's and crossing t's that have nothing to do with the defendant's guilt or innocence or with protecting his rights to know the essence of the charges against him.

Along those lines, read on. The following paragraphs were written before these were penned, but their timeliness now is enhanced.

THE TEXAS COURT of Criminal Appeals has done it again: It threw out the conviction of a Tyler man because the indictment accused him of selling "cocaine" instead of "cocoa leaves."

And the man had pleaded guilty! Every first-grader of normal intelligence in the state would know that the defendant's rights were not denied him, the so-called "faulty" indictment did not fail to adequately inform the defendant of the nature of the charges against him.

Just because the indictment did not contain the statutory description of the controlled substance instead of its contemporary name—cocaine—had nothing to do with his guilt or innocence.

The indictment used the word the man himself probably uses—and the one used in dozens of indictments across the state in recent years.

But even if you buy the appellate court's argument that such "technicalities" are the heart of the law, you can't let the legal fraternity off the hook on the way it plays games with justice.

The prosecuting attorney, defense attorney and trial judge should be smart enough to get such nitpicking technicalities right so that convictions are not reversed on appeal.

BEYOND THAT, though, the Court of Criminal Appeals should leave a little room in its interpretation of the law for the application of common sense.

Unless a defendant—especially one who has pleaded guilty—can show that he and his lawyer didn't understand the charges against him and were, therefore, unable to prepare an adequate defense, these "faulty indictments" should be allowed to stand.

Like in a well-called basketball game, the ruling should be "no harm, no foul."

In this case—and dozens of others the Court of Criminal Appeals rules on—the indictment may have been "technically flawed" but everybody and his cousin knew what the charges were.

Now they know, again, what the Court of Criminal Appeals is.

Seeds Are Replanted

DEMOCRACY HAS been giving itself something of a bad name recently in Latin America, particularly in the Andean headwaters of the Amazon where Ecuador and Peru have been contesting control of a few square kilometers of jungle giving access to a minor tributary.

Hostilities have ceased, with the active encouragement of the Organization of American States and its more influential members (including the U.S.), and a calm of sorts prevails in the disputed area.

As a military confrontation, it never threatened to upstage the Persian Gulf. Casualties were light, with the known body count for both sides less than 10. But it is not to be dismissed as entirely inconsequential.

AS A DISPUTE between nations, it is a reasonably venerable one, going back to 1830 and the formation of Ecuador and Peru from parts of Spain's lost empire.

For more than a century the two squabbed over title to a large wedge of mountains and jungle bordered on the south by the Amazon and its tributaries.

In the early 1940s, Peru (much the more powerful) settled the matter militarily, imposing upon Ecuador a treaty favoring the Peruvian claims. That was the status quo until the current confrontation, initiated, on the available evidence, by Ecuadorian infiltration. That is not the important point, however, nor is the oil potential of the area or the access to the Amazon system its possession would give Ecuador.

The dispute remained on a very low back burner for four decades during most of which both Ecuador and Peru were governed by authoritarian regimes, usually of a military cast.

Within the past two years, both countries have reinstated representative civilian governments.

BUT WITH the return of self-government has come revived territorial strife and possibly worse. For Ecuador in particular. Its 40-year-old president, Jaime Roldos Aquilera, has been on shaky political ground.

The dispute with Peru has caused an immediate rallying around the flag and his leadership, but that is not likely to survive intact the inevitable reassessments, particularly on the part of the military, of where the adventure has actually taken the country—nowhere.

It would be a bitter development indeed for the democratically inclined portion of the hemisphere to have to digest if the real fruit of the return of self-government to the northern Andean countries were to be no more than another authoritarian relapse.

Louis Rukeyser:

Robots Fear For Job Security

NEW YORK—Two industrial robots are taking a lunch break.

"It's not fair, R2D2," says one, his electronic eyes flashing angrily. "In other countries where they use robots even more, like Japan, we have a certain prestige."

"People recognize that we're important, and desirable, in boosting productivity. Here in America, though, we're just one more subject for labor-management dispute."

"Now, calm down, C3PO," replies his partner. "These Americans aren't all bad. They're just kind of old-fashioned about industrial progress, and they get nervous about new ideas."

"Nervous! I'm the one who's getting nervous!" says C3PO, who truly is looking about as jittery as a collection of nuts, bolts and microprocessors can be.

"It's not as if we really had any ambition to take over in the American factories," he adds.

"I've never known an ambitious robot yet. Why, there are only 120 of us in all of General Electric, and we perform only the most boring or dangerous jobs, yet already the International Union of Electrical Workers is talking about making us a major bargaining issue next year."

"THROTTLE DOWN," SAYS R2D2. "So far all the union has said to GE and Western Electric is that it wants more advance notice and retraining for workers affected. That's not exactly the same as advocating robot genocide."

"Even the United Auto Workers, which already has retraining rights yet is worried about what it calls 'a massive influx' of robots is pressing only for more job protection."

"Hmmp!" snorts C3PO, his computers crackling. "That's just what I mean. These Americans never learn anything. Aren't they programmed with any memory at all?"

"Why, it was barely a generation ago that the same argument was going on about 'automation,' with the same sorts of complainers saying that new machines would put people out of work."

"Then they found that the tools of mass production, by taking over the functions more efficiently, actually provided more and better jobs for American humans. Those were the days when living standards in this country really were improving."

"OF COURSE YOU'RE right, C3PO," his metallic friend replies. "but by the standards of their own labor-management history, the Americans have so far been almost rational about the introduction of robots."

Industrial managements know we're part of the way of the future, but they're trying to be discreetly quiet about it, and the unions themselves are making an effort to negotiate about us rather than just angrily and flatly oppose our introduction.

"When they see that we actually help to increase jobs, they may even get to like us—a little."

"I'll bet!" retorts C3PO, "but everybody is worrying about what effect robots will have on humans. Isn't it about time somebody started worrying about what effect humans will have on robots?"

"First of all, we don't have a union. Second, we're not allowed to own stock."

"Third, we have no Social Security card or unemployment insurance—and even if we developed the worst case of busted chips and rusted exteriors in the history of the assembly line, we'll never be eligible for Medicare.

"Fourth, I'll bet you're now the only minority in America that doesn't have special protection under the law. And, finally, have you taken a look around this room? We're the only ones here who haven't been served any lunch."

Sylvia Porter:

Stop, Look 'n Listen Before Buying Car

NEW YORK—If you absolutely must buy a new car—your 10-year-old jalopy has gone almost 100,000 miles, its problems are unfixable and you just don't want to buy a used car—now actually may be a good time to shop for a new set of wheels.

Auto sales have been way down, the winter has been awful, interest rates on car purchases have killed countless deals—and salesmen are increasingly anxious to unload vehicles that in many instances amount to a 70-100 day supply. Here are your dos and don'ts.

(1) Buy a car a dealer has on his lot. This may defy other advice you've heard, but consider: That dealer is paying interest on that car to the manufacturer's finance firm or his local bank.

It's called "floor planning." The longer the car stays on the lot, the more it costs the dealer.

(2) DON'T SHOP THE showrooms on weekends or evenings. Go during daytime, weekday business hours, preferably on one of the nastiest days of this season. Timing is important and you have a psychological advantage in an empty showroom on a grim day.

(3) Do your homework first. Read several back issues of such auto magazines as Motor Trend or Car and Driver in your library, and buy the latest issues, too.

Automotive News, the industry's trade publication, will give you excellent guides, check your library.

(4) Learn vehicle wholesale and retail prices from available Buyers' Guides. But with Detroit marking up car prices so many times a year, even prices in the newest guides may be out of date.

Figure the percentage markup from the guides and with a pocket calculator, estimate the dealer cost for the models you like.

(5) KEEP IN MIND that the dealer markup—usually 12-16 percent—is not his "profit." He has expenses. But he also gets added "incentive" money on many models.

(6) Ask the customer relations departments of the auto companies if there are factory rebates—direct from manufacturer to you—on any particular makes or models. If not listed in your phone directory, dial 800-555-1212 for a toll-free line.

(7) Select a dealer or dealers as close to your home as possible. Your car will have to be serviced regularly and there is no sense in saving $100 by buying from a faraway outlet—and then spending much more than that in time and gas getting to and from the dealership.

(8) IF YOU ARE new in an area or don't know a dealer's reputation, check the local Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce. Ask how long the dealer has been in business under the same ownership.

(9) When you have narrowed down your choice to several makes and models, check with an independent car leasing company (not just a dealer who happens also to lease cars).

Even if you have no thought of leasing, getting quotes on several similar cars will give you a clue on their resale or trade-in value.

(10) In figuring what the dealer's cost is, be aware that the markup in your price guide is for the base model. Optional equipment may be marked up 30-40-50 percent.

A good rule of thumb: Buy for 85-90 percent of the list price of the base car, plus 70-75 percent of the optional equipment list price.

OBVIOUSLY, DON'T accept a car with expensive options you don't want. But if there are relatively lower-cost trim, comfort or convenience "packages" on a car in stock, don't reject the car. Dicker on price. Don't be picky about color or interior trim either. Compromise if the price is right.

You'll save 10 percent as a minimum if you follow these 10 showroom shopping rules—and with auto sticker prices in the $6,000-$9,000 range, that 10 percent saving is worth some time and effort. And if you still can't make the "right" deal for you, wait. Leave your phone number and ask the dealer to call when he has a car closer to what you want in your price range. You can afford to wait. There will be a buyer's market in new cars for quite a while.

"MY FELLOW AMERICANS..."

James J. Kilpatrick:

Reagan Economic Plan 'Timid'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: James J. Kilpatrick is taking a short vacation. In his absence, his column is being written by nationally syndicated columnist Garry Wills.)

WASHINGTON—In the Washington airport recently, a well-dressed woman came up to me at a magazine stand and asked, "Is there a bookstore in this building?" I answered yes. "Good. Bill Buckley's last mystery is out in paperback, and I just love that Bill Buckley."

Then she looked down at the old Time with David Stockman on the cover and kicked at the stack of magazines: "That jerk! He'll cut off Social Security payments, or anything." And off she huffed, Buckleyward.

It was a parable of Reagan's problem with his economic plan. Not even the right wing is happy with all parts of it; and it is difficult to launch so ambitious a program when your own base is divided.

Some have called the plan a bold one; and the happily clapping congressmen made it seem attractive as well as bold. But it is attractive only in part, and timid throughout, not bold.

DURING THE CAMPAIGN debate, President Carter tried to get Reagan to commit himself either to fiscal restraint or to supply-side stimulus. Was he for loosing or drawing back on the reins? Either way, Reagan would have lost part of his constituency.

So, shrewdly, Reagan just ignored the Carter question, even when it was repeated. It seemed certain, however, that Reagan would have to decide once he took office.

But, no, Reagan operates above the normal logic. He has refused to decide among his mutually contradicting supporters. Instead, he just gave everybody his own way, or a large part of it—the Laffer supply-siders, the fiscal conservatives, and the Friedman monetarists.

He wants to cut government expenditures with the anti-Keynesians, cut taxes with Arthur Laffer, and cut the money supply with Milton Friedman.

Each of these approaches is dubious in itself, and they tug against each other in any combination, which is no wonder—they were designed for separate use, out of criticism of the other operations.

NOR HAS THERE been any theoretical breakthrough to prove that these approaches should work better, if combined, against their designers' own analyses.

What we see is not a brilliant fusion but a lazy surrender.

Furthermore, by combining all three approaches, by heaping the congressional plate so high, Reagan makes it unlikely that he will get all or most of what he asks for, or get it in time to be tested altogether.

If he had chosen his approach, set priorities, fixed a minimum of things necessary, and driven for passage, drawing on his early public support, the Congress would have found it hard to deny him.

But when he asks for so much in so many areas, he invites every committee in Congress to get in on the action and make delaying or denying moves feasible across his whole extended front.

Some of these remedies are so unreal that they could never be given a fair chance—e.g. a truly unconstrained "free market." We are already hearing that defense of Mrs. Thatcher's tight monetary policies in England.

Tightening the supply of money is not simply a matter, for the Thatcher government, of printing fewer pound notes. The real exchanges go on whenever banks extend credit, builders borrow on that credit, orders are placed, even at high interest rates.

Thatcher's defenders say these devices make it impossible for her to cut down the money flow. In short, they admit she cannot control without greater power to control—which monetarists renounce from semi-theological motives.

THERE IS THE quandary: People want to control the economy without really controlling it. They want to fidget with it indirectly, invisibly, painlessly, behind the scenes, all the while pretending that "the market" is correcting itself, that man is not rationally controlling his own activities.

It is ironic that people whose plans never work are the first to point out that "controls" don't work. They have worked in wartime.

Even Richard Nixon's 1971 controls worked for his limited political purpose.

Right-wing economists denounced Nixon's action as coming from political necessity, not sound economic thinking. But sound economic thinking that does not take political reality into account is simply daydreaming—and that is what Reagan has indulged in.

the big Lubbock facility.

Large Facility
The Lubbock center has a 16,000 sq. ft. warehouse full of tires. It has eight service bays, several service trucks and acres of paved parking... with everything geared for fast service. Tom Richardson Truck Tire Center has kept lots of trucks rolling throughout West Texas!

As example of the scope of inventory at Tom Richardson Truck Tire Center, one can find items there including the Radial 23, field and road tires, heavy duty, deep tread, all-traction field and road, power implement tires, power implement open center, Champion Spade Grip open centers, Forestry special, rib implement, Traction Turf, Garden Rig Turf and Field, all non-skid, all-traction utility, plain tread, farm tire, Turf Field, rib implement, rib tractor, Guide Grip 3 rib, Guide Grip 2 rib, Guide-Grip single rib, Guide Grip heavy duties, etc.!

Service Emphasized
"Every product and operation at Tom Richardson Truck Center is designed to bring you, the customer, the most professional services at the most affordable prices. We only want to prove our capabilities and our interest in your tire needs; may we have the opportunity? A lot of companies, fleets, industries, farmers, etc. have profited by depending upon us, we believe, and we want to serve you, too."

Tom Richardson Truck Tire Center was established in June of '79, and Richardson is a Lubbock native, returning here after extensive and successful years in the tire and automotive field elsewhere in the nation.

And don't forget... "service" is a big item at Tom Richardson Truck Tire Center. "We service what we sell" is no idle claim.

Colonial Stone & Brick In Readiness Providing Building, Landscape Needs

It is well into the new year, and Colonial Stone & Brick makes the following observations:

"We have a new president, the hostages are free, and there seems to be a feeling of 'America together again'. Let us hope so, for united we stand, divided we fall."

"We at Colonial Stone & Brick wish to thank each of you for your past business, and we invite you to come by throughout '81 for your needs from our big variety of building and landscaping supplies."

Colonial Stone & Brick, at 5804 Ave. H, is really a big facility with a big stock, affording exceptional selection and services, any or all of which could well fit into one's plans at this season.

Boulders
Why not come in for that special boulder you have been thinking about, as example?

"Or perhaps you have thought of installing crushed rock in an area where no grass will grow, or where it grows too well, and you had rather play golf than push the lawnmower!"

There's flagstone and exposed aggregate stepping stones for a pathway or just a piece to step upon in the flower bed when you turn off the water.

We install or advise you how to do it yourself.

Colonial Stone & Brick has an excellent selection of building stone for veneer on the home, for a fireplace or for that waterfall you have wanted! We have the stone, and we can give you names of stone masons, or perhaps you would prefer to do it yourself. At any rate, Colonial Stone & Brick continues to be a great supply source, as it has been since its founding back in 1962 by the late Fritz Willingham, and by-his wife, Jean, who continues to operate the firm, still at 5804 Ave. H, phone 744-2777.

Fireplace Needs
"We carry a full line of fireplace materials, some may not realize, such as dampers, flue tile, heat forms, ash dump and clean-out doors and fire brick."

At present, a good supply of used commons and used solid brick is in stock.

"So come on by, even if you only want to look; you are welcome, and the coffee pot is usually on!"

On hand to serve you are Don Johnson, manager, Ricky Nerios, foreman; and owner Jean Willingham.

"There are a lot of your landscaping and building needs, all right at one single location, at Colonial Stone & Brick, 5804 Ave. H, phone 744-2777, where good selection, best in service and fair pricing continues to be the rule.
"May we serve you soon?"

White River Retreat Directs Patient To New Way Of Living

"To be comfortable sober" is a key aim in the services of the White River Retreat dedicated to the treatment of alcohol and/or mind-changing drugs. Actually, the chief focus of the staff and entire program of White River Retreat is that of offering the patient a new way of living, thinking and feeling — a release from involvement with and addiction to all mind-changing chemicals.

White River Retreat, looking out onto White River Lake from the north, is a private enterprise, area-owned and directed. Judy Rhoades is co-owner, secretary-treasurer and director of the retreat; F.E. Seale, M.D., is president. Dale Rhoades, M.D., is medical director, and the board of directors includes Judy Rhoades, Seale, Ruth Breen, Kenneth Gray and Jim Kimmel.

Located southeast of Crosbyton and east of Lubbock, the mailing address of the Retreat is Star Route 2, Spur, Texas 79370, with telephone (806) 283-4334. Judy Rhoades relates that the saw a need for such a center in the West Texas area, and this keen interest led to its establishment in August of last year. Response and acceptance has been most noteworthy. With 30 patients easily accommodated at this time, patronage is invited from the local area or from anywhere. An expansion program, including added buildings, will enable even greater service. Douglas Wood is assistant administrator, and both he and Judy are thoroughly experienced in the in-patient treatment programs and after-care for those who desire this attention.

Accredited with the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, the White River Retreat welcomes admission of men, women or young people of any age who require any degree of treatment including preventative attention. Patients are accepted for a minimum of 28 days with longer terms as to individual needs, for the treatment of alcoholism and other drug dependencies. Therapy includes in-depth study and use of nationally known successful programs for drug-free living. Facilities are exceptional at the White River Retreat where three separate buildings are utilized. A central section includes a spacious dining and meeting area, glass-enclosed to heighten the beauty of West Texas sunsets on the lake. A large native rock wood-burning fireplace adds to the warmth and friendliness of the daily and nightly meetings held there.

Comfortable living quarters are provided for sleeping, resting and relaxation. Excellent and nutritionally nourishing meals are served three times daily. Patients participate two nights weekly in an outside Alcoholics Anonymous meeting at nearby communities.

All meetings and discussion groups at the Retreat are open to family members, close friends and other selected visitors. Close cooperation is recognized as being at the very heart of continuing recovery to health and future well-being for all concerned.

Personal appointments or admission to the Retreat may be made by calling in advance.

"If the White River Retreat can serve you, a family member or other person of your knowledge and interest, please feel free to get full details of the program and intense interest of staff, ownership and directors of the White River Retreat, located at White River Lake, between Crosbyton and Spur."

JUDY RHOADES, DIRECTOR

Earl Ray Music Three-Decade History Backs Performance, Service Capability

"Doesn't that musically inclined student within the family deserve the correct instrument secured by a purchase or rental plan and service adapted to his or her individual need?"

"We at Earl Ray Music Co. think so." "Name" lines, layaway plans, rentals, purchase plans and more emphasize Earl Ray's question: Why settle for less than Earl Ray Music Co., in Briercroft Center, phone 762-0468 in Lubbock!

Names To Trust
Selling, servicing and trade-rent-lease of fine instrument lines is the whole business of Earl Ray Music Co. Whether selection is from Conn, LeBlanc, Bach, Artley, Selmer, Bundy, Gemeinhardt or Getzen band instruments, Conn or Gibson guitars, or Premier or Ludwig drums, quality is assured.

"If you are the parent or other near relative of a band student, most likely you know first hand, already, of the valued services and products of the Earl Ray Music Co.

"For over three decades, Earl Ray has served as a firm sincerely interested in your welfare, in seeing that the student or other musically-inclined person is set with the best instruments... whether purchase, rentals, trading up, or repairs are involved."

For "Trading Up"
"Trading up" is a very popular program presented by Earl Ray, making for ease in securing a quality instrument to best-serve in the progress one has made in any musical pursuit.

Service does not end with the rental or sale at this leading band house. Earl Ray maintains the largest band instrument repair department on the South Plains, with fulltime specialists on the job, Ray emphasizes.

Earl Ray since its founding has been known and trusted by band directors, parents and bandsmen throughout the area.

Its location in Briercroft Center enables easy-in, easy-out driving and parking convenience, and the location just south of the 50th Street-Avenue Q intersection makes for easy access from Avenue Q, Loop 289 and other key traffic arteries.

More and more students throughout Lubbock and the entire area are learning the advantages of "trading up" to a better instrument at Earl Ray Music Co. and whether or not you purchased your present band instrument from Earl Ray, they will be glad to give you a price you are sure to appreciate with trade on a better one."

Remember, Earl Ray Music Co. represents the leading band instrument manufacturers. At Earl Ray's, one always has a great choice in quality brand names.

Three Diet Centers In City Posting Limited-Time Discount

Celebrating Grand Opening of the Diet Center at 3307 82nd under new ownership of Nancille Gallimore, the three Diet Centers in Lubbock have posted specials in salute.

"How to Win at the Losing Game" has never been made easier in Lubbock than at this time!

Each of the three Diet Centers is offering a $40 discount on the six-week program in recognition of the Grand Opening.

One Near You
 So... take your pick:
 The Diet Center at 3307 82nd St., with Nancille as owner and counselor; the 4211 Boston Ave. Diet Center, with Deanie Alewine as owner-counselor; and the 3602 Diet Center (in Security Park) where Candy Christmas is owner-counselor.

It all adds to the happy truth that "there's a Diet Center near you," each directed by graduates of the Dietology Training School in Rexburg, Idaho.

Nancille not only has assumed ownership of the 82nd Street facility, but she also owns Diet Centers in Crosbyton, Post and Spur. She is an Isbell Powell graduate and for 11 years was a beautician in Lubbock and Crosbyton.

Candy Christmas, at the Slide Road Diet Center, not only is most qualified in the field but she also is a flight instructor.

Deanie Alewine, at the Boston Diet Center, is a native West Texan, and before opening Diet Centers here was a 10-year Bryan (Tex.) resident where she attended Texas A&M.

The Diet Centers place emphasis on a well-balanced nutritious diet, with private daily counseling by "a counselor who cares."

As to expense... the Lubbock counselors emphasize that it costs less than 50 cents per day for loss of 17 to 25 pounds in the program, with six weeks for reducing, followed by six weeks for stabilization and a full year for maintenance. No drugs, no shots and no contracts are involved.

Some may not realize that Diet Center programs are set up to meet each individual's needs, and that these can be adjusted for folks with special health problems. Counseling is afforded men and children, as well as women.

In brief, it is explained that the Diet Center program calls for a well-balanced diet, and the clients will not lose the essential fat on the body, but only the extra adipose fat; the dieters will have all the nutrients necessary to maintain good health while losing adipose fat from the body.

"We use no pre-packaged foods that contain chemicals, because chemicals slow down weight loss. We use only well-balanced natural foods."

"With the aid of one of the Diet Centers in Lubbock, you can feel well and if you persevere, in no time at all you'll begin to look as great as you feel!"

The Diet Center at 3307 82nd St., phone 793-3438, is open from 11:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., five days a week, closed Saturdays and Sundays.

Hours are 7:30 a.m. until 1 p.m., Mondays through Fridays at the Diet Centers at 4211 Boston and 3602 Slide.

"Was one of your New Year's resolutions that of losing weight and looking your best? Let the Diet Centers help you now, effectively and economically; it was never easier."

Three-Day Sale, New Classes Revealed At Mrs. B's In City

Small wonder that Mrs. B's Arts, Crafts & Gifts, 5105 29th Drive, phone 797-5850, is so popular!

Example:
 Not only has a new schedule of day and evening classes been announced (some actually beginning this week), but a special 3-Day Sale has been arranged for today, Tuesday and Wednesday!

Among the sale items are 3-dimensional kits at 25 per cent reduction; Paint-on woods at half price, and lots of miscellaneous items at half price for the provocative stock.

New shipments of frames have been received and are marked at 25 per cent off.

New books have arrived, too, to augment the already-comprehensive selection aiding in art and craft pursuits.

Double-Barrel Opportunity
 During this 3-Day Sale would be a very good time to profit in purchases and also to get full details of the impending classes and workshops at Mrs. B's.

Enrollment is underway for these sought-after classes from such instructors as Frankie "Pee Wee" Lanier, Jan DuBose, Sara Storrs and Karen Sherman.

None of the instructors are strangers to the art community or the clientele of Mrs. B's, all having enviable teaching and project achievement records. All are most talented, and one is invited to take the course of her or his choosing with any of these artists.

Oils are taught by Jan and Pee Wee. Tole classes are by Sara and Karen.

Jan and Pee Wee are arranging Saturday workshops, too.

Other classes, instructors and workshops will be scheduled from time to time, so watch for announcements or check regularly with Mrs. B's where something new always is in stock and in store for happy craft and art pursuits.

Full information regarding specialties of each artist instructor and of the nature of each class, together with costs and schedules, is available at Mrs. B's.

All materials necessary for any of the classes are stocked.

Everything at Mrs. B's, owned and actively operated by Margie Berryhill, says "welcome," and "happy times ahead" for each of you!

Stacey holds one of her own butterfly creations, while Rhea displays a holiday brass pot with silk poppies. Note the paintings by the instructors at Mrs. B's.

Business & Industrial Review

FOR SPRING-SUMMER ENTRY — At MoDean's, summer fashions were never prettier! Displaying a new navy and white combination from Herman Marcus is MoDean (standing) and staffmembers Sue Dale and Connie Kale.

MoDean's Unveils New-Season Fashion Wear, Added Labels

"For a truly fashionable, exciting entry into spring and summer '81, a visit to MoDean's in Sunshine Square is in order today!"

What a display of spring arrivals! They are here in all the vibrant colors that herald the new season!

As traditional at MoDean's, 4515 50th St., wardrobe rightness at money-saving prices is the whole story there.

Select now from new arrivals including the brightly-hued sun dresses and other apparel for greeting of the balmy days sure to soon be the rule.

Only reliable and "known" lines are in the store... labels to which one is

Added Lines

Recent additions to the impressive list include Breckenridge, Collegian and Dovani. Also select from Bill Bias, Shadowline, II from Laguna, Rave Review by Applause, Lorch, and others.

These and more assure finest apparel in the 4-18 sizes featured by MoDean's.

Whether need is jeans, lingerie, jump-suits, sun dresses, coordinates and dresses or accessories, MoDean's would seem the sensible choice!

Layaway Invited

Layaway for spring is especially invited at this time when one can choose for the wide selection in colors and styles.

No extra charge is involved in layaways at MoDean's where free gift wrap also is a feature.

Master Charge and Visa purchases are welcomed.

Special Bargains

In introducing the new spring arrivals, MoDeans of necessity has had to clear the racks of fall and winter apparel. Some of these in-season items still remain, and they are marked at a full 50 per cent and 60 per cent off! So if one is fortunate enough to find her size and style in the short fall-winter stock still remaining, a fantastic "buy" is enabled. (Check MoDean's ads in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal for still further values.)

New Miniature Kits, Other Arrivals Swelling Stock At The Little Shoppe

Something new... every week and most often every day... is the norm at The Little Shoppe in Cactus Alley!

New kits have arrived, including the delightful but economical "store" kits, etc.

Within the wide stock of miniatures at The Little Shoppe are choices in items to assure one's pleasure in shopping, whether a minimum cost is involved or whether one desires to spend more for elaborate kits and furnishings. There is something for everyone!

Established for some 15 years, The Little Shoppe since first of this year has been owned and actively operated by Nancy Caswell, well versed in miniatures and one of the most enthusiastic and helpful persons one could find in starting or pursuing advanced projects in the art of miniatures.

Thousands Of Items

She presents miniatures by the thousands in a unique stock for the amateur and avid miniature collector alike, for the gifter or the hobbyist, with other items great for sorority gifts, etc.

Appreciation Voiced

"I am deeply appreciative of the reception accorded me at The Little Shoppe," Nancy emphasizes, "and I shall continue to serve as best I know. Your trade and confidence is truly appreciated."

Actually, stock at The Little Shoppe is the most extensive ever.

Re-arrangement of the already-attractive shop makes for better display and greater customer convenience.

Whether selection is from the three new store kits, the lumber yard corner or from other kits and furnishings, a whole new world of miniatures awaits at The Little Shoppe in Cactus Alley, 2610 Salem Ave., just south off the Brownfield Highway in Lubbock.

"Come in and meet Nancy or renew acquaintance with her, and learn of all afforded in The Little Shoppe, still significantly 'different.' We know you'll like what you find. Nancy is glad to assist in any way possible, glad to work with folks who appreciate the unusual, the pretty and the intriguing."

"The Little Shoppe comes through, stronger than ever!"

Teague Providing Trampolines, Rebound Exercisers, AMF Line

Supplying any need in trampolines or gymnastic equipment, including the great rebound exerciser units, is the business of Teague Trampoline, 4510 Englewood, phone 793-7171, in Lubbock.

Teague Trampoline, owned and operated by James and Juanel Teague, is headquarters for AMF American and Sidlinger back yard trampolines, the so-popular rebound exercisers, and the complete line of AMF gymnastic equipment.

In Southwest Area
Visits are invited at the firm with its 4510 Englewood address noted as being in southwest Lubbock just south of the Brownfield Highway and on east side of the same block where Hollon's Home Furnishings is located.

In business for nine years in Lubbock, the Teagues are long-time residents here and of the area.

They sell retail and wholesale and take special pride in service and punctuality, as well as in quality of every product.

Store hours are 9-5, Mondays through Fridays.
Delivery and installations are available.

Trampoline Specialists
As trampoline specialists, the Teagues not only can supply the finest in trampolines, but they like to talk trampoline! He reports that trampolines were invented as a tool for acrobatics, evolving into a popular means of exercise for the public after introduction in the states in 1939.

Aside from the back yard trampolines, Teague stocks two lines and a full price range in the fantastic rebound exercisers.

"Rebound to better health, and to fun and downright pleasure" is the invitation of Teague who reports that many doctors, therapists and even optometrists recommend the special benefits of the rebound exerciser units.

Use of the rebound exercisers is described as a revolutionary new way of effortless exercise.

FOR BETTER HEALTH VIA REBOUNDING — Sandra Burdette, office manager of Teague Trampoline, demonstrates one of the stocked models of the popular rebound exerciser units supplied by the southwest firm.

"Rebound exercise is the most efficient and most effective form of exercise yet devised," Teague informs. "Not only is it efficient and effective but it also is lots of fun, is easy, convenient, economical and safe."

"Whether as an individual, an organization, business or institution, we welcome the opportunity to serve you at Teague Trampoline. We believe one or more of our products can fit into your own plans and needs. May we have the privilege of your visits and your inspection of our great products . . . at Teague Trampoline, 4510 Englewood, phone 793-7171, in Lubbock?"

ABC Sewing Center Announces New Classes, Service, Items

Several significant and exciting announcements come from the popular ABC Sewing Center, 3033 34th St., and one is invited to check the following for one or all these that can be of special benefit at this time when "people are really getting back into sewing."

(1) The pros at ABC Sewing afford a complete sales and service operation, with the featured lines of Elna, White and Necchi.

(2) Neal Riedel, with actually over 30 years experience in sewing machine repair, is on hand as a valued addition to the firm and benefit to the customer.

(3) Joyce Knaff, well-known and sought-after instructor, has announced a fantastic instruction schedule, with something for every achievement level, every sewing interest and for men and women and all ages.

(4) ABC Sewing Center, under the ownership and active operation of Susan Young, has been named exclusive dealer in Lubbock for the quality Panasonic vacuum cleaners.

More about these announcements, one by one:

Panasonic Vacuum Cleaners
With Panasonic cleaners one can enjoy the convenience of an upright cleaner with the powerful suction of a canister. Panasonic Jet-Flo Powerhead vacuum cleaners provide super cleaning power, yet they are designed to operate quietly. And they are super-lightweight and easy to maneuver. See these now at ABC Sewing Center.

Full Class Range
Sewing instruction from Joyce Knaff can be a real opportunity . . . one just not found anywhere any day!

Joyce holds a Masters degree in design and merchandising and for several years was head seamstress for a ballet company.

Classes conducted by Joyce at the ABC Sewing center are made available mornings, evenings and Saturdays.

These include beginning through advanced tailoring; beginning and intermediate sewing, a full program of embroidery classes, lingerie and T-shirt workshops, the "fast" techniques, attention to practical sewing problems, applique, monogram, down jackets, men's shirts, and even plans for special craft classes to meet needs of the seasons such as for Christmas, Mothers Day, etc.

What a program! Get full details now at the ABC Sewing Center, 3033 34th St., phone 799-0372.

Also, in the field of instruction, it is noted that with every Elna machine purchased at ABC, 15 hours of free instruction is included!

Pre-registration is necessary for classes and workshops, so early inquiry and registration is advised.

Free-Arm Machines
Aside from its instruction opportunities, ABC Sewing Center takes pride in its every product, in its lines that have long been respected.

Special attention is directed to the great new Elna Model 69, advertised as the only free-arm sewing machine that fits most standard sewing machine cabinets. (And this is a big consideration. Likely it is the last sewing machine you'll ever need!)

The "new dimension" Elna Air Electronic is available in several models as is the Air Electronic portable. It is a new generation of sewing machines!

The exciting new Elna machines seem to have all the features one has ever wanted . . . such as the most-desired stitches; it is a multiple sewing program extended via interchangeable Elna discs supplied as standard equipment with every Elna Super model!

For full information about the repair services, the new machines, the instruction, the new Panasonic vacuum cleaners, etc., a genuine welcome awaits at the ABC Sewing Center, 3033 34th St., just east of Flint.

NEW SERVICES AT SLATON HIGHWAY LOCATION

Dip 'n Strip Affords Complete Refinishing, Speed, Efficiency

Grand Opening of the new Dip 'n Strip at 3118 Slaton Hwy. has been announced by Dennis and Debbie Black, owners of this and the parent Cross Country Antiques at the same address. The husband-wife team reports that Cross Country Antiques, now one year old, has enjoyed wide acceptance here and consequently has been enlarged to afford the franchised dip 'n strip service.

Actually, Dip 'n Strip, Dennis Black explains, is a company established for several years, with Denver-based operations extending now to international operation with franchised businesses in America, Europe and Canada.

Dip 'n Strip is a complete stripping center. Quick service is assured for paint and varnish removal from furniture, wood and metal.

Porous woods such as pine, oak or bass can be stripped completely and safely.

Does Not Bleach

Even varnish and lacquer can be lifted from veneered surfaces, safely and without weakening the glue. Black emphasizes. The process, he adds, will not bleach the wood, and cherry and other fruit woods will not darken.

Complete refinishing is offered by Dennis and his staff who actually are experts in the field.

Black formerly taught shop for four years in the Olton schools, and previously was head carpenter for the C. R. Anthony stores and has experience as a home builder. Debbie is the former Debbie Elliott, native of Littlefield.

Fast though efficient stripping service is assured by Dip 'n Strip, with most jobs turned out in two or three days.

Open Daily

Dip 'n Strip is open from 9 until 6 weekdays and from 1 to 6 on Sundays at its 3118 Slaton Highway quarters in Lubbock, phone (806) 745-9039.

Whatever the stripping or complete refinishing job, Dennis and Debbie Black invite one's patronage. Popular items coming in for such attention include both painted and varnished chairs, rockers, stools, chests, hutches, picture frames, tables, leaves, beds, end tables, commodes, doors, and even roll-top desks.

"Let us show you all the advantages of dip 'n strip; may we have the pleasure of your visit soon?"

ANNOUNCE SPECIAL OLYMPICS DATES, ASSISTANCE — For a specified time one may enjoy the whole grain goodness of Roman Meal products from Rainbo, knowing that 5 cents of every purchase goes toward financial assistance to the Special Olympics involving mentally handicapped people in 'the quick-

Special Olympics Again Aided In Practical Manner By Rainbo

"The Special Olympics again this year will be benefitted in a very real way by Rainbo Bakery and by you as a Rainbo customer!"

Harry Hoopes, president of Rainbo Baking Co. of Lubbock, has announced that Rainbo Bakery will donate 5 cents to the Special Olympics for every Roman Meal bread item purchased from today, Monday, March 2, through Sunday, May 10, 1981, throughout all of the Rainbo Bakery of Lubbock's marketing area! This is the second consecutive year for this Rainbo program.

Area grocers have been particularly cooperative in agreeing they will allow special displays and signs in their store, reminding customers of the program.

Special Olympics is the world's largest program of sports training and competition for the mentally handicapped. More than one million athletes are involved in year-around activities in all 50 states and 40 foreign countries and territories.

There are 17,000 athletes and 8,000 volunteers in the Texas program alone.

Local Plans Told

Local Special Olympics will be on April 11, with Kerry Baker, recreation specialist at the Lubbock State School, as area coordinator for this local Special Olympics involving 20 South Plains counties.

Other Details Following

The Special Olympics will be conducted this year at Lubbock Christian College, with the field house there as headquarters and with both indoor and outdoor events planned. Watch for special feature stories presented by Rainbo on these pages in future weeks outlining the specific plans and the local achievements, activities and other announcements.

Dennis Poulos, Texas chapter director, said, "The generosity of the Rainbo Bakeries will allow us to greatly expand our program of activities to the mentally retarded."

Hoopes adds further:

"Our minds and bodies have limits; but Special Olympics proves there are no limits to the human spirit."

Since 1968, Special Olympics has given more than two million mentally handicapped people the chance to grow through sports.

The program has enjoyed Lubbock participation since '69, and over 500 participants are expected at the impending April 11 event to be conducted at LCC, with no charge involved and with the public invited. Details will be given in future articles, remember.

"Your local Roman Meal baker believes Special Olympics deserves support, and Rainbo certainly is making a big contribution, with 5 cents for every Roman Meal item purchased during the announced dates going to the Special Olympics."

So... buy Roman Meal bakery products from Rainbo; support the Special Olympics in this very practical way.

One-Of-Its-Kind Tuftwick Sale Enabling Special Opportunity

When a firm rightfully has the reputation of always selling at low, low price, it is hard to conceive of that business marking items at an even lower sale price!

But such is the situation at Tuftwick Carpet, Inc., Brownfield Highway at Slide Road in Lubbock, where a special announcement should profit for the customer in unusual manner:

Special Mill Purchase

"We have made a special purchase from a leading mill, obtaining really top quality carpet to pass along at savings of 30 per cent to 40 per cent! That's right!"

"We were able to secure these fabrics and patterns that should be priced at $19.95 per yard, but we are privileged to make them available as low as $12.95! And this is first-quality Antron III* and other really quality carpet."

Several rolls also are in stock in a "one-of-a-kind" category, and these are specially priced at this time.

The wise word, here at time when one is fighting inflation and the budget but at the same time needing to ready the home for spring, is to shop Tuftwick, depending on the firm that takes pride in selling everyday at $3 to $5 under suggested retail, no matter what the selection, no matter if just arrived in stock!

"Holding the price line" to the fullest extent possible in every transaction is a way of business at Tuftwick.

One is invited to bring room measurements on the very first visit, and the Tuftwick staff will gladly figure the carpet amount necessary.

"There's no need to have a 'let down' after the first of the year; it is a great time to ready the home for spring entertaining and family enjoyment... and Tuftwick aids even further with the low prices and increased selection."

There are special "bonus buys" in carpet from Milliken, Lees and others. Check within the store for these exceptional values.

Add to this that Tuftwick advertises easy terms, no money down, and up to 36 months to pay, and the idea comes through clearly and forcefully, that Tuftwick Carpet, Inc., wants your business! Visa, Master Charge and GE Major Purchase Cards are welcomed.

Likely more consideration is being given at this time to the advantages of home remodeling than in some years.

And in this vein, it is evident that new carpeting should be a major acquisition in making the home beautiful, livable and more energy efficient. Let Tuftwick assist in the related savings.

Whatever the selection in the very large stock, including full rolls, short rolls and remnants, one can save by purchasing from Tuftwick at this time.

One must surely see the new rolls arriving from such famous mills as Lees, Milliken, Philadelphia and Horizon. Sedon has there been such a variety of fabrics and colors and patterns. All the fabrics received by Tuftwick are treated for static and soiling, with either Scotchgard or Teflon.

A really great selection of Antron (the best Dupont nylon) is noted.

With the quality of workmanship, with fine materials and beautiful new patterns, more for the money in carpet is provided than ever before, the folks at Tuftwick welcome the opportunity to explain and prove.

Hal, Arvil, Nancy, Beth and Cy all will be glad to assist in any manner possible. They know carpet, and they know that satisfied customers are the biggest asset a firm can have.

All labor is guaranteed.

"Longtime recognition of Tuftwick Carpet, Inc. as a headquarters for attractive pricing, utmost in value, and always a wide selection is a matter of general knowledge."

Report Opens Fight Over Clean Air Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major report ordered by Congress recommends that national deadlines for achieving anti-pollution standards be dropped from the nation's clean air law and that restrictions on industrial development in pollution-free areas be loosened considerably.

The National Commission on Air Quality formally submitted its report to Congress today, opening what promises to be a long, hard-fought battle over amending the Clean Air Act.

meeting them. The deadlines were ineffective and in some cases unrealistically harsh, the report said.

Chairmen of key congressional committees that will deal with the revisions — Sen. Robert Stafford, R-Vt., and Reps. John Dingell, D-Mich., and Henry Waxman, D-Calif. — have said they hope the process will not be as difficult as that over the 1977 clean air amendments.

Stafford, receiving the report at a crowded joint meeting of his committee and Waxman's, asked for cooperation from all sides so that Congress can quickly complete work on the amendments.

"If outside groups seek to rewrite the fundamentals of the Clean Air Act, the Congress, it appears to me, will be tied up for a least two years, possibly three or four," he said.

But industry has made clear it will not back off its demand that the law be relaxed to foster development, particularly of energy resources in the West, while environmental lobbyists have stressed they will fiercely resist dropping the deadlines and protections for clean-air areas.

"If the other side attempts to gut the Clean Air Act, there will be a bloody fight," said David Hawkins, a lawyer with the Natural Resources Defense Council.

Divisions over the act are evident even within the commission, which includes representatives of industry, labor and environmental groups.

Richard Ayres, a commission member who is a lawyer with the Natural Resources Defense Council, introduced a statement dissenting with the findings on deadlines and clean air areas, adding that three of the 13 members of the commission supported him.

A fourth commissioner, Jeanne Malcom of Florida, said she too agreed and called also for changes in the law to allow more public participation in decision-making.

Edwin Dodd, chairman of Owens-Illinois Inc., complained about being the only representative of industry on the commission. He said he disagreed, too, with certain recommendations. One he pointed to in particular is intended to limit emissions that could contribute to acid rain.

The mandated review of the law comes amid national concern over rising energy prices and possible shortages, which will play an important part in Congress' deliberations.

The recommendations included: —Significantly reducing sulfur dioxide emissions in the East by 1990. Since coal-burning utilities are the major source of these emissions, which have been blamed for acid rain, resistance can be expected from coal mine owners and utilities.

—Maintaining the present system of setting air standards based on considerations of public health. A recent study sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce criticized the present system as unscientific and suggested costs should be measured against benefits in setting the standards.

—Changing the final standard for carbon monoxide emissions from automobiles from 3.4 grams per mile to 7 grams per mile.

—Making approval for state plans to implement the act automatic after 90 days unless the Environmental Protection Administration acts by that time.

The recommendation that 1982 and 1987 deadlines for achieving anti-pollution standards be dropped was severely criticized by Marilyn Reeves, an environmental specialist with the League of Women Voters.

"The deadlines provide the spur, the impetus to make sure that state governments act," she said, adding that the federal government must ensure that no state gains an economic advantage by not adhering to strict standards.

Senators Ponder Farm Bill Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jesse Helms, opening Senate hearings on a new farm bill, said today the United States needs an agricultural policy in which the government "supports but does not dominate the farmer."

Such a policy also should "assure consumers of abundant food and fiber at reasonable prices," said Helms, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which will hold hearings lasting nearly a month to determine a new farm and food aid program.

The North Carolina Republican also told committee members, "Our interest is to continue the current direction toward a market-oriented agriculture" in which the private sector is emphasized.

The new farm bill will determine the extent to which the federal government supports farmers' crops in coming years.

Its effect also will be felt by consumers who buy those farm products in corner groceries and supermarkets, and by low-income Americans who depend on the government for food stamps and other nutrition programs authorized in the bill.

Agricultural exports and the Food for Peace program, which provides food donations and easy-credit crop sales to foreign countries, also come under jurisdiction of the bill.

Reflecting the wide scope of the bill, Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, said that the bill "will be one of the most important pieces of legislation developed by the 97th Congress."

He also echoed the call of Devon Woodland, president of the National Farmers Organization, who proposed doing away with the current payments system of price supports.

Instead, Woodland called for setting a legal minimum price for major grains, cotton and oil seeds. "A market order subject to approval of producers would implement the price minimums and establish eligibility for price support loans, starting with the 1982 crop," he recommended.

A price support is the amount the government will lend a farmer who is unable to sell his grain at a predetermined target price.

The new bill, replacing the 1977 Food and Agriculture Act which expires this year, will set up price support and credit programs covering the 1982 crops of wheat, feed grains, cotton, rice, dairy products, peanuts, soybeans, sugar and wool. Agricultural research and extension, farm credit programs and forestry also come under the bill.

The Reagan administration's tight-fisted approach to the 1982 fiscal year budget will not be lost on the committees shaping the bill.

The administration is calling for reductions in federal subsidies for dairy products, and budget director David Stockman last week said he and Block share a "strong inclination" to do away with the federal government's target price crop subsidies to farmers.

The food stamp program — which makes up about one-half of the Agriculture Department's budget and has 22 million participants — is also targeted for sharp reductions by the Reagan administration, a call that has the strong support of Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., the new chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Consumer activists are opposing the reductions in that program and other nutrition programs that come under the farm bill's jurisdiction.

"We must emphasize our very strong support for federal food programs funded at the levels necessary to help all those who need help," said Ellen Haas, director of the consumer division of the Community Nutrition Institute in Washington, in testimony prepared for today's hearing.

Under President Reagan's proposals to slash the 1982 food stamp program, "virtually all recipients will lose benefits," Ms. Haas said.

"They include the poorest of the poor, the elderly and the disabled. They include working families, who earn an honest but low wage that has been increasingly eroded by rising prices," she said.

Gold Buyers, Banks Warned About Coins

ly spotted. The real coin is shiny and of "very good quality." The coins also sound and react differently when dropped on a desk.

Demonstrating, Freriks showed how the real coin rang when dropped and vibrated while coming to a spiraling stop. The counterfeit struck the desk with a flat sound and rattled to a stop.

The details of the real coin are sharp, while those of the counterfeit are vague and rounded, Freriks pointed out. Real coins have a deeper gold coloring.

The Swiss banking bars were never gold-plated or distributed, said Freriks.

Counterfeiters may be trying to unload the coins, possibly claiming they are part of 1,700 coins stolen in Los Angeles in order to justify the half-price rate, he said.

Baylor said the Houston police are currently investigating the possibility the counterfeiters were involved in a quadruple murder in that city. Apparently some fake coins were used to make a dope deal, he said.

The counterfeiting operation has been going on for at least five months, said Freriks.

water was seriously injured when he was hit by a sniper's gunfire Feb. 12 while traveling in the back seat of his parents' car, and his mother, Vanessa, was grazed by the blast. The tot also is recovering.

Area residents were beginning to relax when a suspect was arrested and charged Wednesday in connection with the Menton incident, as well as several other snipings. But the apprehension of 36-year-old Teddy Glyn Floyd, described as the "Thrill Shooter," didn't help Cocke, Miss Kennedy or Taylor — who was not hit by Sunday night's shooting.

"We've been damn lucky we haven't had people wasted with all the shootings we've had recently," Det. Billy Hudgens said last week. Det. Sgt. Charlie Park added, "Our (Lubbock area's) murder rate would be sky high by now" if the various gunmen's aim had been accurate.

Dr. Philip J. Davis, a psychologist and former clinical director of this area's Mental Health Mental Retardation agency, said the publicity has attracted persons inclined to shoot at people for no apparent reason. He said most likely several mentally unbalanced persons learned of Floyd's arrest at a busy restaurant and thought, "Well, that was stupid. But I can do it and not get caught."

Davis added, "It seems like there's an attitude, a permissiveness, about violence developing. It sure appears to me things are getting more violent... There's just a little more permissive attitude about guns and violence here."

"It's a pretty sick recreation, a pretty dangerous recreation," Davis said.

Lubbock Criminal District Attorney John T. Montford said, "We're seeing a little different blend of people involved in these things. I'm talking about people with serious psychiatric disorders."

Both Montford and Davis said unemployment and a worsening economy had enraged frustrations, which in turn may incite such meaningless crimes.

"It's kind of a contagious mentality," Montford said.

Denver Phone Booths Stolen

DENVER (UPI) — Mountain Bell says vandals apparently have become bored with merely snipping telephone cords, and have taken to carting away entire booths.

Cyndi Evans, Mountain Bell spokeswoman, said about 50 pay telephones and booths have been stolen in the last six months.

She speculated the thieves were augmenting their income from coin box pilferage by selling the booths for scrap aluminum.

"We don't know for sure that they're being scrapped for aluminum, but we've never gotten any of the booths back," she said last week.

Miss Evans said Mountain Bell had made the booths as secure as possible, going so far as to encase the phone in heavy steel.

Gun Sales Not Hiked By Local Incidents

By RUTHANNE BROCKWAY
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Gun sales apparently were not affected by last week's series of sniping incidents, but firearm sellers disagree over whether their customers were shaken by the random violence.

Gene Huber has been in the gun business for 44 years, seen a lot of tough characters and lived through military service in World War II. He's not an easily shaken man.

But last week's series of shooting incidents in the city got even Huber's attention.

"I think that more people were alarmed than ever before," said the owner of Huber's Western Wear and Pawnshop, 805 Broadway.

One evening last week when Huber was driving home and noticed a pickup truck similar in description to one involved in the sniping incidents, he says, "I just eased back and let that fellow get up ahead of me. That shows you it was in the minds of everybody when a fellow like me does that. It's hard to get me excited, but I got excited."

Huber says customers discussed the incidents a great deal. "That was the topic for everybody," he said, adding that the apparent random aspect of the violence was disturbing because, "You feel helpless."

Gun sales, however, did not rise at Huber's store. "A lot of people don't realize, and figures pretty well substantiate this, there are over 300 million guns in the United States." Huber says many persons already own guns and because of that, "You won't see a big rise in the buying of guns."

"There was one person maybe," he said of gun sales spurred by last week's violence. That customer "was a little bit alarmed and decided to get some home protection." As for other customers,

Guerrillas Attack Salvador

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported at two towns in eastern El Salvador as the international socialist organization asked Nobel Peace Prize winner Willy Brandt to mediate between the guerrillas and the government and the United States suspended aid to Nicaragua for allegedly funneling communist arms to the rebels.

In Washington, Secretary of State Alexander Haig said the United States had "certain assurances" Nicaragua will halt arms shipments to Salvadoran guerrillas.

Government troops and jet fighters repelled weekend attacks by leftist guerrillas on the towns of San Lorenzo and Santo Domingo, according to peasants streaming into this capital city to escape the fighting in the eastern province of San Vicente.

Witnesses said "sporadic and heavy gunfire" continued Sunday around the two towns. A military spokesman said "an army clean-up operation" was under way.

"We have some wounded," said the spokesman but refused to give casualty figures. There were no reports of rebel losses.

The leftist guerrillas who want to replace this Central American nation's civilian-military junta with a Marxist government had been rumored for the past week to be planning a new offensive. But their leaders issued no communiques on the fighting in the eastern province.

A large-scale rebel drive in January, billed as a "final offensive" against the government, was quickly crushed by government troops.

An estimated 14,000 people have been killed in El Salvador's political strife since the October 1979 coup that ousted President Carlos Humberto Romero's rightist regime and paved the way for the current U.S.-backed junta.

In Panama City, Panama, delegates to an emergency meeting of the Socialist International unanimously condemned the junta "as responsible for the violence which is bloodying the country," according to a spokesman who briefed reporters on the closed-door meeting of the world's non-communist Socialist parties.

He said the group called on Brandt, the former West German chancellor, to try to mediate between the Salvadoran leftists and the junta.

"We have selected Brandt for that mission because of his democratic political leadership and because he is the owner of a Nobel Peace Prize," said the spokesman.

In Washington, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that the Reagan administration has cut off aid to Nicaragua because it is funneling arms to the Salvadoran guerrillas.

More Rain Expected On Plains

servers say the rainfall at this time is ideal for area farmers and worth millions to the South Plains economy.

The extended forecast is for mostly cloudy skies with a chance of showers in most parts of West Texas Wednesday. There will be increasing cloudiness Thursday and partly cloudy skies Friday. No significant temperature changes are expected through the week.

The long range outlook for Saturday through March 11 indicates more cool, wet weather in store for West Texas, calling for much below normal temperatures and above-normal precipitation.

Lubbock turned foggy about 8 a.m. today after the weekend rains left 43 of an inch at Lubbock International Airport and an estimated .75 in the southern part of the city.

The fog was lifting at mid-morning, but increasing cloudiness was forecast for the afternoon.

Mostly cloudy conditions are expected for tonight and Tuesday.

Temperatures will be in the lower 60s today, low 40s tonight and low 60s Tuesday, weathermen predict.

Winds will be southerly and southeasterly at 10 to 15 mph today and tonight and southerly and southwesterly at 15 to 20 mph Tuesday.

Sunday rains were light over the South Plains, totaling only a trace in Lubbock and less than .10 over the area, but generous skies Friday and Saturday left substantial amounts at a number of cities.

Totals included 1.70 at Lamesa, 1.43 at Tahoka, 1.40 at Post, 1.20 at Crosbyton, .25 at Littlefield and 21 at Olton.

Low clouds and fog covered most of the eastern half of Texas and the Panhandle early today, the National Weather Service reported. The rest of the state generally was fair.

A winter storm system was reported moving across Arizona and expected to enter western New Mexico today. Heavy snow was falling at many places in Arizona, with 8 inches on the ground at Flagstaff.

Storm warnings were issued for the mountain areas and upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, with snow forecast for tonight in those regions.

The weekend rain flurry on the South Plains rounded out February as both wetter and warmer than normal.

A total of .87 was recorded for the month here, which is 17 above normal, and the average monthly temperature, 44.7, is two degrees above the norm.

The lowest temperature was six degrees on the 10th and 11th and the highest 81 on the 19th, 20th and 25th.

High Court Bars Prayer On Official Maps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today refused to allow North Carolina to publish a prayer on its official state highway maps.

The justices, without comment, left intact a ruling that the prayer, appearing on such maps since 1964, violates the constitutional separation of religion and government.

The nation's highest court also: — Agreed to decide whether workers with access to confidential company information may belong to labor unions — an issue that could affect thousands of workers, especially in white-collar jobs.

A federal appeals court — in a ruling that applied only to workers in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin — said such workers could be barred from joining unions. The National Labor Relations Board has asked the Supreme Court to overrule the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals' ruling.

— Left intact New York restrictions on a public utility's passing on to ratepayers the costs of informational advertising.

The court refused to review the validity of a New York State Public Service Commission limit — set at 0.1 percent of gross revenues — on institutional and informational advertising which could be charged up as costs by Rochester Gas and Electric Corp. In denying the Rochester Gas appeal, the justices cited a lack of a "substantial federal question."

— Agreed to review a ruling that bars

state political committees from letting a national party's senatorial committee spend funds for them on behalf of Senate candidates.

The controversy stemmed from the 1978 Senate elections, when state Republican Party committees designated the National Republican Senatorial Committee as their "agent" for making expenditures. The arrangement was challenged by the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee. The Federal Elections Commission, which had held that the arrangement was legal, took the issue to the high court when a federal appeals court struck down its contention.

— Allowed Eastern Air Lines to force any female flight attendant to take unpaid maternity leave after her 13th week of pregnancy.

— Left intact a ruling that Chicago was guilty of sex discrimination in paying women less than men in some job categories, rejecting Chicago's arguments that the salary differentials resulted from a "merit system."

The city was sued by the National Organization for Women and by five women employed by Chicago's Department of Public Works or Department of Water and Sewers. The suit charged that male custodial and clerical workers were paid more than their female counterparts.

Two North Carolina residents, aided by the American Civil Liberties Union, sued in 1975 to get a "Motorist's Prayer" off state maps.

The prayer says: "Our heavenly Father, we ask this day a particular blessing as we take the wheel of our car. Grant us safe passage through the perils of travel; shelter those who accompany us and protect us from harm by Thy mercy; steady our hands and quicken our eye that we may never take another's life; guide us to our destination safely, confident in the knowledge that Thy blessings go with us through darkness and light... sunshine and shower... forever and ever. Amen."

U.S. District Judge Franklin Dupree upheld the prayer's constitutionality but the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed his ruling last Sept. 11.

Copter Crash Kills Egyptian Official

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian Defense Minister Ahmed Badawy died today in a helicopter crash in Egypt's western desert, Egyptian sources told The Associated Press.

Badawy was one of 13 people killed in the crash, the sources said.

High Egyptian officials refused to confirm or deny the report. One said a statement was being prepared.

One source said the helicopter went down in Egypt's northwestern desert near a large military installation close to the Libyan border.

Official Says Importing Water Too Expensive

Water importation cost estimates quoted by the director of Arkansas' Soil and Water Commission are "nothing new" and are only updates of figures released in 1973, according to Duncan Ellison of Water Inc. here.

Arkansas water official John Saxton said the elaborate plan to ship millions of gallons of water from Arkansas to the High Plains would cost the federal government a $40 billion investment.

Even then, he added, the cost of the water might make it impractically expensive.

Saxton made his statement after attending the Washington meeting of the High Plains Study Council, a six-state group allocated $6 million federal funds to develop a plan to replace water in the Ogallala aquifer.

Farmers whose land is above the aquifer in the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas and in Oklahoma, Kansas, most of Nebraska and the eastern edges of Colorado have pumped water out of it faster than nature can replace it.

The Army Corps of Engineers has estimated the aquifer will be dry by the year 2000.

Estimates for the water importation plan range from $475 an acre-foot — the amount of water needed to cover an acre with a foot of water — to more than $800, Saxton said. For a farmer whose crops produce $50 an acre, the cost would be impractical, he said.

He also said he was surprised Texas Gov. Bill Clements remarked last week "Arkansas officials" were sympathetic to the water needs of other states and were offering "no strong resistance" to the transfer plan.

Clements said he had discussed the plan with Arkansas Gov. Frank White, but White denied that.

The Army Engineers are proposing a system to carry 2 million acre-feet of water annually from the White and Arkansas Rivers through Oklahoma to West Texas. The cost would be $12.8 billion, and the water would cost $745 an acre-foot, said Saxton.

Ellison told The Avalanche-Journal that the Corps of Engineers had used a different formula for computing the cost of the transfer plan than did the Department of Interior.

Saxton was using those figures, first released in 1973, updated with an inflation formula, said Ellison.

"No one is seriously proposing an importation project be implemented today," said Ellison, adding the high cost of interest, inflation and power sources would make any such plan unfeasible.

"But we have to think in terms of what it would cost not to do it," he emphasized.

Presently the project is only in the planning stages, looking for the sources of surplus water and the routes of canals.

He said different figures than those presented by the Army Corps of Engineers were estimates of $170 to $200 an acre-foot, "but that's still high."

"We can't seriously contemplate a program like this today," said Ellison.

ALL WASHED UP — This Beechcraft twin engine plane took an unexpected dip Sunday off Miami Beach when one engine lost power. The pilot and two others aboard were uninjured in the controlled ditch. Gambling Machines Discovered At Local American Legion Post

The Lubbock County Sheriff's Department reported the discovery of several gambling machines at the American Legion Post 575 at Brownfield Highway and 66th Street over the weekend.

Sheriff D.L. "Sonny" Keesee said this morning no action had been taken pending a conference with Criminal District Attorney John Montford. However, he said his office had talked with legion officials and had been told deputies could "come in and pick up the machines anytime."

Deputy Andy Jackson reported finding the machines after receiving an anonymous tip. He said he went to the location and found five machines — four resembling stamp vending machines and another that looked like a juke box.

Jackson, in his report, said the devices were tagged "Lucky 7," "Monte Carlo," "Jackpot," "Pot of Gold" and "Nevada Club." He said winning tickets would bring in between 50 cents and $50.

Jackson, according to reports, told a legion member the machines were illegal and must be removed. However, the deputy said he went back to the post Saturday and found the machine brackets and name tags still on a wall.

Jackson said he was told by a member that the machines were moved to a storage room after each night of bingo.

"They haven't been in here very long," said legion member Roy Taylor after being reached this morning at the post. "There's none in here now," he added.

Jackson said he was told by one legion official that he and "several other members" were "very unhappy" about the machines and that their presence was not approved by the board of directors.

In other activity, a 12-year-old Lubbock girl said she was abducted about 6 p.m. Sunday in the 200-block of Quirt Avenue and held for some time against her will before she was able to escape from an East Bates Street residence.

The girl, who was not seriously hurt in the kidnapping, told police several young black males, traveling in a blue Buick, pulled her into the vehicle and drove to the house, where she was locked in a bedroom.

The victim said she was able to break open a door and escape. She said that as she fled, her abductors threatened to kill her and her mother if she notified authorities.

Police said the girl's blouse was torn in the incident. Two Lubbock men, ages 17 and 19, were arrested about 5:15 p.m. Sunday after police allegedly found what was thought to be marijuana in their car.

Officers said they stopped the vehicle in the 6000-block of Avenue L after watching the motorist drive in a suspicious manner. After finding a plastic bag containing a green substance, the two men were jailed on suspicion of possessing a controlled substance, reports state.

A knife-wielding bandit slashed a convenience store attendant's stomach late Saturday night and made off with more than $500 in the latest in a series of armed robberies here, according to police.

Kenneth Farley, the 20-year-old attendant at the Town and Country Food Store at 42nd Street and Boston Avenue, was treated at Methodist Hospital and later released after suffering three knife wounds in a struggle with the robber.

Farley told police a tall black man entered the store about 11:05 p.m. and asked for a package of cigarettes. After the man had paid for the purchase and received his change, Farley said he turned his back on the customer.

The attendant said the man was suddenly behind the counter with him and was poking him in the back with an unidentified object. "Get the bag and put all the bills from the register in the bag," Farley quoted the man as saying.

Police Seek Shooting Suspects

Lubbock police continued today to search for a Lubbock man and woman in connection with the Saturday afternoon shooting death of Willie A. Session, 30, of Hobbs, N.M.

Session was shot once in the upper right chest with a small-caliber weapon and also apparently beaten with a pool cue in a vacant lot in the 2800-block of East Eighth Street, police said.

Witnesses told police Session was killed as a result of an argument over a bet on a pool game. Session apparently was playing pool in a pool hall in the neighborhood when a man struck him with a cue stick.

An altercation ensued, and the wife of the other man apparently drew a pistol and shot Session. The victim then reportedly ran out into the vacant lot, where the man and woman caught him and beat him with the cue.

Session was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Charles Smith, who ruled the death a homicide, Lubbock's fifth of the year.

A 33-year-old El Paso man was taken into custody as a material witness, and he remained in the Lubbock County Jail Sunday night.

Ruling Withheld In City Death

A ruling was being withheld early this afternoon on the death of a 74-year-old Lubbock woman who was found dead on her bedroom floor this morning.

Alfa Henry of 3714 33rd St. was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace L.J. Blalack. The judge said Mrs. Henry apparently died about 7:40 a.m., and was found by her husband.

An autopsy was to be performed today at St. Mary's Hospital. Blalack said he may make a ruling later today.

Authorities said the elderly woman appeared to have suffered a blow to the right forehead but were uncertain whether it was the result of an accidental fall.

Services were being handled by Rix Funeral Directors.

Grocery Bills More Than Double In Eight Years

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Grocery bills have more than doubled in the past eight years, but February brought good news to shoppers in the form of the biggest monthly drop since late in 1976, an Associated Press market-basket survey shows.

The AP drew up a random list of food and non-food products and priced the items at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973. Prices have been rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month. The list originally included 15 items, but chocolate chip cookies were dropped when the manufacturer discontinued the package size used in the survey.

The latest price check showed:
—The average marketbasket total was 100 percent higher at the start of this month than it was when the survey began in March 1973.

—The marketbasket bill dropped during February at the checklist store in 10 cities, down an average of 3 percent, and rose in three cities, up an average of 3.4 percent. Overall, the average marketbasket bill went down 1 1/2 percent last month. The drop was the biggest since a 1.8 percent decline in October 1976.

—February's decreases were due mainly to drops in the price of sugar and eggs. Sugar went down at the checklist store in nine cities and eggs in 10 cities. Sugar prices have been rising since early last year because demand for sugar is expected to exceed production in the current crop year. Recent declines in consumption have caused drops in the price of raw sugar on the world market and the decreases were reflected at the supermarket last month.

The outlook for egg prices is less clear. Production was cut by the drought which killed more than 7 million chickens last year and continued low supplies could boost prices again.

—Orange juice prices went up at the checklist store in eight of the cities surveyed by the AP. The increases reflect rises in wholesale prices following the January cold snap that damaged the citrus crop in Florida. Florida provides almost all the nation's orange juice.

—February's drop in marketbasket bills followed an increase of only two-tenths of a percent in January, meaning that grocery prices today are lower than they were at the start of the year. The situation is expected to change, however.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is predicting that food prices alone will rise 10 percent to 15 percent this year. Less than one-fourth of last year's 8 percent rise in grocery store food bills was caused by higher farm prices, the USDA said.

Most of the increase was due to higher processing costs to get the food from farm to market. This year, however, the USDA expects farm prices will have a greater effect on family food bills because last summer's heat and dry weather cut into crops, including food grains, and will boost meat prices.

A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed fewer increases during February than during January. Here are the percentages of increases and decreases:

	Jan.	Feb.
Up	28.0	20.9
Down	29.1	28.0
Unchanged	37.4	42.9
Unavailable	5.5	8.2

The AP did not weigh survey results according to population density or in terms of what percent of a family's actual grocery outlay each item represents.

The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands and sizes or comparable substitutes were used. Items temporarily out of stock on one of the survey dates being compared were not included in the overall totals.

Group Challenges Reductions In Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A consumer group today accused the Reagan administration of being "terribly misleading" about the effect of its proposed budget cuts on food stamps and child nutrition programs.

"The administration's budget cuts seem designed to hurt the most vulnerable: the sick elderly, the disabled, those pregnant women and young children with medically verified nutritional deficits," said Nancy Amidei, director of the Food Research and Action Center.

The group said in a statement that there has been "over-aggressive selling of the administration's program without regard to facts" or the needs of people who depend on federal assistance.

Specifically, the center:

—Challenged President Reagan's assertion that the "truly needy" would be spared in the budget-cutting process and that the school lunch program for needy children would be protected.

—Expressed "outrage" that, according to some reports, the WIC nutrition program, which is intended to help feed women, infants and small children, may be cut by 30 percent.

—Criticized statements by Agriculture Secretary John R. Block that food stamp losses to families would be made up by tax reductions proposed as part of President Reagan's economic package.

Under the proposed $1.8 billion cut in the food stamp program, a family of four with a gross income of more than $10,985 a year would be denied assistance.

Block has said that those deprived of food stamps are "going to make it up very easily" under Reagan's tax-cutting proposal.

The Food Research and Action Center, which describes itself as a non-profit law firm and advocacy group, said a family of four with a gross annual income of $11,000 currently is eligible for $1,428 a year in food stamp assistance, about $119 a month.

Under the Reagan administration proposals, that family would be denied food stamp assistance.

Food stamp eligibility currently is determined according to net income, which has allowed some families of four with gross annual incomes of more than $14,000 to qualify for assistance, according to Reagan's proposed budget.

Murray Weidenbaum, Reagan's chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, told the National League of Cities on Sunday that the administration will redefine just who is "truly needy."

"It's deliberate policy to exclude people who can afford benefits from the benefits, so that the truly needy among our citizens, black and white, will be met by the food stamp program," Weidenbaum said.

"But families of over $15,000 a year, black and white, very frankly we hope Congress will see the wisdom of telling them they should pay for their own children's school lunch," Weidenbaum said.

Official Says Budget Cuts Threaten Gains By Poor

ATLANTA (AP) — Federal programs helped reduce the percentage of Southern families living below the poverty line during the 1970s, but those gains could be wiped out by proposed budget cuts, according to the executive director of the Southern Regional Council.

Steve Suits said Sunday that preliminary figures from a council study indicate that 17 percent of Southern families in 1980 had annual incomes below the federal poverty level of $6,750.

A decade earlier, he said, 24 percent of Southern families were below the poverty level.

But Suits said the programs responsible for the drop are targeted by the Reagan administration's budget-cutting plans.

Reagan's proposals, he said, would "cut out the government's role in the only thing that stands between poverty and a little above poverty for a large number of people who have made a little progress in their lives over the last 10 years."

Reagan's budget proposals also were attacked by Anne Sapp of the Children's Foundation of Atlanta, the coordinator of an Atlanta conference of food stamp and anti-hunger activists from eight Southern states.

Charging that Reagan's proposals would cause the South to "make a U-turn back to pretty desperate conditions," Miss Sapp said the $1.8 billion in proposed food stamp cuts are "targeted specifically at the most helpless people in the South — families with young children and all of the unemployed."

Crime Line Seeking Information About Sniping

Crime Line Inc. this week spotlights the Thursday night sniping in West Lubbock in which two Avalanche-Journal employees were wounded. Police arrived at 2901 Bangor Ave. at 10:02 p.m., where Emergency Medical Service paramedics were treating Bryce Cockerham, who lay on his side in the middle of the living room, and Shannon Kennedy, who lay on her back in the kitchen area.

Cockerham had been struck in his lower right back near the bottom of his rib cage and just below his shoulder next to his backbone. Miss Kennedy had been struck just above her collar bone almost in the middle of her neck.

A bullet had struck a window on the north side of the living room, on the street side of the house, and the drapes were open. The bullet shattered against the inside corner of the living room, where the bullet jacket stopped. Fragments of the bullet struck the victims. Both were admitted to Methodist Hospital.

Crime Line offers a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest of the suspect. Anyone having such information is urged to contact Crime Line at 741-1000. Informants may remain anonymous.

Crime Line is supported entirely by private donations. Tax-deductible contributions may be mailed to Crime Line Inc. at P.O. Box 2000, Lubbock, 79457.

A $300 reward is offered for information leading to the arrest of a suspect in a house burglary in which property loss and damage totaled about $2,295.

Lubbock County Sheriff's Deputies went to Route 2 Box 136, Lubbock, Feb. 17 where the victim told them that between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. someone broke the glass out of the back door to enter the house two miles north of FM 1294 on FM 1284.

Taken from the home were an Electrophonic stereo, a jewelry box containing assorted jewelry, a man's Texas Instruments watch, a gold necklace, a western belt engraved with "Van," a belt buckle engraved with "E" and all of the victim's clothing.

Information leading to the arrest of a Lubbock house burglary will bring a $300 reward from Crime Line.

Police went to 3322 26th St. at 6:22 p.m. Tuesday where the victim said someone stole $1,570 worth of property.

Taken were a Sears 19-inch portable color television set, a woman's size 6 1/2 wedding and engagement bands, white brushed gold with 3/8 carat diamond in the center surrounded by small diamonds and sapphires, and a lady's gold finish Timex watch.

Crime Line offers a $300 reward for information leading to the arrest of fugitive Norman Brent Jones, charged with felony theft.

He is described as a white male, born May 17, 1960, 5-foot-9 and 130 pounds.

Another $300 reward is offered for information leading to the arrest of fugitive Arturo Hernandez, charged in connection with indecency with a child. He is described as a Mexican male, born Feb. 18, 1957, 5-foot-6, 150 pounds with black hair and brown eyes.

Hunt Family Investing In Geothermal Energy

DALLAS (AP) — The wealthy Hunt brothers of Dallas, in the news the past year for efforts to buy large quantities of the world's soybean and silver supplies, are investing heavily in another natural resource — geothermal energy — according to the Dallas Times Herald.

Records on file with the U.S. Department of Interior show Nelson Bunker Hunt, W. Herbert Hunt, Lamar Hunt and several other members of the Hunt family, as well as various Hunt trusts and corporations, have obtained enough federal leases to make the family the largest single developer of geothermal energy, the newspaper reported.

In Sunday's editions, the Times Herald said the Hunts have laid claim to approximately one-sixth of all the federal land leased for geothermal power exploration — 252 of the 1,600 leases issued by the Bureau of Land Management, accounting for about 480,000 of the federally controlled 2.9 million acres.

In addition, the story said records reveal the Hunts have applications pending for an additional 435,000 acres. Geothermal energy refers to the use of underground deposits of extremely hot water and rock to provide heat or electricity on the earth's surface. The technology currently is primitive but geothermal sources provide much of San Francisco's electric power and the Department of Energy has estimated such underground heat may one day provide as much as 10 percent of United States energy needs.

Under current federal regulations, explorers may claim, without competitive bidding, the right to 10 years of geothermal exploration on federal lands in 12 western states. Those leases cost $1 per acre per year, with royalty payments due the government on any successful development.

Government records show that almost all the Hunt investments have been acquired through such non-competitive leases in Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Idaho and Utah, with pending leases in Arizona and California, the Times Herald said Sunday.

Federal law limits the amount of geothermal land one individual may own to 20,480 acres but the Hunts have circumvented the requirement by putting leases in at least 20 different names, including other family members, corporations and trust funds.

Three federal agencies, a congressional committee and a federal grand jury continue to investigate last year's massive purchases of silver by Bunker and Herbert Hunt.

Two years ago a federal judge, upholding an order from the government's Commodities Futures Trading Commission, ruled that the Hunts had acted improperly in contracting for soybean futures under several different names to get around individual ownership limits.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

The term sibling rivalry was invented by psychoanalyst Alfred Adler in the early 1920s.

Up until that time parents used words like, "They're killing one another," and "For God's sake, Larry, don't turn your back on em." Adler also said it was a "phase" children went through, which also made parents feel good. After all, anyone could host a war if they knew it was going to be over in seven or eight years.

My sister and I never engaged in sibling rivalry. At first, I thought it was because we were too poor, but when we got to checking with the other kids, we discovered sibling rivalry was brought on by parents' favoritism of one child over another.

Our parents weren't too crazy about either one of us.

The closest we ever got to the phase was one day my mother summoned me to her, put me on her lap and whispered, "Don't tell your sister, but I have a piece of chocolate for you." I was flattered. Mom did like me best. I snapped it up like a starving puppy.

Later, I saw my sister on her lap and Mom slipped her a piece of chocolate. Later, we discovered we had been slipped a laxative. I met my sister's eyes. Neither of us said a word. From that day forward, we realized it was us against them.

That trend was to continue when my husband and I had children. Even the first one conspired against us. When she had a brother, they established a definite anti-parent coalition. When the third child appeared, we had our first experience with the immoral majority.

As parents, we had definitely lost control. Anything put to a vote... we lost. Any discussion put to a shout... we were drowned out. Any reasonable offer of compromise... we could not afford to refuse.

They huddled behind doors sharing their secrets with one another. They exchanged knowing glances when one of them answered the phone. They lied for one another, made excuses for one another, and defended one another.

Oh, I pretended there was sibling rivalry among my children just to save face. Somehow, I couldn't bear to have my friends know that while their kids were throwing trucks at one another, mine were throwing trucks at me!

They're still doing some studies on sibling rivalry and frankly it's quite revealing. They've now discovered that siblings have stronger bonds to one another than to their parents or step-parents. They are also the longest lasting and most intimate of all human relationships.

All I know is if my kids had been any closer to one another, I'd have locked my door at night!

Home Economists Set Professional Week

An 8 p.m. public reception Sunday in the Lubbock Civic Center Ballroom began a week of activities focusing on career information and professional opportunities in home economics.

The annual Home Economics Awareness Week at Texas Tech University is based on the theme, "Make It Your Business."

Scheduled speakers will include Jane Segerstrom, author of the book, "Look Like Yourself and Love It," Dr. Gilbert Leveille, nutritionist from White Plains, N.Y., and Kathy King, nutritionist for the Denver Broncos.

Miss Segerstrom, an image specialist, fashion stylist and public relations executive from Houston, conducts personal appearance workshops in the Houston area. Her book is based on a four-part personality concept she says dates back to Hippocrates. She will speak at 10:30 Wednesday in Room 169 of the Home Economics Building.

Leveille, director of nutrition and health sciences for General Foods, will speak at 9 a.m. Thursday in Room 169. He will also give a nutrition seminar at 4 p.m. that day in Room 173.

King, owner of King and Associates in Denver, and nutritionist for the Denver professional football team, will speak at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in Room 169.

Other speakers will include Dr. Peggy Meszaros, associate dean of home economics at Oklahoma State University, at 9:30 a.m. today; Pat Felter, designer with J. Stiles Inc. in Dallas, at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday and Beverly Rhodes, consumer specialist with the Texas Extension Service in Houston, at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Panel discussions will include "How to Improve the Quality of Life," at 1:30 p.m. today; "Small Business Ownership and Involvement," at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, and "How to Get the Most from Your Internships," at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

All speakers and panels will be in Room 169.

A "Make It Your Business" luncheon will take place at 12:30 Friday in the University Center Coronado Room. Making the luncheon address will be Jean Yancey, president of Jean Yancey Associates, Denver.

DEAR ABBY:

Husband Gives T-Shirt To Wrong Woman

DEAR ABBY: Last New Year's Eve my husband got drunk and told me he was in love with another woman. The next day, after he sobered up, he said he loved only me and to forget what he said about his being in love with another woman. He said this woman was just a friend who needed someone to talk to, so he had been meeting her to help her sort out her problems, but there was nothing between them. He said he had kissed her a few times to cheer her up, but all he ever gave her was a T-shirt with "One Fantastic Woman" printed on it.

Abby, I love him regardless, and there is no way I am going to get into a fight with him and lose him to somebody else. We have three small children who worship him. I told him that I forgave him totally, and now he is knocking himself out trying to make it up to me. Do you think I was too easy on him?

MARYANN
DEAR MARYANN: No! But I think he gave the T-shirt to the wrong woman.

DEAR ABBY: So PLOTZING IN PLATTSBURGH, N.Y., complained because she got a lot of useless gifts for Christmas? Last Thanksgiving my youngest son's darling wife got together with the family and had them all put in an envelope what they were planning to spend on a gift for me.

The week before Christmas this daughter-in-law came to my house with a housecleaning crew, and in four hours, two husky men and two spry little ladies cleaned my five-room house from top to bottom. My windows were washed, the oven was clean as new, and all I did was sit and watch! When they left, there was $14.80 left over for me.

On Christmas Day the whole family came back with a picnic-like supper and useful presents such as new dish cloths, dish towels, a pot scrubber, rubber scraper, etc. And when they left I felt the best-loved grandma, mother and mother-in-law in town! Cleaning is tiresome and sometimes impossible for us senior citizens. Wouldn't it be wonderful if everybody gave such practical gifts?

Club Notables

Here we are beginning a new month. Its not necessarily everyone's favorite — with the wind and sand blowing most of the time. But it's a good month for all the clubs to meet and plan all those special activities for the upcoming beautiful spring weather.

The Llano Estacado Audubon Society will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Garden & Arts Center for a special program entitled "California Wild Flowers." Dr. Larry Jordan, chemistry professor at Texas Tech University, will present slides and provide information on the basic flowers in California, the Sierra Nevadas and Washington state. TIGHT LANGOTI IN LONGVIEW, TEXAS

DEAR GRANNY: Wonderful, indeed. Readers, jot this down on your Christmas gift list. There are only 298 days until Christmas.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letters in your column supporting the theory that wearing jockey shorts has contributed to the infertility of the American male. I submit the following as evidence to refute that theory.

In India, where I was born and raised, it was customary for men to wear a "langoti" under their loose-fitting garments (A langoti is a triangular cloth truss, similar to an athletic supporter.) Some wear it because they believe it will prevent their body magnetism from flowing off their extremities. Some say it has religious significance. In any case, wearing the langoti is an ancient Indian custom, passed down from father to son. The point I make is that the majority of men wear the langoti very tight!

Abby, the population of India is over 600 million, so obviously they have no fertility problem. I wore a langoti — a tight one — and I have nine kids. My father had 10, and my grandfather had 12, not including those he had while serving his wild oats.

DEFROSTING TIPS
Defrosting meat at room temperature is not recommended, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Rather, frozen meat should be defrosted in the original wrapping in the refrigerator or in the microwave oven, following the oven manufacturer's directions. The length of time for defrosting meat in the refrigerator is 4-7 hours per pound for large roasts; 3-5 hours per pound for small roasts. One-inch steaks or chops will defrost in 12-14 hours.

Lucky Editor Gets To Play Games On Company Time

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Family Editor

Phil Wiswell has a dream job. He gets to play games on company time.

As games review editor for a national magazine, Wiswell spends about 50 percent of his time play-testing new products — everything from independent inventor's mock-ups to expensive electronic models from well-known companies.

"At least half come from independent inventors," Wiswell said in an interview. "They want advice on marketing."

"Don't take anything I say as marketing advice," he tells them. "I can tell them how it plays," he added. "Then I generally refer them to Filis Fredericks' book, 'How to Design and Sell Toys, Games and Crafts.'"

The book tells how to build mock-ups, where to send them — "Not to big companies," Wiswell said. "They'll send the package back unopened, to avoid lawsuits. If they are working on a similar game at the time, you might claim later they stole yours, even though they hadn't."

Wiswell said the book also tells inventors how to protect their ideas, how to play-test games and snags to look for.

"There's no formula for success," he said. "It's mostly being in the right place at the right time."

Wiswell has been an assistant editor of the 3-year-old Games magazine, a bi-monthly, "since the third or fourth issue."

He loves the job.

"It's like being let loose in FAO Schwarz for the night," he said, referring to a famous New York City toy store.

In a typical week, he said, he gets at least 10 new games. The number doubles or triples in summer, he said, when manufacturers begin introducing games for Christmas selling.

"Independents send games all year long," he said. "Sadly, the most usual thing is a copy of Monopoly on a square board with a track around the outside using dice. Unfortunately they make up about 70 percent of what I see. One in 50 may be good."

He tells inventors seeking a manufacturer to look for new game companies. "To be a success they must have a line of games."

"Try to get a royalty agreement," he said. It will probably be 5 percent although it may rise to 10 "for a known inventor with hot talent."

"In the electronics industry most games are done in-house. Most others are freelance."

"Inexpensive board games are tremendously popular now," Wiswell said, "especially role playing, science fiction and fantasy games."

He said Dungeons and Dragons is a current favorite. This type game combines role playing and fantasy.

"Dungeons and Dragons is essentially the old art of storytelling with a whole group of players living the story on the board," Wiswell said.

"Role-playing games are more cooperative. A player goes into a dungeon to find treasure and battle dragons and get safely out. These games get more competitive toward the end."

Wiswell thinks the surge of adult interest in game-playing may have begun with backgammon.

WACKY FUDGE CAKE

- 2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 4 1/2 tbsps unsweetened cocoa
- 1 1/2 tpsps baking soda
- 3/4 tsp salt
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 1 1/2 tbsps white vinegar
- 1 1/4 tpsps vanilla
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 cup coconut rum liqueur, divided

Onto a piece of waxed paper, sift together flour, sugar, cocoa, baking soda and salt. Sift again into a large bowl. Add oil, vinegar and vanilla; stir just enough to dampen the dry ingredients. Add milk and 1/4 cup liqueur, mix well. Turn batter into a lightly greased and floured 9-inch tube pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven 55 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool on a wire rack. Prick top of cake with a cake tester or a long toothpick. Spoon remaining 3/4 cup liqueur over cake. Cover tightly. Store overnight. If desired, serve with heavy cream with coconut rum liqueur (2 cup cream and 1 table-spoon liqueur.) Serves 12.

PROMOTION — Ann Burkeholder, display chairman, plans maxi-and min-services to be offered at Benefit Auction. Silent auction will feature smaller services, ranging from baked bread to cookies; major auction will feature such plums as vacation cottages in the mountains.

Garden Clubs Take Part In Planting

A tree-planting ceremony at the historic Arnett House on the Lubbock Christian College campus recently marked the continuing interest of local garden clubs and the Council of Garden Clubs in beautifying and enriching the Lubbock community through service projects.

Representatives of Central Zone District 1 Texas Garden Clubs planted a tree on the grounds of Arnett House in formal ceremonies attended by representatives of the Arnett family, Lubbock Christian College and the Garden Club Council.

Each District 1 director of the Texas Garden Clubs has a personal project at the close of her administration. The planting of a tree in each of three zones is the project for this administration.

The ceremonies attending the planting of the tree included Mrs. Carroll Anderson, district director, Mrs. Nat Williams, District 1 Arbor Day chairman; Mrs. Therell Hodges, president of the Lubbock Council of Garden Clubs.

Representing Lubbock Christian College were Mrs. Clem Boverie and Mrs. Otis Cannon.

Mrs. John Flygare and Sam C. Arnett III attended the ceremonies as representatives of the Arnett Family.

The Arnett House is a project of the Lubbock Christian College Associates, and is located on the LCC campus.

The house, built as a wedding present for Mr. and Mrs. J. Lanham Higginbotham of the Higginbotham lumber family, was purchased in 1918 by Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Arnett Sr., a pioneer ranching and banking family on the South Plains, and served as the family residence until 1956.

The house, originally located in downtown Lubbock, was given to the College by Dr. and Mrs. Sam C. Arnett Jr., and moved to the college campus.

Business, Professional Women Honor Outstanding Leaders, Organizations

Mrs. Clyde Martin was selected from a slate of 40 nominees and named Businesswoman of the Year by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Lubbock at its annual awards banquet Thursday.

Also honored were Mrs. Richard Booker, young careerist, and the Blair Group, Inc., which received B&P's Torch Award.

A plaque was presented to Mrs. Martin by Mrs. Carolyn Jordan, 1980 recipient of the award, during the evening which included an address by the Rev. Dudley Strain.

Mrs. Martin has served as president of the B&P, and as District 9 Director, and was instrumental in securing the State Convention for Lubbock in 1979-80.

She has served as member or officer of many local organizations, including: Ranching and Heritage Center, Lubbock Cultural Affairs Committee, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, League of Women Voters, Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, and Lubbock Women's Club.

The Young Careerist Award was presented to Mrs. Richard Booker, a Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employee. Her award was presented by Sheila Hefner, 1980 honoree.

The Torch Award was presented by Mrs. Sadie Gratzel to the Blair Group, Inc.

Q.1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠9763 ♥KJ53 ♦J83 ♣93

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♦ Pass Pass Dble. Pass 1 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You haven't much of a hand, and partner's jump to three hearts wasn't forcing. Nevertheless, by first doubling and then jump raising your suit despite the fact that you could have nothing, partner has shown a hand worth about 20 points in support of hearts. With your six points, you should have no qualms about continuing on to game.

Q.2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQJ982 ♥K63 ♦AQ2 ♣7

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Once partner has made a two-over-one response, showing 10 points or better, you should insist on game, and slam possibilities are very bright. Start off with a jump rebid of your own suit—unconditionally forcing here. The auction should allow you to show your diamond support at your next turn.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠QJ93 ♥AK7654 ♦Q2 ♣6

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have to decide between rebidding your six-card suit or supporting partner's suit. With only three spades, we would have favored rebidding your suit. But it is dangerous to suppress good four-card support—partner might pass two hearts thinking the hand is a misfit when, in fact, your hand will make an excellent dummy. Bid two spades.

Q.4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQ10754 ♥J ♦AJ53 ♣92

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South Pass 1 NT Pass 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Slam is a distinct possibility, but it would be wrong of you to commit the hand to a twelve-trick contract unilaterally, either directly or via Blackwood—you could have two fast losers in clubs. Just carry on bidding what you have. Cue-bid five diamonds to see what effect that has on your partner.

Q.5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A10875 ♥A2 ♦Q10983 ♣6

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East Pass Pass 1 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You passed a hand that you might well have opened, and now your fit with partner has made the hand even stronger. The only way to draw partner's attention to your holding is to make a jump shift. Bid two spades. Even by a passed hand, that is forcing for one round. And it tends to show a fit for partner's suit.

Q.6—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK8 ♥K10943 ♦K ♣AJ98

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 3 ♠ Pass 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner's acceptance of your game try by bidding three no trump shows that most of his values are in spades and diamonds. His failure to support hearts for a second time, either at the three- or four-level, strongly suggests that he has only weak, three-card support. With your all round values, it will probably be easier to make nine tricks in no trump than ten tricks in hearts. Therefore, pass.

MS. STINSON'S TRUE STORY:

Three years ago at 171 1/4 lbs. I made one of the most important decisions of my life and that was to lose some weight. My original goal was 10 lbs. however, not until I lost 56 1/4 lbs. was I truly happy with my figure.

Through the careful guidance and assistance of the counselors at Pat Walkers, who literally taught me how to eat the foods I like, properly and the firming and toning provided by the Symmetricon, I feel absolutely marvelous, much younger and more energetic than ever.

Atlanta Students Call For March Of Outrage

ATLANTA (AP) — Student leaders from Atlanta's colleges are calling for a mass march here by people from throughout the nation to express outrage over the slayings or disappearances of 21 black children.

Several hundred people marched through Atlanta on Sunday in a demonstration that the Association of Christian Student Leaders said was a prelude to the "national save-the-youth walkathon" March 15.

"We have marched here to send out a national call to come to Atlanta on March 15 for a mass march to show this world we are united as one in our efforts to stop the killing of children," said Kenneth Flowers, a Morehouse College student who is vice president of the student association.

Participants in Sunday's march walked silently in single file from the Georgia Capitol to the Martin Luther King Jr. chapel on the Morehouse campus, about one mile.

Nineteen children have been killed and two others have disappeared over the last 19 months in the Atlanta area.

The mother of one of the slain children said meanwhile that "apathetic" police may have lost valuable clues by dragging their feet when the first slayings occurred almost two years ago.

Camille Bell, whose 9-year-old son Yusef was found strangled in November 1979, said at a memorial Mass in Baltimore that "a lot of clues were irrevocably lost" because police at first refused to believe the murders were part of a pattern.

Police have answered similar charges by saying they did not have the resources to check every possibility in the early stages of the case.

Judge Approves 11-1 Verdict In Drug Case

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A fundamental principle of American criminal law is that juries must reach unanimous verdicts, but under an agreement between defense attorneys and prosecutors, 19 defendants in a drug-smuggling trial have been convicted by an 11-1 vote.

"I've never heard of it before and I've been a judge for 16 years," said U.S. District Judge Lawrence King, who approved the 11-1 vote that convicted 19 members of the so-called "Big Pine 29" Saturday.

"I've never known a jury to do this. This may be the first time... in this country," King said.

Defense lawyers said they would rather appeal than have a mistrial and start over on the lengthy, costly case. The four-week trial cost an estimated $1 million.

Besides the 19 convictions by the split vote, the jury unanimously convicted three other defendants and acquitted four. Earlier, King had acquitted two defendants. One other will stand trial alone.

After deliberating eight hours Friday and three hours Saturday, the jury sent King a note saying it could not reach a verdict on the 19 defendants.

The defense then decided to gamble, not knowing whether most jurors were in favor of acquittal or conviction.

CONSULTING FIRMS

NEW YORK (AP) — Recession woes can be a boon for consulting firms that specialize in helping "troubled companies" get back on their feet, says A.E. Getzler Co., of New York. Getzler and other companies like it help near-bankrupt companies work out their problems by employing some of the following steps: Evaluating the owner or president's operating style and gauging his strengths and weaknesses; conducting customer interviews to check for dissatisfaction with the company's products, prices or quality controls; and determining whether the company should seek new financing.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Henry Dominguez

It is estimated that the common cold cost America more than $5 billion a year in expended wages and medical expenses. Americans spend approximately $660 million a year on cold and cough remedies. Researchers are really not sure which ones work, except from personal experience, because doctors are really not quite sure what causes colds. Symptoms are better known than causes or cures. Scientists do know that they can be caused by one of about 100 viruses and the number keeps growing.

Federal Agents Search Homes Of Chagra Family

EL PASO (AP) — About 70 federal agents who conducted surprise, all-day searches of five homes apparently sought evidence in the assassination of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood and assets to pay off back taxes of convicted drug trafficker Jimmy Chagra.

He said agents of the FBI, Drug Enforcement Administration and the Internal Revenue Service spent about 13 hours in each, carrying cardboard boxes out and stacking them in a rented truck. Joe Chagra said "the main purpose was to seize all of Jimmy's property" to settle back income tax claims.

The Justice Department had no comment on the searches, but a federal official based here told the El Paso Times that the agents were looking for "something that should lead to indictments in the Wood investigation."

"If we find what we're looking for, it should lead to indictments. We're getting closer, and we may be there with what we find," he told the newspaper.

Wood was killed by a sniper armed with a high-powered rifle as the judge left his San Antonio residence on his way to work May 29, 1979. It touched off the biggest federal investigation since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963, but so far there have been no charges.

search warrants signed by U.S. District Judge William Sessions of San Antonio.

Texas Tech Official To Become TWU Dean

Dr. Wilkes Berry, chairman of the English department at Texas Tech University, will become dean of the College of Humanities and Fine Arts at Texas Woman's University in Denton effective June 1.

Berry has been a faculty member at Tech since 1964 and has been chairman of the English department since 1977. He was director of graduate studies in English at Texas Tech from 1974 until 1977.

lene Christian University, where he earned his B.A. degree in English in 1960, Berry earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in English from Rice University in 1962 and 1964. While at Rice, he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, University Fellow and National Defense Education Act Fellow.

Museum Association. He has served as president of the Camp Fire Girls Council of Lubbock and in 1980 received the Luther Halsey Gulick Award as the adult Camp Fire officer who had given outstanding service to growth and expansion of the Council.

At the time of his murder, Wood, known as "Maximum John" because of the stiff penalties he gave drug traffickers, was scheduled to preside over the government's drug case against Jimmy Chagra, 35, who eventually was convicted of continuing criminal enterprise and sentenced last year to 30 years without parole.

The announcement was made by TWU President Mary Evelyn Blagg Huey.

His major teaching fields include Shakespeare, studies in the Renaissance and in drama, English literature of the 17th Century, poetry and prose of the 16th Century and departmental and interdepartmental honors seminars.

Berry is listed as a speaker on Shakespeare in a directory prepared by the Texas Humanities Resource Center and has participated on the Lubbock United Way speakers bureau and at the Annual Teaching Seminar of Oklahoma Christian College.

Berry is editing "A Critical Edition of Joseph Conrad's 'Youth'" which is scheduled for publication by Cambridge University Press in 1982.

His brother Joe, who helped defend him, said the agents started knocking on doors at 8 a.m. Friday and showed

Dr. Lawrence L. Graves, dean of Tech's College of Arts and Sciences, said Dr. John R. Crider will become interim chairman of the Tech English department when Berry's resignation becomes effective this summer.

"I appreciate the confidence which TWU has shown in me by asking me to accept this assignment," Berry said, adding, "I'm grateful to Texas Tech for the experiences and opportunities I have had here."

Berry is a member of the Lubbock Cultural Affairs Council and West Texas

Stepping up to interim chairman of the Tech English department this summer will be Crider, who has been with the department since 1966.

COLD-SINUS Miseries?

Is your head pounding — nose running — are your eyes watering and are you sneezing — sneezing — sneezing?
Have you blown your nose until it is raw?
We're sorry you're suffering so; obviously you're not aware of our product SYNA-CLEAR and this is our fault.

SYNA-CLEAR is the original timed-release tablet that gives up to eight hours of relief from cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses. And that's a guarantee. We do not have millions to spend on TV to tell you about SYNA-CLEAR. Just this small ad. We do not gimmick our Advertising and product by offering twelve hours of medication. What is medication without relief? SYNA-CLEAR is what we offer and it gives you eight hours relief per tablet or your money back in full.

We could go into detail on how our product works and about the fine formula, but we would rather you ask the experts about SYNA-CLEAR. The druggist at the store listed below or your family doctor can tell you about the merits of our fine formula.

SYNA-CLEAR costs a little more ($1.50 & $3.00 sizes) because it does more. You're buying relief and not gimmicks.

Try SYNA-CLEAR as soon as possible — you know — all have to lose are your discomforts. This little ad has an awfully big job to do — to get you to try SYNA-CLEAR. So as a bonus, cut me out and send in with an empty SYNA-CLEAR carton and we'll mail you a check for 50c for just trying SYNA-CLEAR. If you have time to tell us about the results SYNA-CLEAR gave you, we would be pleased to hear from you.

California Fruit Embargoed In Texas

DALLAS (AP) — For the next 28 days, California fruits and vegetables will be unwelcome in Texas, thanks to an emergency measure signed in Austin and upheld by a Dallas federal court judge.

Judge Patrick Higginbotham refused to block Brown's order in a Saturday night ruling.

four men held a conference call with Texas Attorney General Mark White.

A former chairman of the English department at Austin College, Crider received his bachelor's and master's degrees at Baylor University where he was valedictorian in 1949. He received his doctorate at Rice.

The 30-day order, drafted by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown, puts an embargo on imports of all California produce. Despite arguments from California produce growers of potential financial ruin, U.S. District

Brown said he was responding to Texas farmers' fears that California products infested by the Mediterranean fruit fly would be brought into Texas, giving the tenacious pest a foothold in this state's farms and orchards.

Higginbotham met with three attorneys representing the growers, then all

Solon Says Bureaucracy Stopping Radar Facility

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "silly, bureaucratic" reason is standing in the way of radar to improve safety at the trio of airports in Texas' Lower Rio Grande Valley, says Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

And the Texas Democrat said he wants it out of the way.

Bentsen said there have been four documented cases of near airplane collisions in the last 11 months in the Brownsville, Harlingen and McAllen area where the airports lack a radar system.

Three of those cases involved commercial airliners, he said. The regional administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration approved of the proposed remedy — a central radar system to serve all three airports.

"But in Washington, they turned it down for a silly, bureaucratic reason, saying they never proceed on three different airports at the same time; that they only did it on one airport," Bentsen said in an interview prepared for broadcast by Texas television stations.

"And yet, the traffic of the three adds up to enough to have more traffic than you would have in many cases where they've put radar in on a single airport," he said.

A Bentsen aide, who asked not to be named, said the senator plans to support valley residents again this year in their request for a joint radar facility.

George Burlage, spokesman for the FAA regional headquarters in Fort Worth, said the request to combine the three airports to meet the requirements for a single radar system still is under study in Washington.

"Of course, it's these criteria we have to worry about," he said. "None of the three qualify, but the three together would qualify."

Burlage added that the agency's regional administrator, C.R. Melujan Jr., was in the valley earlier in February to discuss the proposal and his support for it.

Redistricting Talk

Redistricting talk is starting to hit its stride, with last week's release of preliminary census figures to help it along.

Because of Texas' 26.6 percent population increase to 14.2 million residents, the state stands to add three seats to the current 24 it holds in the House.

Since all congressional districts in the state must end up approximately with the same number of people, the ideal congressional district would have about 525,000 inhabitants.

The Census Bureau provided its preliminary estimates for how many people live in each of the present 24 districts, and to the surprise of few, the fastest-growing district was held by Republican Rep. Bill Archer in booming Houston.

That district has a population about 337,600 above the number it must have.

Other big gainers are the Houston area district of Rep. Ron Paul, a Republican from Lake Jackson, about 186,000 above; the north Dallas district represented by Rep. Jim Collins, a Republican, about 171,000 over; and the San Antonio and West Texas district of Rep. Tom Loeffler, a Republican from Hunt, about 153,000 above.

The 18th District represented by Rep. Mickey Leland, a Houston Democrat, and the 20th District held by Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, a San Antonio Democrat, both have populations about 102,000 people below the new figure.

Other districts with less than the new average are in the Dallas area, held by Democratic Rep. Jim Mattox, about 16,000 below; in Fort Worth, represented by House Majority Leader Jim Wright, about 19,000 below; and in the Panhandle and Wichita Falls area, a seat held by Rep. Jack Hightower, a Vernon Democrat.

TDHR Study Shows Sex Abuse Of Children Increasing In State

AUSTIN (AP) — Profile of a child molester: male, age 30 to 45, married, employed. The victim: his 12-year-old daughter.

Mostly he fondles her and forces her to touch his sex organs, but half the time he makes her have intercourse with him.

These are among the conclusions of a Texas Department of Human Resources report to the Texas Legislature, which has before it several bills concerning sexual child abuse.

The number of confirmed cases of sexually abused children has increased 89 percent since 1978, the study showed.

"Such a dramatic increase in reports of child sexual abuse is indicative of a growing public awareness of and willingness to deal with this problem," the report stated, adding that the actual rate of occurrence is unknown.

At present, TDHR has 2,100 active sexual child abuse cases, and estimates there will be 2,800 cases in 1982 and 2,975 in 1983.

The study, conducted at the request of the 1979 Legislature, involved 1,379 cases. It found that:

- Sexual child abusers were "almost always male" age 30 to 45. Nine out of ten victims were girls; the average age was 12 years.

- Slightly more than three-fourths of the cases were incestuous. Two-thirds involved the child's father or stepfather.

- The non-abusing parent (the child's biological mother in three-fourths of the cases) knew what was happening but did nothing to prevent further abuse and often left the child alone with the abuser.

— Sexual intercourse occurred with almost half of the female victims. One out of 12 became pregnant.

The study noted a "positive relationship between successful criminal prosecution and participation by the perpetrator in treatment," but also stated that abusers generally did not cooperate well with the department.

"Protection of the child sexual abuse victim cannot be attained in most cases unless treatment is provided to all family members ... to correct the problems which cause or contribute to the sexual abuse," the report said.

Included in the report were recommendations for improving services to the families traumatized by sexual abuse. Money was the first priority. TDHR asked funding for additional staff, community treatment programs, training programs, and medical examinations of victims.

The department also asked legislators to amend the Texas Family Code to include sexual abuse and exploitation as grounds for taking a child from his or her home. Sexually abused children often are not physically injured, but current law allows removal only if there is an immediate danger to the child's physical health or safety.

The report did not recommend increasing criminal penalties for sexual abuse of children, but Gov. Bill Clements has.

Part of his anti-crime package is a measure increasing the maximum penalty for sexual abuse or rape of a child from 20 years to life. It also raises the maximum prison term for indecency with a child from 10 to 20 years, and for injury to a child from 20 years to life in aggravated cases.

Testimony Beginning In Lost Money Trial

WACO (UPI) — A red light was all that stood in the way of two teen-agers traveling to Chicago to spend the rest of a $500,000 bonanza they say they dug up on a farm in Alice.

If Dean Bridges and Percy Garcia hadn't run that Waco red light with the Ford Thunderbird they acquired during a spending orgy in 1977, they very well might have reached their destination and their fortune gone undetected for a while longer.

But the two boys and the money fell into the hands of a policeman who promptly put a stop to whatever spending plans the two might have had in Chicago.

Testimony begins today in U.S. District Court where Judge Fred Shannon and a jury will try to determine if they money really was stolen or found as the boys claim.

One of Bridges' several statements to authorities is that he saw a man bury an ice chest one night in January 1977 in his father's farm. Bridges, who was 15 at the time, said a week later he fought with his father over the length of his hair. To apparently get even with his father, Bridges said he called his friend Garcia, also 15 at the time, and together they found the ice chest containing the $500,000.

The two went on a spending spree in Dallas and decided to head for Chicago to live out the remainder of their newly found fortune.

The impounded money was deposited in an account where it has been earning substantial interest.

The claimants to the money include, besides Bridges and Garcia, the state of Texas, McLennan County and the City of Waco. Also sitting at the wings is the Internal Revenue Service which, according to its own calculations, must get the lion's share of the fortune.

In opening arguments Friday, various lawyers in the case presented their own definitions of a thief because the central point in the case, according to Judge Shannon, is whether Bridges and Garcia stole or found the money.

Star Takes Tabloid To Court

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Carol Burnett tackles the National Enquirer, the country's most widely circulated newspaper, this week in a $5 million libel suit that all of Hollywood is watching.

The comedian claims an item printed in the Enquirer five years ago — and retracted a month later — presented her as being drunk and disorderly at a Washington, D.C., restaurant, arguing with Henry Kissinger and spilling wine on a diner.

Miss Burnett denies there is any truth to the item except that she was in a restaurant and did meet Kissinger.

Other personalities have criticized what they call the supermarket tabloid's cheap shots, the so-called "inside story" of their romantic flings, divorces and personal problems. But she is the first celebrity to go to trial with her gripes.

Real Bullet Kills Actor In Gunfight Rehearsal

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Stuntman Jorge Romero loaded the pistol, as always, just before a rehearsal of the Wild West show gunfight at the Last Chance Saloon.

But instead of the harmless wad of toilet paper usually stuffed into the shell casing, a real bullet was in the gun and Romero fell dead with a lead slug in his back.

"It was a freak accident, a very stupid thing," said saloon owner Dan Druckman. "They load their guns with black powder and toilet paper. We've never had an accident here since we've been doing the shows."

Romero, 31, a steelworker, was rehearsing the gunfight skit Saturday at the saloon with the Poverty Gulch Outlaws acting troupe. He was a member of the troupe, which has occasionally performed at the saloon during the past five years.

Investigators said Romero apparently loaded the gun with live ammunition sometime before the skit and gave it to Eddie Aldrege, a fellow actor.

The script called for Aldrege to knock down Romero, grab his .22-caliber revolver and fire a blank into the floor.

Instead, the real bullet pierced Romero's lower back.

Police Sgt. Warren Turner said it appeared the killing was the result of "an oversight" by Romero, and not suicide. An autopsy has been ordered.

Witnesses said Romero had purchased the gun early Saturday.

"We don't think he had any intention to do that," Turner said. "We think it was just an oversight on his part. It is a liquor establishment, but we don't know if alcohol was involved. There is just no way for me to make that kind of judgment."

Astronomers Say Data Back Big Bang Theory

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The discovery of two distant galaxies has given scientists a chance to glimpse "back in time" toward the very beginning of the universe and their observations support the big bang theory of its creation, astronomers reported today.

The galaxies, both larger than the Milky Way system and the "farthest out" ever found by scientists, are 10 billion light years away, meaning information now reaching earth shows them as they existed 10 billion years ago.

Data from the two galaxies supports the big bang theory, which contends the universe began 18 billion years ago with a primordial explosion, forming stars and galaxies from expanding gases, a report issued today said.

The discovery means that astronomers "are looking more than half way back in time toward the moment that many believe marks the beginning of the universe," said the report by astronomers Hyron Spinrad of the University of California and Harvey Butcher of the Kitt Peak National Observatory.

Eventually, scientists may get to the very edge of the universe and then determine whether we are in an "open" world that is expanding indefinitely or a "closed" universe, fated to eventually collapse on itself, the report published in the Astrophysical Journal said.

Previous "farthest out" galaxies were reported six years ago at the distance of about 8 billion light years.

Spinrad said improved equipment is becoming available to enable scientists to see objects another two or three billion light years away. Spinrad said that not too far in the future they may be able to measure light from galaxies 16 billion light years away.

PRO-IZED[®] Treated Cottonseed . . .

More Money In Your Pocket

PRO-IZED cottonseed is always treated with both a contact fungicide and the systemic fungicide Vitavax[®] to control seed, early seedling and soil-borne diseases, including Rhizoctonia solani.

Gustafson's PRO-IZED flowable cottonseed treatments are specially formulated with a chemical binder to virtually eliminate chemical dust-off. This means more chemical stays on the seed, resulting in improved disease control.

Since cotton diseases, insects and soil conditions vary, Gustafson's PRO-IZED system is comprised of numerous chemical combinations tailored to your growing region. New options, including systemic insecticides and trace elements, will be available for the 1981 season.

TODAY'S STOCK PRICES

Stock Mart Mixed In Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned mixed today, pausing after last week's strong gains. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks, up 7.77 points Friday and 38.49 for the week, fell 4.10 to 970.48 in the first two hours of trading.

Gainers outnumbered losers by a 7-6 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues. Precious metals stocks lost ground as gold prices in Europe and New York dropped sharply.

The afternoon gold price in London was $465 an ounce, off more than $20 from Friday. Prices for the precious metal were down sharply in New York. Analysts attributed the decline to steep gains by the U.S. dollar against European currencies.

Among oil issues, Mobil was up 1 1/2 points, Texaco gained 3/4 to 40 1/2, and Getty Oil rose 1/4 to 72 1/2. Ralston Purina led the NYSE most-active list, up 1/4 at 11 in trading that included a block of 500,000 shares changing hands at 11.

Last week's gains marked the Dow's best weekly showing since it climbed 53.93 points last Nov. 10-14 following President Reagan's election victory. Big Board volume totaled 19.59 million shares at noon, down from 25.45 million at the same point on Friday.

The NYSE's composite index dropped .02 to 75.11. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .18 at 339.12.

Dollar Value Up In Europe LONDON (AP) — The dollar, supported by high U.S. interest rates, surged in European and Asian trading today, while gold prices hit an 11-month low in London, where the precious metal fell to $474.50 a troy ounce.

In London, the British pound slumped 2 1/2 cents to $2.1778 from Friday's $2.2030. It was the dollar's highest exchange rate against the pound since April 9, 1980, when the pound closed at $2.1760.

The pound lost 17 cents — or 7 percent of its value — against the dollar in February, on market expectation of a reduction of at least 2 percent in the Bank of England's Minimum Lending Rate.

Mid-morning dollar rates in Europe, compared with late Friday, included: 2.1525 West German marks, up from 2.1380; 1.9885 Swiss francs, up from 1.9625; 5.0625 French francs, up from 5.0213; 2.3905 Dutch guilders, up from 2.3670; and 1.0355 Italian lire, up from 1.0285.

Earlier in Tokyo, the dollar climbed to the 210-yen level for the first time since mid-December, closing at 210.75 yen from 208.85 Friday. In later European trading, the dollar rose further to 211.13 yen.

Panel Decision Aids TIA Takeover Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board dealt a severe blow today to the proposed merger of Continental and Western airlines by refusing to block attempts by Texas International Airlines to acquire controlling interest in Continental.

The CAB approved the proposed Continental-Western merger but then said it had no authority to prevent Texas International from acquiring a controlling block of Continental shares that would be used to prevent the merger.

"I don't think we should be in the business of trying to thwart hostile takeovers," CAB member George Dalley said. Continental and Western, both based in Los Angeles, for months have been trying to get approval to merge and thereby form the nation's seventh-largest air carrier.

Earlier this year, however, Texas International began buying Continental stock and let it be known it would use its block of shares to prevent a merger with Western.

The CAB in a 5-0 vote gave approval for establishing a voting trust of up to 48.5 percent of Continental shares to be used by Texas International against the Continental-Western merger at a shareholders' meeting March 12.

But he said, "Our role is just a very limited one" and the board must confine its decision on whether the takeover attempt has "anti-competitive aspects, and I just don't think it does."

Committee Considers Bill To Block Drug Schemes

AUSTIN (UPI) — The old trick of going to six different doctors and six different drugstores to get an extra supply of powerful drugs will no longer work if a citizen committee has its way.

The Senate Affairs Committee today will consider a bill blocking such schemes that is part of the Texans' War on Drugs package.

It would set up a state computer to keep track of who is prescribing, who is filling prescriptions and who is buying how much of the Schedule II and Schedule III drugs considered dangerous.

The drugs listed in the computer would include diazepam, prelidin, amphetamines and methadone. The information in the computer would be unavailable to the public.

The information would be coded and the computer would flag doctors, pharmacists or consumers with aberrant patterns of prescribing or consuming.

Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, sponsor of the bill, said it also would cut down on prescription forgery. He said that because prescription blanks are not controlled now, forgery is easy and widespread.

"There are a very few pharmacists or doctors who do abuse (the right to dispense drugs) and they are hard to locate," Farabee said. "There are individuals who get 13 prescriptions and sell them on the street or funnel them to street sales."

The bill would require prescriptions for the dangerous drugs to be written on triplicate, serially numbered forms printed by the state on special, hard-to-duplicate paper.

The pharmacist would turn over one copy of each prescription to the Department of Public Safety.

Town Operates Without Buses

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A makeshift fleet of church buses, vans and taxis helped take up the slack today as residents faced their first workday without city buses, which were parked because there is no money to run them.

"Things seem to be running as planned," said Len Gedgoudas, a coordinator, "but it may be too early to tell." Gedgoudas said he had received "a lot of calls this morning" at City Hall from people interested in catching the church buses and vans.

Tech, SMU Open Tourney

By CHUCK McDONALD
Assistant Sports Editor

The irony of the situation is obvious. Only two teams have defeated Tech at home all year long and only once has a game been anything but close. The lone exception to the rule was a 58-48 SMU victory.

Saturday night, Tech dropped a 64-61 heartbreaker to the Southwest Conference league champion Arkansas Razorbacks. Prior to that Tech had beaten everybody but the 3-13 SMU Mustangs in the Municipal Coliseum.

Tonight at 7:30 p.m. Tech will face the Mustangs in the first round of the SWC post-season tournament. For SMU, there has to be some solace in playing a team that the Mustangs defeated by 10 at home and lost to by only three on a neutral site (Dallas Reunion Arena).

"I don't know where that would give us an advantage," said SMU boss Dave Bliss. "The main thing is that this is another chance for us to keep the home from losing the home-court advantage. We're just working on trying to get to be a better team. We don't have the muscle inside and Tech's a well-coached basketball team," reported Bliss. Tonight will mark the final home-court appearance of seniors Ralph Brewster, Ben Hill, Leslie Nichols and 5-9 guard Dwight Williams. Williams was the key factor in Tech's 51-48 victory over SMU only weeks ago.

"SMU outplayed us in both games," noted Myers Sunday. "They played a good game against us here and we were able to beat them only in the last minutes of the game in Dallas. They haven't been out of many games this year. "SMU is sound," added Myers. "They don't make many mistakes. (David) Piehler has just been outstanding against us. Their guards, Piehler and Dave Gadis, have been harder for us to contain than anybody this year."

"I don't relate something like that," SMU's 51-48 loss to Tech, said Mustnag coach Dave Bliss, "I wish we would've played a little better because that was a good lesson for our team to learn. If we would've played a little better, we could've won that game."

Indeed, the Ponies had a chance to make it two in a row over Tech but a gutsy comeback by Dwight Williams and several other reserves was enough to lift Tech to a win in that contest. And against Arkansas on Saturday, the Raiders played well enough to send a shiver down the spine of the Razorbacks on more than one occasion.

"That game against Arkansas was pretty emotional," admitted Tech's Myers. "We've got to be up for SMU now though because they've played us a couple of very close games. They don't make many mistakes because they are such a well-coached team."

Tech will open with the lineup of 6-6 junior Clarence Swannegan — who had 16 points and 12 rebounds against Arkansas — at the post and 6-6 Ben Hill and 6-8 Ralph Brewster at the post. In the backcourt will be 6-4 junior Jeff Taylor, who had 16 against the Hogs, and 5-10 freshman Bubba Jennings.

SMU will counter with 6-8 Johnny James, who's scored four points in two games against the Raiders this year, at the post and Kirk Lundblade and senior Gordon Welch at the forward spots. At the guards will be Piehler and Gadis — both of have hurt Tech in the past.

The Raiders will have to find some way to contain the SMU guards if they expect to advance to the SWC post-season tournament in San Antonio.

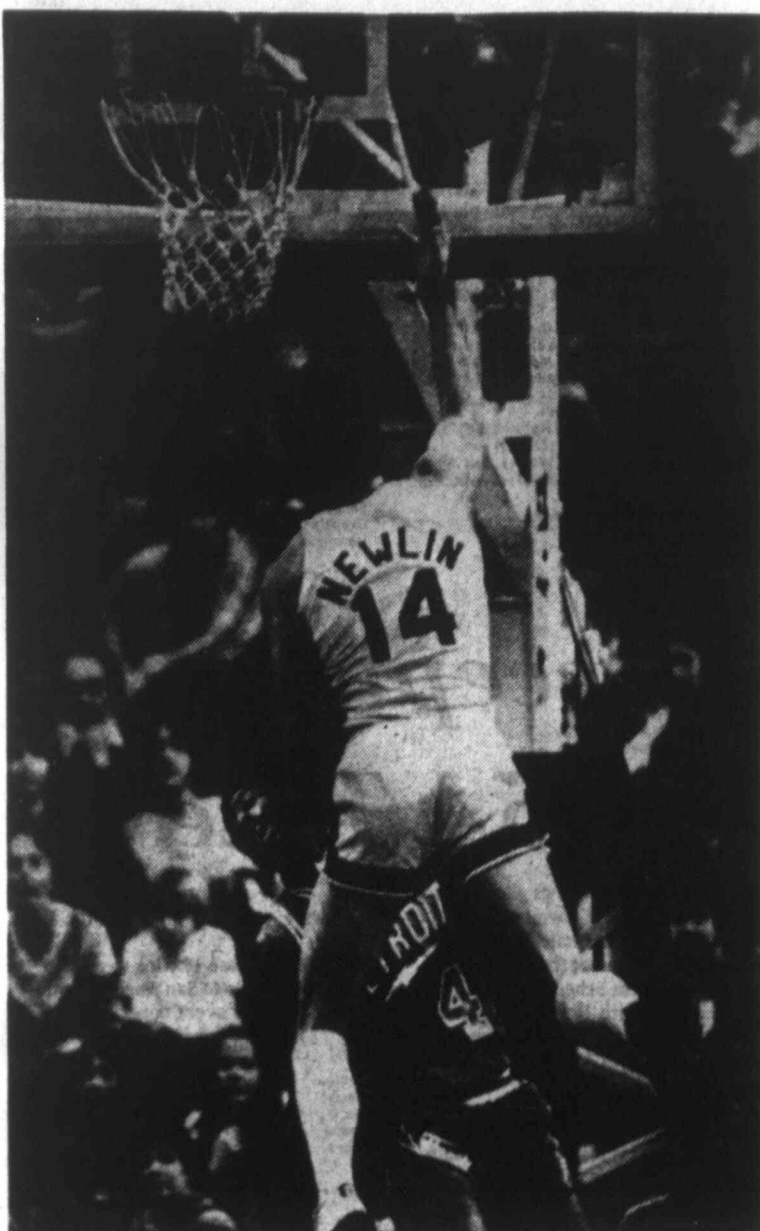

"We played hard and I feel like we will be okay when the tournament begins," said Myers following the loss to Arkansas. "We just have to get ready for SMU on Monday night and try to concentrate on that for now."

Earl Scudday Some Notes Slipped Through The Bars

PRO FOOTBALL OFFICIALS are watching the strike situation in major league baseball with more than usual interest. The NFL's agreement with the players' union expires after the upcoming season, following five years of labor peace, and chances are that the loop will be facing a strike threat by this time in 1982.

There have been few trade rumors floating around the NFL since the Super Bowl, but activity will pick up about April 1 when most of the clubs will get down to the serious business of preparing for a new season. There were some early reports that Oakland would trade quarterback Dan Pastorini to Green Bay for wide receiver James Lofton, but insiders doubt the swap will be made. Dallas Cowboy president Tex Schramm, for one, says he "would not touch Pastorini with a 10-foot pole." Most observers agree that the deal would help Oakland more than the Packers.

Bum Phillips, the former Houston Oilers mentor who now is major domo at New Orleans, says he will use his No. 1 pick in the draft — topping the entire field — to grab South Carolina running back George Rogers. Unless, of course, the Saints want that premier pick for a couple of established NFL standouts. Gil Brandt, Dallas' superscout, thinks Rogers is the best running back available this year, but not a franchise-saver in the class with O. J. Simpson or Billy Sims.

REPORTS THAT THE NEW owners of the Denver Broncos paid more than $30 million for that NFL franchise must bring joy to Dallas' Clint Murchison. Murchison and a few pals paid just $600,000 when the Cowboys joined the league in 1960. Experts say the Cowboys now would bring close to $50 million if the club ever was placed on the market. That would be some kind of capital gain.

Two persons who know Dallas coach Tom Landry very well have different opinions on how long the veteran mentor will remain at his present post. Schramm scoffs at reports Landry may retire soon, emphasizing that the taciturn Texan is in excellent health and still enjoys the challenge of competition. But retired quarterback Roger Staubach, in his recent book, said he would not be surprised if Landry hangs up his whistle and coaching cap in another year or two, possibly to enter the political arena.

Dan Reeves, offensive coordinator of the Cowboys and heir-apparent to Landry, shrugs off his chances of taking over the top job any time soon. "Tom is in better shape than I am and will be coaching the Cowboys when all the rest of us are gone," Reeves asserts. Reeves, incidentally, was very interested in the Texas Tech job before Raider officials announced that they did not want a pro assistant.

CHARLIE WATERS, the popular strong safety of the Cowboys, still has not given a hint on whether he will try to play again this year. At the time of his most recent knee surgery, Waters said he would withhold a decision until the off-season conditioning program is launched April 1. If he can regain top form, physically, he wants to play one more year. But if his knee continues to ail...

Recent salary disclosures in the play-for-pay ranks must give Staubach a shock. He knows now that running back Tony Dorsett is getting nearly twice as much money as he ever did. Dorsett makes more than $300,000 a year, according to reliable sources, while Staubach's final contract with the Cowboys reportedly called for about $165,000 in base pay. The Dodger is not crying, though. "They paid me what I asked," he admits. Staubach has no financial worries, even so, with his booming commercial real estate business and video income.

COWBOY OFFICIALS ARE not happy over recent statements by Preston Pearson. The 36-year-old pass receiver told newsmen that it was obvious the club did not want him back, since they had not made him a salary offer. That was a blatant bid for sympathy, since Pearson has known for weeks that he will not be included in Dallas' plans for the '81 season. He has been a free agent since Feb. 1, with the power to make a deal with any other team. Most will pass him by because of his age, $100,000 salary and reputation as a clubhouse lawyer.

Linebacker D.D. Lewis and defensive tackle Larry Cole, two other veterans in the gray area, will be invited to participate in off-season conditioning drills and are included in Landry's planning. Both have lost a step of speed, but are wise old war-horses who provide inspiration for the troops.

And did you hear about the wide receiver at a very small college who contacted the Cowboys about playing in the NFL? He is marginal in size and speed and played so far back in the boondocks that you cannot find the town on a map. But he wrote Brandt that the 'Pokes should contact his agent in San Francisco to make their offer! Hoo boy...

Another Coach Bites The Dust: Davidson Releases Biedenbach

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Saying "we want to be winners," Davidson College fired head basketball coach Eddie Biedenbach Sunday just hours after the Wildcats were eliminated in the first round of the Southern Conference championship tournament.

Biedenbach, who played at North Carolina State, had coached the Wildcats for three seasons, failing to produce a winner.

Before Saturday night's 90-77 upset loss to Marshall, Biedenbach was on his way to the best season yet during his time at Davidson. The Wildcats finished the regular season in a three-way tie for the Southern Conference lead and were considered a strong contender for the tournament championship despite an overall record of 13-14.

His earlier teams finished 9-18 and 8-18. Biedenbach's dismissal was announced by athletic director Gene Bingham, who said in a statement that Davidson wants a conference championship and it wants a berth in the NCAA tournament.

But Bingham said the decision to drop Biedenbach was "not a matter of wins and losses."

"After a thorough investigation of the situation in our basketball program, it is the conclusion of our administration that it is not in the best interests of Davidson College or our basketball program to renew coach Eddie Biedenbach's contract," Bingham said.

Regrouped A&M Takes SWC Aim

By The Associated Press

Defending champion Texas A&M hopes tonight to find the back door to the sixth annual Southwest Conference post-season basketball classic in San Antonio by defeating the Texas Christian Horned Frogs — the team that started all the Aggies' troubles.

TCU upset the Aggies in the season opener at Reunion Arena in Dallas back in January, starting a 1-7 slide for A&M. The Aggies reversed the record in the second half to earn fourth place and a first-round tournament host spot against the Horned Frogs.

In other first-round games, Texas entertains Rice while Texas Tech, which tied A&M for fourth, hosts last-place Southern Methodist.

Arkansas, Houston and Baylor got free passes to San Antonio.

The Razorbacks, regular-season champions for the fourth time in five years, will be idle until next Friday night. Arkansas, 11-3 in the regular campaign, is in the top-seeded bracket, meaning it should have an easier road to the tournament finals Saturday night.

The winners of the Tech-SMU and Texas-Rice games Monday night play in a second-round game Thursday night. The survivor gets to play Arkansas.

In the other bracket, Houston got the bye to Friday night because of the tie-breakers although the Cougars were tied with the Baylor Bears for second place at 10-6.

Baylor will play the winner of Monday night's Texas Christian-Texas A&M tussle in the Thursday night double-head-

Angry Steinbrenner Criticizes Jackson

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — What becomes of Mr. October in March?

This was a riddle that upset the brass of the never moribund New York Yankees and titillated rather than irritated the players as they began their first full week of spring training without superstar Reggie Jackson.

"Frankly, I am upset, disappointed, hurt more than angry," fumed Yankee boss George Steinbrenner. "It's time Reggie learned he is not bigger than the Yankees."

George flew out of town immediately after Sunday's Jacksonless workout and left an invisible note to his $3-million property who is playing out the last year of a five-year contract: Don't call me; I'll call you.

"The last guy I want to sit down and deal with now is Reggie Jackson," the owner said.

Steinbrenner had flown into this Yankee training headquarters for a dual purpose — to announce the signing of an old football coaching buddy, Lou Saban, as president of the Yankees, and to talk to Reggie about a new contract.

He succeeded in the first. Jackson's absence left him personally mortified in the second.

Gene Michael, the new Yankee manager, said Jackson, who had been allowed a two-day delay in reaching camp with the rest of the regulars, called from California Saturday to say he would be late.

"I told him I wanted him here," Michael said.

Prior to practice Sunday, Reggie called again and informed Michael he definitely couldn't make it on time.

"I don't know where he was calling from," the Yankees' rookie skipper said. "I told him he should be here. I told him he'd better talk to George."

Jackson attempted to contact Steinbrenner but couldn't reach him.

Steinbrenner estimates the truancy will cost Reggie $2,500 a day in prorated pay from his contract and bonus clauses in addition to the $1,000-a-day routine penalty.

Last year Reggie was two days late and fined $2,000. He said he would tack on another $1,000 for charity if the Yankees would match it. The Yankees did and a New York boys' athletic program received $4,000.

"Reggie must reassess his priorities," Steinbrenner said. "I blame his agent (Matt Merola of New York). If he booked Reggie through Feb 28, it's a silly thing to do."

In New York, Merola said Sunday night he would know today when Jackson would report.

"I figure he'll be there Monday (today) or Tuesday," Merola said. "Other than that, I have no comment."

He declined to answer any other questions.

Jackson has numerous commercial enterprises and does winter sportscasting for ABC-TV.

"Mr. October wasn't Mr. October in 1980," Steinbrenner said. "He didn't drive in a single run in the playoffs. You'd have thought he would have returned with some dedication, be here early."

Yankee players took the absence of "the straw that stirs the drink" — Reggie's own assessment of himself — quite casually. Most of them didn't hear about it until late. Generally, they reacted as did Bob Watson.

"What the heck," commented Watson. "We will be out there on the field and Reggie will trot out as if nothing happened. Then we'll kid him and he'll kid back. And all will be normal again."

The signing of Saban, a 59-year-old veteran administrator with a rich background in both college and pro football, was no surprise. It had been rumored for weeks.

One thing is for certain, there will be no Monterey-South Oak Cliff rematch for the state Class 5A girls' basketball championship.

South Oak Cliff, which had earned three state crowns in the last four years, bowed out of the playoffs Saturday night, losing to Duncanville 52-48 in a regional title game.

Last year, of course, it was the Golden Bears who narrowly defeated the Plainsmen 74-69 in the state title game.

Monterey earned some measure of revenge in the finals of the Queens' Classic in Plainview early in the year, beating the Bears 68-65, but everybody was looking for another one with all the chips on the table.

Instead, the Plainsmen will face San Antonio's Lee High School Friday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the state semifinals. Lee upped its season record to 30-3 Saturday night with a 59-54 victory over perennial power Austin Lanier.

Monterey earned its trip to Austin by knocking off El Paso Irvin 75-67 in the first round and trouncing Lewisville 94-74 in the finals of the Region I-5A tournament.

Those two victories raised Monterey's record to 28-2 on the year. Included in that win column are a pair of decisions against teams who will also play in the state tournament. The Plainsmen beat Class 1A contender Nazareth 64-57 and own a 69-60 win over Class 4A contender Canyon.

In the other Class 5A semifinal game, Duncanville (which felled South Oak Cliff for a 32-3 season mark) will play Clear Creek. Clear Creek stands 27-10 after beating Alief Elisik 57-53 in a regional final.

In Class 4A, Canyon (which beat Mineral Wells 46-44 in overtime) will take its 25-7 record against powerhouse Magnolia (28-2) in a Thursday game at 7 p.m.

The winner of that game will face the winner of the Bay City-Dallas Madison contest. Bay City is now 32-4 while Madison stands 28-6 after beating Carthage 69-66 for a regional title.

Abernathy highlights the Class 3A card, battling Brownsboro at 2 p.m. Thursday. The Antelopes are 33-2 on the year and beat Coahoma 66-50. Brownsboro, now 29-5, knocked off Whitesboro 62-43.

In Class 2A, 29-5 New Deal will play 27-5 Sanger at 11 a.m. Friday. The Lions edged Forsan 42-40 while Sanger tipped Boyd 41-37.

Finally, in Class 1A, three-time defending state champion Nazareth will take a 33-2 record into the tournament opener — an 8:30 a.m. matchup with La Poyner. La Poyner is 31-3 after beating Petty West Lamar 71-54. Nazareth kicked Follett 58-47.

All five state championships will be played Saturday. Class 1A will start the show at 9:30 a.m., Class 3A will play at 11 a.m. and Class 4A at 2 p.m.

Canyon Climbs To Top Of District 1-4A

The Canyon boys' basketball squad made the Eagle sweep of District 1-4A titles official after their game counterparts landed a berth in the state tournament, and Snyder won its 15th consecutive 2-4A game and the district title last week.

The Tigers, who lost their first district game of the season before winning 15 in a row, topped the streak with a 45-43 overtime win over Andrews Tuesday to claim the crown and eliminate a playoff.

Schoolboy Star Picks DePaul

CHICAGO (AP) — A desire to play "before my family and friends" was behind the decision to choose DePaul over Marquette, says Walter Downing, the 6-foot-9 pivotman who is rated by scouting services as one of the top prep basketball prospects in the country.

Although they have one district game remaining — Tuesday night at 7:15 p.m. against Dunbar in Lubbock — the Eagles have already clinched the overall 1-4A crown and a slot opposite Snyder in a bi-district game.

Snyder had tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

Downing, who led top-ranked New Lenox Providence to the Class A Illinois High School basketball title two years ago, made the announcement Sunday.

Canyon clinched no worse than a tie for the second-half title (thus winning the overall title because it also won the first half) with a 77-73 defeat of Borger Friday in Canyon.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

His team is favored to win the championship again this year, and Downing said he made the decision to relieve some of the pressure of recruiting.

The win against Borger brought the second 1-4A basketball title to Canyon this season, as the Eagles' girls' team also blitzed the conference opposition and finished with a perfect 12-0 mark.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

However, athletes cannot sign a binding letter of intent until April 15. He did say that he had not contacted DePaul coach Ray Meyer in advance, but had spoken with Blue Demon center Terry Cummings.

Last week the Eagles won their way into the state Class 4A tournament this weekend in Austin with a pair of victories, an easy bi-district romp and a nail-biting regional win.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

"I feel very good knowing that I will be playing before my family and friends I have known all my life," said Downing. "If more Chicago talent would stay home, there is no reason we wouldn't be dominant power for years to come."

Canyon stomped Monahans 52-27 in the bi-district mismatch Monday, holding Monahans scoreless in the first eight minutes and running up a 24-6 halftime lead.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

Downing has made The Associated Press Class A All-State team three successive seasons and was a unanimous choice the last two times.

"Monahans was kind of frustrated in the first quarter," Canyon coach Lyndon Hardin said. "They turned the ball over a lot against our press." Terry Mayfield scored 21 points and Penny Christopher added 14 for the Eagles.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

Just last Friday he scored 32 points to lead Providence to a 62-26 victory over Driscoll in the championship game of the Lisle Regional.

Friday's regional encounter with Mineral Wells was another matter for the Eagles. Canyon, which had only one close district game, stretched its winning streak to 14 games with a 46-44 defeat of Mineral Wells but needed an overtime period to win the game.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

"I've been associated with Marquette for quite some time and I was closer to them," said Downing, "but I felt I could not make a fair decision based on emotion."

In 2-4A boys' action, Snyder won the right to face Canyon in bi-district by winning the league title in its final game of the regular season.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

"I want to continue my education in Chicago," said Downing. "It's a challenge going to DePaul, but if I have the ability that people say I have, I think I can work into the starting lineup the first year and surely by the second year."

Another factor which might have weighed heavily in Downing's decision is that All-American Mark Agurra, a junior, is expected to turn professional following the NCAA playoffs. That would leave a position open for Downing who is expected to play forward in college.

Snyder did tied for the league's first-half title with Odessa Ector and an Andrews victory would have thrown the race into a probable three-way tie and playoff.

Plainview Accepts Gift Of District 4-5A Title

Plainview, a team most people thought would finish no better than fourth before the season began, walked away with the District 4-5A regular season championship Tuesday night.

And even if the Bulldogs should lose that game, they would have to lose again Saturday night in a rematch before they would be knocked out of the playoffs.

perfect 14-0 conference record. But things were anything but easy for the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs, who, closed out the regular season last Friday night, watched in joy as Hereford won its first district game of the season, knocking off Monterey 46-45 to hand the title to Plainview.

The tournament schedule has Monterey rematching with Hereford Thursday at 6 p.m. in the first game of the tourney, followed by Lubbock High and Coronado playing at 8 p.m.

Included in those 14 wins were an 80-78 triple-overtime to San Angelo Central and a 57-55 thriller over Cooper.

Had the Plainsmen won, they would have finished in a tie with Plainview for the regular season title and a playoff would have been required to decide the second step of the district's elimination process.

The winners of those two games will play Friday morning at 11 and then the winner of that contest will face Plainview at 6 p.m. for the tournament championship.

Monterey 6-2 26-8
Lubbock 4-4 15-15
Coronado 2-4 13-18
Hereford 1-7 4-27

But now that second step — the district tournament in Plainview — begins Thursday evening. For the first time ever, the district coaches voted to have a post-season tournament to decide who would represent the loop in the state playoffs.

But should the Bulldogs lose that game, there would be a game between the regular-season champ and the tournament champ (in essence a rematch of Friday night's game) to decide who will advance to bi-district.

The Plainsmen will travel to Big Spring for a 4 p.m. starter while the Matadors host Odessa Ector at the same time.

"I'm really anxious to get started," Garcia said. "I'm going to use these non-district games to get ready for district and have the kids get used to me. They're working hard at adjusting and are showing great progress. It's just a matter of time."

Monterey, which had enjoyed many successful seasons under coach Bobby Moegle, slumped late in last year's district season and lost to rival Coronado in a league playoff game. The Plainsmen would like to return to post-season play this year.

"We're hoping to achieve better things this year. That will take a lot of hard work."

Estacado, on the other hand, reached the regional playoffs last year under the since-departed Vince Buffamonte and has a return appearance in mind under Hodie Garcia.

Both Moegle and Garcia are happy to begin playing regular season games, to see what they need to work on for the upcoming district races.

"We'll be glad to quit working out against each other," Moegle said. "So far, our practices have shown me we'll have above average pitching this year. That will probably be the key to our team — we'll have to rely on that every week."

Oregon State Wins Again; Kentucky Tips LSU

By The Associated Press
First, the nation's longest winning streak came to an end... and then it didn't. In a Super Sunday of college basketball action, second-ranked Louisiana State had its 26-game winning streak ended by No. 9 Kentucky 73-71.

That put the pressure squarely on No. 1-rated Oregon State, and the unbeaten Beavers, erasing a six-point deficit for the second road game in a row, overtook No. 13 UCLA 82-76, boosting their record to 25-0 and remaining the only team in the country without a setback.

"One by one we're accomplishing all the goals we set for ourselves," coach Ralph Miller said after Oregon State clinched at least a tie for its second consecutive Pacific-10 title. "And it's the first time we've swept UCLA and USC since 1958."

The Beavers also came from behind Friday night to beat Southern California 73-64. "I'd have to say this is my best team at Oregon State," added Miller, who is in his 11th season. "We should be in good shape for the playoffs because we've used a lot of people this year and our players are pretty well rested."

Steve Johnson, the Beavers' 6-foot-10 center, rested some Sunday with foul problems but still scored 26 points. His two free throws 3 1/2 minutes into the second half put Oregon State on top to stay 48-47 and contributed to a 17-3 spurt.

"I liked what I saw today," Brown said of UCLA, "and I still believe on any given night we can win. I like the future here very much, but as for me personally, I'll be on a year to year basis."

After Brown brought up the question of whether he will return to UCLA next year, he declined to answer further questions on that matter. There have been several media reports that Brown will become coach of the New Jersey Nets of the National Basketball Association next season.

Kentucky closed out its regular season by preventing LSU from becoming the first team in 23 years to go through its Southeastern Conference slate without a blemish.

Four Wildcats scored 11 points apiece — Dirk Minniefield, Chuck Verderber, Melvin Turpin and Sam Bowie — to offset a 24-point effort by LSU's Howard Carter while Minniefield also thrilled a packed house of 24,000 at Kentucky's Rupp Arena with his floor leadership and ballhandling.

"I'm proud of this team and of the crowd," coach Joe B. Hall said after the Wildcats turned back a series of rallies by LSU, which never led in the game. "This was the kind of support we needed to wake our young players up. If we'd had a dead crowd, I don't know if the outcome would have been the same."

"It was a difficult position coming in here," LSU coach Dale Brown conceded. In other Sunday action, Edmund Sherod's free throw with four seconds left in overtime gave Virginia Commonwealth a 62-61 decision over Alabama-Birmingham and its second straight Sun Belt Conference post-season tournament crown — plus an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament — while four free throws by Kris Anderson in the final two minutes helped Florida State defeat Marquette 81-78.

Bean Strings Together Fine Rounds, Wins Bay

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Andy Bean had only one disturbing thought after scoring a 7-shot victory in the Bay Hill Golf Classic.

"I talked to Arnold (Palmer, owner and operator of the host Bay Hill Club) early in the week and we agreed that the course was tough enough that something like 10-under (par) would win," Bean said Sunday. The big guy offered a mischievous smile and added: "I'm afraid I might have made Arnold mad at me."

Combining his awesome physical strength with a deft and delicate short game, Bean ripped Arnold's course and humbled the opposition with an 18-under-par performance on a winning score of 266.

"What can you say, when you've played better than you thought anybody was going to?" Bean asked.

The 6-foot-4, 210-pounder, the tour's most noted alligator-wrestler, made it look easy. He started the final round with a 3-shot lead over Tom Watson, the only man in the field with any realistic hopes of overtaking him.

And it took Bean only three holes to put away the struggling Watson. Bean reached the par-5 first in two big blows and 2-putted for birdie. He birdied the second from point-blank range and Watson, playing with him, bogeyed it after missing the green. And Watson left one in a bunker on the third and bogeyed again.

Bean suddenly had a 7-shot lead.

"That was pretty much the ball game," Watson said.

"I couldn't catch the big fellow. He didn't make any mistakes and I made too many. He deserves to win. He played well enough to win."

Bean, 27, scored his seventh career victory with a final round 69 and picked up $54,000 from the total purse of $300,000.

"It's nice to win at home," said Bean, a resident of nearby Lakeland. He was trailed through the warm, sunny weather by a large and enthusiastic gallery of relatives, friends and neighbors.

"Winning can be fun when you don't have to grind all the way," he said. "It's fun just to be able to 2-putt and go on about your business and not have to make birdies all the time."

He didn't have to. With the big lead, he had no more pressure than on a walk in the park. He started in front, stayed in front, finished in front. He wasn't challenged at any point. Watson, the only man with a chance, continued to have his problems, particularly with the driver.

"It was a day of frustrations," said Watson, golf's Player of the Year for the past four seasons but battling some swing problems so far this year. He's taking a two-week break in an attempt to get his game back on track.

He finished second at 273 with a closing 73, two over par.

Curtis Strange birdied four holes in a row over one stretch on the back nine and took third at 275 after a 67. Rookie Mark O'Meara, a former national amateur champ, was next at 276. He lost three strokes to par over the last four holes in his closing 72.

No one else was within 10 shots of the runaway leader.

Palmer shot a closing 76 and had a 294 total.

Renewed Acquaintance Excites Kingman, NY Mets

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The return of Dave Kingman to the New York Mets could signal a brief round of musical fielders as they try to nurse the controversial slugger back to full strength.

Kingman, traded away by the Mets in 1977 when he and then-board chairman M. Donald Grant couldn't agree on a salary, was reacquired from the Chicago Cubs Saturday by the Mets' new ownership. The Mets sought Kingman despite a bruised shoulder which kept him out of half of last season's games.

"We plan to bring him along gradually, not to rush him in the spring," general manager Frank Cashen said. "If that means occasionally playing first base, we can do that, too."

Manager Joe Torre was on Cashen's wavelength. "If I have to play him at first base," Torre said, "I could move Rusty Staub to left field and Joel Youngblood to third base."

Also coming to the Mets in exchange for outfielder Steve Henderson and a reported $100,000 cash payment to the Cubs is Kingman's $240,000-a-year contract, which the Cubs refused to renegotiate, and his reputation as a man tough to get along with.

But before leaving San Diego for a flight to Chicago to settle personal matters (he's due to arrive in St. Petersburg on Wednesday), Kingman observed: "I'm looking forward to coming back to New York. I had two good years there and I hear the new ownership is doing a lot of good things with the Mets."

The Mets hit only 61 home runs last year. In 1979, before the shoulder injury which kept him out of half of last season, Kingman led the majors in homers with 48. In his two full seasons with the Mets following 3 1/2 seasons with San Francisco, he hit 36 and 37 homers. Then he was dealt to San Diego, shipped to California by the Padres, traded by the Angels to the New York Yankees, then signed by the Cubs as a free agent on Nov. 30, 1977.

"Dave is probably the first bonafide cleanup hitter we've had since he left," Torre said. And Cashen added: "In addition to the homers he's going to hit, I feel he's going to make Lee Mazzilli and John Stearns and all the people in our lineup better hitters because they'll be getting better pitches to hit."

Rare Miss Ends Murphy's Streak

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — While the ball bounced harmlessly off the iron, Calvin Murphy grimaced but the crowd gave him a standing ovation, sympathizing with the end of the longest consecutive free-throw shooting streak in the National Basketball Association.

Murphy, the Houston Rockets' pint-sized guard, had hit 78 free tosses in a row before blowing his first try in Sunday's 102-86 loss to San Antonio.

He did not go to the free-throw line until deep in the third quarter and when the ball bounced off to the right, he turned and walked away — clenching his fists in front of him and closing his eyes.

It was his first miss from the free-throw line since Dec. 27. On Feb. 19 he had passed Rick Barry's previous NBA record of 60 straight charity tosses.

Although Murphy turned away and winced, 11,245 San Antonio fans stood and applauded the feisty little guard, showing their appreciation for his remarkable skein.

"I'm not heartbroken," Murphy said later. "What goes up must come down."

The 32-year-old, 10-year veteran from Niagara was both the oldest and shortest man on the court in Sunday's 102-86 win by San Antonio, but he showed his stamina late in the game when he sailed into the second-row seats after Spurs' rookie Reggie Johnson fouled Murphy on a driving layup.

After a hush fell over the crowd when it took the spunky guard several minutes to rise from the concrete floor, Murphy limped to the free-throw line and canned his first shot. But he missed his second free throw of the game on the next shot.

"I set goals for myself and I wanted to see how close I could get to 100," he said. "It was fun while it lasted. I enjoyed the publicity. Now I'll just have to start another (streak)."

Also coming to the Mets in exchange for outfielder Steve Henderson and a reported $100,000 cash payment to the Cubs is Kingman's $240,000-a-year contract, which the Cubs refused to renegotiate, and his reputation as a man tough to get along with.

But before leaving San Diego for a flight to Chicago to settle personal matters (he's due to arrive in St. Petersburg on Wednesday), Kingman observed: "I'm looking forward to coming back to New York. I had two good years there and I hear the new ownership is doing a lot of good things with the Mets."

The Mets hit only 61 home runs last year. In 1979, before the shoulder injury which kept him out of half of last season, Kingman led the majors in homers with 48. In his two full seasons with the Mets following 3 1/2 seasons with San Francisco, he hit 36 and 37 homers. Then he was dealt to San Diego, shipped to California by the Padres, traded by the Angels to the New York Yankees, then signed by the Cubs as a free agent on Nov. 30, 1977.

"Dave is probably the first bonafide cleanup hitter we've had since he left," Torre said. And Cashen added: "In addition to the homers he's going to hit, I feel he's going to make Lee Mazzilli and John Stearns and all the people in our lineup better hitters because they'll be getting better pitches to hit."

Realistic Movie Stars Handicapped Children

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Viewers will be asked to do something extraordinarily difficult tonight when NBC airs "The Acorn People," a two-hour movie dealing with handicapped children.

In the sugar-coated world of fluffy sitcoms and dramatic shows dedicated to violence and puerile sex, viewers are seldom called upon to face reality, especially any reality that would make them uncomfortable.

In that respect, perhaps nothing brings more anguish to human beings than the sight of deformed and crippled youngsters. It is human nature to avert the eyes, to shut the image from one's mind.

It's probably a form of cowardly compassion. But the little minds in those twisted bodies perceive the horror they create in normal people. It adds a cruel dimension to their burden.

On the other hand, people strong and compassionate enough not to cringe, who are able to treat them as normal human beings, illuminate and fulfill the lives of the handicapped.

That, essentially, is what "The Acorn People" is all about.

Taken from Ron Jones' short novel, it tells the story of a cynical counselor who arrives at a summer camp and is bitterly resentful that he hasn't told in advance that the campers are handicapped.

NBC and Universal Television shied away from using real handicapped children. Both outfits wanted to minimize actual footage of kids with missing limbs, twisted bodies and other deformities.

Because of their reluctance, it took three full years for executive producer Larry Bressner and the film's star, Ted Bessell, to get "The Acorn People" made their own way—using real handicapped youngsters.

They insisted the children should not be glossed over or in any way made to look more appealing to the viewer. Otherwise the entire point of the film would be lost.

"I was horrified the first time I visited a camp for handicapped children out in Malibu," Bessell said. "That's exactly the reaction of the counselor I play."

"It is also the reaction of everyone else who encounters a group of little children who are deformed. I knew I wanted to make this project but nothing could prevent me from freezing up when I saw them."

"The kids ranged in age from 10 to 14 and were handicapped from multiple sclerosis, spina bifida, muscular dystrophy, thalidomide results and birth defects. Some were also mentally retarded.

"They're sent to the camp for a couple of weeks by their parents, but the horrible thing is that when the bus returns them to Hollywood, some of the parents aren't there to pick them up. They simply abandon the kids!"

Bessell became obsessed with getting the picture made, joining Bressner in his fight against the studio and network from pretying up the children.

DR. LAMB

Sensible Diet Wanted

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — Can you send me a sensible diet, perhaps one I can use for life? I'm a 23-year-old female, 5-foot-5 and my weight fluctuates between 135 and 145. It fluctuates because I'm always dieting. I just can't seem to lose any more.

Although I have an office job, I'm very active. I bowl, play tennis and softball. Last spring I dropped 25 pounds in three months with a diet of under 1,000 calories a day but I was literally starving. When I started eating three sensible meals a day I gained back about 10 pounds. I have cut out bread and potatoes on occasion have eaten hardly anything, so why can't I drop 15 or 20 pounds without having to starve for life? Just once I'd like to be able to go out to dinner with my boyfriend and order a juicy steak, fries or pizza without worrying about getting into my designer jeans the next day.

DEAR READER — What makes you think you should weigh less than 120? You are not a short woman, and women naturally have more fat tissue than men. If they are too skinny it affects their hormone balance and may even cause them to stop menstruating. That fat tissue has a role in forming hormones — maybe nature is trying to protect you from yourself.

Your feast or famine approach is one problem. I am glad you recognize you need a lifetime program. You need to find the right balance of calories for your level of activity to maintain a healthy weight level. A lot of your sudden weight shifts are from losing normal body water and regaining it — water in, water out — but it doesn't do a thing for fat deposits.

You can use the basic diet plan in The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight-Losing Diet, which I am sending you. Others who want this 1,200 calorie diet can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. You may need to add low calorie foods to it to bring up your total calorie level for weight maintenance when you have reached your goal.

While bread and potatoes with added fat in preparation can be a problem, fats and concentrated sweets are the major sources of calories. Fat is hidden everywhere in food and learning to eliminate it is often what you need to do for a lifetime of good eating without getting fat.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Please give me some information about heart blocks. My husband is 38 years old and jogs seven or eight miles a day. He was recently told he has a mild heart block contributing to fainting.

DEAR READER — There are right and left bundle branch blocks that are blocks in the conduction system to the right and left side of the heart. A block between the upper and lower chambers of the heart is called an AV block and is the type that may be associated with fainting. That occurs because the heart beats too slowly to provide adequate blood flow to the brain.

Anyone who has fainting episodes from heart block should be evaluated by a heart specialist. Regardless of age, that may be an indication for a heart pacemaker.

Now, there are many causes for fainting, and your husband may just have a slow heart rate because he is a distance runner, so don't come to premature conclusions. But it is worth an evaluation by a specialist.

Exiled Author Finds New Life In U.S.

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif. (AP) — Exiled Soviet author Vasily Aksyonov found at least one way that life in America is more restricted than in Russia. He was stopped for driving 75 mph on a wide desert highway on his trip to become a writer in residence at the University of Southern California.

"There is no strict limitation of speed in Russia. I thought I would have difficulty with the California highway patrolman because I was a Russian citizen, but that was not a problem," Aksyonov said.

"Then, when we arrived here a few hours later, I was told for the first time my Russian citizenship had been taken away," said Aksyonov.

The 48-year-old writer had known that permanent exile was a possibility because he was among the "Metropole" group of 23 Soviet writers who banded together two years ago to have their rejected works published outside Russia — away from the confines of official and unofficial censorship.

When two of the Metropole group were banished from the Soviet writers' union, Aksyonov and two others resigned from the union in protest.

"My wife and I left Russia in July. It was clear they wanted me to leave. We were granted Soviet passports, and as the passports were issued they warned me, 'You can keep your citizenship if you have good behavior.' When I asked what they meant by bad behavior, they wouldn't elaborate."

Aksyonov and his wife, Maya, each have one child. Aksyonov's son, Alex, is an art student in Moscow. His wife has a daughter, Elena Greenberg, who emigrated with the couple last summer and lives in Seattle.

"My son couldn't follow me. He has his mother and grandmother there. He has his art and his friends. But I'm anxious whether in the future I'll see him or not."

A possible cause of the Soviet withdrawal of his citizenship was recent publication outside of Russia of Aksyonov's "The Burn." He said it was a partly autobiographical novel of a writer's existence in modern Russia with flashbacks to Stalinist repression of the 1930s.

Upcoming is publication of "Crimea Island," which Aksyonov described as a tragicomic novel about a fictitious island off Russia — somehow not overrun by the Red Army during the 1917 Communist revolution. He said his mythical island developed in the 20th century into "a prosperous, cosmopolitan mixture of languages and cultures."

Black Cowboy Seeking Stardom

DENVER (AP) — Charley Sampson wears a big black hat and boots, rides wild bucking bulls for a living on the rodeo circuit and just might qualify for the title "King of the Urban Cowboys."

"I'm strictly from the city. I was born right downtown" in the Watts area of Los Angeles into a family of six brothers and six sisters, the 23-year-old black cowboy said as he loafed in the stall area behind the National Western Rodeo here.

The 5-foot-4 Sampson tips the scales at 134 pounds and has specialized in riding the 1,500-to 1,750-pound bulls for six rodeo seasons, the last three as a card-carrying pro with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. He's won 15 times.

Gardens so much he finally talked the owners into a job.

"The guys around the stable had been rodeers and after I started working there I learned roping. That's where I learned to be a cowboy and started going to rodeos."

Sampson said he got started riding rough stock at team-roping jackpot events.

His first year as a pro, Sampson earned $22,000 before "I got hurt by a bull that dropped me to 20th." His second season he earned $7,000 before being sidelined with a broken leg.

He launched this season recently at the National Western by getting bucked off a notorious bull named "Macho Velvet," who only gets ridden two or three times a season.

Sampson plans to enter 115-120 rodeos this season.

"I drive to most rodeos. We car pool. If my schedule's pretty steep, I'll charter an airplane, I've gone to as many as three in one day."

Has he met racism in rodeering?

"If it's out there, I never saw it. Most of these guys I associate with just know I'm here for the same reason they are. To compete. I can't say anything bad about rodeering."

"I like the freedom, the idea I'm my own boss. I don't have to report to anybody. I like the traveling. I've met so many nice people."

Card Trick Involves Counting To Five

By SHARI LEWIS

This is an extra tricky trick because you not only set up your cards in a tricky way, but you count funny! Here's what your friends will see:

You have 10 little piles of cards. You say, "I predict that you are going to pick the 5 pile." The you say, "Tell me any number from 1 to 10." Whatever number they say, you count in that number of piles from one end or the other, and when you turn over the pile at which you arrive, it is indeed "the 5 pile!"

Here's what's sneaky: Each time you turn over a pile, it's a 5 pile of a different sort. For example, when you turn one pile over, there are four 5s (clubs, hearts, spades, diamonds). When you turn over the pile next to it, there are five cards — any five cards. And when you turn over the pile next to that, there's a 3 and a 2, which equals 5. But since your pal doesn't really know what you are going to do, however you get to a "5 pile" is just fine!

Here's how you set up your cards: The first pile and the second one from the left have a couple of cards in them — it doesn't matter how many and it doesn't matter which cards they are. The third pile in from the left should contain four 5s (clubs, hearts, spades, diamonds). The fourth pile in from the left should have any five cards. The fifth pile in from the left can have a couple of cards of any sort. The sixth pile in from the left should have the 3 and the 2, equaling 5. The seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth piles should just be nice little piles of anything at all.

Now, here's the weird counting that you'll have to do:

If, when you say to your friend, "Tell me a number from 1 to 10," your friend says "one," start counting from the left (pointing to one pile for each letter) and count "O-N-E." You'll now be pointing to the third pile, which is, indeed, a 5 pile with four 5 cards. If your friend says "two," do the same thing — "T-W-O" — which will leave your finger on that third pile. If your friend says "three," start from the left and count (instead of spelling) "1-2-3." Once again you'll be pointing to that third pile, which contains the four 5s. If your friend says "Four," spell "F-O-U-R" and you'll be at the pile containing the 5 cards. If your friend says "Five" or "Six," just spell out those numbers and you'll end at a 5 pile.

If your friend says "seven," start from the RIGHT instead of the left, and count (don't spell) "1-2-3-4-5-6-7," at which point your finger will be resting on the pile with the four 5 cards. If your friend says "eight," start from the right and count eight piles, which will leave you pointing to the pile with the four 5s.

For "9" and "10," you spell, starting from the left once again, and you'll have no problem at all!

Today's Brain Twister: Here's a brain twister most people say can't be done (but I know it can): From 19 take 1 and leave 20. Can you figure out the answer? (Look for the answer in Tuesday's Kids-Only Club column.)

Friday's Brain Twister: The largest evergreen tree has the largest cones?

Answer: Cones over 20 inches long grow on the sugar pine in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. (Why not? The tree sometimes grows to be over 250 feet tall!)

"My goal is to be world's champion. Well, with all the injuries I've acquired, I have to take it one day at a time," Sampson said.

His list of rodeo wounds include a knee injury, twice-broken right leg, broken sternum, punctured lung, hyper-extended wrist, pulled groin and two broken fingers.

Sampson admits he's a tad small for a bull rider but "a cowboy like me has an advantage because I get less whip from a powerful bull while a cowboy 6 feet tall will get all the whip" from the bucking, plunging critter.

Sampson said his father had wanted him to be a housepainter like his uncles and grandfather. But a Cub Scout field trip when he was 10 years old scotched that.

"We went on a trip to ride some ponies in the summer of '68. I decided to go back and ride a little more... and I decided that what I wanted to do was be around horses."

TV Inspired Boy Bandit

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 9-year-old boy who held up a bank with a cap gun was inspired by a night of television-watching, his lawyer says.

The culprit, identified only as "Robert," was scheduled to appear in Juvenile Court in Manhattan this week to answer charges that he robbed the New York Savings Bank of $118 last week with what the teller thought was an automatic pistol.

"The night before the incident he was watching 'Rockford Files' and 'Adam-12' and 'Hogan's Heroes,'" his lawyer said. "The following day he walked out of the house, went to the bank with a toy cap gun and a woman behind the counter gave him money."

The attorney said he did not know which of the programs provided the inspiration for the heist. He was with Robert when he surrendered to authorities last week.

The attorney said there was no "Fagin" who directed Robert's hold-up. "He did it all alone," the attorney said last week.

Israeli Planes Bombard Palestinian Guerrillas

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Israeli warplanes bombed Palestinian targets northeast of Tyre in southern Lebanon today in a policy of preemptive strikes against guerrilla forces, the military command announced.

A spokesman said all Israeli warplanes returned safely to base after "scoring accurate hits on designated targets."

It marked the first air raid against Palestinian targets in southern Lebanon since Jan. 29, though Israeli naval vessels, artillery and ground troops have been in action several times since.

The spokesman said the raid was designed to "prevent terrorist reorganization and sorties into Israel."

In Beirut, Palestinian officials said at least six Israeli jet fighters bombed bases just north of Tyre, 53 miles south of Beirut, in the raid that lasted 20 minutes.

The Palestinian news agency Wafa said the attack caused heavy material damage to the village of Abu Al Asswad on the outskirts of Tyre, but there were no reports of casualties.

The raid followed three days of artillery barrages between the Palestinian guerrillas and the Israeli-backed rightist militiamen in southern Lebanon.

Wafa said "Our ground batteries chased the attacking jets and forced them to flee before realizing their aims of striking at Palestinian bases."

A senior defense official said the guerrillas "have been warned that when Israel gets reports that they are planning an attack, we will strike at them first."

"They are now in a condition where instead of planning how to hit Israel, they are constantly concerned about how to defend themselves," he said.

Exactly a week ago today, troops of Israel's tough Golan Brigade conducted their deepest raid by ground forces, striking at a headquarters of the Iraqi-backed Arab Liberation Front.

Israeli military spokesmen said 10 to 14 guerrillas died in the attack on the two-story house at Al Kfour.

On Thursday, Prime Minister Menachem Begin told an audience of civil guards in Jerusalem that Israel's policies of preemptive strikes will continue.

Follower Of Bhutto Hijacks Pakistan Jet

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A follower of Pakistan's executed Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto hijacked a Pakistani airliner today with 159 people aboard and forced it to land in Afghanistan, according to a high Pakistani official.

Pakistan International Airlines announced that the Boeing jet had landed in Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, but gave no additional information. All passengers and crew were reported safe.

The government official said the hijacker identified himself only as Alamgir, during conversation from the cockpit radio, and said he was a member of the Pakistan Peoples Party — followers of Bhutto.

Bhutto was overthrown in 1977 by the present military ruler, Gen. Mohammad Zia ul-Haq, then executed in 1979 for plotting the failed assassination of a political foe. Bhutto's widow, Nusrat, now heads the party, which is part of a new coalition that has announced plans to topple Zia.

Maj. Gen. Rahim Khan, secretary of the Defense Ministry and in charge of the PIA, told reporters some Pakistani political elements seem to be responsible for the hijacking.

An airlines spokesman said the airliner left Karachi at 2:45 p.m. local time today and had been due to arrive at Peshawar airport in northern Pakistan at 4:45 p.m.

The spokesman said that when the plane was between Rawalpindi and Peshawar, the pilot asked Islamabad airport for permission to descend, and was granted it.

But soon after, the plane was observed changing direction and crossing into Afghan airspace headed toward Kabul.

Radio intercepts confirmed the plane landed at Kabul airport at 4:57 Pakistan time. Later, Kabul airport authorities confirmed the plane landed there with passengers and crew safe.

Convicted Murderer Plans To Say Smart Remark Before Execution

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Convicted killer Steven T. Judy intends to get off a smart remark in his final words before his execution, scheduled for next Monday, his foster mother says.

"It's not going to be 'forgive me, public' or anything like this," said Mary Carr of Indianapolis. "He says it's going to be something smart."

Nonetheless, Judy, 24, does feel remorse for drowning three pre-school children, Mrs. Carr, 32, said Sunday.

Judy, 24, was convicted of raping and strangling Terry L. Chasteen, 21, and drowning her three young children in an icy creek near Mooresville. He committed the crimes after stopping along an Indianapolis interstate highway to help Mrs. Chasteen with a flat tire.

He is scheduled to die in the electric chair Monday in what would be Indiana's first execution since 1961. He has refused to appeal the death penalty, saying he would rather die than spend his life in prison.

The state Supreme Court has rejected an appeal of his sentence and there are no legal maneuvers under way to save him. The American Civil Liberties Union says it has not made a decision on whether to intervene in the case.

Mrs. Carr said Judy has thought a lot about what he will say before he dies.

He said his last words "will probably be stick it in your ... you know," Mrs. Carr said.

During a four-hour visit Saturday, Judy told his foster mother that he is looking forward to his execution and believes it will bring him peace.

"He seems real excited about it, real anxious. He get a glow in his eyes and his whole face lights up," she said.

Coast Guard Stops Search For Crew

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The Coast Guard has given up searching for 23 missing crewmen from the burned-out South Korean cargo ship Daerim, with just two survivors recuperating in an Alaska hospital.

Three of the crewmen were rescued, but one died. The other two were flown to an Alaskan hospital.

"As of right now, we're not looking anymore," Petty Officer Robert Cole said Sunday.

The ship, listing to 60 degrees, was under tow by the Soviet salvage ship Pre-danny today, its decks awash in 20-foot seas. Coast Guard officials said they didn't know where the cargo ship was being towed. The three rescued crewmen were taken aboard by Soviet ships.

Twenty crewmen of the 1,500-ton ship tried to flee the smoking vessel Saturday, officials said. One of them was rescued by a Soviet ship, but later died.

Four others remained on the ship. One later went into the water and was believed to have drowned. The other three were thought to have remained on the ship, but when it was boarded Sunday by Soviet sailors, they could not be found.

The decision to abandon the search followed that boarding.

The fire began in a hatch late Friday and spread to the ship's fuel tanks by Saturday morning. It was extinguished by midday, but smoke continued to billow from the hull, the Coast Guard said.

The two crewmen who survived were rescued by a Soviet rescue ship before the others attempted to abandon ship. The survivors were taken from the Soviets by a Coast Guard helicopter and ferried to a hospital in Kodiak, said Coast Guard Petty Officer Trevor Roehl. He said they were reported in "good condition."

Women Urged To Report Harassment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Women in the Army are being urged to rebuke male soldiers who harass them sexually by promptly reporting such incidents.

New guidelines aimed at combatting sexual harassment of women soldiers also warn male troops against "calling females 'Honey,' 'Baby' or by their first name, rather than addressing them by their rank or last name."

"The overwhelming majority of women consider sexual harassment to be abusive, degrading and unwelcome," said a five-page article in Commanders Call, an official publication. "Few feel flattered by whistles, 'cat calls,' or overt propositions, regardless of the circumstances."

"Unfortunately," it said, "Many men feel that verbal comments, gestures and other sexually suggestive actions are acceptable social behavior complimentary to and welcomed by most women and regarded as masculine or 'macho' by men and women alike."

Commanders Call provides guidance to officers and non-commissioned officers in leadership positions in the active Army, Army National Guard and Army Reserve.

"It is incumbent upon the women to reduce the potential for sexual harassment by rebuking those who could call her 'Hon,' put their arm on her shoulder — or proposition her," said the Call, encouraging women to report such incidents.

"If someone in your command tries to tell you, 'That's the way it is,' persist in reporting your complaint."

"The Army is fully committed to a policy that demands respect for the human dignity of its members. ... Allegations of sexual harassment will be treated, at all levels of command, with the seriousness they deserve," it said.

The worst cases involve "outright filthy language yelled from barracks windows or by small groups of soldiers standing by a corner or a barracks entrance."

"Sexual harassment can occur at almost all places on Army posts — PX's, clubs, commissaries, theaters, barracks, work areas, recreation facilities and dining halls," Commanders Call said.

Three Area Convicts Granted Parole

A-J Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements has authorized the parole of three persons convicted of crimes in the Lubbock area and the release under mandatory supervision of two others.

Clements acted on recommendations of the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Freddie R. Carney was paroled to Lubbock County after serving and earning six years of an 18-year sentence. Carney was convicted in Lubbock County in December 1975 of aggravated robbery.

He also was convicted in May 1976 in Tarrant County of burglary.

Daniel Esquivel was paroled to San Patricio County after serving and earning two years of a six-year sentence. Esquivel was convicted in June 1979 in Hockley County of robbery and in August 1979 in San Patricio County of burglary of a vehicle.

Steven O. Flores was paroled to Lubbock County after serving and earning two years of a five-year sentence. Flores was convicted in June 1979 in Lubbock County of forgery.

Mark Copeland was released to Harris County officials after serving and earning all of a two-year term. He was convicted in Donley County of forgery in March 1980.

Mary S. Darrow was released to Harris County officials after serving and earning all of a five-year sentence. Miss Darrow was convicted in November 1978 in Gaines County of forgery by passing. She also was convicted in Harris County in January 1979 of forgery by passing and in October 1977 of theft of auto.
