Commando Rock nears completion

by SSgt. David Galloway

Twelve Reese people are enjoying the wonderful, exhilarating and cold climate of South Korea as Exercise "Commando Rock" comes to a

The exercise, scheduled for completion this week, was designed to demonstrate the Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) capability to provide increased and sustained flying time and Air Training Commands (ATC) capability to augment combatant commands.

More than half of the 250 ATC personnel involved were in the aircraft maintenance field with contingents from munitions, supply, fuels, transportation, medical and operations.

The 8th Tactical Fighter Wing (TFW) at Kusan AB hosted the exercise with their F-4 pilots flying simulated wartime missions requiring quick turn-around and rapid employment. ATC augmentees were intergrated into PACAF organizations directly involved in launch and recovery, maintenance, loading and other support operations. At the mid-point of the exercise, 930 sorties had been flown and put the 8th TFW well on its way to achieving it's goal of 1224 sorties for the 15-day peroid.

Kusan officials say that despite the bitter cold, morale is high as the ATC augmentees, together with their hosts, quick turned aircraft after aircraft sending the F-4D's on their way to fly again and again at record paces.

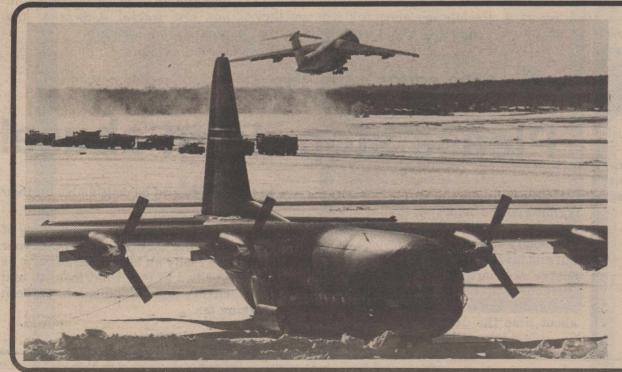

Throughout the exercise, teamwork has been the key that has kept the machinery of the flightline and maintenance shops humming. To get the aircraft launched has been the driving complusion in the attitude of everyone involved, note officials at the exercise site.

Some of the comments heard about the exercise from those involved and those who have come to observe have expressed the positive feelings about this Kusan based exercise. "It is obvious that the ATC personnel came to work", said one supervisor. "Despite the cold weather everyone has maintained a cheerful and 'can-do' attitude,' said another.

One comment overhead from one ATC crew chief seems to sum up the feelings of the ATC members . . . "when we return home, we'll have plenty of stories to relate to our friends and many memories of the trip to this remote air base on the Yellow Sea.

Getting packed Amn. Frank Pohl, shown here packing for the trip to Korea and the "Commando Rock" exercise, will be packing for the return trip soon. The 12-people that Reese sent on the exercise should be back by early March.

Air Force aids blizzard victims

Military Airlift Command, Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve aircrews flew 127 blizzard relief missions in "Snow Blow II" Feb. 8-10.

More than 1,100 passengers and 2,504 tons of equipment were airlifted to Boston, Hartford, Conn., and Providence, R.I., during the three day operation.

Crews and aircraft came from Texas, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri, New York, Maryland, Massachusetts, Delaware, Washington, California, and North and South Carolina.

Cargo included scoop loaders, graders, wreckers, ambulances, trucks communication gear, compressors and generators.

In photo, a C-5 Galaxy leaves behind snow removal equipment while a C-130 Hercules waits to begin another mission.

Support our AFAF

I encourage support for the Air Force Assistance Fund (AFAF) Campaign. This program, which began last Wednesday, is truly one of our most viable and positive means of "taking care of our own." Just some of the ways the AFAF can be used to help smooth "troubled waters" are:

• Emergency financial assistance to Air Force personnel and their dependents during unforeseen crises through Air Force Aid Society loans or grants.

• Educational assistance for the children of Air Force personnel in the form of loans which are interest-free until repayment begins after graduation.

• Air Force Enlisted Widows Home at Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., which has a primary purpose of caring for needy, indigent widows.

• Air Force Village in San Antonio, a home for widows of Air Force officers. A key feature in the Village venefits is that no qualified applicant shall ever be refused admission because of an inability to pay.

You might ask, "Why should I contribute to one of the retirement villages - I will never live there." You may be correct; but, how do you know what your personal situation will be 20 or 30 years from now? A realistic approach is to consider the retirement homes as insurance. They will be there should you ever need them. Further, should you die unexpectedly your widow and children may stay at the respective village for up to one year until your widow can make appropriate plans for the future. Also, the Air Force Aid Society has recently liberalized their policies for emergency assistance loans and grants; changes include an increase in loan limit and a new loan category for automobile repair and insurance.

Our wing goal this year is $8,922. We can contribute through payroll deductions, which is both painless and effective, and at the same time the benefits accuring from the AFA may be those which will ultimately provide you and/or your family with the security of knowing someone will be there should assistance be required.

Remember; the AFAF is the Air Force's only fund raising campaign conducted solely for the benefit of its members and their dependents. Please give generously when your key workers calls on you.

CARE Line

ceditor's Note: All cans to the CARE Line MUST be accompanied by the caller's full name and duty phone so that answers may be provided personally if space is not available in THE ROUNDUP. All information will be held in confidence and names will be withheld from print upon request. Names and numbers are required in order to give quick, personal responses to legitimate questions. Reese people are urged to use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air complaints or comments, if possible. If not, call the CARE Line (Ext. 3273).

Barracks 420

I would like to know if there is anything possible to get barracks-420 into livable condition. The plumbing does not work, the rooms are extremely cold at night and it seems that nothing can be done. I have used the CARE Line once before, I have talked to everybody that should be concerned, but nobody seems to be doing anything. I was wondering if there was anything personal that I could do because I feel that the barracks are not livable.

A1C Leland A. Hancock

A thorough investigation was made into the plumbing and heating problem in Dormitory-420 by the Base Commander, Base Civil Engineer, Chief of Services Division and numerous other personnel. It is our understanding that your specific complaints were that a urinal and sink in the latrine on the second floor were not working and that your room was cold. The plumbing problem had been previously identified and worked several times in the past two months. This investigation revealed that the problem was a faulty valve which failed intermittently. It has been changed. The personnel who checked these problems could find nothing wrong with any of the sinks in the latrine. The heating problem had also been previously identified and checked. The problem was found to be that the fire exit door was propped open and cold air was getting in. As soon as the door was closed the temperature in both the hall and room came up to normal. Another check was made on the heating system and it is working properly.

Central Dormitory Managers and Civil Engineering (CE) inspect the dormitories each Monday for any required repairs. The work is then accomplished on Tuesday. Any additional discrepancies discovered or reported to the dormitory managers are called in to CE as they occur.

We are all greatly concerned with conditions in our dormitories. When a problem exists, it receives a great deal of attention. However, we need the total cooperation of the dormitory residents in properly and immediately reporting malfunctions to either their first sergeants or the dormitory managers and using equipment and resources in the manner in which they are designed. There are some who, rather than report a problem just gripe about it, or worse yet attempt to perform selfhelp or "boot" maintenance. This causes more time spent on repairs, upsets those who have to make the repairs and takes away monies which would be used to make improvements. The dormitory residents are in control and only through their cooperation can this problem be solved.

Cars killing grass

This problem isn't just mine, it's a problem for a number of airmen who live in Dormitory 420.

It seems that cars have been driving and parking on the grass area between 420 and 320. There is not much grass here and this spring and summer there will be no place to play football or throw a frizbee. It is all going to be sand.

For the past couple of months these cars, about 6 right now parked out between the dorm, that are not even in the lot area and are way up near the Chow Hall. This is not a parking area and never has been.

I would like to see something done about the parking area, at least by marking off the area. And, these cars should be cited now and then

I called the Security Police a little while ago, about 5:30 p.m. and they said they would send someone over just as soon as they could get to it. Well, no one showed up. It has been like that. If this is the case I would like to park my car out here too. Out in the middle of nowhere where I wouldn't have any car dents. I park my car over in the NCO parking lot.

I would appreciate it if you could look at it and see if anything can be done.

No name given

You've got a good point and I share your aggrevation with those who insist upon parking in other than designated parking areas. The Security Police have issued more than a few parking citations during the past month for vehicles parked on the grass. I'm asking commanders to view the violators more critically.

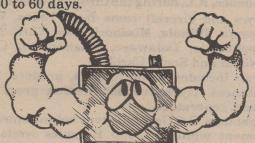

Your call to the Security Police came at a busy time, but they did respond after closing the golf course gate and after performing required fund escorts. There were citations issued as the result of your call.

Thanks for giving me an opportunity to flash a "Park Legally" message. With cooperation there will be grass (and not tire tracks) decorating the grounds this spring.

Energy tips

Keep all vents and outlets clear. Do not block the air flow; heat the room, not the back of some object.

Dirt and dust absorb heat, so, for maximum heating efficiency, keep all heating fixtures, vents, outlets, and radiators clean. Clean filters when required, at least every 30 to 60 days.

Letter to the editor

Please stop dorm abuse!

I'm appealing to the people living in the dormitories for help.

Come on guys, the senseless destruction of property shows a lack of respect for one-self and his friends. The first time a 24 hour charge of quarters duty get under way everyone will be like caged animals. I personally know no one wants that. It's about time the dormitories straightened up, or is it impossible for grown-up people to take action and be responsible for their own homes?

To the (hopefully) small percentage of vandals in the dormitories, I hope your proud. It's really an accomplishment to be the one or two to ruin what freedom and responsibility lots of others have been working for.

mines. Stimulants are often called uppers, pep pills, speed, bennies, cartwheels, dexies, hearts, crystal and meth. Amphetamines are the most abused stimulants.

Q. Do stimulants have medical uses?

A. Yes, but they are limited. Current medical use of amphetamines is restricted to treatment of narcolepsy (a rare disorder characterized by an uncontrollable need for sleep), hyperactive children, and for short term appetite control. Amphetamines may also be used for other disorders, like epilepsy or parkinsonism, although other drugs are considered better for treatment of these disorders.

Q. What effects do amphetamines have?

A. In small amounts amphetamines produce a sense of alertness and well-being for a short time. Hunger may be reduced and short term performance may be improved in a tired person. Taken intravenously in large amounts, amphetamines produce a euphoria (high) which decreases over a few hours. When the effects wear off the user feels depressed and sluggish. Reinjection of amphetamines relieves these symptoms; however, larger

A. An occasional user may take the drug to push himself beyond his normal physical limits. He may want to stay awake to drive, cram for an exam, or do well in an athletic contest. This kind of abuse rarely leads to serious problems, but it can. A second type of abuser takes excessive amounts of stimulants for long periods of time. Such a person is drug dependent. Some abusers inject massive doses of stimulants intravenously once or up to a dozen times a day. This kind of use can cause death.

same effects. This cycle can go on for days until a person is physically exhausted. Shakiness, itching, muscle pains and tension are common, collapse and death may occur.

Q. What are the physical complications of amphetamine use?

A. A marked increase in blood pressure is common and abnormal heart beats have occurred. Brain damage from large quantities has been demonstrated in animals. Many persons who abuse amphetamines may also neglect their body in various other ways. Kidney failure, hepatitis, drastic weight loss, malnutrition and infection from unsterile equipment are some physical hazards.

Q. What are the psychological complications of amphetamine abuse?

A. A person who uses large amounts of amphetamines may become overactive, irritable, suspicious and sometimes violent. A condition resembling paranoid schizophrenia, with severe delusions of persecution and hallucinations often occur in those who use high dosages of amphetamines.

Heritage activities end

The final two special events planned for this year's Black Heritage observance at Reese will be held tonight and tomorrow.

"Moar" backed up by "Classie Ballon" will perform at the NCO Open Mess from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. "Squeeze" returns tomorrow night for a four-hour show at the Mathis recreation Center. The soul-sound group will be on stage from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. The two dances put the finishing touches on a special week-long observance here. February is Black Heritage month, but, sponsors of the observance here opted for a single week, crammed with activity.

The local observance started Sunday with a performance by the Ford Memorial Choir at the base Chapel. Bishop J. E. Alexander was the guest speaker. Monday night the base theater was the site of a fashion and talent show. A special movie was shown on Tuesday night with Dr. Floyd Perry, assistant Dean at Texas Tech, commenting afterwards.

The big "event" was held Wednesday night with Black leader Carl Stokes, scheduled as the guest speaker during a special Black History Week dinner at the Officers' Open

Local acts reach ATC; eye world-wide contest

The 25th annual Air Force Talent Contest will be held March 14-21 at McGuire AFB, N.J., and with any luck some Reese entertainers should be there.

Eight local performers will compete early in March at the Air Training Command contest at Lackland AFB, Tex. Winners there will advance to the Air Force (World Wide) contest at McGuire.

Joe Perron, Mathis Recreation Center director and a veteran of talent competitions, says that Reese stands a "good" chance of having at least two winners at the command level.

"Sgt. Orin Guthrie (self-accompanied vocalist) and TSgt. Loren Beck (comedy) will be hard to beat and A1C Kenneth Cochran could nab the master of ceremonies gold," said Perron. "We (Reese) didn't send anyone to command that we don't think has a chance to win."

Sturon defends crown; IM volleyball loop opens

By A1C Charlie Mathews

Student Squadron's first team will try to defend its intramural volleyball title when league play opens next week, but, a new kid on the block may make that difficult.

Challenging Sturon-1 for the "favorite" billing heading into loop play will be the Rattler varsity. Although ineligible for Commander's Trophy Points, the varsity squad will be trying to snare the league gold while getting in shape for Air Training Command competition. The women's varsity will also compete in the nine-team circuit.

League action opens Wednesday night. The schedule will match the teams in a single round-robin of action with the top four teams earning berths in the post-season playoffs. Four matches will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night through the regular season. Game times are 6, 6:45, 7:30 and 8:15 p.m.

Joining Sturon-1 and the two varsity squads will be Sturon-2, Organizational Maintenance, Field Maintenance, the 54th Flying Training Squadron, Supply Squadron and the Hospital. Coaches should contact the base gym for information about the preseason practice schedule.

Weather unit spots trouble

Riding a 90 per cent forecast accuracy rate, Detachment 11 of the 24th Weather Squadron manages to keep Reese fliers dry and occassionally helps out a neighbor.

The local weather unit, headed by Maj. Eugene J. Heald, provides Reese with round the clock wather observation and forecasts three-to-four times daily. In order to protect Reese fliers on crosscountry flights, the unit charts potential weather trouble spots across the United States. A service used daily by transient aircraft as well.

When the National Weather Service at Lubbock Regional Airport shuts down a portion of its operation for maintenance, the base station feeds the needed information to it.

The 15-man crew (13 enlisted and two officers) is the first link in Reese's weather alert netork.

Although averaging better than 90 per cent on its forecasts, the local weathermen are still ducking one question. "When will the Winter of '78 lose its chill for good."

"For that one," laughed Major Heald, "even we have to wait for the ground hog."

Air Force reserves rated 'ready'

The Air Force Reserve (AFRes) concluded 1977 with all of its 35 units with assigned aircraft rated combat ready and capable of meeting their wartime mission.

AFRes Commander Maj. Gen. William Lyon said the accomplishment was the result of the dedicated efforts of all personnel in the command.

"It's gratifying to see that in oite of conversions, recruiting hurdles in an all-volunteer climate, and other obstacles, some unique'to the Reserve, we ended 1977 in such a high state of combat readiness," General Lyon said.

The general said all AFRes people can be proud of their contributions in achieving this goal, because the combat ready designation reflects varied criteria, including personnel, maintenance, training and equipment postures. (AFNS)

CCAF helps men get commissions

Airman Green already had his degree when he entered active duty, Sergeants Carney, Weiser and Wedgeworth all were graduated from Wayland Baptist College and Sergeant Helvey earned his degree through a permissive temporary duty program at Parks College.

CMSgt. Ferrell Farmer is one of three physician assistants here that will be commissioned.

Sergeant Farmer will be commissioned on April 1 with MSgt. Kenneth Huard and MSgt. Marshall Dupre slated for commissioning later.

Trafton noted that more OTS commissioning slots are available now than have been in several years. Anyone possessing a bachelor degree should contact the formal training section of the consolidated base personnel office. For information about finishing a degree program, contact Trafton at ext. 3469.
