Haskell National Officers and Directors Re-Elected; Expansion Scheduled

The Haskell National Bank stockholders, in their annual meeting Tuesday, re-elected all officers and directors of the 88-year-old banking institution.

Also during 1957, a 33-1-3 per cent cash dividend to stockholders.

Report to the stockholders reviewed a successful year's operation during 1957, with the bank paying its annual 10 per cent cash dividend to stockholders.

Plans for a building program during the current year to expand the bank's facilities were discussed in detail by directors. A building committee was named, composed of Buford Cox, R. W. Herren, A. M. Turner, A. C. Pierson and W. R. Johnson, to make a detailed study of the planned expansion and secure services of an architect. Last year, the bank purchased the adjacent two-story brick building which houses the local exchange of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Combining this building with the present bank structure, together with extensive remodeling of the resultant structure is contemplated in the building program.

Work on the project is scheduled to be started by mid-year, with construction to be completed and the building ready for occupancy by the first of next year.

Officers of the bank, all re-elected, are: A. C. Pierson, president; W. R. Johnson, active vice president; Charles E. Swinson, cashier; Nettie I. McCollum, assistant cashier.

Directors, also re-elected, are: Buford Cox, Oliver Cunningham, R. W. Herren, Fred Monke, A. M. Turner, G. W. Waldrip, Wm. H. Wilson Jr., Pierson and Johnson.

Preliminary Work Underway on New F-M Highway

Preliminary work is being done on the right-of-way for a new Farm-to-Market road in Precinct 3, Commissioner Kuenstler said this week, with contract on the project due to be awarded around Feb. 1 by the State Highway Department.

The new F-M road will extend from an intersection with State Highway 24 near the Trinity Lutheran Church, south and east for a distance of approximately twelve miles to connect with F-M 618 near Paint Creek School.

Oil and gas pipe lines crossing the right-of-way have been lowered, and work of setting back fences along the route has progressed about half-way, Commissioner Kuenstler said.

Moving of telephone and electric lines to conform to the new right-of-way remains to be done, Commissioner Kuenstler said. Companies affected have advised the precinct official that work of moving the lines will get underway at an early date.

Firemen, Auxiliary Grateful for Help in Lake Search

Chief Ray Lusk of the Haskell Fire Department and Mrs. Covell Adkins, president of the Fire Department Auxiliary, expressed their appreciation this week to everyone who assisted in any way during the recent emergency at Lake Stamford.

The Auxiliary set up and maintained a canteen at the lake during the searching operations for a drowning victim. The women were given valuable assistance by other women's groups, and received generous donations from local clubs and individuals to help defray expenses of operating the canteen.

Chief Lusk, in behalf of the fire department and auxiliary, said: "It would be impossible to acknowledge each individual who, bated or helped in any way. For that reason we desire to publicly express our appreciation to everyone, locally, and in all neighboring towns for their help."

Patrols Will Continue Search For Body of Drowning Victim

Search for the body of Fritz Seyfarth, believed to have drowned in Lake Stamford Dec. 29, is being continued by daily patrols in boats, members of the sheriff's department said this week.

Widescale dragging operations which were carried on night and day for two weeks were unsuccessful and were called off Sunday, Sheriff Deputies Garth Garrett and Tom Holland said.

Rain and rough water caused by high winds halted a search involving several hundred persons and about 50 boats Sunday. Rain started about 10 a. m. and was followed by brisk winds which made the waters too rough for operation of boats.

Volunteers bringing boats and dragging equipment from points as far away as Childress, Paducah, Sweetwater and Snyder were among the many persons coming here to take part in the mass search planned Sunday.

O'Brien District To Call $180,000 Bond Election

O'Brien school board members, meeting with about 100 citizens and school patrons Friday night, decided to call a $180,000 school bond election, School Supt. Elvin Mathis has announced.

If the bonds are authorized by a majority of property owners in the district, the money would be spent for about 10 classrooms, a cafeteria, and a gymnasium for the O'Brien grade and high schools.

Date of the election has been tentatively set for Feb. 1, Supt. Mathis said. The board plans to meet Friday night, Jan. 17, to officially call the election.

The proposed new buildings will replace the O'Brien High School building which burned on the night of Jan. 2.

Among those attending the community meeting to discuss calling the election were Joseph D. Hinton, architect; William M. Collier Jr., consulting architect; William E. Fox, consulting engineer, all of Abilene; and Ransom Galaway, Dallas Municipal Securities Company representative from Lubbock, bonding plans for the proposed bond sale.

General Telephone Company Building Near Completion

Construction of a modern new building on North Second Street for General Telephone Company of the Southwest is nearing completion. The building will house the central office equipment necessary to convert Haskell from common battery to dial telephone service, according to F. A. Robinson of Seymour, district manager of the company who was in Haskell Tuesday.

The new building, of face brick on the exterior and concrete tile on the interior, is 53x29 feet in size. It will be heated by forced warm air and cooled by a five-ton refrigerated air conditioning unit.

Commercial Construction Company of San Antonio was contractor on the building.

Robbinette stated that with completion of the new building, work will be started in the near future on installing dial equipment and microwave radio system, together with necessary outside plant additions to change the Haskell exchange into a completely new dial plant. The building and modernization program for the Haskell plant will require an expenditure of approximately $400,000, it was estimated.

Completion of the company's building project, scheduled by December, 1958, will give Haskell one of the most modern exchanges in the General Telephone system, Robbinette said.

Poll Tax Importance Emphasized

Importance of securing the 1957 poll tax in order to vote in 1958 elections was given added emphasis in the announcement of a $180,000 school bond election scheduled Feb. 1 in the O'Brien (Carney) School District.

The bond issue is necessary to finance a school building to replace the O'Brien High School which burned recently.

Qualified voters in the school district are expected to approve the bond issue by a substantial majority. However, it is important that every potential voter express an opinion on the proposal.

Although the O'Brien bond election affects only those voters residing in the school district, it has significance for all potential voters in the county.

Any one of numerous emergencies could result in other special elections during 1958, in which every citizen would want to express an opinion.

In addition is the certainty of our school trustee, city, county and state elections to be held this year. Unless the voter is 60 years of age or otherwise exempt, he or she must have the current poll tax receipt in order to vote in any 1958 election.

Outstanding Record of Public Service

District Clerk Jesse B. Smith, who is retiring at the completion of his fourth term in that office this year, will be rounding out a career in public life which has spanned a period of more than 20 years—a record of service which makes him easily the dean of Haskell County officials.

Capable and accommodating, his friendliness and courtesy has earned for him a lasting reputation as one of Haskell County's best known and most popular officials. His retirement from the court house where he has been a familiar figure for so long a time, will be as keenly regretted by his associates there as will his services to the general public.

Mr. Smith's tenure in public office of more than two decades placed him in varied responsible positions, and in each of these his services reflected integrity and ability of the highest order.

Mr. Smith began his career as a public official around 1918, when he started work as a deputy County Clerk. In 1920 he was elected County Tax Assessor, a post which he held for two terms. His next official position was that of County Treasurer, followed by a period of several years during which he was engaged in farming. With the approach of World War II his services were again required in a public capacity when he was called to a responsible position in administering the AAA farm program. Elected District Clerk in 1948, he was re-elected without opposition for three successive terms, the last being for the four year period ending this year.

Now, as he approaches retirement, Mr. Smith can carry with him into private life the knowledge that he has earned the full and lasting confidence and appreciation of the citizenship of Haskell County for his long and honorable service as a public official.

Baylor County Finances

The annual financial statement of Baylor County for the year 1957, published last week in the Baylor County Banner, shows our neighboring county on the northeast to be in enviable position financially.

The county had a cash balance of $199,275.34 on hand Jan. 1, 1958. This would be sufficient to retire approximately two-thirds of Baylor County's total bonded indebtedness of $299,708.72.

Total expenditures for all purposes during 1957 amounted to $213,816.31, including interest and debt retirement.

Authentic figures for Haskell County are not available for comparative purposes, since county officials do not approve the publication of this financial statement each year.

However, on the basis of expenditures covering the months of March, August, October, November and July, 1957, total expenditures by Haskell County last year would amount to around $521,976.

If that estimate is correct, it appears that Baylor County operates each year at a cost of $208,160 under what is required for operating Haskell County government.

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

A Plainview man who visited in Rule during Christmas, and became the possessor of the pelt of a wild fox which he planned to keep as a trophy, has changed his mind about wanting to keep the skin. In fact, he'll be thankful if he gets out of the deal with no more trouble than he has already had.

While the Plainview man was visiting in the home of his brother-in-law, Claude Cole of Rule, children playing nearby came to the house and told Mr. Cole and his visitor that some kind of animal was in the Cole driveway.

Investigating, Cole and the Plainview man found a wild fox, which apparently had just died. The animal was a perfect specimen and the Plainview man decided that he would take the pelt to a taxidermist and have it preserved.

Later, the thought occurred to the men that the animal might have been rabid, since they recalled no wounds were noted when they removed the pelt. Worried, they retrieved the animal's head and sent it to Austin. Their worries were justified—the animal was rabid.

Now, the Plainview man is taking precautionary shots, although doctors state there is little likelihood of any danger to him. However, he's playing it safe. Also, he's lost all interest in preserving the pelt of that fox.

Seriously, there is a danger that some domestic animals, a cat or a dog, could have become infected if they were attacked by the rabid fox.

A story concerning Spanish mining operations near the northwest corner of Haskell County, and subsequent "treasure hunts" in that area 50-odd years ago, has attracted the interest of an Albuquerque, N. M. man. The story was printed about a year ago and the New Mexico man said he had been wanting to visit the area since reading the account. He thinks there are many similar historic points in this section on which material should be gathered and preserved.

We admit a keen interest in old mines and quarries, legendary Indian caves and etc., to be found in this area. We also have a very, very keen interest in staying away from those rattlesnakes which seem to thrive in such places. Until some one comes up with a Geiger-counter device that will detect even a baby rattler a mile away, we're avoiding any likely habitat of the critters.

That the City of Haskell apparently has its business in good hands is evidenced by the fact that a called meeting of the City Council on Jan. 7 was the first Council meeting held in two months, or since Nov. 12.

Ordinarily, Council meetings are held on the second and fourth tuesday each month. Illness of city officials or in their families, coupled with the holidays, occasioned disruption of the Council's schedule. "Looks like the city gets along better when we don't meet," quipped Alderman Brooks audaciously at Tuesday's meeting.

Readers of the column, "This Is West Texas" by George Doan in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who noted his story about kangaroo-roper Albert Linam, will agree with Doan that Linam is the most-uncastaway Texan on record. Some 40-odd years ago Linam roped a kangaroo on the prairie south of town. In the intervening years he never mentioned the incident and two grown daughters learned of it when the account was republished in The Free Press.

Linam's opposite is the Haskell man whose name we won't call because he might not take kindly to the publicity. It was during the late war while this fellow was at an Army training camp. A loyal Texan, he was equally as loyal to his hometown of Haskell, and he let it be known whenever the occasion demanded.

Not as widely traveled as Killroy, because he'd only been in the Army a few weeks, this Haskell GI could carry his share in any bull session. No matter what came up, it would have been bigger or better in Haskell, the loyal and likable GI would declare. Haskell was just about first and best in everything, his buddies soon learned. It wasn't all talk, either. On numerous occasions when a difficult task required volunteers he'd come up with "Let an old boy from Haskell do that" and he'd do it.

Once, with a group of buddies on week-end pass, the GI's made the Saturday night rounds in a typical Army-camp town in Louisiana. Around midnight, they made their way to a park, it being summertime, to sleep the rest of the night on the lush grass.

It turned out, however, they had erred in directions, and were in a cemetery adjacent to the park. Chilled and uncomfortable, the Haskell GI awakened at early daylight in strange surroundings. Still befuddled from the night before, all he could see in the dim light was tombstones. Mystified and scared, but still loyal, he muttered "Must be Resurrection Day, and this old boy from Haskell's the first one up."

Also publicized in Dolan's column on West Texas on two successive days last week was Mike Campbell, Free Press linotyper and printer. A veteran newspaperman and ex-raffero, Campbell has had scores of interesting experiences in the two colorful professions. Some of these incidents were recounted in Dolan's column. Central Ward School News

BY B. T. W. BREMBRY, Principal

As we resume our school work after the holidays, we take this method of thanking our guest of honor on Dec. 20, Rev. M. D. Rexrode, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who brought an inspiring message. Also Mrs. Guy Harris, who presented several selections, and School Supt. Robt. R. King, who introduced six talented young ladies from the HHS speech department who gave an excellent Christmas program. Supt. King also gave a poem and some constructive remarks.

We solicit more of these constructive programs by our friends, who will take time out and share their experiences with us in all walks of life. I do hope they will come to see us again before the close of school.

Again, we want to thank our Superintendent for a brand new set of Junior Britannica, a large Webster's New Twentieth Century Dictionary, unabridged. A mighty fine Christmas present and a source of help in doing our work.

We are grateful to Rev. Guy Harris for making it possible for Santa Claus to come to see several needy colored families.

A Christmas program by Mrs. Ora Mae Ellis and Mrs. Lona Walker was good and largely attended. The Principal gave a Christmas tree, 65 bags of fruit, candy, nuts and cards. Gifts and cards were exchanged by all.

We have just received our certificates of membership in Southwest YMCA and YWCA fellowships organizations. The Principal paid $12.50, Rev. J. L. Shellman, pastor of Independent Baptist Church $5.00, Richard Ellis, minister of the Church of Christ $5.00, and Johnnie Foster, deacon of Rule Baptist Church $5.00. We thank those who made this membership possible in such worthy organizations for the first time in the history of Central Ward school.

Proper Winter Care Adds Years to Life Of Farm Machines

College Station—Up to 30 per cent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter care. And too, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, time will be saved in getting the machinery back on the job when it is needed.

Here are suggestions from Ulich on winter machine care. Keep machinery under shelter when not in use. Coat with grease or a rust preventative all bright metal parts such as sickles, plow wings, cultivator and other plow points as well as the working parts of machinery. Rubber tires should be blocked up to take the weight of the machine off of them while in storage.

Gasoline should be drained from auxiliary motors. Spark plugs should be removed and 3 or 4 ounces of cylinder oil dropped into each cylinder. Turn the motor over a few times and replace the plugs.

Finally, says Ulich, while the machinery is in storage give it a thorough inspection for worn and broken parts. Make note of the repairs needed so that the repair job can be done in advance of their next period of use.

With the continuing price-cost squeeze, proper machinery care can cut farm expenses and machinery replacement costs and make the farm operation more efficient and profitable, concludes Ulich.

Folk songs of different countries and the hymn of the month, "Onward Christian Soldiers" were sung by the club.

Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead presented the lesson study, "From Yesterday to Today," commenting on "Our American Music" by John Tasker Howard.

"Yesterday we might have said our American music was inferior to foreign composers," she said.

"But today we may well be rid of our inferiority complex, as America is producing composers and singers equal to that of other nations."

"In the Nineteenth Century our idealism was expressed through sentiment and today it is tempered by the Twentieth Century realism. We may well be proud of the vast amount of native works that America has produced in music and art," the director stated.

She closed her remarks with the quotation, "Work for great things, expect great things, and great things will come to pass."

The hostess, Mrs. G. F. Mullino, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Foster, served hot tea, cookies and mints to the following members: Mesdames Mart Clifton, J. F. Cadenhead Sr., M. E. Helber, C. J. State President of AAUW Speaker at Luncheon Here

Saturday, Jan. 11, the Haskell A. A. U. W. met at regular luncheon session with Dr. Gladys Hicks the A. A. U. W. Texas State president as speaker.

Miss Howard, State recording secretary, accompanied Dr. Hicks here from Waco and when the program chairman, Miss Madalin Hunt, called on her for a word.

Prior to that Dr. Hicks had stressed the learning of many languages. She related how in Paris at the International A. A. U. W. meeting she was embarrassed because the American women's group was the only delegation that spoke just one language. Korean women and Japanese spoke not only their own language but four or five other languages.

She advocates that we Texans speak more Spanish, and that we teach conversational Spanish in our schools from 3rd grade up. Forty-seven nations were represented in Paris and all spoke English, many spoke four languages and some spoke nine languages but the American women could understand nothing but English.

Dr. Hicks suggested that we might be able to handle Russia if we could talk to her in Russian language.

She practically drew from Haskell A. A. U. W., a palmed at the end of the Dallas A. A. U. W. in Texas and the National meet in Baltimore, Md., next summer followed by the International Conference in Helsinki in May, 1959.

Those enjoying the Saturday luncheon and our Waco guests, included: Mrs. Beulah Gibson, Mrs. Bobby Speer, Miss Madalin Hunt, Mrs. Kenneth Thornton, Mrs. Louise Green, Mrs. Rachel Stubbsfield, Mrs. Mary Martin, Mrs. Sam Herren, Mrs. Ina Cowan of Munday, Mrs. Mabelle Foote, Mrs. Lillian Brown, Miss Bess Smithy of Stamford, Mrs. Mary Owens of Stamford, Mrs. Lucille Marlow, Mrs. Alice Partridge of Munday, Mrs. Irene Ballard, Miss Hicks and Miss Howard of Waco.

Texas To Get 500 Chukars From Nevada

Another effort may be made this year to introduce chukar partridge in the Trans-Pecos region, according to the director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

Negotiations now are in progress with the Nevada Game Commission to exchange 100 Texas javalinas for 500 wild chukars. The birds would be trapped this summer and brought to Texas by employees of the Nevada Commission. The 100 javalinas would be trapped by Texas Game Commission trappers and taken to Nevada for release there.

This is another effort at stocking Texas habitat with game species from other areas. During 1957 five desert big horns were trapped in Arizona and taken to the Black Gap Wildlife Management area in the Big Bend where it is hoped they will increase to huntable numbers.

Several previous attempts have been made to introduce chukars in Texas. The first birds were planted in the South Texas area. They failed to take hold, however. In planting the birds in the Trans-Pecos area it is thought they might have a better chance of survival. The season would be closed on the birds until there is sufficient quantity to assure their spread.

HASKELL VISITOR

W. C. Allen of Denver City, Ex-Sheriff of Haskell County and veteran West Texas peace officer, visited relatives and friends here several days this week.

Lt. Col. Dan Collier Returns Home After 21 Months Duty Tour in Turkey

Lt. Col. Daniel E. Collier, Ordnance Corps, U. S. Army, has recently returned from Turkey where he served the past 21 months with the Joint United States Military Mission for Aid to Turkey. (JUSSMMAT), as ordnance advisor to the mission and to the Turkish Army Forces.

Col. Collier has served over 30 years with the National Guard, Army Reserves, (USAR), and has been on active duty with the regular forces since World War II. He plans to continue serving the military department under Civil Service as an Ordnance Advisor in one of the Southeastern states of the 3rd U. S. Army area.

The military advisory team to which Col. Collier belonged consisted of American officers who were the only Americans in the Eastern area of Turkey. This area extended west to the town of Elizig, north to the town of Samsun on the Black Sea, east following the Russian border past the Iran border to the Syrian border, then west to Eskinderun and then back to Elizig.

Members of the advisory team never traveled alone due to the hazards of vehicle failure on isolated roads, danger of attack by wolves, and scarcity of food and water, which had to be carried on every trip. Team members were responsible for the maintenance, repair and operation of their own vehicle at all times and spent at least one-half of their time traveling to visit Turkish Army units.

Col. Collier stated that the recent tour of duty in the Eastern part of Turkey was the most difficult one of his military career due to the hardships caused by lack of roads, severe winters for nine months of the year, temperatures of 40 degrees below zero, primitive civilization and adverse living conditions in general, snowslides and dangerous driving conditions.

Col. and Mrs. Collier are parents of Mrs. Bill Lawson of Haskell, and had visited here at times before Col. Collier left on his assignment in the Middle East. For that reason, the couple consider themselves as part-time citizens of Haskell and Texas.

Farmer Income Tax Information

By F. W. Martin, County Agent Many local farmers and ranchmen can save tax dollars this year by taking advantage of all allowable deductions and other credits.

A new law is of particular importance this year, concerning the sale of breeding, dairy or draft animals because of a drought. Under certain conditions, the profit from such sales will not be taxed. New fast depreciation methods can reduce current taxes. And, when you fail to take depreciation, that deduction is gone forever; it can not be made up in future years. Reporting the sale of all qualifying livestock as the sale of capital assets, instead of reporting the sale as ordinary income, will sharply lower tax liability.

These subjects and many others are treated in the new '1958 Farmer's Tax Guide,' now available at the county agent's office. Arranged for easy finding, it explains how to handle most tax problems that farmers and ranchmen face, the agent says.

Some farmers have lost money this year and will not owe any taxes. When there is no tax liability some farmers in the past have tended to neglect taking all allowable deductions. This is usually a mistake, because losses can now be carried backward for two years and carried forward for as many as 5 years. Sooner or later, these current losses should permit the taxpayer to either get a refund or give him a deduction on future tax bills.

Important Dates On '58 Political Calendar

The 1958 political calendar sparkles with dates important to Texans who expect to vote in many races or who plan to take part in conventions.

Perhaps the most important date is Jan. 31, the deadline on payment of poll taxes. A poll tax is your key to using the ballot box and your exclusive admission to precinct conventions.

That goes for Democrats and Republicans alike—no poll tax, no precinct convention vote.

Jan. 31 is also the last day for persons entitled to poll tax exemption certificates to get them from the county clerk.

A pamphlet published by the State Democratic Executive Committee includes a foreword by Gov. Price Daniel, who said of the calendar:

"It is my hope that it will serve as a reminder to all Texans to take an active part in primary and precinct elections. As citizens, this is our privilege and duty. If all individuals actively participate in party matters, we can be sure that a true majority will rule—which is the very essence of our democracy."

Next year Texans will elect a governor and a senator. Members of Congress and the Legislature will be named. Constitutional changes will be submitted on the general election ballot. Control of the Democratic party will be among the major issues.

Here are some outstanding political dates:

- May 15—Last day for prospective candidates to file for places on primary election ballots.
June 9—County Executive Committee meets to set hour and place for precinct conventions on primary election day and for county conventions on first Saturday after primary.
June 9—State Executive Committee decide hour and place for Sept. 9 state convention and for State Executive Committee session that precedes state convention by one day.
July 22—Absentee balloting for first primary.
July 26—First primary election and precinct conventions.
Aug. 2—County conventions.
Aug. 3-19—Absentee balloting for second primary.
Aug. 11—State Executive Committee canvasses returns of first primary.
Aug. 23—Second primary.
Sept. 9—State conventions of both parties.
Nov. 4—General election.
Nov. 21—Secretary of State counts general election returns.

lower prices. Sorghum grain is in a better position to compete with corn as an ingredient of mixed feed. About one half of the 1957 crop will be fed. Exports are expected to be a little larger than last year but may be limited by competition from corn exports.

The carryover stocks at the end of the present marketing year will probably total around 250 to 300 million bushels compared to 81 million bushels on Oct. 1, 1957. Lots of grain sorghum.

The 1957-58 supply of oats is estimated at 1,596 million bushels, 80 million bushels larger than last year.

Utilization will be a little larger than last year, and exports are expected to continue large in 1957-58. But, because of large supplies, the carryover at the end of the present marketing year will increase to about 275 million bushels compared to 238 million on July 1, 1957.

Barley production in 1957 and near record carryover stocks on July 1, 1957, has boosted the 1957-58 barley supply to a new record of 13 percent larger than last year.

A larger quantity will be fed in 1957-58; however, other domestic uses and exports are not expected to increase materially above that of last year.

Another large supply of protein feed is in prospect for 1957-58. Hay supply is up 11 per cent to establish a new record.

Increases in grain sorghum production have been pronounced in the Corn Belt and Great Plains areas. Nebraska now ranks third in production. Production in Missouri exceeded that of Oklahoma for the first time, in 1957.

Feed grain prices will probably average much lower in 1957-58 than in 1956-57. Prices of the four feed grains in the first half of Oct., 1957, averaged 10 per cent lower than during the same period of 1956.

This outlook is based on lower 1957 support prices, a large 1957 crop and large supplies on hand. Prices in the latter part of 1958 will depend on the 1958 crop prospects. With favorable weather, we can expect large crops again in 1958.

Prices of sorghum grains, oats, and barley are expected to continue much lower than last year. Sorghum grain will continue to be a cheap feed in many areas.

Boyd were pronounced dead on arrival.
The bodies of Miss Baugh and Boyd were taken to Pinkard Funeral Home in Rule.
Bodies of G. R. and Howard Gibbs were brought to Holden Funeral Home, with funeral arrangements being handled by the Haskell local funeral home.
Highway Patrolman Oscie Renfrow conducted an investigation of the accident, assisted by Stamford city police.

1957 Insured Fire Losses in Haskell Total $26,000

Insured fire losses in Haskell during 1957 amounted to approximately $26,000, according to records of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department. Heaviest single loss was $17,262.81, sustained when the Haskell Grain Elevator owned by Kimbell Mills burned Aug. 24.
The department received 56 calls during the year, of which 11 were general alarms. Also, six out-of-town calls were answered. Two of these calls were to Throckmorton, on Oct. 11 and Dec. 3.
Calls were lightest in February and April, only one each month. Longest period between calls was from April 4 to May 11, while July brought the largest number of calls, 15.

Investigation made by the department officials following each blaze indicated that all fires during the year 1957 could have been prevented with the exception of one, which resulted from a bolt of lightning.
City Fireman Floyd Lusk credited Mrs. E. A. Williams, who lives east of the CWT cotton warehouse, with the best reporting of a fire alarm. When the alarm was called in, information as to house location and nature of the fire was given, enabling firemen to reach and extinguish the blaze in short order.

In addition to answering 56 calls, the department held 25 drills during the year. Two firemen with perfect records of attendance are Tom Paul Barnett and Belton Duncan. Several other members missed only a drill or one fire, records show.
