Rule: Connor Horton, Mrs. A. D. May, Mrs. Don Davis, L. R. Denton, Mrs. Thelma Cole.

This committee will be asked by the state committee to make studies regarding education in Texas under four categories: The teacher supply, school financing, the school program, and school construction. These studies are to be made along the lines that will be indicated in instructive material that will be received soon by the temporary chairman. A meeting of the whole committee will be set as soon as the information arrives.

The purpose, for making these studies is to carry out the provisions of a resolution (H. C. R. 106) passed in the last regular session of the State Legislature, to have a so-called "grass-roots" study made.

District Governor Speaker at Lions Club Tuesday

Members of the Lions Club heard a report on the recent Zone meeting at Olney held last Friday night, and discussed projects of the various clubs in the district. All clubs in this district were represented at the meeting except one, King reported.

Principal speaker was District 2-B Governor Dock Garrett of Eastland who was making his official visit to the club. Discussing Lionsism and club activities, Garrett told of the formation of Lions International 40 years ago in Dallas, indicating the sound principles on which the organization is founded. He cited the fact that Lions Clubs in this district now have more than 5,000 members. He told some of the activities in which Lions International has been helpful throughout the nation as well as in our own state. An example cited was the fact that Lions Clubs gave more than $10,000 for relief and rehabilitation projects at Lampasas following the disastrous flood in that area.

Highlight of the meeting was the receipt of the local club's first White Cane, which was to be presented Tuesday afternoon to Miss Myrtle Penick of Rule. The presentation was to be made by Wix Currie of the Haskell club.

Discussing the Lions annual Goodfellow Fund, C. of C. Manager Rex Felker explained the procedure that would be followed in assembling a list of needy families in the city. All names are to be turned in at the Chamber of Commerce office, he explained.

No deliveries of mail will be made on rural routes by city carrier routes, neither will the post office windows be open on Thanksgiving. However, all outgoing mail will be dispatched on regular schedule.

Thanksgiving will bring a "bonus" holiday for students and teachers in Haskell Schools, with all schools dismissing Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27 until Monday, Dec. 2.

A Community Christmas program will be sponsored by the civic organization Nov. 29 when the shop display windows will be unveiled. Theme of the program will be "Put Christ Back Into Christmas."

According to Allen Reeves, the ministers of the community will be asked to participate and a choir will sing traditional Christmas music. The program will be presented on the courthouse lawn. Rev. Rudy Jones is in charge of arrangements.

The filmed story of Haskellite John Kimbrough, televised over Texas In Review last August, was shown during the meeting.

Son of Haskell Man Is Accident Victim at Hobbs

Don Arthur Webb, 17-year-old Hobbs, N. M., youth and the son of J. H. Webb of Haskell, was shocked fatally in an accident in Hobbs Nov. 12 that was termed a "million to one" mishap.

The youth received a heavy charge of electricity when he grasped the door handle of a milk truck that was attached to an electrical outlet, police said. Resuscitation efforts, applied quickly after the accident and continuing for nearly half an hour, failed to revive the victim.

Buck Scott, electrical supply company employe, who was asked later to investigate the accident, said a short in the wiring may have caused electricity to enter the truck body with as much as 400 volts. The boy also was wearing wet shoes, Scott said, calling it "one of those million to one things."

Funeral services for the youth were held at 2:30 p. m., Nov. 14 in Hobbs.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Mary Webb of Hobbs; his father, J. H. Webb of Haskell; three sisters, including Mrs. Mary Odell of Odessa and Mrs. Ruth Cobb of Rochester, and three brothers.

Worker Survives Shock from 13,000 Volt Electric Line

Prompt action of fellow workers in applying artificial resuscitation was credited with saving the life of M. B. Conner, 60, of Abilene after he had been rendered unconscious by a charge of electricity Saturday around 11 a. m.

Conner, member of a construction crew installing an electric transmission line from the Paint Creek plant of West Texas Utilities Company to Munday, was helping guide a 65-foot pole being set near the plant. As the pole was being raised, the upper end came in contact with a 13,000-volt transmission line. Conner, who was standing the base of the pole, was knocked several feet and rendered unconscious by the charge of electricity, and two other members of the crew, O. B. Stafford and a Mr. Butler, suffered lesser shock from the charge.

The foreman and other members of the crew immediately began applying artificial respiration on the unconscious man pending arrival of a Holden ambulance summoned from Haskell.

Conner and the two other victims were brought to the Haskell Hospital for treatment. Conner regained consciousness Saturday afternoon, while Stafford and Butler were released Sunday after remaining in the hospital Saturday night for observation.

Conner was pronounced out of danger Monday, but was to remain hospitalized for several days.

Opportunity for Development

Engineer's tentative estimates that an excellent site has been found on Miller Creek east of Munday for a dam which would create a reservoir impounding 70,000 acre feet of water places a valuable opportunity before this section.

A potential water supply of that magnitude, if properly developed and utilized, could be one of the greatest forward steps in the development of this section since the coming of railroads. It would provide an assured source of municipal water for Haskell and other interested towns which would be adequate until the population of the towns is triple that of today.

Development and conservation of dependable water sources has been described as the No. 1 domestic problem in the state and nation today. In view of that fact, Haskell and neighboring towns can consider their situation fortunate with respect to availability of the undeveloped water resources at their doors.

Estimate on the cost of the project has not been completed, and may likely be a sizeable sum when considered as the investment of a single city or town. However, joint cooperation of the towns composing the North Central Texas Water District in financing the project as a unit will make it a modest and attractive investment in relation to the benefits that will result to the cooperating towns.

The potential capacity of the proposed reservoir places it in the same category as Fort Phantom Hill Lake, with a capacity of 75,000 acre feet, and larger than Lake Stamford which has a capacity of 60,000 acre feet.

When it is considered that our neighboring city, Stamford, later joined by Hamlin, found it entirely feasible and profitable to develop their municipal water supply on Paint Creek, it can be easily seen that the seven towns in the newly-created NCT water district would be wise to take advantage of the opportunity presented in the Miller Creek project.

Rex Felker, Civic Leader

Haskell loses a worthy citizen and a valuable civic leader in the departure of Rex Felker, Chamber of Commerce manager who is to accept a similar position in Quanah, Texas, at the end of this month.

During the six years that Mr. Felker has directed the activities of the local civic organization (sometimes almost single-handedly, it has seemed) he has achieved noteworthy goals in the fields of improved public relations with neighboring sections and communities, and in expanding Haskell's trade territory.

Working unobtrusively, as is his nature, Rex has been instrumental in securing wide community cooperation in numerous beneficial projects instituted by the Chamber of Commerce. These have ranged from Farm-to-Market roads and highway improvements benefiting the entire county, to local projects such as Back-to-School programs, Dollar Days, Oil Progress Week, and an annual Christmas Program.

These projects have been made possible because of Rex's ability to enlist the cooperation not only of civic leaders and business men, but the entire citizenship as well in working for the community's best interests.

His place in our community life and civic affairs will be hard to fill.

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

Most of us are aware that Haskell's Chief of Police Tom Paul (Bull) Barnett is exceptionally talented when it comes to nabbing speedsters, liquor haulers, cold checkers and other law violators, but few are aware that his talents also lie in other fields. At least one other field, we might add.

Bull is a pretty fair hand at wielding a paint brush, we've noticed. An example of his ability is the spic and span appearance of the police department in the City Hall. Bull put in several hours of spare time last week in giving walls and ceilings along with window and door facings, a fresh coat of paint. Looks good, too, just as classy as a professional job, we'd say.

Speaking of talent, the ability of Haskell's teenagers in the entertainment field was amply demonstrated Monday and Tuesday night in the Negro Minstrel presented by Junior High and High School students. The packed houses at both performances were enthusiastic in their praise of the youngsters for a highly entertaining program.

If laughter is a tonic, Haskell's doctors might well take a vacation for a few days, judging from the shrieks and guffaws which the performers elicited from their audiences both nights. Incidentally, the doctors took quite a ribbing at the hands of the minstrel cast in one amusing skit.

Rice fans George Neely and Jim Byrd were real considerate of some of their friends late Saturday. From time to time, they'd pick up the telephone, call someone (invariably an A&M alumni) and ask innocently: "Do you know how Oklahoma and Notre Dame came out?" Nine times out of ten that's as far as they'd get. "Never had so many people hang up on me in my life," George chuckled. "Just because we wanted to ask a civil question," Jim added.

From Los Angeles comes word from an old friend and Haskell Ex, who had just read of Haskell's third Homecoming and saw names in The Free Press of several classmates he had not recalled in years. Ed Steenson, native of Haskell who has been in California for 30 years or longer, sent word that he would have liked to talk with George Steadman, Ab Lemmon, and a few others who were listed as attending the Homecoming.

"Wonder if George Steadman remembers how he got the nice name bananas?" the Los Angeles Ex wanted to know. The story goes (and it's probably safe to tell it now) that George, Ed, yours truly and several others came by a stalk of bananas through devout means while prowling around a wagon yard one night. After stuffing on the fruit, the remainder was stashed in a vacant barn. George, however, filled his pockets before starting home. Next day, if the stalk of bananas had been missed, his trail could have been easily followed. On his way home, George consumed a banana about every 100 steps. Then, pausing at the gate of his front yard, he put away the remainder, leaving a neat pile of banana peels!

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Tangled Trail
Senate investigating committee continued efforts to clean through the tangled financial history of three Dallas insurance firms.

Apparent purpose is to discover whether these companies were playing fast and loose with the policy and stockholder's money without restraint from the state regulatory agency.

Chairman Sen. Charles Herring said at the beginning of the inquiry that he felt the Legislature was catching the brunt of public indignation that sometimes stemmed from negligence by state agencies.

Pierce P. Brooks and Lester Hall of National Bankers Life were questioned about the complicated exchanges and re-exchanges of money and stock between that company and now bankrupt ICT Corp.

Outcome was a $2,000,000 loss to ICT stockholders. Hall said hindsight made some of the deals look bad now, but they seemed perfectly all right at the time they were made.

Former employees of Preferred Life testified they had been instructed to conceal records from Insurance Department examiners. Company books didn't balance, they said, and there was a backlog of unpaid claims.

Tax Study Launched
For the first time in Texas history, work is under way to draw up the "big picture" on state taxes.

State Tax Commission, created by the Legislature, has begun its work of finding out who pays how much to the state. Plan is to have the Texas Research League to do the data-gathering with help from eminent experts in the field.

Findings will be presented to the next regular session which is expected to be faced with a deficit and the necessity of putting new taxes on someone.

But commission members emphasized they would present no recommendations for new taxes, only facts on current ones.

Early End
An early freeze caused a sharp halt in crop growth for about half the state. It damaged some sorghum fields, reports USDA, and hit all areas which still had late cotton crops to be harvested. Other areas reported ruined maize and damaged grazing.

Freeze was not expected in the Panhandle, said USDA, but came unusually early for many south central counties.

At It Again
For the third time in a row, a new Travis County grand jury has set to work with the charge to discover any possible misconduct by state officials. Gov. Price Daniel urged the investigation. "Wild and unwarranted charges do great harm," he said, "and the makers should be given opportunity to put up or shut up."

Judge Mace Thurman echoed this view at the swearing-in session. Any citizen with information on malfeasance in office has not only the right, but the obligation to go to the grand jury, he said. Object: to indict the guilty and clear the innocent of charges from "insinuation or rumor."

Prison Educators Honored
Some 100 Texas notables attended an Austin luncheon honoring Dr. George Beto, credited with giving Texas the nation's first school for boys.

Dr. Beto, a member of the Board of Corrections, is given chief credit for establishing a program whereby men in state prison can complete a high school education. Some 188 have received diplomas.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers, who appointed Beto to the board, served as master of ceremonies for the luncheon. Gov. Daniel also joined in the tribute. Beto is president of Concordia Lutheran College in Austin.

SHORT SNORTS—State Health Department sounded a sober note of caution to fall hunters. Gun accidents killed 169 Texans last year. Department suggests hunters study firearm safety rules, go easy on drinking and avoid getting overtired. After study, directors of the State Bar of Texas said they didn't agree with the American Bar Association canon prohibiting photographic coverage in courtrooms. Control should be with the individual trial judge, they said. Maco Stewart, University of Texas and Princeton University graduate, has been appointed to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's staff.

$152 Raised For Hopewell Baptist Building Fund

Principal B. T. W. Brembrly of Central Ward School aided Rev. Otis Jackson, pastor of Hopewell Baptist Church recently on a fund drive for his church building program. It was a success. The following members and the pastor gave the following amounts: Rev. Otis Jackson $10, Mrs. Mae Verna Jackson $10, Mrs. Leona Walker $5, Mrs. Corinne Moffet $15, Mrs. Lorene Henson $11.25, Mrs. Elvira King $11, Mrs. Minnie Adams $10, Mrs. Annie Cloud $10, Mrs. Louise Whitaker $10, Mrs. Willie Sharpe $5, Mrs. Celia Velma Williams $2.25, Geo. Billington $2.75, Mrs. Irene Jenkins $10.

Mrs. Tate of Albany, president of the Zone Usher Board, aided Principal Brembrly in the public collection. He started the offering with $10.00. Friends and visitors from Rule, Albany, and the Independent Baptist Church followed with a donation. The total public collection amounted to $152.25. We are grateful to our colored and white citizens for their support for such a worthy effort. At the completion of Hopewell Baptist Church, it will be a credit to any community.

Principal Brembrly aided Independent Baptist Church and the Baptist Church of Rule, also the Christian Church of Haskell. We are grateful to him indeed.—Rev. Otis Jackson, Pastor Hopewell Baptist Church, Haskell.

Specialist Advises On Management of Winter Pastures

Proper management of a winter pasture will pay big dividends to the operator. But first, the pasture must be established.

Winter pasture can still be planted this fall, according to E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. Late planting means less grazing, but this is still better than none at all.

Trew says sod seeding is getting more attention in the eastern third of the state, but this is justifiable only in high rainfall areas and then only when not enough cultivated land is available or when such pastures on prepared seedbeds are too wet to graze for long periods.

Trew advises that grazing of small grains and annual covers be delayed until they have a good root system to prevent their being pulled up.

Rotation grazing can greatly increase the efficiency of the pasture, says the specialist. This allows better regrowth and will permit taking silage or hay from that growth not needed for grazing.

Do not allow the pasture to get too far ahead of the stock. The excess may be mowed for silage or sometimes hay.

Hay should be provided with the pasture if provides dry matter not received from the pasture and helps reduce bloat troubles.

Fertilizer is also important for good growth and to insure proper mineral content of the plants. A soil test may be taken to determine the requirements.

Further information on winter pasture may be obtained by getting a copy of L-258 from the local county agent or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

Irrigation Water Usable With Small Salt Content

Texas farmers may possibly use water that is slightly salty for irrigating without damage to crop production, University of Texas Engineering Dean W. R. Woolrich reported to a Saline Water Conversion Symposium.

Dean Woolrich told of his research on desalting water by freezing methods before the symposium sponsored by the Interior Department's office of saline water and other science research agencies. The symposium was held in Washington, D. C.

On Molokai, Hawaii, research workers conducted extensive irrigation experiments using water with 96 grains of salt per gallon on corn, egg plant, head lettuce, carrots and beets. Production results were "very good."

Fantastic Secret Society Had Dream Of Empire Encircling Gulf of Mexico

LUBBOCK—Evidence that a fantastic Southern secret society called the Knights of the Golden Circle may have been a major motivating force for secession before the Civil War has been revealed by a Texas Tech researcher.

The feudal society, conceived and promoted by a fanatic named George W. L. Bickley, made elaborate plans for establishment of an empire encircling the Gulf of Mexico, Sylvan Dunn, associate archivist at Texas Tech, told the Southern Historical Assn. meeting in Houston last week.

The secret society gained much of its impetus from a meeting of Houston citizens and spread to towns throughout Texas, Dunn declared. The South was a political cauldron in immediate pre-Civil War days, Dunn pointed out, and as such was ripe for a secret society that offered an outlet for its frustrations.

Capitalizing on the situation, Bickley—a novelist, historian and "physician" from Virginia—evolved and promoted a feudalistic order that served as a framework on which all Southern feelings could gather and solidify, Dunn continued.

Bickley drafted elaborate military, economic and political plans for an empire built on slave labor and rivaling ancient Rome in power, Dunn said. It would have been a giant ring around the rich Gulf region with Havana, Cuba, as a geographical center, he explained.

The nation would have been an economic unit built on production of vast amounts of cotton, sugar, tobacco, rice and coffee, Bickley had alternate plans whereby that nation might remain a political entity or join the United States later as politically potent region.

The empire was to be run by a secret society called the Knights of the Golden Circle, Dunn said. There were three degrees: Knights of the Iron Hand (military), Knights of the True Faith (financial) and Knights of the Columbian Star (ultra-secret and political).

Bickley drafted a multitude of details on rules and regulations for every conceivable behavior, including complicated secret protocol, and designs for innumerable uniforms and emblems.

Dunn said Texas became a hotbed of KGC activity in 1860, with "castles" at Houston, San Antonio, Brenham, Navasota, Austin, Huntsville, Castroville, New Braunfels and other Texas towns and cities.

Some of Texas and the South's most prominent men have been connected with the society, although in some cases their motives have never been clearly discerned by research, Dunn declared. Among the leaders thought to be members was Sam Houston.

"Ninety-seven years ago—Oct. 31, 1860—just two weeks before the election of Lincoln as president, a crowd of excited Texans gathered here in the city of Houston at the courthouse square to hear Bickley lambast the abolitionists and promote the Knights of the Golden Circle," Dunn said.

"At the conclusion of the speech, 40 Houstonians were reported to have come forward to receive KGC degrees," Dunn continued. "It was the same everywhere Bickley went in Texas. His description seemed to stir up a special contagion in men of the Lone Star State and throughout the South to the point that a report from Baltimore, Md., stated that 1,000 knights were preparing for an invasion of Mexico."

Several weeks later, Lincoln was elected president, the South began turning its wrath upon the north, and the KGC dissolved in the reaction, Dunn said. "But new evidence is gathering that in its wraithlike, secret existence, it may have been an important factor that crystallized Southern thinking that led to secession and war."

Dunn urged further research into the KGC in the hope that more light may be thrown on its real significance.

Seasonal Strength Seen on Slaughter Calves Monday

Fort Worth—Trade at Ft. Worth Monday featured a very active and strong market on calves. Both slaughter and stocker interests were active in the trade. Fat calves of the choice variety have been increasingly scarce in the runs, and some sales in this category are unevenly higher again.

All kinds of stockers and feeders were fully steady and bulls again sold at the advances of last week.

Trade on cows was rather slow as most packer interests tried to lower costs on the early rounds. However, the clearances were at generally steady prices. Fed cattle were relatively scarce, and some interests were talking 50c lower prices in view of the big run in the cornbelt points.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $20 to $22.50, high choice or prime quotable well over this bracket. Common and medium sorts sold from $14 to $20.

Fat cows cashed at $14 to $15.50, and canners and cutters cashed at $9 to $14. Bulls returned $12 to $16.50. Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $20 to $23, and common and medium sorts cashed at $15 to $19.50.

Culls sold mostly from $12 to $14. Good to choice steer calves cashed at $20 to $24, and stocker heifer calves ruled at $22 down. Stocker steer yearlings bulked at $22.50 down. A few replacement cows sold from $10 to $16.

Butcher hogs managed to hold steady at Fort Worth Monday with the top $17.50 and $17.75, and medium to good butchers at $16 to $17.25.

The packing sows, which for long have been selling right up against the top butchers, took a tumble. A few choice lightweights sold steady at $16.50 to $17, but the rank and file packer sows sold from $15 to $16, and some of the heavies in the $15 to $15.50 level were about $1 off.

Cotton Producers Should Save Good Planting Seed

Good cotton planting seed with high germination may be scarce next spring. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, said the situation which has developed is due to late plantings last spring and the wet weather which has hit all sections of the cotton belt during the harvest season. The situation, he added, is even worse in the eastern part of the cotton belt and seed of certain varieties are almost certain to be in short supply.

Elliott advised cotton growers to save and carefully store any good quality seed of known varieties. This, he said, is one of those seasons when planting seed even with a low moisture content can't be placed in storage and forgotten about until next spring. A continuous check on stored seed is suggested.

Here are Elliott's suggestions of handling seed. Check seed closely for damage before storing and store with high germination (80 per cent is very good) and low free fatty acid content. Seed saved for bulk storage, he said, should contain less than 12 per cent moisture unless good drying and cooling facilities are available. Small plantings of seed should be turned and sacked.

Large quantities of bulk stored seed should be cured by aeration to maintain quality. A portable fan duct system can be used to draw air through the seed. He warned that moisture content of 13.6 per cent is the critical point beyond which storage may quickly become disastrous. Every effort, he said, should be made to bring the moisture content down to 10 or 11 percent on seed storage. Drawing air through the seed must be done during daylight hours and only in fair weather and preferably between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., he said.

A germination test should be run on the seed before planting as an aid in determining how much seed to plant, he said. No germination test should be made until the seed has been stored for at least 30 days which is the normal rest period of freshly ginned seed. Finally, Elliott suggested a visit to the local county agent for more details.

Martin of Rule, district 2, Chapter of Textile Workers, official visit to her home. Chapter No. 10, Hagen Star, on the chapter's 4th meeting.

Worship brought offerings and instructions. E. D. Bryan, rector, as worthy Grand. John P. Ward, Assn. E. Cox, "Old" patron and president.

Rooms were most decorated with artificial flowers that included chrysanthemums and American Beauty.

"Wonderful Doll" was served out in all around the guest book, done silver, was edged lace and bore of the honor guest, Mrs. Lonnie Lou Lanzer's daughter, presided at the table. Name of each guest, as the associate marion, program honoring the doll, dressed in blue, and proceeded to the Star points. P. Fuller, Ola Mae Sims, L. L. Smith, Hamilton, who added a crown, and a program was presented to McKinney, ac-compared by Mrs. Mary Lee Pinkard, sang as a dedication. "Oh, You Wonderful Doll!" and Mrs. Boyce Foil presented gifts of china from the chapter and the worthy matron. Her corsage was made from money and done in red.

Introduced were members of the honoree's family: her husband, Logan Martin; her daughter, Mrs. Moore; her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. O. Mauldin; and her brother-in-law, N. A. Martin.

In the business meeting two members were added to the chapter.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with red linen and decorated in an Armistice Day theme. Graduated red, white and blue firecrackers representing tapers and surrounded by fall leaves, flanked a styrofoam wheel done in patriotic colors. Napkins bore the national crest.

Approximately forty-five members attended from Rochester, Haskell, Merkel, Stamford, Knox City, Hamlin and Rule.

Mrs. Martin will make her official visits to the other 26 chapters in her area and will conduct a school of instruction to be held in April. Rule members consider her appointment an honor not only for herself, but for the chapter and city as well.

Story Tells of Turkey Comeback In Hill Country

Turkey hunters may be headed for good shooting in the near future on the Edwards Plateau. With the end of six years of drought and many years of unwise land use, wild turkeys at last are increasing their flocks, according to the November issue of Texas Game and Fish, the official magazine of the Game and Fish Commission.

In "Something to Gobble About" by Jack Thomas and Houston Green, biologists, the comeback of Texas' largest game bird is explained.

Until this year, there has been a steady downward trend of the turkey population on the Plateau since 1938. The heavy spring rains developed not only feed but also foliage the turkeys needed for protection from predators. Suitable weather during nesting season also contributed to the turkey increase.

Unwise cedar clearing, which destroyed one of the favored feeds of turkeys, has been curtailed to some extent by better public understanding of the harm done to the turkey population.

In mid-July a report, on percentage in turkey population in the Plateau counties showed Bandera County leading with a 378.3 per cent increase. Kerr County had a 203.7 per cent increase; Edwards County, 84.9 per cent, and Medina County, 35.9 per cent.

Paint Creek... Community News

MRS. GENE OVERTON

Most of you Paint Creekers know my daddy, don't you? He is Dennis W. Jones of Rule. Sunday he recited this little poem to me, and I think it is so cute, I want to share it with you.

I am fully aware
That my youth is all spent.
That my get up and go
Has gone and went.

But I really don't mind,
When I think with a grin,
Of all the grand places
My get up has been.

Burl Medford returned home from the Haskell Hospital last Friday after spending 8 weeks here. He broke his left leg 3 inches below the hip in our game with Mattson Sept. 12. He is still in the initial cast, and it won't be removed until about Dec. 19. We are all so glad he could come home. His family found a hospital bed for him, so they can keep him as comfortable as he was in the hospital.

Mrs. Crabb has postponed her home Nursing course until a later date because the roads are so bad, those desiring the course could not get there last week. The new date will be announced later.

The Homemaking girls have begun some work in leather craft.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Perry have a new Ford. They have had the flu, and have not wanted to get the new car muddy either, so they haven't been driving it much yet.

Mrs. G. S. Medford is at the home of her son Roy recuperating from eye surgery which she underwent at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene last week. Her eye was dilated, and for some reason the pressure went up, (whatever that means) and the surgery was required to relieve, or lower the pressure. She still has very little sight, but is getting better.

Richard Selmon entertained the Paint Creek faculty and members of the Board of Education and their wives at a buffet supper at the lunchatorium Friday night. The decorations were brass candelabra with red candles on a dinner cloth with a fall motif, and the food was very attractively arranged on large serving trays. The menu consisted of baked ham, candied sweet potatoes, olives, bread and butter pickles, tossed salad, rolls, cake and coffee. We board member wives and lady faculty members were amazed at a bachelor cooking and serving such a delicious supper, and for that, many people, too. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Owens, Mrs. Irene Ballard, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. James Raughton, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McRae, Miss Bess Smithy, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crabb, Willie Lee Medford, Mrs. W. P. Trice, Mrs. Julian Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robb Spear, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and the very gracious host, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stodghill from Rising Star were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Montigomery Sunday. The Stodghills are here to be at the bedside of Mr. Stodghill's sister, Mrs. Pauline Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mickler were in Fort Worth over the weekend visiting their son Genie, and his wife and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Bunkley and daughter Julia Lee of Altus, Okla., spent last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cobb.

Mrs. Y. L. Yancy, mother of Mrs. Ed Welsh died last week in Lufkin and was buried on Wednesday. Mrs. Yancy was 86 years old. She fell and broke her hip more than a year ago, and just recently suffered a stroke. Mrs. Welsh has been in Lufkin a good deal of the time this fall helping care for her mother. We extend our sympathy to the Welsh family and Mrs. Ellis Bean and family.

David Selby is seriously ill in a Houston hospital. His mother, Mrs. Veda Selby and Dianne have moved to Galveston and will live with Mrs. Selby's sister to be near David.

Reginald Howard of Watsonville, Calif., is here visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Vernay Howard.

On the sick list this week are Ray Overton Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuenstler, Marcia Jo Morrison, Willie Faye Petrich.

These trailer loads of cotton on their way to the gin today have surely looked good. Some of the Paint Creek farmers are going to have braceos come in and gather their crop in one day.

M. B. Conner from Abilene, who received a severe electrical shock while working on a new line near the WTU power plant Saturday morning, is doing as well as can be expected and was transferred from the Haskell Hospital to an Abilene hospital Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bergstrom had as guests Sunday, Mr. Bergstrom's nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Thane and their little son from Stamford.

By VERN SANFORD

It was bluebird weather when duck season got under way this year. Nevertheless many hunters shot their limit—from the Red River to the Gulf.

Then came a good norther. And now the weather is better for duck and goose shooting.

The type of hunting is about the hardest and most difficult gunning in Texas. So much depends, not on what is done in Texas, but on conditions in Canada throughout the early part of the spring and summer.

If conditions are right north of the border, and there is a big hatch, Canada will send more ducks down the various flyways into the U. S. Many will stop before they get to Texas. But countless numbers have wintered on the Texas coast so long that it is family tradition for them to return to the Lone Star State. And here they head.

More and more ducks will remain in Texas waters every year, in order to produce their families in the South.

However, they represent but a small amount of the total duck population. And this number is reduced considerably after the first few days of shooting.

Good Shooting is Everywhere. Most duck and goose hunters think of the Texas coast as the best hunting place in the state. That isn't necessarily true. There are thousands of ducks killed each year on the streams and farm tanks of Texas. Excellent hunting exists on all the major impoundments in the state and in the grain fields of the Texas Panhandle.

Grain field hunting is about the easiest on the gunner. He hides behind a shock of grain or in a hurriedly-thrown-up blind.

Duck hunting under most conditions is hard work. Usually the worse the weather the better shooting. It usually takes a cold drizzle to get the ducks and the old honkers to come down close to the ground. That is, close enough to reach them with a blast from the shotgun.

Of course the ammunition manufacturers have learned to load the standard length shells with a little more powder and shot. But the duck and geese are smart, too. They just fly a little higher.

No Motor Boat Hunting. Most waterfowl shooting is done on water. For this reason it is necessary to have a good boat and/or waders.

Boat hunters can use outboard motors to take them to blinds or bring them back to the shore. They also can be used to pick up dead ducks, providing the gun isn't used. But, the law is strict on use of any kind of power boat for hunting ducks.

There was a time when most hunters had well-trained dogs to retrieve their birds. But the growth of cities has slowed down the raising of good duck retrievers. Now it's largely a do-it-yourself job.

Duck hunters have to get up early, as the season opens a half-hour before sunrise. Usually the hunter will want to have his decoys spread on the water a half-hour earlier than that. Then he crawls into his blind and starts tooting on a duck call.

Frankly, more ducks are frightened off by callers than ever come in. However, many won't believe this.

There are a few hunters who really can talk to the ducks on these wooden callers. Too many of us, however, don't have the proper ear. We have not been around duck long enough to know their language or to understand them.

One of the most disconcerting things to happen is for the man in the next blind to blast away on his duck call when a flock is coming down to your decoys.

They take to wing and that's the last you ever see of them.

It may be helpful for a hunter, on a large body of water, to have a call. But only if he uses it in a very limited manner. Just one or two quick quacks will be heard by the flying ducks. If they are interested in the decoys no more calling is necessary. On the other hand, many hunters achieve the same results by whistling or barking like a dog. This is a common practice on the coast.

Care of the Gun. It must be remembered that duck hunting is hard on the gun too. Especially is this true when hunting around salt water. It does not do much good to carry a gun onto the water in a soft lined case, then let the gun get wet and put it back in the case. That salt water remains and the gun is covered with rust.

Perhaps one of the simplest ways is to use one of those plastic bags that your cleaning comes in nowadays. You can haul your gun onto the water and bring it back in this plastic bag, and then throw the bag away. Then, as soon as you can, wipe the gun off with some good rust inhibitor oil. In that way you can keep from having a badly pitted gun.

Tell your wife to save these plastic bags for you. You can use them to save your feathers in when you return from a hunt. Then make some nice feather pillows.

Another way to do yourself a good turn is to keep a record of the ducks you kill. Then send the information to the Game and Fish Commission. Also be sure and send in any bands you find on the birds you kill. These bands provide valuable information. They help the boys in the commission office select the season dates next year.

Fishing is Good, Too! Just because it is duck season you don't have to neglect fishing. Part of the matter is that some of the finest strings of fish are caught by duck hunters after the flight has gone for the day.

If you have your waders, try some in-the-water fishing. You may find a new thrill there that you have been overlooking.

Dodge Grille Combines Boldness, Good Taste

Adding a dramatic touch of boldness to the Swept Wing '58 is the completely redesigned front end. Dual headlights are arranged side-by-side, under flaring, fashionable hoods, for safer, surer night time driving. Parking lights are recessed in protective "bombs", placed to shield the cross-hatched grille from damage. Adding to the uncluttered look of good taste are the straight lines of the front bumper with its sturdy overbar to protect both grille and front license plate.

NO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to catch the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their wheelchairs got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torson-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

Indians Lose Final Game of Season To Pied Pipers

Unable to mount a sustained scoring drive, the Haskell Indians closed out the 1957 football season Friday night, when they went down 46-15 under the onslaught of the Pied Pipers of Hamlin, fighting to move out of the cellar position in conference play.

The Pipers combination of Quarterback Billy Murff, Halfback Virgil Wilson and fullback Weaver netted the visitors five TDs and a 32-0 lead in the first half.

The Indians struck in the third period, when they drove from their own 28, aided by a 40-yard aerial pass from QB Don Pennington to Irvy Wolf, and three successive downs which carried to the one-yard stripe. On a keeper, Pennington scored the Tribe's first mark-

The Indians hit twice more in the fourth, the first an 8-yard TD pass from Pennington to End Jerry Wheatley over the goal line. Final marker for the Tribe came in the closing seconds of the game, when alternate QB Jimmy Brock fired 30 yards to End Joe Decker on the 7-yard stripe. Decker scoring from there. Three conversion attempts after TD's by John Sam Rike failed.

Hamlin also hit twice in the final period. Murff from the 35 and Wilson from the two, with extra point-after-TD added by John Richie and Foster.

Highlight of the game was the presentation of HHS Band Sweetheart Sara Sue Roberson in a colorful pre-game ceremony, in which she was crowned by Band Captain Gene Bruce. Haskell and Hamlin bands also performed in half-time activities.

Major Theo Moore Makes Brief Visit Here Thursday

Merchants Warned Against Frequent 'Cold Checker'

Sheriff Bill Pennington cautioned merchants this week against accepting checks on an out-of-town bank from a local character described by the officer as a "frequent cold checker."

The checks are invariably given on a Meridian bank, Sheriff Pennington explained. "Almost every time the old boy starts hitting the bottle we get complaints about one or two out-of-town checks he has given," he added. Currently, the man in question is paying off in installments a fine and re-deeming a cold check given a local business concern recently.

One Out of Seven Texans Over 65 Years of Age

As the number of older persons in the population increases, the need of the "senior citizens" in towns and in rural areas are of growing interest, says Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist.

Texas now has one half million persons over 65 years of age. This represents 1 out of 7 or about 7 per cent of the total population. In rural areas, the percentage is even higher, Brown says.

Research shows that older folks want to live independently as possible. They prefer to live in familiar surroundings near their friends and associates. They prefer to be near married children or grandchildren but not to live with them. Elderly persons like to be where they can watch adults work and children play, rather than being with other aged people.

Most older farm people like rural surroundings with open spaces, according to Brown, a place for animals, a chance to watch gardens and crops grow. But they don't want to be isolated. They want to be able to walk or drive to go shopping, to go to church or other meetings, see friends and relatives, have help if needed and be outdoors when weather permits.

They want a house with various safety features—a 1-floor plan with few steps to the outside they favor a house safe from fire and falls, with no slippery floors, no loose or sliding rugs, safe bathtubs, showers with convenient handholds, faucets easy to reach and use, rubber mats to prevent slipping. Older people desire plenty of heat in winter, automatically regulated; adequate lighting; windows that open and shut easily and place for daytime naps.

Above all, older persons want to feel needed and carry on a useful, pleasant day by day schedule of activity, Browns adds.

HASKELL VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Stodghill and daughter, Charlene, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Graham of Ft. Worth were visitors Sunday in the home of Mrs. J. L. Dilbeck and Mrs. C. F. Graham in this city. Mrs. J. W. Graham is a sister-in-law to the Haskell woman, and Mrs. Stodghill is their niece. They returned to Ft. Worth Sunday night.

'Winterizing' Home Helps Reduce Cold Weather Fuel Bills

With winter weather already here and more just around the corner, many homemakers are making plans to winterize their homes for increased winter comfort and economy.

A good place to start, the job is with the doors and windows, advises W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer. Many windows and doors fit loosely but can be tightened easily with weather stripping.

Storm sashes can be very helpful in reducing heat loss from the house. In northern areas, addition of storm windows, doors and weather stripping can reduce the fuel bill considerably, tests have shown.

Proper insulation in the unheated attic will also cut fuel bills, Allen says. Place the insulation between the attic floor joists. This helps reduce heat loss from the rooms below. With this insulation there should be ventilation in the attic, which means vents should be placed in the gable ends of the house, under the eaves or installed in the roof.

There should be about four square feet of clear openings for about each 1000 square feet of attic floor, suggests the engineer.

Storm doors, storm windows and attic insulation not only cut heat loss and save fuel but they also reduce drafts, according to Allen. This means a more uniform heating system throughout the house. Next summer the insulation in the attic will help keep the house cooler, too.

December Plentiful Foods Feature Holiday Favorites

Plenty of most of the traditional holiday foods insure homemakers that there will be no shortages when their shopping begins for the foods normally used during the holiday season.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's December plentiful foods list for the Southwest shows broiling and frying chickens as feature items, while turkey and pork are other protein suggestions. Supplies are large on these main course favorites.

The old favorite, cranberries, will be abundant in December as well as apples and winter pears. Adequate supplies of oranges and grapefruit should also be available, says the report issued by John J. Slaughter, southwest food distribution chief.

December plentiful vegetables include peas, canned and frozen, and dry blackeye peas. Pinto beans, too, are on the list. Dates, almonds and filberts complete the December plentiful listings.

Central Ward School News

By B. T. W. BREMBRY
Principal

American Education Week was observed Nov. 10-17. The theme, "Moral and Spiritual Values" was emphasized in two interesting programs Thursday and Friday.

We were fortunate in securing the services of several prominent guests of honor, who left their busy programs of work and shared their ripe experience with a less fortunate minority group. Mr. Curtis Pogue, our able County Attorney, spoke on Juvenile Delinquency. Dr. T. W. Williams, our competent health officer and physician, discussed the Asian and Spanish "flu." Mr. Robert King, our competent and thorough administrator and Superintendent of City Schools, touched on various problems that affect the schools. He also said as soon as land could be purchased a new Central Ward School would be built that was long overdue. We are happy to receive that fine report.

All children should be given chances and opportunities for development and growth. A great deal of progress has been made all over this country in the last ten years, especially in the South by local, state and federal agencies for colored boys and girls in small, average, and larger districts. Education is our most precious heritage and America's best investment.

Friday, our County Superintendent, Miss Jessie Vick, explained her work and gave several points on the problems that face youth.

Rev. Oscar Bruce, pastor of the First Methodist Church; Rev. Guy I. Harris, minister of the Christian Church; and Rev. J. V. Christ, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, spoke on "Moral and Spiritual Values." All our guest speakers touched on this theme. From these messages we are the beneficiaries of their ripe experiences in dealing with the problems of adults and youth. We are grateful to each of them for a job well done and contributions made.

The following parents were present to witness our first program: Mrs. Lorene Henson, two children in school; Mrs. Alice Johnson, three children in school; Mrs. Mae Verna Jackson, two children in school; Mrs. Louise Platt, two children in school; Mrs. Celia Velma Williams, one child in school; Mrs. Eugenia Adams, Mrs. Willie Hall, Lee Henderson, Richard Ellis, our best supporter and pastor of the Christian Church, Rev. Otis Jackson, pastor of Hopewell Baptist Church, gave the invocation. All present made expressions and stated they enjoyed the program.

Parents present to witness our second program were: Mrs. Rosa L. Parker, three children in school; Mrs. Juanita Lewis, two children in school; Mrs. Louise Platt, two children in school, and Lee Henderson.

Parents and citizens should work for the best interests of their children. Communities are measured by homes, churches, and schools. With all cooperating these three institutions go forward. Brown patch, a rather common lawn disease in Texas, has been reported active, especially in the warmer sections of the state. Extension Plant Pathologist Harlan Smith says the prolonged period of excessive rainfall and humid weather are prime factors in the appearance of the disease.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Most folks don't worry about how much income tax they owe until it's too late to do something about it. Cash basis farmers, businessmen, and even individuals can affect the amount of tax they pay during the year on a small scale the same as a lot of big corporations do. The corporations simply plan their business to make a sale during this year or next, or on the other hand, to incur an expense for this tax year or next. Since most taxpayers are on a cash basis, it may not cost you very much to pay the preacher a lot more for the rest of the year than you ordinarily would if you have a lot of income or are going to itemize your tax deductions for the year. On the other hand, you may want to wait until January 1 and just give the preacher enough to get by on until next year since you can better afford a tax contribution for the next year than you can for this one. It is certainly worth thinking about from not only paying the preacher angle, but from all income and expense angles. A study of your tax instructions may be advisable.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 88,000 MILES
MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD
AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!
We know this car was tough.
We designed it that way.
That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest test run of all time . . . with all America as the "track."
We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 88,000 miles through 87 states.
The time limit? Only 58 days.
A thousand miles a day!
The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!
Three times this Plymouth crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way up and down across the country . . . passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over bumpy . . . creeping through city traffic . . . crawling down steep hills . . . being towed by way through 800 miles of rough terrain. And when the detour started for the end of the marathon, it still looked, well and rode like new.
This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that comes and weather it out. Only Plymouth can give you a top drive year after year. Today! You'll see what we mean.
That's the Plymouth "road" look at that route! Even the roughest road and weather can't stop a Plymouth. It ran every inch of the course route 3 times in just 58 days. That's greater proof of lasting stamina!
Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for you!
