

Community Thanksgiving Service To Be Held Nov. 25

Offering at Thanksgiving Service Will Be Used to Help Indigent Families

The offering taken at the annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be used to replenish the Ministerial Alliance Relief Fund, which in turn expends the money for the relief of indigent families stranded in our city.

A word of explanation about this fund is given in order that donors may know what their offering does for those in need.

There are many families who are much less fortunate than most of us, who in their travels run out of funds. It is the purpose of this Relief Fund to provide for those folks that they may continue on their way to their destination.

During this year, this fund has helped 20 or more individuals, mostly family groups, providing gasoline for their car, a few groceries, and for some hotel accommodations for the night. This has resulted in depleting the money available in the fund.

A committee of three men, Bill Holden, chairman, John Fouts and Ira Hester administrator this fund to see that those in need are helped.

Your Thanksgiving offering is needed. Attend the Community Service and give as generously as your means will permit.

Brighter Street Lights Due For All Parts Town

Brilliance of street lights throughout the entire city will be greatly increased with completion of a project now under way here by West Texas Utilities Company, with work contracted by Williams Construction Company of Abilene.

A crew of linemen began work last week on change-over of the street lighting system to provide improved lighting in both business and residential areas.

Most noticeable improvement will be in the business section, where 25,000-lumen mercury vapor lamps will replace the present 10,000-lumen incandescent lights, more than doubling their brilliance.

The present bracket-type 2500-lumen lamps along Highways 277 and 24 inside the city limits are being replaced with pendant type 6,000-lumen lamps. In all, 42 lamps of this type will be installed in replacing existing lights along the two highways.

Change-over of the system will likely be completed this week if all needed material is available and weather conditions do not halt work, local WTU Manager Henry Withers said.

Firemen's Football Game Due Tonight

With more than 400 advance tickets sold for the affair, tonight's football game between teams of Haskell and Throckmorton fire departments is expected to attract a large turnout of football fans anxious to see the performance of the smoke-eaters as gridiron performers.

Coach George Neely has been running his three platoons through rigorous (for them) training sessions during the past week in trying to eliminate the awkward efforts of his charges in handling the pigskin.

Neely will send his No. 1 "Go" squad in as starters with Ray Overton Jr. as quarterback and George Tyler in the reserve slot.

J. S. Seets, 76, Is Painfully Burned When Explosion, Fire, Destroys Home

J. S. Seets, 76, received burns on both hands and his face in an explosion and fire which destroyed the two-story, 11-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Seets on North 2nd and Ave. BE early Monday night.

Firemen fought the blaze in 25-degree weather for more than an hour to prevent spread of the fire to other residences and buildings in the vicinity. At the height of the blaze, burning embers and sparks were carried as far as Kennedy Lumber Company, more than a block south of the burning house.

The explosion, heard and felt as far as six blocks away, occurred about 6:10 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Seets occupy the seven downstairs rooms in the two-story house. Mr. Seets, who had been listening to a radio program in his bedroom, had started to the bathroom on the east side of the house.

As he started to open the bathroom door, he said there was an explosion and blast of fire which blistered his face and set fire to a sweater he was wearing.

Beating out his burning clothing, he went to the living room to assist Mrs. Seets, who is 75 years old, from the house as heat and smoke filled the downstairs rooms.

A daughter of the couple, Mrs. Opal Rose and her daughter Neida, whose home is just north of the Seets house, were the first to reach Mr. and Mrs. Seets and carried them to their home.

A neighbor, Rev. W. T. Priddy, who lives across the street, had just returned home and heard the explosion just as he started to enter his house. After seeing the flames, he called to Mrs. Priddy to notify the fire department, and went to assist Mr. and Mrs. Seets.

Mrs. Seets was uninjured, and Rev. Priddy carried Mr. Seets to the Haskell Hospital for treatment of his burns.

Mr. Seets could not account for the explosion. The house is serviced with natural gas, and Mr. Seets said a heater was burning in the bathroom at the time.

The large house, built a number of years ago and known as the Whitmire homeplace, was totally destroyed, along with all furniture and household effects of Mr. and Mrs. Seets.

Loss on the house was estimated at $7,500, but no estimate was available on value of the contents.

Plans Mapped for Annual Christmas Program Dec. 3

Christmas Seals Mailed To 2,000 County Residents

Detailed plans were announced this week for Haskell's annual Christmas Program to be held Friday, Dec. 4, marking the opening of the holiday shopping season in Haskell.

Feature events on that date will be the traditional Christmas Parade of holiday floats and decorated cars, and as an added attraction this year a Children's Pageant in which children from all schools in the county have been invited to take part.

As a special highlight, Santa Claus will be on hand at his brand new headquarters on the courthouse lawn, and will distribute several hundred pounds of candy free to the children.

Cash prizes amounting to $100 will be awarded winning entries in the Children's Street Pageant, while in the Christmas Parade of decorated cars and floats six cash prizes amounting to $150 will be awarded in six divisions.

First, second and third prizes of $25, $20, and $15 will be awarded winning floats in the school division, and similar awards will be paid in the division for clubs and organizations.

Continuing the holiday program right up until Christmas drawings for $100 cash will be held each Saturday afternoon until Christmas—on Dec. 5, Dec. 12, and Dec. 19.

The list of names to be used in the drawings will include all persons who have registered an automobile in Haskell County during 1959.

Persons not having an automobile registered in their name may qualify for the drawing by registering their name at the Chamber of Commerce office.

All Haskell merchants, along with all clubs and civic organizations, have been invited to enter a decorated car or float in the Christmas Parade.

A number of entries had been listed Tuesday, and those who have not entered are urged to call the Chamber of Commerce and list their entry.

Entries in the Children's Street Pageant should be sent to Mrs. Bill Richey, chairman of the C. of C. office. Deadline for entries in this event is Friday, Nov. 20.

Goodfellows Planning to Provide Holiday Cheer for Needy Families

In keeping with their annual custom, Haskell Goodfellows, sponsored by the Lions Club, have launched plans to provide at least some measure of holiday cheer for needy and less fortunate families in our community at Christmas time.

To carry on their program, Goodfellows will need the help of every public-spirited citizen of Haskell, and the cooperation of all local and civic organizations as well.

Food and clothing, along with candy, fruits and a few toys where there are children in the families, are the principal items that will go into the Christmas baskets the Goodfellows distribute at Christmas each year.

The program costs money—a lot more money than the Goodfellows have in their treasury—and they're asking you to become a Goodfellow by sending in a contribution today.

Donations in any amount should be sent to "Goodfellows, in care of The Free Press, Haskell." All contributions will be acknowledged in the columns of the newspaper unless otherwise requested.

Individuals, as well as churches, clubs and civic groups are asked to turn in names of all needy and deserving families to the Chamber of Commerce office, where the Goodfellows list will be compiled.

Information that is needed will be name and address of the family, number in the family group, whether boys or girls, and their ages.

Twenty-five members of the Pirate squad attended.

Free Press Will Be Printed Day Early Next Week

Next week's issue of The Press will be published and mailed one day early, in order that the entire newspaper staff may observe a Thanksgiving holiday.

Earlier printing of the newspaper will make it necessary that all news and advertising copy must be turned in not later than Monday evening. The edition will be dated Nov. 26, but will be mailed Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 25.

Cooperation of advertisers and news contributors in meeting the earlier deadline will be appreciated.

Thanksgiving To Be Business Holiday

Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 27, will be observed as a business holiday in Haskell, with virtually all retail stores and professional offices closed for the day.

This conforms with a schedule of business holidays adopted by business men in a poll conducted by the Chamber of Commerce at the beginning of the year.

Only exceptions will be cafes and possibly service stations, some of which will be open for the convenience of the traveling public.

Haskell public schools and public offices will observe the holiday, along with the post office and other government agencies. All offices in the city hall and courthouse will be closed with the exception of the sheriff's office, highway patrol, and city police department, with these agencies observing their regular schedule.

No deliveries of mail will be made on rural routes or city carrier routes, and delivery windows in the post office will also be closed. However, all outgoing mail will be dispatched on regular schedule.

Weinert-Divide Bi-District Tilt Re-Set for Friday

The bi-district Six-Man football game between Weinert and Divide, originally scheduled last Friday night at Mui day, has been re-set for Friday, Nov. 20.

Postponement was due to violated technicality of TI rules.

Sam Adams, Weinert coach said that Divide had unintentionally violated the Interscholastic rule which stipulates team must play no more than 10 games between Sept. 4 and Nov. 14.

Divide, the unbeaten champion of District 10-B Six-Man had not allowed for an open date between those dates, so it could not play an 11th game on Nov. 13.

Weinert, champion of District 3-B Six-Man, has won 32 consecutive games. Adams said the bi-district game would be played in Munday, Friday, November 20, at 7:30 p. m.

Facing Up to a Responsible Decision

Directors of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, along with the City Councils of the four towns involved, have a terrific responsibility in their endeavors to determine the wisest course to follow in trying to solve the municipal water problems of their towns.

Under mandate of a majority of the voters in the water district, a $3,800,000 bond issue was authorized more than a year ago. At that time, it was estimated this sum would finance the project.

Rise in interest rate has added a formidable sum to the financing cost when considered over a period of 40 years, which would be the life of the bonds.

At the present time, water district directors have proposed to sell $1,250,000 of the bonds, which they estimate would pay for the land needed and for building a 25,000-acre-foot reservoir.

Following this plan requires that water district taxes be assessed and collected for the current year, 1959. Yet this would only finance the initial phase of the program.

Many taxpayers have voiced disapproval of this plan. Some, no doubt, would oppose new taxes of any kind for any purpose, while others sincerely believe the plan to be unwise, and the cost prohibitive.

It goes without saying that water district directors nor city officials have no desire to go against the wishes and studied judgment of responsible citizens. Rather than criticism, they deserve an honest expression from every responsible citizen in helping them to form a decision that will reflect the calm and deliberate judgment of those who have the best interests of the community at heart.

Christmas Program Deserves Support

Final plans are being completed this week for staging one of this city's major community events—the annual Christmas Program making the opening of the holiday season in Haskell.

The gala event attracts throngs of people to Haskell each year and has gained many new customers for local stores as a result of the varied and attractive lines of holiday merchandise displayed in connection with the Christmas Program.

This year's event is scheduled Friday, Dec. 4, with a huge Christmas Parade and Children's Street Pageant, the latter an added feature this year.

Carrying the program on until Christmas as a continued affair, $100 in cash will be given away each Saturday in December, in drawings to be held on the courthouse lawn.

Cost of the over-all program has been held to a minimum of $700, with local business concerns to underwrite this expense. Finance committee of the Christmas Program is canvassing the business section today and tomorrow to raise this sum, and we are confident each merchant will cooperate by sharing his portion of the program's budget.

Also, further cooperation toward making this year's program a bigger success than ever before, can be given by a larger number of business concerns and local organizations sponsoring a decorated car or float in the Christmas Parade.

Long Way To Go

During his American visit, Soviet Premier Krushchev made it clear that one of his primary goals is a Soviet economy which will out-produce that of the United States. And the intimation was that this will be accomplished in the foreseeable future.

If the Premier is correct, he will have produced a miracle of the first water.

U. S. News & World Report has summed up comparative data, based on official sources, concerning pay and output here and in the Soviet Union. Highlights:

Average U. S. factory pay is $4,700—in Russia it is about $1,000, based on buying power. The average American farmer produces enough for himself and 20 others, with much to spare as the huge farm surpluses prove—while the average Russian farmer produces enough for himself and only four others, with nothing to spare. And the output of the U. S. factory worker is 2 1/2 to three times that of his Soviet equivalent.

The magazine says: "So the Krushchev problem boils down to this: inefficient farming, meaning a limited supply of workers for other jobs... a shortage of modern equipment, as well as manpower, for nonfarm production... low productivity of the work force... defense needs that strain the country's capacity to produce."

Capitalism, with its competitions, its incentives, its freedoms and opportunities for all, has done more good things for more people than any other system ever devised by man.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Any time you've seen a group of three or four men gathered during the past week, odds are that the subject under discussion was the water district tax assessment.

Mailing of what may be loosely called tax notices jarred the eye teeth of Haskell people and furnished topic for some red hot conversations.

Judging from some of the comments, we don't envy members of the district's Equalization Board one bit. Rather we sympathize with them in the job they're up against.

The suggestion made by one wag might have some merit. He suggested that since the equalization board hearings are to be held in the courthouse, Commissioners should take out additional insurance against "spontaneous combustion" that might be generated at the hearings.

In addition to protesting property-owners, there'll likely be numerous spectators on hand, curious to listen in on the proceedings. A man might pick up a fast buck or two if he could work out some sort of ticket-selling operation for the affair.

We recall the time back in the 20's, when district court proceedings were halted and the courtroom cleared because of so many spectators and the danger that the jammed courtroom balcony might collapse.

The occasion came about when widelypublicized murder trial was transferred from Wichita Falls to Haskell.

On the day of the trial, the courtroom was packed with spectators. That was before the courthouse had been remodeled, and the old balcony around the south, east and west sides of the courtroom was built of wood.

As the trial got underway, spectators were jammed in the balcony like sardines. A court attendant, noticing the balcony would sag as people moved about, called attention of the late Judge Bruce W. Bryant to the danger that the balcony might collapse at any time.

Calling attorneys on both sides to his bench for a conference, the judge advised them of the danger. Then in order not to alarm the packed courtroom, Judge Bryant calmly announced that further trial of the case would be recessed until the following morning, and admonished spectators to move out quietly.

During the remainder of the afternoon and that night, several carpenters worked steadily in placing a score of heavy timbers spaced about 10 feet apart, under the balcony to strengthen its supports.

Incidentally, that trial was the beginning of a close personal friendship between the late Federal Judge James V. Allred and Chief Justice Clyde Grissom of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals.

At that time Allred was district attorney at Wichita Falls, while Grissom was district attorney in this district. As a result of their close association in the hard-fought case here

QUESTION.

Is one a child of God the moment he receives Christ? John 1:12, 13.

Send your answers to:
The Church of Christ
Wehnert, Texas
"The truth shall make you free." (John 8:32)

the two men became lifelong friends.

We admit being a member of that large group of fishermen who hold the pessimistic belief that fish, especially the big game ones, just never bite like some people claim. This belief is well founded on years of experience, because we've spent many fruitless hours trying to entice fish of any size to take one of our hooks.

Now comes along a mere 110 pound sloop of a woman who lands not only a whopping 45-pound yellow catfish, but a lot of others, none of which weighed under 17 pounds! All were caught in one night on trotlines she put out.

The feminine fishing champ, Mrs. Virgil Shaw, has a knack of catching big fish. She and her husband operate a fishing camp on Lake Stamford, and in the past few years she has caught any number of 20 and 30-pounders, along with several in the 40-pound or better weight division.

We have no idea what the biggest fish in that lake might weigh, but we'll wager that Mrs. Shaw will be the one who finds out if anyone does.

Sub-freezing temperatures at the time this is being written bear out predictions of some of the old-timers that this is to be a severe old-fashioned winter, with plenty of ice and snow.

Some of the "signs" they put store in can readily be seen, such as the extremely heavy coat of fur on both domesticated and wild animals; ravens flying near the ground while returning to their roosts early each evening; and sparrows, starlings and other birds converging on their winter roosts in town a month ahead of normal schedule.

Brooks Middleton has another indication of a hard winter. He claims that when bark on a mesquite tree is so tough you can hardly pull a strip off, the country is in for a real rough winter.

For our part, we've noticed the family cat, Old Yellow, a veteran of many winters, has put on a coat of fur that rivals a polar bear. Cat instinct probably warns him that it is wise to be on the safe side.

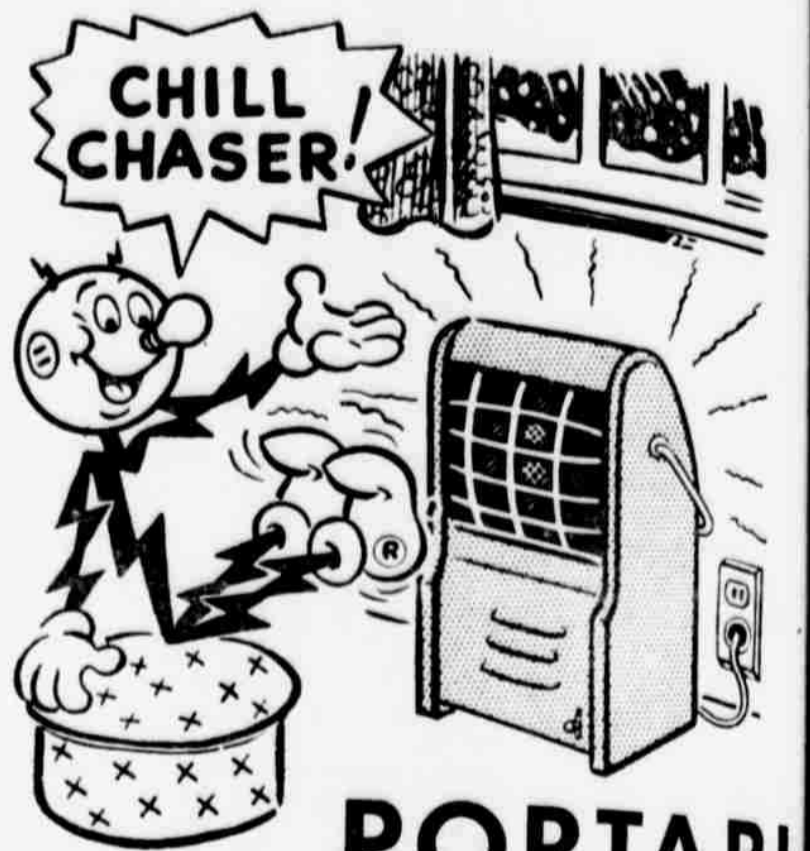

A salesman who calls on a certain Haskell store, and whose line includes heavy underwear for men, evidently is among those who think a severe winter is pending.

On a recent call he was given an order for merchandise which included several pairs of heavy underwear to fill in the stock already on hand.

When the shipment arrived, the store owner was surprised when the transport truck started unloading cartons after cartons of heavy underwear.

A hurried check revealed that the shipment included approximately 1500 dozen "longies"—enough to outfit a sizeable army!

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe.

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But the kind of lightness and precision simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and about buying it." Chevrolet leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to styling. The best judge of styling, though, is good close look at Chevrolet. You: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have one!" Chevy's spirited V8's are standard for ultra-efficient performance. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from.

So that, friends, is what you want. We think it can be had up rather well in just one word.

Get the full story of Chevy's value soon at your Chevrolet dealer.

Nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came...

Crop Residue Is Help In Keeping
Winter Moisture

Well, it looks as if we may be in for a long hard winter with high winds for company in the Wichita Brazos-California Creek Soil Conservation District.

There are many farmers throughout the country who have left sizeable amounts of crop residues on top of the soil. This could prove to be very beneficial to next year's crops, according to Hinds McGowen Jr., SCS technician.

During the winter of 1958 a brief survey was made by the SCS technicians at Haskell following an 8 inch snow. It was found that only 2 inches or less of the snow remained on clean tilled land. Most of the snow had drifted upon fence rows 8-15 inches deep or piled up in road ditches. Where grain sorghum residues were left standing snow was 6-10 inches deep and there were no signs of drifting. Snow varies in moisture content, ordinarily 9-19 inches of snow will produce about 1 inch of moisture, fields that have a protective cover of small grain or grain sorghum residues will hold the snow thus preventing drifts, and the moisture to penetrate into the soil. The starting of next year's crops could very well depend upon moisture obtained by winter snows, McGowen pointed out.

There are two factors to be considered in Crop Residue Management this time of the year. First to increase the amount of moisture intake of the land, and second, but not least, to prevent soil loss due to wind erosion. The effectiveness of this operation depends strictly upon the amount of residues left on the soil surface. Research at several experiment stations in the Great Plains area of the U. S. has shown that you destroy 50% of residues each time a disc-type implement is used. Whereas sweep type plows destroy about 1/10 of the crop residues each time of plowing. Many farmers in Haskell County practice residue utilization for this purpose. To name a few Delma Williams, R. K. Denson and Leroy Casey of the Rule area, W. L. Ballard, W. A. Hatfield and Garland Lewis of the Rochester area, and C. G. Burson, H. R. Calloway and Burnell Gillettland of the Haskell area. "For the Land's Sake Keep It Covered," McGowen said. "By doing so you will help insure the posterity of our future generations."

Haskell Woman's Kin Is Consultant On UT's Nuclear Research Cyclotron

Dr. Byron Wright of Los Angeles, Calif., one of the nation's top cyclotron experts and nephew of Mrs. J. E. Bernard of Haskell, was in Austin recently to discuss the proposed University of Texas Nuclear Research Center now being planned.

Dr. Wright, member of the faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles, is the youngest of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wright of Waco. He is named for an uncle, the late Byron Wright of Haskell, former longtime County Treasurer here.

Dr. Wright is the builder of the much talked-of cyclotron installed at the University of Texas and similar units at several other large universities throughout the United States.

The new cyclotron at the U.

of T. can train graduates for nuclear-powered industry and add a new group of research-minded professors, in the view of Dr. Wright.

He is a strong advocate of the cyclotron as the heart of a university research program into the secrets of the atom.

A veteran cyclotron man, Dr. Wright is an expert in a brand new scientific field. The first cyclotron was built in 1930—just one year after California Professor Ernest Lawrence first thought of the idea. And man had observed a naturally disintegrating atom just 10 years earlier in 1919.

The plutonium bomb is already old hat and it's been part of our vocabulary less than 20 years.

"We've got a long way to go if we want to learn everything a high-powered particle of matter can do," Dr. Wright declares.

And the cyclotron is one way of getting there.

Mrs. Larned returned home by bus during last weekend's cold spell, and stated her bus was delayed an hour due to icy highways.

First District President Is Speaker At Progressive Study Club Meeting

"Command Performance," the third program of the Educational Television series, was presented to the members of the Progressive Study Club on Nov. 12. Mrs. Bob Herren, chairman of the community affairs department and program director, welcomed members and guests and introduced Mrs. W. D. Streetman of Fort Worth, First District president.

Mrs. Streetman gave an enlightening and informal talk on the ideals and success of the Federated Women's Clubs. She then read a letter of gratitude from Greece to clubs in the First District for their generous contribution through CARE.

Principal speaker of the evening was Mrs. Ben W. Boyd of Denton, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Boyd enumerated the "Six S's" of Federation: self, service, social, security, satisfaction and strength.

"Just as the 13 colonies federated for strength, so have we joined together," Mrs. Boyd said.

of the work that has been carried on by the NIBS in the past four years. Mrs. Trice introduced the following NIBS to the club: Joanie Frazier, Pamela Baird, Nancy Britte, Sandra Isbell, Linda Ivy, Betty Williams, Jonard Boone, Nancy Lawson, Elaine Self, Marlene Letz, Beverley Kuenstler, Glenda Tucker, Sue Schridner of Haskell, and Annette Higgs and Renee Hines of Rule.

Mrs. C. O. Holt, president of the Magazine Club was also a guest.

Mrs. Bailey Toliver, president, presented personal gifts to Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Streetman. A check of $10.00 was given to Mrs. Boyd to apply to a nursing scholarship, of which she was founder.

Members of the social committee, Mmes. M. C. Medley, R. A. Lane, H. E. Stephens and Don Nanny, invited guests and members to a buffet of dainty sandwiches, cake and coffee.

A brown linen cloth covered the serving table on which was displayed a lovely cornucopia arrangement. Silver appointments were used.

State, District Presidents of TFWC Guest Speakers at Magazine Club

Federation Day was observed Friday, Nov. 13 by the Magazine Club at a buffet luncheon in the clubhouse. This was the annual Federation Program, a requirement of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Honor guests were Mrs. Ben W. Boyd, state president, and Mrs. W. B. Streetman, First District president.

Mrs. C. O. Holt, president, welcomed guests and members, and Mrs. R. C. Cough Sr., gave the invocation. Autumn tones in decorations added atmosphere throughout the club rooms.

Mrs. Jack Pippin and Mrs. C. J. Robinson presided at the buffet table. The hostesses served luncheon on quarter tables, laid with brown cloths. Centerpieces were raffia cornucopias filled with fall flowers, which served as table decorations.

Assisting Mrs. Pippin, social chairman, were Mesdames R. L. Burton, A. C. Williams, W. E. Huss, Robert Wheatley and C. J. Robinson.

Guest speakers were introduced by Mrs. C. O. Holt.

Mrs. Streetman spoke on "Advantages of Federation." She also suggested that the CARE Program should be kept in mind. "The people of Greece, which is the country chosen by the Texas Federation, are looking to us, the Federated club women of Texas," she told her audience.

Following Mrs. Streetman's talk, Mrs. Boyd, state president, discussed "Privileges of Federation." She emphasized the opportunities that women have to serve humanity through their federated club work, and explained the six S's.

Mrs. Boyd stressed the state project, "Need for Nurses" and told of the State Scholarship Fund to help educate more nurses. She closed her talk with the following quotation: "A task without vision is drudgery; a vision without a task is fantasy; a task without a vision is the light of the world."

The Magazine Club contributed to the Nursing Scholarship Fund, making the donation for First District $110.

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce is invited to designate the day desired. This day would then be set up for special recognition of the city. The city is invited to send its band to give a concert for Stock Show visitors during this special day. Band members would then be guests at the rodeo, according to W. R. Watts, Ft. Worth Stock Show president-manager.

Also, the city is invited to name a young lady (either married or unmarried) as Cowgirl Sweetheart. Minimum age of Cowgirl Sweetheart is 16. She will wear Western attire and be introduced to rodeo visitors on this special day.

Any riding club in the vicinity is invited to ride with the Cowgirl Sweetheart in the grand entry of a performance of the rodeo on this special day. Recognition will be given by the rodeo announcer.

The local Chamber of Commerce will have a block of tickets to the rodeo for sale for this special day. The Haskell delegation will then be invited to sit in this block and rise as a body to be introduced.

Further information may be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce or by writing to the Publicity Department, Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas.

Feeding Cotton Seed to Cattle

BY F. W. MARTIN
County Agent

Several farmers and ranchers have asked me recently about feeding cotton seed to cattle. Due to the favorable price of cotton seed as compared to cotton seed meal it might be worth considering.

"Cattle fed cotton seed in place of cotton seed meal in 1931-32, with ground milo heads and sumac fodder made 9% greater gain and yielded carcasses 6.3% heavier, at a saving of 34% in roughage required to produce 100 pounds gain. When considered from the standpoint of total return per steer, they had an advantage of $3.12 brought about by a higher selling price and their greater weight. The average gain per head produced by cotton seed meal was 351 lbs. as compared to 383 lbs. produced by cotton seed in the 182-period. The average carcass weights were 537 and 571 lbs. respectively. This was an advantage of 32 lbs. in gain and 34 lbs. in carcass weight.

On the basis of feedlot weights, steers which were fed cotton seed in 1932-33, made 4% less gain, yielded 1.4% more dressed beef, but consumed 9% more concentrates and 13% less roughage per hundred pounds gain, than steers which were fed cotton seed meal. The financial returns favored cotton seed because of lower feed costs.

In 1933-34, cotton seed successfully replaced 33% of the ground milo heads in a fattening ration. The average gain of 2 lots which were fed seed to replace 33% of the milo heads was 228 pounds as compared to an average of 217 pounds for 2 lots straight ground milo heads. Cotton seed meal was fed as the protein supplement in each case. Thus, when seed replaced 33% of the ground heads, no particular advantage in gain or dressed beef resulted, but the seed-fed cattle required 6.2% less concentrates and 7.8% less silage to produce 100 pounds of gain in

Randy and Louie Prove Skill On New Mexico Hunt

Randy Ballard and Louie Kuenstler, who left early last week to be on hand for opening of the deer hunting season in New Mexico Nov. 11, had live weight. In addition they had an advantage of 25c per hundred in selling price, $3.72 per head in gross return and $3.52 per head in net return.

Five hundred thirty-six lbs. of cotton seed fed to replace 144 pounds of ground milo heads and 334 pounds of cotton seed meal, increased the gain 11.1% and the yield of dressed beef 2.1% at a saving of 8.2% in concentrates and 13.4% in silage required per hundred pounds gain. The seed fed cattle had an advantage of 30 cents per hundred in selling price and $1.44 in gross return per head. Similar feeding when chopped fodder was the roughage, increased the gain 14.3% and the yield of dressed beef 3.9% at a saving of 9.6% in concentrates and 12.4% in fodder required per hundred pounds gain. Both lots sold for the same price per hundred, but the seed-fed cattle showed an advantage of $2.86 in net return per head."

Bobcat, Not Buck Is Quarry Bagged By Local Hunters

A deer hunting foray by John Camp, Leslie Davis and Earl Cathey of this city on the opening day of the season failed to net a deer, but the hunt was not a complete water-haul.

The trio went to the Butler Ranch near the northwest corner of Stonewall County and spent most of the morning hunting. After failing to jump any deer, although seeing plenty of tracks, the men were returning through the rough country toward their car.

Davis, in the lead, was startled when he was confronted by a huge bobcat in a narrow gully. Instead of taking fright, the snarling 'cat stood its ground until Davis had time to kill it with a shot from his deer rifle.

The big 'cat weighed 40 pounds, and persons viewing the animal when the hunters arrived home stated it was one of the largest killed in this section.

Spanish II Class Planning Trip To Mexico

Members of the second year Spanish Class in Haskell High School met recently, elected officers and began work on plans for a trip to Old Mexico.

Officers elected are: Ben Anderson, president; Lonnie Sturdy, vice president; Sue Christian, secretary; Julie Collins, treasurer; Jo Boone, reporter. Three committee chairmen were also appointed: Program, Lonnie Sturdy; Yearbook, Julie Collins; and Social, Joan Watson.

In connection with plans for the trip to Mexico, members will be saving their money, and conducting several selling campaigns to raise funds for the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams were visitors recently in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. E. Wilson, in Rockport, Texas.

COLOR TV FACTS - - -

Customers who are interested in color TV should know a few facts before they buy.

The cheapest table model color TV is over $500 including tax. A new color TV picture tube installation will cost around $200.00. The president of one of the largest TV producers said a prospective buyer should see his building contractor first and have him build an extra room with private bath for his TV repairman for he is coming to live with him.

Several large TV manufacturers including Philco have stopped production of color sets. Zenith has color but says it isn't ready for retail customers yet. When large manufacturers like these say it isn't good enough, that is good enough for me.

Only one large manufacturer is really pushing color and they make and sell transmitting equipment. They also push printed circuits. Combine color TV with printed circuit and you've had it.

"Flex-O-Glass has made our porch a year 'round, livable room. The children love it."

"Here's an inside view of our large screened porch. If you couldn't see the snow outside, you'd think it was taken in summer. What doesn't show is the crystal-clear Flex-O-Glass tacked over our screens—an invisible barrier between our home and winter. This is the second year we have used the same Flex-O-Glass. We expect it to last at least two years more. That means it will cost us only about $15 a year to protect the rest of the house against drafts. We can leave our furniture on the porch the entire year and provide a warm, protected play area for the children. If you would like to use this letter to tell other homeowners how much they're missing by not using your wonderful Flex-O-Glass to protect their homes against winter weather, you have my enthusiastic approval."

"Flex-O-Glass is the cheapest investment in winter comfort we've ever made," says L. D. Higbie.

"The few yards of Warp's clear Flex-O-Glass we tacked over the screens of our breezeway kept out cold, wind, rain and snow and gave us a warm extra room. I tell my friends that if their breezeway is a winter 'breezeway' to put up Flex-O-Glass and keep winter cold outside where it belongs."

"My living room was warm and cozy all winter long. Last winter we covered the front door and five windows with Flex-O-Glass. It made the house much easier to heat. We're so sold on Flex-O-Glass that we're going to cover our entire front porch with it this winter. It will just be one extra room and make the protection for the rest of us in the house." (The author has entire porch well covered with 18 yards of flexible Flex-O-Glass, costing only $12.42.)

Lions Urged To Give Their Best For Civic Good

Members of the Lions Club were given a brief run-down of some of the major achievements of the Chamber of Commerce, along with a challenge as civic-minded citizens to give the organization their ideas, suggestions, and their support in development of a program of community betterment.

The speaker was Mrs. W. R. Johnson, manager of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce. She was introduced by Jetty V. Clare, who arranged the program.

In citing some of the accomplishments of the C. of C. during the past 12 months, she surprised her audience with the numerous projects that had been completed in one of the most active years in the organization's history.

Some of the achievements listed were completion of a municipal air strip and a new golf course, paving of downtown alleys, hospital improvement program, highway signs and other promotional publicity, location of a 200-bed Civil Defense emergency hospital in Haskell, a United Fund organization, and numerous other projects and activities.

In concluding her talk, she challenged Lions to give their best ideas and thoughts to improving the town and community. "Your ideas, given to a working organization, will be quickly transformed into concrete achievements," she said.

Club President Guy Harris reminded Lions that Dec. 1 would be Toy Day for the club, when each member was to bring a toy or purchase one for underprivileged children of Haskell.

A guest at the luncheon and meeting was J. E. Landtroop, manager of Pal-O-Mar Lodge.

Proof that the big catfish are biting is shown in this picture of 14 catfish weighing a total of 410 pounds, caught on trotlines at Shaw's Fishing Camp on Lake Stamford, Sunday night Nov. 8. Mrs. Virgil Shaw, who with her husband operates the camp, is standing behind two 30 pound yellow cats. Biggest of the lot, a 45-pounder, is the second fish strung at left of the iron clothesline post. On the following night, Nov. 9, four more fish taken on the trotlines weighed 110 pounds altogether. ### C. of C. Directors Hear Reports On Civic Projects

Brief reports on Chamber of Commerce civic projects were heard by directors of the organization at the monthly breakfast meeting Tuesday morning in the Highway Drive In.

Principal activity at present is the Christmas Program which is shaping up on schedule. An innovation this year will be a miniature cottage for Santa Claus which will be placed on the courthouse lawn. The building is almost finished, directors were told.

Highway signs advertising Haskell are being installed near the city limits. Chairman Harold Spain reported, and this project should be finished shortly, he said.

The United Fund campaign, in which the C. of C. had a leading role, was successful and its goal of $11,070.00 was over-subscribed by approximately $2,100, campaign chairman Tom Barfield reported.

Officers and directors present at the morning session were Myron Beard, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. Artie Mae Burkett, Mrs. Barney Frazier, Charles Swinson, Dr. T. W. Williams, John Kimbrough, Bill Pogue, Dr. J. G. Vaughter, Tom Barfield, Wilda Medford, Henry Withers, Harold Spain, Lon Pate, A. M. Turner.

District Workers Institute Held At First Methodist

A District Institute for Children's Workers was held in the First Methodist Church Tuesday, Nov. 17.

Workshops were held on Africa and the Church's Mission in Town and County which will be the subjects for study in additional sessions for the Primary and Junior Departments this year. The adult studies will cover the same areas.

The Institute was under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Pittman of Haskell, Conference secretary of Children's Work; Mrs. W. C. Stephens of Knox City, District Secretary of Children's Work; and Mrs. Garth McCallum of Stamford, District Director of Children's Work.

Mrs. C. A. Holcomb, wife of the District Superintendent, led the devotion.

Science Teacher Guest Speaker At Rotary Club

Science fiction of today will be science facts of tomorrow. Dr. Charles E. Compton Jr., traveling science teacher-lecturer told members of the Rotary Club Thursday at their regular meeting and luncheon.

Dr. Compton, in Haskell for a week's series of lectures and demonstrations in Haskell High School, was guest speaker. Accompanying him as special guests of the club were Principal W. P. McCollum and Gerald McCoy, science teacher in HHS who introduced the speaker. The program was arranged by Rotarian Lon Pate.

Dr. Compton explained that the current program being carried to high schools throughout the Southwest, is sponsored by the National Science Foundation and Oklahoma State University.

In a series of fast-moving demonstrations, the lecturer amazed and fascinated his audience as he explained and illustrated scientific phenomena, using a gyroscope, magnet, and other equipment as part of his lectures.

He expressed the view that scientific progress will provide jobs ten years from now in fields that are undreamed of today.

In the business session of the meeting, members were reminded that no meeting would be held on Thanksgiving Day, and also that the club had a goal of 100 per cent attendance in Abilene Dec. 1 for the visit of the president of Rotary International.

Guests at the meeting were K. K. Francis of Stamford, John Hansen of Knox City, Rev. Chas. Wittle of Fort Worth, Rev. Oscar Bruce of Haskell, Jerry Kay of Wichita Falls, Frank Turner of Dallas and Joel Wilson of Abilene. Mr. Wilson led in singing several songs, with Mrs. Henry Withers as pianist.

R. V. Black Gets 11-Point Buck In Palo Pinto

A two-day hunt in below-freezing weather paid off for R. V. Black and Morris Jones of this city, who returned Wednesday morning with an unusually large 11-point buck killed in Palo Pinto County. The animal dressed out at 125 pounds.

Black killed the animal about mid-afternoon Tuesday with two well-placed shots, the last a running shot at a distance of 240 steps.

Although reportedly plentiful, deer were extremely hard to spot, the two men reported. Jones had one opportunity for a good shot at a large deer, but was unable to determine whether it was a doe or buck and was hesitant to shoot.

Jones and Black are employees of Service Pipe Line here.

The Navy's Military Sea Transportation Service was activated on Oct. 1, 1949, thereby combining the services of both Army and Navy transports ferrying troops and supplies throughout the world.

INSUFFICIENT COVERAGE

SOME forms of inadequate coverage can be seen in the dark - others are less obvious - for example, those involving insurance.

To be really adequate, insurance on your house should cover not only fire, but also damage from smoke, windstorm, hail and other hazards. Adequate insurance on personal property should cover luggage, fur coats, jewels, cameras, collections and other valuables.

Fortunately, there is an easy way to make certain your insurance is complete and up-to-date. This agency is fully prepared to give expert advice concerning your vital insurance needs. Don't guess - consult us today

Lane-Felker's Formal Opening Nov. 23-24

The New Lane-Felker's . . . completely modern and designed especially for you . . . featuring Nationally Famous labels for Women and Misses . . . we extend a cordial invitation to attend our Formal Opening.

Lane-Felker's of Today Had Modest Beginning As Small Concern In 1940

R. A. LANE
Co-Owner

MRS. W. V. FELKER
Co-Owner

Lane-Felker's spacious and modern store of today is in striking contrast to the modest beginning as a small store in March, 1940, featuring a limited stock of ladies ready-to-wear.

Unchanged however, are three outstanding characteristics which have been a major factor in the growth of the establishment through the years. These are the store's policy of featuring only the better lines of merchandise, prices consistent with the budget of fashion-conscious women of this section, and lastly, courteous individual attention to each customer in helping them with their selections. With Mattie Muriel Felker and Frances Lane as partners and co-owners, the original Lane-Felker store was opened March 1, 1940, occupying a space of 20x40 feet in the south side of the building which is now entirely occupied by the store.

First major expansion of the store was in 1948, when they purchased the beauty shop owned by their sister-in-law, Mrs. J. E. Walling and occupying a part of the building. At this time Lane-Felker also purchased the entire building from the late Lee Pierson. Two years later, in 1950, the beauty shop was discontinued in order that the space occupied might be utilized for the expanding lines of merchandise and larger stocks for their steadily increasing clientele. Again in a few years, the need for still more space became apparent, and an addition of 30 feet was built, and at that time the entire building underwent a "face lifting" job.

The store front was modernized with a new plate glass front and the entire building renovated. Also in 1952, their husbands, W. V. Felker and R. A. Lane added a modern men's wear store in the north portion of the building which formerly was occupied by Felker's Cafe. This venture prospered and became one of the leading men's stores in this section. However, in 1958, need for still more room for the original Lane-Felker establishment resulted in a decision to discontinue the men's store, with the ladies wear store then being expanded into both sections of the building. Early in 1959, Deryl McElreath, a commercial building designer of Dallas, was engaged to prepare plans for remodeling the entire building, and contract for this work went to John McMillan, a local building contractor. Remodelling of the entire building was started June 1, and for the ensuing few months, business was carried on despite the noise of carpenter's hammers and saws and aisles blocked by scaffolds as the newly designed interior took shape. Finally in early Fall, with attractive new fixtures and display facilities in place, with the interior of the store entirely renovated, the new and greatly enlarged Lane-Felker establishment became a reality. To afford women of this section, and general public as well, an opportunity to visit and inspect the beautiful new store, a Formal Opening is scheduled Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 23-24.

Styling, Fashion, Service Stressed at Lane-Felker's

Styling, fashion, and service have always been considered of major importance at Lane-Felker's. Name brands have an important place in the selling picture with their major function that of reflecting the character of the store. Lane-Felker feels that it is such lines as Ann Fogarty, Jantzen, Vanity Fair, Randell, Ann Murray, Serbin, Majestic, Vanguard, Ruby of California, Miller Cupaloli, Alper Schwartz,

Clifton Wilhite and dozens of others that have made the store what it is today. Style shows have been instrumental as a method of maintaining customer interest in the store, and this means keeping them aware of the fact that Lane-Felker means style, fashion, and service. In their new and larger store, Lane-Felker plans to have the representatives of various brands come to the store. (Continued on page 8)

Commodious Interior of New Store Contributes to Leisurely Shopping

Selling space in Lane-Felker's attractive newly-remodeled store is approximately 4,250 square feet. All merchandise is displayed in department groups for convenience in shopping, and the store features everything in women's wear with the exception of shoes. The spacious interior and convenient arrangement of the various departments encourage leisurely shopping, allowing time to examine each article of merchandise carefully. Interior of the store is finished in blue and coral, with three green planters located at the front of the building and in the windows. A major innovation incorporated in the new interior designing is a lowered acoustical ceiling and fixtures which provide lighting without glare. As a result, merchandise is shown in its true colors. This makes it unnecessary for customers to take garments to the front of the store for inspection under natural light. This means much in selecting ready-to-wear, in which color and texture are so important to women shoppers. Store fixtures are walnut paneled with haze blue trim. Lights on the dress cases are recessed in amodized brass, providing contrasting beauty and lighting effectiveness. Gifts from Lane-Felker's are available for every occasion for everyone from teen-agers to mothers.

The Romance of Your 100% Baby Llama Coat

Woven into every Jerbil designed coat of rare and precious 100% Baby Llama, there is a history-making saga that lends an air of unsurpassed luxury.

Centuries before European conquest, the proud llama was highly prized by natives of Peru. Today, this wondrous animal is even more desirable than all others. At almost inaccessible altitudes of 15,000 feet where it feeds on mountain herbs, the llama is sheared before it is one year old. The silken hair of these baby llamas is hand-picked and sorted for the most perfect specimens. It is then brought thousands of miles, passing through many skilled hands until it is made into a fashion that thrills and captivates with its beauty.

Loomed with devotion and skill by Anglo Fabrics, 100% Baby Llama is unparalleled for distinctive elegance from the almost unobtainable fiber to the sable-soft fabric. It is endowed with nature's lightweight, comfortable warmth

Sportswear Is Major Dept. At Lane-Felker's

Lane-Felker is extremely proud of their Sportswear Department, located at the front of the building on the south side. Featured in this department is a large inventory in sizes based on their belief that the success of a small store operation lies in providing a large inventory for customers to choose from. Arrangement of the Sportswear Department is such that each customer can serve herself if she so desires. The merchandise is displayed within easy reach, and fixtures include conveniently arranged mirrors to aid shoppers to select exactly the items desired, with complete assurance as to appearance and fitting.

Bridal Section Is Outstanding Department

A department at Lane-Felker's which has gained widespread attention and enthusiastic acceptance by women throughout this area, is the Bridal Section, devoted exclusively to fashions for the bride-to-be. This section features a commodious, well appointed fitting room for the bride and her attendants. Appointments include a comfortable couch where the mother can sit and help the bride-to-be make her decisions on her wedding gown and complete trousseau. This feature of Lane-Felker's enlarged store has gained widespread popularity over the entire area because of the helpful service provided in planning for every wedding.
