Custody of Child Decided By Jury In Court Hearing

The custody of a 2-year-old boy they had sought to adopt, only to have the boy's mother change her mind and later claim the child, was given to Mr. and Mrs. James Aubrey Boyd of Haskell by the verdict of a jury in 99th District Court Wednesday which heard testimony in a court action filed by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd against Doris Dunlap Stocks and husband, Dean Stocks.

Plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, sought to have the boy, Nicklas John Dunlap, 2, declared a dependent and neglected child, and that he be given to their custody. They had adopted the child in April of this year. Later, however, Mrs. Doris Dunlap Stocks, mother of the boy, changed her mind and sought to regain custody of Nicklas John.

Mrs. Stocks and her husband, Dean Stocks, were defendants in the suit, and opposed the contention that Nicklas John was a dependent and neglected child.

At the conclusion of testimony in the case Wednesday, it was submitted on five special issues to a jury of three women and nine men.

In answering the special issues, the jury found Nicklas John Dunlap to be a dependent and neglected child, and awarded the boy to the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd.

Members of the jury were: Mrs. Cliff Chamberlin, Mrs. Tom Holland, Sue Pate, Virgil Sonnemaker, R. W. Turnbow, Willie Pieser, Joe Davis, J. W. Aycock, E. B. Calloway, R. W. Addison, Bill Richey, Sam Joe Fought.

LOCAL SCHOOLS STILL CLEAR OF 'FLU' THREAT

Haskell Schools are still relatively clear of influenza cases which have closed Monday, Rochester and Goree schools this week, a check with local school officials at noon Wednesday revealed.

About 50 students in high school and junior high were ill with the flu, evenly divided between the two schools, the survey showed.

High School Principal W. P. McCollum said that 25 students absent because of illness was above the average, representing about 16 per cent of the total 157 students in high school. However, he does not consider this figure "alarming," pointing out that mild type of "flu" has kept students out only two or three days when contracted.

Ten high school students who are victims of the flu are members of the Indians A football squad, including a majority of the regulars.

Junior High School Principal Hubert Bell reported 25 students ill, out of an enrollment of 225. "We have had higher absenteeism several times during extremely

Scout Fund Drive Underway Here This Week

Volunteer workers opened the annual Boy Scout Finance campaign Tuesday following a kickoff breakfast at the Texas Cafe.

The campaign will continue throughout the week, stated community campaign chairman Viars Felker. The workers will make a house to house canvass during that time, Felker said.

Contributions to the Scout fund will help provide funds for the Scouting program in the Chisholm Trail Council. The resources of the area are pooled to carry on the program, training and instruction of Scouting, including the active camping and activity program at Camp Tonkawa.

The majors appointed for the community campaign are Wix E. Currie, Ed Hester, Dale Condon and Buck Everset. The workers include: Brooks Middleton, J. M. Crawford, Ed Hester, Guy Harris, Bob Herren, Rajah Hasen, Belton Dnnan, Curtis Pogue, Lynn Pace, Hallie Chapman, R. A. (Shady) Lane, Jimmy Turner, C. O. Holt, Rudy Aguilar, R. C. Also, Mrs. Howard Perry, R. R. King, Stanley Furrh, Bud Herren, Myron Biard, Ray Lusk, Alfred Turnbow, Don Roberts, Weldon Turnbow, J. A. Bynum, Gaston Hattox, Allen Rieves, Dee Larson and others.

"I would like to ask each worker to work his cards as soon as possible and turn the proceeds over to Joe Harper, audits committee chairman," stated Felker.

"Also I wish to thank each and everyone for their help and cooperation in this campaign," Felker said.

Saturday night's game between Mattson and Weinert will get underway at 7:30 o'clock.

Harvesting of this section's best cotton crop since 1950, which was just getting under way when halted by heavy rains Oct. 7, received another setback during the weekend when additional rainfall of from one to two inches drenched this section.

Rainfall during the weekend ranged from .93 to 1.20 inch on local gauges, while up to two inches fell in some parts of the county. In other areas of West Texas torrential rains fell, flooding several towns, including Ballinger, Cisco, Eastland and others.

In addition to delaying harvest of the cotton crop, some damage may result to the grade, farmers pointed out.

Cotton growers are hopeful for a break in the weather in order that harvesting may be resumed before there is any further deterioration in the crop. Also, producers point out that as the season advances, bulk of the transient farm workers will move on to irrigated sections of the Plains resulting in a shortage of labor in this area.

Fire Causes Light Damage at Home Of Howard Perrys

Fire which caught from an electric range in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perry, 1303 North Avenue H about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, caused damage to the walls, cabinet, and ceiling to the kitchen before the blaze was extinguished.

Quick work on the part of HHS Coach Ray Overton Jr., who happened to be passing when Mrs. Perry noticed the fire, was credited with preventing heavier damage. Overton, a member of the Haskell Fire Department, went into the smoke-filled kitchen and had the fire out by the time firemen and trucks arrived.

C. of C. Needs Your Help

An organization in which all Haskell citizens can profitably unite in promoting community development and in planning for civic needs of the future is the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

And right at this time, the Chamber is sorely in need of your support, both financially and in working and planning on projects beneficial to the community, its civic and business institutions, and its entire citizenship.

In order to continue a program which has kept Haskell in the ranks of progressive West Texas towns, and which has steadily expanded the trade territory of Haskell, the Chamber of Commerce must have a more substantial financial budget for its operations. Adequate financing is its most pressing need.

Virtually every Haskell business concern has profited directly from the trade expansion program of the Chamber of Commerce, a program which has brought thousands of dollars of new business to our town.

Currently, the Chamber of Commerce is planning an enlarged program for the Christmas shopping season to be launched next month, and in addition is planning other trade promotional activities which will attract business from the large number of seasonal workers now coming into this section.

These programs will cost money—but it will be money that is returned tenfold or more into local business channels. The support for these programs can come from only one source—from those who are interested in the continued expansion of Haskell's trade territory.

Haskell's School Homecoming

Judging from the enthusiasm going into plans for the third Haskell School Homecoming October 25 and 26, the affair is due to be the most successful held to date.

The Homecoming, in reality a "community reunion", was inaugurated in 1924, and met with such hearty response that it was repeated the following year with an increased attendance of ex-students, former teachers, and school patrons.

Because of the drought and for other reasons, last year's Homecoming was cancelled, but not without regret on the part of many ex-Haskellites who had found the occasion a pleasurable time to return "home" and visit and renew friendships of years long past.

No other occasion or celebration can compete with an event such as Haskell's School Homecoming in its appeal to those former residents whose childhood schooldays will forever link them with this community. Long-forgotten friendships blossom again at the Homecoming, as former classmates, teachers, and patrons turn back the calendar and re-live incidents of the "good old days".

Barring interference on the part of the weather, we'll venture the prediction that October 25-26 will be the liveliest days our community has seen in years.

Good Bye, Huck Finn!

Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe" is a piece of immortal Americana, loved and sung by tens of millions of people over the generations. But it has been banned from certain air networks—on the grounds that it contains racially offensive phrases.

Now the New York City Board of Education has taken "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" from its approved textbook list for grade and junior high schools. A great many excellent critics regard Huck Finn as the greatest of all American novels, and practically all put it very high on the short list of genuine classics. The New York Times reports a publisher as saying the book was banned because, like Stephen Foster's wonderful old song, it was held to contain racialist offensive material.

There is only one logical end to such a trend. All literary and musical material which happens to offend anyone should be banned—whether those offended are white men, yellow men, or black men; Protestants, Catholics or Jews; business men or labor leaders, and so on ad infinitum. Then we can all live in a cultural vacuum comparable to the Dark Ages.

THE WONDROUS YEARS OF OUR TIME...

Man's use of petroleum — of oil and natural gas — began before the first records of history.

But petroleum's full usefulness to man has been a matter of decades only.

They have been wondrous years, those decades. Years that saw automobiles built by the millions because gasoline was available as a cheap source of power. Years that saw the oceans dwindle under the high speed of great ships powered by oil. Years that saw the evolution of a more comfortable living in homes warmed by oil and natural gas. Years that saw rubber, fibers, paints and many other useful items of everyday living produced from petroleum's hydrocarbons. Years that saw the earth shrink under the wings of the airplane, and great wars decided by the availability of oil.

Thus, the oil industry has led the way into the wondrous years of our time. The industry, through foresight, ingenuity, research, and risk-taking, has found and produced the oil required in greater quantity each year, has conserved oil for the future, has devised the transportation systems that move oil economically, has built the refineries and plants that convert crude oil and natural gas to the hundreds of useful products needed by a growing United States.

The Humble Company, founded in 1917, has participated in petroleum's progress during four great decades, and has pioneered in the development of many current techniques for finding, producing and refining oil. This week, with the industry, Humble invites you to consider the variety and extent of oil's progress... Surely no other industry has contributed more to the making of modern America.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

WUGH WILLIAMSON
 The dove season is open in the South Zone, more Texans are opening up their shooting. We know the mourning dove is a good halfback. He is as fast as some birds, and he has a deceptive flight. He can hit a dove you can't see. A shooting stance recommended by experts is to stand with your feet on the ground, unimpeded by the left knee should be bent.

Now do this: The bird comes along, the gun along its line of flight. As you weigh from right to left, and squeeze the trigger, you pass him, leading the way.

do I mean by just enough? Yes, that you don't zig when you pass him, or vice versa. Simple, doesn't it? Why then, it sometimes is lighter gun or grandfather.

are two big reasons for a gun. One is you follow more of the other is that you get the end of the day. You can do fine with a "2" because of the color.

Not only have you worn yourselves known to others and thereby avoid a color change. As at two Army officers reported that yellow was the most easily seen color. The worst colors are seen, according to ranking was orange, green, and blue.

It makes me wonder what the favorite color for fish is. The same as we do. Mine, who had great on a South Texas ago reported that any difference what he used, so long as it was yellow.

coal black crickets that have been so plentiful. Talking about bait is a good part of the fun—but there's one conclusion I have drawn: I'll always have yellow lures in my tackle box.

Another tip about lures is to use light ones when the day is bright; dark ones at dawn, dusk, or night. Trying to figure that one out (at first thought it seems the reverse ought to be true). I reason that in dark waters the night sky seems bright.

And in day light the blue sky is darker than the sun-filled, reflection-bright water. In any event you should use a lure that is easily spotted because of contrasting shades.

Fishing Best Now
 Fishing is going to be at its best for the next few months. There are several reasons why that is true.

Most vacationers have gone back to work. This cooler weather encourages the fish and discourages the water skiers. And many fishermen have gone to the sunflower patches for doves, further reducing the angling population. Fishing is good in the Spring—before the heat and tourists set in.

But, why fishing is generally thought of as a summer sport, I'll never know. For that matter, I'll never know why summer is the vacation time for most folks. Spring would be a better time. So would fall. Even winter. Who wouldn't enjoy a couple of weeks off around Christmas and New Year's Day?

It's Being Done
 But no—we take vacation in the summer because people always have done it that way and we're too full of inertia to change. For the same reason, I suppose, we wear a coat in the summer because our forbears in England did. England—where I took a nap on the afternoon of July 24 one year and missed the whole warm season.

Anyway, most anglers will agree that Texas fishing in the hot summer months is poor. A lot of anglers won't even try it. They hang up their rods until October comes. Lot of 'em keep trying. I know a place where you can always catch gaspergou in July. I know another place where your chances are good to get a string of white and black bass in July and August. Sometimes the trotliners get catfish.

Then there's always the coast where, if they don't actually bite every day, they do bite some days. And if you hit a good one you're in.

But fall's the time for the best and biggest fish.

Deep Tillage Gives Temporary Aid in Halting Erosion
 College Station — Unless it's properly done, deep tillage may make soil more vulnerable to the relentless gales of the Great Plains. But when drough strips the land of its protective cover, heavy clods of soil turned up to the surface can help to reduce wind erosion.

Deep tillage is most effective and practical on land where a deep sand 12 to 24 inches deep covers a layer of clay, says Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist. Turning the clay up can help because a rough surface gives the best resistance to wind erosion. Therefore, the more cloddy the soil the greater will be the surface stability.

Speed of tillage proved to be one of the most important factors in obtaining maximum surface roughage, notes the specialist. Tests in Kansas indicate that trials should be made at the beginning of any deep tillage operation to see what speed will produce the greatest cloddiness under whatever local conditions exist.

Spacing, too, is important. Barton points out that chiseling at 27-inch spacings gave 50 per cent more roughness and resulted in 75 per cent less erosion than chiseling at 54-inch spacings. But it took five horsepower more tractor power to pull narrow chisels spaced at 27 inches than for those at 54 inches. Where wide spacing is necessary, duckfoot shovels would be better under some soil conditions to bring up enough clods.

Winter Peas and Vetch Ideal for Soil Bank Land

Farmers have an excellent opportunity to plant winter peas or vetch for soil improvement and cover in the blank rows in cotton and on maize and wheat fields that are not to be planted to wheat this fall. Soil Bank land also provides a good place for planting winter cover crops.

A vegetative cover on the land not only protects the soil surface from wind and water erosion but the millions of small roots provide channels for water to enter the soil. This is pointed out by E. L. Cowger, soil conservationist, assisting the California Creek Soil Conservation District. The vegetative material, both on the surface and in the soil, also furnishes food for the small organisms that are necessary to give the soil real life.

B. P. Davenport, farming east of Stamford, says the cotton has larger bolls and looks better this year on the land he planted to winter peas and cowpeas in 1955 in spite of the 1956 droughts. He plans to plant a large acreage of winter peas this fall. Cecil Brown, Hamlin, has several acres of winter peas planted. Donald Young, west of Hamlin, has planted approximately 40 acres of winter peas.

Rates of seeding Austrian Winter Peas:
 8 to 10 pounds per acre in rows;
 20 to 30 pounds per acre drilled alone;
 14 or 20 pounds per acre drilled with small grain. Time of seeding, Sept. 1 to Nov. 1.

Bureau of Census Setting Up County Census Divisions

In a joint program with the State of Texas and each of its counties, the Bureau of the Census is establishing areas, known as "County Census Divisions," for use in statistical reporting. Similar areas were established in the State of Washington prior to the 1950 Census, and since 1950 have been put into effect in eleven other states.

James R. Kirby, a member of the Census Staff, was here from Washington to consult with county officials and solicit their advice in regard to the proposed areas for Haskell County.

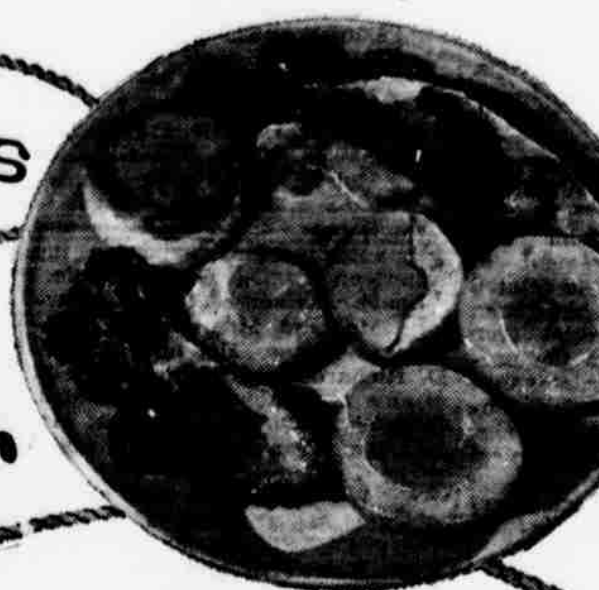

papers, and business and civic organizations. Kirby assured local officials that the county divisions set up by the Bureau of Census will not interfere in any way with the use of Justices' or Commissioner's predicts by the state or counties. For Census purposes, Haskell County has been divided into five Census County Divisions. They will be designated as Haskell, Rochester, Rule, Sagerton, and Weirnet.

Winter Future Seen for Texas Egg Producers

Decreased production and the purchase of fewer replacements for next year has resulted in a brighter outlook for egg producers. The number of chickens raised on Texas farms in 1957 is about one-fourth less than in 1956, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist. During the first six months of 1957, production of egg-type chicks from commercial hatcheries in Texas was also about one-fourth less than during the same period last year. Many farmers who raised chickens last year are raising none this year. The decrease is greater among the small flocks. The laying flock on farms on Jan. 1, 1958, in the U. S. is expected to be 6 to 8 per cent smaller than a year earlier, says the specialist. During the first six months of 1957, egg prices averaged 22 per cent below the same period in 1956 and farmers bought 19 per cent fewer flock replacement chicks. Recently egg prices have shown some improvement and will probably continue to do so in 1958, because potential layers (hens and pullets of laying age plus pullets not of laying age) on farms Aug. 1, 1957, were 7 per cent below a year earlier and 17 per cent below the average. Egg production during the last three months of this year will probably fall below the same period in 1956, points out McHaney, and we will enter 1958 with fewer layers on the farms. Because of these trends, egg prices in the last three months of 1957 will likely be above those of 1956 at the same time.

Soil Survey of Haskell County Being Made

A standard soil survey of Haskell County was begun in September of 1955 by the Soil Conservation Service, and is now about 70 per cent complete. When completed, a report will be written describing the soils and giving all the research data available on the soils. The soil survey consists of making a map on an aerial photograph showing the different kinds of soil. The published map will be with the photographic background which shows pastureland, cropland, field boundaries and terraces that existed at the time the photograph was taken. Generally, areas of soils no smaller than 5 acres are shown on the map unless these small areas are distinctly different and have a distinct effect on land treatment. The soil survey report locates the county in the state and in the geographical area of the state. A history of the county and of agriculture are briefly discussed along with industries, native grasses, water supply, tenancy, crops, climate, livestock, transportation and markets. A technical chapter describes the origin of the soils and how they fit in the national scheme of soil classification. Most of the report deals with the soils, describing them and discussing the management of them. The management is related to all research that has been done to obtain the highest crop yields but still maintain the productivity of the soil. Maintenance of the soil refers to water conservation, water and wind erosion control, fertility, mechanical treatment and crop sequence. The published survey reports are available, free of charge to the public.

Cattle Prices Open Higher Monday at Fort Worth

By TED GOULDY
Fort Worth—There is nothing like a rain to put starch in the cattle market. Receipts Monday at Fort Worth were curtailed sharply by the general rains, and except on drylot fed steers, the trade opened with a rush and prices were unevenly higher on both slaughter and replacement kinds. It took some doing, but by the time a slow clearance was complete, most of the grainfed cattle were also steady. Stocker orders poured into the market and the board demand sopped up a good many cattle and calves which normally might have sold into slaughter channels, with the result that prices were upped. Slaughter calves and stocker calves and yearlings were around 50c or more higher. Some feeder steers shared the advance. Replacement cows were very scarce. Comparative prices: Good and choice steers and yearlings $18.50-$23.00 and medium and lower grades $13-$18.50; fat cows $13.50-$15.15; canners and cutters $8-$13.50; bulls $11-$16; slaughter calves of good and choice kind $19-$21, some baby heaves higher; common and medium sorts $13-$18; rannies $11-$13; stocker steer calves $23 down; stocker yearlings $21 down; two-year-old feeder cattle $19.50 down; a few stocker cows $13-$15.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nanny Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary at Family Home

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Nanny, prominent pioneer farm couple, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Oct. 6 at their home in the Paint Creek community, where they have lived for most of their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Nanny were married Oct. 6, 1907, in Haskell at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Howard. Rev. Nicholson, an early day Baptist minister, performed the ceremony.

Mr. Nanny, a native of Robertson County, came to this section in February, 1905, while Mrs. Nanny, the former Lelia Howard, moved here with her parents in 1901 from Comanche County.

Nanny distinctly recalls the day of his arrival in West Texas. One of the heaviest snows in years had covered this section "almost knee deep" he recalls. Nanny and another young man by the name of Bishop made the trip from Robertson County in an immigrant freight car loaded with livestock and household goods of the Ben Davis family with whom they had been living in Robertson County.

"We waded snow a foot deep when we got out of the box car at Stamford and started looking for a restaurant," Nanny recalled. The snow stayed on the ground for three weeks, he remembers.

The Davis family located in what was the old Post community south of Haskell, and Nanny worked there and on neighboring farms until his marriage. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Nanny moved to a farm owned by her father. To help the young couple get a start, Mr. Howard told his son-in-law he would give him 40 acres of land if he would "grub out" or clear the land of mesquite and brush and put it in cultivation. He and his wife cleared the land themselves, in addition to their regular farm work.

Mr. and Mrs. Nanny left Haskell County only once, moving to Mason County where they farmed and raised livestock in 1915 and 1916. They moved back to the Post community in 1917 "just in time for the severe drought of 1917-18," they recalled.

While living on a rented farm in Mason County, Mr. and Mrs. Nanny raised goats, turkeys and hogs, and they humorously recall when a chance remark by their landlord had the neighbors alarmed and excited. The landlord had told a neighbor that a hog pulled one of Nanny's kids out from under the house and killed it. "It was a kid goat," the couple explained. "But for a short time that landlord had the people of the community scared and excited."

One incident vividly remembered happened in 1910, when Mr. and Mrs. Nanny's home and all their belongings were carried away in a tornado. That was in June 1910, when a "cyclone" swept through that section. At the approach of storm clouds, Mr. and Mrs. Nanny had gone to the home of her brother, Joe L. Howard and his family, about 400 yards away. Luckily, the Howard house was not in the path of the storm.

"When the tornado hit, it picked up our house, slammed it down on a buggy and wagon, then the entire house just flew apart and disappeared," Nanny declared. The couple gathered up articles of clothing, pictures, kitchenware and broken furniture over an expanse of several miles for weeks afterwards. Mrs. Nanny recalls. Damaging storms came frequently, Nanny remembers. In the first six years they were married, they made only two crops. Four of the years their crops were rained or hailed out, he said.

In the face of that discouraging start, Nanny became one of the most successful farmers in that community, and is still actively engaged in operating his farm.

Nanny has the distinction of being the first farmer in Haskell County to terrace his crop land, and was also one of the first in his section to switch to tractor farming, a change he made in the early 1930's.

Mr. and Mrs. Nanny have reared ways taken an active interest in community affairs. She is a member of the Paint Creek Baptist Church, while he is a member of the Methodist Church at Paint Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Nanny have reared a family of seven children, three sons and four daughters, and have 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. All of their children and most of their grandchildren were present for the anniversary celebration.

Children of the couple are: Lewis Nanny of Rochester, Walton and J. B. Nanny Jr., both of Grand Prairie; Mrs. Lola Medford and Mrs. Irene Bischoffhausen of Grand Prairie; Mrs. Zora Medford of Haskell and Mrs. Joyce Bunkley of Abilene.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Poppy Sale, Christmas Box

The American Legion Auxiliary met Oct. 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the auxiliary room of the American Legion Hall. The regular business meeting was directed by the president, Mrs. Walter Kierpeka.

Mrs. Martin Rueffer, the chaplain, led the opening prayer which was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance, the singing of My Country This of These, and the reading of the Preamble. The group discussed the 1958 membership drive which is now underway. To be eligible to membership a husband, father, or son, must be a member of the American Legion.

Plans were made for a Christmas box to be sent to McCosky Hospital for disabled veterans. The gifts are not only for the veterans themselves but to make possible the veteran being able to celebrate Christmas by sending gifts to their families. The auxiliary would be glad to pick up any gifts the public might like to give suitable for a man, woman or child.

Plans were also made for conducting a Poppy Sale on Nov. 9. The money received from this worthy project is sent to the disabled veterans in hospitals, however, a small percentage is kept in the local chapter to be used for distress cases in our own community.

Citizens are asked to show their appreciation by giving to these worthy projects. A walk down the long corridors of McCosky Hospital shows that the war is not over for everybody.

Food Prices Still Rising, With No End in Sight

The end of the rise in retail food prices is not in sight, according to an Associated Press news story from Washington.

These prices have increased every month since June 1956. Agriculture Department economists foresee further advances in the fall and winter. Food prices now average slightly more than 3 per cent above those of a year ago.

Food prices are determined largely by (1) cost of the raw materials and (2) charges for processing, transporting and marketing the food. At present the cost of raw materials is about 30 per cent of the retail food bill. Marketing charges take the remainder, or 61 per cent.

Most of the increase in food prices during the past 15 months reflects advances in marketing margins. Processors, transporters and merchandisers as a group have increased their charges 5 per cent since a year ago. Farm-produced food raw materials are up about 3 per cent.

Agriculture Department economists say that further increases in marketing charges are expected in the last half of 1957. They say wage rates probably will continue upward, that railroads have been granted, further increases in freight rates, and that recent increases in the price of steel will push up prices of containers and equipment.

Since 1947-49, the cost of food raw materials has shown a rather steady decline. But during the same period, marketing charges have shown a steady increase.

In the 1947-49 period, the average annual quantities of farm-produced food products purchased for consumption at home by urban wage-earners and clerical-worker families cost $955 at retail. Of this amount $468 went to farmers for raw materials and $487 to processors, transporters and merchants.

By mid-1957, the cost of this quantity of food had climbed to $1,002. Of this amount, the farmer got only $390 and middlemen $612.

These figures are based on agriculture department statistics. The department says that the bill for products sold to civilian consumers in 1956 was nearly 50 per cent larger than the average for 1947-49.

Jurors recommended state laws be strengthened, particularly in regard to liabilities and responsibilities of company officers and board members.

There wasn't time to go into legislative lobbying, said the weary jury. But it urged a law requiring registration and expense reports by lobbyists.

Proof that the jury's tiresome task took its toll was the hospitalization of one member just as the term ended, reportedly suffering from "physical exhaustion."

Water Preview

Sectional rivalries and lack of money have hobbled past efforts for an over-all water conservation program in Texas. So said speakers at the Texas Water Conservation Association meeting where water problems confronting the special legislative session were previewed.

State Water Board Chairman R. M. Dixon said his department has never had enough money to carry out its assigned duties. He asked for more money to gather data and pay salaries comparable with other state departments.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr pointed out that legislators have had trouble getting together on a water program because they reflect the conflicting ideas of their constituents, said Carr. He urged cooperation.

Governor Daniel recommended a water plan to take care of the state's needs up to the year 2000. "We can go forward," he said, "and guarantee the future growth and prosperity of our state, or do nothing and face economic stagnation."

Four Indicted

Travis County Court, which serve as the arena in which state officials are taken to task, are due many more months of state-wide attention.

After four months of studying the history of the ICT Insurance Co., a Travis grand jury returned perjury indictments against Former Insurance Commissioners Garland A. Smith and J. Byron Saunders. It also indicted ICT's onetime manager, BenJack Cage, on charges of bribing the commissioners. Also Smith's son-in-law, Max Wayne Rychlik, on perjury charges.

Teeth Correction Is Problem With Most Children

Austin—Chances are one in five that your youngster is in need of a major teeth straightening job. Studies show that one-fifth of the nation's children suffer from "malocclusion" or improper alignment of teeth.

A generation ago, parents of young children with teeth that did not come together properly were usually advised to "let them alone and nature will correct the situation."

Today we know children will not "outgrow" it. We know it is a condition to be carefully watched so corrections can be started at the proper time by a dental specialist known as an "orthodontist."

Although the public is just now becoming aware of the health significance of malocclusion, experience has taught dentists that crooked teeth contribute to decay, faulty speech and malnutrition. One of the worst results of malocclusion is the psychological stress borne by the child who is singled out for ridicule because of "buck teeth."

A child with facial deformities such as those caused by misshapen teeth may develop traits of indecision and begin to doubt his ability to cope with problems in his environment, psychiatrists say.

What causes teeth to erupt irregularly? Dentists agree that heredity is probably one important cause. Another is persistent thumb-sucking and abnormal pressures against the jaw. Living bone, contrary to popular thought, is not hard and unyielding. The entire jaw structure can be molded by gentle, persistent pressure.

In case of thumb-sucking, dentists believe that if the habit can be broken before age 5, there is a good chance the teeth may return to normal position without harmful effects.

Another cause of malocclusion is prolonged retention of primary or "baby" teeth. Permanent teeth that follow are then prevented from arranging themselves properly.

On the other hand, when primary teeth are lost too early, adjoining teeth may tend to tip and "migrate," crowding into spaces permanent teeth erupt normally.

There are different methods of bringing teeth into proper alignment. Some times it may be necessary to extract teeth to make room. In some cases a plastic or wire appliance may be fitted to the teeth to guide them into position by pressure.

Dentists can only estimate how long orthodontic treatment will take, depending on the age of the patient and the extent of the deformity.

But there is no question about this point: the sooner professional attention is given to the condition the better the youngster's chance of avoiding the fate of a "buck tooth."

ing helped make "misuse of electricity" one of the leading causes of fire in the United States last year. Nearly 15 per cent of all fires were so caused.

You can help safeguard your home by observing the following precautions suggested by the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

When installing or adding such heavy duty appliances as freezers, air conditioners, washing machines, dryers, refrigerators, ranges, check with a qualified electrician to see if you need additional circuits.

Allow only reliable, competent electricians to install or extend wiring.

Buy only those electric appliances and cords listed by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., a non-profit organization which tests such products for safety. Look for the UL label or tag.

Make sure there are adequate outlets for electrical appliances in all rooms. Don't overload circuits with "octopus outlets."

Be sure that your fuses are of the right amperage for your circuits—usually 15 amperes. A proper fuse is a "safety valve" and the blowing of a fuse is a warning the circuit is overloaded or defective.

See that all extension and lamp cords are in the open—and not placed under rugs, over hooks or through partitions or door openings where they may wear and cause a short circuit. Replace worn or broken cords with ones bearing the UL tag.

Don't string wiring under rugs, over hooks, or in any exposed place where it may be subject to wear or mechanical damage.

controlled. Seed treatment is recommended for controlling smut which caused a loss of about 134,000 bushels.

Barley losses were estimated at just under 6.5 per cent with Helminthosporium the worst offender. Seed treatment and crop rotation are the recommended control practices.

Improper Wiring Creates Danger Of Home Fires

If you're like most Americans, you're using electricity in your home in record quantity.

For more than 45 million homes now have a refrigerator, 41 million an electric washer, 40 million a television set and 82 million a vacuum cleaner.

In addition, 8.6 million are equipped with freezers, 5.6 million with clothes dryers and 8.6 million with air conditioners.

Add to these such stand-bys as electric lights, radios, toasters, iron mixers, and the like, and you'll see the average family has "gone electric" in a big way.

The question is: Is your home properly wired to carry this heavy load?

For inadequate and faulty wiring

Texas Small Grain Crops Hard Hit By Diseases

Small grain diseases during the current year have cost Texas producers millions of dollars. A study of the situation made by agronomy and plant pathology research workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed the losses to be the greatest for any year since 1949, approximately 18 million dollars.

Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, said the loss in bushels of grain was actually only a part of the accumulated losses to farmers. Disease caused severe lodging in many fields and this in combination with other diseases greatly increased the harvesting costs. Test weights were lowered with a reduction in selling prices and much of the grain had a low germination. Oats which were damaged by Helminthosporium were especially low in germination tests.

Smith pointed out that an estimated 10.5 per cent of the state's wheat crop was lost to disease. Taken as a group, leaf stem and stripe rusts, accounted for 5.6 per cent of the losses. The planting of resistant varieties will materially aid in the curbing these losses, he said. An estimated 4.8 per cent of the losses were charged to Septoria tritici, a fungus disease, for which no controls are known. Recommended seed treatments, added Smith, should be used.

Oat growers lost an estimated 28.2 per cent of their crops to disease. Seed treatment, resistant varieties and crop rotation could have materially cut the 13.6 per cent loss to Helminthosporium, a seed borne disease. The loss in bushels amounted to over 7,000,000. Crown and stem rust together caused losses amounting to an estimated 13.2 per cent. Once resistant varieties are available, Smith said the losses could be

Attend Farm Bureau District Meeting In Wichita Falls

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Herren were in Wichita Falls on Monday, attending the Farm Bureau District meeting. They reported a very good representation of each of the 17 counties in this district present.

Congressman Frank Ikard was the principal speaker. A poll of the counties was made as to the progress of the membership drive. Haskell County has a quota of 825 memberships this year and needs 40 more renewals to meet this quota before Oct. 31, 1957.

Each delinquent member is especially urged to send in his dues before this date, so that Haskell County will obtain their quota, President Adell Thomas said.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

MABLE OVERTON

If I didn't know that Pharaoh had finally let the Children of Israel go out of Egypt, I would think the Lord was sending a plague of crickets on us. Did you ever see so many?

Just a few Paint Creek farmers had begun gathering the cotton when the rain started, so not many minded. Most of us wait till frost or defoliate and strip our cotton anyway. And we all realize that this country isn't going to make very good crops till we begin getting good fall rains again. This last Saturday and Sunday was a nice one. Volunteer wheat is up thick and green. It always breaks my Scotch heart to have to plow up pretty green volunteer wheat and plant some more wheat. But of course there never would be enough rain for volunteer wheat to make.

Burl Medford is much better. One lung is completely clear of pneumonia and the other is almost. He can be moved several times a day now, and everybody feels more optimistic about him.

Eddie Mack Earles has returned home and will work for County Commissioner Louie Kuenstler. Eddie has been working in Monahan for a gas company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery, Mrs. Gene Overton, Mrs. M. L. Middlebrooks, Mrs. Louie Kuenstler, Bill Griffith, Roy Overton and W. A. Montgomery all attended the funeral of Carl May at Stamford Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery, John Paul and April returned home Saturday night from Monahan to spend this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith before reporting to New Jersey to an Air Base where Carlos will begin his Army Air Corps service.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and Mike and Mrs. Herman Henry from Haskell were in College Station last weekend visiting their Aggie sons, Wallar and William Overton and Pat Henry.

Sue Shaw, Joe Bob Earles, Leane Hokanson, Eddie Lee Thane and Roddy Kuenstler from Cisco Junior College were here over the weekend visiting their families.

Mrs. J. Z. Williams is very ill. All of her children were home last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Terrell and Lloyd were in San Angelo on Sept. 29 at the home of a daughter Mrs. E. A. Howard where they celebrated the birthdays of Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Jerry Terrell and little daughter. Another daughter Mrs. Lester Seth and Mr. Seth and their children were there, too.

The Terrell's son, Rev. Edwin Lee Terrell of Mineola has been here on a vacation visiting his parents. He preached at the East Side Baptist Church at Haskell in the morning service, and showed films of his work with the boys at Camp Woodland, at the Paint Creek Baptist Church Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crabb, Ray and Linda attended the open house and dedication of the new Kent County court house at Jayton Friday, Oct. 4, and Homecoming at the school on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hisey and children from Haskell had supper Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs.

RAY PERRY AND FAMILY

Ray Perry and family, and attended services at the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cathey and Elizabeth spent the weekend with Mrs. Cathey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Montgomery.

Mrs. Annie Peiser of Mattson spent several days this week in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Fischer, Mr. Fischer and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grand were hosts Sunday to Mrs. Grand's family. It was the birthday of Mrs. Grand's mother, Mrs. Effie Green. Present for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Green and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Green and children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Green and family of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert English and children of Rule, and Aubrey Green of Haskell, the honoree and hosts.

Plans Underway for Compulsory Poultry Inspection Program

All poultry and poultry products moving in interstate commerce will be inspected for wholesomeness by Jan. 1, 1959 under the recently enacted Poultry Products Inspection Act.

The act becomes partially effective on Jan. 1, 1958, when plants approved by U. S. Department of Agriculture may be provided the service, according to F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Currently, it is estimated that approximately 50 per cent of such poultry is now inspected for wholesomeness under the voluntary inspection program provided by the USDA on a fee basis.

Beamblossom points out that the graded application of mandatory inspection requirements between Jan. 1, 1958, and Jan. 1, 1959, has been provided to permit plant owners reasonable time to make any plant alterations which may be necessary to meet facility standards required by USDA regulations. By Jan. 1, 1959, all plants shipping poultry in interstate commerce must be approved and the poultry products therein be subject to inspection, unless otherwise exempt.

Commenting on the enactment of this legislation, which was signed by the President Aug. 28, Sec. Benson said: "The passage and approval of the Poultry Products Inspection Act marks another milestone in the tremendous progress which has occurred in the poultry industry in this decade. Its passage likewise reflects the continued progress this nation is making assuring the consuming public wholesome and nutritious food on an ever-expanding scale."

Once in full application, poultry products subject to the Act will receive inspection for wholesomeness comparable to that which has been in effect for red meat since 1907 when the Meat Inspection Act was passed.

Inquiries regarding the program should be directed to the Director of the Poultry Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, concludes the specialist.

Homecoming Recalls Many Memories of Haskell For Former Resident Here

Announcement of Haskell's third School Homecoming Oct. 25 and 26 prompted an interesting letter from an ex-student and native of Haskell, Mrs. Ann Fisher of Longview, the former Anna Maud Taylor, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Taylor.

The letter, written to a friend, Mrs. C. V. Payne, has been given The Free Press for publication because of its direct interest to many former residents.

"Well, here it is—almost time for Homecoming again—and it looks like I might not make it again!

"I was just wondering the other day if the 'stamp' of Haskell stays with everyone the way it does with me! I'm sure it does—for everyone dreams of the grand and glorious days of his youth—and no matter how times improve, it is never quite as good as it was back in the 'good old days.' Most of us would not really like to live in those days, but Oh! for a 'vacation' back to those carefree days when Haskell was a lazy little town with an easy way of life!

"When the ice wagon came around every morning and the kids all ran to catch on the back and get a few pieces of ice. If there weren't enough pieces we waited until the iceman chopped off a block and swung it over his shoulder to carry in the house, and he would leave us the pieces. He had to read the card in the window to see how much you needed that day.

"I was thinking of our neighborhood and of course, it seems sad to me that it has changed. The people, I mean. My Mom would be out in the yard working as you went by on your daily visit to see your Mother. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander would call out a greeting as they passed to go to their store. A few minutes later Dr. Cummins would pass on a hurried call. We could hear the children as they played at Mrs. Finley's kindergarten. Miss Ola Cass was on the porch most every day or just outside the house where she could call out to greet her friends. And Mr. Henry Post would come walking by as he took his daily walk to town! Margaret Waldrop (Brown) and I went to Mrs. Oshin's kindergarten and I always walked 'piece-way' home with her. We'd stop at Mr. Post's house and if there was any water at all in the little ditch, we'd sit on the sidewalk and dangle our feet in the water.

"I guess we talked about what Judith English, Jeff Davis McDonald, or Virginia Neal had been doing that morning in school! In the summer Mom would let me walk to town and I'd go to the Walthall's and Mark or Pauline would walk to town with me. I'd have to buy 50c worth of steak for lunch. Imagine! That would be plenty for our big family!

"Many of those wonderful friendships still hold with me. We often visit Wynne Thomason McCallum and her family in Dallas. I go to see her Mother, Bettie Herren Thomason, and we talk and talk about all of our friends. Do you remember the Morgan family? We visit with them in Fort Worth. Florine and Dorothy used to visit Jean and Geraldine Conner after they moved from Haskell to Hamlin. Mrs. Morgan was one of the first students in Haskell schools. She and Mr. Morgan live in Fort Worth and so do all the girls, Johnnie, Ruth, Dorothy and Florine. Raymond is in the Army and is in Germany with his wife and two children.

"Mrs. Morgan often recalls the night I was born. Raymond had pneumonia and Dad was their doctor, so he divided his time between their house and ours! They lived over close to the East Ward then. I'll venture to say that lots of Haskell children don't even know where or what the East Ward was! The Montgomerys, the Rikes, the Wingoos, the Ratliffs and the Fitzgeralds were some of her neighbors. Also the Sanders and the Cliftons. In her circle of friends in Fort Worth are many Haskell people. Among them Gaston and Lucy Lee Foote. Rev. Foote, pastor of First Methodist Church in Fort Worth 'performed' a ceremony for them last year at the Morgans 50th wedding celebration. Everyone in Haskell loved the Footes and we all shed tears when they moved. Lucy Lee did so much for the young people and she's written a book and has lots of Haskell people in it. It's called 'All God's Children.'

"That reminds me of all the summer revivals we used to have on the church lawns. It didn't matter which church you belonged to—you just went to them all! When we had ours we'd have Mr. Pat Lewis in our choir and when the Methodist had theirs Mr. John Couch would be in their choir. All the kids would go to the 'Booster Band' in the afternoon, sit on the front rows at night and stand up and proudly sing our choruses! Then time would be 'taken out' to all the small ones could find their parents to sit with. We all had such a good spirit. Everybody loved and respected the Albertsons, the Vaughns, the Forresters, the Bakers, the Whatleys and many other ministers who came our way.

"The people trusted each other—many times Dad had to wait until fall until the farmers could pay him before he could pay the grocery or dry goods bill. That's when I go, called on the carpet for those items I had 'charged' and forgot about! They laugh in my family at me because Floyd told me to just go in Mr. Gholson's, get a dime worth of candy and say 'charge it.' I thought it was a magic phrase—but I found out it wasn't.

"We 'took time' then to visit people. We went on summer nights and sat in friends yards or sat on the porch and talked quietly—about other people, perhaps, but just in a conversational way. The boys and girls played 'Fox and Goose Chase' all over town leaving marks on the sidewalks. We played 'tic tac' on people's windows to 'scare' them. We knew everybody in town and even though I acted indignant—I wasn't really peeved when my Dad put his hand on my shoulder and said 'This is my Baby.' "Isn't memory a wonderful gift? Each of us have only to close our eyes and we can go back to any time we want to and we can visualize our loved ones and friends the way we want to. I can see the crowds on the square on Election Nights, the thrill of the Fair parade and the Fair itself, the July 4th Motorcycle Races, the fun of walking around the square on Saturday afternoons. The beautiful shade of the trees that line the streets, the houses that look like homes that are livin' in and enjoyed, the many, many friends who are not there now but live in my heart. Not everyone can come to the Homecoming, but each can treasure his or her picture of the old home town as it looked when they were there!

"I have one big regret—when I left Haskell I went back often to visit and did so enjoy seeing old friends. But do you know what? The years passed by swiftly and before I knew it faces were missing among the older ones. And I had so many times neglected to tell them what I intended to tell them some day! That they had helped me along the way. That they had been an inspiration to me as a little girl—as a young girl—or as an adult. People like Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hughes who were so kind and faithful and always in their pew each Sunday at church. Miss Minnie Ellis who taught arithmetic. Miss Ida Crawford who gave literally her life in service to others. Rev. Whately, my pastor during my high school days. Miss Ola Cass who never 'gave in' to the hardships of her life. Mrs. Kimbrough who showed such bravery after living a beautiful life. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Post who, by just always being there to greet friends gave you such a 'good' feeling. Uncle Bob Davis was so jolly. I let so many slip away never knowing, I told a few—my Uncle 'Wally,' Mr. J. E. Welling Sr., knew how much his family meant to me. Mrs. Whately heard after Bro. Whately passed away. And you—I'll tell you again—you and Claiborne have always been 'wonderful'—and I'm thankful to have had you in my life. "I just hope the ones who come to the Homecoming will greet old friends and tell them they've had a part in their lives—and that they'll 'look up' the old timers they used to know and give them a big hug and a squeeze."

Throckmorton Has $60,000 Fire Loss Friday Morning

Damage estimated at $60,000 or more resulted from a disastrous fire in the business section of Throckmorton early Friday morning in which a grocery store and locker plant was destroyed.

A truck and members of the Haskell Fire Department joined with firemen from Seymour, Olney and Graham in helping Throckmorton firemen in fighting the blaze.

Apparently starting in the back of the Kirksey Locker and Grocery building about 2:30 a. m., the fire spread to an adjacent building and damaged the roof of a third.

The buildings were located on the east side of U. S. 283 across the highway from the Throckmorton Post Office.

The grocery was owned by R. E. Kirksey. The adjacent building was owned by Dr. W. L. Berry and was partially used as a furniture storage space by Merriman Hardware.

Part of the roof at the rear of the hardware, the third building in the row, was damaged by fire and furniture and other merchandise was damaged by smoke and heat.

Firemen fought the spectacular blaze for three hours before bringing it under control about 5:30 a. m. At times, flames from the blazing buildings leaped 75 feet into the air.
