Memorial Day

In the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va., the official inscription on the tomb of the unknown soldier reads: "Here lies in honored glory, an American soldier, known but to God."

As Memorial Day services are held here this year, America pays tribute to the dead of all wars. It is a specific, reverent reminder on the part of our government of the close relationship of one and all of us to God.

We are also reminded by the Religion in American Life movement that our relationship to God is acknowledged by our National Motto, "In God We Trust." Memorial Day is an occasion for all of us to renew our dedication to Him as Americans.

Get On With It

Down at Austin there seems to be a "get on with it" mood among House members during this special session.

The House was the target of some criticism after the regular sessions for having made almost no progress in money-raising.

This session the House began processing money bills at a fast clip. Initial action indicated there was less opposition in the House to Gov. Price Daniel's tax program than during the regular session.

Many in the lower house seemed to be in a mood to get as much as possible over to the Senate and "let them worry with it a while." Then, if the finance problem still isn't solved at the end of this session, they hope people won't be saying that the House "sat on its hands again."

Senate attitude toward the various money-raising approaches is largely an unknown quantity. No money-raising bill ever came to a vote in the Senate—either in committee or on the floor—during the regular session.

A Tribute To Teenagers

Juvenile delinquency is a grave and growing problem in this country, and should never be underestimated. At the same time we shouldn't lose sight of the legions of young people of splendid character.

Something that happened off San Francisco's Golden Gate in early May deserves national recognition. An 18-year-old girl, Shirley O'Neill, was swimming with an 18-year-old boy when he was attacked by a great white shark which had strayed far from its normal habitat. As the water reddened with his blood he called to her to "go back, go back!" Instead, she swam to him and seized an arm. Finding it had almost been severed, she managed a hold about his body and brought him ashore. Then, while he lay dying on the beach, the Catholic girl baptized him and pronounced the Act of Contrition.

A soldier of long service who witnessed the tragedy from a bluff above the bay called it the greatest exhibition of courage he had ever seen. And the president of San Francisco's Board of Supervisors said he will seek a Carnegie Medal of Honor for Shirley O'Neill.

Spring Cleaning!

"Spring cleaning" has been carried on a really big scale this year. The particular "cleaning" involves the state taxpayer.

The Tax Foundation reports that the 45 state legislatures that have met or will meet during 1935 plan to levy up to $1,500,000,000 ($1 1/2 billion) in new or increased state taxes.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Leslie Davis, who has worked for the Service Pipe Line at a number of places over West Texas, is an observing type of fellow who is interested in the different species of wild life found in various localities.

As a result, he is familiar with almost every kind of animal, bird, or reptile common to this section.

Friends will recall that Leslie raised a pet bobcat kitten about a year ago, after a fellow employee had captured the kitten. It made a perfect pet and Leslie finally was talked into giving it to Rule High School students as a mascot for the Rule Bobcats.

The other day, Leslie ran across a species of reptile that had him stumped. He doesn't claim to be an expert on snakes, but he can identify all the common species found around here.

This particular snake, about two and one-half feet long, with something of the coloration of a diamond-back rattler, looked more like a small cobra, Leslie says.

Its head and four inches of the upper body was flat, and carried erect when the snake moved over the ground. "Reminded me somewhat of a spreading adder puffed up and ready to blow," Leslie said.

Davis and a fellow-worker killed the snake, and on closer examination noted that it had a needle-sharp horn on the tip of its tail—something they had never seen before.

The reptile was one of the most vicious looking he had ever seen, Leslie says. It didn't necessarily have to be poisonous because its appearance would scare a man half to death, he declared.

In a recent column, we mentioned the exploits of a former-in-law, Bert Johnson.

Mr. Bowen says he will soon be up with ex-President Teddy R., as he caught seven live wolves in one day recently. He caught one with his bare hands. He lives in the Howard community and says there are a good many wolves this year.

W. M. Beale and Judge C. P. Woodruff of Sweetwater were in attendance upon the District Court this week. Judge Woodruff was at one time District Judge, and Mr. Beale District Attorney of this district.

On last Wednesday the 26th, Mr. Pete Moeller and Miss Annie Zelisko were married at Rhineland by the Catholic priest there. The couple returned to the ranch of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Zelisko in the eastern part of Haskell County, where an elaborate feast was held honoring the new married couple.

60 Years Ago—June 3, 1899

There is talk among some of our citizens of inaugurating a systematic warfare on the prairie dogs of Haskell County. R. M. Dickenson suggests that a meeting of all interested landowners be held, and a definite plan worked out.

We understand that the Texas Central people have laid off the town for the terminus of their extension about 18 miles south of Haskell and just east of the Haskell and Anson road.

Roy Browning and his sister, Miss Eva, of Seymour, on their way home from Claremont where Miss Browning has been teaching music, stopped over a day and visited in the home of J. N. Ellis.

S. Beavers brought up from Jones County another bunch of cattle last Tuesday for his ranch north of town.

Roy Burnett, a prominent young stockman of Knox County, spent several days here this week.

mer Haskell youth, "Peck" Williams, whose feat of climbing to the tower atop the dome of the old courthouse back in 1917 caused consternation among county officials and particularly the building custodian.

Every time "Peck" was seen around the courthouse, the custodian (we knew him as janitor) was only a few steps behind, determined to prevent "Peck" from making the hazardous climb again.

After about a year, vigilance was relaxed. The first World War was on and "Peck" was in the Navy, a long ways from his home town. But still he had a burning ambition to outwit those who had decreed the courthouse tower "off limits" to him.

After the war, "Peck" kept his ambition to himself. Then, one bright spring morning, people glancing at the courthouse clock in the tower saw something fluttering from around the neck of the statue of Justice atop the dome.

It turned out to be "Peck's" necktie. He had climbed the tower the night before, and draped his tie around the statue, pulling it tight. He'd outwitted that "off limits" ban.

Now an executive with Republic Supply Company, "Peck" probably never heard that when the courthouse was remodelled in 1931, workmen who removed the lofty statue found a fragment of the tie still around the shapely neck of the Goddess of Justice.

Gusts of twisting winds accompanying the hard downpour here last Friday wrecked havoc with the old elm tree on the northwest corner of the courthouse lawn, twisting and splitting the tree and breaking off the remaining limbs.

The old elm was set out more than 50 years ago, according to oldtimers, and was one of the few survivors of the first permanent plantings on the lawn. By far the largest tree on the lawn, its shade covered a radius of more than 30 feet. In the days of the horse and buggy, families coming to town on Saturday would spread their lunch under the tree in the summer time, taking advantage of the cool comfort provided by the monster tree.

The oft-heard saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place may be correct, but there's always an exception to every rule. Henry King, veteran retired West Texas Utilities Company man, says he believes.

Years ago, when Henry first started working for the electric company here, he was a line man, installer, meter reader, and general handyman, with most of his duties being pole climbing.

He hadn't been working long when lightning hit a line and pole in the southeast part of town during a rain and thunderstorm. Then, about two years later, the same thing happened again at the same spot. Several years passed, and then a bolt of lightning struck again, at the same place.

Later, service lines in that part of town were changed to accommodate more customers, and the fixed section of line was not used any more. Although it was not abandoned because of the apparent "jinx," Henry often wondered why lightning has never hit in that vicinity in the more than 30 years that have passed.

Engineers and employees at the Paint Creek Power Plant of West Texas Utilities Company are friendly and courteous hosts when visitors tour the plant, willing and eager to show visitors through the maze of equipment and machinery in the multi-million dollar plant.

In fact, some of the crew, including Chief Engineer C. O. Holt, employees Wallace Stark, Johnny Medford, Dude Mercer, Dent Atchison and others could be termed rather talkative when they start describing some of the equipment of which they are particularly proud.

They were under a handicap recently, however, when two rather distinguished visitors came to the Paint Creek plant. The two men were electrical engineers in their own right, which should have been a help to promoting conversation.

But the WTU boys were up against something they couldn't cope with—the visiting engineers were from Formosa, and their native language was Chinese. It developed that they could speak English and one had been educated in the U. S. But the fact they were from a foreign country had the West Texans baffled.

In signing the visitors register at the plant, the two men wrote their names in English, then in Chinese characters, to the mystification of plant employees.

roads in this section is in striking contrast to what were called roads back in the 20's and before.

Roy Davidson, now of Olney, remarked while here last week that he never would forget the hazardous crossing on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos in the Jud country, where he lived 40 years ago.

In crossing the river at a fording place, a vehicle had to keep moving. The apparently hard packed sand was water-logged and if a car or wagon stopped it would immediately start sinking, as if in quicksand.

One instance of that kind is particularly recalled. Floyd Howell, paid driver for the fire department truck, loaned his car to a friend, "Blackie," a barber, who told Howell he wanted to use the car a few minutes.

Several hours passed and Blackie hadn't returned. Late that night he showed up, minus the car.

He explained that he'd decided to go over "on the river" and get a half gallon of moonshine. He had to "ford" the river at a crossing he knew well, got his stock and started back.

Crossing the river the second time, the car stalled and started sinking. First hiding his contraband, he went for help to the nearest house several miles away. By the time they returned with a team, only the top of the car was showing. "It's still there now," Blackie told the luckless Howell.

The next day, Howell took a crew of several men, and by dint of hard shoveling for about half a day, the car was extricated.

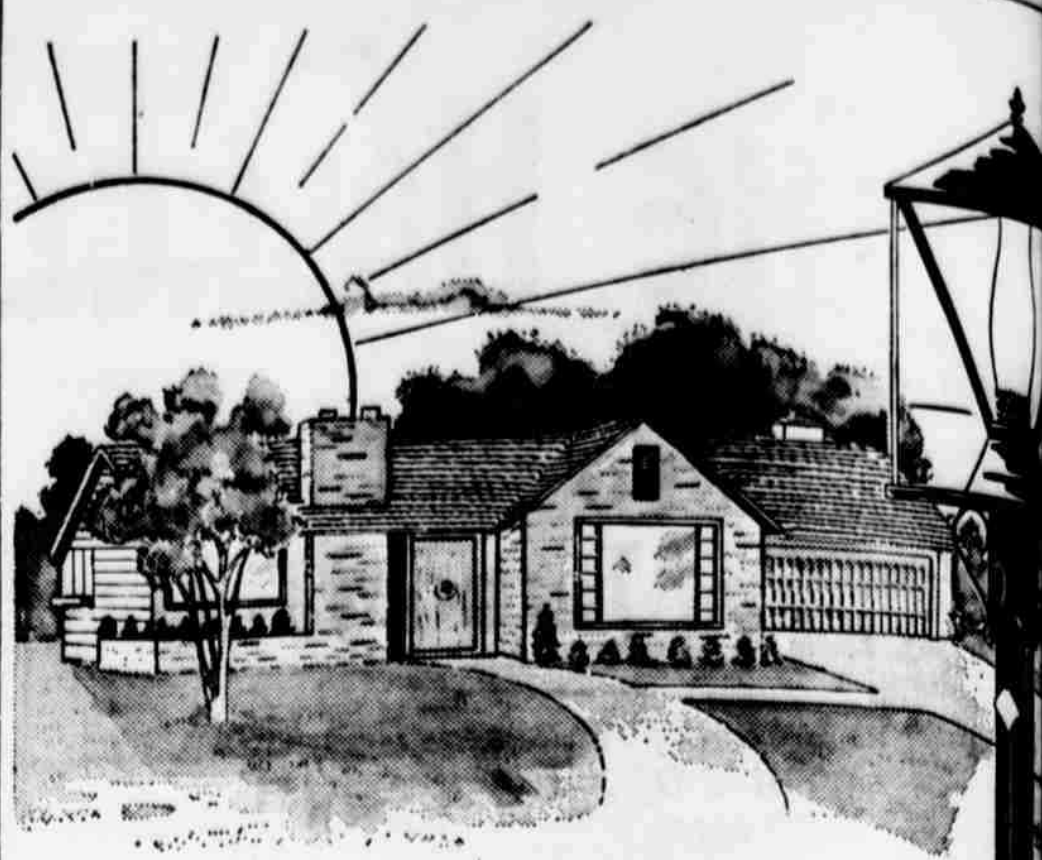

Full of sand and mud, it was practically a total loss to the owner and he later sold it for salvage.

MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved mother Mrs. F. M. Edwards, who passed away May 21, 1956.

Three years ago a precious one from us was called away. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home that never can be filled.

For she left us broken-hearted. She was the sunshine of our home. She was faithful to every duty. Now at rest and waiting for her loved ones.

God needed another angel to worship before His throne. So He looked down from Heaven and called our loved one home.

Each day, darling, we miss you more and more. We miss your sweet smile and cheerful face since you left.

Only a star shines over the grave of the one we loved but could not save. Dear is the memory that never shall fade; sweet is the hope that again we shall meet.

Foster daughter and son, Mrs. Lois Pinkerton, W. R. Edwards. 22p

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank everyone that has been so nice to us during the loss of our wife and mother. We especially want to thank the people of Mattson and Weinert communities. May God bless each and everyone of you.—The Henry Alexander family. 22p

Attend Sul Ross Commencement

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Liles and Mrs. J. W. Liles, all of Weinert, spent the weekend in Fort Stockton where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Liles, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mayfield.

On Sunday, May 24, they attended the commencement exercises at Sul Ross College, Alpine, where Howard Jr., was a member of the graduating class, receiving his bachelor of Science Degree in Chemistry. He is a graduate of Weinert High School.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to our many friends and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy in the loss of our loved one. We wish to thank those who prepared food and also to Bill Holden. May the Lord bless each of you.—The family of Frank Vojutka, Sr. 22p

CARD OF THANKS

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

Our Bill of Rights provides that "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized." For a long time the Courts have held that this meant that a man's home could not be invaded or searched without good cause, except in extremely unusual or critical circumstances an officer could not invade one's home in the absence of lawful warrant. In the recent five-to-four decision however, the Supreme Court has held that it is not always necessary to have a warrant to enter a person's home. This case arose out of the refusal of a Baltimore man to allow a health inspector into his home to inspect for rats. The home owner chose not to have his home invaded without due process of law, and in so doing, exercised his privileges under the Bill of Rights. Certainly the inspector could have gone to court and declared his reasons for needing to make the search and have returned a few hours later with a warrant and fulfilled what he considered to be his duty. The public interest or the public health standards in this case would not seem to have been harmed by the few hours delay necessary to go through the normal procedure to secure a search warrant. The whole intent of the Bill of Rights in this regard was to protect private citizens from harassment from the hordes of government agents regardless of who they are. It was written to protect the insignificant few as well as the many, not to make it easier for government agents to examine, probe, or inspect, but to afford liberty to the people, and issue sanctity to one's home. The Court went a long way in this decision, and while the facts may make it appear to be insignificant, the precedent is extremely dangerous, and even though the Court attempted to set down strict rules, in the end the power is given to the Government to violate the rights of individuals. The trend of this decision should be immediately stopped by legislation.

Spraying Advised To Control Pecan Nut Casebearer

By F. W. Martin, County Agent
Prospects appear favorable for a good pecan crop in this section of Texas this year. It appears that there is a heavy infestation of the pecan nut casebearer in Central, West, and North Texas. Haskell, Rule and Rochester residents should begin to make preparation to spray for the pecan nut casebearer. The proper time for Haskell County to spray should be within the next few days.

To obtain satisfactory control of the pecan nut casebearer, it is essential to have the spray applied at exactly the right time, to get complete coverage of the spray material on the pecan trees and to use recommended insecticides. In order to get accurate timing on the spray application, it is necessary to follow the development of the casebearer in Texas. In most instances, the casebearer will complete its life cycle in about 40 days. Starting with the egg stage, the cycle runs as follows: Egg—about 5 days, larva stage—about 25 days, pupa stage—9 to 10 days. About 2 or 3 days after the adult moth emerges, the female mates and lays eggs on the tip of the small nuts. It takes about 4 or 5 days for these eggs to hatch. Most of the newly hatched larvae leave the nut cluster and feed on the first, second or third bud immediately below for a period of about 2 or 3 days. Following this feeding on the buds, they come to the cluster and enter the small nuts.

It is during this period when the eggs are laid and the time that the worms are feeding on the buds and entering the nuts that the spray should be applied to be effective in controlling the casebearers.

Proper time of the spray is essential and equally important is the spraying of the tree. In order to get satisfactory control, it is essential that the spray material completely cover the small nut cluster and the stem immediately below.

When a scattering of eggs can be found on the lower branches it is time to get set for spraying. The eggs hatch in 3 to 5 days, and the succeeding larval stage is the time to destroy them. Whether you spray at the time the first eggs are found or wait a few days longer will depend on the residual effectiveness of the spray. The residual effect of nicotine sulphate, used by the growers, is relatively short. Application should be delayed until most of the eggs are laid and most of the larvae have hatched out. DDT has a longer residual effect and can be applied earlier.

THE ANCHOR, SCOTT MEMORIAL PARK HEADQUARTERS, SHOWING PART OF PARK AREA

Scott Memorial Park Is Popular Recreation Spot for Large Area

Development of a recreational area that attracts hundreds of people weekly from as far away as Lubbock, Plainview and points in New Mexico, is a continuing program being carried out at Scott Memorial Park on Lake Stamford east of Haskell.

Because of its ideal facilities for camping, fishing, boating and picnicking, which are free to the public, the county-maintained park is widely known throughout a large area of the South Plains as one of the most popular recreational spots in Central West Texas.

A continuing program of improving and making the park more attractive has resulted through cooperation of the Commissioners Court with Park Manager J. R. (Randy) Ballard in cleaning up and beautifying the 50-acre park area.

"We'd like for people of Haskell County to visit their park as often as possible, and note the improvements and progress made in beautifying the grounds and making them more convenient to the public," Park Manager Ballard said.

This year, through help of the Commissioners Court, roads throughout the park have been improved, weeds and underbrush have been cleared, and a number of permanent improvements have been made.

To beautify the grounds, 18 additional shade trees have been set out this year, along with shrubs, rose bushes and other plantings.

Three carport-type covers have been built over tables in the picnic area. Floodlights have been installed for the benefit of night gatherings, and the

Abilene Horse Show Slated June 6 and 7

All owners of registered Quarter Horses and Palominos in Haskell County are invited to enter animals in the seventh annual Abilene Horse Show Saturday and Sunday, June 6 and 7.

The show, sponsored by the Abilene Range Riders, is approved by the American Quarter Horse Assn. and the Palomino Horse Breeders of America and the Lone Star Palomino Exhibitors Assn.

J. A. Meek of Lovington, N. M., will judge the Quarter Horses and D. L. Harraldson of San Angelo will judge the Palominos.

All halter classes in both divisions will be judged in the arena at the Taylor County Exposition Center, east of Abilene on State Highway 36. All performance classes will be judged in the Abilene Range Riders arena, south of Abilene and east of U. S. Highways 83-84.

Quarter Horse judging will be held Saturday, June 6, beginning at 10 a. m. for halter classes and 7 p. m. for performance classes. Palomino judging will be held Sunday, June 7, beginning at 10 a. m. for halter classes and 2 p. m. for performance classes.

Quarter Horse entries are due in the Abilene Range Riders' office by 1 p. m. Friday, June 5. Post entries will be accepted in the Palomino division but early entries are solicited. Entries may be mailed to the Abilene Range Riders, P. O. Box 381, Abilene.

Chiggers And Red Bugs Can Be Controlled

The chiggers in your lawn and the ticks that your pets bring into the yard need be tolerated no longer, says Extension Entomologist James H. Hawkins. Most homeowners have at least one of these problems at some time during the year. Both pests create a problem in recreational areas, especially where wild animals are present to serve as hosts for the ticks, he added.

One application of a practical and safe insecticide control is now available for use in controlling them. For ticks use 10 per cent DDT, 10 per cent chlordane or 2 per cent diel-drin dust at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds, or 20 per cent toxaphene dust at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds, or 20 per cent toxaphene dust at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds per acre where vegetation is sparse. Increase the dosage in heavy vegetation. If sprays are used, follow manufacturer's directions for mixing. Apply at the rate of 15 to 25 gallons per acre to lawns and 50 gallons per acre to heavy vegetation, the entomologist said.

For chiggers apply dusts or sprays of chlordane, toxaphene or lindane to grass and ground litter where chiggers are present. An emulsion spray usually gives the best results. Follow manufacturer's directions for mixing sprays. For small areas, use compressed air or knapsack sprayer and apply 2½ to 3 quarts per 1,000 square feet. If dusts are used, apply 5 per cent chlordane at 40 to 50 pounds per acre or 20 per cent toxaphene at 10 to 15 pounds per acre. He added.

For further information contact your local county agent.

Farm Bureau, Reflecting Steady Growth, Moves Into Own Building

As a result of the support and loyalty of the members of Farm Bureau and through the volunteer efforts and direction of its officers and directors over a period of years, the local organization has been able to purchase a building of its own, located on Highway 24, just west of the square in Haskell. The public is invited to visit in the new offices.

Some years prior to 1947, the exact history of which was not available at this time, the faithful membership of about 30 farmers and ranchers were mostly residing in Rochester, when Doran R. Brown was president and H. D. Gammill served as agent. In 1947 and 1948 the records of Farm Bureau were kept at the county agent's office, when Laverne Kuenstler, collected the dues through that office.

In December of 1949 the organization opened a part-time office in the Masonic Building and it was soon necessary to open full time in order to handle the business of the 300 membership. Mrs. Gene Tonn was hired as the secretary. In April, 1954, the office was again moved to headquarters in the Hotel Haskell Building to accommodate the growing membership with extra office space for the state insurance adjuster located here.

"The purchase of the present building was made possible through the loyalty and growth of the local organization—finishing 1958 with 805 active members—the quota for 1959 is 810, and we hope to gain more than our quota," Henry W. Smith, the president said.

Besides Mr. Smith the following officers and directors are presently serving: Thurman Rice, first vice president; T. A. Grogan, second vice president; and Board Members A. R. Eaton, A. O. Jones, A. R. Helm, Pat O'Keefe, E. A. Schaake, C. G. Hammer and Alvin Dornier. C. H. Herren is General Agent, H. D. Gammill Service Agent, Bill Giles Ad-juster, and Mrs. Gene Tonn, Secretary and Treasurer. As far as can be learned at this time the following persons have served as past-presidents: Dr. J. C. Davis, J. D. Brown, corner of the square, it affords convenient office quarters for the growing farm organization. The public is being invited to visit and inspect the new Farm Bureau offices.

"Auntie Mame", Comedy Hit, At The Texas

"Auntie Mame," the comedy hit of the generation, comes to the Texas Theatre screen on Sunday with Rosalind Russell starring in the title role and repeating the fabulous success she scored in 508 performances on the Broadway stage.

Co-starring with Miss Russell in the Warner Bros. production of the famed best-selling novel and hit play are Forrest Tucker, Coral Browne and Fred Clark. Technirama-Technicolor production was directed by Morton DaCosta, director of the original New York stage play which starred Miss Russell.

As a novel, "Auntie Mame" remained on the best-seller lists 112 weeks. As a play, it was not only a smash New York and London hit, but a highly successful road show as well.

Now, it promises to set even more spectacular records as a motion picture, and Miss Russell is certain to be a leading contender for the year's top acting awards.

Betty Comden and Adolph Green wrote the fun-filled screen play from the novel by Patrick Dennis and the stage adaptation by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee.

Academy Director of Photography Harry Stradling Sr., handled the Technirama-Technicolor cameras and Bronislaw Kaper wrote the ingratiating musical score.

Social Security Benefits Based On Time Factor

"You must have social security credits for a certain length of time in order to qualify for benefits," reminded R. R. Tuley Jr., of the Abilene Social Security office.

"Because at one time only six quarters of coverage were required, many persons erroneously believe that only six quarters of coverage are required to insure anyone now and in the future," Tuley said. Usually, a person will be fully insured at the time of retirement age, total disability, or death if at that time he has a quarter of coverage (earned at any time after 1936) for each two full calendar quarters after 1950. A person can never become fully insured with less than six quarters of coverage; and no matter what his date of birth, he will never need more than 40 quarters of coverage to be fully insured. A quarter of coverage corresponds generally with a calendar quarter of a year.

A special provision applies to persons who reach retirement age or die before Oct. 1, 1960. In these cases a person is fully insured if he has quarters of coverage in all but four of the quarters after 1954.

Tuley invited anyone who has questions concerning the amount of work he needs to qualify to visit the social security office at 203 Fannin at North 2nd St., in Abilene, or see the representative who will be in Haskell at the Chamber of Commerce on June 25 at 10 a. m.

The long-time outlook for eggs, believes John C. McHaney, extension economist, will most likely be influenced by the steady growth and widespread use of risk sharing plans by poultry producers. The degree to which these vertical integrated practices spread—and they are spreading, says McHaney, will influence what happens in the next few years to the production and marketing practices presently used by the egg industry.

MR and Mrs. J.P. MOELLER on their Wedding Day

MR. AND MRS MOELLER Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moeller Celebrate Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary May 26

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. (Pete) Moeller, prominent farm couple living in the Mattson community, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday, May 26. Children of the couple were hosts for open house at the Moeller home from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. on that date for neighbors and friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Moeller were married May 26, 1909, at Rhineland, in Knox County. She was the former Annie Zelisko daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Zelisko who came to this section in 1907 from Milan County. Mr. Moeller had moved to Haskell County with his parents in 1908 from Copperas Cove. During their entire married life the couple has lived in the Mattson community, formerly known as the Irby settlement near the Haskell-Throckmorton county line. Mr. and Mrs. Moeller have six children: Misses Mary and Clotilda at home; Mrs. Perry Force of Haskell; Mrs. Jack Ray of Ashland, Kans.; John and Frank Moeller of Haskell.

Senior Class Members and Sponsors Thrilled By Trip to New Orleans

The Haskell High School graduating class of 1959 along with their sponsors, W. P. McCollum and Mrs. Brooks Middleton, Mrs. McCollum and Coach Overton, returned last Saturday from New Orleans, having left on Tuesday via Oklahoma Transportation on an air conditioned bus. The trip had a rather warm beginning until it was discovered at Jacksboro that the heater as well as the air conditioner was turned on. The fun began with a picnic supper and visit to a park and zoo in Fort Worth. The next break in the long trip was a stop for breakfast and sight-seeing tour in Baton Rouge. The beautiful capitol grounds and the view from atop the capitol building were never-to-be forgotten sights.

Arrival in New Orleans was rather splashy, as the city was in the midst of a 2 1/2 inch down-pour, but by late afternoon the weather was perfect for a swim at Lake Ponchartrain. Tired, but happy Seniors and sponsors returned to their rooms, having ridden all the daring rides, eaten delicious food, viewed a beach show, and visited the fun house all at the beautiful amusement park at Lake Ponchartrain.

The second day in New Orleans was full of sightseeing with their bus stopping at Audubon Park, City Park, the Sugar Bowl, Tulane and Loyola. Many had the experience of rowing boats up down the river in City Park. Next came a nine-mile jaunt on the Mississippi aboard a large passenger boat with a commentator pointing out points of interest along the way. Ships from many lands were seen being loaded and unloaded while some were in dry dock being repaired. After the bus returned the party to the hotel, the group met a little later and began one of the busiest nights many had ever spent. Some of the group went skating and bowling, some to have dinner at Antoine's then on to the Famous Doors to hear the Dixieland band which changes every 30 minutes. Later, some of the group enjoyed Les Paul and Mary Ford at the Blue Room of the Roosevelt Hotel and many visited the all-night disk jockey in their own hotel, the St. Charles at Station WNOE.

The next day on the way out of New Orleans the Battleground of the defeat of the British by General Jackson and Lafitte was visited as well as the Saint Louis Cathedral and the quaint French market for coffee and doughnuts, favors and portraits. The last night away from Haskell the party spent the night at the Alamo Plaza at Shreveport, La., with Douglas Abbott, Rule; Mrs. E. of the night. Forty tired, broke, but happy people returned home late Saturday to prepare for baccalaureate and commencement.

THE VERY NEWEST Only one birth was recorded in the Haskell County Hospital during the past week: Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jack Isbell of Haskell a boy, Leonard Wes, born May 22, weight 7 pounds 12 1/2 ounces.

A dog show was recently held for a week in the window of a New York bank. The background and characteristics of rare breeds were explained by one of the nation's foremost field-trial judges. More than 5,000,000 school children had on deposit over $180,000,000 in school savings accounts in banks at the end of the 1957-58 school year, according to figures from the American Bankers Association.

Annual Texas 4-H Roundup Set June 9-10

"4-H Leads the Way" is the theme of the 1959 Texas 4-H Roundup to be held on the campus of Texas A&M College on June 9-10. An estimated 2,000 4-H members, adult leaders, county agents, friends of 4-H and others are expected to attend.

While major emphasis and activities of the Roundup will be devoted to determining state winners in 25 different judging and team demonstration contests, plans have been perfected for other features. The feature of the general assembly on the evening of June 9 will be an address by Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer for General Motors, Topeka, Kans.

Always a highlight of the Roundup, the Chuckwagon barbecue sponsored by the Texas 4-H Club Recognition committee, will be the opening feature of the second evening's program. A general assembly will follow the barbecue and will feature an address by President M. T. Harrington of the Texas A&M College System. Entertainment for the evening will be provided by 4-H members when selected acts from the Share-the-Fun program will be presented. Members of the State 4-H Council will participate in both general assembly sessions.

June 10 will be a day long remembered by the 4-H members. They will be competing for state honors, and in some cases, the right to represent Texas in national contests. All contestants won the opportunity to participate in the state contests by winning first place in their county and then by placing first or second in their respective district contests.

The youth phase of Agricultural Extension Service work in Texas is now in its 51st year. Last year 106,239 boys and girls were members of the State's 4,026 local clubs.

Haskell Group Attends Abilene Dedication Fete

Haskell was represented by a sizeable group at the open house and program held in connection with the opening of the new District 8 State Highway Department building in Abilene Friday.

The affair, sponsored by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, included a banquet at the Abilene VFW for more than 400 guests where Highway Commission Herbert Petry Jr., was principal speaker.

In the group attending from Haskell were County Judge Jim Alvis, County Commissioner Claude Ashley, Louie Kuenstler and Leon Newton; Highway Department Maintenance Foreman Ray Lusk; Mayor Ira Heister, City Secretary T. J. Arbutuckle, John Kimbrough, Courtney Hunt, John Crawford and Lon Pate.

Hard Downpour Friday Brings .73 Inch Rain

A thunderstorm accompanied by gusts of twisting winds brought almost three-quarters of an inch of rain Friday, with similar precipitation general over the county, while heavier downpours were reported in the Stamford area.

Precipitation here was measured at .73 inch by Sam Herren, local observer for the Government. Rule had .80 and Weinert .75 inch.

Harvesting of the wheat crop, just getting under good headway, was halted by the hard rain. However, growers reported that mature grain was holding up well, and had not been damaged by the downpour.

Telephone Co., Workers, Reach Agreement

Negotiations between Communication Workers of America AFL-CIO and General Telephone Company of the Southwest were concluded last week upon full agreement being reached between the parties, according to a joint release issued by the company and the union. The new labor agreement arrived from these negotiations is effective as of today and will run for a primary term of one year. Approximately 2700 employees are affected.

The negotiations now concluded covered modifications and amendments to existing labor contract dated 25, 1958, the primary term of which also was for one year. The new labor agreement developed through the current negotiation sessions.

Settlement was the culmination of eight weeks of negotiations that commenced March 25, 1959. During the negotiations 42 bargaining issues developed 9 of which were company proposals and 33 were union proposals. The proposals covered wages, working practices, working conditions and employee benefits.

Major items of settlement include: restructuring of wage schedules and a general wage adjustment, a fourth week of vacation for employees of 30 years or more of service and improvements in pension payments under the company pension plan. Additional items were reclassification of some town areas for wage purposes, upgrading of certain job classifications, increasing all night premiums for traffic operators and clarification of seniority rules. Other items covered changes or clarification of working practices.

ATTEND FUNERAL IN SHAMROCK

Mr. and Mrs. Al C. Williams were in Shamrock, Texas, this week to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Bennie A. Skidmore, a cancer victim.

THANKS, FRIENDS AND EVERYONE!

I desire to thank friends, neighbors, and everyone for many kindnesses shown me during my stay in the hospital, also the doctors and hospital staff for their unselfish and untiring service. Your messages, cards, and flowers are also treasured. People like you make life worth living. Dr. Arthur A. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards.

Give Pastures A 'Vacation,' Experts Advise

There is an old saying that poor people and poor methods make poor land. Pastureland that isn't given good care cannot provide a good livelihood for the farm or ranch operator. To maintain a well balanced livestock program careful management of grassland is a thing of necessity, said Hinds A. McCowen Jr., SCS technician assisting the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation Districts.

Continued heavy grazing of our pastures over works the more desirable grasses and the end result will mean an increase in less nutritious plants, McCowen continued. Seasonal deferralment of pasture and rangeland pays off. Walter Quade of Sagerton has given his pasture periodical rest periods for the past several years, and is deferring them again this year. He stated that according to his records, deferred pastures had increased gains in pounds of beef per acre at a ratio of 12:1. Success in the livestock business cannot be achieved by running more stock than the pasture is capable of carrying.

Other California Creek Conservation District cooperators who plan on deferring pastures this year are: Lynn Pace and Allen Strickland of Haskell.

Farmers and ranchers who want help on their pasture or ranch management problems can get it from the local county agent or SCS technicians.
