Wedding Vows Solemnized In Sunray

Mrs. Thomas A. Hamilton

SUNRAY — Beneath an archway entwined with red gladioli and greenery accented by white ribbon, Miss Catha Browder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Browder, Sunray, became the bride of Thomas A. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hamilton, also of Sunray.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony read at 6:00 p. m. Friday in the First Baptist Church of Sunray, was the Rev. M. G. Upton, church pastor.

Organist was Mrs. C. E. Bedwell and Mrs. Arthur Corse was pianist.

Mrs. Irvin Cartrite, soloist, sang "Oh, Perfect Love," and "Wedding Prayer."

Vickie Patterson, Amarillo, was her cousin's flower girl; and Billy Don Hamilton, Dumas, nephew of the bridegroom was ringbearer.

Ushers were Wayne Riddle and Frank Todd, both of Sunray. G. M. Hamilton Jr. was his brother's best man.

Maid of honor was Miss Ione Browder, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Billy Vaughn, twin sister of the bridegroom was bridesmaid.

They wore identical dresses of rad lace fashioned with red cummerbunds with bows in front. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations centered with red gladioli.

Escorted and given marriage by her father, the bride was adorned in a floor-length gown with chapel train. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. T. G. Knox. Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a crown of pearls and sequins. Her bridal bouquet, an arrangement of white orchid and red sweetheart roses, was placed atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Browder chose for her daughter's wedding a wool tweed suit with brown accessories and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Hamilton, mother of the bridegroom, chose a blue crepe dress with black accessories and white carnation corsage.

Fellowship Hall of the church was the setting for the reception which followed the wedding. Assisting with the houseparty were Mesdames Henry Wyatt, Ted Eford, Pete Carroll, Claude Emmett and B. F. Block.

After the reception the couple departed for a wedding trip with Mrs. Hamilton traveling in a brown two piece suit with a (Continued on Page 6)

Landowners Consider Conservation District

Wheat Given Clean Bill Of Health

USDA Pathologist Dr. Frunell inspected Sherman County wheat for diseases Thursday of last week. He reported that wheat leaf rust and stem rust was observed in the wheat in the county but that he found no traces of Streak Mosaic Disease in the wheat.

Dr. Frunell makes an annual survey of the Panhandle looking for wheat disease. He said he found less disease in wheat in the county this fall than he had found the past two years. Farmers may expect the leaf rust and stem rust present in their wheat to largely disappear as cold weather moves in during the winter, Frunell said.

Wheat in general in this locality is in excellent condition so far as being free from disease is concerned.

Dr. Frunell explained that wheat infested with Streak Mosaic Disease usually has trapped leaves, which are tightly rolled and should not be confused with wheat leaf rust and stem rust, which are common in this area in the fall of the year. He said heavy dews and damp weather contribute to the increase of rust in wheat.

Daniel Names Wohlford To Water Board

Sam Wohlford

Governor Price Daniel has named Sam Wohlford to the newly created Water Pollution Control Board of Texas.

Announcement of the appointment was made Friday from Austin. Wohlford, a former representative of the Texas Legislature, was a retired rancher.

The new state board member has been active in the ranching and farming business in this area for almost half a century. He retired from the 95th District of the state legislature in 1957, after serving three consecutive terms.

Others named to the board were J. S. Hudnall of Tyler, and C. M. Shigley of Freeport.

Hudnall is an independent oil operator and is past president of the Texas Water Conservation Association. He is also a member of the governor's state wide water committee.

Shigley is a chemical engineer and assistant general manager of the Dow Chemical Company at Freeport.

The statute creating the board was passed in the first special session of the last legislature. The law went into effect Wednesday. Other members of the board include the chairman of the Board of Water Engineers, state commissioner of health, and the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

November 13 Is Declared School Holiday

Stratford school children will enjoy a holiday Monday, November 13. Administration and faculty members will go to Dumas to participate in a five county Inservice Education Workshop. Dalhart, Texline, Hartley, Channing, Sunray, Stinnett, Fritch, Phillips, Stratford, Dumas, Armstrong, Pringle and Plemons schools will be represented at the workshop.

The workshop has been well planned and should permit a free exchange of ideas between a large number of teachers from the various schools. Demonstrations of teaching techniques and ideas of motivation will be stressed. Mrs. Katie Greenwood is chairman of the English section and Mrs. Blanche Strother is chairman of the homemaking section of the program.

The program starts at 8:30 a. m. and will close at 2:45 p. m.

School classes will be resumed Tuesday, November 14, at 8:35 a. m.

It should be generally known that the formation of a soil conservation district for Sherman County is under consideration, states Bill Brooks, local SCS technician. This organization must be approved by at least a two-third majority of landowners of agricultural land in the county who vote. It is expected that a notice of an election will be posted later this winter. The purpose of the organization is to provide more assistance to all farmers and ranchers (whether or not they are landowners) in solving their conservation problems.

A soil conservation district is not a new organization. The first district in the United States was organized in 1937. The first district for Texas was in 1944. There are now 182 such organizations in Texas covering about 98 percent of the total land area. Oklahoma and probably by now, Kansas and Nebraska have all of their land area in a soil conservation district. Approximately 85 percent of the total land area of the United States is in a soil conservation district.

The question is asked, "What are Soil Conservation Districts?" First, they are legal sub-divisions of state government as set up by House Bill 444 of the Forty-Seventh State Legislature.

They are much the same as school districts except they do not have the authority to levy taxes or vote bonds. Secondly, they are governed by a board of five supervisors or directors, who must own land as well as live within the boundaries of the soil conservation district they serve. Thirdly, they function only for the purpose of the conservation of soil and water. According to law, they must function on individual farms and ranches only through voluntary participation by the farmers and ranchers. They do not have any authority to require or demand, that any conservation measure be applied regardless of the need.

Fourthly, a soil conservation district is not a federal organization. It does not answer to any federal, state or local agency. Assistance is provided for all conservation practice regardless of whether cost share payments are to be made or not.

A soil conservation district must first have the support of the farmers and ranchers to do the job of conservation. They must not only see and recognize their soil erosion problems, both present and potential, but realize that conservation of water, grass, wildlife, livestock, farm improvements and recreational facilities are also essential problems. The solution to these problems is what the soil conservation district must provide. They have many sources of assistance which may be used. They include the Extension Service and the vast years of experience behind your county agent and home demonstration agent to provide information and educational programs; The ACP program and the services of the cost shares provided as a means of enabling farmers and ranchers to get more of their needed work done; the Farmers Home Administration and the soil conservation loans they provide; the vocational agriculture teacher and the education of FFA boys and girls; the soil conservation service and the technical assistance they provide in the planning for a completion of conservation practices.

Recently your president attended a safety assemblage sponsored by the Amarillo Area Council at Fannin Junior High School. The speaker stressed that 95% of the accidents were caused by ignorance, lack of safety education and carelessness. It was stressed that parents learn safety rules and teach them to their children. Often parents do not tell their children to ride their bicycles with the traffic or help them choose the safest way to walk to school. Safety tips for fall were: "Watch and teach safe firearms and hunting rules, watch for school bus safety." Do you stop when a school bus is stopped to either pick up or let students off the bus?

The State P-TA convention will be held in Houston, Texas November 29 through December 1. Chartered buses will leave Amarillo November 27 at 9:30 p. m. and return December 2 around 8:00 a. m. Round trip tickets will cost $20.00. One hundred and eighteen delegates from the eighth district have already planned to go. A Theologian's View

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" — Psalm 133:1

WHAT do some of the world's most famous theologians think about disunity among Christians?

One says: "I can't believe that Christ wanted to establish 250 sects. In the mind of God, there must be one church."

"If we want to get out of this dead end, we must look back to the origins of the church. We must become disciples. Let us start there and leave aside the discussions of dogma, hierarchy and so on," says another.

All agree that there must be greater unity if Christianity is to solve any of the world's problems and survive. It must begin in our own hearts, in our own community between neighbors, or we have missed one of the great lessons repeated again and again in the Bible.

Grass And Weed Fire Tuesday

Stratford Volunteer Firemen stood by Tuesday afternoon to prevent a grass and weed fire west of Jack's 66 Tire and Service from spreading to adjoining pasture land. The fire started from sparks of a nearby trash barrel.

Study Club Solicits Aid For Library

you have read, please share them with others through your library.

The librarian, Mrs. Wes Hodges, reported that the library receives a fund of $150.00 annually, to cover any and all expenses. That won't pay for very many books. Most of the fund is used for a student summer reading plan for the benefit of the children who frequent the library.

These are but a few of the needed items: Best-seller and doubt know there is a real need for books and equipment. As a project, the Prospectus Study Club recently decided to help with the improvement of the Sherman County Library. At the last meeting, Study Club members brought a book, or $3.00 for the library's use. May they count on your help, too? If you have some books that

THE current plight of the duck population is well known to any nimrod who enjoys an icy morning in a boat or blind. Ducks are in trouble, and the hunter who wants some birds for tomorrow will have to take fewer this year and hope that things will look brighter after the next nesting season.

Ducks are hardy, remarkable birds and, given a little help, will always be around to provide what many hunters consider the finest wing shooting of all.

The hardest duck of all—the mallard—is also the most numerous. The mallard is highly adaptable and much of the eastern and western hemispheres are included in his range.

The mallard may nest as far north as the Arctic Circle, or as far south as Northern Mexico and is found in many states the year-round.

Believed to be the ancestor of almost all varieties of domestic duck, the mallard quickly adapts to his environment. His menu depends upon the locality in which he lives and includes a great variety of plants, insects and fresh water mollusks—particularly snails and water bugs.

Baby mallards, of course, are born swimmers. Mother mallard watches her brood carefully, and at the first sight or sound of danger quacks a warning that sends the baby ducks under water. Baby mallards may stay under water, apparently without effort, for as long as two minutes. Quite often, while they are submerged, mother mallard puts on a convincing "broken wing" act which captures the attention of any predator.

Skimming across the top of the water, mother will entice the predator to give hopeless chase, while the baby ducks seek a safe hiding place.

Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before. Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

New unitized body a foot shorter outside... full-size inside
 Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the automobile: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlanes, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully driveable, easily garageable. At the same time it packs into its neat and nifty 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built.

Twice-a-year maintenance
 Service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader
 The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like... thrifter than you'd expect a V-8 to be... it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it-car. For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now
 As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.
 We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

Fire Fighters Hope To Remodel Old Fire Truck

Stratford Volunteer Fire Fighters are dreaming of remodeling the old 1944 City fire truck, and converting it into a modern fire fighting piece of machinery which can be used in an emergency to fight fires within the city limits. The old truck is kept in running order and is kept in the city hall as a standby truck when the other two trucks are out on a call.

Remodeling of the old truck would require a cash expense of approximately $1,500.00. A new motor would have to be purchased along with a 500 gallon water tank, and a new water pump. Fire department boys would do most of the remodeling work although some hired labor would be required.

The new unit would involve an investment risk of $3,000 to $4,000 as compared to the much more expensive trucks which are used for this purpose at the present time.

"We think we can build a much more effective grass fire fighting piece of equipment than either of the new trucks provide," said Claude Fedric, fire department chief.

Members of the fire department will contact citizens in the area to determine as to whether or not they are interested in making donations to conversion of the new unit.

Donations for conversion of the new unit will be accepted at the Fedric Motel, City Hall or Consumers Co.

"The decision as to whether or not this comparatively obsolete truck is converted into a useful piece of equipment rests with the public it would protect," Fedric said.

If sufficient interest is shown, a canvass of the territory will be made in an attempt to secure the additional funds for completing the work on the fire truck.

Frost Brings Out Prussic Acid In Plants

Frost can be expected in most areas of the state, and it can mean trouble for livestock producers. Johnson grass and sorghum sometimes develops a high prussic acid content after a frost, and if grazed by livestock, can cause a lot of trouble, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and are responsible for the development of the prussic acid, Patterson explains. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it, Patterson says.

Frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry, warns the veterinarian. If it is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after frost if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

procedure information?" Petitions have been circulated by Billy McClellan, Ira Oldaker, Durwood Cluck and Horace Sneed. Fifty signatures of qualified land owners are required. They have secured 46 signatures. These petitions will be submitted to the State Soil Conservation Board. The state board will then set a date (probably in December or January) for hearings to determine the interest of the people and the actual need. If these hearings indicate further action, an election date will be set (probably in January or February). The landowners of agricultural land, whether they live in the county or not, will then cast their ballots. If the vote is at least two-thirds for the soil conservation district, it will be organized. If the vote is less than two-thirds for, then it will not be organized, and a period of six months must elapse before another petition can be filed.

Veterans Gift Box Available To The Public

The American Legion Auxiliary Veterans Christmas gift box has been placed in the office of Southwestern Public Service Co. Gift donations which are placed in the box will be taken to the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. Veterans in the hospital who would otherwise be unable to send gifts to loved ones, will make their selections from the donated gifts.

Ladies of the auxiliary who have watched the faces of destitute veterans in ill health as they have made their selections of Christmas gifts, say that the effort is well worth while.

Tri-Corner Bazaar Is Planned For November 17-18

The Tri-Corner Art Association will hold its second annual bazaar November 17-18, from 9:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. in the building south of Robbie's Gift Shoppe. Many gift items and baked goods will be on display.

Free coffee will be served throughout both days, and door prizes will be given. Three oil paintings will be given away on Saturday afternoon.

Letters To The Editor

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The Stratford Star reported that forty-one young people of the Baptist, Christian and Methodist Church took part in the CROP drive. It is possible that some of the young people who took part in the drive are members of the Baptist Church, but the Baptist Church did not sponsor, co-sponsor, nor have any part in the soliciting of funds for CROP.
