Underground Water Survey Report Printed

Joe D. Carter, chairman of the board of water engineers, announced this week that bulletin 6109, reporting progress of a logic and ground-water resource investigation in the Northern High Plains of Texas, prepared in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey and the North Plains Ground Water Conservation District No. 2, has been published. Copies of the report are available without charge from the board, Box 2311, Capitol Station, Austin, or North Plains Water District in Dumas.

Area covered by the investigation is about 9,300 square miles, comprising all of the Texas Panhandle north of the Canadian River.

The report details the development of intensive irrigation farming, beginning with the onset of severe drought conditions in the early 1950's. In December 1952, about 37,000 acres were irrigated from 150 wells, but in 1959 water from 1,206 wells supplied 324,000 acres. The investigation was begun in 1956.

The study shows the Ogallala formation, principal aquifer of the area, has large amounts of ground water available for development. However, the report recommends continued study of all major conditions affecting availability of ground

Spurlocks Given 25th Anniversary Surprise Party

A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Travis Spurlock, celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at their beautiful home in the Spurlock Community.

The couple was completely surprised when neighbors, friends and relatives began arriving, filling the house and yard. Their surprise was complete when their daughters, Jean and Elaine, came for the occasion from Amarillo and Canyon. They presented their parents with a single red rose in a crystal and silver bud vase from their children. James Spurlock couldn't be contacted in time for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Spurlock were married January 3, 1937 in Stratford. They have lived in the Spurlock Community all of their married life.

A silver "money tree" was presented to the honored couple as a token of esteem that they might buy an anniversary gift of their choice.

Ladies of the community served delicious wedding cake, coffee, mints and nuts to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Frazier, Denese, Dusty and Dianne; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wegner, Edith Anne, Wesley and Bill; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carter, Brenda and Bill; Mr. and Mrs. Meritt Sweny; David Flyr; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon

Investigators warned that because of the low rate of recharge and slow movement of water natural conditions, ground-water supplies should be protected from pollution by industrial waste water. The area contains oil fields and extensive petrochemical industries.

March of Dimes Helps Dry Youngster's Tears of Pain

Anthony Ryan wasn't normally a crybaby. But at 10 months he began crying almost incessantly, and at times even screamed.

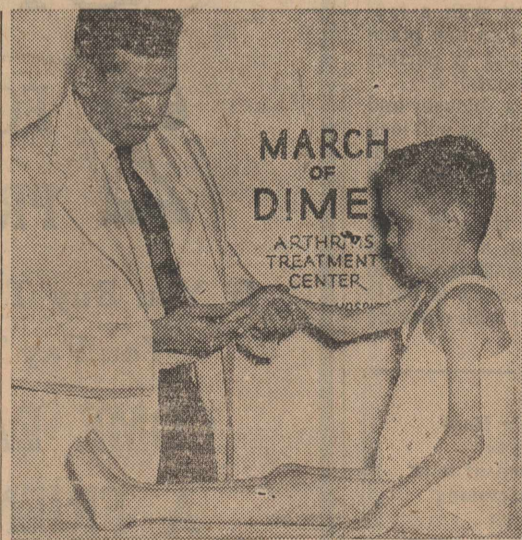

His loving parents in Philadelphia were nearly out of their minds. With four other small children, the household was pandemonium. No one appeared to know precisely what was causing the infant's dreadful paroxysms of pain.

Eight months and countless tears later, the cause of Anthony's agony was at last diagnosed as rheumatoid arthritis, seemingly afflicting every area of his tiny body.

It's 11 years now since Anthony was stricken. He will limp the rest of his life; he cannot play baseball today with the other boys in the block, and he is still in a great deal of pain. As a matter of fact, until just a short time ago he couldn't even turn his head.

Science has not yet licked the problem of Anthony and of thousands of children like him. There is still no simple, accurate test for the early diagnosis of rheumatoid arthritis, although the outlook is hopeful. But many rheumatologists would agree today that had modern diagnostic tools been available to him, and had Anthony been examined immediately by a "team" of specialists in the medical and allied professions—the group of orthopedists, pediatricians, laboratory research scientists, physical therapists and others now available in March of Dimes-financed treatment centers in many parts of the nation—Anthony today might be skating with the other kids on the frozen pond at the bottom of Prince Circle where he lives.

Although much of the injury done to Anthony in past years is irreparable, doctors at a new arthritis treatment center at Philadelphia Children's Hospital, sponsored by five March of Dimes chapters in the area, check him regularly to ease his pain and avoid further damage.

This same "team approach" is also employed by the ever-growing number of National Foundation-March of Dimes chapter-sponsored clinics for treatment of birth defects, another area in which the health organization is concentrating. Infants with any of hundreds of major birth defects are now examined by as many as 12 specialists at each clinic, working together as a team that might include a pediatrician, neurosurgeon, urologist, orthopedist and internist as well as others.

For instance, consider the perils from one birth defect

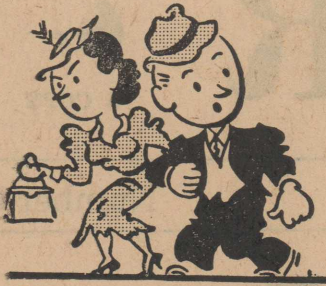

ON WEST COAST, identical twins Cathy and Carol Gile, 7 years, are greeted at March of Dimes Congenital Defects Clinic in University of Washington Hospital, Seattle.

There are tens of thousands of Anthonys and Cathys and Carols in the United States today. One reason The National Foundation-March of Dimes turned to these diseases three years ago is that almost 700 babies are born each day in this country with significant birth defects, accounting for more than 21,000 deaths each year. Crippling rheumatoid arthritis affects 30,000 children and adolescents—apart from the overall toll of 11 million American victims of rheumatic diseases.

An increasing number of sufferers from these two cruel handicaps are receiving treatment from the specialist "teams" at March of Dimes-financed chapter clinics. As more funds become available, additional centers will be established to provide medical care for even more victims of chronic crippling disease.

The Seattle "team" at the March of Dimes clinic watches over the twins devotedly.

Parental Favoritism

"And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him." Genesis 37:4

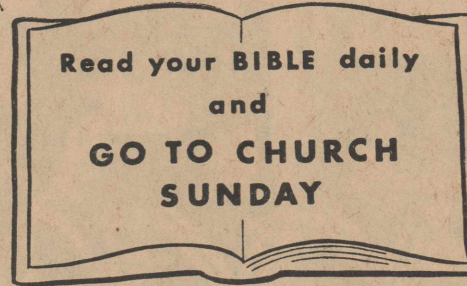

The tragedy in the family of Jacob which finally caused the boy Joseph to be sold into slavery is fully revealed in this passage of Scripture.

Jealousy and parental favoritism was the cause of the continual strife in this family. The brothers could not speak "peaceably" to their younger brother. No doubt there was bickering and shouting and arguing. What an unhappy family this must have been! And it caused the tragedy of brothers selling a brother.

Modern delinquency is caused in most part by children being unwanted by one or both parents; by jealousy among the children and parents. It is not caused by a peaceful home.

Jealousy, which can start in the family, can spread to be jealousy between races and nations.

Gail Carter reported on the cultural aspects of Brazil. She told of the primitive practices of some of the Indians, and showed pictures of the very modern architecture in the capital.

Fashions with a Future

For busy days ahead, what could be more festive than a two piece red wool jersey suit with a tapestry blouse? It can go any place for the afternoon and is perfect for informal dining out.

Fluid crepe in a blouse and pleated skirt combination will look like a one-piece dress. A brief velvet jacket makes an elegant topping for evenings.

Sheer wool crepe is popular for a sheath dress with a minimum of trimming. Even though you choose a color, the style is basic and can be changed with costume jewelry.

Helen's Favorite:

Skillet Apple Ham (Serves 6)

2 - 2½ pound slice of ham
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups sliced onion
2 cups canned apple sauce
¼ cup molasses
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon ground cloves

Trim excess fat from ham slice. Sauté in fat in skillet, turning to brown on all sides. Remove ham, add onions and sauté to golden brown. Combine remaining ingredients and add to onion, mixing well. Add ham slice, cover and simmer for 50 minutes or until tender.

A two-piece velveteen dress is wonderful when you want to go out afternoon or evening. Choose jewel tones in emerald, ruby, sapphire or ever popular black.

For hair styles with hair up in front choose a pillbox which will sit back on top of the head. It won't muss the hair-do.

Suit tops and blouses are cleverly done these days with a mandarin collar as well as with a detachable scarf that ties casually. In this way you get two looks for the price of one.

Waggoner Carr Announces For Attorney General

Waggoner Carr

"I will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General of Texas," is the statement made by Waggoner Carr.

"This is a vital office. Much of the character and quality of Texas life for our families, our businessmen, workingmen and farmers will depend upon the example of alert and responsible conduct of the Attorney General's office. We cannot build or long maintain an attractive climate for economic growth unless we first preserve a healthy climate of respect for law and order.

As a lawyer for fifteen years, member of the Legislature for five terms and as speaker of the House for the 55th and 56th Legislatures, and also as County Attorney of Lubbock County and Assistant District Attorney for the 72nd Judicial District, I believe my previous training and experience qualify me for this office."

Frigid Blast Brings Snow Flurries

Snow of little moisture content, accompanied by winds fell over this territory Monday night and Tuesday morning. Temperatures dropped to 7 degrees below zero, and the Stratford schools were closed Tuesday.

Truck drivers described conditions as being worst near the towns and cities where wind currents caused the snow to drift. Snow packed on the streets into a glaze which reduced driving speeds. No serious traffic accidents or hardships have been reported.

Jack Seale Is Candidate For Congress

Jack Seale

Jack Seale, youngest mayor of any major city in the state, has announced that he will be a Republican candidate in the primary election to be held May 5, for United States representative of the 18th Congressional District of the State of Texas.

Seale is a native West Texan and resides in Amarillo. He has been actively engaged in the home building business since 1947. He is 34 years old, married, and he and his wife have five children.

Seale was elected to the city commission of Amarillo when he was 32 years old, and served for two years prior to being elected mayor.

Seale believes in government based upon the principles as outlined by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights of the United States. He believes that local government is the level at which most decisions can best be made. He does not believe in the federal government usurping the rights of the states and the local committees as is presently being done on an ever increasing scale. Seale has shown by his actions that he is a true conservative and believes in the rights of the individual.

With this in mind, Charlie Warner, manager of the Texas Employment Commission, in Borger, states: "It now appears doubtful that we will be allowed to bring Mexican National Braceros in this year to do tractor driving. This is due to a new clause added to Public Law 78.

Therefore, we urge all farmers to contact us as soon as possible," he continued, listing their anticipated labor requirements in order that we may attempt to recruit and bring in the necessary farm workers."

"For the convenience of the farmers and any unemployed farm workers, we have established Farm Labor days throughout the North Texas Panhandle where farmers and

WAS IT... OR REALLY...

Hard to do in these times? Not really. Just takes a little brainwork to figure it out. Took me a long time—and I never really convinced myself until a few days ago. You might not think a fellow has time for much thinking in the rush of getting ready for Christmas, but he has, waiting in line here and there, riding the bus or just driving home. It's all resolved, my mind is made up. This year I am going to keep all my friends here in the community. No more roaming off in the wild blue out yonder. I am going to shop and trade at home with folks I know; with folks who know me. The saving money part? Simple. I always knew things cost less here at home. I just let it slip my mind for a time. What's your excuse?

LETTERS To The Editor

Dear Editor:
 It occurs to all of us frequently these days that the United States is a country of two forces, one pledging support to forces for freedom and morality in the world, and the other weakly vacillating and compromising to the forces of enslavement and atheism. We have gone about making a living and raising a family, trusting government to politicians. We have entrusted our rights, our tax money, our reputation to "people-planners" and internationalists. Now we are being jolted awake by the dangerous precedents our coun-

Asian policy entitled, "While You Slept." He deals primarily with our unfortunate involvement in the Korean War, which Americans now learn was not fought to be won. The deadly softening up, the calculated treason, the organized propaganda techniques used on the American people to break their natural resistance to such pointless and costly "police actions." These facts are explored by the author. The alarming facts tell what and how, and where possible, the agencies and men responsible. To quote Mr. Flynn, "Never has there been so large and so generally sophisticated a population so defenseless against such an enterprise as the people of America. Generous in their attitudes, disturbed by a long seige of war, exposed to the most powerful engines of propaganda the world has ever known, they have been a mark for the experts trained in their use." How true and how sad that our convictions and our standards have been so twisted, so controlled, so confused that we allow and condone actions and attitudes contrary to our better judgment, our safety, our christianity. Mr. Flynn has succeeded in packing an interesting and highly credible array of facts into ninety-seven pages. "While You Slept," is a book which deserves your attention.

Public Schools Week In Texas Resolution

The security and future progress of our Nation depend more than ever before on the adequacy of our schools, and

Since the founding of the Texas Public School System 108 years ago, the growth and development of our State has been tied closely to the educational advantages available to Texas citizens and depend upon the continuance and furtherance of educational opportunities for all Texas children, and

The Texas Citizens' Committee for Public Schools Week has worked diligently and effectively since 1950 in cooperation with local school officials to bring the one purpose of Texas Public Schools Week to the attention of all the people in Texas; and records show that the number of people visiting public schools during 1961, the eleventh year of the observance increased to more than 2,000,000; and Members of the Board are grateful for this continued interest of the people of Texas in their public schools.

Be it therefore resolved: That the State Board of Education hereby designates the week of March 5 through March 9, 1962, as the twelfth annual Public Schools Week in Texas, and urges all citizens in the State to visit a public school during that week, and

That the State Commissioner of Education and the State Department of Education staff shall join with the State Board of Education in encouraging public school administrators and teachers to work with individual citizens, parent-teacher associations, and other organizations and agencies interested in improving educational opportunities available to the children of their respective communities, and

That Public Schools Week be suggested as an appropriate week for local school officials to plan school events and educational programs which will give to each pupil and to each citizen who visits in the schools a better understanding of the vitally important responsibility which rests upon the public schools in a country governed by and for the people.

600,000 STUDENTS HAVE PARTICIPATED IN LUNCH PROGRAMS

In 1961, almost 600,000 children in Texas public schools participated in the national school lunch and milk programs. They drank approximately 174,000,000 half-pints of milk during the 12-month period.

Old Cars Are Biggest Hazard To Education

COATS, N. C. — An old car often becomes a hazard to getting a good education, according to North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford.

Sanford told the following story at a father and son banquet here Thursday night:

"A boy gets to be 16 years old and he secures a driver's license. Driving an automobile is his chief joy in life. Soon he decides he has to have a car of his own.

"In order to make the money he needs, he drops athletics and gets an afternoon and Saturday job. As soon as he can, he makes a down payment on a second-hand car.

"After that, his nose is held to the grindstone trying to keep up the payments, make repairs needed and buy gasoline.

"He neglects his homework and his grades drop. He may soon fail and drop out of school so he can work full time because it takes full time work at his low pay rate to support the old car.

"You would think this would be enough. But sometimes the old car attracts some girl who has no more sense than the boy has. Soon she stops school and they get married.

"After that you may see them drive down the road in the old car — two ten-agers who ought to be in high school, with the young wife sitting so close to her husband he is practically pushed out of the car and a baby crying on the back seat."

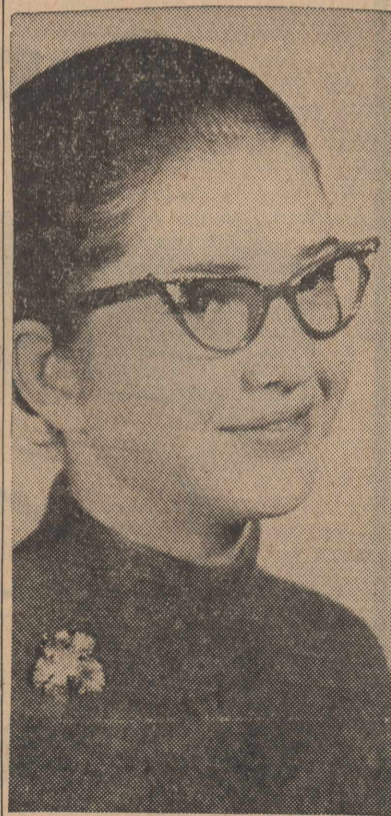

TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

More than two million students were in average daily membership in Texas public schools in 1960-61 and of these the average daily attendance exceeded 94 per cent.

ACROSS the DESK

IDEAS FROM OTHER EDITORS

From The Waverly Sun, Waverly, New York: Everyone has heard the old saw that says competition is the life of trade. So it is. It's also the best guarantee the consumer has of top quality and service at minimum price.

Well, there is competition aplenty in this country today. Retail trade has been going through an evolution that, in some aspects at least, is practically a revolution. The modern shopping center and supermarket are virtually department stores. The discount houses, in various areas of the country, have become an important factor in the retail picture. Sunday store openings—which numbers of people both within and without the retail industry think unwise—have become more numerous, as result of the heavy competitive pressures.

All of this works to the advantage of the consumer, up to a point. But, at the same time, it has imposed difficult and far-reaching problems on the retailers—both the large and the small, the chains and the independents. In various instances profits have disappeared, or nearly so. And that isn't good for anyone concerned. Profitless enterprise, whatever the field, can't be progressive enterprise for long, and then the consumer suffers.

There's no easy answer. But the point to remember is there are disadvantages as well as advantages when competition reaches a no-holds-barred level.

400 TEXAS STUDENTS COMPLETE DRAFTING COURSES

More than 400 selected students in 12 Texas high schools have completed new advanced drafting courses. The course offerings have been approved by the State Board of Education and, beginning in September, 1963; accredited schools may offer as electives pre-engineering drafting, pre-engineering descriptive geometry, and technical drafting to gifted students who have completed required academic work in their respective schools.
