Armed Forces Week

THE ROUNDUP is an unofficial newspaper published weekly in the interest of personnel at Reese Air Force Base of Air Training Command. It is published by Barron Publications, Inc., a private concern which is in no way connected with the department of the Air Force. Opinions expressed by publishers and writers are not to be considered an official expression by the Department of the Air Force. The appearance of advertising, including supplements and inserts, in the publication does not constitute an endorsement by the Department of the Air Force of the products of services advertised.

Upcoming is the 30th Armed Forces Day. President Truman decided that the third Saturday each May should be a day to "display the flag and express recognition of the skill, gallantry, and uncompromising devotion to duty, characteristic of the Armed Forces in carrying out their missions." History records many events and changes during the past 30 years. History also teaches that a strong defense posture is the best assurance that we can continue our heritage of freedom. This fact has not changed. Remember our past and commit yourself to the challenge of the future on Armed Forces Day.

Dining Hall complaint

I have a double barrel complaint concerning the Wing Dining Hall.

First, some of the girls who are bussing tables, not all of them, have a tendency or follow the practice of scraping plates at the table while customers are still sitting there. This is, to say the least, a little bit of a sickening practice.

Secondly, I have made two comments or complaints, using the form in the Dining Hall, and I have gotten no response to indicate that Services have received my comments, nor has the practice changed.

I certainly would like some action taken on them.

Dear Double Barrel:

You certainly have a valid complaint. From now on, bussing personnel will not scrape plates at the table. Only the minimum amount of stacking of dishes will be done to place used dishes and trays in the storage carts.

You can rest assured that your critique sheets were received and action taken on your complaint. When possible we try to personally contact each individual who has a complaint. Unfortunately, we didn't get to yours as fast as we would like to have.

Please continue to submit critiques both good and bad. They help us evaluate the service in the dining hall.

Gassing up

I would like to know why the employees at the base gas station fill up their cars the first thing in the morning when the gas station is supposed to be for the military and most of them don't have military identification cards. This presents a problem to the military since only a limited number of gallons per day can be sold.

Dear Filled Up:

Thank you for bringing this to my attention. The policy of having AAFES employees make their purchases before opening or after closing was in conflict with everyone's best interest due to the gasoline shortage. This policy has been changed.

Employees now must make their purchase of gasoline during their lunch hour. For your information, all AAFES employees are authorized to purchase from the Base Exchange facilities.

Hot room

I am calling because the heat is still on in building 420. It is 80 degrees outside and it is about to burn us out. Can you please get something done about it?

Dear Burn Us Out:

We sure can do something about it. In fact, the boilers in the dorms were turned off two days after you called. Thanks for bringing this to my attention and helping us conserve energy.

Chaplain's comment

by Chaplain (Lt. Col.)
Lawrence T. Quinn

Religion is the meeting point between God and man.

It is the commerce that goes on between them, their mutual presence. It takes place in this world because God is present in this world and it is there that he meets man. He is truly the ground of our being, the atmosphere which we breathe and in which we are immersed.

The Greek philosophers portrayed God as a remote and static being above and beyond the fleeting world in which you and I live. But this is not a good model for the reality we are trying to portray.

God is present to the world; in every one of the world's realities, in terrible events like wars and earthquakes, but also in the vein of a flower and the wing of a fly because he is the sustaining force keeping all in existence.

Above all, God is present in persons and their relationships to each other, for they are the nearest approach to him in the totality of visible creation.

We must not, then, think of a God whose "activity" is in this world but whose "essence" is apart in a remote heaven. He is the ultimate reality of our everyday lives, in him we live and move and have our being. And this nearness of God is quite compatible with his "otherness." It merely brings home to us the fact that the mystery of God is part and parcel with our lives and not locked away in a separate compartment apart from daily living. The mystery of God and the mystery of life in this world are in fact two aspects of one and the same thing.

We are not the "playthings" of a capricious creator; we are made "in his image and likeness." Yes, God is truly with us; we are important in his sight!

Forget gambling

by Capt.
Richard A. McDonald
Legal office

Air Force Regulations prohibit all forms of gambling on any Government-owned or leased property.

Furthermore, regardless of what state law allows, you cannot engage in any type of gambling activity while on duty for the Government. This prohibition includes, among other things, card games, lotteries, baseball and football pools, and any other kind of betting.

The only exception to the above rules is that membership associations, such as Officer and NCO clubs, may allow limited card games and nominal games of chance among small groups of their members as long as the games conform with local law.

Potential penalties for violations of AFR 30-30's prohibition against gambling are very serious. A member of the Air Force could receive a dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and confinement at hard labor for up to 2 years. A civilian employee of the Air Force, who gambles while on duty might eventually be removed from his job.

So before you engage in any kind of gambling activity on base, think — it would cost you more than your money.

Davis recalls past, looks ahead

(Editor's note: Bob Reede recently talked with Gen. Bennie L. Davis, ATC commander, about his background and future plans. The interview will be published in three parts.)

Part I

• Before we begin, General, for future reference which do you prefer, Gen. Bennie L. Davis, or Gen. B.L. Davis?

Either one's okay. I probably use B.L. more often because it takes less time to sign letters.

• General, you were born and brought up in McAlester, Okla. How large a town was it then?

Oh around 12,000, I guess. Today it's closer to 20,000.

• Was that "dust bowl" country?

No, no. That was down in the southwestern part of the state. Our part resembled the Texas hill country that begins just north of Randolph.

• What did your dad do?

He bought hides, fur and wool for a company there in McAlester.

• You have two sons, General. What's their work?

I just had the pleasure of commissioning our youngest, Tom, who's in medical school, as a second lieutenant in the Air Force. Our other son, Jim, is a junior at the University of Texas. After putting in four years in the Air Force as an enlisted man — an operating room attendant — he decided to get out and return to school. He's majoring in nursing and may later decide to go to medical school, too.

• You're a West Point grad, General. You entered quite young, didn't you?

Yes. Right after graduating from high school in 1946. I was 18. (General Davis is now the youngest four-star general in the Air Force. Ed.)

• Someone told me you were an outstanding football player in high school. Undue modesty aside, is that so?

I did play there, and made all-state my last two years. Following graduation, I got several football scholarship offers, including one from the University of Oklahoma. But in those years, if you went to a university on a football scholarship, the sport had to take precedence over scholastic pursuits. I had graduated second in my class in high school, and was more interested in education. I knew I'd get a fine one at the Point, and besides, they had a terrific football team, too.

• Those were the days of the fabled Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, weren't they?

Yes. I played with them. I was on the varsity for four years. The coaches were "Red" Blaik and Vince Lombardi. We didn't lose a game for a couple of years, and won a national championship.

• What position did you play?

Tackle.

• Both ways? Offense and defense?

Both ways.

• I can't help asking, General. At Army vs. Air Force games, which team do you root for?

The Air Force, of course.

• Even deep down inside?

Yes. With no reservations. I'm Air Force all the way.

• General, you spent three years, 1972-1975, at Randolph, first as vice commander of the Military Personnel Center, then as a commander of Recruiting Service. How do you feel about coming back?

Absolutely great. We have a wonderful military-civilian relationship here in San Antonio. To top that off, I'm delighted, honored and proud to be commander of Air Training Command, the "first" command, where it all starts. It's a tremendous challenge — and in the most sincere sense of the word, a humbling responsibility — to be able to direct training and other activities that will have an effect on the Air Force for the next quarter-century. Even though the Air Force is still — on the record — the most attractive service to young people, we've had some shortfalls in a few areas, mostly because we insist on maintaining the highest quality standards when selecting enlistees. We need the help of everybody who wears the blue uniform.

General Davis

have an effect on the Air Force for the next quarter-century.

• How do we stand on recruiting right now, General?

When I was commander of Recruiting Service here back in 1974, we were just getting into the all-volunteer force. If you'll recall, there

Even though the Air Force is still — on the record — the most attractive service to young people, we've had some shortfalls in a few areas, mostly because we insist on maintaining the highest quality standards when selecting enlistees. We need the help of everybody who wears the blue uniform.

Below zone hikes expand

by MSgt. Octaviano Guerrero
 Air Force plans to increase its allotment of below-the-zone promotions to E-4, starting with the July through September quarter.

Since the below-the-zone program began in 1976, selectees have consistently outscored their contemporaries in E-5 promotion testing and have had a lower disciplinary incident rate.

Air Force officials plan to expand the eligibility "window" from six to 12 months and will increase the selection quota from 10 to 15 percent.

The opportunity for earlier promotion and the increased selection quota make the program more meaningful for all airmen.

Although the impact of these changes will be modest, Air Force officials expect the new policies to give commanders more flexibility to nominate top contenders for early promotion.

For more information, contact the promotion section of the Reese consolidated personnel center at Ext. 3744 or 3789.

AFW messages

This year's theme, "Forces for Peace" accurately describes our reason for being.

In today's world, the most potent force for peace is worldwide knowledge that our armed forces possess adequate strength to deter aggression. Underscoring that capability, Gen. Lew Allen Jr., chief of staff, recently stated unequivocally, "The United States Air Force remains the strongest and best in the world today."

In recent months, members of the armed forces have been nagged by frustrations and uncertainties about their way of life and their future. In spite of this, in my travels around Air Training Command I've noted a definite sense of purpose, of dedication. In a world in which self-indulgence and self-interest supposedly predominate, I've met instead men and women imbued with the exact opposites — self-sacrifice and self-discipline, committed individuals who are obviously convinced that they aren't working an 8-to-5 job. We in ATC must never forget that it is our collective labors, made up of dedication and expertise, which form the cornerstone on which Air Force readiness rests.

In that spirit, on this Armed Forces Day I salute each of you. The members of ATC, for the contributions you make every day to the cause of world peace.

Signed
Bennie Davis, General
ATC commander

As we celebrate Armed Forces Day, I salute all men and women in uniform — for placing country before self and for devotion to duty.

Because of your dedication, loyalty, and reliability, our country stands secure and remains free. Americans look to you as guarantors of that security and freedom.

Your excellence, vigilance, and responsiveness evoke respect and admiration throughout the world. All of you, in every branch of our Armed Forces, can take justifiable pride in your contribution to our collective peace and security.

Signed
David C. Jones, General
USAF chairman, J.C.S.

For the past 30 years Armed Forces Day has been celebrated each May to honor the men and women of the Armed Forces.

Our people in uniform provide public service of the highest order.

Armed Forces Day acknowledges that service.

It is also an opportunity for American citizens to visit our installations for a first-hand look at the complex weapons and equipment our people use and to gain a fresh appreciation for the value and demands of their mission.

The U.S. Air Force is the strongest and best in the world. We are proud of our people and salute each Air Force member for contributing so much and so well to the nation.

More conservation needed warns utility spokesman

"Air-conditioning — now or in August?"

This is the question that Lt. Col. Hiram West, 64th Civil Engineering commander, would put to Reese personnel.

Although the air-conditioning in most work areas at Reese will not be turned on until late May or early June, a couple of weeks later than last year, base officials still fear that this will not solve the dollar shortage in the utility budget.

"There are two things the Air Force is going to do" he said, "fly airplanes and cut the grass. If the energy budget runs out it's not coming from anything else."

With 58.7 percent of the budget year already gone, Reese has spent 57.5 percent of the funds allocated for heating, cooling and light. The time for heaviest energy need is still ahead. There is a great possibility that the funds will run out.

"In times past, Air Training Command was able to bail us out when that happened," said Colonel West. "This year, ATC will probably not have the dollars to do it. If we run out, there goes August air-conditioning."

Colonel West believes Reese can still be cool in the hottest part of the summer if people get serious now about saving energy.

One way to conserve is to not use high electrical load equipment (welding gear, clothes dryers, dishwashers, etc.) during the middle part of the day, 1 to 5 p.m. This would help the base avoid Peak Demand Charges levied by the utility companies for using excessively large quantities of electricity for short periods. Such charges can easily run the base electric bill over $20,000 for one month.

Cutting off window air-conditioners when not at home, and keeping thermostats at 80 degrees are definite ways to save, as is cutting off unnecessary lights.

"We were allocated $1,154,000 for utilities this year," said Colonel West. "If people really conserved as much as they possibly can, we could come to the end of the fiscal year with money left over. We could do virtually anything we wanted to do with that money."

"New sports facilities could be built, or the old ones renovated. It could mean new office furniture, drapes, paint, any number of things."

This can only happen if people take responsibility for the energy they use. It is possible to save that money. It is still possible to remain cool in August. The responsibility rests on the shoulders of the individual.

Wing Motorcycle Council plans summer programs

With new faces in key posts, the revitalized Wing Motorcycle Council has some "big" plans for this summer.

TSgt. Jessie R. Mitchell, the newly elected council chairman, said Monday that the council hopes to sponsor several cycle trips this year such as an excursion to Palo Duro Canyon. Other activities for riders are also planned.

Among the ideas being considered is a moto-cross here during the Open House.

"If the dirt bike riders support the idea we can pull it off," said Sergeant Mitchell. "We have to get started on it right away so anyone willing to help should contact me or their squadron representative as soon as possible."

Unit representatives include: Operations — Capt. Kenneth Broda, 3842; Air Base Group — Sergeant Mitchell, 3754; Hospital — TSgt. Frank Hirl, 3608; Supply — SSgt. Robert Carpenter, 3419; Organizational Maintenance — MSgt. Timothy Neuman, 3309 and Field Maintenance — TSgt. Jerry Warren, 3474.

Others are: Security Police — TSgt. James Neal, 3612; Civil Engineers — John Cullen, 3171; Field Training Detachment — SSgt. James Holmes, 3122 and 1958th Communications Squadron — SSgt. Charles Sutherland.

"One of the unique aspects of the council is that all members are motorcycle riders. If one representative can't help an individual with a problem, he can refer the person to an experienced council member," pointed out Sergeant Mitchell.

Citing safe riding as the main goal of the council, Sergeant Mitchell noted that the group has kicked-off the 1979 campaign by putting up several cycle safety signs around base.

"We are not an enforcement agency," explained Sergeant Mitchell. "We are here to help both the novice and experienced riders."

First 'Third Lieutenants' start two-week program

Four college seniors will be working at various base units next week as Operation Third Lieutenant gets underway.

According to 1st Lt. Michael Perry, the program's project officer, the four students, all Air Force ROTC cadets, are the first wave of Third Lieutenants that will work here during the summer.

Each cadet will spend two weeks at Reese. The program is designed to provide ROTC upper classmen with a realistic view of Air Force operations. The cadets will be assigned jobs typical of those given junior officers. In all, 14 cadets will visit Reese this year.

Third Lt. Martin J. Hornyak, University of Miami, Ohio, and 3rd Lt. Paul J. Vancheri, University of Pittsburgh, will work in Procurement; 3rd Lt. Regina V. Harmon, University of Texas at San Marcos, will work in Personnel and 3rd Lt.

David S. English, University of Kentucky, will be assigned to Sturon. The cadets start work on Monday.

The third lieutenants should be addressed as mister or miss. Since they rank between a chief master sergeant and warrant officer they do not rate a salute. Each should be treated the same as any newly assigned junior officer.

Joyce Russell, secretary for the 64th Flying Training Wing commander, was honored at last week's Air Force Association banquet with the AFA certificate of Appreciation for 24 years of "superlative" service. Also honored by the AFA was Capt. John Thompson. He was named the Officer of the Year. (U.S. Air Force photo)

Share Drafts Discontinued

There's only one way to save: Systematically. You can only build up your share account by saving a fixed amount on a regular schedule; otherwise, there's no way to prepare a practical budget, no way to leave any money to 'pay yourself.' Here are some suggestions:

1. Deposit a fixed amount each payday before you get a chance to spend it (an allotment is the best way);
2. Resist the temptation to spend overtime pay, tax refunds, bonuses, and other extra money—if you don't deposit it, it'll be gone in a flash.
3. After you've repaid a loan, make those same payments to yourself.

The credit union movement was founded on the idea of thrift, and we'd like to help you save any way we can; any of our loan officers can help you set up a savings allotment.

Armed Forces Week activities start here

Armed Forces Week observances start Monday with most of the week's activities centered around the South Plains Mall.

Several base units will join on the joint service display at the mall. In addition to Navy, Army and Marine Corps exhibits, Reese will have at least six units participating in the week long observance.

Among those expected to provide informational exhibits are the Security Police, Fire Department, Reese Hospital, Aerospace Physiology, Student Squadron and Field Maintenance. Air Force retirees and recruiters are also expected to take part.

Highlighting the observance at the mall will be the scheduled reading of the official Armed Forces Day proclamation by Lubbock Mayor pro-tem Alan Henry at 11 a.m. Monday.

Also planned for the week are Red Carpet tours of the base to interested groups or organizations. These will be conducted Monday through May 18 and may be scheduled by calling Capt. George Reasonover at Ext. 3727. Included in the tour will be the Instrument Flight Simulator facility along with a T-37 and T-38 on static display.

A Joint Services Briefing Team will be available to civic groups and schools once again this year. The team presents a one-half hour audio-visual program on the Military Services and Armed Forces Week. For more information on this group, contact Bill Tynan at Ext. 3169.

Reese sergeant plans camp for handicapped

Being handicapped doesn't stop children from participating in Boy Scouts of America — not since TSgt. Harvey Schirmer opened his troop for "special" children.

Boy Scout Troop 514, in existence since November, works directly with the Muscular Dystrophy Association in Lubbock, providing a needed recreational and educational program for handicapped children.

Sergeant Schirmer plans a three-day campout at Camp Post May 25 through 27.

Any physically or mentally handicapped children in the area are welcome to join the troop and attend the camp. It is open to physically handicapped youngsters from 10 to 21-years-old and for mentally retarded youths from seven to 21-years-old.

Sergeant Schirmer says that he would like to see as many children as possible take part in the camp. Although he has all of the assistant troop leaders he needs, he encourages parents to become involved in the campout too.

"Some of the children need special attention that the counselors may not be aware of," he explained. "We need parents to get involved and let us know what we need to watch for with each child."

Troop 514's leader also noted that ambulatory children are eligible for the campout. He pointed out that several youngsters in wheelchairs are already members of the troop.

For more information on the troop's upcoming activities, call Sergeant Schirmer at 885-3386 or 745-3257 or SrA Roger Carter at 885-3793 or 297-1012. Information is also available from Norman L. Sharp at the Muscular Dystrophy Association office at 2345 50th Street, Suite 122, Ext. 793-5632.

Registration for the May 25-27 camp must be made before May 22.

Chaplain Locklin gets nod as Mo Ranch coordinator

Chaplain Locklin

Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Arnold G. Johnson, Installation Chaplain, has named Chaplain (Capt.) Charles H. Locklin, from the Protestant Chaplain's Staff, as this year's coordinator for Reese participation in the Mo Ranch Christian Encounter Conference.

During the first week of August 13 Air Force installations within our geographical area will meet at the Presbyterian Assembly Ground (Mo Ranch) in the Texas hill country 23 miles from Kerrville. The conference will begin with dinner Aug. 6. The days that follow will be filled with study opportunities on the theme

"The Lord Requires . . ." There will be special programs and activities for every member of the family life. The conference concludes with breakfast Aug. 10.

Extensive recreational facilities and fascinating hill country nature trails will excite active participation. Quiet, shaded nooks for reflection and reading will appeal to those who prefer quieter moments of meditation.

Members of the base community are invited to contact Chaplain Locklin, Ext. 3237, to find out about information and registration procedures.

Reese Nursery limits patrons

Daytime child care at Reese is being taxed to the limits by the increasing numbers of families using the facilities. As a result, there have been necessary cutbacks in the daytime child care services offered to civilians and retirees.

Linda Perron, director of the Reese Child Care Center, said that there are already 27 children of active duty parents on the waiting list. The situation is not expected to improve in the near future because of the expected summer increase in military families here. Also, many older children will be out of school this summer putting further demands on the facilities.

"Unfortunately, because it is a military facility, children of active duty parents are given priority," Mrs. Perron said. "So far, the decision has directly affected 12 civilian and retiree families."

"It is really a shame that we can't handle more children," she continued. "We are probably the most economical facility in the Lubbock area that offers quality child care."

A recent article in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal cited three centers operated by the Day Care Association of Lubbock with state, federal, and United Way funds. At present, these centers take care of 265 children and have a waiting list of more than 1,000. A fourth center will be available in the near future but will accommodate only an additional 120 children.

The inadequacy of day care centers is a widespread problem. Although the programs and facilities are being expanded continually, they are not keeping pace with the demand.

Currently, the Reese Child Care Center is built to handle only 74 children at any one time.

Plans for the expansion of the center are being rushed, but will still take about two years to bring to completion. In the meantime, although base officials are trying to alleviate the problem, many working parents must find other ways to care for their children.

Reservations for the Child Care Center should be made well in advance (at least one week, two weeks would be preferred). Cancellations should be made promptly so that the spaces may be opened to other children as soon as possible. There is a charge for not canceling. For more information call Ext. 3541.

KLBK schedules feature on pilot training program

by Bill Tynan
KLBK-TV will broadcast a special two to three minute program entitled "Reese, A Closer Look" during the 6 and 10 p.m. news each week day during Armed Forces Week. The Reese special was put together during the past five weeks by cameramen Bruce Hicks and David Swafford under the direction of producer Bart Pike. The final filming sequences are being shot at this morning's graduation ceremonies. Early previews of the program indicate that this is a superior presentation outlining the overall scope of operations here at Reese. It should be well worth everyone's viewing attention. KLBK-TV, Channel 13, is the CBS-TV affiliate here in Lubbock. The special will run from Monday through May 18.

BX may suffer shortages

A critical shortage of ship cargo containers and a truckers strike has caused a disruption of merchandise shipment to the base exchange at Reese and to others all across the country.

Army and Air Force Exchange Service officials noted spot shortages of merchandise worldwide could continue into early summer before the container situation returns to normal.

In the U.S., strikes by the Teamsters Union and the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers have further complicated distribution schedules. "Unless the truck strike is settled soon, things could possibly get worse in the near future," said Dan Arias, base exchange manager at Reese. He cited that there are already shortages in dress shirts, linen, towels, stereo equipment, hardware, lawn mowers, bicycles and some military clothing.

Tops in blue troupe features disco sounds

It's the sounds of Sylvester, the Pointer Sisters, the Whispers, Donna Summer, and the Village People. It's "Tops in Blue '79" and it's coming here May 20.

"This year's Tops in Blue show is designed to meet the needs of all Air Force members and their families, and will provide an unique opportunity for talented Air Force performers to present their talents," says Tom Edwards, Chief of Air Force Entertainment.

Two special traditions of Tops in Blue continue this year. The Brighter Shades of Blue (the female vocal group) combines style, elegance and vocal talents to produce a very unique sound. The Ebony Blue Experience, the famed male vocal group, maintains the dynamic and contemporary sounds of the program.

A special full-costumed version of "The Wiz" will also be features.

Tops in Blue will also feature the winners of the Reese disco dance contest who will be dancing to the driving sounds of the Heavy Blue Express.

Two shows are scheduled. Performances start at 7 and 9 p.m. in the base theater.

Officers club hosts Mother's Day affair

A special Mothers' Day Buffet is scheduled at the Officers Club Sunday.

Open to all Reese personnel, tickets for the buffet are $5.25 for adults and children more than 12-years-old. Children under 12 will be admitted for $2.75 per person. All mothers will be admitted free, as will children under six-years-old.

Rattler bats hot in loop opener

Exploding for 12 runs in the first inning, the Rattler fast-pitch team raced to a 19-0 over Slaton Plumbing win in its Lubbock Fast-pitch Softball League opener Monday night.

Player-coach Larry Rinish triggered the first-inning explosion by ripping a three-run blast for his first homer of the season. The Rattlers tacked on two more runs in the second inning on shortstop Gil Gonzales' homer with one on board.

Reese hitters scored 19 runs on 19 hits to back the one-hit pitching of Roy Johnson and Dan Paez. Johnson worked the first three innings of the game, surrendering just one hit while fanning six. Dan Paez finished up with two innings of hitless relief.

Actually, the one-hit that Slaton got didn't help them much. The Slaton hitter was tagged out trying to stretch it into a double on a perfect peg from right-fielder Joe Motta to Gonzales.

That wasn't the only sparkling defensive play of the game. Ron Benevides snarred a shoe-top liner in shallow centerfield and his toss to second base caught a Slaton runner for the first of two double plays on the day. The second came on a hard shot to short. The play went Gonzales to Herschel Hamilton to first sacker Mike Cronin.

Benevides and Gonzales led the team at the plate. Each had a four-for-five day at bat.

Saturday, the Rattlers head for Cannon AFB, N.M., for a rematch with the Roadrunners. The teams split their opening series two weeks ago. Monday, the base team meets the Levelland Merchants at 9:30 p.m. in game-two of its eight-game league slate.

Monday's game will be played at the softball field at 35th and Avenue L in Lubbock.

Inconsistency stalls varsity softball team

Inconsistency at the plate and on defense hampered the Rattler slow-pitch softball team last week, as the squad split its opening four-game series.

Playing in an invitational tournament in Amarillo, the Rattler-10 won the opener behind the strong hitting of Herb Smith, Bill Young and Bruce Bradway. The Rattlers scored nine runs in the seventh to set up Jack Watson's game winning single in the eighth.

Although the Rattler bats remained effective in the second game, fielding was a problem and the squad dropped an error filled game, 20-16.

In game-three, the Rattlers played their best ball of the tournament. While the defense gave up just nine runs the offense belted out 24.

Strong defense kept the Rattlers close in the final game but the team's inability to hit well caused a 13-5 loss to the dirty dozen of Plainview.

Sports in brief

Better Halves top league

Late inning outbursts by the Dusty Devils and the Better Halves propelled both squads to victory during Sunday's Reese Women's Slow-pitch Softball League action.

With their unbeaten streak on the line, the Better Halves trailed the Red Hots 10-8 heading into the bottom of sixth inning. The Red Hots retired the first two batters of the inning, but the Better Halves came back to post a 4-0 record by scoring four-runs and pulling out a 12-10 win.

The loss dropped the Red Hots to 1-3 on the year.

In the second game of the double header, the Dusty Devils found themselves down 14-11 heading into the bottom of the last inning.

With one out, the Dusty Devils cut the lead to two runs. After the Blue Diamonds got out number two, the Dusty Devils parlayed a walk and three singles into three runs and a 15-14 win.

The victory raised the Dusty Devils to 2-2 on the year while the Blue Diamonds fell to 1-3.

All Reese Women's League games are played on the physical training field Sunday afternoons. Double-header action begins at 4:30 p.m.

Base golfer hits 'lo-o-ong' drive

Kevin Heise, recognized as one of the longest drivers on the South Plains, hammered that point home last week by winning the West Texas PGA driving championship.

Heise, who teamed with Jack Kearney to shatter the Reese Partnership Tournament Record last year with an amazing 35 under par performance, topped a field of 30 golfers assembled on the Lubbock Country Club course.

Outdriving the silver medalist by more than 13 yards, Heise ripped his winning shot past the 310 yard mark.

The win earned the former Air Force Academy golf star a berth in the regional competition at Dallas' Preston Hills Country Club Saturday.

MG MIDGET FOR 1979.

If you have Ferrari appetites on a Frisbee budget, don't despair. The MG Midget offers a happy solution. It's the lowest-priced true sports car you can buy, with an EPA estimated city fuel economy of 22 mpg. (Remember: Compare this to the "city fuel economy" of other cars. You may get different mileage depending on how fast you drive, weather conditions and trip length. Fuel economy in heavy city traffic will be lower.)

Yet the MG Midget is pure sports car excitement, complete with rack and pinion steering, short-throw stick, tach and front disc brakes. And the lean, clean, good looks you expect from a classic convertible. Frisky to drive, thrifty to buy: that's MG Midget for 1979.
