Class 79-06 graduates today

Cleveland addresses 37 fledgling aviators

Thirty-seven fledgling aviators will join the ranks of Air Force pilots today during graduation ceremonies for Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 79-06.

Today's graduation is set for 10 a.m. in the base theater. Maj. Gen. Charles G. Cleveland, Air Training Command vice commander, will be the guest speaker. A command pilot with more than 4,200 flying hours to his credit. General Cleveland shot down four MiG-15s and added two more probable kills while flying the F-86 in the Korean conflict.

Following graduation ceremonies this morning, a special reception for the new pilots and their families will be held at the Officers Club. A Red Carpet tour is also scheduled for relatives and guests attending the graduation. Tonight, a dinner dance will be held at the Officers Club.

Class 79-06 began training on July 19, 1978. The class started its T-38 phase on Jan. 2.

Twenty-five of the young aviators are Air Force Academy graduates, six are ROTC grads and two earned commissions through Officer Training School. One grad is a member of the Air National Guard and three are foreign students.

Class commander for the T-37 phase of training was 1st Lt. Howard Johnson. Capt. Art, Nickell was the class commander for the T-38 phase.

80 sergeants earn promotions

Seventy-six Reese personnel received good news when they arrived at work this morning: 33 technical sergeants were notified of their promotions to E-7 while 43 staffs first heard of their promotion to technical sergeant.

In addition, four staff sergeants who are enroute to Reese were promoted, for a total of 80 promotions here in this cycle. The four are SSgts. James D. Fretwell, Howard J. Hawes, Luis Escamilla and Jimmy Drury.

Other technical sergeant promotions included Harry J. Allen Jr., John L. Bethune, James S. Davis Jr., Carl J. Duford, David B. Galloway and John D. Gast of 64th Air Base

Group, the leader on base with 13.

Also promoted to E-6 from ABG were Bruce F. Kumler, Gerald B. London, Loise C. McClure, Dennis F. Mehrenberg, Darrell G. Puckett, Steven W. Ruff and Kenneth J. Zielinski.

Elvin M. Anthony and James V. Damico were the two promotees from 3751st Field Training Squadron.

Cavalry rides to rescue again

by Lt. Col.
Dr. Allen H. Moore Jr.

In the traditional western movie the cavalry always arrives just in time to save the fort. Well, in relation to the availability of medical services here at Reese, we can hear the bugle and the cavalry just over the hill.

Over the past several months "gloom and doom" articles have appeared in the Roundup and elsewhere relative to physician shortages.

Locally, the situation is being aggravated with the departure of our Surgeon at the end of this month. However, we also have held out hope for the future, and that the help would be coming by this fall. Well the picture is brighter than ever. Beginning in September, not only will our current staff be augmented, but some additional services will be available.

Besides the arrival of several specialists, such as in Internal Medicine and Pediatrics, it is beginning to appear a very real possibility that we'll be able to reopen our Obstetrical/Gynecological Services. This will be accomplished through a cooperative arrangement with CHAMPUS and civilian physicians to provide these services at the base hospital. This is a rather novel idea and there are a number of details to work out, but; we expect that the final, major hurdle, i.e. DoD approval, will be overcome shortly.

In preparation for the arrival of these new providers and the initiation of the additional services, the Reese Hospital will be undergoing some changes over the next few months — both physically and in procedures. The most immediate change will be the relocation of clinics and offices.

Also we're planning some changes in our Health Delivery System this fall, such as having our base population enrolled with provider teams following a Family Practice Model. Not only will this enable us to make better use of our resources, but should result in more personalized medical care that is tailored to the needs of the patient and family.

Inevitably, anything new requires orientation of both our staff and patients and will take the cooperation of both. I'll try to continue to keep you informed of these changes as we progress.

About a month ago, I asked in a Roundup article for the base population's cooperation in using our available medical resources wisely. I'm pleased to report that, for the most part, we've received this cooperation. Emergency misuse is down and there has been better use of our appointment system. To meet your future health needs we'll continue to require this support and your cooperation.

With your help I believe we can meet any challenge and receive maximum benefit from the cavalry when it arrives.

Package store sales

The base package store buys beer from a distributor downtown and pays less for it than do the operators on the strip because the base pays no tax on it. Yet, the package store charges anywhere from 5 cents to a dime within what it would cost to buy it at the strip.

I have heard that the Officers' Club is running in the red and all the funds they make in excess are pumped into the Officers' Club to keep it out of the red.

I know for a fact, because I talked to the people who sell beer to the base, that they are selling it for a dollar or maybe a little less a case cheaper than they selling it to the people on the strip. It seems like it is a big rip-off to the military to pay those kind of prices for beer just to keep up the Officers' Club.

Dear Package Store:

The Package Store does pay less for spirits, but the difference for beer is only 36¢ tax on a case (wholesale), not one dollar.

Premium beer prices at the Strip average $2.25 per 6-pack and $8.25 per case compared to $2.10 and $8.00 respectively at the Package Store. You must realize however, that we cannot offer the "fantastic bargains" commonly found at the strip because of our volume.

I am sure you will be glad to know that the Package Store profits are not pumped into the Officers' Club as you indicated, except as authorized. You see, enlisted sales profits go to the NCO Club and Officer sales profits go to the Officers' Club. It should also be noted that the Officers' Club has experienced two consecutive profitable months without counting profits generated by the Package Store.

Finally, the Package Store is strictly regulated to a small profit which can be returned to the respective clubs, while maintaining competitive pricing. This coupled with its location, gives the military member a definite benefit.

Thanks for the help

SSgt. Tim Gibson, Security Police, was very, very kind to me.

I had a bottle of varnish blow up in my face and he came to my rescue. If he hadn't helped me I might have lost my sight.

I just want to let you know that we have a very wonderful security policeman here on base and that he is also a very personable man.

Dear Come to My Rescue:

Equally as considerate is someone who takes the time and makes the effort to recognize someone who has performed such an act.

My thanks to Sergeant Gibson for his fast humanitarian act and to you for the support of one among many of those in the security police business who deserve, but seldom get, recognition.

Carpool to save; but do it safely

Not enough emphasis can be put on the advantages of car pooling.

Some of these are:

- Less wear and tear of the vehicle due to fewer trips.
- Better parking on base due to fewer vehicles.
- Less cost to individuals in gas, oil and repairs.
- Fewer vehicles on the roads create less of a chance to be involved in a mishap.

Common sense says driving safely is not enough — especially when car pooling. It's not just you in the car. Be sure you have an adequate amount of seat belts for the people you are carrying and that they use them.

Maintain your vehicle in top mechanical shape to save gas and improve safety.

Reese officials schedule Energy Awareness Day

Energy Awareness Day is rapidly approaching at Reese.

Tuesday marks the day that Reese officials have designated in an effort to stimulate an interest in energy conservation and encourage its practice.

Walkers and bike riders from Reese Village and carpoolers from downtown will be doing their part to make the observation a success.

A highlight of the event will be a slogan contest. Open to all military and civilian government employees, the contest will offer prizes of steak dinners to winners 16 and older and a record album to the under 16 winner. Entries should be 10 words or less and be dropped off at Central Base Administration, Room 307, building 800 by close of business today.

Also, a traffic count will be conducted both before and during Energy Awareness Day to determine the success of the carpool program. An extended program will be initiated soon after with people from sections of Lubbock and surrounding communities asked to contact a clearing center for information on Reese personnel living near them who are interested in forming pools.

Finally, flyers will be distributed at the main and golf course gates at the close Energy

Awareness Day with tips on how to save energy at home and at work.

F.S. needs volunteers

Family Services, an organization dedicated to help others, is in need of a little help itself.

According to Glyna Birch, new Family Services coordinator here, the Reese service agency has about half of the volunteers it needs to provide full service to base people through the summer.

"Anyone who can give just three hours per week could help us a lot," she said.

For information contact Mrs. Birch at Ext. 3305 or at 885-2362.

SrA Brian Zeller shows one way he found to save energy — by using a solar oven. He built the utility free cooker from instructions in a solar energy booklet. Anyone wanting to learn how to build a solar oven should contact Airmen Zeller at Ext. 3526. (U.S. Air Force photo)

Some civilians due back pay

Reese civilian employees who have been reduced in grade as a result of a reduction in force or reclassification action between Jan. 1977 and Jan. 14, 1979 may be entitled to back pay.

According to Reese civilian personnel officials, civilians reduced in grade through these actions may be due retroactive pay, because of provisions outlined in Title VIII of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978.

"Anyone reduced in grade during this two-year period should stop by the Civilian Personnel Office (building 37) and fill out Form 1367," explained Tom Ireland, chief of civilian personnel.

Any entitlement due, will be computed by the appropriate payroll offices and mailed to the applicants. Those found ineligible for any retroactive pay will be notified by the Reese Civilian Personnel Office.

Carter approves MX development

A new M-X mobile intercontinental ballistic missile system will be developed by the United States that will ensure the survival of our land-based missiles against an enemy attack, according to Department of Defense officials.

Defense spokesmen said the decision to pursue a full-scale development program for the M-X was made by the President after prolonged study and analysis.

The M-X program will encompass the following:

- Building and flight testing 20 prototype M-X missiles at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.
- Designing and developing a prototype basing system with support facilities, also at Vandenberg.
- Screening potential deployment areas in the United States.
- Fathering additional cost and technical data for evaluation of future production and deployment decisions.
- The M-X missile will be 71 feet in length and 92 inches in diameter. It will weight 190,000 pounds and accommodate 10 warheads.

Defense spokesmen said M-X development will continue the long-standing U.S. policy of maintaining a triad of three strategic forces — intercontinental ballistic missiles, submarine-launched ballistic missiles and heavy bombers.

It was stated, the M-X will be as capable as any missile the Soviets can deploy.

Defense officials expect the M-X program to start full-scale engineering development next month. The first flight will be in 1983. Initial deployment will be in 1986 will full operational capability expected in 1989.

M-X will be deployed in a ground mobile basing system. Defense spokesmen said they are considering the possibility of using areas of Defense Department land in Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada and Utah. Bureau of Land Management acreage is also under consideration in the latter two states.

Basing systems under consideration include a trench below ground level with a rail or roadbed and up to 8,800 hardened shelters. A comparable system might be placed on the surface of the ground.

Rattler streaks end; offense quiet in Dallas

Reese's varsity soccer team must have thought their was an invisible force field in front of the other teams' goal last weekend, as several Rattler streaks came to an end at the Haggar Invitational Soccer Tournament.

Going into the Dallas tournament, the largest of its kind in the world, the Rattlers sported an unbeaten record, which included six straight shutouts.

Paired against the Winnipeg Strikers in the opening game, the Rattlers outshot the Canadians 20-10, but a controversial penalty kick with just five minutes to play ended the shutout streak. The Strikers held on for a 1-0 win, handing Reese its first loss of the season.

Reese's scoring drought continued into the next game, a 0-0 tie in which they again recorded a two-to-one advantage in shots on goal. Game three was a repeat of the first two games. Although outshooting the other team, Reese couldn't get the ball to drop and wound up with a 1-1 tie, far short of a second round berth.

One good thing did come out of the tournament, Tracy Ford and Barbara Lacy, dependent daughters of Rattler coach Craig Ford and Weather's Robert Lacy, were on the Squirts, an under eight-year-old division team that won Lubbock's first Haggar championship. The squad won four straight, outscoring its opponents 17-2.

The Rattlers will be back in action Sunday at 2 p.m. against Amoco on the Texas Tech campus.

Fast-pitch team stumbles on road

What a difference a week makes.

Heading into last week's play the Rattler fast-pitch softball team was cruising along with a respectable 4-3 record (not bad for a club with only a handful of veterans on the roster). By week's end the squad dropped to 4-8, losing five games on the road.

The skid started with a forfeit in city league action. Then the team took it on the chin from the Cannon Roadrunners, being outscored 33-21 in the four-game series in New Mexico.

And for rookie head coach Tom Hems, the recent slump has been a nightmare he hopes to wake up from soon. Hems, who took over the reigns of the Rattlers one day before the slide began, is trying to play third base, fill in on the pitching staff and coach.

"I had been helping Larry Rinisch out as assistant coach," said Hems. "When he had to leave the team for personal reasons he asked me to take over."

Hems says he isn't sure why the Rattlers have fallen off the pace. With the exception of moving first-sacker Mike Cronin to catcher, replacing Rinisch, the starting team is pretty much intact.

"I think it's just a matter of finding the right combination and getting used to playing together," predicts Hems.

The Rattlers will try and get back on track this weekend at the Lamesa Invitational. They will play July 2 against the Stocton Packers in Lubbock.

Reese judo squad shines at Odessa

Reese's Judo team walked off with five first and five second place trophies at a recent meet in Odessa.

Head coach Arnold Mathews credited the experience his squad gained in an earlier meet with his team's success.

"The team was a little intimidated when we went to our first meet a couple of months ago," explained Mathews. "But once the team found out what tournament competition is like it was a whole new ball game."

Individual first place winners were: eight-year-old Russell Smothers (lightweight) and Carlos Treadway (heavyweight), nine-year-old Westly Fuller (heavyweight), women's division competitors Pamela Harvey (114 pound class) and Judy Pogue (134 pound class).

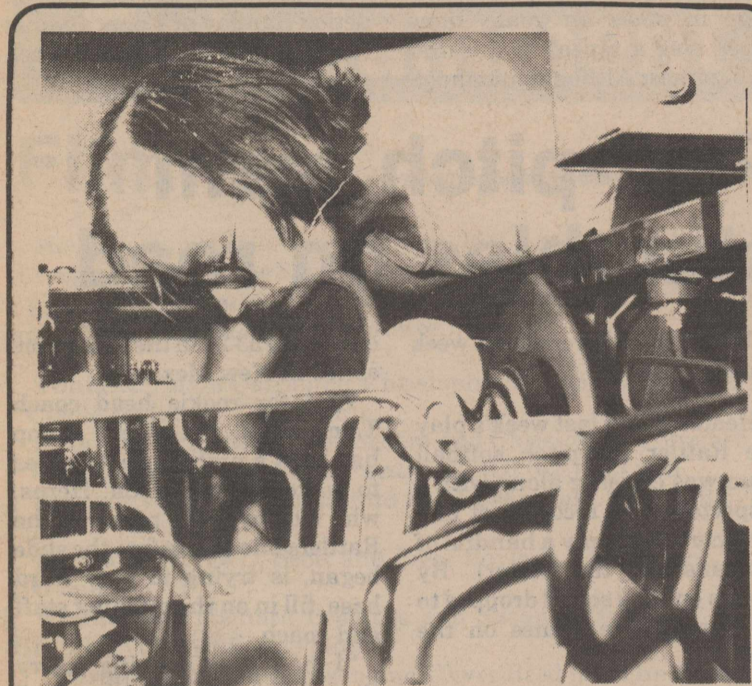

Earning second place awards were: Randle Treadway, Bobby Bays, Tyrome Hicks, Jim Taylor and Romero Reyes.

Four Reese players teamed with a West Texas College man to nab second in the Brown Belt five-man competition. From Reese were: Eddie Leonard, Gerald Green, Darry Jackson and Joe Farley.

Mathews was part of the Black Belt five-man team that took second in the event to an AAU squad from Huston.

Judo classes are held on base from 6:15 to 7:30 p.m. for juniors and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. for adults weeknights. For information contact Mathews at Ext. 3585 or 3716.

Sturon-1 wins four; gains on IM leaders

Sturon-1 won four games last week, including decisions over the league's top two teams, to move into intramural softball title contention.

Carrying only a .225 average into last week's action, Sturon-1 beat league leading Organizational Maintenance, 6-5, and the second ranked Medics, 11-7, to open the week's win skein. Victories over Sturon-4 and Sturon-3 boosted Sturon-1 to 714 on the season, good enough for fourth place on the league ladder.

In the game of the week, Sturon-1's late inning win over the Medics, Kevin Heise ripped a grand slam homer to break a 7-7 tie in the ninth and give Sturon-1 the win. Kevin Court preserved the victory by retiring the side in order in the Medics' half of the ninth.
