Reese plans 30th Open House

Expanded schedule brings super show

Boasting an expanded schedule, Reese officials are confident that Reese's 30th Open House will be its best ever.

For the first time, Reese will hold its major community relations event over an entire weekend. The extended affair is scheduled for Aug. 4 and 5.

Headlining the two-day Open House will be the Aug. 5 performance of the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds. The aerial demonstration team will start its show at 3 p.m.

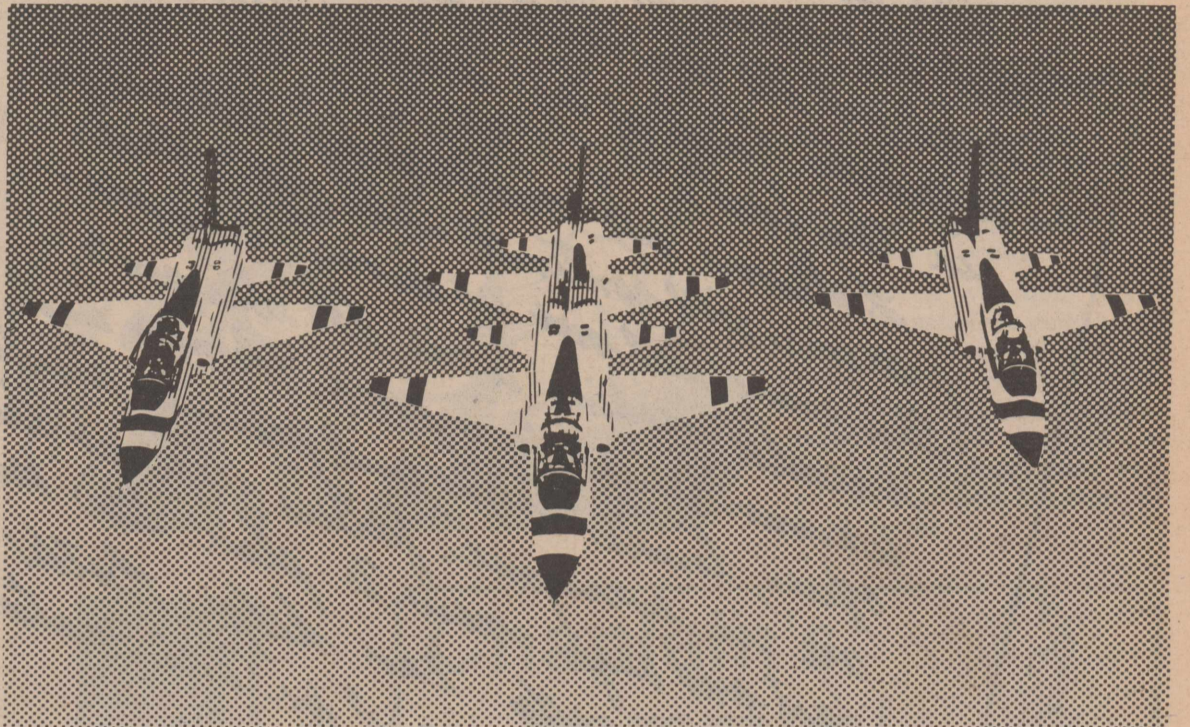

Adding an interservice flair to this year's Open House activities will be demonstrations both days by the U.S. Navy's Parachute West Demonstration Team.

Lackland AFB's famed Dimensions in Blue will also perform both days and the Air Force precision drill team from Washington D.C. will flash its close-order wizardry on Sunday afternoon.

In addition to the military units displaying skills, several local clubs will be getting in on the act. Area rocket and radio controlled model aircraft clubs will show off their stuff on Saturday and Sunday.

A chili cookoff, earning its winners points toward a berth in the World Chili Championships in Terlingua, Texas, will run from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Aug. 4. On Sunday morning, the

The U.S. Air Force thunderbirds will highlight Reese's 30th Open House by putting on their famed aerial demonstration show Aug. 5 at 3 p.m. In addition to the Thunderbirds, Reese has lined up a super schedule for this year's two-day Open House, Aug. 4 and 5. (U.S. Air Force photo)

Carpooling bolsters national spirit

During President Jimmy Carter's recent energy speech, he appealed to the people of the United States to make every effort to conserve fuel.

In keeping with that spirit of national conservation, Reese is beginning its computer carpooling program.

Because of faulty information received last week in the Roundup office, there is some confusion as to how the program will work. Although familiar in some respects to the reported plan, the actual program Reese will attempt to put into operation has some vital differences.

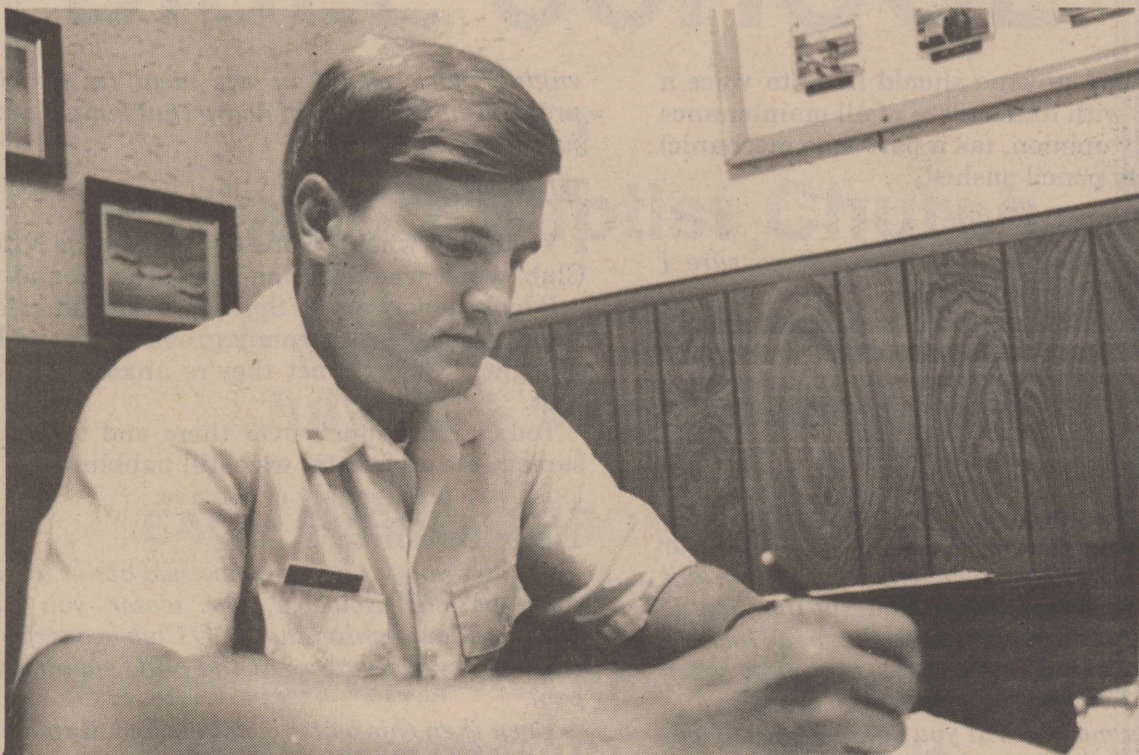

Under this program, each person interested in forming a carpool will need to submit a form to his or her orderly room or to Maj. Roy Markle, base comptroller. The necessary forms have been distributed in each duty section.

Data Automation will compile the forms into a list broken down by zones and distribute a copy of the pertinent section to each prospective participant. If people cannot find a ride within their zone, they may look at the master list in Major Markle's office to see if any people in neighboring zones live closer than those on their list.

As of noon Tuesday, 175 people had submitted forms and a partial listing compiled. The completed list will be released Tuesday.

According to Major Markle, an updated list could be run as often as once a month, if demand justifies.

Quarterly award

Second Lt. Daniel L. Draper, chief of the Fuels Management Branch, goes over some fuels paperwork. The ROTC grad has been selected as the 64th Flying Training Wing Junior Officer of the Quarter. Responsible for nearly $9 million in equipment and supplies, Lieutenant Draper was cited by the selection committee for his outstanding performance.

Project 'Non Com' helps train cadets

A "wear fatigues and get your hands dirty" experience is underway for several cadets of the Air Force Academy who are stationed at Reese for a three week training program.

The program, known as Operation Non Com, is designed to acquaint the cadets with various mission activities of Air Force bases and the role enlisted personnel play. During the training the cadets will eat, sleep and work side-by-side with airmen. Sponsors of the program hope the experience will enable the cadets to appreciate the responsibilities, problems, training and importance of the people they will someday lead.

Operation Non Com has developed into such a valuable training opportunity that it is now a mandatory program for all cadets, except those who have already served as enlisted personnel.

Cadets are in the program to directly associate with and learn about airmen, not to lead, supervise, or command them. A cadet has no command authority over anyone except another cadet. In formal situations, they should be addressed as cadet, mister or miss.

The President said it for the nation; take pride in our nation and its achievement. Energy is a critical issue. We at Reese can and must realize that the same is true here — We are good and do our vital job in a professional manner. Each of us should take pride in this fact.

Likewise, we must realize that energy problems will continue into our future. This issue will not go away! Simple — minded wishing won't do! Carpools, warmer or wider rooms, homes and offices, limited trips and personal sacrifices are in everyone's future. Accept that fact and begin now to plan how best you personally can help. Both here at Reese and for our nation's sake — save energy. RI

Callers are urged to give their name and duty number so that a personal reply may be made, however, neither are mandatory. ## Repair work

The magic number is four. Our Maytag Vehicle Maintenance personnel here are not doing their jobs to my satisfaction, to say the least.

Two months ago the Student Squadron airmen were instructed to start lawn detail.

On April 3 the exhaust pipe on our lawn mower broke, the throttle vibrated, the starter was not working properly, oil was leaking, and last of all the battery died.

On April 23 the choke had been adjusted but would not stay there, the same battery wouldn't start the mower after only one start. On May 7 the throttle was still vibrating causing the mower to die, and the same battery would no longer start the engine. Most recently on June 4 and three repairs later, someone exhibited another poor show of workmanship, a soldered muffler hissed at me and fell off.

These instances may not sound like much to you, but two extra hours in the midday sun just doesn't cut it, especially when repairs were supposed to have been made.

It's too bad anyone should have to voice a complaint with total record of all maintenance that, in my opinion, (as a part-time mechanic) was strictly pencil-pushed.

Dear Dissatisfied:

If I were in your shoes I'm not so sure I wouldn't feel the same way.

Two extra unnecessary hours in the midday sun doesn't do anyone's disposition much good. Anyway, your listing of the various maintenance problems is accurate but there is some additional background you may be interested in.

The battery problems were caused by a faulty generator on the first occasion and the operator running the battery down when the engine quit on the other. The original repair of the throttle was a temporary fix until the new locking throttle was received. This has now been installed. The exhaust system is a problem and the muffler may hiss at you again if the current fix should fail. The problem is that the threads on the engine block, which holds the exhaust pipe, are stripped beyond repair. Replacing the engine block would be the ideal fix for the problem but the cost of doing that simply isn't justified.

Wet sight

Yesterday when I came out behind the NCO Club, water was bubbling out of the ground.

It looked like Pagosa Springs; beautiful, clear water running into an underground outlet and I thought, "Gee, I'll bet they're anxious to fix that."

Today I ate lunch over there and took the same route and water was still bubbling up. It looks like it is terribly expensive.

Dear Bubbles:

I thank you for being concerned about water conservation. However, the water you are talking about behind the NCO Club is overflow water from the gutters at the NCO swimming pool.

Even then this water is not wasted, it collects in the lake by the picnic area, then it is pumped to the sewage lake and used to water the golf course.

Fire: Keep your home and children safe

Reporting a fire promptly and accurately is extremely important.

It's a good idea to have the Reese fire department's telephone number (117) posted on the telephone's base by means of transparent tape. Always remember to give your address or exact location. In the event of a fire never assume that someone else has reported it... report it yourself.

Children in the home should be instructed in the proper procedure for reporting a fire. It's also a good idea to make sure everyone in your family knows where the nearest fire alarm box is located.

When on vacation, make arrangements for a neighbor to keep an eye on your home. Before leaving, check carefully to be sure that the kitchen stove is turned off, that all appliances have been unplugged and that no lighted tobacco has been left in the house.

Chaplain's comment

by Chaplain (Capt.) Charles H. Locklin
 During the course of a normal duty day, most of us face problems and pressures which cause much perplexity. Believe it or not, laughter may be one way to release our tensions.
 A good sense of humor is especially needed in today's world. Why not work on developing a good sense of humor? To do so, one will need to learn to laugh AT oneself. At first this may seem difficult; just accept yourself as an imperfect human being who makes errors. Laugh at yourself, but learn from your mistakes.
 Always strive to improve. Then learn to laugh WITH others. In most situations it is easier to laugh with others than to laugh at oneself. Life is filled with many humorous situations, and not all are dirty jokes. So smile and laugh! The Bible teaches that a merry heart can heal our emotional strains and stresses. (Proverbs 17:22) God has a good sense of humor and so should we!
 Well, it's Friday! Let's smile and laugh together...
 A lawyer says that a dangerous year in married life is the first. Then follows the second, third, fourth, fifth...
 Remember, if thine enemy wrong thee, buy each of his children a drum.
 A country preacher was preaching very pointedly to his congregation one Sunday.
 He said, "Now let the church walk."
 Deacon Jones said, "Amen, let it walk."
 The preacher then said, "Let the church run."
 Deacon Jones said, "Amen, parson, let it run."
 "Let the church fly," said the preacher.
 "Amen, brother, let it fly," said Deacon Jones.
 "Now it's going to take money to let it fly, brother."
 "Let it walk," said Deacon Jones, "Let it walk."
 Just think, nine thousand comedians are out of a job and now a chaplain is trying to be funny.
 Cheer up! It's Friday. Smile and have a safe and happy weekend.

AF works to aid travelers

Air Force officials are studying ways to lessen the impact of the fuel shortage on people traveling on permanent change of station or temporary duty orders in their own automobiles.

Among the proposals are increasing the mileage rates paid to military travelers, paying a smaller mileage rate but adding a per diem allowance to it, and increasing travel time.

One suggestion resulted in the Defense Department seeking a higher mileage allowance for PCS travelers. The DoD legislative proposal seeks an increase from 10 to 12 cents per mile.

Budgetary priorities prevented the department from seeking an increase to 15.5 cents, the figure recommended by a 1976 joint-service study group.

The Air Force says the current mileage figure isn't adequate to cover the expenses for lodging, meals, transportation and incidental expenses the allowance was designed to offset.

Another idea would lower the mileage fee to 7 cents per mile, but would add a $35 per diem allowance. Built into this proposal would be the authority to allow more travel time when travelers are detained because of fuel non-availability.

The service is also pressing the Defense Department to allow extra travel time when members are delayed in reaching their new duty stations within the prescribed time limits. The idea is not connected with a monetary proposal.

While this won't provide additional travel funds, the Air Force says it will preclude charging members for unwarranted leave when they're unable to buy gasoline.

The Air Force also wants travelers on official orders exempted from state-imposed fuel rationing plans. Another initiative being investigated would allow members to ship privately owned automobiles with more fuel in the tanks.

Takeout meals available soon

Patrons of the Wing Dining Hall will be able to "carry-out" their meals beginning Aug. 1.

patrons must obtain identifying tags from the cashier which they will give to the line servers.

A new carry-out service will be available 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 3 to 7 p.m. on weekdays and 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. The service is not available on federal holidays.

Patrons may not have a carry-out meal in addition to a meal in the dining hall. No seconds will be available for carry-out.

"We first got the idea about a year ago after observing that the service worked at several other bases," said Weldon Brothers, quality insurance evaluator for the food service. "We think it will be a great boon for many busy people who have to eat on the go."

Carry-out items will be the same as those on the menu for that day, or from the short order line. Only white or chocolate milk is authorized for carry-out and this will be limited to 2½ pints per meal.

Persons desiring a carry-out meal must come to the dining hall and pick up their own meal. Placing orders in advance is not required.

To receive a carry-out meal,

SrA promotion possibilities jump

Airmen stand a better chance of being promoted below the zone to senior airman because of two recent changes in the below-the-zone system, note Reese personnel officials.

the-zone eligibles would include airmen first class with dates of rank between March 20, 1976, and March 19, 1977.

First, the percentage of all senior airman promotions reserved for below-the-zone eligibles will be increased from 10 to 15 percent.

The change means an airman can be eligible for below-the-zone promotion for four quarters instead of two.

Second, the below-the-zone date-of-rank "window" will be increased from six months ahead of the regular date-of-rank cutoff for regular promotion is, for example, March 19, 1976, then the below-

The percentage of eligible airmen a unit commander can nominate for below-the-zone promotions will remain at 10 percent. However, because there will be about twice as many eligibles, a unit commander can nominate nearly twice as many airmen.

Copy Service

Do you need to make copies of important papers. The Mathis Recreation Center is now offering a copy service. For more information call Ext. 3787.

Open House booths

Any organization or club desiring booths for Reese's Open House should contact Morale, Welfare and Recreation Division stating the number of booths and their electrical requirements. Call Ext. 3412.

Mopeds now shipped with household goods

Service members may now ship mopeds as household goods at government expense. Previously, mopeds were considered privately owned vehicles. A person owning both an automobile and a moped could only ship one overseas. Motorcycles are still considered POVs and must be shipped from ports of embarkation, like automobiles.

Base U-Fix-It Store is well stocked for just that purpose.

Occupants of Reese Village, dormitory custodians, and MWR facility custodians are encouraged to shop at the store or just visit to get an idea of what you might want to fix in your home yourself. Some items now on hand include tools for loan, light bulbs for ovens/refrigerators, a/c filters, grass seed, door locks, water closet parts, faucet washers, cabinet knobs, weatherstripping, spackling, paint, paint roller kits.

Bankruptcy filed

J.C. Whitney Co. has filed a voluntary petition for bankruptcy in the United States district court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division.

On June 28, Judge Toles, the referee in bankruptcy, issued an order granting the debtor J.C. Whitney permission to honor customer refund drafts issued before June 25, in the amount of $10 or less.

Anyone having a claim for more than $10 should submit that claim to the firm of Nachman, Munitz and Swieg limited, 115 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois, 60601. A hearing for creditors will be held on Aug. 2.

POW/MIA recognition

The Presidents proclamation of National POW/MIA Recognition Day, July 18, focuses attention on the men who served their country and could not come back. Equally important are the families who still wait.

The Red River Valley Association, originally composed of pilots who flew over the Red River in Vietnam, offers scholarships to the children of those missing or killed in action. Since 1969, some $121,000 in scholarships have been provided to 140 children.

People interested in further information on the scholarship program or the organization should write to E.E. "Buzz" Morrison Jr., P.O. Box 3128, Incline Village, Nevada 89450.

Housing limited at Vance

Unaccompanied officer quarters and transient space at Vance AFB, Okla., will be extremely limited during the next six weeks. The situation is the result of student billeting needs. Houses are available for sale, but are expensive. Apartment availability is limited and also expensive. Motel space is very limited. Single or unaccompanied officers arriving at Vance should plan to reside off-base. Units scheduling temporary duty to Vance should consider delaying the trips.

Barbecue tickets

People purchasing an advance ticket to the Open House barbecue will be entitled to a free beverage of their choice, say Morale, Welfare and Recreation officials here.

The barbecue is set for 6 p.m. Aug. 4 in Founders Park. Tickets are on sale now at the Mathis Recreation Center, Officers Club, NCO Club and at the MWR main office in building 800.

For RV, boat and trailer owners

It is often a problem to find a place to store recreational vehicles, boats and trailers. Morale, Welfare and Recreation Supply may have the answer. For information call Ext. 3819.

Supply officials fear rise in cancellations

With cutback after cutback in military spending and supply dollars getting tighter every quarter, Supply officials charge that it is incumbent on every military member to do his or her share in saving money.

One major area in which a problem exists is due-out cancellations. In the month of May cancellations on Urgency of Need category A and B items (Priority) totalled 145 while 67 routine items were dropped. Each of these cancellations represents a loss in both manhours and paperwork.

In June those numbers jumped to 164 for Priority items and 129 for Routine. This represents almost nine percent of total orders.

Maj. Carl Alberchinski, chief of supply, offers this advice, "Verify your requirements prior to ordering to avoid cancellations."

If a cancellation becomes absolutely necessary, it should be made quickly to stop the order before shipment is made.

Camp
nears

Setting up camp at last year's Camp Blue Yonder is one of the more than 80 area youths that attended the base camp. The annual camp kicks off early next month but sponsors are still looking for donations to help finance it. (U.S. Air Force photo)

Camp Blue Yonder asks for donations

Camp Blue Yonder, a Reese sponsored summer camp for children from the Lubbock and South Plains area, is well into the planning but; funds are still a little short.

"Although we have had several donations, including $37.50 from Supply Squadron, $52.15 from Field Maintenance Squadron and $200 from the Air Force Association, we are still short about $300," said project officer Capt. James Mahan.

"The Credit Union has agreed to supply hats and T-shirts for the kids and the base chapel will donate the collections of its August 5 Sunday services," he continued, "but donations from any other squadron or organization on base will be more than welcome."

Camp Blue Yonder is an annual event started several years ago by the Community Service Council after recognizing the need for a summer recreation program for local youths, who, for one reason or another, are unable to attend a regular summer camp. Each camp consists of outdoor camping, base tours, sports, a medical examination and many other activities.

Two week-long camps will be held, one for boys beginning the Aug. 13 and another for girls beginning Aug. 20. About 80 children are expected to participate.

To find out more about donations contact Captain Mahan at Ext. 3672.

Base needs blood

On Aug. 14, Reese personnel will have an opportunity to donate blood to help offset the need from the upcoming Labor Day weekend.

From 9 a.m.-4:15 p.m. the South Plains Blood Service will be set up in the Rec Center to accept donations from active duty military, civilian employees and their dependents.

According to 2nd Lt. Roy Ruff, Hospital Squadron Section commander, the Reese goal is 200 pints. Lieutenant Ruff emphasized that those who have had blood diseases (hepatitis, rubeola, venereal disease, etc.) recently or those who have donated blood in the past eight weeks should not attempt to participate.

Cookies and orange juice will be provided by the blood service.

Sky Lab meets end

Almost two years of intensive Air Force tracking of Skylab came to a close July 11 when fiery debris of the 77 ton space vehicle took only minutes to plunge to Earth.

In August 1977, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked the "spacewatchers" of the North American Air Defense Command to provide the best possible prediction of when and where the space lab would break up. NORAD predicted Skylab would fall in mid-1979.

As the estimated time for re-entry approached, six NORAD sensors made 90 observations a day as Skylab orbited 150 miles from Earth.

Although Skylab is gone, the NORAD spacetrack mission continues. While it was the biggest, Skylab was only one of more than 4,500 manufactured space objects being tracked by the command.

'A small step for man . . .'

HOUSTON: Sixty seconds.

EAGLE: Lights on; down 2½. Forward, forward 40 feet, down 2½, picking up some dust; 30 feet, 2½ down shadow, four forward, four forward, drifting to the right a little.

HOUSTON: Thirty seconds.

EAGLE: Contact light. Okay, engines stop. Engine arm off.

HOUSTON: We copy. You're down, Eagle.

EAGLE: Houston, Tranquility Base here. The Eagle has landed.

It was 4:17:42 p.m. EDT on July 20, 1969. The Apollo 11 lunar module, Eagle, had landed on the moon. Orbiting overhead was the command module, Columbia, with Air Force Col. Michael Collins at the controls.

Neil A. Armstrong and Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin, Jr. were inside the Eagle. At 10:56 p.m., the hatch was pushed open and a cumbersome figure stepped down the ladder to the dusty surface below.

"That's one small step for a man . . . one giant leap for mankind," Armstrong said. Colonel Aldrin joined him on the moon, and the two raised the American flag.

For more than two hours they set up scientific experiments, collected dust and rocks and explored the moon's surface.

A plaque attached to the Eagle's landing structure was unveiled, revealing the east and west hemispheres of Earth, and the words "Here men from the planet Earth first set foot on the moon. We came in peace for all mankind. July 1969 A.D."

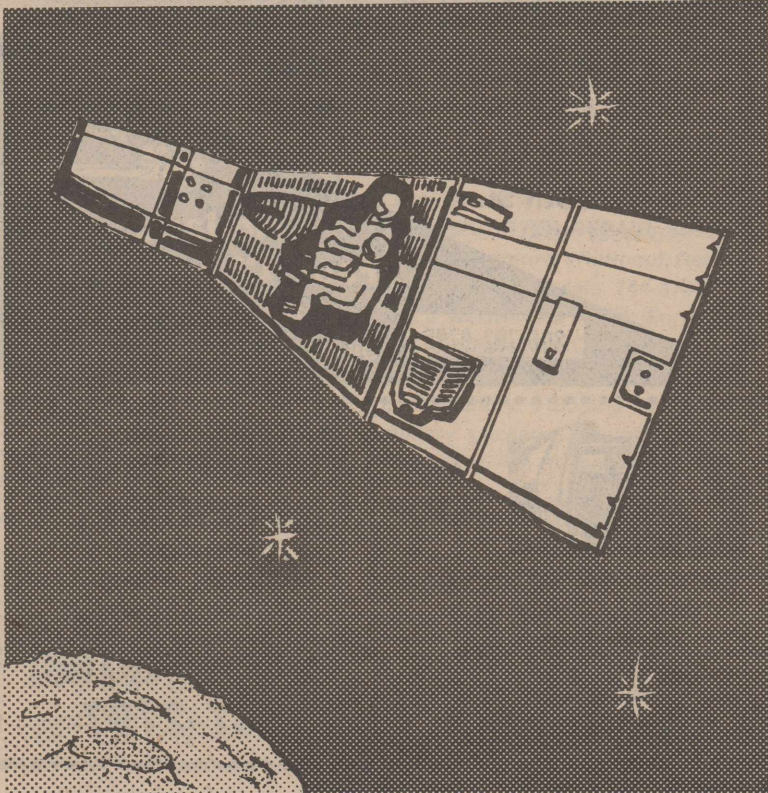

It was signed by the three Apollo 11 astronauts and President Richard M. Nixon.

A memento package was left on the moon. It contained two medallions for the Russian cosmonauts who had been killed, and a patch from the Apollo 1 crew whose members had died in a fire. There was also a small, gold, olive branch. Three other gold branches carried on the flight were given to the wives of the Apollo 11 crewmen.

The return to the command module and return to Earth were accomplished without a hitch. Col. Aldrin even submitted a travel voucher after his unusual temporary duty, but was paid only $33.31, because government air transportation, government housing and government meals were used throughout the trip.

Though travel vouchers and mementos lent a light touch to the venture, they should not take away from the importance of the achievement. Humanity had taken its first step in its space quest toward the stars. Footprints now mark the moon. Only two people were there physically. Millions of others joined them mentally.

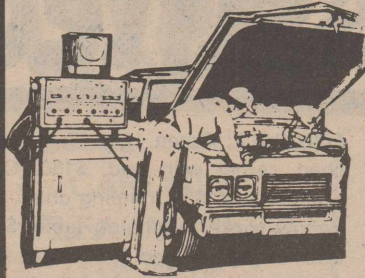

An American flag now flies where no other has been before. But this was not a nationalistic act. It was the culmination of years of effort by people from many countries: Germany's work with rockets, Russia's space efforts, and the worldwide exchange of ideas by scientists and engineers of every clime.

Each of us can take pride in this accomplishment. Each of us contributed in some way, however indirectly, to making it possible.

Golf : Reese duffers play on two ATC teams

Believe it or not, it's conceivable that a Reese golfer could win the 1979 Air Training Command golf crown, but the credit would go to another base.

Jack Kearney, tabbed by many local duffers as Reese's top golfer the past two years, will be competing for the open title, but he'll be doing it for Randolph AFB, Texas. Kearney is going through Pilot Instructor Training at Randolph, and although he will be returning to Reese as a T-38 IP later this year, he will play for the Ramblers.

Kearney was Randolph's top finisher in its recent qualifier, establishing him as one of the favorites when play begins Aug. 2 at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Ironically, it is another Reese golfer who is expected to challenge Kearney at the championships.

Kevin Heise, a former Air Force Academy golf teammate of Kearney, won the Reese base and club championships recently by carding a 54 hole total of 208. Heise opened the three-day tournament with a 70, blistered the Reese links for a six-under-par 66 on the second day and closed with a 72 to nab the title.

Joining Heise on the base squad will be open teammate Mike Farrage, Handicap Division players Bob Perry and Phil Davidson, and Senior Division golfers Ron Biddle and Coy Martin.

Individual flight winners in the base and club championships were: Championship Flight — Heise, First Flight — Davidson, Second Flight — Walt Jones and Third Flight — Roy Markle and Charles Beck (tie).

Air Show and Open House Reese AFB, Aug. 4-5

Sports in brief

Youth Flag Football
Sign-up for Youth Flag Football is underway. Any boy or girl 7-12 years old and eligible to participate may sign up at the Youth Center in person or call 885-3820.

Reese sweeps tennis tourney

Four Reese personnel combined their talents to sweep the Lubbock Municipal Tennis Center's team tennis league championship last week.

The "Pro Staffers" defeated the "Pumpers" 31-17, and finished the season undefeated in match play with a 5-0 record.

Dave Eidsaune, Curt Curry, Keith Roberts and Steve Headley teamed with Fritz

Schmidt of Lubbock to win the spring league championship.

Women's league reopens

Reese's women's slow-pitch softball league will launch its "second season" for 1979 Sunday.

Any women associated with Reese, either as a military or civilian employee or as a dependent of Reese personnel, are eligible to play in the league. Dependents of retired personnel are also eligible.

League action begins at 4:30 p.m. on the physical training field. For more information contact Elva Whitehead at Ext. 3787.

Varsity softball

Reese's varsity slow-pitch softball teams found the Air Training Command Central Division playoffs too tough to handle last week.

Both the men's and women's teams were eliminated in the opening round of the tourney.

Soccer sign-up

Sign-up for the Youth Soccer League is underway for all ages. A team will be chosen from the age groups to participate in the Lubbock Soccer Association League.

Any person with soccer experience who is willing to join the Youth Program as a coach and trainer should come by the Youth Center and speak with the director, or call 885-3820.

Host tourney

Two Rattler soccer players collide during a city league game with the Jolly Rogers.

Reese, which had been the hottest team in West Texas through May and most of June, has cooled off the past few weeks and lost its second straight game to the Jolly Rogers.

The varsity squad will be the host team for an invitational tournament here Aug. 4 and 5.

CBPO players still believe in miracles

by SSgt. R.D. Monson

Who says this isn't the age of miracles?

Certainly not the players and coaches of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office intramural softball team.

Last week the cellar dwelling slow-pitch squad picked up only its fifth win of the year in a shocking late inning upset of third ranked Resource Management.

Heading into Personnel's half of the seventh, the score was 7-7. Bobby Wright led off with a solid double to right and Mitch Mitchell followed with an RBI single to center to give Personnel an 8-7 win.

The loss dropped RM out of a second place tie with the Medics and into a three way tie for third with the Civil Engineers and the 54th Flying Training Squadron.

Despite the upset win, Personnel continues to trail the field, 11 games behind league leading Organizational Maintenance.

OMS raised its season mark to 16-1 by posting close wins over the Medics, 11-7; the Security Police, 12-10, and RM, 16-11.

The Medics managed to hang onto second place by taking two out of three games last week. The Hospital squad sandwiched a 12-11 win over the Security Police and a 13-3 rout of Personnel around its loss to OMS.

Supply made the biggest move in the standings last week, rocketing to seventh on the strength of four straight wins. Supply beat FMS, 13-10; RM, 13-8, Sturon-2, 11-5; and CE, 10-2, enroute to a 9-8 season mark.

The standings in the intramural slow-pitch softball league, as of Sunday, were:
