Rotary Club, Future Homemakers Win Top Awards in Santa Claus Parade

The Haskell County Centennial float, designed and built by the Rotary Club, won first place in the Santa Claus Parade Saturday, in a field of more than 24 beautiful and novel entries in the divisions for decorated floats and automobiles.

Second place award went to the entry of the Trinity Lutheran Church, while the entry of the Business and Professional Women's Club was judged third place winner.

In the school division, the float of Haskell High School Homemaker Department won first place. Future Farmers of America had the second place winner, and Mattson high school float won third place award.

Parade awards were limited to two divisions, for schools, and for clubs and civic groups, including churches. In the commercial division, decorated floats and cars were entered by 15 business concerns.

Other sections of the parade, led by a State Highway Patrol car, included the snappy Munday Mogul high school band, the colorful HHS Indian Band and Junior High School Band, 6th Grade Band, and members of the Saddle Tramps riding club with colorful regalia and flags. Also in the procession were a number of late model cars being displayed by local dealers.

The guest of honor, Santa Claus in person, rode on one of the large city fire trucks, accompanied by more than a score of jubilant youngsters swarming over the vehicle.

A sound truck and public address system was furnished through courtesy of Mrs. Baird's Bakery in Abilene and provided a program of Christmas music during and after the parade.

Immediately after the parade, Santa Claus and helpers from the Lions and Rotary Clubs handed out several hundred pounds of Christmas candy to youngsters as the small fry filed through the courthouse corridors.

Three Men Injured In Fire At Co-Op Gin No. 1 Monday

Two men received critical burns, and a third man suffered minor burns on his face and right eye, Monday night when a flash fire broke out in Haskell Co-Op Gin No. 1, about 10 o'clock.

Robert L. White, 32, and Roy Reynolds, 34, ginners, suffered third degree burns on the face, hands, arms and body. Curtis Perryman, 33, suction operator at the gin, was slightly burned on the face and about the eyes.

Condition of White and Reynolds was considered "very serious" but both men were improving as well as could be expected, hospital attendants said. Wednesday, White, most severely injured, suffered burns over a large area of his right side. Perryman was released after receiving emergency treatment at the hospital.

A lint conveyor, about four feet in diameter, had clogged and the two men were working to clear the conveyor when the accident occurred. White was inside the conveyor and the two men were pulling cotton out when an electric light bulb exploded and a flash fire spread over the cotton.

White had to crawl through the flaming cotton and most of his clothes were on fire when he got out. Reynolds' clothes also caught fire as he tried to clear away the burning cotton and assist White out of the conveyor.

Melvin Norman and other gin employees placed the two injured men in a car and rushed them to the Haskell Hospital. Perryman, who went to the hospital a few minutes later, was burned as he and others were trying to clear the burning lint from the gin.

Gin employees had most of the flash fire inside the main plant under control when firemen arrived, but the flames had spread throughout an adjoining lint house. Firemen had to pull down portions of the sheet iron walls of the lint house in order to extinguish the rapidly spreading flames, but were able to confine the fire to the single structure.

Damage to the gin plant was estimated at between $2,000 and $3,000 dollars, Manager Allen Strickland said.

The gin, which had been running night and day during the current spell of fair weather, was able to resume operation after a brief shut-down to clear up the debris resulting from the fire.

Cotton Allotment Of 125,000 Acres Set for County

Cards notifying individual cotton growers in Haskell County of their 1958 acreage allotment were mailed this week. Lloyd Feemster, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager, announced Tuesday.

The county's 1958 cotton allotment has been set at approximately 125,000 acres, Feemster said, a reduction of about 1,000 acres from this year's allotment.

Total allotment for the county is divided among approximately 2,200 individual units, the ASC official estimated.

Themes of the program was "Putting Christ Back in Christmas." Among those named were the ministers who appeared and the choir members. Also Stanley Furrh and the Texas Cafe provided the coffee and those who attended.

Cotton Referendum Vote Due Tuesday

Haskell County farmers will join the nation's cotton producers at the polls Tuesday, Dec. 10, to determine whether a quota penalty will apply to the 1958 cotton crop, and also the level of price supports.

The referendum is of vital importance to every cotton grower. The producers themselves will determine their own cotton program in this referendum.

If at least two-thirds of the votes cast in the referendum favor marketing quotas, the program will be operative for next year's crop.

Also, price supports of 75 to 90 per cent of parity will be available to growers complying with their farm allotments, and quota penalties will apply on "excess" cotton.

If more than one-third of the voters are against quotas, there will be no quota penalties and the price support level to eligible growers will drop to 50 per cent of parity. Even if quotas are approved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

Voting in the referendum will be at eight polling places in the county, as follows:

Haskell, at the ASC Office. O'Brien, at the Co-Op Gin. Rochester, at the City Hall. Rule, at the City Hall. Sargent, at Sargent Gin office. Paint Creek, at school house. Mattson, at school house. Weibert, at the North Weibert Gin.

5,798 Bales Ginned As Cotton Harvest Nears Peak

Haskell's three cotton gins have been literally "swamped" this week as farmers took full advantage of favorable weather in reaping the delayed harvest of the area's cotton crop.

At noon Wednesday, Haskell gin plants had processed 5,798 bales of the current crop, with the gins unable to get ahead of the steady flow of loaded trailers and trucks.

Continued fair weather this week will enable farmers to make noticeable headway toward gathering the 1957 crop with the harvest probably leveling off at its peak within a few days.

All available workers are being utilized, and many farmers are using mechanical harvesters or "strippers" in gathering the crop.

County Committee On Education to Meet Dec. 9

A meeting of the Haskell County Committee on Education will be held Monday evening, Dec. 9, at 7:30 in the Visual Aids room of Haskell high school. Members of the committee were recently named in a meeting of local school board presidents. This was done on request of the Hale-Aikin Committee of Twenty-four—the state committee on education which was set up by an act of the last regular session of the legislature.

Recent information received by the temporary chairman, County Supt. Jessie Vick, indicated that responsibility had been accepted by temporary chairmen in all 254 counties of the state, and that many other county committees had been appointed. In some counties the plan of study was beginning to get underway.

Studies are to be made in the area of the school program, school finance, teacher supply, and school construction.

Have You Answered That Seal Letter?

This is "Do It Day" in Haskell County—the day to answer your TB Christmas Seal letter, if you have not already done so.

"We're trying to get everything cleared up before the holidays, if it's at all possible," said Miss Nettie McCollum, secretary of the Haskell County TB Association.

"So we're reminding everyone, who has not already done so, to answer his Christmas Seal letter, and do it today!"

Initial response to the letters was generous, but now has slowed almost to a standstill. Fewer than half of the Haskell County people who received Christmas Seal letters have responded.

"The people's honesty and sincere desire to help the tuberculosis society program is evident in the numerous letters we have received and, believe me," continued Miss McCollum, "every cent is appreciated by the association."

"Proceeds of this Christmas Seal Sale will support Chest X-rays, health education, rehabilitation and medical research.

"Emphasis has changed in a half century of Christmas Seals from merely keeping the victims alive," Miss McCollum explained.

"Today we work to find TB early when it's easiest to cure, to teach people how to protect themselves from TB and to help ex-patients become useful members of society."

"The Christmas Seal Sale helps finance this important work, and that's why we say, please answer your TB Seal letter. Don't forget, do it today!"

Destructive Fire Hits Throckmorton Tuesday Night, Causing $100,000 Loss

The business section of Throckmorton suffered its second destructive fire in two months Tuesday night, when flames swept through two business buildings and for a time threatened to spread through an entire block of buildings.

Flames completely destroyed the Merriman Hardware and Furniture Stores, located in adjoining buildings on the block just east of the county courthouse.

Throckmorton firemen, joined by equipment and men from Haskell, Olney and Seymour fire departments brought the blaze under control before the conflagration spread to adjoining buildings.

Ed F. Merriman, who with his son, Harold L. Merriman, were owners of the building and stores destroyed, estimated the loss in the neighborhood of $100,000. "We had just the elder Merriman store," the elder Merriman said.

Two months ago, an adjoining building, the Kirsney Locker and Grocery, along with a warehouse belonging to Merriman, both burned to the ground.

Large Crowds Mean More Business

The large crowds in Haskell Saturday were reminiscent of the peak fall business days of 30-odd years ago when Saturdays were the "big business" days in small towns, particularly in the fall season. Although we would not desire a return to the old schedule of booming business for three or four months in the fall and a near-standstill in the spring and summer, we do like to see crowds in town!

The throngs here Saturday were attracted in part by the annual Christmas Program. To us, this is an illustration of what can be accomplished through cooperative efforts of our businessmen in promoting community events. Without doubt, every retail establishment in Haskell was benefitted as a result of the promotional event.
Also, without doubt, among those profiting from increased business as a result of the many people coming to Haskell for the event, were several business concerns who did not join in underwriting and making the program possible.

The fact that some concerns did not see fit to participate in the program was probably due to valid reasons and possibly a belief that the program would not benefit the town. Now, with ample proof of the success of the program, both in building good will and in bringing additional dollars into local trade channels, there is no justification for any business concern to withhold their support and cooperation in programs of this nature.

What If Your Home Burned Down?

What would you do if your house burned down? On first thought, an easy answer to that question—you'd rebuild it with the insurance money.

However, unless you're one of a comparatively few people, you'd be shocked to learn just how inadequate your fire insurance coverage is.

The main reason that is true is explained by a single word—inflation. Sylvia Porter tells the story in one of her recent syndicated columns. A house that cost $8,000 in 1937 would cost $21,600 to replace today. A house that cost $12,000 as late as 1946 carries an $18,300 price tag now. So it goes. Miss Porter quotes an authority on the subject as saying: "There's no doubt that the overwhelming percentage of America's tens of millions of homeowners are underinsured."

And that isn't the whole story. The same thing is true, and in many cases to an even greater degree, of the contents of our homes. We buy all manner of things over the years, and we just don't realize how much the total worth comes to. Then on top of that, inflation has driven up the replacement cost of all commodities, just as it has boosted construction and repair costs.

This year fire losses will hit an all time high, and may reach or pass $1 billion. Your home and everything in it could help make up that grim statistic. A wise thing to do is carefully inventory your possessions, then see your local insurance agent and make sure your fire policies really meet your needs.

The Lineup Habit

(Wichita Falls Daily Times)

Habit is difficult to break.
The waiting lines which Americans, Texans and Wichitans endure from time never seem to get any shorter.

There is the lineup to pay poll taxes. It is repeated in the lineup to secure automobile licenses. And it will be in evidence at the post office the nearer Christmas approaches.

Again this year postal authorities are asking people to do their Christmas mailing early and to see that mail is properly stamped and addressed, that packages are properly wrapped and their contents protected.

The Post Office Department, as usual, is hoping for the best but preparing for the worst.

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

Among the nicest features of the Christmas Parade Saturday, and contributing a lot to the success of the colorful procession were the Munday Mogul Band, HHS Band, Junior High and the 6th Grade School Band. Naturally, we're proud of our own fine school bands. In complimenting them, we want to include an extra large measure of appreciation for the splendid performance of the attractive and talented Mogul Band of Munday High School. It is one of the outstanding bands in this section.

Speaking of bands and parades, a favorite saying attributed to Rex Felker is: "Give me a band and I'll work you up a parade."
He has done that, too, time and again. Our hat is off to Rex and Mrs. Lyles, in charge of entries, and Dr. Williams, parade chairman, and their many helpers, for developing and presenting such an outstanding spectacle.
Praise is also due Haskell churches, clubs and civic groups, for the time and effort given in creating the many attractive floats entered in the parade. Taken altogether, the pageant represented the time, talent, and ingenuity of scores of Haskell people, working together to make a community project a success. It was.

Haskell Jaycees came up with the season's most timely service Friday night in connection with their Community Christmas program on the courthouse lawn. As a joint courtesy of the Texas Cafe and the Jaycees, hot coffee was served during the program, which went off on schedule despite the severe cold and biting wind.
Although the weather cut attendance, with many persons remaining in their parked cars, the program of talks and musical numbers was both inspirational and appropriate on the theme of "Putting Christ Back Into Christmas."

Thanksgiving Day was that in more than the traditional sense for Haskell cotton farmers, who took advantage of the ideal weather which prevailed during the entire day to resume the belated cotton harvest. As a result of the perfect weather, a steady stream of loaded trailers and trucks flowed to local gins during the afternoon and evening.

Some time this month, the engineer's report on the proposed Miller Creek municipal reservoir project will be completed. W. R.
(Roy) Johnson, one of Haskell's directors on the project, believes,
"We should have the report at least by the first of the year, when it can be submitted to the people for their consideration," he stated.

Johnson, along with city officials and others familiar with the alarming shortage of municipal water which has been developing rapidly in recent years, believes that immediate steps should be taken to assure additional supplies of domestic water.

A town can exist only within the limits of its water supply.
This was summed up in A. M.
(Abie) Turner's classic reply to a skeptic who declared Haskell had always had plenty of water and always would. Turner agreed, with reservations: "We'll have all we need, if that's what you mean.
Yes, when our water supply gets to the point where there's only enough for two families and a cow. Haskell's population will be two families and a cow."

George Dolan, Fort Worth Star-Telegram's roving staffer whose "This is West Texas" column is a popular feature of that newspaper, stopped by Friday afternoon. George comes by occasionally to check on Brooks Middleton, George Neely, Rex Felker and other friends here. On leaving, the Fort Worth newsman confided that he was almost convinced George Neely was personally responsible for the Rice Owls winning the Southwest Conference.

Now Christine is the feature attraction in his club. She was offered a movie contract by RKO, but Mr. Owens didn't want her to go to Hollywood, so they turned it down. HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

BY VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN, Texas—Both special sessions of the Legislature passed all the bills for which Gov. Price Daniel called them. Mostly, by wide margins.

Even so, final days found everyone of sixes and sevens. House members and Senators wrangled among themselves. Each house sniped at the other. And numerous lawmakers found ways to show they were put out with the governor.

Both houses gave top-sided approval to the two bills requested by the governor to bolster local controls of schools. One allows closing schools threatened with federal occupation. The other empowers the attorney general to assist local districts in fighting anti-segregation suits.

Then, another bill was proposed to allow county judges to require registration of organizations attempting to interfere with public school operations. Sponsors said it was aimed at the NAACP.

Though there seemed to be no large block of opposition to the measure itself, haggling technicalities stretched out the time table.

Some legislators accused others of deliberately prolonging the sessions to embarrass the governor. Each day (including week ends) made a $1,600 bite into the governor's emergency fund. House members said Senators were sticking around to have the last word in their feud with the Insurance Department.

Whatever the cause, it seemed evident that the Texas Legislature can't be turned on and off like a faucet.

Hindsight

Renewal of the contest over tidelands ownership brought criticism of Gov. Daniel's role in the federal tidelands law.

Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo said he felt Daniel should have seen to it the 1953 law recognized specifically Texas' claim to lands 10 1/2 miles out.

Daniel, then a U. S. Senator, sponsored the federal law. At present a federal suit challenges Texas' claim to land beyond three miles.

Daniel retorted that if Hardeman would read the bill he would find it gives each state title to boundaries "as they existed at the time such state entered the union." Texas Congress fixed the coastal boundary at 10 1/2 miles into the Gulf, said the governor.

Hardeman replied Daniel should have attached a map to the bill.

Not Happy

Dissatisfaction of a number of Senators with the Insurance Department seems unlikely to simmer down.

Senate investigating committees indicated it is still not through with its inquiry into the Department's delay action on an unfavorable report on Preferred Life. It recessed after hearing two assistant state auditors confirm the examiner's finding of irregularities in the company.

Sen. Grady Hazelwood stressed the committee's findings in a speech explaining why the Senate had turned down the Insurance Board's appointment of Wm. A. Harrison as commissioner. He said the Senate felt Harrison had been remiss in not taking immediate action against the company.

Senate finance committee turned critical questions on the three board members for having questioned the Senate's right to pass on Harrison's appointment. Board appeared to ask a bill authorizing the department to reduce the number of examiners and raise salaries.

Land Buy Okayed

Legislature moved forward another step to plan for a consolidated state government center in the heart of Austin.

Both houses passed a bill authorizing purchase of two blocks northeast of the Capitol for a Texas Employment Commission Building.

Overall plan is to ring the Capitol on three sides with five new buildings. Included will be the State Courts Building, state office building, Insurance building, TEC building and library and archives building. Cost is estimated at $20,000,000, all to come from various special funds rather than general revenue.

Oil Leasing Held Up

Excessive importing of foreign oil was blamed for the Texas School Land Board's decision not to hold an oil and gas lease sale in February.

Board members said the market is too depressed to make a sale worthwhile. "There's no use putting up our school lands at a cheap price to let oil companies profit still more because of their excess imports," said Governor Daniel.

At least one large oil company has informed the state it may pay rentals on present leases of submerged land under protest pending outcome of a federal suit contesting state ownership of a portion of the tidelands.

A Chance to Speak

Citizens in every county will be given a chance to say what kind of schooling is needed to equip Texas youngsters to live in a space age.

A school study committee set up by the last Legislature plans to ask local county committees to submit ideas. Called the Hale-Aiken Committee, the 24-member panel is made up of legislators and private citizens.

They've promised to heed the wants of interested citizens in the report they're to make to the next session. Already, there has been a large response.

Suggestions range from a "crash" program in science to cutting new building needs by using facilities 12 months a year. Broad areas being explored in the study are (1) what to teach and for how long, (2) how to get teachers, (3) how to build buildings and (4) how to pay for it all.

Money Ready

State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler repeated an earlier statement that he is ready to start making payments of about 33 cents on the dollar to US Trust and Guaranty Company.

He's been ready since September, said Wheeler, but a court fight among creditors has blocked action. His statement apparently was prompted by legislative criticism of "too slow" liquidation proceedings.

Short Snorts

Texas' January draft quota will be 493 men, highest call since August, according to State Selective Service Headquarters. This compares with a call of 340 for December. Also in January, local draft boards are to send some 2,000 men for re-induction examinations. Travis County Judge Tom Johnson is making another try at getting the state to pay out of returning criminals from other states. Previous Legislature and governor cold-shouldered his pleas. Records show extraditions cost Travis County $1,117 in 1956.

A 14-member citizens advisory committee named by Governor Daniel will assist the Texas Employment Commission in sorting out the various jobs of state employees. Last regular legislative session authorized formation of the committee "to develop an orderly classification plan based on actual duties and responsibilities."

Former Resident Recalls Attending Old South Ward

The old South Ward school building is the only remaining Haskell landmark that is unchanged since 1910. Mrs. C. C. Franks of Gatesville said Monday when she stopped here for a brief visit while returning home from Memphis, Texas, where she had been visiting a sister, Mrs. Ida Mounger.

This was her first visit here since girlhood, and with the exception of the old school building, the town has changed entirely, she said.

Mrs. Franks is the former Nannie Lazenby. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lazenby brought their family to Haskell from Gatesville around 1908, and they lived on what was known as the "Old Hayden place" southwest of town. Mrs. Franks recalled. She went to school at the old ward school, and later attended the South Ward school here. She remembers the Pitman and Linville families as neighbors who lived in the vicinity of their farm.

After living in this section a few years, the Lazenby family returned to Coryell County, and Mrs. Franks has lived in and near Gatesville since then.

Tech Red Raiders Captains Given Recognition

LUBBOCK—Two of football's finest honors have come to Texas Tech's captains for the past season.

Guard Charlie Moore has been selected to play in the Shrine East-West game at San Francisco, and end Pat Hartsfield has been chosen for the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 28. Hartsfield, formerly of Haskell, is an ex-member of the HHS Indians football squad.

Coach DeWitt Weaver praised the pair for both their play and their "outstanding leadership" in holding together an extremely inexperienced team this season, which closed with a 47-26 loss to Arkansas Nov. 23.

VISITS PARENTS

Visiting their parents, Mrs. E. M. Frierson and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cox of Haskell, were Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Cox of Lubbock.

Thanksgiving guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mitchell were their children and families, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mitchell Jr., and daughters of Abilene and John Homer Gibson and Beth Ann of Vernon.

Markers Planned Along Route of Mackenzie Trail

Haskell County will get the first of a series of markers planned along the route of the old Mackenzie Trail according to Bernard Buie of Stamford, one of the leading sponsors promoting the project.

The initial marker will be erected at the intersection of U. S. Highway 277 and 380 north of Stamford, Buie said.

Both the House and the Senate of the state Legislature passed a resolution commending members and supporters of the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Assn., and added that "this effort to perpetuate the memory of a significant part of Texas' colorful history is considered highly commendable."

Buie is chairman of a committee to raise funds for erection of the marker. He said efforts will start about Jan. 1 to raise funds for the first monument.

The Mackenzie Trail, which began at Fort Griffin and ended east of Crosbyton, was named after Gen. Randall Sidel Mackenzie, a U. S. Cavalry officer who from 1871 to 1876 commanded a series of campaigns which removed Indians from parts of North Texas.

About 150 miles long, it was at first a route for transporting buffalo hides and later a path followed by settlers and ranchers. The height of its importance was from 1876 to 1896 when close to 50,000 persons are estimated to have traveled over it, Buie said.

Roughly, its route was across the Southern part of Haskell County to a meeting with Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River in extreme eastern Stonewall County, where it followed both sides of the river to old Reynolds City. About 11 miles northeast of Hamlin it converged and ran northwest across Kent County just north of Spur and Soldiers Mound. It ended just north of Crystal Falls on the White River east of Crosbyton.

The Great American Desert covers an area of 1,050,000 square miles.

By A. L. WILKIE

There was turkey on the Thanksgiving table of many lucky Texans this year!

Turkey season opened Nov. 16, along with the white tail deer season, in many areas of the state.

Most of the birds were killed in the Edwards Plateau, better known as the Hill country of Texas. But other spots of the state also provided a few gobblers.

With the beginning of the deer and turkey season, only one more open season is awaited by the hunters—quail season. It will be legal to hunt quail in most of the counties of Texas after December 1st.

As new seasons come on, others pass out. It no longer is legal to kill doves in either the North or South zone.

It will be legal to kill mule deer west of the Pecos between Dec. 20-27, inclusive.

The white tail season will end Dec. 31, as will the goose season. Then it will be legal to kill only ducks and quail until Jan. 16.

After that the shotgun can be wiped clean and put away until next Sept. 1, unless you like to shoot crows.

Incidentally shooting crows at the end of the season is a good way to get rid of old shells and at the same time do your bit in killing off those black rascals.

Many towns will have crow shoots. If you have a few crows around, get busy and organize an eradication campaign. It will pay off.

Boat Care

Have you checked your boat lately? Most of us have been so busy with our hunting in recent weeks, that we've neglected our boats.

A visit to any boat dock will reveal many boats with six inches of water in the bottoms. The recent rains have almost filled others.

If boats are to last a long time and give good service, they need care. Mark it on your calendar to dedicate the next pretty weekend, or at least a portion of it, to checking your boat. Perhaps it might need to be hauled out of the water for a good scrub job, inside and out, or a coat of paint.

You may dry-dock your boat for the winter, but this isn't necessary in Texas. There'll be plenty of weekends during the winter months when you can get in some good fishing or boating.

While you're at it, check your trailer.

See that the bearings have plenty of grease and that the tires are in good condition.

Crappie Are Pentiful

Most of the fish being caught now are crappie and sand bass. Every lake and stream in Texas is producing plenty of crappie. Most of them are on the small size but they are big enough to make a good meal.

During the past year there have been many fishing barges and doughnut shaped barges built on major lakes. They are baited down and furnish ideal spots for crappie fishing. Some of them are steam heated. There is one on Whitney that even provides TV.

Other fishermen just tie their boats up to dead trees out of the water, or anchor at well-marked spots and catch their crappie with minnows.

For sandies most of the fishermen right now are following the gulls and jiggling. With a limit of 25 sandies you can have plenty of fun during the day.

One of the favorite lures is the Dixie Jet, which, by the way, is made in Houston. It is a spoon of exactly the right weight to get these sandies.

There is a good trick to remember, if you've never fished this way before. A light rig is very important. Say a 6 1/2 foot light action rod with a 6 to 8 pound test line. Let your lure go to the bottom, take two or three turns on the reel, quiver the rod very slightly by moving the tip up and down.

The sandies hit almost invariably on the down motion. For that reason they usually are on the hook when you start the upward movement. If you aren't careful you can yank the hook out of its mouth before it has been set.

A couple of good fishermen with a little practice and a few of these Dixie Jets can fill the bottom of the boat in a few minutes of hot fishing. Try it.

Are You Ready

If you haven't made arrangements yet for a place to hunt quail, you'd better hurry. Every indication points to the very best season in years. There was a tremendous hatch and survival this year, of the native birds. In addition thousands of birds from hatcheries were released throughout the state.

There'll be a new quail for Texas shooters this season. It is the Coturnix. It's an Asiatic bird recently brought to this country. Several thousand were released in Texas during the late summer. They were hatched at the Game & Fish Commission farm at Tyler.

The Coturnix is a most interesting looking bird, slightly smaller than the bob, but looking somewhat like it.

It is a fine bird for training dogs, but a hard bird to get up. You can almost walk on one before it will take flight.

The Coturnix is a migratory bird, however, and is expected to move about the state quite a bit. Because of this it usually can survive a drouth better than the bob.

These birds all have been banded. If you get one, be sure and turn the band over to your local game warden, or send it to the commission in Austin.

Fence Row Brush Control is Farm Job for Winter

By F. W. Morth, County Agent

Worthless trees and brush along fence rows rob crops of valuable moisture and soil nutrients resulting in loss of production and lower profits for the farmer.

Trees have wide spreading roots that may reach out 100 feet from the tree trunk. These sapling roots rob moisture from crops and during a dry year can reduce yield on a 50 to 100 foot wide band around the field. During a wet year the damage is not so great because there is usually enough moisture for all the plants.

Winter is a good time to chemically treat fence row brush. Usually this is a slack season for labor, leaves are shed from the trees, thus a better job can be done. Too, there are few susceptible broad-leaf plants growing at this time of year which might be damaged by the chemical.

An ax, a handsprayer, 2, 4, 5-T chemical and diesel oil are all the equipment and materials needed to kill fence row brush.

Mix one pound of 2, 4, 5-T liquid chemical in six gallons of diesel oil and pour the chemical solution in the handsprayer. On trees less than five inches in diameter apply the solution to the lower 12 inches of the tree trunk allowing it to run down the bark channels to the crown. Chemical solution around the crown prevents re-sprouting.

On trees more than five inches in diameter, a frill should be made near the ground line with the ax. Apply enough solution in the frill to make it bubble out of the cuts.

If the tree is cut off, apply the solution to the freshly cut stump allowing it to run down to the crown.

A thorough application of the chemical solution is necessary for best results. Don't apply the solution during a high wind. The cost of killing a five inch tree is about two cents.

"A NICE TRY, BUT..." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive attempts to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get the hood to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up windows. Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have contact brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they have TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Contact steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs on some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

Mattson Honor Roll Lists 20 Students Harvest Festival Nets $670

(Special)
The Honor Roll for the Mattson School for this six weeks is as follows: First grade, Sue Weise; Third grade, Kay Newton, Keith Chapman, and Kenneth Putman; Fourth grade, Linda Klose, Sherry Newton; Fifth grade, Dennis Opitz, Delores Peiser, Lynn Gray; Sixth grade, Neida Gibson; Seventh and Eighth grades, Carolyn Klose, Yvonne Moeller, Shirley Klose, Brenda Campbell; High School, Gene Leonard, Lloyd Klose, Charles Prater, Dorinda Kretschmer, Georgia Gray, and Jerry Klose.

The Harvest Festival of Mattson School was educationally as well as monetarily enriching. The total income from the Festival for the stage is on its way to the school. The Seven Wonders of the World showed in the 4th and 3rd grade room allowed many to experience Paradise on Earth (a pair of dice on soil) etc. The beautiful crowning of the queen and the colorful procession of royalty was made more impressive by the chariot in which Queen Shirley Stewart of High School and Queen Brenda Campbell with their escorts, Jerry Alexander and Sammie Sorenson, rode. This chariot was artistic and drawn by gentle "horses" Hugh Peiser and Ronnie Joe Walker. Those lucky ones that took home prizes were Mrs. Jack Stewart, a popcorn popper; Jimmy Trimble, an electric skillet; Alton Peiser, an electric clock; Cecil Gregory, a pair of pheasants; Supt. W. R. Baker, a toaster; Charlie Campbell, a rod and reel; Henry Smith, pillow cases; and a blanket. Mrs. Park Woodson, a bed spread; Mrs. Ethel Kirkpatrick, a beautiful doll; Felix Klose, an electric bean pot. Other educational features of the Harvest Festival were the Woman's League and the excellent drawings of the faculty and Mrs. Trice, Mrs. Sauer, and Mrs. Brown as well as W. D. Johnson and Mrs. Bill Prater. These likenesses done by the art classes were very revealing.

Missionary Will Speak at Rule Church Sunday

Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy will speak at both services in the First Baptist Church in Rule on Sunday, Dec. 8. Rev. and Mrs. Kennedy are Southern Baptist Foreign Missionaries to Africa. At the present time they are on furlough. Rev. Kennedy will speak on missions and his work in Africa. They have two children one of which was born in Africa.

Last Sunday the church began the "Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions" by the pastor, Rev. Rodney C. Dowdy, preaching a mission message. Throughout the week the Woman's Missionary Union has had a season of prayer and mission program at the church. On Wednesday night the Young People's organizations presented a program on world missions. Friday will be observed as "World Day of Prayer" with the women of the church spending the full day in prayer.

The membership of the church has set a goal to give $2,000.00 to the "Little Moon Christmas Love Offering" for world missions. The Southern Baptist Convention will special to give $5,000,000 to this offering.

County Library Visited By Rural Students

During National Book Week the Mattson third and fourth grade with their teacher, Mrs. Marlow, visited the County Library. Each child checked out a library book of his choice. Prior to the County Library visitation sack lunches and movies of beautiful Easter flowers of Conner's Nursery were enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Luella Marlow, 208 N. Ave. H in Haskell. The County Librarian promised new books in the library by the Christmas holidays as the A.A.U.W. of Haskell has gotten off an order for many new books that will be arriving at the court house this week.

Santa Claus Parade

At the Santa Claus Parade in Haskell Saturday the Mattson float done by the Boosters Club (or done by Mrs. T. C. Walker, Mrs. Wm. R. Baker and Mrs. Lucille Marlow as a donation to the Boosters Club, $15 donation), won third prize. The float was made to show Santa as a Jack-in-the-Box. The reindeer were Ronnie J. Walker, Ronnie Chapman, Sammie Sorenson and Roger Moeller. The little Santa was Miss Margana Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Walker of Mattson.

Portable Heaters Often a Hazard In the Home

Portable heaters are often used during the winter months to provide added warmth without regard to the care necessary for their safe use. Such heaters should be handled very carefully the National Board of Fire Underwriters declares.

Heaters should always be placed level, in a spot where there is no danger of tripping over them.

The job of filling an oil heater should be done with extreme care - never when the heater is hot or in use and preferably outdoors.

Any spillage, on heater or floor, should be wiped up immediately.

Gas heaters should be vented to the outdoors, unless specifically approved for unvented use.

Any room where an oil or gas heater is in use should be adequately ventilated, since these heaters use up oxygen as they burn.

Don't use an electric heater in the bathroom, where water increases the shock hazard.

Keep all heaters a safe distance from bedding, clothing, furniture and other combustibles.

Robes or dresses with flowing hems are a hazard when worn by anyone, especially elderly people. Many painful, often fatal, burns occur when a person wearing long, loose sleeves reaches across an open burner.

STUDENT IN PAUL QUINN HOME FOR THANKSGIVING
James Edward (Sonnie) Lewis, student in Paul Quinn College in Waco for three years, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with home folks here. Still a farmer at heart, he pulled bolts and had his Thanksgiving dinner at night. He left Sunday and was to resume his studies Monday morning.

VERSATILE IN PERFORMANCE

Wherever there's a call for a rigid, fixed-angle, wheel-type harrow, the John Deere "RW" provides the answer. Here in a disk harrow which, while simple in design, is strong on serviceability—built to take it in the toughest conditions.

Versatility is another built-in quality of the "RW"—you'll find it equally dependable in disk-tough stalks, disk-tough stubble, or working in plowed ground.

Let us show you how to fill your disk-tough needs at less cost in investment, labor, and maintenance with an "RW."

Monday's Receipts Up at Fort Worth Stockyards

Fort Worth—Increased supplies of livestock were offered at Fort Worth for the Monday trade, compared with figures of a week earlier. Marketing was cut down at that time because of weather and road conditions, while weather was ideal for shipping over the past weekend. Receipts were two times more larger than on the previous Monday. The hog run of 1,000 head was the largest in two months on this market.

Receipts of cattle and calves at 12 major market centers were a little smaller than on last Monday, while more hogs and sheep were offered than on that day.

Demand for stocker cattle and calves was broad during Thanksgiving week and the trade continued active and fully steady at the start of this week even though supplies expanded. Slaughter steers and heifers sold generally steady with good activity on yearlings offerings. Cows opened steady but clean up deals were unevenly lower. Bull prices were unchanged. Slaughter calves sold as high as during the previous week.
