Final rites for J. C. (Chief) O'Neal, Haskell businessman who was killed in a car-truck crash near Waller on the night of Oct. 13, were held at the First Christian Church at 3:00 p. m. Friday.

Officiating for the service were Guy Harris, pastor of the church, and Carl Maples Jr., minister of the Church of Christ in Crosbyton and former Haskell resident.

Mrs. C. Jones, 76, Dies Friday After Long Illness

Mrs. C. Jones, 76, who with her husband and family had lived in Haskell County for half a century, died at 7:30 a. m. Friday, Oct. 16 at the family home in this city. Mrs. Jones had been in failing health for two years or longer.

She was the wife of a well-known retired Baptist minister, Rev. C. Jones, and her son, Rev. Jesse Jones, is pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church in this city.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jones were held at Trinity Baptist Church at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 17, with Rev. Edgard Tatum, Baptist minister of San Angelo, officiating.

Burial was in Willow Cemetery under direction of Holden Funeral Home.

Mrs. Jones was the former Miss Nellie Bryant, born June 5, 1883 in Collin County, Texas, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Bryant. She married Rev. C. Jones Jan. 20, 1901, in Throckmorton County. They made their home there for a number of years while Rev. Jones served as missionary preacher in Throckmorton and Young Counties. They moved to Haskell County in 1909, and Rev. Jones continued in the active ministry until his retirement two years ago.

Mrs. Jones and her husband founded the Fundamental Baptist Church here which later became the Trinity Baptist Church. She also took pride in the fact that her son founded a church in Rule, the Fifth Street Baptist Church. Mrs. Jones had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1903.

Dr. Orrick will be speaking at South Side Sunday morning while Mrs. Orrick will be at Mattson. For the Sunday evening service Dr. Orrick will be at Mattson and Mrs. Orrick will be at South Side.

These people have a worldwide concept of missionary endeavor and have spent this long period of years and teaching the gospel of Christ to people in lands far away across the sea. The Orricks have a wonderful testimony for the Lord and a splendid message for world-wide evangelism.

Lively Kick-Off Supper Launches UF Campaign

Success of Haskell's first United Fund Drive was virtually assured Tuesday evening, when an enthusiastic group of 185 volunteer workers turned out for a "kick-off" supper in the Elementary School cafeteria.

Brief outline of the fund campaign scheduled to get underway Wednesday morning was given by W. R. Johnson, general chairman, Royce Adkins, United Fund president, Tom Barfield, fund campaign chairman, and Joe Harper, auditor.

Workers were served a refreshment plate, courtesy of local women's clubs and served by Service Pipe Line Dames Club. Also during the meal, vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Roy Everett with Mrs. F. W. Martin, pianist. Minister Guy Harris gave the invocation.

The fast-moving program kept the large audience interested from start to finish, with an entertaining angle being presented in a skit by Royce Adkins and Tom Roberson illustrating the positive and negative approach in soliciting for United Fund.

Climaxing feature was the awarding of "door prizes" by drawing names of guests present.

Water Authority Plans Sale of $1,200,000 Bonds

The North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, created to develop a municipal water supply for the four towns of Haskell, Rule, Munday and Goree, plans to sell approximately $1,200,000 in bonds at an early date.

Proceeds from the $1,200,000 worth of bonds will be used in purchasing land needed for a reservoir on Miller Creek east of Munday, and to finance building of a dam creating the reservoir.

Engineers estimate that about two years will be required to secure land, clear the reservoir site, and construct the dam.

The entire bond issue of almost four million dollars is not to be offered at this time due to the prevailing high interest rate, Mr. Johnson explained.

By the time the initial phase financed by the $1,200,000 offering can be completed, directors believe that a more favorable interest rate can be secured on the remaining bonds.

Award To Be Given Haskell's "Most Courteous Sales Person"

A plan to give community recognition, along with an attractive award, to "Haskell's Friendliest and Most Courteous Sales Person" has been announced by the Rotary Club, through cooperation of The Free Press.

Any clerk, salesman, saleslady, or employee of any retail business concern in Haskell will be eligible for the award, with the recipient to be determined on the basis of mail ballots.

Beginning next week, a nomination ballot will appear in each issue of The Free Press, on which readers will list the name of the sales person, store name, along with the name of the voter and mail the ballot to the Rotary Club.

The award will be presented during Christmas week in an appropriate program, at which time recognition will also be given the business establishment where the winner is employed.

New Insurance System Should Cut Accidents

(The Houston Chronicle)

The state board of insurance commissioners has launched a laudatory plan in its move to reward Texas' safe drivers with lower automobile insurance rates...

This is a pioneering move on the part of the board of insurance commissioners in that it is compulsory, applying to all companies writing insurance in Texas. It will not hurt these companies since the minority shown by the records to cause most of the accidents will pay sufficient penalties to balance the savings for safe drivers...

The Haskell National Bank has made very extensive improvements in their building during the past few weeks. They have put in new fixtures for the cashier and tellers among other improvements.
G. R. Couch Jr., suffered a serious injury to one eye a few days ago, and was compelled to submit to an operation in Dallas for removal of the injured member.

The acetylene plant at the hotel exploded Thursday night and burned Byron Wright slightly. He had unthinkingly struck a match in the plant, setting off the explosion.
Mrs. Earl Cogdell of Granbury has returned to Haskell. Mr. Cogdell had preceded her several days and prepared their home for occupancy.

60 Years Ago—Oct. 28, 1899

Recent deals among our stockmen include the following:
T. J. Lemmon bought of B. L. Frost all of his steer calves, for spring delivery.
The calves are Herefords and Durhams. Messrs. Cummings, Bailey, Lemmon, Beavers and Fitzgerald will deliver about 600 head of two and three year old steers to B. R. Cobb of Henrietta this week.
John Fitzgerald bought from W. P. Whitman all his cows and two year old heifers.
J. A. Price has bought all of E. A. Rose's stock horses and mules.

On Monday T. E. Ballard shipped six cars of cows and calves and one car of cattle to Fort Worth.
N. T. Smith also shipped a car of cattle Monday.
Tuesday, Cal Wilfong shipped a mixed car of cows and calves, all to Fort Worth.

The wholesale warehouse of Pierce Petroleum Company in the southeast part of town burned Friday afternoon, along with a quantity of oil, gasoline and kerosene.
Paul Kuenstler, agent for the company, said the fire started from the "back-fire" of a gasoline engine being operated in pumping kerosene from a tank car.

The Highway Garage at Weibert, owned by S. C. Hawes, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning, together with a large stock of accessories and tires, and a truck and automobile in the garage for repairs.
The fire started from the explosion of a gasoline stove.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Checking over old newspaper files, it is interesting to note that some 30 years ago, Haskell boasted eight cotton gins, whereas only three exist today.
However, these three modern plants probably process as much or more cotton than the eight oldtime establishments.

Also, according to old newspaper files, the first cotton grown in Haskell County was hauled to Anson to be ginned, since there was no gin here.
The first cotton gin in Haskell, we are told, was located about where the City Hall is now.

Rain began falling Wednesday and continued at intervals until the government gauge registered 4.65 inches Friday morning.

Judge P. D. Sanders is holding district court in Rayner this week.

J. P. Armstrong is in the market buying mules for the British Army.

Couch Bros. & Reeves will leave for Albany Monday to receive 200 head of cattle purchased by them.

Frank Armstrong and Miss Buna Wilbourn, Iron Pearsey and Misses Mary Smith and Pearl Wilbourn visited in Stamford last Sunday.

Sheriff Collins made a business trip to Albany and came back Wednesday. He says they have got the cars running 12 miles out of Albany on the Central extension and expect to have the road completed to the river by the middle of next month.

The method worked to a degree, but left considerable trash in the cotton and few buyers would purchase the product.
Ever so often the cowboy instinct gains the upper hand of Brooks. Middleton and when this happens Brooks has to engage in some sort of rodeo activity, preferably roping calves or steers.

scattering like a covey of quail. After a chase of 15 or 20 minutes, Brooks managed to rope one of the tusked critters and a little later Rudolph made his catch.

Hardest work of all was trussing up the fighting beasts so they could be brought back to the pickup and penned. After being fed in captivity a while these wild hogs make excellent meat, Brooks declared.
But they can never be tamed, and will attack a man at every opportunity, he said.

As for roping the critters, Brooks vows they're harder to get a loop over than any calf or goat he ever took after.

Haskell firemen are naturally proud of the fact that they copped first place in all three racing contests staged recently at Snyder during the semi-annual meet of the Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association.
They're reluctant, however, to discuss a fourth race in which local firemen were the loser.

An unscheduled event, the contest involved one of those radar units the DPS sets up occasionally along the highway.
Unaware that their speed had been clocked, Earl Correl and E. J. Stewart thought they were being extended a personal welcome when a Highway Patrol car rolled up beside them and motioned for a stop.

The "welcome" was a formal invitation to meet the Snyder JP, who suggested that a contribution of $16.50 would be a nice gesture on the part of the visitors.
But the situation worked out satisfactorily, after all, Correl and Stewart said. Both are members of the racing team, and they decided "We had to win all that Snyder prize money in order to come out ahead."

Thirteen proved both lucky and unlucky for a Negro craps shooter who slipped away from raiding officers, only to be apprehended later Sunday after officers had learned his identity.

Sheriff Bill Pennington and Deputy Moreland Glass surprised a group of 13 Negro men in a lively dice game at a Negro residence about 2 a. m. Sunday. In the confusion resulting when the officers entered the room, one Negro almost eluded officers until Sheriff Pennington saw the man's feet protruding from under a bed.

Then, as the group was being herded through an unlighted room, No. 13 disappeared again but was not missed until a count was made as the Negroes were loaded in the officer's cars.

No. 13 was passed up for the time being, as the dozen craps shooters were transported to the courthouse for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Merle Weaver who assessed a $20.50 fine against each of the participants.

Later officers instituted a search for their 13th man, and he was located late Sunday afternoon.

"Ah, I knowed I'd git caught," he told officers, then confided: "Ah couldn't throw nuthin' but box cars and snake eyes in dat crap game, my lucks' done layed plum out."

Dale Condron relays the one about the young minister in a big city who established a mid-week mission in a section of town where his small congregation was composed mostly of beatniks.

After several services, in which he became acquainted with their off-beat attitudes and mannerisms of speech, he felt compelled to correct them. So, at the outset of his next service, he admonished: "Brethren, we are going to have more reverence in our services from now on. In speaking of the Trinity we shall say 'The Father, Son and the Holy Ghost; not Daddy-O, Junior and The Spook.'"

In removing the old concrete driveway at the new Red Howard Mobil Service Station a few weeks ago, workmen unearthed a number of rusted horseshoes a short distance from the corner of North 2nd and Avenue E.

How so many horseshoes came to be in that particular spot was a mystery until oldtimers recalled that some 50 or more years ago a blacksmith shop was located on that corner. The late Branick Stuart once operated the shop, and may have established it. To the best of anyone's knowledge, it was there until around 1910.

Oldtime blacksmithing is almost a lost art.

Until advent of the automobile, every town the size of Haskell or smaller, boasted several blacksmith shops and they were generally busy most of the time.

Old-time blacksmiths were skilled artisans, experts in metallurgy and woodwork, and adept machinists. They could, when the need came up, duplicate almost any part needed for repairing farm equipment, anything from a plow point to a steam threshing machine.

And no blacksmith was considered worthy of his trade unless he was an expert in shoeing horses and mules, and this work was a major source of revenue.

DOORS IN TEXAS

SANFORD
 year when the outdoorsman can go hunting and kill his limit of game; go angling and catch his limit of fish; or do both on the same trip.
 Man, that's living!
 As for fishing in fresh water, right now is the time for some good top-water plugging for bass, or bugging for pan fish. Big bass have been playing coy with top-water plugs during the hot summer months. Recent rains, however, have moved in fresh water and more vegetative food for the minnows. As these minnows move along the shore to eat, the bass move in to eat them.
 That's the time to toss a top-water plug!
 You have your choice of many good top-water lures. They come in all sizes, shapes and colors. You can take your pick.
 One thing you must remember, however, is that the bass is the final chooser. If he likes what you toss him, you've caught his fancy—and a fish. If he doesn't like it, then all you have is another pretty lure for the tackle box.

 Right now a shad or perch-colored lure is just about as good as you can offer. And of course for color there is nothing better than the old, reliable standby of black and white.
 The water you fish in may also effect the choice of your lures. For instance, if there is a lot of moss, you'll want something that won't hang. This could be a plug that rides over the top of the moss with the hook up. Or it may be a spoon with a piece of pork chunk.
 If you are fishing in moss, use a heavy line—one that is strong enough to pull your plug and possibly your fish, out of the thick moss.
 Moss fishing can pay off, but it is no place for light monofilament line or a lure with a gang of hooks on the bottom side.
 On the other hand, you may be fishing along a log-covered bank or near a sandy point jutting out into the water. Here you will want a good plug of the chuggar-type, or perhaps a cigar-shaped lure with a spinner for or aft.
 Lay the lure in a good spot, work it slowly, and if there is a bass around he'll likely take it.
 Fall bass are better fighters than summer bass. Some of them are right proud of their acrobatics. Fact of the matter is—there's no thrill like a dancing bass.
 Of course, you don't have to limit yourself to bass. This time of the year crappie fishing is good, especially with lights at night.
 And white bass (some call them sandies) also like the lights on a fall evening.
 There's hardly a lake in Texas today that doesn't have a big white bass population. The limit is 25 per day, and they are fun to catch.
 Don't overlook the pan fish. Nearly every impoundment in Texas is overstocked with with bream. There are all kinds, shapes and colors. Many of them are long enough to interest any fisherman, whether he uses a worm or a popping bug.
 Worm fishing, incidentally, is far from being a lost art. You can find that out easily around any fishing pier or floating dock.
 Many persons who fish with worms, fish from boats. Usually they fish at the base of trees that are standing in the water, or at brush piles.
 There are many baited holes for perch.
 Just the other day, at Oak Creek Lodge near Sweetwater, we watched an elderly couple worm fishing from a boat tied up under a big tree. We were told that they kept that hole baited with stale bread or corn shucks, and that they take perch by the hundreds.
 Naturally, most floating docks are located over baited fishing holes.
 Some fishermen, when shooting on the lake is not prohibited, take along their guns in their boats. When they get to an area where sunflowers cover the bank, they leave their boats and get back into the mesquite brush for doves.
 Again, however, permission should be obtained before any shooting is done.
 With wildlife on the move, on the land and in the water, there is plenty of outdoor activity for everyone. Load the family into a car and enjoy these wonderful fall months.
 If you are trying to make money out of the gas, keep them cool, says T. D. Tankley, extension animal husbandman. When temperature is 90-100 degrees a hog eats twice as much to put on the same gain as he does when the temperature is 60-75 degrees, he adds.

Turkey, Pork, On Plentiful Food List For November

A wide variety of plentiful foods will be available in Texas markets this month, as turkey, pork and cranberries head the parade, reports Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
 These three items have been selected as foods to feature because available supplies are larger than normal.
 Other November plentiful foods are broilers-fryers, lard, apples, potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, almonds, filberts, rice, lamb and dried beans.
 With such a variety of abundance, all of November should be filled with hearty eating and a thankfulness for the bountiful cornucopia provided by America's farmers and food industry.
 Other foods also are in good supply—some others may be locally plentiful—but these 14 have been selected for special promotion in store ads, by press, radio, special displays, prices and events, in an effort to balance supply and consumption.
 Shoppers usually find that the price is "right" on plentiful and in-season foods. Wider selection also is possible when supplies are large.
 The list of plentiful is determined each month by the area food distribution office of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service that works closely with farmers and the food trade in determining available food stocks.

A business meeting will follow Mr. Formby's address and officers of the 1960 reunion will be elected.

A barbecue meal will be served in the high school cafeteria from 5:30 to 7 p. m. and tickets at $1.00 each, for the meal may be obtained from the officers.
The Aspermont Hornets will play the Lockett Panthers at 7:30 p. m. and the homecoming queen will be crowned during the half-time. All exes are urged to go by the cafeteria after the game for coffee and farewells.

Treatment involves injecting antidotes directly into the blood stream.
Young plants will develop more prussic acid after frost or drouth than those approaching maturity, points out the veterinarian. Their leaves will contain from 3 to 25 times more acid than leaves of plants in the boot stage. Also, upper, younger leaves will contain more acid than lower leaves.
Dr. Patterson cautions against grazing Johnson grass or sorghum before it is completely dry. If Johnson grass or sorghum is ready to cut for hay before a frost, it may be cut the first day after the frost, if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

Prussic Acid Is Livestock Threat After Frost

Johnson grass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.
Certain chemical changes sometimes occur in the plant and it develops a content of prussic acid, or hydrocyanic acid when wilted by frost or drouth, he explains. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten.
An appearance of nervousness, difficult breathing and difficulty in standing are symptoms of the poisoning. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it.

In and Out the Tee Peees

BY SUZANNE LANE
As the Indian summer drifts on into winter, the events around the Tee-pees become more plentiful, more exciting, and everyone is so busy.
The Owl Club is so proud of their library that they felt they had to show it off. Tuesday evening, from 7 to 9:00, the Owl Club held open house in the HHS library. Cookies and spiced tea were served to the guests. The club sent invitations to the high school faculty, school board, the member's parents and various organizations.
Monday night at 7:00 was the time the HHS cafeteria was the setting for the Junior Class Tasting Bee. Each of the Junior's mothers donated a dish of food and everyone who came had an opportunity to taste any of the dishes.
Each year the Sophomores have to take personality and achievement tests. This week the Sophs of '59 are taking the tests. We wish them luck.
Mrs. Digg's speech class is really keeping on the ball. Each student has to make a notebook. In it there must be a little of everything (so the speech students say). There must be news, information on poise, telephone conversations, posture, and things that make a good speaker. It isn't unusual for some speech student to stay up until wee hours of the morning, skip lunch, or get caught in another class trying to work on his notebook.
See you in seven moons ! !

Flare-Up of Latin Temper Ends in Gunplay

A flare-up of Latin temper involving two Bracero farm workers resulted in one Mexican man being hospitalized with a bullet wound, while his alleged assailant is somewhere on the long trail back to his native Mexico.

Sheriff Bill Pennington and Deputy Moreland Glass, who investigated, said the shooting occurred around 1 a. m. Sunday. Other Braceros in the group of 25 or 30 identified Salas' assailant as Nontola Fabian Eziquio.

According to their story to officers, Eziquio and Salas had been joking each other. Eziquio became angry, and the gunplay followed.

Eziquio then left, officers were told, with the other Braceros making no effort to restrain him. A description of the suspect has been given neighboring officers and the Border Patrol.

Watch for Danger Signals From Appliances

Protect yourself from personal injuries, fires and damage. Learn to recognize signs household appliances give when they are not performing as they should be.

Here are some warning signals:

Dimming of house lights or slowing of heating appliances when motors start may mean that the circuits are overloaded. This could cause a fire.

When a fuse blows the circuit may be overloaded or there may be a short in the appliance. Chances are too many appliances are on the circuit at one time. Be sure the fuse is the right one for size of wiring. If the fuse will let more power through than the wiring can safely carry, it is not as a safety device. Overheated wires, damaged motors and fires can result if the wrong fuse is used.

"On-off" blinking periods usually mean there's a loose connection somewhere in the appliance. May not be serious, but it should be repaired before a more serious problem develops.

"Tingle" or slight shock when handling an appliance or switch is a sign that trouble's

New Insurance Effective Soon

AUSTIN - Safe drivers in Texas will save 20 million dollars next year in insurance premiums while accident-prone motorists will have to shell out that much more.

This will result from the insurance plan effective Jan. 1 announced by the state board of insurance.

From a study of more than 40,000 accident reports at the Department of Public Safety the board calculated motorists operating 57 per cent of the state's automobiles will save 20 per cent in premiums. These are the ones who have had no accidents in the last three years.

Another 16 per cent of the drivers will pay the same rates while the remainder will find collision and liability rates increased up to 700 per cent.

The state is divided into 26 territories with separate standard rates based on the number of vehicles, accidents and other factors. Under the above conditions, a similar policy in Houston costing $134 could be cut to $107 or increased to $215. In Sherman, the policy now would cost $91 and could be reduced to $73 or increased to $145.

Texas has the only plan of this type, said chairman Penn Jackson, but individual companies have used a similar program in about half a dozen states.

Jimmy Brock Is Ranger College Player of Week

Jimmy Brock, Haskell student at Ranger Junior College and quarterback on the college football team, was named "Player of the Week" Oct. 12. He was selected by Ranger College coaches because of his creditable performance and the indomitable spirit he showed in the Texarkana game Oct. 10. Wallace Simmons, sports editor of the Texarkana Gazette cited him "an outstanding performance in defeat, sneaking over from the three-yard stripe" for Ranger's one score against the Texarkana Bulldogs. Brock also received Honorable Mention in the Dallas Morning News as Back of the Week among Junior College stars. A 1958 graduate of Haskell High School, Brock is playing with the Ranger Rangers for his second year. A physical education major, he is preparing

Higher Interest Makes US Savings Bonds Attractive

Never before has U. S. Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike, J. M. Crawford, chairman of the Haskell County Savings Bonds Committee, said today in commenting on the one-half per cent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds. "Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress," Mr. Crawford said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefit of the increase."

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

Semi-Tailoring Workshop Being Conducted Here

The Semi-Tailoring Workshop conducted by Barbara McAnelly, county home demonstration agent, is in full swing. The third meeting will be on Monday, Oct. 26.

Instructions will be given on making bound buttonholes and the use of interfacing. Those who attended the two preceding meetings are: Mesdames Gentry Middleton, Virgil Cobb, George Fouts, Martin Rueffer, Claude Ashley, Paul Cothron, Travis Smith, Buck Bland, all of Haskell, and Mrs. C. H. White of Rule.

Johnson grass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Frost damaged Johnson grass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry.

The simplest and most reliable method for determining the lime requirements for your soil is to have a soil test made every two or three years. Dr. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, points out that sandy soils in lime deficiency areas will require more frequent applications of limestone than will clay soils.

Cooling Waters Cause Turnover In Texas Lakes

The "turnover" of lakes means the mixing of water in lakes, according to the assistant director of Inland Fisheries Texas Game and Fish Commission. "The mixing is brought about by the cooling of the water in lakes during the late fall of the year."

In the early summer or late spring three distinct layers of water form in the larger lakes and in some of the smaller lakes of Texas. The upper layer is called epilimnion, the middle layer is the thermocline, and the lower layer is the hypolimnion. The top tends to remain at the surface. In the middle layer there is a rapid decrease of temperature in a downward direction. The lower layer remains cool and because cold water is heavy, tends to remain at the bottom of the lake.

In late spring or early summer, the top layer is relatively thin. As the sun's rays heat the water, this layer becomes thicker and extends itself deeper until, in some of our deeper lakes, it may be as much as 60 feet thick in late summer.

The lower layer becomes a "biological desert" in which there is very little or no oxygen and only anaerobic bacteria can survive. The wind continues to circulate the top layer but, because it is light water, it fails to mix with lower heavier water in the thermocline and in the bottom layer. This causes the bottom layer of water to become stagnant and to contain odoriferous decomposition gases, toxic to fish.

As cool, fall weather moves in, the upper water is cooled, becomes heavier, and settles to a lower level. As it settles, mixing between the upper layer and the bottom layer commences. Once more, the winds churn the water and assist this mixing action.

Soon, the three layers are one and the temperature is fairly uniform from the bottom to the top of the lake.

The odor, noticeable in the tailraces below dams is caused by the drawoff of water from the lower levels of the lakes. By early winter, the lakes have "turned over."

Prescriptions Now Required of All Texas Dentists

Texas dentists must now write prescriptions for all work performed for them by dental laboratories. All members of the healing arts profession; physicians, dentists, etc., have long been required to write prescriptions for drugs, but dentists now must sign orders for dental plates and other types of appliances which he will fit in his patient's mouth. These orders addressed to a dental laboratory must contain detailed instructions on their construction.

Both the dentist and dental laboratory are required to keep a copy of the prescription for two years for inspection by the Dental Board.

The Texas Legislature also wrote in the same bill a provision prohibiting the dental technician and laboratory from dealing directly to the public.

Turkey prices for the remainder of 1954 are not expected to improve materially over those for the same period of a year ago. John G. McHaney, extension economist, points out that the 1954 turkey crop is a big one—about 6 percent above last year and 1 percent above the record crop of 1957. However, he adds, storage stocks are down 18 percent; a large percentage of the 1956 crop has already been marketed and the number going to market between now and Christmas will probably be no larger than for the same period last year.

Building Program Air Force Officer Guest Speaker at Side Chapel Rotary Club

The South Side Baptist Chapel began the first phase of an extensive building program last week. The projected building program will include new educational and auditorium space to care for approximately 250 people when completed. The first phase of the program includes the extensive remodeling of the present building so as to make every foot of floor space usable for classes and departments. Folding partitions including accordion doors are now under construction.

"This new construction will better enable us to serve our people and the fine folk of our community. A cordial welcome is always extended to everyone in Haskell," stated W. C. Kimbler, pastor.

The present building program is a cooperative effort of South Side and their Mother church, First Baptist Church, South Side will finance and construct the project while the First Baptist will provide the new furniture for the phase of the building now under construction.

"Wonder Drugs" Misuse Becomes Major Problem

Misuse and overuse of the new "wonder drugs," antibiotics, has become a serious medical problem, according to the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

In a copyrighted article in the current issue of the magazine, the editors say that the great healing properties of the antibiotics have been demonstrated, but that is also true that there is much danger in their misuse.

Patients, doctors, hospitals and pharmaceutical houses must share the blame for the over-emphasis on "wonder drugs." As a result of this dependence on antibiotics, more and more persons are developing sensitivities to such medicines.

In addition, the editors say, normally harmless types of bacteria have become virulent; others, like staphylococcus, have become impervious to antibiotics.

Individuals, the magazine reports, can contribute to the drive to stop misuse and overuse of the drugs by refraining from demanding them for minor illnesses, giving doctors the time and opportunity to diagnose ailments properly.

In addition, the editors advise that patients report to doctors whether they, or any members of their families, have ever had any reaction to "wonder drugs" and whether they have any allergy, such as asthma.

Other steps to curb the dangers of misuse of the medicines are reported in the article. Many doctors are re-educating patients concerning the need-versus-risk aspect of antibiotic therapy and hospitals and surgeons are stressing stricter antiseptic practices in operating rooms and in wards.

The magazine notes that researchers, both in and out of the drug companies, are seeking to develop new drugs that will keep a step ahead of the rise in new resistant strains of bacteria.

Brown patch disease can be controlled in lawns, says Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist, if proper practices are used. For details on controlling the disease, he suggests a visit to the local county agent.

RETURN FROM VISIT IN NEW ORLEANS

Mr. and Mrs. Belton Duncan returned during the weekend from an extended visit in New Orleans, La., and in Sherman. They spent several days in New Orleans, seeing points of interest in the town and visiting their son, John Duncan, a student at Tulane University. They came back by way of Sherman, where they visited a son and daughter, David, a junior, and Jean, senior student in Austin College.

Major Willis also showed a film, "Peace and Quiet," in connection with his talk to illustrate the necessity of continuous training and its attendant noise in order that the defense forces of the country be maintained in readiness at all times.

Major Willis was introduced by Chas. M. Conner and Thos. B. Roberson, program chairman for the day.

A member of the Air Force since 1940, Major Willis took part in the Berlin Airlift, and was in Korea at the outbreak of hostilities in that country. Currently he is attached to the Air Training Command, which has the responsibility of training U. S. airmen of today's aircraft and its complicated electronic equipment.

Major Willis explained that continuous research is being carried on to eliminate as much as possible the annoyance caused by jet aircraft and the accompanying film showed much of the progress made in that direction.

Major Willis was accompanied by his wife and their children, and they were guests in the home of his uncle, Chas. M. Conner and Mrs. Conner. Out-of-town guests at the Rotary meeting and luncheon were Alton Richards, Frank Campbell and Morris Neal of Rule, Manford Reid of Rochester and Jim McCulloch of Stamford.
