Supply competes for Daedalian

Getting ready

A1C Tracy Taylor and AB Stan Hodgman of Supply peruse their records in preparation for the upcoming visit of the Daedalian Award inspection team. The team is on base through today to choose between Reese and Mather for the command award. (U.S. Air Force Photo)

Reese and Mather AFB, Calif., have been selected by the Directorate of Supply, Headquarters, Air Training Command, to compete as ATC's nominee for the Daedalian Supply Effectiveness trophy.

Each year ATC selects the organization that achieved the best supply performance record during the preceding year to represent the command in the Air Force competition. The Daedalian Supply Effectiveness Trophy is awarded annually to recognize outstanding base support of aircraft/missiles.

The ATC visit to Reese is conducted by Lt. Col. James E. Parrish, Directorate of Supply, Headquarters ATC. Colonel Parrish visited Mather earlier this week and will be on base through today for a firsthand evaluation of the supply support, professionalism and attitudes of people, and how well supply facilities are maintained.

The past year has been very rewarding for the 64th Supply Squadron according to officials. The squadron received a top rating during the Management Effectiveness Inspection. The ATC command Equipment Management Team also commended Supply for the overall outstanding appearance and sound records maintenance in the Individual Equipment Unit.

Some other of the unit's achievements include special recognition by the Lubbock chapter of the Special Olympics for the Handicapped and presentation of a trophy from the wing commander for submitting the largest number of names in the Air Force Recruiter Assistance Program.

Many other management and facility improvements were also accomplished during the year. These include computer resegmentation, improved turn-around procedures and repair cycle/critical item effectiveness, and improved paint and cylinder storage facilities. The Fuels Management Branch also contributed immeasurably to the 64th Supply Squadron's achievements.

Maj. Carl D. Alberchinski, chief of Supply, states, "It is an honor to be considered as one of the best supply activities in the command. Being nominated to compete for this award is the result of many hours of hard work and devotion to duty by all squadron personnel. We welcome Colonel Parrish and we are sure he will find our squadron to be worthy of consideration as the best Supply in ATC."

Awaits signature

DOPMA passes in both houses

The Senate has passed the Defense Officer Personnel Management Act, sending the Bill to the President for his signature.

This approved version of DOPMA was worked out after extensive discussion between the House, Senate and Department of Defense. The House had passed a DoD version in 1976 and 1978. The Senate passed another version in 1979.

DOPMA will provide attractive and predictable career opportunities for present and future Air Force officers. If signed by President Carter, DOPMA would become effective Sept. 15, 1981.

Major features of the bill are: Permanent grade relief replacing the restrictive 1954 Officer Grade Limitative Act field-grade limits.

DOPMA grade tables would become fully effective Dec. 31, 1982.

A single permanent promotion system replacing the existing dual temporary-permanent system. Officers holding temporary grade higher than their current permanent grade will be promoted to higher permanent grade unless they are presently deferred to that permanent grade.

Officers deferred to permanent regular or reserve captain, major or lieutenant colonel will meet a special board within one year after their effective date to resolve their status.

Uniform tenure and retirement provision for all services. This bill provides that twice-failed regular captains and majors may be continued on active duty to the 20 and 24 year service dates, respectively, as needed to meet requirements. It also provides mandatory retirement for lieutenant colonels and colonels at 28 and 30 years service, respectively.

The Secretary of the Air Force would have the authority to convene selection boards to defer mandatory retirement for up to five years, not to exceed age 62. Officers in the grade lieutenant colonel through major general who are promoted after selection by a DOPMA board would be required to serve a minimum of three years in that grade to be eligible for voluntary retirement in that grade. Exceptions would require presidential approval.

Severance pay for officers. Maximum pay to those involuntarily separated after five years of service and prior to retirement eligibility is increased from $15,000 to $30,000.

An all-regular career force would not be required by law, but modifications made by DOPMA would permit the Air Force to implement this by policy.

Provision of Title 10 would be repealed to allow regular appointment of nurses and medical specialists under the same rules as apply to other officers. It does not revise the provision of Title 10 which restricts the assignment of women in combat.

A per-diem-equality amendment to eliminate the differences in per diem between officers and enlisted service members.

DO greets Reese family

by Col. Jerald W. Ellington
Deputy Commander for Operations

This is my first chance to speak to the Reese family, and I welcome the opportunity.

I'm very pleased to be here after serving three years in the Pentagon. I enjoyed my Pentagon tour and had the opportunity to participate, in a small way, in painting the "big picture" we all hear so much about. It is especially satisfying to be at Reese and take part in implementing the plans and policies of the Air Force so we can make the "big picture" turn out the way we planned.

I'm very pleased by what I find here at Reese. I've been out of the Training Command for about 16 years, and I can assure you the command is in much better shape than when I left. For example, the instructional tools we have are far superior to those we had in the old days. In addition, I believe the instructors are better trained to teach than I was when I was a first assignment instructor pilot.

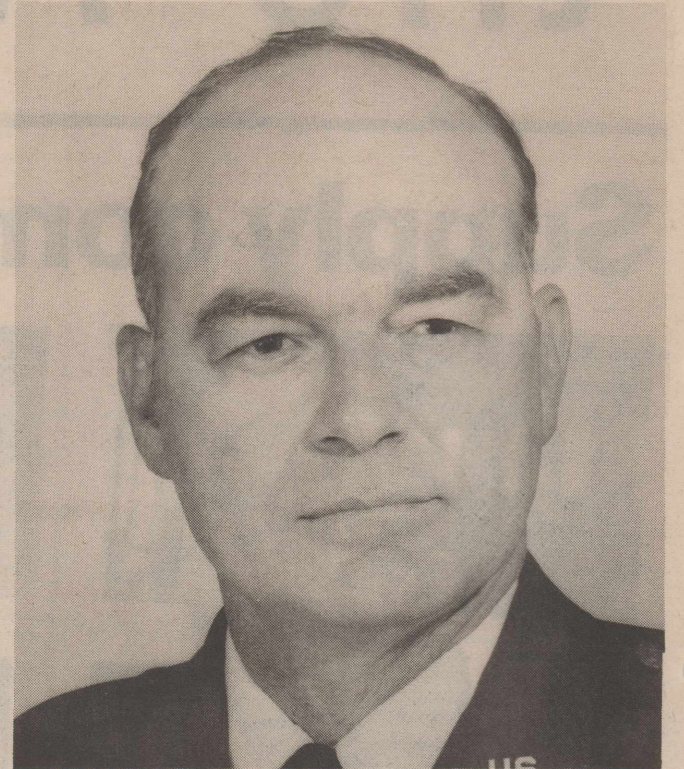

One thing that has especially impressed me here at Reese is the excellent cooperation I have received from everyone. All the senior officers of the base are sincerely interested in everything we do in the flying training business. If you have attended any of our morning staff meetings, you'll know that the deputy commander for resources, the base commander, and the hospital commander are just as interested in our flying operations as I am. If we have any incidents that indicate a lack of cooperation among the various base functions, I can assure you they are not condoned by any of the colonels at Reese.

I'd like to see all of us at Reese take the attitude that we have a personal obligation in everything that happens. All of us suffer when we compartmentalize problems. We can't escape responsibility by saying, "That is the base commander's problem or the hospital commander's problem."

Regardless of which organization we are assigned to, we are all Air Force people. Consequently, if there is a problem on base, we all share the responsibility for solving that problem. We are a lot stronger united than we are separate. Let's keep up the strong cooperative effort I have seen so far and make the best use possible of the resources we have been given.

I look forward to getting to know everyone in the Reese family.

Col. Jerald W. Ellington

(Editors note: All information provided to the CARE Line will be held in confidence. Callers are urged to give their name and duty number so that a personal reply may be made, however, neither are mandatory. Callers are urged to use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air complaints or comments if possible. If not, call the CARE Line at Ext. 3273.)

Gym Gibe

Why aren't more funds channeled into the base gym? It is one of the most used facilities on base and the one to be kept up the least.

The Base Gym has shown a steady improvement over the last year in renovations and equipment received. The main court, exercise room and racquetball courts are currently being refinished. A new universal weightlifting machine is on order and should be received in the near future. New racquetball courts should be completed soon.

While on the subject of gym improvements, you and your friends can help in keeping the gym in good condition by carrying gym shoes to wear while working out. Shoes worn outside will not be allowed in the work out area.

At times we have equipment taken from the Gym, if you or your friends know of anyone in possession of gym equipment please remind them to return it to the Base Gym.

Metric system on its way

Are you ready for the day when the gas station attendant tells you that you're down a liter of oil instead of a plain old quart low?

Or, for the new diet fad that promises to shed 4 kilograms in just ten short days?

Like it or not, the metric system is on its way into your life and will soon join "death and taxes" as something inevitable.

In this four-part series, we will trace how and why people first got around to measuring things and gradually moved toward a universal system.

The United States has been perhaps the most gradual in that movement, but under a 1975 law, inches, ounces, and gallons will soon become artifacts of history.

Since you can't escape it — the metric system is used worldwide — why not join it?

This series should make the business of mastering metrics a little easier.

Since time began

Weights and measures were among the earliest tools invented by man.

Primitive societies needed some type of basic measurements and weights for building, bartering, or trading.

Man understandably first turned to parts of his own body and to his natural surroundings as a way to compare and measure things.

Early Babylonian and Egyptian records and the Bible show that length was first measured with the forearm, hand, or the finger, and that the passage of time was linked to movements of the sun, moon, and other heavenly bodies.

Nature's way

To compare the capacities of containers such as gourds or clay or metal vessels used in trading, the vessels were filled with plant seeds which were then counted to measure the volume.

Seeds also served as a standard of weight.

For instance, today's "carat" as a unit for gem measurement was derived from the carob seed.

As different societies came about, weights and measures became more complex.

The invention of numbering systems and the development of mathematics made it possible to create whole new systems of weights and measures for every phase of life, from trading to figuring taxes.

To each his own

The goal of these early "tools" was to be able to measure height, weight, length, and distance accurately, time after time, and in different places.

But all this was at a time when civilization was developing in bits and pieces and in different tribes and cultures around the world.

Naturally enough, people came up with different standards for measuring and weighing. Just as society "A" spoke a different language than society "B," so did it measure its canoes, spears, and the weight of its cooking pots in different ways.

In Part II of this series, we will explore how some of the words we still use today developed from ordinary things.

Chapel presents program

by Chap. (Lt. Col.)
Arnold G. Johnson
 Installation Chaplain

The Protestant Sunday School will present a Christmas program entitled "Celebrating the Birth of Christ," Dec. 14 at 11 a.m.

Each children's class will have a part in the program and the youth will serve in various leadership roles during the service. The emphasis of the program will be presenting gifts to Christ on his birthday. Each class will have a gift to present. The message of the program will challenge all to focus on the meaning of this Holy Season. The best gift one can present is to give one's life in service to Christ.

A unique feature of this year's program will be a mini-concert presented by Tina English Roach, wife of Capt. Steven Roach. Tina and Steve are the parents of two children.

Tina English has been a composer for Word, Inc., for eight years, during which many of her works have been published and recorded. She has sung for numerous workshops and conventions and has led seminars of Gospel songwriting.

Tina English Roach

Tina appeared at the first Billboard Convention in New York City and has also performed at many colleges, universities, Air Force bases, churches and children's homes. Her first solo album has been completed and will be released by Triangle

Records in the first quarter of 1981.

The chaplains extend the warmest of invitations to be present during the worship service. We know that this program will enrich your Christmas season.

Street Talk

To some of the old-timers around the Air Force, recent raises and programs to improve our lot must seem like a dream come true. Everybody realizes, though, that there is still a lot to be done to restore Air Force buying power and prestige back into line with the civilian economy.

The street people had a lot of ideas about what could be done, if the government would play Santa Claus. This week's Street Talk question: "What would you like in your Christmas stocking from the Department of Defense."

Sunday marks anniversary of Japanese sneak attack

On September 27, 1940, Germany, Italy, and Japan signed the Tripartite Pact, thus bringing Japan's "Greater East Asia Co-Prosperty Sphere" within the Axis coalition. From that time on, American resistance to Japanese expansionism increased. Negotiations between Japan and the United States toward a peaceful solution of Far Eastern problems were still under way when, on December 7, 1941, Japan attacked Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. The next day, President Roosevelt went before Congress to ask for a declaration of war against Japan.

Yesterday, December 7, 1941 — a date which will live in infamy — the United States of America was suddenly and deliberately attacked by naval and air forces of the Empire of Japan.

The United States was at peace with that nation, and, at the solicitation of Japan, was still in conversation with its government and its emperor looking toward the maintenance of peace in the Pacific. Indeed, one hour after Japanese air squadrons had commenced bombing in Oahu, the Japanese ambassador to the United States and his colleague delivered to the secretary of state a formal reply to a recent American message. While this reply stated that it seemed useless to continue the existing diplomatic negotiations, it contained no threat or hint of war or armed attack.

It will be recorded that the distance of Hawaii from Japan makes it obvious that the attack was deliberately planned many days or even weeks ago. During the intervening time the Japanese government has deliberately sought to deceive the United States by false statements and expressions of hope for continued peace.

The attack yesterday on the Hawaiian Islands has caused severe damage to American naval and military forces. Very many American lives have been lost. In addition, American ships have been reported torpedoed on the high seas between San Francisco and Honolulu.

Yesterday the Japanese government also launched an attack against Malaya.

Last night Japanese forces attacked Hong Kong.

Last night Japanese forces attacked Guam.

Last night Japanese forces attacked the Philippine Islands.

Last night the Japanese attacked Wake Island.

This morning the Japanese attacked Midway Island.

Japan has, therefore, undertaken a surprise offensive extending throughout the Pacific area. The facts of yesterday speak for themselves. The people of the United States have already formed their opinions and well understand the implications to the very life and safety of our nation.

As commander in chief of the Army and Navy I have directed that all measures be taken for our defense.

Always will we remember the character of the onslaught against us. No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people, in their righteous might, will win through to absolute victory. I believe I interpret the will of the Congress and of the people when I assert that we will not only defend ourselves to the uttermost but will make very certain that this form of treachery shall never endanger us again.

Hostilities exist. There is no blinking at the fact that our people, our territory, and our interests are in grave danger.

With confidence in our armed forces — with the unbounded determination of our people — we will gain the inevitable triumph — so help us God.

I ask that the Congress declare that since the unprovoked and dastardly attack by Japan on Sunday, December 7, a state of war has existed between the United States and the Japanese Empire.

Hanukkah means dedication

Hanukkah celebration began Wednesday and will continue for eight days.

For all Jewish military personnel at Reese interested in attending observances at temples off base, contact Chap. (Lt. Col.) Arnold G. Johnson, Ext. 3237.

Hanukkah, which is Hebrew for dedication, is a celebration of the first victory in the fight for religious freedom. It marks the rededication of the Temple in Jerusalem in pre-Christian times. In the second century, Antiochus, King of Syria, defiled the Temple, turning it into a pagan sanctuary where sacrifices were offered to heathen gods. Jewish religious practice was forbidden.

The Jews revolted under the leadership of the Maccabees and won the first war ever fought for religious freedom. To celebrate they cleansed the Temple, rededicated it and rekindled the perpetual light, a symbol still found in Judaism today. The festival continued for eight days.

To commemorate this historic victory for religious freedom, Jews all over the world light candles and exchange gifts for eight days.

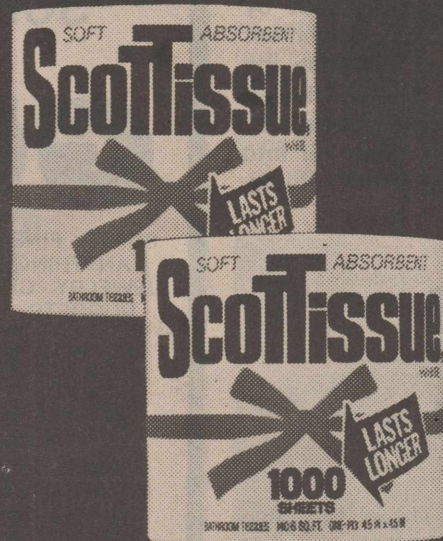

On the first night of Hanukkah one candle is lit in the menorah, a special candelabra used only during Hanukkah. An additional candle is added each night until the last night when all eight candles are glowing brightly.

Children especially enjoy Hanukkah because they receive Hanukkah gelt, money or chocolate candy shaped like coins. Other Hanukkah traditions include playing with dreidles, Hanukkah tops, eating potato latkes, pancakes, and singing songs including Maoz Tzur, an old Hebrew melody telling of this first victory for religious freedom.

CPSC recalls toys/stereos

Approximately 2,300 stuffed mobile toys which may pose a strangulation hazard to infants are being recalled by their importer, Albert E. Price, Inc., of Bellmawr, New Jersey.

Although no deaths or injuries have been associated with these toys the two that are being recalled are a duck, model 9160, and elephant, model 9161.

Parents should immediately cut off the cords and the spring. To receive a full refund, consumers should return the toy to place of purchase.

Also, 5,600 stereo turntables are being recalled by their manufacturer, Philips High Fidelity Laboratories Ltd., of Knoxville, Tennessee, because they may pose a shock hazard to consumers.

The recall includes Philips turntable models 22AF685/44B and 22AF685/94B.

Anyone wishing to verify the model numbers for either toy mobiles or turntables should contact CPSC's toll-free Hotline at 800-638-8326.

Toys for Tots drive underway at Reese

Reese will join forces with the Marine Corps during December in an effort to provide Christmas presents for local underprivileged children in the Toys for Tots program.

Families at Reese benefit from the program according to 1st Lt. Stephen H. Gladstone, 1958th Comm Squadron, the Reese representative for this year's campaign.

Lieutenant Gladstone requests each squadron or division to run an internal program to collect toys and appoint a project officer to be in contact with him for answers to all questions about the campaign.

Some ideas which may be helpful to make the campaign a success are: bake sales, "bring a toy to commander's call," and car washes.

Times for collecting toys from each squadron or division contributions have been sent through distribution by Lieutenant Gladstone. For more information contact him at ext. 3179.

Also, volunteers are needed to repair bicycles, which will be sent from the Lubbock area, and make dresses for dolls.

This year's campaign is striving for new toys.

SMSgt. John Wilson has set up a barrel at the main gate for individual toy drop-offs.

NEED QUICK CASH FOR CHRISTMAS?

We are acting as agents for new doll collectors who are buying old or used dolls regardless of age or condition. Dolls in good condition and/or that are around 8 yrs old and older bring premium prices — however fair offers are made on any and all dolls.

Running Rattlers face Army squad

On a dry track, always go with the speed horse.

Reese's running Rattlers hope that holds true as the speedy quintet takes on William Beaumont Army Hospital here this weekend.

And the track is fast. The base gym floor has just been refurbished and the traction is the best it's been on the Reese hardwood in years. From the opening tip, the Rattlers should come out of the gate on the dead run.

Traveling from El Paso, Texas, the William Beaumont team is the second New Mex-Tex Basketball Conference foe to play here and the third league opponent

Reese has faced this year. Reese beat Cannon AFB, N.M. in the season opener for both teams and lost a tough series at Holloman AFB, N.M. two weeks ago.

The Rattlers, 3-2, are shooting for their fourth and fifth wins of the 1980-81 campaign. Saturday's game is slated for a 7 p.m. tipoff while Sunday's game is scheduled to get underway at 1 p.m.

Coach Michael McKelvey's charges hope the homecourt advantage will help them bounce back from the losses at Holloman. The Rattlers went into that series without having had a practice in nearly a month because of the work being done on the gym floor.

El Paso Andress' Dennis Washington challenges Big Spring's Anthony Wright during second round action of an earlier Reese Christmas Classic. Big Spring and Andress will both be shooting for the President's Division title this year. Andress has won the title twice while Big Spring is making its first appearance in the tourney since 1977. The Christmas Classic features 16 prep teams and runs from Dec. 18-20. (U.S. Air Force photo)

54th opens cage defense

Making it look easy, the 54th Flying Trianing Squadron rolled past the 1958th Communications Squadron Monday night as the defending intramural champion walked away with a 49-19 win.

Three intramural teams put one up in the win column during opening night action. Supply Squadron ripped the 64th Student Squadron, 59-44, and the 35th downed the 3500th Resource Management Squadron, 40-30.

D.J. Johnson paced the 54th FTS to victory in its first title defense of the season. The 1958th had only five players suit up for the game.

Three varsity players, Terrence Wilson, James Wilkerson and Cristobal Stevenson, each scored in double figures as Supply lived up to its preseason billing as one of the top candidates to dethrone the 54th.

The 35th rode Bryan Murphy's 17 point effort to a 10-point win over RMS.

League games are played every Monday through Thursday with action starting at 6, 7 and 8 p.m. Eleven teams are competing for the eight playoff berths. Each team will play every other team twice during the season. The top eight teams will advance to the double-elimination tournament for the intramural title.

Falcons take on Raiders tonight

Charged by a Tuesday night win over Doane College, the Air Force Academy Falcons take on the Texas Tech Red Raiders in the Lubbock Coliseum tonight at 7:30.

The Academy cagers enter tonight's game with a 1-2 record. After dropping road games to Fresno State, 55-40, and Stanford, 58-52, the Falcons beat Doane in Colorado Springs, 71-49.

Leading the Falcons against Tech will be three year starters Tim Harris and Reggie Jones. The 6 foot 6 Harris is the team's leading scorer and canned 20 points against Doane. At 6 foot 7, Jones leads the Falcons on the boards. He netted 12 rebounds Tuesday night.

One of the top matchups in tonight's game will be the pairing of a pair of 6 foot 4 guards. The Falcon's super soph Rick Simmons will likely draw Tech's Jeff Taylor, perhaps the best leaper in the Southwest Conference. Greg Lewis will start at the other guard spot and will have to handle Bubba Jennings, the MVP of last year's Reese Christmas Classic.

The Falcons are 1-6 against the Raiders. The last win for the Academy was 69-66 in overtime win in 1973. Despite the lopsided edge, most of the games have been tight.

Tickets for the game will be available at the coliseum door.
