Christmas Day.
The men, Lewis and Albert Williams, brothers, decided to join a group of small children who were banging away at each other with cap pistols. Lewis, 23, borrowed a toy pistol from one of the urchins and joined the play.

Albert, about 21, needing a 'weapon' got a small shotgun, a .410 gauge—from the house, thinking the gun was unloaded, and joined in the game. A few minutes later the shotgun was accidentally discharged, part of the blast striking Lewis on the right cheek, inflicting a nasty wound. He was carried to the Haskell Hospital where the injury was dressed and Lewis was released Wednesday morning.

The entire incident was termed an accident by officers.

Christmas guests in the home of Mrs. Opal Rose included Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Rose, David and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Taggart and Vicki, all of Abilene, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Seets, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Seets and Lynn, and Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Priddy of

The New Year 1959

It is time once again to observe the holiday of the New Year, to joyfully celebrate the fact that we have come to another turning point in the recording of man's time on earth.

In keeping with custom, gaiety is the keynote of the New Year observance. This is the time of year when we don't mind letting our hair down-or covering it up with a gailycolored party hat. For some peculiar reason-as if we in some way personally contributed to the fact that another year has been successfully concluded-we enjoy a feeling of accomplishment. Yet, New Year's Day, like the greater holiday of Christmas which it so closely follows, brings to us much more than another chance to be gay and happy with ourselves.

The New Year rightfully should be a time for reflection-not in the nostalgic vein-but with a careful eye of appraisal. While it is well enough to "never look down" from the heights, the wise man-in-a-hurry must look back over his shoulder from time to time if he is to accurately estimate his progress and achievement.

We are mostly happy with the arrival of a New Year because it is our nature to plan and to dream of better things in the future. We like the chance to start again with "a clean state" which provides plenty of room for the recording of new ambitions, new aims and new achievements. But, we sometimes forget that January 1 brings only a change in the calendar and the postmark on our letters. We are still the same person that we were on December 31.

If we are then to profit from the New Year 1959, we must determine that our experiences during 1958-the accomplishments, failures and the things left undone-give some indication of our chances for success during the year ahead. We can look to the future, but we must build on the past.

We sincerely hope that 1959 will be a year of achievement, peace and prosperity for us all,

New Targets

During the month of January, the annual March of Dimes campaign will be conducted again. And the 1959 observance will be the most important in its long history-and the most deserving of universal support.

The March of Dimes was originally directed at polio, and out of it came the great Salk vaccine. The polio fight is not over—as the Detroit epidemic of this year demonstrated. It will be continued until final victory is won.

Mis

But now the March of Dimes is to do much more. It is sponsored by The National Foundation, hitherto known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. That change in name is mightily significant. For the March of Dimes is moving against new targets. The first of these are two of the greatest cripplers of all-arthritis and birth defects. At least 11 million Americans suffer the pain of arthritis and rheumatism, and some 250,000 infants are born each year with some sort of defect. The National Foundation will now bring its great resources to bear in seeking victories over these cripplers-even as it continues its work in the field of polio.

The March of Dimes needs your help. Give it-enthusiastically and generously.

Who Pays For It?

It was pointed out recently by the Texas Tax Journal that it takes all the U. S. ircome taxes paid per year by about 19 average private industry employees to pay the annual salary of one average civilian worker employed by the Federal The Federal government employs 2,323,947 civilian work-

That number again is two million, three hundred and twenty-three thoursand, nine hundred and forty-seven.

To keep these workers occupied, the government owns 700 substantial corporations and 19,000 small businesses of all kinds, in addition to many service organizations. These corporations lose about $10 billion a year, but instead of going out of business they simply chalk up a deficit and continue to operate

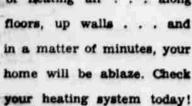

Pay for the government's 2.3 million civilian employees last year was $11 billion-equal to about one-third the total tax of all Federal individual income tax payers.

That's a lot of employees, and a lot of government, and an awful lot of taxes.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Need an extra New Year'. resolution? Written by an unknown au-thor, the following poem en titled "A Driver's Prayer" could be the basis for a reso-lution by all of us.

Dear Lord, before I take my place Today behind the wheel Please let me come with humble heart Before Thy throne to kneel-And pray, that I am fit to drive

Each busy thoroughfare,
And that I keep a watchful eye Lest some small child be

And keep me thinking constantly About the Golden Rule.

When driving past the play-ground zones Or by some busy school Then when I stop to give

His right to cross the street. Let me—my brother's keeper And spare a life that's sweet. Please make me feel this car

I drive You gave me to enjoy. And that its purpose is to serve Mankind, but not destroy.

It's been a long time ago, but there's one Christmas Ewell Lusk will always remember as the time he learned to respect those king-sized firecrackers known as "baby giants." Closely related to dynamite, the power-packed peliets were the forerunner of today's Atlas. You could put a "baby giant" under a tin can or bucket, light the fuse and the resultant ex-plosion would almost put the container in orbit.

Sending buckets and cans skyward was kid stuff to Ewell. With a brace and bit he bores a hole in the trunk of a big tree. In goes a "baby giant"," the fuse was lighted and Ewell steps to a safe place behind the tree. Minutes pass and nothing happens. Taking a cautious peek, Ewell sees a weak spark. He started blowing gently into the hole to ignite the fuse. the hole to ignite the fuse from the spark. It worked— fast—and Ewell still has small power burn specks to remind him of the experience.

Fred Allen, in addition to being an expert shoe repair-man and leatherworker, has a natural sense of humor and a flair for pulling pranks on his friends. A typical one follows.

Years ago, when hospitals were few and far between, neighbors would take turns "sitting up" when someone became ill.

One of Fred's neighbors got sick, and his friends were dutifully staying at his bedside, tending to every want. Apparently enjoying the solicitude lavished on him, the old boy just wasn't making any headway toward recovery, in fact was thriving on the attention he was receiving.

One night Fred and a friend were sitting up with the patient, who was extremely fretful and demanding. Sometime after mindnight the old boy, his even closed would mean his eyes closed, would moan occasionally, all the time fit-fully picking at the stitches in the quilt over him with one hand he had out from under the cover.

Feigning care not to awaken the patient, Fred in a loud whisper, told his friend: "Notice how he's picking the cover? That's a sure sign he's not going to last much longer, poor old boy. But it's good riddance for his family." for his family,"

In a few minutes the cover picking stopped. Moans came further apart and finally stop-ped. By morning the old boy was a lot better, and in a few days he was up and around.

"But you know," Fred chuckles, "that old boy was never very friendly with me after he got well."

Attention to details can be time consuming to the point of aggravation sometimes, particularly legal technicalities involved in settling or administering an estate, we learned the other day.

A group in Judge Ben Char-lie Chapman's office was discussing legal "red tape," the whys and wherefors of seemingly insignificant things the aw requires to b the discussion, Bill Ratliff told the story of a backwoods farmer who was made administrator of his father's estate when the old man passed on.

Anything he did involving the estate called for endless reports and red tape. One day after selling a hog and some corn, the farmer was tediously working by lamplight that night making out records of the transaction. Finally completing the task, he told his wife: "You know, sometimes I wish Paw hadn't died."

Four Seymour youths, all teen-agers, were having quite a lark Saturday night tossing lighted firecrackers onto the highway from their car, timed to explode in the pat of oncoming motorists.

The fun ended when the youths unknowingly tossed a lighted firecracker at a car occupied by a Highway Patrol-man. The officer gave chase and after overtaking the culprits, carried them before a magistrate in Munday. Result was a $16.50 fine for one of the youths and a warning to the group against shooting fire-works on a highway.

Saturday's unexplained explosion which wrecked a part of the Wilfong Service Station and slightly injured one person, was reminiscent in many respects to the blast about this time nine years ago that wrecked the IOOF Building and Hassen's department store on the ground floor of the Firemen were glad, in both instances, that fire did not follow the explosions.

Firemen point out that if fire had broken out following the explosion at the service station Saturday, there would have been grave danger to the many onlookers who were attracted to the scene. Mindful of the tragedy at Brownfield recently when sveral persons were killed when a butane truck exploded after catching fire, Chief Jim Byrd of the local fire department suggests that spectators remain at a sale distance from any fire un-til it is brought under con-

In Ireland for instance, Christmas Eve a large candle was burned which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary.

Many Uses For Christmas Tree After Holidays

There are a number of uses to which you can put your Christmas tree after it has served its purpose in the home.

You can cut off the longer branches and "plant" them as windbreaks to protect outdoor plantings such as low-growing boxwood, azalea, yew, rhododendron and juniper. Little tee-pees can be built around exposed shrubs and tender plants. This will protect them from biting, drying winds and pre-vent snow and ice from accumulating and bending the plants out of shape. Other branches curved end up over flower beds when the ground is exposed will prevent

Miss Ella Gowens And Floyd Rogers Wed In Crosbyton

A December wedding of in-terest to relatives and friends here was solemnized in Crosby-ton when Miss Ella Gowens of that city became the bride of Floyd Rogers of Haskell.

The double ring ceremony was read at 1 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 13 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gowens, with the Rev. Wayland Boyd, pastor of Crosbyton First Baptist Church officiating.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rogers of

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a streetlength dress of white embroidered broadcloth, fashioned princess style featuring a full flounce in back. The scoop neckline dress was topped with a Chantilly lace jacket, de-signed with Peter Pan collar and long sleeves tapering to points. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion fell from a white flower hat. She carried white carnations on a white Bible.
At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

In the house party were Mrs. Donald Gowens, Mrs. Delmer Gowens, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Odell Justus, aunt of the bride, all of Cros-

'The Geisha Boy' Opens Sunday At Texas Theatre

Sunday is the day that will bring to movie fans the special kind of fun and laughter they haven't enjoyed since the last Jerry Lewis picture, "Rock-a-Bye Baby." It is the day Jer-ry's new Paramount product-"The Geisha Boy," Technicolor and VistaVision. orens at the Texas Theatre, with Marie ("The Body") Mc-Donald and Sessue Hayakawa co-starred.

"The Geisha Boy" gives Jerry new fields of activity-this time he carries on in Japan and Korea-and word has it that he makes the most of them, as only he can. The comedian will be seen in the role of an inept magician with a USO unit, whose rabbit (Harry Hare, according to the billing) is a lot cleverer than he is. Jerry meets a beautiful Japanese girl (Nobu Atsumi Mc-Carthy) and her cute little nephew (Robert Kazuyoshi Hirano) who attaches himself to the entertainer in a way that complicates Jerry's life hilari-

Marie McDonald has the fitting role of a screen and television glamour star of the USO troupe that includes Jerry. much to her regret, for he makes her life miserable (alaccidently of course) from the moment they take off for the Orient. Hayakawa by an odd coincidence, plays a Japanese bridge-builder, stern father of Nobu, who figures in a riotous spoof of "The Bridge on the River Kwai," one of the comedy highlights of the pic-

Employers Of Farm Help Must Report Wages Paid

An important date for farm operators to remember is Jan. 31, 1959. On or before that time, employers of farm help must report the amount of cash wages paid farm workers during 1958 to the district director of the Department of Internal Revenue. This statement applies to all farmers who employ farm workers whose work meets the definition of Agricultural Labor, as defined by the social security law. To determine if your farm worker is covered by the social security law there are three (3) tests which can be applied.

Test 1 includes all agricultural workers who are paid $150 or more in cash wages during 1958. In determining if the $150 a year test is met, all cash wages must be included regardless of whether paid on time, piece-work, or other

Test 2 includes those workers who perform agricultural or more days during the year for an amount computed on a time basis. The time basis may be by the hour, day, week, etc. (In determining if this test is met, count only the days on which the employee worked for cash pay, computed on a time basis. However, if the 20day-year test is met, all cash wages paid during the year, whether on a time, piece-work, or other basis, are subject to social security tax.)

The third test concerns domestic service in the private home of an employer. If the service is performed on a farm operated for profit, the domestic employee is considered an agricultural worker and must meet either test 1, or test 2.

If your agricultural worker meets any one of the three tests, your yearly report show-ing the worker's name, social security account number, and amount of cash wages paid during 1958 must be submitted by Jan. 31, 1959, to the District Director of Internal Revenue. The report should be made on Treasury Department Form 943 and can be obtained upon application from the Internal Revenue Service. This form requires that the social security tax of 41/2% of all wages paid for 1958 up to a total of $4200 in the year for an individual employee accompany the report (24% should have been deducted from the employee's wages and 21/4 % is to be paid by the employer.)
The employer must pay the total tax of 4½% regardless of whether or not the 2¼% is deducted from the employee's wages. To facilitate accurate reporting, the employers should keep records showing the employee's name, social security number, number of days work-ed, cash paid, and the amount deducted as tax from the worker's wages. Your failure to report an employee timely and properly may jeopardize his rights to bene-fits (monthy benefits at retire-ment age 65 for men, 62 for women, benefits to him and his dependents if he is totally disabled at age 50) and payments to his survivors if he should die.

If you have any questions regarding coverage of your agricultural workers, please contact your local social security office. Your local office is located at 203 Fannin Street Abilene, Texas.

Sam Baugh and Davey O'Brien. John's finest year was his junior year in 1939, when he led Texas A&M to the national championship and past Tulane in the Sugar Bowl.

In 1940, with John in th driver's seat, the Aggies won the Southwest Conference and defeated Fordham in the Cotton Bowl.

Kimbrough, who is a mem-ber of both the All-Time Cotton Bowl and All-Time Sugar Bowl backfields, carried 399 times in three seasons for 1,535 yards.

His importance to the team was his ability to bull for neccessary yards and in many games they came in spurts. In 1940 against SMU John carried eight straight tmes to net 30 yards and score an Aggie touchdown.

Homer Norton, Aggie coach, rated Kimbrough in his alltime All-American backfield Bronko Nagurski, Red Grange and Jim Thorpe.

As a sophomore, John scored his first collegiate touchdown against Baylor in 1938 and first gained attention by his line plunging in that game.

As a junior he scored touchdowns and netted yards in 142 carries. In 1940 he carried 162 times for 611 yards and scored seven touchdowns in nine regular season games and one against Fordham in the Cotton Bowl.

In 1954 Kimbrough was named to the National Football Hall of Fame which is perpetuated at Rutgers University.

When he graduated from Texas A&M in the spring of 1941 Kimbrough signed with the New York Yankees (the football pros) for a reported $35,000 for one year, at that time the highest amount ever paid a college star. He played #### and won his pilot wings. Returning to Haskell, he has been engaged in the retail and wholesale oil business, farming and ranching, and also served in the Texas Legislature.

In addition to his business activities, both Mr. and Mrs. Kimbrough are active in church and school affairs and community life.

TRADE NAMES

Trade names are curious words, often with no apparent derivation, "Kodak" for example, was the result of Geo. Eastman's experimenting with hundreds of combinations of letters in an effort to coin a short, punchy and easily remembered trade-mark for his camera.
