

Memorial Day honors those who died

Ah, another three-day weekend. To many, the one beginning May 23 means the beginning of the summer period and students will be out of school soon. It also means commissioning time is just around the corner for ROTC detachments and the academies.

But it is more than that. It is the time to honor those service members who died in all U.S. wars.

To honor the 4,000 of the 290,000 participants in the American Revolution.

To honor the 2,000 of 287,000 participants in the War of 1812.

To honor the 13,000 of the 79,000 participants in the Mexican War.

To honor the 1,000 of the 106,000 participants in the Indian Wars.

To honor 364,000 of the 2,213,000 participants in the Civil War who fought for the Union forces. And to honor the 133,821 of the estimated million participants who fought for the Confederate States.

To honor the 11,000 of the 392,000 participants of the Spanish-American War.

To honor the 116,000 of the 4,744,000 participants of World War I.

To Honor the 406,000 of the 16,535,000 participants in World War II.

To honor the 55,000 of the 6,807,000 participants in the Korean Conflict.

To honor the 47,000 of the 9,834,000 participants in the Vietnam War.

Let us not forget these service members. Let us take time this Memorial Day to honor them.

Pay bill offers more benefits

Senator Roger Jepsen, chairman, Senate Armed Services Committee, Subcommittee, Manpower and Personnel, introduced the "Uniformed Services Pay and Benefits Act of 1981" in the Senate on May 14. The proposal contains several features similar to those in Nichol's Armed Forces Pay Act of 1981 (HR 3380) that was favorably reported by the House Armed Services Committee on May 12.

Senator Jepsen indicated that his bill is intended to:

Help to restore pay comparability between the military and private sector salaries;

Relieve pay "compression" and generally provide larger pay differentials between first term and career members to provide positive career inducement;

Enhance pay rates for middle and senior enlisted grades to provide incentives for promotion, career advancement and retention;

Add new longevity increases at 24 years of service for E7-E9 and at 28 years for E-9 to encourage longer service; and

Provide increased retention incentives for mid-career officers and more appropriately recognize officers in this category whose superior

Commander urges holiday safety

by Col. Monte Montgomery wing commander

Memorial Day signals the beginning of summer. To celebrate this, many of us are making special plans for the long holiday weekend.

Sadly, along with the increase in recreational activities comes an increase in the number of mishaps. We are all familiar with newscasts that predict how many of us will be killed and injured during a holiday period. Last year, the Memorial Day weekend was the deadliest holiday period of the year.

This year will be no better unless we all keep safety in mind during all of our activities. We must not take shortcuts on the job in order to start the weekend early. We must not plan to drive long distances without adequate rest. We must wear seat belts in our cars and helmets on our motorcycles. We must be aware of the hazards involved in water sports. We must all exercise good judgment if our activities involve alcohol. When driving or boating, we must use caution for others who may not be using good judgment.

The holiday weekend should be a time for fun and relaxation, not tragedy. We can make our activities enjoyable and safe at the same time. All it takes is that we stop and think. I challenge each of you to strive for a mishap-free, fatality-free holiday.

Col. Monte Montgomery

'Dear HEART' offers advice

Editor's Note: The Dear HEART column will appear here from time to time. Questions answered in this column reflect a representative sample of questions typically asked by readers.

Dear HEART:

My husband and I try to follow all your advice about food and other things. I have also tried to keep my teenagers from eating food high in cholesterol and saturated fat, but have not succeeded very well at all. As soon as they earn any money, they spend it on the wrong kind of food. Or they go to friends' houses and gorge themselves there. I am tempted to let them eat what they like. Would that be really dangerous?

Dear Reader:

There is no immediate danger. The chance of a teenager suffering a heart attack is extremely slight. However, there is increasing evidence that much of the heart disease in this country can be traced to childhood eating habits.

In one study, a group of Mid-Western children under fourteen were found to have much, much higher levels of cholesterol than a comparable group of children in Mexico. These levels were not high enough to threaten any immediate heart disease, but they certainly indicated that the child eating a "typical" American diet is laying the groundwork for big trouble later.

Obviously, if we want to give our children the best possible start in life, we should encourage them to avoid the foods that are known to cause high levels of cholesterol in the blood. Unfortunately, many of the foods that children like best such as hot dogs, hamburgers, and bacon, are loaded with saturated fat. Ice cream, butter, whole milk, and most types of cheese not only contain saturated fat but also cholesterol. Eggs pack enormous amounts of cholesterol in their yolks. Candy, pre-sweetened cereals, and soda pop can boost the level of triglycerides, which contributes to the blocking of arteries.

When it comes to occasional treats, or meals outside the home, we would certainly not try and prevent your children from eating any of these foods. If you take a hard line, they may well rebel against you and spend all their money on "forbidden" snacks. The most important thing is to develop good food habits that will last the child a lifetime. You can best do this by serving meals at home that are tasty, varied, satisfying, and also healthy. When the children ask questions about the food you serve, explain the facts about heart disease as fully as you can. Children are very quick to understand about all types of pollution, including pollution of the blood stream with excess cholesterol and triglycerides.

We are delighted that you and your husband are trying to follow our advice. The fact that you control your weight, don't smoke, and get regular exercise will do much to set your children on the right path. But we would like to add one word of warning. If you act as if you are dying for a cigarette, or as if it's a constant struggle to control your weight, or the exercise program is a tedious chore, your children are unlikely to follow your example. If you take a positive attitude to heart health, and convince your children that your new way of life is not only sensible but much more enjoyable than the old, they should develop good health habits without giving it a second thought.

WAS IT WORTH IT?

Some people aren't aware that it's a criminal offense to disobey the regulation that says you have to keep your dormitory room neat and clean... well, it is. The Reese Airman First Class who lived in this health hazard was aware of the mandatory standards, he just didn't follow them. The result? His commander imposed a suspended reduction to Airman (E-2), ordered him to forfeit $200 (with another $200 suspended), and had him perform extra duties for 14 days. The mess in the room wasn't as big as the mess he's now made of his previously clean record - not to mention his career.

Air Force Association concludes annual drive

by Capt. Robert Brooks
AFA project officer

The recent Air Force Association (AFA) Membership drive which was conducted at Reese AFB from 13 April to 15 May was a complete success. Preliminary results show that 130 new members joined AFA during the campaign here. Among UPT bases ATC-wide, Reese was NUMBER ONE! Such a fine showing attests to the concern of our men and women for building and maintaining a strong Air Force.

Colonel Monte D. Montgomery, Wing Commander, extends his personal thanks to each new AFA member. "The new members will be better informed, better able to speak out for Air Force needs, and by joining AFA, they will strengthen AFA programs that bring all Americans the facts about the dangers we face and the strength we need to be secure," Colonel Montgomery said.

Although the official membership drive has ended, it is not too late to join AFA. Anyone interested should contact the membership drive chairman, Captain Bob Brooks, ext. 3354, for further information.

*FOR THOSE of you who missed the editorial in the May 13 morning issue of the Avalanche-Journal entitled "Word of Thanks," I decided to reprint it here.

"For Reese AFB WORD OF THANKS. Reese Air Force Base personnel, both military and civilian, are to be complimented for another "good show" during the base's annual open house the past weekend.

"Held in the sad shadows of a tragedy which marred and caused cancellation of the famed Thunderbird exhibition, the RAFB personnel nevertheless carried on in the tradition of the Air Force.

"Reese AFB people, who in addition to serving our nation, also are our neighbors and fellow citizens, are due a rousing round of applause for a job well done, not just for open house but every day."

Those words mean a lot to me and you should take pride in them as well. However, we at Reese are the fortunate ones in having such good neighbors and friends as those who live in the Lubbock area. Their support makes our jobs a lot easier.

*IN 1980, Memorial Day weekend was the Air Force's deadliest holiday period, and the year ended as our worst in ground fatalities since 1977. Through the end of March, we have recorded seven on-duty and 44 off-duty fatalities Air Force wide. Traffic mishaps remain the number one cause. Additionally, the threat of water mishaps will increase during the summer months. During the Memorial Day weekend last year the command experienced one drowning mishap fatality, but even the loss of one military member is more than ATC can afford to lose. Each of us must adequately brief all personnel prior to the Memorial Day holiday weekend. Briefings should include lessons learned from previous fatal mishaps and must cover all activities that our personnel may participate in during their leisure time. With your help, I know that Reese and ATC can be not only fatality free, but mishap free during this extended off duty period.

*A NUMBER of Reese personnel will soon be asked to complete a Variable Housing Allowance survey. The data collected from the survey will be used to determine the amounts of VHA that will be added to BAQ for our area. I cannot over emphasize the importance of this survey. Last year we had a fairly good response rate and as a result, Reese has VHS. Without an accurate and timely response this year, we could lose the VHA authorization. If you are one of those selected, please fill out the survey and return it according to the directions you will receive as it will directly impact on the welfare and morale of all the persons receiving or eligible to receive VHA.

*I WANT to remind base personnel to water their lawns and trees on a frequent basis. The rains of a few weeks ago left our lawns green. But it is evident that some personnel are not watering because the grass is turning brown in some areas. Also, you need to get the grass pulled out of the cracks in sidewalks. A little effort by everyone will ensure a beautiful base for all to enjoy.

*CONGRATULATIONS to TSgt. Bruce F. Kumler of Security Police. He has been named by ATC as their nominee for top honors in the Air Force Information Security Program. Sergeant Kumler is one of the many outstanding troops that make up our security police force. I want to pass on my appreciation for a job well done to all the Security Police and augmentees who worked traffic and crowd control during our open house. They put in a long, tiring day with the spirit and dedication they are known for at Reese. Your work does not go unnoticed by me or my staff. Again, thanks.

*A CARE Line caller wants to know if civilian employees are allowed to participate in intramural sports such as softball. Unfortunately, it is ATC policy to limit intramural sports to military personnel. Civilian employees are excluded for two reasons. Welfare funds required to conduct intramural sports are authorized for military personnel only. Secondly, there is always the chance that a civilian player could prevent a military athlete from participating. For these reasons, we have no choice but to follow ATC policy.

Early communicators were real bird brains

by SMSgt. Robert A. Pike tower chief controller

During World War II, Jungle Joe, a four-month old pigeon in a parachute container, was dropped with an American airborne patrol far beyond the Japanese lines in Burma. In the jump the radio operator was lost, and the unit was thus deprived of radio contact with headquarters.

Jungle Joe spent seven days in a small bamboo container while the patrol collected valuable information on Japanese positions and troop movements. Then he was liberated with an urgent and secret message. Flying 225 miles through hawk-infested country and over lofty mountains, he delivered the fateful bit of paper which led to the capture of a large section of Burma by Allied Troops.

Jungle Joe was one of the earliest forms of "Secure" Communications. Today, secure voice lines enable commanders to get information to vital sources immediately. Secure voice lines are just one aspect of the Air Force Communications Command's mission. AFCC provides the communications, air traffic control services and automatic data processing services that support the need for rapid and reliable command and control of U.S.

aerospace forces around the world.

July 1 marks AFCC's 20th Anniversary as a major air command. The anniversary theme is 'A PAST OF PRIDE - A FUTURE TO FULFILL.'

AFCC is represented locally by the 1958 Communications Squadron, Maj. Kelly W. Cartron, commander.

Safety Wise

Last year over 7,000 people lost their lives in water related mishaps. This month, 5 Reese people almost did. Swimming, boating, fishing, and skiing have become one of our favorite change of pace past time activities.

The crowds around the lake on weekends are huge. It seems as if the whole town is there having a good time. Many of them mix alcohol with their activities. As the day progresses individuals become complacent, take chances, forget common sense rules, and we add another to the statistics.

The activities in which we engage around the lake must have safety as an integral part. Here is a list of a few things that may make your boating weekend safer:

1. Master the Water: As a skipper or a passenger, you should be able to swim and take care of yourself in the water.
2. Know Your Boat: A boat should be used for the purpose it was built. Pleasure, racing, and fishing craft are all constructed differently.
3. Learn Good Seamanship: There's much more to handling a boat than just flipping the key or manning the tiller.
4. Keep Your Boat Seaworthy: The seaworthiness of your craft means more than just keeping the leaks out of it.
5. Limit Your Load: Waves can easily swamp a small boat that is overloaded or has an unbalanced load.
6. Step Lightly, Mate: Keep your seat as much as possible. Standing up, as safe as it may seem, is one of the most common causes of getting tossed overboard.
7. Be a Skilled Pilot: A good pilot knows how to handle his boat, and he never lets the fact that he's having fun interfere with his skill, courtesy or common sense.
8. Be Your Own Lifesaver: The right preparation almost always means the difference between success or failure in meeting an emergency.
9. Storm Warnings: Small craft are the first to be signaled to shore in the event of stormy waters.
10. Last and Certainly not Least: Sailboaters — watch those masts. A tall mast and a low power line together can provide a "shocking" end to your weekend — or your life!

Reese Red Cross volunteers join in national observance

Reese has several active volunteers that patients are likely to meet during visits to the hospital. These volunteers are; Kathy Youngers, recording secretary, dental clinic; George Ann Fulton, flight surgeon's office; Eugene Grimshaw, who works the emergency room Monday through Friday; Pam Drake, OB/GYN; Theresa McKeithen, flight surgeons office; Marie Mortensen, OB/GYN; Lori Rushfeldt, pediatrics; Melanie Schofeild, flight surgeon's office; and Lynn Wright, chairman of volunteers.

Volunteers in these and other sections do a variety of jobs including taking blood pressure, vitals, screening patients, guiding patients throughout the hospital, chaperoning for female patients, filing, typing, and offering a friendly hand and a pleasant smile to those who are in pain or are just tired and confused. It is a very rewarding job, as anyone who enjoys helping people can affirm.

In 1881 Clara Barton founded the American Red Cross and today, 100 years later, it is still going strong. The programs are somewhat different, but the goals are still the same, to aid in disaster relief and to assist the armed forces.

In June the Red Cross will be initiating a volunteer program for youths, ages 13-19. This will be a first for Reese. The program will run from June 8 til August 14. Registration forms will be

"We can always use more volunteers like those at Reese. Enthusiastic, hard workers help us to promote the program."

*Diane Albrecht-Thomson

The American Red Cross at Reese is but a small facet of a nation and worldwide organization. The volunteer program is an important part of the hospital's function.

On May 18, the hospital staff honored the Red Cross volunteers with a reception in the

The records section and appointment desk at the hospital are especially in need of volunteers. For more information please call 885-4571 and ask to speak to the Red Cross liason.

Youths will work with different volunteers such as Eugene Grimshaw, who works the emergency room. Beginning in June, youths ages 13 through 19 can register for the new volunteer program offered at Reese.

Reese plans annual camp

Volunteers are needed to work as counselors for Reese's annual Easter Seals Summer Day Camp next month.

The program, which offers mentally and physically handicapped people from the Lubbock area the opportunity to attend a summer camp, is scheduled for June 8-12 and June 15-19.

Some of the activities planned for the camp are swimming, organized sports, ceramics, music and group games.

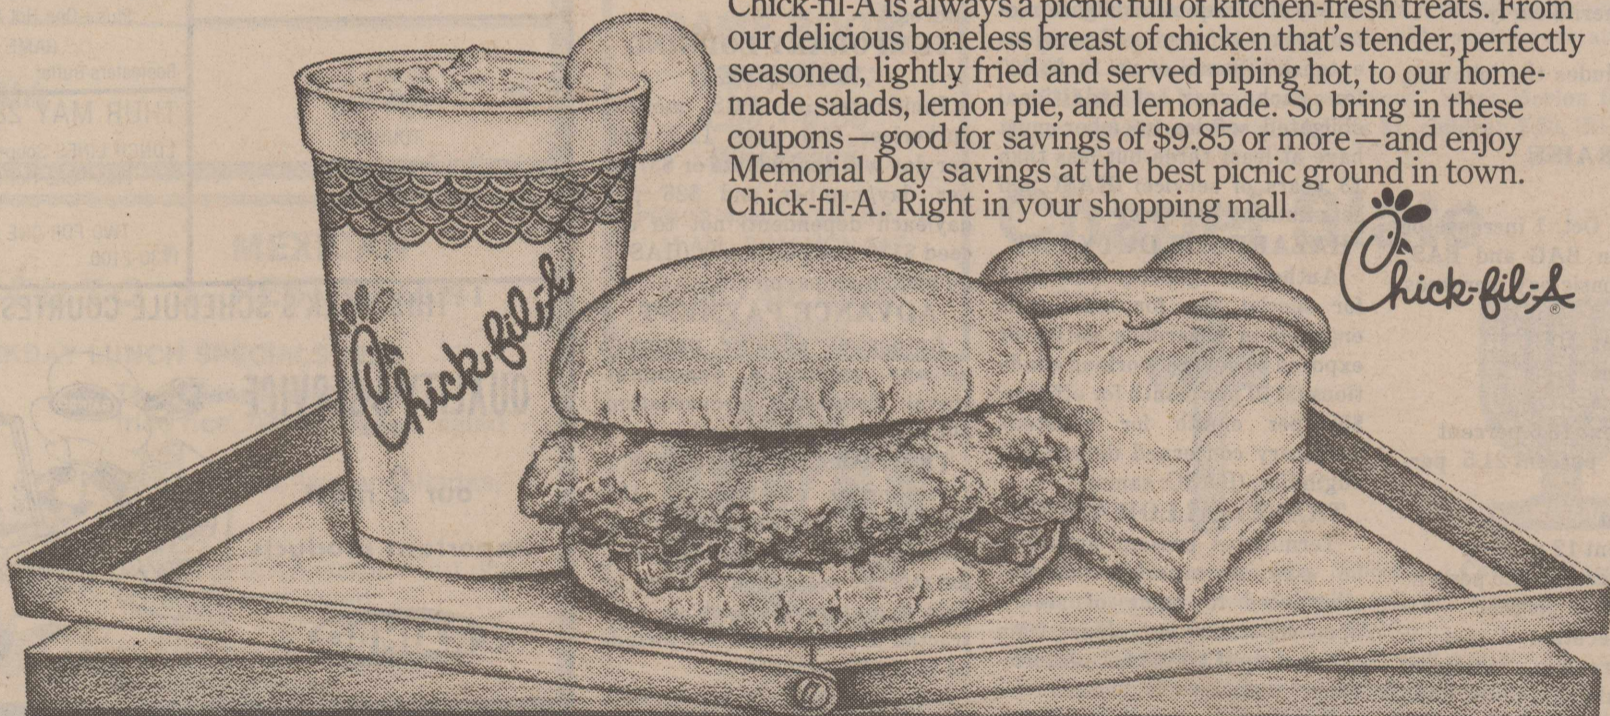

The camp is staffed by volunteers from Texas Tech, Reese and the remaining Lubbock area. Meals during the camp will be donated by various Lubbock restaurants. The camp is free.

Anyone wanting to know more about the camp or to volunteer to serve as a counselor should contact 1st Lt. Thomas Dollahite at Ext. 3689 or Sgt. Susan Finkbeiner at Ext. 3284.

Congress considers pay bill

performance merits early promotion.

The bill includes the following provisions:

PAY RAISE

Provides for Oct. 1 increase of 14.3 percent in BAG and BAS, plus targeted basic pay increases as follows:

- E-1: 7 percent
- E-2: 8 percent
- E-3: 9 percent
- E-4: 10 percent-13.6 percent
- E5-E9: 13.7 percent-21.5 percent
- O-1: 9 percent
- O-2: 10 percent-12 percent
- O-3 - O-5: 13 percent-17.5 percent
- O-5 & Above: 13 percent

However, Executive Level V Ceiling would remain unchanged.

The bill would also sever links between annual military and GS civilian pay raises; requires Secretary of Defense and Bureau of Labor Statistics to develop new pay raise linkage with private sector based on annual survey that is appropriately weighted to reflect the mix of occupations and skills required by military services (HASC would provide 14.3 percent across-the-board).

FLIGHT PAY

Increases Aviation Career Incentive Pay (ACIP) for officers with 6-25 years by approximately 30 percent ($400 max.);

Provides ACIP ($250 per month) to officers (O-6 and below) with over 25 years assigned to and performing operational flying duties;

No increase for officers under six;

Provides 25 percent across-the-board increase in Enlisted Air-Crew Flight Pay — ranges from $86-$164 — (not in HASC bill);

ENGINEERING AND SCIENTIFIC OFFICERS

Provides accession bonus of up to $15,000 (requires obligation of four years service); and provides extension bonus of up to $3,000 for each year of additional obligated service (member must have at least three but less than 13 years of service) (HASC bill sets limit at 19 years).

HAZARDOUS DUTY PAY

Authorizes general authority for special pay for individuals engaged in hazardous duties or exposed to severe working conditions ($110 per month for officers; $55 per month for enlisted); Secretary concerned determines eligibility; (HASC: same).

TRAVEL ALLOWANCES

Terminates present authority to pay a member travel allowances to home of record upon separation or release from active duty if travel not performed;

Requires member to have honorably served at least 90 percent of enlistment or other agreement;

Requires member to fulfill conditions prescribed above to qualify for transportation of dependents, baggage, and household effects.

Transportation must occur within 90 days of member's separation on release (HASC: not address).

TEMPORARY LODGING EXPENSE

Incidental to PCS moves, authorizes four days TLE ($50 per day w/o dependents or $37.50 per day/member and $25 per day/each dependent) not to exceed $110 day per family (HASC: no maximum payment).

ADVANCE PAYMENT

Authorizes advance payment of any applicable dependent travel, dislocation or evacuation allowances (HASC: same).

TEMPORARY STORAGE

Authorizes exception to 180 day storage limitation to protect member from personal liability for storage costs incurred due to duty requirements such as protracted deployments (Not included in HASC bill).

TRAVEL EXPENSE REIMBURSEMENT

Authorizes reimbursement for travel from the old duty station to the port of vehicle embarkation and from the port of vehicle debarkation to the new permanent duty station (not included in HASC bill).

Civil Engineer's Steve Leary stroked a grand slam homer last week to give CE a 22-18 win over the Security Police and the early intramural softball lead.

Leary's heroics came in the top of the third with one out. CE had built a 15-0 lead, saw that evaporate to a 15-15 tie and then gone up by three. Leary's grand slam blast gave CE a seven-run cushion going into the bottom of the inning. The Security Police, who had scored all 15 of their runs in the second, cut the final score to 22-18.

Earning hitting honors for the losers was John Sanderson. The SP bomber hit two homeruns in the second inning. After leading off with a solo shot he hit a grand slam of his own.

The CE win raised the squadron's record to 3-0 on the year, tops in the league. Earlier in the week CE blanked Organizational Maintenance, 10-0.

There were three one-run games last week. Resource Management beat the Hospital, 14-13, in extra innings, the 35th scored a 6-5 win over the Hospital and the 1958th Communications Squadron edged the 35th, 15-14.

The league's only other unbeaten team, Sturon, routed Field Maintenance, 21-11. Bouncing back from its opening night upset, the defending champion 54th Flying Training Squadron posted a 13-7 win over the Security Police and an 18-14 win over Supply.

In other loop action, Supply shut out Comm., 10-0; OMS stopped Air Base Group, 24-14; and FMS beat Group, 13-9.

tramural basketball league, after one full week of play, are:

Reese Rattlers rally; take tournament title

After being bounced into the loser's bracket in the opening game, the Rattler varsity softball team strung together seven straight wins to claim the Scott's Batting Machine tourney title here last weekend.

The comeback performance included two extra inning victories. The second was a nine-inning duel that decided the championship.

After beating Soccer Locker, 6-3, to set up the if necessary title game, Reese fell behind, 2-1, in the first inning. The Rattlers pushed five runs across in the bottom of third to take the lead, but, Soccer came right back with two in the fourth and fifth innings.

The game remained scoreless until the ninth when Jessie Victor legged out an inside-the-park homer to put Soccer Locker up, 7-6.

With one gone in the bottom of the ninth, Steve Harvey, singled to center. James Maxwell followed with a line shot that carried over the rover's head. Harvey and Maxwell scampered home to give Reese the championship.

In earning the title, Reese lost to Lubbock Builders, 6-3; then beat Joe Fry, 5-1; Flames, 7-0 (forfeit); Valley Pump, 6-5; Lubbock Builders, 7-2; Scott Batting Machine, 10-1 and the Soccer Locker, 6-3 and 8-7.

The tourney win raised the Rattlers season mark to 29-6 on the year.

"Whataburger is always country fresh."
 —Mel Tillis

Believe me, because I make my living in Nashville, I know country. And I know fresh. So when I order a hamburger, I want the freshest ingredients, like lettuce, tomatoes, pickles and onions topping my burger.

And I know that's exactly what I get at Whataburger®. Without paying extra for the fixin's!

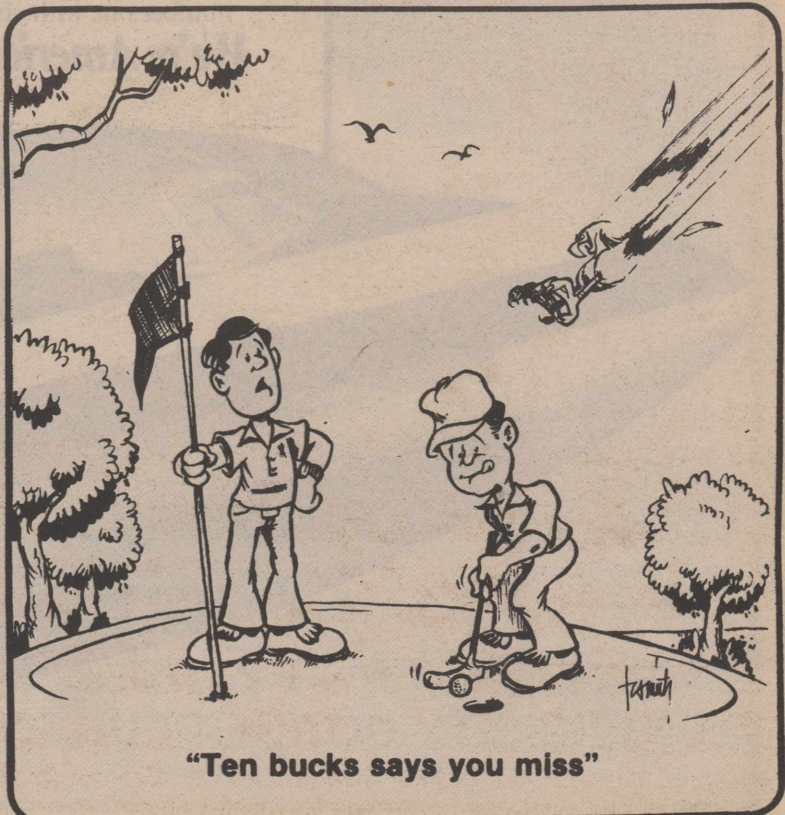

It's that special Whataburger flavor that keeps me coming back time after time. Because it's not just a hamburger, it's a...
