

New tool designs encouraged

Capt. John A. Neubauer
Functional Check Flight Off.

Safe conduct of operations is a top Air Force priority. Each year, many ground and flight mishaps occur because existing tools were inadequate or because the proper tool was not available. We must correct these deficiencies in equipment and procedures before they cause accidents. Project Rightwrench was initiated to prevent such mishaps.

Project Rightwrench will use the Air Force Suggestion Program to process suggestions for new design or redesign of special tools. The program is being conducted on a trial basis, and for now, participation is limited to Air Training Command personnel who maintain ATC aircraft, simulators and systems trainer devices. Project Rightwrench will be evaluated later this year in July and, with favorable results, will be expanded into nonaircraft maintenance areas such as civil engineering and transportation.

Project Rightwrench will process suggestions in accordance with AFR 900-4. Each AF Form 1000 should be annotated "Project Rightwrench" and forwarded to the suggestion office. If the suggestion is approved by the Headquarters ATC Project Rightwrench review committee, they may authorize up to a $50 cash award to the suggestor. In addition, the committee will select a "tool of the month" winner and award end-of-project trophies.

Air Force people represent a potent source of new ideas. We can expand our mishap prevention efforts by re-evaluating our tools and suggesting ways to redesign them. The challenge is yours—you can help develop safer, better ways to do the job.

Lt. Gen. John P. Flynn, U.S.A.F. (retired)

Lt. Gen. John P. Flynn, U.S.A.F. retired, will be the guest speaker at Thursday mornings National Prayer Breakfast at the officers' club beginning at 7 a.m.

The breakfast line will begin serving at 6:30 a.m. Tickets for this year's National Prayer Breakfast are $3 each and are available at the chapel.

General Flynn will arrive Wednesday afternoon via a T-38. The retired Air Force officer is now the director for the National Bank of Fort Sam Houston. He is also the National President of the Daedalians and the chairman of the Advisory Council to the administrator of the V.A.

General Flynn's military career has been long and varied. He entered military service in February 1942 as an aviation cadet.

Commissioned in May 1944, he flew combat missions in World War II, the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam Conflict. Eventually he moved through the ranks to become the vice commander of the 388th Fighter Wing stationed in Thailand. He was shot down over Hanoi on October 27, 1967 and remained as the senior prisoner of war for 5½ years.

During his more than 24-year Air Force career General Flynn held numerous staff and operational assignments in the Washington D.C. area. His total service overseas is 16 years and two months.

General Flynn left active military service in November 1978. His position at that time was as the Air Force Inspector General.

The general is highly decorated. He has earned the Air Force Cross, three Distinguished Service Medals, Silver Star, three Legions of Merit, Six Distinguished Flying Crosses, Bronze Star for Valor, 17 Air Medals, and two Purple Hearts for wounds sustained in combat and prison. His awards go on, over 50 more.

Since his retirement, General Flynn has moved to San Antonio where he is active in several veterans and military organizations.

General Flynn and his wife, Mary Margaret, have five children and six grandchildren.

For more information about the speaker or this year's National Prayer Breakfast contact the chapel, Ext. 3237.

ATC seeks a name for the T-46A

(ATCNS)—What should the Air Force call its T-46A Next Generation Trainer? The person who best answers that question will receive personal recognition from the Air Training Command commander and a trip to ATC headquarters.

Gen. Thomas M. Ryan Jr., ATC commander, has approved an official "name the T-46 Contest" open to all military members and Department of Defense civilian employees assigned to ATC or any of its bases.

Contestants may enter as many times as they wish, but only one name can be submitted per entry. All entries should include the proposed aircraft name as well as the contestant's name and grade, base, organization and duty telephone number.

All entries should be mailed to: NAME THE T-46 CONTEST, Headquarters ATC/PAM, Randolph AFB, TX 78150. Entries must be postmarked no later than March 15, 1983 to be eligible.

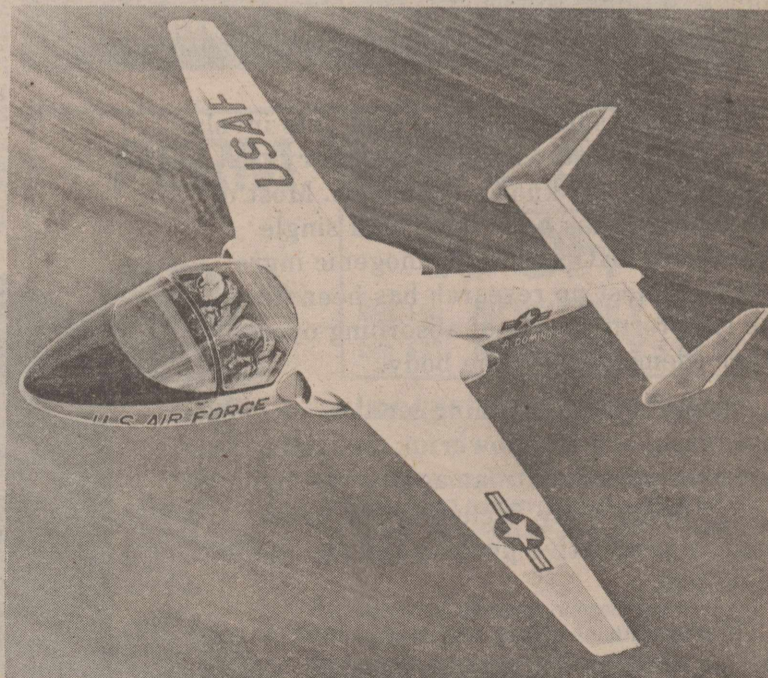

The T-46A is scheduled to enter operational service in 1987 as a replacement for the Air Force's current primary jet trainer, the T-37. Like the T-37, the T-46A will feature a side-by-side seating design and a twin-engine configuration. Unlike its predecessor, however, the new trainer will have a pressurized cockpit which will allow it to operate at much higher altitudes.

Naming the new aircraft will be no simple matter. According to general guidelines established by Air Force Regulation 82-1, candidate names should:

- be short, one word designators (Examples: T-38 TALON, F-4 PHANTOM, F-15 EAGLE);
- aptly fit the mission and characteristics of the aircraft;
- not duplicate those already approved for other military items, and;
- be publicly suitable and not infringe on any trademark.

Announcement of the winner will be made later this year after assurance the candidate name is original and free of any trademark restrictions. In the case of duplicate entries, the winning contestant will be selected by drawing.

Editorials

From General Ryan

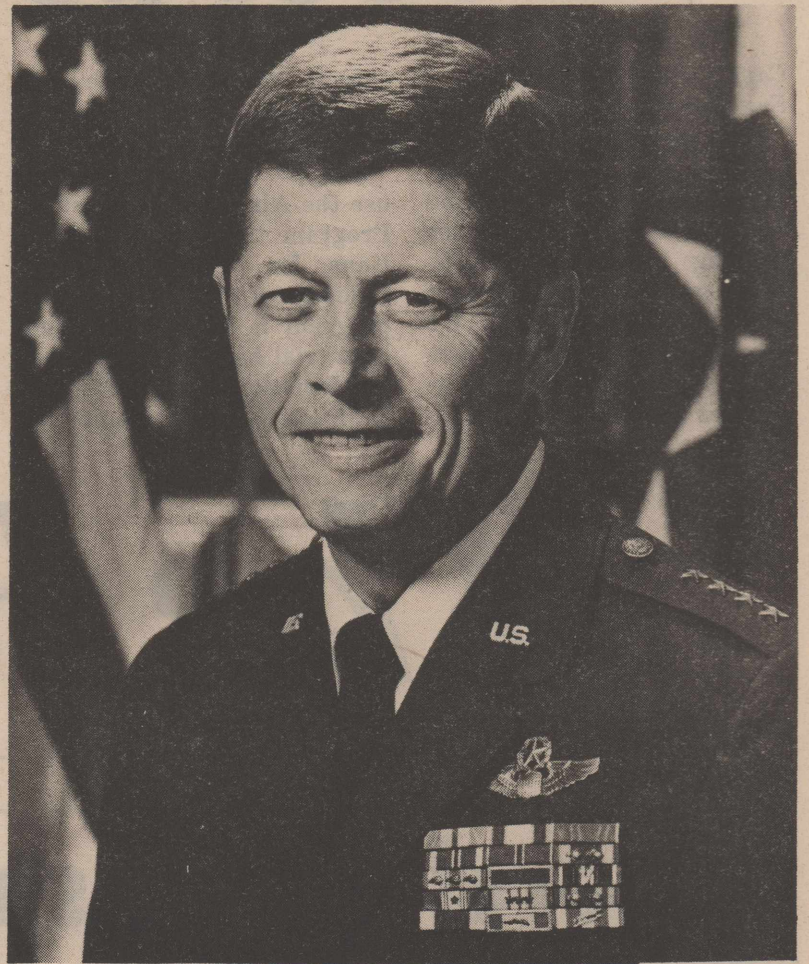

February is Black History Month, an annual observance to recognize the contributions Black Americans have made to the development of our nation.

Since the early days of our Republic, black Americans have contributed significantly to our cultural heritage. While struggling to achieve justice and social equality, they have, in the process, produced leaders in all fields of endeavor.

In our nation's armed forces, they have served honorably and with distinction in both war and peace. Like all Americans, black servicemen and women stand ready today to defend our nation's freedoms whenever and wherever they are threatened.

Air Training Command bases will host numerous programs and special events to commemorate Black History Month during February. I encourage maximum participation in these observances and urge all ATC members to learn more about the contributions made by Black Americans to our national heritage.

The drug scene

*by CMSgt. Jerry Price
Reese Senior Enlisted Advisor*

In light of our recent drug-related problems at Reese I think that it is important for you to understand not only some of the health problems associated with smoking marijuana, but also how drug abuse impacts on the leadership in this wing.

The following is an excerpt from a speech given by Everett J. Grindstaff, president of Lions International.

"Drug abuse is among the most serious criminal and social problems we face in the United States. Marijuana is the most widely used illegal drug. Some of the known effects of marijuana include: a reduction in one's ability to think, to focus, to concentrate, to create, to learn, to communicate and to conceptualize.

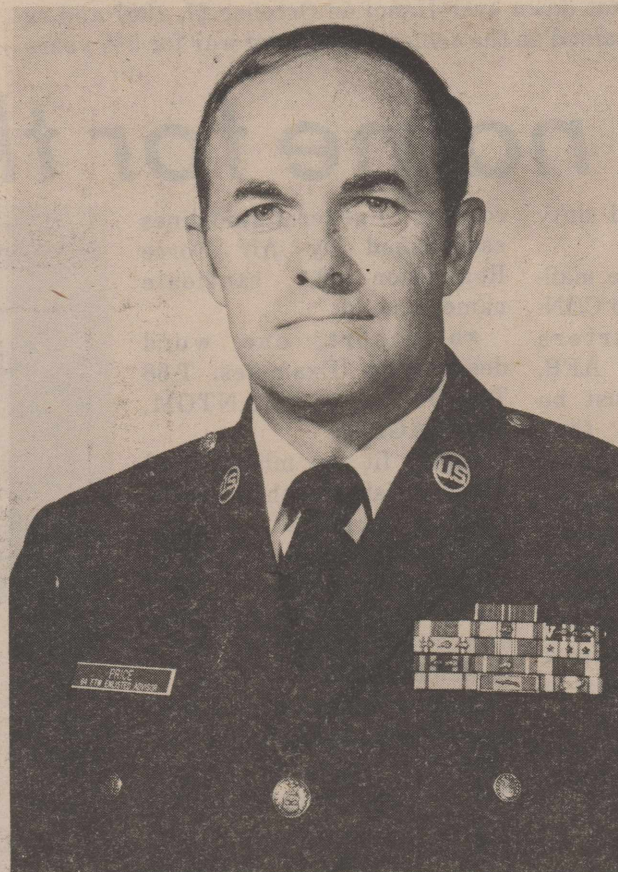

"A person smoking marijuana gets involved in some pretty complex chemistry that includes some 421 known chemicals. Most of the research has been done on a single chemical—THC (the hallucinogenic ingredient). Almost no research has been done on the long-term effects of absorbing over 400 other chemicals into the body.

"There is overwhelming medical evidence that marijuana is a powerful, damaging drug. It causes permanent damage to the major organs of the body, including the brain, lungs, reproductive process and the immunity system.

"Marijuana stays in the body, lodged in the fat cells, for an extended period of time. One week after smoking only one marijuana cigarette, 30 to 50 percent of the THC remains in the body. It takes four to six weeks to eliminate all THC from the body. Mental and physical performance is subtly downgraded during this entire period of time.

"Five typical marijuana cigarettes have the same cancer-causing capability as smoking 112 cigarettes. Using the stronger forms of marijuana—senisnella—one cigarette is equivalent to roughly 110 conventional cigarettes in producing carcinogens (cancer producing products)."

Chief Price

In addition to the health hazards, smoking marijuana is against the law. As you know, offenders here at Reese are dealt with swiftly and severely. However, the purpose of this article is not to try to scare anyone, but rather to tell it like it is.

The facts are that the leaders in this wing who have to impose punishment on drug offenders spend just as many sleepless nights as the offenders; maybe more. The leaders also have just as many knots in their stomachs as the offenders; maybe more. No one takes pride in assessing punishment.

The facts are that the leaders in this wing are legally and morally obligated to our country and to your family to make sure that you are healthy and productive. When you have finished your commitment to the Air Force, the leaders in this wing want you to be able to go home with your head high and your chest out because you have served your country and brought honor to your family by doing so. The leaders in this wing want your babies to be born healthy, so that they will have the same chance in this life that you have.

Have a nice day.

CARE Line

The CARE Line is prepared by Col. Richard E. Hearne, 64th Flying Training Wing commander. All information provided to the CARE Line will be held in strict confidence. Callers are urged to give their name and duty number so that a personal reply may be made; however, neither are mandatory. Callers are urged to use the CARE Line only after all possible means to air complaints through the chain of command have been exhausted. The CARE Line Ext. 3273.

I HAVE RECENTLY RECEIVED several CARE Lines with unfavorable allegations concerning the Child Care Center. Unfortunately, the CARE Lines have been anonymous, making it difficult to investigate specific charges. For the record: Available indicators such as customer comments, financial statements and personal observations show our Child Care Center to be a well-managed and very popular base activity. In addition, outside visitors and inspectors have praised and sanctioned care-giving, educational and nutritional programs. Unfortunately, the nature of this activity makes it extremely difficult to satisfy all employees and parents.

We will not tolerate mismanagement or racial discrimination. If you have some specifics that can be verified, please let us know. Also, there are EEO and grievance programs available for those who perceive racial prejudice, abuse or unfair treatment.

A DEPENDENT HUS-

BAND called in during the recent snowy weather to compliment the folks at the base hospital who kept their sidewalks shoveled, making it a lot less hazardous for those who had to visit the hospital during that period. He was especially pleased by the fact that, even though the base was closed until 9:30 a.m., the shovelers were out cleaning the walks before the start of the duty day.

"I think it is very admirable," he commented, "and I think that the airmen out here should be commended for doing an excellent job." So do I, and here's to the hospital for another job well done.

THE MANAGER OF THE Welch Jewelry and Trophy concession at the Main Exchange would like to pass along his appreciation to BX customers who have been patient with his new operation. The turn-around in watch and jewelry repair has been slow initially, but he expects it to improve now and looks forward to providing better service in the future.

AN ANONYMOUS CALLER QUESTIONED the effectiveness of the recent snow removal efforts in the family housing area. Specifically, he had difficulty parking and moving his vehicle after the January 1 storm and was concerned about the lack of snow removal progress during the days immediately following.

I can assure you that all available resources were used for snow removal about the base. However, our snow removal resources are limited, and precluded clearing Village streets as quickly as desired. Our initial concern was to clear the main streets on base to provide for fire and medical routes. We did make an effort to clear the main streets in the Village on the first of January; but thereafter, the majority of our snow removal equipment had to be utilized around the clock to clear the ramp, runways, taxiways and access roads. I regret any inconvenience that resulted in the housing area.

Professionally speaking

The U.S. military establishment was founded on and is steeped in tradition, traditions that are often the foundation for customs, courtesies and protocol. They guide our military profession. In the spirit of tradition, Professionally speaking will inform and re-acquaint each of us with our military heritage.

This week, let's continue with a discussion of saluting.

You salute officers senior to you in government vehicles, provided the vehicle has a flag or rank plate identifying the occupant's rank.

You do not salute officers in private autos unless you are a security policeman performing traffic control duties, and when doing so will not interfere with your duties.

You are not required to salute while in civilian clothes, but the practice is not forbidden.

Engrave it now; get it back later

That's right. Engraving your valuable items now greatly increases the chances that if you are ever robbed or lose your personal property you'll get it back, according to the 64th Security Police Division's Crime Prevention Unit.

For more information about how you can get your property engraved, call them at Ext. 3613.

Bad check fees will cost more March 1

The fee will rise to $15 from $10.

Military members can accept jury fees, but ...

The Comptroller General of the U.S. has ruled that active duty military members performing jury duty may keep jury fees as long as they are on leave. Jury duty performed while not on leave entitles members to no such fees.

There is no authority within the Joint Travel Regulations to reimburse members for necessary parking fees or any other out-of-pocket expenses while on jury duty.

Active duty personnel receiving jury duty fees must turn them in to Military Pay, Bldg. 800, Room 105.

causes accidents

Mistakes cause all accidents. Can you think of any mishap that can not be traced back to a human mistake?

The big M is a stumbling block in any driver's career. The more mistakes, the better the chances are of being involved in an accident.

The conclusion seems obvious: Eliminate mistakes and you eliminate accidents.

But it's not quite that simple. There are other drivers' mistakes to think about. You can not keep them from happening, but you can put up the ultimate defense. Expect every kind of mistake and then decide how to evade the risk involved. You can't miss.

Speakers bureau seeks voices

Learning to speak in public is an important part of nearly everyone's job in the Air Force today, where the ability to communicate effectively can mean the difference between success and failure. The Reese Speakers Bureau can help you by providing opportunities to address civic groups, school assemblies and classes, and other civilian groups, giving you vital experience in the communicative arts while at the same time letting you help to tell the Air Force story to the public.

The speakers bureau needs sharp, articulate spokesmen and women to represent the base and the Air Force in the local communities. If you think you'd like to give it a try, even if you have little or no public speaking experience, call the Public Affairs Office at Ext. 3843 to sign up.

"Gong show". This will be your chance to show off, clown and have a good time. Military members and their dependents, clubs, organizations and base civilians are welcome to compete. The "Gong show" should take place later this month or in early March.

If you wish to participate in the "Gong show", contact Capt. Patricia Andrepont, Ext. 3800 or 2nd Lt. Tom Ridings, Ext. 3520. Whatever your talent is, it ought to be humorous. Be it singing, skits, one man acts or whatever. The "Gong show" will be held in the base theater. Cost is $2 per spectator or participant.

Why the cover charge? This project will help raise money for the Ballenger School in Lubbock. They need a photo copy machine. This school deals exclusively with mentally and physically handicapped children, ages 3 to 21. The school presently handles approximately 136 children, and even though they are a part of the Lubbock School System, the system is unable to come up with funds for a photo copier.

Former spouse legislation

Recent legislation, Public Law 97-252, extends medical care benefits and commissary, exchange and theater privileges to certain former spouses as of Tuesday. This new law authorizes unmarried former spouses to these benefits provided they satisfy all of the following conditions:

Divorce from the member must have occurred on or after February 1, 1983;

Former spouse must have been married to the member for a period of at least 20 years;

And during the period of marriage the member must have performed at least 20 years of service which is or was creditable in determining eligibility for retired pay.

Marijuana courts-martials

On Jan. 25 a Reese airman was court-martialled for distributing 10 ounces of marijuana. He was sentenced to be confined at hard labor for one year, forfeit all pay and allowances, be discharged with a bad conduct discharge, and reduced to airman basic. Three more drug related courts-martials are scheduled for February 15, 16 and 17 starting at 10 a.m.

Teeth can be Texas tough

(Editor's note: During February the Roundup will run articles regarding dental health care in support of Children's National Dental Health Month. The dental tips are prepared by Dr. (Capt.) Randy Barkley, assistant base dental surgeon and Preventive Dentistry officer)

Every parent knows that children can play pretty roughly. Clothes get torn, and at times teeth are accidentally knocked out. But these teeth can be saved if you act quickly.

The best thing to do is to quickly pick up the tooth by the crown section, rinse (not brush or scrub) with cold water, and place it directly back into the empty socket or inside the mouth between the teeth and cheek. If your child is very young and this is impossible, then wrap the tooth in a moist towel or place the tooth inside your mouth, and then seek immediate dental treatment.

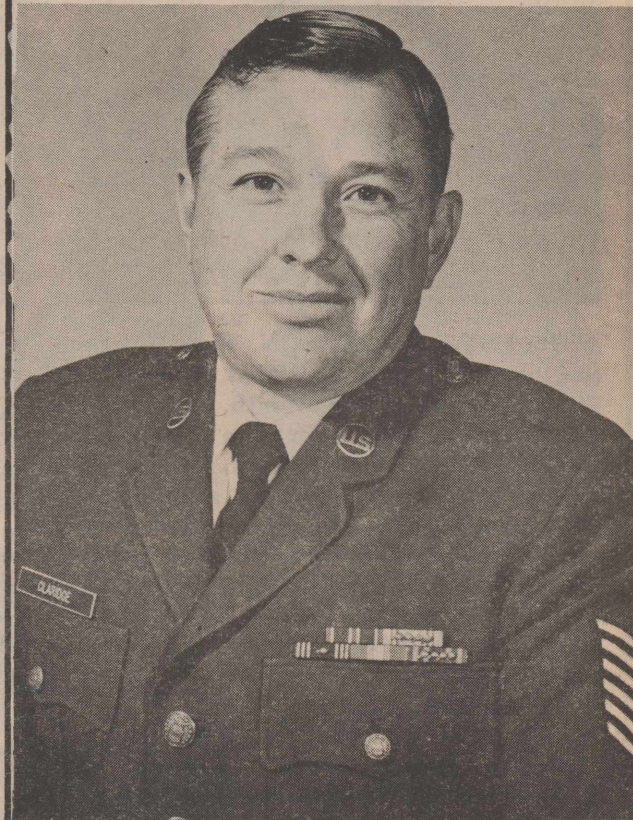

Be very careful not to let the tooth get dry. Furthermore, avoid touching the root section so as not to disturb the delicate fibers required for reattachment.

Teeth can be Texas tough, but the possibility of successful replantation decreases the longer the tooth is out of the socket and/or the drier it becomes. The first fifteen minutes are critical, so it pays to be prepared.

Cellist plays at Sunday brunch, Feb. 13

Pamela Frame, a young cellist who plays great sensitivity and tonal beauty will be performing background music from 12-1:30 p.m. during the Sunday Buffet Brunch, Feb. 13. Frame will appear at the Reese Officers' Open Mess as part of her visit to the Texas Tech University Music Department as an Affiliate Artist. Her trip is sponsored by Aetna Life. Since graduating from the Manhattan School of Music in 1977 Pamela has studied the cello in Europe under the tutelage of some of today's great masters. She has performed in concert and solo throughout the United States. The Sunday buffet brunch is open to all Reese persons.

Wing names airmen of the month

A1C LESTA ANDERSON, flight operations administration specialist, is the 64th FTW Airman of the Month, November 1982. Airman Anderson is a registered emergency medical technician. He entered the Air Force in June 1981 and is now working towards a nursing degree.

A1C VERNON PUTNAM, administration specialist for wing administration staff support, is the 64th FTW Airman of the Month, December 1982. Airman Putnam entered the Air Force in November 1980. Aside from his duties, he is enrolled in CCAF.

Dining hall changes may cause some inconveniences

The Wing Dining Hall is undergoing changes.

Services is aware that everyone is "overjoyed" at the prospect of eating off paper plates, but it can not be avoided. The dishwasher, a very old model, finally quit.

The new dishwasher has arrived, but could take as long as a month to get it installed. Pardon the paper plates for now: The new dishwasher will be in operation as soon as possible.

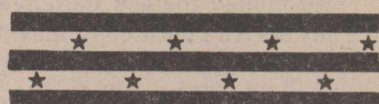

Another item of patron concern is the new surcharge. The Air Force implemented the higher surcharge rate Jan. 1. The new rate will help offset dining hall operation costs around the Air Force.

In effect when you bring your spouse or a guest to the dining hall for that 50 cent hamburger and french fries, it will cost $2.65 after the $2.15 surcharge is added.

The surcharge also applies to officers not normally authorized to eat in the dining hall.

And finally, the air dining hall's air conditioning is being revamped. Because of the project, there will be times when the dining hall will have only one side open at a time. Work should be done around mid-May.

Tex Hill • An impressive flyer ends career as an ace • Becomes youngest Nat. Guard brigadier gen.

by Lt. Col. Ken White
ATC Office of Public Affairs

David Lee "Tex" Hill. Even the name has an impressive ring to it.

The man. Even more impressive.

Born in Korea the son of missionary parents, "Tex" Hill began his flying career as a U.S. Navy torpedo and dive bomber pilot. But when Gen. Claire Chennault put out the call for volunteers to form his Flying Tigers in Burma in 1941, Hill was one of the first in line.

From then until he left China three years later, Japanese pilots saw a lot more of the business end of "Tex" Hill than they'd bargained for.

Operating their tiger-nosed P-40 Tomahawks from grass and dirt strips, the Flying Tigers, facing unbelievable hardships and swarms of Japanese aircraft, wrote a chapter in military aviation history without parallel.

Chased from one location to another by Japanese air and ground forces . . . getting their fuel, ammunition and supplies in a haphazard manner . . . performing aircraft maintenance under the trees . . . living in small enclaves under constant enemy attack, the Flying Tigers took to the air again and again to devastate the Japanese air armadas.

During an eight-month period, a handful of swift, heavily armed P-40s, piloted by courageous and skilled aviators, destroyed 297 Japanese aircraft. Twelve of those fell from the sky under the guns of "Tex" Hill's Tomahawk.

After America's entry into the war and the deactivation of the Flying Tigers in the summer of 1942, Hill accepted a spot promotion to major in the Army Air Corps from General Chennault and remained in China to activate the 75th Fighter Squadron and later to command the 23rd Fighter Group. The 23rd was probably the only air unit in American history to be activated in the field, under fire.

Before returning to the states in late 1944, "Tex" Hill

and his P-51 Mustang scratched another six aircraft from the Japanese inventory. It is believed that he was the first to down a Zero with a P-51. Altogether, Hill destroyed 18 and one-quarter enemy aircraft to place him among today's top living American fighter aces.

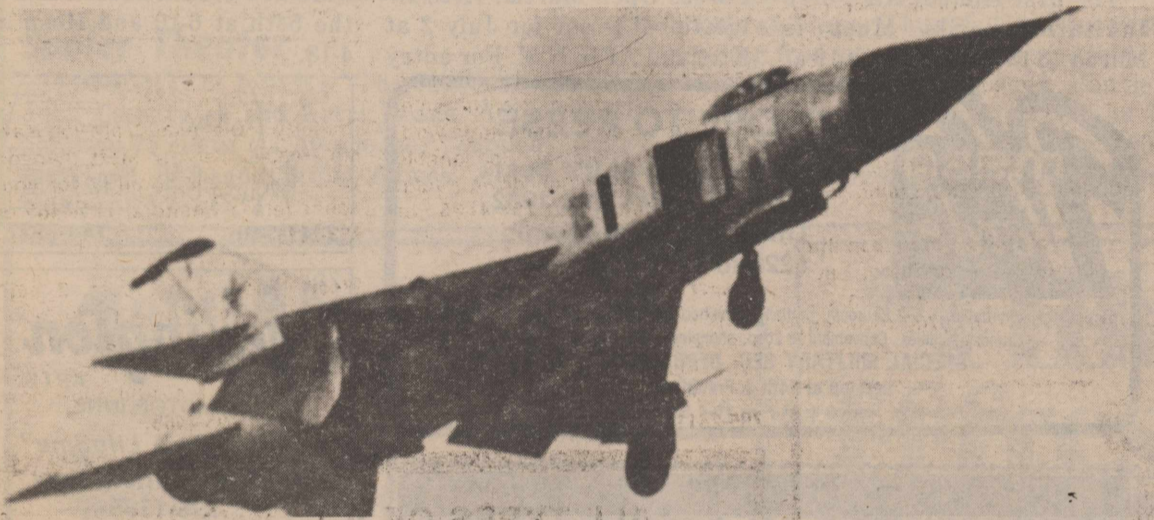

During the closing months of World War II, Hill commanded the 412th Fighter Group, the first jet unit in the Army Air Forces. The group flew the Bell XP-59 and later the Lockheed P-80.

In July 1946, "Tex" Hill

resigned his commission and left active duty. Shortly thereafter, he joined the Air National Guard and became the youngest brigadier general in the history of that service. He retired from the military in 1968.

Today, he resides in San Antonio, in the heart of the state that gave him his nickname when he flew the Flying Tigers.

David Lee "Tex" Hill. A gentle man with the eyes of an eagle, the courage of a lion, and an unqualified love of God and country.

TO IDENTIFY THIS Project Warrior jet call, Ext. 3843. Last week's helicopter was the Soviet Mi-4, better known as the "Hound". Only a few recognized it, but a lot more tried. SrA. Steve Hisel, SSgt. Robert Dewey, Sgt. Michael Keel and A1C Jay Cote were the only four with the right answer.
