Lakes Making Big Catches...

September Rains Best Since '36

Autumn's biggest news so far in the Snyder area is rain, and already it is the wettest September here since 1936.

Heavy overcast skies held promise of even more before the current wet spell moves out.

For the record, a total of 1.75 inches-me assured at the city water plant Saturday morning pushed the month's total to 8.07 inches. This puts September of 1980 in third place on the area rainfall record.

The most rain recorded here in September was 10.50 inches in 1932. Then came 1936, with 9.01 inches for the ninth month.

The continued wet spell brought encouraging news from area lakes, and, although it came too late to help this year's cotton and maize crops, huge benefits were expected for ranges and stock tanks, along with the winter grain prospects.

Also, area farmers were suddenly recalling the West Texas adage that "next year's crop is made on this fall's moisture."

As for area lakes, the catch at Lake J.B. Thomas will be considerably greater than forecast Friday. Colorado River Municipal Water District officials said the elevation of the lake 20 miles southwest of Snyder had reached 2222.88 by Saturday morning and the Colorado River was still flowing some 10 feet deep into the lake.

The amount of water impounded had increased some 3,500 acre feet to a total of 33,500 feet and it was still on the rise. Based on reports from upper reaches of the watershed Saturday morning, CRMWD officials were estimating that Lake Thomas would realize a vertical rise of at least two more feet. This would put the total content at some 38,500 acre feet.

The supply at Lake Thomas already was the greatest since June of 1977.

Meanwhile, the Colorado River also was putting water into the larger CRMWD reservoir, Lake E.V. Spence at Robert Lee. Its elevation stood at 1865.18 Saturday morning, but the river was still flowing bank full from Colorado City to Lake Spence. The total content Saturday morning was 162,400 acre feet, with some 62,000 acre feet caught the past week.

Lake Spence's elevation Saturday morning was only some 2 1/2 feet below the highest point it ever attained.

More rains were forecast for most of Texas through Saturday night and possibly into Sunday, except for the Panhandle.

The rains also brought cooling temperatures, with Friday's high reading only 62 degrees in Snyder. The low Friday night was a chilly 52 degrees.

Greeting Cards Feature Work Of Snyder Artist

The Christmas greeting cards you'll be buying in a few more months may have come from the drawing board of a Snyder artist.

Donna Holt, wife of city councilman David Holt, has recently sold two watercolor paintings to Evergreen Press, a California-based greeting card company.

Mrs. Holt has also submitted several other paintings to Evergreen which have been returned to her with suggestions on how to make them more marketable. In addition, she has designed a Snyder billboard ad and done poster lettering and brochure artwork for the chamber of commerce, First United Methodist Church, and the Snyder Jaycees.

She prefers the medium of watercolor painting because "it's versatile for what I'm doing at the moment and it reproduces well." She tried her hand at pastels, but had to give that up when she discovered

The SDN Column

Representatives of the press do not encounter top executives of corporations such as W.G. Marquardt very often.

Marquardt is president of Texas Electric Service Co., the firm that provides electric power for Snyder and a lot of other West Texas cities and towns. He spoke briefly the other night at a banquet in Colorado City--an annual affair at which the company honors employees who have been with TESCO 25 years or more. The banquet alternates between Snyder, Colorado City and Sweetwater, and each year, top brass from headquarters in Fort Worth makes it a point to attend.

One of the major items on the program is a report from the president, and in making his report this time, Marquardt included some responses by customers who have expressed appreciation for service.

Then, here it came.

"Well, while our customers are writing to us, the news media is writing about us," said the TESCO president.

Here it comes, we thought. The standard version of blaming the media for company problems.

"There's been a lot in the news about Comanche Peak, for example," Marquardt continued.

Aha, we thought. We are going to be charged with causing their problems in building that nuclear generating plant that has attracted so much attention. And then came the surprise.

"The fact is that we're responsible for quite a bit of that news because we initiate it," Marquardt disclosed. "When we discover a problem down there, we announce it. And we announce what we're going to do to fix it. That way, there's a better chance the whole story will be told."

He went on to remind that TESCO recently announced a delay in the operation dates for the nuclear plant, and also an increase in the estimated cost.

"Naturally, we wish such news was not the case," Marquardt assured. "But it is. And we may be making other such announcements because the final dates will be determined mainly by what regulatory changes may have to be made. And the final cost will depend to a large extent on the rate of inflation and on how much any other regulatory changes may cost."

So, there they were. The cards were on the table--no beating around the bush. A strange situation these days.

On the way home from the TESCO banquet at C-City, we reminisced a bit, and if our memory hasn't fogged out on us, that was at least the 25th of these TESCO Quarter Century Club banquets we have attended, and we wonder if perhaps we may hold a record for a non-employee.

Drive Launched By United Way

The 1980 United Way fund drive was launched Friday with a kickoff luncheon at Snyder Country Club.

Against this year's goal of $56,969, some $11,800 has already been raised by the advance division.

Campaign co-chairmen this year are Frances Wiman and Margaret Drum. Brenda Hedges is president and Dr. Edward Barkowsky is vice president. Rodger Sullenger is second vice president and Jerry Vestal is treasurer.

Although there was no single speaker featured during the luncheon, several United Way officials briefly spoke to the approximately 75 persons attending.

Mrs. Hedges, speaking of the agencies receiving financial help through the United Way, said, "These agencies are counting on us. If we don't do our job the community will suffer for lack of their services." Mrs. Hedges also emphasized the "people helping people" theme of the United Way.

Mrs. Wiman said, "Let's have everyone pitch in and do his part."

Mike Reed, a past United Way official, said he is glad to live in Scurry County "where the practice of giving is still a way of life."

The agencies helped by the United Way are the Salvation Army, Snyder Child Day Care Center, Scurry County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, West Texas Rehabilitation Center (Snyder Unit), Girl Scouts, United Services Organization, Red Cross, Southwest Diabetic Foundation, Boys' Club, Boy Scouts, Mental Health Clinic, Gonzales Warm Springs Hospital, Inc., Cerebral Palsy, and Texas Community Services.

Entertainment at the banquet was provided by Snyder High School drama students and by Jane Womack and Darrel Collins.

The invocation was given by Rev. James Jackson, pastor of the First Assembly of God, and the benediction was given by Rev. James Merrell, pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church.

After Taking Course At WTC..

Couple To Build Home

Bob and Carla Beard are planning to build a new home on their farm near Ira, and it will be a very special home because they will be building it themselves.

Both have enrolled in the Residential Construction course at Western Texas College to prepare themselves for the task ahead, and they are probably the most highly motivated, enthusiastic students that the instructor, Abel Garza, has ever had.

"There's so much to learn," Mrs. Beard says, "and Abel is an excellent teacher. He keeps us busy every day, and it's exciting to see the things we talk about in the classroom work out as we mark the lumber, saw it and see it fit together."

Bob is a native of Ira, the son of Mrs. Ollie Beard and the late Newell Beard. He was graduated from Ira High School and is a retired Navy electrician. Carla had lived in California all her life until the couple moved to Ira last March.

She and Bob were successful real estate brokers after Bob's retirement from the Navy. They sold that business about 18 months ago. Their new home will be about four miles west of Ira on Bluff Creek on what is known as the old W.R. Sterling place.

The Beard's youngest daughter, Tracee, accompanied them to WTC and is a sophomore math major. Another daughter, Carlena, lives in San Diego with her husband, Stan Darrieulat, and two sons, Jason and Joshua. Also in San Diego are their son, Rod, and Carla's mother, Mrs. Lilyan Tracey.

BUILDERS--Bob and Carla Beard, students in the Residential Construction program at Western Texas College, are shown in the shop where they begin putting into practice the building skills they have discussed earlier under the direction of the instructor, Abel Garza.

assistant state director for the American Association of Retired Persons in California.

After Bob and Carla sold their real estate business they moved from Sacramento to San Diego and went into a period of retirement that they found increasingly dull. Bob found himself spending too much time "just sitting," and after a busy life sitting still brought no pleasure. They had talked about moving to Ira in times past, and the idea began to appeal more and more to them. Before they moved, they wrote WTC to see what courses might be interesting and useful to them in the new location and were delighted to learn about Residential Construction. They love the slower pace of life they have found here, and the feeling of personal freedom they sense.

"It seems the government is trying to take over everything in California," they commented, with endless regulations added everywhere. Over-regulation can kill the sense of personal pride in achievement, they point out, and can keep the individual from being able to create because he is so shackled by regulations. When the feeling of accomplishment is gone, something very valuable has been lost, they feel.

That's part of the reason they are so keen on WTC's construction course, where people of almost any age can learn a skill that is both productive and satisfying.

"Abel is a good teacher,"

Art By Konis Featured At Local Museum

The people and places of the Southwest are featured in art by Ben Konis being shown this month in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

Konis lived in New York most of his adult life until moving to Amarillo in 1969. He works mostly in pastel and oil, and strives to achieve the maximum effect of color in whatever medium he chooses.

He will be conducting a workshop featuring instruction in pastel and oil in the Scurry County Museum from Monday through Wednesday. A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Konis is planned from 1-5 o'clock this afternoon and the public is invited to attend.

Four Mishaps Reported Here

Four traffic accidents were reported to city police Friday.

The first traffic accident took place about 7 a.m. at Huffman and the Old Post Road. It involved a 1977 Ford driven by Danny Williams and a parked 1955 Chevrolet owned by David Owens. Working it were Kerry Fritz and Sgt. Clay Scogin.

The next accident was at Hack's Grocery and involved a 1977 Mack tractor and trailer rig driven by Otha Brown of Abilene that struck a walk-in freezer owned by Haskell Franks. Working that accident was Sgt. Jerry Parker. It occurred about 1:30 p.m.

Two cars collided about 6:40 p.m. in the 1600 block of 26th St. Involved in that accident were a 1979 Chevrolet driven by Margarita Reyes and a 1975 Ford driven by George Allen Tucker. Mrs. Reyes was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released. The accident was investigated by Don Whittenburg.

Whittenburg also worked the final mishap of the day at 8 p.m. at Cash Foods. There, a 1972 Ford driven by Nelda Rogensstein was in collision with a parked 1969 Pontiac owned by Robert Rodriguez.

LEAPS REVIVAL - Revival services are scheduled at First Assembly of God, 19th and Collette Ave. for today (Sunday) through Oct. 1. Rev. R.V. Luna, pastor of Broadway Assembly of God, Garland, will be the Evangelist. The services will begin at 7:30 each night, except Sunday which begins at 7. Rev. Lung has served pastorates in Muleshoe, Andrews and Lamesa and has served as pastor of the Broadway Assembly for over nine years. The public is invited to all of these services," said the Rev. James Jackson, pastor.

Sr. Center Given Cloths For Tables

The Golden K Kiwanis Club has given the Senior Citizens Center table cloths to be used on the tables in the center's dining room.

The gift includes 30 round cloths and four oblong cloths so all the tables can be covered with matching cloths when the need arises. The no-iron cloths are beige and blend with the earth-tones used in the decor of the center.

"On behalf of everyone who uses our Senior Center, I would like to say a sincere 'Thank you' to the Golden K members," Gloria Shaw, Senior Center director, said. "We like to use special decorations on numerous occasions in the dining room and having our own table clothes will help us." The Golden K meets each Tuesday in the Senior Center. The club recently sponsored a magic show and used proceeds from the project to purchase the cloths.

Scholarship To SHS Grad

Dilla Munro of Midland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Teal of Snyder, has received a full scholarship for the 1980-81 school year at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin.

The scholarship is the UTPB Merit Award.

Mrs. Munro is a 1975 graduate of Snyder High School. She attended Western Texas College and was named outstanding business student of 1980.

She is married to David Munro, a petroleum engineer.

"I enjoy any type of artwork. If you can find some sort of market for it and sell it, that makes it exciting," Mrs. Holt said.

Although most of her artwork has been commercial, creativity and originality have played a hand in it. At the age of 32, she isn't sure where her desire to paint is going to lead her.

"I fully intend to pursue this and possibly contact other card companies, and do individual work also," Mrs. Holt said.

Mrs. Holt's Christmas cards will be available at This 'n That. Her credit line is on the back side of the cards.

Pictures Of Landmarks Sought For Collection

Believing the old saying that "A picture is worth a thousand words," three groups interested in local history are joining a project to assemble a permanent slide collection which can be used to picture the past for those living in the present and the future.

The Scurry County Historical Association sponsored a county reunion during the recent county fair and requested the loan of slides to be shown during the reunion. Those slides proved so interesting that several people who saw them began to envision what a permanent slide collection could mean in presenting programs for people of all ages interested in local heritage.

The Association, the Scurry County Museum and the history department of Western Texas College are making plans for a permanent collection which will be housed in the museum. People who would like to give slides are asked to take or mail them to the museum. People who would be willing to for their slides to be copied are also being sought. The original slides will be returned to the owner after copies are made.

The slides must be reasonably well identified to be of value, of course, so the cooperating agencies will need time to do some study along that line.

When a sufficient number of slides has been collected, the variety of programs which can be based on them is almost endless. A program might center on historic homes, traditional celebrations, school happenings, sports events, the flora and fauna of Scurry County, etc.

Because pictures are interesting to people of all ages, the programs could be presented to students and adults with effectiveness.

The Scurry County Museum already has a photograph collection and always welcomes additions to that collection. People who have photographs instead of slides are welcome to donate them to the museum collection. It is possible to convert photographs into slides, so they might be added to the slide collection as well.

Anyone who would like further information about the new slide collection is invited to call the museum, Mrs. Jess Everett, chairman of the County Historical Commission, or Dr. Harry Krenek at WTC.

LANDMARK—Do you recognize the Snyder landmark? It's the Faught Building on the northeast corner of the courthouse square as it looked about five years ago. Pictures can help make local history interesting and understandable, and a permanent collection of slides to be used in presenting programs on local heritage is being started at the Scurry County Museum. Anyone who has slides is asked to consider giving or loaning them for use in the new project.

Clements Has Heavy Schedule

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Bill Clements has planned a heavy schedule of campaigning for Republican candidates as he steps up his efforts to get a friendlier Legislature.

The governor's voice is being heard in many communities on taped radio commercials for GOP candidates for the House and Senate.

Locally, he urges voters to support Republican Terral Smith against Rep. Mary Jane Bode, D-Austin, and leaves no doubt

Smith would have ready access to the governor's office.

Clements said earlier in the year he would work for a more Republican Legislature and would make the speaker's race an issue in many house districts.

Currently, four of the 31 senators and 24 of the 150 representatives are Republicans. While parts of Clements' program fared well in 1979, major items such as wiretapping in drug cases and initiative and referendum failed.

The governor has expressed strong opposition to the speakership candidacy of Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, whom he regards as top liberal. Bryant is running against Speaker Bill Clayton as well as Rep. Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, who says he wants the job if Clayton decides not to seek re-election.

Jon Eord, Clements press secretary, said he believed Clements had cut about 20 radio commercials for GOP candidates. He said the governor recently spent an entire day in the Galveston area campaigning for James E. "Buster" Brown, who is trying to unseat veteran Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston.

COUPLE

they agree. "We have classroom discussions that are well done, then move into the shop to see how theories work."

"An inexperienced person wanting to go into building could learn these things on the job, but it would certainly take longer and the training wouldn't be as complete. A working builder doesn't have the time to train employees the way we learn."

Bob added that he wondered if some adults who need training for work are aware that financial aid is available for them as well as for younger students.

Mrs. Beard is the first woman to enroll in Residential Construction.

"My mother just doesn't believe this," she laughs. But she seems very much at ease, marking cuts on a 2x4 or helping hold a board for someone else cutting an angle. The sawdust blends nicely with her graying blonde hair, and if she gets a splinter in her hand, she doesn't seem to notice.

Both are serious about their learning and looking forward to putting their new skills to the test when the time is right.

Says Ag Use Exemption Abused

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Abuse of the agriculture tax exemption is taking money from the budgets of school districts and other jurisdictions, a candidate for the legislature claims.

Joyce Dorrycott, who defeated Rep. Don Cartwright, D-San Antonio, in the Democratic primary, said Friday the Northside and Edgewood School Districts have lost over $40 million from their tax bases because of the new exemption. She said that a State Property Tax Board study shows several other Bexar County school districts are facing similar losses.

She said the study showed the Northside and Edgewood districts eventually could experience a shrinkage of about $153 million in taxable property because of the agriculture exemption.

Two tracts of land, owned by a Dallas development company in rapidly growing Northwest Bexar County, have been placed on the tax rolls under the agriculture exemption although they are clearly advertised as real estate development property, she charged.

"This property, valued at over $1.5 million, was assessed county property taxes of $9,634.91 last year, but, since becoming eligible for the ag-use exemption, will be assessed only $350.07 this year," she said.

"This loss of tax revenue takes money out of the budgets of our schools and hospitals. Obviously, you and I and the other taxpayers of Bexar County must either make do with reduced levels of services or be assessed at higher tax rates to make up the lost revenue. This provision of the tax code is imposing a real hardship on the average citizens of Bexar County and putting extra money in the pockets of a special financial interest."

She said the agriculture tax exemption ought to be re-written to prevent such abuses.

"The basic philosophy of the ag-use provision is sound: to help the family farms and ranches of Texas stay in business," she said.

"However, many are not family operations."

Jittery West Watches War In Big Oil Source

By WILLIAM GLASGALL
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - For the third time in less than a decade, nervous Western nations have turned their attention toward their most important source of oil, the Persian Gulf.

Intense fighting between Iraq and Iran halted 4 million barrels a day of exports from both nations' ports at the gulf's northern end - about twice the size of the daily surplus of oil on world markets before the conflict began.

The cutoff prompted "all" Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries members to agree to "increase as far as possible their oil production to cover any eventual shortfall," said Vice President Godfredo Gonzalez of Venezuela, an OPEC member.

But worries remained over what would happen if the Strait of Hormuz, the gulf's southern exit to international shipping lanes, were blocked. That would stop the flow to the West of 14 million to 16 million barrels of oil a day from Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and others.

Assuming other countries' oil production was unchanged, the non-Communist world has enough oil to withstand a 92-day total cutoff of Persian Gulf oil shipments before storage tanks run dry, said Marshall Thomas, market editor of Petroleum Intelligence Weekly.

But some would be harder hit by a cessation of oil exports from the region than others. While the United States relies on the Persian Gulf region for only 10 percent of its oil needs, nearly 60 percent of the oil used in Western Europe and 75 percent of the petroleum used in Japan comes from the area.

Most of the Persian Gulf's oil comes from Saudi Arabia, which exports all but 250,000 barrels of its 9.5 million barrels-a-day oil output. The world's largest oil exporter, Saudi Arabia, has contributed to today's oil surplus by refusing to cut production despite falling demand.

Before the Iranian-Iraqi conflict began, the Persian Gulf countries were producing nearly 19 million barrels of crude oil a day, equivalent to 40 percent of the non-Communist world's oil.

World oil storage tanks were bulging today after a 147 percent increase in OPEC prices since the end of 1978 forced petroleum use to plummet.

If all Persian Gulf oil exports were stopped, the surplus would last 23 days and the total stockpile 92 days, he said.

Other major business stories of the past week included:

-Major banks raised their prime lending rate a half-point to 13 percent after the Federal Reserve raised the discount rate, its charge on loans to member banks, one percentage point to 11 percent.

-U.S. consumer prices rose 0.7 percent in August, the Labor Department said, as rising food costs sparked new inflation worries.

-The U.S. trade deficit fell in August to $1.1 billion, the lowest level in more than four years.

-Volkswagen increased retail prices of its 1981 cars and light trucks an average 7.2 percent, or $536, apiece.

-Regis Nationale des Usines Renault, the French automaker, would effectively take control of American Motors Corp. under a proposed financial rescue plan.

Obedience School Scheduled At WTC

Dog owners who would like to make their pets socially acceptable are invited to enroll in the Dog Obedience School scheduled Oct. 4-Dec. 13 at Western Texas College.

Rachel Kerry will be instructor for the 30-hour course. She attended the Oxford Dog Training Society for three years and trained under Chief Trainer Rob Malpass. She describes the course she is offering here as one to make owning a dog a pleasure rather than a chore.

Any kind of dog, pedigree or mongrel, can be trained, Mrs. Kerry said. To be trained in the class at WTC, the dog must be at least 12 weeks old and fully inoculated against rabies, distemper and parvovirus.

The dog owner will be expected to provide a slip chain the right length and weight for the dog and a six-foot leather or nylon lead. Patience is also a requirements, Mrs. Kerry Goals are to teach the dog perfect heel work, sits, downs, stays and recalls. Classes are to meet from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Saturdays. Fees will be $25 per person.

Persons wishing further information may contact the Continuing Education office at 573-8511, extension 240, or Mrs. Kerry at the Scurry County Museum, 573-6107.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In making a major decision today, play the percentages instead of long shots. If you go against the odds you may be sorry later.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Concern yourself first today about doing a good job, and not with the rewards you hope to gain. The payoff will come later with a task well done.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll get along quite well with all your friends today, but you may collect a compensation who doesn't. Don't let a fickle pal spoil your fun.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In matters which mean something to your security, stay on top of things today until they are successfully concluded. Leaving loose ends is a no-no.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're lucky today in matters relating to your career or material things. However, you may not be so fortunate romantically. Don't press your luck with Cupid.

Sept. 29, 1980

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Normally you're the type who always plans a few steps ahead, but today you could cut down your productivity because you have no blueprint.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your reasoning in joint ventures today may be a shade surer than that of your contemporaries. Listen to their views, but trust your own judgment.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Possibly through no fault of their own, persons you were depending on today may let you down. This shouldn't stop you. You can do alone what needs doing.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today you may make commitments for the sake of expediency. This could cause you problems later. Don't make any promises you can't keep.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There's a possibility you'll be a trifle extravagant today and that's OK, provided you aren't generous with things belonging to another.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Enjoy yourself today, but try not to treat serious matters lightly, especially if they involve an associate or your mate. They won't appreciate it.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be careful with whom you discuss business or financial matters today. You could tell too much to the wrong person and do yourself a disservice.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be expectant. Think positively today, but try not to manufacture unrealistic or false hopes. Your imagination could play disappointing tricks on you.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This can be a rewarding day, provided you don't take things for granted. Something you think is a shoo-in may not come so easily.

DECADES OF GAS SUPPLY FROM TWO OF NATURE'S BEST-PROTECTED SOURCES.

Did your mother ever hide some of her spare cash in a cookie jar, out of easy reach until she needed it? Well, that's what Mother Nature did when she placed enormous deposits of natural gas in hard-to-reach places. Places like the deep basins in Texas and Oklahoma, where the gas deposits were miles too deep for man to reach them. Places like the tight basins in Texas, where formations were so tight-fisted the gas could barely flow to the wells. Now, after spending years and millions of dollars, producers have the technology to explore five-mile depths and speed up the flow of gas through dense rock. And high-production gas wells are being completed in the deep and the tight basins. Many industry experts believe that each of these sources can double the nation's current proven reserves. Exciting news, because Lone Star is well situated to buy your share of this new gas for the 1980's, the 1990's and beyond.

DONATES QUILT—Mrs. Effie Wright poses with the quilt she made and has donated to the Hermleigh School Library. Mrs. Wright, 84, of Hermleigh, has been quilting well over 60 years. She designs and cuts all the pieces herself, scoffing at the notion of using a kit to make a quilt. The one above took her about three weeks to make, she said, "working on it off and on, whenever I could find the time." The quilt will be given away at a drawing at the Halloween Carnival at Hermleigh in late October. Proceeds will be used by the library to buy books and supplies. (SDN Staff Photo)

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Causes of coughing

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I've been coughing for the last four months and my doctor gave me a prescription for tetracycline. I took two refills and was no better. I cough up a thick, yellow mucus each morning and then all through the day I cough up thick, clear mucus. I went to an ear, nose and throat specialist and he said I have weak throat muscles and that I didn't have anything to worry about but he didn't prescribe any medicine for me. I take small quantities of Vicks 44 which stops my coughing for a short time. My doctor says there's nothing he can do for me—I am a 76-year-old male. Do you have any suggestions? I do not smoke or drink.

DEAR READER—You might want to see another doctor, either one who engages in family practice or a specialist in internal medicine. A cough is a symptom and you did the right thing by seeing a physician. Among the things which can cause a cough is heart failure. How does this happen? Heart failure can cause fluid to accumulate in the lungs and this can cause a chronic cough condition. This is not associated with any pain but may be associated with shortness of breath.

A person may develop an irritation of the trachea (windpipe) which may cause a cough to persist long after a person has recovered from the initial symptoms of flu. This kind of cough is often helped with one of the medicines that is a cough suppressant. Codeine is one of the best of these and is an important ingredient in some cough medicines.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 8-10, Cough: How and When to Treat It. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It will explain what coughs are, what they mean, give you a list of the many different things which can cause them and what medicines are commonly used in their treatment including the important ingredients that are in those medicines you can buy for yourself.

Coughing, of course, can be caused by chemical agents such as cigarette smoke. It can be caused even by lung cancer or a cancer in the throat area. It's extremely important for people who have a cough that persists more than 10 days or two weeks to go see their doctor.

The tetracycline might help a bacterial infection such as one that you might have in the sinus areas but it is of no value in stopping a cough from irritation of the trachea as a complication of flu.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have finished the menopause and try to be sure to get enough calcium as you suggest. I'm a buttermilk swigger, drinking more than a half gallon a day. Is this bad for me? Does it have cholesterol? Is there enough calcium in it? It certainly does give me a lift.

DEAR READER—It is a fine source of calcium. And since it is made from skim milk it should not contain any important amounts of cholesterol or fat. Some people who have trouble tolerating ordinary milk because of lactose intolerance will be able to digest some buttermilk. That is because the lactose content in buttermilk is less than in fresh milk. The fermentation process converts some of the lactose into its component single sugars.

Dear Abby

Wife's Vacation Plans Cause Husband's Reservations

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman, married 15 years and have two children. I have a dream. I want very much to go on a vacation with no husband, no children — just me alone! I want a week of doing whatever I want to do, with no pressure from anyone, without worrying if everyone else is happy and content. I would dearly love freedom from all home responsibilities — to sleep as late as I wished, eat when I want, go to sleep when I like, and not have to explain why. A place at the beach would be my idea of heaven!

My husband thinks my "dream" of a one-week vacation all alone is "unnatural." He thinks a happily married woman who has this kind of dream is crazy.

Well, do I see a psychiatrist, or go to the beach?

NEEDS A BREAK

DEAR NEEDS: Assuming your children will be properly looked after, I see nothing unnatural about your dream. And surely, there is nothing "wrong" with anyone (male or female) who wants freedom from all responsibility for a week. Go to the beach, and send your husband to a psychiatrist if he thinks you're crazy.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 26, female, black, single, ready, willing and able. There is a new teller at the bank where I deposit the company checks. He's black, too, about the right age for me and totally dreamy. I observed that he doesn't wear a wedding ring, which may or may not mean anything. After I made the deposit this morning, he touched my hand when he handed me the receipt. Then I looked up and saw that beautiful smile, and my heart melted.

One of the girls who work at the bank told me that he asked her if I was married or going with anybody, so he must be interested in me, too!

How can I let him know that I would like to know him better without appearing too forward?

LILLIAN

DEAR LILLIAN: Just keep making those deposits, and watch the interest grow!

DEAR ABBY: My grandma came to me for advice. She's 75 and has been married for 58 years.

I'm 21, and I've been married less than a year. Grandma says Grandpa (he's 76) is impotent, and he blames her. He says if she were "more of a woman," he would be more of a man. He told Grandma that if she didn't cooperate more he was going to find himself another woman. (They live in a senior citizens' complex and he wouldn't have to look far.)

Poor Grandma is so upset I feel sorry for her. What advice can I give her? (P.S. I am serious.)

CONCERNED IN EUGENE, ORE.

DEAR CONCERNED: Tell Grandma that the University of Oregon Medical School in Eugene has an excellent human sexuality program. She and Grandpa should look into it. It could save their marriage. (P.S. I am serious, too.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANYONE FOR WHOM IT IS NOT YET TOO LATE: The gestation period of a mother's advice is anywhere from one hour to 50 years. Losing one's mother before having thanked her for the many precious things she taught you is one of life's greatest tragedies.

Do you have questions about sex, love, drugs and the pain of growing up? Get Abby's new booklet: "What Every Teen-ager Ought to Know." Send $2 and a long-stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Coyotes Crush Hornets

BLACKWELL - Borden County extended its winning string to three in a row here Friday, defeating Blackwell 36-6 in the pouring rain.

Despite thundershowers so extensive that many times it was hard to see across the field, the Coyotes put up six points in the first quarter, 22 in the second and eight in the third before calling on the subs to finish the fight.

The Coyotes, now 3-1 on the year, will take next Friday off before hosting 3-1 Ira for homecoming on Oct. 10.

Borden scored in the first quarter as Van York scampered in on a 19-yard run. The kick-after failed. York bought the second Coyote touchdown also, racing in from 37 yards out this time. Again, the kick failed.

The Coyotes turned three blocked punts into scores, the first coming in the second quarter when Mike Peterson picked a ball off a Blackwell player's foot and raced 15 yards to score. Junior Benavidez kicked the conversion.

Benavidez then blocked his first of two punts on the night. The initial one rolled into the Blackwell end zone where York fell on it for another Borden County touchdown. Later, Benavidez blocked a punt and tackled a Blackwell player in the end zone for a safety. Borden County's final score came on a 52-yard Blackwell's lone score came in the final period with 20 seconds left in the game. Randy Trull, senior quarterback, ran the ball over from six yards out.

Starr Thinks Packers Will Deliver Sunday

MILWAUKEE (AP) - Green Bay Packer Coach Bart Starr says he expects his squad to play "extremely well" against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday, despite the controversy that has swirled around the club in recent days.

In the past week, a news report quoted an anonymous member of the National Football League club's executive committee as saying the panel was close to the decision to fire Starr. All seven members of the committee later denied making the comments.

Wednesday, two players became involved in a shoving, shouting incident in the Packer locker room after practice, but no serious injuries were reported. Starr called that incident a "sign of a great deal of pride, determination and commitment on the part of our players."

Starr, whose team has a 1-2 record after going 0-4-1 in the preseason, saw the Packers drop a 51-21 decision to the Rams at Los Angeles last weekend, but he was predicting a sudden rebound in the Packer fortunes against the Cowboys at Milwaukee County Stadium.

"Larry McCarren (the Packer center) made a statement earlier this week that we seem to thrive on adversity," Starr said. "Our players have a tenacity that belies their youthfulness. I have an indication and fully believe that we'll perform extremely well Sunday."

Starr also downplayed whether his job was riding on how the Packers measure up against Dallas. The newspaper report that claimed the Green Bay executive committee was close to firing Starr also quoted the committee members as saying Sunday's game could be the deciding factor in whether the coach goes or stays.

"I haven't given any thoughts to any extenuating circumstances surrounding this game," Starr said. The Packers face a 2-1 Dallas squad that defeated Tampa Bay 28-17 last Sunday.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry, a friend of Starr's who called him recently to offer some encouragement, said he was not looking forward to playing Green Bay, "but that's the price we pay. If he beats me, I'll be happy for him, which I'm not usually when I get beat. But of course, he knows we're going to try to beat him any way we can and as quick as we can."

FATEFUL BOUNCES—Two key plays helped determine Christoval's 52-42 victory over Ira Friday night. With the Cougars leading 44-42 and less than five minutes to play, Ira's Wade Pierson pitches to teammate Scott Kesner (top photo) at the Christoval 4-yard line. Connections weren't made however, and the ball ended up bounding into and out of the endzone for a touchback. Christoval then drove the ball towards the Ira goal. On fourth down from the 3-yard line, with still over two minutes remaining, Ira apparently had Christoval running back Roy Fava stopped. But as the bottom photo shows, the ball (see arrow) popped up when the Cougar player was hit short of the goal line. It bounded into the end zone where Pete Morado fell on it for a Christoval TD. Morado then kicked the two-point conversion to ice the contest. Ira players shown include, top photo, James Crowder (32) and bottom photo, Kesner (20), Robert Mitchell (72) and Shane Smith (71). # Bengals Attempt To Prove Victory Was Not Fluke

CINCINNATI (AP) - Proving their victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers was no fluke won't be easy for the Cincinnati Bengals.

The Bengals, 1-2 after a surprising 30-28 upset of the Super Bowl champs, tackle the ball-bogging Houston Oilers in Riverfront Stadium on Sunday. Houston, 2-1, finished second to Pittsburgh in the rugged AFC Central Division last year.

The Bengals, who started their last two seasons with disastrous 0-8 and 0-6 records, are counting on the momentum of an early-season win to carry into the Houston game.

"Guys really had a great concentration on what they were doing last week," said Coach Forrest Gregg, referring to the Pittsburgh game. "I think they gained some confidence from the two heart-breaking losses at the beginning."

"It was like they were saying, 'Hey, we're not half-bad.' It's still too early in the season - three games into it - and a lot can happen."

Gregg is relying on a make-shift backfield to carry his offense. Fullback Charles Alexander was moved to halfback in practice this week, with running backs Archie Griffin, Deacon Turner and Cleotha Montgomery hobbled by ankle injuries.

Jack Thompson is expected to start at quarterback again in place of Ken Anderson, nursing a stretched ligament in his left knee.

The Oilers, employing a ball control offense in victories over Cleveland and Baltimore, don't know if indefatigable fullback Earl Campbell can play Sunday because of a groin strain. But Coach Bum Phillips wasn't overly worried, with back-up fullback Rob Carpenter coming off a 144-yard afternoon against Baltimore.

"Carpenter runs the same plays, with pretty much the same style," Phillips said. "Carpenter is a little more elusive and Campbell a little more powerful."

Follow The Bouncing Ball As...

Ira Falls In Heartbreaker

By the SDN Sports Staff IRA - That's the way the ball bounces - the cookie crumbles. Ask Ira's Bulldogs, they'll tell you. The ball bounced the opposite way here twice Friday night, but it was Bulldog hearts that were crumbling, not cookies. Ira suffered its first defeat of the season here, falling 52-42 to a tough Christoval Cougar team. The loss leaves the 'Dogs with a 3-1 record heading in to District 2-A six-man play next week.

Despite trailing by as much as 22 points, the Bulldogs fought their way back into the contest, and with less than five minutes to play - the score 44-42 - were knocking at the Christoval goal line.

From the Cougar 6, Wade Pierson took the ball and raced to his right, with Scott Kesner trailing close behind. The senior athlete found heavy traffic at the 3-yard line and pitched out to his teammate in an effort to get those precious few yards that would put Ira ahead - Connections between the two athletes and the ball were never made, however, and after chasing the ball over the goal line, Kesner grabbed it just as it went out of the end zone.

One official first signaled a touchdown, but a quick zebra conference ruled Kesner had never had control of the ball. The result was a touchback, giving the Cougars a first down on the 15-yard line.

With 4:18 showing on the clock, there was still time for the explosive Bulldogs to win the game. But Christoval had different intentions. Running back Roy Fava broke loose on a 34-yard run moments later that put the Cougars at the Bulldog 27-yard line. Four plays later, the visitors were faced with a fourth-and-goal situation from the Ira 3.

Once again, the bounce of the ball played against the home team. Two Bulldog defenders cracked Fava short of the goal line, but the ball sputtered out and into the end zone, where Christoval's Pete Morado fell on it for a touchdown. Morado then kicked the two-point conversion, ic-

Ira managed to get within striking distance again, but a fourth-and-goal pass was broken up by the Cougars.

Christoval owned the game in the early going as the visitors scored on their second offensive play of the ballgame. Fava was the ball carrier, scampering 33 yards for the score. Morado kicked the points after. The Christoval standstill made it a 14-0 game moments later when he ran over from 12 yards out with 4:05 left in the opening period. This time Morado's kick after was blocked by James Crowder.

Ira lit the lights with 3:06 showing as Pierson hit Robert Mitchell on a 27-yard pass. Crowder booted the PAT kick.

Christoval put up the next two scores in succession, however, as Joaquin Chaves ran in from two yards out and Fava crossed over from three on fourth down. The Fava TD was set up at the Ira 18, after the Bulldogs failed to convert a fourth down attempt deep in their own territory. Morado kicked both points after to give Christoval a 30-8 lead.

Ira scored its second touchdown before the half ended as Kesner zipped across the goal from four yards out. The PAT failed.

Christoval extended its advantage in the third quarter as Mark Hayes scored on a 19-yard run

Five More Aggies Are Called Before Board

COLLEGE STATION (AP) - Although the football coach says two Texas A&M players who allegedly possessed drugs are permanently off the Aggie team; university officials and the students won't reveal the verdict of a disciplinary hearing board.

Bill Kibler, assistant director of student affairs, ruled Friday in the cases of junior linebacker Cal Peveto of Vidor and senior defensive back Elroy Steen.

"We're still in school," Peveto said. "I have nothing else to say."

Five more Texas A&M University football players have been summoned by the college disciplinary hearing officer, sources close to the university said

Friday. The five football players who were sent letters by Kibler Friday have until Wednesday to respond and make appointments with him.

Kibler cleared a third suspended player, defensive back Darrell Adams of Houston, of drug accusations after he successfully argued the "drugs" found in a search of his room were prescribed by the team doctor. The athlete was reinstated Thursday, but Coach Tom Wilson said Adams will have to "earn his place back on the team."

Adams had told a Fort Worth newspaper Wednesday night that officials had searched five rooms in search of drugs. He said the rooms of senior linebacker Doug Carr of Gainesville and senior cornerback Leandrew Brown of Sweeney had been searched, in addition to those of himself, Steen and Peveto.

Fishin' Report

Campbell Close Behind...

Cribbs, King Leading NFL Rushing

Fishing has picked up in the wake of recent rises at Lake Thomas and E.V. Spence. Lake Thomas, the Texas Parks and Wildlife biologists took steps to insure that fishing gets even better by releasing 36,000 blue catfish, between six and eight inches long. Meanwhile, crappie fishing has been on the boom there with numerous large strings being reported. Early in the week, fishing was so good that sportsmen continued right through a rain. One fisherman caught crappie every day in more than two weeks of fishing.

Lake Spence saw a return to some of the big striped bass catches, but there were other varieties added to creels. Two yellow catfish 22 and 25 pounds were reported and a couple of 16-pound striped bass were caught. White bass, black bass, channel catfish and crappie also were reported.

Spence reports included these:

Triangle Grocery—Bill Hyden, Big Spring, a 35-lb. yellow catfish; Boyd Hodgson, Odessa, a 22-lb. yellow catfish; Dicke Bohannon, Robert Lee, 16-lb. striped bass; James Morris, Midland, 11-lb. striper.

Wildcat Fish A Rama—Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Mashburn, Gilene, six striper to 8 lbs.; Gary Gillihan, 16-lb. striper; John Leach and John Ramey, Big Spring, 22 white bass to 1 1/2 lbs. 12 channel catfish to 2 1/4 lbs., and four black bass to 3 lbs.

Skippy's Grocery—O.H. Biggs and party, Hobbs, N.M., 151 crappie to 1 lbs. and 38 channel cats; David James and Mickey Epperson and party, Odessa, 100 channel catfish to 7 lbs.

Lake Thomas at elevation 2221 and Lake Spence at elevation 1864 each are about 10 feet above their low points for this season.

By The Associated Press
They're a couple of "Who's he?" running backs virtually unknown. Yet they lead the American Conference in rushing. And on Sunday, when the Oakland Raiders meet the Buffalo Bills, they perform on the same field.

First, with 235 yards, is the Raiders' Kenney King, obtained from Houston in the deal that sent defensive back Jack Tatum to the Oilers. A year ago, King played in the shadow of two-time rushing champion Earl Campbell. Understandably, King didn't get the ball much—three times all year for a whopping nine yards gained.

Second, with 199 yards, is the Bills' Joe Cribbs, a second-round draft choice out of Auburn who gained 1,205 yards as a junior and 1,120 as a senior. His 16 touchdowns in 1978 and 34

TD's overall are Auburn records for a season and career.

Oh, don't write off Campbell just yet. He's third with 174 yards, but he may not be at full strength Sunday when the Oilers face Cincinnati because of a recurring groin injury which knocked him out of last Sunday's Oiler victory over Baltimore.

Also on Sunday it's Chicago at Pittsburgh, Cleveland at Tampa Bay, Dallas vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Los Angeles at the New York Giants, Minnesota at Detroit, New Orleans at Miami, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Atlanta at San Francisco, the New York Jets at Baltimore, San Diego at Kansas City and Seattle at Washington. Monday night's game is Denver at New Orleans.

By now, more than a few fans figured the Raiders would be staggering around the depths of the AFC West and the Bills would be stumbling around the bottom of the AFC East.

Surprise: The Raiders, written off as a hopeless case with the departure of quarterback Ken Stabler, have won two of three games to remain, at this stage, a team with which to be reckoned. And the Bills, supposedly defense-poor, have won all three of their games to lead their division.

"This is one game that really is significant," says Jim Wagstaff, coach of the Bills' defensive backfield. "We'll have 80,000 fans here wanting us to look good, it's on national TV and, if we win, it'll be a big step toward the playoffs. I think everybody realizes that."

Astros Stop Cincy, 2-0; Take Two-Game Lead

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros had just beaten Cincinnati's best, Tom Seaver, 2-0 on a four-hitter by Vern Ruhl, but first baseman Art Howe was not ready to thumb his nose at the rest of the National League Western Division.

"A lot of talk can get you in trouble at this point," said Howe, who doubled off Seaver and scored Houston's second run in the second inning. "If we play the way we can, we won't have to do much talking."

The victory assured the Astros sole possession of pro standings at a glance first place in the division race but Howe doesn't want any game taken out of context.

"I'll have to admit it was a big game," Howe said. "But I am trying to downplay all of our wins. This one is behind us now and we've got to come back tomorrow and take away their running game and beat them again."

Ruhl, who pitched 7 2/3 hitless innings in his last outing, got all the run production he needed from Jose Cruz' first inning single to score Joe Morgan and Craig Reynolds' sacrifice fly, which scored Howe in the second.

The victory boosted Ruhl's record to 11-4 and his late-season surge has helped fill the void from the loss of J.R. Richard, who is recovering from a stroke.

Ruhl said there was no secret to his performance. "I've pitched well," he said. "When I am healthy, I'm not surprised that I pitch well. Injuries have kept me from having the stats to get noticed."

Ruhl said he recognized the pressure and importance of the game.

"To be honest, I knew it was a big game," Ruhl said. "They were going with Seaver and since he has come on so strong for them (six straight victories) it was a big game. Now we've got him behind us and we can go on to the next game."

The loss dropped the Reds another game off the pace but Manager John McNamara said the race is a long way from being over.

"People have been saying all year that we are out of it but we're still in the race," McNamara said. "The only ones who didn't believe it are myself and our players and we're the ones that count."

Reds third baseman Ray Knight said Saturday's game will be all-important.

"When we came in here, I felt we had to win two of the three games," Knight said.

Dusters Look Sharp Already

Padres Pop LA

ed one PAT apiece for a 44-28 score.

But Ira wasn't finished yet. Pierson took the ensuing kickoff and burst 70 yards to re-light the Bulldog scoreboard. Crowder's kick was good, and the Christoval lead was suddenly only eight points.

With 8:25 left in the game Pierson again scored for the hosts. The athlete found good blocking and combined it with some good moves to zip 57 yards on first down. Ira's first points-after try failed, but a penalty gave the Dogs a second chance at tying the score. This time, however, a wave of Cougar players broke through to block Crowder's kick.

Christoval began to march, again, but the drive was halted by a fumble, recovered by Crowder. Ira quickly drove towards the Cougar goal line, looking for the go-ahead touchdown, reaching the six before the fateful play that resulted in a touchback.

Spiritual Comment

Editor's Note: This column is prepared by members of the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance and is presented as a community service.

WHERE ARE WE NOW?
BY GARY WEST
1st Presbyterian

We call ourselves a Christian nation, we live in a community that has an abundance of churches, yet last Easter Sunday almost 70 percent of the population of Scurry County failed to attend church. Almost everyone in our town would say, "Yes, I'm a Christian," yet can you imagine so many failing to attend church on the very Sunday that sums up the whole meaning of our faith, that Jesus is the Christ, the resurrected Lord? While studying at Princeton Seminary I had the rare privilege of attending a conference with Russian Christians. It was common knowledge that a couple of the priests and pastors were actually KGB agents sent along to keep an eye on the Russian Christians. What a moving experience it was to hear the Russian Christians sharing their faith despite "spies" in their midst who could ruin their life back home. One of the pastors told us Americans we ought to be ashamed of ourselves. We have the right to worship each week and we fail to do so. In Russia many Christians meet in secluded forest areas, or risk persecution and harassment by proclaiming their faith openly in the cities. Perhaps we need to reconsider what it means to be a Christian. Perhaps God may appreciate some actions of faith for a change rather than words.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

SECTION B., SUN. SEPT. 28, 1980

Johnson, Miller Exchange Vows

SEMINOLE—Miss Stephanie Suzanne Johnson became the bride of Ricky Lance Miller in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Sept. 13 at the South Seminole Baptist Church. The Rev. Bruce Dane, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don D. Johnson of Seminole. The bridegroom is the son of Genelle Miller of Jayton and Mrs. Raynelle Miller of Levelland.

Two tall, fan-shaped candelabra with bridal tapers decorated the altar, while bouquets of burgundy and pink flowers, hurricane lamps and potted greenery completed the church decorations.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a bouffant designer gown of white sheerganza and re-embroidered Chantilly lace. The molded bodice had a Queen Anne neckline trimmed with lace and lantern sleeves finished with laced ruffles. The lace-edged tiers of her skirt swept into a chapel train. She wore a wide brimmed picture hat covered with lace applique and crystal pleated chiffon over the brim. Long streamers of silk illusion and satin ribbon fell in back to finger tip length. She carried a matching lace and chiffon parasol and a cascade of silk camillas, white roses, stephanotis, burgundy and pink roses surrounding a white center cymbidium orchid.

Following tradition, the bride wore an heirloom gold locket; a new white lace covered Bible, a gift from her parents; a six pence from London, England, and a blue satin garter.

Lesla Hertel of Snyder served as matron of honor, while bridesmaids included Julie Shivers and Dodie Boyd. The attendants wore floor-length burgundy gown with scoop necks and spaghetti straps at the shoulder, accented with draped chiffon capes with vented detail on the sleeves. They carried burgundy silk poppies and deep pink roses accented with baby's breath. Each wore a matching flower in her hair.

Gary Miller of Rule served his brother as best man, while groomsmen included Kraig Kupatt of Sagerton and Rod Townsend of Rule.

MRS. RICKY LANCE MILLER

Chris Lemons was ring-bearer and Amy Dane was flower girl. Ushers were the bride's brother, Chris Johnson, and Mark Bailiff of Midland, the bridegroom's cousin.

Don Hicks was pianist and accompanied Johnson in "Always and Forever" and "Moments I Spend With You."

Lesla Mutschler registered guests in the church foyer.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was draped with white eyelet that had pink ribbon trimming. A large candleabra with pink and burgundy flowers was the centerpiece. The heart-shaped wedding cake had four tiers separated by Roman columns with cascade of pink roses on alternate layers. A pair of heart-shaped parent's cakes were attached on each side.

Decorated in burgundy the bridegroom's table served a dark cake in a heart shape accented with pale rose floral trim. Houseparty members included Kim Sales, Ms. Mutschler, Pat Gill, Diane Wright, Carol Miller, the bridegroom's sister; Debbie Miller, his sister-in-law; Joyce Baliff, Bonnie Montgomery, Teri Birmingham, Donna Clark and Carol Ream.

The bride is a graduate of Seminole High school and has attended Western Texas College and Howard Payne University in Brownwood.

Her husband graduated from Rule High School and South Plains College in Levelland. He is a farmer presently employed with Halliburton in Snyder. After a brief wedding trip, the couple are residing in Snyder.

Ina Bañin told Beauty Digest magazine how she perks up her looks after a long day: "I channel all my energies into accentuating my eyes. I give them the works. Before I put on eye shadow, I dust over the lids with a light coating of powder. Then I apply the shadow. It stays better that way."

Welcome Winter With Knits

By Judy Love

If you're a fan of the great outdoors — even during blustery winter days — you'll want to be prepared. Skiers and snowmobile riders, who can't seem to get enough adventure-time in the snow, will need plenty of warm hats and mittens this winter. Knitting them for yourself, or for someone else, is fun, simple, and a big money saver, too.

This week, we have a toasty headwarmer and matching mittens in warm winter colors. The helmet covers the forehead, chin and neck, leaving only enough room for a big smile and ski-goggles to brave a storm. Downhill racers or energetic cross-country skiers alike will appreciate the cozy matching mittens.

Knitted in a striped pattern, the mittens and helmet instructions call for seven different colors of Bernat Berella, a bulky warm yarn, and one pair of No. 11 knitting needles. Choose from a variety of toasty winter hues, such as hunter green, Wedgwood, scarlet, old gold and many others, to coordinate with your winter coat or ski jacket. Whether you're on the slopes or in the middle of a blizzard, you'll be protected from the elements.

To order instructions, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, P.O. Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y.

TOASTY WARM—Nothing like a colorful cap and matching mittens to make you toasty warm during the winter months ahead. Knit them for yourself or for a friend.

OCTOBER WEDDING—Gene Bowlin and Mrs. Joe Ellis have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sherri, to Donny Riggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Riggs of Beeville. The wedding has been set for Oct. 11, 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church Chapel.

Beauty Tips Are Given For Dieting, Neckline

Next time the urge to binge comes over you, try to hold off for 20 minutes. If you can get past the first few minutes, you'll probably lose the desire. Keep lists of activities handy — post one on the refrigerator door. If you do give in the urge to eat, take tiny bites rather than gulps. Savor the taste of each morsel, and you'll find yourself satisfied with a small snack rather than an awful binge.

For the most flattering look, choose necklines that balance your face shape and neck. Women with round faces should avoid jewel necklines, small rounded collars and high choker necklaces. Instead, choose V-necks and shirts open to the second or third button. If your neck is short, keep turtlenecks small. If it's long, pick cowls and bowed blouses — soft, full styles, are also good for long faces.

Recent guests of the Rev. and Mrs. D.D. Smith were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Jan) Smith and Sarah Marie of Little River; Mr. and Mrs. David (Jeanine) Smith, Mark and Gaye of San Angelo; Terressa Smith and Carol Jessie of Petersburg; Miss Smith and Miss Jessie teach in the Petersburg school system. Kenneth Lomax of Buffalo Gap was a recent guest of H.M. Lomax, and his dancing dolls were displayed at the Flea Market among other interesting items.

Vena Lucas of Altus, Okla., and Eva Mae Brackeen have returned from Graham, Wash., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brackeen. While there, they visited the area of Mt. St. Helens, which was approximately twenty five miles, or as near as the State Patrol-allowed tourist. They reported ash was as thick as from four to six inches on the trees and had hardened somewhat like concrete.

The Hermleigh Homecoming which was held last Saturday at the high school, attracted approximately 600 former students, graduates, and friends. Registration began at 10 a.m. with a coffee and visiting following. A football game was enjoyed in the afternoon. Jerry Wemken, master of ceremony, welcomed the crowd in the evening and introduced the graduate traveling the greatest distance, Kenneth Fargason, from Germany. Mae Werner of Colorado City was in the oldest graduation class of 1913. Faye (Joyce) Polk was the oldest teacher attending.

The Southern Instrumentalist, consisting of Jay and Quincy Richburg of Sweetwater, rendered organ and guitar music during the dinner hour. A clown pantomime performance was given by Donnie (Gannaway) Fincher and her daughter, The Kitchen Band, well known in this area, made up of many senior citizens, played several tunes on various items from their kitchen. Warren Fargason; past Hermleigh postmaster, was the oldest member of the band.

"Sugar-free" foods may cause diarrhea, if they contain sorbitol or manitol.

Sorbitol and manitol are the key ingredients in many "sugar-free" foods designed for use in weight-control diets — and as aids in preventing tooth decay. Sorbitol and manitol are known as "hexitols" or sugar alcohols. They are slowly absorbed from the intestinal tract into the body, and they're slowly acted upon by bacteria in the mouth.

Unfortunately these sugar alcohols do cause problems in some individuals. Medical authorities are reporting cases of "chewing-gum diarrhea" in patients who consume large amounts of sugar-free gum. Chewing gum isn't the only problem, though. Any foods containing sorbitol or manitol can cause diarrhea in some persons. Children are affected, as well as adults, particularly if they eat large amounts of dietetic candies.

"Check the label on foods if persistent diarrhea occurs. Foods that contain sorbitol or manitol will say so on the label. If foods you're eating do contain these items, then reduce your intake of the foods. Medical doctors say that 85-170 grams of sorbitol per day will cause diarrhea in persons affected by this problem. If diarrhea persists, be sure to consult your physician."

"October is" where the future begins in Girl Scouting for all Girl Scout adult and girl members in the nation. All troops are due to register by Oct. 1 with the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

One out of every ten girls in the United States between the ages of 6 and 17 is a Girl Scout. They are led by Girl Scout volunteers — adults who are prepared for the future and making sure that girls are too.

Membership is available to any girl or adult who wishes to become a member whether in a troop group or as a non-troop affiliated member by registering with the West Texas Girl Scout Council and paying annual national membership dues of $3.00. The payment of the membership dues automatically covers the girl or adult with basic accident insurance.

Each member automatically becomes a member of the largest voluntary organization of its kind for girls, the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, with 100 countries involved.

Wedding stories submitted for publication should be no more than 500 words in length, and should be submitted no later than three weeks following the ceremony. Pictures should be black and white glossy prints, preferably 5x7 inch-size. If a different size is all that is available, we will make every effort to use it, provided it is a good sharp photograph.

Wedding stories and pictures must be submitted by noon on Wednesday for publication in the following Sunday's issue.

Engagement pictures are accepted, and must be submitted at least four weeks prior to the wedding. A 5x7 size is preferred, but others can be used if they are a clear and sharp. Both the bride-elect and prospective bridegroom may be in the picture. The engagement picture must be submitted by noon on Wednesday to be published in the following Sunday's paper.

Birthday stories and pictures are published only for those 40 years old and older.

Wedding anniversary pictures are published for the 50th anniversary and for subsequent years only. If receptions or parties are given for those married less than 50 years, a story will be accepted. Anniversary pictures must be submitted by the hosts. Deadline for anniversary stories is also Wednesday.

Bridal shower pictures may be taken by SDN photographers by appointment. Appointments must be made at least one day in advance. Hostesses for the event should have all information available at the time the picture is taken to use in connection with the picture.

The Snyder Daily News does not take pictures at baby showers, but will use pictures submitted by hostesses or honorees brought in within one week after the event.

Club news should be submitted as soon after a meeting as possible—preferably within 48 hours. Clubs desiring pictures at meetings should request the picture at least one day prior to the meeting. All information should be available at the time of the picture.

There are news forms available at the SDN office which help provide the necessary information needed for each of these stories.

Using the Negative Double

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

In standard American, when your partner opens the bidding your double of any adverse bid is for penalty. In tournament play this does not apply today.

Over 90 percent of players in those events use the double of a low-level overall as a request to partner to bid. They usually stop this negative double at a fairly low level, but some players go way up to the four level.

If you want to use this bid we suggest that you employ it through two hearts only, or maybe just through one spade to start. You should learn to walk before you run.

Suppose your partner's one-diamond opening is overcalled by a two-club bid. You hold: S-A J x x H-K 10 x x D-x x x C-x x. You can't do anything except pass or try an unsound two diamonds. Playing negative doubles, you double.

Partner can reply with two of either major if he has four cards there. Otherwise, he can rebid two diamonds. Even if he has a minimum opening he can reverse into his four-card major suit. You have asked him to bid and he is replying.

What are the limits for a negative double? Seven H.C.P. and up. If you have a really big hand, you follow your negative double with a cue bid.

How does the opener show a really big hand? He responds to your negative double with a cue bid of his own.

Next Saturday we will finish our discussion of negative doubles with suggestions as to what to do against them.

commentary

donald f. graff

At another time, under other circumstances, the offer might have been difficult to refuse.

North Korea says it is willing to renounce its military alliances with the Soviet Union and People's China. In return, it asks only a peace settlement with the United States.

It's not quite as surprising today as would be an offer from the Iranian ayatollahs to kiss and make up, but once it would have been in about the same league. Before, during and for long years after the Korean war the Pyongyang regime was quite possibly the most vehemently hostile in the Communist bloc. This, after all, is the country that seized and held the USS Pueblo in 1968, the Tehran hostage crisis of its time.

But times change and hostility lessens, although to what extent and exactly why are questions for intriguing speculation in this instance.

Various reasons are being advanced for the North Korean statement, delivered to a party of visiting Japanese politicians. It could be a transparently obvious effort to encourage the United States to begin thinking again of withdrawing some or all of the 40,000 American troops in South Korea.

It could be a basic exercise in psychological warfare designed to shake up the new military government in South Korea—as it has done and which is convinced that the North remains committed to forceful unification with the South. It could be intended to improve the North Korean image among non-aligned nations with whom Pyongyang has been making some effort of late to identify itself.

Or it could be an excuse for getting the North Koreans out of the bind it may feel the feud between the Chinese and Soviets has placed them.

None of the possible explanations is quite so intriguing, however, as the country itself these days.

North Korea, as thoroughly flattened by the war as the South, if not more so, has made an impressive recovery according to the accounts of a stream of Western visitors. Cities have been rebuilt, an industrial base established and highways constructed. Peasants have moved from huts to houses and been introduced to electricity and running water.

And even allowing for exaggeration in official statistics, North Korea, once food-poor in comparison to the South, successfully modernizing agriculture and significantly increasing production.

Economically, it would appear to be the very model of a model people's state. Politically, it is beginning to look like something else.

The country is firmly under the control of "Great Leader" Kim II Sung, as it has been for more than three decades. There is nothing unusual here, longevity in power being one of the traditions of Communist leadership—the other being abrupt removal by coup or purge.

Kim, now 68, appears to be making preparations for his succession. According to recent reports by Western correspondents, one man is taking an increasingly noticeable public role. He is Kim Jong II, at 39 a member of the party's key Political Committee, a Central Committee secretary and recently accorded the title of "Center of the Party."

And he is a prime candidate to be named party secretary general at the coming October congress, the first in a decade.

He is also the son of Kim II Sung and there is every indication that he is being groomed for the succession.

This is unusual. Nepotism at the top of the Marxist hierarchy is not unknown—Romania being an outstanding contemporary example. But it has never before reached the point of establishing a dynasty.

Politically, North Korea is commencing to look less like a model people's state than a Latin dictatorship on the order of the Duvaliers' Haiti or Somoza's Nicaragua. It may never come to quite that pass, but image and reality in post-war and prospering North Korea have clearly become two different matters.

Which should be kept in mind when evaluating apparent peace proposals originating there.

where real cost is

America's supermarkets and their customers are paying more and more and more for footstuffs, and they speak of how, the farmer and the grower-shipper are benefiting from the high prices.

Such misinformation spreads and gives the producer a bad name and the productive-region loses a little of its allure.

It would be good if those who herald the food-producing prowess of the growers would tell the full story, that the flow from the cornucopia does not turn into rivers of money emptying into the pockets of the producers.

The agricultural producer receives only a fraction of the dollar spent for his end-product (food) in the supermarket.

Who gets the lion's share? You can be the judge of that.

Marketing costs, led by labor, continue to boost food prices which may be up 10 to 12 percent by late 1980, compared to a year ago, Dr. Richard A. Edwards, economist in marketing and food distribution with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System, said.

And hear this: "Labor's share of the retail food dollar will be more than that of the farmer in 1980," Dr. Edwards added. He continued, "Our estimates show that 32 cents of every dollar spent for food items this year will go to labor costs, while only 30 cents will go to the farmer, the producer of those items."

He said labor makes up a big part of the marketing bill or food price spread, the difference between the retail price and the farm value of the commodity. He added that other items contributing to the marketing bill are packaging, transportation pretax profits and costs such as taxes, depreciation, rent, energy and interest.

"About nine cents of every food dollar goes for packaging, a nickel goes for transportation, almost another nickel goes for pretax profits, and 20 cents covers other costs," the economist added.

And hear this, too: While the farmer's share of the food dollar in 1980 will be below that of a year ago and pretax profits are also expected to drop slightly, other parts of the marketing bill should show sharp gains, the economist said. He estimates that labor costs will be up 10 to 12 percent, packaging costs up 12 to 14 percent, and other costs up about 20 percent, caused mainly by skyrocketing utility costs.

Dr. Edwards emphasized that a major reason the marketing share of the food dollar continues to increase is the increasing popularity of convenience foods. He said, "The time and work involved in manufacturing these products is shifted to the manufacturer from the consumer, a service which means higher prices."

When one observes the big grocery bill one is paying, one should not blame the farmer. The farmer is getting less. Labor is getting more. If government-mandated minimum wages were not involved and the supply-and-demand principle was allowed to run its course, a "more reasonable" food bill could be in sight at this point. The other factor, of course, is the individual who in demanding convenience foods must pay for that convenience. Whatever one does, one should know that the American farmer is still the provider who continues somehow to hang on despite government regulation and government-induced inflation.

redtape over-kill

One-fourth the cost of your house pays for pencil-pushers.

The average new house in the United States could cost 25 percent less if federal, state and local government-required paper work and delays were scrubbed.

So we have inflation and recession at the same time.

The Associated General Contractors of America recently computed the cost of compliance with government regulations on commercial construction. There it's worse.

For each contractor it averaged a "tax," which ultimately the buyers had to pay, of $140,000.

And some respondents to this AGC survey revealed some real horror stories.

If your annual income tax return appears cumbersome, it is nothing compared to the paper work required of business and industry—documents and duplicates inches high on the most insignificant project.

Penn Line Service of Scottsdale, Pa., installs landscaping and guardrails only a month or so before a project is completed.

Nonetheless, Penn Line has to submit as many as 80 Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) reports during the entire life of the construction project.

Penn Line's operations manager, McKay Carson, says, "Washington spends millions aiding small businesses... and then tries to bankrupt those businesses with an avalanche of paper work."

Mr. Carson says businessmen don't run their own businesses anymore. They take orders from government bureaucrats on whom to hire, what wages to pay, what federal jobs they may bid on, what percentage of women, what percentage of minorities, what hours of work, what rights must be observed in collecting bad accounts.

In my file is a case involving installation of a 36-inch ladder leading to a walkway—required by the Mine Safety and Health Administration.

The protests and responses, in and out of court, went on for 469 days.

In the end, it was agreed that the walkway was unused so the ladder went nowhere, was never used, never would be.

Yet the ladder was required and a penalty for delaying compliance was levied by a court of law.

Americans who are not directly involved with government snooperism would find it difficult to believe how gargantuan this burden has become.

When a contractor wants to bid on a government project, it's worse. The standard government-bid package requires compliance with 74 "general provisions," more than half of which have nothing whatever to do with construction!

The most cumbersome and costly government regulations are handed down by unelected bureaucrats whose existence has been justified by the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Davis-Bacon Act and the EEOC.

Each agency can justify its existence; it's the overkill which is compounding the construction inflation-recession.

All general contractors ask is a return to reason. (C) 1980, Los Angeles Times Syndicate.

my turn

by roy mcqueen, publisher

The feller on Deep Creek says, "If you are wrong you can't afford to argue, and if you are right, what's the use?"

A fellow from the Dallas-Fort Worth area was in the office last week and he inquired if we would officially endorse a presidential candidate. We chuckled to ourselves, in view of months of writing about the inept Carter administration.

We told him that any casual reader of our editorial columns would have no difficulty figuring out our choice in November. Although we plan a formal editorial in the future to outline our reasons, we really don't have any choice.

That carried our discussion into another area. He asked, "How can anyone be undecided at this point?" Frankly, we can't imagine anyone still trying to make up their mind.

When John the Baptist said he was not worthy to unclothe the latchet of Jesus' shoes, he was using a semi-proverbial expression. Peloubet says. The latchet was the strap to fasten sandals to the feet. The office of bearing and unfastening the shoes of great personages fell to the lower slaves.

"And (John) preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose." — Mark 1:7

The contrasts between the two candidates are so vast, that a voter with any personal philosophy would fall either into the more conservative or the more liberal category. It's just not a race for riding the fence.

Of course political rhetoric confuses some folks, and there is plenty of that this year. For more than 20 years a group of liberal senators and congressmen have voted against defense spending and for more and more social programs.

They have consistently voted down the B-1 bomber, a replacement for the intercontinental ballistic missile, a stronger armed forces and instead have handed out more and more money to more and more people.

Carter went along with them after taking office, and he shot down a chance for nuclear superiority, gave away the strategic Panama Canal, and went all out for passage of Salt II.

Iran, Cuba and Russia have all exposed just how vulnerable we are after 20 years of cutting defense budgets.

Now it's election year, and to listen to speeches and TV commercials, George McGovern, Frank Church, John Durkin, Birch Bayh, Warren Magnuson, Thomas Eagleton, Gaylord Nelson and Alan Cranston all sound like

Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It's amazing how quick the dots have transformed themselves into warlike hawks. Carter attempts in his TV commercials to sound as tough as Gen. George Patton.

They'll say anything for a lousy vote.
