A near record turn-out of voters is in prospect for the annual city election Tuesday, April 5, when Haskell voters will select a Mayor and three Aldermen, a majority of the city's governing body, to serve for the ensuing two years. Interest in this year's city election stems from the continuing controversy over the community's municipal water problems and the steps that have been taken to provide a solution of the problem. Abandonment of the four-town Miller Creek project in favor of developing a program whereby Haskell would buy water from Lake Stamford is being advocated by opponents of the present city administration, and they have an active slate of candidates for offices to be filled in Tuesday's election. Mayor Ira Hester, now completing his first term, is being opposed by a former mayor, J. E. Walling Jr. For Alderman, with three to be elected, incumbents Jim Byrd and Brooks Middleton are candidates for re-election. Other candidates for Alderman are Dr. T. W. Williams, Otho Nanny, and R. L. Stephenson. The election will be held at the City Hall, with Virgil A. Brown as presiding judge. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Council Sets Clean-Up Week Dates; Purchases New Truck

The City Council, in a special meeting Thursday night, March 24 authorized the purchase of a new 2-ton truck, set dates for the annual Spring Clean-Up Week, and deferred taking action on an application for a rate increase by Lone Star Gas Company. Also discussed was the leasing of the swimming pool in Rice Springs Park for the summer. Park Commissioner Barney Frazier told the Council he had been contacted by a party wanting to lease the pool. Handling of the matter was left in the hands of Alderman Frazier, as head of the park department. Purchase of a new truck for the city was authorized on the basis of bids, with Med-

Motor Company, $2,587.81

The period of April 23-30 was designated as city-wide Spring Clean Up Week. City Water Department Superintendent Roy Oliphant will direct the city's part in the week-long campaign. City trucks will pick up and haul off all trash and rubbish without cost during Clean-Up Week. Only requirement will be that trash is placed in container and be left where it is accessible from the streets or alleys. Application by Lone Star Gas Company for a rate increase was presented by Local Manager F. C. Hipp and District Manager H. D. Smith of Stamford. The small increase, amounting to about 30 cents per month for the average customer according to Smith, was made necessary because of a recent Railroad Commission order which resulted in hiking the cost of natural gas purchased by Lone Star. A number of towns have already granted the rate increase, gas company officials said. On motion by Alderman Brooks Middleton, seconded by Alderman Hut Pitman, action on the request was deferred until a later meeting. P. J. White of Abilene was a visitor last week in the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Redwine.

You and Your Vote are Important

With Haskell's city election only a few days away, voters have an important responsibility in selecting the men who will fill offices in the city government for the next two years.

The programs and policies that will be carried out by the officials you elect will affect your business, your community, and your well-being in many ways every day in the year.

Before selecting a candidate for a public office, consider and answer these questions:

The Office—What are the responsibilities and the duties?

The Candidate—Why is he seeking office? Does he realize the responsibilities of the job? Is he qualified and will he devote the time required to do the job? Is he interested in total community development? Is he a leader who can secure workers to help put over a program?

When you have the satisfactory answers and selected your man, ACTIVELY SUPPORT HIM.

In this entire matter the most important individual is YOU. You must secure the answers, you must support your selected candidate or candidates, but your job does not stop when this is done. Ask yourself these questions:

Will I study the problems of my town? Be interested in their solution? Be a worker in helping to carry out those programs which are necessary? Will I work for total community development and not just my pet project?

If you will do these things you will be fully accepting and exercising the responsibilities of a citizen.

Sunday School—A Force for Faith

This year marks the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., an interfaith organization dedicated to the proposition that "America was founded on man's consciousness of God, man's daily labor and the fruits therefrom." The Committee sponsors National Sunday School Week, April 11-17, 1960. The theme for the week this year is, "Sunday School—A Force for Faith."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has said, "The annual observance of National Sunday School Week should serve as a signal re-emphasizing to all responsible citizens the need for a return to religion in our standards of living."

"The Sunday Schools of our Nation can make a tremendous contribution to the necessary realignment of our guide for daily activity. The importance of religion as the major factor in the conduct of our lives must be instilled in our young men and women, and from there, it will assume its rightful place in the lives of every citizen, every community and every nation."

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Ran across an item the other day which stated that the per capita share of the national debt was $1,680 and climbing steadily.

That's a fairly good-sized debt to saddle on to each little American entering the world, isn't it?

To put it another way, the share of the public debt owed by people of Haskell County amounts to $23,076,480. That is almost $4 million more than the total tax valuation in the county, which amounts to $19,217,850.

And the debt is getting bigger every hour of the day!

This bit of information is passed along for the benefit of those who have yet to file their 1959 income tax report. You can readily see that Uncle Sam needs the money.

Eve had no need for a powder puff or a pot of rouge to catch Adam—but then she had no competition, either.

It's a far different story for her daughters, who spend more than $1.5 billion a year, according to World Book Encyclopedia, in their search for beauty, youth and man.

This leap year they can even arm themselves with false eyebrows to match the deceptive eye lashes they've been fluttering.

It's just a slight improvement over Cleopatra, who probably would have gone down in history without any help from Antony because of her proficiency with paint.

Haskell Jaycees, with another successful county spelling bee behind them, will likely turn their energies now toward their "Get Out the Vote" project, along with plans for a political rally and candidate speaking to be held here in advance of the First Primary.

A political rally will be held in Weinert April 22, sponsored by the Weinert Study Club, and the Jaycees program here will likely come after that date although it has not been definitely set.

It would be a good thing if similar political rallies were held in other towns and communities in the county. It could not help but stimulate greater interest in voting.

Some office-seekers profess their inability to address a gathering, or "make a speech." But these same candidates, although few are orators, never fail to get a round of applause when they make their talks—and some of these talks would be a credit to many after-dinner speakers.

City Night Officer Olen King has come across several unusual situations since he has been on the force. A new one came to light the other day.

One night recently, Officer King received a telephone call from a Haskell man in a nearby city. The man explained their car had been parked and locked with the keys inside, while he and his wife were visiting with friends and get the extra set of car keys you'll find in my bedroom," the man requested of King, telling him how entrance could be gained since there would be no one at home. Then he was to send the extra keys by bus to their destination.

King was glad to comply with the man's request, and the car keys were on their way by the next bus.

King admitted that he "felt kinda sneaky," entering someone's darkened home at night. Neighbors could have easily concluded he was a house prowler, he commented.

An abandoned and long-forgotten well, existence of which dates back to Haskell's earliest days came to light this week.

Workmen employed in remodeling the building on the southeast corner of the square, which is to be the future home of The Free Press, discovered the old well.

A part of the concrete floor of the old building was being broken out when workmen hit a "hollow-sounding" section of concrete. Examination revealed a 25-foot deep water well, walled with rock from top to bottom and standing in several feet of water.

As a precautionary measure, the old well was filled in and a new concrete floor will cover it.

Oldtimers recall that this was the site of the now legendary Road to Ruin Saloon in Haskell's early days. The old well might have belonged to the saloon or to some other business establishment in the vicinity. At any rate its existence has been unknown for some 40 years or longer, since the building now being remodelled was built in the early '20s.

While listening in on Brooks Middleton and Maurice Ganaway talking cows, calves, and sheep the other day we learned that coyotes are not the worst predators against sheepmen and livestock raisers.

We'd always been under the impression that coyotes or wolves, along with Mexican eagles were the worst enemies of lambs and sheep.

Not so, Brooks declares, and Maurice sides with him. Worst predators are wild dogs—domesticated animals that revert to the wild state. Every wild dog is a "killer" and a pack of them get among sheep and kill for the sheer lust of killing, Brooks says.

On the other hand coyotes will kill only what they can eat, although there are "killer" coyotes occasionally, he explained.

A pack of wild dogs now frequents the city dump grounds east of town, and they range for several miles, Brooks said. They are as wild or more so than a coyote, and it is difficult to get within shooting distance of them he says.

Two Lubbock men who have admitted and are under indictment for burglaries here, told officers of being frightened away from one burglary in which they narrowly escaped detection by a city nightwatchman.

According to their story, the two men had carefully timed the nightwatchman on his nightly rounds. Five minutes after the nightwatchman had supposedly made his round, the two men started to break into the rear of a drug store. One had climbed up to a barred window and broke a pane of glass, while the other acted as a lookout.

At that instant the nightwatchman's car came in the alley and stopped at a key station for the watchman's time clock. The two burglars, just outside the beam of the officer's car lights literally "froze" in their tracks, fearing that the least move might betray them and thinking they might be trapped anyway.

"I could almost feel bullets hitting me as I hung on to that window," one of the men told officers.

Luckily for the burglars, the nightwatchman had checked rear doors and windows on an earlier round, and failed to see the two men in their hiding place.

That was their story to officers. Whether they were lying or not is questionable.

But it does emphasize the point that better lighting of alleys at night might be a big help in preventing the few burglaries that do occur occasionally.

What will Haskell's population be in the 1960 census? The 1950 census listed 3,836 people living within the city limits.

To the person guessing the correct figure, or nearest to it, as determined in the 1960 census, "People, Places and Things" will give five silver dollars.

No obligation, but only one guess to each person. All guesses must be postmarked not later than April 15 and should be addressed to The Free Press (PPT), Box 577, Haskell, Texas.

The prize will be awarded on the basis of the first preliminary total announced for Haskell. In case of tie, award will go to the first correct guess turned in.

Returns From Visit With Son In Baltimore

Mrs. Frank Spencer returned home by plane recently from an extended trip to Mobile, Ala., New Orleans, La., and on to Baltimore, Md., where she visited her son and family. Dr. and Mrs. Frank C. Spencer.

While in Mobile, Ala., Mrs. Spencer visited the famed Belingrath Gardens, one of the most picturesque and beautiful spots in the Deep South. From Mobile, Mrs. Spencer motored to New Orleans, La., with her sister, Mrs. O. L. Radford. They spent five days visiting and seeing the sights of this colorful and historic city.

They attended the Mardi Gras, which Mrs. Spencer described as very beautiful. A week before Mardi Gras, parades are staged each night, lighted up with torches carried by Negroes walking in front of the floats. These floats all represent some era in the history of New Orleans.

Final Training Under Way For Census Takers

Census takers who will visit every dwelling unit in the area during the 1960 Census of Population and Housing which starts April 1, are taking part in four training sessions this week. District Supervisor Herbert S. Gray of Wichita Falls has announced.

The training sessions, being conducted by crew leaders, started Monday March 28 and will continue through today, March 31. In Haskell, Shelly Royall is conducting the training. Each census taker will receive a total of approximately 16 hours of instruction.

Emphasis is being placed on the importance of a systematic thorough canvass of every dwelling unit during the census to insure a complete count. Class room training covers proper manner of asking questions, use of the Census questionnaire, Census definitions, and map reading.

Map reading is an important census-taking technique since, without maps, defining the limits of each district to which a census taker is assigned the job would be a matter of confusion. About 250,000 maps have been prepared for the 1960 Census. This provides an individual map for each of the districts into which the country has been divided for the census. Every census taker will be furnished with a map of his district. As they make their rounds, census takers will be required to canvass every street and road and visit every housing unit within the boundaries of their assignments shown on these maps.

Rochester Girl Wins Spelling Bee For Second Consecutive Year

For the second consecutive year, Miss Troveta Posey, brilliant young student in Rochester schools, won the championship title in the annual Haskell County Spelling Bee, held Friday night in the High School auditorium.

The 12-year-old seventh-grader bested runner-up Shirley Sanders of Weinert two hours and five minutes after the Bee began by spelling "adhere" and going on to properly spell "audacity."

Earlier both girls had missed "coherence." Miss Sanders spelling it co-h-e-r-r-e-e-e and Miss Posey spelling "co-h-e-r-e-e-n-e-e."

The field of seven contestants was narrowed to four early in the spell-down; then, the contest began to look like a long battle when suddenly after an hour and half, two of the four remaining—Crawford Allison of Rule and Dianne Summers of Haskell missed "possessed" and "regard" within a minute of each other.

Pronouncer Mrs. Bailey Toliver then progressed to the intermediate words and on the 18th round Miss Sanders missed "adhere."

The Bee was sponsored for the third time by the Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce. Director was Joe Warren and judges included Ben Charlie Chapman, Mrs. Brooks Middleton and Royce Adkins.

Wallace Wooten, vice president of the Jaycees, presented a plaque to each of the seven contestants. Each was a winner from his or her respective school. A loving cup also was presented to Miss Posey.

The winner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Posey Jr., of Rochester. She represented Haskell County in the District Bee in Wichita Falls April 26 at Midwestern University.

Winner of the district contest will go to Washington, D. C., to participate in the national contest. The trip to Washington is all-expense paid for the winner by the sponsors of the Bee, the Wichita Falls Times and Record-News.

Accompanying the winner to Washington, D. C., for the "big contest" will be a member of the newspaper staff.

50th Wedding Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown of Rule observed their 50th wedding on March 28. Mrs. Brown is the former Etta Vest and was born in Ezell, Ky. Mr. Brown was born in Denton. They met when she was visiting in Abilene, where his family was living.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown have one son, Arthur E., who is a civil engineer, living in Durango, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown have lived most of their married life on their ranch near Aspermont. They moved to Rule in 1950 to make their home. Later they bought a ranch in Colorado and lived there for 3½ years, returning to Rule where they still live.

W. Norman Jr., and Mrs. Ray Eastland of Stamford went to see their mother this weekend. Mrs. Clyde Kimbler accompanied them on the trip and visited with her son and his family with her son and his Kimbler.

Mrs. Olin Carothers, Mrs. Lyn Martin and Mrs. Clyde Grice attended the Garden Club District meeting in Sweetwater Tuesday, March 22.

Thomas Kutch, agriculture teacher, took Jimmy Norman, Sammie Fenleton, Thomas McMeans and Scottie White to the FFA Meet in Abilene last Saturday. They entered in the cattle judging contest.

Textile Fibers Now Identified For Public

What kind of fiber? That's an important clue for consumers interested in the use and care of modern fabrics. It's a question that is easier to answer since March 3—that is when the new Textile Fiber Products Identification Act went into effect. Since that date, each textile fiber product must carry a label which gives the generic (family) name and the names and percentages by weights of the fibers in the product.

We all recognize the natural fibers—cotton, linen, silk, and wool; however, some of the man-made fibers have unfamiliar generic names. But Barbara McAnelly, county home demonstration agent points out that it is very important to learn these new names because they give an important clue to proper washing, drying and pressing temperatures and to spot removal.

Trade names also exist for many fibers. But when a manufacturer uses a trade name he must pair it with the generic names of fibers, so that you still have this important clue to clothing care.

The Fiber Identification Act, effective March 3, is the fourth consumer legislation in textile and furs. Other laws in effect to day are: the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939; the Fur Products Labeling Act of 1951, and the Flammable Fabrics Act of 1953.

Get a copy of the leaflet, "For Clues to Clothing Care—Read Your Label," at your county home demonstration agent's office. It will help you identify fibers and simplify your clothing care.

MY POSITION ON THE WATER PROBLEM

In advance of the city election April 5th, I want to make my position clear concerning our city's water problem and the steps that have been taken or proposed to solve this problem.

First, however, I want to state that I am 100 per cent for every progressive movement designed to make Haskell a better town, and to promote its growth. I have always considered it a duty and a privilege to work for and support every feasible civic project that has been advanced in our community in recent years. I can say with pardonable pride that my record in this respect is well known to the citizens of Haskell.

The fact that Haskell is faced with a serious problem in regard to a municipal water supply is well known to all of us. The solution of this problem, its cost to the taxpayers, and its effect on our town's future is of vital concern to every citizen and every taxpayer.

Personally, I think the so-called Miller Creek Project, a $3,800,000 package, is far too great a debt to assume for a 25,000-acre-foot lake 33 miles from Haskell. Our town's share, about $1,950,000 would place a tax burden of around $65,875.00 annually for 40 years on the taxpayers of Haskell. The interest alone would "eat us up!" If you have ever paid interest on a long-term home or business loan you know what I mean!

In my opinion, a more sensible, satisfactory and far less costly solution is virtually at our doorstep. Reliable engineers tell us that for an investment of not more than $650,000, Haskell can build a pipeline, filtering and pumping plant to provide unlimited water from Lake Stamford, a 60,000-acre-foot lake only 11 or 12 miles away. And I personally know the City of Stamford is agreeable to this.

Best of all, the $650,000 expenditure could be financed with Revenue Bonds. No tax increase would be required, since no ad valorem tax would be involved—a saving of $65,875.00 yearly. To me, that looks like a worthwhile saving!

That, briefly, is my stand on the water problem. I favor a $650,000 investment right here in our own county and no tax bonds, against a $3,800,000 deal 33 miles away that would require 40-year tax bonds—a mortgage on every home and business in Haskell.

Aside from securing adequate water, there will be other civic needs if Haskell is to continue as a progressive, growing city. If we can maintain a sound financial structure, keeping our bonded indebtedness at a sensible level, I believe that other civic programs can be carried out, such as paving, better street lighting, better sidewalks, park improvements or other projects that the people want.

These are the things that I stand for and will work for if you see fit to again honor me by electing me as your Mayor.

On that basis, and on my past record as your Alderman and Mayor, I solicit your vote Tuesday, April 5.

J. E. WALLING, JR.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Daughter of Saudi Arabia Ambassador Is Guest Speaker at Magazine Club

The Magazine Club continuing their study, "Religions of the World," enjoyed the charming Mrs. Anece Hassen Friday afternoon, March 25. Mrs. Hassen was guest speaker for the "Religion in Art" program.

Mrs. George Tyler and Mrs. Joe Thiipen presided at the beautifully appointed tea table. A lovely centerpiece of yellow and purple Dutch iris complimented the table set with silver service and crystal. Tea, sandwiches, delicious Syrian pastries and apricot delight prepared by Mrs. S. Hassen were served.

Mrs. S. Hassen, program director, welcomed the 51 members and guests present and introduced Mrs. J. U. Fields who gave the invocation.

Mrs. Anece Hassen, the former Selma A. Alfakkeh, is the daughter of A. Alfakkeh, former ambassador to the United States from Saudi Arabia. Before coming to the United States, Mr. Alfakkeh was ambassador to Iraq. In 1959 he went to Japan.

Born in Lebanon and educated in the United States, Mrs. Hassen was graduated from high school and from Marjorie Webster Junior College in Washington, D. C. She was married to Anece Hassen at ceremonies read in the embassy. Their wedding trip took them to Mexico, France, England in Saudi Arabia. Mr. Hassen is owner of a department store in Sulphur, Okla. The couple has two daughters, Dawn, 4, and Terry 10 months. After her visit in Haskell, Mrs. Hassen was to fly to Lebanon for her sister's wedding.

The guest speaker told the group about an interesting movement in the United States called Sufism. She said Sufism is a study of wisdom and there are 40 followers of this movement in the U. S. This study is simply a different approach to Christianity. They hold the primary belief in God with one aim of getting people together to agree on God. Sufi believes that Christ has all and they concentrate on Him in their study. They believe that Sufi appeals to every religion, is very personal and has a universal tolerance to all people and things.

Mrs. S. Hassen followed the guest's informative speech with an introduction to "Religion in Art." She stated that the educational value of great religious art is more generally recognized today than ever before. The Christian world is beginning to turn the art with a new spirit of appreciation due largely to the ease with which the public may now have access to at least reproductions of great masterpieces of art at a comparatively nominal cost. Just as the printing press ushered in the democracy of learning, so the camera ushered in the democracy of art; and pictures that were found only in the great cathedrals and art galleries, or in the homes of the rich, are now found everywhere in reproductions.

A film was then shown entitled, "The Life of Christ in Art." Mrs. S. Hassen had displayed beautiful linens, pictures depicting religion in art and elegant brass pieces. Mrs. Anece Hassen showed a gown given to her mother by the Queen of Saudi Arabia which was woven with 24 kt. gold. She also showed a silver and a brass tray.

Money gifts were presented for the Penny Art Fund and the Musical Penny Fund which provides scholarships for talented students in the music and art fields.

The Social Committee served as hostesses. Mrs. Jack Pippin, chairman; Mmes. C. J. Robinson, R. L. Burton, A. C. Williams, W. E. Huss and Robert Wheatley.

The next scheduled meeting will be the study of Catholicism April 8. Mrs. Arlos Weaver will be the program director.

Texas Heritage Department Gives Club Program

The stars at night are big and bright deep in the heart of Texas. Athens has been the hometown of fifty millionaires, including Sid Richardson, and Clint Murchison. Did you know that Pecos Bill used a rattlesnake for a whip and rode a tiger instead of a horse? Now, Slew Foot Sue was his girl friend and he gave her a whale-bone hoop, she sat so hard upon it that she bounced right up to the moon.

The glory of our Texas millionaires, the humorous folklore of our state, and a reminder of Texans' contribution to literature provided the theme for the Texas Heritage ETV series for members of the Progressive Study Club.

Mrs. Horace Woodard, program director, provided a most interesting and colorful setting by use of large bulletin boards containing pictures of Texas heroes and shrines. The bulletin boards and scrapbooks were made by members of the fourth grade. A large cut-out of Pecos Bill and Slew Foot Sue was made by Jan Herren, high school junior.

The president, Mrs. Bailey Toliver, presided for a short business meeting. Club members answered roll call with the names of a Texas author.

The program was presented as a televised program under the direction of Mrs. Woodard. A panel of high school students was introduced by Mrs. Arlos Weaver. Mrs. Patsy Bartlett spoke of Texas Poet Laureates, Miss Sherry Burson told about Texas Millionaires, and Miss Bettie Weaver related Texas Folklore. Familiar Texas songs were led by Mrs. Frank Martin.

The hostesses, Mrs. Hubert Bell and Mrs. Allen Overton served coffee and cookies cut in the shape of Texas with a small flag placed at the location of Austin.

Members and guests enjoyed the program very much and left with the feeling, "It's great to be a Texan."

Airways To Haskell Brings Fast Service

Haskell may not be on a "jet propelled air route", but service recently to Sherman's Floors and Interiors, was just about as fast, quick and efficient.

It all happened like this... Mr. O'Hair of the O'Hair Shutter Company of Lubbock had flown his plane to Abilene to service a dealer in that city, and while in the "Key City" remarked he had a dealer in Haskell that he needed to contact. After finding out that Haskell had a landing field, he decided to route his trip to this city to serve his dealer here, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Sherman of Sherman's Floors and Interiors.

Terry Diggs, local air-minded citizen, saw the plane land at the airport and in turn brought Mr. O'Hair into town to serve his dealer, Alvin Sherman, who handles the O'Hair window shutters. The shutters are easily installed inside, or with an extra attachment, the purchaser may install shutters on the facing of the window. Shutters are available in fruitwood finishes or antique maple—or they may be secured at Sherman's Floors and Interiors unfinished, and thus be made to match your own color scheme.

The main point established by the above incident reveals the very fine and fast service the O'Hair Shutter Company renders its local dealer, Sherman Floors and Interiors, and in turn Mr. Sherman is able to pass on to his customers efficient and dependable service.

HOUSECLEANING TIME

HOW many old, expired insurance policies have you in your safe deposit box or desk? You may be surprised.

But the important question is not how many expired policies you have—but is your present insurance adequate for your needs now... today? Have you made recent improvements on your house? Have you installed automatic heating equipment perhaps? Then you need additional coverage. Buying new furniture, becoming a camera fan, or buying a boat brings new insurance needs into the picture.

This may sound very complicated—but to make it less so to you, this agency will be glad to explain the type of coverage which best suits your needs. Why not drop in today?

Special Postage Stamp Will Honor Nation's Water Conservation Groups

World's first water conservation postage stamp, to be issued April 18 in Washington, D. C., honors rural and urban organizations engaged in small watershed conservation activities, according to J. C. Yearly Jr., Soil Conservation technician, Haskell.

The California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District are among local groups honored by the issuance of the stamp, Yearly said.

"The local groups are attacking water problems where they begin—on the farm land where water first falls, and along the small creeks and brooks that join to form our major rivers," Yearly said.

Yearly pointed out that virtually every community in the country has a water problem of some sort—too much periodic (floods), too little (drought) or too poor (polluted). In Haskell County our main water problem is the lack of sufficient water for community use and farm use.

Supporters of the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation Districts and persons interested in commemorative stamps will be able to purchase a 4-cent water conservation stamp locally April 19.

Although the Post Office Department is printing 120 million copies of the 3-color water conservation stamp, the edition may not last long, Yearly predicted.

The stamp is being issued at Washington, D. C. on April 18 as a tribute to conservation farmers and ranchers and their local SCS districts.

"I'm sure that most everyone in the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation Districts will want to buy these colorful and historical stamps when they go on sale here," Yearly said.

Those who are interested in a "first-day cover," a souvenir envelope, can mail address envelopes plus a money order or certified check for the number of stamps required to the Postmaster at Washington, D. C., who will place the water conservation stamp on the envelopes, cancel with a special cancellation mark used on that day and at that place, and mail as addressed anywhere in the country, Yearly pointed out.

School Lunch Menus

School menus for week of April 4-8:

Monday: Salmon croquettes, catsup, creamed English peas, carrots, pineapple, cabbage, salad, rolls, apricot cobbler, milk.

Tuesday: Chili con carne with beans, buttered broccoli, onion rings, cabbage and green pepper salad, cornbread, butter, prune plums, milk.

Wednesday: Barbecue on buns, green beans, potato chips, sliced tomatoes, shredded lettuce, apple cobbler, milk.

Thursday: Cheese meat loaf, green lima beans, potato salad, rolls, fruit cup, peanut butter cookies, milk.

Friday: Rolled roast, gravy, mashed potatoes, vegetable salad, rolls, banana pudding, milk.

Get License Before Fishing, Warns Warden

A few days of sunshine has doubled the number of fishermen on the lakes and streams of Texas, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

"Wardens checking these fishermen find that most of them have their licenses," the director said. "A few, however, have put off buying their fishing licenses and it is necessary to charge them with violation."

Fishing licenses are required of all persons, except those under 16 or over 65 years, fishing with rod and reel in any Texas waters.

Non-residents pay the same fee for their license as Texans—$2.15—which permits fishing in either fresh or salt water.

"Visitors to Texas are appreciative of this license," the director said. "Most states charge a much higher price for non-resident fishing privileges. As a result of our minimum priced license, we get many fishing visitors in the state."

Fishing licenses can be bought from most sporting goods stores, the county clerks and game and fish commission offices in the major Texas cities.

Haskell, Seymour Rebekahs to Meet With Rule Lodge

Rebekah Lodges of Haskell, Rule and Seymour will hold a joint meeting in Rule Monday evening, April 4.

At that time Mrs. Sadie Patterson of Jacksboro, district deputy, will make her official visit to the three Rebekah Lodges. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m., and all Rebekahs are urged to attend.

Vote, Vote, V

While we have a government for the people by the people we have the privilege of voting we have the obligation to vote.

In our coming City election we have seven of the best men themselves for free service to our community: In this they will receive no compensation other than the pleasure of their Civic duty.

We still have an option to build Miller Creek Lake or pipe line to Lake Stamford.

Freese and Nichols figures on comparative cost show: Haskell's portion of required bond for Miller Creek project 40 year interest to final payment of bonds one hundred ten per cent of issue

Miller Creek total bonds and interest
Bonds required for installation to Lake Stamford	$ 682,000
Interest, one hundred ten per cent	750,200
	$1,432,200
Final net difference in favor of Lake Stamford project

There would be yet a greater difference in that the Lake Stamford project would bear a lesser rate of interest shorter term of years. Being revenue bonds you would not mortgage your homes and pay taxes to redeem them.

Freese & Nichols engineering report to NCTMWA of thirty pages, a very fine, informative mass of figures and comments to acquaint us with our water possibilities at Miller Creek which would be confusing and burdensome if quoted.

Some facts that all voting adults should know: All of the State of Texas are properties of the State. Towns and cities are permitted under State regulation to impound and use these waters to "the beneficial use of their citizens."

They do not acquire title to water beyond their need by impounding it. As in our immediate community, Stamford has a lake of 60,000 acre feet. They have a permit to withdraw 100 acre feet per year "for as much thereof as can be beneficial to their citizens."

If for any cause they do not need that amount they draw it (at present this is some ten times their consumption) water not used under their permit does not accumulate or benefit for the following year.

If we build Miller Creek Lake we will be permitted to impound according to our needs, under supervision of Texas State Board of Water Engineers.

If we connect with Lake Stamford we will be permitted to impound what water we need, under supervision of Texas State Board of Water Engineers.

If we connect to Lake Stamford we save two and a half dollars in payment of bonds for initial installation. We will have eleven mile pipe line with 149 feet lift to Haskell. We have 100 feet storage of Texas best lake water.

If we build Miller Creek Lake we will have 25,000 acre feet of unknown quality, but alarmingly close to Lake Kemp that has been abandoned for many years on account of mineral and gypsum (to Haskell) two hundred-sixty three feet.

One year's interest on the bonds to Miller Creek, would pay for ten years water supply from Stamford.

I have been unable to find one word in favor of Miller Creek except that King Solomon says, "IT IS GOOD FOR A MAN TO BEAR A BURDEN IN HIS YOUTH". We can hope to produce a better youth by unnecessary, unmerciful Tax burden the next forty years.

You can indicate your preference in the lake project by voting in the City election for the candidates whose thinking harmonizes with yours.

Candidates who have pledged themselves to support Lake Stamford project are: For Mayor, J. E. Walling Jr.; For Councilman, C. R. L. Stephenson.

In closing, I quote the following poem by Edgar A. Guest in the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

JUST FOLKS

If I must fail to be of worth,
If I a losing race must run,
If I must fall unto the earth
With not a deed of value done,
If I must miss the victor's crown,
For which all humans here are vying,
I shall not whine, if when I'm down,
It can be said I fell while trying.
