Livestock Owners of County Plan Start of Brucellosis Control Program

Albert Thane of the Paint Creek community is heading a committee of people working to sign up livestock owners in Haskell County, in the eradication of brucellosis, County Agent F. W. Martin reported this week.

The County Agent explained that brucellosis is a contagious disease of animals and man caused by a bacteria. In cattle, it has been called Bang's disease. It sometimes is referred to as undulant fever in man. In cattle, brucellosis localizes in the reproductive tract and interferes with normal reproduction. In addition, the disease affects the mammary glands and reduces milk production.

Human brucellosis is a lingering disease of the bloodstream. Although seldom fatal, it produces debility, nervous disturbances and various other disturbances. Man becomes infected by drinking unpasteurized milk from infected animals or by handling infected animals without proper sanitary precautions.

The best solution to the brucellosis problem is to clean brucellosis out of the cattle in our county. This has been provided for in a law passed by the 56th Legislature.

The law provides that 75% of cattle owners, owning at least 51% of cattle as shown by tax rolls must petition to designate a county as control area.

When the Commission receives a petition it will issue a proclamation describing the area and stating type of area, plus date regulation becomes effective. This date cannot be less than 90 days from issuing proclamation. In Type II areas the Commission will conduct the test and vaccination and enforce the rules and regulations. An area will be certified when not more than 1% of the cattle in 5% of the herds are found to be infected. Owners must submit cattle for test, vaccination, or identification or be subjected to penalty. Reactors must be fire branded with letter "B" and indemnities shall not be paid. Appeals to Civil Courts if dissatisfied with rulings of Commission is provided by law.

There is no cost to the farmer or rancher in Haskell County except the cost and trouble of gathering the cattle. The state pays for the cost of testing.

The following cattle will have to be tested: All dairy cattle, all registered cattle, and 20% of the beef cattle over 30 months of age.

The following men have petitions that can be signed by farmers and ranchers in the county: Albert Thane, Paint Creek community; Brooks Early, southeast part of the county; Wallace Boone, Weinkell; Maurice Gannaway, Haskell; Vonn Cobb, east part of county; O. G. Lewis, Rule; L. W. Jones, Rule; Henry Smith, Mattson; Bruno Kupatt, Sagerton; George Mullino, Rochester; Roy Overton, Paint Creek; George Hanson, Plainview; Calvin Frierson, Haskell; E. H. Burnett, Haskell; Ervin Hamilton, Rochester.

A petition form is in the County Agent's office in the court house in Haskell and any one desiring can go by that office and sign to have cattle tested.

Student Center Work Resumed, May Open Soon

Prospects that Haskell's Student Center might be open to the young people of the community within the not too distant future looked brighter this week than they have in months.

Carpenters and workmen have been at work on the buildings this week, and rapid headway is being made in placing them in shape for use. Heating and plumbing fixtures are being installed, and new asbestos siding is being placed on one of the buildings.

The building which formerly housed the Central Ward School, which has been moved to the site, is being re-worked inside and out and will be converted into an attractive and usable structure.

Because there have been so many delays in the past, sponsors and others actively interested in the project are keeping their fingers crossed insofar as setting a definite opening date for the Student Center is concerned.

However, with the project at an advanced stage, sponsors are confident the Center can be in use before end of the current school term.

Negro Girl, 10, Severely Burned Dec. 22, Able to Leave Hospital

Doctors, nurses, and other personnel at the Haskell County Hospital are going to miss a little Negro girl whose courage and sunny disposition in the face of pain and suffering endeared her to the entire hospital staff.

The little girl, Bobbie Collins, 10, victim of critical burns three days before Christmas, was released from the hospital a few days ago, well on the road to complete recovery.

Doctors had worked long and tediously with the little girl in grafting skin on areas of her body where she suffered severe burns when her dress caught fire from a heater in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Collins. The accident occurred Dec. 22, and the child was hospitalized almost two months.

During her long stay in the hospital, nurses said the little child was a model patient, cheerful and rarely complaining of her suffering.

Before the small patient was discharged, she had presented her with shoes and pajamas, and Mrs. H. Coffield also contributed a pair of shoes for the girl.

How Much Higher?

"How much higher can the gasoline tax burden go before it becomes a handicap to the future of the nation's economy?" That king-sized question is asked by J. H. Carmical in a lengthy article in the New York Times.

Last October, Congress raised the federal gas tax a cent. Now it is proposed that another half-cent be added. This may not seem like much—but it would increase the American motorists' fuel bill by a handsome $250 million a year.

Gasoline already carries excise taxes which are outrageous for a basic necessity. The average tax, state and federal combined, has passed 19 cents. Collections run to some $5 billion a year. Then, Mr. Carmical points out, the motorist must pay all manner of other special levies—registration fees, excise taxes on the cars themselves and on tires and parts, etc. All in all, he estimates, tax collections from highway users probably amount to more than $10 billion a year.

What this all adds up to is that the gas tax can reach a point of diminishing return, as motorists reduce their consumption in one way or another. As an example, Mr. Carmical points to the growing trend toward small economy cars—which indicates that the driving public is growing increasingly cost conscious. Higher gas taxes, state or federal, will defeat their own purpose.

School Aid Bill Is With People's Money

(Abilene Reporter-News)

In a speech written for delivery in the Senate with reference to the "aid to education" bill subsequently approved by that body, Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said that under that bill "the federal government in two years would take another $1 billion from the pockets of taxpayers in every state, clip up to 20 per cent out for federal administration, and return what is left as so-called FEDERAL grants to states and localities with Washington strings attached."

The capital letter in "federal" are Senator Byrd's own, to lay sarcastic emphasis we suppose on any notion that what the federal government proposes to "give" to the states in the matter could possibly come from any other place than the people of the several states. In short, the people's own tax money, from which generous Uncle Sam would extract twenty per cent for the trouble of keeping a lot of bureaucrats well-fattened.

The fingers of the leaders of the National Education Association have been itching for years to get federal control of education in all its aspects, from grade school right on up. It is easier to influence and control one legislative body than fifty, and through Washington to control education in all the states.

The pending bill goes further than any similar bill has gone before. In addition to allocating funds for construction to the various states (strictly according to bureaucratic or federal notions) a large part of it would go to help teachers' salaries.

Now teachers' salaries are miserable in many states, and nothing to brag about in Texas, and no one can blame them for grasping at almost anything to better their economic lot. So this bill has the additional lure of lining up teacher-support. But federal controls follow federal money as day follows night, and properly so; and to argue that this does not represent a long step forward in federal control of education is to ignore the obvious.

We quote Senator Byrd: "Surely, pious words in the first two paragraphs of the pending bill say the money is for only (sic) construction and no federal control will be exercised. But 20 lines further down there begins a 4-page formula to be met by states and localities when they come begging for federal hand-outs."

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Haskell has had its share of civic headaches, and probably will have more in the future.

Fortunately, we have escaped one "headache" that poses a persistent problem in our neighboring towns. Whenever a solution is worked out, Haskell can benefit from the answer if we're smart enough to do so without having to go through the trial and error stage.

We have in mind the parking meter situation.

In neighboring Stamford, the meters were taken out some time back, after continued protests by merchants that paid parking was hurting business.

Now, the Stamford City Council has ordered meters re-installed in certain areas of the business section.

Explanation is that business men and their employees exempt too much parking space. Theory is that shoppers would be willing to pay a few pennies for parking conveniently to downtown stores.

At Spur, where parking meters are now in operation, a "straw vote" is being taken to determine sentiment of people in the Spur trade territory relative to continuing the meters.

The results in both Stamford and Spur relative to the parking situation can provide valuable information for Haskell and other towns if we will only take advantage of it.

As in towns large and small, parking space is at a premium in Haskell a big lot of the time. A good illustration was Tuesday—when local merchants sponsored Monthly Dollar Day—and the town was filled with cars most of the day.

Considerable parking space could be made available if store owners and employees would park their cars in the rear of stores where practicable. Naturally, this would have to be worked out on a voluntary basis.

Speaking of parking in the alleys, have you driven through the downtown alleys and noted the difference in the paved and unpaved alleys?

The alley on the west side of the square is almost impassable due to "chug holes" and rough spots, while the alley on the east side is not much better.

It is to be regretted that property owners did not see fit to go in on the paving project, but that was their privilege.

The lack of cooperation does not relieve the city of its responsibility of keeping the alleys passable and in good condition as possible. Without being critical, it seems that as soon as men and equipment can be spared from the pipeline project, some improvement work could be done on our alleys.

Sonewall's wet precinct adjoining Haskell County on the west has resulted in more work for employees of the developed, all of which works toward better government.

When date for the Weinert rally is announced keep it in mind and attend.

A former Haskell man who is now a prominent farmer on the South Plains still recalls an experience as a youth when he worked for a tight-fisted Haskell merchant.

The youth, about 19, was doing some fencing and other work on a farm for the Haskell man. It was in December, and on Christmas Eve the old man told the youth he needn't work on Christmas Day, and handed him a package, saying gruffly "Merry Christmas," as he turned and left.

Opening the package, he young man found a brand new pair of pig hide work gloves. Anyone old enough to remember will recall that these were about the best work gloves obtainable, tough and long-wearing.

Right there, the young man changed his opinion of his employer, known to everybody as almost a miser, a man who wouldn't part with so much as a penny except in dire necessity.

"Old Man—has a heart of gold," he told his friends, in the meantime showing off his new gloves. No one doubted the young man, but they couldn't understand such a change in the old miser.

It wasn't long, however, until the young man understood. A few days after Jan. 1 he received a statement (a "dun" in those days) from the old man's store. It was for "1 Pr. Pig Hide Gloves, $2.50."

Newspaper carriers, milk and bread men and other early risers run into some strange experiences sometimes.

Kenneth Thornton, Star-Telegram distributor, narrowly missed being hit by a speeding car one night last summer.

The speeder happened to be a liquor-hauler who had been "jumped" and was being pursued by officers. Kenneth was driving down Avenue E when he heard the roar of an approaching car. As he approached the intersection of North 11th or 12th a car, without lights, streaked across the intersection barely in front of him.

He had no more than crossed the intersection until the officer's car zoomed past. Realizing what was happening, Kenneth turned and followed for several blocks but gave up when the chase led out of town on the Rule highway.

Later, he learned the liquor-runner got away.

Our hat is off to the Weinert Study Club for its decision to sponsor a political rally and .....More Gal Two....People, Places, speaking by candidates.

Date and plans for the event are to be announced. We predict that with favorable weather, it will be the largest gathering of its kind in the county.

In addition to the good will and enjoyable fellowship generated at these gatherings, a greater interest in voting is

PAINT CREEK... COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

The Paint Creek basketball team has tied for first place in the district with Rochester girls. The first play-off game will be at Rochester at 7:30 Friday night. The second will be here on Tuesday at 7:30, and the last, if there is one, will be at Haskell gym on Friday, Feb. 26 at 7:30. Two of our guards are hurt. We know for sure that Margaret Elmer won't be able to play this Friday because of her twisted knee. Beiva Jones has hurt her arm and she is a starting guard, too. But the rest can win, if they are hitting as well as they have in some of our games.

Last Friday night at O'Brien, both the girls and boys teams won. Our boys played one of the best games they have played all year. They played a good game at Mattson the other night, too. We all felt, and I mean Paint Creek and Mattson too, that the officiating in the game was poor. Mr. Baker was upset about the officiating as anybody, but that's the way it is sometimes. The Mattson boys couldn't help it any more than we, and they and their patrons don't like to win a game that way, any more than we. We had hoped Mattson could have been in the boys play-off games, but Rochester beat Weinert, so the tie is between Rochester and Weinert boys. Mattson and Paint Creek are sister schools, the only two country schools in the county and when we can't win, we surely like for them to. Every kiddo in Mattson and Paint Creek, if they aren't already cousins, are boy friends and girl friends.

Our nephew Irvin Overton married Emmie Opitz from Mattson, and now we are kin to everybody from here to Throckmorton. And so are the Paul Fischers, the Lem Ivys and Albert Bitters and the Luther Harrisess. So since we're all kinfolks, let's not ever let the outcome of a ball game bother us.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell and children, and Mr. and

Mrs. Bill Michter spent last weekend in Snyder visiting their brother and son, Durward Michter and family.

Hoyt Perry returned from the hospital last week after suffering a bout with the flu.

Dickie Cooper who is a member of Stamford Scout Troop 49, sponsored by St. John's Methodist was one of the area Scouts making the trip to Austin to take the Scout message to the governor. They left Friday and had supper in Lampasas, and arrived in Austin in time to have a swim in the YMCA indoor pool. They spent the night at Begstrom Air Base. Saturday they toured the capitol; took part in the parade of about 3,000 Scouts, visited the House of Representatives, took part in the report to the governor, and heard an address by Governor Daniel. They had dinner at the Austin Hotel and heard an address by Attorney General Will Wilson and then returned home that afternoon. Dickie is a freshman at Paint Creek.

William Overton and his N. T. S. C. roommate Bobby Sego of Haskell spent the weekend with homefolks.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Calaway and daughters Judy and Selda, left for Houston Saturday and will return home Wednesday. They took Judy for a checkup at Anderson Clinic. As Judy says "to see her good looking doctor."

Supt. Pat Morrison had to make a business trip to Sweetwater Thursday to see about the purchase of a new school bus, so he and Mrs. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton extended the business trip to include a visit to Sanitorium to take Miss Bess Smithy her radio which her Paint Creek friends were giving her. The noon visiting hours were just over when we reached there, but Miss Smithy's doctor allowed us to see her for about ten minutes. She was so pleased with the radio. Her wonderful spirit and that sparkling sense of humor made us all receive more pleasure from our visit than she. She said the sanitorium was a wonderful place in which to get well, and all the people were so nice. She could have stayed at home to receive her treatment, but she was so afraid of someone else contracting the disease that she chose to go to Sanitorium. I'll bet they love her there. She has no sympathy with any patient who complains, and you can bet she wouldn't. She said they had a mobile book stack that came around to the patients every day and brought the latest magazines and books, and she was enjoying reading. But she had been wishing she could find out what was happening to Peter Gunn and some of her other TV favorites. She is so cute (and I "cute"), and I'll bet she is well in record time, if determination and attitude have anything to do with it. Her address is McKnight T. B. Sanitorium, Sanitorium, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Holcomb are moving to Olney this week where he will work for an oil company. Eddie Mack Earle will take his job with Commissioner Kuenstler.

John Russell's Army address is Pvt. John H. Russell, NG 25875278, 6th Bn. 2nd Tr. Regt. Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Little Janie Lynn Raughton returned home from the hospital Saturday and is doing just fine. You should hear her when someone asks her who cut all her hair off. The way she says "Dr. Middleton" is something. She puts more "d's" and some extra "m's" and a "y" in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone McLennan are visiting their son Gerald and his family, in Saginaw this week.

Mrs. Bill Hager visited in Arlington week before last with an aunt, Mrs. Emmitt Martindale. She returned to Arlington with Don while he finished his mid-term exams. After spending the rest of the week at home, Don returned for his second semester at Arlington State College.

IN SCOTTISH RITE HOSPITAL

Electricity sparks the... 60s NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK FEB. 7-13, 1960

"WHADDYA MEAN ELECTRICITY WILL BE A BARGAIN IN THE '60s?"

"Look at this bill. It's higher than it was last year, isn't it?"
Yes sir — it is. But let's see why. Do you have a new appliance, perhaps? A present for your wife?
"Well, yes. I got her a dishwasher and a new automatic washer last summer."
Lucky wife. Is there anything else?
"Well, yes. We've got a new TV set, too — and I guess we've been watching it a good deal."
Yes. In other words, you've been putting more electricity to work for you, and getting more value out of it than ever before?
"You're right. I guess we have. Never looked at it that way. Why, maybe electricity is a real bargain."
No doubt about it, sir. It is.

Electricity COSTS SO LITTLE — YOU CAN USE LOTS OF IT! West Texas Utilities Company an investor owned company

Owners Have Final Decision on Division of Soil Districts

The establishment of soil conservation districts in the soil conservation district was largely determined by Federal Government according to the J. SCS of the Conservation Service.

Yearly stated that there are two main facilities of the California Creek Soil Conservation District—pride and profit. Farmers and ranchers are fast becoming ashamed to own a gully or a blowing field. They are as proud of the new conservation of agriculture as their wives are of new kitchens with all the modern equipment.

These modern soil conservation farming programs, Yearly stated, put money in the bank

Fertilizers Are Good Source of Plant Food

The use of liquid fertilizers is becoming widespread and they are proving to be a good source of plant nutrients. But, says F. W. Martin county agent, liquid and dry fertilizers are generally of equal value for improving crop yields.

A summary of 27 experiments in which liquid and solid fertilizers were compared showed little difference. The experiments covered a wide area and the same methods of application were used. In only three instances liquid fertilizers produced greater yields than did solid or dry plant food. In one instance, greater yields resulted from the use of solid or dry fertilizers. In these cases, differences in yields were small and were not apparent on the same soil type in succeeding years.

The main consideration for making a determination of which type of plant food to use are cost and ease of handling and application. In some areas the costs are comparable, but in others, buyers will find price differences. A little shipping will show these differences.

Generally, liquid fertilizers are easier to handle and apply, provided proper equipment is available. On the other hand, storage tanks and special applicators required with liquids are not required when dry fertilizers are used.

From the standpoint of increased crop yields, either type of plant food, if used in the correct amounts and properly applied, should give equal results.

District Census Directors Visit Haskell Monday

Two men who will direct the 1960 Census in the 13th Congressional District, H. S. Gray and O. J. Sharp, both of Wichita Falls, were in Haskell Monday in connection with plans for the census.

Mr. Gray is district supervisor and Mr. Sharp district technical officer for the 19 counties comprising the 13th District. Headquarters will be maintained in Wichita Falls, and area activities will be directed from that city.

Actual counting in the 1960 Census will not start until April 1, but considerable preliminary work and planning will be required in advance of that date, Gray and Sharp explained.

accounts. Crops and grazing yields of California Creek Soil Conservation district cooperators have increased about 35% on the average, while production costs have generally declined. Then, too, farming scientifically according to the conservation plans saves money for the owner by insuring that the practices are applied correctly the first time.

In the years ahead, Yearly concluded, Soil Conservation districts with the technical assistance furnished by the SCS offer America, and closer to home, the farmers and ranchers of California Creek Conservation district the greatest opportunity they have had in modern times to strengthen their ideals of self-government and solve at the same time one of the most fundamental problems—the protection of their vital land and water resources.

Growers Should Check Cotton Allotment Now

There is an important change in legislation that should be called to the attention of all farmers with cotton allotments. Under a new law, passed at the last session of Congress, if cotton is not regarded as planted under provisions of the Soil Bank Act or the Greater Plains program—a Farm Must Plant 75% of the Allotted Acres or Acreage Must be Released, at the County ASC Office; otherwise the Allotment on the farm will be Reduced in 1961.

A farmer who releases his allotment acres can maintain the cotton allotment history of his farm, provided cotton is planted one out of three years. If you don't plan to use all or part of your 1960 cotton allotment acres—go to your county ASC office and release them before it is too late to get history credit on your farm.

Cotton growers who would like to have their cotton acreage increased—must apply for additional acres, on the form provided, if they want to get their share of the released acres. They should also assist their ASC committee by encouraging non-growers to release unwanted cotton acres.

Apply now for the acres you actually want and will plant. Your request will furnish your county committee with justification necessary to obtain released acres from counties with "excess acres." There were around 1-2 million "available" cotton allotment acres that were not utilized in 1960.

Final dates for release and reappointment of released acres has been set for each county. If you don't know what these dates are, it will pay you to find out and act before it is too late.

Standardization of the length of the English inch was determined by law during the reign of Edward II of England.

Of the male and female black spider, the latter is the most dangerous.

Coke County Pays Bounty of $3,921 For Rattlesnakes

Coke County paid $3,921 in bounty to rattlesnake hunters in 1959, according to Warden Raymond Taylor, stationed in that county. Some 5,842 snakes were captured. Bounties were paid as rattles were deposited at the County Clerk's office. Each hunter had to prove that the snakes were taken in Coke County.

This same hunter found and killed 52 rattlers under one rock. He took 253 sets of rattles one day, and 251 sets on another occasion.

To drive the snakes out of their dens during cold weather, the hunters sprayed dens with gasoline. As the snakes crawled from the dens for fresh air, hunters chopped off their heads with sharp hoes. The Coke County Commissioners Court voted last February to pay a 50 cent per snake bounty for a year. County officials have indicated that they may pay it again this year.

Tucker-Ballenger Rites

The First Baptist Church of Rule was the scene Sunday, Feb. 14, of the wedding of Sharon May Tucker and Lt. William Augustus Ballenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cox are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballenger of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The Rev. Riley Egan, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Spur, officiated at the 3 p. m. double ring ceremony.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. E. Q. Warren of Knox City, organist, and Leon Walton of Uvalde, soloist. Harry Thompson, drama director and speech instructor at Hardin-Simmons University, read the 13th chapter of First Corinthians.

The bride wore a gown of taffeta and chantilly lace, designed with a chapel train. Descendants enhanced the neckline of the lace bodice and the lace panel that enhanced the front of the skirt. Her veil was attached to small hat of lace trimmed with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Sue Rhoads of Haskell was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ann Hewitt of Colton, Calif., Patsy Kirby of Dallas and Jean Edens of Talpa.

They wore cherry red peau de soie dresses, styled with draped bodices and bouffant street length skirts. Their half-hats were fashioned of cherry red silk petals. Each bridal attendant carried a white mum. Lucy Smith of Council Bluffs, Iowa, niece of the bridegroom was flower girl. Stephen Cox, brother of the bride, and Peter Smith of Council Bluffs, nephew of the groom, were ring carriers. Pages were Tommy and David Smith of Council Bluffs.

Harold Ballenger of Council Bluffs, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Wayne Gray of Abilene and Sonny Bounds, brother of the bride, were candlelighters.

Ushers were Roger Allen of Hale Center and Arthur Travis of Fort Worth. Groomsmen were Kenny Anderson of Abilene, Keith Little of Wichita, Kans., and Arthur Travis.

The reception was in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. John Herron. Members of the house party were Mrs. Herron, Sammie McLallen of Brownfield, Anita and Juanita Welch of Seymour, Genie Edwards of Fort Worth, Mrs. John Robinson of O'Brien, Mrs. Marie Davis, Mrs. Leon Walton of Uvalde, Mrs. Melvin Smith of Council Bluffs, Mrs. W. J. Karr and Mrs. Margaret Tucker of Seymour, Marilyn Cupp of Tucumcar, N. M., Pearl Cox of Rule, and Mrs. Don Cook of Mattson.

For a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the bride wore a sage green knit suit with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Lt. Ballenger is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., until after April 1. After April 1, the couple will reside at 162 Linden Ave. in Council Bluffs. The bride will teach school and the groom will join his father in the automotive service business.

The bride received a bachelor of science degree in January from H-SU, where she was freshman class favorite, secretary of her sophomore class, Baptist Student Union stewardship chairman, varsity cheerleader in her junior year, and a member of the Student Education Association. She was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" in her junior and senior years, was a member of Alpha Psi Omega national drama fraternity and won the Best Actress Award in her junior year. She was University princess in her senior year.

The bridegroom received a bachelor of business administration degree from H-SU in 1935. He was Student Council president, ROTC commander, and president of the sophomore class and the Baptist Student Union. He was active in forensics and was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." He received the George S. Anderson Medal for outstanding service to H-SU.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Saturday evening in the Bluebonnet Cafe in Rule.

Haskell property owners will pay 5 per cent less on fire insurance premiums during the coming year, as a result of new fire insurance rates announced Monday by the State Board of Insurance. ## LETTERS...

To The Editor

"Mr. Latham and Mr. Beck" "Cheating," said Dana Latham, the main tax collector. "All baloney," said Dave Beck, former head of the Teamsters; "and besides, I was more of a business man than a labor leader, by ten to one."

Excuse it, please. I know the bridge game is a hot one, and so is the golf game and the football game. And Laramie is on Channel 9 and Larry Moore is on Channel 12, and the weather is cold and damp, and the price of cows is down. I also know that there are "trends" because Nation's Business says so; and it's hard to buck a "trend." And it's tax-paying time. And what impractical, book-reading egg-head wants to raise a moral question. Bad taste. And a controversial one, at that. Controversy is bad for cooperation and community service, and it's better to just go along.

But still and all, that is what the two men said, right out loud in public for the newspapers to print. And both of these men are "conservatives" and Republicans. And I think either of them had rather be found dead with his pants off than be called an egghead.

Mr. Latham was appointed to his office by a very moral Republican President, and is doubtless a pillar of society in his own community. Before his recent misfortunes, Mr. Beck was a solid citizen in his own community, and may be yet for all I know. He, too, was appointed to public office by a Republican Governor—a regent of the University of Washington. And the Board of Regents fired about a dozen professors off the faculty of Washington U. for "taking the Fifth Amendment," saying that anyone who takes the Fifth is not fit to teach school. Of course, Mr. Beck afterwards took the Fifth quite some, himself. But in these strange times, who can say what about such odd conduct?

He was a good speaker and was much in demand as a speaker before civic clubs and others groups, all up and down the West Coast. But he always spoke for conservation, constitutional government, free enterprise, and Americanism; and against liberalism, federal aid, socialized medicine, and Communism.

But to get back where we started—which of these good gentlemen is right? Excuse it again please. No offense. I was just wondering.

Oliver Cunningham.

Alabama has never beaten Texas or Rice in football. Texas won all four games played and Rice won all three.

First state to ratify the proposed child labor amendment to the U. S. Constitution was Arkansas in 1924.
