Mrs. S. Hassen Discusses Arab-Israel Problem

Mrs. S. Hassen of this city, who spent several months last summer visiting in her native country of Lebanon, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Rotary Club Thursday at noon in the Highway Drive In.

Program chairman Bill Ratliff introduced Mrs. Hassen, who talked on "Our Problem in Palestine." She stated that the United States is held in high esteem in Lebanon, but that the people do not agree on the policy relative to the establishment of Israel in Palestine.

"Because they have been there for more than 1,000 years, the Arabs resent being displaced from their homes and farm-lands," the speaker said. Continued displacement and friction could affect peace in the Middle East, she pointed out.

People in that section of the world believe that the United States is the only force that can halt injustice to the Arabs in Palestine, the Haskell woman explained.

During the business session, Past District Governor Robt. R. King announced that Haskell would have an opportunity to again nominate a student for the Rotary Foundation Fellowship award, or to join neighboring clubs in nominating a student for the award. Members were also reminded of the District Conference to be held on March 19-20.

Club sing-song was led by Novis Okaley, a visitor from the Rule Rotary Club. Other visitors were Jim Longley of Abilene, K. K. Francis of Stamford, Rev. Victor Ortiz of Munday and Rajah Hassen, Haskell.

Six new directors of the Chamber of Commerce were elected in mail balloting of the organization's members this week.

All will take over their duties at the annual banquet and membership meeting March 2. Five will replace outgoing directors, and one will succeed former director Alton Hester, who has moved to Plainview.

Elected this week were Clay Smith, Haskell farmer; E. J. Stewart, garage owner; Dr. B. L. Langston, optometrist; Wallace Cox, hardware and furniture; Jon Baum, owner White Auto Store; Alvin Sherman, Sherman's Interior Decorating.

President Kennedy gave his support Tuesday to the candidacy of Democrat Graham B. Purcell in Saturday's run-off race for Congressman from the 13th District.

The endorsement was in a personal letter from the President to Purcell.

"The nation needs the kind of representation you can furnish in Congress, and I am delighted that our party has selected you to be its candidate in the 13th District of Texas," Kennedy wrote.

"All of us are looking forward to working with you and to receiving your advice and counsel, particularly with regards to the needs of the people in your district."

Heavy Turn-Out of Voters Being Urged Saturday

A heavy vote turn-out in Saturday's special election is being urged in Haskell County by partisan supporters of the two run-off candidates seeking the Congressional post recently vacated by Congressman Frank Ikard. The election will choose a man to fill one of the most important elective posts in the country. For that reason, serious consideration of qualifications of candidates and a trip to the polls Saturday are vital to the best interest of the nation, supporters of the opposing candidates agree.

Payment of Poll Tax Far Below Last Year

At noon Tuesday, only 1,653 poll tax receipts had been issued, with the deadline for payment only eight days away. Last year, a total of 2,096 poll tax receipts were issued in Haskell County, despite the fact that 1961 was an "off" year insofar as regular elections were concerned.

A poll tax receipt for the current year, or an exemption certificate, will be required of all voters in 1962 primaries and elections.

Last day on which the poll tax may be paid in Jan. 31, 1962.

A person who is blind, has lost a hand or foot, is permanently disabled, or a disabled veteran of foreign wars with 40% disability, pays only $1 poll tax.

Other qualifications include United States citizenship, be at least 21 years of age, a Texas resident one year next preceding an election, resident of the county six months and a resident of the precinct in which he will vote.

To be eligible to vote in a bond election, a voter must in addition to being a qualified voter, own taxable property in the political subdivision holding the election, render such property for tax purposes and be a resident of the political subdivision.

State Politics Has New Look This Year

Persons interested in seeking office should contact the county chairman of the party he intends to file with. Both Democrat and Republican parties are required to hold elections this year under state law, due to the heavy Republican vote tabulated last year.

To be eligible to vote in the elections, a person must pay his poll tax. Poll taxes are now due and must be paid by Jan. 31. The cost is $1.75.

A person over 60 years of age prior to Jan. 1, 1961, does not have to pay a poll tax, but gets an exemption. A citizen who becomes 21 after Jan. 1, 1961, or one who moved to Texas after Jan. 1, and who is otherwise a qualified voter, may obtain an exemption certificate without charge not later than 30 days prior to any election in which he wishes to vote.

Lions Project, "Help the Haskell School Library," Enters Final Week

The Lions Club project for January, "Help the Haskell School Library" is entering the final week and although several persons have made donations of books, the project is not meeting with as much success as the club had anticipated. Rogers Durham, chairman of the special program, announced.

Purpose of the project, of course, is to increase the book volume of the library and those persons who have not already contributed may still do so by addressing a card with your name and address to Rogers Durham, 604 N. 4th St., Haskell, or notify Al Hinds at the Free Press.

The project must be completed within the next week in order that it might not conflict with other civic duties of Lions during February.

Chairman Durham pointed out that he and his committee will be around within the next day or so and pick-up the books of those persons who have already stated they would contribute to the worthy cause. Final pick-up date has been set for Friday, Feb. 2, so residents are urged to act immediately.

The books may include novels, fiction, non-fiction, history, economics, etc.

Members of the Lions Club have been asked to bring at least one book each to next Tuesday's meeting, and if they fail to do so will be fined $1.00 each, chairman Durham said.

Tuesday's Program. Allen Rieves was in charge of Tuesday's luncheon program and presented the talented Mrs. Rogers Durham, who brought several numbers in song.

With Mrs. Al C. Williams, at the piano, Mrs. Durham sang, "It's a Most Unusual Day," "Little Bit of Heaven," and "Tip Toe Through the Tulips."

Lawson Thanked. Bill Lawson, who has served as secretary of the Lions club for the past two years, was thanked by all members for his fine civic duties while residing in Haskell. Lawson, in turn expressed his appreciation and thanks to the club.

February Project. With C. O. Holt serving as chairman, Lions will sponsor a tree-planting program for the month of February. Purpose of the project will be to help beautify the community. Lions will furnish and set out trees for a nominal charge and orders should be placed as soon as possible.

Further information concerning the tree planting project will be announced by chairman Holt soon.

Exceeds Quota. The project of collecting used eye glasses for CARE, overseas relief was very successful, according to information released at press time by Dr. J. F. Cadenhead, Lions president.

Haskell Lions were asked for one pair of glasses for each member, and the club far exceeded that quota as 100 pair were collected. Containers were placed in each of the local drug stores and residents brought in the glasses when they were asked to do so through news releases in the Free Press.

The glasses will be taken to the mid-winter conference of Lions at Stephenville, Texas, Saturday where they will be wrapped and readied for shipment overseas.

Dr. Cadenhead, along with all members of the Haskell Lions club, expressed appreciation for the fine response to the project.

Thieves Get $28 From Register at Beard's Cleaners

The cash register in Beard's Cleaners establishment was rifled of $28 in cash by thief or thieves who broke into the establishment sometime Saturday night.

Entry was gained by climbing on top of the plant's boiler shed and then through a small transom or window in the rest room of the plant.

The cash register was unharmed and only cash was taken, several checks being left in the register. The culprit or culprits evidently left the same way they entered.

The theft was discovered by owner Myrom Beard Sunday morning when he came to the establishment to do some work.

In the American Tradition

While the world is being bombarded with fantastic claims about communist accomplishments, and Russia's ability to wipe out the human race, it is refreshing to read the following constructive remarks by Burl S. Watson, chairman of Cities Service:

"It is in the American tradition not to be satisfied with less than maximum achievement. . . . At the same time, it is well to remember that economic progress is never one of uninterrupted flight forward. Rather it is the sum total of advances, pauses, and even some slipping back.

"Since the turn of the century, the United States has experienced a financial panic (1907); a stock market crash (1929); a subsequent 'depression'; and, along the line, less violent reversals generally styled 'recessions'. In this period of time, however, living standards reached the highest levels ever achieved. . . . Three out of every five American families have become owners of their own homes, compared to one in three in 1900. Far better educational opportunities are being offered to American young people . . . (and there are) seven times as many college graduates.

"So great has been our agricultural and industrial advance that our productive capacities . . . are producing one-third of the world's goods.

"We have the natural resources needed for a bigger job. We have surplus industrial capacities. We have . . . trained manpower. We will do this bigger job if, in work and sacrifice, we meet every challenge with faith in America. As for anyone who finds himself faltering in that faith, let him look . . . at the record."

Good News

The current year promises "good news for family budgets." That's the word of forecast that comes from the head of the National Association of Food Chains, based on a survey of food chain executives.

With virtual unanimity, these executives forecast that food prices will be stable during 1962. And food chain plans for the year call for even greater emphasis on friendly personnel and quality perishables.

The report also points out that "the real surprise for many people comes in the fact that a good many food items are actually lower-priced now than ten years ago." This is true, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, of such widely consumed items as round steak, leg of lamb, coffee and eggs.

The profit picture should also be of interest to consumers—who often, for lack of authentic information, regard the merchant as something of a monster, who mucks them mercilessly in order to swell his bank account. The net profits earned by food chains range between one and 1.5 per cent on the sales dollar—which means that their total yearly profit on all the purchases made by an average family will run between $16 and $24. That family would never notice the difference if there were no profit at all.

What is true of the food business, is true in varying degree, of all other forms of chain retailing. Profits are far lower than most of us realize. And every effort is given to holding prices down to the lowest levels that the conditions of the time permit.

The Free Press was publishing its seventh volume in 1962. In that same year the late Jacob Hemphill moved his family to Haskell County and became a subscriber to the early-day newspaper.

M. R. (Ross) Hemphill, a tow-headed youngster at the time, recalls that The Free Press has been a regular weekly visitor since then. First, in his parents' home, then to him after he was grown and married.

Dropping in to renew the other day, Ross recalls that the local paper has followed him in his moves and visits to various points, especially during the oil boom days prior to the 20's.

If we are not mistaken, Ross has the distinction of being the first man to record an oil lease in Haskell County. Because he has been active in the oil business so long, he has written and recorded them for succeeding generations in several families.

He has promised to give us some day an outline of some of his highlight experiences in the early-day oil leasing business which doubtless will make interesting reading.

The Free Press has a number of subscribers who have been taking the paper for 50 or 60 years or longer, and it would probably be a difficult matter to determine the oldest reader in point of years since they first started reading the paper.

Definitely, we are proud of all these loyal, longtime readers who have made today's newspaper possible. We are proud, too, of the steady gain in new readers being added

The R. J. Reynolds & Son Grocery is now located in new quarters on the north side of the square.

At a meeting last week, trustees of the Haskell Independent School District authorized sending of notices that interest and penalty on all delinquent taxes would be waived if paid on or before Jan. 31 this year. This action was taken in an effort to get in sufficient money to operate the school for the full term, trustees said.

A Chevrolet truck belonging to the Haskell Bakery burned about 4 a. m. Monday. It had been parked in front of the home of Clyde Cearley, driver, Sunday evening. The vehicle was a total wreck by the time firemen could be called.

The C. P. Woodson Battery & Radio Shop, formerly located on the southeast corner of the square, has moved to a new and larger location in the building across the street from Western Produce Company.

Property lost estimated at $30,000 resulted from an early morning fire in Hamlin Saturday, when three business buildings were burned.

A convicted prisoner who escaped from the Haskell County jail last Saturday night, was apprehended by Abilene police officers Thursday evening. W. T. Sarre, Sheriff, went to Abilene Thursday night and returned the man to the local jail where he will be held until transferred to the state penitentiary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith attended the annual Hardware Dealers State Convention in San Antonio last week. They visited with their daughter, Mrs. Frank Rangsdale while there.

Dr. and Mrs. V. B. Crane are announcing the arrival of a son, born Jan. 23.

Miss Mary Sue Hester has returned home from Rochester after a week's visit with friends in that city.

A new telephone directory listing all subscribers in Haskell and Weinert is to be issued soon, the company has announced.

50 Years Ago—Jan. 27, 1913
E. E. Marvin, automobile man of Haskell, sold and delivered a new Model-T Ford to Dr. Gray of Rule this week. Last week, Mr. Marvin sold and delivered an Overland car to Dr. King of Throckmorton.

P. P. Doss of Denver, Colo., is in the city and is arranging to erect a two-story building on the lot owned by himself and R. E. Callahan on the east side of the square.

C. D. Grissom, having sold his interest in the business of C. D. Grissom & Son to his son, Hardy Grissom, has retired from the concern and the business will be conducted by his son.

W. W. Montgomery of Monroe, La., arrived in the city a few days ago to accept a position with J. J. Stein & Co.

L. L. Chamberlain and brother of Hubbard City, arrived in Haskell last week. Mr. Chamberlain's family and also his father, S. B. Chamberlain and family, will arrive soon to make Haskell County their future home. The elder Chamberlain sometime ago traded for the G. J. Clough property in this county.

There was quite a little excitement caused Monday morning when Andrew Josselet looked into a shock of feed on his farm and found a bum asleep whom he took to be a dead man. As Andrew moved a bundle of feed for a closer look the bum awakened, took fright and ran over a calf, then kept going. A veterinarian says the calf will recover, while the bum should be nearing the Gulf of Mexico if he's still going.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bell have returned to Haskell. Mr. Bell has been engaged in the cotton business in Hamlin and other points during the fall and winter months.

60 Years Ago—Jan. 25, 1902
Mr. Williams of Waxahachie is visiting his uncle, Capt. J. S. Williams of this place.

Messrs. R. B. Fields, C. D. Long, E. F. Springer, A. C. Foster and Judge P. D. Sanders attended the Masonic Lodge at Stamford Wednesday night to assist in some installations.

Dr. J. E. Lindsey came up from Abilene Monday and has spent the week here looking after some business interests. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Minnie, who has been visiting friends here.

G. R. Couch and Lee Pierson went to Aspermont Monday to attend the directors and stockholders meeting of the First National Bank at that place.

Three prisoners in the Haskell jail had a little fun Wednesday night and gave the officers an uneasy turn. It seems one of them managed to get hold of one of the duplicate cell keys while the jailer was giving them breakfast. Then he hid behind the cell and was unnoticed when the jailer left without missing the key. At night this prisoner released the others from the cell. Then they wrenched off a window sill and using an iron dipper handle and stove poker worked the plaster and brick loose and made a hole large enough to leave through. One of the prisoners went to his home here in town and next morning came down and gave up. The second escaped man sent word to Sheriff Collins that he and the boys were out, and he did not go away. The third prisoner went to his father's about 18 miles west of town, where Sheriff Collins and deputy also arrived about daylight and they found the man and his family just out of bed. The man told Sheriff Collins he had planned to get his horse and come to town as soon as he had eaten breakfast. At any rate they are all now back in jail and it is not probable they will get another chance to steal a key.

On the subject of subscribers, another loyal one dating back to the early days of the newspaper is Wayne Perry, who rates the honor of being our "biggest" subscriber in point of financial return.

Around about Christmas each year Wayne drops in casually, checkbook in hand and wants to know, "Well, what's it gonna cost me THIS year?"

Right then is when the cash register on the office counter starts doing a mechanized version of "The Twist." The Boss starts grinning from ear to ear, the bookkeeper and secretary hastily dab on powder and lipstick, and an air of eager expectancy pervades the entire front office. And rightly so, because when Wayne Perry renews his subscriptions it means money in the till. Not only does he read The Free Press, he sends several gift subscriptions, and then he takes a couple of daily papers in his own right. All in all, he leaves a sizeable chunk of money with us each year.

A memorable date has been selected for this year's Chamber of Commerce banquet and membership meeting. It will be held on Friday, March 2, C. of C. Manager, Mrs. W. R. Johnson has announced.

That same date is also Texas Independence Day. Too, it happens to be Texas Flag Day, and if anything more is needed to add to its importance it has been officially designated as Sam Houston Day.

With all that importance attached to the date, the C. of C. banquet should be a noteworthy event, and one you'll want to attend.

Less than a week remains in which to secure your 1961 poll tax receipt, a requisite for voting in the several elections that will be held this year.

From April through November, qualified voters will ballot on the election of officials ranging from school trustees to Governor and members of the Supreme Court. Unless you have a poll tax, or are qualified by over-age or otherwise, you will have no say in naming these officials.

In addition to the regularly scheduled elections, there will likely be one or more special elections during the year.

These could be on bond issues, or on the question of legalizing the sale of beer or other intoxicating drinks in areas hitherto "dry."

The cost of a poll tax, $1.75, is a mighty small price to pay for the privilege of expressing your choice of officials to run your local government, or your opinion on legalizing the sale of liquor.

The following dispatch is reprinted from a San Diego, Calif. newspaper concerning the WT-CC delegation which toured that area last week. In the group were R. C. Couch Jr., Bob Mobley and Chas. Swinson of Haskell.

"About 200 West Texas cattlemen, ranchers and bankers arrived here by special train today (Jan. 17) and then left for an inspection of feed lots and cattle in the El Centro area.

"The group, sporting Texas hats and many of them in blue jeans and cowboy boots, arrived in a 16-car Santa Fe special at 6:45 a. m.

"They left after breakfast for El Centro in chartered buses. About a fourth of the group left the tour for a trip to Tijuana. (Ed. Note: Read the last sentence. When did they start feeding cattle in Tijuana?)

"The tour is sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Abilene and includes residents from 61 towns. The group left Fort Worth Saturday night and will return Sunday after visits in Phoenix, San Diego and Bakerville.

"The Texans attracted a lot of attention in Phoenix but were too sleepy for any horseplay when they arrived here, John L. Miller, Santa Fe escort for the group, said.

"The group included some 40 millionaires, Miller said. "Miller looked at two members of the group who were clad in blue jeans and asked a friend if they didn't have suits to wear.

"Those two are brothers," he was told, "and their dad just left them $25 million."

"The group will leave San Diego at 9:30 tonight."

ficial, persistent rumors are circulating among teenagers about the probable imposition of a curfew against loitering or parking in the downtown business section. No one seems to "know" anything about it, nor the reasons therefor, although several persons admit they have "heard" about the plan in a vague sort of way.

Doubtless every town has its share of "wolves," and Haskell is no exception, as many women who have to deal with the general public can tell you.

An amusing incident which occurred about 20 years ago during World War II involving a local man who had ambitions of being a "lady's man" can now be safely told, since one of the principals involved has long since moved from Haskell.

An attractive young woman and her two small children whose husband and father was in service, was persistently annoyed by a local "wolf." He would drive up in front of her house at night, sound his horn and invite her to go riding. After she had politely, but firmly declined his advances, she asked him not to stop at her home again.

When he continued his annoying practice, the young woman consulted her neighbors. One grandmotherly neighbor advised her, "Honey, you take my husband's shotgun, and next time that man stops and honks, you step out on the front porch and aim just over his car and blast away. He won't be back."

Although a little squeamish about the deal, the young woman took the place it where it convenient.

A few nights later was on the prowl, he drove up in a coupé young woman's home. Surprisingly, he front door open, the gun being raised man's shoulder. He and moving when the blast sounded, as on in every house in

In a new Ford Galaxie or Fairlane, the odometer rolls off a long 6,000 miles between every service stop. Compare this with other '62 cars and here's what you'll find: many cars still have to check in for service every 1,000 miles; some every 2,000 miles; others every 4,000 miles. Only the cars from Ford need service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

When you own a '62 Galaxie or Fairlane, you don't have to drive with one eye on the odometer to make sure you're not forgetting an oil change or a grease job or other servicing. Ford's twice-a-year maintenance saves you time, saves you money. Just one stop every 6,000 miles takes care of servicing. You'll go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications, 2 years or 30,000 miles without changing engine coolant-antifreeze. # Gilmore Implement Schedules John Deere Day Thursday Night, Feb. 1st

George Gobel, noted TV personality, will star in the coming John Deere Day program to be held at the Haskell Elementary School Auditorium on Thursday, Feb. 1, 7:30 p. m., it was announced by Gilmore Implement Company, host for the event.

In addition to lending his comedy to the role of "Uncle Henry" in a film fantasy which serves as a background for the entire program, Gobel will also double on film as the program's master of ceremonies.

According to Brax Gilmore, this year's film is altogether different from any previously shown on John Deere Day.

Woven into the program, which features, besides Gobel, Hollywood's John Carradine and child actor Billy Mumy, are six additional educational, informative films. These include the best in "Oddities," a collection of the most popular "Oddity" films shown in previous John Deere Days since the series began some years ago. Also included is "All in a Day's Work," an unusual harvest film showing late-model combines being checked in grain fields in various parts of the country. Other films are "Pattern for Performance," the story of the relationship between careful manufacturing, checking, and testing of tractors, and the performance of the tractors in the field; "One Man Hay Day," a report on the John Deere one-man haying system and the way it pays off in lowered labor costs and increased milk and beef production from better hay; and "Partners," a film story showing the united efforts of manufacturer, dealer, and farmer in giving impetus to the business of agriculture. Of course, the highlight of the program is

"What's New for Tractors and Equipment" and "It's a Family Good Blend of Smiles to Make a Farm." The program is free to all farmers and families. And you can attend—just being a farmer is ticket.

IRS Will Check On Highway Use Tax Returns

District Director Ellis Campbell Jr., of the Dallas Internal Revenue District has announced a district-wide campaign by the Internal Revenue Service to make sure that owners of heavy trucks and buses have filed Federal Highway Use Tax returns covering the use of such equipment on the public highways.

Director Campbell said that the Internal Revenue Service has gone to great lengths to obtain voluntary compliance with the Highway Use Tax filing requirements before resorting to enforcement measures.

Truck and bus owners are urged to contact their nearest Internal Revenue Office for information on the Highway Use Tax filing requirements and to ask for Internal Revenue pamphlet, Publication No. 349, Revised, which contains information on the types and weights of vehicles whose use on the highways is taxable as well as on the due dates for returns and the rate of tax. Highway Use Tax returns, Form 2290, can also be obtained at these offices.

Writer Says Peccary Not Too Dangerous

The javelina or collared peccary is a potent but not necessarily a dangerous game animal for hunters, according to Dan Klepper, outdoors editor of the San Antonio Express-News, writing in the current issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine.

Klepper describes the hunting of the javelinas west of San Antonio, with dogs and .22 rifles and pistols.

"The stories about javelinas 'treeing' hunters usually are nothing but exaggerations of the truth or incidents involving hunters thoroughly unfamiliar with the animals," Klepper says. "In most instances when these near-sighted pigs burst from cover in all directions, two or three invariably race toward the hunter, who doesn't realize that this is a natural occurrence."

Klepper also thinks that after the hunter has retold the story a few times it has been embellished quite a bit to make the javelina look much more dangerous than it really is.

Although the season is closed on javelina in many counties now, there are still some areas in the state where shooting the javelinas is permitted.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to try to express our appreciation to all of the wonderful people who came to our aid during the illness and death of our loved one. In our own community and in the adjoining communities, we could tell that a great friendship existed; but during this time of great stress and bereavement, the expressions of this concern of yours reached such magnitude that we are now humbled and at a loss for words to express our feelings toward each and every one of you. People like you prove that God is still on this earth, and is using His followers to help those of us who are now suffering because we are human and are using time to adjust to His will. May the Lord bless you as you have been a blessing to us. The Dan McRae Family. 4p

Former Haskell Man Opens New $100,000 Motel in Crosbyton

A modern, new $100,000 motel was opened in Crosbyton last week by Menard Field of Floydada, former Haskell resident and businessman.

The new Fieldan Motel will be under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones, formerly of Junction, Texas.

The motel has 15 units for guests, and each unit is completely and tastefully furnished. All rooms have automatic heating and cooling equipment.

Mr. Field constructed a similar motel at Floydada in 1960 which has proved a profitable venture.

Mr. Field got his first taste of the motel business when he leased Haskell's first tourist court—Camp Kennedy—in this city in 1924. Motor courts were a new thing at that time, but the local venture proved profitable and is still in operation.

In the late 20's Field sold his interests here and went to Floyd County where he engaged in retail and wholesale oil business and later grain farming.

For the past 10 years, he and Mrs. Field have been designing constructing and selling residences in Floydada.

Effects of New Mail Regulation Being Felt

The effects of a new regulation regarding first, second and third class mail are now being felt, postal officials report.

Effective Jan. 10, third and fourth class mail may no longer be delivered to a forwarding address, according to the new regulation issued from the Bureau of Operation in Washington, D. C.

If the sender of such mail specifies that it be returned in case of address change, a fee of 8 cents will be charged to him for each piece of the undeliverable mail. If the sender does not make such specification, the mail will be immediately disposed of as waste matter.

Second class mail will continue to be forwarded for a limited time only. The publisher will be advised of the new address and will be charged 10 cents for each notice of this information. If prompt action is not taken as a result of the notice, this class of mail will be disposed of after a short period of time.

Previously the charge for such a notice had been only five cents.

She is a charter member of the Haskell Garden Club, Thursday Luncheon Club, and the Merry Dames. She is also a former member of the Magazine Club.

It is the hope of the Progressive Study Club and all the friends of this wonderful Christian mother, that she will be selected Texas Mother of the Year.

In and Out The Tee-Pees

By JOANIE FRAMER

Monday morning, Jan. 22, the tee-pees around Haskell High appeared to be empty. But for those who looked more closely it became apparent that the reason behind this unusual situation was the conclusion of Mid-term tests. The Indians had studied endless hours and read countless stories and books so to pass their tests and get in the required books reports in English. Now that report cards are out and the football banquet is drawing near, the excitement is now back among the Indians.

Rumors have spread rapidly among the Indians as to who will be football hero, sweet-heart and most deserving player; but no one will know until Saturday night so the excitement will just keep building.

The Stage Band has worked hard and fast to prepare dinner music for the banquet. Several of the numbers are the old favorite, "Stardust," "Tuxedo Junction," and "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair."

The "Nineteens" have been working especially hard to make this performance their best, as it will be the first time for them to appear before the student body. The excitement has been unlimited after their T. V. performance and Nancy Lawson's meeting with Dale Robertson.

The group that has put in the most hours on preparation for the banquet is the "Pep Club." The hours are countless as to how long these girls have worked on decorations, programs and place favors. Many students predict this will be the most decorative and successful football banquet in the history of Haskell High School.

Extra Note
Don't let anyone tell you Mr. Gerald McCoy isn't the best chemistry teacher in the State of Texas. He asked this on the mid-term test: "What is the formula for water?"

Stephen Pace answered in this manner: "H-I-J-K-L-M-N-O."
See you in seven moons.

AS TOLD BY R. C. COUCH SR.

Hearst Fortune Had Start in '49 Gold Rush Town of Virginia City

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles by R. C. Couch Sr. of this city in which he tells some interesting highlights of a trip to California in which he and Mrs. Couch made last summer, and describes a visit to the fabulous San Simeon, Calif., estate of the late William Randolph Hearst. But, before we get into his narrative, here is a note from Mr. Couch: "My wife has just reworked, revamped and reduced this article until it looks awful. I have an English-teaching schoolteacher daughter who would like to get a whack at it, and if she d.d. there would be but little left of it.")

Garden Club Elects Officers For New Year

The Haskell Garden Club members named Mrs. Ed Hester as president and elected other new officers at their meeting Wednesday at the community room of the bank.

Other new officers are Mmes. K. H. Thornton, 1st vice president; Lee R. O'Neal, 2nd vice president; Riley J. Pace, 3rd vice president; Bob Dulaney, recording secretary; Ed R. Fouts, corresponding secretary; and T. A. Rhoades, treasurer.

Roll call was answered by each member stating how many shrubs or trees she had planted since last January, and if she had a compost heap or a bird feeder.

Mrs. Lee R. O'Neal gave a brief history of Arbor Day. She closed by saying "Nothing can more enhance the beauty, usefulness and enjoyability of a yard or garden than a few well-placed trees."

Mrs. W. E. Huss, president, conducted the business of the meeting. Two amendments were made to the Constitution; reports from officers and committee chairmen were given. The resignation of Mrs. J. M. Glass was accepted with regrets.

Mrs. Jetty Clare had the arrangements for the meeting. It was a beautiful tree root with birds. It belonged to Mrs. Hub Merchant and was most appropriate since the program was on trees. One of the objectives of the National Council of Garden Clubs is for every member to have a bird feeder, so the birds in the arrangement added much interest.

Our route through the mass of buildings, rugs, statuary and antiques was a source of constant delight and pleasure. You will bear in mind that it took fully two generations to get this massive collection together with only a few, say 20 or 30 years, for the family concerned to get any pleasure from it. It had its beginning in Sen. George Hearst, who endured the hardships of a covered wagon trip to the west coast country during the 49'er days. Wm. Randolph was the only child and so he was either born a millionaire or was soon to become one through the gold mining of his father, George Hearst.

At the age of 10, William took off with his mother, Phoebe Apperson Hearst, for a long trip to Europe. To make every-thing convenient about the trip, the mother took along a private tutor, that William's education might not be retarded. He was taught to talk with the natives in their own tongue and gained by it. He studied about the great men of history, Napoleon and Charlemagne were his favorites, especially the latter. His tutor took him to St. Denis where Charlemagne was crowned, and so he began collecting the books that gave the history of his hero. On the trip Phoebe wrote back to George that William was developing a mania for antiquities. Since his mother had already enshrouded in a mental atmosphere of the see that it naturally pleased when he saw the collection of Papal art. This was only the beginning of the buying, creating of the masses of statuary, arts, tapestries, and the three big hills. The three big hills as we called them the houses, together with Grand Castle where they lived after it was built and was completely these ancient domes. more sublime things than them all. And this he likely did, so far as individual accomplishment is concerned.

Two of the interesting features of the Castle grounds were the two swimming pools. One was outdoors and the other was under cover or indoors. The Neptune was out of doors and it is said of it that it is probably one of the most beautiful and grandiose in the whole world. It is composed of white marble studded with antique green marble mosaics. The large fountain statuary which faces the Greco-Roman temple represents Venus rising from the water. The stairways lead from the pool to the terraced gardens with their profusion of roses, zinnias, dahlias, camellias, hibiscus and jasmine. Pink geraniums and lavender lantanas cover the stone walls of the terraces.

Around this pool was a Greco-Roman temple, with Venus and other beautiful statuary from all parts of the world skirting the borders. The marble floor of the pools with the sky-blue waters gave such a pleasing and restful appearance that it would seem almost a sin to disturb them. You at least should take a bath before you dived in.

On a lower level to the rear of the Grand Castle is the gymnasium and the indoor Roman pool which is 40 by 84 feet and adjoining it is a smaller pool for the children. Above is a gold mosaic gallery from which the divers enter the pool. The pool, the walls, and the floors were created by Italian artisans at a cost of a million dollars. There are a hundred and forty-four pieces of mosaic to each square foot and it took the artisans from Italy about three and one-half years to finish it. Mr. Hearst is said to have gotten the idea of this pool from the gold mosaics which he saw in a 5th century mausoleum, the resting place of a Roman empress. On top of this pool was a tennis court and it was ample in size for all who cared to partake. Most all amusements, including the poolroom, theatre and music hall and etc., were on the same floor level.

The theatre was an important place of amusement. It is said that when Mr. Hearst was called out of the show that he stopped the show until he returned. He would tell his guests, however, to make themselves comfortable and to go to sleep if they wanted to. There was plenty of room.

On entering the Grand Castle you pass through the vestibule into Assembly Hall. This was the usual gathering place of Mr. Hearst and all his guests. As we entered these places they were so beautiful, attractive and outstanding that you could not stay half long enough to let even a small percent of it soak in. Especially so was this to a group who knew nothing about it from the start.

The guide told us upon entering that if we would look closely to his left that we would see one chair missing. This chair was left out because the wall panel there was also the door to the private elevator of Mr. Hearst which led to his private quarters on the second and third floors, as well as the library and a dozen other nooks and corners. There were two bedrooms in the two Spanish Renaissance towers at which even his special guests got no peek. It is assumed that the private elevator permitted Mr. Hearst to come to his guests after they had assembled and give them a hearty 'Good Morning' all in one breath, and save a lot of personal greeting.

From the assembly room we went to the dining room which seemed to be Mr. Hearst's favorite. It is said that a full story could be made up of the three antique tables alone. Here it was that he displayed his choicest treasures. The carved ceiling came from a 16th century Italian monastery. The gothic fireplace, which is high enough to accommodate a tall man, is from a famous chateau which figured in the French revolution. The two tapestries portraying the story of Daniel are gothic varieties. The walls are lined on two sides with ancient choir stalls from a cathedral in Catalonia. The over half-sized sculptured figures in the niches represent various saints, each holding his or her symbol.

From the ceiling flutter festival banners of every conceivable hue and color, each one bearing the crest of some noble Siennese family. On two sides of the wall are carved body rests which were used by the heavily armoured knights to lean against. When Hearst began to furnish his dining room he had found only one chair that was to his liking. So he decided to have about 50 more made to match his pattern. Each chair that was built cost him about $600.00, so the total cost was about $30,000.00 for the chairs alone. Money was no object. They evidently had plenty. One Gobelin tapestry of the French Gothic period depicting a hunting scene cost $100,000.00. One old oak tree that did not know where it belonged, grew up in the wrong place and they had to move the thing to make room for the Big Castle. This cost a year's time and $12,000. But the old tree is still there, growing as if nothing had ever happened to it.

Then Wm. Randolph needed trees from throughout the world, and they were transplanted and abound throughout the estate, although many of them are not on the Castle property. A pine forest dots a distant hillside, transplanted all of it, as well as other trees all about. More than 40 Italian cypresses each weighing more five tons were transplanted after being transported from Paso Robles 40 miles away. The cost did not matter.

The main Castle had 38 bedrooms, 14 sitting rooms, 31 bathrooms and really a total of 100 rooms in all. In the four buildings there were 148 rooms so you can see why we did not see all of it. But even with that they cut the trip too short. The public for $2.00 should be able to see more of it. When they open up more of the place and give you a lot more time I would like to go back and spend a day at the place, just looking and dreaming.

It is estimated that during the 50 years Wm. Randolph and his mother spent on preparing and building that great layout, that he spent at least $1,000,000 for each of the years they passed.

On our rounds we asked one question about Marion Davies. This was turned aside as a joke and was not answered. So that was the last of Marion. She died at 60 years of age just after our return last September, and was reputed to be worth 10 million dollars. Wm. Randolph died about ten years before that at the age of 88 years. He was still worth millions and the five boys and their mother are well provided for. A story is told of one of the boys who was shopping in some California city. The place was busy and the fellow decided that he was not getting the attention that his prominence deserved. So he asked the clerk if she knew who he was and she said "No I do not." He said "I am George Hearst." She said to herself "I do not care who you are, I am just waiting on the trade as best I can."

The beginning of the Hearst ranch holdings was 3,000 acres near this fabulous temple facing the San Simeon bay. Later when he was Senator, he bought another 45,000 acres for $20,000.00. The total ranch now is about 80,000 acres and is all around this monument. At one time it got to be 250,000 acres, but when he got into a financial jam he sold most of it to the government. This is just one of many investments. The newspapers they still own are a big part of the investments. Before the improvements began on the "Enchanted Hill," it was used as a summer camp ground. They would build each year a large tent for the dining room with other small ones for the camps and bedrooms and etc. In the fall they would be taken down and then up again in the summer.

It's said that at one time Wm. Randolph had aspired for the presidency because during his time he was known as a maker of Presidents. He was said to have aided in the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. In earlier years it was said that his favorite was Calvin Coolidge. What a contrast. How could it be? At one time the New York politicians had asked him to seek the Governorship of the State, but he refused by wiring back, "I am a rancher enjoying the wide open spaces. If you want to talk cattle I will talk with you, but not politics."

Teddy Roosevelt and Jefferson in agreement nod... They are amazed and appalled... How entangled by laws... Warned and the doubly armed... Once no statesmen answer the call.

In the councils of past heroes... Whether by destiny or by fate... Mr. Sam gets the beckoning nod... Stand straight, stand tall... "Sans duplicity, sans stalls... New-comer, tell all... Why no statesmen answer the call."

In freedom's citadel where Robes of greatness once... Were accorded an honored place... I sat at thier many feet... Sans resentment or gall... Seeking council, rich and full... Never doubting their motives... These statesmen who answered the call.

Under Liberty's dome expound... By gold's great power... Into this position did glide and pall... While tears of anguish... Cloud wise eyes... Because no statesmen answered the call.

"This no rumor... What's being said in the tombs... Even unborn generations... Dread and fret slaver's mail... Which undoubtedly will be their certain lot... Because there are no Statesmen to answer the call."

Two Killed, 43 Hurt In County Traffic Mishaps

The record of traffic accidents in Haskell County during the past year was an expensive one, according to Sergeant Frank Jircik, Highway Patrol Supervisor for this area.

For the entire year of 1961 in this county there were 57 crashes resulting in 2 persons killed, 43 injured and an estimated property damage of $78,030.00. In comparison of the year 1960 there were 53 crashes resulting in two persons killed, 30 injured and an estimated property damage of $23,235.00.

For the month of December the Texas Highway Patrol investigated 10 rural traffic accidents in this county according to Sergeant Jircik.

These wrecks accounted for one person killed, nine persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,270.00.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor cautions all motorists not to be guilty of negligence in permitting their windshields and window glasses to be covered with any form of frozen precipitation while driving. This enhances your chances of an accident many times.

Boss Must Issue W-2 Statements By January 31

Employers, Internal Revenue Service has a reminder for you. Employees should receive two copies of a Withholding Statement, Form W-2, on or before Wednesday, January 31, 1962.

Omas T. Roberts, Administrative Officer, of the Internal Revenue Service at Wichita Falls, Texas, said, "This statement shows the total wages paid and the income tax and social security tax withheld if any, during the calendar year 1961."

Total wages shown on an employee's W-2 form include amounts received as sick pay from his employer, even though no tax has been withheld on such sick pay. Sick pay is not required to be shown separately.

If it becomes necessary to correct a W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a revised statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

Highway Construction Work Due Start in Haskell and Stonewall

A. & A. Contractors, Inc. of Olney will begin highway construction work in this area this week. A contract in the amount of $178,904.90 was awarded them by the Texas Highway Department in December for construction work consisting of five projects, located in Stonewall and Haskell Counties. The work is to be completed in 110 working days.

The Haskell County section is 4.32 miles in length and will be all new construction, consisting of grading, structures, base and two course asphalt surface treatment. This section begins at U. S. Highway 380 in Sager-ton and extends to intersect State Highway 283, approximately six miles south of Rule. Construction cost for this section will be $90,852.17. When this section is built, it will complete F. M. 1651 from U. S. Highway 83, 3.9 miles NW of Anson in Jones County, to State Highway 283, approximately six miles south of Rule—a total distance of 23.53 miles.

The construction work in Stonewall County amounts to $88,052.73, and consists of the following:

1. Widening Tonk Creek bridge and approaches on US Highway 380 located 5 miles east of Aspermont at a cost of $29,333.97.
2. Widening Stinking Creek bridge and approaches on US Highway 83, located 5 miles NW of Aspermont at a cost of $29,878.24.
3. Widening Stinking Creek bridge and approaches on US Highway 880, located 5 miles west of Aspermont at a cost of $22,285.82.
4. Constructing a multiple box culvert and approaches on FM 2211, located 3 miles south of Peacock at a cost of $11,694.70.

A conference to promote traffic safety on these projects was held in Aspermont Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called by Nelson Shave of Hamlin, Senior Resident Engineer of the Texas Highway Department, who will be in charge of the projects. Other representatives of the Highway Department attending the meeting were W. O. Crawford, District Construction Engineer of Abilene, Barrie A. Cumble Jr., and Cone R. Danaby Jr., both Engineering Aides of Hamlin, Newell P. Windham of Aspermont and R. A. Lusk of Haskell, Maintenance Construction Foremen. Those attending from the Department of Public Safety were Sgt. Frank Jircik of Haskell and Patrolman Bill Allen and Patrolman Stuart Eriksen of Spur. A. & A. Contractors' representatives present were Paul Atchley and M. R. Stewart, bridge superintendent.

The purpose of the meeting was to secure closer cooperation between the Contractor, Department of Public Safety, and Texas Highway Department in promoting traffic safety through the limits of the construction projects.

Traffic will be routed through construction on the subgrade, shoulders, slopes, ditches and especially detours paralleling the existing highway.

Adequate barricades and warning signals will be prominently displayed at all times, but motorists should be extremely cautious in passing through the area as it will be heavily traveled by large highway construction equipment. Construction areas in Stonewall County are zoned for a maximum speed of 40 miles per hour for the protection of motorists and workmen alike. Cooperation of the public is requested in obeying all signs, warning signs and speed zones.

In the last few years, the Farmer's Home Administration has been given authority by Congress to make Soil and Water Conservation Loans to eligible applicants. Mr. Lawson assisted 9 farm families, amounting to $41,995 with these & W Loans. Eight of these loans are already paid in full.

During these years, of the 1500 farmers that received loans from Farmers Home Administration, 450 farm families were referred to Mr. Lawson by the banks. Mr. Lawson loaned these 450 farm families $2,700,000. There were 50 farm families referred by the Production Credit Association to the Farmers Home Administration and Mr. Lawson loaned them about $300,000.

The Government has been assisting economically disadvantaged farm families since the depression started in the early 1930's. The first assistance was through the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration and the Rural Rehabilitation Administration.

Haskell Woman's Brother Dies in Lamesa January 17

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jones were in Lamesa last Thursday to attend the funeral of her brother, Jim Williams, 72, retired peace officer and long-time resident of that section. Mr. Williams was also a cousin of Mrs. John Crawford of Haskell.

Funeral was held at the Lamesa Church of Christ, where Mr. Williams was a member, and burial was in Lamesa Cemetery.

A former Sheriff of Crosby County for 12 years, Mr. Williams died Wednesday morning, Jan. 17, of a heart attack. He had picked up his morning newspaper and returned to a wicker chair in his living room while his wife prepared breakfast. When she went to call him, she found he had died while sitting in his chair. He had suffered with a heart ailment for several years.

Nation's Mailmen Are Potent Force In March of Dimes Disease Battle

A small, yellow envelope serving as a harbinger of an expanding war on crippling disease arrives in the mailboxes of 40 million American families this week.

It brings the "mailer" of the 1962 March of Dimes, now dedicated to seeking the answers to birth defects and arthritis while continuing its work in polio. Pinned on each envelope is the confident promise: "Your Dimes Will Do It Again!"

Addressed by tens of thousands of volunteers in the county chapters of The National Foundation - March of Dimes across the nation, this symbol of scientific research and total medical care for the victims of these diseases promises immediate help and future hope through the generosity of the American people.

The prediction on the mailer, "Your Dimes Will Do It Again!" is a reference, of course, to development of the Salk anti-polio vaccine and to the later Sabin oral vaccine. Both were made possible, as were the medical care and rehabilitation of many of those paralyzed by polio, by public contributions to the March of Dimes. Many millions of the dollars so well used to bring about these accomplishments came to local chapters through similar mailers in years past.

Recipients of these mailers, including those in distant Hawaii and Alaska, were urged by March of Dimes leaders this week to return the mailers to local chapters as promptly as possible.

As one chapter chairman said: "Aside from financial outlays needed urgently for research and for total medical care of victims, the National Foundation - March of Dimes must expand its already existing national network of chapter-supported clinics helping those stricken by birth defects or by arthritis."

"The figures give you an idea of the appalling magnitude of National Poster Child of 1962 March of Dimes, Debbie Sue Brown, 5, Clarkston, Wash., exhibits jumbo-sized mailer for contributions. Born with the serious birth defect of an open spine, Debbie Sue inserts bill in an envelope almost as tall as she is.

the problem. Each year in this country, at least 250,000 infants are born with significant birth defects and 21,000 die. This we must prevent.

"As to rheumatoid arthritis, fully 30,000 children and adolescents are crippled. Altogether, more than 11 million Americans suffer from the arthritic diseases. This must not happen in the future."

"When we say to the public that 'Your Dimes Will Do It Again!' it's not an empty boast. We mean precisely that. Some folks believed that the answer to polio would never be found.

But our scientists never abandoned hope and, because of March of Dimes contributions from those who believed as we did, the answer was found. Tens of thousands of lives have been saved since then, and tens of thousands saved from crippling.

"None of us, scientists included, knows when the answers will be found to birth defects and arthritis. We just know, as we knew with confidence before the Salk vaccine, that those answers will be found provided sufficient public support is forthcoming."

Stamford PCA Loan Volume Sets New Record In 1961

An all-time record for one-year loan volume was established in 1961 by the Stamford Production Credit Association. The credit needs during 1962 are expected to exceed those of the previous year.

J. L. Hill Jr., general manager of the Stamford Production Credit Association, in making a report on the 1961 activities of the agricultural credit organization, said that crop and livestock conditions are excellent in the association's territory and should result in a new all-time high loan volume for the association.

"Ample funds will be available through our association for the qualified farmer and in Anson, Haskell, Spur and Munday. "We have but one reason for being in business," Hill said, "and that is to provide a dependable source of low-cost credit for farmers and ranchers in our area."

Owned and operated in its entirety by its 1,145 farmer and rancher stockholders, the Stamford PCCO serves Dickens, King, Knox, Kent, Stonewall, Jones, Haskell and Shackelford counties.

Persons Earning $600 or More Must File Return

All citizens or residents of the United States, including minors who had gross income of $600 or more in 1961, must file a federal income tax return on or before April 15, 1962, Omas T. Roberts, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Wichita Falls, Texas, said today.

Free Document 5107, available at IRS, tells all the vital facts about federal income tax filing requirements.

Brasilia, Brazil, is in the state of Mato Grosso. The state's name means "big woods," but less than half of it is jungle. Much of it is grassland.

A recent study showed that newspapers continued to be the No. 1 choice of lumber and building material dealers who regularly use local advertising media.

Mosquitos are especially attracted to people who eat bananas, according to a Filipino experiment.
