Mr. Frierson's primary business interest since September 1, 1949, has been the rejuve-nation and rebuilding of the agricultural operations of the Texas Department of Corrections. He has taken a system which was in the red and brought it to the point where it is not only paying its way, but is providing food and fiber for many people who are not a part of the Texas Correction System. Businessmen from town as well as businessmen from the country, and their wives are urged to participate in these meetings.

Mr. Frierson was born and grew up on a farm in Haskell County. He is a graduate of Texas A&M College and holds a degree in Agricultural Administration.

3 Youths Admit Burglaries, Get Probate Terms

Three Jones County youth, age 15 and 16, charged with recent burglaries in Stamford, were placed on probation to Court Monday.

Also involved was a fourth youth, 15, not yet in custody. Charges against the youths were in connection with the burglary of Reed's Service Station and a cafe in Stamford, last Thanksgiving. Also, Reed's Station was hit again on December 15, local officers said. Sheriff Bill Pennington stated that one of the youths was charged with breaking into Wofford's Service Station at Stamford Thursday night, Jan. 14. Investigation of the thefts was made by Sheriff Penning-city police. The three youths arraigned before Judge James C. Alvis Monday admitted their part in the burglaries, making a clean breast of the offenses in askling leniency of the court.

Threat Of TB Is Speaker's Topic At Rotary Club

The ever-present threat to community health presented by tuberculosis was pointed out to members of the Rotary Club at a recent meeting by Dr. R. A. Middleton of this city, who was introduced by program chairman Tom Barfield.

Dr. Middleton cited tuberculosis as one of the nation's worst killers and that control and eventual eradication of t disease is one of the greate: challenges facing medical authorities and the nation to-

Tuberculosis is spread by contact with the germ from an infected person by a well person. It is estimated that each infected person gives the disease to an average of six well people. Despite this serious theat to community health, Dr. Middleton pointed out that we have no laws regulating the activities of those suffering with the disease in an active stage, effective enough to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.

Dr. Middleton told of one instance where a victim of tu-berculosis had been sent to one of the State hospitals for treatment. "Despite the fact that this person was an active carrier of TB, in a few weeks time the person was back in Haskell, presenting a notential Haskell, presenting a potential threat to the public," he said. Insured Fire Losses $30,000 During 1959

Insured fire losses in Haskell for the past year amounted to approximately $30,000, according to the annual report compiled by Floyd (Satch) Lusk, city fireman. The total reflects an increase of about $1,000 over

The department received 64 nine were general which resulted in all members being called to duty. Ten calls during the year were on outof-town fires.

Largest single insurance loss, approximately $8,350, was from a residence fire which occurred May 12. Residence fires were more numerous in 1959 than for several years, with 11 occurring within the city lim-

Investigation showed that each of these fires resulted from preventable causes, the report points out. Seven fires were reported on "dalayed" calls, when parties were not familiar with the proper method to report a fire. In combatting fires, local firemen laid almost two miles of hose line, including 3,550 feet of 21/2 inch, 3.850 feet of 11/2 inch and 1,050 feet of 1inch line.

Four members of the department had almost perfect atendance record at fires, meetngs and drills, each being absent only one time. They are Jim Byrd, Alvis Bird, Ray Lusk and Tom Watson,

Miss Hunt Gives Talk On Hawaii At Lions Club

Members of the Lions Club were presented an interesting program on Hawaii at the club noon meeting and luncheon Tuesday when Miss Madalin Hunt., Haskell teacher, was guest speaker.

Miss Hunt, who spent considerable time in Hawaii a few years ago, showed a number of pictures of the agriculture industries, interspered with comments on the history and development of the colorful islands.

Hawaii is a chain of rugged islands, coral reefs, and rocky shoals, with a total area of 6,418 square miles, Miss Hunt explained.

Sugar industry ranks first in the island, with pineapple second. Also there are 500 manufurniture and paper some of the major manufacturing industries.

Cattle raising is also becoming an important source of income, and the famed Parker Ranch in Hawaii is the second largest in the world.

Fastest growing industry is the tourist trade, Miss Hunt | 39th District Court grand jury. explained, with between 175,000 and 180,000 tourists visiting the islands each year.

A colorful fact brought out by Miss Hunt was that the Island of Hawaii has three active volcanoes, Mauna Kea, Mauna Loa, and Kilauea Crater.

Kilauea is now causing great destruction, with sugarland, vast orchards and many orchid farms destroyed. The eruption is the greatest in the history of Kilauea and has cost many millions of dollars since its activity began last November.

A Feeling Of Uneasiness

The 50's have ended. And, as usual, there has been a flood of historical and analytical accounts of what happened during that remarkable era.

Most of these have one thing in common-a recital of economic advances that were tremendous by any standard of measurement, and perhaps unprecedented. Even so, as Relman Morin of the Associated Press reports, there is a feeling of uneasiness among millions of Americans.

Dr. Charles Frankel, a professor of philosophy and sociology says: "Our society has met many great challenges and quite successfully in other years. But today it is drifting and has no sense of purpose."

However, thanks to the finest doctors and hospital staff to be found anywhere, we're back on the job, practically as good as new, and perhaps even better than before!

Actually, we'd always considered ourselves fortunate in never having been hospitalized. Now, realizing just what a modern, well staffed hospital can do for a fellow, we may have been missing something and were not as lucky as we thought.

So, if you've been dreading the time when you might be compelled to spend some time in the hospital, face up to it, man-vou're in for a treat instead of an unpleasant exper-

Later, when gunpowder came into general use, the law was revoked and the Scots went back to their putting.

Something slipped. The charge wen of i. He was blown to bits by the explosion.

Only recently a warden working at night, caught a man and his wife and two boys. The man was jacklighting deer. Chaplain (Major) James R. Barnett, is recommended as deserving recognition as the "Chaplain of the Year" not for single or unusual performance, but as a Chaplain who performs the innumerable, normal functions of a Chaplain in an outstanding manner, always giving a spiritual emphasis to all of his work.

Although his daily activities are neither spectacular nor sensational, they are performed in such a manner that, due to his influence, the morale of the men of his unit is maintained at a high level. He interviews each man coming into his unit, becomes acquainted with him at the beginning, remembers him well, and calls him by his first name wherever he sees him, thereafter. He knows his men. In dealing with his fellow men, the generous and magnanimous spirit of Chaplain Barnett might be illustrated in the fact that he and his wife have adopted two Japanese children, and they are rearing them, in a most commendable manner. This reflects the true spirit of this Chaplain, and, as he works daily among his men, this kind of influence works a growing contagion for good and high morale.

Another sample of the effectiveness of Chaplain Barnett's work which is worthy of specal mention is the program of "One Day Spiritual Retreats," which idea he has worked out and put into operation with remarkable success. Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles — '60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions-all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension

Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels

Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs-Wider, Safer, More Comfortable

Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Economic Outlook For Cotton

BY F. W. MARTIN County Agent

Supply in the United States during the current season. Aug. 1, 1959 to July 31, 1960, is estimated at 23.7 millions bales, 3.4 million over that of 1958-

Reasons for the increase: 1. The 1959 crop was about 3.3 million bales over that of 1958 because of larger acreage and a record yield of 474 pounds per acre.

2. The larger acreage was caused to some extent by the ending of the acreage reserve program which took 5 million acres of cotton land out of production in 1958. 3. The Choice B support pro-

acres to the acreage allotments Supplies in Future Years If yields continue at a high

gram added about 1 million

ment specified under law could mean crops in the future of about 15 million bales.

Disappearance during 1959-60 is expected to come close to 15 million bales. If this large disappearance does not materialize, stocks of cotton at the end of the season will increase above the large level of 8.9 million bales in existence on August 1, 1959.

If crops of 15 million bales are produced in future years, disappearance of the size estimated for the current season would have to be maintained in order to prevent accumulation of additional stocks. Exports

Exports during the present marketing year 1959-60 are expected to be about 5.6 bales compared to 2.8 bales a year earlier.

Domestic Consumption Domestic consumption of level or if the upward trends cotton during 1959-60 is excontinue, the minimum allot- pected to be about 9 million bales compared to 8.7 million bales a year earlier.

Reasons for increase: 1. Higher level of economic activity.

2. The lower cotton price may also have stimulated consumption to some extent. However, the effect of prices on cotton consumption is usually a long-term factor.

4. The minimum price stipulated by the current price support program should help the future competitive position the future, along with lower prices at domestic mills of gions. cotton. Competition from manmade fibers for cotton might ly and one of the principal reasons for this has been the bers for cotton.

Some Effects of Government Programs

During the last four seasons Government programs have stimulated regional shifts in acreage so that yields increased more than might have otherwise occurred.

Under the acreage reserve programs relatively more acreage was taken out of production in the low-yielding regions of the Southeast and Southwest than in the highyielding regions of the West and the Delta.

Under the Choice B program of cotton. However, research for the 1959 crop, relatively and promotion will probably more acreage was added to have to continue their part in allotments in the high-yielding loss of our loved one. We are than in the low-yielding re-

For 1961 and subsequent years the Choice B program is no longer in operation but the minimum upland acreage allotment for the U.S. remains at about 16.3 million acres under current legislation.

Of course this is all a joke-but I thought it was funny and you would enjoy it. Our school board members take their jobs very seriously and really learn a great deal at these meetings. Gene attended three different meetings and I read his notes on some of them. They learn about school business.

It is census time again, and if any Paint Creek patron knows of any child who will be six before Sept. 1, and lives on some ranch near Albany, but is in the Paint Creek district, please notify Supt. Pat Morrison at the scheel. Phone UN 42471. I think we will find all the new students who live on the regular routs, but some of these who have moved in this year we might not know about. Our bus routes will be changed to accomodate these students.

The Methodist Church sold 50 of their opera seats in the class rooms and have replaced them with metal folding chairs. Each class in Sunday School is redecorating its room and we're going to be all spruced up this spring.

The members of the Baptist Church hard done some ex-tensive redecorating in their educational building, but I I haven't heard all about it. I think they put some of those accordion doors so they can close them for class room spaced and open them for the church suppers and socials. They put a new refrigerator, sink and range in the kitchen.

Mrs. John Nanny has been a patient in the Haskell Hospital. She is home now and improving.
