State Prexy To Keynote Jaycee Installation Here

Texas Jaycees' state president, the area vice president, and three state directors will be in Haskell next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock to participate in the installation activities for 1963-64 officers of the Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce at a gala banquet at which more than 250 persons are expected at the American Legion Hall here.

Bob Sheehy, state Jaycee president, of Waco, will be the principal speaker. Area Vice President Bud Gray, of Abilene, and State Directors Walt Manley, Arlington, Glen Newton, DeLeon, and Don Benson, of Colorado City, also will take part in the ceremonies.

Newly elected State Director Billy Jack Ray is outgoing president of the Jaycees here, and will preside over the banquet program.

To be installed Tuesday night are the following Haskell Jaycees: Buddy Lane, president; Jesse Priest, first vice president; Frankie Don Mullins, second vice president; Bill Tomlinson, secretary; Glen Sammons, treasurer; and Bobby Jenkins and Bobby Druessow, new directors.

President Sheehy, married and father of five children, is an attorney in Waco in a firm with his father and brother. Under his leadership this year, said to have been one of the most outstanding in Jaycee history, Texas Jaycees have risen from 11,000 to more than 14,000 in membership strength and a record has been set in extensions.

Haskell Jaycee President Ray said that all service organizations and community-minded citizens are welcomed to attend the installation banquet to hear Sheehy's message.

Cry Here Is 'Keep Coming' With Cancer Funds

Contributions totaling $413.95 had been reported, with the 1963 Haskell County Cancer Crusade less than 24 hours old, Mrs. T. C. Walker, crusade chairman, reported Wednesday.

This amount came from three reporting stations at Rochester, Mattson, and the Negro community in Haskell.

"This is a healthy start, but we must all bear down to establish a new record, which is our aim," Mrs. Walker said.

Haskell County's goal this year is to "better our best," which last year was a record-smashing $2800 in the county.

Mrs. Walker asked that all Crusade contributions which have not been turned in by Thursday noon be brought to the Haskell Cancer Center at any hour Thursday afternoon. After Thursday, contributions from block and community chairmen in the county's reported communities will be received at the Haskell Free Press.

Area Aggies Hold Muster Here Saturday

A muster of the "HASKK" Club, comprised of Texas Aggies in five area counties will be held Saturday, April 20, at the Corral Building on the Rice Springs Rodeo Grounds here, District Attorney Royce Adkins of Haskell, an Aggie alumnus and muster chairman, announced Monday.

In keeping with the tradition to hold an Aggie muster on or close to San Jacinto Day, which is Sunday, Aggies from Haskell, Jones, Stonewall, Kent and Knox counties, will assemble here for activities both solemn and festive, principal among which will be the playing of "Silver Taps" and answering of roll call for Aggies who have died since the last muster.

The Corral Building mustering place will open at noon for domino playing and fellowship. A sumptuous meal will be served the assembled Aggies at 7:30 p. m., Chairman Adkins said.

Mrs. Johnson To Leave Dedicated C of C Service

Mrs. Roy Johnson, efficient and engaging manager of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce for the past 5 1/2 years, Tuesday, announced her retirement from active direction of the productive Chamber program here effective July 1, "to do some things I otherwise would be unable to do if I continued to work. But I will be around to help all I can," Mrs. Johnson added.

This announcement at the first meeting of the board of newly elected President Abe Turner, at which there were six new board members sitting for the first time, "came as a shocker," Turner declared.

The board at first "simply refused to hear of any such thing, pleaded with the Chamber manager to reconsider," but did appoint a committee to choose someone to succeed Mrs. Johnson as manager. The stem-winding Mrs. Johnson said she was cognizant that a number of chambers of commerce in Northwest and North Central Texas are without executives at the present time, and would stay on past July 1 if it is necessary, but she plans to leave the office at that time. Mrs. Johnson formerly worked for the Wichita Falls and Abilene Chambers of Commerce.

President Turner, in reluctantly accepting Mrs. Johnson's announcement, spoke for the board when he declared, "She has been an energetic, dedicated lady who has done plenty for this town. We are going to miss her terribly." A committee comprised of Turner, Postmaster Harold Spain, and Ira Hester will seek a replacement for Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, prior to submitting her resignation Tuesday, reviewed for the new Haskell Chamber board the projects prosecuted in the past and outlined potential ones, saying, "Haskell should have its best year ever," in welcoming the new leadership and noting that the present board has four past chamber presidents on it.

Turner said that announcement of new projects and personnel of nine key working committees for 1963-64 is imminent.

Location of the grave of at least one Confederate veteran in Willow Cemetery here, and the possibility that others may be pinpointed in the same burial place, was announced Monday by Haskell County Judge Jim Alvis, coincident with the calling of the next meeting of the Haskell County Historical Survey Committee for Monday, April 29.

CSA Vet's Grave Found; Survey Gathers Speed

"We've been studying about how to handle this problem ever since we saw there are absolutely no rabbits to be found in Haskell County to speak of," said Judge Alvis. "That means the coyotes and bobcats are getting the upper hand."

A report only a few days ago that two female coyotes were killed southeast of town carrying a total of 25 young between them hastened the Commissioners' move to hire a trapper.

"Two more weeks, and those two coyotes would have been 27 coyotes," Judge Alvis declared.

Then, northeast of Haskell, a farmer who said his egg business used to pay an ample grocery bill until the coyotes

Haskell's Ray Nobles Baptizes 210 In Philippine Revival Crusade

A 10-day revival meeting at Tarlac, Philippine Islands, has just been completed as part of the Baptist New Life Movement in the Philippines and the Orient by Reverend Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Haskell, who reports a total of 210 decisions for salvation and baptisms, from the series of services he conducted.

Rev Nobles' message was received in Haskell with enthusiasm by the First Baptist congregation who financed his pilgrimage with the New Life Movement.

Fourteen other Baptist ministers conducted revivals in the Tarlac area, and reported there were 528 converts to Christianity in the immediate Tarlac territory. Over the entire Philippines principal island of Luzon, more than 3,000 people were baptized.

On Monday, Rev. Nobles left for Tokyo, where the crusade has been in progress for some time. He is undergoing orientation for a revival he will conduct in Hong Kong beginning Friday, April 19. He also will visit Southern Baptist missions in Tokyo and surrounding areas.

MUSICAL MERIT—Pamela Baird, Haskell High School senior, receives from Rogers Durham, minister of Haskell Christian Church and vice president of the Lions Club, the national Arion Foundation Award for musical merit and for the most outstanding contribution by a senior to a musical organization during the 1962-63 school year. Miss Baird is a member of the Haskell Indian Band. The Arion Award is an annual project of the Lions' Club of Haskell.

HASKELL VANISHING VARMINT MIGHT JUST BE UP FOR GRABS

Haskell County's Commissioners' Court last week took action against a stand by inhabitants of West Texas who are dabbling against creeping civilization, and this territory's now-you-see-it-now-you-don't, vanishing "varmint" might be caught up in the snare.

Plagued by persistent, bold and overt sets by coyotes and bobcats over a wide area of the county, the commissioners, for the first time in seven years, entered into a contract with the state and federal governments to assign a trapper to Haskell County for one year, beginning June 1.

Principal duties of the trapper will be predatory animal control, "mainly coyotes and bobcats who have been carrying us off lately," County Judge Jim Alvis reported in announcing the county's authorized expenditure of $2700 for its share of the year's work.

And, at Rochester, far on the other side of the county, a chicken raiser, just starting in business, pooh-poohed the stories he "better keep your chickens up." He lost 50 the first night. Four coyote forays later, "there weren't any chickens left," Judge Alvis said.

Bobcats which have been seen frequently, especially in the southeast section of Haskell County, are going to come in for their share of attention, too, Judge Alvis said.

A particularly "marked" animal will be Haskell County's vanishing varmint, seen infrequently over a period of more than 3 years now. Stories of sighting this creature, thought to be a loping mountain lion or large bobcat "waist high to a tall man, and wide across," have been too similarly descriptive and come from too many folks who have been strangers to this area to inject doubt into the veracity of the varmint's existence. Like the transient Marylanders who saw this loose-legged lunge in front of their lights and hurdle a barbed-wire fence "like it wasn't there" the last week in December, 1962.

That varmint's days may be numbered with an honest-to-goodness trapper taking over in Haskell County.

There's one thing certain. The aim will be to take the varmint alive. He, she, or it has a date with a taxidermist. With a reputation like this "thing" has built, it would be the master trophy in the museum just started by the Haskell County Historical Survey.

Annual City-Wide Spring Clean-Up Campaign Gets Underway Monday

Annual Spring Clean-Up Week in Haskell will officially get underway Monday, April 22, when city trucks begin hauling away trash and rubbish from the residential areas of town.

In designating the coming week, April 22 through 27th, as Spring Clean-Up, city officials hope to make this the most intensive and thorough campaign of its kind in years. To that end the cooperation of all homeowners and citizens is necessary as well as the help of civic groups and organizations.

Residents are urged to rid their premises of winter rubbish, weeds and other unsightly growth, and to join with their neighbors in cleaning vacant lots.

The city will provide trucks to haul away rubbish, trash of all kinds (except tires, limbs and anything that will not burn), at no cost to homeowners. However, all trash should be put in containers for quick handling, but if unable to do so, it should be placed in a location accessible to the city trucks.

Here are some of the things residents can do to help promote the City-Wide Clean-Up Campaign:

Durham Begins Meeting At Son's Church Here

Philip Durham, a Christian Church minister for 30 years, and father of Rogers Durham, minister of the Christian Church of Haskell, will lead evangelistic services at the church here beginning Wednesday, April 24, and continuing through the following Wednesday, May 1, his son announced from the pulpit Sunday.

The longtime Christian minister will preach at 7:30 each weekday evening, including Saturday, and at 10:45 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. on Sunday, April 28. Some of his sermon subjects include, "Victorious Living," "The Body of Christ," "Spinning Your Own Cocoon," "A Time to Remember," "Astronauts of the Ancient Age," and "Fact-Form-Faith."

Mr. Durham's messages will be directed to all members of the family, adults and children alike, with a special brief object lesson graphically and uniquely illustrated by the visiting evangelist at each service.

The father of the Haskell Christian Church minister, lives at Covina, California, and has been serving the church at West Covina for the past four months. He spent a year in evangelistic preaching prior to going to the west coast.

Before entering the evangelistic field, Minister Durham completed a 10-year pastorate at the First Christian Church of Council Bluffs, Iowa. He spent five years in the chaplain's corps in uniform during World War II, and continues to be actively affiliated with the service as a reserve officer chaplain.

The visiting evangelist also has held pastorates in Ohio, Colorado, Washington State and Kentucky.

Mrs. Philip Durham, wife of the evangelist, will talk to the ladies of the congregation here and their guests on "Women's Avenues of Service" at 3 p. m. Monday, April 29, in the Memorial Chapel of the Church.

Special music each evening during the revival meeting will be presented by Mrs. Rogers Durham and others.

Rogers Durham will lead the singings throughout the series of services. Everyone interested in a stimulating spiritual experience is invited to attend.

Beth Vaughter Approved By Girls' State

Beth Vaughter, 16-year-old Haskell High School Junior, who is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Haskell, is the first Haskell selected to be accepted for participation at Girls' State in Austin early this summer.

Currently serving as president of the "Owl Club," an organization of librarians and office workers, Miss Vaughter is also active in Lion Patrol Chapter, Quill and Scroll Society, honorary journalistic society. Last year, she won the scholastic sweetener for achievement in English.

Beth is assistant editor and business manager of "The Chieftain," Haskell High yearbook and a columnist for "The War Whoop," school newspaper.

Recently, she was chosen in the all-star cast at the Inter-scholastic League one-act play contest in District 6-AA and will take part in the regional competition at Lubbock in "The Miracle Worker," Haskell's winning production.

A member of the Haskell Indian Band, Beth also is active in MYF work of the Methodist Church.

Interested citizens from 11 counties have been asked to attend a meeting to be held in the 29th District Courtroom here Tuesday, April 23, at 10 a. m. to discuss the wheat situation. Haskell County Agent Frank W. Martin, announced Friday.

The meeting will provide wheat producers with objective information on the wheat situation, enabling them to make their own decisions on the forthcoming wheat referendum in May, it was pointed out.

Panel members will include James E. Kirby, economist in marketing and policy; R. J. Mears, small grains specialist; and John McHaney, economist and agricultural outlook specialist.

A team of specialists from Texas A&M College will present the information in regard to the total wheat picture, it was explained.

Courthouse Job is Awarded, Started

Authorized by the Haskell Commissioners' Court, which met Friday in special session to consider bids for renovation of the Courthouse here, Judge Jim Alvis signed a contract with E. H. McCown Construction Company, of Abilene, to revamp and repair the structure for $37,967, which is $7,000 less than the peak figure the Court had agreed to pay to get the job done. Construction started Monday, with completion stipulated within 90 days.

Bridges-Campbell Associates of Abilene, an architectural engineering firm, recently was employed to draw plans and specifications for the project, principal items of which are the installation of an elevator in the three story Courthouse and the addition of six rooms to the third floor, for a flat fee of 6 per cent of the cost of the job.

At a meeting less than two weeks ago, the Haskell County Commissioners entered into the contract with Bridges-Campbell on the percentage basis, which included, in addition to the okayed plans and specifications drawings, their advertising bids for specialized work, and directing and supervising the project through to completion at a top cost not to exceed $45,000.

Seven firms bid on the project through Bridges-Campbell. The next two low bids after the McCown company's $38,000 one, in round figures, were in the $41,000 range, Judge Alvis reported.

In other business Friday, the Haskell Commissioners chose May 24 as the date to sit as a Board of Equalization to review and bring up to date, in accordance with policy, base rates for oil and gas renditions in the county.

The Court also accepted the Quarterly Report and directed that it be published.

These officials, at the conclusion of the grand jury's hearing of the evidence in the probe Tuesday, were given a public commendation by Grand Jury Foreman Joe W. Cloud, who said the body unanimously endorsed the diligence and indefatigable effort expended on the investigation.

Maltsberger, who now lives in Lamesa, was brought before the Haskell County Grand Jury Monday for a day-long period of questioning in connection with the fatal shooting. "Only circumstantial evidence, and not enough of that" was given as the reason for the no-billing of Maltsberger.

Mrs. Maltsberger, who was struck in the back by pellets from a 410 shotgun late Sunday afternoon, Jan. 27, was buried in Lamesa Cemetery the following Tuesday.

On Friday of the same week, Maltsberger shortly after 10 p. m., was found slumped over in the front seat of his car which had struck a rock pillar at the entrance to the cemetery where his wife was buried.

Apparently despondent over his wife's death, Lamesa officers said the funeral director from here had endeavored to take his own life. He had 26 stab wounds in the stomach, and had taken pills of some type, they reported. He recovered in a Lamesa hospital.

The full-scale investigation by District Attorney Adkins, Sheriff Garrett, and Ranger Melton began in earnest after this incident.

Only one indictment was returned by the Haskell County Grand Jury before they adjourned. It was against John Wilson, Negro, for forgery by alteration. Wilson allegedly changed a check for $1.90 to read $19.00 on March 28 here.

A native of Bell County, Mr. Hilliard came to Haskell in 1906, and farmed two and one half miles west of town until 1917 when he moved to the present farm home 11 miles southeast of Haskell. He retired from farming only two years ago. The Hilliards celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on August 20, 1961.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. John Scheets, of Haskell; Mrs. Robert Cusick, residing in France; Mrs. Bob Emery of Littleton, Colo.; and Miss Ellen Hilliard, of Abilene; three sons, Elmer, of Haskell; Jesse, of Arlington; and Lennis, of Littleton, Colo.; a brother, Taylor Hilliard, of Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Gordon, Haskell, and Mrs. Mary Piaz, San Antonio; 25 grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending at Holden Funeral Home here.

Hereinafter are captioned comments the Free Press feels it propitious to present concerning people, events, and situations currently topical, and therefore deserving of our views as we evaluate the news.

Good News

This spot in your newspaper being where the torch-carrying began for a new, or better still, restored, depot for Haskell, we feel it appropriate to record here the results which have been obtained to date from YOUR tangible indication of interest in the project.

The Haskell Free Press has been privileged to receive a letter from Ellis L. Simmons, vice president of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway Company, which says—

"Certainly no one can disagree with your thought that the present building reflects little credit on either the Railway Company or the community. This matter has been under consideration by our Operating Department . . . and a plan is in the making for a more suitable building."

Mr. Simmons advises that members of the officialdom of the FW&D are going to pay us a visit soon "to explain our plans." He concludes with, "We are most grateful for the spirit of friendship which prompted your letters and the editorial comment in your paper."

We are deeply indebted to Mr. Simmons for his open-minded reception to our request and for his tangible indication of FW&D's desire to prosecute a workable program of "rehabilitation" for our depot. We will be awaiting the forthcoming visit with eager anticipation.

To Mr. Simmons, Mr. H. E. Meyer, his competent Superintendent, and the others so thoughtfully interested in our project, we know we voice the full accord of Haskell and the entire area when we say, "Thanks ever so much."

The imminent rebuilding or restoration of our decrepit depot is good news indeed.

More Good News

Haskell County was one of the 186 of Texas' 254 sprawling counties showing an appreciable population gain between 1960 and 1962, according to a statewide survey just completed by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

With 11,521 residents reported now living in the county, two-year gain in Haskell County was 1.8 per cent.

Knox County had exactly the same number of residents in 1962 as in 1960, for no gain. Stonewall had a .7 gain; Jones and Throckmorton both had an equal 2.2 population spurt. So Haskell is keeping pace with the paces.

It also is interesting to note that Haskell's two closest metropolitan areas, Abilene and Wichita Falls, had exactly the same percentage gains, 1.8.

Haskell County's 1.8 growth in two years isn't any awesome achievement. But it must be noted that it was among the 186 county people gainers, not among the 68 county people losers.

It serves notice that we must keep the population balloon going up around here. And the best way to do that is to make Haskell the most attractive place possible in which to live. All of which is by way of saying, "Next week is Clean-Up, Paint Up Week here. Let's do it!"

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

Hugh Ratliff and I have a mutual buddy of Sheppard Field days who has kept the wolf 'way away from the door selling a brand name of foundation garment. He is Ned Hume, of Dallas, who, when asked his business, always replied, "Seat Covers."

Which brings to mind a "filler" that caught the Pencil Pusher's roving eye while gleaming choice morsels from the files of the Free Press of 50 years ago this month.

The item recounted that an Arkansas newspaper office once printed some both handbills for a traveling show. It happened the show went to the wall, and the handbills were never called for. So the thrifty wife of the editor used the cloth to line Johnny's pants.

As months rolled by, the pantaloons grew threadbare. And one day at school, Johnny accidentally tore the seat of his pants, leaving about one foot of lining in sight; and the boys were surprised to read the following words standing out in bold type: "Doors open at 7:30. Performance begins at 8."

Now, speakin' of rovin' eyes, or perhaps it was just the expanse of a newspaperman's sixth sense to read the proof, the story above immediately evoked one from our Clare-voyant publisher about the time he and Mrs. Clare were going down a rutted road behind a Model-T which was rattling right along until it had a flat. The occasion for the caravan was to see an aerial show by a barnstorming brigade of daring wing walkers using a flying Jenny.

When the Model-T tire deflated, the two occupants, one male and one female, dismounted from the Ford, and prepared to fix the flat. Attired in a dress so starched that it stood at 90 degree attention, the lady-fair bent over to add words of comfort to her sweating tire-fixin' helpmate. When she did, a banner undergarment unfurled across her posterior portion which read, "REWLEY'S BEST."

Now that Easter is over, and Peter Rabbit has had his day, both for that reason, and as Page One news because coyotes and bobcats have him on the run in Haskell County, we think it's in order to tell just one more rabbit story. It is a description of the age of confusion for a growing girl. That's when she's too old to be a Brownie and too young to be a Bunny!

After the item in the 50-Years Ago column last week about the W. O. Sanders having 24 living children, in that generation, we did some follow-up research, which proved even more amazing. Not only did they have this outstanding record, but our information is that the lady Mr. Sanders married bore seven children by a previous husband, and the Sanderses raised all of them, too. The 50-year-ago news item said, "Sanders is a farmer and prosperous financially." After raising 31 children. How?

And that isn't all about the prolific Sanders family. Each of those 24 averaged about 12 offspring. And, nowadays, the clan, which had SIX HUNDRED in attendance at its last reunion, gets together the second Sunday in June at Seymour.

This makes the Turnbours, Josselets, Ratliffs, et al, look like a bunch of pikers.

Our learned linotype operator, King of the Keyboard Vance Abeldt, who sets as fast clean a galley of type as any fellow who ever walked into a newspaper plant, has two brothers. Being Abeldts they had the "handles" of Hardy and Barely tacked onto them early in life. And the nicknames have withstood the test of time.

That being the case, we've nicknamed our Abeldt, "Ready and Willing," which he is when it comes to doing something helpful and humanitarian for his fellow citizen.

There oughta be a law against a country newspaperman having to read proof on grocery ads and school lunch menus on an empty stomach.

Will someone please explain to us why nine women out of ten who can keep a conversation runnin' full tilt on three different subjects with three other women and play a bridge hand at the same time, will shush you plumb out of the room if you try to distract her while she's measuring the coffee?

The Pencil Pusher and his Jewel had as their Easter guests, winsome elder daughter, Betty, and brainy son-in-law, Harold, speech therapist and math major seniors, respectively, at West Texas State University. We've an idea they're doin' splendidly in idea they're doin' splendidly in their chosen educational fields. More than that, the therapy provided by the soothing sight of them, and the formula furnished for happiness defy the most articulate description or the highest cluster of numbers.

Pay Day Night for lots of folks seems to be a good time to come to the aid of a party.

Easter does something for and to us. Something indescribably, stimulatingly vibrant. Its true meaning buoyo our spirits, our hopes, our ambitions. We pray this Easter has provided a similar stimulus for you.

Oakescript: The Pencil Pusher or always was intrigued with the immortal work, "Winter-set." Always thought we'd like to try writing a sequel to it, called, "Summerset." But we have changed our editorial mind. We feel better qualified

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

(Delayed) Wasn't the rain wonderful? We only had one-half inch right in here but it fell so slowly every drop counted. Some parts of the community had had 1 1/2 inches and I heard one man say he had 2 inches. Maybe we will all get some more, but that was fine. The wheat took a new lease on life and is greener and I think taller since the rain.

Fred Shaw is a patient in the hospital since suffering another heart attack last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Isbell of Houston are guests this week of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Isbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Chaffin and sons, Sam and Mike, of Crane, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peiser and Cynthia of Mattson and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McGary of Abilene also had dinner with the Fischer's.

Pat Morrison and Glen Kregger attended the track meet at ACC in Abilene Saturday. Glenda Walton daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton was among a group of seniors and graduate students selected to attend a meeting of the Dietetic Association in San Antonio last weekend.

Glenda works as a therapeutic dietitian at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, while she is working on her master's degree at Texas Tech. She will receive her master's this summer in dietetics.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Morris of Seymour spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bergstrom and Joy.

Mrs. Allen Overton, Kay and JoNell, spent last weekend in Wichita Falls with her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Delmon Bailey and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Montgomery visited his niece, Mrs. Boyd Cathey, Mr. Cathey and daughter, Elizabeth at Grand Prairie over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Roddy Kuenstler are new residents in the community. They have moved to the Hay Perry place where Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods did live. We are glad to have this young couple.

Mary Paint Creekers attended the Production Credit Association meeting at the Round-Up Hall in Stamford on Saturday and enjoyed the barbecue lunch. Not one Paint Creeker won a prize but the door prizes were real nice pencils.

Spring must be sprung because even the oldest mesquite trees are leafing out, and old-timers say that is the best indication of spring because they always wait until after the freezes are over.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton, Jr., and Mary Margaret, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton Sr. Ray, Jr., made a very inspirational speech at the athletic banquet at the Haskell Drive-In last Tuesday. Several have told me how much they appreciated and enjoyed it, and that do make his old aunt and uncle proud.

Mrs. Genelle Overton held a school of instruction for the Girl Scout Day camp at the Christian Church Wednesday morning. Helpers for the day camp attended, and Miss Redwine from the Abilene office was also present. There will be a second training meeting on Wednesday, April 17 and the last one at Scott's Crossing, April 25th. Mrs. Overton is director of the Day Camp this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Twain Mickler and children were weekend guests of his sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Williams and daughters last weekend.

Mrs. Jean Burnet's younger son was a hospital patient last Monday and Tuesday and she missed school to be with him. Her school assembly program was postponed.

ter of the Texas State Teachers Association dinner meeting at the Haskell Elementary school lunch room were: Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lee Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Diddle, Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe, W. Gene Overton left Friday for Washington D. C. to attend the meeting of national engineers and members of four other Rural Electrification Boards to decide on sources of power to be used this coming year. Mr. Lester, manager of the Stamford REA also went.

Honoring Miss Dorothy Coleman, bride-elect of Jimmy Griffith, Mrs. Allen Isbell, Mrs. Paul Fischer and Mrs. Gene Overton hosted a gift tea on Tuesday afternoon at the Overton home. The house was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of blue and white. Mrs. Overton greeted guests at the door and Mrs. Fischer invited them into the living room where the receiving line of the bride-to-be her mother, Mrs. Ira Coleman, Jimmy's mother, Mrs. Bill Griffith, the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. West, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Martindale Coleman her aunt for whom she was named.

The dining room table was centered with an arrangement of blue sweet peas in a crystal bowl and appointments were in crystal and silver. Punch and cake squares were served by Paulette Fischer and Joan Raumbach. Also in the house party were Mrs. Willie Lee Medford, Mrs. Jesse Wright,

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW $10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system . . . and added road-hugging weight.

It took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now actually hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance — the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension — could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery — if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total performance.

Could Be A Bunch Of Pea Pickin' Hearts To Bless Around Here

A new industry which could mean much to the economy of northwest Haskell County may have drawn its first breath of life last week when a group of farmers in that area signed up to plant about 1,000 acres in blackeyed peas in an agreement with an Arkansas-based produce company which furnishes the staple to eastern canneries.

Responding to an appeal by Sam Reed, O'Brien businessman and civic leader, 65 farmers in this territory met at the O'Brien School to hear the proposition put before them by the Valentine Produce Company, of Alma, Arkansas, which has processing operations at Lamesa and Raymondville, in the Rio Grande Valley.

Valentine's expressed need was for 3,000 acres of peas to be planted by O'Brien area farmers, to be harvested and hauled away for delivery by the Arkansas firm to eastern cannery markets. "But this is a healthy start," Reed reported. He indicated more farmers will probably enter into the pea raising business when they "see the opportunities afforded."

If this crop diversification in northwest Haskell County, a predominantly cotton country, "catches on," O'Brien might eventually get its own cannery. "It's not entirely out of the realm of reason," Frank Martin, Haskell County Agent, declared. "Because they've got the good land, and plenty of water, and this diversification should do well there."

Reed, mainly a cotton, seed, and feed man himself, is a longtime pusher for diversification farming in these parts, and believes the planting of black-eyed peas in volume could be the solution to a healthy balancing of economic scales in area agricultural endeavors.

Enthusiasm for the black-eyed pea project was best demonstrated by one farmer who said, "Tennessee Ernie might have a big bunch of pea-pickin' hearts to bless around here before long."

Mrs. Lewis Honored At WMU's 75th

The Diamond Anniversary of the founding of the Women's Missionary Union of the Baptist Church was observed here April 9th with a moving message from the lips of a native son of this area, a returned Baptist missionary from deep in the heart of Africa, and dedication of the 75th milestone program of WMU to Senior Citizen Jo Anna Lewis, a Baptist 68 years who at age 85 "remembers when" this program was adopted by the Southern Baptist Convention.

Mrs. Lewis, a president of a WMU group herself for the first time more than a half-century ago, probably felt more "at home" than anyone present Tuesday in the bonneted and bountiful floor-sweeping attire in which participants entered the First Baptist Church of Haskell to carry out the 75-years-ago theme of the day. The day-long series of colorful events was planned and produced by the Haskell-Knox Counties Association of WMU.

Among the distinguished guests present was Mrs. James H. Landes, wife of the new 10th president of Hardin-Simmons University, who came with Mrs. George Graham of Abilene. The latter presented the Meditation of the Day on the program.

Principal speakers were the Reverend and Mrs. E. Milford Howell, missionaries on leave from Nigeria, who will return to that deep African nation next January. Howell is a native of Rule. Since returning to this country six weeks ago, the Howells have filled 56 speaking engagements. He has just finished taking part in the week-long Religious Focus Week on the Hardin-Simmons campus.

The Baptist octogenarian, who was baptized in a cow tank in a pasture in north Hill County between Hillsboro and Cleburne in 1895, probably is not "the oldest", but possibly the most active Baptist in this area. Her associates in WMU say she never misses a meeting of any kind.

Born on March 27, 1878, Mrs. Lewis, a longtime country school teacher, became a Baptist when she was 17 years old, but remembers well the "meeting in Nashville when I was 10 at which they first talked about starting the WMU." The sharp-witted former teacher, who says she taught herself "in a blue-backed speller when I was four years old," said she always lived in the country and didn't have the chance for WMU affiliation until 1911. She was made president of the WMU at Buynan in Erath County near Dublin that same year, 52 years ago.

A native of Columbia, Tenn., 40 miles from Nashville, Mrs. Lewis came to Texas as a child, went to school at Tarleton College, Stephenville, became, she said "an old maid school teacher for 15 years," then married at Munday where she was teaching, in 1914. She and her husband had 32 fruitful years together before his death, had no children of their own, but raised three orphan children Mrs. Lewis, who lives alone, surrounded by her memoirs, in a small house two blocks off the Square, has one of the orphan girls she raised as a next-door neighbor. The Lewises, prior to his death, have lived at Munday, north Haskell County, and here, for almost 50 years.

At the Diamond Anniversary observance here, Mrs. C. V. Oates, president of the First Baptist WMU of Haskell, formally dedicated the day to Jo Anna Lewis, declaring, "To one of our faithful, active members who remembers when Women's Union had its beginning. "To one who through the years, has opened her eyes to the needs about her and then put hands and feet to those responsibilities; "To one who loves the Lord, His church, His people and is glad she is a Baptist.

"To you, Jo Anna Lewis, we dedicate this, our Anniversary Program."

Mrs. Lewis is known far and near for her brisk correspondence with shut-ins, with people about whom she has heard who have experienced trouble, sorrow, need, illness, or any other adversity—and she has written them, one and all, offering words of comfort and cheer along the way.

Tuesday, she was the honoree at a surprise gift shower at which she was fortified with enough writing materials, stamps, and other small comforts, as well as necessities, to last a long long time.

Mrs. Rodney C. Dowdy, of Rule, presided at the anniversary program. Others taking part were Mrs. Mordant McKinney, of Rule; Mrs. L. D. Kegeon, of Haskell; Mrs. Oates, Mrs. Graham; Mrs. Boyce Foile, of Rule; Mrs. Joe Patterson, Munday; Mrs. Truett Alvis, Rochester; Mrs. Danny Boone, of Haskell; Mrs. J. E. Geer, Rule; and Mrs. E. Hob Smith, of Rochester. A recognition ceremony also was held for local Girls' Auxiliary directors and counselors. Mrs. G. C. Cowan, of Sweetwater, was introduced as a special guest.

Rev. Howell's message on "Why Sit We Here," was one of the highlights of the meeting, which included a noon-time luncheon served by the ladies of the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

The Howells have an 18-year-old daughter, Mary Katherine, in addition to two young sons, 4 and 8. The daughter plans to enter Hardin-Simmons University in the fall. The Howells will return to Nigeria next January.

All in all, it was a great day for the Baptists in Haskell, especially for the largest continuously active one of them all, "Miss Jo Anna," who at four score and five, is "doing what I can." Folks here say that's plenty.

In an effort to increase its numerical strength and its scope of activity, the Haskell County Ministerial Alliance at its April meeting last Tuesday voiced an appeal for the affiliation of more of the county's clergy with its recently established group.

Meetings are monthly unless special sessions are called, and dues are nominal. It was pointed out interested ministers are asked to contact the Alliance secretary Pastor James F. Schaefer, of the Trinity Lutheran Church here.

Plans were made by the congregations represented at the meeting to release soon a schedule of Sunday services which will be aired on a radio.

The P-TA's child welfare committee issued an appeal for good, used summer clothing to supply many children in dire need to be delivered to the office of Hooper T. Wilkinson, Elementary School Principal.

Mrs. R. A. Middleton, P-TA president, asked that she be notified by parents planning to go to the Hamlin meeting in order to work out transportation requests.

Announcement was made of a pre-school day clinic to be held the first week in May, with Mrs. H. E. Stevens as chairman.

Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt

An important date is coming up next Monday, April 22, for Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt, for on that date they will have been married 40 years. It took a bit of doing by this scribe to get this information out of Mr. Hunt. He said that although he was proud, mightily proud to have been married for 40 years, he did not care for the publicity. The former Mattie Comegys and Mr. Hunt were united in marriage on April 22, 1903, at Merkel, Texas.

Co-worker Pencil Pusher Porter Oakes invited me to the Rotary luncheon session last Thursday noon, to hear my longtime friend, Glenn Shelton, of the Wichita Falls Record News speak. Glenn, who is known far-and-wide for his page 1 column, "The Hired Hand," which appears daily in the Wichita Falls Record News, did a superb job, as always. Friend Glenn drove home some mighty potent points in his very fine talk, all-the-while mixing in a good number of timely, fresh jokes to keep the Rotarians rolling in the aisle. "To stay ahead of Russia, we should get behind America," Shelton emphasized, and which I thought was one of the high points of his speech. I thoroughly enjoyed the meeting with the fine group of Rotarians, even though I am a Lion, and have been for 20 years. After all, both Lions and Rotarians are working for the same goals... "Community Betterment."

Remember When?

Original Farmall Tractor - built in 1924. There were 4 to 6 families to each square mile and Saturday afternoon everyone came to town to visit. When BUE'S in Stamford traded steel wheel Farmalls for smooth mouth mules and milk came from cows rather than paper cartons? Adv.

On the counter at Fred Allen's Shoe Shop I found this plaque which reads: "It's not easy to apologize, to begin over, to be unselfish, to take advice, to admit error, to face a sneer, to be charitable, to keep on trying, to be considerate, to avoid mistakes, to endure success, to keep out of a rut, to profit by mistake, to think and then act, to forgive and forget, to make the best of little, to subdue an unruly temper, to maintain a high standard, to shoulder a deserved blame, to recognize a silver lining - But it always pays!"

Enroute to the Lions club meeting recently, Dr. J. G. Vaughter remarked that he was kinda' out of sorts, and everything seemed to go wrong that morning because he did not have his regular morning egg for breakfast. To which I replied: "Doc, you should join Eggnogomous."

I just hope that I will have the outlook on life, the pleasant smile, and friendly handshake when I reach the age of John Crawford. Mr. Crawford greets you with a smile, a handshake and remarks: "It's a good day - every day is a good day." John is still very active in civic and church affairs. He recently sold nearly 100 tickets to the Chamber of Commerce banquet; sold around 120 tickets last fall when the Lions staged their annual pancake supper to raise funds for "Good-fellows"; does his part and more in the United Fund Drive, and takes an active part in all civic affairs. Mr. Crawford could join the "spit and whistle club," but he is just like old man river, he just keeps rolling along.

A classified ad which appeared recently in the Free Press read thusly: "Wanted a lady to cook." I still prefer fried chicken.

While crossing the intersection on foot with a red light, between Oates Drug and Neely Dry Goods, a lady, driving at a fast clip, drove right through the red light, and I darted for the curb in order to avoid getting run down. As I turned around I saw attached to the rear of the fast-moving vehicle this sign: "DRIVE CAREFULLY."

Spring Clean-Up Week, which has been observed by Haskell for many years, is here once again. Citizens of the town are being asked to join in our local Spring Clean-Up Campaign beginning Monday, April 22, and continuing through April 27, and to clean-up their premises and brighten up their homes. It's very easy to do your bit.

Simply take an hour or two to go over the things in your attic and basement and storage areas, and throw out any trash that has accumulated. If you have old magazines and newspapers that you no longer need, throw them out. If there is a broken rocking chair or other piece of furniture which you will never use again, throw it out, too.

The same goes for old clothing, old mattresses, old pillows and other articles which have been gathering dust for years. Give your basement and storage areas the same kind of inspection. Throw out old paint cans, old paint brushes, and oil rags. This will not only clear your home of trash, but eliminate fire hazards.

With the cooperation of everyone, Spring Clean-Up can be made a very worthwhile project. We can beautify our community by cleaning up backyards, empty lots, alleys, and our streets, parks and playgrounds, the business district and civic buildings.

We will all profit by having made our community spic and span and safe for the spring and summer.

Burl Huffman To Be At Rule C of C Tuesday Night

Burl Huffman, member of the Texas Tech coaching staff for the past two years, former head football coach at the University of New Mexico, as well as former chamber manager at Albuquerque and director of the state economic development commission in New Mexico, will be the featured speaker at the Rule Chamber of Commerce banquet on April 23.

Huffman, widely known as a potent platform and knife-and-fork circuit personality, will deliver the principal address at the Rule School cafeteria on April 23.

A. R. (Pete) Eaton will be installed as chamber president succeeding outgoing President Aubrey Simpkins.

Huffman, varsity baseball and freshman football coach at Texas Tech, served at the Lubbock school once previously as football aide and basketball head coach during a 12-year stint from 1935-47, taking time out for a four-year Air Force tour of duty.

He was a three-year letterman at Trinity University, went to Wapakoneta High School to coach after finishing school. He joined the White Deer High School faculty and was head football coach there, beginning in 1928. It was here he established a reputation for respected football teams. He coached at Lubbock High from 1931 until he went to Tech the first time in 1935.

Huffman was head coach at New Mexico from 1947 until 1952, leaving the university to become Chamber of Commerce manager in Albuquerque. He then served as one of the founders and director of the State Economic Development Commission in New Mexico, and two years later accepted the position of director of the Almagordo Industrial Development Corporation.

It was from this job that Tech Athletic Director Polk Robison and Head Tech Coach H. T. King lured him back to Huffman's first love, coaching. Tickets for the Rule banquet may be obtained from Jim Norman, that community's roving good-will ambassador.

Haskell Firemen Set Torrid Times In Heated Races

Haskell's Volunteer Fire Department, backing up a long established record for speed and efficiency in fire fighting on its "home grounds," Thursday took a first, second and third places in fire-fighting crew competition with 16 departments participating at the 49th annual Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association meeting held at Stamford.

The Haskell firemen took first in the pumper race, in 29 seconds, followed by Robb, Throckmorton and Merkel in the six-man hook-up. Throckmorton was first, in 11.8, Haskell, second, 13.6; then Robb. In the six-man hookup Throckmorton was again first, in 11 seconds flat; Merkel, second, and Haskell, third.

Tom Watson, Haskell fire chief, was elevated from second to first vice president of the 16-county association as C. C. Poe, of Clyde, became president. Outgoing president is D. W. Cooper, of Throckmorton.

New officers of the fire-fighters' ladies' auxiliary include Mrs. Doris Sels, Throckmorton, president; Mrs. Jack Warren, of Clyde, first vice-president; Mrs. Tom Watson, of Haskell, second vice president; and Betty Caraway, of Clyde, re-elected secretary.

Albany was selected as the site of the April, 1964 meeting.

More than 200 firemen and their wives, 30 of them from Haskell, headed by Chief Watson and Fire Marshal Earl Correll, attended the convention at which Lt. Col. Donat Dautel, operations training officer of the Strategic Missile Squadron at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, presented a program on "Missiles and Outer Space." W. E. (Bill) Zorn, president of the Texas Firemen's and Marshal's Association was also a featured speaker.

The Reverend Jerry Bole, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Stamford, conducted memorial services in honor of member firemen who have died during the past year. Counties in the association are Haskell, Dickens, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Scurry, Mitchell, Fisher, Nolan, Jones, Taylor, Shackelford, Throckmorton, Callahan, Stephens and Eastland.

Agenda Given For District PTA Hamlin Assembly

Parent-Teacher organization membership in Haskell is expected to turn out in strength for the annual spring conference of District 18, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held Wednesday, April 24, in Hamlin, with Mrs. D. W. Boren, of Abilene, the president, directing the activity-packed program.

Mrs. Kenneth Tooley, of Paducah, district publicity chairman, has announced that the conference, which is themed "Homes Create Community Strength," will be held in the First Baptist Church of Hamlin with registration from 8:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. J. W. Miller, of San Antonio, state-wide vice president, will address the assembly on "Competent and Confident Citizens Through the P-TA." The morning session also will include conference reports, announcements and presentation of the conference theme by student speaker Mike Thornell. Two workshops will be held in the morning, one on programming and basic instruction and the other on physical fitness.

Following a luncheon at Fellowship Hall at the church, life memberships will be presented in a general meeting at 1 p. m.

Afternoon workshops in which Haskell is expected to be well-represented in Hamlin have been announced on the following projects: school drop outs, P-TA and Public Schools Partnership Under Pressure, and Where does School Responsibility End and Family Responsibility Begin?

Final session will include invitations to the 1965 Spring conference and final conference reports. Adjournment will be at 3:30 p. m.

There will be both a pre-conference and a post-conference board meeting, and a district board dinner courtesy of the Hamlin Board of Education, at 7 p. m. Tuesday, April 23.

Miss Aleise Cline, director of counseling, Abilene schools, will be guest speaker at the dinner.

District 18, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, is composed of Haskell, Ottle, Dickens, Fisher, Ford, Jones, Kent, Klag, Knox, Motley, Scurry, Stonewall, and Taylor Counties.

"To Stay Ahead of Russia, Get Behind America" - Shelton

Prosperity, industry, and economy which "seem to abound here" prompted him to say something "about all the good things that are right about this country of ours," Glenn Shelton, Wichita Falls newspaperman and columnist for the Times-Record News there, told a Rotary Club audience in Haskell last Thursday.

The Wichita Falls column writer told Haskell Rotarians he grows "tired of always hearing about what is wrong with our country," and he thought it is "past time we say something in behalf of, rather than against it." He feels the same way with respect to the young people of today, Shelton said. "They are not a bad lot and their record in school, church, and worthwhile pursuits such as Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H, and all the other service pursuits is not accented enough," he declared.

Striking the keynote for his peppy presentation, punctuated with stimulating humor in making his points, Shelton emphasized: "The best way to get ahead of Russia is to get behind America."

Describing the innate desire of people everywhere in this country to be helpful, Shelton told graphically of the humanitarian work being done by Wichita Falls area residents, who, when apprised to the need, have pitched in to make of the Wichita Falls State Hospital, a place to be admired, not pitied or shunned.

They are doing a tremendous job there, and it is a place of which no one needs to be ashamed," Shelton declared.

The columnist-speaker also pointed out: "There are more people in this country today who are in hospitals for mental help than there are for physical infirmities," and we need to understand and help in this field."

Shelton for the past four years has been a leader in a movement to acquaint people generally with the splendid work being done at the state hospital and to remove a stigma that "is in too many minds without foundation" about the nature of the place.

Porter Oakes, editor of the Haskell Free Press, introduced Shelton.

Rotary President E. J. Stewart was in charge of the meeting, and Desmond Dulaney welcomed guests, which included Haskell Lions Club President Al Hinds, Junior Rotarian of the Month, Vicki McClure; Visiting Rotarians Jim Morton, of Belgardens Club, California; and K. K. Francis, James High, and Johnnie Griston, all of Stamford; Rotarian Charles Conner's two grandsons, Conner Lamb, an SMU student, and Warren Lamb, of Durango, Colo., and John Morton, Greece.

Rotary Information Chairman, Bob King, presented a vignette on Haskell written by Walter Humphrey, editor of the Ft. Worth Press following his visit to speak to a joint Lions-Rotary meeting here last week. Haskell has the kind of folks "Texas is built by, and be proud of," Humphrey wrote.

Harlan Miller Carries Colors To Golf Regional

Haskell High School's Harlan Miller qualified as second medalist behind Hamlin's Mark Smith, the medalist, as both qualified to participate in the high school golf regional tournament at Lubbock on April 19-20. Smith's 77, and Miller's 82 were turned in at the 6-AA 18-hole medal play district tournament held this week in Stamford.

Hamlin entered two teams of four golfers in the District 6AA tourney, and won it with one foursome, and placed third with the other one.

Stamford took second place with its team, and Haskell placed fourth in team play ahead of Winters and Anson in the six-school tourney.

"Thoughts Along the Way"

(By MIKE CAMPBELL)

When I was in my teens a tenant farmer rented a place just south of our farm, and he had the reputation of being the best fiddler in the county. In fact, Jim made more money playing for dances than he did farming. I had swapped for a mandolin, and he taught me how to "second," and many a summer evening we sat on his front porch and played. As my father took a dim view of dancing, I talked him into letting me go with Jim to a "party" one night.

Jim's means of transportation was by horseback with his fiddle in a flour sack tied to his saddle horn. We decided to make the trip in an old buggy of ours that hadn't been in use for at least two years. We hitched up a young half-broken horse to the old vehicle, and headed for, as Jim said, "the forks of the creek."

The spokes in the wheels were dry and loose, and behind the fast trotting horses the noise would have made an excellent sound effect for machinegun warfare.

When we reached our destination, a large crowd had gathered, and the host emphasized that he didn't want any "fightin'" around his house.

Jim unbuttoned his shirt, resined his bow, and cried out, "Get yore pardners," and the festivities were underway.

I can close my eyes and relive the scene: the high singing voice of the caller; Jim with his flying bow, and the pounding feet dancing to "Soldier's Joy." Jim, apparently, was tireless, because he could fiddle all night. Of course, he played "breakdowns," but included in his repertoire were waltzes for "round dancing."

Between sets the men would file outside where a jug would be passed around, and as the night progressed, the dancers became more animated. During one intermission, a group had gathered around a door, and loud talking was heard. The man-of-the-house snatched a shotgun off the wall and
