Only 3 booth spots remain for July Fourth Celebration

Only three spots remain available for groups wishing to have a food or activity booth at Towle Park during the annual July 4th Celebration, the planning committee learned Wednesday.

Spaces for arts and crafts booths are already full.

The committee approved a request to allow a group of local residents in support of KGNZ radio to set up a booth. The group is trying to raise funds in order to build a transmitter here which would allow for local broadcast of the religious station. The planning committee granted its approval for the booth after the group said it would hold a food or activity booth. Originally, the group had asked permission to solicit donations only.

Rev. Larry McAden reported that tickets for the non-denominational prayer breakfast will be $6 each. The breakfast will begin at 7:30 a.m. July 4 at the coliseum and will feature as its speaker Dallas Cowboys Chaplain Gordon Banks.

McAden said that a trio from Trinity United Methodist Church will provide special music. The prayer breakfast committee is considering another group to sing during the breakfast.

The planning committee learned that an effort is being made to contact area bands which might be interested in performing during the July 4th Celebration for exposure to the public. Six bands, playing two hours each, would be able to provide music Tuesday evening and from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Wednesday, July 4.

In the planning stage are a series of contests to be scheduled during the holiday period and held at the park. These will include a limbo contest, a hula hoop contest and washer and horse shoe pitching tournaments.

Local 'poke takes part in Cowboy Symposium

By Shirley A. Gorman
SDN News Editor

Coke Hopping, Snyder High School vocational agriculture instructor and reciter of cowboy poetry, will be one of many cowboy enthusiasts taking part in the second annual National Cowboy Symposium and Celebration which begins today on the Texas Tech University campus.

Hopping, who first started reciting cowboy poetry as a hobby two years ago, will perform sometime after 11 a.m. on Saturday in the Senate Room.

Also, he will participate in the team roping event planned for Sunday at the Livestock Pavilion at the Panhandle South Plains Fairgrounds. A horse cutting contest is also planned for that day as well.

Hopping has selected two poems which he intends to recite, and a third may be added if time permits. He said he chose "An American Boy" because it fits in well with his being a teacher and the end of the 1989-90 school year.

This poem concerns a young boy who grows up and graduates from high school. "Yellow Stud" tells the story of a cowboy who tries to catch a horse on the open range. He later sells the horse to a rodeo and eventually this top bucking horse and the top rodeo rider square off.

Hopping said that in preparing for his part of the symposium, he decided to use poems which aren't likely to be recited by their authors on Saturday. He said he is careful to try not to take anything away from a poet who

Eligibility hearing scheduled June 12

Snyder's violation of no-pass, no-play will be heard by the University Interscholastic League's executive committee on June 12.

The nine-member committee will convene at 10 a.m. at the Red Lion Hotel on North I-35 to hear testimony concerning eligibility violations regarding Snyder's participation in the state one-act play contest held in Austin on May 4.

The Texas Education Agency ruled on May 23 that Snyder used an ineligible student in the play — a violation of state law. The TEA then required that all information pertaining to the case be sent to the UIL.

According to Bonnie Northcutt with the UIL office in Austin, the executive committee will determine any sanctions against Snyder High School.

Dr. Bailey Marshall, UIL executive director, said earlier that minimum penalties would be to forfeit all awards pertaining to the one-act play.

Northcutt said Thursday that the school district had already forfeited those awards since a violation by the TEA makes that automatic.

Minimum penalty which could be given by the UIL includes a reprimand or warning. The maximum (see HEARING, page 8)

Lake theft is cleared

A telephone tip led to the recovery of more than $3,500 in boating and fishing equipment late Wednesday evening by the Scurry County sheriff's department.

Deputy Charlie Reynolds, Lake Warden Doug Fry and Game Warden Mel Reed recovered the missing items — including a 25-horsepower motor — and identified three suspects in the felony theft case which will be presented to the Scurry County grand jury on Monday.

Three Big Spring men have been identified in connection with the Sunday theft that occurred at Lake J.B. Thomas. The trio are Joseph Young, 31; Jerry Baldock, 19; and Wayne Fitzgibbons, 20. A fourth subject, a juvenile from Snyder, is also under investigation.

The motor, a tackle box and lures and three rods and reels were reported stolen by Martin Edwards. The items were valued at $2,500.

Tommy Hicks reported the theft of two tackle boxes, six rods and reels and numerous lures with an estimated value of $1,200. Craig Belt also reported the loss of four rods and reels.

Reynolds said the stolen items were first stashed in a shed at a house near Lake Thomas, and Wednesday the suspects returned and carried the items to Big Spring.

Sexual assault trial nears end

The aggravated sexual assault trial of a 29-year-old Snyder man was recessed shortly after 11 a.m. today in 132nd District Court.

District Attorney Ernie Armstrong had completed presentation of the state's case against Liborio Saldana Oliva. Defense attorney Enrique Martinez of Lubbock called the victim's brother as a witness and then called the defendant's wife as a witness.

District Judge Gene Dulaney dismissed the jury and advised the wife of her constitutional rights and advised her to consult with an attorney. Dulaney was to continue the trial at 1:30 p.m.

Testimony and final arguments were expected to conclude this afternoon.

City to discuss varied topics in work session

The Snyder city council will meet in a work session beginning at 6:30 tonight at city hall to preview next Monday's regular city council agenda.

Old business on the agenda will include second reading of an ordinance calling for a city-wide election on Aug. 11 for a half-cent sales tax for economic development.

The city council approved the election on first reading at its May meeting. The half-cent tax would generate about $380,000 per year in funds that could be used only for creation of new jobs.

Also under old business, the council is expected to approve on second reading two separate zone changes which would allow mobile homes. One is in the 2300 Block of 21st St., and the second is at 108 North Ave. Z.

Under new business, the council will consider a request from the public swimming pool committee asking the city to provide water and chemicals necessary to operate the Towle Park pool.

Sue Martini, representing a group of concerned citizens, will appear before the council Monday night seeking a Housing and Urban Development certificate and voucher program for Scurry County.

Councilmen will also name a (see COUNCIL, page 8)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The hardest part of attaining perfection is finding something to do for an encore."

We can remember when every young man wanted to grow up to be either a policeman, a fireman, a doctor or a cowboy. A little later, nearly every young man dreamed of becoming a professional athlete.

The job market has changed over the years. While some of the top salaries remain in professional sports—we are often reminded how few actually make it there.

A recent 32-page section published by the Wall Street Journal indicates an ambitious grad might do well to become a corporate CEO.

To say the least, the pay is terrific—often irrespective of the company's financial performance. However, there are efforts to tie pay to bottom-line performance.

According to the report, Reebok's CEO earns a nifty $14.6 million. That may explain why the cost of sneakers have soared.

The top man at Walt Disney makes $9.6 million while Coke's chief takes home $9.2 million each year. Anheuser-Busch's CEO makes $8.8 million but Borden's top milkman's salary is $1.4 million.

CEO salaries for automakers include $6.5 million at Ford, $3.4 million at Chrysler and $2.6 million at GM. The top guy at CBS earns $1.3 million while ABC pays $1.1 million. Paramount's CEO makes $6.6 million and the leader at Sears makes $2.6 million.

The head man for Chevron earns $1.1 million while Mobil pays $4.2 million and Texaco pays $3.9 million.

Some of the most popular executive perks include free physical exams, spouse travel, financial counseling, executive dining room privileges, club memberships, a company plane and chauffeur service.

One grad said he would be satisfied to be CEO for just one year—but he needs to do it soon.

Q—Can the police or sheriff's department really confiscate a person's vehicle?

A—Yes, if the vehicle is being used to transport illegal drugs or alcoholic beverages in an illegal manner. The law limits the transportation of alcohol in a dry area, such as Scurry County, to one quart of liquor or 24 12-ounce bottles of beer or the equivalent. However, these limits may be exceeded for the purpose of transporting alcohol from a legal place of sale to a place of legal use; i.e. from a licensed liquor store to your home. It is not legal for a private individual to resell alcoholic beverages. Transportation by minors is unlawful.

After farewell, city remains uneasy about boy's death

CLOVIS (AP) — Now that Matthew Roberts has been laid to rest, residents who joined the two-week search for him say they're determined to learn how the 6-year-old died.

He disappeared May 8. Passersby found his body May 23 in a small self-latching rear compartment of the family's borrowed station wagon. An autopsy concluded the body had been there at least eight days. No sign of violence was found, but the cause of death remains undetermined.

Funeral services were held Wednesday.

"The questions are eating this city alive," Mark Sintas, 27, said after a graveside service. "Everyone has their own idea about what happened, but nothing adds up. People have given too much to Matthew not to know how he died."

"I believe there is still fear in the community," said Murge Miles, 34, the mother of a 7-year-old. "Until it is completely cleared up, there will be fears. As parents, it is only human nature to react that way."

Police Chief Caleb Chandler says results of medical and crime lab examinations probably won't be available until late next week. Meanwhile, he says the investigation leans neither toward homicide nor accident.

"Everyone wants the question answered, no one more than the investigators. But it is going to take some time," Chandler said Wednesday. "The reports are terribly backlogged. The unanswered questions frustrate us all."

More than 1,000 Clovis citizens have signed a petition asking the state attorney general's office to investigate Matthew's death.

"All the people worked together to try to find Matthew," said Carol Rollins, who started the petition signings late last week. "Now we're all pulling together to find out why he died."

More than 700 people who had helped search for Matthew paid final respects to the boy they adopted as "Clovis' child" during a Mass of resurrection Wednesday at Our Lady of Guadalupe Roman Catholic Church.

"Matthew loved to play with his dogs. He loved Sesame Street," Art Smith, a friend of the Robertses said during one eulogy. "We can all take Matthew's lesson to enjoy the simple things in life."

Parents Geoff and Debbie Roberts fought back tears as a police officer carrying a portrait of their blond, blue-eyed son entered the church in front of those carrying the boy's tiny white casket.

Layoffs due to budget cuts likely

DALLAS (AP) — An estimated 1,000 employees of LTV Corp.'s Aircraft Products Group will lose their jobs by the end of 1991 because of budget cuts in major defense programs, a company official says.

"I think we're going to lose in the neighborhood of 1,000 employees over the next year and a half," company president Gordon Williams told The Dallas Morning News Wednesday.

"It could be a lot worse. That's roughly 10 percent of the work force," Williams said. "It's always a disaster for the ones (employees) who go out the door."

The comments came during a briefing on the B-2 Stealth bomber program also attended by Brig. Gen. William B. Davitte, special assistant to U.S. Air Force Chief of Staff Larry Welch. The B-2 is the LTV group's single-largest program.

Williams said he expects about 100 LTV employees who work on the B-2 to be laid off this year, mainly in areas such as fabrication and tooling.

About 4,000 of LTV's area 11,000 workers are employed directly or indirectly by the B-2 program. LTV builds the midsections of the batwing aircraft and the areas around the engines and landing gear.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney in April proposed that Congress buy 75 of the radar-evading nuclear bombers for the Air Force at a cost of $61.1 billion, or about $815 million each, instead of 132. The price has attracted opponents in Congress who want to hold B-2 procurement to the 15 planes already funded.

In addition to the B-2, Cheney proposed cutting the number of C-17 long-range transport planes purchased to 120 from 210.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a bladder problem: frequent urination with burning. My doctor placed me on sulfa which helped, but once the pills were discontinued, the problem returned. Is this something I must take all the time? I'm reluctant to add another medication, since I'm already on gout medication, something for my blood pressure and Voltaren for my bad knee.

DEAR READER: The symptoms you describe suggest a urinary infection. Painful, frequent urination — with or without blood in the urine — that improves with sulfa antibiotics is a classic description of cystitis (bladder infection). However, your case is unusual because the symptoms returned once you completed a course of antibiotics. Either you have a chronic infection, which was not eradicated by the sulfa, or you are experiencing repeated, acute infections.

In my opinion, a urine culture will provide the answer. During the test, your urine is collected in a special way (to avoid contamination). Samples of it are then added to material that has been enriched to aid the growth of bacteria. After a day or two in an incubator, the culture is examined by a laboratory technician to determine whether any bacteria from your urine have thrived and grown. Normal urine is sterile; it contains no bacteria, and the test is negative.

If your urine is infected, the bacteria can be isolated in the lab, identified and further tested to discover which antibiotics would be the most effective treatment.

For instance, your urine may be infected with microorganisms that are inhibited but not killed by sulfa. Therefore, as long as you take sulfa, your symptoms are controlled; once the antibiotic is stopped, the bacteria are free to grow and cause a new round of symptoms.

In this case, an alternative, more effective drug would be required to rid your urinary tract of all microorganisms. After a second (or third) course of antibiotics, you should have another culture to make sure the medicine has been completely effective.

If you are having repeated attacks of bladder infection, your urine culture will show bacteria when you have symptoms and will be free of microorganisms at other times.

Of course, you could have urinary frequency and burning that are not due to infection. Several bladder afflictions, including interstitial cystitis, are not caused by bacteria. In this case, you should be seen by a urologist for further testing, such as cystoscopy, during which the specialist examines your lower urinary tract with a lighted tube.

In fact, since you seem to have an ongoing urinary problem, you might consider a urological consultation anyway. Ask your doctor about this: I am not aware that medicines for gout, hypertension and arthritis would cause the symptoms you describe.

To give you more information about your non-urinary diseases, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports entitled "Understanding Osteoarthritis," "About Gout" and "Hypertension." Other readers who would like copies should send $1.25 for each report to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title(s).

A favorable position

By James Jacoby

It was aggressive of South to invite game with only 13 high-card points, but the bidding suggested that North's values might cover many of South's red-suit losers. That was right, but South still had to play carefully.

Declarer ruffed the second club and recognized the necessity of driving out the diamond ace before drawing trumps. So he played a diamond right away. West took the ace and continued with the jack, dummy now winning the king. Declarer played A-K of spades but had to change his plan when West showed out of trumps, so he led a low heart to dummy's queen. East won the king and played back a third club. Declarer had to ruff in dummy, discarding a diamond from his hand.

The stage was now set for the trump coup, if East followed in hearts. South played ace of hearts and a heart to dummy's jack. The 13th heart was now played. If East ruffed, declarer would overruff and draw the last trump before playing the last good diamond. If East discarded on the heart, so would declarer, and the lead would be in dummy with only two tricks left to play and declarer's Q-10 of spades sitting over East's J-9. It was an unusual way to pick up trumps, forcing the defender to ruff in front of declarer.

Entomologist is speaker

Members of Snyder Garden Club met at Martha Ann Women's Club recently for a luncheon to end the club year.

Scurry County Entomologist Deanna Holladay was the guest speaker and presented the program "Wings Over My Garden" about good and bad garden insects.

Three additional crepe myrtle bushes were added to the hedge at the club. One was donated by Wynone Davies in memory of Bennie Davies and two were given by Ann von Roeder in memory of Opal von Roeder Williams. Anyone wishing to donate a crepe myrtle should call LaVerne Hood at 573-9736.

In a brief business meeting, Barbara Williamson's resignation as recording secretary was accepted, and Bonnie Fry was elected to serve in that position.

Snyder Garden Club is a member of Texas State Garden Clubs, Inc., District VIII.

Tops members crown king

After a regular meeting, Tops TX #56 members were seated in a semi-circle as Bob Cole was crowned king. Cole and division winners made up the royal court.

Freida Dever and Peggy Vernon presented certificates and yellow mums to division winners. They were Faye Stansell, division one; Tillie Rios, division two; Mae Cole and Lynda Trujillo, first and second place winners in division three; and Adelia Alarcon, division five.

Mike Grady and Bob Cole were first and second place finishers in division three of the men's class.

Highlight of the evening came when Jean Yearwood read "This is Your Life" and "Ole King Cole," a poem written by Peggy Vernon. Cole was then presented a photo album and a gift certificate.

The KOPS members were honored with charms for years of maintaining their weight goal. Receiving charms were Ive Lee Krops, Emma Huffman and Yearwood.

Members from Tops TX #56 recently attended State Recognition Day in Austin. Cole was crowned area king and Yearwood was recognized as a longstanding KOPS member of 24 years.

Legwear becomes summer accessory

By FRANCINE PARNES
 AP Newsfeatures

As hemlines rise with the mercury, hosiery is grabbing the limelight as an ideal accessory to pull together spring-summer looks. And many stylish dressers are selecting legwear as an easy and inexpensive way to update warm-weather wardrobes.

Forget the days when a glimpse of stocking was simply shocking; these days eyes are focused on the well-dressed leg.

"Even though I'm wearing last year's black dress, everyone's been stopping me because I'm running around in blue hose," says Barbara Guzy, senior vice president and fashion merchandising director of Pennaco, which manufactures Givenchy and Round the Clock hosiery.

Spring-summer trends include both sheers and opaques, leggings and subtle shimmery looks. Most hosiery is plain, with very little patterning and few dots or stripes, says Cynthia Wilder, merchandising manager for ICI Fibres, a nylon supplier.

One notable exception is Emilio Pucci's vivid swirls. Tights from the flashy Florentine designer known for his psychedelic prints in the 1950s and 60s have been walking out of stores since the May issue of Vogue hit the stands with a six-page spread.

In New York, where Bergdorf Goodman featured Pucci fashions in its Fifth Avenue windows, the tights sold out within hours — at $90 a pair, $75 for leggings. Demand reached 40 pairs a day at Pucci's New York boutique, according to a spokesman.

NBA playoffs...

Pistons claim 3-2 advantage

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. (AP) — Depth and defense have the Detroit Pistons one victory away from their third consecutive trip to the NBA Finals.

The Pistons, bidding to become only the third franchise in league history to repeat as champions, can advance to the championship series again by defeating the Chicago Bulls on Friday night.

The problem is that neither their depth nor their defense has made any impact so far at rowdy Chicago Stadium, where the Bulls are 6-0 in the playoffs and 2-0 against the Pistons.

With Mark Aguirre scoring 13 of his 19 points in the fourth quarter Wednesday night, the Pistons won 97-83 for a 3-2 lead in the Eastern Conference finals. If a seventh game is needed, it will be Sunday afternoon back at the Palace.

"Cotton Fitzsimmons has a theory that the bench plays better at home," Detroit coach Chuck Daly said of the Phoenix Suns' coach. "He's one of my idols, a guy I watched coach growing up."

Detroit now is 10-3 during the playoffs. All three defeats have come on the road and were the only games in which the Pistons allowed more than 100 points.

"I can't predict what will happen in Chicago," said Aguirre, whose effort helped the Pistons' bench outscore Chicago's reserves 35-13. "But if we could win, it would be great. I think whoever wins this series might win the NBA championship."

Detroit's bench has outscored Chicago's bench 183-115 for the series.

"We needed those guys to come off and play well," Detroit's James Edwards said. "We know what we have to do, and when we go into their place we have to set up our offense and not rush things. That's what we did tonight and it worked."

The Pistons shot 55.9 percent while holding the Bulls to just 28-of-84 (33.3 percent) shooting.

"We're going to have to play hard in Game 6," said Joe Dumars, who led Detroit with 20 points. "We can't play in spurts to beat them. We have to play consistently."

The defensive key, as usual, was handling Michael Jordan.

"The key to controlling Michael is to go at him on offense," said John Salley, who led Detroit with 10 rebounds off the bench. "When you let his defense become his offense, that's when he scores 45."

Jordan scored 89 points in the Bulls' two victories in Chicago. But in the three games in Detroit, he is averaging only 28 points.

He scored only 22 points on 7-of-19 shooting in Game 5. Scottie Pippen had 19 and Horace Grant 15 for Chicago.

Legislature will begin 6th session next week

AUSTIN (AP) — As they look toward a record sixth special session, legislative leaders and Gov. Bill Clements said this time they hope they can reach a compromise on court-ordered school finance reform.

"I think we realize that we have an issue before us that we have to solve, and we're going to do it," House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, said Wednesday.

Clements said, "Hopefully by Monday we will have a bill in good shape that will be submitted to the Legislature, and we'll get through this business right quick."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, when asked whether he would negotiate with Clements, said, "That seems to be the way it works."

The Republican governor killed two previous school finance reform plans approved by the Democrat-controlled Legislature after objecting to a sales tax increase needed to fund them.

Clements wouldn't give a firm starting date for the new session, which will be lawmakers' fourth on school finance reform. Their third ended Wednesday, when the Senate adjourned.

There were two special sessions on workers' compensation after the regular Legislature's session ended last year. The previous record for special sessions is five, set in 1929-30.

"We'll start when I say we'll start, and that will probably be on Monday," Clements said.

That's after Friday's court deadline for overhauling the school finance system will have passed.

Because a bill won't be enacted by the deadline, court-appointed special master William Kilgarlin is to propose a draft plan to meet the unanimous Texas Supreme Court order to make more money available to poor schools.

Kilgarlin will file a final proposal in state court on June 21, and Clements has said he and lawmakers have until then to come up with their own plan for next school year.

Many black and Hispanic lawmakers Wednesday blamed Clements for the school finance impasse.

The minority lawmakers said they were inclined to let the courts implement a "Robin Hood" plan — shifting state funds from wealthy school districts to poor ones — rather than compromise any more on the education bill. Kilgarlin has said his plan could propose reallocating money because he cannot raise state taxes.

Rep. Eddie Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi, chairman of the House Mexican American Legislative Caucus, said, "I hope the people of Texas understand this hangs on the governor's neck."

Cowboy

may wish to recite his own material at the symposium.

But at the same time he said most cowboy poets love to have their work read, if they receive proper credit as the author.

Hopping, who grew up "cowboying" in Springlake and finished high school in Lubbock, has done a little of everything from working on a ranch to rodeoing and teaching vocational agriculture — something he said he enjoys doing because it gives him a chance to work with young men and women and to try and impart some of his experience to them.

Hopping and his wife, Edie, have three children, Dancy Beth, who will turn 5 in July; Clinton Coke Taw, 3; and Tate Caldwell, who will be 1 in June.

Hopping, who will be featured in Sunday's Scurry County Folks column, has been collecting and storing stories of his cowboy and rodeo experience and someday he hopes to compile this collection of anecdotes and tales into a book.

This year's symposium, held today through Sunday, will feature 47 poets, 17 papers presented by western writers, 33 musicians, 14 book exhibitors and 62 assorted western exhibitors. The cutting horse contest will draw 22 competitors and 38 will participate in the team roping event.

This year's symposium is expected to draw between 4,500 and 6,000 spectators.

12 persons killed...

Earthquake shakes Europe

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — A strong aftershock jolted Romania and Bulgaria early today just hours after an earthquake felt from Moscow to Istanbul killed at least 12 people and caused major damage to buildings in both countries.

Eight of the deaths in Wednesday's tremor occurred in Romania, one in Bulgaria and three in the Soviet Union.

The strongest in a series of aftershocks was felt at about 3:18 a.m. The Bulgarian news agency BTA said that, like Wednesday's quake, it was centered in the Vrancea region of northern Romania.

There were no immediate reports of new damage or casualties.

The National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., measured Wednesday's quake at 6.5 on the Richter scale and today's aftershock at 5.9.

In northern Bulgaria, thousands of people reportedly spent the night in the street, or fled their cities in panic after the aftershock.

Cities and villages on the Danube river, including Ruse, Silistra and Svishtov "were panic stricken," BTA said.

It said thousands of people milled around city streets all night, or fled in their cars. The city of Silistra has appealed for aid, saying it urgently needed glass, cement, bricks and tiles to repair damaged homes, schools, kindergartens and the lone hospital, BTA said.

In Bucharest on Wednesday, chunks of concrete from high-rise buildings crashed to the ground and crushed people, killing two people. Tens of thousands of residents rushed into the streets, many crying and screaming in fear as ceilings fell, walls cracked and books toppled from shelves.

Romanians leaped in panic from windows and balconies, and some were badly hurt, ambulance officials said.

The tremor lasted about 45 seconds and was the third major earthquake since 1977 with its epicenter in Romania's Carpathian Mountains. It was centered 190 miles northeast of Bucharest and the Uppsala Seismological Center in Sweden said it was felt so widely because it was about 63 miles deep.

"I think it was this deafening sound of cracking walls that scared people," said clerical worker Sica Buinging horizontally and vertically. We were lucky only to have some cracks in the walls. I shivered when I realized 1977 was coming back."

More than 1,500 Romanians died in a 1977 earthquake.

In the Soviet Union, the quake left three people dead and six hospitalized but caused little structural damage in the republic of Moldavia, which borders Romania, the chairman of the national legislature said today.

Supreme Soviet Chairman Anatoly Lukyanov said one person died in Moldavia after jumping out a second-floor window and two elderly people died of heart attacks, the official Tass news agency reported.

BBC monitors in London, quoting BTA, said one person died in Silistra of a quake-induced heart attack.

A communique from Romania's General Inspectorate of Police said two people died in Bucharest, two in the Danube River port of Braila, and one each in eastern Buzau, southeastern Ialomita, central Brasov and nearby Prahova County.

Sheriff's department deputies picked up a 35-year-old female Wednesday in Midland on outstanding bad checks warrants from Scurry County.

Dear Abby

Woman Wants to Know if It's What's Up Front That Counts

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have three questions for you:

1. Do men feel deceived if a woman wears a padded bra, giving the impression that she's a 34B when she is only a 32A?

2. Do men get more sexual excitement and fulfillment from full-breasted women?

3. How do men feel about "augmented" breasts? — FLAT IN FLATBUSH

DEAR FLAT: One cannot generalize about what "all men" find sexually appealing, but most sexologists concur that the size of a woman's breasts has little to do with male sexual fulfillment.

I doubt if most men care whether breasts have been surgically augmented or not. (Some may not even know the difference.)

A woman who has always felt that she had less to offer because she was flat-chested is likely to feel a surge of self-confidence if she has breast-augmentation surgery. However, if she finds that due to her new look, she's getting attention from men who previously ignored her, she will not soon forget the depth of their shallowness.

DEAR ABBY: Why are so many men against marriage? I hear these negative attitudes from all kinds of people, including comedians, television personalities and even family members. They all say, "Don't get married; you'll regret it." Doesn't anyone believe in marriage anymore?

I'm 23 years old and have a lot going for myself. I have dated a number of men, none of whom mentioned marriage. A year ago, I met a wonderful man whom I've been dating ever since. I love him very much, and he says he loves me, but these same negative attitudes about marriage are also part of his philosophy.

(He practically left skid marks on my carpet when I asked him if we were ever going to get married!) What am I supposed to do?

F.I. IN QUEENS

DEAR F.I.: Leave him — before he leaves you.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin and his wife were driving from Kentucky to Texas when they stopped at a rest stop so he could use the restroom. There was only one car there, and not one person was in sight.

My cousin's wife went back to their car and waited for her husband to come out of the restroom; then she noticed two young guys come out of the restroom, get into their car and drive off.

After waiting for 10 or maybe 15 minutes, my cousin's wife went back to the restroom to see why her husband was taking so long. She found him in the men's room — his hands were tied together with one of his socks, his pants were off, his mouth was stuffed with his other sock and his feet were bound together with a rope. Those two young men had ambushed him in the restroom and taken all his cash — $800!

Abby, please warn your readers to be careful when they see only one empty car — and no people.

RUTH HEFLIN, KENTUCKY

DEAR RUTH: What a sobering thought, but a valuable piece of advice. Thank you for the reminder. Readers: Stay alert and keep your guard up while you're traveling.

Plans are announced

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A new development plan has been announced for Fort Worth's historic Stockyards district by a group of investors from Fort Worth and Dallas.

Fort Worth businessmen Holt Hickman and William S. Davis have joined forces with Dallas businesswoman Lyda Hill to acquire and lease more than 100 acres at the Fort Worth Stockyards, including the historic Livestock Exchange Building and nearby livestock buildings, a spokesman for the investors said Wednesday.

The investors' Fort Worth Stockyards Inc. unveiled a master plan for the area, which calls for redevelopment of the buildings into a retail, restaurant, entertainment and museum complex.

The plans also include construction of a station for an excursion steam railroad Davis plans to operate between the Stockyards, downtown Fort Worth and other locations.

Spokesman Ed Dalheim said no timetable has been set for the construction, but work should start sometime this fall.

"They are still in the planning stages about exactly what they are going to do," Dalheim said. "At this point they are not looking to get financing for any aspect of the project, it will all come out of their pockets."

There have been many proposals by various developers to turn the turn-of-the-century Stockyards buildings into a mixed-use development.

Oudt gets award from Delta Airlines

John Oudt, chairman of the board of Barq's Inc. which produces Barq's Root Beer, was presented Delta's Flying Colonel Award recently at The Shack Restaurant by L. Conley, district director of marketing, Dallas/Fort Worth, and William J. Holland, district marketing manager of Delta Airlines.

The Flying Colonel Award was started in the 1950s to acknowledge the support Delta receives from individuals who control travel within their organization and significantly support Delta and the airline industry.

Delta is very selective about who receives this award and nominations are limited. Oudt was nominated by Snyder Travel.

The individual receives a plaque of appreciation for his support, along with a letter from Ron Allen, CEO and chairman, and Hollie Harris, president.

The individual also receives membership in Delta's Crown Room clubs which are located at most major airports.

Fetal surgery can correct birth defect

BOSTON (AP) — Surgeons today said they have found a way to forestall a usually fatal birth defect by opening up the mother, operating on the fetus and putting it back in the womb to develop normally.

Experts say the operation, which involves rearranging the fetus's organs, is the most extensive fetal operation ever successfully performed. However, it is also controversial because of the risks to both the mother and fetus.

The first successful operation was performed on Blake Shultz, now 9 months old, the son of Elizabeth and Richard Shultz of Waterloo, Mich. "I'm just glad he's healthy. And hopefully it will help other people too," Ms. Shultz said. The surgery was pioneered at the University of California, San Francisco, to correct fetal diaphragmatic hernia, a defect that occurs in about one of every 2,000 babies. About three-quarters of all babies with the defect die.

During development, a hole in the fetus's diaphragm fails to grow shut, and the stomach, intestines and other organs squeeze into the chest cavity. As a result, the lungs fail to develop, and the baby is born unable to breathe.

"This problem is immensely frustrating for pediatric surgeons, because the babies are otherwise perfectly nice, but they die," said Dr. Michael R. Harrison, who developed the surgery. "It seemed as though this was one of those situations in medicine where fixing it earlier would be the only way to have an impact."

Harrison has performed the highly experimental surgery eight times. The first six fetuses died, but the last two went on to become healthy children, Blake Shultz and a girl. A report on the first success was published in today's New England Journal of Medicine.
