

VOTERS GO TO POLLS NOV. 9TH ON POLL TAX, OTHER ISSUES

Citizens of Haskell County will go to the polls Saturday to vote on four proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution, and a spot check of the seven communities indicates a fair turnout since interest is running moderately high on at least one issue, repeal or retention of the state poll tax.

Judge Alvis, seeking a representative turnout of voters, declared, "Vote as you please, but please vote," in asking that this county's citizens record their desires on the poll tax, and in the proposed amendments dealing with eliminating residence requirements and allowing more expenditure of state funds for needy, aged, blind, children and disabled persons, retirement funds in political subdivisions within Jefferson County; and more bonds for the Veterans' Land Fund, increasing the interest rate and extending the life of the program.

FOR OUR "SADDLE TRAMPS"

IT REALLY WAS A MONEY RIDE BEFORE 35,000 AT ABILENE

It literally was a "money ride" on which the Haskell County Sheriff's Posse went Tuesday night. The palomino-mounted riding club here, fame of which is mounting with each appearance, won Interstate Theaters' $100 cash prize for being judged the best looking and riding bunch in the star-studded premiere parade honoring Sandra Dee and Jimmy Stewart in downtown Abilene prior to the opening night of "Take Her, She's Mine," starring the pair. Haskell's scarlet-shirted, self-styled "Saddle Tramps," were among a select group of six Northwest - North Central Texas riding clubs receiving special invitations to appear in the premiere spectacle. An estimated 35,000 people saw the parade in which the Haskell riders won top honors.

Trophy takers in all but two of their 13 rides this year, the Haskell Sheriff's Posse Tuesday night outpointed two competitors which had finished ahead of them in previous contests. The other top-notch clubs with whom Haskell vied Tuesday night were the Fishers County Sheriff's Posse, the P-K Drillettes, of Graham, Callahan County Sheriff's Posse, the Merkel and Winters Riding Clubs.

Mrs. Pickering, Longtime Weinert Resident, Dies

Mrs. W. P. (Bill) Pickering, 65, wife of a retired Haskell County farmer, died at 7:30 a. m., last Thursday in Haskell County Hospital after an extended illness.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Friday in the First Baptist Church at Weinert with the pastor, Rev. R. N. Tucker and the Rev. Jesse Jones, pastor of the Haskell Trinity Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Weinert Cemetery under direction of Holden's Funeral Home.

Born September 23, 1898, at Wylie, in Collin County, Mrs. Pickering was the daughter of the late Asa Roberts, Tucker and Thomas Lester Tucker.

Mrs. Pickering spent the greater part of her married life in Weinert, raising her family there. She lived previously at Menard, Texas, and in California. She and Mr. Pickering were married March 31, 1918, at Acme, Texas. She was a member of the Trinity Baptist Church in Haskell, where she had lived at 704 North Avenue G since 1960.

Pallbearers were all nephews of Mrs. Pickering. Survivors include her husband and three daughters, Mrs. Lonnie Wakson, of Bangs; Mrs. John R. Rich, of Ingelwood, Calif.; and Mrs. Raymond Mathison, of Weinert; one sister, Mrs. Vesta Cooper, of Wichita Falls, one brother, O. L. Tucker, of Wichita Falls; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rainfall Here Is Still 3 Inches Ahead of the Year

Moisture totals in Haskell fell below normal for the first time in several months during October, but by only one half inch, as this town continued to record more rainfall than most in the Northwest-North Central Texas area, according to the monthly report of Haskell U. S. Weatherman Sam Herren.

It rained five days, and moisture in the form of rain mixed with hail fell on still another day, to bring a 1.87 inches of "wet stuff" to Haskell last month. The normal for October is 2.39.

To date here, an even 25 inches of moisture has been received in 1963, and the normal for the first 10 months of the year is 22 inches. So Haskell is still three inches above normal on the year.

Five of the six days of moisture in October were successive, from the 20th through the 24th. A total of 1.38 inches was measured on October 23-24 when hail battered Haskell in a wind-driven storm which caused some damage to roofs, courthouse windows, and a greenhouse at Conner Nursery and Floral Company here.

Temperatures ranged 50 degrees here last month, with the highest being 95 degrees on October 9, and the lowest, 45 degrees on the 29th.

November began "coolish" and a little wet here Friday. An early morning shower put .04 of an inch of rain in the gauges, and the pre-dawn thermometer reading was 42 degrees.

With a supporting entourage consisting of at least 20 meticulously decorated floats and five bands, the Man of the Year, Santa Claus will officially open the Yuletide season in Haskell on Saturday, November 30, in person, Abe Turner, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of that organization's Christmas Committee announced Monday.

Santa will come to Haskell in the world's largest sleigh, Turner reported, and every boy and girl in the area has an invitation to come and visit the old gentleman and take free rides in his sleigh through a special arrangement made by the Chamber's Christmas Committee which has already oversubscribed its budget as tangible evidence of its enthusiasm about the official launching of the Yuletide Season here.

Since it doesn't snow too much in Texas, six of Santa's favorite Shetland Ponies will pull the sleigh, dressed in their chrome-plated harness, red plumes and sleigh bells, Turner said.

The sleigh, which is 30 feet long and eight feet wide, is bright red, trimmed in silver. Santa's official North Pole flags will be prominently displayed atop the sleigh, and 60 children can be seated in the sleigh on each ride. A personal interview also is in store for each child.

Santa's crew, in colorful Christmas costumes, will assist in the operation, with Miss Merry Christmas acting as official hostess.

A huge, gay parade, with Santa Claus and his sleigh, the floats, sponsored principally by churches and service organizations and bands as the principal elements, will begin to snake its way through downtown Haskell at 3 p. m. on Saturday, Nov. 30. Turning on Christmas lights, which soon will be put up by Haskell Jaycees on the Courthouse Square here, also will herald the coming Yuletide season which will be greeted here with "as rousing a welcome as this town has ever enjoyed," Turner declared with enthusiasm.

In addition to Chairman Turner, members of the Chamber of Commerce's Christmas Committee include: Mmes. Veta Furr, Opal Adams, R. A. Lane, Barney Frazier, W. A. Lykes, Harney Coffield, Carrie Williams, Vars Felker, Myron Beard, Floyd Cook, Richard Henschelhausen, and Messrs. Allen Reeves, James Franklin, Wallace Cox Jr., Dee Larned, Lorraine Johnson, Desmond Durland, Porter Oakes, George Ford, and George Neely.

Chamber Manager Bob Lowrance is coordinating the work of the committee.

Farm Equipment Demonstration Slated Saturday

A demonstration of latest farm equipment and tractors under actual operating conditions will be staged at the southeast edge of Haskell just off the farm-to-market road which joins State Highway 24 at the Trinity Lutheran Church corner here from 8 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon Saturday, Nov. 9.

The event is being sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Clay Smith, chairman, in cooperation with six Haskell firms handling tractors and farm equipment.

Farmers and ranchers throughout this territory are cordially invited, Smith announced, to see at first hand what the new tractors and farm equipment can do under everyday working conditions. Those who attend will have the opportunity to operate the machines themselves if they care to do so.

Chairman Smith said some 300 area farmers and ranchers were present at a similar meeting last year when 80 tractors and other items of farm equipment were put through their paces.

Cooperating in the demonstration will be Stewart Motors, Woodard Farm Sales, Haskell Farm Store, Gilmore Implement Company, Haskell Butane Company, and Tom B. Roberson Oil Company.

Jr. High P-TA To Hear McCollum On Dropout Issue

W. P. McCollum, principal of Haskell High School and an observer and leader of school activities here for a number of years, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Haskell Junior High Parent-Teachers Association at 4 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 13, in the school library.

Mr. McCollum will discuss the current major problem, school dropouts, in a speech entitled, "Is Education Our Affair?"

Yearbooks and membership cards will be distributed at the November meeting. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Bronaugh, Martin Folstead and T. V. Burson. All teachers and parents have a special invitation to hear Mr. McCollum's discussion of this timely topic.

Haskell picked up a touchdown with 6:40 seconds left, to lead 14-10 in another game and bruising 6AA with stingy Anson on at Indian Stadium. The game has Friday night.

The 1964 political cauldron was put on to boil in Haskell County Monday when the first announced candidate authorized the Haskell Free Press to list his name for office, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in the summer of 1964.

Sheriff Garth Garrett was first in with his declared intention of seeking re-election. His formal announcement appears elsewhere in the newspaper.

The Haskell County Sheriff, a veteran of almost eight years as a law enforcement officer here, served three years and nine months as a deputy sheriff prior to his election as Sheriff January 1, 1961. His current term as Sheriff will be completed on Dec. 31, 1964 and he is seeking re-election to serve a second term.

Other officers named at the annual election are Durward Campbell, vice president, and Mrs. Durward Campbell, secretary-treasurer.

Delegates from Haskell County were selected to attend the state Farmers' Union convention to be held Nov. 22-23 in Lubbock, where U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough will be the principal speaker. Jay Norman, of Waco, state president, will preside over the sessions. The Haskell County delegates are Druesedow, Nanny, and Allen Davis, of Rule. Alternates are Herbert Fischer and Henry Druesedow, Jr.

Members of the organization here drafted their resolutions for 1964 policies adopted here to be presented at the forthcoming convention in Lubbock.

Vets of WWI Slate Fellowship Meet, Memorial Service

Haskell County Barracks 1816, Veterans of World War I and its Ladies' Auxiliary, will have their annual fellowship meeting and memorial service in the American Legion Hall in Haskell Sunday, Nov. 10, coincident with the nationwide observance of Veterans' Day, formerly Armistice Day, on Monday.

All veterans of World War I, their wives, or widows, are invited to attend. Dave Persons, longtime veterans' leader here, said there will be no registration fee and participants are asked to bring a basket lunch and enjoy the fellowship. The doors of the American Legion Hall will open for the meeting and memorial service at 11 a. m. and lunch will be served at 12:30 p. m. Sunday.

Memorial services for five members for whom taps have been sounded during the past year will be conducted by the barracks chaplain, J. O. T. Scheets, at 2 p. m.

Commander M. O. Morgan, of Rule, will preside over the opening exercises.

Jaycees Here To Cap Bronte Effort In Charter Event

Haskell Jaycees plan to go en masse Saturday night to Bronte to attend a banquet there at 7:30 p. m. in which chartering ceremonies will climax the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce here to establish a similar organization at Bronte.

The founding of the Bronte Jaycees, with the Haskell group taking the lead, is an achievement in extension by the local group, and the Charter Night Banquet will be attended not only by the Haskell contingent, but by the Longview, and Larry Tate, of Longview, and other state officers.

Haskell representative Bud Lane said transportation for the said pilgrimage from here to Bronte was pooled at the Jaycees' regular meeting in the basement of the Presbyterian Church here Tuesday night.

A number of Haskell Jaycees also are expected to participate in a regional forum at the Stralight Motel Restaurant in Abilene from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Sunday. State President Tate will speak at a noon luncheon there. Billy Jack Ray, director from Haskell, reports.

Two of An Era—Connally and Hunt

An open throated four score and almost four years of fruitful living and productive service to his town, to his church, to this area, and to the Democratic Party came to an end last Thursday in the passing of Haskell's Courtney Hunt.

To scores of people outside the environs of this community, the name of Courtney Hunt and Haskell were synonymous.

Coincidentally enough last week, Courtney Hunt was preceded by one day in death by a Texan, tall by every yardstick in the stature of a statesman, whose name on a national level spells out the epitome of "Mr. Senator," and like that of his late colleague, "Mr. Sam" Rayburn, he was "Mr. Democrat," too.

We speak of the Honorable Tom Connally, a senior statesman of the first water, an idol of our childhood days, whom it was our cherished privilege to know personally, and who helped us personally, as he did many, many whose identities will never be known, along the way.

In our eyes, Courtney Hunt was, and is, on the local level what Tom Connally was, and is, on the national. Both were Democrats to the core. Both raised roofs over people's heads that never would have possessed that shelter otherwise, and both provided lifts for suffering, deserving humanity, the number and scope of whose generous acts this world will never know. Someone near and dear to us, also now gone, and who knew and loved them both, was out of the same cloth.

One thing not included in the biographical sketch of Courtney Hunt's life elsewhere in this newspaper is that he was for years the Democratic committeeman from this state senatorial district. He and Charlie Conner and J. M. Crawford were a formidable trio that didn't miss a state or national Democratic convention for years.

Many lifelong associates of Courtney Hunt, among them J. E. Walling, Jr., T. J. Arbuckle, Dennis Rathiff, already effectively have said what we would convey here about this remarkable man. We think Mr. Crawford's astute words best capsule a sterling appraisal of our departed "most useful citizen." He said: "We did not always agree in our opinions of matters. I soon learned to love him when he agreed with me, and I loved him when I differed with him. He had fixed opinions on all questions of public welfare. He was never too busy to enjoy a call for community service. It was truly an inspiration to know his daily thinking. He lived to be a friend of man. He loved life and he loved people."

In like manner, "Mr. Tavern" Connally loved life and people, begs his serviceable heart. He got a big kick one time out of our childish observation when we first met him that we "didn't see anything so honorable (which we construed as being different from anyone else) about him" after having heard him introduced all day as "The Honorable Tom Connally."

He took us on his knee at the end of that day and said, "No, Son, I'm no different from anyone else." His approach to problems grave and small, of local and national consequence, and to people, great or humble, wealthy or destitute, treating all with equal concern and regard, earned him a place in the hearts of others so long as their heartbeats are felt on this earth.

Tom Connally and Courtney Hunt both are of another era, at the national and at the local level. One was just as influential and productive in his realm as the other. With their passing, the eras are closed. But the many monuments they built, both of them, to humanity will endure.

Although the last two ball games at Indian Stadium have not been exactly the kind to induce one's eyes to rove anywhere but on our black-and-gold clad crusaders and their opponents, the get-up in the apparel that brisk weather has brought is a knee slapper for sure.

Now take County Clerk Bill Reeves' "Accessories" as a case in point. And please do. We don't want him. Somehow or other, a fellow walking into and out of a football stadium with an afghan neatly folded over his arm, and all the while wearing a Triple-X western hat, tickles our funnybone. That ol' boy actually carries what probably would be appropriately termed a crocheted work of art. It seems, instead of a western hat, a bowler hat and cane, and possibly spats, would blend better with the afghan.

Speaking of spats, the man who put spats on the map, and on many a thousand pair of shoes, too, Adolphe Menjou, died last week. Like some West Texans we knew, who requested they be buried with their boots on, it seems appropriate that suave, dapper, debonair, immaculate dresser Adolphe would make a similar request about his spats.

Newspaper men are always trying to make a story live with descriptive adjectives. One hackneyed such is "bespectacled" for men who wear glasses. Adolphe Menjou always was "bespatted," and spats were his trademark. Warm, too, we'll wager. And that's an idea for our football game attendants the last two Friday nights out this season.

One of the best protected persons in a football game, rain or snow, would be District Attorney Royce Adkins whose extra-broad brimmed fedora looks like a Bell helicopter in full umbrella flight. Now, there's a bear-hunting-with-a-switch feeling producing type of headgear. We think Royce wears it for confidence at ball games. And confidentially, don't tangle conversationally with this District Attorney anyway. He's pretty quick on the draw, hep-wise, between the ears and up.

They tell us T. J. Ballard has "what to give someone who has everything, and nothing, too," to wear to a football game. It's a pair of quilted overalls. Tufted inside, and weatherproof outside. Sounds dreamy. They say T. J. looks bearish, but never bare-ish, or air-ish, in it.

And say, the word "air-ish" reminds us of the Blizzards, the Winters Blizzards, a subject we'd just as soon dismiss. But since hurricanes are given names, girls' names, we've a suggestion. If Blizzards are ever named, just name 'em "Aldridge," then "Grissom," and then "Aldridge" again, and "Grissom" again. Like that, one-two, one-two over and over. No two names could better grace potent winter storms than those of the two Winters Blizzards backfield ace.

Our work here has precluded the privilege of going to personally check it out for a full blown story, but Rural Mail Carrier Andy Jossilet, great uncle of a boy named Joe who can really carry the mail, too, tells us a group of wolf hunters have had a pitched camp near Mattson for several days and a considerable array of wolves' ears are hanging from nearby trees as trophies of their activity. We gotta get out there. Always did want to know what a REAL wolf all was like.

We had a classic example of the two-legged wolf call type in Rotary last Thursday, and it was so startling and unexpected that we've hardly regained our composure. "It yet" Rotarians, by and large, are a staid, bald-headed buzzard, poker-faced lot, overweight "in grade," the eat, burp, and go-home-and-take-a-nap kind. Not so in Haskell. The foregoing description better fits the Lions Club here. Our Rotary Club is the youngest service club in town, outside the Jaycees, and is full of Haskell voters will ballot on Friday on legalizing the sale of 3.2 beer within the city limits. Outcome of the voting has been widely discussed with the opinion about equally divided on whether or not beer sale will be approved. One thing is certain—no "joints" will be permitted if the election carries. City officials have announced it and when beer is sold legally, it must be in establishments, where perfect order is maintained, they declared.

G. E. McGee, of Rochester, was struck by a truck and killed almost instantly. He had gotten out of a car near a gin in Rochester and in going around the car stepped into the path of a truck driven by a Knox City man who was unable to avoid striking him. The accident was termed unavoidable.

vigah. Attest the shrill wolf call which was emitted by a pusley lipped member when a juggy, full bodied chickadee had her silhouette flashed on the screen during a film at the meeting.

We wouldn't have been so startled if the source of this whistle had been "Up In The Back" Brooks Middleton, Gimlet Eyes E. J. Stewart, or Swashbuckler Bob Herren. But if it's who we THINK it was, Berus-lish-e-e! No, NOT Woody Woodard He's from Tennessee, and nothing he would do would surprise us.

Envious of all those lucky Dads down on the sidelines last Friday night wearing numbers corresponding with their sons' game jerseys, we wore a sweater suitably golden in color to conform to HHS' scheme, given us by our soon-to-be 17 daughter. And in lieu of no sons, pretended our away-at-school Janie had her arms around us.

There was a picture in the Paper Saturday showing a Shreveport girl candidate for "Miss Teenage America." This looker had on a dress with rows of fringe on it, and beads that hung down to her waist. The caption read that she was pictured doing a "novelty dance," with no elaboration beyond that. Since when is the 40-year-old "Charleston" routine a "novelty?" Bet someone of under 30 wrote that one.

We've got a "straight man" routine going in the mid-section of Indian Stadium every Friday night. Harold Spain intermittently hollers after a sterling play on the field. "Who was that?" David Jossilet, two rows below, sings out, "Little Brother!"

Overheard rounding the Square: "Did you tell Charlie that you loved him?" Answer, after sigh: "Yes, I didn't want to but he SQUEEZED it out of me."

Males won't like the answer to this, and the females will eat it up, but we couldn't help but raise our eyebrows last Sunday in Canyon when we were privileged to witness the induction into Alpha Chi of our daughter, Betty, (in whom we are well pleased), with some 30 other selectees tapped for this scholastic honor. The ratio of females to males was about 10 to 1. Seems to us, it didn't need to be that overwhelming, the lack of gray matter among men. The feminine gender is much stronger, mentally, anyway, up West Texas State way.

Another thing was most noticeable, Marriage is no drawback to accomplishment in college. Most of the Alpha Chi's were trotting in double harness.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea. You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park. With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps. And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen show up beneath this one's suave good looks, too. Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevy comes in three series with eleven models—convertible sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport mod with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price. Like to hear more? The listening's a wonder at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

The Good Earth

By MRS. B. F. COBB

November is a clean-up month for the gardener. The trees are shedding their leaves, flowers are killed by frost, and the lawn is mowed for the last time until spring.

Plants and flowers that need mulching can be covered with a blanket of leaves to protect them from a severe winter. Do not throw away the leaves and grass clippings that are left. Save them for a compost heap.

Nature has been making compost since before man was created; by leaves falling to the bed of the forest, trees shedding their dead limbs, and grasses and weeds being killed by frost. All these lay mouldering and composting on "the good earth."

Man can hasten nature's composting by building a compost heap. Any good container will do. Some use barrels, some dig pits, others build a picket fence yard to hold their compost.

Grass clippings, leaves, peanut hulls, all garden residue, and many other things, can be added to the compost pile. Garbage from the kitchen can also go into the heap.

There are activators on the market that hasten the decomposition of the compost material. A heavy sheet will also help the decaying process. Moisture and heat are kept in by a tight cover.

When the compost is finished, spread it about two inches thick on the garden. Do this at least a month before the land is to be tilled.

Farmers are composting their land by using shreds of on maize stalks, corn stalks, and any farm residue. They especially build up "the good earth" by planting a cover crop that is plowed under while it is still green.

(Editor's Note: The writer of this column will be happy to try to answer any questions on gardening problems and projects. Just address your inquiry to "The Good Earth", care of the Haskell Free Press.)

Indian "B" Boys Roll On 53-27 Over Anson Club

Haskell's undaunted and undefeated "B" ball club smothered Anson's "B" gridders 53-27 in an offensive show that was a crowd pleaser last Thursday night here to roll on with a win seldom seen around here. The score was 16 to 0 at the half.

The Indian "B" team hasn't lost a game on its schedule since the last one of the 1961 season, but has been tied by Hamlin 14-14 earlier this fall.

The Indians-to-be had a squeaker when they took a hard-fought win from the Aspermont Hornets on the latter's newly constructed gridiron the previous week.

In the 12-8 Haskell win, the first score came in the second quarter as Bob Watson pitched a 32-yard strike to Wendell Cotton. In the middle of the third quarter, Druesedow found Cotton on a 50-yard aerial, and Cotton dippy-doodled 22 yards for the marker.

Aspermont fooled the local boys with a deceiving double reverse to score and convert, in the 8th but Haskell's control of the ball the rest of the game prevented the 6th win for our "B" bunch.

Thomson Gilmore, Sammy Baker, George Sherman and Kenneth Glass were stalwarts on defense in the Aspermont fracas.

And Haskell "B's" conquest of Anson last Thursday made it Win No. 7 for the year.

This week is one of rest, game-wise for the junior Indians, but they tackle Hamlin "B", the outfit that tied them, next Thursday again at Hamlin.

RANDY BALLARD HAS PRIZE TROPHY AFTER RECORD HUNT

A happy hunter from Haskell County returned here from Wyoming this week effusing such great glee the townspeople thought at first he had cornered this area's infamous varmint, which apparently has departed the premises.

Randy Ballard set straight the record, though, when he opened a wide-palmed hand to show what he termed a pair of "Elks" Club teeth.

The Haskell Countian, who operates the Anchor Fishing Camp on Lake Stamford about 12 miles southeast of Haskell, believes he set some sort of record for speedy acquisition of a 900-pound elk. He drove some 1200 miles, got up before daybreak on the opening day of the season, drove three more miles in a jeep, and in 45 minutes, his hunt was over. He had what is called a 6-point elk. "In Texas, of course, we would call it 12 points, because we count every wrinkle," Ballard reported.

By 2:30 p. m. the same day of his hunt, Ballard had his elk in a locker plant and brought it home in 317 separate packages. Over all, the happy hunter from Haskell lacked two hours of being away from home 6 days, and four of those were on the road. He never even got to sleep in the trailer house he leveled at its site in the Shirley Mountains near Casper in anticipation of a hunter's waiting game.

Elderly Rule Man In Miracle Escape From Accident

Joe Davis, of Rule, who was 81 years old Thursday, was given an excellent chance for recovery by doctors here after undergoing emergency surgery for a crushed spleen at Haskell County Hospital last Wednesday.

Davis, operator of a garage at Rule, was working on an automobile Wednesday morning when the vehicle rolled away from the bumper jack on which it was perched and fell across the upper portion of the garage operator's body. How the injured man got out from under the car is not known, but he managed to walk to his home nearby, and report to his wife, "You almost lost a husband."

Rushed to the hospital here, Davis was in the operating room almost two hours, as word went out around Haskell County for a supply of B positive blood, a rare type. A sufficient number of donors was found, and Mrs. Jack Fox, of Rule, the daughter of the accident victim, was the first to give blood.

Although past the four score age milestone, Davis still works every single day, members of his family reported. His survival at this age was termed a "miracle" by an attending physician, who added, "He's a tough old chicken."

Royalty Crowned At Sagerton Hallowe'en Event

Karla Hertel, the Hallowe'en Carnival Queen of Sagerton, southwest Haskell County community, was crowned and reigned at the annual event at Sagerton School Hallowe'en night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hertel.

Other royalty also vied with the spooks on the prow during the evening, in which an unheralded electricity failure provided a perfect Hallowe'en atmosphere by the light of a full moon.

Randy Lehrmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norvell Lehrmann, shared the throne with Queen Karla as king of the carnival. Also presented were the Sagerton football sweetheart, Kay Whitley and the football hero, Ray Clark. Runners-up were Dora Macias, escorted by Mike Summers and Ruth Hertel, escorted by Clayton Stegemoller.

About $300 was realized by the school from the carnival. Electricity was off for thirty minutes, much to the enjoyment of the children and spooks who cavorted in the moonlight.

Jr. High Warriors Stomp Albany In Victory Series

Haskell's Junior High Warriors, paced by Tim Everett and Company, took a tighter hold on their bid for a district championship by annihilating Albany 40 to 16 in a thrilling performance here Tuesday night. The win puts our diminutive Indians in the record books for five wins and one loss thus far this season.

Last week, Anson's Cubs went down in defeat before the Warriors on the warpath by a score of 28-12.

In the Anson game, the first Haskell TD came on an 18-yard pass from Tim Everett to David Jacobs. Johnny Josselet picked up the extra points and Haskell was ahead 8-0.

In the second quarter, Tim Everett hit paydirt on a keeper and ran the count to 14 to 0, Haskell.

Later in the game, Josselet crossed the double stripe, added the extra points himself, and Haskell was way out front at the half, 22 to 0.

Everett scooted for still another Warrior cushion counter, after Anson had tallied also in the third period, and Haskell prevailed going into the fourth period by a 28 to 6 score. Anson managed a 6-pointer in the last quarter to end the tail game at 28 to 12, with our Warriors having led all the way.

Poster Display Shows What Oil Means to Texas

Salient statistics on "What Oil Means to Texas" expressed in terms of "Money at Work," "Men at Work" and "Taxes at Work," prepared by the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association for presentation on graphically illustrated posters have arrived in Haskell for display at "eyeball level" here.

W. B. Oliver, of Wichita Falls, district OIC chairman, has instructed Porter Oakes, Haskell County chairman, to place the posters at three crossroads of foot traffic in this area, where they will remain for a week to 10 days beginning Monday.

Convincing figures in three categories tell these stories about what oil means to Texas:

Texas sell $3.5 billion of crude oil and natural gas a year. Texas oil men spend $806 million a year drilling ($284 million lost in dry holes). Royalty owners receive $442 million a year in 199 Texas counties. The oil and gas industry pays $1.3 billion a year in pay-rolls.

The Texas petroleum industry employs 221,000 Texans. One out of every 16 Texans is an oil or gas worker. Texas drilling and service companies employ 47,000. A total of 39,000 Texans are employed in refining at the highest wage rates in the state.

Texas oil and gas companies pay $216,398,050 a year in State taxes. The Texas petroleum industry pays 27 per cent of all local property taxes. Texas oil and gas taxes pay 33.5 per cent of state education costs. And Texas oil and gas pays 60 per cent of state costs for aid to aged, disabled, blind, dependent children, teacher retirement, and the farm-to-market road fund.

Any requests for stimulating programs on oil information which are available for service and civic organizations in this area may be directed to Oakes at the Haskell Free Press.

Attend Golden Wedding

The George Yanceys and Mrs. Blanche Yancey were in Abilene last weekend to attend the golden wedding anniversary reception of Mr and Mrs. Sam H. Tucker, relatives, who married in Haskell 50 years ago.

Since leaving Haskell shortly after their marriage, they lived in Artesia, New Mexico, Sweetwater, and for the past 29 years in Abilene. The Tuckers are still well-remembered by many Haskell area citizens who rejoiced with them in the achievement of this significant milestone of marriage.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS To: Robert Allen Hill, Defendant. Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable District Court of Haskell County at the Court-house thereof, in Haskell, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 9th day of December A. The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Haskell, Texas, this 21st day of October A. D., 1963.

100,000 MILES AT OVER 105 MPH!

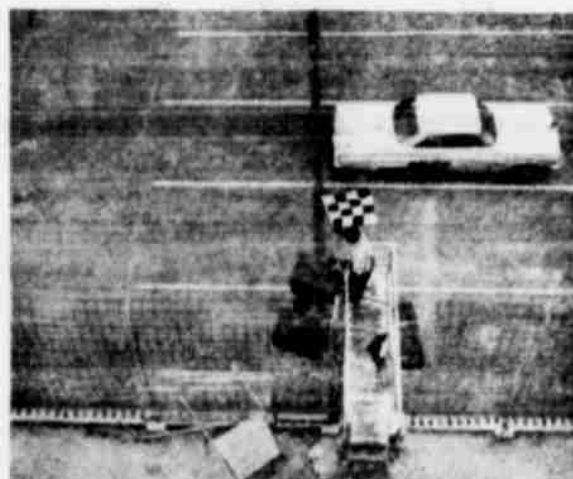

Comet Durability Run: toughest challenge of automotive stamina ever faced!

On Sept. 21, we set out to test the stamina and rugged construction of a specially equipped and prepared team of 1964 Comets at Daytona, Fla.

These Comets drove day and night for 100,000 miles. Average speed of the lead car—over 105 mph—includes time for refueling and maintenance.

During this challenging event, these Comets rewrote the record book, set over 100 world records*. Many were once held by famous foreign cars.

WHAT THIS MEANS TO THE NEW-CAR BUYER. This around-the-clock Durability Run was the most rugged test ever faced by a new car. These Comets proved their stamina and durability beyond question. And the same skills and engineering excellence that made Comet's performance possible are yours in every '64 Comet. For this is a hot and hefty new kind of Comet—newly styled, newly designed, newly engineered. It's bigger, bolder looking... with a solid, big-car ride. Try one—at your Mercury dealer's.

By AL HINDS

Prattler's Prophecy: Out of my pre-game predictions for last weekend contests, I batted a "cool 1000," having hit all guesses correctly. For this weekend games, and by-the-way, all are toughest I pick 'em like this.

Haskell, 12; Hamlin 8. Indians still on the warpath. Baylor over Texas. Both teams are battling 1000 in conference play, and the number one team in the nation, Texas, by comparison should be the winner, but I smell an upset, so I will string along with Trull and company.

Rice over Arkansas. A real toughie, but I will "roost" with the Owls.

SMU over A&M. The Ponies are due.

TCU over LSU. Could go either way, but Texas Christian should storm back from the licking they took from the Baylor Bears.

Texas Tech over Kansas State. Anderson, Parks and Daniels should be the difference.

Recently I ran across the following item. (Author Unknown) which I think carries a lot of truth.

- If a child lives with criticism he learns to condemn.
- If a child lives with hostility he learns to fight.
- If a child lives with fear he learns to be apprehensive.
- If a child lives with pity he learns to feel sorry for himself.
- If a child lives with jealousy he learns to hate.
- If a child lives with encouragement he learns to be confident.
- If a child lives with praise he learns to be appreciative.
- If a child lives with acceptance he learns to love.
- If a child lives with approval he learns to like himself.
- If a child lives with recognition he learns to have a goal.
- If a child lives with fairness he learns justice.

If a child lives with honesty he learns what truth is. If a child lives with friendliness he learns that the world is a nice place in which to live.

Most husbands do a little bragging now and then about being the boss in the family, but this one that Mrs. Bassing over at Bassing Jewelry told me should put a quietus, to some extent, to bragging husbands. It went something like this: A husband was telling some of his friends one day that from that day on he was going to rule the roost, wear the pants in his family, and be the boss... so, when he went home that night he laid the law down to the little woman, and gave her instructions that from here on out he was going to do the bossing... and the old boy got by with it, too, but he had part of it was that he did not see his better half for about three days, and by that time he could open his eyes just a little bit.

The above reminded me of the husband who rushed into the cafe one morning for a cup of coffee, and bragged about the fact he "beat his wife up" every morning. In fact he went on to say that he beat the little woman up every morning by at least 30 minutes and had breakfast ready and on the table by the time his wife got out of bed.

Blessings be on your house - May there be peace within it and good cheer.

May these modest paragraphs add a note of color to your house and bring you a friendly greeting from others far away.

May there be joy in your house and love and contentment.

May the lights in your window be gay lights, bright and merry lights of warmth and happiness and may they proclaim to all the world that those who live in your house are humble and thankful before God and serene in their own little worlds.

May there be a friendly fire in your house and good things cooking in the kitchen.

May the table you set be a full table and those around it near and dear to you.

May there be laughter in your house, the laughter that comes from a full heart, kindly laughter that cheers the lonely passerby who passes through the street, so that he feels better, warmed by laughter from your house.

May your house be a house whose walls bring a feeling of well-being to your neighbor's house, and makes the whole neighborhood better because your house is there.

Lions Club--

(Continued from Page 1) Lions the Nine-Teens would try out four numbers, and if they were good enough the group would then sing for the Rotarians. Singing "Autumn Leaves," "Sincerely," "I'm So Pretty," and "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone," the very talented young ladies pleased Lions immensely.

Appearing on the program were Ruby Kay Alvis, Dianne Hester, Millie Holden, Helen Elliott, Jerrie Sue Couch, Andrea Baird, Eloise Watson, Judy Anderson and Rita Woodard.

Directors' Meeting - At the regular monthly meeting of officers and directors of the Lions Club Tuesday morning, 7 o'clock at the Highway Drive-in, the group voted to sponsor a float in the Christmas parade, Saturday, Nov. 30; will send a delegation of some six lions and their wives to Knox City on Thursday night, Nov. 14, at which time Knox City Lions will celebrate their 25th anniversary, and discussed plans for the Annual Dinner State, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23.

Political Announcements

The Free Press is authorized to make the following announcements for office in Haskell County, subject to action of the Democratic primaries in 1964:

FOR SHERIFF: G. T. (Garth) Garrett, For re-election.

Stouthearted--

(Continued from Page 1) ball the remainder of the first stanza and for six minutes of the second. Sammy Larned, playing most of the game at fullback for injured Joe Thigpen, who was used only to punt three times, got off scot-free runs of 19 and 13 yards in this series. Put together with a 10-yard pass play from Davis to Perrin and Davis to Josselot for 21, the Indians drove to the Anson 25. From this point Larned again knifed 12 more yards to the 13 for a first-and-ten. Larned and Ivy were hurtled back in the next four plays after making but six yards and Anson took the ball on their own 7 yard line with 8 minutes left in the first half.

From their 7, Battering Ram Donnie Linn, 180-pound Tiger Fullback, found a hole clear to the 23 yard line, and he and Cooley and Tailback Jerry Andrus, alternating at hitting the line, with a Cooley to End Joe McCaleb pass, took the ball to the Haskell 43 before the drive was stopped when Jerry Andrus fumbled after being given a teeth-rattling tackle by Indian Left Guard Eddie Smart.

Haskell returned the ball on successive scoops by Larned to the Anson 33 before the Indian attack bogged down again.

With 45 seconds left in the first half, Larned intercepted a Cooley pass at midfield and ran it back to the Anson 33. Anson recovered an Indian fumble with 25 seconds left in the half and tried two passes unsuccessfully as alert Indians smothered the aerial game as the half ended.

Anson looked like they were out for Indian scalps as the second half opened when Daril Pineda, 180-pound fullback returned the kickoff from his own 10 to the Haskell 46-yard line. 44 yards. Linn bulled his way 22 more yards to the Haskell 22. Again Haskell stiffened and three Tiger tries at the line and one pass yielded eight yards. The ball went over to Haskell on their own 16. After working the ball up to the 48, Haskell was forced to kick. Thigpen booted another beauty which Indian Center Mike Bland covered on the Anson 5.

Anson was forced to kick out and Larned returned it to the Anson 44. Four plays lost Haskell 5 yards, and again the lumping Thigpen came in and punted another one into coffin corner which Joe Josselot nailed on the one yard line with 8 minutes left in the last quarter.

Anson could make but four yards in three plays and Cooley kicked out to Larned on the Haskell 32. Gary Conner made 5 to the 27. Ivey rammed three more to the 24. Ivey lunged twice more to the 22, then 18. Larned squeezed two more to the 16, and Southpaw Davis faded left and pitched left to Josselot, who caught the ball phenomenally in the end zone. Ivey's attempt for a 2-pointer was repelled.

A costly Haskell fumble after holding Anson's next long drive on the 18 gave Anson the ball on the 24 with 2 minutes, 29 seconds left. Cooley, Andrus and Propst charged through for two first downs and Haskell turned back two plays at the four yard line. It was third and goal to go for Anson as time ran out, much to the liking of an exhausted Indian fan-

Courtney Hunt--

(Continued from Page 1) century. We have shared office quarters together for 22 years. I soon learned to love him when he agreed with me and love him when I differed with him. Born November 25, 1879, on a farm just outside Alvoird, in Wise County, Mr. Hunt and the former Mattie Comegys, whom he married on April 22, 1903, graduated together from Alvoird High School in 1899.

The Hunts were married in the home of Miss Comegys' parents after the family moved from Alvoird to Merkel.

Last April 22, on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were surprised with a "flowers for the living" tribute at the Sunday morning services of the Haskell Christian Church, which both had faithfully served since 1912.

After their marriage in 1903, the couple moved to Comanche, Oklahoma, then Indian Territory, where they lived for one year before returning to Merkel where Mr. Hunt bought an interest in a dry goods store operated by Mrs. Hunt's father.

Entering the dry goods business here in 1912 with his brother, C. M. Hunt, the Hunt Brothers Store was a fixture here for many years.

In 1918, Mr. Hunt was elected Mayor of Haskell, serving one two-year term during which time the groundwork for one of the major street paving projects was laid. Later, in 1949, in response to a petition signed by a large number of voters, Mr. Hunt ran for mayor and was again elected, serving this time for six years.

Under his leadership, more than 100 blocks of Haskell streets were paved, and the water supply and sewer intake was tripled as a result of the extension of sewer facilities provided by a $200,000 bond issue.

During Mayor Hunt's administration, revenue from water and sewer sources showed $33,000 clear profit.

Another monument to Mr. Hunt's civic efforts was his development of the Haskell County Fair from a shaky indebted project to a debt free institution in this area during his four years as president from 1936 to 1940.

The Hunt Brothers sold out their dry goods trade to Grissom-Robertson here in the thirties, and Mr. Hunt went into the grain business, known as Courtney Hunt Grain, operating it 13 years until he sold out to Mar-Ket Poultry and Egg Company in 1951. He also had been operating an accounting and tax service since 1942, an endeavor in which he was active along with real estate and property management, until his recent illness.

He was a member of the Texas Legislature from this district for one term, 1939-41, during which he was a stubborn opponent of proposed sales tax legislation.

One of the hobbies of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt as a partnership affair has been helping Haskell residents find places to put their roots down and assisting them with financing of their homesteads. They have helped approximately 70 families in this manner over the years.

One of Mr. Hunt's most cherished memories was his receipt in 1942 of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce's "Most Useful Citizen" Award. He was active in many civic organizations and served as a director of the Chamber of Commerce here many years and as director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for 18 years.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Miss Madalin Hunt, a teacher in the Haskell schools, a sister, Mrs. Hollis E. Fields, of Dallas, and the one brother, C. M., who lives in Los Angeles, Calif. A son, born June 29, 1906, was killed by lightning during a storm on March 13, 1921, while standing in the vestibule of the church here.

He had seen two cliff hangers in as many weeks.

Charlie Shaw, 67-year-old Negro farm employee, died in Haskell County Hospital here late Saturday from injuries received when his automobile veered off a farm-to-market road northeast of Rule and struck a utility pole at 4:43 p. m.

It was the third traffic death in Haskell County this year. The accident occurred between Rule and Rule Cemetery, one mile northeast of town.
